Many Farmers in City On First Trades Day

The first Trade Day in Wichita Falls attracted quite a large crowd, as well as a large number of exhibitors in the livestock department, in which premiums were awarded. Early in the day visitors began to arrive and by 10 o'clock there was quite a large crowd of farmers on the streets to participate in the exercises of the day.

The livestock exhibit, which was held on the vacant half block on the avenue back of the opera house, attracted the greatest attention, and it was almost impossible to get around it.

The contest for prizes on such stock as these was sixteen entries. The following owners of stock entering the two prizes offered: J. C. Birks, C. Williams, Clyde Heath, Gardner, Son, A. E. Gwinn, J. F. Fore, G. Hund, J. Q. Adams, M. K. Emmert, T. E. Fruigaby, C. W. Bean, C. Geyer, C. O. Woody and N. B. Evans.

The decision of the judges gave the first prize of $10 and the blue ribbon to the colt owned by Gardner & Son, the colt being sired by the German Coach, Louis I. The second prize of $5 and red ribbon went to the colt owned by G. W. Hund, also sired by Louis I.

In the yearling class there were five entries as follows: A. B. Womack, E. E. Friberg, M. K. Emmert, M. K. Emmert and G. W. Hund. In this class the first prize of $10 and blue ribbon went to the yearling owned by Womack, and which was sired by Red Squirrel, while the second prize of $5 was secured by G. E. Friberg, whose animal was sired by Louis I.

For the best stallion, any age, there were twelve entries as follows: E. E. Friberg, owned by A. D. Butcher, Prince, owned by Chas. Young, Patrolman, owned by E. P. Stone, Louis I, owned by Wichita Horse Company, Sunshine, owned by J. E. Jones, Felma, owned by G. W. Robbins; Lon Mathis, owned by A. D. Butcher; Jumbo, owned by Will Graham; Floyd Tatro, owned by G. H. Black; Negro, owned by Charlie Wood; Ted, owned by W. J. Duncan; Artiller, owned by Charlie Woods. In this class the prize was $15 was awarded to Louis I, owned by the Wichita Horse Co.

For the best stallion and five colts the prize only one exhibit, that of Louis I, by the Wichita Horse Co., which the premium of $15 was awarded.

The judges in the livestock department were as follows: Ed Gorsline, John Gilbert and C. O. Quarstron.

Some of the exhibitors were displeased with the classifications for the prizes believing that there should have been classes for the various breeds and awards other than colts and stallions. It is the intention of those in charge to profit by today's experience and to offer prizes in other classes at some future date.

The livestock exhibit occupied the morning and this afternoon the time was taken up with a number of addresses at the opera house on topics of interest to the farmer. In this connection an address on hog raising was delivered by H. E. Singleton of McKinney and C. C. French of Fort Worth, while W. M. Ganger, in charge of the government demonstration work in this part of the state, made a talk along the lines of diversified farming. There was a good sized crowd of farmers at the afternoon meeting and much interest was manifested in the subjects under discussion.

At 1:30 this afternoon the band added to the occasion by rendering a number of pieces on the streets and later at the opera house just prior to the speaking.

Altogether the occasion was quite a success for the first effort and gives promise of developing into a great day for Wichita Falls and for the farmers in this section of the country. While the program was not as complete as was desired, still it was good for the initial day and may be considered a success.

PEACE CONFERENCE PLACE IS CHOSEN

WILL BE HELD IN CLUMP OF WILLOWS WHERE BILLY SMITH FOUGHT BILLY LEWIS.

CARABAJAL DUE TONIGHT

Insurrectos More Than Willing to End Hostilities They Say.

By Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, May 1.—Whether peace terms will be agreed upon by the end of this week appears to depend on whether Judge Carabajal, the government's peace envoy, who is due tonight comes with full authority to act for Diaz. It is not the insurrectos say they won't wait with him.

The insurrectos are more than willing to end hostilities if the conference are satisfactory. The meeting place will be on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, a grove of willows, past which rush the mud laden waters swelled by the spring freshets. This is the second time this clump of willows has made a bid for fame, the previous occasion being when William Smith now in El Paso detective, but then a prize fighter known as "Australian Billy Smith" fought fifteen rounds with Billy Lewis, with bare knuckles in the willows. Smith won that was fifteen years ago.

Corral Closes Interview.

Paris, France, May 1.—Vice President Corral gave the Associated Press a statement today denying the Santander interview which caused a protest by the United States government.

Brick work has resumed this morning on the W. B. buildings on Eighth street and the walls of the second story are now in progress with the carpenters engaged with their work on the lower floor.

There were seven cases in the city court this morning to occupy the attention of Recorder Noble.

Work is progressing in a satisfactory way on the three frame store buildings conducted at the corner of Scott and Tenth by Taylor and Thatcher.

1500 PENNSYLVANIA THROPPEN OUT ON STRIKE

Pittsburg, May 1.—Fifteen hundred Pennsylvania railroad shophmen struck this morning unexpectedly and it is claimed to thousands more employees will go out in sympathy. The cause is the company's opposition to the union for greater efforts in the future.

It was desired to provide premiums for the livestock exhibit by classes but this was found impracticable owing to the lack of time in which to do the work, so it may be expected that on the first Monday this and other features will be improved upon. The first Monday trade day is to be made a special feature and naturally will grow in interest with each succeeding month.

Big Bribery Scandal Reported In The Ohio Legislature

By Associated Press. Columbus, Ohio, May 1.—Members of the legislature are flocking into the city today hours earlier than usual because of bribery charges made by detectives who claim that the worst scandal in the history of the general assembly has been uncovered. Governor Harmon will consult with the attorney general about it today.

The detectives claim twenty members of the Ohio legislature are caught in the bribery scandal. A clever device known as a distophone was used to transmit the words of the alleged bribe takers.

C. A. Wadsworth, Vice President and General Manager of the Creosote Wood Block Paving Company, was in the city Saturday and Sunday to note the progress on the paving contract here, with which he expressed himself as being well pleased.

The walls of the power house of the Citizens Light and Power Co. on the alley from Seventh to Eighth between Ohio and Indiana, are going up and it is expected to have the building ready by the time the machinery arrives for installation.

Infirmary Run Made on Paved Street.

The infirmary company this morning made a run not to a fire as many supposed, but to Seventh street to celebrate the completion of the paving on that street from Ohio avenue to the alley between Indiana and Scott, or as Fire Chief Staufflin, expressed it, to Christ Seventh street in its improved condition.

In this connection it may be stated that the laying of blocks on this thoroughfare has been completed for the distance indicated and that part of the street presents a most attractive appearance as well as providing a most comfortable means of travel.

The block paving seems to have met the entire satisfaction of those who have examined the work and indications are that it will prove a most satisfactory system to the city. The company is pushing matters as fast as conditions will permit, but it will be some time before the streets will be open to traffic even under the most favorable conditions. However, the inconvenience incurred will be lost sight of as soon as the work is finished and we are in a position to really enjoy the benefits of this important improvement.

A Pessimistic View—No matter whether Judge Sains decision is favorable or unfavorable in the Tobacco Trust and Standard Oil cases, the above map will show who will get it in the nose.

FOREST RESERVE CASE IS DECIDED

SUPREME COURT HOLDS THAT RESERVES ARE NOT SUBJECT TO LAWS OF STATE.

AN INTERESTING CASE

Right of Government to Set Aside Vast Areas in State is Upheld.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., May 1.—The Supreme Court held today that federal government without the consent of the State affected may set aside vast areas of public lands as forest reserve and that such reserve are not subject to the state fencing laws.

The constitutionality of the vast forest reservations of the West and the validity of the modern conservation policy, were raised early in this case in the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Colorado.

The United States government had brought suit to enjoin Fred Light, a prominent Colorado cattle man, from causing or permitting his cattle to trespass upon the Holy Cross Forest Reserve in Colorado. A stubborn contest arose and among the other defenses put forth by Light, was the one that the formation of the Holy Cross Reserve, without the consent of the state of Colorado, was unconstitutional. As the other vast reserves in the West had been formed by a similar process of federal action in withdrawing public land from the entry, the argument applied by analogy to them. The injunction was granted and an appeal taken to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Throughout the contest, the federal government claimed that when Light turned his cattle onto his ranch, adjoining the Forest Reserve, they followed well defined cattle trails, in order to get grass and water, ditto to the reserve where there existed superior grass and water supply. Such a practice the government contended, was tantamount in law to Light driving the cattle onto the reserve.

The defense met the government with several arguments. In the first place, it was pointed out that the reserve had not been fenced by the government, and a Colorado law provided that no person should recover damages for trespass unless the land in question was fenced. Therefore, Light pointed to this law as barring the government from relief. The government retorted that the fence law applied only to individuals, and not to the state of Colorado or to the United States. If it was meant to apply to the United States, it was argued by the government that the law was unconstitutional. One of the sharp issues of the case was centered on this point.

So widespread was the interest in the case and so vital the questions involved that the State of Colorado threw itself into the contest. Attorney General Barnett was authorized to assist Light in fighting the federal government. He did so.

The attorney general emphasized the argument before the Supreme Court that no provision of the constitution empowered the federal government to conserve the national resources, by providing for a continuing timber supply, regulating the flow of streams and preserving power sites from being monopolized. He

Live Man Found in Express Box

By Associated Press. Waco, Texas, May 1.—A man named Myers, was caught here today in a box being shipped by express from Lawrence, Kansas to Galveston. He was traveling in this way because he had not enough money for car fare. The box was round topped so he couldn't stand on his head. An express messenger caught sight of his eyes peering from a slit. He was put off at Fort Worth.

RECEIVES VAUDEVILLE OFFERS.

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, May 1.—Banks A. Myers, the man found in a box in an express car has received offers from vaudeville managers here.

ANTI RALLY IN FORT WORTH ON JUNE 5TH

Big Barbecue With Beef and Beer Will Be a Feature.

By Associated Press. Dallas, May 1.—Chairman Wolters, of anti-statehooders, announced that the anti's opening rally will be held in Ft. Worth at the Coliseum on June fifth. There will be a barbecue, low railroad rates, and prominent speakers. The names of the speakers and details will be announced later.

SENATE PROGRAM TAKES UP TARIFF

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., May 1.—The tariff program was taken up by the senate for the first time today when the committee on finance which has received a hearing on that bill. The house continued the consideration of the free list bill.

In the house this is really the legislative day of April 29 on account of the recess instead of adjournment Saturday. It is predicted that the senate finance committee will give ample time for all sides to be heard on Canadian reciprocity before reporting the bill to the senate.

These Burglars Took Nothing But Money

By Associated Press. Waco, Texas, May 1.—Burglars who wanted nothing except money entered half a dozen residences last night. They would not take fully three thousand dollars' worth of jewelry which lay under their hands.

More Deaths Than Births During Month of April

CHINESE REVOLT SPREADING RAPIDLY

PANIC PREVAILS IN CANTON AND STENCH FROM UNBURIED DEAD THREATENS PLAGUE.

BRIGAND LUK IS ACTIVE

His Horde of Outlaws in Campaign of Robbery, Arson and Murder.

By Associated Press. Hongkong, May 1.—The Canton insurrection is spreading rapidly to the neighboring country. The rebels have captured three important towns, looting them. Murder and pillage is reported in all parts of the Canton district.

Refugees say that there is a panic at Canton. Few attempts have been made to bury the dead and stench from the decomposed bodies fills the air. Wu Rung, a Chinese student who was educated in Japan is leader of the revolt while the brigand Chief Luk of Shan Tum is heading a horde of outlaws whose object is merely robbery and murder. Famine prices are asked for food, and the shops of the city are mostly closed.

While the fighting was near its height in the streets of Canton, Chinese gunboats patrolling the west river fired into several parties of rebels slaughtering about 200.

Most of the revolutionists have left Canton, carrying their operations into the country capturing San Shui, Wen Chow, and Woo Chow.

Other towns are reported captured by the revolutionists. Bandit Luk was also captured some towns on his own hook meeting the imperial troops at Fatahan, and forcing them to retreat after losing many men.

G. C. Patterson is erecting a large barn on Indiana between Fourth and Fifth which will be used as a trading barn and will be known as the Wichita Horse and Mule Barn.

A feature of the first day of May 1911 was the fact that it was cool enough for fire during the early morning hours, the thermometer standing at 46 for a time.

W. M. Ganger, in charge of the government demonstration work, is in the city today in attendance on the Trade Day demonstration.

The mortality report for the city for the month of April is given today by F. G. Hill, registrar of vital statistics, gives the number of deaths in Wichita Falls during the month at 17, while 16 births were recorded. A comparative statement of previous months is not available as Mr. Hill has only been acting in this capacity for the month past.

T. R. T. Orth has resigned his position as superintendent of the Wichita Falls Water and Light Company, made vacant by the resignation of J. C. Stokes. In resigning, Mr. Orth accepted the less arduous duties involved in the position of manager of the water and light company, on account of the condition of his health, which by reason of his severe illness has been impaired to such an extent that he did not feel equal to the demand made in connection with the duties of the position formerly held.

Mr. Orth is a man of unusual executive ability, is very valuable in any position of trust, and the company is extremely fortunate in securing him as a successor to Mr. Stokes.

Disastrous Fire at Bangor Maine.

By Associated Press. Bangor, Maine, May 1.—Hungry, wet, homeless and exhausted by their long fight with the fire which last night did six million dollars damage destroying one-third of this city. Thousands this morning faced the problem of obtaining food and shelter. The known loss of life is two. Others were injured.

The fire started near the city hall, fanned by a high wind it swept in a northerly direction along both sides of the Kennebec River. All public buildings of the town except the city hall were destroyed. A greater portion of the retail business district was wiped out. A change of wind and rain aided the firemen in extinguishing the flames. Many of those who were forced to spend the night in the streets had but few articles of clothing.

The burned area includes about forty square blocks in both the business and residential districts. The fire started at night helped to put out the fire. Dawn showed hundreds of groups of persons huddled about bonfires or stretched along the edges of the smoking ruins trying to dry and warm themselves. Every train into the city today brought food.

The band concert at the court house house yesterday afternoon was largely attended and was very much enjoyed by all. The Wichita band is furnishing excellent music under the direction of Prof. Boyer and is an organization of which Wichita Falls should be proud.

DIRECT ELECTION OF U. S. SENATORS

By Associated Press. Washington, May 1.—The Senate Judiciary committee by seven to five agreed to report the House resolution for the direct election of United States senators.

The ladies of the Christian Church, gave a chicken pie dinner today in the building formerly occupied by the Noble Hardware Co., on Ohio avenue.

The Elks have placed streamers across Seventh and Eighth streets advertising the minstrel to be held here on May 10 and 11.

The city council will meet in regular session tonight and in addition to qualifying Dr. Reed, a number of matters of importance will be considered by the board.

Special Train Will be Run To Altus Next Sunday

The Wichita Falls & Northwestern will run a special train to Altus on next Sunday on account of the baseball game between the Altus and Wichita Falls team at that place, for which a rate will be made from this city of $1 for the round trip. The train will leave Wichita Falls at 9 o'clock a. m., and returning will leave Altus at 7 o'clock p. m., or later if the game should be delayed.

This announcement was made today by General Passenger Agent Fontaine of the Northwestern, who stated that in connection with the special excursion, every provision would be made for the entertainment and comfort of those who should take advantage of the excursion. Special coaches will be provided for the ladies and their escorts and it is desired that as many ladies as possible make the trip and all are assured every possible attention by the citizenship of Altus, who, through the Chamber of Commerce of that city, are largely responsible for the excursion.

Sufficient accommodations will be provided for all who go. In this connection it may be stated that the people of Altus are desirous of a large attendance from Wichita Falls and will

In return for the compliment send a special train from that place to this city during the series of games to be played immediately following this schedule providing that Altus opens here on Monday for a series of three games.

The special rate referred to above not only applies to Wichita Falls, but all the stations along the line. The round trip rate from this city, Rusk, Burnett, Devo and Grandfield, will be $1. from Loveland and Holbrook, 75c. from Frederick and Tipton and from stations beyond Altus in like proportion. It is expected that the crowd in Altus on that day will be a record breaker and those who fail to take advantage of the special rate from this city will miss a rare treat.

A telegram to the office of Mr. Fontaine this afternoon from Altus states that a good game is assured Sunday at Wichita Falls polo ball, as there is no objection to Sunday baseball in that city. Of course it has been demonstrated that this city can furnish a jam up article of the national game, and it is up to Altus to do the rest.

Gay Roberts and Frank Foreston were in Burkburnett Sunday.

WEALTHY WOMAN ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

MYSTERY SURROUNDING KILLING OF HEATH MAY BE SOLVED.

DEFENDANT IS PROMINENT

Is a Cultured Woman and a Leader in Social and Church Circles.

Guildhall Vt., May 1.—When the case of Mrs. Florence M. Dodge of Lanesburg, Vt., was called for trial at the Essex County courthouse in this city today it was the first time since the conviction and execution of Mrs. Mary Rogers for the murder of her husband, six years ago, that a woman was placed on trial for her life in this State. Mrs. Dodge, the wealthy widow of the late J. Marshall Dodge, former high sheriff of Essex county, is charged with the murder of William Heath, a painter and decorator, who, at the time of the murder was employed in doing some interior painting at the house of the accused.

Not for many years has any murder case attracted so much attention and intense interest in this State and throughout New England as the case of Mrs. Dodge. This is due partly to the fact that she is a woman, wealthy and prominent in social and church circles, partly to the apparent lack of motive in the case. So utterly at a loss in assigning a motive of the murder were the authorities at the time of Mrs. Dodge's arrest, that under the laws of Vermont, the accused, although charged with murder in the first degree, obtained her release under $12,000 bail. It is generally believed that the prosecution now is not a single step nearer the solution of the puzzle than at the time of Mrs. Dodge's arrest.

The trial at which Superior Court Judge Alfred A. Hall of St. Albans is presiding, will probably last some time. Some delay is anticipated in selecting a jury, as the county has only a small population and the case has been so widely discussed that it may be difficult to find twelve men who have not already formed an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant. The State is represented by Attorney General John G. Sargent of Ludlow and State Attorney Harry B. Ames of Island Pond. Attorneys Harlan B. Howe and Harry Blodgett of St. Johnsbury, will defend Mrs. Dodge.

The element of profound mystery which surrounds the case has aroused unusual interest in widest circles and the town is filled with visitors from other parts of the State who have come here to attend the interesting trial.

William Heath, the victim of the murder, was married man with a family of several children and bore an excellent reputation as an honest, reliable and inoffensive man and industrious worker. On September 17 of last year he was at work painting the woodwork in one of the rooms of Mrs. Dodge's house, when the neighbors heard three shots in rapid succession. They rushed to Mrs. Dodge's house and at the door, met Mrs. Dodge, wringing her hands and informing them that Heath had committed suicide. An investigation showed that only one of the shots heard had taken effect. Heath had been shot in the back and instantly killed. The location of the wound and the fact that the shot had been fired from some distance, precluded the possibility of suicide. A revolver with three empty cartridges was found in the room and Mrs. Dodge admitted that the weapon was her property having formerly been in the possession of her late husband. Mrs. Dodge was arrested on a charge of murder, but as the authorities were unable to assign any motive for the alleged crime, the prisoner was allowed to give bail.

SPECIALIZATION

Is the order of the day, everything is systematized to such a fine point that you can't do two things. Well, for instance you can be a better merchant when you specialize on one line or branch of merchandise, if you do nothing but plow you will cover more ground; if you specialize on one line of goods you sell more of that line. Results you buy more, you buy better, hence again sell better. We specialize on Men's and Young Men's wear.

Are Draughts Dangerous?
—By a Physician

In several health magazines the writer has recently noticed statements that draughts of air are not harmful in circulation. In a cold the blood current is largely diverted from certain parts of the surface of the body and a fallacy, a "fetters" sheer folly, indeed. Even a medical writer in one of the foremost medical journals of Germany has come out against the fear of the draught.

Why is a draught more harmful than a strong wind. These writers ask. And why are colds commoner in the warm spring than in winter?

The answer to the first of these questions seems to be that in a strong wind the free circulation about the body of the cool air is so complete that all parts of the body are chilled simultaneously and uniformly, where as the indoor draught always strikes one part or side of the body alone, thus producing an inequality of surface temperature in different regions and bringing on consequently a corresponding inequality of the circulation of blood.

The most striking feature about a cold is the disturbance of the balance of circulation. In a cold the blood current is largely diverted from certain parts of the surface of the body and suggests the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes.

The constant play of a stream of cold air upon the back of the head or neck or other parts is a dangerous thing, in the writer's opinion, notwithstanding the above-quoted difference of opinion. Doubtless the reason why colds are more prevalent in spring than in winter is that we have to contend with a sudden change in temperature in spring which disturbs the balance of circulation, and that we are more exposed to draughts when the weather turns warm and the windows are left open more often.

The draught "bluff" is nothing more than the result of the extremes to which some of our open air and outdoor life is good, but draughts are something else again already.

There is no use spending money for a road surface if the subbase is not well drained. A road surface can be destroyed from beneath just as easily as from above.

Star of Empire Moving Texaswards.

When Uncle Sam wants to boast to other nations of his power and resources he tells them about Texas. To show foreign powers the iron ore in East Texas—the stuff dreadnaughts and cannon are made of—is a stronger argument for peace than a standing arm. To give the nations a bird's-eye view of our ranges and pastures—8,000,000 head of cattle, 3,000,000 hogs and 1,000,000 sheep, makes the whole world marvel at a country that can produce such meat and is the strongest possible argument for free trade with foreign countries. To show them our harvest fields—wheat, corn, rice, the world—brings the nations of the east to a full realization of how dependent they are upon Texas for their existence.

Uncle Sam has been holding Texas in reserve for some time but he is now moving the star of his empire Texaswards and in another decade will find Texas in the front rank in empire building.

Opening Up Channel.

Citizens of Matagorda are making efforts to secure necessary funds by popular subscription for the opening up of a channel from the mouth of the Colorado River at Matagorda to a junction two miles out in the Bay. This plan would give Matagorda connection with the inter-coastal canal, as well as open up about fifteen or twenty miles of the Colorado River for navigation, along which lies some of the largest rice and cotton plantations in the south.

The Texas Turkey.

The gobble of the Texas turkey echoes in every market of the world. During the last season there were approximately 150 carloads shipped from Texas to the markets of the country, while ten years ago less than 250 carloads went out from the state. With the increased production has come increased prices and the turkeys from the Texas range always command the highest market price.

Improvements at Port Bolivar.

Port Bolivar is fast coming to the front as a sea port and it is believed that it will become one of the largest on the southern coast. A number of Santa Fe railway officials recently made a trip of inspection to this port and are optimistic over the future of this place as a sea port. This road will spend $1,000,000 in improvements at this point and another railroad is now under construction known as the Port Bolivar Iron Ore Railway, over which iron will be handled from the east Texas iron ore fields.

Reclaiming Marsh Lands.

A Wisconsin woman has purchased 17,000 acres of marsh land near Orange, Texas and is going to drain the land by means of canals, after which it will be cut up into small tracts and cane farms. A large syrup factory will also be established for the manufacture of ribbon cane grown on the land.

Brady Experimental Farm.

The farmers of McCulloch county are taking an active interest in the farm demonstration work and one hundred and forty-five farmers are doing special work this year in that county. There is an experimental farm near Brady, the land for which was donated by the president of the Brady Commercial Club, for the purpose of encouraging better agricultural production. This farm is being operated with success and is doing much to stimulate the agricultural industry in that section. Texas needs more experimental and demonstration farms and commercial clubs should encourage the establishment of these farms in their communities.

Texas Cogi Fields.

According to the Manufacturers Record, the cog fields of the cotton-eri states aggregate 14,468 square miles and of this area Texas has 68,500 square miles or approximately 5 per cent of the total. It matters not what viewpoint you take of Texas, we are the world's sanitarium; in strength and fertility our soil excels that of any other country on the globe; in minerals we are nature's treasury box. Texas has a glorious past, a brilliant present and a future as bright as the rising sun.

Texas Leads in Highways.

The National Good Roads Association has issued a statement of money spent in public highways during 1910 and also an estimate for 1911 road buildings.

Texas Needs Cotton Factories.

The cotton crop for 1910 in the United States was 11,600,684 bales and according to the Manufacturers Record, the northern mills took 1,533,994 bales and the southern mills 2,341,388 bales and we exported 6,722,667 bales. Two thirds of the crop of America went to England for manufacturing and 99 per cent of the Texas crop left the state in search of a factory.

Governor Encourages Corn Clubs.

Governor Colquitt has announced his intention of encouraging boys Corn Clubs by giving rewards of merit to boys who raise 75 bushels to 725 bushels of corn per acre. It is certainly commendable of the Governor to encourage agriculture and if the legislature will follow his example and raise more corn and less sand, Texas will soon come into her own.

MONEY BACK.

HYOMOL Cures Catarrh Without Stomach Dosing, or Money Back. Yes, dear reader, catarrh can be cured; but not by pouring vile, nauseating drugs into the stomach.

NEWEST PARIS NUISANCE.

Paris, April 29.—Paris has something new—the spoken advertisement. On the boulevards men and women stop motorists to tell them of rare bargains to be had at certain shops or of an enticing menu served by some table d'hot cafe. Everywhere agree that the innovation is a great annoyance.

LOCAL FIRM WILL CONTINUE VALUABLE AGENCY.

Miller Drug Co. of this city has just closed a deal whereby they will continue to be agents for BEMO—the well known remedy for eczema, dandruff, and all diseases of the skin and scalp. The extraordinary leap that this clean liquid external treatment for skin affections has made into public favor in the last few years proves its wonderful curative properties and makes it indeed a valuable addition to the fine stock of remedial agents carried by Miller Drug store.

Noted Bandit Leaves Prison.

Sacramento, Cal., May 1.—'Chris' Evans, once the most noted bandit, train robber and highwayman of desperado-ridden California, was released on parole from Folsom prison, where he had spent seventeen years of a life sentence for train robbery. His daughter, Mrs. Gutierrez, of Sacramento, who had shown the most remarkable and touching filial devotion to her father, and for many years had loyally devoted her energy to the task of obtaining the release of Evans, received him at the prison gate and after an affectionate embrace both departed to comply with the condition of the parole, banishing Evans from the State of Oregon. He will make his home with his daughter at Portland, Ore.

WANTED.

If you have any young stock to sell it will be to your interest to show them to John F. Kiel, I pay the highest market prices, $2.50 for cows and $3.75 for calves. I also have almost a train load of good farming tools to sell, which must be all sold by the first of August or I will trade them for stock. I will be away a good part of the sale, but W. H. Kiel will manage the sale.

305 WICHITA FALLS 305

Wichita Falls, Texas, May 1st, 1911.

COL. WOLTERS EXPLAINS.

Dallas, Texas, April 28, 1911. Wichita Daily Times, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Dear Sir: On April 28th, I sent you a statement of the case of arrest, drunk...

You criticized this statement by the comment that my statement did not show records of the Justice of Peace Courts. I now herewith send you the records of the Justice of Peace Courts of the city of Houston.

I owe you an apology for not having forwarded these figures to you sooner, but I have not been able to procure them for the reason that in one of the courts the Justice of the Peace was not able to look after the matter because of other business.

The reputation of General Hulen and myself is as dear to us as that of Dr. Gambrell, who in reply to my original statement in the columns of the Dallas News, admitted that he had not procured these figures himself, but got them from what he regarded as a trustworthy source.

To whom it may concern: This is to certify that I am Clerk of M. McDonald's Justice Court and have charge of the records of said Court and have made a careful investigation of the record of convictions in criminal cases in said Court and find the following convictions from the 1st of January 1910 to the 31st day of December 1910:

Drunk in public place 203; Assaults and affrays 162; Abusive language 16; The State of Texas County of Harris.

The Times takes pleasure in giving space to the above without charge. Taken in connection with a former statement as published in this paper giving the record of the police court of Houston for one year, it clearly shows that the police force of Houston, composed of about fifty men, with about half as many deputy sheriffs, and constables, have utterly failed to make as many arrests for a period of one year as the police force of Wichita Falls, composed of about five men.

Mrs. Catherine Weist, aged 66, died at her home on East Walnut street at 12 o'clock last night. She leaves a husband and three sons and three daughters. The funeral will be held this afternoon at five o'clock at the family residence. Rev. Wellner will officiate.

FOUR PITCHERS LARRUPED BY LADS

IRISH LADS POUNDED THE LEATHER AND GAINESVILLE WAS SWAMPED.

THE SCORE WAS 16 TO 2

Visitors Lose All Three Games of Series Here—Lads Playing Today at Lawton.

Following a crushing defeat on Saturday, in which the score was 11 to 0 in favor of the Irish Lads, Gainesville went down again yesterday before the terrific onslaught of the home team, and when the smoke of the battle had cleared away 16 scores were registered in the Wichita column, while the visitors were only credited with 2.

The game was a disappointment to those who had expected at least a reasonably close contest, for Gainesville did not have even a look in after the first inning. This was due to the inability of the pitching staff to keep down hits, as the rest of the team played a reasonably good game of ball.

Diffie took the box for the visitors but did not last two innings, when he was relieved by Wardington. Even the change did not puzzle the heavy hitting Lads and the onslaught continued. Before the second inning was concluded Wardington was sidetracked and Osse, the first baseman, finished the inning successfully, but not until 11 runs had been made as the result of 15 times at bat.

Features of the game were the pitching of Green, which was up to his usual standard and that means good work and the home run of Witherspoon in the fifth. Clark, the first man up, rapped out a two-bagger, while Jerry Naylor secured two two-base hits and Cooper one.

One notable feature of the game was the fact that every man on the Wichita Falls team secured one or more hits and two runs each. The game was not up to the standard recently set by the Texas-Oklahoma League, although it was no fault of the local organization, who played good ball throughout the series.

Cleaver Ball Pitched by Both Stone and Mallow—Five Out of Six for Altus. Lawton, Okla., May 1.—Altus took an exciting ten-inning game from Lawton yesterday. Score 5 to 4. This makes five out of six for Altus. Both Stone for Lawton and Mallow for Altus pitched clever ball. Lawton's outfield saved for them. The score.

First Game of League Ball Draws a Record Crowd to Gorman Park. Players Handicapped.

Cleburne, Texas, May 1.—The only game of league ball ever played in Cleburne on Sunday was witnessed by a record crowd yesterday afternoon at Gorman Park. A very heavy rain had fallen yesterday morning, mud was several inches deep, and with a great handicap and caused players on both sides to slip and fall and make errors which would not otherwise have occurred. It being useless it seemed to knock the ball to the infield, it seemed to the aim of each man to drive the ball to the fence. In fact, it took a long drive to enable a batter to make first base.

The umpire had difficulty in pleasing the crowd, and some of the players on the visiting team. Owing to the heavy hitting, two pitchers were used by Cleburne and three by Bonham. Cleburne was finally victorious by a score of 11 to 8. Batteries—Cleburne, McWhirter, Spencer and Crites; Bonham, Pratt, Shaw, Barnard and Scott.

Miss Ola May Hamlin Wins Our First Grand Prize--$500.00. The $10.00 Extra Prize and The Freear-Brin Mahogany Rocking Chair. Miss Vivian Mathis Wins Our Second Grand Prize--The $250.00 In Gold.

The Times' Greatest voting contest came to an end promptly at 11:00 o'clock last Saturday evening. There was a great number of our contestants and their friends present when the final vote was cast. Mr. Ed Howard, General Manager of the Times Publishing Company made a brief talk to those present, in which he asked each of the contestants if they had been promised or led to believe they could win any one of the prizes offered by turning in a certain amount of business, or if they had been guaranteed any of the prizes by any one connected with the Times or the contest department.

Recognition is just as heartily given to the fine, whole-hearted efforts of those who failed to win. The Times is appreciative of the work done by all. We sincerely regret that all could not win $500 in Gold. Throughout the contest, evidence accumulated almost daily that the spirited rivalry in subscription getting was prompted quite as much by genuine interest in the paper, and its increased success, as by a desire to win the magnificent prizes offered.

THE THREE $50 GOLD PRIZES. District No. 1 was won by Miss Maude Lightsey who polled 1,032,910 votes. District No. 2 was won by Miss R. O. Rogers who polled 590,240 votes. District No. 3 was won by Miss C. Arrington who polled 920,400 votes.

The Way of a Woman With a Bank Check.

"I wonder" remarked the bank cashier "why so many women never learn to make out or endorse a check properly."

The numerical amount on the date line, no date at all, the written amount where the name of the payee should be written and written and printed amount to disagree at least 50 cents, any signature in any place—the back of the check is just as good as any place—and a snuff and a fuss if the premature paying teller desires to make a correction.

"And the ladies, God bless 'em," added the president of one of the big trust companies, "all love to bank and they are all at it. The generality of them would rather have a bank account and have it overdrawn seven cents, than to sport a solid silver purse full of shining gold coin."

My bank are words that they finger over longly and their elation knows no bounds when a typewritten letter from the cashier requests Mrs. X, to call at the bank in regard to her account which is overdrawn $3.33.

"Only recently a prominent New York woman, upon receiving one of these notices from our bank, rushed in breathlessly and confided to the cashier that she did not know any money was coming to her, for she thought she had drawn it all out, and asked sweetly how she could get it. Should she make a check for it or would the teller give it to her if she presented the slip the bank had sent her?"

"Some women have a very satisfactory way, to themselves if not to the bank officials, of adding sufficient cents to their accounts to meet any overdraft. Only a few days ago a lady who had been notified that her account was badly overdrawn, presented herself to the cashier and asked just what she must do to rectify the mistake. He courteously told her that she must deposit enough money in the bank or a check large enough to cover the amount due. Her face brightened and she asked as if a great load had been taken off her mind, "Can I calmly draw and wrote a check for the amount due and she drew it upon the same account and upon the same bank. She does not understand to this day why the bank would not accept it. Just give a woman a check book and there is no telling to what lengths she can and will go."

It was suggested a few days ago, during a discussion of the peculiar banking methods of some women that if, perhaps, the banks forced the women to use the same window as the men they would learn more about business transactions. The official smiled an embarrassed sort of a smile and said hesitatingly:

"Well, we really could not keep our lady customers unless we provided separate windows for them."

Being pressed for an explanation he explained that the rooms were made necessary by the fact that so many women persisted in carrying their money hidden away and they had to have seclusion, far from the maddening crowd when they deposit or extracted money from their own particular purses.

Many amusing tales of women's banking methods are told. An official of one of the St. Louis trust companies said a lady walked into his bank recently and requested a loan of $500.

TEXAS SENATORS IN TARIFF DEBATE

Fight Foreshadowed.

That the first smart fight in the Senate will be over limiting the reciprocity pact with the free list bill is already foreshadowed. Through the free list bill, which followed the Canadian proposition in the House and is brangled all over as an apology and a recompense to the farmers and ranchmen for subjecting them to direct competition with like producers in Canada, a majority of the Senate Democrats hope to win over the insurgent Republicans to reciprocity. With reciprocity and the farmer's free list bill separate and distinct propositions there are Democrats and insurgent Republicans as well who oppose both. With the proposed Canadian agreement and the free list bill combined into one measure so that, as Senator Bailey has pointed out the blow and the partial remedy would stand an equal chance of becoming law or of being defeated, some Democrats and some Republicans, who are now opposed to them, probably would vote for them.

Notice has been served by progressives of both parties in the Senate, who hold the balance of power, that reciprocity with Canada will not be approved in this session unless it is assured the farmers and stockmen will be benefited by a free list bill to the same extent, if possible, that they will be benefited by the Canadian arrangements. The best means of procuring this assurance, they maintain, is by combining the propositions; by giving the two schemes one enacting clause, one head.

The Republican staidpatters, of course, will be inclined to support the reciprocity agreement; that is, mainly because it is a Republican administration measure. That they will un equivocally oppose the free list bill it is unnecessary to state. In taking this stand, it is said, they will likely on the excuse that President Taft called this special session of Congress for the specific purpose of approving the Canadian pact, and without the slightest desire that the revision of the tariff or of part of the general tariff law should be entered into at this time.

All in all the indications are this as a tariff session of two years ago, the Payne-Aldrich session, appear to have been an elementary class in civil government.

Randell-Bailey "Bout."

Political friends of Representative Randell of Texas, therefore political opponents of Senator Bailey, are making the most of the Congressman's election to the chairmanship of the Lone Star Congressional delegation. This is true regardless of a resolution by the Texas Congressmen, at the close of a stormy caucus, in which it was explained the honor conferred upon Mr. Randell bears no political significance and does not indicate a preference between Senator Bailey and Mr. Randell in the senatorial con-

with Bailey launched by Ran-

A weekly Democratic publication here, in its current issue, carries a front page "boost" for Mr. Randell, with the Texas's photo prominently displayed. The delegation chairmanship is referred to as a victory for Mr. Randell over Bailey among the Texas Congressmen. The paper speaks of the honor as highly deserved by Randell and as having considerable political significance, the resolution to the contrary notwithstanding.

In dispatches to the Express at the time of the caucus it was suggested a breach had occurred between Bailey and anti-Bailey Congressmen such as might not be closed, for months to come. And there has been ample evidence since the last caucus to establish the correctness of that suggestion. Texas Congressmen before this Randell incident, and despite a disagreement over the so-called Bailey question, worked splendidly together on all matters affecting their State. It was a team of sixteen Texans, considering harmoniously all legislation in which the welfare of Texas was involved. But since the caucus three or four former good friends and confidants in the delegation speak to each other "in passing," but that's all. Occasions do arise when it is urgent for the accomplishing of the most good for a State—that a delegation stand solidly and with a common purpose. It might be in an emergency the Texas still would put their shoulders together and forget for the time being a factional difference; but no test of their ability to pull-together has been represented since the Randell-Bailey controversy.

Representative John Nance Garner has been made Democratic whip for Wednesday and Thursday, and a keen lash he wields. In the last House Mr. Garner was assistant whip, and he was urged to seek the whipship in this House but declined because of the time which the office would exact of him. Owing to the arduous duties of this post the majority has decided to divide the work and has named three whips who are to serve their party on certain days, as follows: Monday and Tuesday, Mr. Adair; Wednesday and Thursday, Mr. Garner; Friday and Saturday, Mr. Bell of Georgia.

It is expected that the formal opening of the new Union Passenger Station will take place about the middle of this month in the event that there is no unexpected delay in the completion of the work around the building, including the construction of the platform from Seventh to Ninth street. This statement was made today by General Passenger and Freight Agent Fontaine of the Wichita Falls Route, who stated that it had been impossible to agree upon anything like a definite date up to this time. It seems that there has been some delay in connection with the work on account of the failure of material to arrive when expected, but it is now thought that there will be no further trouble along this line prior to the completion of the contract.

AN INTERNATIONAL STRIKE OF SEAMEN

SAILORS DECLARE "WELFARE PLAN" AMOUNTS VIRTUALLY TO SLAVERY SYSTEM.

NO ORDER TO STRIKE

Has Yet Been Issued But It Is Expected Today--Nearly 150,000 Men Involved.

Special to the Times.
New York, May 1.--This is the date understood to have been agreed upon for the inauguration of international strike of seamen, for which preparations have been under way for almost a year. New York shipping interests are awaiting with an interest that is not admitted with anxiety to see if the threatened strike materializes and if to what extent it is likely to spread.

The strike is to be against the Shipping Federation, Limited, which has its headquarters in London. The federation, as originally organized, was confined within the past few years it has included most of the ship owners of European countries.

The main grievance of the seamen is a so-called "welfare plan" adopted by the Shipping Federation, which the sailors assert amounts virtually to a system of slavery. Every seaman shipping on a vessel is required to carry a "discharge book" which contains his record, as to character, ability and the names of vessels on which he has been employed. No man can be employed unless he is in possession of a "discharge book," and the union men claim it amounts to a blacklist and that it is used by vessel owners to break up the labor organization.

The International Seamen's Union of America is in receipt of advices from the European branches of the organization declaring that every seaman engaged in merchant marine traffic in Great Britain, France, Germany, Denmark, Sweden and Finland is to quit work as soon as the order to strike is issued. The British contingent comprises about 100,000 men and the number in all other European countries is estimated at about 125,000.

It is said that more than 20,000 deep water sailors engaged in the Atlantic coastwise trade of America will quit work. The strike, however, is not expected to affect traffic on the Pacific Ocean or on the Great Lakes.

DOLLAR FOR EACH BALL HE PITCHED

Such Is Estimated Pay of Walter Johnson During Recent Game.

How much does Walter Johnson get to every ball he pitches? A Washington writer has figured the thing out in the fashion.
Assuming that Walter Johnson's new contract calls for $7,000 a year, and that he is expected to pitch forty games in return for his compensation, it is worth exactly $1 to him Saturday every time he hurled a ball at a batsman or tossed it to the base. For each game he pitches he is entitled to wages on a scale of $175 per working day. And in his opening appearance he pitched 170 balls to batsmen threw out three men at first and tossed the ball a couple of times to Henry to hold men on the bag. These latter bits of effort were really throwing money away, as they only served to lessen Walters average earnings per peg of sphere without accomplishing anything.

It is probable that this is the only pitching game Johnson will pitch this season in which his rate of pay will be $1 for each swing of his mighty arm. Not that the club is going to boost the figures again, but the number of balls pitched by Johnson was something abnormal, it very rarely happens that a pitcher has to serve the ball more than 140 times during a game with an average probably somewhere in the vicinity of 125 pitches.

The Demagogue

The passing of the demagogue has marked an important epoch in the progress of Texas. Like the desperado and the cowboy he has had a thrilling and exciting career and like them he has been compelled to give away to the trend of civilization.

He was the product of the times and the harder the times the more perfect the product. A Prince Albert coat, a slouch hat and a strong pair of lungs and he was ready for the hustings to warn the people against the approach of capital. He thrived best upon strife and dissension and his principal occupation was in shrewdly arraying class against class and then leading the stronger against the weaker force. With star defying audacity he would publicly attack the character of a prosperous industry and argue its destruction with all the logic and sliverity of a Pilerim father pleading for the burning of a witch. He was a mixture of ignorance and genius, and would hunt out prosperous corporations and make their success a reference board on which he could bound into the spotlight by denouncing capital as sapping the life blood of the people and then proceed to argue hypothetically the cause of the down-trodden masses with the earnestness of a starving lawyer reading his first case.

He was a patriot for applause and a politician for revenue and he sought the goal of his desire with the fruitfulness of a gifted criminal and he would track his prey with the instinct of a hungry beast. But he is gone and may his shadow never again darken the threshold of Texas.

Good Roads

A farm with bad roads is worse off than a farm with bad water. It is hard to understand how a farmer, otherwise enterprising, should be backward in building roads. Travel through some of our rural districts and you will find farmers with blooded stock land, highly cultivated and premises well kept and with public highways that bog up an empty wagon six months in the year. Build roads and keep up with the procession.

Back to the Soil

There is too much money going for the luxuries of city life and not enough for country improvements.

The cry of "back to the soil" should apply to money as well as to men. It takes the join of the realm to improve farms, build public highways, and make farm life profitable and attractive.

It is popular for just three reasons:

- 1st. The flavor is very pleasing.
- 2nd. Its always the same--no variations in packages.
- 3rd. The price, considering the quality and uniformity is reasonable.

It is not a cheap coffee in any sense of the word, but it is a very economical and satisfactory coffee.

If those qualities count with you then Concord coffee will be a favorite with you, too after one trial pound.

RETURN OF THE WOLVES REVIVES JOYS OF CHASE IN THE OKLAHOMA HILLS

"UNCLE JIMMIE" WRIGHT, ONE OF THE OLD TIME HOSTS, SENDS WORD TO TOWN THAT HE NEEDS HUNTERS, AND THEY GO FOR TWO WEEKS.

Tuttle, Oklahoma, May 1.—In the broken and timbered regions of Oklahoma coyotes and wolves increase rapidly in numbers unless packs of hounds are kept to harry them. With less than twenty miles of this place there are now many more wolves than there were twenty years ago, particularly in the black-jack country north and west of Edmond.

The multiplication of these animals is due to the fact that the old hunters who used to maintain packs of hounds and use them have moved away and the dogs have disappeared, leaving the wolves free to roam the country at will, snatching pigs from barnyards at night and raiding henrosts at every opportunity. The result is that wolf-chasing is a sport now in its prime in Oklahoma.

Tuttle is distinguished most by the fact that it is a good hunting country and that 10 miles distant is the ranch home of "Uncle Jimmie" Wright, a cattleman, renowned all along the south Canadian for his hospitality. "Uncle Jimmie" is hardly 50 years old, yet he has been "Uncle Jimmie" to his friends for a term of 25 years. It is a term of endearment. He is a friend of hunters and a hunter himself.

In his old fashioned two-story southern home he has placed modern improvements for the comfort of his family and his guests, and each day at dinner from five to a dozen of the latter sit at his table. His front door is never locked and he keeps open house all the year round. In winter his great fire place is filled with blazing logs some of them so large that two men are required to carry them indoors. In his cellar is the smoked meat of from forty to fifty fat hogs—delicious country cured ham, sweet flavored, nutty jowls to be cooked with turnip greens in early spring, and bacon noted for its many strips of lean and fat. Ready for a Big Hunt.

Word came from Al McDaniel to hunters in other towns that there was going to be big times in the wolf-hunting business. McDaniel is a foreman on "Uncle Jimmie's" ranch and a man born to the ways of the wilderness. He was getting ready to throw in his pack of hounds with an even dozen good ones belonging to Charley Vincent, down in the Blanchard country, and see what would happen to the wolf business.

When the jerk-water train stopped at Tuttle the first sound was a welcome from McDaniel to incoming hunters. Horses had been brought from the ranch and soon everybody was astride and galloping toward "Uncle Jimmie" Wright's. The way led through the beautiful undulating country, the blue spilling sunshine. All the way there was talk of the coming hunt. Supplies were to be carried by wagon to the rendezvous, for down on the Washita river, where the camp would be made for two weeks, and "Uncle Jimmie's" cook given a chance three times a day—or oftener—to show what he could do as a culinary artist.

"Uncle Jimmie" was on the wide verandah waving his white sombrero when the cavalcade pulled up at his doorway. This was a great night beside the open fireplace, telling hunting stories and about cattle rustlers, who met their just doom, and about outlaws who roamed the country and harassed the law-abiding folk when the settlements were few and wide apart.

McDaniel tries his horn. In the enthusiasm of the night's discourse McDaniel took down his hunting horn and blew it till the rafters rang with its melodious notes, and the kennel became an uproar of baying hounds, above which could be heard the base notes of "Old Red," the lead dog and the inner note of "The Mover" an incomparable black and white sister. Old Red was a Tex as response. No man dare impugn the swiftness of the response in this country. One man lay awake tonight, wondering how he had fallen over the household and the guests had gone to their beds to refresh themselves for the early morning start. The full moon filled the night with splendor and from the window beside this man's bed could be seen the timber ridges darkening toward the South Canadian.

There was a cheery broadside of morning salutations as the guests appeared before the big fireplace and were welcomed by "Uncle Jimmie" to the morning's toddy. The breakfast was an onslaught of hungry Hunns and fragrant hams, the hot biscuit milk gravy, the honey, the fresh eggs and steaming coffee, disappeared like grass before a prairie fire. The first gleam of daylight brought the horses and the loaded wagons to the door. There was a jangle of harness and the squeaking of leather, the baying of hungry hunting hounds and in a moment the hunting party had moved away toward the wilderness. For 25 miles the hunters rode leisurely and late that afternoon pitched camp beside the Washita, rolling its waters swiftly towards Red River.

The camp was at the edge of a wide valley, filled with a dense growth of green briars and shrubbery, with here and there an open glade where deer had been wont to graze in early days. Round the valley rose ranges of irregular hills, their ridges bare of timber, but their ravines veritable jungles. Just before reaching the Washita the hunters passed the old home of "Widow" Smith. The old woman was standing in the door and gave the hunters a friendly greeting. "I guess, men, that you will sure catch a lot of them varmints. Them wolves are just pestering the life out of me. Come right up here to the house last night and jes snatched my chickens right and left. I an' my boys don't get on." "Uncle Jimmie" was master of the hunt and McDaniel his first lieutenant. McDaniel was hard as nails and so tough that no amount of riding would hurt him. "Uncle Jimmie" said that the camp routine would be to hunt in daylight, that as much of the hunt as possible might be seen. The hunt would start at day break and continue until 11 o'clock, or even longer, according to the number of wolves driven from cover and the length of the chase. Then there would be a resting time until about 3 o'clock, after which there would be more hunting until dusk.

In the interval, fish should be caught, and there should be horse racing, telling of stories and the imposing of liquid penalties upon all those who wandered away from the truth in their tales.

The country was fairly alive with wolves, even the big "loaders" adding to the sport. "The Mover" to the delight of McDaniel was the first to cover itself with glory. Alone she ran down and closed with a big male wolf. McDaniel was close at her heels when the wolf stood bay. He swore that "The Mover" made the kill herself. There was little doubt about it, however, as McDaniel admitted that he took part in the fight and a heavy pair of wire cutters had blood on them when he rode into camp with the wolf tied behind his saddle. But even with the help of her master, "The Mover" had shown her mettle.

"Old Red" Battle. Late one afternoon three of the hunters stationed themselves on a hill to watch "Old Red" on a hot trail. He was leading the pack by a long distance. In a heavy growth of marsh grass in the nearby valley "Old Red" stopped and began baying. The hunters galloped to him. From the tall grass came a sound as if a row of steel traps were being operated with an electric battery. Snap, snap, snap, the wolf was seen making his last stand. In a moment "Old Red" was followed by his companions. He closed instantly with the wolf seizing it by the throat. The wolf went down under the infuriated pack. There was a mumble of battle and presently the wolf straightened out and was still. He had made a good fight against "Old Red." The dogs were in good condition and a race rarely lasted longer than three or four hours. It took nearly seven hours, however to get one of the big "loaders."

The race that caused most of the excitement took place on the sixth day. The start was made shortly before 6 a. m. with all the dogs on the trail. It was soon apparent that wolves were everywhere crossing and recrossing the trails. The hunters were on a hill on the "second bottom" and below lay the valley. Charley Perry, a full blood chocktaw, one of the best hunters on the Washita country, was riding bare-back as is his custom. "Look at that," said Perry, pointing toward the valley where there was wild clamor of hounds in full cry. There are three races on at the same time.

Merry-go-round hunting. Sure enough the pack had been divided by cross trailing. In one bunch were four hounds, in another five, and in a third seven, each running its own course. At intervals a wolf would appear in an open place moving south, then another going east, crossing and recrossing the Washita. The slower dogs were now arriving and running here and there, trying to get settled on a straight run, only to be confused by the merry-go-round in the valley.

It was decided that "Uncle Jimmie" should follow one wolf. Motion was second and McDaniel the third. Each thereupon put spurs to his horse and dashed away. For an hour and a half there was no lagging in the races. The wolves were so close at hand, trying to outwit the dogs by dodging in and out of the green-briar thickets and crossing and recrossing the Washita that Perry, the chocktaw, said that he had never seen such an uproar at wolf chase. Encouraged by the hunters, each dog finally brought its wolf to bay and made a kill. During the day for more were killed making a total of seven since sunrise. In camp that night "Uncle Jimmie" said that it was the most glorious event in his whole hunting career.

16 Wolves in 14 Days. In the fourteen days the hunters killed sixteen wolves. On the last day of the hunt one of the best dogs "Jerry" followed a wolf out of the hunting range and could not be found when camp was broke. Five days later McDaniel went back to the camp and found "Jerry" asleep by the ashes of the campfire. The faithful dog had confidence that his master would not desert him in the wilderness. McDaniel said that he could no more desert one of his dogs than he could abandon one of his children.

When the hunters got back to the ranch "Uncle Jimmie" gave them a feast. To the Members of Camp W. R. Scurry Sons of Confederate Veterans. You are called to meet at my office at 8:30 p. m. Best Dry Farming Crops. Answering the question: 'What are the best dry farming crops in Texas?' C. M. Evans, Superintendent of the Agricultural Extension Department of the A. & M. College of Texas says: Milo Maize, kaffir corn, sorghum, peanuts, and millet can be grown in any section of Texas where care has been taken to conserve the moisture, which falls, by proper cultivation. Milo maize is favored more than kaffir corn for the reason that it will mature in a slightly shorter period of time. Kaffir however has the advantage that it makes more fodder of a better quality. The plan of the best farmers in West Texas is usually to plant kaffir if it is to be fed in the bundle and to plant milo if the crop is to be headed and fed as grain alone.

Spanish peanuts are fast becoming very popular as they are a legume and fill the same place in dry farming that red clover does in the north and cowpeas in the south. For a long time it was thought they were not adapted to dry farming, but recent experiments in the panhandle of Texas and Oklahoma clearly demonstrates its value. To get the best results the nuts should be soaked for 24 hours and then planted in moist dirt a little before cotton planting time. About one bushel per acre is usually planted and they are planted whole. This will make rows about three and one-half feet apart with the plants about from fifteen to eighteen inches apart. If there is sufficient moisture present to bring the plants up they will stand a long period of drought without apparent damage. Then when the rain does come they will immediately set a large crop of nuts. The hay is usually harvested by mowing the vines and when properly cured this hay is classed along with second grade alfalfa hay and often yields two tons per acre. The most satisfactory plan for harvesting the nuts then is to turn in the boxes and allow them to harvest. A yield of from 600 to 1000 pounds of pork per acre has been reported. If hogs are not available the nuts may be harvested by pulling the vines and leaving the nuts on them. It is usually conceded by farmers that large yields of these crops can be secured but the objection is usually brought up that there is no satisfactory market for them. The only explanation for this condition lies in stock raising which is the only ultimate solution of agricultural conditions for the short range reasons of the west. This plan however will meet with favor because it
