WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1910

NUMBER 41

WILL ADVERTISE WICHITA VALLEY

COMMERCIAL CLUBS PLAN TO GET TOGETHER TO EXPLOIT SECTION.

ARE TO ISSUE BOOKLET

Co-Operation of Burlington Will be Asked in Exploitation of the Country.

Plans for an advertising campaign to exploit the resources and advantages of the Wichita Falls country are under way and if carried out, the commercial clubs of the towns along that line, from Abilene to Wichita Falls, will unite in the preparation of literature for distribution among prospective immigrants.

This movement was started by the clubs at Haskell and Stamford and will probably be co-operated in by the organizations at Wichita Falls, Seymour, Munday, Anson, Abilene and the other communities on the Valley. It is proposed to prepare a booklet, allowing each town about five pages of space, setting forth the advantages and resources of each community in detail and the Valley country in general. The co-operation of the Burlington system, which owns the Wichita Valley railway, will be asked both in preparing the booklet and in distributing it advantageously after it is published.

The secretaries of the clubs affected will meet at Haskell on July 9 to complete the plans for the campaign. It is not proposed to form an association of any kind, but merely to get the towns together so that the advertising may be cheaper and yet more effective. The soil and conditions of the Valley do not vary very widely between Wichita Falls and Abilene and the general agricultural situation is the same along the line. It is probable that Wichita Falls will participate in the movement.

MACKAY ON STAND IN CASE PENDING IN THE DISTRICT COURT TODAY

Alexander MacKay, the co-plaintiff in the suit now pending in the district court, styled Murdo MacKenzie and Alexander MacKay vs. P. Swenson and Swan Swenson, has occupied the stand since early yesterday afternoon and at noon today the direct examination had not been completed.

Mr. MacKay's testimony dealt with his successful efforts to purchase the Espuela property from its former owners. It was formerly owned by a stock company, with headquarters in England, and some of the stockholders were opposed to its sale, but he was able to consummate the sale at a price of five dollars per acre for the land and twenty dollars per head for the cattle. Four hundred and twenty-eight thousand acres of land and thirty thousand head of cattle were involved, the transaction representing about $2,740,000. Cross examination had not begun up to noon today. Mr. MacKay will probably occupy the stand the remainder of today and part of tomorrow.

SPECTATORS AT FIGHT WILL BE SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS—FIGHT GOSSIP

By Associated Press. Reno, Nev., June 30.—The announcement of the appointment of Charlie White of New York, as Jeffries' choice to fill the position of alternative referee has created discussion. Rickard is not giving the slightest heed to the debate and says: "There is absolutely nothing in the appointment except as a protection against an accident. I am referee, and I might break my neck, or lose my voice answering questions."

As yet there has no great amount of Johnson money come forward, even at the tempting odds of ten to six and ten to seven. There is no great amount of Jeffries money in sight, however.

Nothing remains to be done to the arena but to fix the planks for the remaining benches. Every man that enters the arena Monday will be searched for weapons.

MOUNTED OFFICER ADDED TO FORCE

CITY PROVIDES FOR BETTER POLICE PROTECTION DURING NIGHT.

IS NOW WELL EQUIPPED

Eight Policemen on Force and Order in the City is Now Easily Maintained.

Wichita Falls' police force is to be on a much more metropolitan plane after today, with the addition of a mounted officer to the minions of the law. A horse was obtained this morning and equipped with a saddle for the use of officers in responding to night calls. Heretofore all night calls for officers have been answered by a policeman on foot after the cars stopped running and by the time he arrived on the scene of action the trouble was usually over. Hereafter the night policemen can mount the horse, which is to be kept in a stall at the city hall, and quickly respond to any calls that may be made.

The police force has been increased recently, not through any necessity arising from the city's misbehavior, but on account of the requirements of the new insurance law. There are now eight policemen on day and night duty, and the city is much better patrolled and order more easily maintained. The addition of the mounted officer will give the city a police force that will be amply adequate for its needs and that will furnish sufficient protection for the residence section, as well as the business district.

MAKING ANALYSES OF WICHITA WATER

SAMPLES HAVE BEEN SENT TO STATE CHEMIST FOR EXAMINATION BY HIM.

CITY COUNCIL'S ACTION

Reply of Official is Awaited Here With Considerable Interest.

Alderman J. F. Reed, at the request of the city council, is having an analysis made of the water furnished by the water company, with a view to determining its chemical properties. Samples of the water have been sent to G. S. Frapp, state chemist at College Station and a reply is expected at an early date.

Two samples of the water were sent this official, one being an ordinary sample drawn from the pipes, which will be tested chemically. The other, taken from the ditch just before it enters the settling basins at the plant, will be tested for foreign substances. This result of the analysis is awaited with considerable interest, as the question of the nature of the Wichita water has been a much-mooted one. The company officials are not afraid of the result and are confident that it will show the water to be satisfactory.

TEXAS WEDDING COSTS LESS THAN OKLAHOMA'S; PRICES RAISED THERE

According to a report received here the price of marriage licenses in Oklahoma has been raised from two to three dollars and the couple in that state that decides to become one will hereafter be forced to dig an additional plank for the price of a ticket to the ministers. Wichita Falls, which has always been a sort of Green for prospective brides and grooms, is given an added advantage, for the county clerk never thinks of charging more than a dollar for a license and almost any girl ought to have a dollar. In Oklahoma a couple can now pay railroad fare to Wichita Falls, buy a license for a dollar and get married and still get through at less expense than they could in Oklahoma. Business is expected to pick up around the court house as a result of the increased prices in Oklahoma.

TWO INCH RAINFALL EAST OF THE CITY

THAT SECTION VISITED BY UNUSUALLY HEAVY PRECIPITATION, YESTERDAY.

LIGHT SHOWERS LOCALLY

Northwest Texas Has Fared Well on Rain Precipitation During the Past Week.

This section was visited yesterday afternoon by the heaviest rains that have fallen here in six years, two inches of precipitation being recorded at points a few miles east of the city. This morning large pools of water are standing in that neighborhood and for several hours after the rain ceased last night the country was one big shallow lake. It was the heaviest rain known in this country since 1894, when the lake dam was endangered. So far as learned no damage was done by the rain beyond the rendering of the roads almost impassable. The rain was heaviest from three to six miles west of the city.

Rain also fell less heavily through Wichita county. Locally, there was a light shower yesterday afternoon and another this morning, nothing being heavy enough to do much more than lay the dust. Heavy rains are reported from points on the Wichita Falls and Northwestern north of Mangum, and showers south of the latter point. Points north on the Denver report numerous showers, but no heavy rains.

Northwest Texas has fared well in the matter of rain during the past week, showers being numerous and beneficial. Yesterday's rain east of the city was the only very heavy rain in this section. No measurement of the rainfall was taken, but it is estimated at close to two inches.

Mr. Bullock's Rejoinder to Judge Yeager

The Times:

Our honorable county judge gets frantic because I gave without comment his record in the matter of holding a prohibition election in Wichita county last fall, and indulges in some harsh language.

But he only denies one of the statements made by me, therefore the balance at least must be true.

He says he did not tell me he would call a meeting of the court just as soon as the two years expired if we secured the necessary signatures to the petition and asked for the meeting. I say emphatically that he did so state to me personally on two occasions that he would do so.

But fearing he would forget what he had said or that he might change his mind and to keep the matter fresh before him, I wrote him a letter saying a petition was ready and asking him to make the call for December 15, which was the first day on which it could be legally done. We were anxious to have the election just as soon as it could be legally held and before the new poll tax payments went into effect. When called upon and told that the petition bearing 520 names was ready, Judge Yeager acknowledged having received my letter, but said he had already called the court for January 8. Knowing I was chairman of the pro committee, why didn't he, after receiving my letter, step down stairs into the assessor's office or write me, saying he was going to call the court for January 8? That would have at least been courteous.

Was this call made to try to carry water on both shoulders, or to give the anti a chance to have the election after February 1? Although it was understood at the time that Judge Yeager claimed to be a pro, I think it is reasonable to infer from his actions that he did not want an election at any time, and if forced to have it wanted it after February 1.

He said to Judge Carrigan and myself it would be fairer to both sides and better to have it after February 1, and that it would secure additional poll tax money, and we told him that was no good reason because it would add less than $100 to the county treasury—as for myself I don't see how a man who was thought to be a pro could measure a moral question by dollars and cents.

Judge Yeager is responsible for this question being revived. In his canvass for county judge when he meets a pro he says the pro committee was to blame and tries to leave the impression it was our fault—he told at least one pro that "he was just as well satisfied at that time as he was now there was a quorum present," but when asked in court by Mr. McCleskey if a quorum was present he fumbled with a law book and did not answer as he should have done if he had known, because Mr. McCleskey was a member of the court. I was charitable enough to say I supposed he did not know. If he is guiltless why does he have to explain his conduct? To refresh his memory I thought it best on behalf of the pro committee to again state the facts (which I did) so that every one would know just where to place the blame.

Judge Yeager is not a bad man. His inclinations and intentions are to do right, but sometimes he lacks that firmness and decision of character required in a man holding the position he does.

Every statement I have made as to his actions is absolutely true, and I submit that they are not in keeping with his position as county judge. He says I was worsted in my first encounter with the anti committee. Why not state the facts and say with the commissioners court? It ought not to take a lawyer to present a simple petition to the commissioners court asking for a local option election. The process is so plain and easy that a ten-year-old boy ought to be able to do it.

The county judge, when told the petition was ready, if the two years was up, ought to have (as urged to do by Judge Carrigan and myself) promptly called the court together and not be forced to do so by the signatures of three members of the court to a request; and every member of the court when he came to the county seat should have been at the court house at the hour set, examined the petition, and if it was legal ordered the election as required by law. It is strange that the two letters dated December 14 and sent to the court house on December 15 both said they were opposed to an election on account of the holidays, and now Judge Yeager says something about the same thing.

What I want to know is what Mr. Thomas and Mr. Burnett came to town for, anyway. Why not act like men and meet our responsibilities as such?

The pro committee wanted this election and thought of course we would get it. We felt then and do now, that we were buncoed out of it by the court. I have the literature in envelopes now in my possession already addressed, sealed and stamped, ready to be sent out to the voters the moment it was ordered. I doubt very much whether the petition could have been presented if we had tried, because I now have reason to believe that an effort that would doubtless have been successful would have been made to adjourn the court if we had offered to proceed. I know if we could have secured an election it would have caused a bitter contest if we had won and prohibitionists are not willing to hold an election of a doubtful character.

After a brief consultation of every member of the pro committee except two, believing the court was determined not to give us an election until after February 1, we decided it would strengthen our cause to call the election off.

But why all this beating about the bush by the Judge and part of the court? We need a county judge and a Commissioners' Court who will not squirm and dodge, but "do their duty though the heavens fall." The action of the court brought ridicule on our county and its officers from the press in various parts of Texas.

When the wishes of 520 citizens are spurned and set at naught we are not a self-governing people, but are bordering on anarchy.

W. J. BULLOCK.

Noted Botanist 93 Years Old
London June 30.—Sir Joseph Hooker, the world-famous botanist, received a personal note of congratulation from King George today on the occasion of his ninety-third birthday. Sir Joseph, who is still remarkably active for a man of his great age, has had a long and brilliant career in his chosen field of science. As early as 1839 he accompanied the expedition of Sir James Ross to the Antarctic region. Later he conducted scientific expeditions to many parts of the world, including eastern Bengal, the Himalayas, the Khasia Mountains, Morocco and the Greater Atlas, New Zealand, Ceylon, and California and the Rocky Mountain region of North America. In the course of his active career he rendered invaluable service to the British arts, manufactures and commerce by promoting an accurate knowledge of the floras and economic vegetable products of the various colonies and dependencies of the empire.

Lives Thrown Away
The memorial tablet in the Harvard Union bears the names of twelve Harvard men who lost their lives in the war of 1898. The remarkable thing is that not one of them was killed or fatally injured in action. A. died of disease, most of them from typhoid fever.

Fifty years ago this would not have been strange; then typhoid infection was not understood as it is now, or as it was in 1908. But in 1898 the knowledge possessed by physicians had made little impression on officers or men even in the regular service.

With the volunteers the case was far worse. In some camps arrangements for spreading the disease could not have been better made if that had been the intention, but the chief cause of its prevalence was the lack of efficient discipline intelligently applied. In the whole Cuban war few men were killed, but a great number perished from disease that was mostly preventable.—Hartford Times.

SUMMER HAIR DRESSING

Ask O. F. Marchman for Parisian Sage, If You Want the Best

Almost everybody in Wichita Falls knows that there is no preparation for the hair that can compare with Parisian Sage.

It cures dandruff, stops falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

It puts radiance and lustre into that dull, lifeless hair that many women possess, and does it in a few days.

It makes hair grow; prevents hair from turning gray and is without doubt the most refreshing and invigorating hair tonic in the world.

It is daintily perfumed and is not in the least sticky or greasy.

In summer, people of refinement use it regularly, because it keeps the scalp cool and free from odor or perspiration.

On March 25, 1910, Lulu D. Fix, of Raphine, Va., wrote: "Parisian Sage is a wonderful hair restorer; it stopped my hair from falling out and stopped my scalp from itching; also cured the dandruff. I only used one bottle, but I like it so much I am going to use more."

Parisian Sage is sold by druggists everywhere and by O. F. Marchman Drug Co., for 50 cents a large bottle. Mail orders filled, charges prepaid, by American makers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS

Hitchcock Will Inaugurate Them as Rapidly as Possible

Washington, June 28.—Postmaster General Hitchcock declares that he will push as rapidly as possible the organization of the postal savings bank system. He added, however, that he did not believe it would be feasible to establish any depositories for some months.

The postmaster general, the secretary of the treasury and the attorney general, who compose the board of trustees which has charge of the establishment of these depositories, will hold their first meeting tomorrow.

Every effort will be made, according to Mr. Hitchcock, to try out the proposition as soon as possible at a few offices. The postmaster general has appointed a committee of departmental officers to prepare such blank forms and instructions as will be needed in getting the system started. The postal administration of all foreign countries which have savings banks have been requested by the department to submit samples of their blank forms and copies of their regulations and instructions.

The way the Times views it, the democratic party of Texas went on record as favoring a settlement of state-wide prohibition by a vote of the entire people of the state. As the democratic is the dominant party of the state, it was right that it should demand a settlement of that vexed question, giving every qualified voter in the state a chance to express himself. So far as the Times is aware, the party has not yet reversed its attitude on that matter, and notwithstanding that the legislature failed and refused to carry out the demands of the party two years ago, democratic voters will again be given an opportunity to reiterate their demand to have the question of state-wide prohibition settled once for all by a vote of the people. The Times, being a democratic newspaper first, considers that it is bound by the last democratic platform to support submission, and until the party reverses its action of two years ago, it will continue to favor submission. On July 23rd, every democratic voter in the state, for the second time, will be given an opportunity to vote for or against submission, and in the event a majority of the voters vote against submission, the Times will consider the matter settled, so far as the democratic party is concerned. Until the party reverses itself on that matter, however, the Times will continue in the future, as in the past, to favor a settlement of the question by submitting it to a vote of the entire people of the state. Those who believe that platform demands of the party are binding from one convention to the next, and who are democrats, will on July 23rd vote for submission, and those who don't, will vote against it.

The man who tries to make the world believe that he is several notches higher up in the scale of respectability and financial standing than he really is, is a fool. He is a fool because he is not.

ing when he must show his hand. He may keep his banker in the dark, and win the favor of society and of the church, but unless he has nothing better than a fictitious credit, the public will find him out. Nothing is more creditable to a man or woman than to be what they are. Nobody likes a sham. Simplicity paid for is better than the frills of vanity and pride on a credit. Fine clothes and splendid homes and summer trips are all right if they are in keeping with one's life, but to be and appear something that we are not is insincerity personified. Our friends will think better of us, society will entertain a deeper regard for us, and the banker will have more respect for our credit if our bearing has the stamp of genuineness. Let's be what we are.—Eagle Lake Headlight.

HISTORY AT FAULT.

It has been said that the name and deeds of Napoleon Bonaparte fill more pages of the world's solemn history than the achievements of any other man. As a mighty man of war, a leader of the valiant soldier of fair France, and the dashing commander of its brave heroes as ever endured the hell of strife and carnage, or faced the musketry of opposing armies, Napoleon stands alone, a figure of colossal proportions against the sodden background of recorded history. In other centuries, other commanders and generals waged wars and their achievements, the battles they fought and the carnage they provoked, find due recordance in every common school history extant. Reading the annals of historians, one is constrained to believe that the past has been one eternal siege of battle, one continued round of struggle and bloodshed.

And yet, such is far from being true. The progress made by the various peoples since the dark ages, say, has been accomplished largely in times of peace. Art, literature, invention and manufacture received impetus during the temporary lulls, when human minds turned from things martial to matters of peace and pursuits other than that of taking life and making crimson with blood fields that should be made gorgeous with useful vegetation. The deeds of peace are no less renowned than those of war, but being less dramatic, were not set down fully by the historians.

Battlefields alone do not make a nation mighty, even in war. But the genius, heroism and love of country inherent in the farmers, mechanics and tradesmen of the land constitute a bulwark of protection that shields the nation far better than armored ships, or paid soldiery. And the time may come when the millions of toilers who conduct the business of the world, and see to its continued progress will be recognized by the historians, even as the deeds of the warriors have been sung in the past.—Ballinger Ledger.

$15,000,000 SPENT FOR AUTOS

$18,000,000 for Land Purchases—Surplus Money from Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri

St. Joseph, Mo., June 28.—Fifteen million dollars spent for autos and more than $18,000,000 sent elsewhere for the purchase of land tell what the west is doing with some of its money, according to information compiled by Graham G. Lacey, a banker of this city, who has obtained replies to a series of questions addressed to more than 600 bankers in Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Iowa.

Reports from 251 banks showed that approximately $18,000,000 had gone out of their section for the purchase of lands in other states and 234 banks reported that a heavy amount had gone out of their section for such purposes, but they could not give an exact estimate. For autos 427 banks report that a total of $15,000,000 has been spent. Out of 629 reports received, 293 stated that agricultural conditions were good; the remainder reported conditions as only fair.

A good wheat crop was reported by 20 per cent of replies, fair by 28 per cent and bad by 42 per cent.

Fifty-one reported that the banks were carrying more real estate loans for their customers at this time than they were carrying a year ago. "One of the features of these replies was the fact that the country bankers have begun to put a curbing hand upon land speculation and other extravagancy."

GOV. SANDERS MAY SEEK TO SUCCEED McENERY

It is Generally Conceded He Can Have Toga if He Announces His Candidacy

Baton Rouge, La., June 29.—Following the news of the death of United States Senator McEnery today political leaders are gathering here tonight to discuss the situation. It is generally conceded that Governor Sanders will be elected if he announces his candidacy. It has been generally known for some time that Governor Sanders aspired to such honors, but it was understood that he promised that he would never be a candidate as long as Louisiana was represented in the senate by his friends, Senators Foster and McEnery.

The vacancy having occurred while the legislature is in session it is incumbent upon the members of the assembly to fill it. This brought about the general understanding today that following the adjournment, which was taken out of respect to the memory of the late Senator McEnery, Governor Sanders will be sent to the senate and that Lieutenant Governor Lambrecht would become governor.

Tonight some of the leaders who have arrived here are talking that Sanders should not stand for the short term, which expires in 1915, but should serve out his term as governor and become a candidate for the long term.

The Times is authorized to announce Mr. W. H. Daugherty as a candidate for the office of county tax collector, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held on July 23. Mr. Daugherty announces his candidacy for this office on the presumption that after the result of the 1910 census is made known it will give Wichita county a population that will divorce the office of collector of county taxes from that of sheriff, which now constitutes but one office. He has been a resident of Wichita Falls for the past twenty years, during which time he has been engaged in the newspaper and job printing business, and is well qualified to fill the office to which he aspires. The Times takes pleasure in presenting his claims for the consideration of Democratic voters on July 23, and at the general election to be held in November.

VIRGINIA SENATOR DIED LAST NIGHT--IS TO BE BURIED NEXT FRIDAY

Lynchburg, Sept. 2, 1842; and that place had ever since been his home. On Nov. 24, 1869, he married Julia Elizabeth Murrell, daughter of Dr. E. H. Murrell of this city, who, with four children, survives.

His education was received in Lynchburg schools and his law course was taken after the Civil War at the University of Virginia.

He practiced his profession with his father until the elder Daniel's death in 1873. In recent years Senator Daniel's son, E. M. Daniel, and son-in-law, Fred Harper, were associated in the practice of law with him.

Entering the Confederate army as second lieutenant of the Stonewall Brigade in May, 1861, he was wounded in the first battle of Manassas. Soon thereafter he became second lieutenant of Company A, Eleventh Virginia Infantry, and afterward was first lieutenant and then adjutant of his regiment.

After being wounded he was promoted to major and chief of staff of Gen. J. A. Early, serving until crippled in the Wilderness, May 6, 1864. It was said by every eyewitness that Mafor Daniel was wounded almost immediately after he had rescued Gen. Robert E. Lee from a very perilous position.

He served in the Virginia House of Delegates from 1869 to 1872 and the state senate from 1875 to 1881, being a state senator when he was named for governor in 1881 on the Democratic ticket, to be defeated by William E. Cameron. In 1884 he was elected to the house of representatives in the Forty-Ninth congress and before that term expired was elected United States senator from term beginning March 4, 1881, succeeding William Mahone. He was re-elected three times, twice without opposition. In January last he was re-elected for the term expiring in 1917, but was physically unable to go to Richmond as was his custom to express publicly his appreciation.

LOWERING OF FIRE INSURANCE.

Full Text of Order Issued by the Board Making a Twenty-Five Per Cent Cut in the Rates.

Following is a full text of the order of the fire insurance board, lowering the present fire insurance rates, as printed by the Austin Statesman of the 29th inst.:

The fire rating board yesterday announced its decision on the hearing held all of last week on the question of reducing fire insurance rates in Texas, which decision provides for a material reduction in the present rates where the specific schedules have been applied. The board made greater reductions than had been anticipated, and finding that the present rates as promulgated by the insurance companies are unreasonably high. The greatest reduction made by the board is on mercantile risks, about which there had been so much complaint. On this character of risks a horizontal reduction of 25 per cent is made. Of all special hazards a reduction of 15 per cent is made. The maximum rate on brick dwellings was reduced from 66 cents to 50 cents, which includes the contents therein. A reduction from 15 to 5 cents is made in the charge for each additional ground floor occupant of a brick building. On the whole the board believes that this reduction from the present rates will prove satisfactory to the complainants. The companies are required to file amended general basis schedules on or before July 5th, at which time the reduced rates become effective. The complainants wanted every rate which had been reduced to stay reduced and every rate which had been increased to stay increased, and the board claims that to comply with such a request would be rank discrimination. The reductions ordered by the board are to be made from the specific rates now in force in many of the larger cities of the state.

The full text of the decision of the board as follows:

Upon consideration of the evidence before this board relative to the general basis schedules and the specific schedules of rates which have heretofore been filed by fire insurance companies, respectively, with this board, and the application of such rates to insurable property in this state, it is considered, adjudged and held by the board that, except as hereinafter stated, and at least in the respects and to the extent hereinafter indicated, such rates are excessive and unreasonably high. It is therefore hereby ordered and directed by this board that, except as hereinafter stated, each of said fire insurance companies shall, on or before Tuesday, the 5th day of July, 1910, publish and file with this board, in accordance with law, to become effective upon the date of such filing, such amendments of its aforesaid general basis schedules as shall provide for reductions of rates thereunder, as follows, to-wit:

First—Amend page 47 of said general-basis schedules of such company so as to establish for "B" dwellings and contents in cities and towns a maximum basis rate not exceeding 50 cents.

Second—Amend page 21 of such general basis schedules of such company so as to reduce from 15 cents to 5 cents the charge for each additional ground-floor occupant of a brick building.

Third—Amend said general basis schedules of such company so as to make on all mercantile risks covered by ages 21 to 46, both inclusive, thereof, a horizontal reduction of 25 per centum of the final specific rate thereon, after it shall have been reduced in accordance with the above and foregoing paragraphs of this order in so far as may be applicable.

Fourth—Amend such general basis schedules of such company so as to make on all special hazards covered by pages 63 to 230, both inclusive thereof, a horizontal reduction of 15 per centum the final specific schedules rate thereon, after it shall have been reduced in accordance with the above and foregoing paragraphs of this order in so far as the same may be applicable.

This order shall not apply to the American Druggists' Fire Insurance company of Cincinnati, Ohio, nor to the Lumber Insurance company of New York, N. Y., nor to the Adirondack Fire Insurance company of New York, N. Y., each of which companies has filed with this board general basis schedules which are essentially different from the general basis schedules which have been so filed by all other fire insurance companies, which said schedules of said above named companies will receive the further consideration of this board, which does not now determine whether the rates of said companies, respectively, are, or are not, reasonable.

This order is made without prejudice to the right of this board to make, under notices heretofore given, and all such other and further orders as to it may seem right and proper in the premises.

Making it Up With Taft.

Senator Jonathan Bourne Jr., of Oregon, who is one of the president's favorite companions at golf, did all he could to prevent Mr. Taft's nomination, because he wanted Theodore Roosevelt to serve another term in the White House. Bourne is the man who rushed up and down this broad land with the cry that Roosevelt should serve, because his actual third term would be only his "second election term."

After he had lost his fight at Chicago and Taft had been nominated, Bourne went to Washington to see the next president. He walked into Mr. Taft's office and looked him over carefully.

"Taft," he said in a cordial way, "I like yur looks, and we're going to be friends. I did a lot of work to keep Roosevelt in the White House, but you'll do. Let's play a game of golf this afternoon."

"All right," said Taft; "I'm on."—The Popular Magazine.

Serenade

Have thy springtime ere it fade!
Never shall it come again.
What is man but meant for maid?
What are maids but meant for men?
April holds for lovers' play
But her thrice ten days and nights;
Take them, or they'll change to May—
Few at most be thy delights.

Youth's a friend while winks the eye,
Time doth robe the high and low,
Kings must kiss their spring goodby,
Princes meet the winter snow.

Thine and mine be this safe hour;
Thee and me O let it bless
With a memory that shall flower
In tomorrow's wilderness.
—Owen Wister in Harper's Monthly.

Hinds Named for Congress

Portland, Me., June 30.—A spirited political contest culminated today in the nomination of Asher C. Hinds, the parliamentary clerk of the national house of representatives, by the Republicans of the First Maine district, to succeed Congressman Amos L. Allen, who declined to run for another term on account of ill health. Mr. Hinds' opponent for the Republican nomination was Col. Frederick Hale, son of United States Senator Eugene Hale.

South Dakota's New Capitol

Pierre S. D. June 30.—In conjunction with the South Dakota conservation congress now in session here interesting exercises were held today to mark the formal dedication of the new state capitol. The participants included the governor and former governors of the state, the judges of the supreme court, the South Dakota representatives in congress and a number of distinguished visitors from Minnesota, North Dakota and other neighboring states.

Librarians in Conference

Mackinac Island, Mich., June 30.—The members of the American Library Association, including prominent librarians from many parts of the United States and Canada, have gathered here for their annual convention, the sessions of which will continue until July 6. The Bibliographical Society of America is holding its annual meeting in conjunction with the library association.

American Farmers are Getting Wise.

They have discovered the truth of the old adage that "A stitch in time saves nine," which, applied to the business of farming, means that it's a lot cheaper in the long run to have good barns, granaries and other outbuildings on the place than to put up with the rickety, makeshift affairs that some farmers used to think good enough.

Don't you say you can't afford needed improvements till you know what these improvements would cost. Come in and let us tell you the cost of the material for any new building you want.

If there is a man in or near this city by the name of A. Wilson he will find it to his interest to write Dr. J. H. Moore on Iberia, Mo, in a letter to this paper under date of the 28th, Dr. Moore says: "Some time back I received a copy of your paper and noticed the name of A. Wilson in it, but I lost the paper and I wish to ask if there is a man in your place by name of A. Wilson. Some years ago a man by name of Alex Wilson, a stockman, resided here. He left; no one knows where he went; have heard he went to Texas. The man Wilson I refer to is aged near 60 or 62, dark complexion. It may be that he has a grown-up family, as I think it was in the early 70's he left here. Went off with a drove of mules and has never been heard of for certain. I have information of importance for the party Wilson."

Mr. A. H. Graves, district manager for the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company, with headquarters in this city, has tendered his resignation and same has been accepted. Laney succeeds Mr. Graves as district manager of the Southwestern in this city. Mr. Graves made himself very popular and The Times joins with other friends in wishing for him a full measure of success and prosperity in his new home.
