TAFT URGES EARLY ACTION ON CANADIAN RECIPROcity MEASURE

SAYS HE FEELS SURE AMERICAN PEOPLE WILL WELCOME MEASURE.

TRADE WILL INCREASE

And Productive Resources of Canada Will Be Opened To American Consumers.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., April 5.—Taft's message to the extra session of congress was delivered today. In it he urged early action on Canadian reciprocity. He said he based this message on his confidence in popular sentiment and duty to the great masses of the American people. He said he felt sure the American people would welcome such a measure which would result in an increase in trade on both sides of the boundary and open the reserve producing resources of Canada to the great mass of our consumers and would offer a broader outlet for United States farm and industrial products. The message which only dealt with reciprocity was short.

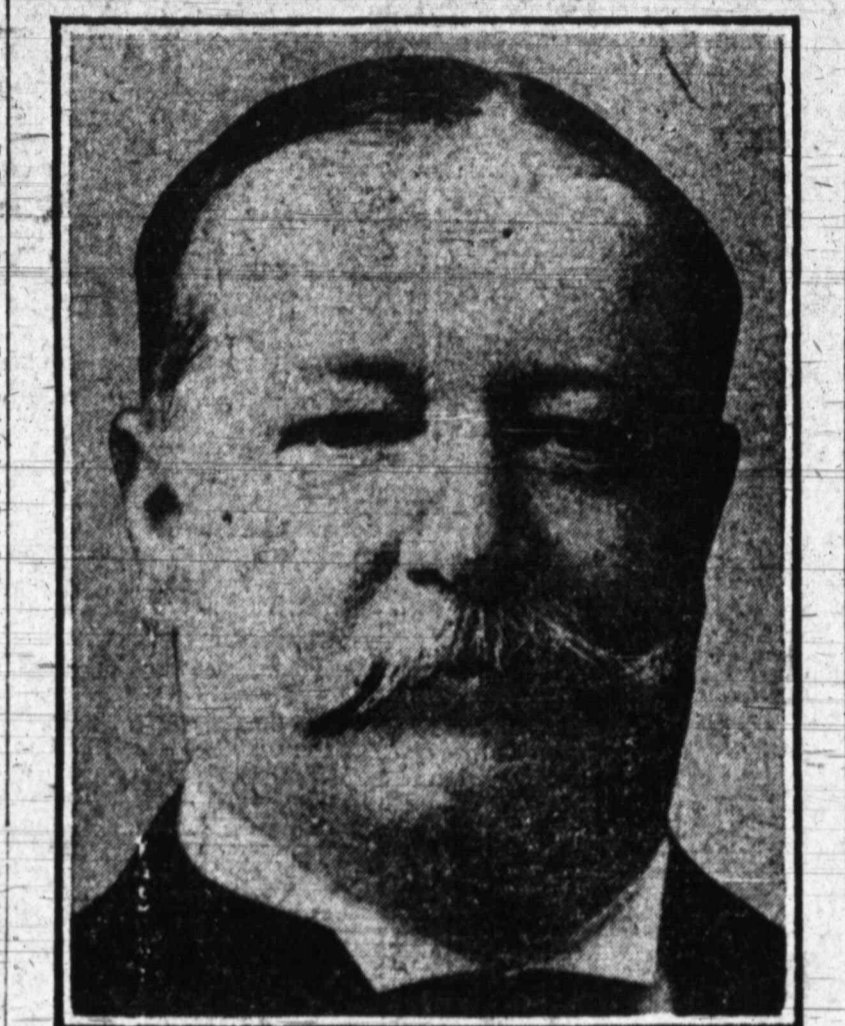

The message follows: "To the senate and house of Representatives:

"I transmitted to the sixty-first congress on January 24, last, the text of the reciprocity trade agreement which had been negotiated under my direction by the secretary of state with the representatives of the dominion of Canada. This agreement was the consummation of earnest effort, extending over a period of nearly a year, on the part of both governments to effect a trade arrangement which, supplementing it did the amicable settlement of various questions of a diplomatic and political character that had been reached, would mutually promote commerce and would also strengthen the friendly relations now existing.

"The agreement in its intent and in its terms was purely economic and purely commercial. While the general subject was under discussion by the commissioners, I felt assured that the sentiment of the people of the United States was such that they would welcome a measure which would result in the increase of trade on both sides of the boundary line, would open up the reserve productive resources of Canada to the great mass of our consumers on advantage as conditions and at the same time offer a broader outlet for the excess products of our farms and many of our industries.

"Details regarding a negotiation of this kind necessarily could not be made public while the conferences were pending. When, however, the full text of the agreement accompanying correspondence and data explaining both its purpose and its scope became known to the people through the message transmitted to congress, it was immediately apparent that the ripened fruits of the careful labors of the commissioners met with wide approval. This approval has been strengthened by further consideration of the terms of the agreement in all their particulars. The volume of support which has developed shows that its broadly national scope is fully appreciated and responsive to the popular will.

"The house of representatives of the sixty-first congress, after the full text of the arrangement with all the details in regard to the different provisions had been before it, as they were before the American people, passed a bill confirming the agreement as follows:

negotiated and as transmitted to congress. This measure failed of action in the senate.

"In my transmitting message of the 30th of January, I fully set forth the character of the agreement and emphasized its appropriateness and necessity as a response to the mutual needs of the people of the two countries, as well as its common advantage. I now lay that message and the reciprocity trade agreement as part of the present message before the sixty-second congress and again invite the earnest attention to the consideration there is expressed. "I am constrained, in deference to popular sentiment and with a real sense of my duty to the great mass of our people whose welfare is involved, to urge on your consideration early action on this agreement. In concluding the negotiation, the representatives of the two countries, bound themselves to use their utmost efforts to bring about the tariff changes provided for in the agreement by the concurrent legislation at Washington and Ottawa. I have felt it my duty therefore not to acquiesce in relegation of action until the opening of the congress in December but to use my constitutional prerogative and convoke the sixty-second congress in extra session in order that there shall be no break of continuity in considering and acting upon this most important subject. (Signed) Wm. H. TAFT.

Material Arriving For New Light And Power Company

The conduit has been received and is now on the ground for the new light and power company and will be placed in the paved district just as soon as the city has completed the work of grading to the proper depth. The company is ready to put a force of men at work and announces that the matter will be pushed as soon as conditions will justify.

In addition to this the machinery for the plant has already been selected and will be shipped as soon as the factory can get it ready. The equipment for the plant will consist of two Benson gas engines, one of 250 horsepower and the other 110, while two generators will be provided, one of 75 and the other of 150 capacity, say the promoters. The double equipment will be installed to prevent a delay in service in case of a break down and also to provide sufficient power for all emergencies. The entire machinery will be of the latest and most successful patterns and it is estimated will provide ample power for any demand that may be made upon it.

The power station will be located on the alley running from Seventh to Eighth, between Ohio and Indiana, adjoining the Wichita Garage.

It is said that the Brooklyn club has sold 22 players to minor leagues for $25,300.

SIXTY MILLIONS FOR AUTOMOBILES

New York Spends This Much Annually in the Purchase of New Machines.

New York, April 5.—As evidence that New York City is the automobile selling center of the world, statistics have been gathered, showing that 33,000 machines are annually sold here for a sum approximating $60,000,000. Broadway alone has over 50 agencies or branch houses, handling 93 different makes of American cars, beside the headquarters of a dozen foreign manufacturers. With a profit on automobile sales reckoned at 25 per cent the gross income of the New York agencies is $15,000,000 a year.

There are 700 men engaged as salesmen by these automobile concerns in New York. Their average pay is figured at $2,000 a year, although the best salesmen make as much as $10,000 and in few instances even larger sums. The rental of automobile stores alone amounts to $500,000 a year. Four times this sum is spent for advertising and incidentals.

A GREAT CROWD ATTENDS

Women Remain in Seats During Noon Hour to Hold Place for the Afternoon.

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, April 5.—Women neighbors and friends of Mrs. Lizzie Brooks, on trial here for the killing of Mrs. Mary Binford, testified this morning that she had prayed every day for two years for Mrs. Binford, whom she shot to death, that the latter might become a better woman and secure a position in another city. Mrs. Brooks, a Quaker, in Mrs. Brooks' church told of kneeling beside Mrs. Brooks and helping her utter a prayer for Mrs. Binford. Mrs. Binford was shot four times by a veiled woman with an automatic pistol. The killing occurred at the store where Mrs. Binford worked. The woman who did the killing invited the dead woman's department and called for her to fit a skirt. When Mrs. Binford appeared at the door the veiled woman drew a pistol from a muff and opened fire. The stricken woman died instantly.

YEGGMEN'S KIT IN THEIR POSSESSION

Sheriff Randolph Holding The Two Men Awaiting Further Development.

THEY TELL QUEER STORY

Eugene Williams says he is the fall guy. He can't figure out why somebody should send him to a warehouse platform to pick up a yeggman's kit and at the same time telephone the Sheriff's office that an attempt was being made to burglarize a saloon close to the warehouse. The solution of the question bothers him. He says as much himself. Apparently he isn't quite sure this is so. "Now on the level, Sheriff, wasn't it the same fellow," he asked Sheriff Randolph. But Sheriff Randolph isn't answering questions. He seems to doubt Williams' theory.

Last night at about nine o'clock some one called up the Sheriff's office and said that some one was trying to break into the Wichita Valley saloon. Sheriff Randolph and Deputies Humphries and Hawkins hurried to the scene. At the warehouse across the railroad tracks they saw two men crouched under the platform. They watched and presently one of the men lighted a match. Before it went out the officers had reached the platform. Sheriff Randolph was the spokesman. "Give us a drink of that whisky," he asked and when the two men crawled out they were seized. The older of the two who says his name is Williams, carried a bundle tied in dirty red cloth. When this was unwrapped it was found to contain one bottle believed to be filled with nitro glycerin, another filled with oil of mustard, two packages of dynamite caps, several feet of fuse, a candle, a bar of soap. The younger of the two, a lad who says he is only sixteen years old, but who is fully six feet tall, says that only fifteen minutes before his arrest, he met the man who gives his name as Williams at the Mansion Hotel. "Williams asked him to go with him to get his grip."

"I went with him and had just lighted a match to help him look for what I supposed was his grip when the officer seized me," said the boy this morning. He says his name is Geo. Killinger, that his home is at Quanah and that he has a brother working on the railroad here. He says he had just come up from Fort Worth to look for work here and met Williams at the Mansion Hotel. He said that Williams appeared the worse for drink and that he went with him unsuspecting anything wrong. Williams says he came into town a few days ago "to spend some money." He says that somebody—hedoesn't seem to have a very good idea of who—told him to look under the platform for his and when he did so was arrested. He admits that he has tramped around the world considerably, but says he has recently worked at Port Arthur, Texas.
So far the Sheriff's department has been unable to trace the origin of the call and are holding Williams and Killinger pending further developments.

How the Trouble Started at the Blue Springs School

IN WHICH THE EDITOR DIVES DEEP INTO THE MISTY PAST AND BRINGS TO SURFACE SOME RECOLLECTIONS OF CHILDHOOD.

(From K. Lamity's Harpoon.)
When I was a small boy I attended my first school in an old post oak log house at the Blue Springs in Bell county, Texas. The Blue Springs are located on the Calado river north-west of Corn Hill some two or three miles, and southwest of the town of Salado about seven miles.

There was only one room to the building. It was covered with hand-made boards, and the benches were put up on the split-log plan. A long log was split in halves. The split surface was rufely hewn by hand and turned upward, and wooden legs inserted at each end. There were lots of splinters in those benches. I find them now occasionally.

One long dressed pine plank was attached to the east wall and this was used as a writing desk for each student, and it was at this place I learned to execute those wonders in penmanship that have since sent many a poor innocent printer and proof reader to the big house. My teacher told me that I "wrote a Horace Greeley hand," and having heard that Horace Greeley was a great man, I naturally left complimented. I never knew what he meant until years afterwards, when I saw some of Horace Greeley's penmanship, and it made me mad. As a matter of fact, there was a family resemblance between the penmanship of Horace Greeley and my own, though I consider mine much superior as I use many more straight horizontal lines and less curves. This style of penmanship requires much less penmanship and ink than the Spencerian or any other modern method.

The room was floored with a large smooth un-dressed stone—many of them three feet or more in diameter. They were not fitted very closely at the joints, but the spaces soon filled up with dirt, and made the surface quite level. These stones were made and set in our bare feet both in winter and summer.

In the center of the room was one very large smooth slab of soft lime stone and on Friday evenings each student had to stand out on this stone and recite a speech. It was the trial of my life, for I never could make a speech. I hated that old rock and hate it yet. We also had to stand on the same rock when we got a licking. Each boy got from four to six each week, usually for fighting. None of us minded that. I would rather take a licking any day than get up there and face that gang of grinning boys and say "speech."

Our teacher, used to take a two or three hours' nap at dinner time. One day he had to wake him up at 10 o'clock so he could dismiss school. He said if any of us ever told this at home he would thrash our pants off of us. That threat was entirely gratuitous. We never dreamed of telling it. The longer he slept the better we liked it.

One day he slept pretty late, and I persuaded John Face, who is now a banker at Killeen, Texas, to wake him up with the rubber ball. John was my bosom friend and conspirator. I could always persuade him to attempt almost anything, and it seldom failed to result in a first-class tanning for both of us.

This particular day the old man lay on one of the long benches, close up to the wall, with his coat under his head for a pillow. On these occasions, there was no danger of arousing him accidentally, for we romped all over and around the house and had a good time, and he never missed a snore or stirred a nose. We all noticed that whenever he had one of these sleepy spells, he was always cross, drank lots of water, and his breath smelled like something the cats brought in. Years later, I found out the reason.

There was a big crack between the logs right at the old man's head, and after filling the rubber ball with cold spring water, John slipped outside. All the rest of the students, with books in hand, took their accustomed seats and began studying vigorously, keeping an eye on John, as he crawled around the outside of the house. We could see him plainly through the cracks between the logs—many of which were large enough to throw a cat, and a litter of kittens, clear through them and never ruffle the fur.

The suspense was nerve wracking. On the boys' side of the house came the steady monotonous drone of voices. Each one was studying his lesson in the half audible manner peculiar to those primitive schools. They were all studying the same lesson in the old blue back speller—page 25. You all know how it runs: "B-a, ba, k-e-r, baker." "S-h-a, sh-a, dy, dy, shady." "L-a, la, dy, lady."

"B-a, ba, k-e-r, baker," and clear on down the five columns to the last word, "faint." On the girls' side of the house all held their spelling books close up to their pretty, healthy red cheeks, but they never spelled a lick. They had all promised to do so, but who ever knew a girl to stick to the promise she made a boy? Every one of them were almost exploding with suppressed laughter, and giggling in the senseless manner peculiar to girls. They knew the teacher never licked a girl—and also knew that there was not a boy in the room who would escape if quick they were glad of it. They always got half the fun and none of the hereafter.

None of us ever expected to escape. While we all knew John's fate, when he soaked that old man's south ear full of ice, cold spring water, we also realized that before the matter was settled, each one of our backs would look like we had been spending a vacation on a farm in Burleson county. We knew the price in advance for the fun, but believed it was worth it, thinking as yet. We had just spelled down to the word "almly" when a big dirty hand came through the cracks, the hole in the ball was placed within an inch of the ear of the slumbering teacher, and John gave the fatal squeeze, and the old man's ear got more water in it than it had known in six months. John made a bull's eye and business began to pick up.

DON'T STOP WORKING THIS WEEK!

MAKE A SUPREME EFFORT NOW—EFFORTS ALONE WILL WIN OUR $500.00 IN GOLD FOR YOU—BE A WINNER WHILE YOUR COMPETITORS SLEEP.

You Have Everything to Gain and Nothing to Lose—Always Read This Write-Up.

A little over three days remain in which you can hope to win one of our extra prizes. In addition to your opportunity to reimburse yourself for what time you devote to the contest this week, you secure either the $100.00 or $50.00 that we are offering the two contestants turning in the greatest amount of business this period. You also secure votes according to the present scale.

The difference between the first and second period scale should not be lightly forgotten. It will pay you in more ways than one to do everything possible before next Saturday night, in other words you will have to work one-third harder after the first period closes in order to accomplish as much as you can this one.

Every moment is now doubly precious to you and you can't afford to lose one of them. It may be that you can secure enough subscriptions between now and 10 o'clock next Saturday evening to win not only the $100 extra prize, but our first grand prize as well.

It is at least foolish to be idle while this splendid opportunity is available. If you are adverse to entering yourself, nominate some particular friend that you would like to see win the $500 in Gold, then go after subscriptions as you never went after anything before.

It will always pay our contestants and their many friends to thoroughly read this write-up together with the rest of THE TIMES every day as we several times have made mention of facts that seem to be overlooked by our many friends and patrons. We often make suggestions for your own good, and it is well for every contestant to understand our reasons for doing certain things and we usually explain them in these columns.

This write-up is printed daily for the guidance of every individual directly or indirectly interested in the contest, and we presume that all the candidates entered want to be successful in their ambition to be a winner—so they would not have joined the rank of prospective winners.

We aim to encourage the discouraged and strengthen the strong as well as the weak, to assist by arousing the fighting blood for which Texans are noted the world over as well as pointing out possible opportunities.

These pointers are intended as sign posts to assist you toward success; you will find they assist you materially in your honest ambition and repair your crippled hopes. If these write-ups are thoroughly understood and digested they will not only help you in this contest, but in every undertaking engaged in during the balance of your life. We try to spur on every contestant to do his or her best, as we appreciate the number of drawbacks each add every one of you has to contend with.

The Greeks picture "opportunity" as a half-bald headed woman with all her hair on her forehead; you have to grab her from the front, once she had passed there was nothing to clutch at. Do not forget that this opportunity has a bald side, too. "Waiting until tomorrow" has destroyed more businesses, ruined more lives, annihilated more armies and blasted more opportunities and hopes than the power of emity.

People who do things on time save much more than time. They discount the disadvantages, which would keep them down if their more gifted and educated associates were as quick and steady as themselves.

In order to show your thorough appreciation of the foregoing you should immediately take time by the forelock and hustle the balance of this period harder than you have done in the past.

We would be ashamed to mention the number of our contestants that are really putting forth an equal amount of effort; that contestants usually put forth in contests similar to this that we have conducted in the south.

The figures would be large if gauged by those who have made no personal effort, as their number would be legion in comparison with the actual workers; but in comparison with the latter would be illustrated by zeros.

It is hard to understand why people will allow themselves to be talked out of an interesting contest such as this one, especially where the chances are so bright for winning $500 or $250 in Gold.

From the present outlook you are going to be mightily surprised when the final results of this contest are announced. Then you are going to ask yourself: "Why didn't I work harder during the first period? I could easily have won." Needless to say it will then be too late. It is best to be warned now while you have plenty of time to win.

It will be ridiculously easy after the contest is over to figure out how you might have won, but now is the time to do it, not then. Plan your campaign in such a manner that you will increase your totals every day. If you are ever going to be interested it should be now, while your competitors are not working as they should and while you can take advantage of the first period scale of rates.

There is not a single contestant in the race that could not have done better than he or she has done to date. It is not too late yet by long odds, to regret that you have not worked harder as the opportunity is still yours.

FOR A SMALL EFFORT. Contestants should remember these facts. In each of the three districts THE TIMES will give absolutely free one $50.00 award, one $25.00 award, one $10.00 award and one $5.00 award. Then there are the two Grand Awards, $500.00 and $250.00, respectively. All that is necessary to win is to receive the largest number of votes, according to the conditions in THE TIMES.

GET FULL INFORMATION. If there is one single point in connection with this contest that you do not understand get in communication with the Contest Manager at once, either by phone 167, or by mail, and have your doubtful points cleared at once. Then when you clearly understand everything loss no time is getting started.

BACK PAYMENT'S COUNTY. Subscribers to THE TIMES who are in arrears on their subscription account and who pay up the same are entitled to votes according to the amount paid. When you pay up your subscriptions be sure and secure the votes to which you are entitled, because it will be impossible for us to allow them afterwards; they must be secured at the time payment is made. And remember that no votes can be allowed on a subscription for less than three months to THE DAILY TIMES or one year to THE WEEKLY TIMES.

HOW VOTES ARE SECURED. Votes are secured by subscribing to THE DAILY or WEEKLY TIMES, or by purchasing a Classified Advertising Book. These ballots can be held and voted later in the contest by the person holding them, but the daily coupon clipped from THE TIMES are only good for one week from date of publication and will not be counted if voted after the 30th date printed upon them expires.

HOW TO WIN.

Any resident in the three districts mentioned in our double-page announcement, who desire to compete in this great contest and win one of the valuable awards offered, should at once see that their names are sent to the Contest Manager. Those who get in on the start have the best chance of winning, so it is desirable that the names be entered at once. Candidates who enter do not necessarily will assist you to do the best. Should there be a tie for any one of the prizes offered the same will be divided equally between those so tying. The time is short as the contest will end April 29th. There is no lottery attached to it in any way, you must get the votes to win. There is no lucky number or element of chance connected with it, and you will never know how popular you are until you enter a contest of this kind.

BOY SCOUTS TO READ YEGGMEN'S SIGNS

Daniel C. Beard, National scout commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, and the originator of the Boy Pioneers and the Sons of Daniel Boone, which helped clear the way for the development of the boy scout movement, has devised a means by which the boys throughout the country can make a systematic war upon yeggmen and hoboes who molest the housewives and rob homes. He is doing this by teaching the boys the secret signs of the yegg fraternity, so that the boys may know them and tell what the mystical marks on the fences, houses and other buildings mean. By making the secrets of the tramps common knowledge, Beard hopes to destroy the communication between the tramps and thus prevent them from doing so much harm.

Beard has not only studied the signs of the hoboes, but has gone back through the ages tracing the signs of different nations and studying their meaning, even to the hieroglyphs of the Egyptians. He took special interest in this work when preparing to illustrate Mark Twain's book named "A Yankee in King Arthur's Court." Beard says many of the yegg signs can be traced back to ancient Egypt. He has learned the meaning of the majority of those signs which can be found on gate posts, barns and on fences. By those signs the yeggmen communicate information about the house marked to their fellowmen who follow along the same path. Beard says there are signs indicating whether there is a dog in the house, whether it is easy to rob the house.

As Beard has learned these signs and can decipher them, he has arranged to teach them to the boys, and it is probable that in the new manual of the Boy Scouts of America he will have several pages devoted to these symbols and their meanings. If the boys learn them they can read the messages of the hoboes along the public highways. If the signs are dangerous to people the boys can try them off and warn the police. All this means the secrecy of the hoboes will be destroyed, thanks to Beard and the energy of the Boy Scouts of America. It means that if the hoboes wish to continue their symbolistic communication they must work out new signs, and this would take years. —San Antonio Express.

ROOSEVELT REACHES PORTLAND TODAY

Former President Greeted By Thousands in Oregon Metropolis. At Seattle Tomorrow.

Portland, Ore., April 5.—Upon his arrival in Portland this afternoon former President Roosevelt faced a formidable program of public meetings and receptions that promised him few leisure moments until his departure from the city at midnight. A reception committee of public officials and representative business men was on hand to greet him at the station and many of the hotels and business houses displayed flags and bunting in honor of the distinguished guest. Leaving Portland shortly after midnight tonight Colonel Roosevelt will spend tomorrow forenoon in Tacoma and from that city he will proceed to Seattle.

Now For Some Dirty Work? Well, Japan's no fool. The little yellow man smiles a lot and professes eternal friendship, but he is watching for his chance. And the United States government is preparing to give him his chance. While Uncle Sam is making trouble for himself in Mexico, the little yellow man with the eternal smile will strike, and he'll strike without warning at a vital point. That's the way he precipitated the Russo-Japanese war, and every one knows the outcome. Aside from all other considerations, there is certainly a streak of madness in the belligerent attitude of the United States toward Mexico at this time—Registration, Organ-of-Mexico insurgents.

The Rotan Commercial Club and the City of Rotan have just completed the fencing in of several parks at that place. Rotan has a number of small parks which are nicely set with shade trees and though the town is comparatively a new one, its parks are among the prettiest to be found in the state. Park building is as necessary to the growth and development of a city as any other commercial or industrial enterprise and the citizens of Rotan are wisely securing the sites for their park while the land is to be had at a reasonable price.

Which is wiser—to have confidence in the opinions of your fellow-citizens, or people you know, or depend on statements made by utter strangers residing in far-away places? Read the following:

Mrs. Charles Irwin, 704 Burnett avenue, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have proven themselves worthy of my praise and I am glad of this opportunity to recommend them. I had such severe attacks of backache that I could hardly endure them and it seemed as if a heavy weight were tied to me. There were bearing down pains in my hips and I also had much soreness through my kidneys. Last spring I was confined to my bed for four months and during that time I was in great pain. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box from the Wichita Drug House and they helped me beyond my expectations. Since I used them, I have been in much better health. One of my relatives has also taken Doan's Kidney Pills and has found them very reliable." (Statement given June 16, 1908.)

A Second Endorsement.
Mrs. Irwin was interviewed on December 9, 1910 and she said: "I have no hesitation whatever in confirming the statement I gave over two years ago in which I told of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. Since that time I have taken this remedy occasionally and it has always brought prompt relief." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. APRIL.
A dash of rain
On the window pane,
And a glint of blue in the sky;
A cloud, snow white
And a rainbow bright,
And a soft breeze floating by
A green-roofed bower,
And a springing flower,
With a bird-song sweet and clear,
A doubt—a dream—
And of hope and a gleam,
A fancy and then a fear,
And wealth untold
In the yellow gold
Of the dandelion's cloak,
And jewels rare
That the fountains wear
Released from their icy yoke,
A light—a gloom—
A drenched perfume,
A robin's wavering flight,
Faith to believe,
And a heart to grieve,
Darkness and then a light,
A smitten flower,
And a passing shower,
That matters its beauty down,
A soft blue sky
With a cloud hard by,
And laughter and then a frown,

And the Joy and Care,

Dallas will have to hold another city election from the fact that not one of the four or five candidates for mayor and several other offices received a sufficient number of votes to elect.

Only 533 votes were polled in the election held in this city yesterday, which is less than half the number of poll tax voters. Three aldermen were elected and there were eight candidates—five Democrats and three Republicans. The Democrats got one out of the three.

The Commercial Clubs of the State are cultivating a closer relation with the farmers and in that the commercial clubs are acting wisely. About the quickest and easiest way for a commercial organization to put an end to its usefulness is for it to antagonize the interests of farmers. In order to get the very best results, the business men who compose the most part of the commercial organizations and the farmer should work together, and what will redound to the benefit of one will help the other.

RELATED REPORTS OF STORM DAMAGE

Rain, Hail and Wind Wreak Havoc in Southwest Texas.

By Associated Press.
San Antonio, Texas, April 5.—Only last night were reports received giving any idea of the great damage done in Southwest Texas by the rain, hail and wind storm of early Tuesday morning.

On the Witt ranch, 9 miles east of Brackett, 300 goats were killed by the hail.

At Comfort the storm partook of the nature of a cyclone, blowing down three houses in the business section. Mrs. Rudolph Allerkamp was picked up bodily by the wind and thrown against a fence. Wreckage of wind-mills, roofs, etc., was piled around her but she escaped harm. The house in which Michael Linder was sleeping was blown down on him but he escaped alive. A dozen steel wind-mills were taken along by the cyclone, not a vestige of them being left. Crops were damaged and telephone and telegraph wires were blown down.

Several Mexican families traveling in La Salle county were almost strangled by the wind, only by covering their heads were they saved. Hail drifts 12 inches deep were seen in some fields yesterday afternoon.

Farmers agree that the damage done by wind and hail was offset by the benefit done by the rains.

There are two Indian members of the Maine legislature, who represent the Indians of that state. They are assigned seats in the rear of the chamber, but have no vote in the proceedings. Their purpose in the legislature is to give the Indians' side when various matters pertaining to their constituents' welfare are under discussion.

ACTIVE CAMPAIGN FOR PYTHIAN MEETING

Secretary Day of the Chamber of Commerce is today mailing out three hundred invitations to the different Knights of Pythias lodges over the state inviting them to meet in this city in 1912 and giving notice that this city will be an active contestant for the Grand-Conclave of that year. This action is taken in line with the information contained in The Times yesterday to the effect that Wichita Falls would make an effort to secure the 1912 state meeting of this order in connection with this campaign the following letter is being sent out to the different lodges:

Dear Sir:
The "Busiest and Best" City in Texas through the Representatives of Local Lodge No. 49 of the Knights of Pythias of Texas, will extend an invitation to your worthy conclaves assembled at Abilene the latter part of this month, to hold your next annual and regular succeeding convales in this city.

The Chamber of Commerce of this city stands shoulder to shoulder with every worthy organization and in this case joins in extending to you a hearty welcome and gives assurance that you will receive a royal entertainment at the hands of our citizenship, if you will honor us with your presence.

To the end that you may have some authentic information concerning this city we herewith enclose some literature which we trust you will read and digest.

The door is wide open and the key yours if you care to avail yourself of it.
Very truly yours,
Wichita Falls Chamber Commerce
F. H. Day, Secretary.

Paris, Kentucky has twenty-one saloons, and under the high license system prevailing there, each saloon pays into the city treasury as a license $1000, making a total of twenty-one thousand annually that the city gets as a rebate from the saloons. The saloon men, however, according to a press dispatch, are planning to save themselves a greater portion of the high tax, forming a stock company and having only three saloons located in different portions of the city, thereby not only cutting down the annual city license from $21,000 to $3000, but save as much if not more in the saving of house rent and help. A very good plan, that, and no doubt that will meet with favor by a majority of the citizens of that town, even though the city does lose $18,000 annually.

If Bryan's advice is taken, (and advice from him is generally good), the Democratic senators and the Progressive Republicans will form an alliance and work together during the special session of congress, and if they do it is pretty safe to say that there will be something doing.

Carter Harrison, Democrat, won in the mayoralty contest in Chicago yesterday.

WOODMAN MEETING IN THIS CITY TODAY

At the county convention of the Woodmen Camps held here this afternoon—a permanent organization was perfected with J. C. Ralston of Iowa Park as permanent chairman and E. S. Whitlaw as secretary. C. B. McConnell was chosen as delegate to the State Encampment at Waco on May 3 and J. C. Ralston was named as alternate.

A motion prevailed that all the local camps in the surrounding territory be invited to meet in this city on May 4th for the purpose of organizing a district log rolling picnic association. On this occasion the "local camp will entertain the visitors with a picnic at Lake Wichita where a drill will be given in the afternoon. In the evening an exemplification of ritualistic work will be given in the hall.

At the meeting this afternoon the following resolution was unanimously adopted:
Whereas, The Modern Woodmen of America has through the untiring efforts of its officers and members become the largest and most popular fraternal beneficiary society in the world, and

Whereas Much credit is due to the Head Officers for their foresight and wisdom in adding new features to the society such as our tuberculosis sanitariums, where the neighbors suffering with the "Great White Plague" may receive the best possible medical attention and care free of cash and.

Whereas The society owes a tribute of thanks to the present administration for the harmony and peace that has prevailed and for the wonderful manner in which all previous records of growth and advancements have been broken,

Therefore, Be it resolved that the county camp of Wichita county, State of Texas, do hereby commend the present administration for their untiring efforts and zeal in making the Modern Woodmen of America stronger and better than ever before.
C. B. McConnell,
J. C. Ralston,
Wm. Stahrendt.

The National Progress Republican League, which is expected to figure more or less prominently in the presidential campaign next year, aims to secure the popular election of United States senators, direct primary nominations for all offices, the initiative, the referendum and the recall, and the adoption of a stringent corrupt practices act.

WHITE SOX MANAGER
INSURES PLAYERS
 Chicago, Ill., April 5.—In an effort to protect himself from loss of money as well as of service when his players become ill or are injured, Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago Americans, has had each player insured. This plan has been under consideration by Comiskey ever since Sullivan was injured in California last year and when Blackburne was put out of the game with a bad knee in Texas, it settled the question with the South Side magnate.

The insurance secured covers illness or death from any cause. The policies taken out by Comiskey call for $5,000 in case of death from accident or illness and the other damages range as in most policies of the kind. In case a player is unable to play on account of illness or accident, President Comiskey will receive $25 per week so long as the athlete is out of the game.

Pomp to Mark Cardinal's Jubilee.
 Baltimore, Md., April 5.—Services rivaling in magnificence any heretofore held in the Roman Catholic church in America will mark the celebration next June of the 50th anniversary of the priesthood and the coincident 25th anniversary of his elevation to the cardinalate. Plans for the double jubilee already are well under way. The celebration will be participated in not only by all the distinguished dignitaries of the church in America but also by a delegation of eminent churchmen sent from Rome. One of the chief features of the observance will be a solemn pontifical mass at which an offering will be taken up, which will be added to the building fund for the Cardinal Gibbons memorial hall at the Catholic University in Washington.

Mrs. L. Steelman, aged 21, died at her home at 1411 Fifteenth street yesterday afternoon, following an illness from septicaemia. She leaves a husband and two children. The funeral was held at ten o'clock this morning, Rev. R. E. Farley officiating. The burial was in the Riverside cemetery.

Four candidates have filed application for appointment to the office of city secretary resigned by Judge Rye and one other is a candidate who has not yet filed his application. Those who have filed applications are Chas. Chenuit, Sam Bigger, V. E. Skoen and Wendell Johnson. It is also understood that Everett Hughes will apply for appointment. The appointment will be made by the city council at its first regular meeting.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the Methodist Chautauque to be held at Lake Wichita in July have designated the meeting as the Lakeshore Assembly instead of the Lakeside Assembly as heretofore announced, they having thought that the former name was more appropriate than that first selected. Considerable advertising is being sent out in connection with the campaign to promote a large attendance and good reports of manifest interest are being received from all sections of the territory, included in the two conferences.

As heretofore announced in The Times, William Jennings Bryan will lecture in this city at the Wichita Theatre on April 18 at 8 o'clock P. M. The date is attracting quite a little attention and on account of the prominence of Mr. Bryan it is expected that one of the largest crowds ever assembled in the opera house will hear this distinguished man. It is doubtful if there is a man appearing on the American stage who will attract a larger hearth than will Mr. Bryan and tickets for the occasion will no doubt have a ready demand, in fact to such an extent that standing room will be at a premium by the date of his appearance.

As previously announced in the Times, the fire department will meet in their hall tonight, over the annex of the city hall, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year and to transact such other business as may be presented incident to their annual meeting. Tomorrow night the annual banquet of the department will be held in the same room, which occasion is looked forward to with much interest by the boys. There is not an organization in the city deserving of more credit and encouragement than the fire boys, who are always faithful and efficient in protecting the property interests of the city, and the Times trusts that they may enjoy to the fullest extent the annual feature of their organization for there is nothing in the estimation of this paper, too good for them.

The Missouri Girl.
 "The Missouri Girl," a comedy that has stood the test of twelve years before the public and never failed to please, will be the offering at the Wichita Theatre, Saturday, April 8th, matinee and night.

This production is being advertised as the "greatest fun event of the season" and amusement lovers who remember the show in previous years say the phrase is aptly selected. From first to last the play is an avalanche of laughter. "Zeke Dobson" the gawky country lad, the chief fun-maker is pronounced by the critics the greatest comedy character in the history of the stage. The character is a natural one just such a boy as everyone has met, and still the situations are so funny and his actions so ludicrous that it keeps the audience screaming with laughter. In the second act the coun-

MAYOR GAYNOR
ANSWERS CRITICS
 Says Streets Were Never So Clean of Unfortunate Women or So Few Saloons Open on Sunday.

By Associated Press.
 New York, April 5.—Criticism of the New York police for alleged failure to arrest women of the street and to enforce the excise law is answered by Mayor Gaynor in a letter to Chief Magistrate McAdoo, published here today. Never were so few saloons open on Sunday, the mayor again asserts, or the streets so cleared of unfortunate women.

The police commissioner's report for last Sunday shows that there were but 27 violations of the excise law in 10,775 bar rooms, the mayor declares. An unusually close watch was kept on every saloon in the city and the remaining 10,748 saloonkeepers complied with the law.

This statute was put in force for the first time since Mr. Cropper became commissioner, as is being asserted by persons whose heads are filled with what they call vice, 1,429 have been arrested and tried of whom 1,357 were actually convicted. But I do not mention this in any note of exultation of triumph. I rather feel that as Jesus, the gentle and the kind, did when he said to those who brought the unfortunate woman before him:

"He that is without sin among you, let him cast the first stone."

My birthday party gives an opportunity for some excellent vaudeville numbers, and here again "Zeke Dobson" makes a hit in the country dance, styled the clod-hopper dance, which is said to faithfully reflect the dancing that is best liked by the native of the southwestern Missouri.

heartly laughter than anything yet written, in connection with a strong and interesting plot, it contains the most ludicrous situations ever conceived. The company presenting the play this season is composed of some of the best known people in the theatrical profession, who are fully capable of extracting this fun, and doing it out to the public in a most satisfactory manner. Nine of the old favorites remain in the cast; some of them have played their respective roles continuously for eight seasons. This guarantees a first-class performance. The new people added for this season were selected for their peculiar fitness for the roles they are to assume and it is safe to predict that a "better than ever" line can safely be added to the advertising matter.

The vaudeville portion of the show has been enlarged and strengthened. The production will be seen in its entirety at the Wichita Theatre Saturday, April 8, afternoon matinee and night performance.

WAR OF THE RANGE IS STARTED AGAIN

Wyoming Stockmen and Sheep Owners Have Bloody Fight Over Dead Line.

Sioux Falls, S. C., April 5.—The bitter antagonism excited by the recent raiding of sheep camps by Wyoming cattle men has broken out anew. The most recent outbreak occurred in Johnson county where years ago a dispute between the sheepmen and cattlemen over possession of the range developed into a bloody civil war.

Some sheep herders, it is said, ignored an established "dead line"—a furrow plowed through an extensive area and supposed to limit the pasturage of the sheepmen.

Committees some time ago had been appointed, representing the conflicting interests, to establish the "dead line." The two committees agreed that a dead line be drawn and recognized by all cattlemen and all sheepmen interested in the range country on the lower Powder river and vicinity to mark a boundary between the sheep and cattle range.

Richard Young and a man named Stotts were selected by the opposing sides to mark the dead line. For a time both sides respected the agreement, but it was not long before a sheep wagon was said to have been found beyond the dead line. It immediately was burned.

The most serious occurrence, which has brought matters to the point of open warfare between the old-time enemies of the range, was the ridding with bullets of a sheep wagon, belonging to the Weaver outfit. The sheep were fired by two riders who crept up a gulch to a point within twenty-five yards of the wagon. They emptied the magazines of their guns, the bullets tearing their way through the front part of the wagon, wounding Henry Hand, a sheep herder, in the shoulder, and injuring a horse. The riders then disappeared.

Only a few nights later a sheep wagon and a commissary wagon belonging to Jack Alameda, a big Johnson county sheepman, were burned. About the same time two wagons belonging to E. D. Metcalf were destroyed by fire. One wagon belonging to Keeline & Son is known to have been destroyed and some reports have it that three wagons belonging to this outfit were burned.

Jack Alameda is a brother of Joe Alameda, shot and killed a year or two ago when the sheep wagons in his charge were raided at Ten Sleeps by partisans of the cattlemen, five of whom were sent to the penitentiary.

The sheepmen charge that the recent raid on the wagons of Jack Alameda was accompanied by an act of torture, of which a sheep herder in the employ of Alameda was the victim. It is said the raiders set upon the herder, bound his hands and feet, and regardless of his appeals to save his bed, his pictures and his keep sacks from home, burned all before his eyes. They then are charged with having flogged him with a whip and left him shackled. At the time of the raid Alameda was on a business trip to Boise City.

Thus far one arrest has been made in connection with the raids and it is said on the authority of Joseph Leffors, a detective in the employ of the Wyoming Wool Growers' association, that he has secured the confessions of two cattle men connected with the raids, and that they told of a secret meeting held by thirteen cattlemen in a county school house at the head of Crazy Woman creek a short time before the commencement of the raids.

The names of all the cattlemen who were at the secret meeting, it is said, are in the possession of the Wyoming Wool Growers' association, and arrests will be made in the near future. The names of the two cattlemen who have confessed their part in the raid are being withheld by the authorities, in order that they may escape the wrath of other cattlemen.

The sheepmen assert that when the dead line was made with a plow the cattlemen took charge of the work without the knowledge of the sheepmen and had placed on the cattle range side of the dead line a large portion of the territory which the agreement between the cattlemen and sheepmen specified should belong to the sheep range.

Some sheepmen also claim title to some lands in the cattle range, and they insist they have a right to put sheep on their own property. The cattlemen each own from 100 to 500 head of cattle. They assert they entered into the dead line agreement in good faith, and they insist that its provisions be carried out.

San Antonio, Texas, April 5.—The San Antonio, Texas, revolution in Mexico is handicapping the gathering of the onion crop grown in the vicinity of Laredo and growers are short a hundred or two laborers. At least two hundred laborers on their way to the onion fields have been conscripted for service in the Mexican army. One party of men numbering about fifty was taken from a National of Mexico train last Friday, held over until the following day and then told they were members of the Mexican army. They were supplied with uniforms and given arms and immediately sent to join a garrison in the vicinity of Torreón.

Some of The Principles Advocated by Thomas Jefferson

Thomas Jefferson, the third president of the United States, was born one hundred and sixty-seven years ago today. Following are his ten rules of life:

1. Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today.
2. Never trouble another for what you can do yourself.
3. Never spend your money before you have it.
4. Never buy what you do not want because it is cheap; it will be dear to you.
5. Pride costs us more than hunger, thirst and cold.
6. We never repent of having eaten too little.
7. Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly.
8. How much pain have cost us the evils which have never happened.
9. Take things always by their smooth handle.
10. When angry, count ten before you speak; if very angry, a hundred.

Here are some of the great principles of government advocated by Mr. Jefferson in his first inaugural address, March 4, 1801:
Equal and exact justice to all men of whatever state or persuasion, religious or political.
The support of the state governments in all their rights as the most competent administration for our domestic concerns and the surest bulwark against anti-republican tendencies.
A jealous care of the right of election by the people.
A mild and safe corrective of abuses which are lapped by the sword of revolution, where peaceable remedies are unprovided.
Absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority, the vital principle of republics, from which there is no appeal but to force the vital principle.

AFTER THE BUYERS AS WELL AS SELLERS

Hindman, Ky., April 5.—Eighty-seven indictments for vote selling were returned by the Knott county grand jury which adjourned late yesterday after a six-day investigation. That the probe will be continued was indicated by Judge D. W. Gardner when he told the jury men that later on he wanted indictments returned against vote buyers as well as those who sold votes. He indicated that the whole subject of election frauds would be taken up in the near future and investigated thoroughly.

Jamestown Meeting Opens.
Norfolk, Va., April 5.—With over 500 horses already quartered at the track and others en route the spring meeting of the Jamestown Jockey Club opened today, marking the beginning of the racing season in the North. The meeting will run for nine, ten days. The officials in charge are A. B. Dade, starter; Ed C. Cole and Gerhardt, judges; J. H. Smith, handicapper; and Herman Conkling, patrol judge.

The meeting promises to be a highly successful one, despite the fact that the Virginia law has made open betting out of the question. The added money to the stakes and purses this year is much greater than ever before. Some of the events are as follows: Marylandia purse, value $1000; Lynnhaven purse, with $500 added; Laysan purse, with $500 added; Atlantic purse with $500 added; Lorraine purse, with $500 added; Norfolk purse, with $500 added.

Represented here for the first time are many of the great metropolitan racing stables, including those of August Belmont, R. T. Wilson, Jr., Capt. E. B. Cassatt, Thomas F. Ryan, Percy A. Rose and P. S. P. Randolph.

"THIS IS MY 54th BIRTHDAY."
—Frank T. Bullen.

Frank T. Bullen, the noted English writer of deep-sea stories, who recently visited America, was born in Widdington, London, April 5, 1857. His school education was meager, for at the age of nine he was obliged to go out into the world to seek a living. After working for two years in the great English metropolis as an errand boy he began his long apprenticeship to a seafaring life. Later he graduated from the merchant marine as a chief mate, and from 1883 until 1899 worked in the British Meteorological office. It was at the age of 41, while engaged at this latter work, that Mr. Bullen began his literary career, achieving fame almost at a bound by his wonderful descriptive writing. His first book, "The Cruise

Educational Laws Enacted
By The Last Legislature

The conference for education in Texas yesterday gave out the following summary of the important educational legislation enacted by the Thirty-second legislature, which adjourned March 11, 1911.

"House bill No. 18, which takes effect June 10, 1911, is a complete revision of the certificates for second grade, first grade, permanent, primary, and permanent. Agriculture is added to the list of subjects in which the teachers are required to be examined and school law is omitted. County second-grade certificates may be issued one time to the same applicant; city certificates continue as under the present law.

"House bill 128 provides for the establishment and organization of public high schools in the common school districts of Texas and makes an appropriation for the teaching of agriculture, manual training and domestic economy in the high schools of both common and independent school districts.

"The State board of education is required to appropriate not less than $500 nor more than $2000 to high schools that establish departments of agriculture, manual training and domestic economy. To obtain this state appropriation for public high schools the board of trustees for such high schools must provide proper equipment, including a tract of land conveniently located, and must employ a teacher specially trained for giving efficient instruction in the subjects mentioned.

"It is the opinion of many friends of educational progress that this bill strengthens the office of county superintendent, builds up county schools interests by giving the people a direct voice in the school affairs of the county, makes practicable the co-operation of districts for the organization of high schools, provides a way for relieving the one-teacher school of the burden of teaching the few advanced pupils, stimulates the teaching of agriculture, domestic economy and manual training in all high schools, and puts county school business in the hands of men chosen on account of fitness for such work.

"Senate bill No. 178, which passed both houses with the emergency clause and was signed by the governor, authorizes the commissioners courts of the several counties to create common school districts containing territory within two or more counties of the State, prescribes regulations to govern the commissioners' courts in laying off such districts and in the levy and collection of the school taxes, directs the manner in which the scholastic census of all common county-line school districts shall be taken, amends the present laws by authorizing the creation of independent school districts within the territory of two or more counties in the same way and manner that towns and villages are created under title 18 of the Revised Statutes of 1895, and further amends the present laws with reference to the organization of independent school districts by providing for the change or abolishment of independent school districts in the same manner that towns and villages are now abolished or changed.

"House joint resolution No. 9, provision for the submission of which at the next general election was made by the Thirty-second legislature, proposes an amendment to article 16 of the constitution of Texas by adding thereto section 30a which makes six-year terms for boards of trustees or managers of educational, eleemosynary, and penal institutions of the State and all other boards that have been or may hereafter be established by law.

3000 FEDERAL TROOPS ARE NOW BOTTLED UP

This is Report That Comes From Chihuahua—Other Reports Contradict This.

By Associated Press.

Chihuahua, April 5.—Three thousand Mexican troops representing the main strength of President Diaz forces in Northern Mexico, are now bottled up here. At Alameda, 18 non-combatants were killed watching the federal attack a drunken, insurrecto band which was taken by surprise. It is believed all the insurrectos were shot as no prisoners were taken.

Refugees Reach El Paso.

By Associated Press.

El Paso, Tex., April 5.—Charles Richards and Jewell-Williams, Americans, the latter a New Yorker, who has been fighting with the insurrectos, arrived here today. They said the rebels won't attack Chihuahua city at present as five hundred federal reinforcements from Casas Grandes are to go to Chihuahua under General Lla. The insurrectos' ambition is to recapture Casas Grandes and liberate prisoners there, who include seventeen Americans, they say.

Richards and Williams say there are now only ten Americans with rebels and that eleven Americans have been killed. In the fight at Casas Grandes they claimed the total dead on both sides was only ninety-one, instead of the big numbers previously rumored in the United States. It is possible that Madero will attack Lla en route to Chihuahua.

Reports that the insurrectos were near Juarez, when investigated by couriers, showed that only a small band had been near here and that they left several days ago.

OVER 20 TRY OUT FOR LAWTON TEAM

The first try-out for the Lawton baseball team was held at the Fair Grounds last evening. Fully twenty prospectives were on the ground, and showing what they could do. Fully 200 fans were there to watch the future hopes of Lawton. Captain Metcalf stated last night that he would begin to use the ax today. The so-called thinning-out process will continue for about two weeks.

Another bunch of players are expected today, which will bring the total to more than thirty-five.

The first exhibition game will be played next Sunday at the Koehler Park. The new diamond will be complete by that time and Capt. Metcalf will have his players almost all picked out by that time. The following tried out for a place with the Lawton Federals last evening.
