TAKING OF CENSUS ABOUT COMPLETED

RESULTS ARE SUBSTANTIAL

ONLY ONE OR TWO MORE DAYS REMAIN IN WHICH TO FINISH WORK.

A Great Many Names Have Been Added to List Through the Special Effort.

The time for determining the population of Wichita Falls has about expired and it is probable that there will be no enumerations after the 1st of June. The special census takers employed by the Chamber of Commerce have been steadily at work for about ten days and their work is about completed. This work has under the charge of C. W. Bean being personally supervised by P. C. Maricle.

It is believed, as a result of the additional efforts put forth by the Chamber of Commerce, that the population of the city will show up much better in the government's return than it otherwise would have. All new names added to the rolls have been legitimate ones and the charge made in one or two out-of-town papers, that hotel guests and other transients were being included is of course, without any foundation in fact.

Wichita's time is supposed to expire June 1, and by that date the work will be as nearly complete as it is possible to make it.

FAILED TO PAY FRANCHISE TAX.

2000 Corporations Notified That They Must Pay By July 1, or Forfeit Charters.

Austin, May 26.—Secretary of State Townsend today had his entire office force busy mailing out notices to 2000 corporations in this state which failed to pay their franchise taxes for this year by May 1 and are delinquent. The delinquents are being notified that unless their franchise tax with penalties is paid by July 1, their right to do business in this state will be forfeited without judicial ascertainment. They then have until Jan. 1 to reinstate, provided they pay the delinquent tax, the usual penalty of 25 per cent for delinquency and an additional penalty of 5 per cent per month. If they don't reinstate or pay their taxes by Jan. 1 they will be reported to the Attorney General that he may take steps to collect the back taxes.

LEAPS FROM TRAIN.

THIS IS CLEAN UP DAY IN THE NEGRO SECTION; MANY ARRESTS EFFECTED

War on the idle negroes and negroes that infest the southeastern part of this city was declared this morning by the city authorities and a large bevy of alleged vagrants of both sexes were arrested and are on trial in the city court this afternoon. The movement was made at the request of several of the better class of local negroes, who asked the authorities to take some action in the premises. This request was promptly complied with and a "clean-up campaign" inaugurated that promises to bring results.

SPARRING EXHIBITIONS.

Jeffries Will Give Performance This Afternoon.

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, May 27.—Jim Jeffries will be in the limelight today as a consequence of his sparring exhibition here tonight, and Jack Johnson with his "golden smile," will experience a temporary eclipse. This is unless the negro carries out his plan of donning false whiskers and visiting the Jeffries show incog. He is sure to be recognized if he does and will then share some attention. Jeffries is scheduled to square off this evening in the arena at Dreamland-Rink with Joe Choyinski, Bob Armstrong, and his brother Jack.

LAKE BALL PARK TO BE THROWN OPEN

FIRST GAME WILL BE PLAYED TOMORROW AFTERNOON AT FOUR O'CLOCK.

ALTUS AND IRISH LADS

Preparations Made for Big Crowd and Memorable Occasion is Being Planned.

The big baseball park at Lake Wichita will be thrown open to the fans tomorrow afternoon when, at 4 o'clock, the "Irish Lads" will cross bats with the team from Altus. The game will be proceeded by a band concert and the usual lake attractions will be open to the public.

A description of the baseball park has already appeared in the Times but some features of this attraction will bear repetition here. The park is the largest in the state and the center field fence, which is closer to the home plate than any other, is entirely too far for any home runs ever to be put over it. The grandstand has a seating capacity of three thousand people and every seat in it gives one an unobstructed view of the game.

The field is hard and level and free from grass and weeds, giving the players a sure foothold and an unhampered action, thus reducing the element of duck to its lowest figure. Both of tomorrow's competing teams are among the best in this section of the state and the games played so far have been very interesting and closely contested. Good street car and train service to the lake has been provided for and the recently installed street car loop will obviate any delays in getting the cars started back to town.

The admission fee to the game will be twenty-five cents, ladies free. Gentlemen accompanied by ladies will not be charged for the grandstand. The same teams will play Sunday and Monday and it is hoped to make the opening of this park a notable event.

NEW OKLAHOMA LINE GIVEN SET BACK

ARREST OF CONTRACTOR AT LAWTON RECENTLY PUTS STOP TO WALTERS LINE.

BAD CHECKS WERE CAUSE

Not Probable That Any Further Effort Will Be Made at Present For Road.

Growing out of trouble arising in the construction of the proposed Kansas, Lawton and Gulf Railroad, extending from Walters, Oklahoma, to Wichita Falls, which took over the old charter of the proposed Bellamy line from Lawton to Wichita Falls and which has been backed alone by business men of Walters, work on the grade of the line which was started several weeks ago at Walters with due formalities, has been stopped, the railway contractor Fred C. Avery is under arrest charged with the fraudulent issue of time checks, and the Walters business men feeling that they have been duped in the deal, are taking steps to free themselves from the tangle which seems to involve them in the payment of thousands of dollars for an intangible prospectless railway.

This condition was disclosed today when a delegation of Walters business men went to Lawton and swore out warrants for Avery, the contractor in charge of the construction work, who is now in Oklahoma City. Work has been stopped on the line and Avery left Walters Friday of last week. The case involves only the sum of $100, but it is charged that Avery has obtained large sums of money for himself by issuing time checks to dummy laborers which, when paid, came into his own hands. Avery denies the charge, but, in response to telegrams from Sheriff LeFors he was arrested in Oklahoma City and will be taken to Lawton for hearing.

It is said that the business men of Walters have subscribed something like $40,000 or $50,000 for the construction of the road, that about $10,000 had been paid in, the contract has been signed for payments on construction. Now, however, believing themselves duped, they are taking steps to prevent the carrying out of the contract which, it is claimed, is costing unreasonable sums.

On foreclosure of mortgage in the sum of $3,510, held by Charles Orth, the old grade of the abandoned Lawton and Wichita Falls road between Randlett and Devo, whose charter the Walters line was to have used, was recently sold at sheriff's sale from the steps of the court house, for the sum of $1,000. Charles Orth, holder of the mortgage, was the purchaser, although two other bidders, Milt Haines and C. C. Black, made offers. Irregularities, however in publication notice dates, may require a second sale. Judgment against the company, headed by J. M. Bellamy of Lawton, was granted in the district court September 30th, last—Lawton Constitution-Democrat.

It appears very unlikely now that the business men of Walters, who at first went into this proposition with such commendable energy, will abandon the matter temporarily, at least. Had they been able to carry out their part of the work, the construction of the entire line from this city to Oklahoma City would have been rendered much more feasible and there is considerable regret here that they were unable to do so.

At a meeting of the directors of the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday afternoon, the annual membership fee was fixed at $5 for seniors, $5 for intermediates and $4 for juniors.

MINERS RETURN TO WORK.

Demands Are Practically Granted By the Operators.

Texas News Service Special.
Pittsburg Kansas, May 27.—Eighteen coal mine operators today signed a contract giving the men three cents increase per ton of mine run coal, five cents for screened lump and five fifty-five per day for wage work. Five hundred men returned to work at Ft. Smith, Arkansas today and it is expected that most of the companies will sign within three days. One of the concerns signing is the Sheridan company employing fifteen hundred men, the head of which called district president Howart of the miners' union to Kansas City for the purpose of signing the agreement. The contract is based on proposals made at the conference at Indianapolis recently.

CRITICISM IS RESENTED ON APPROPRIATIONS FOR TRAVELING EXPENSES

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., May 27.—President Taft today sent a letter to Chairman Tawney of the house committee on appropriations, expressing deep resentment at the criticisms passed by the democrats in the house debate yesterday on the traveling expenses of the president. He says he is especially distressed by the suggested reflection on southern hospitality.

The president in his letter said the urgency of the invitations to the president to meet people at their homes was an argument in favor of an appropriation. "In all my experience I never had a more cordial, generous, open, lavish welcome than I had during my trip to the southern states and the slightest hint that puts me in the attitude of a critic of that hospitality, gives me great pain," he said.

Sanderson Times: Please bear in mind the next meeting of the Southwest Texas Press and Commercial As-

September. Are you coming?

Fort Worth Star-Telegram: That's
the Texas farmer man shouting to Ft.
Worth's big buying bank roll: "Come on in, crops are fine." Stir the soil and stick to the job.

Asherton News: Hosts of people know Texas as a large State (but all too few know of its opportunities and the fertile soils here. Because of this we must continue to advertise.

Weatherford Herald: The Dallas
News has not as yet been able to establish the genuineness of that Russell letter, and it seems to be a case where an excellent newspaper was grossly imposed upon.

Bell County Democrat: At last the candidates can give us some good lessons in optimism. Everyone of them claims to be helped by the Bailey letter with the possible exception of Polindexter and he claims not to have been hurt.

Eagle Pass News Guide: It is said that a pecan grove at four years of age is worth $4000 per acre. At ten years is worth $12,000 per acre. Pecan trees will flourish in all the Rio Grande vega lands. Are some of us not sleeping on our rights?

Paris News: The Terrell Transcript local man has a highly developed sense of humor, and is apt at comparisons. He speaks of the Bailey letter episode as the "political world passing through the tail of the comet," and adds a few words about tgas.

Baumont Enterprise: The German farmers of Acadia parish will exploit rice through co-operative agencies in the cities of the country which have a large German population. There is great possibilities in this, and it may lead to development along other lines.

Waxahachie Light: The campaign of Davidson in South Texas is opening the eyes of the people of this section to the fact that Colquitt is not near so strong down there as has been claimed. Davidson is coming to North Texas largely in the lead of any other candidate.

Brownwood Bulletin: Houston citizens are complaining that the police have allowed the town to become infested with "undesirables." Judging from the number of murders and other crimes reported, Houston does need a cleaning out about as much as any other city of the size.

El Paso Times: The bunch of visiting Texas Bankers who recently gathered here and continued on to the City of Mexico, instead of waiting to be entertained set to work and gave a banquet in honor of the Mexican bankers just to show the Mexicans how Texans can do things up. Can you beat it?

Tyler Courier-Times: The people of Smith County can have better roads and bridges without increasing the taxes by improving the method, which they can do at the polls and in their conventions, and without changing the method they cannot have better roads and bridges even with an increase of taxation.

Brownsville Herald: Once more the Lower Rio Grande Valley steps into the limelight of the produce markets.
This time it is the first crop lot of watermelons for the season of 1910, which goes from the Valley to delight the palate of those fortunate denizens of the north who can produce the fancy price which these first fruits of the southern melon patch will demand.

Duval County Circuit: Duval county may have whiffs of warm air. But there are no candidates to make to hot, no candidates to tell all they know or

Railroads Protect Farmers.

If the railroads can be instrumental in increasing the cotton growers' profit one cent a pound, it means an annual increase in profit to the farmers of $60,000,000. It will all go to the mutual upbuilding of the farmers' and the railroads' interests. On the other hand, if the $60,000,000 go to speculators, it is of no benefit to the farmer or the railroads. The railroads and the farmers have permitted the politician to play one against the other. The farmers have not been organized so that they could work direct with the railroads for their mutual benefit. It is not the prices the farmer's receive that make living expenses so high. The high cost of living is largely chargeable to the dealers' profits made between the farmers and the consumers.

The hotel and restaurant employees' international union paid out $70,928 in sick benefits during the last fiscal year.

An effort is being made to hold a joint convention of the two factions of electrical workers' at Springfield, Ill., on June 27.

It is reported that the union label section of the A. F. of L., not yet a year old, already has a membership of 500,000 in good standing.

The young women and girls employed in the tobacco factories of Toronto, Canada, have decided to bring about the organization of a union.

The average wages per hour of the working classes in Belgium are but a trifle more than one half of those of the same classes in England.

Another attempt is being made to unionize the housemaids of Boston and vicinity, and it is reported that the movement is meeting with success.

At the recent convention of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen the by-laws were amended to permit the holding of conventions annually.

A short strike of tramwaymen took place in Rome, Italy, recently. The strike was ended by the company granting a small concession and reinstating the men that had been suspended.

The Montreal (Canada) Trades and Labor Council desires to have all employment agencies in that territory abolished and have one general office established under the control of the government.

The present San Francisco, California Building Trades Council was organized in 1896, with six unions and a membership of less than one thousand. The present membership is in excess of the thirty thousand mark.

The State Federation of Labor of Texas has decided, by a large majority vote, that hereafter all officers of the federation are to be elected by secret ballot, and in that way eliminate politics from that body.

The bakers' union at Mayaguez, Porto Rico, is on strike to enforce hygienic conditions in bakeries there. It is affiliated with the International Union of Bakery Workers' and the American Federation of Labor.

The American Federation of Labor is sending to the central labor bodies and the various state federations an interesting book giving an account of the work of the special committee on industrial education.

The central federated union of New York City has issued an appeal to Samuel Gompers and other national labor leaders requesting the formation of a national labor party, modeled on the lines of the British labor party.

The thirty-fifth annual report of the British Women's Trade Union League states that, despite the depression in trade, the membership of the affiliated unions has been well maintained, and, in many cases, considerably increased. The league has a total affiliated membership of about 185,000 women.

The garment workers of Texas are endeavoring to have the Texas State Federation of Labor endorse a proposition to have the legislature pass a law requiring all prison-made garments intended for the general market labeled as being made by convict labor, to protect the interests of the unions.

Moliere.
Then Moliere was a purger of Paris with no love for the arrogant nobles; and he was gratified to see the king take power from them and keep it for himself. This action of the sovereign, while it might raise him to a still loftier position, tended toward a juster equality among his subjects. Moliere was no republican; he was no precursor of the Revolution; he was no advanced thinker; he had no aptitude for political speculation; he accepted the framework of government as he found it, glad that the king gave to the country the internal peace it sorely needed. Moliere was no sycophant; he had manly self-respect; but he was his own contemporary, after all, and like his contemporaries in France, he unhesitatingly accepted the inequalities of society as he found them. There is no reason to suppose that he perceived the emptiness of rank and the danger that comes from the existence of privileged classes. He had no respect for place in itself, for the foolish courtier, for the dissolute noble; and he took every occasion to laugh at the one and to hold the other up to scorn, pleased that the king permitted this. For the rest, the system of caste, for the autocracy of the monarch, he cared little, accepting a state of things which must have seemed to him natural.

Furthermore, Moliere had a hereditary appointment in the king's household. Chaucer was a "valet of the king's chamber" to Edward III.; and Moliere had the humbler post of one of the valets de chambre tapissier du roi to Louis XIV. This appointment gave him a personal relation to the sovereign; it imposed on him the occasional task of making the king's bed; it may even account in some measure for the protection now and again extended to him by the monarch whose pride led him to look with favor on all those attached to his own person. For this protection however it is easy to find other reasons. The king in his youth was very fond of the theatre and Moliere brought back to Paris a type of broadly humorous play which the monarch greatly relished. This accounts for the bestowal, first of the Petit-Bourbon, and secondly of the Palais Royal.—From "Moliere and Louis XIV." by Brander Matthews, in the June Scribner.

Waterways and Commerce.

One reason, undoubtedly, why our waterborne traffic has not grown is that our principal waterway system, except the Great Lakes, viz., the Mississippi and its tributaries, is not so situated with reference to the main currents of commerce as to be able to command a large amount of traffic, no matter what rates may be made on it. In order that either a waterway or a railway may get traffic and actually cheaper transportation by carrying it, it is not enough that it should be willing and able to make low rates. It must also run in the same general direction as currents of commerce large enough to afford it a substantial business. The general direction in which commerce moves is determined by the economic law of supply and demand. People ship goods to make a profit; they can only make a profit by shipping them from where they are less valuable to where they are more valuable; and where they shall be less valuable or more valuable is determined since the coming of the railway, mainly by conditions independent of the way in which waterways run. In this country, owing to historic and economic reasons, manufactured goods are shipped mainly from east to west, and the products of the farm, mine and forest, mainly from west to east. The amount of traffic which moves north and south is relatively small, and there seems no ground for anticipating any substantial change in this respect. As the Mississippi and its tributaries run mainly north and south, it is hard to see where a heavy traffic for them could be obtained even though the boats on them were able to compete successfully in rates against the north-and-south railways.

The situation of the principal waterways of Europe relatively to the main currents of commerce or more fortunate. The Rhine in Germany, for example, like the Great Lakes in this country, is ideally located relatively to the sources of production and consumption of coal, iron ore, etc., to get a large traffic in them. In Europe, also, commerce grew up before the advent of the railway, and the direction of the current of traffic has been influenced more by the way the waterways run.—From "The Proposed Development of Inland Waterways," by Samuel O. Dunn, in the June Scribner.

Seaweed Cloth.

Seaweed cloth is an Australian textile. From Melbourne comes the news of a marine plant which the learned term Posidonia australis. Spencer Gulf contains millions of tons of material of which the fibers of posidonia constitute a great part. The properties of these fibers enable them to be used in numerous ways. They may be spun and woven by mixing them with wool.

Numerous soundings in Spencer gulf have proved that the deposit is extensive, for it has been accumulating for centuries. It is found sometimes a few inches under the surface, and sometimes a thickness varying from four to twelve feet. The fibers have been entangled by the action of wind and waves in a mass of fine sand, shells, clay and calcareous matter. They are intimately mingled with all these substances holding them together like a web. The lower strata are of better quality than the upper, for the latter contain decaying roots of the more recent vegetation. But below two feet the fiber is of much clearer color, even while mixed with layers of earth.

Specimens of the best quality for industrial use have been gathered in layers covered with two to ten feet of water. The mass of sand, shells, clay and lime mixed with fibers is easily worked, so that the extraction of the textile substance does not appreciably increase the cost. On an average twenty tons of material will furnish one ton of fibers in condition for manufacture.

The crude fiber, after imperfect drying on the beach, is sent to a neighboring port on barges. Here it is dried mechanically, sorted according to quality and then made up into packages for shipment. If the use of the objects manufactured with the posidonia fibers shows that durability is one of the valuable qualities of this textile plant, the industrial and commercial movement that has started in Spencer gulf is destined to quick extension. A company is forming to exploit the fibers commercially, either in the raw state for a relatively low price or by the adoption of machinery specially adapted to work it in the best possible condition.—Chicago Tribune.

PLANNING FOR GREATNESS.

Expert Employed to Coach Dallas Growth for Twenty-Five Years.

Dallas, May 25.—Charles E. Kessler of Kansas City and St. Louis, has been engaged by the city of Dallas to plan for its future development for the next twenty-five years. Kessler is to receive for his work $6,000 for the first year and $2,500 for the next year or years thereafter, after his plans have been worked out. During the years following the first year, his work will be more that of a superintendent and expert adviser.

This was the result of a conference held today between the board of city commissioners, members of the park board and the city planning committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

At this conference there were present: For the Chamber of Commerce committee, Henry D. Lindsley, chairman; George B. Dealey, Clinton P. Russell, W. G. Scarff, John V. Hughes. All the members of the park board save Mr. Pike, were on hand—Messrs. Baker, Frets and Buckner, with Mayor Hay in his dual capacity of mayor and president of the park board, and Commissioners Doran, Seay, Sullivan, and Gillespie. E. M. Kahn, Hugh E. Prather, Ennis Munger and others represented the citizenship.

MASS FUND LEGAL.

Man May Provide for Moving Mass for Repose of Soul.

Madison, Wis., May 25.—Creation of a trust fund for the offering in the Roman Catholic masses for the repose of the souls of the testator and his relatives for an indefinite length of time, is valid, according to a decision handed down yesterday by the state supreme court.

James Kavanaugh, who resided at Maple Grove, Manitowoc county, provided by will that $4,000 of his estate should be turned over to three trustees charged with having masses said for him and his relatives. The heirs at law attacked the will on the ground that the provision for masses was indefinite and uncertain and in violation of the law inhibiting the creation of the trust in question. The lower courts sustained the contention of the heirs, but the supreme court reversed that decision.

O. S. Marden in Success.
If the positive man makes a mistake he is not likely to be long rectifying it. But of the man who never makes up his mind until he has consulted everybody, and then is always ready to open up every question for reconsideration, will never accomplish anything.

Roosevelt says: "The man who doesn't make a mistake is no good." The man who is always after a sure thing, who has no dare in his nature, who is afraid to risk anything until dead sure it is going to turn out right, never amounts to much. It is a thousand times better to make a mistake now and then than never to settle anything, but be always balancing, weighing and considering.

A man who does forceful work must be able to dismiss a subject from his mind when he is done with it, so that he can do something else. This increases his power of mental grasp for the thing under consideration. But if the mind is entangled in confused surroundings, in a hundred and one half-decided things, if its energy is split up, the focusing power is impaired. You must concentrate your powers upon what you are doing, and you can never do this when a score of things in your mind are intruding themselves for consideration. When you have anything in hand, settle it and then discuss it. Half-decided things clog the mind. Study your problem carefully, make your decision firmly and let it be final. Let it stand, no matter what others may advise or suggest.

If you form the habit of making your decision final you will learn to use your best judgment before you decide. If your decisions are all tentative, if you know that they are not final, that you are liable to take them up for consideration, you will never develop a fine, strong judgment.

When you make your decisions absolutely final and burn all bridges behind you, and when you know that you must suffer the consequences of an impature or a poor judgment, you will be more careful and your judgment will improve just in proportion as you trust it, depend upon it, use it

Charles W. Morse.

There is something very much out of the ordinary in the efforts of Mrs. Charles W. Morse to prevent the doors of Atlanta Prison from shutting out forever the last rays of hope from her convicted husband. She has succeeded in carrying into the minds of many men a suspicion that Morse was perhaps overdone for the part he played in the game of high finance in the City of New York, and her petitions, asking executive clemency, have found ready signers wherever presented. Down in Washington the members of congress have not hesitated to attach their names to her plea to the president and, while the heartfelt appeal of this loyal wife has in many cases been irresistible, yet it must also be conceded that a very substantial number of the country's ablest men feel that Morse is carrying a load which, if fairly and justly described, would fall on many shoulders.

Morse is a victim of the panic of 1907. He undoubtedly was not the only one, who at that time, was using the funds of such banks as he controlled, but Morse was caught at it, and the penalty inflicted upon him is fifteen years in the federal prison at Atlanta. The loose manner in which the savings of the people were handled came very clearly to the surface in the exposure of the conduct of the Morse banks, and the people, who had been suspicious that all was not right, are not yet certain that Morse was alone the guilty party. There is but one phase of the Morse case, aside from his wife's earnest effort, which appeals to the public, and that is the length of the sentence inflicted. They believe that the term of fifteen years was fixed more by the public clamor than what sound reason would dictate.

Morse may be guilty, and probably is, of many offenses against the banking laws, and may be obliged to spend the last years of his life behind prison bars, but he has succeeded in creating a doubt as to whether or not more guilty men outplayed him at the finish as he had outplayed them at the start.

14th ANNIVERSARY OF ST. LOUIS CYCLONE.

One Who Was in It Writes Interesting Letter Telling of the Great Disaster.

St. Louis, May 27, 1896, at 5 p. m. at that fatal hour the panorama began. Chained lightning, sulphuric fumes and thunder rent the air until the wheels of hell began grinding on the nerves of all who heard and witnessed the terrible spectacle. The cyclone lasted but a short time and left the great city in deep mourning. About 200 of its best citizens were killed outright, and twice that number were injured. The fine residence portion of the city surrounding Lafayette Park was shattered, and it took a week in which to extricate from the debris the bodies of those who had perished. Ambulances and delivery wagons were in service night and day, and cryers were busy seeking volunteers, lest that some might yet be alive and rescued from the ruins. Every tree in the beautiful park was up-rooted and the heavy iron fence gave way as if made of straw. There was enough debris in seven miles travel to fill a junk yard a mile square. Steamboats turned turtle, and the East approach of the Eads bridge was partly torn away, while East St. Louis had a hundred stores and dwellings reduced to kindling and debris. The estimated damage was about $50,000,000, and all outside aid was refused.

COMPLIMENT FROM WILBARGER.

Last week a big packing plant made a proposition to put in at Wichita Falls, and in less than a week the required bonus which, by the way, was a large one, was more than subscribed and the plant notified that everything was ready for them. When it comes to doing things in short order and without extended ceremony, there is no town or city in Texas that can even approach Wichita Falls. This may sound extravagant, but it is not—Vernon Record.

THE PENDING CAMPAIGN.

San Antonio Express.
The relative standing of the several candidates for governor as to the chances for nomination is a matter about which there is now much speculation, and there is hardly a question that in some instances the personal estimate will be the determining factor as to the individual vote in the primaries.

There are always voters who like to be on the winning side, and who wait to see which way the cat will jump before determining their own preference. There are others who are for anybody to beat somebody else, and whose vote will be determined by the supposed relative strength of the opposing candidates.

Under the system of a plurality nomination in a field of four aspirants it is not within the limits of probability that any candidate for governor will receive a majority of the votes in the primary election. It is possible that the nominee may not receive more than one-third of the number of votes polled, if so many as that, unless there should be a decided change in the present apparent situation due to the withdrawal of one of the candidates or to a concentration of forces upon a campaign issue in accordance with some other successful plan. As the primaries will not be held until July 23, there is yet time for the campaign to shape itself in many different ways and to change its present complexion very materially.

In the primary contest of 1906 there were four candidates for Governor, and now, the present executive leading, with Colquitt, Brooks and Bell following in the order named. There were practically 300,000 votes polled in the 1906 primary, of which Thomas M. Campbell received 90,345—less than one-third of the whole number. In that year however, the nomination was not settled by the primary which was no more than an indication of the preference of the voters. In the state convention which followed delegates voted on the first ballot in accordance with instructions, and then it was a mooted question as to who would receive the nomination until the withdrawal of Colquitt strengthened the cause of Mr. Campbell and insuured him the support necessary to his success.

In the present year the nomination for governor will be made in the party primary, and all that will be left for the State convention to do will be to ratify the nomination, adopt a platform of principles and put the party machinery in motion. If the platform should be in harmony with the sentiments and the wishes of the nominee there might be smooth sailing. If the platform should be dictated by the forces opposed to the nominee—the opposition being a majority—there might be dissension and division and a repetition of a famous State campaign wherein the leading issue was quite different from that which at present paramount.

Many weeks will yet elapse before the primaries are held, and there is no foretelling what may happen in the meantime or then.

The Mexican Herald is guilty of this bit of lese majeste: "Most of us in Mexico—those who were living here fourteen years ago, and differing, perhaps, with many of the radical notions of the famous Nebraskan—cherish a sentimental regard for Bryan, who championed the cause of his country's chief mineral product so eloquently, and that at a time when silver was being legislated against, and shut out of the mints of the world as a principal money metal. The sum and substance of Bryan's offending was that he wanted to put into the hands of the people a coin called a dollar and actually worth about fifty cents." The gold bugs shrieked, the press and pulpit bellowed against the knave and mischief-maker, and Bryan was defeated. Then came Nature, turned Bryanite, giving forth her huge stores of unmined gold in such quantities that

The yellow metal has depreciated to a point that its purchasing power has fallen off quite to the worse that was predicted of the Bryan silver dollar. Not that this is good altogether; prices have gone too high in relation to the earning power of the masses; debts have been scaled down to the benefit of the debtor class; serious men are apprehensive of the future, and statesmen are puzzled over the results of the continued heavy outpouring of new gold. Nature is an enthusiastic, reckless, wanton disciple of Mr. Bryan, regardless of consequences. Could he have had the clairvoyant vision, he might have won immortal fame as the champion of cheaper gold, for it was on its way and today presents the gravest problem confronting the financiers of the world."

WANTED—A REST.

The sensation editor sat at his desk With his head in his horny hands, And looked over the stuff from everywhere.

Of troubles in many lands, And he sighed a sigh that was two feet long, And seven feet over all, And he said: "This truck is a drug around here— We've trouble enough in St. Paul."

He cut Alfonso to fifty-three, And dumped all the rows in France, He slashed a column from Turkey's woes,

And killed a theosophist's trance; He murdered the cyclone up Barnesville way, And threw out a scandal from Nome, For, he said: "Our space will be all eaten up When we print all our troubles at home!"

He ran a swift pen through a story from Greece, That dealt with the Cretan affair; He handed the waste a column excise

On another big wreck in the air; And then with a groan he tore in two

A story of Roosevelt, For he said: "When it comes to real live stuff, St. Paul is the trouble belt!"

So he spread on the bandit at gay White Bear, And the blaze at the Daily News; He ordered some pictures of Lawler's gun,

And a column on "Young and Boose." A story on Rens, and Corning's def; And one on a Grace street death, And then he sat back and smoked, and sighed:

"At last I can draw my breath." —Winnipeg Tribune.

Hip-Pocket Threat.

It appears that out in Texas we are shortly to have a judicial declaration in a typical case of self-defense as put up by the gentleman who habitually goes armed and who seeks the first opportunity presented of killing somebody. In the case at bar the pistol-toter quarreled with a man who had "undressed preparatory to retiring." The quarrel ended by the man with the gun shooting his antagonist on the plea that the deceased "had made a movement toward his hip pocket." Several years ago in Texas, "going for the hip pocket" was a substantial and accepted defense for homicide. In those days a citizen's gentility being largely estimated on the quantitative theory of his shooting equipment. In a quarrel the gent who made a movement toward his hip pocket was guilty of felonious assault and the other fellow was justified in shooting him without any other offensive act.

This defense has not, to speak candidly, been confined to Texas, but is the resort in most instances when the murderer has no real defense. In this last Texas case, however, there will be a very delicate point to decide. The unfortunate corpse, the party of the first part, had no hip pocket about his person at the time of his decease; to say, therefore, that the slayer was justified in perforating his victim with bullets would be to make the bare motion of the hand toward the place where such a receptacle should have been, indicating that if there had been a pocket there and a pistol in it he would have shot his assailant, constitute a proof of homicidal intent and to have placed the party of the second part in peril of his life.

The moral of this story is that most of these defenses made by slayers of their fellow-men based on the movement of the victim's hand toward the hip pocket should have about as much weight with a jury as they would have if the victim had been like this Texas man, undressed and without any kind of pockets.—Chattanooga Sunday Times.

Just Think! Not Even One-Tenth of Lard is Leaf Lard!

Here is what the leading lard packer says in a recent advertisement: "Leaf is the cream of lards. There is not enough of it to supply one-tenth of the people, and so it goes only to those who insist upon it."

Does it not stand to reason that if there is only enough of the proper fat produced to make pure leaf lard to supply one-tenth of the demand that the chances are ten to one against your getting pure lard? The only absolute protection against getting common hog fat when you buy lard is by buying Cottolene instead. Cottolene is a pure vegetable product—made from cotton seed oil, refined by our exclusive process. It contains no hog fat and makes palatable, nourishing food which will agree with the most sensitive stomach.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test. refund your money in case you are.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an air-tight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

Resumed Where They Left Off.

A Chicago traveling man, a guest at the Hollenden a day or two ago, was telling Clerk McCarthy a story illustrative of how accustomed to long separation a traveling man and his wife may become.

This man's work takes him from coast to coast, and not infrequently he is gone from home for five or six months at a stretch.

The last time he went away, according to the man's story, he was obliged to leave home right in the midst of a meal, in order to make the train he wanted to.

"You ought to wait another day and have your suit pressed," remarked his wife. "I hate to have you go looking so ill groomed."

"I'll have it done within a day or two—or at the first chance," promised the husband. "Wish I could stay, though, for a piece of that apple pie you are making. Save me a piece, won't you?" he added with a grin.

Well, she went to the train with him and bade him a fond good-by. Just five months and ten days later he returned.

His wife was again at the train, dutifully. "I see you kept your promise and had your suit pressed," were her first words as she threw her arms around his neck.

"Yes," he said, "but, by the way, did you save me that piece of apple pie?" —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Statesman.

I've often heard that statesmen cry: "Oh, voters, watch me bleed and die, to shield and guard your sacred rights! I do not care for wealth or fame; to serve the people is my aim; for them I'd meet a hundred dooms and occupy a hundred tombs; I love the people, old and young; for them I'd sacrifice a lung!" The people are such easy marks that they believe these statesmen sharks. But I, grown old and worldly wise, avoid the man who bleed and dies, who works for the "people" grat too hard; no sacred right of mine he'll guard. I've noticed that the selfish man adopts the "sacrificing" plan; he's always on the trail of snaps; he'd be a congressman, perhaps; or falling that he'd gladly rob the county sheriff of his job; and if he loses on that line, as constable he'll surely shine. No matter what the job he seeks, for liberty he loudly shrieks, and has "oppression" flogged and racked and does the bleeding dying act; through heated days and sleepless night he walls about the people's right. Oh, I would give two beans to find a statesman of a candid mind, who to the people bravely cries: "I want the votes of all you guys; to Washington I fain would go, because, my friends, I need the dough."—Walt Mason.

They All Serve.

George C. Boldt, well known hotel man, was talking in Philadelphia about the hotels in Switzerland.

"They are good," said Mr. Boldt. "At the price they are remarkably good. The Swiss are a nation of hotel-keepers.

"The Alps, you know, draw all the world to Switzerland, and the Swiss who wants to become a millionaire goes into the hotel business, as an American would go into steel or sugar. He begins at the bottom. He is a waiter.

"It is said that once in Bern, at a historic public meeting, all the leading men of Switzerland were gathered together. A vote had been taken and in the intense silence preceding the epoch-making verdict of the tellers a wag shouted "Walter!"

"Instantly the whole assembly rose as one man and answered, 'Yes sir.'"

WORTH OF STOCK FOR SALE IN THE
Highland Irrigation & Land Co.
BEAN & HUEY, Agents

The Stock in the Highland Irrigation & Land Company is now for sale by Bean & Huey and is selling rapidly. This proposition affords another opportunity of making 400 per cent on money invested in twelve month's time.

This Company Is Capitalized at $325,000.00

and owns 1870 acres of beautiful land lying on both sides of the street railway between Floral Heights and Lake Wichita; 850 acres of which will have a permanent water right. A part of this land adjoins

FLORAL HEIGHTS ON THE EAST, SOUTH AND WEST AND IS EASILY WORTH $500.00 PER ACRE

Stock can be had for par, on terms of one-third cash, balance in one and two years time. It is the candid opinion of conservative business men who are at the head of this company that the land can all be sold before the first note of the stockholder comes due at double the cost of the land, in which event, the stockholder would get back $4.00 for every dollar invested.

This proposition should appeal to every man with a few dollars to invest as it is entirely new, and, unlike other propositions it is not worked to death.

Irrigated lands for truck growing should attract farmers from all sections of the country—especially land so well located as this company controls, close to one of the best markets in the State and accessible to both the City and Lake by 12 minute car service which is to be afforded.

One year ago we sold stock in the Floral Heights Realty Company, and told our purchasers that they would double their money inside a year. How far we were wrong, can better be explained to you by the stockholders in that company, any of whom can today cash out for four times what they paid in.

Messrs. Kemp, Kell and Perkins, the gentlemen at the head of the company, and who control all the stock, have consented to allow us to sell a limited amount of this stock, and we would like to place some of it in the hands of small investors before the capitalists purchase it all. Phone us or call at our office today, before it is too late, as you will regret it if you pass up this proposition.

A Prize Fight and the Clergy.

We note with interest the anxiety of the reverend clergy in various parts of the country to put obstacles in the way of the prospective engagement between James Jeffries and Arthur Johnson (colored), which is expected to occur at San Francisco on the Fourth of July. The preparations for this meeting are going on very well, and take up a large amount of space in the papers which might easily be devoted to more deleterious uses. Mr. Jeffries seems to be renewing his youth to good purpose, and purging his system of the traces of alcoholic liberties taken in recent years. We confess to some curiosity to learn how far he can turn back the hands of the clock. If the fight was to be in New York we might join the reverend brethren who are stirring to deprecate it, for prize fights are a good deal out of date, and respectable communities now frown upon them. But if San Francisco cares to offer hospitalities to Jeffries and Johnson and the laws of California do not hinder, we are not disposed to meddle. The way to see the evil of prize fights is to have them. We had them hereabouts until we learned better. Why grudge San Francisco a like opportunity to learn by experience the inexpediency of the inexpedient?

To our mind, when the governor of Tennessee lately nullified the action of the courts in his state in the case of Cooper, his political ally, who killed Carmack his political enemy, vastly more scandalous thing happened than is in prospect in San Francisco on July 4. We read that the ministers in Cincinnati have passed resolutions about the Johnson-Jeffries fight. They might find bigger game nearer home. Have they anything to say about Governor Patterson.—Harper's Weekly.

The Savage Ainus of Japan.

These people are Ayrans—race-cousins of our own—and in the days when our forefathers were hunting and fishing and fighting across the wilds of Europe, they were following a similar mode of existence on the coast of Asia. If some careful traveler could have compared the two peoples at that time there would have been little choice between the dwellers of the east and those of the west in arts, achievements or tribal characteristics. During the era in which the shotguns ruled Japan slight attention was paid to the wild peoples of the north, and they suffered far more at the hands of vengeful tribesmen of their own than from any other source. But now the Japanese are developing for themselves the island of Yezo, clearing its forests, allotting its land, tilling its soil and opening its mines. So the Ainu hunting grounds have disappeared and new laws have robbed them of the right to fish in the streams. Indeed, wherever Japan's sun-banner floats both law and lawlessness favor the Japanese, and fight against the alien; and because of their helplessness the Ainu have experienced the truth of this assertion in all its bitterness.—May Pacific.

HOTEL ASSURED.

Committee Believes Dallas is to Have New Million-Dollar Hotel.
Dallas, May 25.—Charles F. Bolanz, who accompanied Mayor Hay, Henry D. Lindsley and F. V. Tryon to St. Louis on the mission with Adolphus Busch, returned today, having gone to Mineral Wells after the St. Louis trip.
In reply to questions, Mr. Bolanz said that the big hotel was practically secured for Dallas, as the result of the trip made by the committee to St. Louis.
"What about locating the hotel on the city hall property?" he was asked. "As to that I do not know," was the reply. "According to the Dallas papers I have seen bids are to be asked by the municipal commission for the property. Isn't that it?"
It was admitted that that was the basis of the information given out by Mayor Hay.
"Well, that's all I know," said Mr. Bolanz, with a smile of satisfaction, "except that Dallas gets the hotel, which in my opinion, is mighty good news."

For 18.2 Balk Line Championship.
New York, May 26.—Lovers of the green table sport are keenly interested in tonight's match for the 18.2 balk line billiard championship between Harry Cline of Philadelphia, the present holder of the championship title, and Willie Hoppe, the youthful wonder with the cue. The match, which will be played at the New York Theatre Concert Hall, will be at 500 points, and the winner will receive a purse of one thousand dollars and a gold medal emblematic of the championship. Both of the principals appear to be in excellent form for the contest. Hoppe is confident he will win the title and Cline is equally sure he will be able to retain the championship.

Garibaldi Fetes Brought to a Close.
Rome, May 27.—The fetes celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of Garibaldi's famous expedition which freed Sicily from the Bourbons culminated today in elaborate festivities throughout Italy. The chief celebration was at Palermo, the Sicilian capital, where a magnificent monument erected in memory of the "Thousand of Marsala" was unveiled in the presence of members of the royal family, the court ministers, and deputations of veterans who served under Garibaldi. The thousands of people who witnessed the ceremony displayed the utmost enthusiasm. The decorations of public and private buildings were of the most imposing character. Every mention of the name of Garibaldi, Italy, and King Emmanuel was greeted with loud cheers.
Dispatches from the provinces report that the day has been celebrated everywhere with the greatest enthusiasm. The people of Genoa marched in procession to the "fatale rock of Quarto," from which Garibaldi and his band of a thousand patriots sailed to attack Palermo. Thousands of people made the pilgrimage to the tomb of Garibaldi at Caprera. Picturesque Garibaldians in red shirts stormed and climbed the national monument there to deposit upon it flags and crowns of flowers. The scene was one of indescribable emotion.
The capture of Sicily, in commemoration of which all Italy has been in fête for the past two weeks, forms one of the most brilliant chapters in the history of Italy's struggle for independence. After nine years spent in exile in America Garibaldi returned to his native country determined to free the people of Naples from the tyranny of the government that oppressed them. On May 6, 1860, he sailed from Genoa to Palermo with 1,000 followers, and within a month had become dictator of Sicily. The Bourbon government crumbled into fragments, a new one was created, and in a short time Garibaldi was the dictator of the two Sicilies, and was about to march on Rome and proclaim Victor Emmanuel King of Italy, but was restrained by Napoleon III.

Julia Ward Howe 91 Years Old.
Boston, Mass., May 27.—Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, poet, author, philanthropist, preacher, publicist, social historian, journalist and playwright, was the recipient at her charming, old-fashioned home on Beacon street, of many congratulations in honor of her ninety-first birthday. Only a week ago Mrs. Howe was re-elected head of the New England Woman Suffrage Association, in grateful remembrance of the valuable work which the aged suffragist has done for the suffrage cause. Notwithstanding her advanced age and her somewhat feeble physical condition Mrs. Howe is still mentally active and deeply interested in the important problems of the day.
She spent the day quietly at her home, surrounded by the members of her family and a few intimate friends. Letters and telegrams of congratulation arrived in large number, also many handsome floral and other gifts. As in former years, the Greek and the Italian societies of the city sent Mrs. Howe beautiful floral tributes. The New England Woman's Club, of which Mrs. Howe is the president, gave a birthday luncheon in her honor, but she did not attend in person. Considering her advanced age her health is still good and her strength surprising.

Auto Races at Indianapolis.
Indianapolis, May 27.—A two days' program of automobile races was inaugurated on the famous Indianapolis speedway today, preliminary to the annual national championship contests of the American Automobile Association, which are carded for next Monday. Many of the noted drivers who are entered for the championships are taking part in the preliminary contests, which include free-for-all races, handicaps and record trials. A 100-mile free-for-all race is the big event on today's program, and tomorrow a 200-mile event will be contested.
Arrangements for the national championships on Memorial Day are rapidly bearing completion. Those in charge expect the meeting to eclipse all previous affairs of the kind held in America. The program will comprise fourteen events and the results will practically decide for the year the champions in the different classes provided under the American Automobile Association contest rules.

country will be discussed by men well qualified to speak on the subject. At the conclusion of the sessions here the delegates will take a trip to Panama to inspect the progress of the canal work there. Prominent among the officers of the association and others who are scheduled to address the convention are M. E. Foster, of Houston, President Finley of the Southern Railway, Governor Sanders of Louisiana, ex-Governor Francis of Missouri, H. H. Richardson of Jacksonville, Fla., E. W. Anderson

TROUBLE OVER ROAD.

Walters Business Men Experience Grief in Public Enterprise. Lawton, Okla., May 25.—Growing out of trouble arising in the construction of the proposed Kansas, Lawton & Gulf railroad, extending from Walters, Okla., to Wichita Falls, Texas, which took over the old charter of the proposed Bellamy line from Lawton to Wichita Falls and which has been backed alone by business men of Walters and work on the grade of which was started several weeks ago at Walters with a public celebration, has been stopped. The railway contractor, Fred C. Avery, is under arrest charged with fraudulent issue of time checks, and the Walters, business men, feeling that they have been duped in the deal, are taking steps to free themselves from the tangle, which seems to involve them in the payment of thousands of dollars for a prospectless railroad. They had subscribed $50,000 for the road and about $10,000 had already been paid. A delegation from Walters today swore out warrants for Avery and he was arrested in Oklahoma City and brought to Lawton for a hearing. The grade of the old Bellamy line from Randlett to Devol, nine miles, was today sold at sheriff's sale on foreclosure mortgage for $1,000.

"THIS IS MY 59th BIRTHDAY."

Edgar D. Crumpacker. Representative Edgar D. Crumpacker of the Tenth District of Indiana, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Speaker Cannon, was born in Laporte County, Indiana, May 27, 1851, and spent his early years on his father's farm. After graduating from Valparaiso Academy, he studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1876. In 1882 he entered political life as a republican and was elected city attorney of Valparaiso. After several years in public office he resumed his law practice, and in 1891 he was made a judge in the Indiana appellate court. Two years later he retired from the bench and again resumed his law practice. Mr. Crumpacker was first elected to congress in 1897 and has since been six times re-elected. In congress he early showed himself a fine debater and a man of deep and broad information in all matters relating to public affairs.

TO TAKE STUMP.

Rev. Arthur W. Jones Says the Pros' Only Hope Lies in Cone Johnson. Dallas, May 26.—Rev. A. W. Jones, for ten years or more one of the leaders of the State Anti-Saloon League, has severed his connection with the organization. This action, Mr. Jones stated, was taken for the purpose of becoming actively identified with the campaign of Cone Johnson for governor. Rev. Mr. Jones will take the stump for Johnson with his speech at Brady Saturday afternoon. The letter of Rev. Jones announcing his decision, written May 24, follows: Dallas, May 24.—Dr. J. H. Gambrell, Superintendent Anti-Saloon League of Texas, Dallas, Texas—Dear Sir and Brother: I have now been actively connected with the campaign for statewide prohibition from the first day, and with the Anti-Saloon League since Nov. 1, 1908, in various capacities. I have to the best of my ability, given honest and conscientious service to the cause and tried under all circumstances to be loyal to the league. Others can best judge as to the measure of success I have attained in this endeavor. This relation has been a pleasant one and I have learned to entertain the highest respect for yourself and those connected with the league. I have always rendered every possible service and given all possible encouragement to the Anti-Saloon league in its endeavor to drive saloons from Texas. My devotion is great to that cause today and my heart as warm in that service as ever. I feel, however, that for the present I can be worth more to the cause of statewide prohibition if freed from official connection with the Anti-Saloon League. It has become apparent that in the present race for the governorship the Anti-Saloon League will not declare itself and intends to maintain a neutral position. As to the wisdom of this course, I raise no question. I believe, however, that the success of statewide prohibition within the next four years depends upon the election of Cone Johnson for governor. I see no hope of success through any other candidate now before the people. Had the Anti-Saloon League officially declared for him, I should have remained with my present work. This the league has failed to do, although the board of trustees and advisory committee are personally largely for Johnson. Under the circumstances, not wishing to embarrass you or to hamper myself and feel that my obligation to the state and to the cause of statewide prohibition demands my active support of Cone Johnson for governor, I hereby tender you my resignation from the Anti-Saloon League in my active capacity. With the greatest respect. ARTHUR W. JONES.

Bunyan's Wicket Gate.

In the village of Elstow, there is abundant material that is visibly associated with John Bunyan. The isolated church tower contains the very bells in the ringing of which Bunyan rejoiced and afterward trembled. Above all, there must be mentioned the wicket gate, which figures early in the story of "Pilgrim's Progress." The wicket gate of "Pilgrim's Progress" is commonly represented as a garden gate or a turnpike gate, but really the term denotes a small doorway cut out of a large door. Concealed behind a tree at the west end of Elstow Church is just such a small doorway in the broad wooden surface of the great door. Through this lowly opening Bunyan must often have passed when a boy.—Harper's Weekly.

Tennessee Endeavor Convention.

Nashville, Tenn., May 27.—At the opening session this morning of the State Christian Endeavor convention, which was unusually well attended, the delegates were welcomed and President Charles G. Dean delivered his annual address. The convention will close its business session tomorrow night, but the delegates will remain over Sunday to attend the religious service at the state prison in the morning and the song and consecration service in the evening, with which the convention will close. An interesting program has been prepared for the various sessions and a number of interesting addresses are scheduled.

Battle Anniversary Celebrated.

Tokio, May 27.—The anniversary of the great naval battle of the Sea of Japan, in which the Russian fleet under Admiral Rojestvensky, while trying to effect a passage through the Eastern channel of Morea strait, was almost totally destroyed by the Japanese fleet under Admiral Togo, was observed here and throughout Japan with appropriate festivities. That battle, which practically wiped out Russia's sea power and made Japan master of the situation in the Far East was the last and most decisive engagement of the war and led to the peace negotiations and the final treaty of Portsmouth.

Funeral of Miss McConkey.

The funeral of Miss Mabel McConkey, who died at the home of her parents in the city yesterday evening at 5:00 o'clock, took place from the family residence this afternoon at 1 o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. P. Boone, pastor of the First Baptist church, and of which the deceased had just recently become a member. At the conclusion of the funeral service at the family residence, corner of 16th and Travis, the remains were escorted to the railway station by a large number of sympathetic friends of the family and placed aboard the Wichita Valley train and conveyed to Holliday where they will be interred in the family burying ground at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Miss McConkey was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McConkey of this city and while it was known she had been confined to her room for several weeks with measles, it was thought she had about recovered, and the announcement of her death came as a surprise.

The fond parents have the sympathy of all their friends in the great sorrow they have sustained in the death of their daughter.

The remains were accompanied to Holliday by a few of the immediate friends and neighbors of the family.

Received in Court Circles.

In a speech in the senate on Hawaiian affairs, Senator Depew of New York told this story:

When Queen Lillukalani was in England during the English queen's jubilee, she was received at Buckingham palace. In the course of the remarks that passed between the two queens, the one from the Sandwich Islands said that she had English blood in her veins.

"How so?" inquired Victoria.
