BOYS' CORN CLUBS TO HOLD SESSION

WILL MEET HERE NEXT SATURDAY TO DISCUSS PLANS FOR THEIR WORK.

MANY PREMIUMS OFFERED

Boys Will Be Given Ride to Lake Wichita—Arnold to Give Illustrated Lectures.

The Boys' Corn Clubs of this agricultural district will hold a joint meeting in Wichita Falls next Saturday at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at ten o'clock and an enjoyable meeting is being planned. This meeting will be attended by the boys from the clubs in Wichita County and from Byers and Bowman in Clay and Archer counties. J. L. McConkey, district agent for the United States Department of Agriculture, is making plans for a big meeting and he expects a large attendance. Among those to be present on that occasion are President J. A. Arnold of the Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association, who will deliver an illustrated lecture; J. L. Quicksall, state agent for the Department of Agriculture and William Ganzer of Denton, district agent.

One of the features of the meeting will be a street car trip to Lake Wichita and a motor boat ride on the lake. These features will be provided at the expense of the Chamber of Commerce. The boys in this district are very much interested in the work and have been stimulated by the offering of a number of prizes. The State Fair at Dallas has offered cash premiums to the value of $1600 and the Department of Agriculture at Washington will give prizes four round trip tickets to Washington. The State is divided in four sections and one boy in each of these sections will get one of these trips as a prize. The local prizes range from $37.50 to $60 each and there will be four prizes, one for each club in the district. Mr. McConkey thinks that in addition there will be one or more county prizes offered. The total membership of the four clubs in this district is about ninety and the rules of the contest will be adopted at the meeting to be held Saturday.

BOY FOILS BURGLAR.

Texas News Service Special.
San Antonio, Tex., May 16.—Milton Applewhite, aged thirteen, foiled a burglar last night when, seeing him emerge from the residence of J. T. Henderson, he chased the man three blocks, striking him with a brick and knocking him down. The man escaped leaving a bundle of stolen clothing worth seventy-five dollars.

Two Earthquake Shocks Were Recorded Today.

By Associated Press.
St. Thomas, D. W. I., May 16.—A sharp earthquake was felt at Georgetown, the capital of British Guiana, on Saturday evening. There were also shocks on the island of Trinidad and a mild disturbance on the island of Granada.

TWO MORE BURGLARIES REPORTED LAST NIGHT IN LOCAL RESIDENCES

Two more burglaries took place last night, according to reports received this morning, making a total of half a dozen in the past night or two. No arrests have been announced yet by the officers. The room of Claude Maer at 1204 Austin avenue was entered last night and a bicycle and pistol stolen by the burglar.

A burglar last night entered the residence of E. B. Gorsline on Travis street and went into Mr. Gorsline's room. He put his hand on the latter's face, probably to see how soundly he was sleeping and the action woke Mr. Gorsline, but he had presence of mind enough to lay still. The burglar then started to go to Mrs. Gorsline's room, but was frightened away by Mr. Gorsline, who lost no time in getting into action as soon as the burglar's hand was removed from his face.

FLOWING OIL WELL IS BROUGHT IN AT PETROLIA, AFFAIR KEPT SECRET

Authentic information has been received that a flowing oil well has been brought in at the Petrolia field recently. The owners of the well for some reason refuse to confirm the rumor, but it is known to be a fact. The well was brought in about five days ago and was capped just as soon as the workmen could do so. It is located on the Taylor tract about two miles south of Petrolia and is the property of the Producers' Oil Company.

The facts regarding the depth and capacity of the well are being kept a close secret, and an air of mystery surrounds the well altogether. The Times is able to state upon the best authority, however, that the well has been brought in. Just why the matter has been shrouded in such secrecy is not known, but the owners evidently have good reasons for the course they are pursuing.

MORE NEW BUILDINGS TO BE INSTALLED SOON; SEVERAL IMPROVEMENTS

Several new improvements in the building line are reported and the activity seems to be undiminished. The contract will be awarded tomorrow afternoon for the erection of the Knight building at the corner of 9th street and Indiana avenue. It will be a two-story brick building, 50x150 and will cost in the neighborhood of $25,000.

C. H. Souter will shortly begin work on his building on 7th street between Ohio and Indiana. The building now occupied by a saloon and restaurant will be remodeled and made two stories in height, with a marble and plate glass front. The dimensions of the new building will be 40x90 and this will materially improve the appearance of that part of the business section. Work on the Friberg building, the City National Bank building and the Joline building is progressing as steadily as the weather will permit.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., May 16.—Another uprising at Chang Sha, China, is very much feared. VERDICT OF GUILTY AGAINST DR. HYDE

JURY CAME IN THIS MORNING AND ANNOUNCED DECISION IN FAMOUS CASE.

GETS LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Case is to Be Appealed and Defendant Has Not Lost Hope for Freedom.

Texas News Service Special.
Kansas City, May 16.—The jury in the case of Dr. Bennett Clarke Hyde, charged with the murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, this morning returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree and his punishment was assessed at life imprisonment.

It is likely that the defense will ask for a new trial and take the case to the highest court in an effort to save the physician.

Hyde was indicted for the alleged poisoning of Col. Swope who was a millionaire and philanthropist. He was also accused of poisoning Christman and Margaret Swope, who died. The case was tried before Judge Latsch and went to the jury at 9:55 on the night of May 13. The argument of the prosecution showed that Mrs. Hyde benefitted to the extent of two hundred and seventy-five thousand through the death of Swope and that the death of Christman and Margaret profited her about seventy thousand each.

When the verdict was announced, Mrs. Hyde threw her arms around her husband and wept silently. Dr. Hyde sat motionless and looked firmly at Judge Latsch while the verdict was being read.

"I haven't lost hope" he declared as he was led away to his cell.

RECOVERS $40,000.

It Was "Earnest Money" Put Up on Race Track Deal.

Texas News Service Special.
El Paso, Tex., May 16.—The Juraz, Mexico Jockey Club and the earnest money deposited by Americans pending the establishment of a big race track across the Rio Grande from El Paso, figured in a suit in which District Judge Walthall today granted a judgment in favor of Harris Masterson and J. C. Ross of Houston, for forty thousand dollars against the Banco de Minerio of Cihuahua, Mexico, of which institution Enrique Creel, former ambassador to Washington, is president. The money was deposited in Creel's bank at the time the deal was pending. The land offered proved to be unavailable and the trade was not closed, but the money was kept by Alberto Terazas, which was the cause of the suit.

PACKERY BONUS IS ALMOST IN SIGHT

ABOUT TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS IS YET TO BE SUBSCRIBED TODAY.

ARE STILL SOLICITING

Small Amount Yet Needed Will Probably Be Raised by Tomorrow.

The narrow margin of twenty-five hundred dollars remains to be crossed on the packery bonus before the entire amount is raised and the committee is still at work this afternoon. They hope to be able to announce in tomorrow's Times that the dead line has been crossed and there is no longer any doubt about this industry.

The out of town property owners were not slow to realize the value of the proposition and the telegrams sent to them brought in the following subscriptions, in addition to those received Saturday:

S. M. King of Gainesville $250
L. M. Guggenheim of St. Louis $250
Several more substantial local subscriptions have been received today, including the following:

J. D. Avis $250
H. T. Casfield $300
Mayfield Lumber Company $250

While little doubt remains that the entire amount will be raised the committee is still in a decidedly receptive mood and desires the Times to state that the end has not yet been reached. It is felt that the amount still to be subscribed should be turned in at once. There are several who are willing to subscribe, but who are too anxious for the "other fellow" to relieve them of the necessity and it is those whom the committee desires to reach without further delay.

FORMAL OPENING OF Y. M. C. A. ON NEXT MONDAY AT NEW ROOMS

At a meeting of the directors of the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday afternoon, next Monday, May 23, was fixed as the date for the formal opening and the rooms of the association will be thrown open to the public on that date. An interesting program is being arranged for the occasion. It is hoped that the gymnasium equipment will have been installed at that time. Through the generosity of citizens, the association bids fair to become the recipient of a small library and a piano, free of cost. With this equipment to start out with, the association begins active work with every indication of success.

It is likely that the first of the Sunday afternoon general meetings will be held next Sunday, though this feature has not been definitely arranged. The association has closed a lease for its present quarters, for one year, at the end of which time it hopes to go into a larger home.

NEW CITIES JOIN DISTRICT CLUBS

RECENT CANVASS FOR THE ASSOCIATION BRINGS GOOD RESULTS.

MEET AT QUANAH MAY 26

Towns on Southern and Wichita Valley to Be Visited During this Week.

Twelve new commercial clubs, two in Texas and eight in Oklahoma, will probably become members of the association of commercial clubs of Northwest Texas and Southwest Oklahoma, as a result of the recent canvass of that section by Secretary Barrickmann of Wichita Falls, and Secretary Whaley of Quanah. These two secretaries spent most of last week in Southwestern Oklahoma visiting the commercial organizations. As a result, the following have agreed to send delegates to the meeting at Quanah on May 26th.

Chillicothe and Vernon, Texas; Frederick, Altus, Snyder, Mangum, Sayre, Elk City, Clinton and Granite, Oklahoma.

These towns will send delegates to the Quanah meeting and it is expected will agree to become members of the association. Mr. Barrickmann states that all of them appear to be live, prosperous communities that it will be well for Wichita Falls to be associated with. Elk City, he states is one of the prettiest and busiest cities in Oklahoma, with paved streets and a general up-to-date appearance.

Messrs. Barrickmann and Whaley left at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Henrietta and from there will go to Archer City, Olney, Newcastle, Graham, Haskell, Seymour, Benjamin, thence to Bowie and other points nearer home. It is hoped to be able to enlist all of these cities as members. Later, visits will be made to points in the Northwestern part of this district. Childress is about the only city of any size in the district that has positively refused to become a member, sentiment there being against the idea altogether.

The Clubs will meet on May 26th at Quanah to take in the new members and elect officers for the ensuing year. A definite dues-paying basis will be established and reorganization effected along lines that will enable plentiful advertising to be done and such other features as an exhibit car and special immigration agent, provided.

WANT U. S. TO INTERVENE.

Steamship Companies Are Hurt by the Nicaraguan Trouble.

Texas News Service Special.
New Orleans, La., May 16.—The steamship companies with offices here, today appealed to the state department at Washington to take a hand and intervene for the cause of peace in Nicaragua. President Madriz has closed the ports of the Atlantic, including Bluefields, to all foreign shippers, including the United States, companies engaged in the banana trade, and the action of Madriz was caused by fear of an attack from the Venus, a vessel recently brought here, manned as a warship to aid the insurgents.

SUNDAY VALLEY TRAIN TO BYERS IS PLANNED BY OFFICIALS OF ROAD

Wichitans may soon have an opportunity to visit the Petrolia oil fields on Sundays. The Wichita Valley is considering the running of Sunday trains and will doubtless try the experiment and make it permanent if the patronage justifies it. There are a great many Wichitans who have never seen the oil and gas fields on account of being unable to get away on week days and it is thought the move will prove a profitable one. The date of the first Sunday train has not yet been announced.

POULTRY AND PET STOCK.

From the Farm and Ranch.
 Green millet furnishes a very fine pasturage for all kinds of fowls, especially young turkeys and geese.

Toads eat thousands of cockroaches and other insects every year. They should be protected, as they are entirely harmless.

It is highly important to have a good rooster at the head of your flock. This is absolutely necessary if you want to build up your breed.

Corn is a good food for the sitting hen. She needs food with a large amount of carbohydrates to generate animal heat. This is found in corn.

Dry oatmeal is splendid food for little chicks when they are quite young. After they are 36 hours old feed them dry oatmeal and bread crumbs.

Swallows, martins, woodpeckers, chickadees and wrens live very largely on insects. They seldom eat fruit, grain or plants, but they destroy insect pests for us.

It requires careful selection to eliminate the undesirable fowls. Eggs from a few undesirable hens and offspring from a scrub cock soon deteriorate the entire flock.

Sulphur fumes are destructive to insects and most disease germs. The poultry house should be fumigated occasionally to rid it of lice, mites and disease-producing bacteria.

Never feed little chicks on damp ground. Grit is required to grind up their food, but filth is detrimental. Lay a board or shingle on the ground and place the feed upon it.

Hard-boiled eggs make good food for little chicks. Eggs have a large amount of protein to develop their tissues. Boiled eggs are especially recommended for this purpose.

The robin and the blue bird eat some fruit, but their principal food is insects. They make their appearance early in the spring and greatly reduce the insects before these pests can do us much damage.

The orchard furnishes good range for fowls. In hot weather the trees afford shade and the droppings stimulate growth of the trees. Fowls greatly reduce the number of insect pests in the orchard and encourage fowls to feed in it.

Owing to the fact that we find weather, free range and much green food is essential in raising turkeys, many failures are, no doubt, due to hatching them too early. May is the best month for hatching turkeys, since at this time the weather is warm and completely settled and there is an abundance of green stuff.

Costly buildings and ample runs do not mean success in the poultry business. Good fowls, good feed and good attention are far more desirable. Good buildings need not be expensive. Build as your business grows.

Many neglect to water and feed young chicks and still expect them to thrive. These expectations are very seldom realized. It takes much care and attention to raise little chicks. Careless poultrymen rarely succeed.

Most of the birds that fly about homes and entertain us with their sweet songs are insect destroyers. They reduce the damage of insects thousands of dollars every year. How foolish it is to allow hunters to kill them on our farms.

Clover is said to be very fine food for laying hens. In addition to the protein and other valuable nutrients, clover contains much lime, which is so essential to egg shell production. Alfalfa, vetch, cowpeas and soy beans are also similar to clover in this respect.

Large, well shaped, clean, highly colored eggs should not be sold by the dozen and small, ill-shaped eggs from mongrels allowed to compete with them. The standard should be more clearly defined. Selling by weight is one way to obviate this.

Collier & Hendricks

WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS

To The Public:

In response to an article published in Sunday morning's paper as it alluded to me as manager of the Live Oak Market and operating three markets here at the present time and that we are trying to monopolize the meat business in Wichita Falls I will say that such an impression on the part of the public is false. When coming to Wichita Falls and taking charge of the Fligo Market I found conditions so bad as far as the profitable end of the business was concerned that something had to be done or I would return to the place from whence I came. All the markets I have, have lost considerable money during the winter on account of exorbitant expense they incurred in carrying on their business. Since taking these markets I have not advanced the price on anything. In fact I have lowered my prices on some articles. My object in taking these markets was to curtail the expense so that possibly I could make something out of them. I have no horses and wagons; where my predecessors combined had 6 horses and wagons, besides drivers which in itself is a fair salary per month for any ordinary man. Furthermore I don't need quite so much help in any of these markets. I do no credit business because I have found bills exceedingly hard to collect. In fact I will give to any one for the asking. I don't deliver any amount of meat less than 25c worth because if you know anything about the meat business you will agree that on all such orders I would lose money. Furthermore in taking care of these petty larceny orders we neglect prompt service of good trade.

It is a matter of business to us. We are going to make a special effort to conduct first class markets, courteous treatment and the very lowest prices we can make consistent with a small profit. We don't want all the business. We invite more competition as long as it is fair in its methods.
 We could have had all the markets in town if we wanted them, but we didn't, we left the best market in town alone. Because we felt as though our competitor was doing his best to get his business on a paying basis.
 Now a word to the business men who as the paper stated were behind this move. Gentlemen: Don't you know you don't have to put in another market in order to break up this great trust? You can buy any market in town and then you would not have to lose that $1000 you speak of to put us out of business. Furthermore, you need not buy a market, you can, I am sure rent any of the markets I believe which I now control, the same as I did as the owners will gladly rent them to you so that they can at least get an investment on their fixtures. They rented them to me and were tickled to death when I got them.
 Now gentlemen, if you wish to embark upon this great ship of retail meat industry you can without any trouble, the voyage will be a calm one as I am here to state that I will not be in the fight. You can't harm me, as all I have to do is to carry out my rent, sell my goods and go back to a place where they all give you the glad hand of success. I did not come to Wichita Falls to accommodate the public without any compensation. Neither did I come here for friendship alone, I believe in the old toast, "May we have more and more friends, and need them less and less." I came here to become a citizen, to locate here permanently and succeed a little during my stay. If you begrudge me this, rent these markets that I have and I will leave you in peace. I don't propose to lose any money if I can help it, and therefore don't think that when you start that market you speak of, you will have any fight, because as I have said when you begin that you will see me step down and out.
 In conclusion I will say that if you were business men who prompted that article come forth and make yourself known to the community, I am sure that every Wichitan would be glad to see such noble characters and patriotic men would readily surrender all, even their lives for the public welfare.
 Sincerely yours,
 In the Meat Business,
 LEO B. FOCKE.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY.
 This is Anniversary of Lincoln's Nomination for President.
 Washington, D. C., May 16.—Fifty years ago today the republican national convention which nominated Abraham Lincoln for president and Hannibal Hamlin for vice-president, assembled in Chicago. Though the big celebration of the semi-centennial which it was planned to hold in Chicago has been deferred on account of the lack of time to make the necessary arrangements, the anniversary is not to be allowed to pass wholly unobserved. The Lincoln Emancipation League of the District of Columbia has prepared a program for anniversary exercises to-night in which a number of men prominent in the public life of the nation are to take part.
 The Chicago convention, known to history as the "Wigwam Convention," was not only the most important political convention ever held in the United States, because of the issues raised by its platform, but it also set the pace in numerous regards for all national conventions since. Prior to 1860 the convention had been comparatively tame. They had been in the nature of semi-private assemblages, the general public not being admitted in large numbers.
 The convention of 1860 was the first of the modern style of conventions. It was the first to have a special building erected for it. At that convention telegraph wires and instruments were for the first time brought into a convention building. For the first time large numbers of spectators were admitted and for the first time there was organized cheering and planned demonstrations.

"Where Quality Is Higher Than Price"

For the King's Funeral.

London, May 16.—In the funeral of his late Majesty England is about to witness probably the most imposing and remarkable obsequies in the history of nations. The whole civilized world will be officially represented at the final rites over the body of King Edward, and in the imposing funeral procession through the streets of London will travel kings, princes, diplomats and soldiers.

London is already entertaining the largest gathering of royalties assembled here since the last coronation. They tax the capacity of England's royal palaces and many are finding accommodations at the leading hotels. Among them are the King and Queen of Belgium, the King of Portugal, the King and Queen of Norway, the Empress Dowager of Russia, the Crown Princes of Denmark and Sweden and grand dukes from the four corners of Europe. For the past two days these distinguished personages have been pouring into London in a continuous stream. They were clothed chiefly in black, only here or there a military uniform or a Turkish fez affording a splash of color. Today the railway stations are draped in solemn mourning and each is thronged by high representatives of the King, all waiting for some distinguished man from some far corner of Europe.

The city will be filled with a crush of visitors to witness, if possible, the mournful but splendid spectacle attending the removal of the late King's remains to Windsor for interment beside those of his father, mother and eldest son. Thousands of special police have been sworn in to aid the metropolitan force and the military troops in preserving order among the vast crowds. Thousands will doubtless seek points of vantage along the wide and open thoroughfares from Hyde Park Gate, the Marble Arch, along the Edgware road to Paddington. In many of the leading streets every available inch of space will be taken up with stands and seats. Thousands of persons who cannot afford to pay for seats to view the pageant are preparing to bivouac the night before at favorable points along the route.

Magnificent decorations are being put up along the thoroughfares through which the funeral cortege will pass. Almost every wall is being covered with mourning drapery. From the lamp posts hang immense laurel wreaths. Purple is the prevailing tone in the drapery and in many instances it is picked out with white streamers.

From Paddington, it is recorded, the late king made his first journey by railway from the capital. From Paddington he will make his last journey amidst the pomp of funeral pageantry and in one of the most imposing demonstrations ever beheld. Inside the station the royal train, consisting of a dozen magnificent cars, will await the arrival of the funeral procession. The carriage set aside for the reception of the king's coffin will be distinguished by closely drawn blinds of purple velvet, the draped interior and the purple painted dome of the roof. As the train moves slowly out of the station on its way to Windsor the military band stationed on the platform will play Chopin's funeral march.

The final act of the great drama will be carried out at Windsor amidst all the solemn pomp of a great military funeral. The length of the route through the streets of the royal borough will be short, but from the railway station to the gates of the Long Walk there will not be a single house or shop that is not draped. The procession from the Windsor station to the church will differ considerably from that in London, both in its composition and in its effectiveness. It will include an escort of the Life Guards, Pursuivants of Arms, the Commander-in-Chief and Aides-de-Camp, the Ulster King of Arms and Lyon King of Arms, the Herald, the Earl Marshal, the Goff Sticks, the White Staves, the Lord Chamberlain and the Lord Steward. The remainder of the funeral procession will probably be in about the same order as the procession through London. In the rear of the procession will march the late king's Gentlemen-at-Arms with their axes reversed and the Yeomen of the Guards with partisans in a similar position.

The final service in St. George's Chapel will be short, but impressive. The service will be conducted by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the music will be furnished by the famous chapel choir. Every nation will be represented in the funeral procession at Windsor and the final services. Special seats will be set aside for the foreign representatives, the members of the ministry, the Lord Mayor of London, the Lord Provost of Edinburgh and the innumerable other dignitaries who will be present in their official capacities.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and vicinity.
Tonight and Tuesday, unsettled weather; showers tonight.
Colder Tuesday.

Now it is a packing plant that Wichita Falls is going after. There is nothing too large for that ambitious city to reach for. They will get it, too, and it will be a splendid point for such an enterprise.—Hall County Herald.

That is the way they all talk about us, and it must be so. Any enterprise seeking a location that is willing to do the right thing will always find a hearty welcome to Wichita. The acquisition of this new packing plant assures an addition of at least 1,000 people to the population within the next six months and that, with other enterprises locating here, will make Wichita Falls a city of at least 12,000 population by this time next year.

Heaven help the man who imagines he can dodge his enemies by trying to please everybody. If ever such an individual succeeded we would be glad of it; not that we believe in a man going through the world trying to find beams to knock and bump his head against, disputing every man's opinion, fighting and elbowing, and crowding all who differ with him. That, again, is another extreme. Other people have a right to their own opinion, so have you; don't fall into the error of supposing they will respect you less for maintaining it, or respect you more for turning your coat every day to match the color of theirs. Wear your own colors in spite of wind or weather, storm or sunshine.—Memphis Democrat.

The world, as a rule, don't particularly fancy a coward. By displacing such qualities he may, for a time, succeed, but there is a turning point somewhere and he will reach it just as sure as he continues to travel that road. The very fellows who will pat him on the back for the non-expression of his opinions will find it to their interest to have him come out and side with them, and if he fails to do this or continues to "say nothing and saw wood," as the expression goes, these friends will denounce him as a coward, and that is just about what it amounts to. Be a man. Don't wait until you are absolutely sure that your opinions will meet with popular favor before you give expression to them. That method is both cowardly and contemptible and unworthy of a man who has any right to claim that he is a good citizen.

Here is a bit of city building gospel from the McKinney (Texas) Courier-Gazette. "The best way to build up a town is to stand by every man who does right. Whenever a man is doing well do not tear him down. All residents should be partners, not opponents. In all livelihoods the more business your rival does the more you will do. Every business man who treats his customers honestly, courteously and fairly will get his share, and the more business that can be secured by united effort, the better it will be for all. When a town ceases to grow, it begins to die and the more people try to kill each other's business in their town, the more readily will utter ruin come to all. Stand together for advancement of every citizen. If a man shows ability to prosper do not pull him back through jealousy or weight him down with cold indifference.

The $50,000 bonus for the Wichita Falls $300,000 packing plant lacks only a few hundred dollars of being raised, and it is now almost a certainty that the packing plant will be landed. In the raising of this bonus, some from whom large donations were expected gave absolutely nothing. Others gave more liberally than they should, or more liberally than was expected of them. Those who gave nothing, and who own valuable property will share just as much in the benefits to be derived from enhanced values of property as those who gave liberally. It is unnecessary to mention their names, except to note that they were conspicuous for their absence on the subscription list.

Wichita Falls is to have a Packing house with a $300,000 initial investment, that will develop into a million dollar enterprise. This means much to Byers, as it will make certain the extension of the railroad to Waurika, and open up a short line to Kansas City and Chicago. Wichita Falls in an ideal spot, the line to Abilene and Ballinger taps a good cattle country. The Denver reaches the Panhandle country and a line north through Byers and Waurika would make a good outlet for Oklahoma cattle to a nearby market.—Byers Herald.

Judge Poindexter, candidate for governor, will address the people of Wichita Falls and Wichita county on the 20th. When Mr. Couquitt was here, all turned out and gave him a hearty welcome, without regard as to how they expected to vote. Judge Poindexter is entitled and should be given the same cordial welcome.

Sunday trains to Wichita Falls will be run every other Sunday, as a try out, to see if Sunday trains will pay. With the proper support, the service may become permanent. The present plans call for a train leaving Byers about 9 o'clock Sunday morning and leaving Wichita Falls for a return trip late in the evening, giving the patrons a day of pleasure at Wichita Lake.—Byers Herald.

UNCLEAN PLAYS.

Quaker City Up in Arms Against Wave of Prurient Drama.

Two organizations—the Civic Club and the Federation of Catholic Societies—have recently been outspoken in their denunciation of a certain class of plays with which Philadelphia has seemed to have had a surfeit during the past month. Ministers' associations and decent people generally have also been unsparring in their criticisms of them. They have had more than sufficient cause for complaint. This city seems to have been made a dumping ground recently for a salacious class of so-called dramatic effort that is as deplorable as it is mendacious.

One play in particular which had nothing commendable to warrant its production; and which depended for its success entirely on its offensive plot and its still more offensive method of presentation, was allowed to continue for three weeks. During that time many persons who had purchased tickets without being aware of the character of the show were compelled to leave the theatre in the midst of the performance. Many women retired their cheeks brilliant with blushes; many men with their fists clenched in anger. The protests which stormed the box office of this particular play house have seldom been equaled in number and vehemence.

Another production which trailed immediately on its heels, lasted a week. The peculiarly biased crowds that went to gloat over the play, frankly advertised as "the fastest thing on the stage," finding it slow in comparison with the other, did not return, and, lacking also the support of those who, once bitten were twice wise, it was compelled to close. Its fate seems to have contained the element of poetic justice, but the fact remains that it should not have been allowed to continue as long as it did, for, while it was less offensive than the former production, it was not such a decent man or woman would care to see presented. These are but two instances; there have been others.

There is not the least doubt that the patron of a theatre has a right to demand protection from such nauseous effusions. There is no inconsiderable class of men who buy tickets for a play on the spur of the moment, or at least, without having inquired into its merits. They pay their money and it is not right they should be denied full value for it. That value is not given when they are forced to leave before a play is finished. But, looking at the question from the standpoint of morality, the offense of such productions is all the greater. They cannot but degrade, and the degradation of the individual means a lower standard of morality for the city itself. It is to be hoped that managers will notice the clouds of denunciation that have been gathering for some time past and heed the warnings before the storm breaks.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

NEW METAL'S WONDERS.

Lighter Than Aluminum, Hard as Steel, Impervious to Rust.

A wonderful new metal has been discovered which, it is claimed, will have an important bearing on the future of aviation.

Yesterday the discoverer described to the Daily Mirror the qualities of this new metal.

"It is 11 per cent lighter than aluminum," he said, "as hard as mild steel or wrought iron, and absolutely impervious to rust or to any acid."

"Sulphuric acid and nitric acid do not affect the metal in the least, while it has been in the sea water for six weeks and has been taken out as fresh as when it was placed there."

"You have only to let your imagination find play for a moment to see the possibilities there are in this metal."

"For airships, submarines and torpedoes, and in everything else where lightness and strength combined are essential it will be of enormous value."

"I am now engaged in building an airship of this metal, but for the present I am keeping the details secret."

"The new metal, which contains an alloy of aluminum, has not yet received a name. It is of silver color throughout, and never loses its brightness. It is rather dearer to manufacturer than aluminum."—Daily Mirror.

NEW SYSTEM FOR COLUMBIA.

University Will Separate "Honor Men" From Plain Students.

The plan, advocated a year ago by President Butler of Columbia University to provide separate places in the college and university for those who go to college merely for a general "culture" course or athletics is to have a trial in Columbia next fall, when a new system for honor men and pass men is to be introduced. The students will be listed hereafter as candidates for a degree with honors and candidates for a degree. Each freshman must announce his intention of trying for a degree with honors or for the plain degree, and then he must pursue a course of study that a special committee on instruction maps out for him. The new plan is a variation of the scheme used in the English Universities, where the honor men are required to maintain a required standard in all their studies. The Columbia honor students, after he signifies his intention of taking his college course for the sake of the knowledge he will gain, and not for the atmosphere of athletic spirit, will be assigned to a special faculty adviser. He will then select three so-called "honor" courses, which will follow in sequence for three years. The "honor" courses will be designated by the letter in the college catalogue. When the three-year honor courses have been completed the student must take a final honor examination, which will count for one-tenth of all his work in college. If the candidate for honors fails to maintain a satisfactory standard, however, he automatically drops back into the culture class. If, on the other hand, he more than meets the requirements, he will get his degree with high honors. New York Tribune.

ELECT BISHOPS TODAY

Rev. Denny and Rev. Kilgo First Two to be Chosen.

By Associated Press.
Asheville, May 16.—When the general conference of the M. E. Church, South, resumed its sessions today, the report of the committee appointed to investigate the case of Bishop Morrison, against whom charges of maladministration had been filed, was submitted, to the effect that no trial was deemed necessary. This report was adopted and placed on record.

Following this announcement, Bishop Key announced that the time for the election of bishops had arrived and the conference proceeded to the balloting. The tellers retired and the conference took up the regular routine.

The count on the first ballot for bishop resulted in the election of Rev. Collins Denny and Rev. Kilgo. Rev. McMurray received the next highest vote and it is believed that he will be elected this afternoon. Over a hundred different names were on the first ballot for bishop.

WHY CLOCKS ARE ON STOCKINGS

Decorations Survival of Custom of Covering Seams When Using Cloth.

London—The meaning of the three marks on the back of a glove and the "clocks" on a stocking were two of the little mysteries in dress explained by Wilfrid Mark Webb in a lecture before the Selbourne Society on Clothes as a Human Nature Study.

The three marks on the back of the glove correspond to the fourchette pieces between the fingers, and in the old days these pieces were continued along the back of the hand, braid being used to hide the seams.

A somewhat similar origin was assigned to the ornamental "clock" on the stocking. In the days when stockings were made of cloth the seams came where the "clocks" do now, the ornamentation then being used to hide the seams.

The useless little bow in the leather band lining a man's hat is a survival of the time when a hat was made by taking a piece of leather, boring a series of holes in it, running a lace through and drawing it up.

The helmet of a freemtn is of the same type as that of the Greeks and has hardly been altered at all. Mr. Webb told his audience. The uniform worn by a modern page boy could be traced back to the costume fashionable for little boys in the first year of Victoria's reign, and the dress of the lord mayor's coachman was that of a fine gentleman of George III's time.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

TRIAL IS RESET.

Mrs. Flanary's Case Will Not Come Up Until June.

Texas News Service Speaks: Dallas, May 16.—For the second time at the request of the defense, the case of Mrs. Fannie L. Flanary which was called in the criminal district court, was continued until the June term. She is charged with killing her husband. He was shot and fatally wounded on August 25th, 1909, near the corner of Lamar and Elm streets, in the street car loop of the business district about noon. The affair created a sensation at the time. Flanary was employed in the local postoffice in charge of the money order division.

He entered the department of justice at Washington in 1886 and was subsequently employed on many special diplomatic missions for the government. He was sent to investigate the situation in Cuba in 1897, acted as legal adviser for the Porto-Rico Evacuation Commission the following year, and in 1901 he argued the Maine explosion cases before the Spanish Claims Commission. Catarrh Can Quickly Be Cured.
 A bottle of HYOEMI, a hard rubber pocket inhaler, that will last a lifetime, and simple instructions for curing catarrh make a HYOEMI outfit. Into the inhaler you pour a few drops of magical HYOEMI (pronounce it High-o-me). This is absorbed by the antiseptic gauze within and now you are ready to breathe it over the germ-infested membrane where it will speedily begin its work of killing catarrh germs. HYOEMI is made of Australian eucalyptol, combined with other antiseptics and is very pleasant to breathe. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, bronchitis, sore throat, croup, coughs and colds, or money back. It cleans out a stuffed up head in a few minutes. Sold by druggists everywhere and by The Weeks Drug Co., in Wichita Falls. Complete outfit, $1.00. And, remember, that extra bottles, if afterward needed, cost only 50 cents. Breathe it, that's all. To break up cold in head or chest in a few minutes, pour a teaspoonful of HYOEMI into a bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe the vapor.

STRAY TOPICS FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

New York, May 16.—Nothing could give a more clear indication of New York's progress and development and of the gigantic growth of the real estate values, particularly in the downtown business district than the fact that the twenty-story Gillender building on the northwest corner of Wall and Nassau streets, which was erected only twelve years ago and was for some time the highest office building in this city, is now being demolished to make room for a thirty-two story building. This is the first time that such a high-class office building, representing the best type of modern fire-proof construction is torn down to make room for a higher and more elaborate structure. The Bankers' Trust Company, which will occupy the new building, recently purchased the Gillender building lot, which is only 25 by 74 feet, for $1,250,000. It was considered that the building now in course of demolition, was not high enough to pay an adequate interest upon the investment and the Bankers' Trust Company did not hesitate in deciding to have the old building, which had cost $500,000, torn down and to erect a new building which will cost in the neighborhood of $4,000,000. The contractor who has undertaken the task of tearing down the big steel skyscraper, which had a height of 306 feet, and remove every bit of the material within thirty-five days, will receive $50,000 for the job. He has 250 men at work at present, who work in two shifts, one doing the demolishing during the day, the other removing the debris during the night.

Society circles of this city are greatly exercised over the puzzling question whether or not Miss Ethel Croker, daughter of Richard Croker, the former Tammany leader, married John J. Breen, a groom in Durland's Riding Academy. Both Miss Croker and Breen deny being married, but the records of Samuel Engler, a justice of the peace in Hoboken, N. J., show that the marriage ceremony was performed by the justice of the peace on the afternoon of April 28 of this year. Mr. Engler has made the positive statement that the young woman who became Breen's wife was actually the daughter of the former Tammany leader. Miss Croker and the other members of the Croker family have made no statement beyond denying the fact of the marriage and society is more than ever puzzled.

The bakers in the large bakeries, hotels and restaurants of this city have gone on a strike again and bread and rolls were scarce for a time. This is one of their often-repeated periodical attempts to force their employers to accept the "closed shop" principle. All previous attempts have failed and it is generally believed that the present attempt will result in the same manner.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, the society woman who is finding amusement in playing the part of a woman's suffrage leader, is evidently taking herself seriously. The other day she was invited to preside over a Press Club meeting or suffragettes and anti-suffragettes, but she declined the honor in a letter which she furnished considerable amusement to the anti-suffragists. With a lack of tact and judgment rather surprising in a society woman supposed to be well bred, she explained in her letter that she declined the honor of presiding at the meeting, because it has always been her "policy in life to endeavor to meet only her equals or superiors." She stated that she considered all anti-suffragists her "inferiors" and although she would be willing to introduce a Hottentott woman to an audience, she utterly refused to countenance "ignorance" and mental inferiority by introducing anti-suffragists. The suffragettes, of course, appraised the sentiments expressed by Mrs. Belmont's letter, but the rational majority of the suffrage advocates deplore the writer's lack of tact and fear that such blundering intolerance will hurt their cause.

Surely, it must take an army of hens to supply New York City with eggs. During the month of April 1,800,000 cases of eggs, each containing thirty dozen were received in the city. This makes a total of 648,000,000 eggs for a single month. If all the eggs brought to the New York market were used for local consumption, it would mean that every man, woman and child in New York City consumed about five eggs a day. But, there are many thousands of families who cannot afford to buy eggs at the present high prices oftener than once a week or even once a month, it would follow that there must be a great many people in the city who consume more than their pro rata share of hen fruit. That is undoubtedly true, but it must be taken into consideration that a considerable part of the eggs received in New York go from here to other markets and are not consumed in this city.

Ever since the board of health issued the order prohibiting the operation of smoking automobiles in any New York street after July 1, hundreds of suggestions have been sent to the board how best to stop the smoke nuisance. One correspondent with a liberal share of humor suggested to compel all makers and owners of automobiles to so arrange the exhaust pipes of their cars that the smoke and stench ejected from the pipes should be blown right into the faces of the occupants of the car. The plan seems feasible and would, undoubtedly, put a prompt stop to the smoke nuisance.

According to an announcement just made there is said to be some prospect that the public library building on Fifth Avenue and Forty-second street, New York's big White Elephant may be completed some time early next year. The building of the library which was to cost $2,500,000 was authorized by the legislature in 1897 and the work was begun in November of that year. Since then nearly thirteen years have elapsed and the building which will cost more than $10,000,000 is not yet completed. The new library building is a fine example of the lax and unbusiness-like manner in which public work is executed. Stupid regulations, endless official red tape, occasional lack of funds and labor troubles were the principal causes of the delay. But, after all, although the building is an architectural monster and costs a large sum of money, the citizens are inclined to be rather proud, not of the preposterous architecture of the building, but of the fact that there has been not even a suspicion of grafting in the expenditure of the ten millions.

Turn on the Searchlight.

The man who hasn't run up against the sharp trader and the trickster in business—the chap whose only object seemed to be to squeeze the last red cent out of every transaction, and give as little in return as possible—must be a brother of Mr. E. Z. Mark.

We allude to nobody. We merely remind you of the possibility of getting a raw sentiment deal at some places. We desire to inject no "I-am-hollower-than-thou" into our advertising. But we do welcome the searchlight of investigation. Our stock, our prices and our methods are such that we would consider it a favor to have you scrutinize them critically.

Denver Votes on Liquor.
 Denver, Colo., May 16.—A bitter and spectacular prohibition fight will be decided at the spring election tomorrow, when the voters of Denver will cast their ballots for or against the saloon. It will be the first local option election ever held in this city. When the discussion of "dry" Denver was first started, it was not believed possible that a petition could be secured through voluntary workers that would carry a sufficient number of names to insure the question being put to the ballot. But the young people's societies, the federated churches and the anti-saloon people set to work with a will and secured nearly 30,000 signatures to the petition. During the campaign which closed today noted prohibition speakers from outside the city have been heard. While there are few unbiased onlookers who believe that Denver will go "dry" at this election, there are many of the opinion that the present battle will pave the way for future success.

Among the special issue to be voted upon at the election, the water question stands next to the liquor question in public interest and probably comes first in importance. For a number of years the city has secured its water supply through the Denver Union Water Company, which is today the largest waterworks system in the west.
 The contract under which it operates provides that at the termination of its franchise, which occurred last year, the city either purchase the plant through condemnation proceedings or an arbitration board, or it can extend the franchise for twenty years. However, the city decided to let the people vote on a proposition to issue bonds for the construction of a new water plant to be owned by the municipality. This proposition the water company is fighting on the grounds that it is illegal. The opposition is led by David Moffat, the millionaire capitalist, who is the principal stock holder of the water company.

Second Trial for Wife Murder.
 Erie, Pa., May 16.—Much interest is manifested in the second trial of Alton V. Hoover, the alleged wife mur-derer of Crawford county, which was on the court calendar to begin in the Oyer and Terminer court today. At the first trial Hoover was convicted and sentenced to death.
 Hoover's crime was the shooting down of his young wife, Cora Fay Hoover, in the small town of Atlantic, near Meadville, on November 27, 1908.
 Hoover was a young merchant of the village and his wife was one of the most beautiful girls of the neighborhood. Early in the summer of 1908, a month before her baby was born,
 Mrs. Hoover had been obliged to leave her husband because of his ill treatment. She was living at the home of her parents where, on Thanksgiving night, she was called up on the telephone by her husband who asked her to return home at once. Accompanied by her sister she went to her home the next day, but could not get into the house. With her sister, she went to the house of a neighbor. Hoover called there and when his wife came to the door deliberately shot her down with a revolver he had purchased the day before. Immediately after the crime the slayer surrendered himself to the police and declared he did not know why he had killed his wife.

RETURNED THE CHANGE.

An Experience on a Train Between Metz and Paris.

"For scrupulous care and trouble taken to return change I have never heard of anything that equaled an experience of mine on the railroad between Metz and Paris," said a national guardsman the other day. "I had been studying the battlefields about Metz, and when I decided to get back to Paris I converted most of the money I had left into francs.

"It was a hot day in August, and the second class compartments were so crowded that I decided as we stopped at a town near the French border to change to a first class coach. There was a supplement to pay, and the only German money I had was in twenty mark pieces. The official who made the transfer did not have the proper change, and while I was waiting for him to come back with the 12 marks and some pfennigs that belonged to me the train moved off, and I gave my money up for gone.

"About 11 o'clock that night the train stopped at a town about halfway to Paris. There was only one other occupant of my compartment, a man who had got on at some station in France. Soon after we stopped the door of the compartment was opened and a man inquired which of us had given a twenty mark piece to be changed at the station in Germany. I replied that I was the individual.

"Come with me, monsieur," he said. So I alighted and followed him into the station office.

"There I found that my change had been telegraphed on, and he had the sum due me already counted out. There were a lot of receipts and things to sign, and the traffic was held up almost fifteen minutes on my account, but I got my money and a lot of satisfaction."—New York Sun.

POISING OF THE TROUT.

Its Resemblance to the Hovering of the Kestrel in the Air.

As the kestrel is to the clouds so is the trout to the crystal waters. Both kestrels and trout display that magical poising as if suspended by invisible threads—only now and then, when cross currents are encountered, is a sign given to show that life itself is not in suspense.

A brief agitation of the kestrel's wings, a swishing of the trout's tail—the cross current is weathered, and bird or fish poises motionless again. And as when walking along we are pulled up in ever fresh wonder by the sight of the hovering kestrel, so we must needs pause on a bridge when there is a trout in the stream below.

He looks his best poising with head to the stream—a shapely form against the background of smooth brown pebbles and waving emerald weeds. Leaning over the bridge with eyes on the trout a vision is conjured—an alluring fly drops on the water, then a slack line tightens, there is a song from the reel, a rod bends, there follows a dazzling dance of vermilion spots against the green of the bank.

Or as we come to the bridge on a winter's day we think we hear a mighty plashing of water over the pebbles, which turns out to be the play of thirty or forty trout, the play of the last round of some water-tourney. As they come to the surface, rolling and wallowing, their great fat sides look twice as big as when seen through the clear water. They almost make a dam across the stream as they jostle each other, seeking for the choicest places on the spawning bed.—London Standard.

"Berlin, Germany, U. S."

"Say, is this letter addressed right?" asked a subject of Germany, holding up an elaborately decorated envelope before the eyes of a postman the other day. The latter surveyed the writing closely. There were a name, a street and then the city and country, "Berlin, Germany." Below were written in bold characters the letters "U. S." "Oh, you don't want 'U. S.' on there," remarked the postman. "Berlin, Germany, isn't in the United States." "I don't mean United States by 'U. S.,'" remarked the man from Kaiser Wilhelm's land. "I mean 'up stairs.' This friend of mine lives on the second floor."—Buffalo Commercial.

His Little Pun.

An inveterate wit and punster asked the captain of a craft loaded with boards how he managed to get dinner on the passage.

"Why," replied the skipper, "we always cook aboard."

"Cook a board, do you?" rejoined the wag. "Then I see you have been well provided with provisions this trip, at all events."—London Graphic.

Hoot Awa', Mon.

An English clergyman, talking one day with a Scottish brother of the cloth, remarked facetiously, "Well, David, I believe, after all has been said, that my head could hold two of yours."

"Mon," returned the other, with ready wit, "I never tocht before that your head was sse empty."—Boston Transcript.

A JOKE ON ANSON.

It Related on the Players the Captain Was Training.

In an article on baseball training camps Hugh S. Fullerton, in the American Magazine, recounts the following joke played on "Cap" Anson, the leader of the famous old White Stockings, during a training season some years ago:

"Anson was one of the most tireless runners in the world, and training under him was a nightmare to his players. Anse would drive his men for three hours in practice, then lead them in long runs, placing himself at the head of the procession and setting a steady, jogging pace. If he felt well the morning training was a Marathon route. I have seen players resort to all kinds of tricks to avoid those killing runs.

"One afternoon in New Orleans years ago Anson ordered ten laps around the field after practice, which on the old grounds was nearly ten miles. The afternoon was hot, one of those wily southern spring days that sap the life out of men fresh from the rigors of a northern winter. The players fell into line, grumbling and scowling. Back of left field a high board fence separated the ball grounds from one of the old cemeteries, and near the foul line a board was off the fence. The first time the panting athletes passed the hole in the fence Dahien gave a quick glance to see if Anson was looking and dived head first through the gap into the cemetery. The others continued on around the lot, but on the second round Lange, Ryan, Kittridge and Decker dived after Dahien and joined him in the cemetery. The third trip saw the line dwindle to four followers, with Anson still leading. The fourth found only Anson and poor Bill Schriver, who had the bad luck to be directly behind his captain, plodding on, and on the next trip Schriver made the leap for life.

"Majestically alone, Anson toiled on, while the onlookers writhed with delight. Perhaps their behavior aroused suspicion or the absence of following footsteps attracted 'Cap's' attention. He stopped, looked at the vacant field; a grim grin overspread his red face, and he resumed the jogging. Straight to that fence he plodded, and, sticking his head through the hole, he beheld his team leaning against the above ground tombs, smoking and laughing. Just for that he marshaled them into line again and, sitting in the stand, watched them grimly until every man had completed ten rounds."

A Skylark For the Shelley Class.

I have heard of a professor of English in one of our universities who evidently felt that his department was laboring under disadvantages. Finding that his scientific colleagues were getting appropriations of astonishing liberality for illustrative apparatus, he put in his annual report a request for $5,000 for an aviary. When the president asked him to explain he said that it was impossible for him to teach poetry properly unless he had an aviary connected with his class room. "Then," he said, "when the class is reading Shelley's 'Skylark' I reach my long handed net into the cage, catch a lark and hold it up to them. And when we are studying 'The Rime of the Ancient Mariner' my assistant will be stationed in the gallery with a crossbow to shoot a real, live albatross on the platform, thus giving the students opportunities for observation that doubtless Coleridge himself never had."—Independent.

The Orang Outang.

It is a most interesting sight to watch an orang outang make its way through the jungle. It walks slowly through the larger branches in a semi-erect attitude, this being apparently caused by the length of its arms and the shortness of its legs. It invariably selects those branches which intermingle with those of a neighboring tree, on approaching which it stretches out its long arms and, grasping the boughs opposite, seems first to shake them as if to test their strength and then deliberately swings itself across to the next branch, which it walks along as before. It does not jump or spring, as monkeys usually do, and never appears to hurry itself unless some real danger is present. Yet in spite of its apparently slow movements it gets along far quicker than a person running through the forest beneath.

The Poppy Bee.

The poppy bee is the artist of the honey makers, though she builds her nest in a hole in the ground, burrowing down about three inches. At the bottom she makes a large hole and lines it gloriously with the scarlet petals of the red poppy. She cuts and fits the gorgeous tapestry perfectly, then partly fills the cell with honey, lays an egg, folds down the red blankets and covers the hole so that it cannot be observed, leaving the baby bee to look after itself in its rosy nest.

Thrilling.

Sir John Benn recently related a story of a boy who was asked what he would like to be.

The boy said, "A lighthouse keeper." The schoolmaster asked, "Why?"

The boy replied, "It would be so nice to sit up at the top of the lighthouse and see all the wrecks going to pieces below."—Dundee Advertiser.

Locked Something.

That visits Mineral Wells drink from 15 to 30 big glasses of the water per day. If you will drink the same amount of this water at home you will get the same results. The trouble is that in drinking it at home you forget to drink as much as you ought and so fail oftentimes to get the desired results. We are in a position to supply you with the famous CRAZY water at a net price of $2.00 per case. Just the price of one visit from the doctor. Understand we are not knocking the doctor, in cases of real illness he is the proper person to consult and if you ask him he will advise the use of this water. Remember there is no water just as good as CRAZY.
