"The Taming of the Shrew"

MISS DELLA BACON WADLINGTON

Among the selections to be rendered by Miss Della Bacon Wadlington in her recital at the Wichita Theatre Wednesday, May 25th, will be the wooing, betrothal and taming scenes from Shakespeare's famous drama, "The Taming of the Shrew."
This play is considered by many to be one of the masterpieces of the famous playwright and in as much as it has never been presented in this city, will prove of especial interest to many Shakespearean students.

Miss Wadlington is said to render these selections in a very pleasing manner. Her work has been favorably compared by many to that of some of the leading Shakespearean actresses of the present day, among them Miss Marie Booth Russell. Miss Russell is to be remembered by Wichita Falls people in support of Robt. Mantell.

CLIPPED FROM EXCHANGES

Judge Poindexter and his friends are now making very bitter attacks on the Anti-Saloon League because Rev. Rankin has declared for Johnson for governor. Judge Poindexter has been a member of that league and a regular contributor to it until the present. His friends will not help him nor aid the cause of prohibition by intemperate and unjust attacks on the most powerful agent of the temperance forces. Let them rather reserve their strength to work for Poindexter's election in a legitimate way. Certainly they can never accomplish this by antagonizing the only element from which Poindexter can hope to gain strength.—Bonham News.

Dr. Gambrell, one of the prohibition leaders appears to be somewhat disheartened. He believes that if the prohibitionists were united and harmonious they could elect every state officer of Texas, but he says they are not together and as the campaign is framing up, they are not going to get together. The differences in the anti-prohibition camp, the doctor thinks, are only seeming differences. "There is unity at the bottom and at the critical time the vote will go just where it is needed to defeat the prohibitionists." That ought to make somebody feel good.—San Antonio Express.

Of larger importance, perhaps, is the announcement, seemingly authenticated, that Senator Bailey intends to begin at Nacogdoches, on June 15, a speaking tour in behalf of Judge Poindexter for governor. Should this information prove correct, it will mean certain realignments in the campaign. At least this is the view some of the well informed are inclined to take.—Houston Chronicle.

Judge Poindexter swells out big when he talks about contributing money to the anti-saloon league. Why, bless your soul judge, Harry Halseil, a private citizen of Decatur has contributed ten times your amount, and up to and including this good day we have not heard him blow about it.—Wise County Messenger.

That was a magnificent speech delivered by Cone Johnson in Bridgeport Monday. There was none of that slander and abuse that characterizes Poindexter's efforts. And mark our prediction, Bridgeport will give the Tyler man a handsome vote.—Wise County Messenger.

Colquitt stands for the very thing in Texas that O'Neal stood for in Alabama. The people of Texas have quite as much wisdom as the people of Alabama, therefore the result will be like that in Alabama.—El Paso Morning Times.

Dr. Rankin seems not to have stirred up any more excitement than did Hon. R. V. Davidson in his opening speech at Waco. Both must have been disappointing to their friends, whom they sought to encourage.—Corsicana Sun.

The prohibition question is perhaps the biggest in the present campaign, but that proposition about judicial reform should not be lost sight of. Too many criminals in Texas are free through legal technicalities and the law's delays.—Yoakum Herald.

Generally speaking, the prohibitionists of Williamson county will not accept Dr. Rankin's nomination of Cone Johnson for governor of Texas. They scout the idea that even Rankin should scout the idea that even Rankin should bow of his hand.—Taylor Democrat.

If Culberson's name is to go on the ticket at the coming primary the people have a right to hear from him at least on national issues before the campaign is over.—Waxahachie Light.

Talking About Boston.
Spokane, Wash., May 20.—Resenting the action of Margaret F. G. Whitney and the Massachusetts association opposed to the further extension of the franchise to women, in circulating letters in this state, Mrs. May Arkwright Hutton, president of the Washington Political Equality League, who has just returned to Spokane from Lynn and other cities in Massachusetts, said: "I am not surprised that women there do not want the ballot. The majority of them I met do not know there is any other place on earth except Boston." She said the Massachusetts association tried the same tactics with pamphlets a year ago, when the suffragists were making a campaign at Olympia for an amendment to the state law. Mrs. Hutton's attack on the women of Massachusetts, charging them with being narrow-minded, has drawn sharp criticism from members of the New-England colony in Spokane and a campaign is under way to interest former residents of New England in other parts of Washington to make a solid front against the votes for women organization.

Federal Soldiers' Homes.

Discretionary rights and powers are an unknown thing with the governors of the homes. If a soldier has had some difficulty in one of the homes and there is a mark against his record he cannot be admitted to another home without formal application having been made to the board, which means the inspector-general at New York, even though the soldier might be lying helpless at the very gates of a soldiers' home. I hold in my hand now a copy of a part of the official records from the county of Elizabeth City, Va., which stands as an indictment against the administration of the national soldiers' homes and a disgrace to our government.

In the fall of 1909 Joseph H. Mahaffey, late of Company D, Fourth Pennsylvania Reserve Infantry, was an inmate of the temporary home in Washington, remaining there from the 5th to the 16th of September of that year. He had addressed an application to the board of managers for admission into the soldiers' home at Hampton. His application was not replied to. On the morning of the 16th of September, the kind-hearted matron of the Washington Temporary Home, after giving the old veteran a warm breakfast and putting up a lunch in his basket, started him toward Hampton, happy in the anticipation of comfortable quarters during the coming winter. He made application for admittance to the officers of the home at Hampton, but they were powerless to act upon his request.

The old man became ill and a physician placed him in a carriage and sent him to the soldiers' home, believing that his condition, which was then manifestly serious, would prompt the authorities to admit him to the hospital. It is a matter of record and shown by evidence adduced before the coroner's inquest that one of the officers in the home advised the hackman to take the soldier back and dump him out on the bridge, a point close to the home. The hackman stopped on the bridge and the soldier made his way into the fields. The next afternoon he was dead, and I submit now the report of the coroner's inquest with reference to this disgraceful occurrence.—I. M. Cox, in Congressional Record.

The place of meeting will be announced by the local committee at each point.

The Farmers' Institute is the grown people's school for study of better methods of farming and live stock raising. Every farmer and public-spirited citizen in each of the localties named should attend these institute meetings. Everyone interested in the advancement of the agricultural interests of Texas should join in the discussion of the leading topics which will be discussed.

These institutes will be conducted by J. W. Neill, Director of Farmers' Institutes. He will be assisted at all these institutes by the following gentlemen: D. J. Bell, of Grayson county, and Weldon Winn, of Santa Anna. Local institute workers will also assist Mr. Neill.

Improved methods of farming will have careful attention, as also live stock raising, dairying, home building and the household; fruit and truck farming, and any other topic of vital interest in each locality.

The State Department of Agriculture has published valuable reports and bulletins upon the soil of Texas, citrus fruits, dairying, onion culture, and many other topics of vital interest to the farmers of the State.

It is the purpose of the Department of Agriculture to organize a Farmers' Institute at each locality named, and many others as rapidly as possible.

All members of these Institutes will immediately receive all the bulletins issued by the Department free of cost and will be placed on the regular mailing list for future bulletins and reports.

These Institutes are farmers' meetings, devoted to the upbuilding of the best interests of the farmer. It is urged, therefore that farmers bring their families and devote at least one day to a careful study and discussion of the agricultural questions which lies nearest their hearts.

Over 5,000 people are expected out to hear Senator H. Bascom Thomas at the court house tonight. This, no doubt, will be one of the most sensational speeches ever delivered in Wichita Falls. Thomas is one of the greatest speakers in all the country. Everybody invited.

W. J. Bryan Gives Views on Liquor Question in Chicago Lecture.

Chicago, May 18.—As the guest of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America here tonight, William J. Bryan in his first appearance on the lecture platform since his return from South America gave his lecture on the liquor question. Mr. Bryan is on his way to Edinburg, Scotland, to attend a meeting of temperance workers. Mr. Bryan discussed the liquor question from the standpoint of the individual and in general. Giving his views on sumptuary legislation and personal liberty, he said:

"I would not favor legislation forbidding the use of liquor at any time or any circumstances. I would consider this an unnecessary restriction upon the liberty of the individual; but I am in favor of such restriction as may seem necessary for the protection of society.
"The first proposition which I would lay down in the discussion of liquor legislation is that the people have the right to fix the terms and condition upon which intoxicating liquors shall be sold and used.
"I hold that every unit ought to have authority to act on this subject unit; that is, that the block, the ward, the city, the precinct, the county, the state and the nation should have the undisputed right to exclude the sale of liquor as the people of the unit may deem necessary for their protection and welfare. I believe also that the larger unit has a right to control the smaller one on this as on the other subjects."

Fading of the Races.

A weekly newspaper printed in the German language at Lancaster, Pa., 102 successive years, was discontinued a few days ago for lack of support. A German daily published at the same place and formerly enjoying a large circulation died somewhat earlier for the same reason. Yet Lancaster is the metropolis of the Pennsylvania 'Dutch,' a people who remained unassimilated for nearly two centuries.

In Milwaukee, familiarly known in this country as a German city, the newspapers published in the German language are declining, and those issued in other cities of the middle west are undergoing a similar experience. The cause in all these cases is simple. German immigration has fallen off greatly. The children of Germans insist upon being Americans who speak the English language.—New York World.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and Vicinity.
Tonight and Saturday, unsettled weather; cooler Saturday.

THERE ARE LEADERS, AND LEADERS.

One day last week the Chamber of Commerce of Wichita Falls held a meeting for the purpose of raising a bonus of $50,000 for a packing house. After the speech-making, J. A. Kemp arose and stated on behalf of Mr. Kell and himself that he would subscribe one-fourth of the amount asked, or $12,500. This action is characteristic of these gentlemen. They have made their money in Wichita Falls and are willing to spend some of their profits in helping the city grow to larger proportions. It is true they might sit down and say they had done enough for the town and make as much money as they are now, but when they did the city would stop growing, to a large extent, and would soon become a dead place. There are many Kells and Kells in the world, but how many are there in Childress?—Childress Index.

The citizenship of Wichita Falls is largely composed of men like Messrs. Kemp and Kell. They are liberal-minded and give in proportion to their wealth. This city is certainly fortunate in having for its leaders the two gentlemen mentioned, but, without the hearty co-operation of their fellow-citizens they would soon become disheartened and cease their efforts. As it is now, they feel assured in advance that when they lead off in an effort to secure an enterprise, the smaller boosters will follow their lead and go their limit. For this they are entitled to, and receive, just as much credit as the leaders, or those who are able to give, probably one-fourth of the amount to be raised. This is as it should be. Were our leaders to be "niggardly" and give sparingly, it is a pretty safe proposition to assert that there would not be "much doing" when the time came to raise a large bonus. The Times has in mind a town located not more than one hundred miles from Wichita Falls, which has men as its citizens who are perhaps worth, in dollars and cents, as much or more than Messrs. Kemp and Kell, but that town has made no material increase in its population for the past fifteen years. The reason for this is that the people of that town have been looking to their more wealthy neighbors to lead, and have governed their giving in proportion to that of their natural leaders. The result has been that, while "the leaders" have continued to make money, they have kept it, never turning any of it loose for subsidies or bonuses. The people of that town would be better off if they could swap off such wealthy leaders for just one or two leaders of moderate means who could be depended upon to lead off by doing their full share.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Bishop Hoos Heads Board of Education of Methodists.

By Associated Press. Asheville, N. C., May 20.—Bishop Denny, one of the newly elected members of the College of Bishops, presided at today's session of the General Conference of the M. E. Church, South. The committee on education nominated a new board of education, and the committee on publishing interests named a new publishing board, both of which were elected by the conference. The name of Bishop Hoos was the first on the board of education.

After a general discussion regarding changing of the name of the church, a report of a majority recommending that the change be made was adopted. This means that the question must be submitted for ratification by a three-fourths majority of the members of the annual conferences.

Cottolene Biscuits Are Light and Flaky

They have none of that heavy-as-lead suggestion, that greasy taste, and that after-heaviness of lard biscuit. The reason is that Cottolene is a vegetable product of absolute purity. It is made of choice, refined, cotton seed oil, and it contains not a trace of hog-fat.

Cottolene is unequaled as a shortening and frying medium. It is not only better than lard or cooking butter, but more economical.

Order a pail of your grocer and try it today.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an air-tight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

POINDEXTER ADDRESSES SMALL CROWD—ABOUT THREE HUNDRED ATTEND

erally shuts his eyes and makes a guess as to what the law is. This kind of business, explained the speaker, was not only annoying, but was very expensive to the people. Unless the present law is changed, cutting down the number of higher courts, one more will be added at each succeeding legislature, and if that business was kept up, it would be so after while that court litigants will die of old age before they can hope for a decision in their case.

The rest of Judge Poindexter's speech was along the line of printed speeches, which outlines his platform, or principles. He was frequently interrupted by applause from the audience.

At the time the Times goes to press Judge Poindexter had not touched upon the Russell letter to the Dallas News in which Russell says he received a letter from Senator Bailey saying that while he personally favored Poindexter, he would support Colquitt if it became apparent to him there was no possible show of electing Poindexter. He will likely have something to say along this line before he closes.

At the conclusion of his speech, the program is to take Judge Poindexter over the city and country in an automobile and quite a number of his friends and supporters will accompany him.

CANNOT BE PROSECUTED.

Theodore Price, New York Cotton King Escapes on Technicality.

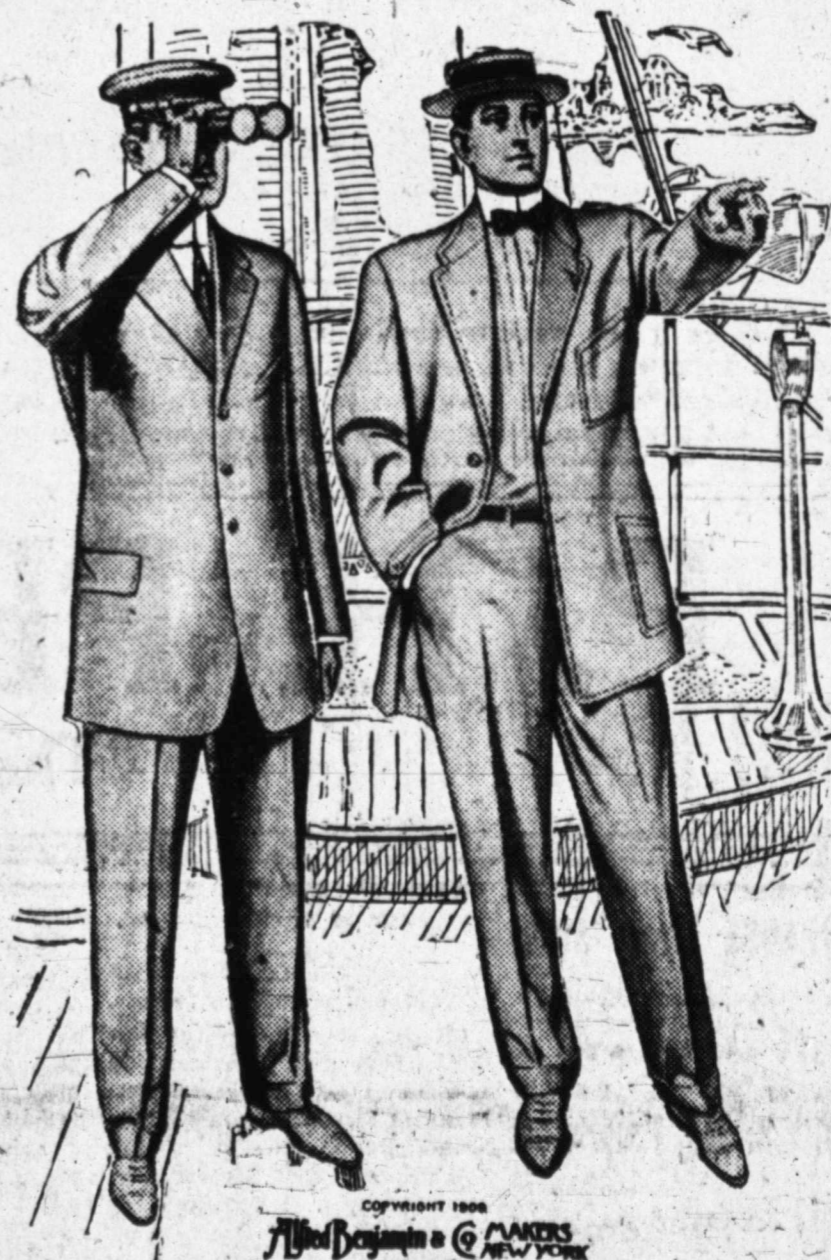

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., May 20.—Theodore Price, the New York Cotton King, indicted for connection with the cotton leak scandal in 1908, cannot be prosecuted in the District of Columbia, according to a ruling of the supreme court of the District of Columbia here today. The plea of Price is that the grand jury which indicted him had a government employe upon it, which plea was sustained by the court.

Don't Use Ordinary Salt!

Shaker table salt is the cleanest, purest, saltiest salt on the market, and it costs but a few cents a year more than the ordinary kind. It is the cleanest because it comes packed in a sanitary paraffined box, dust proof, damp proof, and odor proof. It is the purest because it is the only salt from which gypsum is removed. It is the saltiest because it is all salt and nothing else. The flavor is bound to be right.

Shaker salt always flows freely. It never gets hard or lumpy in any climate. Why use salt of doubtful quality? Buy Shaker table salt and you are sure to get the best.

TEXAS PRESS OPINIONS.

Gainesville Register: There was a time in Texas when men run for office on their merits and democratic affiliation. But how things have changed!

Marfa New Era: We have lately noticed in Marfa a great deal of interest in Bible study—caused, perhaps, by the near approach of a strange-looking celestial messenger.

Laredo Times: If all the grafters who are now being exposed in this country could only be placed in a pot together and boiled down, wouldn't there be a mess to write about?

Waelder News: They have quit asking whether or not Davidson can speak and are now asking who writes his speeches. It is doubtful if his speeches even see a piece of paper until after they are delivered.

McKinney Courier-Gazette: Governor Campbell has put away the report of the penitentiary investigating committee until the members of the committee agree among themselves as to what is credible and what is not.

Denison Herald: The shortage and high price of food supplies is turning the attention of the people to our undeveloped lands. Also pointed attention is being called to the fact that our lands should produce more.

Tyler Courier-Times: Cone Johnson does not say "I have been a prohibitionist for thirty years," etc. He says "I am" a prohibitionist, and calls upon others to become such. He is working in the living present for the great cause of reform.

Belton Journal-Reporter: Colquitt had much to say against statutory prohibition, urging that it is unconstitutional. Unfortunately, for the speaker, the saloons in Belton were closed on Saturday for the school trustee election. Was that constitutional?

Beaumont Enterprise: So great was the demand for Texas peanuts last year and so poor the calculation that it is reported that this year's crop is to be cut short by shortage of seed peanuts—or, perhaps, the politicians have stolen them to use in their business.

Stamford Tribune: The Tribune is glad to note that 90 per cent of the graduates of the Agricultural and Mechanical College will engage in agricultural pursuits. Very many of the men who have ruled this government and influenced the lives of its people have been farm-reared boys.

Fort Worth Star-Telegram: With 365,000 square miles of sunshine and material optimism there's not much of an opening for any favored community as a home summer resort. Selling sunshine to home folk in grand old Texas is merely an interchange of visiting. There's sunshine and whole some living everywhere in Texas.

Ablene Reporter: The voter will agree with Colquitt's Bellville assertion that "Texas needs a political rest." Likewise the agreement will be unanimous that Colquitt and his three opponents are showing the least disposition to bring about such a condition of any quartet of citizens that can at this time be found in the state.

Arlington Journal: Farmers should purchase their supplies as near home as possible. Why? Again, not from charity, but from a standpoint of common sense, as it keeps cash in circulation near home, and the more cash other citizens have the more they can afford to pay for what they eat, all of which most come from the ground.

Brownwood Bulletin: Colquitt declares that if he is elected governor he will be the political boss of Texas. He doesn't say it in exactly those words, but says that he will not abide by any demagogic instructions or party platform planks unless they fit into his conscience, and the Colquitt conscience is about the most elastic thing in Texas. Will Texas stand for such an autocrat in the governor's office?

Warning. Lake Wichita has been posted against fishing.

Proper parties can secure permits to fish with hook and line between the hours of 6 a. m. and 10 p. m., on application to the manager at the office at the lake. A close watch will be kept throughout the season and a reward of $25.00 will also be paid for evidence that will convict any one of breaking the laws against seining or dynamiting fish in any of the waters forming a part of Lake Wichita.

ORGANIZED BANKING OPPOSITION

Fear of Postal Savings Bank Competition by Bankers Disappears From the Financial World.

A changed sentiment has been in evidence of late toward the proposed postal savings banks system on the part of the members of the American Bankers' Association, which up to recently has conducted a vigorous and systematic campaign in opposition to the scheme.

As this association is composed of all the leading banks in the United States, it is regarded as the mouth-piece of the views of the banking fraternity. The contention it has made throughout its propaganda was that the country already had adequate facilities, and that if the government undertook to engage in this business it was treading dangerously upon paternalism, and it would be from then on only a question of time before the administration would be considering other lines of business which it might consider the government could run much better and to the greater advantage of the people than could private individuals.

All these arguments appealed to unbiased observers as extremely selfish. They could not see how the government could in any way interfere with the business of bankers, since the interest which was to be allowed on deposits was very much less than now generally being paid and it is well known that where depositors have confidence in a bank a larger rate will hold their business all the time.

Succinctly stated, what the government aims at with its postal savings bank is to furnish sparsely populated sections with adequate and safe depositories for accumulated funds to induce ignorant and timid foreigners to put their money where it can be of some use to the commerce of the country, instead of hiding it away in all sorts of odd places.

Evidently our bankers begin to see it also in this light. They might have done so earlier and spared themselves the fruitless and costly campaign they indulged in, since, from the beginning, their opposition has been against the solid wall of popular approval.

Are Truly Thankful.

We wish to express our thanks to the many good people in the vicinity of 12th and Broad streets for articles of clothing sent us after having lost our entire effects by fire on the evening of the 17th. We also thank those who have offered to contribute cash and other articles which we can not conscientiously accept, and beg to say that we were fortunate in having had insurance protection which even the poorest of people can afford, and would say to those not acquainted with our situation, especially the Noble Hardware Co., who most generously tendered us a personal and liberal check; we thank these generous people, and should our circumstances permit, would have gladly accepted the same.

We are at present enjoying the home and hospitality of Mrs. Wylie and her son, Mr. Williams, who have shown us the value of an old time neighbor. Mr. Webb of the Daily Times and others who are our neighbors, have helped us until now it seems—one must meet misfortune, that we may know true value in people such as live in Wichita Falls.

W. C. CANNON, WIFE and MOTHER.

Enforced Temperance.

In the early days of railroading in this country no restraint was laid on any employee from drinking, and many of them were intemperate. Now railroads are virtually temperate societies. Many companies will not permit any employee to be seen entering a saloon, nor under any circumstances to drink intoxicating liquors.—Hamilton Rustler.

No man has a right to befuddle his brains with liquors when he has other men's lives or property in his care. Railroad operators who drink whiskey while on duty have a low conception of their obligations to the traveling public. But it is not the transportation managers alone who are insisting upon the sobriety rule. Practically all responsible employments are now closed to drinking men—that is to say, men who drink to excess.—Dallas News.

Don't forget those hat pins, lockets, chains, bracelets and other articles, when selecting those graduation presents.

Texas Industrial Congress to Launch
Ten Thousand Membership Campaign

Corpus Christi, Tex., May 20.—An energetic campaign with a view to building up a membership of ten thousand before the next annual meeting which will convene at Houston in December, will be launched within the next few days by the Texas Industrial Congress, which has established headquarters in this city. An urgent appeal will be addressed to all loyal and patriotic Texans who are desirous of the rapid development and growth of their state to rally to the support of the organization. Dues have been fixed at $5.00 per annum and it is believed that little difficulty will be experienced in inducing thousands of public-spirited citizens of the state to affiliate with the congress which is strictly non-political, non-partisan and non-sectional and which already has the substantial backing of scores of the most prominent and influential business men of Texas.

Mr. R. J. Kleberg, managing director of the great King ranch and vice-president of the Brownsville railroad, who was elected president of the congress at the recent San Antonio convention, has issued the following open letter to the people of Texas, setting forth the plans and purposes of the organization:

"In accepting the presidency of the Texas Industrial Congress, which was permanently organized at San Antonio on April 20th, I did so through a sense of public duty and an earnest desire, which I hold in common with all patriotic Texans, to aid in bringing about, at the earliest moment practicable, the fullest possible development of the wonderful resources of this great state. I believed, and still believe, that there are men in Texas better equipped, by knowledge of condition and experience, than I, to direct the affairs of this important organization, which, in my opinion, is destined under right guidance and proper support to wield a mighty influence in shaping the commercial and industrial future of Texas, but, since the high honor has fallen upon me, I here pledge myself to discharge the duties incumbent upon me, to the best of my ability.

"I believe there is a great field of work for the Texas Industrial Congress. The organization was born of an appreciation of a crying need of intelligent and comprehensive co-operation effort in the development of the state and of a desire on the part of many of the state's most able and patriotic citizens to meet that demand.

"Before she can realize her splendid destiny, Texas must be better known and better understood. This applies not alone to people residing outside of the state, to whom Texas offers unexampled opportunities for location and investment, but to citizens of the state, as well. We are accustomed to proclaim that 'The resources of Texas are limitless' and then let it go at that. What the intelligent citizenship of Texas—those who love their state want is to see her grow commercially, industrially, agriculturally and in every way and are willing to do what they can help her grow—what they must do first is to know their own state; they must acquaint themselves with her resources, their character, extent and location; they must study how these 'limitless resources can be developed with a view to the best interests of the state; they must know conditions and then determine how they can best be appropriated and utilized to the good and glory of Texas.

"In short, it seems to me that the purpose of the Texas Industrial Congress should be two-fold; first, to make Texas and Texas opportunities known to Texas people; second, to make Texas and Texas opportunities known to the world. We must first know our state before we can fairly and accurately represent it to the world. One of the prime objects of this organization, therefore, should be to help the people of Texas to know their state.

"We have heard much of late on the subject of Texas laws. We have been told by some that certain of our statutes are not calculated to attract to the state capital seeking investment. While it may be true that particular features of some of our laws might be, and probably could, be improved. We have it upon high authority that, taken as a whole, Texas laws, pertaining to corporations, for instance, compare favorably with similar laws of many other states.

"In the course of an address at the recent San Antonio convention of the congress, Mr. B. F. Yoakum, who, it goes without saying, is competent to pass judgment in such matters, stated that Texas laws are not understood; that only slight modification of certain laws is needed and that it is the prejudice against the laws, resulting from misunderstanding, rather than the laws themselves, that the

At the Parting of the Ways.
The Outlook: The American Nation is at the parting of the ways. Two leaders, each of whom sees with greater clearness and speaks with greater courage than the newspaper editor or the practical politician usually possesses, lead in opposite directions. Both recognize the peril to the Republic from the special interests. Both desire to secure the general public against that peril. But what one proposes as a remedy the other regards as an aggravation. One would move in the direction of greater individual liberty, the other in the direction of a stronger peril in a strong National Government, the other accounts it to the public safeguard; one regards the individuals as the end, the organization as a means, the other regards the organization as an end and would subordinate the individual interests to the interests of the social order; one would promote competition, the other co-operation; the peril of the one philosophy carried to its logical extreme would be anarchy; of the other, political Socialism; the prescription of the one is liberty, of the other is union.

Temperamentally the Democratic party is the party of individual liberty, the Republican the party of social order; but both are affected by past traditions, by local prejudices, by special interests, and by the notions of individual leaders. It would be well for the country, if each party could rid itself of the incongruities and inconsistencies with which it is entangled, and could present, with some approximation to clearness and consistency, one of the principles of individual liberty under government protection, the other the principle of co-operative action for the common welfare. A great debate between these two principles of National action would be a great education not only for America but for all peoples with democratic institutions or democratic proclivities.

Defends a Libel.
Richard Burton, noted poet and educator rejoiced at a luncheon in Minneapolis over the disappearance of the old enmity between Minneapolis and St. Paul.

"It was a bitter and irrational enmity," said Prof. Burton, "for Minneapolis and St. Paul are both very pleasant places."

"It is recorded that a Minneapolis capitalist could not, till late in life, be induced to set foot inside of St. Paul. He did one day make the journey, and after some hours in one neighbor city he returned home again, a bitter set to his mouth."

"Well, what did you think of our town sir?" a St. Paul reporter asked him that night.

"The ugliest, vilest town I've ever saw," the capitalist replied.

"The reporter was hurt. He knew he could not print anything of the sort. He bit his lip and said: 'Yet God made St. Paul, sir.'"

"Certainly He did," the capitalist answered, "but we must always remember that he made it for the St. Paulites; and by the same token, though comparisons are odious, He made hell."—Detroit Free Press.

WOMEN'S BEAUTY.
Imperfect Digestion Causes Bad Complexion and Dull Eyes.
The color in your cheeks won't fade, the brightness in your eye won't vanish, if you keep your stomach in good condition.

This was the advice of a prominent physician to a woman's club in Boston and it is good advice.

Belching of gas, heaviness, sour taste in mouth, dizziness, biliousness and nausea occur simply because the stomach is not properly digesting the food.

The blood needs nourishment to carry vigor, vim and vitality to every part of the body and when food ferments in the stomach enough nourishment is not supplied.

Mi-on stomach tablets give instant relief to upset stomachs, but they do more; they put strength into the stomach and build it up so that it can easily digest a hearty meal without giving its owner hours of misery.

Mi-on is sold by druggists everywhere and by Week's Drug Co. at 50 cents a large box. It is guaranteed to cure indigestion or any stomach distress or money back.
