ENDORSES TAFT ON RAILROAD BILL

ROOSEVELT SPEAKS AND IS ENTERTAINED BY HAMILTON CLUB IN NEW YORK

APPROVED STATEHOOD BILL

Expresses Regret Over State Capital Muddle in Oklahoma—Opposes Direct Primaries Now

New York, June 22.—With an address more like a personal chat than a political discussion, Theodore Roosevelt met the delegation of the Hamilton Club and was entertained here today. He expressed his pleasure at the attitude of the Taft administration on the railroad bill, compelling the railroads to secure the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission before raising rates. He declared he approved statehood for Arizona and New Mexico, and expressed regret over the state capital situation in Oklahoma. He opposed direct primaries under present conditions, but said it might be possible in the future. He said he was pursuing the policy of trying to be of assistance in solving the problems of social, economic and political life, and announced that he expected to confer with the commercial and political leaders from all sections of the country.

Washington, D. C., June 22.—From expressions made this morning to the Texas News Service correspondent by friends of Former President Roosevelt, it is believed he endorses Taft's legislation program so far as it has been made effective by congress. A representative of New York said that Roosevelt is not likely to take an active part in the campaigns this fall, but will probably deliver a number of speeches commending the administration without reserve, which includes the endorsement of the tariff act. One congressman said it was likely the Minnesota Republican State Convention's refusal to adopt a resolution endorsing Roosevelt yesterday will drive the former president into active work, in behalf of the party. Democrats declare Roosevelt's future public life depends on the manner of his present deportment towards the Taft regime.

START DRILLING OF OIL WELL TODAY

WORK IS BEGUN ON MARLOW AND STONE TRACT WEST OF THE CITY

RETURN TO HOMES TODAY TO GO DOWN 2000 FEET

Progress is Being Watched by Oil Men—Prospects Considered Good

The first step in what may lead to the development of a new oil and gas field almost within the city limits of Wichita Falls was begun this afternoon when drilling was started on an oil well in the Marlow and Stone tract about three-fourths of a mile west of Floral Heights. The drill bit into the earth for the first time early this afternoon and work will proceed until a depth of 2,000 feet is reached.

Messrs. J. B. Marlow and J. W. Stone are backing this enterprise, assisted by a number of other local gentlemen who believe that oil exists in the immediate vicinity of Wichita Falls and that steps should be taken to develop it.

Wichita Falls is between two proven fields, one at Petrolia and one at Electra and it has long been thought that this city was in the belt. Oil experts who have examined the "signs" near this city have stated that the outlook for striking oil is excellent and it was acting upon their advice that it was decided to put the well down. Wells have already been put down in this section at Charlie and other points, but not to a sufficient depth to determine whether there was any oil there or not. A number of Iowa Park parties are now putting down a well near that city.

The progress on the Marlow and Stone well will be closely watched, not only by the local parties interested, but by oil men in general who are keeping their eyes on the matter.

Mr. W. W. Little, who was operated on yesterday at the Wichita Falls Sanitarium for appendicitis, is reported no better today.

The heart of a coquette is like a street car, inasmuch as there is always room for one more.

IF IN LOVE, PROPOSE.

Waiting for Better Prospects Should Not Deter a Man.

A man may certainly propose to a girl, although he is not in a position to marry. He might lose the only girl he could ever really love did he refrain from "popping the question," and she might lose by his silence the only man who could make her a good husband.

But there are many men who consider it a point of honor not to formally blind a girl until their own positions are secured. This may sound all right, but it does not work out very satisfactorily for the girl at any rate.

To the man the proper "formality" consists in "speaking to papa," and presenting an engagement ring. After that he is looked upon as one of the family, and has exclusive right to the society of his beloved. If the two are mutually happy in each other this arrangement may prove quite successful. The man has an incentive to push ahead, and the girl has the benefit of his companionship, his career and the affection which exists only between lover's with the added advantage, too, of acquiring a true knowledge of her lover's character that will come in usefully, by and by.

If a man refrains from speaking until marriage comes within his means, he may cause the lady of his choice much unhappiness and distress of mind monopolizing her time and company, guarding her affectively from the attentions of any other man, by practically seizing the privilege of an engaged man without giving the girl the right to openly declare that she belongs to him.

The man may perhaps feel that he is acting fairly and honorably in not speaking definitely until his position is more fully assured, but if he wishes to continue to enjoy the delights of the girl's society, it is clearly his duty to give her the only position fair to her—that of his affianced wife.

Of course there are some people who think that a man who is not in a position to marry has no right to tie the girl down to an engagement and perhaps spoil her chances in securing a more eligible partner, but it is not what these people think, but what the girl herself thinks, which really counts.

It is the girl herself who should decide whether she will say "yea" or "nay," and the man who loves her—however remote his prospects for matrimony may be—should go to her and tell her frankly about his position, and then if she is willing to wait for him, well and good; if not, well, time softens the hardest plow.

But as a rule women prefer love to wealth, and there is perhaps no better test of true love than poverty; for when woman really and truly loves a man she does not take his poverty into consideration at all preferring rather to be mistress of a cottage with him to share it with her than reign as a society queen in a palatial mansion.—New York Weekly.

Yale's First Indian Graduate
New Haven, Conn., June 22.—In the class of nearly 300 graduates who received their diplomas today at the annual commencement exercises of Yale University the three who attracted most attention were Robert Alphonso Taft, son of the president; Cheng-S'ing Thomas Wang of Ningpo, China, and Henry Red Cloud of the Winnebago tribe of Indians. The last-named is the first American Indian ever to graduate from Yale.

The formal exercises of commencement day began at 10 o'clock this morning. In accordance with custom, they included the singing of the first four verses of the Sixty-fifth Psalm, which was sung in 1718 on the occasion of the opening of the first college erected in New Haven.

The dinner of the alumni in the university dining hall followed the commencement exercises. At the conclusion of the dinner there was an elaborate program of toasts and responses, including a greeting from President Taft.

Elliot-Post Wedding in London

London, June 22.—The third and last of the series of notable Anglo-American weddings solemnized in London this month took place today at St. George's Church, Hanover Square, when Miss Helen Agnes Post became the bride of Montague Charles Elliot.

The church was filled, the guests including Ambassador and Mrs. White-embassy and most of the Americans, embassy, an almost of the Americans, prominent in London society, besides many friends of the groom's family.

Lord Barrymore, step-father of Miss Post, gave away the bride, who was attended by two pages and several bridesmaids. The latter included Miss Dorothy-Smith Barry, the bride's half-sister, Miss Claire Frewen and the young daughter of Sir Bache and Lady Cunard.

The bride's gown was of rich white satin, draped with priceless old lace, with a wreath of orange blossoms holding in place the Brussels lace veil. Her only jewel was a pendant given by the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Adair in Curson street, an aunt of the bride. Over a thousand invitations were accepted and the handsome house, which was beautifully decorated with flowers, was crowded with guests. The presents were numerous and costly, including diamond tiaras and necklaces and other jewels.

The marriage of Miss Post and Mr. Elliot is entirely a love match, and neither the bride nor bridegroom has a superabundance of this world's goods. The bride comes of American stock, though she has passed the most of her years in London. Her mother was the daughter of Gen. James Wadsworth of Genesee, N. Y., who fell in the battle of the Wilderness. In early life she married Arthur Post. After his death she became the wife of Lord Barrymore.

The bride has been a favorite in high society since her coming out in 1908. Two of her intimate friends are the Crown Princess of Sweden, who is the elder daughter of the Duke of Connaught, and the Crown Princess of Roumania, who is a cousin of King George.

Montague Elliot, the bridegroom, was in the personal entourage of King Edward as groom-in-waiting and it is said that he is to be retained in a similar capacity by King George. His father was the late Lieut. Col. Charles Elliot and his grandfather the third Earl of St. Germans. The Countess of Bessborough and Lady Layard are his aunts.

How Are You Fixed For Racks?

Stacking time will soon be upon you, so we thought we'd just call your attention to the question of racks. We realize how prone most men are to put off attending to these things until the last moment; then it's too late. The old things are patched up in hopes that they will do for a while. The result is no end of time and trouble wasted tinkering to keep them together. Better look up the rack question and get into shape before you actually need them. We have a good stock of clear, dry materials—just the thing for racks.

Pennsylvania Republicans

Harrisburg, Pa., June 22.—With United States Senator Boies Penrose in absolute control of the situation, the Republican State Convention assembled here today and was called to order shortly before noon in the majestic theater. In addition to adopting a platform the convention will name candidates for governor and the other state officers to be voted for at the November election.

It is conceded that a Western Pennsylvania man will be chosen to head the ticket and the indications are that the choice is most likely to fall upon William A. Blakely, district attorney of Pittsburg. Blakely has sprung into sudden political prominence through his war on the Pittsburg grafters. Until recently he was not considered by the recent primaries in Dalsell's district the party leaders came to realize the grave peril of a Republican defeat in Pennsylvania this fall and at the same time are said to have reached the conclusion that Blakely, who is known as a reform man, would be the best man to choose as the standard-bearer to the coming campaign.

Others whose names have been mentioned more or less prominently in connection with the gubernatorial nomination are Lieutenant Governor Robert Murphy, Speaker John F. Cox, and Congressman John K. Tener.

Millers' National Federation

Minneapolis, Minn., June 22.—A convention with over 700 delegates from all parts of the United States and from several foreign countries, representing more invested capital, probably, than any other convention ever held in Minneapolis, is the annual meeting of the Millers' National Federation, which opened here today with headquarters at the West Hotel. The sessions will continue three days, during which time numerous questions of interest and importance to the milling fraternity will be discussed. At the close of the convention Saturday night a majority of the delegates will leave by special train for an excursion through Yellowstone Park.

BASEBALL NOTES

So far the Cubs have led on the Giants six games to one.

"Young King" Cole, the Cub pitcher, is still fooling the National League heavy hitters.

Charley French, the ex-Boston infielder, is making good in the outfield for the White Sox.

Zach Wheat, the Brooklyn outfielder, says that he is a Cherokee Indian brought up in Kansas.

Another pennant winner has blown up. Duluth is a bad last in the Minnesota-Wisconsin League race.

Catcher Lew McAllister, the last of the old guard in Buffalo, has been sold to the Toronto club.

Losing three out of four games to Detroit on the western trip slapped the muffer on the Highlanders.

A Pittsburg critic claims that Manager Clarke of the Pirates made a hickey when he allowed "Bud" Sharpe to go to Boston.

It is all Pennsylvania in the Ohio and Pennsylvania League. Erie and McKeesport are showing the way in the O. & P. race.

New Bedford is putting it over the other New England League teams at the present time and looks fit to keep on putting it over, too.

The Athletics are still on the job. It will take more than the loss of a game or two to put that bunch out of business.

The Cincinnati Club has signed Outfielder Burns of Woonsocket, R. I., the town where "Nap" Lajoie started his baseball career.

The Washington team now stands one hundred points better in the percentage table than it did in June '09, and the St. Louis team is 200 points to the bad.

Straw Vote by Ministers

Houston Chronicle.

Austin, Tex., June 18.—One hundred Methodist ministers at the annex of the Southwestern—University at Georgetown, Tex., in attendance upon the summer school of theology took a straw vote yesterday as to how they stood in the governor's race:

Cone Johnson ..... 86
Poindexter ..... 14
Colquitt ..... 0
Davidson ..... 0

I believe this is, about the way the moral sentiment of Texas stands in the governor's race at this time and will on the 23rd of July.

As you have shown a disposition to print the news and to be fair I send you this item. Respectfully,
JNO. W. ROBBINS.

Since the State Democratic Executive Committee has decided that the question of submission shall be voted on in the Democratic primaries on July 23, it has had the effect of working a great change in the race for governor, and now most papers that are not prejudiced in favor of this or that candidate, candidly admit that the winner of the nomination will be either Colquitt or Johnson—the radical anti will vote for the former, and the radical pro will rally around the standard of Johnson. That Colquitt has the inside track is admitted, from the fact that, to a certain extent, the Bailey question is cutting some figure in the contest, and the pros who cannot see their way clear to line up with the Tyler man, will cast their votes for Judge Poindexter, who, while strong in this particular part of the state, is not taking so well in other parts, and it is a race between Judge Poindexter and General Davidson as to which will have third place. There is also a rumor afloat to the effect that General Davidson views the situation in that light, and is thinking seriously of withdrawing from the contest. As these rumors emanate from sources not friendly to Davidson, it will not do to put too much faith in them. In his speeches, he speaks very hopeful and optimistic of the final result, but did in one speech say that if they kept after him he might conclude to throw up a sure thing for governor and run for attorney general. But this speech was made after it was too late to get his name on the ticket to be voted, and most people look upon the remark as a mere pleasantry. Even if he remains in the contest, it will not, in the opinion of most conservative papers, change the situation. In the event he withdraws, it might strengthen Colquitt and make his election more certain, and as Davidson is more friendly to Johnson than to Colquitt, it is not thought he will do this.

With the coming of Cone Johnson to this city on next Saturday all the candidates for governor will have delivered addresses to the people of Wichita Falls and Wichita county in the interest of their candidacy since this campaign opened except Mr. Davidson, and it is to be hoped he will come before the election. Wichita Falls extends a hearty welcome to them all, and her people want to hear discussed from all sides the questions paramount in this campaign. One of the four gentlemen is to be our next governor, and at this writing it is not certain which one it will be. Even if this were so, and it should be conceded that the chances for one of them are much better than the other, it is right that the others should be given a hearty welcome and a respectful hearing. Those who will accord this courtesy to Cone Johnson on next Saturday afternoon at the time he is billed to speak in this city will hear the political situation which is agitating the people of Texas in this campaign discussed on a high plane, as only men who measure up to the standard of statesmen can present them. As an orator, he has no superior in Texas, and as a gentleman he stands second to none who are now before the people of Texas.

There are a whole lot of good things about the Terrell election law, as well as bad, and one of the good things about it is that it does not permit the name of a Republican candidate to offer on a Democratic ticket for any office from governor down. The Times is glad the County Democratic Executive Committee have at last discovered that clause in that very long law, and acted on it accordingly. If there are Democrats who want to vote for Republicans for office, they can have that privilege at the general election in November, but they should not participate in Democratic primary election. Under this election law, even though a Republican should get a majority of the votes cast in a Democratic primary election, it is held that the county convention has no power to declare that candidate the nominee of the party.

The campaign expenses of the four candidates for governor of Texas four years ago amounted to something like $40,000, and the candidate whose expenses were the greatest secured the nomination and the office. In this connection it might be well to mention also that the candidate receiving the smallest number of votes paid the least campaign expense. This year there are again four candidates in the field for that office, and according to reports, one has been in such financial straits for the past few years that he had failed or refused to pay taxes on some property rendered in his name, while another has no property to speak of on which to pay taxes, the tax records showing that he has rendered only about $350 worth.

Governor Gillette has put a quietus on prize fighting contests in California. Charles A. Culberson performed that righteous act for the state of Texas, and Texas showed her appreciation by sending him to the United States senate. Perhaps Governor Gillette is of the same type of statesman as Culberson, and if so will be rewarded by his people.

A POLICE DAILY PAPER.

Germany's Smart Innovation Will Keep Officers Informed.
Berlin.—Though America considers that she is the country of systematization, Germany is a very good second and as far as police organization is concerned she is probably the first country in the world.

Every newcomer in a German city is notified to the police by the owner of the hotel or boardinghouse at which he or she stops within a few days of arrival, and has then to fill up innumerable forms stating the purpose of the visit, where from and many other questions which are not agreeable to English or Americans, but which are necessary to the police of the town in order that they may comply with headquarters regulations.

Now owing to the tremendous work involved in the scientific probing and investigation of every inhabitant or visitor of the fatherland, a daily paper is to be issued which will circulate among the police force. This paper, which is to be published in Berlin, will at first be confined to the capital and its immediate suburbs, but later the government publication will be extended throughout the empire, together with a full description of suspects, so that members of the force may everywhere be on the lookout to apprehend the persons guilty. In addition it will contain lists and character sketches of persons who, for one reason or another, have incurred the displeasure of the authorities and who may be undesirable.—Fall Mail Gazette.

INSANE ARE STUDYING ART.

Drawing School Established for the inmates of Ward's Island Hospital.

In a sunlit, lofty room, whose large windows permit wide vistas of green sward and foliage in one of the most beautiful parts of the city, there gathers every day a class in art. While there are young men among the dozen students there are also men over 40. For several hours they listen to the suggestions and criticisms of a well-known novelist and artist. They make cartoons and water color sketches, draw designs for sofa pillows and occasionally work in brass and metal. But when the day's work is over the students do not doff their aprons and put on queer cloaklike coats and broad brimmed hats and troop merrily down the stairs with cigarettes and pipes in their mouths. Instead, they scatter to other rooms which open in series, one behind the other. Then for the first time the visitor will notice that over the windows are steel netting and that the door is locked. For this is the new class in art in the Manhattan State Hospital for the Insane on Ward's Island.

The class is only two weeks old. It owes its origin to the novelist and artist who has been in the hospital for about a year, following a general collapse after a long period of hard work. One day he went to Dr. William Mabon, superintendent of the hospital. "Doctor," said he, "there is nothing for curing the mental darkness and enabling the mind to perceive as training the eye. I think a class in art would be part of a good system of cure."

Doctor Mabon thought so, too. The result was the new art school. No one in the ward of forty men, except the novelist, knew anything about drawing, but all wanted to learn. For the first lesson the ten who were selected for that day's training were told to copy something from a magazine. They were allowed to make sketches, which some of the others who showed a taste and appreciation of color values afterward worked over in water colors. Still others in the ward showed a bent toward decorative design.

By the end of ten days the pupils showed a strong competitive spirit. The inmates of Ward 45 take pride in adding to the beauty and comfort of their apartments. A little fish fountain is the work of a metal worker. At one end of the ward screens were set up on which were pinned the works of the class in art. It is quite an honor to have a picture on the screens.—New York American.

NEW WOMAN NOT MODERN.

Father Phelan Declares Medieval Sisters Most Advanced.

There is no new woman.
The Reverend Father D. S. Phelan is responsible for this discovery, in a sermon delivered recently at the tercentenary celebration of the founding of the Visitation Order at the convent in Cabanne. He stated that to find the most advanced woman he had to go back over 300 years ago to St. Jane de Chantal, founder of the Visitation Order.

Women even of the cloister, he said, were imbued with the demand for change and were trying to develop a new sort of saint.

"Women of this cloister," he declared, "were women of the world yesterday, and they come in here with all the ideas of the new woman. They have come in here perhaps to develop a new sort of saint. But they soon get disillusioned."

"They are made to pull down their honors and go back to the old French woman, who 300 years ago left the bosom of her family to give herself entirely to God. They too soon learn that the new woman is the old woman."

"The world is supremely interested in the ideal woman. The world loves change. Change is not necessarily improvement. There is no essential change in men and women today. They are the same selfish, fickle and thoughtless beings they always have been."

"The demand for change is not heard in the church. The perfect Christian man or woman is the ideal man or woman of every age and every class. Christ is the perfect man, and all Christian perfection must go back to the days when He walked in Galilee."

"The founder of the Visitation Order lived over 300 years ago. Why are there persons today—emulating her life to its minutest particular? They regard her as the ideal woman of today. She was a French woman of the ancient regime in life and education, the antithesis of the woman of this age."—St. Louis Star.

Women are like babies; they have to cry for nearly everything they want. Isn't it better to be a chicken-hearted bachelor than a hen-pecked husband?
Nearly every little man has a doc-

Some men enjoy a show only when there is 15 minutes' intermission between the acts.

that her husband doesn't know if all When jealousy flies out of the window it usually takes love along with it for no other reason than to keep from getting lonesome.

WESTON WANTED IN PANAMA.

The Veteran Pedestrian Will Be Asked to Walk Across the Isthmus. According to private advices received here from Panama, the recent march of Edward Payson Weston from the Pacific to the Atlantic has caused the ocean to ocean fever to spread all over the isthmus. The news of Weston's progress as he tramped from Los Angeles to New York City was watched with eagerness in the cities of Panama and Colon, as well as in the various settlements in the Canal Zone along the line of the Panama Railroad.

Walking in the tropics is not so easy as in the temperate zone, and it is said that plans have been considered to invite the veteran pedestrian to walk across the isthmus from the Atlantic to the Pacific and back again, a total distance of ninety-six miles. It is contended that if the teams of the isthmus league can play lively baseball games on the isthmus, it will be no great hardship for Mr. Weston to give an exhibition of walking that will make the young athletes who have tried it look like the proverbial three dimos. Many men have tried the walk and have given it up after the first sixteen or twenty miles.

The fastest time for the walk from Panama to Colon, a distance of forty-eight miles, was made on May 8 by Edward Silvey of Colon, who covered the ground in ten hours and nineteen minutes, defeating J. P. L. Taylor of Ancon. The mayor of Panama started Mr. Silvey on his way from the American wharf to Colon at 5:15 o'clock a. m. The mayor of Colon met both men at the fire department wharf at Colon in the afternoon, Mr. Taylor's time being twelve hours and twenty minutes. The men were met by friends along the route and cheered and ice was handed them every three or four miles.—New York Tribune.

ABOUT SPUR, TEXAS.

It "Jes" Grewed" Because Support Was There.

A town of the unromantic name of Spur, which began its existence seven months ago, is boasting of a population of 1200. And it has not been boomed to amount to much either.

In the beginning a ranch which covered 673 square miles was divided into quarter sections to be sold out as farms. The farms were in brisk demand and the land sold rapidly. It was not a colonization scheme and the owners of it did not offer any special inducements to purchasers. One point they insisted upon was that the purchasers should be bona fide farmers. That shut out the speculators and gave everybody an equal chance. The country settled so fast that a railroad was surveyed through the center of the tract and a town became a necessity. Hence the origin of Spur.

A townsite was selected and laid off in lots. There seemed to be a good opening for a town and the lots sold in a hurry. After several months of existence the place has about all the lines of business ordinarily represented in a municipality of its size, including three national banks and a $45,000 hotel. It also has installed a modern drainage system. A resident of Spur, who had been on the ground all along, was in Kansas City a few days ago and said to a representative of the Star:

"As a boy I read stories of the wonderful changes worked by the fairies and their marvelous wands, but nothing I ever read compared of this land from a ranch to a city and farms."

This transformation of a vast expanse of grazing land into a progressive town, surrounded by farms, is an illustration of the rapid development in Texas since the work of subdividing of so many of the big ranches has been under way. It also shows that it is possible to build a town without resorting to spectacular booming methods, and to build it quickly. Towns come naturally where there is territory to support them. Unless there is such territory no amount of booming and boosting will make much of a town. Like Topsy, the town of Spur "jes" grewed."—Louisville Courier—Journal.

And many a man will go out of his way to avoid saying a good word in behalf of his neighbor.

A short woman, wearing a white skirt and a hat with three apples on it, grabbed by the neck a chunky young man who held a ticket in his right hand in the waiting room of the Lackawanna railroad station in Hoboken at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and screamed, "Give me my ticket!"

"Gug-gug-gug," gasped the gagged stranger as he struggled to release her grip.

The station cop went to the man's rescue and gently inquired what the rumpus was all about.

"He's got my ticket," said the woman.

"I haven't," growled the man. "I paid for it, and it's mine."

"Well, it looks like mine," explained the woman. "It's the same shape and color. I put it in my bag, which I placed on the seat, and I saw him walk away from it."

"Why don't you look in your bag and make sure?" suggested the cop.

The woman took a peek and found her ticket.

"Men shouldn't carry their tickets in their hands," said the policeman as he backed away from the backing woman and backing man.—New York Sun.

Meg and Dorothy were both six, but Meg was a month the older. Recently very serious difficulties arose between the little ladies over an extremely important matter. Meg was finally heard to put an end to the unfortunate controversy in these crushing words:

"Well, I don't care if your doll is bigger than mine, Dorothy Brown, I'm sixer than you are, anyhow!"—From Woman's Home Companion for May.

Little five-year-old Mary had seen a baby baptized in church on Sunday.
 Next day she was seen digging a large hole, and then bringing out a dipper of water from the kitchen. Next she captured her kitten and carried it to the hole. Holding the kitten in one hand, the dipper in the other, she poured some water on the struggling ball of fur and said in a singsong voice, just as the minister had done: "In the name of the father, and of the son, and in the hole he goes."—Wolfe
 City Sun.

Mother and the baby had gone away visiting for two whole days. Eight-year-old Marjorie was keeping house for her father.

"What shall I order, Marjorie," he asked very gravely. Marjorie's eyes shone as only Marjorie's eyes can shine.

"Candy!" she cried; and her father wrote it down. "But that is not enough for us to live on," he remonstrated gently. "What else?"

Marjorie caught her breath. Oh, the delight of being able to order meals like a grown-up person! "Cookies!"
 cried Marjorie. "And bananas! And plums; And more candy! Oh, what fun it is to keep house!"—Delineator.

Edward H. Crump, mayor of Memphis, praised, in a recent address, these charities in the hot weather.

"The pale, lean urchins of the slums," said Mayor Crump, "show in quaint ways how strange they are to the country and its charms.

"Thus a little country weeker, on leaving the train at Green Willows, ran ahead of his companions over the meadows. He soon came running back again, shouting excitedly:

"Hey, fellers, come here, quick!
 Here's a field of shrimps!"

"The field of which he pointed was planted in wheat."

They had been sitting in the old parlor talking on different topics and finally the subject changed to pugilism.

"Yes," remarked the pretti girl, "father used to be quite a pugilist in his day."

"Indeed!" remarked the young man with much interest.

"Yes, and even now he is exceedingly clever with his footwork." And she still wonders why the young man called for his hat and cane and vanished.—Chicago News.

POLITICS AND VICE.

Often a Mysterious Connection Between Them is Suspected.

The mystery of the connection between the police and the politicians and the under world, is one of the things which is always difficult to prove; but that there is such a connection is the only hypothesis upon which certain phenomena can be explained.

That some such entente existed a few years ago was not open to doubt. Politicians could grant or withhold immunity for certain forms of evil, and that they were paid for their protection no person with eyes to see and ears to hear could disbelieve.

Occasionally evidences of concerted effort to override the law are so plain that the only conclusion to be drawn is that the under world has been given a "tip" that the bars are to be let down. It may be noticed that if the press is silent for any length of time about vice it takes on boldness as if it had nothing to fear so long as publicity is not given its doings. These are the things which make the public uneasy when charges of corruption—though not sufficient to convict in a court of law—give intimation of where the trail leads.

We know that there are still with us politicians who live by their wits.

All Star College Club to Play at Lake Ball Park

Since the distribution of sheepskins among the many different universities of the South there has returned to Dallas many baseball players of exceptional ability, many of whom have received offers to play professional baseball, but as it is a well known fact that when a player receives remuneration for his services, he is classed as a professional, and cannot enter college athletics any more. Some of the best ball players in the big league today are college men, the training they receive there is invaluable, and we have had that fact plainly illustrated to us right here at home, particularly and most recently in the case of Louis Drucke of Texas Christian University.

The boys have gotten together and intend to make a trip covering a period of about fifteen days, visiting Longview, Marshall, Marlin, Groesbeck, Denison and Wichita Falls. Many invitations have been extended the All Stars by the best teams of the state, but it will be impossible to accept all, or half of them, but only the strongest will be played.

A glance at the records of some of the players will enable one to form an opinion as to the strength of the team. The personnel of the team, and the college or university which they attended is as follows:

Player	Position	University
Wicker	Catcher	Trinity
Hiett	Catcher	Carlisle
Moise	Pitcher	Sewanee
Green	Pitcher	State
Towers	Pitcher	State
Lewis	First Base	Sewanee
Stegall	Second Base	Daniel Baker
Vontress	Third Base	Wesley
Karner	Infielder	Trinity
Wathen	Short Stop	State
Williams	Left Field	Dartmouth
Holliday	Center Field	State
Stuart	Right Field	Blees M. A.
London	Infielder	Tennessee M. I.
Word	Pitcher	State

Every one of the above players have made an enviable record this year, Catcher Wicker having caught every game for Trinity University this year, having a fielding percentage of .972, and hitting .312. He is five feet twelve inches high and weighs 170 pounds.

Catcher Hiatt is a catcher of unusual ability and has a good hitting record. Pitcher Lionel Moise of Sewanee made quite a reputation this year as a pitcher, and is also one of the best all around ball players in Texas. He was also picked as the "All Southern End" on the 1910 football team, and is recognized throughout the entire South as one of the best punters in the game.

Pitcher Goen of State University was considered the best pitcher on the staff this year, and won several 1 and 2-hit games for his club.

Towers has made a reputation this year through his strike-out records, probably having more to his credit than any other pitcher in semi-professional baseball.

First Baseman Lewis (formerly of Washington-Lee and late of Sewanee, is noted through the college circuit for his hitting ability, and has few equals as a first baseman. He also was picked for the "All Southern End" from Sewanee, and has been asked to coach the T. C. U. football team next year.

Stegall is a second baseman of rare ability and good judgment, and is a first-class hitter. He is one of the fastest base runners outside the Texas League.

Vontress of Wesley College is pronounced as one of the clearest third basemen in the game; he is quick, has an unusually strong whip, and hits like an outfielder.

Word has made a reputation over Texas as a pitcher and will be a valuable addition to the team.

Stuart of Blees Military Academy won all honors on the athletic field, winning his "T" in baseball and football, and having the second best record of any member of the track team. He is fast and a sure fielder.

Holliday is a hitting outfielder hard to match, and is regarded among the pitchers as a very hard man to handle. He is a good baserunner and a sure fielder.

Williams of Dartmouth has few equals as an outfielder, was considered the "pinch hitter" of the club this year, and is a fast baserunner.

Through the courtesy of Mr. W. F. Houghton, the team has been supplied with new uniforms, and they confidently expect to win a majority of their games on the road.

The management of the club is in receipt of invitation from Mr. Palmer L. Clark, manager of the "Irish Lads" at Wichita Falls, Tex., extending them the courtesy of the handsome new club house overlooking Lake Wichita.

where dancing, skating, bathing and rowing may be indulged in before and after the games. They have also recently constructed one of the best baseball parks in Texas, which is run in conjunction with Lake Wichita. Denison will have a big time at Wood Lake on the 6th and 7th, and have asked the College Boys to play there on those dates.—Exchange.

"THIS IS MY 50TH BIRTHDAY"

Robert S. Lovett
Robert Scott Lovett, president of the Union Pacific, the Southern Pacific, the Oregon Short Line and other companies comprising the Harriman system of railroads, was born in his father's farm near San Jacinto, Tex., June 22, 1860. He educated himself during spare moments, and despite his father's wish that he become a physician, he studied law, was admitted to the bar and became a railroad attorney. For several years he was connected with the legal department of the Houston East and West Texas Railway and the Texas and Pacific Railway, and was later appointed general counsel of the Southern Pacific lines in Texas. In this position he first attracted Mr. Harriman's notice by amalgamating the Texas Central and the Houston East and West, and for this was rewarded by being made president of the combined lines. A few years later Mr. Lovett went to New York as vice president and general counsel of the Harriman lines and soon became Mr. Harriman's chief lieutenant.

Fought Catarrh for 20 Years.

Here is a letter that we sincerely ask every reader of the Times to read. If you suffer from catarrh or any nose, throat or lung ailment, read it over twice, and then consider if you can afford to ignore a prescription with the healing virtue of Hyomei (pronounce it High-o-mei).
Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
Gentlemen—I suffered terribly with catarrh in the head for twenty years, and I tried many prescriptions, but never found relief. I have used Hyomei for two weeks and find it the best preparation I have ever used for catarrh. Every cold I would catch seemed to go to my throat, and I had to use gargles for days at a time. Now when I catch a cold in the throat I use Hyomei inhaler and this soreness disappears over night. Hyomei has put me on the good road to getting rid of my catarrh, and if you want to use this letter to publish in your advertising, do so. Perhaps it will help some other sufferer.—W. K. Engle, 702 Walnut St., Reading, Pa., Oct. 5, 1909.

Dear Jasper:—

I have met that fussy pill plant on Eighth street, and say, the information is mine, that dump makes them all look an old maid at a mother's congress or a bunch of amateurs begging for car fare after the game, and in the matter of foam building and that soda water joke they have the others nine miles down the speedway with a bursted tire and a dead engine and in perfume and feature medicine they joy ride while the others count the ties.

Take it from me, lad, I am for the fussy one strong enough to pull a dray.

I beg to still be yours until Bugville ruins Chicago as a commercial center. BILL.

IMPERFECT HUMAN EYES.

Many Animals Can See Better Than Humans.

One of the doctors who has been visiting in St. Louis this week has pointed out the fact that the artificial lights of the present period are bad for the eyes, and that we do not see as well as the peoples of an earlier generation whose houses were illuminated by the colonial candles.

One of the facts which distinguish man from the inferior animals is that he sees less effectually than almost any of them. The fly, the eagle, the horse and other creatures put man to shame when a comparison of ability to see is made—the reason being, perhaps, that their existence depends upon their ability to see, whereas man can bring other faculties to bear upon the problems of existence.

May it not be possible, however, that the doctor we have quoted has traced his discovery to a wrong cause? Strength is imparted to those faculties which are used continually; and man has come gradually to the habit of using his eyes in only a limited sense.

The average man in the cities seldom looks more than a step or two ahead of him, while primitive man had to look long distances for his tribe, from which he had strayed; for his hut, to which there was no beaten path; for his food, which grew uncultivated; for his enemies, who were in hiding.

Man no longer examines anything closely. The fabric he wears he judges by the reputation of his tailor—and the price. The foods he eats have, presumably, passed the pure food experts, and is safe. If there be a man in the throng he must reckon with, he call up on the telephone and leaves word. He need not look far for a pretty face, for there is always one near by.

As for those who must work at night, that is enough to break the spirit; and when the spirit is broken how can the eye or anything else be right?

There remains the reading which we do for our own pleasure; and whether for ill or good, we read more than our forefathers, who made no effort to turn night into day.

Perhaps it is only a sentiment which goes back longingly to the long nights, and the subdued and wavering lights from taper to dip.—St. Louis Times.

Free Fireworks

Lake Wichita is to be the scene of the greatest Fourth of July celebration ever seen in Wichita Falls. Mr. Palmer L. Clark has ordered $500 worth of fireworks for the occasion and will have a man here to see that everything is done in the best way possible. The fireworks are to be on floats on the lake and can be seen from almost anywhere at the lake. A big celebration is anticipated. The fall game between the "All Stars" and the Irish Lads, boating, dancing and many other amusements are to be enjoyed, but attention is called to the fireworks, as they are to be all that possibly can be in the way of a fireworks celebration.
