CITY COUNCIL IN REGULAR SESSION

ORDINANCE REGULATING AUTO- MOBILE SPEED LIMIT IS PASSED TODAY.

TO ANALYZE CITY WATER

Stricter Enforcement of Sanitary Measures is Called For By Aldermen.

The city council met in regular session this morning, with Alderman Reid presiding as mayor pro tem. The session was devoted largely to a discussion of sanitary matters and the police were instructed to see that all ordinances and regulations were enforced. Several of the special committees asked for further time, which was granted.

Alderman Reid was requested to take samples of the water furnished by the water company and have analyses made, with a view to determining whether there is need for action in this direction.

The council passed the ordinance which was introduced several weeks ago regulating the speed of automobiles. The speed limit is fixed at twelve miles per hour outside of the fire limits and ten miles per hour in side of the fire limits.

The salary of the city secretary was ordered increased from $100 to $125 per month, effective on July 1.

In the discussion of the need for stricter enforcement of the sanitary measures, attention was called to the fact that stable lots are not being kept in proper condition and the conditions of restaurants and groceries downtown are in need of correction. It is probable that the police department will take action along this line.

The analysis of the water will be made. It is understood, at the request of some local parties who feel that some care should be taken in this direction as the hot season progresses. A careful analysis will be made and any defects will be called to the attention of the company for correction.

San Antonio and Wichita Falls are after the 1911 meeting.

IRISH LADS WIN AGAIN, [MAKING IT SIX STRAIGHT FROM ALTUS—OFF ON TRIP

The Irish Lads made it six straight from the Altus team yesterday afternoon, winning by a score of 4 to 3, in ten innings. The game was the most interesting of the series and the Lads had to work hard to win. Meyers pitched for the locals, and while he allowed more hits than Baxter, his opponent, good generalship made up for it. Capt. Robens using his head to good advantage.

The Lads left last night for Childress, where they play today, tomorrow and Thursday, returning for a three-game series with the same team here on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

CELEBRATION OF JULY 4TH PLANNED

OLD-FASHIONED OBSERVANCE OF OCCASION CONTEMPLATED BY CITIZENS.

TO BE HELD AT LAKE PARK

Barbecue and Speeches by Candidates Planned as Attractions for the Day.

Plans are under way for an old-fashioned celebration of July Fourth at Lake Wichita and it is probable that Wichitans will have an opportunity to observe this occasion in a manner befitting the date. The matter is being agitated and it is likely that the Chamber of Commerce will take action on it.

It is proposed to have a basket picnic and barbecue in the grove near the lake, and to have speeches by the various candidates for office. Nearly all the county and district candidates have opposition and it is probable that they would be glad of an opportunity to be heard by the voters. In addition, the other amusements at the lake would be open to visitors and the occasion, as planned, would be quite an enjoyable affair.

It has been several years since July Fourth was observed here with a formal celebration of any kind and the suggestion for an old-fashioned observance this year is meeting with favor. If the celebration is decided upon, it is likely that some of the candidates for state office will be invited here, in addition to the county and district candidates.

SHOOTING AT HOUSTON.

Woman Attacks Man Whom She Says Slandered Her

Houston, Tex., June 21.—Mrs. Geo. Beach, wife of a local photographer, was arrested downtown here this morning on a charge of assault to murder. The arrest occurred after Mrs. Beach had fired four shots from a revolver at Charles Bader, formerly employed by Beach.

Bader escaped injury by hiding in a closet in the rear of the book store when Mrs. Beach entered and opened fire. Bader says he thinks the woman attacked him because he killed a dog at the Beach home. He says Beach ordered him to kill two dogs and he killed one. Mrs. Beach ordered him off the place. He went.

Mrs. Beach says Bader slandered her after leaving. She says she had appealed to her husband, and because her husband was lax in his duty, she took the matter into her own hands with the intention of avenging her damaged reputation.

Ohio Democrats Will Boon Him for President Today.

By Associated Press.
Dayton, O., June 21.—The presidential endorsement for Governor Harmon will be part of the platform laid before the state democratic convention which opened here today. It is a foregone conclusion that Harmon will be nominated for governor and that Pomeroy will be named for lieutenant governor, although a fight is expected.

STAYS IN WASHINGTON.

Taft Will Be Unable to See His Son Graduate.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., June 21.—Owing to a message from the senate today that a filibuster was proposed there by some insurgents against the postal savings bank bill, President Taft decided to abandon his projected visit to New Haven, where he had expected to see his son graduate from Yale tomorrow.

USE APPROPRIATION FOR BUILDING NOW

NEW POSTOFFICE TO BE STARTED AS SOON AS FORMALITIES ARE COMPLETED.

$75,000 NOW AVAILABLE

Is Fifty Thousand Less Than Desired But Sentiment Favors Starting It Now.

The securing of the additional appropriation for the Wichita Falls post-office, making a total of $75,000 now available for the building here, will probably result in the starting of work on the new building at the earliest possible date. While it had been hoped to secure a total of $125,000 for the building here, the city will have to be satisfied with less than that amount.

The matter will be brought up at the next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors and it is expected that that body will favor the construction of the new building without waiting for a larger appropriation. It would probably be at least two years before any more money could be secured and in the meantime the postoffice would be in its present cramped quarters.

While $75,000 will not put up a building that will be any too large for local uses, it will be a starter and additions can be made as the business justifies. The erection of a new post-office is attended by much unwinding of red tape and it will be the first of next year, at the very earliest, before work is started on the structure.

The site of the postoffice was selected some time ago, it being at the southwest corner of 8th street and Ohio avenue, directly across the street from the city hall.

CRISIS IS NEAR.

Administration Forces Prepare For Fight This Week.

Washington, D. C., June 21.—The Texas News Service correspondent, was this morning informed at the White House that President Taft had cancelled his engagement to attend the Yale commencement exercises at New Haven, Conn., tomorrow, where his son Robert Taft, will graduate. The reason assigned for the failure of the president to go is the stress of official business. This is taken to mean that he feels that the crucial moment is arriving in connection with the postal savings bank bill. A fight has developed on the measure in the senate. Because of this, it is now doubtful whether congress will adjourn Saturday as had practically been agreed. For another thing, Senator Bailey has announced his unalterable opposition to the bill by Senator Warren of Wyoming, providing for an increase in the army engineering corps, to sixty men, because the senate refused recognition of Texas' rights in the Beaumont-Orange waterway matter. A conference at the White House at which the administration leaders will be taken to task and at which the recalcitrant ones will be implored to use every effort for the administration program, is likely tonight.

MAY CONDEMN BUILDINGS AS RESULT OF INVESTI- GATION BY THE CITY

As a result of investigations recently made by Vic Stampff, fire marshal, acting under instructions by the city council, it is probable that one or more business structures will be condemned as dangerous. The investigation of the marshal is said to have revealed grave defects in construction that render the buildings dangerous both to inmates and to neighboring structures. One of the buildings examined is of rather recent construction.

The young woman is charged with having forged checks for various amounts to a total of about seven hundred dollars, the victims being parties in Roswell. She left that city and was known to have come in this direction. Her movements were traced and when a description and photograph of her was sent to the officers here, she was recognized and her arrest followed shortly. She was found at a rooming house on Indiana Avenue and was lodged in the city jail, pending the arrival of the officer from Roswell. She was understood to have had a mail accomplice who is also being sought. The woman is quite pretty and seemed out of place among her surroundings at the jail. She does not deny her identity.

EGYPT REPLIES TO TEDDY

Here is Statement of Case from the Other Side

"Egypt's Reply to Colonel Roosevelt" is the title of a stirring article in the June number of the North American Review, by His Excellency Sheikh Ali Youssuf, president of the Constitutional Reform League. It is a clear statement of what the Egyptians hoped from such a representative of the American people and the keenness of their disappointment in what was said to them. In part he says:

"Thus Colonel Roosevelt left Egypt, and when he departed from Alexandria and boarded the steamer 'Prince Heinrich' on March 30, 1910, he saw the following mournful spectacle: On one side stood some young Mohammedans and on the other side some young Copts. (The Mohammedans being in Egypt 92 per cent of the Egyptians and the Copts are 6 per cent, the remainder being other denominations and foreigners.) The Mohammedans were shouting: 'Long live Roosevelt!' This was the last thing seen by him in Egypt and the last result of his visit. He came to Egypt with its people preparing to receive him in honor and left the country with the natives divided into two parties in regard to him, and the result would have been unhappy had not the wise men of both sections worked hard to destroy the bad effect which remained after this visit. Had Mr. Roosevelt been an ordinary man, or had his importance been due only to his intelligence, we would have said, that he may be right or may be wrong and nothing more. But he is the ex-president of the United States of America and may be again its president, and Americans must share a great part of the responsibility which results from what he says of his mistake. It is not to the interest of Americans that this insult should remain the only impression left in Egypt by the visit of one of their leading men."

How Are You Fixed For Racks?

Stacking time will soon be upon you, so we thought we'd just call your attention to the question of racks. We realize how prone most men are to put off attending to these things until the last moment; then it's too late. The old things are patched up in hopes that they will do for a while. The result is no end of time and trouble wasted tinkering to keep them together. Better look up the rack question and get into shape before you actually need them. We have a good stock of clear, dry materials—just the thing for racks.

JAILBIRD AS AN EXPERT

Compares Prisons Here and Abroad to America's Distinct Advantage

An undesirable citizen of Chicago, Frank Mathusek by name, alias Milwaukee Dutch, has had intimate experience of prison life in Europe and in America. At the threshold of a Missouri penitentiary he recently submitted to an interview in which he compared the jails here and abroad, to the distinct advantage of our American penal institutions. He complains that in Berlin he was imprisoned for five years for "easing a guy" of 20,000 marks, and for three years he was compelled to wear a black mask. The entire menu, morning, noon and night, consisted of soup. He had four pounds of meat in the five years. Once the prisoner had the temerity to ask for bread with his soup. He got the bread. But it was served with water in a dark cell, and for five days he was given nothing else. This was to punish Milwaukee Dutch for his audacious request. When he asked for reading matter he was still more severely penalized—ten days on bread and water was the answer.

In London it was not so bad. The creature comforts, in quality and in quantity, were no more desirable or numerous. The bedding consisted of a solitary, though well populated, blanket, and the diet was black bread and gruel. But the English authorities, in an important respect, were more discriminating than the American. They gave the culprit only nine months for a job that in America would have landed him, he says, for fifteen years.

Prison life, with all its compensations, appears to pall upon the cosmopolitan Mr. Mathusek. He announces his intention of turning over a new leaf. "As soon as I get through with my Jefferson City engagement," he says, "I will settle down and be a farmer, or something like that." His virtuous resolution is to be applauded. Prison was never intended to be such a comfortable place that a man would rather stay there than be at liberty.

A prisoner is a human being, made in the image of his Maker, and he is entitled to humane treatment. But he has no right to complain if he does not find his narrow cell equipped with all the comforts of his home. After a varied criminal career in both hemispheres it may be a monotonous task to milk cows and plant potatoes, but Milwaukee Dutch will find himself much happier on his farm than he was when he knew that the next hour might find him securely handcuffed and en route to the somber austerities of the county jail.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

POLITICAL PARAGRAPHS

Two prominent men of Cameron according to press dispatches, have drawn their checks for ten thousand dollars each, betting on the strength of Colquitt and Davidson. If we were a betting man, which we are not, and had to take either side of that bet we would put our money on Colquitt, but if we wanted to put in on a real winner we would back up Cone Johnson as the first man. We have it figured out that Davidson will run third and Poindexter fourth man in the race. Just keep this prediction by you until the primaries.—Palestine Herald.

It has been asked why men who labor should vote for Cone Johnson. Representatives of organized labor have stated in the public prints that Mr. Johnson has answered satisfactorily all the inquiries made to him with reference to his position on questions of interest to men who labor. If Cone Johnson is satisfactory to men who investigate such matters he should be to those who do not.—Rusk County News.

R. V. Davidson, the next governor of Texas, spoke at three points in Denton county—Pilot Point, Denton and Sanger—last Friday and Saturday. For weeks the Herald has been telling its readers about the final drift of state politics. At first everybody laughed, later a few began to see and now a number are getting their eyes open. Both Colquitt and Cone Johnson are losing ground every day and gradually the race is narrowing down to Poindexter and Davidson just as we foresaw and predicted. We would it were otherwise, but one had just as well concede the inevitable first as last. Davidson has gained thousands of votes in North Texas in the past ten days.—Aubrey Herald.

It is possible for a man to change from an anti to a pro, but who ever heard of a genuine, blue-blooded pro changing to an anti? We can overlook some of Johnson's flip-flops, but when Colquitt quit the pros to join the anti's it points out clearly that he only wants the office. Well, Colquitt wants are slated for another shake-up about July 23.—Waelder News.

The Facts of the Bloody Fourth.

The spirit of 1776 was the spirit to liberate and not to kill. It was the day intended to be celebrated because of the birth of a highly nation whose influence would bless the whole world. But out of all the good there came some bad. It is the manner in which so many people have chosen to celebrate on this eventful day. The kind of celebrations which we have been tolerating has maimed, blinded and killed the boys and girls of this liberty-loving nation by the thousands. It is time that we call a halt. Let us review the wreck and the ruin that has resulted from the use of the deadly explosives on the Fourth of July. Let the cold figures speak and let their message be heeded. The following table of fatalities was tabulated by a humane journal:

Year.	Dead.	Wounded.	Total.	Tetanus
1908	163	5,460	5,623	55
1907	164	4,249	4,413	62
1906	158	5,308	5,466	75
1905	182	4,994	5,176	81
1904	183	3,986	4,169	91
1903	466	3,393	4,449	406
	1,316	27,980	29,296	776

On the celebration of the Fourth last year 215 boys and girls were killed. Between 5,000 and 6,000 were injured, and more than 34,000 persons were killed, blinded and maimed during the last seven celebrations of this birthday of our nation. This makes an average of nearly 5,000 annually. Five thousand people are sufficient to make a very creditable little city. Can we afford for the sake of the deadly explosive to blot out a whole city of 5,000 inhabitants each Fourth of July? It should be clear to every one that there should be a change and that before the next Fourth comes. Let us begin to prepare a new program for this glorious Fourth. Let us make it indeed a glorious Fourth, not for a part of the people, but for all the people. Let the Optimist make the following suggestions:

First: No doubt there are already on hand in the stores great stocks of firearms brought over from last year. The merchants should not have to lose all they have put into these, because of the custom and demand in past years for explosives on the Fourth. Then let the merchants who have in stock the firearms bunch them and place a reasonable price on them and let those interested in the safety of the children of this republic chip in and purchase all these explosives and let them be destroyed. Who will start the subscription to buy up all the firearms in the stores?

Second: Let the merchants absolutely refuse to order any more firearms. The safety of the children demanding it.

Third: Let the people refuse to buy explosives to be placed in the hands of their children to maim, blind and kill. Then begin now to plan for a safe and sane method of commemorating the birthday of the greatest nation beneath God's stars.—Star-Telegram.

varying views at that time, or what they stood for politically then; it is what they stand for now that the voter should consider and be guided by in his choice. Mr. Johnson also made the point that an anti-prohibitionist should not be permitted to assist in the selection of prohibition candidates, and he added: "I don't think he has any part in our councils because he is not on our side."

This was said in Mr. Bailey's home town, and was warmly applauded by Mr. Bailey's neighbors and friends, who have always stood by him with unwavering loyalty. If the issue in the campaign is to be prohibition against anti-prohibition, that must be the line-up, and every fellow must shine on his own side. But if the issue of prohibition is to be brought directly to a decision of the voters in an expression by ballot for or against submission, why should that issue affect the personality of the candidate? Why should prohibition cut any figure at all in the choice of the candidate if the matter is to be settled by the qualified voters in the primaries and the result is to be equally binding on the nominee, whether pro or anti?—San Antonio Express.

The Times begs to call attention to the fact that no steps have been taken toward the observance of July Fourth in this city. It has been several years since this occasion was celebrated with any degree of elaborateness in Wichita Falls and The Times would like to see one of those old-fashioned observances, with barbecued beef and political oratory for refreshments. There are a number of candidates for offices who would doubtless like to tell 'em about it and Wichita people would like something else to do on that day besides stay in town and sweat.

The interest in the race for lieutenant governor in Wichita county is second only to that of the governor's race. From the way things now look the contest will be between Thomas and A. B. Davidson. The friends of both candidates are getting busy, and while it is not known that Lieutenant Governor Davidson will speak here at all, the friends of Senator Thomas will make an effort to have him return here and make another speech. If it could be arranged, a joint debate between Davidson and Thomas would be a very interesting affair.

The favors you get for nothing are often worth that much.

The Tremendous Powers of the Contributors to Republican Campaign Fund

Secretary Shaw and Congressman Vreeland, chairman of the house committee on banking and currency, indulged in a joint debate over the central bank before the New York City Republican Club at their luncheon Saturday.

It is not so important what they said concerning a central bank although they presented vigorous arguments pro and con, as it is that Secretary Shaw again took occasion to point out the tremendous power of Senator Aldrich, and to remark on its "affiliations." Secretary Shaw will not be believed in Iowa to be an alarmist over the threat of trusts, nor will it be easily credited that he has suddenly taken up the gage against Wall street. What he says is not from the standpoint of insurgency.

After making several references to the great, wise and astute man who bestrides the senate, Secretary Shaw said:

"We now have a commission headed by this great man, and we are told that he wants a central bank. His report is not yet out, but we have no doubt as to what it will be, nor need any one, if he will consider who is the chairman of the senate committee on finance and what are its affiliations."

Now what did Secretary Shaw mean when he said no one need be in doubt if he would consider that the man in charge is Senator Aldrich, and then look at his "affiliations?" The answer is easily got at for he gives it himself. The steel trust and oil trust want a central bank, and Senator Aldrich is their spokesman. Here are a few scattered sentences:

"Do you know any important city in the United States where the Standard Oil Company does not own one or more banks, or where the interests that control the United States steel corporation do not own likewise?"

"I believe that they could afford to pay the debt of the United States at the price of the charter."

"What did they pay the other day for the Equitable Life? What was the worth of the $60,000,000 or so of assets which they got through the control of $100,000 stock with a dividend limited to 7 per cent? Was it $9,000,000—I forget the exact amount."

"Now I am going to assume for the time being that it is a slander—although some people believe it—that the United States steel interests swiped the Tennessee Coal and Iron company. I will assume that they did not, but if they had a central bank they certainly could."

"Morse said the other day and rightly that the affiliated banks of New York could declare that any security whatever was not good as collateral. That was no more than the truth."

And finally: "These interests can fix the price of every product we have. If you are in New Orleans and want to borrow they can say whether cotton shall be seven cents or whether it shall go to ten or fifteen cents, according as they are on the bear or bull side of the market."

It is not so important whether this connection between the Standard Oil and steel trusts and the proposed central bank can be established as definitely as Secretary Shaw assumes; there are many able men who will dispute with him as to that. But it is important that the secretary expresses his own belief as to the connection between "the leader of the senate" and the great trusts, and it is important that it is Secretary Shaw who tells us what these trusts are in position to do and have already done.

ONE JOHNSON AT GAINESVILLE

In his speech at Gainesville Cone Johnson made a plea for elimination of extraneous issues from the campaign for governor, and with respect to a past difference that separated voters now engaged in a common cause he simply advised, "Forget it."

Referring to what he regards as a most remarkable joint discussion in the prohibition campaign of 1887 between Joe Bailey and himself, Mr. Johnson said it had a most unusual effect in that "Bailey made a prohibitionist of me and I seem to have made an anti-prohibitionist of Joe."

That was twenty-three years ago, when Cone Johnson, now a candidate for governor, and Joe Bailey, now a United States senator, were both rising young men. It matters not now, Mr. Johnson thinks, what were their varying views at that time, or what they stood for politically then; it is what they stand for now that the voter should consider and be guided by in his choice. Mr. Johnson also made the point that an anti-prohibitionist should not be permitted to assist in the selection of prohibition candidates, and he added: "I don't think he has any part in our councils because he is not on our side."

This was said in Mr. Bailey's home town, and was warmly applauded by Mr. Bailey's neighbors and friends, who have always stood by him with unwavering loyalty. COURT IS UP TO ALDERMEN

Appropriation for Model Structure Costing $150,000 Awaiting Approval. The matter of providing means for a new court house in which the wrongs of New York's juvenile population may be redressed is now up to the board of aldermen. The committee on the corporate stock budget has put itself on record as favoring the expenditure of $150,000 for a new building.

In its report, just made to the board of estimate, it releases the authorization of the old board, which passed a resolution that the money be appropriated. The lack of adequate facilities in the present children's court and the shameful overcrowding had already been described in the World.

A new building is virtually assured now. The money is available, contracts for the work may be signed at any time and work should be begun very soon. That the board of aldermen will approve the report nobody doubts.

Plans for a new building have already been drawn. What that building should be like the last annual report of the court of special sessions tells, as follows:

"It will be possible to incorporate in the new building certain features for which there has long been urgent need. In addition to a bright, cheerful and commodious courtroom it will be possible to have suitable detention rooms where the children can be comfortably kept pending the calling of their cases.

"It will be possible also to have a better separation of the younger from the older children and those charged with actual offenses from those in custody merely because of improper guardianship. A nursery, too, will be provided for the very small children of this latter class. Suitable waiting rooms can be had for parents who are in necessary attendance, many of whom are obliged to bring infants with them.

There will also be afforded adequate accommodations for the various religious and charitable organizations whose representatives are in court each day to aid in following up the cases before and after final disposition and whose work is of inestimable value in the saving of these children to future good citizenship.

"Other features will be available, all of which it is believed will make this building a model in physical equipment for other children's courts throughout the world in the same manner that this court has been a model in past years in its methods of procedure."—New York World.

Fascination of the Japanese Dwarf Trees

The people wending their eager way to the new exhibition at Shepherd's Bush and those who, thinking they have exhausted its delights, wander with weary feet contentedly homeward down the long corridor, are always arrested, fascinated, and held by the curious charm of the dwarf trees, for the production of which the gardeners of Japan are so famed.

It is a strange, indefinable thing, this fascination of the gnarled and twisted little trees, beneath whose tiny branches such deep shadows lie hidden. Like the long-bearded dwarfs of German mediaeval fairy legend, they impress one strangely with their age.

One knows instinctively that they have never been young, they have never felt the joy of exuberant growth, the waiving, the wafting riot of wind and sunshine, the pelt of clean rain against the tall stem. Carefully sheltered and carefully pruned, they have lived sedately and look wise; they are forty, sixty, a hundred years old, but they have never been young.

Yet as one gazes at the two-foot veterans in their gray-green bowls, so alike yet so strangely reminiscent of the great cedar trees, their brothers, one seems to shrink like Alice in Wonderland till the mossy earth in the pot becomes a stretch of woodland and the little dark tree a giant of the forest, enduring eternally, changelessly untouched by storm or shrine, the embodiment of the eternal spirit of the cedar.

"I should like to have one," says a voice at my elbow. "I must have one," it repeated in firmer tones, and the owner moves toward the smiling Japanese who presides over the destinies of the little trees.—A. M. D. in Daily Mail.

GOLD DUST AND SAWDUST

Rulers of the Ring Have Found it Profitable

It remains only to tell briefly just how the circus kings have fared with fortune. The richest of all showmen was P. T. Barnum, whose estate was worth more than $3,000,000. He had good investments in real estate in Bridgeport and in New York in addition to his circus interests. The right to use his name in connection with "The Greatest Show on Earth" alone was worth a small fortune. His partner, James A. Bailey, left more than a million dollars; likewise, James L. Hutchinson, who completed the famous trio, whose names have flashed from billboards the world over. Adam Forepaugh died very rich. W. W. Cole, who was a great circus man in his day, and who is now a resident of New York, is a millionaire. The Sells Brothers (Louis, Al, Peter and Ephraim) built up a fortune of several millions and left their families with big estates. These successes are in contrast with the poverty-stricken end of some of the circus leaders of other days, notably Dan Costello and Yankee Robinson.

But the wonder chapter in modern circus annals is the record of the Ringlings. Thirty years ago these five brothers (Al, Charles, John, Otto and Alfred T.) were "trouping" with a few horses, a few dens of animals and providing the music themselves. Today they own the three greatest circuses, the one which bears their name, the Barnum & Bailey show and the Sells-Forepaugh circus, and dominate the business. These three circuses represent a total investment of approximately $8,000,000. They have brought the commercial and artistic organization of the circus up to its highest and cleanest efficiency. And, incidentally, they have proved that a goodly quantity of gold dust can cling to the sawdust.—The Bookman.

ADVICE FROM FRIENDS (LOT OF THIS IN CAMP)

FARMER BURNS RUBBING JEFF'S ARM

BOXING WITH ARMSTRONG

JEFF IN HAPPY MOOD

(Ben Lomond, June 21.—Pugilistic experts who recently arrived at Jeffries' training camp have been surprised by the big fellow's grand condition. In fact, many of them have declared their opinion that if no accident or sudden illness befalls him he will enter the ring July 4 for his championship battle with Jack Johnson in perfect physical condition. A majority of the experts at the camp are of the opinion that he is practically in fighting condition now and needs only to watch with extreme care that he does not overtrain himself before the day of the battle. When the question as to how he felt was put to him Jeffries said: "I feel as strong as a bull. I just want to tear things. I can feel myself rounding into the same old condition that used to come to me in the old days." From now on boxing will play an important part of the daily training program. Jim Corbett will spar with Jeff several times a week in order to put an edge on the big fellow's speed. Although most of Jeffries' boxing has been indoors, from now on, weather permitting, the sparring will be in the open air ring which was recently erected.)

 The story that many thousand car loads of potatoes were left to rot during 1909, because the price at the points of excess supply was about ten cents per bushel, taken in conjunction with the fact that in the same year some 5,000,000 bushels of potatoes were imported, on which a heavy duty was imposed, points to something radically wrong in the method of distribution of this important food supply, at a time, too, when the cost of living was receiving serious discussion. The fact that the potato crop of 1909 was abnormally large does not excuse this tremendous waste—a piece of business folly and an economic crime. The potato crop of 1909 was from 67,000,000 to 70,000,000 in excess of the normal—the total production for that year was, according to the Federal Agricultural Department's figuring, near to 370,000,000 bushels. That the entire crop should have been (and could have been, if properly handled) marketed at some profit to the producers and to the great relief of consumers all over the country, is an apparent fact. That this was not done indicates blundering in the specific instance and a considerable failure of the country's economic machinery to work as it should in practical matters. In this connection the Financier sees a "crying need for men skilled in the solution of economic problems." That paper points out that "the Agricultural Department at Washington knew early last fall that there was an excess crop of potatoes; the railroads knew it, or if they did not, they should have known it, and yet during all the winter and this spring no effort seems to have been made either by the government or by the railroads, which would have profited on account of extra freights, to open new channels for the distribution of this food supply." In this case, as in most matters statistical and academic concern regarding economic problems as they are officially treated, the rights or desires of the consumer had no influence. It would be well for this country if the consumer's interest were to become the guiding inspiration in handling such problems of production and distribution of commodities which are for his use. The idea that the consumer exists by the sufferance of the producer or distributor is fallacious, but common. It is uphill work to reverse the point of view, and compel recognition of the fact that production and distribution are alike dependent upon the support of the consumer. When that point of view becomes established, and is acted upon, there will be fewer instances such as this illuminating case of potato waste in the West.—Boston Advertiser.

Knights Templars at Buffalo

Buffalo, N. Y., June 21.—Knights Templars from all parts of New York are in possession of the city and the downtown section is a sea of bunting and Masonic emblems. The six knights are here for the annual convocation of the grand commander which opened this morning with a big parade. In addition to the delegations from all over the state visitors are here from Erie, Cleveland, Detroit, Toronto, Hamilton and other points.

Labor Convention in Fargo

Fargo, N. D., June 21.—Representatives of the various trades unions throughout Minnesota and the Dakotas, and in large numbers, were assembled in this city today, when the state branch of the American Federation of Labor opened its twenty-seventh annual convention. The convention will continue its sessions until all of its business is concluded, which will probably be late in the week.

Kansas Golf Tournament

Hutchinson, Kan., June 21.—The biggest event of the year in Kansas golf circles opened auspiciously today on the links of the Hutchinson Country Club. It is the third annual championship tournament of the Kansas State Golfers' Association and it has attracted many of the best players of this and neighboring states. Play will continue until the end of the week.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The Socialists of New Hampshire have nominated Asa Warren Drew for governor.

Governor Donaghey of Arkansas will oppose Senator Jeff Davis for reelection.

Mrs. L. R. Gammage of Palestine, Tex., is a candidate for county treasurer.

It is reported in Washington that Senator Tillman of South Carolina intends to retire from public life at the end of his present term in the senate.

Former Governor Frank Brown of Maryland has formally announced that he would be a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination next year.

A recent decision of the Oklahoma Supreme Court renders it certain that the woman suffrage question will be voted on at the regular election in that state next fall.

Democrats of Wisconsin have decided to hold their state convention in Milwaukee on July 12 to adopt a platform and make other arrangements for the coming campaign.

William Brice Cumberland, a druggist of St. Louis, has entered the race for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator from Missouri to succeed Senator Warner.

Civic bodies in Pittsburg, Scranton and other Pennsylvania cities will endeavor to make the adoption of the commission form of municipal government an issue in the state campaign this year.

The Socialists of Nebraska are planning this year to nominate a full state ticket, candidates for United States senator and congressmen and candidates for the state legislature in a majority of the districts.

Everett J. Lake, the old Harvard football player, and Charles A. Goodwin, a prominent Yale graduate, are running a hard race for the Republican nomination for governor of Connecticut this year.

Senators Clapp of Minnesota, Dooliver and Cummins of Iowa, LaFollette of Wisconsin, Borah of Idaho and Bristow of Kansas have promised to speak in the state of Washington this fall in support of Representative Miles Pindexter, the progressive Republican candidate for United States senator.

In connection with the boom of Collector Loeb for governor of New York it is recalled that the only collector of the port of New York nominated for governor in the last twenty-five years was Representative J. Sloat Fassett, who was nominated in 1891 and defeated by Roswell P. Flower.

Leading Republicans of northern Alabama are advocating the nomination of Amos Goodhue, a prominent lawyer of Gadsden, as the Republican candidate for governor of Alabama, to oppose the Democratic nominee, Colonel Emmet O'Neal, of Florence. Mr. Goodhue is one of the foremost prohibitionists in the state.

If New Mexico and Arizona are united into one state the new state will be very close politically. The New Mexico legislature is Republican by twenty-two, while the Arizona legislature is Democratic by eighteen. The swing of the Socialist vote, it is stated, might decide the election of two United States Senators from the new state. The strength of the Socialist party is rapidly increasing in Arizona and New Mexico as well as in Nevada and other states of that section of the country.

Notice

I have leased my blacksmith and repair shop, located on the corner of Ohio and 6th street, to Messrs. Rudolph Mulks and Wm. West, whom I can cheerfully recommend as first-class workmen and upright citizens, and those of my former patrons who will continue to give them their patronage, will not only receive first-class work and fair treatment, but by doing so will confer a favor on me which will be appreciated.

I also wish to thank my friends and the public generally for the splendid patronage they have favored me with during the past eighteen years, for which I am very grateful.

S. E. Dempsey, one of the oil producers from Petrolia, was in the city today en route to Dallas to purchase

Dear Jasper:-

I have met that fussy pill plant on Eighth street, and say, the information is mine, that dump makes them all look an old maid at a mother's congress or a bunch of amateurs begging for car fare after the game, and in the matter of foam building and that soda water joke they have the others nine miles down the speedway with a bursted tire and a dead engine and in perfume and feature medicine they joy ride while the others count the ties.

Take it from me, lad, I am for the fussy one strong enough to pull a dray.

I beg to still be yours until Bugville ruins Chicago as a commercial center.

To the Voters of Precinct No. 1

It is reported that I have withdrawn from the race for commissioner. I wish to say that I am in the race to a finish. I did not come out in favor of any one, and shall not withdraw in favor of any one, and if the people elect me I will serve them to the best of my ability without prejudice or partiality. I see from the Times that the candidates for precinct offices were not published, I presume for a purpose.

I wish to say if I am defeated will be just as grateful to those that supported me as if I had had the majority. I had the proposition put to me "what will you give me to get out of your way?" I do not want to buy or sell out. But if the voters elect me I will strive to meet their requirements. Respectfully,

G. W. FILGO.

(Editor's Note.—In regard to the names of the precinct officers being left off, the Times will say that it was through no fault of the County Executive Committee, but on account of the fact that the committee did not meet until 2 o'clock and by the time it finished its work, the Times was nearly ready to go to press, and was unable to get the entire proceedings in that issue. That part of the proceedings which were left out of the Times yesterday for the reason above stated, will be found in today's paper, and on tomorrow morning those who do not read the Times will doubtless be able to get the information from other sources.)

Don't criticize your doctor because a medicine prescribed by him fails to have the desired effect. Unless the drugs are of perfect quality, fresh, potent, and pure the medicine is not going to produce the results expected.
