MEETING WILL BE IMPORTANT ONE

DIRECTORS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL HOLD SESSION TOMORROW.

SIZE COTTON MILL MATTER

Reports of Committees To Solicit Stock Will Be Made at This Time.

The meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, to be held in the morning at 10 o'clock will be an unusually important one in view of the fact that it is expected to close up the city's part of the contract in the cotton mill matter. The 28 men who have volunteered to make an effort to place the remainder of the stock required will make their report and it is the hope of those interested that they will have finished the work by this time. In this event the meeting will be a crowning feature of one of the most important undertakings in the history of the city and will be a record making date in the history of Wichita Falls. It is understood that the committees are meeting with encouraging success and it is to be hoped that the matter can be closed up immediately. Mr. Carter has written that he is ready to enter into a contract at once and to give a good and sufficient bond that he will carry out his part of the contract, and it is now up to Wichita Falls to do its part. Other matters of importance will likely be considered at the meeting and it is the desire of the directors that there be a large attendance of those interested in the future of the city.

Plans for the trip are to be worked out by a committee appointed for this purpose and the schedule of the trip will be announced at an early date. It is understood that the excursionists will spend one night in Wichita Falls, this being the terminus of the trip. The second excursion of the Live Wires will be over the Frisco as far north as Francis, Okla.

OHIO ELECTION PROBE RESUMED

West Union, O., March 20.—Judge A. E. Blair today reopened his court for the further hearing of the election fraud cases, which already have resulted in the disfranchisement of a majority of the voters of Adams county. Four hundred voters are still under indictment for alleged vote-selling, and all of these have been notified to appear in court at once and either make confession or stand trial.

Impressed With Progress After 15 Years Absence

Major F. M. Burrows, of Fort Worth, the first traveling passenger agent of the Fort Worth & Denver road in Wichita Falls for the first time in fifteen years. "The last time I was in Wichita Falls, the town was not much more than a mud hole, and could hardly be considered a wide place in the road," said the major. "The appearance of the place speaks volumes for the work done by the early settlers who followed in the wake of the railroad. You have a city that gives promise of being a metropolis. On the spot where the new magnificent Methodist church stands, near the courthouse was the prairie dog village. The town practically ceased where Marlow & Stone's office now stands. On the spot

LIMANTOUR HAS REACHED CAPITAL

MEXICO'S MINISTER OF FINANCE REACHES MEXICO CITY IN SAFETY.

TO CONFER WITH DIAZ

Believed That Limantour's Proposals Will Have Important Bearing on Situation.

By Associated Press. Mexico City, March 20.—Mexican Minister of Finance Limantour arrived here this morning and went direct to his suburban home. A great crowd greeted him at the train. He made no statement. It is expected that a series of conferences between President Diaz and Senor Limantour will begin this afternoon in which it is expected a reorganized cabinet will be arranged. As Viewed at Washington. Washington, D. C., March 20.—In indications of the coming of peace in Mexico are strengthened by the manner in which the revolutionists have commented upon the magazine article of Ambassador La Harra and the significant spirit of expectancy with which the results of Senor Limantour's conference in the City of Mexico this week are awaited by organs of insurgent sentiment. Not a single adverse comment was recorded in Mexican newspapers to the proposal of the Mexican Ambassador that all classes in Mexico should unite for the promotion of the National unity. According to private advices here, anticipation is manifest in the circles of both the insurgents and the supporters of the Federal Government. The insurgents have taken the stand that their operations have proved they are willing to risk a good deal for the adoption of certain reforms in the Government, and falling in this, they will continue the strife. Besides the proposals which Senor Limantour is known to be bearing to President Diaz, it is reported that the wishes of prominent insurgent sympathizers in various parts of the Republic have become known to President Diaz and will play no small part in the reorganization of his cabinet. The disaffection in Mexico which has been most conspicuous in Chihuahua, however, has not been confined to that State, and serious outbreaks in other States have been prevented by the promises of early changes in the Federal administration. A peculiar relationship of members of the Cabinet to the internal administration of the States of the Mexican Republic has constituted intense interest to the political situation in the City of Mexico and various tickets have been made up and are privately suggested. The troubles of the States of Yucatan and Chihuahua it is said, will directly influence probable changes in the Cabinet. The opposition that is reported from Chihuahua may mean the displacement of Senor Creel from his post of Minister of Foreign Affairs. While Senor Molina, Minister of Public Works, probably will be asked to retire because of opposition that has arisen to him in Yucatan, Senor Corral's health, according to recent advices, indicates that he will abandon public life and seek recuperation in Europe. This will leave a vacancy in the Vice Presidency which it is considered not likely to be filled as the Minister of Foreign Affairs during the vacancy of the office of the Presidency, who is invested with the character of the latter office. Strong influences are at work with regard to the exact position that Senor Limantour shall occupy in the Cabinet. Personally it is known Senor Limantour prefers to remain Minister of Finance, and many bankers and

GLASS AND TIN COST TOO MUCH

Cambridge, Mass., March 20.—The present high cost of living is due to the high prices paid for the glass jars and tin and paper boxes in which food is put, according to T. J. Henderson, professor of biological chemistry at Harvard. "The average person spends about one-third of his income on food and a large proportion of this amount goes to pay for glass and tin and paper wrappers," he said in an address here yesterday.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENED SUNDAY

GAME BETWEEN LEAGUE TEAM AND PICKED NINE AT LAKE WICHITA.

REGULARS WERE WINNERS

The Final Score Was Nine to One in Favor of the League Team.

The opening game of the baseball season was played at Lake Wichita Park Sunday afternoon in which the regulars cleaned up on a picked nine of players to the tune of 9 to 1. The crowd was very satisfactory in size considering the fact that it is early in the season and the first game to be played. With the exception of the third inning the picked nine gave a very good account of themselves, some fairly good batting and a number of fielding "stunts" being exhibited during the nine innings. A feature of their work was the pitching of Frank Collier, who was in the box at the beginning of the sixth inning. Not a score was made off his delivery and only two men reaching first. Filgo pitched a good game but for the third inning. Other features of the game were the fielding of the man on second, and the work of Huff both at the bat and in the field. The regular team showed up in good form and demonstrated that Captain Morris has a good bunch of men behind him for the forthcoming season.

TWENTY-SIX STATES FAVOR INCOME TAX

Constitution Requires Ratification of Amendment by Vote of Three-fourths of States.

New York, March 20.—Nine more States must ratify the proposed Federal income tax amendment before it can become a part of the Constitution. Reports received here from the capitals of the forty-six states show that the amendment has received favorable action in the Joint Legislature of twenty-six. The amendment passed Congress in the form of a resolution on July 5, 1909. It seeks to add to the Constitution a new article, No. XVI, reading as follows: "The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several States and without regard to any census enumeration." The Constitution provides that proposed amendments, to become valid, must be ratified by three-fourths of the States. There is no limit to the time of such ratification and negative action by a Legislature is not conclusive. A State having the right to reverse its judgment.

HEARING RATE CASES.

Long and Short Haul Question Before the Commission.

Washington, D. C., March 20.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today began a hearing on the thirteen applications filed by transcontinental railroads for relief from the operation of the long and short haul clause amended by the new commerce law. Under the new law the railroads are forbidden to charge a higher rate to intermediate Western points than to Pacific coast terminals, where water competition is encountered, except when the specific approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission has been obtained. The railroads are seeking to have the old rules relative to rates continued. The subject is one of vital importance both to the railroads and the shippers and it is expected the arguments before the commission will consume several days.

The protests were taken up by the opposition in the Cortes and the Government was finally forced to yield to the demands for an investigation.

FOR CONSTIPATION.

A Medicine That Does Not Cost Anything Unless It Cures.

The active medicinal ingredients of Rexall Orderlies is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients, it forms a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeableness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience.

Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action.

We will refund your money without argument if they do not do as we say they will. Two sizes, 25c and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. The O. M. Marchman Drug Store.

Trussett Case Up For Trial.

Independence, Kan., March 20.—The case of Al O. Trussett, charged with the murder of J. D. S. Neely, president of the Wichita Pipe Line Company and other enterprises in his home city of Lima, Ohio, was called in court today for trial. Trussett shot and killed Neely in the Palace Hotel at Caney, this county, on the morning of January 7 last. The shooting was the result of litigation over an oil lease between Trussett and the pipe line company of which Neely was president.

Saskatchewan's Winter Fair.

Regina, Sask., March 20.—Saskatchewan's winter fair was formerly opened today under conditions that promise a successful and profitable exhibition. The display of horses, cattle, sheep and swine is the best ever shown here. The evenings of the exhibition will be devoted to lectures and addresses by a number of well known agricultural and live stock experts. The fair will continue four days.

OFFICIAL ON TRIAL.

Former County Treasurer Must Answer to Court.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—Oliver P. Enslay, former county treasurer, was arraigned in court today to stand trial for the second time on the charge of embezzling public funds. The case is one of the so-called Marion county graft cases, in which several former public officials and others are involved. Enslay was indicted in 1908 and his first trial took place a year ago. The jury failed to agree, standing ten to two for conviction.

GROUP CONQUERED.

Every Mother Should Read and Remember This.

In any home where a child has a tendency to croup a bottle of HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mei) should be kept constantly on hand. A sudden attack of croup with difficult breathing and extreme distress is apt to come on at any time. The course to be pursued is plain. Send for your doctor at once, and in the meantime drop 30 drops of HYOMEI into a bowl of boiling water, and hold the child's head over it, cover with a towel or cloth, so that only the air filled with Hyomei vapor is breathed.

This method of treatment has saved many a child's life, and mothers of croupy children should see to it that HYOMEI is always on hand. Full instructions for prompt relief of croup is in each package.

A 50c bottle of HYOMEI is all you need in treating croup. This is known in all drug stores as Extra Bottle Hyomei Inhalant. O. F. Marchman and druggists everywhere sell it.

Wichita Falls, Texas, March 20, 1911.

In the fall of the year the great majority of the cotton planters are forced to sell their cotton as fast as gathered. For the past two years the bulls at New York have been so aggressive that they have been able to keep the market in such condition that all this cotton was absorbed without breaking the market. What would happen to the market without strong speculative support to it at this period? What has happened to it for twenty years, say, from October 1 to December 17. This writer well remembers how the speculators got "out of the market" in November, 1908, with cotton at 8 1/2 cents. There was no bull combination then. The officials of the Farmers' Union went to New Orleans to study cotton trading conditions, did not go near the exchange, but had a meeting and gave out a statement that they had so many million bales in their warehouses and were going to get so many million bales more. The next day Theodore Price took this statement and, adding to it the amount of cotton which had already come into sight, proved by their own figures that the crop was just 1,000,000 bales larger than it turned out to be, and thereby broke the market $5 per bale in one day. Where were our astute statesmen that they did not rush a law through Congress then, instead of waiting till the bears had indicated the leaders of the only successful bull ring ever in existence in New York, and then began the agitation of legislation calculated to put all the American bulls out of business: Great Farmers' Union, Great Statesmen, Great country this.—Cotton and Cattle News.

Ex-Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma says Governor Colquitt is suitable presidential timber. He also roasts Roosevelt, saying the ex-president is just a common grafter like Lorimer, yet Senator Bailey defended Lorimer and because he was criticized by Democrats for doing that, and voting against the admission of Arizona to statehood, he threatens to resign, and Gov. Colquitt, evidently approving and admiring the stand Senator Bailey took on the Lorimer affair and the Arizona statehood question, refused to accept Senator Bailey's resignation. Ex-Governor Haskell needs to be more explicit, or else tell us how he can see so much that is not good in Roosevelt and Lorimer, and yet commend to the Democrats as a suitable standard-bearer, a gentleman who endorses, apparently, the very man whom Haskell says is a grafter.

THE RECALL

Senator Bailey's resignation (and the withdrawal of the resignation) has given to the initiative, referendum and recall more advertisement than the direct legislation league could have purchased with a million dollars, and advertisement is all these reforms need. As soon as the people understand them they will adopt them—shocking as this may seem to those who think that these reforms will destroy the institutions bequeathed by our fathers. As the recall is the reform least understood, and therefore most violently attacked, let us examine this method of dealing with officials.

There may be differences of opinion as to how many signers should be required in order to invoke the recall, but that is merely a matter of detail. When the right of recall is admitted the percentage required to call an election can be fixed by agreement among those favoring the recall—and it will probably be a compromise between extreme views as to notice of election, time required for consideration and means used to inform the public. These also, are matters of detail and do not affect the right itself. Such safeguards will be thrown around the use of the recall as experience may prove necessary. But as to the right of recall—two questions are raised:

First—Have the voters a right to terminate the contract entered into, when the candidate accepted the office? This question cannot arise if the candidate is elected after the adoption of the recall, because he will take the office subject to the right of the people to recall. But the question could not give much trouble any way, because provisions could be made, if necessary, for the salary to be paid for the unexpired term. If an official demonstrates his unfitness for an office the people can much better afford to pay him while not serving than to allow him to serve even without compensation.

The second question—the only real question in fact—is whether the recall so robs the official of independence as to injure the public service. This question admits of but one answer: Why should a public official be independent of the wishes of his constituents? It is an aristocratic—not a democratic—conception of representative government that contemplates that the representative will be indifferent of the wishes of his constituents. The democratic theory is that the people will think for themselves and select representatives to give expression to their thoughts. The moral and intellectual standard of the representative will not be lowered by an increased watchfulness on the part of the public. Banks have not lost anything in standing and character by the fact that they are now examined and may be closed without a moment's notice. On the contrary, the bank level has been raised and it will be raised still more when the law requires the bank to give absolute security to depositors, so officials will be better when the betrayal of trust—the embezzlement of power—is dealt with as a crime.

But if independence is the thing desired, is that not already menaced by frequent elections? If independence is necessary, how can we secure it except by life tenure? How can a congressman act independently if eleven months after the first regular session convenes his constituents may defeat him at the polls because of some vote he has cast or some speech he has made? In State and city the situation is the same. The recall asked for would only be invoked on rare occasions, while the form of recall which we now have in frequent elections acts as a restraint on all officials and acts constantly. How can we condemn the proposed recall as dangerous or destructive, and at the same time approve of short official terms? And does not impeachment act as a restraint on independence? The regular election is a form of impeachment; it gives the people a chance to remove at stated times, by refusing re-election. The recall simply goes a step farther and permits the voters to shorten the term when, in their judgment, the official has betrayed his trust. The fact is that opposition to the recall is a reversion to aristocracy, plutocracy and monarchy. The objection rests upon a distrust of the capacity of the people or upon a contempt for their rights. Because the people have a right to self government and the capacity for self government, and because the people are conscious of their right and confident of their capacity, they favor the recall and will, in time, secure it.—The Commoner.

And the latest county to join the dry ranks is Runnels. This was accomplished last week by a majority of over 300.

Discharge your duty as a good citizen by going to the polls on next Saturday and vote on the question of issuing $15,000 worth of county bonds for the construction of another bridge to span the Wichita River at Wichita Falls. There can be no question but that an additional bridge is badly needed.

Tomorrow morning the committee appointed to solicit stock subscriptions to the $400,000 cotton mill proposition will make their reports at the Chamber of Commerce. If you are a Wichita Falls property holder and have not subscribed for some of this stock, do so before it is too late. Wichita Falls has never had a better proposition for the securing of such an enterprise, and the chances are that in the event this one is rejected it may be a long while before another opportunity will again present itself.

Pedestrian With Record of 12,000 Miles Here

Alonzo Wood's pedestrian and a personal friend of Edward Payson Weston, is in the city enroute from Los Angeles, Cal., to New York City, a distance of over several thousand miles the route taken.

Wood, with his wife, left Los Angeles, April 4, 1909, carrying with them a small wagon which they branded "Go Far." They arrived at Los Angeles on June 10 at which place they spent several weeks, returned to San Francisco, where they spent several weeks, and where Mrs. Wood died.

Leaving San Francisco, Mr. Wood started for the east, reaching Denver, October 19, 1910. It was here that the wagon was abandoned on account of its cumbersome and the trouble it caused. Colorado Springs was reached Jan. 20, and Trinidad, Feb. 4.

Mr. Wood is one-handed and has traveled in all over 12,000 miles. He is making the trip without soliciting help and pays his expenses from the amount obtained from the sale of post

The total bank deposits of the four banks of Abilene, as shown by their official statements to the United States and State of Texas on March 7, was $1,104,701.12. Our banks are in splendid condition, and the Reporter congratulates the managers on the well rounded statements they were able to make.—Abilene Reporter.

Old Abilene always comes around in due season with her quiver full of arrows. The drought is sometimes long and the mishaps are sometimes many, but before the frost falls to kill or the night settles down for a permanence, the Fates look down upon Abilene and smile a blessing. And then the sun shines again with a brighter brightness, the birds carol with a more opulent abandon, and the Abilene newspapers—which never lose their nerve—tell it and keep on telling it.—Dallas News.

Abilene is a fine town and our good Uncle Samuel's census of 1910 credits her with more than 10,000 inhabitants—more people than he claimed he could find in Wichita Falls, and yet the statement as issued by our four banks, two national and two state banks, at the same time the banks of Abilene made their reports, show deposits to the amount of $1,635,826.52, or just $531,125.40 more than the four banks of Abilene.

A Kentucky Problem.

It is a question with some which is the cheaper and safer, a mule or an automobile. The mule must have corn, hay, oats or grass. He may in the meantime get to buck jumping and land you in the middle of a mud hole or on top of a pile of rocks. The automobile eats nothing but gasoline, and when at rest is as harmless as a cat. But when it gets to running it goes it blind and is liable to want to climb a telephone pole or jump off the bridge. Mules and automobiles are really both dangerous. FRANK PUTMAN'S VIEWS

ON THE MEXICAN SITUATION

Revolution smolders throughout Mexico, breaking into flame at frequent intervals here and there. Mexican people—upper, middle and lower classes—all hotly resent the long-continued exploitation of the country by foreign capitalists in league with Diaz.

Diaz has sold his countrymen into slavery to the foreigners. He and his Mexican associates get their lift out of each concession given a foreigner or a foreign syndicate. They sell to these foreigners the privilege of robbing the Mexican people—just as the gang that has been in charge at Washington for forty years has sold to American exploiters the privilege of robbing the American people.

In Mexico the robbing has been bolder, more open, more complete. Taft, head of the American party that has for forty years, with one brief intermission, been engaged in selling special privileges to exploiters on this side of the boundary line, naturally tries to help the exploiters on the Mexican side of the line. Since this revolution started in Mexico, the Taft government has used all its agencies to crush the hope of independence in Mexico. It has persecuted Mexican revolutionary agents, violating American traditions by refusing asylum to "political refugees, and turning them, when it could, back to Mexico to be shot by Diaz, the despot. It has shown in every way its sympathy with the Mexican exploiters, and its contempt and hatred for the Mexican people struggling for freedom.

When we consider the attitude of the Taft government toward democracy in the United States; we can not be surprised that it takes the same position toward democracy in Mexico. It is commonly said—and believed—that Americans have invested over $500,000,000 of capital in Mexico. The idea that this "investment" is put in Mexico by the American revolution has been spread throughout the United States by the press agencies of Big Business. This has been done in order to win justification, in the United States, for armed intervention in case it should be attempted by the Taft government.

The fact is, Americans have never invested $500,000,000 in Mexico. They have never invested one cent that amount in real money. The sucker investors in so-called Mexican rubber plantations and other speculations floated in the United States have invested a good many millions, but most of that money has gone into the pockets of American promoters.

"American investments" in Mexico are represented chiefly by the value of Mexican property turned over to American concessionaries by the Diaz despotism to be exploited for their mutual profit. In that sense, Americans do control much more than $500,000,000 worth of property in Mexico, but it is largely the property of the Mexican people, which has been taken from them by tyrannical methods and placed in the hands of the foreign exploiters.

As long as they could do it the press agencies of the American exploiters in Mexico have tried to make the American people believe the Mexican revolution was a fizzle; that it amounted to nothing; that Diaz could crush it easily; that Diaz represented the desires of the best elements of Mexico; and that the revolutionists were only robbers and vagabonds, and that American sympathy for them was wasted.

That dodge has played out. The Mexican and American exploiters can not any longer conceal the fact that the revolution is gaining strong headway; that Diaz is badly scared, and that if left to fight out their own cause the Mexican people will capture control of their government.

Hence the sending of 20,000 American soldiers and one-half the American fleet to the Mexican border, land and sea.

It is the obvious purpose of the Taft government, dominated by Big Business, to step in and crush the Mexican revolutionists should they at any time set the upper hand of the Diaz despotism.

The Southwestern Farmer speak for those Texans who believe the Mexican people have a natural right to win and enjoy their freedom if they can do it, just as the fathers of Texas had that right in 1835.

We believe the revolutionary government, if it should win, would guarantee fair and liberal treatment to all Americans who have any legitimate investment in Mexico.

We would not have our government lift one finger to prevent the oppressed Mexican people from dispossessing American exploiters who have got possession of the property of the Mexican people by dealing with the Diaz despotism.

We are ourselves fighting on our own side of the line, to dispossess American monopolies that through bought special privileges voted by a corrupt government have got possession of billions of dollars of the property that fairly belongs to the masses of the American people.

Our sympathies are as naturally with the Mexican revolutionists as the sympathy of the Taft government is with the Diaz despotism and its allies, the American exploiters of the Mexican people.

We can only hope that the democratic party next year will nominate for the presidency a real American, a man who respects the old American ideals, who stands for human rights against the monopolists and exploiters, and that such a man may succeed Taft, the tool of the Big Rich, in the American White House.

And we hope to see Eugene Debs, the most eloquent of all American advocates of Mexican as well as American emancipation from bondage to the exploiters, nominated for the presidency by the socialist party. We dare not hope that the republican party will nominate La Follette, the only genuinely American spirit among its leaders.

The cause of human freedom, today as never before, needs the devoted service of men who remembered and revere the earlier traditions of America. The grip of the monopolists, fasten-

ALL THE WRITING ALWAYS IN SIGHT

(The biggest order ever placed by any firm or corporation for typewriters for their own use) because their own mechanical experts, sitting as a jury, said it was unquestionably the best. They examined all competing makes, tested them under every condition of stress and strain, and voted unanimously in favor of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter thus rendered you an invaluable service. Lacking mechanical experts of your own you can safely rely upon the decision of these five engineers, at the height of their calling, who were willing to stake their professional reputation on the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter. Many large concerns have already been guided by this expert opinion and have standardized, as the DuPonts did, with the typewriter that stood the test. There could be no test more thorough, or more unbiased decision.

WANTS GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIPS OF RAILROADS GIVEN A TRIAL

Amatin, March 20.—The time has come when I am almost persuaded that the theory of government ownership of railroads ought to be given a practical test on a large scale. There is only one thing that causes me to make pause in advocating such a step with all the zeal I can command, and that is Sam pays the freight.
Sam Lazarus, capital and ex-Texas, who got his start in this state, declared himself in the foregoing sentence while in Austin this week. Mr. Lazarus was not speaking in jest. He was very much in earnest. The conclusion he reached was not formed as the result of mere impulse, but is the gradual growth of much study and more observation.
"Government ownership is coming sooner or later," says Mr. Lazarus "and when it does come I fear that it will not prove the panacea those who have long preached this doctrine hope for. Under stress of multiplied regulatory measures, the tendencies of recent years have been to force into a few hands the great trunk lines of the country. Then this process of concentration reaches its natural and ultimate end, then will government ownership begin to take a tangible form.
"Personally I have always favored the underlying principles of the Texas railroad laws. It would be even a greater folly for the government to recede from its stand to exercise supervision over the railroads, than would government ownership be. I would, however, control the railroads with a high curb, rather than through sheer weight of hindering laws.
"The only striking example of government ownership of railroads we have in this department is in the Panama railroad, 48 miles in length, running from Panama to Colon in the canal zone. The density of tonnage—the heaviest single contributing factor in the matter of low freight rates—is greater than on any other line of equal length in America. The grades are not heavy, labor does not command wages disproportionate to wages paid in the states, no expensive executive or soliciting force makes constant demands upon the treasury of the line. The road is exempt from the payment of taxes and the best of the suit lawyer extant cannot avail himself to collect a personal injury claim through the courts against this short government owned line.
"Notwithstanding the countless favors the Panama Railroad, government owned enjoys and the excellent conditions making low rates of freight not only natural, but highly proper, your Uncle Sam collects his full pound of flesh for every turn of the wheel on his line.
"For instance, one desires to ride from Colon to Panama on this line. He has to plank down a cash fare of 5 cents for every one of the 48 miles of the journey. That isn't all; suppose he has a steamer trunk he wishes to take with him, which to take with him, which trunk and contents weight 100 pounds. The baggage master will, of course check this piece of baggage, but not until he collects 2 cents a pound for it, for the government, even though 5 cents per mile is collected for passenger fare, cannot see where hauling a small amount of checked baggage free is a profitable undertaking.
"Suppose again, one has a carload of any given commodity on the Pacific coast he wishes moved to the Atlantic coast and he decides to send it via Colon, the Panama railroad and Panama destination. And let his say more in illustration of the matter, the through rate on this commodity from the Pacific coast to the Atlantic coast is $1 the 100 pounds; how is this through rate divided? The steamship that receives the commodity at ship-side on the Pacific, loads and stores the commodity in the hold of the vessel, carries it to Colon and places it alongside the cars of the Panama railroad gets 25 per cent of the through rate of $1 the 100 pounds. After the Panama railroad hauls the commodity

March Will Be a Great Fish Month--Begin It With Burnham's Fish Flakes

They're Great
The first of March ushers in the season of Lent and whether you attach any religious significance to that season of the year or not, the fact remains that during that month fish producers will make great efforts to supply the market with extraordinarily attractive items from the fish realm.
And among the most attractive will be Burnham's Fish Flakes which is nothing more or less than a fancy form of shredded codfish.
There is a peculiarly fine and delicate flavor to fresh codfish which it is not possible to obtain in the salted article as it is sold in open bulk or package. That delicate flavor is retained in the fish flakes almost intact, for the fish are taken just as they come from the sea, perfectly boned and then packed in cans which are lined with parchment.
The flavor of these Fish Flakes is so good that you can eat it raw from the can without any cooking, and a can is only 17 1/2 cents, which makes it almost as economical as the bulk article. Let us send you a can of this to usher in the Lenten season.

Robach's Mineral Water. is highly recommended by physicians and patrons who have tested its merits for indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, kidney and bladder trouble. This water stimulates the secretions of the stomach, increases digestion and favors a more complete absorption of the food, and prevents the action of germs that cause typhoid and other infectious diseases.
