PRODUCE JOURNAL PRAISES EMERSON

NEW YORK PUBLICATION SPEAKS HIGHLY OF PRESIDENT OF
NEW PACKERY.

SAYS HE HAS MADE GOOD

Discusses His New Enterprise in This City and Predicts Success
For It.

Below is reproduced an editorial which appeared recently in the New York Produce News concerning H. A. Emerson and his packing house proposition here. This editorial shows the high esteem in which Mr. Emerson is held in his line of business.

The following editorial, which recently appeared in the New York Produce News, and which has the approval of Mr. H. A. Emerson, president of the United States Packing Company, confirms the interview recently given the Times by Mr. Emerson just before leaving this city for Chicago:

As will be seen in the News columns this week, the United States Packing Company of Chicago has closed its arrangements for the erection of a strictly up-to-date packing house at Wichita Falls, Texas. That this point is a suitable one for the business we have no doubt, from the fact that H. A. Emerson, president of the United States Packing Company, has spent several weeks studying the situation very closely and everyone acquainted with Mr. Emerson know full well that when it comes to the picking out of a suitable point for carrying on any line of provision business it will be hard to find a man who will excel him. Years ago he started a small produce business on South Water street with his brother-in-law, Mr. Marlow, who who is now vice-president of the United States Packing Co., and with but very little capital they built up a very satisfactory local business in Chicago. After a few years they took over the business of G. W. Linn & Son, also that of O. P. Emerson & Co., not only carrying on the butter, egg and poultry business, but also a large fruit business which neither Mr. Emerson or Mr. Marlow ever gave any of their personal attention. These men have always stuck to butter, eggs and poultry.

Quite a few years ago they started branch houses, selecting the finest points in Missouri and Kansas for carrying on the business of packing butter, eggs and poultry, afterwards developing into the Milk Feeding business; the building and equipping of plants for this business taking a great deal of money and during the panic in 1907 they were forced into involuntary bankruptcy. With bulldog tenacity they immediately started up in a very small way, assisted somewhat by friends who had faith in their ability, and in a very few months were doing a tremendous business. That they have called the turn on the markets closer than anyone else in the business no one else will dispute and that they will operate with as large a volume as anyone in the butter, egg and poultry line, after they have decided that the goods are a purchase, everyone full well knows.

Out of their profits they recovered all of the plants of the old corporation of Emerson, Marlow & Co., which cost them ordinarily nearly $200,000.00. This property was bought back with the equipment at about $60,000.00 cash. In addition to this it is understood they have made purchases of large amounts of real estate in Texas. It is generally believed that this was the first reason for them to attempt (Continued on Page 5.)

EXTRA SESSION CALLED BY GOVERNOR—COMMENT RIPE ON POSSIBILITIES

Texas News Service Special.
Austin, Tex., June 16.—That there is more than the fire rating law involved in the call for the special session of the Texas legislature to meet at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of July 19th, which was issued yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, is believed in local political and official circles. Efforts to secure definite statements regarding this belief met with declinations to talk for publication this morning, but

It is safe to assert that knowing ones at the state capitol believe the governor has "something up his sleeve." It is conceded that Hawkins, commissioner of insurance and banking, will be deprived of his place on the board, because it is expected that the law will be repealed, but whether it can be arranged so that the senate will decline to confirm his appointment to office is wholly a matter of conjecture. The assertion is made that Campbell will not go so far in opposition to the commissioner, because the repeal of the law will work the change the governor desires.

Besides the hints thrown out that submission will be proposed in a new way, there is talk of a change in the election law so as to preclude nomination by plurality vote at the primaries, but friends of the governor say he contemplates no such thing.

Texas News Service Special.
Conroe, Tex., June 16.—Asked for an opinion on the special session of the legislature, O. B. Colquitt, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor of Texas, said he thought the people of Texas needed and wanted (Continued on Page Four.)

TWENTY FOUR BUSHELS TO ACRE BROUGHT FROM FARM THREE MILES OUT

Those who predicted that Wichita county would make no wheat this year overlooked some parts of the county in their forecast. While the general yield for the county is not large, one farm within three miles of this city has made twenty-four bushels to the acre.

This farm is that of Sam Burks and his two sons, Clarence and Charlie, who have just threshed a little over fifty-seven hundred bushels on this city and Iowa Park. Clarence Burks threshed first and made about twenty-six hundred bushels to the acre. The Burks have marketed their wheat and are plowing for another field.

ARRESTED AT WHITE HOUSE.

Maryland Man With Pistol, So Taken Into Custody.
By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., June 16.—A man named James Strickland, from Cumberland, Md., was arrested today when he called at the executive offices and asked to see the President. His queer actions caused his arrest and he is being held for observation as to his sanity. A forty-four caliber pistol was found on him.

JEFFRIES-JOHNSON FIGHT PLACE IS YET TO BE DE- TERMINED BY PROMOTER

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, Cal., June 16.—Governor Gillette's message to Attorney General Webb invoking the arm of the law to put a quietus on the Jeffries-Johnson fight is generally regarded as a knockout blow for the fight in California. The issue, however, is a matter for the courts to determine finally, and unless Promoters Rickard and Gleason conclude to voluntarily abandon the plan for holding the "battle of the century" in this city, it may be several days or longer before a definite solution of the question regarding the scene of the championship contest is reached.

Reno and Ely, Nevada and Salt Lake City as alternative localities, are now under consideration.

Rickard stated today that the promoters would be losers by forty thousand dollars if the fight does not take place in San Francisco.

Johnson made a naive suggestion as a way out of the dilemma. "All I want is to fight," he said. "If I break any laws of the state I am willing to settle for it afterwards."

Governor Gillette in an interview denied that political consideration had prompted his action in the fight matter.

By Associated Press.
Ben Lomond, Cal., June 16.—Jeffries will continue training for the big fight whether it will be held in San Francisco or elsewhere, and won't give up unless told to do so by Rickard or Gleason, according to an announcement here today.

WOLF HUNT IN AUTO VERY SUCCESSFUL

LOCAL PARTY CAPTURES BIG
BLACK SPECIMEN IN CHASE
TO-DAY.

CHASE EAST OF WICHITA

Wolf is Caught After Exciting Run of Three-Quarters of a Mile.

A wolf hunt by automobile, a sport peculiar to West Texas, was enjoyed this morning by a party of Wichitans who were successful in capturing one big black wolf after an exciting chase. The party included J. C. Tandy, W. M. McGregor and F. P. Avis. Two machines, Mr. Tandy's and Mr. Avis' were used, the dogs being carried in the autos until the wolf country was reached. The wolf hounds are the property of Mr. Tandy.

The party started about five o'clock and went east of the city about eight miles, where the efforts of the dogs were soon rewarded by the jumping of a large black wolf which lit out across the prairie with the dogs close in behind and the automobiles following as best they could not far back. The wolf held his own for about half a mile, but the dogs then began to gain and within a few hundred yards more it was all over. The auto party arrived in time to get the scalp, which was brought to town as a trophy of the chase.

Automobile wolf hunting is indulged in at various places in West Texas, wherever there is sufficient game and open country to make it worth while. The open country about seven miles east of Wichita Falls affords opportunities along this line that local enthusiasts have not been slow to take advantage of.

fers to pull off the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight in Juarez, across the Rio Grande river from El Paso, in Mexico. Ed Smith declared this morning that the Mexican city is not even a possibility.

Following the announcement yesterday that Governor Gillette of California had instructed District Attorney Webb to take steps to prevent the fight in San Francisco, six cities telegraphed bids.

It is believed in sporting circles here that the fight will take place in California, as originally planned. It is asserted that Gillette merely wishes to clear his skirts of blame by passing the question on to the prosecutor and it is declared that the attorney general will find nothing in the laws to prevent the fight.

LETTER FROM ROOSEVELT.

EARTHQUAKE RECORDED.

Shocks Believed to Have Occurred

Washington, June 16.—Earthquake shocks were recorded here today, the preliminary tremors being followed by two heavy shocks. It is believed location of the disturbance is in Italy.

PROBABLY FINAL ACT OF STATE FIRE RATING BOARD AT AUSTIN IS TO GIVE WICHITA A CHEAPER PENALTY RATE

Special to The Times.
Austin, Texas, June 16.—One of the last echoes, possibly, of the widespread complaints from Texas towns and cities on account of the fire insurance actuary's proposing higher rates for various places, was heard today when amended key rate of Wichita Falls.

The representatives of the insurance companies had recommended a key rate of sixty-four cents. The protest of that city took official form and the matter was agitated in the press through letters from prominent citizens there.

Today, the fire rating board received

CENSUS GUESSING CONTEST CLOSES

NEARLY THIRTEEN HUNDRED GUESSES RECEIVED BY THE TIMES FROM READERS.

ESTIMATES VARY WIDELY

Some Think Census Will Show Fifteen Thousand People or More, Here.

With a total of 1232 guesses, the Times' "How Big is Wichita Falls" contest, which started on May 25th, came to a close at midnight last night. The idea for starting this contest was not for the purpose of money-making or to increase its circulation. The Times prides itself on the fact that it has never, under the present management, found it necessary to offer a prize as an inducement to gain circulation, and if the paper could not circulate on its own merits, it did not deserve to circulate at all.

The full list of the guesses are published in today's issue, and those interested should preserve this copy of the Times until the result of the 1910 census of Wichita Falls is made known from Washington, at which time the offered figures will be given the winner or winners of the prize. It is expected that within the next few days the population of Wichita Falls will be made known.

RETAIL MERCHANTS MEETING AT LAKE

OPEN SESSION IS HELD IN NEW LAKESIDE-HOTEL BY THE MEMBERS.

PLEASING TALKS HEARD

Musical Features Were Provided and the Evening Was Pleasantly Spent.

The members of the Retail Merchants Association and a number of guests enjoyed a smoker last evening in the Lakeside Hotel at Lake Wichita.

About sixty were in attendance and the evening was spent very pleasantly. Cigars were served and there were musical and other features that made the occasion a pleasant one.

The meeting was opened by Pres. J. M. Bland, who spoke a few words of welcome. E. Von der Lippe rendered a violin solo in that pleasing style of which he is capable and he was liberally applauded. A vocal solo by C. N. Buchanan was then rendered and that gentleman's melodious voice found much favor.

Job Barnett then spoke on "The Part of the Retail Merchants' Association in the Future of Wichita Falls."

Mr. Barnett said that the success or failure of Wichita Falls to become a great commercial center lay in the individual and co-operative efforts of her merchants. Individual success, he said, was necessary, as the failure of one merchant reflected upon the city as a whole and he believed that honesty, more than anything else, was the keynote to real success.

C. V. Durland rendered a piano solo so pleasingly that an encore was demanded. Mr. Durland responded with a rendition of "Annie Laurie," with variations of his own composition.

Homer D. Wade of Stamford was called upon for a talk and responded in his usual happy style. His talk was along humorous and anecdotal lines, with some wholesome advice on organization and co-operation interspersed. The knocker, he said, was as bad as the dead beat and should be treated the same way.

B. J. Bean spoke on "Why Smith is Not a Member of the Association and Why He Should Be." Just why Smith was not a member Mr. Bean didn't know, but he submitted a number of reasons why he should be one. He spoke in general of the benefits accruing from organization and how necessary it was for every line of successful business.

The need of securing conventions and how to secure them was the subject of a short talk by Palmer L. Clark. He said that in addition to the actual money the convention visitors spent in a town, there was the very considerable added advantage of advertising. The only way to get conventions, he said, was to go after them with determination and to offer just a little bit more than the other town offered. Lake Wichita, he pointed out, gave Wichita Falls an extra inducement to offer. Mr. Clark took occasion to speak a few words for the Lake and said it was worthy of the boasting and support of every Wichitan.

John W. Bradley then sang a very enjoyable bass solo. This was followed by a short talk by J. A. Arnold, president of the Texas Commercial Secretaries Association, after which adjournment was taken.

The band will give concerts at the fireworks, but previous to going to the ball park they will give short concerts and illuminations at the prominent corners down town tonight.

United States Senator J. W. Bailey has declined the invitation extended him by this city to speak here on July 4. Judge Edgar Scurry received the following telegram from him today:

"Your telegram received. Would be glad to speak at Wichita Falls on July 4, but have another engagement for that date if congress adjourns in time for me to keep it."

"J. W. Bailey."

Throngs to Welcome Roosevelt.
New York, June 16.—For several days the trains have been bringing delegations of those who were eager to welcome Theodore Roosevelt back to his native shores, but today they came in droves. Tomorrow the visitors are expected to arrive in even larger numbers. The town is full of governors and ex-governors and other public men from the north and west, while the Rough Riders, Spanish War veterans and representatives of young men's republican clubs from all parts of the country are much in evidence. The talk is all of Roosevelt. Many women have taken advantage of the opportunity to accompany their husbands or fathers, as the case may be, to this city. They are interested in Mr. Roosevelt, but they are also glad of the chance to visit the shops.

The men in charge of the reception to Mr. Roosevelt are surprised at the number of persons who have flocked here to meet him. Each state was asked to send a certain number of delegates to serve on the reception committee. Illinois was put down for less than 100, but the indications are that there will be no fewer than 1,000 visitors from that state. Ohio, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma—all are sending good-sized delegations, and even the far-away states of the Rocky Mountain region and the Pacific coast will be represented.

Epworth League Conference.
Newberry, N. C., June 16.—The interested eyes of hundreds of enthusiastic Epworth Leaguers will be turned upon Newberry tonight when the seventeenth annual conference of South Carolina has its formal opening and the ensuing proceedings will be the theme of conservation in Methodist homes all over the Old Palmetto State. The program of the conference covers four days of song and service meetings. Included among the scheduled speakers are Dr. H. M. DuBose of Nashville, Rev. C. W. Hounsell of Korea, Rev. M. H. Duncan D. D. of Greenville; Rev. E. O. Watson, D. D. of Columbia, and other ministers and laymen of note.

One Hundred Years of Peace.
Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 16.—Delegates representing the commercial organizations and historical societies of the cities and towns in this vicinity, on both sides of the international boundary, met here today to discuss the preliminary arrangements for the big celebration which it is proposed to hold in commemoration of the one hundred years of peace enjoyed since 1812. The original intention was to have the celebration take place next year, but the consensus of opinion now is that the time is too short to make adequate preparations and that it would be better to defer the celebration until 1914, or possibly 1915.

With The Fighters.
Willie Lewis and Sailor Burke have been re-matched to box in New York, June 21.

It is said that Jim Driscoll, the English featherweight, is suffering from tuberculosis.

What betting has been done on the Jeffries-Johnson fight has found Jeff the favorite at 10 to 7.

Dave Sullivan, the former Boston bantam now living in New York, is trying to get back in the game.

Bert Neyes, Blink McCloskey, Charles Hitte and Nid Gordon, who have been working in France, are now in Algiers with a boxing show.

Oklahoma Republicans.
Guthrie, Okla., June 16.—In response to the call of the state chairman, James Harris, the republicans of Oklahoma assembled in state convention here today. The chief work of the convention is to be confined to the organization of the state committee to conduct the approaching campaign. The organization of the new committee is awaited with much interest as it is expected to show whether the insurgents or stand-patters are to control the republican party in Oklahoma.

Swedish King's Birthday.
Stockholm, June 16.—The fifty-second birthday anniversary of King Gustaf V. was observed today by a lavish display of the national colors in the capital and throughout the kingdom. Messages of congratulation were received by his Majesty from all parts of the world. The king was born on June 16, 1858, and succeeded to the throne upon the death of his father, Oscar II., in December, 1907.

ACTORS ARE ALWAYS YOUNG

Prejudice Against Men and Wife in Same Play Passes.

It hasn't been so many years ago that it was a very rare thing for husband and wife to be seen in the same play, and in cases where a married couple were both on the stage they were usually cast in different companies, there being a feeling that the public did not like to see man and wife in the same company, especially in roles where they might be called upon to make "stage love" to each other.

But this prejudice has passed away, both on the part of the public and the producers, and it is now no uncommon thing to see happily married stage stars playing in the same cast and "making love" to each other on the stage. There are a dozen of such instances.

It is not so common a thing, however, for father and daughter to be seen in similar roles, but there has been examples of it, and John Drew and his charming daughter, Louise, are furnishing one of them at the present time.

During a recent illness of Mary Boland, who has been in the role of Micheline, when Mr. Drew was here in "Inconstant George," Miss Drew played the role with great success, and had her father in the role of her suitor. After Miss Boland returned to the company Miss Drew played Adeline Prince's part during her illness, a part in which she carried on a flirtation with her youthful-appearing parent.

There was a similar situation some years ago, when Gertrude Coghlan played leading woman to her father, Charles Coghlan, in "The Royal Box," and at the present time in London, in the production of "The Twelfth Night," Fred Terry is playing Sebastian to his daughter Phillida's Viola.

It seems to be quite a fad these days for everybody on the stage to keep young indefinitely, and it may not be long before we will see some youthful grandfathers "making love" to a granddaughter, or some grandmother in real life carrying on a stage flirtation with an admirer who in private life is her grandson.—Philadelphia Times.

A BUTTERFLY FARM.

England Has One With Nursery of Forty Thousand Caterpillars.

The prosperous butterfly and moth farm, not only breeding those insects by the tens of thousands, but also raising a large proportion of its own fodder plants and issuing its periodical price lists of eggs, larvae, pupae and perfect insects, is the natural outcome of the popular turning to nature study and the increasing numbers of collectors.

Such a farm was inaugurated a few years ago at Bexley, Kent, by L. V. Newman, F. E. S., and the venture has proven a great success.—The farm consists of three-quarters of an acre of garden and allotment around his house and half an acre in a secluded corner of a wood, inclosed with wire netting. It was in the wood I found him, busily engaged with one of his two assistants in the task of spring cleaning.

Here was a cage of wood and perforated zinc built around a growing tree, which, Mr. Newman informed me, contained five hundred specimens—of the red-belted clearwing caterpillar; and close by was another cage—a huge structure, inclosing no fewer than seven birch trees and measuring 11 feet by 11 feet round the sides and 12 feet high—in which were about one thousand insects of different kinds. Other trees bore smaller cages of different sizes and shapes, each holding a swarm of precious stock, and so contrived that they could be fitted on to any branch, thus enabling them to be moved about the woodlands as the caterpillars eat the foliage.

Around his house Mr. Newman grows a motley crop of fodder plants for his hungry stock, and he has three glass houses, two of which are unheated. In one of the latter were, I was informed, about ten thousand caterpillars of the silver-washed fritillary. The larvae were in cages planted with violets just coming into flower. In the same house were four more cages planted with dead nettle, and containing more than three thousand caterpillars of the handsome scarlet tiger, and other cages, also, in which were about five thousand dark green and high brown fritillaries.

Throughout the establishment there are at the present time more than forty thousand living caterpillars, about 120 newly emerged moths and butterflies, and as it is now the season for pupae, only about seven thousand crystallides. In June there will be three times the present quantity of living stock.

The dead stock numbers about 100,000 set insects, every one of which has its price, ranging from 1d to £5, £7 and even more for rare varieties. In the same manner as orchid growers, Mr. Newman sends his assistants far away on speculative forays, though never outside Britain. He has a man now hunting for a fortnight in North Wales for hibernated butterflies.—London Daily Mail.

Wichita Falls, Texas, June 16th, 1910.

On yesterday the stockholders of the Floral Heights Realty Co., were paid another cash dividend of 30 per cent, which makes in all, since the organization of the company in March of 1909, a total cash dividend of about 65 per cent, together with a stock dividend of about 69 cents, making a total net dividend of $1.32 since the organization of the company. As the company still has nearly one half of its property and it is increasing in value every day, but little, if any of the company's stock is purchasable for par value. This is just an illustration of the way things are done in Wichita Falls, and the fellow who is hunting investments should want no better evidence than the above that Wichita Falls real estate at present values are just as safe and sound as can be. Wichita Falls is on no boom—it has been just a gradual and rapid increase in population for the past four years, and there does not now seem any likelihood of values going back. On the other hand it is safe to predict an all-round advance in prices on real estate during the next twelve months of at least 25 per cent.

George Musgrave, a farmer residing about 10 miles north of town, will make close to 20 bu. of wheat to the acre. He expects to begin threshing Monday.

His brother, J. H. Musgrave, has just finished threshing and made between ten and twelve bushels. These yields are considered a fair sample of the crops to be made by other farmers who will start threshing shortly. In the Red River section the best crops will be made.—Wichita Daily Times.

It will be observed that Mr. Musgrave resides 10 miles north of Wichita; (Burkburnett is 14 north). The Times also concedes that the best crops will be made in the Red River valley; (Burkburnett is in the Red River valley,) and the best crops in Wichita county will be made in the Burkburnett section. The Wichita dailies, it seems, take a delight in eliminating the name Burkburnett in such instances. Why not come out and say, everybody knows that Burkburnett is situated in the best section of the county.—Four Six Star.

The Star is mistaken. The Times and Geo Musgrave have been here so long that it has become quite common to refer to him as residing ten miles north of this city. His habit was formed long before there was any Burkburnett, and it is just a little difficult to break the habit. Burkburnett is a live wire town, and is located as the Star says, in the best part of Wichita county and therefore the Times is glad of the opportunity to make favorable mention of her as often as possible.

STAY IN YOUR OWN BACKYARD.

While Senator Bascom Thomas has been waging relentless war against corruption and graft in the legislative department of the state government and crying the slogan of civic righteousness and state purity in all of the hills and valleys and out-of-way places of Texas—he has just left the bars down in one place. But that one place was sufficiently large for the smooth and supple figure of A. S. Hawkins to pass through. Bascom was fighting the grafters of the senate and intent only on saving the state from the baleful influence of the devilish lobbyist, he forgot all about the prohibition question, and that was Hawkins' opportunity. And while Hawkins has been known to miss a train, leave his umbrella on the car or even neglect an invitation to dinner, he has never yet been the man to allow opportunity to go away from his door with her feeling hurt because he failed to respond to her faintest knock.

Hence Hawkins is the state-wide candidate per se for lieutenant governor and in spite of Bascom's frantic efforts to butt in and lead the procession, he is no tin in it for Hawkins says:

"Vence your doubts, Bas. One of these processions is about as much as any one man can lead and two banners would tire your little arms out before you got half across your old senatorial district."

So those who regard prohibition as the paramount issue in this race must follow the white gonfalon of the opportunist Hawkins to state-wide, nationwide and world-wide aridity, while those who wish to purge Texas of graft and protect the poor weak legislators and senators from deadly influences by killing the lobbyists, must grab their guns, fill up their magazines and follow the militant Bascom to glory or the grave. But you can not follow both banners nor can Bascom, the strenuous, lead both hosts. Hawkins is not in this race for his health, in fact there is nothing wrong with his health, anyway; he is running to beat Davidson, well knowing that the man who does that will be the next lieutenant governor. He does not think it can be done, but in the interest of fairness he wants Bas, to "shiny on his own side" and let the prohibitionist alone. See?—Austin Statesman.

EXTRA SESSION CALLED BY THE GOVERNOR

ed a rest from such political clap-trap. He asserted that when he becomes governor he will not urge the legislature to pass an act and then be forced to call a special session to repeal the same act. "He got what he wanted," said Colquitt, "and is now angry because the official he appointed won't act on the suggestion that companies be permitted to violate the law." Colquitt is to speak here this afternoon.

Texas News Service Special.
San Antonio, Tex., June 16.—"I am not worried over any special sessions," said Cone Johnson, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor of Texas, here today, to a Texas News Service representative. "There will be no necessity for Governor Campbell to bring any political matter before the legislature. There is no danger of Colquitt's being elected governor of this state." Further than this, Johnson had nothing to say regarding the call issued yesterday afternoon.

The young ladies of the Baptist Church will give a market at the North Texas Furniture Company's store on Saturday afternoon. —28-2c

PRaises EMERSON

to build at Wichita Falls, which is only a few miles from their land, a large packing house so as to increase the value of their real estate holdings. Emerson has been several weeks traveling among packing houses, independent and otherwise, and after a thorough and careful investigation decided that with proper associates the packing house proposition was much more inviting than he had originally believed.

Just as he has always secured all the money necessary to swing any sized deal in the butter, egg and poultry business, he has apparently secured all the backing necessary to build and equip a very large packing house, against which he says no mortgage or bonds will be issued, but that the property will be paid for and clear when completed.

The News considers Wichita Falls extremely lucky in securing the United States Packing Co. for the operation of an independent packing plant. Of one thing they can rest assured there will be business doing day and night, Sunday included, whenever there is the least opportunity in the world to make a profit. They have men with them who never sleep and who are not afraid of any sized volume of business. These people have traded in butter, eggs and poultry, buying and selling half a million dollars worth at a single dinner when they met with their large jobbing customers from the East either in Chicago or New York. It is believed the success of the United States Packing Co. to a great extent has been in its selection of most excellent customers for their products, careful selection of men for managers of branch houses and the very best of judgment in anticipating future markets. This year with nearly the entire poultry trade of the United States set square against them they took on millions of pounds of poultry and the present market proves conclusively that the crowd was wrong and that the officers of the United States Packing Co. were right. The News has always felt a friendly interest in these men and it has been pleased to see them win out against great obstacles. We wish them every success and we have every confidence that they will have great success in the handling of beef, pork and mutton and the side lines that go with a strictly up-to-date packing house located in a rapidly developing section, Northern Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

ALL SORTS.

There are distinctions, it would seem, in current vogue, A man who waters milk we deem A common rogue. A deal depends upon the haul, It would appear. A man who waters stocks we call A financier.

—Washington Herald.
 "Poor Myra Kelley," said a magazine editor at the Author's Club in New York, "was almost as distressed as Mr. Carnegie at the spirit of graft and crookedness rampant among us."

"The young writer at a dinner of magazine contributors, said that we worshipped wealth—that was our trouble. Then she crystallized her meaning in an anecdote.

"She said that one man answered another:

"What position does Blank hold in the community?"

"A very honorable position," was the reply.

"Is he wealthy?"

"Wealth and honor," said the other are synonymous terms in America today."—Detroit Free Press.

A shoe drummer alighted from the train at Farville and looked up and down the street. Presently Yick Lee came along with a bundle of soiled laundry, and the drummer hailed him with:

"John, how much of a town is this here town of Farville?"

"Sleeter ca' ev'ly twenty minutes," replied the Chinaman.—Everybody's Magazine.

"I noticed in a paper the other day," remarked a suburbanite to a New York Tribune reporter, "a story about a young couple who went to house keeping on the thirteenth floor of an office building to escape visits from a crabbed old aunt who couldn't reach them there because she was afraid of elevators. That reminds me of a friend of mine who bought a house, high on a hill and a half a mile up a wood road from the highway. 'What do you want with such a hermitage as that?' I asked him. 'Well,' he replied, 'to tell who my friends are. If anybody has the courage to toil up that hill to see my family I'll know he or she is a real friend, who sincerely wants to see us, and not just a caller who dropped in because it was convenient.'"

High Cost of Living.
 "Gifford Pinchot," said a New York physician, "has America's forests almost on the brain. He couldn't love them more if they were his own property."

"Talking to me about the millions lost annually in forest fires, Gifford Pinchot asked angrily why the people didn't appreciate the proved value of their forests as they appreciated the still unimproved value of Metchnikoff's lactic acid microbes?"

"He said that in a restaurant that morning a man complained to a waiter:

"Waiter this milk is sour."

"If you use it, then, sir" the waiter answered quickly, "we'll have to charge you extra. Sour milk's gone up tremendously, sir, since they discovered that it cured old age."—Washington Star.

Early in the fall J. W. Dodson will resume his tour in "The House Next Door."

One of the stars of the coming season will be Clayton White in "Get Rich Quick Wallingford."

Laurette Taylor will begin a season in New York early this autumn in "The Girl in Waiting."

Eugene Blair is heading a strong stock company at the historic Walnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia.

The Shuberts are to build a theatre in San Francisco. They will also have a new theatre in New York.

Cohan and Harris will produce the first aviation play, "The Aviator," by James Montgomery, early in the fall.

Gertrude Quinlan in "Miss Patsy," will be the opening attraction next season at the Liberty Theatre, New York.

James M. Hackett has abandoned the dramatic rights to "John Arrow-smith, Planter," a novel by Mrs. Belle Bushnell.

"Seven Days" will be produced in London next season by Wagenhals and Kemper, with Georgia O'Ramey playing the leading part.

John Mason, unsuccessful in his search for a new play, will next autumn resume the character of Brookfield the gambler, in "The Witching Hour."

Mrs. Clara Pennover, an old-time actress, who was the original Eva in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," died the other day from heart disease on a trolley car in Philadelphia.

A new music hall singer, imported from London, who is expected to make a big success here, is Cissie Curlette, who is represented as a combination of Vesta Tilley and Lucy Weston.

Margaret Anglin is going into comedy after this season, deserting the tearful drama. She inherited her sense of humor from her father, who was of Irish stock and held a position as editor on a newspaper in New Brunswick.

Gustave Frohman, the brother of Charles and Daniel, is planning to establish an annual mission play in Riverside, California. The play will portray the picturesque career of the famous Father Junipero Serra, the great Spanish missionary.

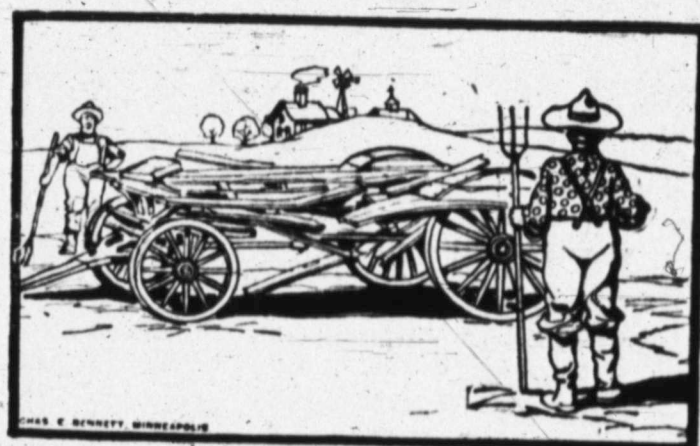

George M. Cohan is at work upon his new musical play, in which he will open the George M. Cohan Theatre in New York early in September. Cohan and Harris will produce the new play by Augustus Thomas, "The Member from Ozard," in Detroit in September.

Michigan Tax Law to Be Treated.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 10.—The legal proceedings instituted to test the constitutionality of the Michigan ad valorem tax law governing the taxation of telephone companies came up for hearing in the United States district court here today. The two points at issue are as to whether the title of the act is broad enough to cover the taxation of telephone companies and whether the exemption of the smaller companies is constitutional.

How Are You Fixed For Racks?

Stacking time will soon be upon you, so we thought we'd just call your attention to the question of racks. We realize how prone most men are to put off attending to these things until the last moment; then it's too late. The old things are patched up in hopes that they will do for a while. The result is no end of time and trouble wasted tinkering to keep them together. Better look up the rack question and get into shape before you actually need them. We have a good stock of clear, dry materials—just the thing for racks.

FADS AND FASHIONS.

[By Florence Fairbanks.]
New York, June 16.—It is certainly to be regretted from considerations of economy that the separate coat that might be worn with any costume, has gone out of fashion. Each frock intended for outdoor wear calls for its own coat or wrap, and even the sheer summer muslins, the elaborate afternoon frocks and the evening frocks are accompanied by corresponding coats and accessories if they come from the establishment of a prominent designer. The long, all covering coats of silk, tweed, serge, etc., designed primarily for motor wear, but often used for trotting purposes, are almost the only offerings in the genuine separate street coat to be found in the shops.

Tailors make up coat and skirt models which are worn with blouses to match, or frock and coat models for ordinary street wear. There are quantities of silk coats, satin, taffeta, moire, corded silk, crepe, messaline, etc., but they are made en suite with frocks and are almost invariably very short and prone to piquant, old-fashioned lines. Even the Eton is once more in evidence, and along with it come quaint little basqued affairs, loose, frilly short jackets, Russian caotees with belts and with peplum reaching only to the hip line, picturesque Di-rectoire models with big soft revers, shoulder capes, etc., funny little dol-manlike wraps which have capes over the shoulders and scarflike draped fronts crossing surplice fashion.

There is no end to these short coats and wraps and each is more chic than the last, though you need time to accustom yourself to their abbreviation. Whether they are generally becoming as the longer coats and cloaks is a question of taste. It is true, they consort better with the short skirt which is predominant in Paris, but the long flowing lines are kinder to the average figure.

It is a well recognized fact that American women, as a rule, are far more conservative than their sisters in France. The importers know this and they usually order the original models modified to suit American taste before bringing them over here. However, not all the costumes produced by the famous designers in Paris are bizarre. Many of the handsomest creations are devoid of any sensational features and may be worn by the most conservative women.

Long coats and cloaks for carriage and evening wear are lovelier than ever before, and the triumph of the season is the flimsy cloak of chiffon, net or lace, usually without lining,
other than another tone of chiffon.
The season's veiling mania is reflected in the diaphanous summer cloaks and here as in the chic frocks exquisite color harmonies are obtained through superposing one sheer layer upon another in contrasting tone.
Sometimes, however, the cloak is of one tone, the color contrast being left to the frock worn under it. Sheer black or white is often exquisite when a colored frock glows softly through its veiling folds, and the same is true of some of the neutral tones, such as the popular pinkish beige, sand color and the grays.

Sometimes a plain chiffon is laid over a flowered chiffon, and there are beautiful models in shaded chiffons, unlined and finished with bordering marabout. Graceful models of this type but in plain one-tone chiffon and of simply draped lines, are offered at very moderate prices.

All sorts of odd little shoulder capes
or wraps draped in chiffon, lace, satin, etc., are being exploited by the French designers, but usually en suite with frocks. Oddly enough, directoire modes, supposed to have vanished, are re-asserting themselves not only in millinery, but in coat and frock details.
Directoire coats with revers, shoulder capes and waist line shortened in the back, of not all around, are numerous in Paris, and the short-waisted frock has never been really out of fashion for evening and house wear.

Nine out of ten frock models imported from Paris, have kimono sleeves and often the blouse is of the simplest sort, plain over the chest, shoulders and arms, very slightly full into a waist band or girdle, trimmed only around the neck and sleeves and relieved by thin gumpes and under-sleeves. Where the blouse is of chiffon or other sheer stuff, there is usually flat trimming upon the foundation,
showing vaguely through the veiling,
or a scarf drapery of vivid color under the chiffon.

Sometimes there is not even this veiled trimming and the model achieves distinction in the simplest fashion
by the beauty and harmony of the colors and the exquisite material, combined with the perfection of the cut.
Sometimes the note of trimming is supplied by fine pet embroidery.
The plaited frill is perhaps the most pronounced neckwear fad of the season and is offered in every imaginable variation and in every degree of fineness and daintiness. There are frills of lace and frills of linen, frills laced trimmed, frills hand-embroidered and scalloped, frills with fine embroidery designs running along every second or third plait, frills of white with narrow borders of color, frills of fine white lace edged by the narrowest of black lace, frills of color border with white, dotted frills with white or colored hems, frills to finish a collarless frock neck, frill collar and cuff sets for coats, frills to run down one side of a central box plait falling over plain plaiting or with black lace falling over cream lace or chiffon, frills running down each side of a central lace or embroidery band and many other variations.

Some of the prettiest cuff and collar sets have flat bands on collars of lace or embroidered linen with the plaited frills bordering them, and there are close stock collars with frills running around their lower edge just at the base of the throat.
Owing to the great popularity of the plaited frills as a collarless neck finish
there is an increasing liking for flat turn down collars finely embroidered and lace trimmed, and these are shown in great quantities in all the fashionable shops. Some of the finest are very expensive, however.

Exquisitely embroidered collars of fine linen are modish for wear with the low cut coats and are distinctly becoming, especially when the blouse,
as is so often the case, is collarless.
The hard line of the coat collar against a bare throat is unbecoming, and a lingerie collar if fine and dainty, improves the effect wonderfully. The plaited frill collar is pretty and becoming, too, and is much worn with the tailored coat.

Embroidery rique collars and cuff sets for the coats are practical and smart, if not so dainty and becoming as the finer sets of linen.

A belt of patent leather, preferably a black one, should be worn with a separate waist and skirt.

A new trimming feature which promises to become decidedly popular is the many-colored ostrich plume.

The stockings this summer are in most cases two-toned, matching the costume or in contrasting color.

Coarse blue linen frocks, embroidered with blue and coral silk are made for young girls.

Dear Bill:-

Get wise to that fussy pill plant on 8th street; those temperance toddy tossers were mixing summer joy juice way back when Methuselah was too young to vote, and say, don't try to stand them up by asking for any fapcy foam, unless you want it, for they have all the information that goes with the job—none of that refined Hungarian fuss coming, but music by the cash register from six-thirty a. m., till street lights get peevish from working overtime.
