MEXICAN ARMISTICE IS AT AN END

NO ANSWER HAS COME FROM DIAZ

REPORT THAT ANSWER TO MADERO'S DEMANDS HAD BEEN RECEIVED PROVES FALSE.

IT IS NOT LIKELY TODAY

Little Hope That Answer Will Be Received Today—Quiet at Mexico Capitol.

By Associated Press. Mexico City, May 6.—It is quiet here this afternoon. The cabinet met far into night and is in session again today but no announcements have been made.

No Answer From Diaz.

By Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, May 6.—In answer to Madero's request for Diaz to make public his intentions to resign, received by Judge Carbajal today, he said he didn't know when the answer would be made public. The answer came in a long telegram. At the insurrecto camp the impression prevailed this morning that Diaz resignation would be announced soon.

Judge Carbajal has notified the rebel commissioners that he had received the telegram and arrangements were made for an immediate meeting with them.

Later—Carbajal said he had not yet received the full answer from Diaz, the telegrams to date being only portions of it. The great delay in communication makes it almost certain the reply won't be in before night perhaps not at all today. It was reported early today that the commissioners would immediately resume negotiations but Carbajal, later it was said this report was an error. It is expected that Madero will extend the armistice this afternoon.

Diaz Resignation is Believed Certain.

City of Mexico, May 6.—The resignation of Porfirio Diaz as the head of Mexico within a very short time is regarded here today as a certainty. Should the announcement of his intention to resign be made tomorrow or even tonight, it would cause no surprise to members of his cabinet.

No authoritative confirmation could be obtained, but there appears little doubt that President Diaz, recognizing the seriousness of the situation and responding to the popular demand will retire when order is restored.

At the President's office yesterday, no statement could be had—and the members of the cabinet, realizing he was the only man who could give a direct answer to the demands of Francisco I. Madero, Jr., the revolutionary leader, that Diaz should make known publicly his intention to retire, was silent.

Conference is Held.

Yesterday Minister of Foreign Affairs de la Barra was peremptorily summoned to the office of the President. On arriving he found Senators Limantour, Minister of Finance, who likewise had been summoned. The three officials were in conference for hours.

Immediately afterward typewritten statements were issued by the Foreign Office to all the newspapers, saying that the reception to the Chilean Minister, set for today and the banquet to the same official, scheduled for today, had been postponed. The reason for this change of plans was given as "the slight illness of the President."

"The President's indisposition" is known to be slight, but on orders from his physician, he must remain indoors.

Since the statement was issued, Gen. Diaz is known to have been out riding in his automobile. Yesterday morning he apparently was in his usual health. This, in connection with the fact that the conference was held, gives rise to the belief that the announcement of his intention to resign will not be made before today at the earliest.

MAY RESUBMIT RECALL PROVISION

HOUSE COMMITTEE WILL SUGGEST THAT COURSE TO PEOPLE OF ARIZONA.

FOR JOINT STATEHOOD

This Measure Will Follow Passage of Free List Bill in the House.

By Associated Press. Washington, May 6.—Following the passage of the farmers free list bill which the Democrats say will be on Monday, the house will take up the question of statehood of Arizona and New Mexico. It has been agreed that the committee report to the House will recommend ratification of both constitutions, with added suggestion that the question of the recall be submitted to the voters of Arizona soon and that the people of New Mexico be given an opportunity to revise their constitution so that it will be more easily amendable.

Orient Removal Case Wednesday

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, May 6.—Terrell will probably be the first city in the state to take advantage of state aid granted under the rural high school act of the Thirty-second Legislature.

The case of the Orient Railroad vs. city of Sweetwater in which the city opposes the removal of the shops to San Angelo, were submitted in the Supreme Court Wednesday. The case may develop a bearing on the talked-of removal of the International & Great Northern headquarters from Palestine.

CAN NO LONGER BURN TRASH ON PAVEMENT

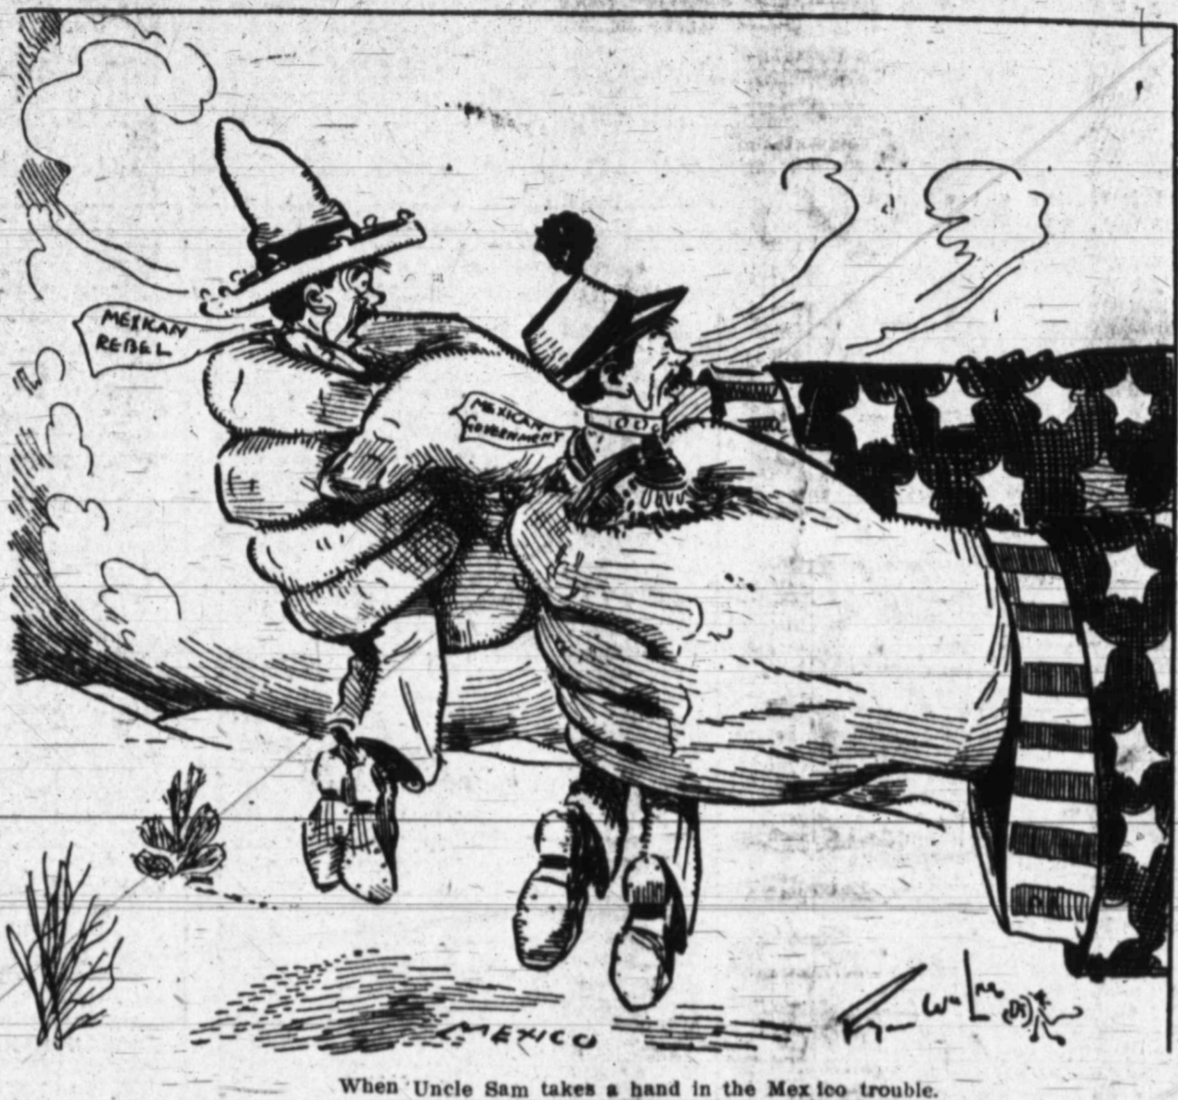

Developments have demonstrated that business men will be compelled to discontinue the practice of burning trash on the streets when the paving shall have been completed on account of the effect that the fire will have on the wood blocks, as it has been demonstrated that they are susceptible to fire to an extent that would render damage as a result of burning any great quantity of paper thereon.

This is not said to be the discredit of the character of paving being used, nor may it be considered an objection thereto, as it will thus promote a practice that should have been adhered to generally heretofore in compelling the different dealers to provide garbage cans with a view to having all refuse hauled out of the city. This fact should be borne in mind and the business men should make arrangements to meet such a contingency by equipping their places of business with the necessary receptacles for disposing of this class of matter.

SIN KILLER WILL RATTLE DRY BONES

Sin Killer Griffin preached one of his characteristic sermons last night at the tabernacle on Ohio near the Alfalfa Lumber Company which was listened to by a large crowd. His discourse was a strong arraignment of sin and the devil and his hearers evidenced an interest throughout the sermon. Tonight he will, as he expressed it, preach to the dry bones of the city in which he expects to make them rattle on account of the sins of omission and commission.

As a means of promoting the interest of the meeting a committee representing all the negro churches in the city got together this morning and pledged their co-operation in the work and tonight the revival will resolve itself into a union meeting of all the negro church members of the city.

THE ARMISTICE IS AT AN END

An Attack is Expected on Juarez within the Next Twenty-four Hours

By Associated Press--(Bulletin)

El Paso, Texas, May 6.—General Francisco Madero officially announced at one o'clock this afternoon that the armistice had been broken off and that the insurrectos would not renew it. At the same time he declared that it was not the intention of the rebels to attack Juarez today. It is not known why the insurrectos refused to renew the armistice but it is believed they have received an intimation from a reliable source that Diaz would refuse to resign.

Scouting parties can be seen leaving the rebel camps and the commander at Juarez is sending out reconnoitering parties. Therebels will probably attack Juarez within the next twenty-four hours if they plan to attack the city at all.

CENSUS TAKER IS MISTAKEN FOR PEDDLER

Scholastic Enumerator Making Slow Progress in Work Because of Caution of Women.

Mr. W. W. Brown, member of the Wichita Falls school board and who has been appointed to take the scholastic census for this, the Wichita Falls Independent School District, started his work on the first of the month, but is not getting along as rapidly as he thinks he should, from the fact that so many places at which he has called refuse to answer the door bell, probably thinking that he is a peddler. This inconveniences him greatly, as it makes it necessary to call again, and he wishes The Times to make it plain to the people of Wichita Falls that for every child within the scholastic age, between 7 and 17 years, who is not enumerated, the public school fund loses $650.

Of course, he will do his part to get all enumerated but wants to be admitted when he calls. In several instances where admittance was refused, or where the door bell was unanswered, he says he is quite positive the lady of the house was at home and can account for such gross discourtesy by assuming that the ladies took him to be a peddler. Mr. Brown is a married man, and is therefore in position to know some things that men who are not are ignorant of.

Railroad Commissioners Leave For Washington. By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, May 6.—Railroad Commissioners Allison Mayfield and John L. Wortham, left today for Washington, to represent the Fort Worth Stock Yard Co., and Texas cattle interests generally before the Interstate Commerce Commission and to argue for a proposed reduction of three cents in differentials of seven cents which now exists in favor of Oklahoma City, against Fort Worth, on packing house products.

Last Gateway Closed. Fort Worth, Texas, May 6.—Last gateway for mail from Texas into Mexico was closed today when the 11th division postoffice headquarters here announced that mail no longer can be handled through Laredo.

The City League. The City League game between the Business College and Bankers, to have been played on yesterday was postponed and will likely be played on next Tuesday afternoon. The schedule for the coming week will be as follows: Wednesday, Bankers vs. Foundry; Thursday Y. M. C. A. vs. Clerks; Friday Business College vs. Printers. Although no definite announcement has been made, it is thought these games will be played at the city park immediately after the league games.

Friberg Closes a Successful School. The county superintendent and wife and little daughter, Roberta, accepted with pleasure an invitation to be present and participate in a picnic, appointed to mark the closing of the Friberg school, Friday, May 5. It gave us an opportunity to meet and become acquainted with the people of this progressive community, and to share their cordial hospitality, which was genuine and will long be remembered.

MANY ARTICLES FOUND IN BOYS' CAMP

Goods Taken from Maxwell's Hardware Store and Other Articles Found by Officers.

Two boys, Henry Wilson and Fred Boston, aged about eighteen years, were arrested and jailed yesterday by Sheriff Randolph, Constable Pickett and Policeman Allen, charged with burglarizing the hardware store of J. L. Maxwell on Wednesday night of this week. One of the boys was placed in order to keep them separated, was placed in the city jail, in the hope that one or the other would tell of how they became possessed of numerous articles of merchandise found in their camp on Lake Wichita. The goods missing from the Maxwell store were found in the possession of the two boys, together with two 22-short rifles, one a Marlin No. 25, and the other a Winchester 44-17. A number of pearl-handled pocket knives were also found and on the blade of one of these knives is engraved the name of H. F. Smith. The officers suspect that both the knives and the guns, cartridges, etc., were stolen by the two boys from some place in Oklahoma and are trying to locate the place in order that the property which they suspect is stolen, may be returned to the owners. Another boy, aged 14, was with them in the camp, but if he knows anything against his companions, is shrewd enough to keep it to himself. He is a Wichita Falls boy, having roamed the streets here both night and day, during a greater part of his life.

Work is to begin within a short time on the new Baptist church, to be erected at the corner of Austin and Fourth.

LET NO MAN ESCAPE CITY STREET TAX

ALL WHO HOLD POLL TAX RECEIPTS WILL HAVE VOTE CHALLENGED IF THEY REFUSE TO PAY.

THE NON RESIDENT PLEA

Will No Longer Avail the Man Who Tries to Dodge Payment of Street Assessment.

The collector of street taxes seems to be encountering some trouble in ascertaining the residence of some of those who are presumed to be citizens of Wichita Falls and as a result there is likely to be some interesting developments along this line. The collector it seems has a list of all those who paid their poll tax in this city but in approaching some of them for their street tax he finds that they claim their residences at various and sundry places other than Wichita Falls, notwithstanding that they expect to vote here in the statewide election in July.

Where there may not be a legal conflict in this connection as far as voting is concerned still the officers are going to insist that all who have a city poll tax receipt and are not over 45 years of age pay the street tax or furnish evidence that they do not reside here. In the event that it is shown that their residence is elsewhere they are to be placed on a list and their vote challenged when voting time comes.

The mayor announced today that they expect to collect the road tax closely this year and all those between the ages of 21 and 45 who have resided in the city for fifteen days, when not otherwise exempt, will have to settle with the collector or suffer the consequences imposed by law.

COURT'S RULING CHECKS INVESTIGATION

U. S. Circuit Judge Holds That Tilden Cannot Be Compelled to Show Private Bank Account.

By Associated Press. Chicago, May 6.—Judge A. J. Pettit, in the United States circuit court today declared the Illinois Senate couldn't force an inspection of the private accounts of Edward Tilden, who was named by Clarence Funk, of the International Harvester Company as the person to whom he was directed to send a check for $10,000 to make up a hundred thousand dollar fund to elect Senator Lorimer. Tilden and two other prominent Chicago business men had been arrested for contempt for refusing to show the Senate their accounts.

HUNDREDS AT FUNERAL OF ASHLEY HAMLIN

The funeral of Ashley Hamlin, the 19-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. R. R. Hamlin, who lost his life in an automobile accident 3 1/2 miles north of this city on Thursday night, took place from the First Christian Church at 10 o'clock this morning, and was attended by a very large crowd of personal friends of the deceased, who was a most popular young man. The church and the Sunday school room in the rear were packed to their capacity and then nearly as many as were in the house stood on the outside of the church. The funeral service was opened with a song by the choir, "Come Ye Disconsolate," followed by a fervent prayer by Rev. J. M. Morton, at the conclusion of which the beautiful hymn, "Asleep in Jesus, Blessed

Hundreds of Fans Will Go On Excursion to Altus, Okla.

Indications are that the excursion to Altus tomorrow morning, provided for those who may wish to see the ball game at that place, will be largely patronized, the prospective attendance being variously estimated at from 300 to 500. The band will make the trip and as every provision will be made for the comfort of the passengers, an enjoyable time will be had enroute and returning, as well as during the game. The passenger department of the Northwestern has made all necessary preparations for the occasion and has given assurance that the road will be prepared to handle the crowd successfully. The presence of the ladies is very much desired on the trip and the company promises that they will be cared for comfortably and that nothing will be permitted to mar their pleasure or to which they could object. The train will leave the new Union Station promptly at 9 o'clock and will arrive at Altus at 12:30 and returning it will leave Altus at 7 p. m., arriving home at about 10:30. The rate for the round trip will be $1.

STILL WORKING FOR FEDERAL COURT

LARGER APPROPRIATION WILL BE ASKED FOR FEDERAL BUILDING.

MAY POSTPONE THE BIDS

Movement on Foot to Request Delay Until Congress Authorizes Establishment of Court.

The movement to secure a federal court at this place has received new impetus and the matter is receiving attention of some of the leading attorneys of the city with the hope of success in connection with the undertaking. In this connection it may be stated that the idea had not been abandoned, but that quiet and effective work has been in progress and will be continued until the concession is granted or the request finally refused.

Recent developments have had something to do with the renewed activity. Along this line and the proposed construction of the federal building has had some bearing on the movement so such an extent that it is thought best by some to request the government that it is thought best by some to request the government to postpone the awarding of the contract for the federal building until the court matter can be settled. In this connection it is argued that if a court can be secured for Wichita Falls, which is possible if not probable that it would result in a large increase in the appropriation and a much larger building than is at present contemplated.

While it cannot be said that such a request will be made, it is understood that the matter will be presented to the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday and that action will be taken in accordance with the agreement arrived at by this meeting.

The opinion seems to be quite general that as much as the new federal building is desired, it would be better to postpone its construction for a time if by doing so we can secure the court and incidentally a much larger and finer building.

Sleep," was rendered.

While the service was in charge of Rev. Morton, short but most appropriate and feeling addresses were delivered by Rev. P. Boone, Rev. J. L. McKee, Rev. Bishop and Rev. R. E. Farley.

After the addresses a solo by Mr. Bradley, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," was rendered. This concluded the services at the church, and while the choir sang "Nearer My God to Thee," all those who desired to take a last look at the deceased were given the opportunity, and for more than a half hour the great crowd of sympathizing friends passed by the open casket and out at the door.

The pall bearers were chosen from among the High School and Sunday school classmates of the deceased and were as follows: Gerald Pond, Paul Hadix, Cliff Bullock, Karl Hammond, Joe Hatcher and Leroy Schuerer.

There were many beautiful floral offerings. The funeral procession left the church at 11:20 for Riverside cemetery and was several blocks in length. At the cemetery the service was concluded by Rev. Bishop, Boone and McKee.

The beautiful tribute paid to the deceased by all the ministers who participated in the conduct of the most and funeral were well deserved and were in no instance overdrawn or enlarged upon. He was a most exemplary young man, just on the border line of dividing youth from manhood at the time the slender cord that gives life snapped and took his away. He had lived a correct life—one that will serve as a pattern or model for others to imitate. To the sad-hearted and grief-burdened parents, sisters and brothers, the sympathy of all people in Wichita Falls is tendered.

THE PARCELS POST DEPENDS ON PEOPLE

If People Demand It, Congress Will Make the Change—Four Great Reasons May Not Prevent.

Washington, May 6.—Whether a parcel post system is to be established in this country by the present Congress depends entirely on public sentiment.

This appears to be the situation at the Capitol. Scores of the members are generally opposed to the measure.

Members Are Noncommittal. The attitude of the members of the House committee on postoffice and mail roads is subject in the lower branch of Congress.

Murdock Is For It. Representative Murdock of Kansas is an enthusiastic advocate of the plan.

Positions against the parcels post are held by hundreds of county representatives in the lower branch of the House.

The crime of bribery is one that deserves a more severe punishment than the laws of any state usually provide. It is practiced in nearly every state in the Union, and there is evidence in abundance that the men composing the law-making bodies of some states have been bought or bribed to pass laws that are not for the best interests of the masses of the people. While we are now busily engaged in the prosecution of those charged with dynamiting and murder, let us not forget that next to the dynamiter and anarchist is the man who deliberately goes about to thwart the will of the masses by means of bribery. If there is any difference, it should be in favor of the poor ignorant fool who, by touching off a bomb and destroying life and property, thinks he can aid his cause. It is usually the sharp, shrewd trickster with a roll, generally classed as a capitalist or prominent citizen, that resorts to bribery in one way or another to carry his points, taking care enough to protect himself in case he is caught, in which event the poor fools who have permitted themselves to be used as tools are made to suffer, while the real criminal escapes and is ready with another project to put through when opportunity affords. Anarchy and socialism, both great evils, are growing in the United States, and the cause for their growth and spread is that of the growth and spread of an evil equally as great, and which is almost wholly perpetrated by those who have amassed fortunes and are yet not satisfied, while those who have furnished the labor, and we might say to some extent at least the brains by which these fortunes have been amassed have hardly been compensated much above a bare living for themselves and their families.

THE INDIAN LAND FRAUDS.
Mine has been the common fact of every one who makes such a disclosure. He that digs up a nest of ser-pens need not be surprised if he hears the serpent's hiss, or if he feels the serpent's sting. Other instances are not wanting in our history.

There has been the common refuge of all those against whom such disclosures are made. They answer with charges, and counter charges and like the scuttling fish, darken the water and seek to escape in the darkness of their own making.

I knew that those who would undertake to denounce would not hesitate to defame. I knew that all that malice and all that money could do would be done to discredit me. Senator LaFollette and I foresaw those consequences and discussed the eventualities.

It was an ordeal of fire which any man would prefer to escape. Any one would seek to shun such a sensation and to avoid the notoriety entailed, I tried every expedient—there was no alternative left. I had no choice. I went to the last ditch. I placed my back to the wall. It came to pass that silence would be criminal. There may be those who still think that my silence even then, would have been golden, but it might have cost the Indians millions of dollars.

While I knew that the vials of wrath, and resentment would be poured out upon me, there has been a measure of malignity that I dreamed not of, but if I had known in advance that the assaults would have been a thousand times worse than they have been, I still should not have been deterred from the discharge of my duty as I saw it. I had no right to calculate upon consequences either personal or political to myself.

My experience in this affair has demonstrated how much easier it is to remain silent and secure, rather than to wage war upon wrong doing and wrong doers of a certain description, especially if they chance to be both powerful and venal. My experience in this affair has been a terrible example, and a terrible warning to others to purchase security at the price of silence and neglect of duty. There are those, it seems, who would have had the investigating committee, add to the terrors of that example, and to the terrors of that warning—who would have had this committee place the finger of silence upon its lips and signify to all others that they would be safe must be still, and speak not lest the accused should have the power, as he will have the disposition to reap ruinous vengeance upon his accuser.

While this bitter cup has been pressed to my lips I have not murmured. I still believe that I rendered some service to the Indians, and that service compensates me for all the sacrifices which I have incurred. I still believe that I may have helped to save the Indians from three to five millions of dollars, and that saving and that service more than compensate me for all the calamity which has come upon me in the past and for all that may come hereafter. I pronounced eulogy upon myself—I simply did my duty as I saw it, and I shall abide in the faith that the truth will triumph.

By Thomas P. Gore, U. S. Senator from Oklahoma, in May National Monthly.

DEMOCRACY MAKING GOOD.
True to their platform pledges and in keeping with their anti-election promises, the Democrats of the House have started out to fulfill their compact with the public.

Value in Cotton

E. W. Kirkpatrick, before the Cotton Growers' Association.
To the commercial and to the copulating world, cotton exceeds in value all other staple fibres. To the producer it has given little or no profit. This is evident on considering the financial condition of the average cotton grower, and by advice constantly given him to not depend upon his cotton crop for a living, but to grow other crops for his support.

The blacksmith, the shoemaker and all other business men are urged to stay with their trade, but the cotton raiser dare not depend upon his unprofitable business. Since the year 1904, cotton has averaged about 20 cents per pound to farmers, which price was poor remuneration. The years preceding 1904, the average price was about six cents, which price was not sufficient to cover cost of production.

Few writers have been successful in enumerating adequately the cost of producing cotton. The expenses include more than rent, seed, planting, cultivating, fertilizing, picking, ginning and marketing. It includes all household expenses, education of children, taxes, insurance, medical attendance, ministerial service, social, fraternal and many other demands like charity, almsgiving, etc. In addition to this the cotton grower must wage expensive war against destructive insects, diseases and other enemies and emergencies, such as nematodes, root rot, leaf blights, boll shedding, foot galls, wilt, core shin and anthracnose; also entomological, such as boll weevils and other enemies too numerous to mention.

The producer must reckon the wear and depreciation of machinery, harness animals, feed, food, clothing and hundreds of things in minima. These things operate against the farmer's profit, but they are not the chief cause of the hundreds of millions of losses sustained by the cotton farmers. The speculators, the bears and the gamblers in cotton have systematically robbed and enslaved the farmers and their families of this country during the history of cotton raising.

Before 1770, little cotton had been raised in this country. India and other countries had cultivated cotton for thousands of years in limited quantities. In 1800, the United States raised 1,000,000 bales; in 1850, 1,000,000 bales; in 1855, 2,000,000 bales; in 1861, 3,000,000 bales; in 1869, 4,000,000 bales; in 1875, 2,000,000 bales and in 1878 there were 4,700,000 bales. In 1894 is reported the largest yield of cotton in the United States—13,087,217 bales. The cotton crop of 1906 brought the largest aggregate amount of cash—$721,657,317. Texas' share of this wealth was $223,546,317.

During our Civil War the exportation of our cotton ceased. European spinners suffered in consequence. They organized and exhausted every resource in trying to produce cotton profitably. After ten years of expensive efforts in more than 30 countries in Europe, Asia, Africa and the Isles of the Sea, they were glad to return to our Southern States for their supply for the world's greatest staple. No other people could be found on earth who could, for equal pay, exert the energy, will and industry of the Southern farmer and live. Despoiling white people of the South of their property in slaves was wholesale larceny, but the continual robbery of all cotton farmers by unfair manipulation and gambling in cotton is an outrage second only in volume and extent to the preposterous and unspeakable robbery of the infamous traffic laws.

Frolic of the Elks

All previous efforts in the line of local talent entertainments will be out-done by the Elks at their monster minstrel show to be given at the Wichita Theatre on next Wednesday and Thursday nights. In fact, the production this year will exceed many of the professional shows in its catchy songs, gorgeous costumes and beautiful scenery.

One of the strongest features will be the singing of the big male chorus.

Praise For Wichita Falls

To The Times:
I am certainly surprised at the great progress Wichita Falls has made in the last twelve months.

Dating back twelve years ago, I was a frequent visitor in your city, but during the past two years I have been here only along intervals. In those early days, Ed Howard was as he is now, an earnest believer in the future of Wichita Falls, and better still, a persistent worker for its weal. And the "Times" under his wise and intelligent management has prospered and grown to be a great daily. Mr. Howard will remember the days when he used to have to whistle to keep up his courage in running off on his hand paper the issues of his weekly paper, telling of the advantages of Wichita Falls and its further greatness. As I stood by him today, and watched his great duplex press turning out his paper at the rate of more than five thousand copies to the hour, I appreciated the worth of merit and persistent effort, and realized the fact that intelligent energy along any line surely wins in the end.

A few minutes ago I was in the City National Bank. My friend Langford, whom I have known a long time, even dating back so far when the deposits of his bank were scarcely equal to a hundred thousand dollars, showed me through his elegant office. This bank is as finely fitted up as any in the state, and I could add as fine as the great banking institution of J. P. Morgan & Company of New York. Langford tells me that the deposits of his bank hover now around the eight hundred thousand dollar mark and that this great gathering of money comes from the farmer and small stock raiser of the surrounding country.

The paving of the streets which is now being extensively made is the very best, and is going to add wonderfully to the appearance of your already up-to-date city.

Wichita Falls is now known over the state as the city of fine sidewalks, and with the completion of your pavement, the removal of the unsightly telephone and electric light poles, and the installation of an ornamental street lighting system, will bear worthy comparison with the very prettiest of the cities anywhere.

The new Union Station is fine, and will prove a great convenience to the traveling public. I know Texas well, and I might add the Southern States, and if there is as beautiful a spot either in Texas or anywhere in the South in a city of ten thousand people I have never seen it.

JOHN WESLEY CLABBY
as Prof. G. Washington Lee in Huldah Harkin's Ball.

eighty men assisted by a chorus of forty-male voices. Owing to the number of songs to be used this year, quite a change of program will be made on the second night; part of the songs appearing on the program on Wednesday night and the others at the Thursday night's show. In the second part of the show several high-class numbers will be introduced, one of the most pleasing being an act "The Rathpeller Act," a comedy musical and singing act such as the acts presented in the big cafes of New York, Chicago and San Francisco, this number will be presented by Chas. Adams and Paul Wellbaum and will be one of the big hits of the show.

Another act "The Country School," is a clever satire on local people and events and will be presented by M. A. Brin, Frank Griffin, G. H. Hays, F. Gaston and R. J. Martin. Wade Hampton will appear as the monologist and deliver a talk on leading topics of the day which is full of local hits.

The big feature act will be "Huldah Harkin's Ball," rightly called a "whirlwind of fun," as it introduces about 20 black-face artists in songs, dances, cake-walks and some clever comedy. There has been a big demand for tickets and when the sale opens on Monday morning at Marchman's Drug Store there will be a rush for reserved seats to see the Elks in their annual frolic.

I am stopping at Wichita Falls' new hotel, which is as finely furnished and as elegantly kept as any in the South. It makes me feel at home to meet my old friend Andrews in charge of the office; he is an old-timer, and in the early days of Abilene, more than twenty-five years ago contributed to the comfort and pleasure of the traveling boys in that city.

I have long been a believer in the future of Wichita Falls, but it is now prospering and growing beyond my expectations. This improvement is due largely to the fact that your people work together for the general interest of your city and that you have been so fortunate as to have men like Kemp and Kell and their kind who have given their time and thought to enterprises centering in or influencing the upbuilding of your city. The office building recently constructed by them is a beauty, and will set the example for other structures through all the years to come.

Your home people do not realize the extent of the improvement in your city, but strangers visiting Wichita Falls, occasionally see the great changes from time to time.

Men of brains and foresight wisely select favored locations for building cities and to this largely is due their successes. In the instance of Wichita Falls, the most casual observer discerns its natural advantages and attributes to its wonderful growth its abundant water supply, its cheap fuel, coal and natural gas, its rich lands passing now into the hands of small holders growing all kinds of staple crops, but after all the push all together of your citizenship for the public welfare has had much to do with the growth and prosperity of Wichita Falls.

3 NEW DERRICKS UP AT ELECTRA

CLAYCO PEOPLE AT WORK ON 3 NEW WELLS—ELECTRA OIL AND GAS CO. BUSY.

GUSHER STRONG AS EVER

Flow Shows No Indications of Diminishing and if Anything is Stronger.

The Electra News this week prints the following concerning developments in the oil field there:
The Clayco Oil Company has the last week built two new derricks and has the rig on the ground for another one. One of those built is on the southern edge of the Woodruff and Putnam lease and the other one is on the western edge and near the northwest corner of the same lease.

The rig was hauled out Tuesday for a well on the F. D. Woodruff tract. The company will push the completion of these wells.

The Electra Oil and Gas Company began Tuesday to haul their rig to the field where they will at once erect a derrick and begin drilling as early as possible.
Their rig has been here for several weeks, but on account of their being unable to decide on a location it was not hauled out until this week.
The location of this well will be on the R. S. Allen farm, just north of town.

The Clayco Oil Company is being kept very busy fighting their lease on the Woodruff and Putnam tract, Clayco No. 1 had not been gushing but a day or two when the Producers Co. erected a derrick as near it on the south side as their lease would permit, and the same company has erected another derrick within sixty yards of the line on the west. This caused the Clayco people to build derricks just across the line from the Producers and the end is not yet.

Derrick builders completed a derrick on the Stringer lease and a rig was installed this week.
The location for this well is at the nearest point the Producers company could get to the big Clayco gusher and remain on its own lease.

It is about thirty or sixty rods west of Clayco No. 1 and on the extreme eastern edge of the Stringer lease. Drilling will be started as soon as water, which has to be brought from the Waggoner spring northeast of town, can be secured.

It is generally understood that when an oil gusher is brought in it shuts itself down within a week or two and remains inactive until packers are put in and then begins to gush again, but Clayco No. 1 has not shown an inclination to do anything of the kind. On the other hand, it seems to be getting stronger every day and if it continues it will soon look as if "Dad" Dennis-ton had "struck his elephant" after all.
Mr. Pruitt, head driller for the Electra Oil and Gas Company, arrived Monday and immediately began moving their rig to the southwest quarter of the R. S. Allen section, where they will push the completion of a well.
C. H. McHugh recently moved his family to Bonita, Texas, where they will reside in the future. Mr. McHugh is here yet and is selling lots to beat the band, but he will probably join them in their new home in the near future.

BUSINESS AND BEAUTY COMBINED

MEMPHIS COUNTY SEAT OF HALL COUNTY BOTH ACTIVE AND ATTRACTIVE.

COUNTRY IS SPLENDID

More Than 15,000 Bales of Cotton Shipped From Memphis—Other Products in Proportion.

Memphis, Tex., May 6.—Memphis, the seat of Hall county, combines beauty and business—being alike active and attractive. Its people are pleasant and progressive, while pretty and robust babies are in full and flattering evidence.
Memphis has 2,500 people, an 80-ton oil mill costing $75,000, a $30,000 ice and electric light plant, waterworks upon which $40,000 have been expended, long and short telephone, a $20,000 sewerage system, a $60,000 brick plant, 6 miles of concrete sidewalks with walk width of 14 feet in the business and 4 feet in the residence section, export bottling works, 5 handsome churches—the Methodist and Baptist edifices, respectively, costing $10,000; 4 cotton gins, 2 public school buildings, costing $10,000 each; opera house with an 800 seating capacity, 3 banks of costly construction and heavy capital, big and busy business blocks, residences costing from $2,000 to $10,000, excellent fire protection, wide and well graded streets, a $10,000 court house, 3 planing mills, a $10,000 brick sanitarium, ice cream factory, good hotel and restaurant tables, a tree planting which refreshing shades include those of the black locust, maple, elm and sycamore and ash, two live news papers, a city band of wide outside repute and demand and last, a progressive commercial club.

This year will see added to Memphis three more miles of concrete sidewalk, half a dozen new brick business buildings, more good residences, a $30,000 cotton gin, a 10-acre city park and pleasure resort, a paving of the big public square with Memphis made brick and a new $25,000 Presbyterian church.
Memphis wants and deserves a new Fort Worth and Denver railroad depot and would welcome a first class steam equipped dairy. At least 5,000 head of beef are yearly market fattened at the oil mill, the high school upper grade affiliates with the state colleges and the brick plant is building up a large export custom.
Arrangements are now in active process which will very probably result in the resumption next month of construction work on the Altus, Roswell and El Paso railroad, which will cross the Fort Worth and Denver at Memphis.

Hall county has a population of 10,000, raised last year 22,000 bales of cotton which approximated over $1,500,000 in market value, produced last season in excess of 1,000,000 worth of feed crops and shipped over $500,000 worth of cattle.
This year's country crop will be in excess of that of last season, while late heavy and soaking rains will start the country well on the broad way toward a generally profitable harvest.
Justice precinct No. 1 lately voted $25,000 worth of bonds for the building of macadam roads, a good road movement which is to be early extended throughout the county.
The county is a varied, valuable and prolific fruit and vegetable producer.
The cattle, horse and hog industries represent the best blood strains and are of annually increasing county scope and value. Fine mules are also extensively bred, the county being a favorite Fort Worth purchasing field in this important direction. Get your pig, my boy!
The organization of clubs for the education of the Texas boy in scientific hog raising has reached Memphis. The members of these clubs for hog prizes each finding his own pig or pigs to start with. In this connection the Fort Worth stock yards have offered a prize of a fine bred male to the first fifty clubs organizing—seventeen clubs being already organized in the state. The Memphis club is in active organization process, live Memphis business men furnishing the prizes and premiums.
Memphis cotton gins aggregate an investment of $40,000.
Memphis herself shipped 15,000 bales of cotton last year.
The city waterworks have a pressure of 125 pounds to the square inch.
The city will erect a third school building this year.
The city band will play at the Confederate reunion at Little Rock this summer.
Hall county is supposed to derive its name from the large amount of produce handled for railroad shipment.

HOW VALUATIONS ARE APPORTIONED

LAND IN ACRES CONTRIBUTES 43.92 PERCENT OF THE TOTAL.

14.24 TO RAILROADS

Raising Money By Federal Tariff Through Railroad Tariff's Analogous.
Special to the Times.
Austin, Tex., May 6.—According to figures obtained from the state comptroller in land computed in acres contribute 43.92 per cent of the total value of property rendered for taxes in this state. Land computed in town lots is valued for taxing purposes at nearly one-half that total per cent, or 21.20 per cent of the total figures on tax rolls. Railroads come next in order, these paying 14.24 per cent of the total state ad valorem taxes. Goods and merchandise is a poor fourth, contributing 3.70 per cent, while all other taxable property of every kind and description make up the remainder.
It should not be understood that the figures here given embrace taxes levied by municipalities, counties, improvement, school, levee, drainage or other special items provided by law.
By a most natural further investigation of figures compiled by the state comptroller it is seen that Harris county leads in railroad assessments, the total footing $11,459,955 as the taxable value of railroads in that county, while the same county also leads in land values, said land values footing $74,592,870 on the rolls. It is also significant that the forty-five counties in Texas which were without railroad facilities at the time information for the last compilation made by the comptroller was secured show the lowest average value of lands in Texas.
This proposition, it is believed, will not be accepted, but Mr. Jernyn will be persuaded to invest in the construction company that will build and operate the proposed new railroad.
Other capitalists whose names have not been disseminated are said to have pledged financial support to the project.
The new railroad will go through Mineral Wells, Jacksboro and other West Texas cities. It is planned to extend the road eventually so that with the use of other lines, a system reaching from Fort Worth to San Francisco will be realized within a short time.

Among the financiers interested in the J. Jernyn of Scranton, Pa., the millionaire coal mine owner, for whom Jernyn, Texas, was named. It became known Friday that he had offered the local committee, headed by William Cape, a proposition whereby he would construct the railroad from Fort Worth to Jernyn, provided the Fort Worth business was interested in the project would by $250,000 worth of bonds in his railroad, the Gulf, Texas and Western.
In case this is done, Mr. Jernyn offers to extend his railroad to Fort Worth. He is one of the largest land and Western, which extends from Jacksboro to Seymour, a distance of seventy-six miles. Under the conditions of his proposition, he would operate the railroad as he is doing the Gulf, Texas and Western.
This proposition, it is believed, will not be accepted, but Mr. Jernyn will be persuaded to invest in the construction company that will build and operate the proposed new railroad.
Other capitalists whose names have not been disseminated are said to have pledged financial support to the project.
The new railroad will go through Mineral Wells, Jacksboro and other West Texas cities. It is planned to extend the road eventually so that with the use of other lines, a system reaching from Fort Worth to San Francisco will be realized within a short time.

MELON RATES FROM DEVOL OKLAHOMA

Devol, Okla., May 6.—Some talk has been made that the Northwestern cannot make the necessary rates to cause melon growing to become profitable, but the answer is contained in the following letter from C. L. Fontaine to a member of the association will prove:
Wichita Falls, Tex., 4, 20, 1911.
Dear Sir:—I understand there is some doubt in your mind as to whether or not we will have rates on melons from Devol to this place. The prices on Rock Island and Frisco 2 cents per hundred pounds higher than the rates applying from Terral, Oklahoma. As a matter of information, I beg to state that arrangements have been made for the publication of this rate and tariff will be issued in a short time.
Yours truly,
C. L. FONTAINE.
—Devol Dispatch.

CHILDRESS WANTS MORE RURAL ROUTE

Childress, Tex., May 6.—Childress merchants have been rather slow in taking hold of the matter of securing rural mail routes from this place. The Klirkland now has three routes, and one of them comes within a few miles of Childress, supplying people who in the past got their mail at Childress. There is now one route from Childress, but there should be many more. Some of the people here have looked into the matter and are of the opinion that a route could be established southwest of the city, while a route would be started east from the town. The farmers are demanding better mail facilities and should have them, and it is natural that the people here in the country should have the routes radiating from it. It is too late for some routes, but there are other neighborhoods to be supplied and it will be too late for them before much longer.
Let's take up this matter and see if the routes cannot be established this summer.
You should read the Times.

LAWTON ANXIOUS FOR CONNECTION WITH US

Will Hold Out Welcome for Line to Ardmore and One to Wichita Falls.

Lawton, Okla., May 6.—Kemp and Kell, the Wichita Falls, Texas, capitalists who are owners of the Wichita Falls and Northwestern railway, will be ready within three weeks to close contracts for the construction of the Lawton and Wichita Falls Line, of which there was considerable talk nearly a year ago and for whose building the people of Lawton voted to sell the city park east of town.
This announcement was made to the Lawton Chamber of Commerce last night through W. W. Housewright, a banker of Devol, to whom Kell and Kemp had talked when they agreed to build. "It's a good proposition," they said, "and we are ready now to finance the line despite the fact that Oklahoma has again voted down the proposed constitutional amendment repealing section nine of article nine."
The Lawton Chamber of Commerce is ready to receive a proposition from the Wichita Falls men and will agree to any practical amount of bonus, arranging to raise the bonus at the same time land is sold to pay bonus to the Lawton-Ardmore line. "I believe the advantage of landing two roads at once will make the same area of land sell for enough additional to raise the Wichita Falls bonus," declared A. R. McLenean, president of the Chamber of Commerce, today.—Lawton Constitution.

In The French Shops One may Pick up a matching hat and Blouse

The Magyar Type Continues the Favorite—Sleeves Short and Loose—Dotted Swiss Waists for Midsummer—Wear—Middy Blouses of Silk

LITTLE "French" blouse shops seem to crop up over night. Each day in your saunterings through familiar streets you are met by new surprises in the way of places of this sort—a smart entrance and besides a wide window space in which are grouped with aristocratic exclusiveness a single frock, an eccentric hat, some bits of exquisite neckwear and the inevitable blouse or two.

If you step within you will find soft lights, soft-toned furnishings, soft-voiced attendants and that intangible air of catering to individual taste that means high prices. But one thing is certain—you will be assured when you leave the little shop with a bit of fairy fine lingerie or a soft little hand-wrought shirtwaist that you have something really individual and distinctive—and with the cachet of Paris written all over it.

Worth Prophecies a Revival of the Separate Waist.

At present the little blouse shops fairly riot in levels of concoctions of sheer batiste, embroidered mull or the ever present marquisette—fairly fine blouses for wear under street coats of wool, mohair and linen, for what ever fashion may say against the separate blouse, just so long as the two-piece suit retains its hold on feminine favor, so long must the separate blouse endure.

As a matter of fact, the blouse is holding its style very well. One of the greatest French dressmakers, if not the greatest—M. Worth himself—is authority for the statement that the next year will see a great revival of the separate blouse and skirt combination—not only as far as the tailored suit and waist are concerned, but for other wear. We may even see the silk and lace waist combination which was once the dress-up regalia of a large percentage of American women back in favor.

Be that as it may, the luxurious blouse of sheer stuff and dainty design is a very essential part of the wardrobe this spring, and each blouse model that one sees seems more charming and more fascinating than the last.

As the weather grows warmer, more and more tub blouses of actually washable materials appear under last-year coats. One says "actually washable," thinking of the hosts of blouses presented under this classification which would be in sad plight indeed were honest soap and water ever to touch them. Many of the cheaper models embroidered in color, while immensely attractive on the counter, would not survive one laundering, for the colored embroideries are not always fast. The fresh, pretty Delta blue turns a dingy gray, lavender dyes into yellowish tan. Some of the colors even run into the fabric surrounding them.

The lovely voile and marquisette blouses also often prove a delusion and a snare for this fabric—as any shopkeeper who is perfectly honest will tell you—never stops shrinking. A voile waist should always be purchased several sizes too large and the excess of material may sometimes be taken up for the first two or three weeks of wear, in little pin tucks which may be incorporated with the design of decoration.

Embroidered Voile Blouses Show Artistic Colors.

Even the most expensive qualities of this fashionable veiling fabric shrink more or less as times go on; but so beautiful in the soft, sensuous material, and so gracefully does it mould the lines of shoulder and arm that it is certain to remain in favor for the more dressy type of waists; though for practical, everyday wear lawn or batiste models that may be sewn to the wash tub without any qualms are much more satisfactory.

The woman who sets out to embroider herself a fascinating voile or marquisette waist for wear this spring will do well to select a rather bold, geometrical pattern. It is very difficult to do fine embroidery in small motifs or flower effects on the filmy voile, and the threads of the fabric have a way of coming along after the needle with the strand of the embroidery floss. Bold motifs which may be embroidered quickly and in effective style in smart color harmonies or contrasts are best, and such blouses may easily be fashioned at home, for the cut of such blouses is absurdly simple—two seams only being put in and a finish added at neck and sleeves.

Shamrocks and Sheik's Embroidered in Irish Green

The Magyar type, with its seamless shoulder and sleeve and its loose fall of material from shoulder to waist, continues to be the favorite blouse, made of sheer white cotton voile and embroidered in the new shade of Erin green, is illustrated. There is a fad just now for this vivid Irish green and very charming and springlike it is, and cool and pretty as well, when in combination with white. The green-embroidered blouse pictured has an effective pattern of shamrocks and sheik's, so arranged that the design outlines the round neck and continues down the sleeve. The embroidery is done in the green shade with a touch of black in slender line and with heavy white rope floss couched on and worked into dots. This blouse could be worn with a navy blue tailored suit or with dark gray.

The Touch of Coral That Makes Most Blouses Kin.

Everything is coral. This warm pink shade is called also "Helen Pink" but wrongly, for the real "Helen Pink" as valued for by the little lady at the White House who has made it fashionable, is a bona fide rose color—a deep American Beauty rose which is not at all like the coral shade, which is a fad traceable to Paris. Nine-tenths of the voile blouses show a touch of coral in the embroidered pattern. If one has no coral embroidery on one's blouse a string of coral beads or a pair of coral earrings may supply the missing note of this fashionable shade. A pretty young girl—looming at a fashionable hotel the other day wore with her well-cut little suit of gray mixed worsted material white allover embroidery Magyar blouse, cut at the throat in a slight V. Over her shoulders was a soft mull fichu which followed the line of the V-shaped neck opening and was caught with a big coral brooch, evidently an heirloom for the setting was quaint and rich. In her ears were long drop earrings of coral and caught at the wrist under a lace rosette. Bands of the same lace—a dainty Quaker lace in a fine round mesh pattern—trimmed the elbow sleeve, and little frills of the lace softened the edge of the sleeve over the arm.

A Fichu Effect in Brown Chiffon. So popular is the fichu with its graceful drapery over the bust and its lovely lines over shoulder and arm, that the style is being copied in blouses of a more dressy nature. An illustration is printed of a chiffon bodice carrying out this graceful fichu style. Brown and pink chiffon cloth are combined in this blouse, that was built to accompany a spring suit of mixed brown and hite tweed. The soft mull and the V-shaped neck opening was outlined with a mull fichu drawn across in surplice fashion and caught at the wrist under a lace rosette. Bands of the same lace—a dainty Quaker lace in a fine round mesh pattern—trimmed the elbow sleeve, and little frills of the lace softened the edge of the sleeve over the arm.

Such articles if done in the proper manner. It is an excellent plan to cut the stems of flowers with a sharp knife rather than scissors. Scissors cut the stems and close the tiny pores to the life-giving water. If a simple brown frame seems too dark for a photograph, it may be greatly lightened by introducing a tiny molding of gold just inside the inner edge of the frame.

Simple Waist for wear with a Mohair Traveling Suit

embroidered olive green chiffon mounted over apricot pink, the yoke of pale cerise lace over pink chiffon toning in the apricot shade. The stunning plume trimmed hat, all in one color—a rich olive matching the chiffon of the blouse, is no little part of the effectiveness of this costume.

Blouses Often Matched by Hats.

In the little French blouse shops you are sure to pick up a charming cheapest designed miraculously—so it seems—to accompany the blouse you select. When dressy blouses are worn with two-piece suits at the matinee, and afterward at tea in a fashionable restaurant or grille, this notion of a hat matching one's blouse is felicitous, and a very simple little ready-built two-piece suit may be made distinguished in this manner.

One of the most attractive blouses on today's page is the matching hat and blouse in veiled coral pink. This smart little affair is of thin coral colored silk, and over this is draped thin black chiffon, hems and tucks of the chiffon being outlined with a pattern in small white beads. The line of the yoke is new and graceful and this yoke, and the cuffs, are made of Venice lace laid over the pink silk. The hat is of coral pink chip veiled with a bow of black chantilly lace and black velvet.

Lace Blouses—Worn Over Chiffon.

In direct contrast to the loose blouses of chiffon veiling lace, there are smart little blouses of heavy Irish crochet or the fashionable and expensive Venice, which mould the lines of the figure without showing fullness anywhere. These lace blouses are mounted over chiffon cloth—sometimes in white, sometimes in delicate color tints and a rather daring notion is to wear the lace blouse over flesh colored chiffon. These lace blouses are exquisitely shaped for without a trace of fullness the lines must be easy and unrestricted wherever. The blouse illustrated is of heavy Irish crochet with a yoke of beige Irish. Such blouses may sometimes be picked up very reasonably for home imitation. One came abroad from the peasants who come abroad on the ocean liners at Queenstown and peddle lace to home-going American travelers. In the blouse shops in America, of course, they cost substantially more, but such a blouse will pay for itself over and over and may eventually become a valuable heirloom, for Irish lace practically never wears out.

The dainty batiste waist, intended for wear with summer frofabout or traveling suits, is an excellent model for home imitation. Such a blouse might easily be fashioned in a morning on the piazza, the stitches being put in by hand. For the woman of full figure a few pin tucks should be put in at the shoulder and upper sleeve to afford sufficient fullness over the bust. This model is charming, carried out in pin dotted swiss, a material that is coming into its own again. Nothing is daintier than fine dotted swiss for summer wear, but this material, like the voile, shrinks somewhat when washed and allowance for this should be made when fashioning of the blouse.

Notes and Notions

New Petticoats.

High priced blouses show all the trim materials, exquisite laces and wreaths of hand embroidery that could be imagined. But the petticoats, whether high priced or not, are particularly attractive this season. They are fitted as smoothly as possible over the hips and down to the top of the deep flounces. Or, of course, they widen toward the bottom, but this is merely in a gentle sort of ripple without the suggestion of bouffancy or crispness.

The trimming of the flounces is of soft lace, which gives only the most subdued idea of fluffiness. But the night gowns are a shade more quaint than the petticoats. The designers seem to have wasted but little time on the high necked, long sleeved effects, and nine out of ten of the new gowns are sheer, low of neck, with the most elaborate of sleeves.

Remaking Old Rugs.

In case Brussels or any other one-sided rugs are worn out, turn them over and paint any color desired with a good house paint. To paint a rug a dark green makes it look as if it were a new velvet rug. It is not only good in summer as well as warm in winter, but also easily kept clean. Any old Brussels or velvet carpet can be turned and painted, especially where they are used in halls. Paint to imitate hardwood floors. When light brown paint is used give the rug a coating of varnish and it will take on a pretty oak color. The modern floor look their best when they have a number of rugs scattered over them, and these painted carpets are also good substitutes for linoleum in kitchen and pantry.

Repairing Blankets.

When a blanket begins to show wear it is usually about the edges, which then begin to split into a coarse fringe. Keeping blankets well bound with inch-wide ribbon will prevent this. Unless some accident happens to a blanket, patching is not resorted to until it is very old. Then a piece from another blanket may be laid on large enough to cover the worn place. The piece is held in position by darning rather than sewing. All the thin places can be fortified by darning with ravelings from other blankets. When the blanket is worn past repair, dunt it and quilt it together here and there and lay it across the mattress under the sheet. In this way it will continue to be of service.

Household Hints.

A touch of color is not out of place on the breakfast table. Squares of blue, red green and yellow are allowed, mixed with white, the border being pure white. In the handsomer damasks the small allover design is very little seen, there usually being a large oval, round or square center, between which and the edges of the cloth plain spaces and bands of flowers and scrolls alternate. Dinner tablecloths are shown in open embroidery, through which a colored silk lining shows. The edges of these tablecloths are also trimmed with insets of ebony and flet lace. Curtains, ottomans and sofas covered with worsteds can be cleaned with wheat bran, rubbed on with Gannol. It is surprising how fresh and bright this process of cleaning will render such articles if done in the proper manner.

It is an excellent plan to cut the stems of flowers with a sharp knife rather than scissors. Scissors cut the stems and close the tiny pores to the life-giving water. If a simple brown frame seems too dark for a photograph, it may be greatly lightened by introducing a tiny molding of gold just inside the inner edge of the frame.

Bow Ornament of Gold Ribbon.

The Evening Coiffure and its Adornment

THREE separate modes of coiffure arrangement are required at the present moment, and the woman who knows how to do her hair in only one way is sadly out of it. In the morning the hairdressing must be compact and close to the head, else it will not fit satisfactorily under the turban which is worn with the tailored suit, especially if the turban be one of the new helmet styles.

With the picture hat worn with restaurant costumes or other frocks of a festive nature, the hair must be done quite differently. The waves and curls must be just as soft and loose about brow and temples, but at the back there must be some sort of substantial structure to support the brim of the large hat or it will settle down like a fireman's helmet on the shoulders.

In the evening an elaborate coiffure is called for, and this coiffure will be much more bouffant than the close, met-turban, and much higher on the head than the structure worn to support a hat. Evening coiffures are distinctly frivolous. They riot in waves, puffs and coquettish little curls. They are large enough to make a frame around the face so that the features by comparison appear dainty and piquant.

The evening coiffure which is not decorated with some sort of ornament is the exception just now. Ornaments are not indispensable by any means, and the woman who knows that bits of gold or silver or colored ribbon perched in or on her tresses, do not suit her style is foolish to wear them; but hair ornaments are extravagantly fashionable, and most women who can wear them—and many who cannot—dress the hair to match the costume which in grand toilette.

The debutante wears coiffure ornaments that suggest country. The matron adds staidness to her appearance by her hair ornament. The middle-aged woman who affects juvenile hairdressings with bandeaux ending under roses or roses perched over her ears is a sight too painful to contemplate, and the woman over 25 who ventures to wear any sort of ornament with bunches over the ears makes a great mistake. This is essentially a babyish style, imitating the ear roses worn by wee people on caps and bonnets, and woe be to the face, not guilelessly fresh and young that attempts it.

This year the line of the coiffure is long from front to back and narrow when seen from a front view. The more this effect is emphasized, the smarter the coiffure. The hair is usually parted in the middle and is then drawn back in loose, soft waves the ears being completely covered.

An enormous structure of puffs and curls, piled high on the crown of the head in classic style, completes the coiffure. This is the true Psyche hairdressing, though any excretion of hair at the back of the head, from the size of a hazel nut up, has come to be called popularly a "Psyche." The true classic coiffure is exquisitely harmonious in line, and this harmony of line only one woman in twenty is able to produce in her own coiffure. It is so easy for an artist, with clever hands, to put in with a clever stroke or two the necessary waves that complete a coiffure and make the lines perfect and pleasing, but how hopelessly difficult it is with brush, comb and curling tongs in hand to compel one's own refractory locks to lie in just the right way to make one's head in silhouette a classic masterpiece.

The bandeau is the evening hair ornament par excellence of the season. Everybody who can wear a bandeau of some sort and scores of fascinating styles are offered for selection. The young girl twists a long strip of tulle in the color of her dancing frock around her head and ties it in a rosette bow just above the left ear. If she is a very pretty young girl she can risk a perfectly plain bandeau of ribbon or velvet, guilteless of rosette or bow and fastened invisibly at the back like the barrette. These plain, wide bandeaux are exceedingly smart on those who can stand the somewhat severe style.

One of the illustrations shows a plain bandeau of this kind and the manner of its adjustment. This is a bandeau of pale blue velvet ribbon embroidered with tiny gilt and jet beads. It will be noted and right here is a most important point—that the bandeau is not bound tightly around the head, but loosely around the hair. If the ribbon were pulled tightly around the head it would be two or three inches shorter than the length required to fit lightly over the hair. Waves and curls stray out in front of the bandeau over temples and ears. This also is most important—if the ornament is to prove becoming.

Sometimes the tulle of ribbon bandeau is sewn with paillettes of gold or silver, sometimes with small pearls. Often strips of gold or silver lace sewn with beads are used for the bandeau; or ribbon is used, with little roses and leaves made of gold gauze or satin sewed on in wreath effect.

Lattice bands of pearls are lovely on dark hair and this effective lattice-work is done also with jet beads and with rhinestones.

Good Roads Meeting.
Mr. W. T. Londermilk, president of the Farmer's Union of Texas, addressed a good roads meeting at Comanche, Saturday May 4, in the interest of the $100,000 road bond issue which is on foot in that county. The bond issue was recently defeated, but another election has been called and it is believed will carry by a large majority.

The farmers of the state are becoming actively interested in the subject of good roads and the co-operation of the Farmer's Union in improving our public highways is encouraging to all advocates of good roads in the state. Good roads have a money value, to farmers as well as a political and social value, and leaving out the retarded influences which good roads have on a community, and looking at them only from a mercenary standpoint, they are found to pay handsome dividends each year.

INSTRUCTIONS IN BOOK FO

New Publication the Product of At-tache of Comptroller's Office and Retail at $1.50 a Copy.

(Austin Statesman)

A new book has just come to light. It is by Ike N. Heartstill, who signs himself "Acting Liquor Clerk, Comptroller's Office." Whether or not the title of this book is "How to Get a Liquor Permit Easy" is not known, but Mr. Heartstill in a circular letter states that it will save the saloon-keeper both time and money in the renewal of their permits.

He calls attention in this letter to the fact that he is the man who handles the liquor license permits, and it is to be noted that while he says that the purchase of the book by the several saloonkeepers will save him time and the liquor dealers both time and money, he nevertheless ends the letter by observing that the book will cost any liquor dealer just $1.50. This might prove a very profitable enterprise when it is remembered that there are more than 3000 liquor dealers in Texas. Should every one of them purchase a book from the man who issues them their permits, he would realize a neat revenue.

THE TIME FOR RENEWAL OF LIQUOR LICENSE IS NEAR AT HAND.

Every applicant who sends APPLI-CATION FOR PERMIT, desires permit by RETURN MAIL. If said party is entitled to permit and has application made out in compliance with the law, permit will be coming forthwith. But I find that 90 per cent of the applicants have their applications made out WRONG, and when an application is wrong it necessitates me to advise applicant wherein application is DEFECTIVE, consequently I lose TIME and applicant loses TIME.

TIME to me is indeed precious, for the reason about THREE THOUSAND APPLICATIONS ARE TO BE EXAMINED, PERMITS ISSUED THEREON, IN THE NEXT FEW WEEKS, and I am the only one in the office to do this work. TIME to you means MONEY.

Therefore, to cut out this loss of time to you and me, I have compiled, in a book, all data pertaining to the Robertson-Fitzugh law, which is as follows, to-wit:

1. The Robertson-Fitzugh law.
2. Intoxicating liquors, local opinion.
3. Rulings of Attorney General on Robertson-Fitzugh law.
4. Rulings of Comptroller on Robertson-Fitzugh law.
5. Blanks.
 - (a) Petition to County Judge.
 - (b) Clerk's notice.
 - (c) The fourteen (14) kinds of applications to COMPTROLLER FILLED OUT CORRECTLY, so as to CAUSE NO DELAY.
 - (d) Bonds.
 - (e) Permits.
 6. Data blanks.
 7. Gross receipts law.

Get a book and get your renewal application filled out correctly, thereby saving you money and me time. Yours very truly,

(Signed) IKE N. HEARTSTILL,

Acting Liquor Clerk, Comptroller's Office, P. O. Box 32, Capitol Station, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Price of book $1.50, postoffice money order.

ENGLISH COURT

MOORNING EN D

London, May 6.—His Most Excellent Majesty, King George V, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the British Dominions Beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India. This resonant array of regal and imperial dignities, at all times impressive as symbolizing the realm on which the sun never sets, gains added emphasis at the present moment, for it was just one year ago today that his Majesty ascended the throne, following the death of the beloved Edward VII. The anniversary of the king's accession was observed in London today with befitting honors, flags being hoisted on the various government buildings, joy bells being rung from the church steeples, and the customary salutes of forty-one guns being fired in St. James's Park.

Other notable events of the season will be the opening of the Festival of Empire at the Crystal Palace, May 12; the celebration of Empire Day, May 24; the celebration of the King's birthday, May 27; the great ball at Devonshire House, May 31; the arrival and reception of foreign representatives at the coronation, June 17; the coronation ceremonies and procession, June 22; the royal progress through London, June 23; the royal review of the fleet at Spithead, June 24; the visit of the King and Queen to the Guildhall, June 29; the coronation fête for 100,000 school children at Crystal Palace, June 30.

Kansas Woman Helpless. Lawrence, Kas.—Mrs. J. F. Stone, of this city, says, "My wife suffered for ten years from womanly troubles, during two years of which she was totally helpless. She was examined by many physicians, some of whom gave her up to die. Finally she began to take Cardui, and since then has greatly improved in health. The tonic, strengthening, and restorative effects of Cardui, the woman's tonic, on the womanly constitution, are the most valuable qualities of this popular medicine. Cardui acts specifically on the womanly constitution. Half a century of success proves that Cardui will do all that is claimed for it. Try it for your trouble."

Card of Thanks. We, the undersigned, take this means of thanking the kind friends who assisted us during the last illness and death of our father, J. E. Mullins and especially the employees of the Wichita Steam Laundry for the beautiful floral offering.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Wichita Falls People Know How To Save It. Many Wichita Falls people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when most all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly relieved by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a Wichita Falls citizen's recommendation.

C. N. Harrison, 412 Burnett avenue, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "About two years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills when I had trouble from my kidneys, as this remedy had been used in my father's family, and had been found to be very reliable. After I took Doan's Kidney Pills a short time, the lameness across my back was removed, together with the other symptoms of kidney complaint. I have had no trouble since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
