Angle of New York, who is here representing eastern capitalists interested in the American Central Railway. He says the first two hundred miles will be built from Miami to Vernon and Seymour. Two engineering corps are now in the field and the preliminary survey from Vernon to Miami is expected to be completed this week. It is believed that the terminus of the line at the Gulf will be at Aransas Pass.

STORM NEAR QUANAH; SEVERAL BADLY INJURED; PROPERTY LOSS HEAVY

Texas News Service Special.
Quanah, Tex., June 8.—Special inquiries by long distance telephone this morning resulted in your correspondent securing more definite reports of the storm damage in the lower portion of Hardeman, Cottle and Hotley counties, which are to the effect that the whole front of the Goodlet building was smashed and all four walls of the Woods Dry Goods Company wrecked at Paducah. The damage is several thousand dollars. Minor damage was caused in the residence section.

The bridge at Swearingen was destroyed because of the great volume of water which broke the south side of the new dam west of that place. The north side of the dam stood, but is flooded today and further damage is feared.

There was little rain at Paducah, the damage being the result of high winds.

In the vicinity of Swearingen the flood was the result of a cloudburst.

Lightning struck a farm house just across the Hardeman county line in Cottle county, seriously injuring three persons. They are still alive this morning, with but small hope of recovery.

Definite reports can not be had from Ford county, which is isolated.

The damage at Quanah was confined to smashing outhouses and the interruption of telephone service. Washouts are reported along the Fort Worth & Denver, but were promptly repaired and no delay caused.

PLANNING EXHIBIT FOR LAND EXHIBITION TO BE HELD SOON AT CHICAGO

If the co-operation of the neighboring towns can be secured, this section will have an exhibit at the Chicago Lands and Irrigation Congress which will be held next October. At this exposition there will be exhibits from every section of the country and several hundred thousand visitors are expected to be in attendance, making the exhibit valuable for advertising purposes. The cost will be about twenty-five hundred dollars. The Chamber of Commerce proposes to bear the greater part of this expense, but wishes Electric, Iowa Park, Burkburnett, Petrolia and Archer City to assist to the extent of $150 each. If these communities will do their part, this section will be represented at the exposition.

REPEAL OF RATING LAW IS DEMANDED

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE JOINS
EL PASO IN ASKING THAT LAW BE KNOCKED OUT.

TO APPEAR BEFORE BOARD

Three Representatives Will Be Sent
To Austin to Attend Open Meeting
On June 21.

The Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting of the directors yesterday afternoon, joined the El Paso Chamber of Commerce in the latter organization's demand for the repeal of the fire insurance law passed at the last session of the legislature. The El Paso organization several weeks ago adopted a resolution calling for the repeal of the law and invited the other commercial organizations of the state to join it in this movement.

In addition to taking this action, the directors decided to send a committee to attend the hearing at Austin on June 21, and Messrs R. E. Huff, C. W. Bean and Frank Kell were appointed. On this date the fire rating board will hold a meeting for the purpose of hearing protests against the rates which have been promulgated, and it was deemed advisable to have Wichita Falls represented there in order to secure relief, if possible, from the present high rates.

There was no opposition to either of the above motions, the action of the directors being unanimous.

The El Paso Chamber of Commerce took its action several weeks ago and it attracted a great deal of attention. State Senator C. B. Hudspeeth is among the active workers for the repeal of the bill and it is his intention to enlist the support of as many commercial clubs as possible in the movement. The matter has been brought into politics and one of the candidates, O. B. Colquitt, has declared for the repeal of the measure.

In the meantime, before the next legislature meets the Chamber of Commerce will make an effort to obtain additional relief by securing as low a key rate as possible. To this end, the representatives of this city will appear before the fire rating board on June 21.

MEXICAN CAPTURED.

HEAVY INCREASE IN TAXABLE VALUES

BELIEVED TOTALS THIS YEAR WILL BE CLOSE TO THE $5,300,000 MARK.

HEAR PROTESTS JUNE 15

Post card Notices Are Being Mailed
Out to Those Who Have Been "Raised."

The city Board of Equalization has completed its work for the time being and notices are now being mailed out to all whose valuations have been changed, asking them to appear on June 15 before the board to make any protests that may be forthcoming.

While nothing is known as yet as to the totals of the valuations, enough "raises" have been sent out on the cards to bring the taxable values of the city up very substantially. The actual improvements in the city during the year 1909 were about one million dollars and in addition there were probably numerous other increases made.

It is understood from unofficial sources that the total now stands close to the $5,300,000 mark, or nearly a million and a half increase over 1909. These figures are not authentic. There is little doubt, however, that the five million mark will be easily reached and the indications are that it will go considerably above that figure.

There will be enough protesters at the city hall on June 15 to make matters interesting for the members of the board, judging from the announced intentions of those who received the billet doux in the form of post cards today. The increases appear to have been fairly general and the protests will be numerous enough.

The exact figures of the valuations will not be known until after the protests have been heard and the total as it now stands will be lessened somewhat. The Times estimate of $5,300,000 is based on good authority and it is not thought the final figures will be far from that amount.

Seymour, Tex., June 8.—The completion of the Gulf, Texas & Western Railway to this point and the inauguration of through train service from Jackboro over the new line was the occasion for a celebration here today. Three thousand visitors are in town, including excursionists from Wichita Falls, Jackboro, Paducah, Olney and many other points.

Three special trains arrived over the new line and others came in over the Wichita Valley. The principal attraction was the big barbecue, where the big crowd was fed to repletion on barbecued beef, pickles and coffee.

O. B. Colquitt, candidate for governor, was the principal speaker this afternoon. Other political aspirants who were on the program, included John W. Veale, candidate for congress; Bascom Thomas, candidate for lieutenant governor and Judge Gough of Hereford, candidate for state senator. There were numerous athletic and other features, making the occasion a memorable one.

ANOTHER VISIT BY OKLAHOMA FRIENDS

ELK CITIANS AND OTHERS TO BE GUESTS OF WICHITA FALLS
ON JUNE 28.

LARGE TIME IS PLANNED

Visitors Will Be Guests of Wichita
All the Way, This City Providing the Train.

The citizens of Elk City and the other towns along the line of the Wichita Falls and Northwestern have been invited by the Chamber of Commerce to be the guests of the city on Tuesday, June 28. The visitors are to be brought from their respective towns by the Chamber of Commerce and will be the guests of this city from the time they get on the train at their homes until they get back, even their railroad fares being borne by Wichita Falls.

The above plan was agreed upon at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday afternoon. The previous excursion over the Northwestern gave the visitors from that section little opportunity to see anything of Wichita Falls proper, Lake Wichita demanding most of their attention, and for this reason it was thought well to bring them here once more, to be the guests of Wichita Falls and Wichita Falls alone.

Fifty visitors each from Elk City, Altus, Frederick and Mangum, and from ten to twenty each from the smaller towns will be brought here. The representatives of each town are to be chosen by the Commercial Club of that city, and they will be the guests of this city from the time they leave their homes until they return.

During their stay in this city the visitors will be entertained with a street car ride to the lake, a dinner of some sort, possibly a barbecue; a motor boat trip and in other ways. It is probable that there will be a public gathering of some sort, at which the welcome on behalf of the city will be extended the visitors by representatives of Wichita Falls.

If the plans are carried out as formulated, the visitors will be royally entertained and will learn that the famed hospitality of Wichita Falls is real, both in spirit and in fact. There will be between three and four hundred visitors here on that date and the shown the time of their lives.

Monument to Confederate Dead on Johnson's Island Dedicated

By Associated Press.
Sandusky, O., June 8.—A monument to the memory of Confederate officers and soldiers buried on Johnson's Island, Sandusky, Bay, Lake Erie, was dedicated today. The movement to erect the statue originated with the Robert Patton chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, of Cincinnati, O. The chapter purchased the cemetery in 1908 when it was found that the spot around which so many historic memories clustered was being neglected and practically abandoned. Its only visitors were the veterans of a Grand Army post who every Decoration day held memorial services for their former foes.

Prior to this, however, one effort had been made to save the cemetery from the neglect into which it had fallen. In 1889 party of editors and officials of the state of Georgia visited the island. They saw only broken fences and weed-grown mounds. Stirred by the sight, they returned home and raised a fund which provided headstones of Georgia marble for each of the 206 graves. It was then found that fifty-four of them must remain nameless, for the memory of the buried had vanished.

Lieutenant Colonel William Hoffmann, Federal commissary general of prisoners, leased forty acres of land on Johnson's Island in the fall of 1861 from L. B. Johnson. The intention was to use this land solely for the accommodation of Confederate officers and although during the subsequent years of the war small bodies of private were from time to time sent to the island it was usually through error and they were invariably promptly drafted to other prisons. The island lies in Sandusky Bay, about three miles from the town of Sandusky and the post was known officially as "Depot Prisoners of War, Johnson's Island, near Sandusky, Ohio."

The greatest number of prisoners confined on the island at any one time was about 3000. This was just prior to the close of the war. All in all about 10,000 officers and soldiers were imprisoned there and 220 deaths were recorded. Fourteen of the dead were buried on the mainland.

When the first prisoners died Mr. Johnson gave his consent to their burial on the island and the cemetery was laid out under his personal direction. No lease on the land was ever executed and no compensation given for its use. Subsequently, at the close of the war, Mr. Johnson, at his own expense, built a wire fence around the plot and kept it in repair for several years. Later on an officer from the Columbus federal barracks visited the island and had the original fence removed and a more substantial one erected in its stead. For many years afterwards the cemetery was allowed to fall into decay until, in 1881 the veterans of McMeens post, Grand Army of the Republic, of Sandusky, Ohio, paid a generous tribute to the men who had fought against them. They had the cemetery weeded and cared for on the Memorial day following held services there similar to those held over the Union dead in Oakland cemetery, Sandusky.

Every succeeding Memorial day up to three years ago they carried out similar services. As the veterans were all men in advanced years they were forced in 1907 to discontinue their trips to the island. They decided also that in view of the fact that up to that time practically no interest had been shown in the Confederate graves by either the relatives or friends of those buried there there was no demand on them to continue the services.

This action by the Grand Army post became widely known and drew the attention of the various Confederate organizations throughout the country to the neglected condition of one of the most memorable landmarks of the great struggle. The daughters of the Confederacy became interested. The campaign was headed by the Robert Patton post which raised the funds for the purchase of the cemetery and the issued another appeal for a fund to provide a suitable monument to the dead.

Money was liberally contributed throughout the south and a substantial amount was raised in the north. The commission for the monument was given to Sir Moses Ezekiel who executed the statue in his studio in Rome and shipped it here a few weeks ago. The first photographs of it will be copyrighted by the daughters of the Confederacy and sold, the proceeds to be added to the monument fund.

The historic value of Johnson's island lies not merely in the number of famous soldiers who were confined there during the war but also in the many stories of attempted daring rescues which cluster about it. For three years plot after plot was laid to free the thousands who lay in captivity on the island. Every attempt however, failed. The main guard of the island was the gunboat Michigan, now the Wolverine, which frustrated more than one sensational effort at rescue. The Wolverine, which is still doing duty in the United States service, was the first steel vessel ever built on the Great Lakes.

The statue occupies a position on the shore of Sandusky Bay near the entrance of the island cemetery and faces to the south. It represents a Confederate soldier in uniform. The right hand clutches a musket, the stock of which rests on the ground. The left hand is raised to the forehead, shading the eyes and the figure seems to be peering into the far distance, toward the southland.

"POSITION" AND THE PURSE.

Women's Clothes and Their Cost and Some Other Things.
While an honest, warm-hearted priest over on the West Side is doing all he can to promote matrimony in his parish, along comes the omnipresent Everybody's Magazine to tell us, in a too attractively illustrated article, about "The Cost of Women's Clothes."

That cost is high, and it is getting higher. It is all a part of the sacrifice laid on the altar of equality in this democratic day and country. "One is as good as another"—and must make that fact plain to the general eye.

A woman it is said, is obliged to dress in accordance with her "position." What is one's position? It is less the place that one fills than the place one has one's eye on. And in this aspiring period, this day of golden opportunity, the place we have our eye on is always a higher place than the place we are occupying. The standard set steadily rises, and the prices rise with it.

In theory all American women of any account are queens and princesses. Where all are of royal rank no room must be allowed for differentiations in the royal trappings. Who, as dressing goes now-a-days, can form any just idea of a woman's social and financial status from her clothes? Nobody. It is impossible.

The man who cannot maintain his wife in the proud position due the American woman as her right is looked upon as something of a failure. But though all American wives and daughters are queen and princesses, all American husbands and fathers, are not kings and princes. They are breaking down; they can't stand the pace.

Ladies, you see the difficulty, do you not? You are involved in an antimony. Antimony means an irreconcilability between two conclusions that, though logically reached, yet seem unavoidably contradictory. You have overlooked the fact that all purses are not the same length and that all husbands have not the same earning power. If one of you happens to be meditating just now whether she shall favor her wardrobe or the family pocketbook, we hope for a wise self-sacrificing choice. This is no time to look upon pictures of $900 gowns, $165 hats and $15 parasols. All three can be found, effectively combined, on page 757 of the current Everybody's. But avoid it; avoid it.

NASAL CATARRH.

Henry L. Britton Says It is Easy to Get Rid of.

"My head, nose and glands leading to my eyes and nose were stopped up and swollen. I tried several so-called catarrh cures but Hyomel, used thoroughly did the curing. There is nothing too good to say in favor of Hyomel. It cured my nasal catarrh."—Henry L. Britton, Frost St., Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Hyomel (pronounced High-o-me) cures catarrh, because it gets where the germs are, and destroys them. It is made of Australian eucalyptus, mixed with other healing antiseptics. When breathed over the irritated and inflamed membrane, it gives relief in two minutes.

Used regularly for a few weeks it will build up and heal the germ infested membrane and drive out catarrh.

If you own a small Hyomel pocket inhaler, you can get a bottle of Hyomel at druggists everywhere, or at O. F. Marchman Drug Co., for only 50 cents. If you do not own a Hyomel inhaler, ask for a complete outfit, the price is $1.00. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, coughs, colds, croup or sore throat or money back.

Death of Mrs. Daisy Watts.
The following clipped from yesterday's Dallas News tells of the death of Mrs. Daisy Watts, which occurred Monday afternoon at Fort Worth: "Mrs. Daisey Watts, aged 30 years, died at a local hospital Sunday and the funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Gause's undertaking parlors. Interment in Oakwood Cemetery. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. L. Jenkins, of Coleman."
Mrs. Watts formerly resided in this city and the news of her death was received as a shock to her friends and acquaintances, of whom she had many.

MAIDSTONE-DREXEL.

Another American Heiress Joins British Peerage.

London, June 8.—Another American heiress joined the British peerage this afternoon through the marriage of Miss Margaretta Drexel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Drexel of Philadelphia and London to Viscount Maidstone, heir of the Earl of Winchelsea.

The ceremony took place at St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, which has been the scene of numerous other Anglo-American weddings of note. The historical old church was prettily decorated with flowers for this, the most notable of recent weddings in London. A great crowd assembled in the vicinity to watch the arrival of the bridal party and the distinguished guests, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. George Gould, the Misses Edith, Gloria and Vivian Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Drexel, Jr., Mrs. Maldivyn Drummond, formerly Mrs. Marshall Field; the Countess Sigray, who was Miss Harriet Daly, and a number of other well known Americans.

As is customary in the Church of England service, the officiating clergyman, accompanied by a stippled choir, met the bridal procession at the door and preceded it up the aisle, the choir singing a bridal hymn. The bishop of London, performed the wedding ceremony, assisted by several other clergymen.

The bride's gown was of white satin, smothered in antique family lace, with a court train of gold and white brocade. Over a wreath of orange blossoms fell an antique veil, which was so arranged as not to obscure the features. The only jewels worn by the bride were a few pearls. She looked charmingly beautiful as she walked up the aisle of the old church on the arm of her father.

Miss Drexel was attended by ten bridesmaids—Lady Gladys Finch-Hatton, sister of the bridegroom; his two cousins, Lady Constance Combe, Miss Mildred Carter, daughter of J. Ridgely Carter, the American Minister to the Balkans; Miss Edith Wayne of Philadelphia, the Hon. Miss Rhoda Astley, daughter of Lord Hastings; and Lady "Letty" Manners, daughter of the Duke of Rutland; Miss Helen Post and the Hon. Miss Sibyl Fellowes.

The bridesmaids wore dainty gowns of soft muslin and each carried a bunch of daisies. Their tulle veils were confined in quaint head dresses of dainty trellis work. Altogether, they made as pretty a troop as ever followed a bride to the altar.

Charles Mills, eldest son of Lord Hillingdon, supported Viscount Maidstone, and among the ushers were some of the best known young men in London society.

Among those invited to the ceremony at St. Margaret's and to the reception that followed at the magnificent home of the bride's parents in Grosvenor Square were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Ambassador and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, the Right Hon. H. H. Asquith, Prime Minister, and Mrs. Asquith; Mr. A. J. Balfour, ex-Premier; Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan; the Hon. John Hubert Ward and Mrs. Ward, the Earl and Countess of Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Harcourt, Lord and Lady Lansdowne, Mrs. Ogden Mills, Lady Paget and Mr. and Mrs. Cavendish-Bentinck.

Seldom has a bride been the recipient of a greater or more beautiful lot of wedding presents. There were many handsome and costly pieces of jewelry, bric-a-brac and hundreds of other articles. Notable among the great collection are: An exquisite plaque set of diamonds on a long pearl rope and a high pearl dog collar with diamond clasps from the bride's father; a string of magnificent pearls from Mrs. Drexel; a diamond and pearl tira from the parents of the bridegroom; diamond slides for the neck, from E. T. Stotesbury, partner of Mr. Drexel; a huge pierced gold fruit dish, from Mrs. Maldivyn Drummond; jeweled hatpins, from Lady Paget and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Harcourt; antique mirror, framed in gold, from the Countess Sigray; bon-bon box set in diamonds, from Mrs. Payne Thompson; velvet neckband set with diamond slides, Dr. Leslie Ward; shagreen and silver casket, from Mr. and Mrs. Spender Clay; sapphire ring, from Mr. and Mrs. George Drexel; sapphire and ruby ring, from Mrs. Paul Mills; set of old French solid gold handless cups, from Mrs. George Cavendish Bentinck; four handsome solid silver vases, two feet in height, from the Biddle family of Philadelphia; a magnificent writing set of pale blue leather and gold, from Major and Mrs. Bruce of Washington; a boucher box, with scarlet and gold cover, filled with rare miniatures, from Mrs. Joseph Drexel of Philadelphia, and a costly antique fan from the bride's cousin, the Duchess of Vizeu, wife of Dom Miguel de Braganza.

One of Mr. Drexel's presents to his daughter was a $25,000 motor car, which will take the bridal couple for their honeymoon on the continent, the Italian lakes being their ultimate destination.

Centenary of Scottish Savings Banks.

Edinburg, June 8.—The centenary of the establishment of the first savings bank in Scotland is being observed here with an interesting three days' celebration. The proceedings were opened today with a civic reception by Lord Provost Brown. Tomorrow the Trustee Savings Banks Association of Great Britain will hold its annual meeting and in the evening there will be a banquet at which Lord Roseberry will be the chief speaker.

In 1819 a savings or "fugality bank" was opened at Ruthwell, Dumfriesshire, by the Rev. Henry Duncan an eminent Scottish divine and philanthropist. This institution was probably the first savings bank of the modern type, though banks of a somewhat similar character had been established some years previously in various parts of England and on the Continent. The plan of the Scottish bank was followed within a few years by the first savings banks established in America, at Philadelphia and Boston.

A WAR GOVERNOR'S MEMOIRS

There Will Be Widespread Interest in Samuel J. Crawford.

The death of the venerable ex-Governor Holbrook of Vermont, within the last year, has left but two surviving war governors, Sprague of Rhode Island and Crawford of Kansas. Neither of these has been much in the public eye of recent years. The people of Kansas soon after his active campaign and Custer, desired to make Crawford United States Senator and so instruct their representatives in the legislature. But popular choice was not recognized then to the same extent as now and the law makers made another selection. This so disgusted him that he retired from active politics and engaged in law practice and farming, with so much success that he has been counted as one of the wealthiest men in the Senate.

But though a prominent figure in the stirring events of a former generation, he has brought down from it an apparently undiminished measure of the mental and much of the physical vigor that then distinguished him, and he is now about to enlist both in the production of a book which will deal principally with the early history and struggles of Kansas. He says that he has rented his farm and arranged his other business so that he can spare the time. It would be better for our historical knowledge if more men of the past, who have been leading actors in the theatre of great events, would leave to those coming after their memories of the incidents that belong to them.

Crawford during the Civil war distinguished himself both as a soldier and a civilian, and the first chapter of his book will be devoted to the part that Kansas played in the great struggle, dwelling particularly on the border wars in which Kansas fought Missourians, the latter commanded by Marmaduke and Shelby, to both of whom, however, he pays high tribute. Many details of these battles will be given by him to the public for the first time. He came out of the way a colonel with the brevet of brigadier general. He was elected Governor while in the field and resigned to accept this new responsibility.

At the close of the war he established an immigration bureau to encourage the settlement in Kansas of ex-Union soldiers, and his success in that enterprise was largely instrumental in making her the great soldier State that she has been. During his second term as governor he resigned to take part in a campaign against the Indians, the conclusion of which practically ended his public service. Few men have so rich a reservoir of experience to draw upon for such a work. It will include hitherto unpublished letters and telegrams from Generals Grant, Sherman and Sheridan Secretaries of War, and at least two Presidents.—Boston Evening Transcript.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and Vicinity. Tonight and Thursday, partly cloudy. Thursday cooler.

The marriage of Miss Maragrette Drexel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Drexel of Philadelphia and London, and Viscount Maidstone, heir of the Earl of Winchester, was celebrated today at St. Margaret's church, Westminster. The dispatches did not so state, but it is taken for granted that the famous "long-green" wedding march was rendered in a most charming manner.

Don't say too many harsh things about our candidates for governor, for we can rest assured that one of the four is going to be the nominee of the democratic party; and, as good democrats, we must give him our support. The Times has its preference, but any one of the four will make the state a reasonably fair executive, whether that man happens to be a pro or anti, or a Bailey, or anti-Bailey man. Even Dr. Rankin will have to support Colquitt, in the event he secures the democratic nomination, and if the good doctor can eat a dose of crow like that, the balance of us ought not to grumble. On the other hand, if Johnson should be the lucky one, the Hon. Jake Wolters will be expected to line up his crowd for the nominee. The contest as it looks now, is rather favorable to Mr. Colquitt, but there might be a change, in fact there is sure to be a change in the event any one of the other three candidates should withdraw. As it stands today, however, Mr. Colquitt seems to be grazing out in the middle of the pasture where the grass is knee deep, while the other three fellows are nibbling on the briars and in the fence corners.

If our good friends at Elk City and other Oklahoma towns want to see old Wichita Falls extend the glad hand to them in the real good old Wichita way, all they will have to do is to accept the invitation to be officially tendered by our splendid Chamber of Commerce within the next few days. We got our wires crossed that other time, and the Oklahoma crowd slipped in on us without warning. But it will be different this time. Perhaps we deserved a part of what they said about us, but not all. At any rate, we're willing to forget, and all we are now asking is a chance to make good.

Halley's comet, which is now with us, is due again in about seventy-five years. Just to assure some of its friends that they need not put on mourning yet, awhile, the Times will say that it will be here to welcome it at that time.

Don't knock. The fellow who does the most of that kind of business may and often does prosper for a time, but generally comes to grief.

FIREWORKS AT LAKE.

Pyrotechnic Display on Four Nights of Next Week.

A contract was signed today by Mr. Palmer Clark and Mr. H. J. Martin, whereby there is secured for Lake Wichita four displays of Martin's Spectacular Fireworks Production. These displays will be similar to those at the large expositions and will contain all the latest effects in modern pyrotechny. The displays will be given four nights, commencing Thursday, June 16th.

The management at Lake Wichita started with the fixed policy that the facilities afforded and the class of attractions offered at this resort shall be of such magnitude and of such quality that will insure the making of this lake the popular resort of North Texas and Southern Oklahoma, in fact, to be to this territory what Galveston is to South Texas.

With this end in view, all their efforts have been made to secure only clean, high grade attractions of merit and of such magnitude that will induce visitors from all over this section to Wichita Falls.

The first attraction of the season will be four displays of Martin's Spectacular Fireworks Production. This production comes to Wichita Falls with the highest commendation of both the press and managers all over the country.

The displays will be thoroughly modern in every respect and will contain big feature pieces, elaborate designs and comical mechanical figures in fireworks.

But Where?

There is somewhere in this big world of ours a small kingdom. Its queen, a woman who rules with love. Her smooth silken hair is devoid of rats and puffs and her shoe-heels are comfortably low. She does not drive a car; she was never too rushed to meet the man of the house with a smile and a kiss of welcome; her dates do not keep her away from him at the hour the little ones return from school. The limelight glare has no attraction for her, hence she is not a member of any club, but has plenty of time when her husband wishes her to go on "a little picnic for two." She does not teach a Sunday School class nor sing in the church choir, but when bedtime comes she tells her children the "old, old story," and kneels with them in evening prayer. She belongs to no charity association, but quietly gives her means and sympathy to her less fortunate sisters. She does not entertain with brilliant receptions, but is always "at home" to his friends with an abundant welcome. She does not want political power; she does not wish to vote. She feels that the character of our nation depends upon its mother. Is this a myth?—Ex.

CORNERSTONE LAID.

Newly Elected Bishop Officiates at Iowa Park Exercises.

Iowa Park, Tex., June 8.—The cornerstone of the new Methodist church was laid with appropriate ceremonies Monday afternoon in the presence of a large gathering. Bishop E. D. Moulson of Georgetown, and Presiding Elder Roach, officiating, assisted by the masons. The music was furnished by the Iowa Park band.

After the very impressive ceremony of laying the cornerstone was completed, the congregation repaired to the Baptist church, where an able discourse was delivered by Bishop Moulson. After the services Bishop Moulson and Rev. Roach were taken to Wichita Falls by Mr. Job Barnett in his automobile. The crowd then went back to the new church, where a delicious five o'clock dinner was served.

Quite a number of out-of-town visitors and ministers were present. The church is expected to be completed in August and when finished will be a credit to the town.

"THIS IS MY 62ND BIRTHDAY."

John Marshall Holcombe. John Marshall Holcombe, one of the foremost American authorities on the subject of life insurance, was born in Hartford, Ct., June 8, 1848, and received his education in the Hartford public schools and at Yale College. Soon after leaving college he became a clerk in the offices of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company at Hartford and was promoted until he became president of the company in 1904. Mr. Marshall served for some years as actuary of the insurance department of Connecticut and has held a number of public offices in his home city of Hartford, where he has large interests in numerous financial and industrial enterprises. He is a lecturer in the insurance course at Yale and at the university commencement last year the honorary degree of M. A. was conferred on him.

Rally of Taft Followers.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 8.—Bitter warfare against the Republican "insurgents" of Wisconsin is presaged in the declarations made by the leaders of the "stalwart" faction who gathered in Milwaukee today for a State conference. The gathering met to form plans for combating the spread of the so-called LaFollette sentiment in this State and for strengthening the support of the Taft administration. A platform will be adopted and candidates recommended for State offices, to be voted for in the coming primaries. The indications are that Governor James O. Davidson will be endorsed by the "stalwarts" for re-election.

Politics in New Jersey promise to become very animated this year. The "progressive" republican organization is an extension of the New Idea wing of the party and it has already met and adopted its platform. It condemns the Payne-Aldrich tariff as "enacted in the interest of trusts and monopolies" and calls for a new and reformed tariff law. This is the first time that a republican tariff law has been attacked by professed republicans in that state.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Ty Cobb says that Sam Crawford is the greatest hitter in the business.

Providence and Toronto are both traveling to the top of the Eastern League at a fast pace.

Pitcher Quinn of the Highlanders, has won four straight games from Washington this season.

Cincinnati fans claim that Egan is the best second baseman in the National League this season.

Fred Lake is having a hard time of it trying to make a winner of the Boston Nationals.

It is evident that it will take some time for Johnny Kling to regain his former speed.

When the Cubs started for the east Pitcher "King" Cole had six victories in a row to his credit.

"Bugs" Raymond has been doing good work for the Giants of late and looks to be the "Bugs" of old.

If the St. Louis Browns continue to lose, a place will have to be found for them below the percentage table.

Starting the season like winners, but now headed for the cellar, is the story of Charlie Doolin and his Quakers.

Hyde Barr, who was with the Athletics last season, is in a serious condition from typhoid fever at Mobile, Alabama.

The Athletics and Highlanders will both have to keep going at top speed on the western trip to retain the lead in the American League.

"Doc" White of the White Sox, wants Mr. Chalmers of Detroit to offer an automobile as a prize to the tallest and slimmest left-handed pitcher in the big leagues. "Doc" says it would be a real chance for him to cop a joy wagon.

Fans who attended the following games on Decoration Day, got a swell run for their money: The New York Giants beat the Phillies, 4 to 3, the game being sixteen innings; Newark, 1, Jersey City 1 (27 innings), and Minneapolis 2, St. Paul 2 (18 innings).

WITH THE FIGHTERS.

Joe Jeannette wants to meet Sam Langford in a 25-round fight.

Jim Driscoll has decided to return to England on account of his condition.

Dick Burge, the ex-champion lightweight of England, has opened a boxing club in London.

Stanley Ketchel says that he will not meet Jack (Twin) Sullivan, unless the twin makes 158 pounds, ringside.

A boxing bout between Jim Corbett and Jack Johnson might be interesting, but the fans want the real thing, the Jeffries-Johnson clash.

BILL NYE'S MEMORY IS TO BE HONORED

NORTH CAROLINA PRESS ASSOCIATION WILL ERECT MONUMENT TO HUMORIST.

MOVEMENT IS UNDER WAY

Grave in Country Churchyard Now Unmarked, Save by Stone Boulder.

By Associated Press.

Wrightsville Beach, N. C. June 8.—One of the features of the opening session of the annual convention of the North Carolina Press Association, which convened at the Hotel Tarrymore this morning, was the launching of a movement to erect a substantial memorial to the late "Bill" Nye, the humorist, whose death occurred at his home in this state in 1896, and whose unmarked grave in Henderson county, is the mecca of many tourists. The movement, which was introduced in the course of an essay on journalistic problems by R. W. Vincent of the Charlotte Observer, was eloquently seconded by James H. Caine of the Asheville Citizen in an enthusiastic speech.

In proposing the memorial project, Mr. Vincent said, in part:

"Up yonder in the mountain fastness of Henderson, in a lone grave unmarked, save by a rough stone boulder, uninscribed, which, by his wish, is the only monument he desired, lies all that is mortal of an adopted son whose memory this state has neglected to honor—one we are proud to claim as of our craft—the lamented 'Bill' Nye. It was his misfortune not to have been born in North Carolina—Maine claims that distinctly—but the best years of his life were spent at beautiful Buck Shoals and the best work of his career done there. It was in the Carolina foothills that he gave up the unequal struggle, and it is there that he is buried.

"We cannot more ornately mark his last resting place if we respect his wishes, but we can erect in Hendersonville or Asheville, or, if you will, in the shadow of the capitol at Raleigh, a suitable and substantial memorial to show to the world that we know our duty and have performed it. Who among us has not delighted his soul with the Boomerang stories or dropped a tear over the pathos of 'The Pass that Came too Late?' The good that he did in making the world brighter by the music of his mirth cannot be measured in words, and he left us things upon which to reflect and thoughts upon which to build for ourselves a future, that, let us hope, may be rewarded by those who live after us, better than we have rewarded those who have gone before."

In seconding the movement to erect a memorial to "Bill" Nye, James H. Caine of the Asheville Citizen, said:

"In endorsing the Nye monument movement, I believe I voice the sentiment, not only of the press fraternity of Western North Carolina, but of the great majority of the citizenship of that section, who hold in loving memory the name of the man whose body now rests under the shadows of their mountains. While the present movement found its inception within the ranks of our state press association some years ago, there has long existed a feeling in the western section, and especially in that community where the illustrious Nye lived and moved, that something more than a nameless stone should keep in mind the genial spirit whose gospel was sunshine and whose creed was good cheer.

"True, the block of granite which now does sentinel duty over Nye's grave in the lonely country churchyard at Arden mutely expresses the dying wishes of the great humorist, but we would not be disregarding those wishes were we to erect, by means of popular subscription, a marble shaft which would in some measure express the regard and veneration for the man with whom all of us laughed and wept by turns.

"It is fitting and proper that the movement to perpetuate the memory of Nye should find its reincarnation here, for he was one of us. The struggling vicissitudes of his early journalistic days could not dim the lights of genius which shone so brightly in later years. We should not hesitate to go on record here and now, representing the North Carolina Press Association, as setting on foot a movement to erect at our state capital a fitting monument to one of the greatest and most gifted humorists the world has ever known."

The Clover Club of the Presbyterian Sunday School will give an ice cream social in the tent back of the church Thursday night. All are welcome; proceeds for missionary purposes.

PRACTICAL POLICY FOR CONSERVATION

SENATOR BORAH OF IDAHO ADDRESSES SENATE ON THIS SUBJECT TODAY.

PRESENT COURSE WRONG

Declares That Water Power Sites in West Should Be Properly Developed.

Washington, June 8.—"What we want is sane, practical conservation policy, under reasonable regulation, permitting the development of our natural resources in accordance with the natural laws of progress and in-Borah in addressing the Senate today during consideration of conservation legislation.

Mr. Borah spoke as the champion of the west:

"It would be a magnificent scheme, indeed," he exclaimed, "to compel the whole great west to hold its vast resources in idleness, deprive its people of their enjoyment and use and compel them to pay tribute to those resources of which you have taken possession here in the east and developed at your own free will."

Contending that it was a violation of every principle of the constitution to withhold power sites from the use of the western states, Mr. Borah inquired: "If Illinois or Massachusetts receives thousands or even millions of dollars as a revenue for their water but, on the other hand, pays millions into the federal treasury, is there equality among the states?" He said that the contention that natural resources in a state belonged to all the people of the United States was all right in theory but that in practice it was utterly untrue.

"Our power sites do not in any sense of the term belong to the people of New England or New York," continued the senator. "They are to be utilized by those who make themselves citizens of the state and join with others in trying to build up a commonwealth." He argued that it had never been the theory of the government that these resources should be utilized as a revenue producing proposition, but that they were for the benefit of all the people. "But," he said, "the people must come within the state in order to avail themselves of the use and benefit."

Mr. Borah said congress could not promote conservation by treating power sites, which to utilize was to conserve, as it did coal beds, which to utilize was to consume. As to undeveloped natural resources, he said that after congress had adopted laws to prevent waste, extravagance and monopoly so as to insure their economic and bona fide use by the people, it was about as far as the United States government could go. He added that as to timber there always should be the encouragement and aid of re-forestation as that was something that could be reproduced.

"Every water power site unused, locked up in idleness and inactivity when there are communities to serve, is a subtraction from the sum of human happiness and prosperity," he continued. "Every piece of land which will produce the necessities of life, dedicated by law to non-use, incorporated in a reserve and denied to settlement, is an extra burden upon every man who buys the necessities of life. Every year in which thousands of feet of ripened lumber are permitted to rot and fall in the reserves you are stealing something from the human race that belongs to it, and every year that the great coal beds of the Pacific slope go undeveloped it costs this government its extra millions to send coal around to the Pacific, burdens every citizen in that part of the country with exorbitant freight charges, and puts extra millions into the hands of eastern coal companies who delighted to see this go on."

Economic use and development should be the basic and fundamental principle of any conservation policy agreed upon or incorporated into law, said Senator Borah.

"These resources are not to be idle, imprisoned and unusable," he urged. "If you join with us in that proposition, we will gladly join you in formulating a policy of non-use, or strangulation of the great west, we stop at the first call for legislation. If strangulation is to be had, it will first be tried upon some of the measures in this body."

"We have reached, it seems, that pitiable, indefensible position, according to those who would tie up our resources, where we are willing to confess before the world as lawmakers we are inefficient, as administrators, worthless, and that our citizenship is so brazen and corrupt that we can no longer do business, but out of sheer impotency, must shut up shop. I denounce such a theory as a libel upon our citizenship, a manufactured and well-distributed libel upon the west, and for ulterior and selfish motives."

Senator Borah declared that any legislation upon the subject of conservation must be upon the basis that western citizenship was honest, law-abiding and intelligent; that western people appreciated the value of their resources and proposed to protect them, and that they were loyal to their states and to the nation as a whole.

"The conservation policy which teaches the farmer the science of farming, how to vary his crops, protect them from insects and his stock from disease; how to make 35 bushels of wheat grow where only 20 grew before, which reforests those timber lands which will produce nothing but timber; which will adopt a policy of regulation and control admitting of use and development everywhere, is a true conservation policy," he asserted.

"But the policy which withholds the agricultural land from production and hinders industrial life, which forces the citizen into a city or a foreign clime for lands, is not only short sighted and unwise, but it is a blunder, which, in legislation, is even worse than a crime."

"I prophesy that such a policy will be rejected in the end. What we want is more farmers and better farms, more homes and better homes," he added.

"The west has her fight to make in the industrial world," said Mr. Borah in conclusion. "She has to take care of her people and furnish prosperity for those who come among us. Taxes must be raised to sustain county and state governments. With one third of our state in a forest reserve, with our settlers being driven from our state into Canada, with our power sites tied up, with the resources which belong to those who are willing to take hold of them and develop them taken from us, the outlook is not encouraging. If you say to us that conservation means the holding of those lands and power sites indefinitely with a view of securing permanently the highest possible revenue to the government, we will oppose that policy to the end. But if it means an honest effort to protect those resources to an economic and safe use by the people, free of extravagance and waste, we will join you. But we have grown weary of this universal and senseless outcry against a whole community."

Get wise to that fussy pill plant on 8th street; those temperance toddy toasters were mixing summer joy juice way back when Methuselah was too young to vote, and say, don't try to stand them up by asking for any fancy foam, unless you want it, for they have all the information that goes with the job—none of that refined Hungarian fuss coming, but music by the cash register from six-thirty a. m., till street lights get peevish from working overtime. With best wishes, I am,
Yours when you come after me,
