

$60,000 HOSPITAL IS PROPOSED

FATHER DOLJE, AUTHORIZED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO OPEN NEGOTIATIONS.

ONE-THIRD FROM CITY

Business Organization Stands Ready To Submit Definite Proposition To Catholic Sisterhood.

In the absence of President Huff, T. B. Noble presided at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning, at which the proposed Catholic Hospital was considered in connection with other matters.

C. W. Bean made a report for the committee appointed to confer with Father Dolje with reference to the matter, this committee having had a meeting on yesterday afternoon. Present at this meeting was a committee of physicians appointed by the medical society together with others who are interested in this important matter. After canvassing the situation thoroughly it was the opinion of the committee that such an institution as would be needed in this city would cost approximately $60,000, the hospital to be of fifty bed capacity and constructed along modern lines. On this basis it was suggested that one-third of the amount required could be raised in the city, the Sisterhood to furnish the remaining two-thirds necessary to construct and equip the institution. In this connection it was suggested that the county might be induced to contribute to this amount as also the Wichita Falls Route and the city, none of which were possessed of hospital facilities.

The action of the committee as outlined above was reported to the meeting of the directors, who concurred in the agreement and Father Dolje was authorized to take up the matter with the Sisterhood along this line in an effort to ascertain whether or not they would entertain a definite offer embodying a donation of one-third the investment. Father Dolje, who was present at the meeting, signified his willingness to present the matter, and he will at once write the Sisterhood of the plans outlined and request an early reply thereto.

Another matter considered at this meeting was a report from M. J. Gardner, of the fair committee, who has been negotiating with the Oklahoma racing circuit for a meeting at this place during the Tri-County Fair. It will be remembered that the officers of the circuit had proposed a date for the meet at this place which was considered entirely too early and further correspondence was had with reference to the matter. The result of this correspondence as reported by Mr. Gardner was to the effect that the management of the circuit had indicated that an effort would be made to change the date to correspond with the fair date at this place. In view of this assurance it is yet possible that the meet will be held here.

GREAT AMERICAN NOVEL STILL UNWRITTEN

Most American Novels Now Written to Order—Jail a Cure for Affinity Writers.

Chicago, April 25.—The great American novel still is to be written and there is little promise of it from this generation, according to Prof. William Lyon Phelps, professor of literature at Yale University, who spoke on "The Novel of Today," before Chicago teachers yesterday.

Professor Phelps has been in the Yale chair of literature since 1901, and has achieved fame as an editor. Among the works which he has edited is "The Pure Gold of Nineteenth Century Literature."

"The Western Hemisphere never has produced a great, realistic novel," he said. Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn," he said, was near to greatness, and "The Scarlet Letter" the best of all books written in America. Even that, he said, did not reach the plane of the works of the Old World. "Styles change in books as well as in clothes," said Professor Phelps. "What young man of today would look at one of Cooper's heroines for more than a passing glance? And I am sure that the Gibson girl and the Booth Tarkington girl and the Robert W. Chambers girl would not appeal to men like our grandfathers. It is a question of supply and demand."

"People now want entertaining books, and they can get them. Men like Robert W. Chambers can fill the order. Booth Tarkington has written several books which were not so bad, but even he is beginning to supply demand without the quality."

"Then there is the man who deals in the laws of nature, the kind who writes novels wherein so-called affluents appear. I have recently read one. The remedy for that kind of writing is to put the writer in jail."

To Poland he gave the honor of producing the greatest novelist, Henryk Sienkiewicz although he placed Thomas Hardy of England not far behind.

Bridgroom Was Central Figure in Sensational Kidnapping Case.

San Mateo, Cal., April 25.—Edward J. Cudahy, the young millionaire club man of Omaha who some years ago was the central figure in a sensational kidnapping case, was married here today to Miss Leonora Brewer a prominent society girl of the Burlingame set. The ceremony was performed in St. Matthews Catholic church in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends. After a brief wedding journey the young couple will take up their residence in San Francisco.

Today's wedding was the culmination of a long engagement that was marked with many vicissitudes. About three years ago young Cudahy came west for a visit with his sister, Mrs. Jack Casper, and shortly after his arrival she entertained at an elaborate musicale at her beautiful Eli Cerreto in his honor. It was on this occasion that he first met Miss Brewer. His attentions to the society belle were marked from the first moment of their acquaintance, and little surprise was expressed when their engagement was announced a few months later. The date for the wedding was set for the following September. Almost upon the eve of the wedding however, came the news of Mr. Cudahy's illness and the indefinite postponement of the wedding. It was assumed by society that the engagement had been broken when last summer it was learned that Miss Brewer was visiting at the home of Mr. Cudahy's parents. Again last fall it was reported that the wedding was to take place, but again the wedding was postponed on account of the illness of the bridegroom-elect. During the past winter, however, Mr. Cudahy's condition was greatly improved by his residence in California, and with the impediment of his illness removed it was decided that the marriage should take place without further delay.

Want Pardon for McCann
Joliet, Ill., April 25.—The state board of pardons met today to hear arguments on the application for pardon for Edward McCann, former Chicago Police Inspector. McCann was in charge of the so-called levee district on the West side in Chicago and was convicted of bribery in connection with the protection of red light resorts. His conviction was confirmed by the highest court and he is now serving his sentence in the state penitentiary here.

Wedded at League Island.
Philadelphia, Pa., April 25.—Many naval officers and their wives attended the wedding today of Miss Helen Howard, daughter of Commander and Mrs. William L. Howard, and Ensign Charles C. Gill of Boston. Chaplain Evans, U. S. N., performed the marriage ceremony at the home of the bride's parents at the League Island navy yard. The bride was attended by Miss Daphne Brown of New York as maid of honor and the bridegroom had Ralph H. Lee as his best man.

BEST FOR BISCUITS.

A prominent teacher in one of the Domestic Science schools in Mississippi writes that she is using Cottolene with excellent results. She says:

"For biscuits Cottolene is all that could be desired. The biscuits are light and flaky, with none of that disagreeable odor often found in foods shortened with lard. Cottolene is also an excellent medium for frying croquettes and doughnuts. It gives them a clean, crisp, brown crust."

Other noted experts, such as Mrs. Rorer and Marion Harland, have given similar testimony to the merits of Cottolene. It not only gives better results than lard but is much more wholesome and economical as well.

WHISKERS A DISGRACE?

KERN ANSWERS NO

Uncle Joe Cannon in Common Sympathy is Also on Negative Side of Question.

Washington, April 25.—A joint debate, notable in the annals of the national capital, is to be held in the assembly rooms of the National Press Club the night of May 2. Senator J. W. Kern of Indiana, former Speaker of the House, and Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, spoken of as possible ambassador to Germany, and Representative Ollie M. James of Kentucky, one of the Democratic leaders of the House, are to be the participants.

President Taft has displayed the keenest interest in the meeting and Speaker Champ Clark is to be present in an advisory capacity. The debate, however, is to be non-partisan. The question at issue is of world-wide importance. Here it is:

"Resolved, That whiskers are a greater detriment to a man than a bald head."

The affirmative has been placed in the hands of Mr. James and Mr. Longworth, who long ago lost interest in the price of a haircut. The negative warmly will be upheld by Senator Kern and Mr. Cannon. The former years a beard of the type of Justice Charles E. Hughes, while the latter has a Lincoln-like facial adornment.

DAME NATURE HINTS.

When the Food Is Not Sued.
When Nature gives her signal that something is wrong it is generally with the food; the old Dame is always faithful and one should act at once.

Put off the change is to risk that which may be irreparable. An Arizona man says:

"For years I could not safely eat any breakfast. I tried all kinds of soft, starchy messes, which gave me distressing headaches. I drank very strong coffee, too, which appeared to benefit me at the time, but added to the headaches afterwards. Toast and coffee were no better, for I found the toast very constipating."
"A friend persuaded me to quit coffee and the starchy breakfast foods, and use Postum and Grape-Nuts instead. I shall never regret taking his advice."

"The change they have worked in me is wonderful. I now have no more of the distressing sensations in my stomach after eating, and I never have any headaches. I have gained 12 pounds in weight and feel better in every way. Grape-Nuts make a delicious as well as a nutritious dish, and I find that Postum is easily digested and never produces dyspepsia symptoms."

Does Advertising Pay?

Is a problem that doesn't tax the minds of the progressive business man any more, its rather "What advertising will pay most," he is considering. There are lots of ways in which advertising can be made to pay, but chief among them is NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING—keep an ad in the leading papers.

Just as important is the matter of telling your friends and customers that you want their business, and appreciate it by writing them a neatly written, well worded heart to heart letter—it makes him know you KNOW HIM.

DAYS FLYING ON THE TIMES CONTEST

BUT FOUR DAYS REMAIN. NOT VERY MANY IS IT? BUT YOU CAN ACCOMPLISH WONDERS IN THEM IF YOU WORK WITH A DETERMINATION TO BE SUCCESSFUL. LOOK OVER OUR LIST AND NOMINATE A WORKER IN DISTRICT NO. 2.

If we had not passed our word that the number of votes allowed for each $25 club last week was the greatest that would be given during the entire contest and that it would not be extended under any circumstances, we would be greatly tempted to do something unprecedented this week.

The inclemency of the weather certainly acted as a draw back to some of our contestants last week, especially last Saturday night. It not only prevented them from working as hard as they had intended, but it prevented several of those who had completed their club from bringing it in before the bonus offer expired. Those who succeeded in getting to the Times office last Saturday evening are deserving of great credit.

The 12,000 votes that will be allowed for each five dollar subscription the remainder of the contest, should not be sneezed at, neither should the 7,000 votes that will be allowed on a three dollar subscription be ignored by those who were fortunate enough, to make a showing to date.

By long odds last Saturday was the banner day of the contest, and if we do equally as well every day the balance of this week, the Times will not have a great deal to regret in having inaugurated this contest.

"Today is short, yesterday is gone, tomorrow may never come." The first part of this little saying should be appreciated by every contestant in the race, when it comes to the time remaining in which you can hope to win any one of our valuable prizes. In four more days it will be all over but the shouting.

In four more days your opportunity to take advantage of the 12,000 votes allowed for a five dollar subscription will have ended together with your chance to win any one of the valuable prizes. Saturday evening this glorious opportunity will have ended.

"Yesterday is gone" applies alike to all our contestants, but what you have done in the past weeks where it will be available for next Saturday evening. Start in every morning this week with a determination to secure a certain amount of business during the day, and you will be surprised at the ease with which you accomplish it.

Nothing was ever gained by simply waiting for things to come your way, you must get out and hustle for what you get these days.

Should "tomorrow never come" we will all be in the same boat; the prizes would have no value for any of us, neither would the money be of any value that has been paid for subscriptions. Our past acts alone would be the only asset of any value remaining.

We would all be judged alike and credit would be given according to our past actions. We are all living in hopes that tomorrow will come and with tomorrow the fulfillment of our pet ambition.

It is poor policy to worry about the future; let the Times do that, as it is part of our business. You secure every subscription possible today. Make your present acts count and they will all be credited to you in your future.

If we do not take in the number of subscriptions that we think is our just due, don't work about it, as we can stand a failure once in a while in order to whet our appetites for future fights.

Don't let it bother you because the others are not turning in subscriptions by the thousands of dollars. Do your part and we will look after the rest. Instruct your friends to make a decided effort in your behalf while the "going is good."

Earliest work and concentrated action will always bring results. Cast your eye over district number two and then nominate a worker in that locality to win one of our district prizes, as there was never such another chance to accomplish so much in such a short time.

If you are one of our workers, don't lose out the last few days of the contest. If you do, the time you have already put in will be wasted. Just think this over.

Anything worth attempting is worth finishing. Try and make this your banner week of the contest. It is certainly worth your while. You can do it if you try. Just remember that it depends upon your individual efforts alone.

Nothing succeeds like success and the only way to have success is to help yourself and get others to help you also.

You can garner success by gathering in some yearly subscriptions. If you can't get those get some for six months, but above all gather up subscriptions.

One year subscription for $5.00 gives you 12,000 votes.
Six months subscription for $2.50 gives you 5,000 votes.
One year subscription for $3.00 gives you 7,000 votes.
Six months subscription for $1.50 gives you 3,000 votes.

Contestants Take Notice

From now on, no more votes will be returned to out of town contestants, as it is getting too near the close of the contest. All subscriptions sent in from now on should be sent by Special Delivery, so that you will be sure the same will be received before the close, as the counting of ballots will take place immediately after the contest closes. The out of town contestants, together with those residing in Wichita Falls, must have every vote and subscription in the Ballot Box before 11 p. m. Saturday, April 29th, as that is the hour set for closing this great contest. Don't put your subscriptions in the postoffice, as heretofore, expecting that they will count for you in winning one of our prizes. THEY MUST BE IN THIS OFFICE AT 11 P. M. APRIL 29th, 1911, OR THEY WILL NOT BE COUNTED. ON THE LAST DAY OF THE CONTEST NO PERSONAL CHECKS WILL BE RECEIVED FROM ONE INDIVIDUAL FOR A GREATER SUM THAN $25. IF YOU HAVE MORE SUBSCRIPTIONS THAN THIS AMOUNT, BRING THE CASH, A CERTIFIED CHECK, A BANK DRAFT OR MONEY ORDER.

FOR A SMALL EFFORT.

Contestants should remember these facts:—In each of the three districts THE TIMES will give absolutely free one $5.00 award, one $25.00 award, one $10.00 award and one $5.00 award. Then there are the two Grand Awards, $500.00 and $250.00, respectively. All that is necessary to win is to receive the largest number of votes, according to the conditions in THE TIMES.

BACK PAYMENTS COUNT.

Subscribers to THE TIMES who are in arrears on their subscription account and who pay up the same are entitled to votes according to the amount paid. When you pay up your subscriptions be sure and secure the votes to which you are entitled, because it will be impossible for us to allow them afterwards; they must be secured at the time payment is made. And remember that no votes can be allowed on a subscription for less than three months to THE DAILY TIMES or one year to THE WEEKLY TIMES.

HOW VOTES ARE SECURED.

Votes are secured by subscribing to THE DAILY or WEEKLY TIMES, or by purchasing a Classified Advertising Book. These ballots can be held and voted later in the contest by the person holding them, but the daily coupon clipped from THE TIMES are only good for one week from date of publication and will not be counted if voted after the vote date printed upon them expires.

HOW TO WIN.

Any resident in the three districts mentioned in our double-page announcement, who desire to compete in this great contest and win one of the valuable awards offered, should at once see that their names are sent to the Contest Manager. Those who get in on the start have the best chance of winning, so it is desirable that the names be entered at once. Candidates who enter do not necessarily have to subscribe to THE TIMES. Enter your name and your friends will assist you to do the rest. Should there be a tie for any one of the prizes offered the same will be divided equally between those so tying. The time is short, as the contest will end April 29th. There is no lottery attached to it in any way, you must get the votes to win. There is no lucky number or element of chance connected with it, and you will never know how popular you are until you enter a contest of this kind.

BURNS—A NEMESIS OF CRIME.
Municipal Grifters, Land Crooks and Counterfeiters Were Easy For Him.
"There are no mysteries."
Such is the theory of William J. Burns, the detective of international fame, who seems to combine the daring of Nick Carter, the boy's hero, with the astuteness of Lupin, admiral of their elders.
Although Burns leaped into sudden prominence when he was chosen by the American Bankers Association to guard the 14 billions of dollars in the keeping of its members, previous to that he probably was the most widely known detective among his profession.
The man who assisted in the graft exposures in San Francisco and who sent Mayor Eugene F. Schmitz and Abraham Ruef to jail, may be said to have inherited his ability as a detective, for his father was police commissioner of Columbus, O. He was born in Baltimore, October 1861. His family moved to Columbus when the future solver of crimes was very young so he looks upon himself as an Ohioan.
Burns senior, kept a general store in Columbus, and that is where the boy got his first training. But when his father became police commissioner a new field opened up to the aid. He was forever hanging about police headquarters, chumming with the detectives and begging them to tell him of

CAMPBELL REPORTS INCREASED ACREAGE

The following report of the farm demonstration and co-operative work has been made to the Chamber of Commerce by J. W. Campbell in charge of that work in this section: Holliday, Texas, April 25, 1911 Secretary Chamber of Commerce, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Dear Sir:

I have visited 90 of my demonstrators and co-operators since April 1st, located in Wichita county and a portion of Archer. I find conditions in fine shape except wheat and oats, which are suffering for want of moisture and chinch bugs. In the northwest part of Wichita county, wheat is doing well and, if favorable weather is had, will make good crops, but south and west in the county wheat is badly damaged. I find the farmers are well up with their crop work and doing better cultivation this year than ever before in this county. With favorable conditions and the interest the farmers are taking in better cultivation we may look for the largest crop of corn and cotton every raised in Wichita and Archer counties.

While feed crops are fully as well advanced and speaks for a large crop. I find quite an increase acreage of cotton and feed stuffs.

In my visits covering the different parts of the county, I have traveled 393 miles with team and 28 miles by rail.

Very respectfully,
(Signed) J. W. CAMPBELL.

crimes that presented out of the ordinary aspects.
The arrest and conviction of C. Ulrich, "the most artistic counterfeiter in the world," as Burns called him, earned promotion for his captor and financial gain for the large number of magazine and newspaper writers who have made "copy" of this exploit. Following the Ulrich case came that of Taylor and Brodell of Philadelphia, who made a $100 silver certificate with a head of Monroe that was so perfect a forgery that even government experts declared it genuine. These men were found guilty and sent to the penitentiary though it took Burns more than two years to accomplish it.—Kansas City Times.

INDICATIONS FAVOR THE AMENDMENT

It, supporting it by forceful statements to the public; and urging the voters to go to the polls and vote to change the constitution that the shackles may be removed and the state develop as it should. The attorney general and the chairman of the corporation commission are more or less actively engaged to defeat the amendment.
The indications on the eve of the election are that the vote throughout the state will be extremely light, and that the amendment will pass by a favorable and safe majority, largely due to the powerful and fearless stand taken by Governor Clegg three days before the election. The governor assured the voters that no rights of the people would be taken away and the principal scare of the passive campaign lost its power.

Standing of Contestants In The Times' Gold Giving Contest

This list is the last that will appear until the final count is made on the night of Saturday, April 29th, when the judges that will be appointed by those contestants present will open the ballot box, superintend the issuing of votes for any subscription it may contain, count all the votes found therein and announce the winners. The results arrived at will be published in the Times Monday, May 1st. We think it is likely that some of you who are behind have become frightened at the difference between the number of votes to your credit, and to those of the leaders. This is your opportunity to catch up and pass them, and when you have done so, it will be a comparatively easy matter to keep among them. It is foolish to lose out when a bit of hard work will do so much for you. Remember that there is all the difference in the world between winning and losing. You don't want to lose. Ergo, you must work to win. It is different from working and saving for years, in order that you may say this $500 is all my own, the same can be said of all the other prizes we intend giving away. It will only be four days now before the ambition of fourteen of our contestants is realized, and you will not be so tired when the time arrives to enjoy the prize--and its accompanying honor--that you have won. We cherish most that which we have gained through our greatest efforts, because then we know that we are deserving of it. So it will be in the case of this contest. If you win by hard work you will enjoy the fruits thereof all the more. There are any number of people who will be glad to help you if you go to them and show them that you are determined to win. You can't ever win in anything if you go at it in a half hearted manner. Go out with a determination and just say to yourself, I am going to win that $500 in Gold and nothing anyone can say or do will stop me. That is the way to do anything if you are really sincere. Starting Wednesday morning, make it a point to secure at least three subscriptions every day during the balance of the time allowed. See what it will bring you in votes. See if you can't get enough votes to give you first position when the final count is made next Saturday night. You can if you will try, and if you are at least solicitous for your own welfare, you will take advantage of the number of votes we are allowing for a five dollar subscription.

A Splendid Tonic.

Cora, Ky.--Mrs. Iva Moore, of this place, says, "I was so weak, I could hardly walk. I tried Cardui, and was greatly relieved. It is a splendid tonic. I have recommended Cardui to many friends, who tried it with good results." Testimony like this comes unsolicited, from thousands of earnest women, who have been benefited by the timely use of that successful tonic medicine, Cardui. Purely vegetable, mild, but reliable, Cardui well merits its high place in the esteem of those who have tried it. It relieves women's pains, and straightens weak women. It is certainly worth a trial. Your druggist sells Cardui.

PASSING OF COWBOY FROM TEXAS PANHANDLE

The two decades beginning about the year 1875 marked, perhaps, the closing era of adventurous life as a determining influence upon the character of American youth, says the World Today. Heroic deeds, grins with scars or maimed of limb, reminiscences by family friends, told of the wilderness, of Shiloh, of Antietam, of Gettysburg, of bloody charges, where valor plucked death by the beard and smiled at the gates of the grave, of perilous night rides, shot-torn flags and swelling shouts of victory—for Mason and Dixon's line had not yet faded, as it has today, into the uncertain boundary between cold bread and cold biscuits—and, in the wide-open eyes of the American boy, fancy mingled lurid colors with the fireside glow.

His spirit rebelled against the prosaic routine of chores on the farm. And why not? Was there not in his blood a strain that had beleaguered castles, broken kingdoms, conquered the seas, wrested a continent from savagery and dedicated it to freedom, with bayonets gleaming about every shrine—and he must plant turnips, hoe corn, milk cows and ride a mule to mill? Duty was adorned with entirely too few trimmings.

This was not an isolated nor an imaginary condition. It was hundreds of boys, north and south, and that at the formative period where objective influence decides him whether he shall be a banker, a burglar, a priest or a politician. And to these hundreds, within these twenty years, the factor was the literature of the West; about the cowboy romance, flung the glamour of a new knight-errantry.

Buffalo Bill, Texas Jack, Comanche Kid and their companions were the saddle sentries of a mystic region beyond the frazzled heat of lauded civilization, who reincarnated the spirits of an earlier time, and who also set in motion the currents of adventure that had led the footsteps of another generation to follow the moccasin tread of Boone and Kenton into the fertile valleys of Kentucky.

Pioneers of a later, but no less imperial civilization of a century ago, heard and answered the beckoning call to the Texas plains. Old Tascosa, nesting amid the brakes of the treacherous Canadian that threads the Panhandle of Texas, was their mecca. And their allegiance was pledged as loyally to the baronial cattle kings as was ever knight of old sworn true to the fortunes of his lord.

There were no county organizations, no sheriffs, no peace officers whose processes could be served upon the outlaws who rendezvoused in guarded retreats along the river and preyed upon branded and unbranded herds alike and whose hands were turned, like Ishmael's against all men.—And their prey was easy, for longhorn cattle—the wealth of the old west—roamed, unhindered by fence or need of food and fattened upon the succulent grasses of the level and fertile plains that spread out, even as the sea, northward and southward from the bordering brakes and canyons of the Canadian.

There being little law, the cowboys made law; there being a scarcity of officers, they served warrants by word of mouth, spoken sometimes down the horizontal barrel of a Winchester; they empaneled juries and executed judgments on the spot, and not seldom the judgment was the first thing on the docket, justice being to the quickest hand and the steadiest nerve.

Unconsciously they were blazing the pathway of destiny—pathways that have become the spring highways of commercial and agricultural empires. Unconsciously? Perhaps for a moment the veil was lifted and "Skilletty Bill" saw "Skilletty Bill"—christened, and that forever, the moment he shattered the only frying pan in camp—and it filled with his treasure about the ears of an obstreperous cook, known from the Turkey Track headquarters to Wyoming and from '85 to this minute as "Skilletty Bill."

"Skilletty," said his companion, "ever been homesick?"

"Not me."

"Spoken you get shore enough had sick out here, Skilletty, what'd you do?"

"I ain't afeared," replied he of the name of the vessel; "I never knew a feller to die on the plains except when the Lord got human help for the job, and I've noticed the air has breathed better after every burglar."

And then, looking beyond the grazing herd, across the infinite sweep of blossoms spangled green, gently rolling like the swell of an emerald sea to a far-drawn sunset shore of purple and gold, he observed: "God Almighty shorely spread himself to make such a country for coyotes and longhorns. Perhaps he saw."

And as storied knighthood of ancient days fell with the advent of gunpowder to the hooped and spurred cavaliers in the lordly domains of the Panhandle cattle kings, broke ranks before "the man with the hoe." The nester, scorned, and reviled the Panhandle at his coming, as a scurvy son of toll, doing the penance of perspiration in atonement for the sin of industry, triumphant. Waving fields of corn and hallowing harvests of wheat and millet, and golden heads of maize and kaffir peas, ing out from bowers of rustling green like half-veiled Circean beauties—these were the weapons of the nester's warfare with the cowboy.

The lords of the cattle industry quickly saw that a plowboy tilling a hundred fertile acres was worth more as a provider of cattle feed than was the cowboy on the burraced deck of a bucking broncho. And thus the romance of the Jarlat and the roundup was lost in the prosaic pastime of digging postholes, breaking sod and manipulating a binder. The old farm life the cowboy had abandoned had overtaken him again.

ACCUSED OF SLAYING MOTHER AND SISTER

Special Grand Jury convenes at Maidstone, Vt. to Take Up Murder Mystery.

Maidstone, Vt., April 25.—A special grand jury convened here today to take up the case of Arthur Bean, the 18-year-old youth who has been confined in jail for some time on the suspicion of having murdered his mother and sister. The tragedy occurred at the Bean home on March 9 last. On the day of the murder young Bean, with a rifle slung over his shoulder, entered the home of a neighbor and calmly told the persons there that his mother, Mrs. George Bean, and his sister, Miss Nina Bean had been shot and killed. Neighbors rushed to the Bean home and found the body of Miss Nina in a pool of blood on the floor of the front hall, while that of Mrs. Bean was in a bedroom on the upper floor of the house. There were bullet wounds in both bodies. Young Bean was taken into custody a day or two later, but all efforts to induce him to make a confession failed.

Could Not Write.

In the past 50 years, it has been found to relieve women's unnecessary pains, and female misery, for which over a million suffering women have successfully used it. Try Cardui for your troubles. It will help you. At the nearest drug store.

ANKLETS ENCOURAGE MASHERS.

Baltimore Women Ewens Upon the New Style Set By Mrs. Mc Cormick.

(Baltimore Sun)

Social experts who whisper in the Belvedere tea room what the fashions will bring forth six months hence have agreed that there is no hope of Baltimore accepting the style established by Mrs. Harold F. McCormick of Chicago, in wearing a silver gold anklet with bangles.

While there were some who personally favored the idea, they did not allow themselves to hope. Out in Chicago the women, while waiting only for someone to make a new style, did not look with favor upon the anklet, because they say that it would only attract attention to the feet and it has been a long-established fact that in Chicago the footprint of a native is much larger than a like impression from an Easterner.

An expert pointed out yesterday that if attention is drawn to any of the Baltimore feet by an anklet there would be in the passing show no footprint so large or curve so inelegant as to mar the beauty of the scene. There were some who said that to put on the dangling bangles of a gold anklet and walk out these days would only encourage the "mashers" who frequent the downtown sections, even now, in rainy weather, and who find much amusement, even without the attraction of an anklet.

IT'S THE SAME WITH DRUGS

The woman who begins to cook has all kinds of troubles at first. No matter how carefully she follows the recipe, her biscuits are flat until she learns the knack of mixing them just so. A prescription is just as easy for a druggist to fill as it is for a housewife to measure out flour and sugar for a recipe, but it is necessary that a prescription be filled just so in order to get proper results. Ask any doctor if this isn't the truth, then get your prescriptions filled here. We know how to do it "just so" and you will get the results intended.
