COMPLETING PLANS FOR CELEBRATION

ARRANGEMENTS BEING MADE FOR GALA OCCASION AT LAKE ON JULY 4.

MANY NOVEL FEATURES

Fireworks on Water, Public Wedding Ceremony, Baseball and Other Attractions.

Plans for the celebration of July Fourth at Lake Wichita are taking definite form and as already outlined, will provide plentiful entertainment for the Wichitans who attend. It has not yet been determined whether or not the political orators will be given an opportunity to declaim on that occasion or not, but there will be other features. Several of the candidates are quite anxious for a chance to address the voters and this feature may be added to the celebration.

A feature of the day will be a fireworks display from rafts on the lake. A brilliant pyrotechnic exhibition will be given in the center of the lake and its beauties will be enhanced by the reflections in the water.

The management will supply a pressing need at the lake by providing plenty of free ice water for the crowd.

Other features of the day's celebration will be a public wedding on top of a majestic range donated by the Noble Hardware Company. The couple to be united has not yet been decided upon, but it is not thought that there will be any great difficulty in supplying it. The ceremony will be performed free and the marriage license furnished. The couple will be entertained by Manager Clark at the Lakeside Hotel and the best room there will be at their disposal. This promises to be quite an interesting feature of the celebration.

In addition, there will be the baseball game between the Irish Lads and the picked college team, which promises to furnish entertainment for the local fans.

Still another feature that should prove of interest to those of sportive dispositions will be the telegraph returns, by rounds, of the Jeffries-Johnson fight at Reno. In this way those interested in the battle will be able to learn of every part of it within a very short time after each incident of the fight.

The celebration promises to be an entertaining one, and will serve to keep Wichitans in a good humor. There is some opposition to have political speeches as a feature of the day and it is unsettled whether the orators will be given an opportunity to be heard or not.

EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO PROVE THAT PORTER CHARLTON IS INSANE

By Associated Press.
New York, June 25.—Today it seemed probable that Porter Charlton's fate would be decided by alienists, four of whom have been engaged by Judge Charlton to pass on his son's mental condition. The father believes Porter is mentally unbalanced. Captain Scott, brother of the woman, Charlton murdered, is determined to press the charge against him and if possible to secure extradition to Italy for trial for his act.

By Associated Press.
Rome, June 25.—The ministry of justice today transmitted to the foreign office the evidence in the case of Mrs. Charlton, who was murdered at Lake Como, leaving the foreign office free regarding further steps to be taken in the matter of extradition from the United States of the confessed slayer, Porter Charlton.

It is believed the whole affair will be disposed of by negotiations between the Italian embassy at Washington and the American authorities.

SUMMER VAUDEVILLE AT THEATRE IS PROVIDED; STARTS MONDAY NIGHT

Vaudeville and moving pictures will be provided for the amusement of Wichitans during the warm weather by the management of the Wichita Theatre, beginning Monday night. A series of high class vaudeville attractions, with moving pictures, has been arranged for and promises to be an entertaining feature. W. H. Strickland, who has been connected with the theatre since it was built, has recently returned from Oklahoma City where he witnessed the attractions and arranged for them to come here.

The theatre will be kept cool and comfortable in a novel manner. Half a dozen or more large tubs of ice will be placed at convenient points in the house, while electric fans will distribute the ice-cooled air over the building. These attractions promise to go far towards answering the question of time-killing on summer evenings, and while Wichita Falls is a small city to have an amusement of this character, it is believed it will prove profitable.

WHITE MAN SHOTS AND KILLS NEGRO

JONAS JOHNSON MEETS DEATH AT HANDS OF DAVE SEWELL IN RESTAURANT.

CAUSE IS NOT LEARNED

Examining Trial of Defendant Will Take Place Late This Afternoon.

Jonas Johnson, a negro hostler in a local livery stable, was shot in the head in a restaurant in the negro section of the city at 9:30 last night, sustaining injuries from which he died at 4:30. Shortly after the affair David Sewell surrendered to the officers and was locked up in the county jail.

Sewell declines to discuss the affair and his motive for the shooting is unknown. He used a 38-calibre pistol, the bullet striking Johnson in the top of the head. He lived for about six hours, but never regained consciousness and it was evident from the first that he could not survive. He leaves a family.

Complaint was filed against Sewell by Sheriff Walkup this morning, charging him with murder. Pending his examining trial, the defendant was placed in the county jail. He surrendered to Constable Yeary immediately after the shooting and made no attempt to get away. The deceased negro was a well-known character and the shooting caused considerable excitement among the negro population of the city.

The examining trial of Sewell will be held in Justice Brothers' court at 6 o'clock this evening, and it is understood that the defendant will make an effort to secure his release at that time and that he will not waive examining trial.

$200,000 FOR PICTURES

Views of Jeffries-Johnson Fight Will Cost That Much

By Associated Press.
Reno, Nev., June 25.—The fight to secure the picture report of the "battle of the century" cost close to $200,000. That estimate is based on the price of the respective shares agreed upon by Jeffries, Johnson and Promoter Rickard. Rickard definitely announced last night that his and Jeffries' interests in the pictures sold for $100,000.

Gambling houses are posting odds of ten to six on Jeffries, but no large wagers are reported at this figure.

WICHITA AUDIENCE HEARS JOHNSON

HE SPEAKS THIS AFTERNOON TO CROWD THAT FILLS THE COURT ROOM

FORCIBLE AND POIGNANT

Says He and Colquitt Are Running with Two Little Fellows in Between

"It's the greatest piece of gall I ever heard of for those whiskey fellows to go around saying 'Give us a rest.'"

"The defeat of submission in the last legislature was due to political corruption at Austin, and to no other reason."

"The man you want for governor is a man who is honest and a man who is straight and whose hands are not tied and shackled and whose feet are not hobbled, by promises to the whiskey traffic."

"There are two sides to this question and only two in the race. But there are a couple of straddlers and dodgers, half anti and half pro, in between."

"The legislature, by statutory enactment, went upstairs over the saloon and strangled the gambling house to death. Why can't it, in the same way, come downstairs and strangle his twin brother?"

A large and appreciated audience of Wichitans heard Hon. Cone Johnson of Tyler, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, speak at the court house this afternoon on the issues of the campaign. The address was poignant, yet forcible, and was a straightforward presentation of Mr. Johnson's side of the race. He did not mince words and handled the issues without gloves.

The address was devoted largely to arguments for prohibition, coupled with numerous digs at Colquitt, whom he said, was his only real opponent in the contest.

A selection by the band preceded the opening of the meeting, then Judge Carrigan introduced W. J. Bullock of this city, who presented the candidate to the audience in a short complimentary talk.

Mr. Johnson began his remarks by saying that he was tired and asking indulgence of the audience on account of his voice. During his talk he frequently regaled himself with lemon juice and medicine. He said, in part:

"I am making the race for governor to maintain and defend the power and right of the people of Texas to direct and conduct our government—to direct and decide the laws and policies of the state—to defend the right of legislation to suppress the whiskey traffic."

"Every campaign has its heart, its core, its dominant issue. It is useless to disguise the issue in this race. The minds of the people are set on the whiskey question. The people of Texas are determined to settle this matter. It ought to have been settled two years ago, one way or the other. Either way, it would have been settled now, and it was no fault of the pros that it was not decided once and for all. To my mind it is the greatest piece of gall in the world for these whiskey fellows to go around saying 'Give us a rest; prohibition ought not to be the issue.' The prohibition question will be here until you are dead and gone, and until your children are white headed or perhaps laid by your side, until it is settled at the ballot box. (Applause.)"

"We did all we could, legally. We tried no tricks, no surprises. We acted in good faith and followed instructions—the instructions laid down on the statute books by the legislature of this state. We thought it would be submitted, but it wasn't. It was not submitted because of political corruption at Austin."

"I am tired or hearing the men who went back on their party pledges and submitted to corruption called honest. I don't believe they were misled; I believe they were dominated by the whiskey traffic. While the fight was on, money was sent to Austin by the whiskey interests and dished out to somebody and I also know that the same men who dished out that money are handling the slush fund of the whiskey interests in the fight that is on this year. When they deny it, I can produce satisfactory evidence."

We've been betrayed and outraged and our rights taken away from us by the most corrupt ring that ever operated in any state in this country.

"And that same outfit is now going around over this state posing as democrats, and the worst of it is that lots of people who don't know any better, are trailing along behind them and calling them democrats too—poor misguided fools! That's speaking plainly and that's what I mean (A voice: That's the way to tell it) 'I can show' where that money came from and where it went to. They are sending it again and they say they are going to win the fight the same way again, to make your sons and daughters and the future generations the victims of the greatest curse ever known to man. Yet they call it democracy."

"There is a man in this race who stands on the other side of this question, who wants a reformation of these conditions and who stands for a change in those conditions—and that man is Cone Johnson from Tyler."

You hear the howl, 'We want a business man for governor.' Yes; but first of all you want an honest man (Voice—Amen!) and a straight man (Continued on Page Four)

MANUFACTURER ROBBED AND KILLED ON STREET AT LYNN MASSACHUSETTS

By Associated Press.
Lynn, Mass., June 25.—Three robbers shot and killed Thomas Landgren, a prominent shoe manufacturer of this city, on the streets here today. They also fatally wounded Policeman Carroll and seized from Landgren a bag containing four thousand dollars, which the manufacturer had just drawn from the bank as the weekly pay roll for his factory. Carroll died a few minutes after being shot.

The robbers fled to High Rock, a suburb, where they were surrounded by a large force of police and citizens. In the round-up two of the highwaymen were shot and seriously injured.

One of the robbers, said to be Abba Anson of New York, was shot and killed.

BILL IS SIGNED

Taft Affixes Signature to Rivers and Harbors Measure

Washington, June 25.—President Taft this afternoon signed the rivers and harbors bill.

WASHINGTON NEWS NOTES TEXAS CONGRESSMEN ALL ACTIVE IN TODAY'S WORK

Texas News Service Special.

Washington, June 25.—Acting "Whip" Garner, of the house minority, was on guard this morning, and but for his timely calling of the Republican bluff the conference report on the appropriation for the reclamation service would have been rushed through the lower house of congress. The report was presented on a $20,000,000 fund, and an effort was made by the majority to do quick work in adopting it, but Garner secured the floor and announced that unless time was given for the debate, he would filibuster and block the plans to adjourn today. This scored a point for the Democrats and the debate proceeded.

Texas members of the house express great pleasure at the passage yesterday of the anti-cotton futures gambling bill, saying the South won out on the proposition.

Beall, Burleson and Henry are receiving congratulations today on account of their hard work for the measure. The Texans also express interest in the affair to be brought out by the speech of Senator Gore of Oklahoma, raising a point of personal privilege in the senate yesterday afternoon and saying it had been hinted to him that it was worth while to permit a modification to the general deficiency bill regarding the approval of amounts by the president in reference to the Indian land sale contracts. It is believed that Bird McGuire, who presented the charge to the conference committee, of the modified provision, which, according to Senator Gore, would greatly benefit the McMurray Indian contracts. The senate bill will likely appoint a committee to investigate the whole affair.

ROCK ISLAND PARTY OF OFFICIALS HERE

SPENT LAST NIGHT IN CITY AND LEAVE OVER VALLEY FOR STAMFORD.

EXTENSION IS PROPOSED

Visit is Made to Discuss the Contemplated Graham-Stamford Line.

President H. U. Mudge of the Rock Island Railway, accompanied by practically the entire official family of the road, spent several hours in Wichita Falls last evening and today, coming in yesterday afternoon from Tucumcari. They left this morning over the Valley for Stamford, where they will spend today. The party is traveling in five private cars. After an automobile trip to Newcastle, the party will return to this city over the Wichita Falls and Southern, going out over the Northwestern to Mangum.

President Mudge goes to Stamford at the invitation of the business men there, presumably to confer with them regarding the proposed extension of the Rock Island from Graham. Stamford has been working to get this extension for some time, and it is possible that Mr. Mudge's visit to Stamford will be followed by developments along this line. He would not state, however, whether or not anything was contemplated in that connection. A company was recently organized at Stamford to build a road from there to Newcastle, and if this proposed line should take definite form it would prevent the construction of the Rock Island line.

While in this city, the visitors were the guests of Messrs. Kemp and Kell on a trip over the city and out to Lake Wichita, where they spent last night. They were delighted with what they saw and astounded that a city of this size should have a resort of such magnitude.

STILL SEARCHING FOR WENDLING

Detectives at San Antonio in Search of Murderer on Cold Trail

Texas News Service Special.
San Antonio, Tex., June 25.—Detective Chas. Carney, who is in Texas seeking to locate Jos. Wendling, accused of the killing of Alma Kelter of Louisville, has adopted tactics which he probably hopes will throw the newspaper men off his track. Yesterday he announced he would go to Mexico, and today he announced he was not going to the republic, but would scour the country in another effort to find Wendling. What he is doing today, no one seems to know. The man arrested yesterday, and suspected of being Wendling, was released this morning, as it was proven he was not the right person.

Carney has found the man who claimed to have seen Wendling, and these men are now with him, wherever he may be. The local authorities are giving Carney assistance.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., June 25.—The Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee met this morning and adjourned to meet at Minneapolis on Sept. 5th when an effort will be made to agree upon a report.

GUN CLUB PREPARES FOR SHOOTING-TRAPS BEING INSTALLED AT THE LAKE

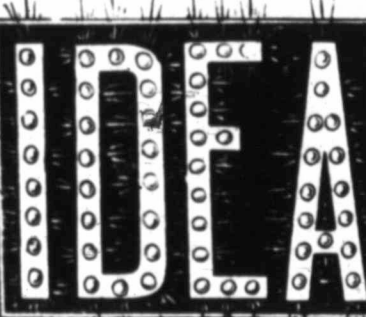

The Wichita Gun Club, recently organized, will hold its first shoot at an early date at Lake Wichita, where the traps are now being installed. The traps have been located just south of the baseball park on an elevation that gives a perfect sky-line, making it an admirable place for trap shooting. Ten barrels of clay pigeons have been ordered by the club and the members are looking forward to some sport along this line during the summer. There is talk of holding a shoot here on July 4, but arrangements have not been completed.

In Society's Realm

SOCIETY EDITRESS
 Phone No. One-one-one

The Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church will meet Monday afternoon at four o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frank-Kell.

Monday evening the young ladies gave one of the largest and most delightful dances of the summer at Lake Wichita. The weather was pleasant, the music excellent and the dances merry, so the young people all, with one accord, pronounced the dance a great success.

Miss Lochie Morrow entertained a few of her friends informally Thursday evening. Those enjoying the evening were Misses Hazel and Helen Brightwell, Ollie Hendricks, Lula Smith, Lena Gardner, Emma Hunt, Maude Ragsdale, Alma Hull, Hazel Jones and Messrs. Allen and Ernest Trevathan, Don Mathews, Frank and Leon Billingsley, Merle Wagner, Overton McDowell and Mr. Chambers.

A very pretty moonlight picnic was indulged in by a party of young people on Thursday evening. Mrs. Grey chaperoned. The well-filled baskets, the beautiful evening and the congenial crowd made the picnic one of unusual pleasure. Those comprising the party were: Misses Myrtle and Lavinia Randall, Lee Miller, Lottie Orth; Messrs. Frank McGlasson, Terry and Miller of Fort Worth.

On Tuesday evening Miss Kathaleen Coffield very charmingly entertained the members of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church at her beautiful home in Floral Heights. Music and games furnished amusement for the evening. Dainty refreshments were served and all reported a delightful evening. Those present were Della Young, Tula Stokes, Anna Dell Taylor, Ethel Frieze, Alleen Wagner, Celia Stayton, Beryl Murph, Ila and Una Cook, Ruth Trueblood, Blanche Kahn, Mena Waits, Cora Lee Wagner, Joe Hatcher, Russell Jones, Wayne Summerville, Ralph Mathis, Luyne Wilson, Cecil Crowell, Carl Valdez, Arthur Noble, Jared Trevathan, William Ward, Ray Sidwell, Guy Hutchcraft and Randell Grubbs.

On Thursday evening quite a number enjoyed a moonlight picnic at Lake Wichita. About 9 o'clock supper was spread out, abounding in chicken, olives, pickles, salads and other delicacies. After spending some time enjoying the cool breeze the party started for home, all expressing themselves as having had a delightful outing. The personnel included Mr. and Mrs. Kell, Mr. and Mrs. Beavers, Judge and Mrs. Carrigan, Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Walker, Mrs. Adickes, and children, Mr. and Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. Parker Mrs. Barwise, Mrs. Scribner; Misses Annie Carrigan, Helen and Dorothy Beavers.

The Trial of Cupid.

One day the chief gods on Olympus decided Dan Cupid to try for his sins and mistakes; And all of the lovers whom he had deceived Were summoned to tell them just how a heart breaks.

By millions they came, all burdened with sadness. That Cupid had brought them through long, weary years; And the poor, little god, overwhelmed by his badness, Turned from his accusers; dissolving in tears. Then up went a shout from this army of foes: "Our hearts you have pierced and our souls you have scared, And you've brought down upon us deep sorrow and woes; But we can't do without you—Dan Cupid, you're cleared!" —Littell McClung.

Mrs. Harris will be hostess to the Floral Club on Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Miss Dola White returned the first of the week after a pleasant visit with friends in Oklahoma.

Miss Juliet Kelley, who has been visiting her brother, Mr. Ed Kelley, left yesterday afternoon for her home at Abilene.

Miss Lucile Henderson will entertain the Junior Sewing Circle on next Thursday afternoon at her home on Eleventh street.

The guests were received by Mrs. Bullock and introduced to the honorees, after which they were given a dance program, inscribed "stroll party." Each program was filled out just as a dance program but instead of a dance there was a stroll by moonlight around the block. Punch was served throughout the evening, very informally, on the lawn. After the strolls the guests were regaled with delicious ice cream and cake. As the orchestra played "Home, Sweet Home," the last stroll was taken and the strollers bade their hostess and the guests good-night.

Misses Myrtle and Lavinia Randall, who have been the guests of their sister, Mrs. J. P. Boone, left for their home in Waco yesterday afternoon.

The party included Misses Kathleen Coffield, Ethel Frieze, Anna Wilson Ola Mae Hamlin, Kathleen Stonecipher; Messrs. Ralph Mathis, Russell Jones, Gerald Pond and Clarence Moore.

One of the pleasurable events in society circles last week was the thimble party given by Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, 1100 Austin Avenue, on last Saturday afternoon from four to six, in honor of her guests, Mrs. Barwise of Kansas City and Mrs. Scribner of Pueblo, Colo. Guests to the number of forty-six were received on the large and spacious porch of the Carrigan home, which was beautifully decorated with sunflowers and ferns. A part of the afternoon was delightfully occupied by the guests in an exhibition of their skill, with the needle on pieces of fancy work, each of whom, at the request of the hostess, had brought their respective pieces with them. At the end of this diversion dainty score cards in the form and shape of a sunflower with pencils attached were distributed and the hostess announced that ten minutes would be allotted each guest in which to write the greatest number of words on the reverse side of the score cards to be spelled with the letters required in the spelling of "sunflower," Mrs. Mattie Blair winning the favor, a basket of beautiful sweet peas, having written forty-seven words in the time allowed.

There were several other very close contestants, the next closest to the winner being Mrs. Skinner, who succeeded in writing forty-six words. At the close of this novel and unique game, a dainty ice course was served, the hostess being assisted in this by her daughter, Miss Annie, and Misses Esther Gorsline, Helen Jalonic, Agnes Reid and Mrs. D. P. Woodward.

Saturday evening Judge and Mrs. A. H. Carrigan again entertained a large gathering of friends. An informal musical was the interesting feature of the evening's entertainment. About fifty guests were in attendance at this altogether delightful gathering. Punch was served during the evening and at a late hour delicious sherbet and cake was enjoyed.

supplementary wraps are needed for comfort. Big, all enveloping coats serve the purpose in some cases, but that did not satisfy the Parisian women of fashion. They demanded wraps that would give a little added warmth, but might also be coquettishly draped about the shoulders and readily thrown away by the noted designers.

A very wide scarf of some supple silk lined with silk mousseline in another shade of the same color or another color, the coloring harmonizing with the color scheme of the toilet, is bordered by a very narrow line of sable or other dark fur or even by dark marabout, and furnishes more warmth than would be supposed. Even two thicknesses of silk mousseline made in a very wide long scarf and bordered on three sides by a wide band of black satin can be comforting on a cool day.

One of the most coquettish scarfs evolved so far is made of enormously wide, very supple velvet ribbon or piece velvet, lined with satin, drawn in at the ends and finished by huge tassels and trimmed around the part which will encircle the neck by a soft ruche of white crepe lisse, held at each side of the front by a chou of satin.

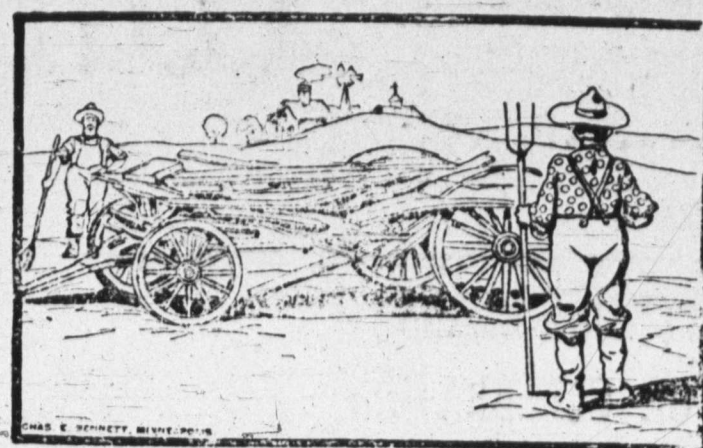

Wraps designed especially for dress occasions are made of silk, chiffon, satin, lace, cachemire de sole, voile, gauze cloth, bangline, etc., in all the new shades and in black and white.

A noticeable feature in ribbon accessories is the shirring and simulated buckle or slides, all made in or of the ribbon, and also the use of dainty drop trimmings, tassels, rings, disks, etc., as completions.

Some of the smartest tailored shirt waists have groups of tucks of different widths. The two-inch tuck alternates with the narrowest pin-tuck that can be made.

Tiny handkerchiefs of colored linen with borders of white and the tiny initials also in white are among the novelties of the hour in fashion's realm.

FLORENCE FAIRBANKS.

How Are You Fixed For Racks?

Stacking time will soon be upon you, so we thought we'd just call your attention to the question of racks. We realize how prone most men are to put off attending to these things until the last moment; then it's too late. The old things are patched up in hopes that they will do for a while. The result is no end of time and trouble wasted tinkering to keep them together. Better look up the rack question and get into shape before you actually need them. We have a good stock of clear, dry materials—just the thing for racks.

Summer Negligees Follow Lines of New Frocks—Fluted Frills of Other Days Are No More—A Negligee Not For The Hotel Breakfast Table—Making a Negligee From the Old Evening Cape.

NOTHING reveals a woman's true character like her negligee. If she is daintily fastidious in her personal habits the raiment she wears when all alone in the inmost sanctum of her own room will show it. If slovenliness is her besetting sin, torn and soiled boudoir gowns and slippers down at the heel will inevitably tell the tale.

Woman naturally loves pretty things; she naturally takes an instinctive delight in soft, lovely, luxurious negligee garb; and most negligees—at the start—are dainty and pretty enough. But alas for the boudoir gowns that hang in many of our closets—the dear familiar friends in the shape of dressing gowns which we came home to after a day of wending with ungenial outside conditions—would any of us care to have our characters judged by these same dressing gowns?

The trouble with a negligee is that one frets so attached to the thing. It is so hard to give it up in favor of some new affair that may be pretty enough as far as that goes, but which has no association of long companionship to make it dear. The lines of the old gown; its trimming, its faded coloring, the arrangement of its pockets, the length of its sleeves, are all so much more comfortable than those of any new and unfamiliar garment could possibly be. One feels a positive sadness in casting out the old negligee and assuming this untried friend—this arrogantly fresh and new affair which seems without understanding and sympathy for one's little ways.

Warm Weather Negligees Diaphanous Affairs

The summer dressing gown somehow never seems to have this homelike, congenial quality possessed by the cozy winter dressing gown. The summer negligee, indeed, is an airy thing; one does not really need it, though it is donned as a concession to conventionality—and draughts. Just as one gets attached and used to it, off it has to go to the laundry and comes back with that impersonal look of crisp newness again. It is never the dear old dressing gown that one comes back to after a two-week visit when only smart and immaculate raiment may be carried along, for fear of what one's friend's maid, who unpacks one's trunk, might think.

Summer Negligees Like Frocks Limp and Soft

When one thinks of a summer wrapper the mind leaps instinctively to the thought of ruffles; but the fresh crisply fluted frills of other days are not seen on up-to-date negligees. The new dressing gowns and other boudoir wear have the same soft-limpness of effect that characterize outer garments now, and if there are ruffles at all, they are of pleated lace or of softest mull, cut on the bias, so that they will hang very flat against the gown material. A lovely little Paris boudoir gown—of pink flowered batiste has six of these bias ruffles with tiny hems on the skirt, and three of the ruffles edge the loose sleeve, cut all in one with the negligee—without shoulder or arm seams. The pretty affair looks ideally frilly and soft, but it hangs with utmost grace and can actually be drawn, the entire garment—through its wearer's wedding ring. This would be possible, of course, only in a garment made of the very finest, softest mull-like fabric and sewed entirely by hand.

White Boudoir Gowns Loveliest in the Summer Time

Nothing is so cool in summer time as white and the dressing gown of white dimity, dotted swiss or thin Chinese silk, is ideal for summer wear. These garments must be fashioned in such a way that they will in no sense suggest the more intimate chemise, night, or night-dress. A belted-in effect at the waist; flounces at the foot and the shape of the sleeves will usually accomplish this difference in character, and, of course, the negligee may be gay with fluttering ribbons and honeycombed with lace insertions, while the night dress is trimmed only about the neck and sleeves.

A very charming negligee of this sort is illustrated, and this pretty gown could be worn at the breakfast table in the privacy of the home; though it is one of the conventional laws, as rigid as any of the Medes and Persians, that no negligee garment shall ever appear in a hotel or boarding-house dining room.

The pretty negligee or breakfast gown illustrated is a ready-made model of white Persian lawn, with trimmings of inexpensive lace and embroidery. It is the arrangement of these trimmings in panels and bands, that gives special good style to the garment. The flounced skirt is very graceful and is rather full, being set into the belt with small tucks over the hips. The simply fashioned bodice is loose and comfortable, and so is the wide sleeve. Blue ribbon bows trim the sleeves and there is a knot of blue ribbon where the edges of the bodice come together below the throat.

This model could be copied in almost any summery material; either plain white lawn or dimity or flowered dimity or swiss. White or dotted swiss is one of the most charming materials for summer negligee wear, and though a good quality of dotted swiss is rather expensive at first buying, the material wears and launders most satisfactorily.

Ribbon Should Always Be Fresh

Fresh, dainty ribbons cost so little that it is amazing that so many women neglect this opportunity for charm and appeal in the summer negligee. When the lawn or dimity wrapper goes to the laundry the ribbons thereon should not be taken off and pressed out, but should be thrown away and new ones substituted. Nothing is quite so forlorn as a shabby ribbon, and the pale blues and pinks soon lose their bright luster and their color, as well as their crispness. Twenty cents worth of new ribbon will do wonders in freshening a faded or half-worn negligee, and as for a white garment of this sort, if it is immaculately clean and fresh and trimmed up with pretty ribbons, no one will notice that it has been mended, or is not quite this season's shape.

Breakfast Negligees in Russian Style

Dotted lawn breakfast and morning dresses, which are really no more than wrappers conventionalized, are made this season in the Russian fashion, with the fastening down one side of the front from throat to knee, and sleeves cut in the peasant or seamless style. A white dimity gown of this sort sprinkled with old blue dots, had half-inch bands of old blue dimity stitched on as trimming. These bands outlined the square back, edged the elbow sleeve and went all the way down the opening at one side of the front. Along the front opening as far down as the waist, peeped out a pleated lace frill, and similar frills were set upward at the top of the trimming band on the sleeves. Small blue covered buttons in groups of three followed the line of trimming down the side opening. This dainty little gown was also shown in a lavender dotted dimity and in white lawn with red dots and red bands and buttons.

Some of the imported Paris negligees are as elaborate as lingerie gowns—and quite as expensive. A hundred dollars seems a substantial sum to pay for a boudoir gown, but the saleswomen in the exclusive importing shops will show you boudoir gowns of mull and lace costing twice that sum without the quiver of an eyelash. Of course, these garments cost much more here than in Paris, and the woman who can buy her trossseau in Paris and wear every garment of it before submitting it to the eagle eye of the customs officer can have marvelously pretty things at a remarkably little price.

Easy to Copy These French Sacques

Three Parisian negligees are illustrated on today's page; two charming little sacques and a very beautiful lace tea costume—or tea coat and skirt. One of these garments comes from Jeanne Hallee, the great wizard of negligee wear in Paris.

There are two sorts of dressing sacques; one sort that is never worn out of the privacy of one's own bedroom, where it is used as a combing jacket which millady dons while her maid does her hair or while the manicurist does her rosy fingertips; or the little jacket, quite unconfined at the waist, may be slipped on over the night dress when millady breakfasts in bed. Such a sacque is shown made of cream lace, set in a deep flounce on a pointed yoke which runs down the outer edge of the sleeves. The yoke is made of narrow insertions in plain and shirred strips. These shirred strips are attached to plain strips of lace beneath and pale pink ribbon is run through. There is also a very pale pink silk lining which gleams through the cream of the lace.

The other sacque is a more practical affair, which may be worn at the breakfast table or used to receive women visitors in—in one's room or of morning. It is a new model, and the little apron front, which is duplicated at the back, falls well over the skirt beneath and makes the sacque long and graceful. The lace upper portion of this sacque is lined with thin silk, fitted to the figure and lightly feather-boned, and over this little fitted lace bodice the apron portion is draped with an effect of carelessness, the breadths being joined under the right arm with a lace insertion, while at the left hip they are caught under a flat ribbon-wound ornament.

Though ribbons are used to trim both of these sacques, the fastenings are arranged with small silk loops over tiny pearl buttons—this being the method liked best by the Parisian makers.

The Modern Tea Gown is a "Tea Coat"

For a June trossseau the beautiful lace tea coat and skirt, referred to in another paragraph and pictured today, were brought over from Paris. The grace and charm of this lovely tea costume could scarcely be rivaled the world over. The lines are graceful and the design of the whole garment is extremely simple, shoulder, bust and arm being well defined by the drapery on the bodice, while the skirt has the loose, flowing lines which should distinguish a semiformal garment of this character. Tea coat and skirt are made of white Valenciennes lace and appliqued to an edge of plain white net, and this in turn is bordered with white Venise insertion, which is slightly heavier than the lace itself and brings out all its fairylike delicacy. The whole costume is worn over a slip of white silk, and the gay little Pierrot bows and the sash ends, caught at one side of the coat, are of azure ribbon.

More Trossseau Negligees

Accordion plaited effects are again in vogue, though the plaitings are done with softest fabrics and the lines are kept flat and straight on the figure. Accordion plaited boudoir and tea gowns have been included in many important trossseaux this spring and a very graceful gown of this type is illustrated. This negligee combines pale yellow satin with another satin, in which great yellow and burnt sienna poppies are splashed on a cream ground. The trailing skirt, which is bordered with the poppy satin, is accordion plaited, and so are the flowing sleeves; but the little Empire bodice is made of folds of the poppy satin, caught at front and back under the high-shaped girdle. This gorgeous negligee was designed to accord with the bride's dark hair and eyes, but the model would be equally attractive in any other color scheme.

Warmer Negligees for Cool Summer Days

The bride who prepares a summer trossseau with only diaphanous negligee garments will be sorry when the cool mornings and evenings in August arrive. In fact, there are many times during our American summer when a warm room gown is comforting and agreeable. Just warm enough and not too warm are the pretty negligees of thin albatross and cashmere, which may or may not be lined with silk. These gowns are cut most simply, in loose raglan style. White albatross, over blue silk, with feather-stitching in blue, and soft blue satin ribbon bows, makes a charming negligee of this type.

The Japanese kimono of very thin, rainbow-tinted silk, lined with similar silk and interlined with down, are as light as thistledown, yet delightfully warm and cozy. These gowns are a trifle expensive for the average woman, but they are very beautiful.

and a man whose hands are not tied and shackled and whose feet are not hobbled by promises to the whiskey traffic.

"There are two sides to this question; not four. One side stands for whiskey. Some antis don't like to hear me say that, but a man who won't vote to put whiskey out of Texas stands for whiskey. You can't be against whiskey and be an anti. We know who is representing the whiskey traffic and representing it in a full and complete and satisfactory manner—that's O. B. Colquitt."

A voice—"Hurrah for Colquitt!"
Mr. Johnson—"Thank you." (Laughter and applause.)

The speaker devoted the next five minutes of his address to a severe arraignment of the whiskey traffic in general. He said that was a curse and a nuisance and a power for evil.
He denied that money paid to saloons helped to build up a town.

"It helps to build-up hell," he shouted. ((Applause.))

Colquitt is a defender of the whiskey traffic in its very aspect. He opposes the state's troubling it at all.
He is opposed to all the proposed regulatory measures. He is opposed to submission. He is opposed to statutory prohibition. He is opposed to constitutional prohibition."

A voice—"And he's opposed to the laboring man."

"The whiskey crowd is satisfied with him and they ought to be. If I was one of their crowd I would be, too. I would have that much gratitude.

"The other side of this question is represented by Cone Johnson. In between there are a couple of straddlers, dodgers. They are half anti and half pro. They hold out bread in one hand to the pros and better in the other to the antis. They have no place in the campaign. They don't represent anybody's views except their own.

Mr. Johnson then reviewed the efforts the prohibitionists made to have the question submitted at the last session of the legislature, going over the details of the movement. The anti he said, predicted they would lose again.

"When I heard that," he continued
"I began to look around and see what was to be done."

He then cited that the legislature

"THIS IS MY 11TH BIRTHDAY"
Princess Margareta of Sweden
Princess Margareta of Sweden, niece of King Gustaf, was born June 25, 1909, in a modest little cottage called Parkudden, a short distance from the capital. Her father is Prince Carl, third son of the late King Oscar, and her mother was Princess Ingeborg, the daughter of the present king of Denmark. The birth of Princess Margareta was hailed with delight by the royal family and the people of Sweden as there had been a dearth of princesses of Sweden for many years. She is the first Swedish princess to bear the name of Margareta since 1389, when Queen Margareta resigned her throne as union ruler of the three Scandinavian countries. The full name of the little princess, which was chosen by her grandfather, King Oscar, is Margareta Sophie Louise Ingeborg.

George Ade Entertains Notables.
Brook, Ind., June 25.—Hazelden Farm, the home and hobby of George Ade, the noted humorist and playwright, was the scene today of one of the greatest gatherings of celebrities ever assembled in Indiana. The occasion was the annual summer outing of the Indiana Society of Chicago, of which Mr. Ade is one of the most active members.

Included among the distinguished guests were Governor and Mrs. Marshall, former Governor and Mrs. Durbin, former Vice President and Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, Senator and Mrs. Beveridge, Hon. John W. Kern and Mrs. Kern, and Judge Keneshaw M. Landis.

The literary set was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Major, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Nicholson, James Whitcomb Riley, George Barr McCutcheon, "Kin" Hubbard and John C. Eastman of Chicago.

dinner of Hoosier fried chicken and other delicacies was served, and later the guests indulged in baseball games swimming and athletic contests and other outdoor sports.

How the Economical Girl Utilizes Her Evening Wrap

One thrifty little bride of June has evolved a most fetching negligee out of a discarded satin evening cape. The large cape was recut, to produce the rather clinging lines of a negligee coat, and there was enough material left at the corners to make coquettish little sleeves, slashed to the shoulder to reveal the frilled lace sleeves beneath.

The satin coat, worn over a lace or chiffon slip, is the most luxurious type of boudoir garment—a type that is used almost exclusively by brides, to whom any amount of frillery in this line is allowed. Miss Frances Starr, in "The Easiest Way," started the fad for these coat negligees, and her pale blue satin coat, over a slip of white chiffon, in which were set lace motifs, was a dream of loveliness. A smart negligee of this sort is illustrated; this coat being of light peach pink satin messaline and the slip beneath of mull and lace. The coat in this instance is sleeveless and is in tunic style, the edges being caught together at the side with covered buttons. A rosette of pink chiffon and satin holds the coat at the bust and just above the knees, but the lace-trimmed mull slip is plainly visible as the wearer moves.

Farm and Stock.

(From Farm & Ranch)
Improvements furnish a few comforts and all something to admire.

The man with the largest crop is the man who attracts the most attention.

The good roads movement increases the pleasure of moving over the roads.

A breeder must know how to breed, how to feed and how to heed every need of his stock.

There is a distinct difference between weeds and corn. There should also be an extinct difference.

Speaking about monster hogs, a Kentuckian bought one recently which when killed tipped the scales at 997 pounds.

This is the season of the year that sharp plows are in great demand. Those who have shops on the farms are fortunate.

Sheep are seldom profitable unless they are fed and sheltered during bad weather. Sheep should not be left to shift for their living.

It is poor economy to permit colts to follow their dams over the fields this hot weather. Keep the colts in the pasture while their mothers are in the harness.

Kindness to your team is desirable, not only from a human standpoint, but it is profitable. A good team soon becomes worthless when treated in an unkind manner.

Cholera causes much loss in swine every year, yet it could be reduced to a minimum if pens were kept sanitary and fresh water and good pasture are given.

Root crops, such as beets, turnips and chufas, keep swine in a healthful condition. These crops are easily grown and should be planted on every farm where swine are kept.

Protein promotes growth of bones and muscles. Young animals require plenty of protein to develop properly. Cotton seed meal, wheat shorts and gluten meal furnish protein.

Do not neglect to plant pumpkins. They will furnish succulent food for cows and hogs when other food is scarce. Pumpkins are relished as food for the table when properly prepared.

The most successful farmers are those who avoid drudgery by finding an easy and quick way of performing difficult work. An active brain can greatly save tired limbs and an aching back.

The difference in price between scrubs and well-bred beef steers is from $2 to $3 a hundredweight in favor of the beef steer. This is in addition to the cost of the feed, which is always more for scrubs.

The tool shed, if properly used, is often the most profitable equipment on the farm. Expensive farm machinery, when left in the sun and rain, greatly deteriorates. Those who have no tool shed should build one now and save the loss this summer.

Corn, in most sections of the Southwest, promises a good yield. Cultivation this year has in most cases been prompt and timely and the seasons have been favorable in most sections for early growth. Cultivation should be kept up to insure maturity.

By careful observation you can determine whether the crop you have been growing on your land this year is adapted to it or not. If it is not, plant a crop that is adapted to it. Much time and money is wasted in trying to grow crops that are not adapted to the soil.

It does not pay to keep a horse that is afraid of automobiles. If you can not train him to ignore them, sell him to some one who lives where they do not have automobiles. The time will soon come when automobiles will be on the farms and the frightful horse must give way to them.

The time will come, and we hope it is not far distant, when it will be considered a great honor to be called a good farmer. Those of us who enjoy the blessings that farm life gives regard farming as worthy of the best efforts of our lives. Only the ignorant regard it below other occupations.

Screens are not only a convenience; they are a necessity. It is impossible to keep the dairy, the kitchen and the back porch sanitary and comfortable if flies have access to them. The cost of screens is too insignificant to compare with the comfort and precaution against disease which they afford.

Are you reading the bulletins of your experiment station and the United States department of agriculture? If you have not been getting them, send for them and read them carefully. Most station men are themselves practical farmers who have become specialists upon some subjects, and their advice is worth much to those who need it.

Not every man knows how to handle a cultivator properly. It requires patience and skill to do good work with your cultivator. Much is gained by careful adjustment and diligent operation.

Good roads greatly elevate the moral tone of the community. While profanity is never excusable, it is safe to say that it would be reduced if the public roads were put in good condition. "Mudholes" and "slashes" cause profanity, cruelty to animals and overwork for the driver.

Scrub cattle lay on fat slowly and when they are finally dressed it is found that the fat, for the most part, is on the kidneys and in the intestines where it is not profitable. Beef-bred animals lay on fat in the muscles and under the skin, where it is sold as high priced cuts.

We are anxious to hear from those who find raising horses and mules profitable. Tell us how you manage colts and the success you have in feeding and caring for them. How do you train them for work animals and at what age are they most profitably marketed? A full discussion of this subject will help those who wish to breed horses, but hesitate for lack of knowledge.

Congress to Adjourn June 25
Washington, June 23.—A Dallas News special says:

Republican leaders at the capital are clinging to the hope that this session of congress will be able to conclude its work by Saturday night.

But none are now willing to predict that the end will come before Saturday night at a session which may run far into the night. Between deadlocks and filibuster, the situation is uncertain. President Taft can, by insisting upon certain legislation, prolong the session into next week, and in that event the session might continue for a fortnight.

Despite the uncertainty that exists tonight, the belief is strong that the session can be chopped off Saturday night.

The chief obstacle now is the Appalachian forest reserve bill, which the New England Senators and many Southern men are anxious to shove through before adjournment. Senator Burrows is conducting a healthy filibuster in the senate. Senator Brandegee of Connecticut has charge of the bill and commands enough votes to pass it if he can bring it to a vote; but with Senators Burton, Newlands, Paynter and several others bitterly opposed to the legislation and ready to talk it to death, it is difficult to foresee how the friends of the measure will be able to get a vote before Saturday, if the plans for adjourning then are to be carried forward.

The action of the house today in receding from the Hughes amendment removed another obstacle to adjournment. Another matter which contains enough dynamite to wreck any plan for adjournment is the administration bill to increase the engineer corps of the army, so some of them may be detailed in charge of reclamation projects.

Senator Bailey of Texas is bitterly against this legislation and will take the floor for a single-handed filibuster to defeat it. It is understood tonight the leaders may allow it to go over until next winter, and thus another rock will be removed from the path of adjournment.

The public buildings appropriation bill was agreed upon finally in conference this afternoon, and the senate adopted the report. The house is expected to adopt it tomorrow. This leaves only the sundry civil, general deficiency and pension appropriation bills in conference, with matters in dispute which cannot delay adjournment. The publicity bill, which passed the senate yesterday with an amendment, has gone to the house, which is expected to accept the action of the senate, so that the bill may not reach the conference stage.

The house tomorrow plans to take up under special rule the cotton option bill, and after that the Appalachian bill, which would then be before both branches.

NEWS FORECAST

FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Washington D. C. June 25.—Ex-President Roosevelt is expected to attend the commencement exercises at Harvard University and the reunion of the class of '80, of which he was a member. While in New England he will be the guest of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and will doubtless meet a number of prominent public men, among them Attorney General Wickersham, who is to address the graduates of the Harvard Law School. The election of a United States senator, representatives in congress and governor and other state officials are involved in the general primary election to be held in North Dakota on Wednesday. As in other states of the middle west, the contest promises to be a battle royal between the "progressive" and "stalwart" factions of the republican party.

Four aspirants for the governorship of Vermont will contest for the nomination before the republican state convention in Montpelier. In Maine another interesting gubernatorial contest will be settled at the republican state convention on Wednesday. A military carnival which is expected to eclipse all previous affairs of its kind in the United States will open in Chicago Tuesday. An entire division of the United States army will be encamped in Grant Park and military maneuvers and spectacles will continue daily until July 14.

Towards the end of the week Boston will be invaded by a great army of teachers who will assemble from every part of the country for the annual convention of the National Educational Association. Preparations for the entertainment of the visitors are being made on an unusually elaborate scale and it is expected the convention will be the largest and most notable of the association.

The event of the week in aviation circles will be the world's contest at Montreal, while the attention of automobilists will be similarly centered on Indianapolis, where the national record races and the annual contest for the Cobe trophy will take place over the famous speedway course, beginning Friday.

An event of great interest to the Roman Catholic world is to take place in London Tuesday when the great cathedral at Westminster is to be formally consecrated. The event will be attended by imposing ceremonies lasting two days and in which eminent prelates from many parts of the world will take part.

A national conference of people who are interested in the welfare of children will begin Tuesday at Park University, Worcester, and continue for five days. Among the many persons of prominence interested in the movement are Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Robert M. LaFollette, Gifford Pinchot and Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver.

Other events which will figure more or less prominently in the news of the week will be the provincial elections in Alberta, the dedication of the Indiana monument on the battlefield of Antietam, the annual meeting of the American Library Association at Mackinac Island, the Empire rifle matches at Bisley, the Yale-Harvard boat race at New London, the meeting of the Southern Textile Association at Augusta, the annual observance of Dominion Day throughout Canada, and the annual convention in Pittsburg of the Federation of American Zionists.

CHIEF OF NATION ELATED

Sends Statement to Brother's Paper in Cincinnati Declaring Satisfaction Cincinnati, Ohio, June 23.—In a signed statement in the Times-Star, President Taft is quoted as follows: "Washington, June 23.—I am elated at the legislation which has been enacted by the congress. It has fulfilled the pledges of the party. It is a great satisfaction to me that we have accomplished so much. It has been the custom in the past to try to fulfill party pledges during the term of the president elected; we have secured what we set out to get during the first regular session of congress. "We now have the best railroad regulation law we have ever passed. The provisions for the supervision of capitalization were omitted, but this does not mean that they have been abandoned. Renewed effort to enact them will be made at the next session. "I think the party in power has enacted legislation that will inure to its benefit. It has kept its contract. The congress which is now closing its first-regular session, has done what it promised the people and the Republic-party has a good record to take to the people in the coming elections."

and a display of illustrations of mechanical devices requisite in the art of fine lace making. This sale offers an exceptional opportunity for economy purchases of durable fine laces of exquisite beauty. It will prove very interesting even to those not intending to purchase. Zion Laces, manufactured in the most modern lace factory in the world, are the best of their kind made—the best wash laces ever placed before the American women—and sold without a customs duty of 70% added to the cost, as are imported laces. All machines of Zion Lace Industries are and have been operating 18 hours daily, except Sunday, for over a year, with the product of each machine sold ahead several weeks. New machines are continually being installed. Women wanting laces for present or future use will experience a marked saving by visiting our lace counters.

ZION LACE INDUSTRIES, ZION CITY, ILLINOIS

ZION LACES and many interesting features in their manufacture are on exhibition in one of our show windows. This display is educational and every person should see it.

From 3,400 to 4,500 bobbins are required to thread one lace machine, besides the beam and warp, making a total—when the machine is threaded—of 13,000 threads in actual work. When a machine is fully threaded there are 6,700 miles of cotton on it, enough to reach from here to England and nearly back again.

See the illustrations of the various machines in operation—where they take in the thread and turn out the dainty, attractive laces—also skeins of yarns, yarn spools—pieces of lace just as they come from the machines. Especially interesting is the process of clipping, scalloping and separating. The exhibit is so unique and the values so unusual that a visit will be of material interest to you.

I have met that fussy pill plant on Eighth street, and say, the information is mine, that dump makes them all look an old maid at a mother's congress or a bunch of amateurs begging for car fare after the game, and in the matter of foam building and that soda water joke they have the others nine miles down the speedway with a bursted tire and a dead engine and in perfume and feature medicine they joy ride while the others count the ties.

Take it from me, lad, I am for the fussy one strong enough to pull a dray.

I beg to still be yours until Bugville ruins Chicago as a commercial center. BILL.

LOCAL NEWS BREVITIES

Parties who contemplate going away for their summer vacation had best take precaution to see that the water supplying their residences is securely cut off. A family in this city who returned from a six-weeks' trip to the Northeast found that during their absence the hydrant in the bathroom of their home was running at full tilt, and a reading of the meter showed that something like $40 worth of water which had done them no good whatever had passed through the pipes and on to the sewer. A plumber was called immediately, and the damaged pipe fixed. It is nothing uncommon for pipes to freeze and burst in cold, freezing weather, but it is a little bit unusual for the soldering which hold pipes or valves together to burst and start a flow of water through the pipes in weather like this.

Considerable excitement was caused on Scott avenue last night by three men in an open vehicle who drove swiftly southward on that street. Two of them were beating the third and those who saw the affair believe they killed him, though nothing can be learned to support this theory. The police believe that the third man was drunk and was being forcibly escorted home by the others.

Mrs. W. W. Man and daughters, Misses Amy and Eunice, of Stamford, arrived here at noon today in response to a message announcing the serious illness of Mrs. Man's daughter, Mrs. C. W. Morgan, Jr. The condition of Mrs. Morgan is reported as somewhat better this afternoon.

A negro is reported to have entered a saloon in the southeastern part of the city last night and attacked the bartender with a knife, slightly injuring him. He was knocked down by the negro porter of the saloon, and was later arrested.

Manager J. B. Marlow of the Wichita Theatre says that that popular place of amusement will open Monday night with a high-class vaudeville and moving picture show, and will continue open during the summer.

There will be a men's meeting tomorrow afternoon at the Young Men's Christian Association rooms. Rev. J. L. McKee will speak on "Contrary Winds," and a large attendance is desired by the association.

The burning of a telephone post, which was lying flat on the ground in the alley between 8th and 9th streets, was the cause of the fire alarm this morning.

Messrs. Noble and Henderson are understood to be contemplating the erection of a two-story brick building on 7th street between Indiana and Scott Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew B. Jenne, of 17th and Lamar were, made happy this morning by the arrival of a new baby boy.

BLIND SENATOR WINS VICTORY.

No Contract for Sale of Indian Lands Can Be Approved Until Further Action by Congress.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., June 25.—The action of the conference committee today on the proposal to modify provisions in the general deficiency bill was urged by Senator Gore and resulted in a victory for the blind senator of Oklahoma. The committee struck out all modifications and agreed to report the original provision of Senator Gore, which provides that no contract shall be approved regarding the sale of Indian lands until further action by congress. This ties up all fees, including those of Col. Cecil Lyon of Texas, whose name was mentioned in Senator Gore's speech yesterday, as well as that of McMurray.
