MEXICAN SITUATION IS SOMEWHAT CLEARED UP

PRESIDENT TAFT GIVES FURTHER ASSURANCE TO DIAZ AS TO ARMY MOVE.

WILL BREAK GRADUALLY

Cavalry Regiments Will Be on Duty Guarding Frontier of the State.

Washington, March 14.—The past day has been one of greatest development in the American-Mexican situation since the United States awoke Tuesday morning to find 20,000 troops ordered to Texas, besides a division of the Atlantic fleet and a division of the Pacific fleet, together with several regiments of marines, ordered out for immediate service within striking distance of Mexico.

These developments tend to nullify the whole spectacular military demonstration and makes it now probable that there will be either an invasion of Mexico or a threat of invasion.

President Taft yesterday reassured the Mexican Government that the mobilization in Texas, is not for the purpose of invasion of Mexico and for any purpose, and he expressed deepest regrets that the mobilization should have been construed as a step toward invasion or as a threat of invasion.

On the other hand, the Mexican Government and the great commercial interests appear to have received some assurance as to the Presidential succession in Mexico in the event of the death of President Diaz. This assurance is believed to provide for the succession of either Foreign Minister Creel or Finance Minister Limantour, probably Mr. Creel by reason of his Mexican nativity and his connections with old and powerful Mexican families.

There is just the faintest suggestion on this point in an interview given by Mr. Limantour in New York, in which he points out that if the Mexican Vice President should not succeed to the office, a cabinet officer would.

In the view of this situation the following important developments of the day as learned at the departments and from diplomatic sources become more readily understood.

The order for naval vessels to take station at various Mexican ports has been rescinded and the vessels are ordered to exchange stations with other vessels at Panama and in Central American waters.

There will be no mobilization of a second army division and of the militia.

The powerful concentration at San Antonio is to be gradually broken up by stringing the cavalry regiments along the entire Mexican frontier, Calexico, Cal., to Brownsville, Texas.

The demonstration of forces will end finally in a real maneuver on a grand scale next May if the forces are held in Texas that long, and are to be attended by Secretary of War Dickinson and the entire general staff, headed by Gen. Wood, maybe.

The postponement of Gen. Wood's trip to Texas until May is regarded as equivalent to tabling a motion indefinitely.

Other developments in harmony with the clarification of the situation are these:

The State Department has notified the War Department that provisions shall be regarded as a command of war and the military patrol on the border will hereafter not only prevent the smuggling of arms, but also of food, for the revolutionists. It must be known, however, that the provisions are intended solely for the revolutionists.

The State Department has learned that Dr. Madero, father of Francisco Madero, the revolutionary promoter, and Gustav Madero, the New York representative, has taken active steps to induce his sons to give up the fight against Diaz. He has remained loyal to the Diaz Government and he has been in conference with Senator Limantour, the Mexican Finance Minister in New York.

The program for the suppression of the Mexican insurrection along new and vigorous lines provides for forces of soldiers along the trunk lines to keep open railway communication and forcing of the insurgents back from the railway towns into the hills, where it is expected that their supplies of ammunition and provisions will soon become exhausted.

On the American side the army of officers are to enforce a vigorous campaign against insurgents, armed or unarmed, crossing the border, and are to seize all provisions intended for the insurgents as contraband.

At the same time every pressure possible is being brought to bear upon the Madero leaders to call off the insurrection.

The latest information from the frontier is a message to the Department of Justice from a Deputy United States Marshal at Progreso, Texas, stating that a force of 600 rebels today began an attack on Ojima, Mexico, opposite Progreso.

It is definitely learned here that President Diaz's affliction is an advanced stage of arterial sclerosis, which may end fatally from undue excitement or speedily extend to the brain and thus incapacitate him for his heavy task of government.

In Case Two Weeks.

Washington, D. C. March 14.—The War Department says that the Texas army may remain in the present camps for at least two weeks.

Brigades Must March.

San Antonio, Tex., March 14.—All brigades here must march in formation to Leon Spring, twenty miles distant. This test will take place soon. It rained here today but the soldiers experienced little discomfort.

A clash between local officers and members of the Ninth cavalry, negroes, was only averted by the prompt action of the negro under officers in seizing an obnoxious drunken cavalryman and placing him under guard.

When one of the special trains carrying the troops stopped here this afternoon the negro cavalrymen swarmed into the saloon near the station. One of the negroes who arrived at this oasis carrying a fair-sized jag announced his importance by kicking in a show case in a barroom, following which he strode into the street, where he was seized by Constable Pickett and forced to go back into the saloon and pay for the damage he had done. He was then taken in charge by the under officers of his company and hauled aboard the train in being lifted up the steps the negro struck a white brakeman. By this time the train was in motion, but the brakeman stopped the train and started after the negro but was restrained by white officers of the troops who assured him that the negro would be properly punished.

TAFT PLAYS GOLF AT COUNTRY CLUB

Report President Signed Pardon For Charles W. Morse Is a Denied Fact.

Augusta, Ga., March 14.—President Taft was early yesterday on the links of the Country Club and played the full eighteen-hole course. Secretary Norton also went over the course with three friends from Chicago.

Reports from New York today said that President Taft would sign today a pardon for Charles W. Morse, the convicted banker serving a term of fifteen years in the Federal prison at Atlanta. They were entirely erroneous. The President has not so much as glanced at the papers in the Morse case and these papers are exceptional.

There is little likelihood of an action in either the Morse or Walsh cases until after Mr. Taft returns to Washington next week. The papers were brought along to be gone over if the President might feel so disposed.

The most favorable recommendation of the friends of Mr. Morse have expected is a commutation of sentence for two years' imprisonment. This commuted the banker's term would not expire for several years.

FEAR IS FELT FOR AMERICAN PRISONERS

By Associated Press. El Paso, Tex., March 14.—Much anxiety is felt here for the fate of the fifteen American prisoners at Casas Grandes, who it is asserted have already been executed. ## NEGOTIATIONS FOR MEXICAN RECIPROCITY

MATTER BEING CONSIDERED BY PRESIDENT TAFT AND THE DIAZ REGIME.

PROTESTS FROM EUROPE

Objections That Are Sure to Come Are Subject of Careful Consideration by Officials.

Washington, March 14.—An indication of the present relations between the United States and Mexico can be gleaned from the fact that President Taft and the Diaz regime have begun negotiations for a tariff reciprocity agreement which it is hoped will benefit the trade of both countries.

The Mexican tariff law has made it hard for that Government to make special concessions to the United States, but a way out of the difficulty is now being considered.

From official sources comes the news that representatives of the State Department first brought the question of reciprocity to the attention of Senator Don Ambassador Leon Dan La Barra, the Mexican Ambassador, some months ago. The tariff laws of Mexico contain the most favored Nation clause in the tariff arrangement with other countries, and if the United States were to get more preference rates it would doubtless bring down a storm of protest from Europe.

This is the difficulty under which Mexico is now laboring.

Imports from Mexico for the year, 1910 amounted to $68,795,843. Exports to Mexico amounted to $58,193,704.

$300,000.00 DAMAGE

Fire Started From Cooking Breakfast in One of the Livestock Barns.

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Tex., March 14.—Nearly one thousand head of horses, mules, sheep, hogs and goats were burned to death in a fire which swept the horse and mule barns and the hog and sheep pens in the Fort Worth livestock yards on the south side of Exchange Avenue from Marine Creek to the Swift packing plant. Four farmhouse horse and mule sales barns owned by private interests and four acres of covered stock pens were burned in the fire which swept with terrific rapidity through the barns and under the roofed pens. In this district all the buildings are of wood and the roofed pens of soft pine burned as if in a furnace with a strong draft.

Fortunately only a small number of sheep and hogs for slaughter had been unloaded when the fire started at about eight thirty o'clock and most of these were driven out onto the railroad track before the flames reached them.

The firemen continued their efforts to prevent the spread of the flames to the Swift packing plant and the cattle sheds and the auditorium and the Stock Exchange building on the other side of the street.

It is impossible to estimate the number of animals burned this afternoon but it is certain that the loss will exceed $300,000.

The greatest loss was in the horse and mule barns where many valuable horses on exhibition at the stock show now in progress here were stabled. Many of these were driven into the street and turned loose and are running at large so that it is not known how many were burned.

One of the most valuable horses burned was Kontas a stallion valued at $5,000 owned by Pollard and Farquhar of San Angelo. Two other horses valued at $1,900 each belonging to this firm were also burned.

At the time of the fire Armour & Company had two thousand hogs in their pens but through the heroic work of their employees and drivers fully seventy-five per cent of these hogs were driven out of the pens to safety.

SIGNIFICANCE OF ARMY MOVEMENT

THOUGHT TO BE OF A POLITICAL NATURE AND CONGRESS MAY TAKE HAND.

TO FORESTALL OUTBREAK

The Monroe Doctrine Mentioned And Its Meaning Is Given. Emphasis.

Washington, March 14.—There is a political significance in the mobilization of American forces on the Mexican border, which is recognized by democrats as of the utmost importance.

The possibility of a war of conquest which would make President Taft a war president and a popular hero, is looked upon here as by no means insignificant.

Every war this country has ever fought has given it one or more presidents. The revolution gave it Washington; the war of 1812 began the career of Andrew Jackson as leader, president and maker of presidents; the Mexican war made General Taylor president; the war between the States brought Grant to the White House; the Spanish war made the second election of McKinley inevitable and made Roosevelt his successor.

The question now agitating the people is that would a war now, ending with the conquest and occupation of Mexico, make President Taft a popular hero and assure his re-election.

This question is being asked by democrats and anti-administration republicans and is being discussed here with a zest and concern which clearly proves that the developments on the Mexican border are regarded as having a political significance in nowise secondary to their international importance.

In connection with this discussion, the belief is widely expressed, in quarters not friendly to the administration that the order for mobilization was carefully timed to have it take place during the recess of congress, and to surround it with as much mystery as possible. Mr. Taft's supporters indignantly deny that there is any political purpose in the move.

This concern which has developed about the politics of the situation already has made probable an effort, as soon as congress meets, to obtain more definite declaration of administration purposes, through congressional inquiry. Democratic policy on this point has not yet crystallized because so little is known of the facts. But the demand for a declaration of purpose, designed to forestall any outbreak of actual hostilities or any move of invasion, is regarded certain to be made immediately after congress meets April 4.

Interest in the Mexican situation tends to centralize about the Monroe doctrine. It is assumed on all sides that this doctrine must be maintained and that so far as foreign intervention in Mexico is concerned, it is our affair and not that of any European nation. Mature consideration brings skepticism as to the probability of any European intervention.

Mexico in spite of internal troubles, is not Haiti or Liberia. The experience of Maximilian, and the dismal failure of France and Austria in attempting to subjugate the much weaker Mexico, of fifty years ago, renders the idea of intervention by European nations as preposterous.

On the other hand, it is pointed out that the Monroe doctrine points toward the policy of our standing guard over Mexico while she settles her internal troubles.

The opinion is expressed here that if such a man as Andrew Jackson, Grover Cleveland or James G. Blaine were president of the United States they would say to the world at this time that Mexico is in trouble. That she may be weak, but she is settling the problem of democracy. That the United States will not intervene, but every man and every gun in the United States will stand in the way of intervention by foreign powers. They would say that we had our own civil war, and if Mexico is to be rent by internal conflict the United States will look on with sympathy, will help Mexico by every peaceful means, but we are not going to intervene and nobody else shall.

That is the old Monroe doctrine, which was laid down for the purpose of protecting Latin-America against such exigencies as this. When Monroe promulgated the doctrine all Latin-America was in the throes of revolution. Republics were being established from the straits of Magellan to the Rio Grande. European nations were looking at the weakened combatants with territorial greed in their eyes.

Monroe immortalized himself by laying down the doctrine that the United States, having just succeeded in a similar revolution, would fight to prevent European nations taking advantage of our Latin sisters.

Sentiment seems to be growing in the United States which may be expressed in the sentence: "No intervention on the part of the United States; no intervention on the part of Europe; no coercion of either faction in Mexico."

Some years ago Mr. Drago of the Argentine Republic laid down the celebrated Drago doctrine against the use of military force for the collection of debts. In the discussion of the Mexican situation it is pointed out that investments have been made in Mexico, as in other Latin-American countries, subject to the risk of revolution, and that the use of the military for the protection of investments violates the principle laid down by Drago, especially in view of the fact that damage to investments in Mexico up to date seems to be merely incidental to the revolution and that no purpose is shown by either insurgents or federals to attack property.

COTTON SEED OIL AND OLEOMARGARINE

The following has been sent the Times by the National Dairyman's Union:

"According to information furnished by the United States Department of Commerce and Labor, 33,497,909 gallons of cottonseed oil were produced in Texas in 1909. This was worth approximately $13,399,160. This is a considerable amount of money and the market which demands this product is an important one to the people of the state.

"This fact has led men who wish to see oleomargarine take the place of butter to make it appear that the manufacture of oleomargarine furnishes one of the greatest if not the greatest reasons for this market demand. But such is not the case. In fact the value of cottonseed oil used in the manufacture of this product is so little in comparison that it is not worthy of the least consideration, especially when the value of the dairy products of the state are considered.

"We do not have the statistics for 1909 but in 1908 the value of the cottonseed oil used in the manufacture of oleomargarine in this country was $400,458.42. The value of all the cottonseed oil produced in 1909 was approximately $63,331,400. This means that less than one per cent of the cottonseed oil sold was used in making oleomargarine.

"According to the Department report, Texas produced about 20 per cent of all the cottonseed oil produced in 1909. Using this figure for 1908 and we find that the value of the cottonseed oil used in oleomargarine returned to the cotton farmers of Texas is comparatively small amount of $9,891.68.

"According to figures compiled by the United States Department of Agriculture, the value of the butter produced in Texas in 1908 was $12,925,326, or for every dollar's worth of cottonseed oil used in making oleomargarine the cows of the state returned over $130 worth of dairy products.

"These are facts which the farmers of Texas should carefully consider before they lend their support to any movement which discourages dairying. An increase in the production of dairy products in Texas will be just 130 times of greater value than an increase in the production of oleomargarine. This is not even taking into consideration the value of dairying in building up the fertility of the soil, thus making the land more productive in growing cotton.

"The farmers of Texas should awake to the benefits of dairying and should use every legitimate means to foster and promote this important industry.

LATTIMORE HAS QUIT THE GAME

Paris, Texas, March 14.—"Tell the boys in Fort Worth, I won't be back my arm is gone," is the message "Wild Bill" Lattimore sends to the fans.

He denies every report that he will play in the Texas League this year. That his threat is sincere is evidenced by the fact that Latt has already taken steps to organize a semi-professional team in Paris. He expects to do the twirling with his "withered arm."

The real facts in the case are these: Bill is building up a paying clothing business in his native city and the pursuit of the dollar is growing so interesting that Latt won't give it up, even for the diamond.

He promises to pay Fort Worth several visits this spring and will pull for the Panthers to win the pennant.

Interesting Baseball Items

Jimmy McAleer says he would have been glad to give Jimmy Callahan a chance to play with the Senators the coming season. "Call has not been out of the game and will come back all right, I believe," said the Washington manager, "but Comiskey had the first call on him and it was no more than right that he should return to the Chicago club."

The Athletics are accused of getting the signs of all the teams in the American League except when Walter Johnson is on the slab for the Senators. The terrific speed of the red-headed wonder is too great for the Philadelphia batters to take a chance with it. They feared no other pitcher, however.

Some young reporter who has a lot of time at his disposal has figured out that it will cost the National League $287,000 for railroad fare the coming season and $330,000 for hotel bills.

The St. Louis fans say they do not care if Wallace does not win the flag in the American League race, and they are not particular that the Browns even finish in the first division, but they are sincere in wanting him to beat the Washington Senators because of their dislike for Jimmy McAleer. That's holding a grudge a long time.

The Louisville Colonels have been unfortunate in getting a second baseman for several years. The retirement of Ed Abbaticchio this spring makes it necessary to look for the twelfth man to fill the place since the American Association was organized.

Bill Bernhard, former Naps pitcher and manager of the Nashville team for several years, says he will surely capture the flag the coming season as the leader of the Memphis team.

John T. Brush is said to value the franchise of the New York National League club at $1,000,000. Fifteen years ago Andrew Freedman bought 51 per cent of the club for $40,000.

Jim Delehanty says sliding is of no aid to a base runner. The Tiger second baseman will find many old players who will give him an argument on that question, for many of them believe they have avoided many a put out because they slid around and away from the fielder.

Doc White says that Hal Chase's feet are just as valuable for him as his hands in playing first base. "He plays farther away from the base than any man I have ever watched, but he is always there when he is needed," says the tanky Sox south-paw.

Larry Lajole says Hans Wagner promised to go on the vaudeville stage with him last fall but backed out with the excuse that he could not stand traveling, as it made him sick.

The crop of ballplayers from the minors is getting so scarce each year that some new way has to be devised for getting recruits. President Heltman of the Atlanta Club has invaded the ranks of the United States army for material. He purchased the release of Washington John, from the army so that he could play ball with his team.

Hughie Jennings has landed a second Coombs. Marvin Pessley is the name of the new star and he comes from Maine, which is his chief argument for being a second Coombs. The home folk say that he has everything that Jack has and then some, and they should know.

John McGraw has punctured one winter story and the chances are that many more of them will be punctured in the next few weeks. The Giant's leader has been giving his men lessons in bunting in spite of the fact many stories were printed during the winter that the bunt was going to be relegated to the ash heap.

Mofman's hold-out did not last as long as the ordinary player's. If he had started to hold out a little sooner he would have had a lot more advertising.

Jimmy Burke, manager of the Indianapolis (American Association) club, is of the opinion that the sacrifice hit has out-lived its usefulness. Burke says he will not tolerate such obsolete stuff this season except on rare occasions. Burke thinks the sacrifice hit is only so far as to keep the opposition puzzled over the hit-and-run play.

If Joss' arm does not round into condition the stock of the Naps will fall quite a little in the pennant market. The big pitcher's place can not be filled by any of the youngsters for some time yet.

Russell Ford of the Highlanders comes from a family of ball players. His brother, Gene Ford, formerly was with the Minneapolis team, and another brother will be a member of the Rochester team the coming summer. They are all pitchers.

Outfielder Lellvelt, who was formerly with the Washington Senators, but went to the Minneapolis Millers last summer, has been sold to the Mobile team of the Southern League.

President Armour of the Toledo club has opened negotiations with Kansas City for the purchase of Elmer Flick, Cleveland's former star outfielder, who was sold last year to the Blues, but refused to play.

Manager Fred Clarke of the Pirates has secured another patent. This time it is a trick for carrying the properties of a ball team while traveling. The other patent he got was for a big covering to protect the infield against rain.

Frank Delehanty, who sued the Cleveland club for salary in 1907 when he was under suspension, has settled with the club out of court. He was sold to New Orleans while in bad standing with the Naps and his case been dragging along until the present time.

Connie Mack, has signed Louie Van Zeist, the hunchback mascot, who traveled with the Athletics last season, to go with the champions again next summer. The players of the team handed Louie a handsome purse last fall after they won the pennant, and want him along this coming season.

President Ed Barrow of the Eastern League thinks the Browns will have one of the best catching departments in the American League the coming season, because Nig Clarke will be one of the windup men for Wallace.

Ernie Diehl, the millionaire semi-pro player of Cincinnati, has signed to play with the Reds once again. This is about the fifth time Diehl has decided to enter the professional game.

Comiskey is pretty well pleased over getting Harry Lord. "I would not take $25,000 for him, for he is the most wonderful third baseman of the present age," says Commy.

Connie Mack once turned Bobby Wallace down when the present Brown leader asked for a chance to play ball. It is not often the Athletics' leader has been guilty of refusing to take on a good ball player.

Ford, Vaughan and Fisher are the three pitchers Manager Hal Chase is counting on to do the heavy artillery work for him the coming season.

TESREAU MAKES GOOD AS GIANT PITCHER

McGraw Thinks Well of Former Houston Pitcher and Will Make Berth For Him.

Marlin, Texas, March 14.—Big Jeff Tesreau has pitched himself into the good graces of Manager McGraw and the indications are that he will be the first of the youngsters to be measured for a regular uniform for the season of 1911.

Tesreau was pitching for the regulars against the club when there were two men on bases and Larry Doyle was at the bat. He shot a fast one under Larry's chin and Larry's bat missed it by a foot. The next one was a curve on the outside of the plate and Doyle nipped it just enough to get a foul strike called on him.

"Now let's see what he will do," McGraw said to Robinson, as they stood on the coaching life. They knew that if he put one in the groove Larry would kill it, as that was just what he had been waiting for. With out being coached, Tesreau took a big windup and sent a ball floating, so slowly to the plate that Doyle almost fell on his ear swinging at it.

"That's the stuff, Tesie," yelled McGraw; "the old change of pace, eh?"

McGraw thinks Tesreau Best of Youngsters. Coming back to the bench, McGraw declared that Tesreau had shown more real baseball than on his shoulders than any youngster of the bunch.

Tesreau is the ideal build for a pitcher and if there is a possible chance of his making good McGraw will take that chance. It is well known that the manager of the Giants is partial to big pitchers. Tesreau is over six feet and he has a beam measurement of apparently a yard and a half. On the diamond he looks to be the biggest man in the league, though he

PECULIAR FADS OF BASEBALL PLAYERS

Nearly Every Hero of the Diamond is Ambitious to Play Some Position Other Than His Own.

New York, March 14.—Nearly every baseball player has an ambition to play some position other than the one in which he has made his reputation. Doing a specialty becomes tiresome to the average ball-tosser, and he imagines that the other fellow work is easier than his own—until he tries it.

For instance, Clarence Doolin, when he doesn't have to warm up pitchers likes to gobble up grounders in the infield; Sherwood Maghee has to be chased away from first base when serious practice begins; Jimmy Dugert and Cy Moran would rather bat out flies than pitch, and the majority of pitchers like to chase flies in the out field.

It's the monotony of doing the same thing day after day that wears on the players, and it is real fun for them to shift to some other position for even a few minutes.

This habit has resulted in some players turning out to be stars in positions other than the one to which they had been assigned by their managers.

Ted Easterly, of Cleveland, who is good enough to catch for any team has given up backstop work and will play right field for the Naps. Easterly has played in Flick's old position so well at times that it is considered certain he will be a favorite.

Jack Flynn, who did most of the first base playing for Pittsburgh last season, has announced that he will catch this year. Flynn was a first class catcher while with Georgetown.

J. L. Taylor, president of the Boston Americans, believes that his shortstop Wagner, will be even better behind the bat than in the infield, but the chances are that Wagner will be at his old station when the championship season starts.

Both Thorney and Speaker outfielders are spoken of for first base on the Boston Red Sox and out in Detroit there is a suspicion that Jennings, who let Tom Jones go to a minor league, intends to shift Ty Cobb to first base.

The old saying that it is hard to teach an old dog new tricks is true in the national game, and the prospects are that the only shift now talked about that will be permanent is that of Easterly from behind the bat to the outfield.

A few weeks ago McGraw gave Togo S. Hamamoto, a Japanese sportsman permission to watch his team train at Marlin Springs, Texas. The Japanese desires to get information about the inside plays of a team so that he can impart the knowledge to the natives of Japan, who have taken up baseball with a desire to become as proficient as Americans.

This would be all right, but now the Japanese has cabled that he is bringing to this country his valet and a cook. Baseball players now enjoy many luxuries which were unheard of by the old time stars. Nothing is too good for them in their estimation, and the invasion of the Japanese is likely to put new notions in their heads.

In fact, there is no pitcher in the league taller than Marquard.

Tesreau is a raw-boned mountaineer. He was born and reared in the Ozark Mountains, and how he managed to get away from deer and bear hunting to play baseball is hard to understand. He is an ardent Nimrod of the backwoods, and he carries with him goose calls, a deer rifle and all the trappings of a hunter. It seems that he came out of the mountains three years ago and saw some boys near Texarkana playing baseball. At that time Tesreau could knock a squirrel out of his nest at a height of sixty feet with a stone, and when the boys made much over a long throw he decided to get in the game. After two trials he could throw the ball further than any man in the club. With the bat he was also good, and he says that the weight of the ball felt so good on the stick when he swung at it that he decided to take up the game. He organized a team in the Ozark Mountains, and within a year he had learned how to throw curves.

Two or three years ago Tress discovered that more money could be made out of hunting bear hides and he answered the call to the wild. Baseball to him was the wild. He went to Shreveport, La., which is in the Texas League, and under the coaching of Dale Grier, I believe it was, he developed into a winning pitcher. McGraw saw him work last spring when he twirled a few innings against the Giants, and he was so impressed with the man's massive appearance that he bought him for New York. Tesreau is an unassuming young fellow, but they say out his way when riled he can chew up a baseball glove as easily as the fragments of his hat. He has never been after Umpire Hansell as yet, and the made-to-order umpire is very careful to make decisions that will not cross him.

Tesreau Natural Born Player.

"If that big fellow keeps on improving," McGraw said last night, "he ought to make one of the best pitchers in the world. He has the perfect build and he is always anxious to learn. He has plenty of speed and this afternoon he showed me a change of pace. When a man can pull things like that without being told he is endowed with the natural baseball instinct. You know it has always been my belief that ball players are born. They can be improved by teaching, but no amount of that can put the germ in them. They must have that at the beginning."

Canada has decided to use Collector Loeb's tactics and stop petty personal baggage smuggling, if it can. Following numerous objections by Dominion merchants against too free buying of goods in Buffalo, Canadian customs officers at the international bridge have been instructed to be especially vigilant.

Wichita Falls, Texas, March 14, 1911.

AMENDING THE CONSTITUTION.

The sentiment in favor of the nomination and election of United States Senators by the people is all but overwhelming. To prove this it is only necessary to go out in any locality and get the consensus of opinion. Since the year 1895, the House of Representatives, for five consecutive times has voted in favor of the submission of a Constitutional amendment providing for the election of Senators by direct vote of the people. Between the years 1895 and 1908, the Legislatures of thirty-one States made application to Congress to call a convention for the purpose of proposing an amendment to the Constitution providing for this change. It will, therefore, be seen that almost the necessary two-thirds of the several States have made the application required by the Constitution to call a convention for proposing amendments. And it is to be hoped that the time is near at hand when the American people will forever change the fundamental law of the land, and thereby prevent many of the scandals which have been incident to Senatorial elections during the last generation.

In spite of the fact that there is this prevailing public sentiment in favor of the nomination and election of United States Senators, by popular vote, and that the lower house for five consecutive times has, by more than a two-thirds vote, favored the proposed amendment, the United States Senate has refused to concur therein. And refused to concur in what? Not in the popular election of United States Senators, but has refused to concur in proposing amendments, thereby granting the States the privilege of determining for themselves whether they desire a new method for the selection of United States Senators. Is it any wonder that a feeling of resentment has grown up against certain of the Senators who are not only unwilling to grant the people the right by direct vote to elect their Senators, but will not even give them the opportunity to change their present method if they so desire.—Alice Pomerene in March National Monthly.

The Jimplicute says that Jefferson is the best town in the State, and to clinch its statement cites the fact that there are some few in that old town who have been doing their very utmost to kill it for the past thirty or forty years and in spite of this she is still alive, and therefore, it must be the best town in Texas, else it could not have survived.

COMMISSIONERS LET PRINTING CONTRACT

Times Publishing Co. Will Furnish Stationery and Legal Blanks.

The County Commissioners this morning awarded the contract for the printing of all envelopes, letterheads and legal blanks used by the county officers during the ensuing two years to the Times Publishing Co. The contract for furnishing blank books and other stationery supplies during the same period was awarded the Bennett Printing Co. of Paris, Texas.

In their session this morning the Commission granted the Wichita Oil and Gas Company the right to use certain public roads for laying their gas pipe into Wichita Falls.

The remainder of the time of the court was taken up with the allowance of bills for current expenses.

The meeting to organize the trustees of the county will be held at Iowa Park Saturday the 18, as previously announced.

"Preservation of the Monroe doctrine" seems to be the generally accepted reason for the mobilizing of 20,000 soldiers on the Mexican border. At any rate, that will have to answer until President Diaz either gets better or worse. In this connection the San Angelo Standard says "History repeats itself. When Gen. Taylor was ordered to Corpus Christi the President gave it out that the concentration of the American army at that point was only a harmless military maneuver. But with shot, shell and bayonet he kept up a system of maneuvers until he placed the flag over the castle of Chapultepec, and but for the question of negro slavery it would have stayed there."

That sly and foxy scheme to pull out $25,000 of public money for client Lorimer was too cutty cuts for any use! Friends and fellow-citizens, what are we coming to, anyway!—Dallas News.

But Senator Culberson claims credit for putting a stop to the little game, though a few days later, Senator Bailey, under his own signature, says that he personally asked Senator Lorimer to strike out the item, and says that Lorimer will bear him out in that statement.

If it is true, as charged, that the University of Texas owns vast tracts of land which it is leasing out for grazing purposes at 4 cents per acre per annum that could be sold for agricultural purposes at from $20 to $20 per acre, then it is very evident that the State's leading educational institution needs the services of a financier more than further appropriations for its maintenance.

There are many kinds of commission government. Some of them elect only a mayor and three or four commissioners; others elect all the officers. Oklahoma City, one of the most progressive cities in the United States, adopted the latter form of commission government on last Saturday.

Bryan's Commoner says: "No, Senator Bailey, the people do not ask Senators to 'Kiss the ground their constituents walk upon.' They do ask, however, that they refrain from licking the boots of trust magnates and doing the bidding of systems that prey upon the American people."

Yesterday was official "Clean-up" Day in Wichita Falls, but as Wichita was not so very unclean, the day was not generally observed.

Mr. Walling inherited a large fortune from his grandfather. He received his early education in the public schools of Indianapolis and in Edinburgh, Scotland, where his father served as United States consul for several years. Returning to America he pursued his studies at the University of Chicago, where he took a post-graduate course in economics and sociology. WILL KILL DOGS WITHOUT MUZZLE Order Goes Into Effect Tomorrow Morning at 10 O'clock. Proclamation issued.

In view of the appearance of dogs afflicted with hydrophobia in the city, the officers have deemed it advisable to take drastic steps to protect the people, especially the children, and as a result, beginning in the morning at 10 o'clock every dog found running at large without a muzzle will be promptly killed. This order is in compliance with a proclamation issued by the mayor yesterday afternoon and it will be rigidly enforced.
The mayor, in discussing the matter today, stated that the life of one child was worth more than that of all the dogs in the city and that he did not propose to take any chances whatever.
The following is the proclamation issued by the mayor:
Proclamation by the Mayor
The State of Texas, County of Wichita:
Whereas, it has become known to me that a rabid dog has bitten the child of C. E. Minnick, and several dogs of different owners in the city. Therefore, I, T. B. Noble, by virtue of authority vested in me by law, give notice that all dogs found running at large without being muzzled, will be killed on and after Wednesday, at 10 a. m.
Given under my official signature and seal of said city, this 13th day of March 1911.
T. B. NOBLE, Mayor.

NO MORE GREASY DOUGHNUTS
A lady in Greenville, S. C., recently wrote a friend as follows:
'For years, after preparing doughnuts in my kitchen, I was disappointed to see them come out greasy and unwholesome looking. However, I give notice that all dogs found running at large without being muzzled, will be promptly killed on and after Wednesday, at 10 a. m.
Given under my official signature and seal of said city, this 13th day of March 1911.
T. B. NOBLE, Mayor.

ANTI-BAILEYTES SILENT.
Have No Comment to Make on C. B. Randall's Announcement.
Dallas, Texas, March 14.—Anti-Bailey people in Dallas have little to say at this time as to the announcement of Charles B. Randall as a candidate for the United States senate in 1912. Shows the Austin dispatch in this morning's Record, which stated that Randall's announcement had disconcerted the anti-Bailey forces. George W. Riddle, chairman of the anti-Bailey organization formed at Galveston in July, 1910, had no comment to make. "The matter will be taken up and taken up in the right manner."

W. F. & N. W. PASSENGER TRAIN DERAILED

Passenger train No. 4, northbound, on the Wichita Falls and Northwest, due here at 12:45, was derailed 17 miles north of town about eleven o'clock this morning. Three coaches left the rails but no one was injured, according to the report given out here. The rear trucks of the tender were the first to leave the track and the three coaches following left the rails. The train was running about 15 miles an hour when the derailment happened. A train was made up here and run to the scene of the wreck and the passengers transferred and brought into town.
A wrecker crew was despatched to the scene of the derailment immediately and it is expected to have the cars back on the track this evening. Where the cars left the track the ground is of a sandy nature, making it difficult to get the cars back on the rails.

Wichita Falls, Texas, March 14, 1911.

THIS DATE IN HISTORY.

March 14. 1590—Henry IV. of France defeated the army of the catholic league at Yvres. 1676—Narragansett Indians attacked Northampton, Mass. 1782—Thomas H. Benton, first U. S. Senator from Missouri, born in North Carolina. Died in Washington, D. C. April 10, 1858. 1813—British ships effected a blockade of the Delaware River. 1831—Parliamentary Reform is introduced in the British House of Commons. 1844—King Hubert I. of Italy born. Assassinated July 30, 1900. 1868—Maxim Gorky, the noted Russian author and reformer, born at Nijul Nogorod. 1884—Osman Digna's forces began their retreat before the English army in the Sudan. 1888—Sir Richard Cartwright introduced in the Dominion Parliament a resolution urging the free exchange of manufactured and natural products between Canada and the United States. 1900—British army under Lord Roberts entered Bloemfontein. 1910—Ex-President Roosevelt returned on his return from his African hunt.

"Preservation of the Monroe doctrine" seems to be the generally accepted reason for the mobilizing of 20,000 soldiers on the Mexican border. At any rate, that will have to answer until President Diaz either gets better or worse. In this connection the San Angelo Standard says "History repeats itself. When Gen. Taylor was ordered to Corpus Christi the President gave it out that the concentration of the American army at that point was only a harmless military maneuver. But with shot, shell and bayonet he kept up a system of maneuvers until he planted the flag over the castle of Chapultepec, and but for the question of negro slavery it would have stayed there."

That sly and foxy scheme to pull out $25,000 of public money for client Lorimer was too catty cute for any use! Friends and fellow-citizens, what are we coming to anyway?—Dallas News.

But Senator Culberson claims credit for putting a stop to the little game, though a few days later, Senator Bailey, under his own signature, says that he personally asked Senator Lorimer to strike out the item, and says that Lorimer will bear him out in that statement.

If it is true, as charged, that the University of Texas owns vast tracts of land which it is leasing out for grazing purposes at 4 cents per acre per annum that could be sold for agricultural purposes at from $20 to $50 per acre, then it is very evident that the State's leading educational institution needs the services of a financier more than further appropriations for its maintenance.

There are many kinds of commission government. Some of them elect only a mayor and three or four commissioners; others elect all the officers. Oklahoma City, one of the most progressive cities in the United States, adopted the latter form of commission government on last Saturday.

Bryan's Commoner says: "No, Senator Bailey, the people do not ask Senators to 'Kiss the ground their constituents walk upon.' They do ask, however, that they refrain from licking the boots of trust magnates and doing the bidding of systems that prey upon the American people."

Yesterday was official "Clean-up" day in Wichita Falls, but as Wichita was not so very unclean, the day was not generally observed.

AMENDING THE CONSTITUTION.

The sentiment in favor of the nomination and election of United States Senators by the people is all but overwhelming. To prove this it is only necessary to go out in any locality and get the consensus of opinion. Since the year 1893, the House of Representatives, for five consecutive times has voted in favor of the submission of a Constitutional amendment providing for the election of Senators by direct vote of the people. Between the years 1895 and 1908, the Legislatures of thirty-one States made application to Congress to call a convention for the purpose of proposing an amendment to the Constitution providing for this change. It will, therefore, be seen that almost the necessary two-thirds of the several States have made the application required by the Constitution to call a convention for proposing amendments. And it is to be hoped that the time is near at hand when the American people will forever change the fundamental law of the land, and thereby prevent many of the scandals which have been incident to Senatorial elections during the last generation.

In spite of the fact that there is this prevailing public sentiment in favor of the nomination and election of United States Senators by popular vote, and that the lower house for five consecutive times has, by more than a two-thirds vote, favored the proposed amendment, the United States Senate has refused to concur therein. And refused to concur in what? Not in the popular election of United States Senators, but has refused to concur in proposing amendments, thereby granting the States the privilege of determining for themselves whether they desire a new method for the selection of United States Senators. Is it any wonder that a feeling of resentment has grown up against certain of the Senators who are not only unwilling to grant the people the right by direct vote to elect their Senators, but will not even give them the opportunity to change their present method if they so desire.—Atlee Pomerene in March National Monthly.

The Jimplicute says that Jefferson is the best town in the State, and to clinch its statement cites the fact that there are some few in that old town who have been doing their very utmost to kill it for the past thirty or forty years and in spite of this she is still alive, and therefore, it must be the best town in Texas, else it could not have survived.

COMMISSIONERS LET PRINTING CONTRACT

The County Commissioners this morning awarded the contract for the printing of all envelopes, letterheads and legal blanks used by the county officers during the ensuing two years to the Times Publishing Co. The contract for furnishing blank books and other stationery supplies during the same period was awarded the Bennett Printing Co. of Paris, Texas.

In their session this morning the Commission granted the Wichita Oil and Gas Company the right to use certain public roads for laying their gas pipe line from the field at Petrolia into Wichita Falls.

The remainder of the time of the court was taken up with the allowance of bills for current expenses.

The meeting to organize the trustees of the county will be held at Iowa Park Saturday the 18, as previously announced.

"THIS IS MY 34th BIRTHDAY." William English Walling. William English Walling, wealthy young Socialist who recent figured conspicuously in the news as defendant in a $100,000 breach of promise suit, was born in Louisville, Ky., March 14, 1877. He is a grandson of William H. English of Indiana, who was candidate for Vice-President of the United States on the Democratic ticket in 1880. Mr. Walling inherited a large fortune from his grandfather. He received his early education in the public schools of Indianapolis and in Edinburgh, Scotland, where his father served as United States consul for several years. Returning to America he pursued his studies at the University of Chicago, where he took a post-graduate course in economics and sociology. In 1900 he was appointed a factory inspector in Illinois, which position he resigned a year later to engage in settlement work in New York. For the past ten years Mr. Walling has been a resident at the University Settlement in the metropolis. In recent years he has become well known as a writer and lecturer on labor and sociological questions.

PROTESTANTS PLAN CHRISTIAN UNION

Presbyterians, Episcopalians, Congregationalists and Disciples of Christ Committed to Plan.

Presbyterians, Episcopalians, Congregationalists and Disciples of Christ have now definitely committed themselves to Christian union plans, the first named having acted within the past few days. These represent 4,500,000 actual communicants, or approximately 12,000,000 Protestant population. There is planning a world conference on faith and order, to be held in New York, but to have in its religious bodies of Europe, Australia, and South Africa, and to which will be invited, the Roman Catholic, the Eastern or Greek Catholic and everybody else. The first conference between different American religious bodies, looking to this larger one, has just been held. Attending them were Rev. Peter Alshuler of Baltimore, the Disciples of Christ, chairman; Rev. Dr. J. H. Garrison of St. Louis, a leader among Christians of the Middle West; Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity Episcopal church New York; R. Fulton Cutting, a former Episcopal layman; Rev. Dr. Charles Little of Indiana, moderator now than in his college days, that discovered Ward.

The man who now influences more men to give up money than any other man the world ever saw, went first to New Britain, Conn., later to Grand Rapids, and finally to Minneapolis, in which latter city he made good to such tremendous purpose that he was called to New York. A call to headquarters means something. Ward has system. He wants short and quick campaigns, and he selects local men to help. Never excited, even when a campaign is closing, he believes he preaches the Gospel quite as much, and quite as effectively as the pulpit in the largest church.

Ward has gotten to the top in part through opportunity, partly through his own ability. Willis E. Lougee, who is now with the Congregational Home and Missionary Society, although a Presbyterian, has induced men and women to give millions of dollars. For years he raised $250,000 to $350,000 each year. He was with Dwight L. Moody for a long time and also with the Young Men's Christian Association. William B. Millar now with the Laymen's Missionary Movement, but long with the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association, secured about $3,000,000 and put work of Americans for enlisted men in army and navy upon a proper basis.

More Conventions Planned. Immediate plans of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, just now entering upon its fifth year, are the holding of conventions in Los Angeles and Oakland, Cal.; in Portland, Ore.; in Tacoma, Seattle and Spokane, Wash.; Vancouver and Victoria, British Columbia; Billings, Mont.; Fargo, N. D.; Duluth, Bay City and Chicago. The movement is to be represented at the big missionary exposition to be held in Boston April 22 to May 20 and lectures will be given there setting forth the principles of the movement. The work has been materially strengthened by the acquisition of William B. Millar as executive secretary, long at the head of the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association, who developed that work, erecting great buildings at New York, Fortress Monroe, Newport and some other yards and posts and putting forth efforts for enlisted men of the United States Army and Navy quite on a par with efforts by the English people for British soldiers and sailors. J. Campbell White and others who have built up the movement remain, but divide he work with the new men and enlarge it with new measures.—San Antonio Express.

Mexican Federals And Insurrectos Not Cowards

Both Sides Seem Absolutely Fearless When in Rain of Bullets. Yet They "Jockey" a Long Time Before Beginning a Battle.

(By G. A. Martin.)
El Paso, Texas.—The Mexican army in the present insurrection, presents a peculiar anomaly. The insurrecto will fight only when in the hills and the Federal generally loses a battle anywhere except in the open. But neither side has been accused of cowardice by people who have seen them fight. Admiration is the only word for Federal and insurrecto alike after they have been seen under fire. Absolutely fearless when in the rain of bullets, they apparently have not the slightest regard for war, yet the insurrectos have been known to run from the enemy when they were on the plains and the Federals have been known to "jockey" for days in marches and feints, apparently to give the insurrecto a chance to get out of the way.

The insurrecto army is made up of men who have joined in a battle for freedom, as every man engaged in the war will say; the Federal army is composed to a large extent of men who have been sentenced to it for petty crimes and might reasonably be expected to be afraid to fight, but an equal amount of bravery has been shown on each side and the Federals have disappointed their critics, who had prophesied that they would run at the first fire, while the insurrectos have been a disappointment to their friends in falling to annihilate the soldiers of Diaz.

Are Latin-American.
The fighters possess many characteristics that are peculiarly Latin-American, and they spend days and weeks within striking distance of each other, and then when the fighting begins, whereas an Anglo-Saxon army would have been fighting all that time. They do not do very much close-range fighting—either, and no charges or bayonet rushes have been executed to make any commands famous, it has mostly been long-range fighting, but that has been rather effective.

Most of the fighting has been done in Chihuahua State, but there has been considerable in several others, including Lower California, Sonora, Tamaulipas, Durango, Vera Cruz and is a woman—that is, a woman is employed for every seven men, and she cooks their rations; generally the woman is the wife of a soldier. These women and their children travel with the fighting men on the trains and on the march and are sometimes considerable of a detriment to the men, but they stand their share of the hardships.

In the battle of Baucha, out of four Federals killed three were women and out of twenty-six wounded, six were women.

At Baucha, in the face of a galling fire from the mountaintops, from an unseen enemy, the Federals nonchalantly drank their coffee in the valley below, beside their wrecked train, with as little show of fright as if they were merely camping on a picnic.

Could Not Write.
Versailles, Ky.—Mrs. Elisha Green of this place, says: "I could not write all the different pains I had, when I first tried Cardui. I could scarcely walk. Now I am able to run the sewing machine and do my work; and my neighbors tell me the medicine must be good, for I look so much better." Cardui is a specific, pain-relieving, tonic remedy, for women. In the past 50 years, it has been found to relieve women's unnecessary pains, and female misery, for which over a million suffering women have successfully used it. Try Cardui for your troubles. It will help you. At the

NEW GAS COMPANY WILL BEGIN MAINS

The Wichita Gas and Oil Company is fast making preparations to begin the work of laying the mains from the Petrolia field to this city and hope to soon be in a position to inaugurate active work. In addition to locating the line, the right to lay the pipe along certain highways in this county has been obtained from the commissioners court and other details are being worked out as fast as possible. It is reported that about ten cars of pipe have already arrived with which to construct the main line and the company has also received a quantity of service pipe. Quite a little of the piping has already been laid in the paving district and the remainder will be put down before the paving begins.

CRAZY HOW THIS FAMOUS WATER GOT ITS NAME In the year of 1880 a well was dug in what is now Mineral Wells, Texas. The peculiar properties of the water attracted attention, and many began its use. Among the number were two ladies who were sufferers to the extent that their minds were seriously affected. To the surprise of all, the ladies were soon restored to health, and their minds became normal, and from this circumstance this well was called the "CRAZY WELL." Both ladies are living, and these facts can be verified by many who know these circumstances. So much for the name. This water has since been christened "The Woman's Friend." One of Texas' leading physicians has said: "Crazy Well Water is the best medicinal water on earth." 608 Ohio Ave. O. W.
