

Remember, Tomorrow is Mother's Day

HOME PROPOSITION BEFORE THE I. O. O. F

LOCAL LODGE WILL DISCUSS EFFORTS TO SECURE NEW STATE INSTITUTION.

WILL CHOOSE A SITE

reported That Desirable Site Will Be Donated for That Purpose.

That Wichita Falls will make an active and determined effort for the additional home to be established by the Odd Fellows of Texas has practically been agreed upon by prominent members of the order at this place, encouraged by some of the leading business men of the city. It will be remembered that this matter was mentioned in The Times some days ago in connection with an announcement that an appropriation had been made for such an institution and that a committee had been named to select a suitable time. At that time it was stated that this city would likely contend for the location and it seems that the nature of encouragement in behalf of the movement has been such as to cause the membership to become active in the matter. In discussing the proposed campaign with a Times representative today, J. T. Young, one of the leading members of the order stated that the question would be presented at the meeting on Monday night and that a thorough systematic campaign would likely be inaugurated at once, as it is understood that the committee will take up matter of location within the next few weeks. From other and responsible sources it is learned that a large tract of land in a very desirable place will be donated for this purpose, and several subscriptions of a very encouraging nature have been proposed. In this connection it may be stated that the home will be a credit to any city, as the present one has been to Corsicana, and it will be worth a mighty effort on the part of this people.

Rev. R. E. Farley.

FAREWELL SERMON TOMORROW NIGHT

Rev. R. E. Farley Will Bring to a Close A Most Successful Pastorate.

Rev. R. E. Farley will preach his farewell sermon as pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church in this city tomorrow night and will leave for Amarillo next week, where he will be stationed in the church extension work of his denomination. Rev. Farley organized the church here November 19, 1907. At that time it had 27 members. The church now has an enrollment of 345 and owns property valued at nearly $40,000. This phenomenal growth is due in large part to Rev. Farley's indomitable pluck and his tireless energy coupled with those qualities of mind and heart that make a successful minister. The concrete mixing machine of the paving company broke down this morning, necessitating a delay in this part of the work until repairs can be made.

TRAINING THE YOUNG IDEA TO SHOOT. As it will be when we adopt Gen. Leonard Wood's idea of teaching military science in the schools.

REBEL SOLDIERS AT POINT OF OPEN REVOLT—MADERO'S CABINET RESIGNS

OREZCO'S HUNGRY AND PENNILESS SOLDIERS SURROUND MADERO'S HEADQUARTERS DEMANDING MONEY—THEY ARE PACIFIED WITH PROMISES THAT THEIR IMMEDIATE NEEDS WILL BE SUPPLIED.

By Associated Press. FLASH.—Juarez, May 13.—Madero has had his cabinet resign at Orozco's demand. FLASH.—Juarez, May 13.—Personally escorted to the river by Madero, Gen. Navarro, whose life had been threatened by the rebels forded water to Texas soil this afternoon. Juarez, Mexico, Aug. 13.—An incipient rebellion lasted two hours in the rebel ranks this morning when Orozco and his men surrounded Madero's headquarters and declared the provisional President under arrest because he said he could not immediately give money and food to Orozco's ragged soldiers. Madero finally succeeded in dispersing them with a promise that their immediate needs would be attended to. Destruction of the insurresto army as a fighting force seemed to be threatened for a time. Orozco, claimed his men were hungry. It was reported that Madero's new cabinet had resigned but this has not been confirmed.

LOCAL BANKERS WILL ATTEND STATE MEETING

Several bankers and business men of this city will attend the state meeting of bankers at Dallas on the 16, 17 and 18 with a view to capturing the 1912 meeting for Wichita Falls, and those who have interested themselves in the matter are very hopeful of success. Secretary Day of the Chamber of Commerce who will be a member of the party has prepared appropriate badges for the delegation and those who attend will boost for this city from the time they reach the convention city until the ballot shall have been taken on the location of the next meeting. Wichita Falls has received much encouragement in connection with the contest and the Times does not feel that it is venturing too far in predicting that success will crown the efforts of those who will make the fight for this place. It will be remembered that Wichita Falls entertained the district bankers last summer in such a way that they will not soon forget the hospitality of this people and it is expected that the city will receive almost the unanimous support of those who were here at that time.

LEAGUE MANAGERS TO COMPLETE SCHEDULE

As previously announced the managers of the different teams of the Texas-Oklahoma League will meet here on next Wednesday the 17th for the purpose of arranging the schedule for the remainder of the season to transact such other business as may be presented for consideration. It will be remembered that at former meeting held for the purpose of working out a schedule the games were only arranged for up to and including June 7th and as the season continues until September 4th there is yet quite a little work to be done in connection with outlining the work of the different teams. The schedule as previously announced for the first part of the season has proven satisfactory in so far as the location of the different teams was concerned and has demonstrated a good deal of foresight on the part of the different managers, including President St. Clair and Secretary Morse who assisted in arranging the initial schedule. Secretary Morse has prepared the draft for a schedule for the remainder of the season, which will be used as a basis for negotiations.

Rebel Troops Will be Sent Southward from Jaurez Tonight

By Associated Press. Juarez, May 13.—Further overtures for peace by Obregon and Brandiff are scheduled for today. Madero has moved his capital to the customs house where the international handshake of Taft and Diaz took place last fall. It is expected that many of the troops here will be sent southward tonight, on tomorrow to Casas Grandes where they have one thousand horses. Consignments of artillery and ammunition have been ordered for the rebels since Washington authorities announced yesterday that the free shipment of arms was possible. These may be used against Chihuahua. A careful checking of the death list show 15 insurrectos killed, and fifty wounded in the Juarez battle while 100 federals were killed and 147 were wounded. The largest number of federal casualties occurred when they retreated from the church, the jail and the municipal buildings to the barracks yesterday morning as they ran through the streets the rebel sharpshooters picked them off. The insurrectos dynamite bombs were made of gas pipe capped and filled with slugs. They were deadly but several insurrectos were killed or wounded in carrying attempts to place or throw these bombs in vital spots. The city council will meet in regular session Monday night and it is expected that a number of matters of importance will be considered. C. H. Clark a prominent business man from Iowa Park is in the city.

BIG LEAGUE WATCHING STOPPER WITHERSPOON NEW OFFICERS FOR STATE PRESS ASS'N

The playing of several members of the Wichita Falls teams is already attracting the attention of the big league managers. President St. Clair today received a letter from the president of the St. Louis Americans asking in "Stopper" Witherspoon could be bought. In this letter all particulars available concerning Witherspoon were requested. Mr. St. Clair says he has received inquiries concerning other members of the team and is certain that some of the Wichita players will be in big league company next season. Several "scouts" from the major leagues will probably come to Wichita Falls before the end of the season. Port Lavaca, May 13.—J. A. Thomas of Mineola was elected president of the State Press Association; Will C. Edwards of Denton, vice-president. Temple gets the next convention. Sam P. Harben of Richardson was re-elected secretary; C. E. Lehman of Hallettsville, treasurer; Miss Madie J. Adde, of Commerce essayist; F. M. Gembenianey of Uvalde, orator and W. S. Potts, of Bonham, poet. Waco, Texas, May 13.—Local capitalists have taken a hundred thousand dollars stock in a cotton twine mill, half of it issued in stock. ### Massacre of Jews May Take Place at Kiev Tomorrow

Moscow, May 13.—Today's paper reports that the agitation for the massacre of the Jews is perceptible at Kiev, where many Jews are disposing of their property in alarm and preparing for flight. It is reported that the massacre seems to have been set for tomorrow. This rumor says the anger against the Jews follows an alleged ritualistic killing of a boy last March. Marriage Licenses. Ely Blanton and Miss Mattie Wiley both of this place; O. Briggs of Denton and Miss Kate Beaumgartner of this city; W. H. Friberg of Wichita Falls and Miss Rose McCleskey of Iowa Park. The Equitable Fraternal Union is an insurance order which has recently come into the Texas field, and the local lodge will be one of the first in the state.

Hermosillo is Threatened By Force of 2,000 Insurrectos

By Associated Press. Magdalena, Sonora, Mexico, May 13.—Hermosillo, the capital of this state is threatened with a speedy capture. It is the largest city in Northwestern Mexico. Fully two thousand rebels are mustering to an attack while but 200 federals occupy the city. Agua Prieta troops are enroute here on a special train and other reinforcements may give the federals 1200 men but this is very doubtful. Col. Ojeda is in command of the Hermosillo garrison. To add to the difficulties of his situation, the city is poorly fortified. There are no surrounding trenches. To the southeast there is a hill at the base of which are the barracks for the garrison. Further up the hill is the penitentiary and beyond it the city waterworks. Rebels capturing this hill would shut off the city water supply. The hill is defended only by two rapid fire guns. The nearest federal force today is five hundred men under General Torres near La Colorado, about 80 miles southeast. The special train from Agua Prieta is coming slowly on account of the track repairs and the danger from bandits. Cananea Threatened. By Associated Press. Naco, Sonora, May 13.—All last night a score of autos from Arizona border points carried women and children of an attack by the rebel leader, Juan Cabral. Men refused to use the autos leaving the vehicles for women and children, and themselves going to the border on foot. Cananea has about four hundred defenders.

A two-inch rain is reported at Crowell and a good rain fell along the Fort Worth and Denver last night between Memphis and Vernon. A light sprinkle fell in Wichita Falls. The three women arrested by the sheriff's office yesterday afternoon on charges of prostitution entered a plea of guilty and paid their fines into the justice court.

Defender of Cameron Dam Is Found Guilty of Murder

Hayward, Wis., May 13.—A verdict in the famous Dietz case was returned this morning declaring John Dietz guilty of murder in the first degree and his wife and son, Leslie, not guilty. Dietz shot a constable while defying a corporation to build a dam affecting his property. Dietz was captured on October 8th, after the tenth effort to arrest him. Deputy Hard was killed in the fight which took place when the posse surrounded the Dietz home. Dietz and two of his children were wounded. Dietz wonderful nerve did not desert him when the verdict of guilty was pronounced this morning. The smile with which he faced all previous troubles played about his lips when he heard the jury foreman's words.

IN SOCIETY'S REALM

To My Blind Mother

Again 'tis May and Mother's Day Brings memories of you; I see your face full of the grace God gives the tried and true.

I see your eyes where patience lies Although the light hath gone; In darkness deep your faith you keep While time rolls slowly on.

On Southern skies your blinded eyes No more may ever look; But inner sight of glory bright Lost vision can not brook.

The flowers white with beauty bright— You may no more behold, But their soft touch you love so much Can long lost joys unfold.

Their balmy breath tells you that death Is but a veil of mist, That shuts the light out from your sight And keeps you from your tryst.

Oh mother mine, 'tis love divine That holds you here on earth, Although you long to join the throng Of those with heavenly birth.

But still you must just wait and trust When all your work seems done, Straining your eyes toward darkened skies That hides the glorious Sun.

So be content the time's well spent, And know full well that He Hath given a hand of angels grand "A charge concerning thee."

Wichita Falls, Texas Alice Brown.

The Floral Art Club

This club held its regular meeting last Tuesday with Mrs. Gebhardt. There were eleven members present who answered roll-call with familiar quotations. Our president being on town, Mrs. Charles Bean, vice president took the chair. After disposing of the business of the day, the program was opened by Miss Ward. Her paper on Fontanien brought that attractive pleasure resort of the French monarch clearly before us, and pictured the charm of its scenery. Mrs. E. M. Harris in her forceful way gave a short sketch of the life of Hayden. The history of French painting from the fifteenth to twentieth century was given by Miss Childers. History being her special forte, she led us through those centuries and brought us in in-accination into almost personal contact with the famous artists of that age, ending up with the present day artist, "I will," whose scenic masterpieces are becoming familiar with us. After deciding to have a last meeting next Tuesday, club adjourned to meet on that day with Miss Ward.

Tuesday Bridge Club

The bridge club and a few guests met at the home of Mrs. Claude Woods

On Tenth street, Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Harry May as hostess, roses were massed in every available spot to cast their fragrance and share for inspiration to the players. Mrs. J. O. Smith carried off the favor of the afternoon, a pair of silk hose. A salad course was served at the end of the games to Mrs. Coates, Little Jones, Maer, Mies, Marchman, Scruggs, Sherman, Sheppard, Smith, J. O. Smith, Thorburn, Woods, Walker, Binford, and Misses Skinner and Scarborough.

Social Meeting

One of the most enjoyable social events in the history of the Ladies' All Society of the First Methodist Church occurred at the home of Mrs. A. E. Anderson, 1509 Burnett street Monday afternoon, May eighth, when Division One entertained Division Two as a result of the recent contest between these sections. Every lady was in her happiest mood and the smiling faces and merry jests were indicative of the general good feeling which prevailed. A short business session was held and the semi-annual report of the treasurer showed that nearly seven hundred and fifty dollars had been raised since the first of January. Much credit is due Mrs. O. F. Martin and Mrs. A. E. Anderson for their efficiency in this line of work. Miss Matie Creed gave a delightful reading and Miss Grace Anderson was generous with her musical talent and these two added much to the pleasure of the Secretary and Rev. R. E. Farley pastor, were present and in well-chosen remarks complimented the ladies highly upon the success of their endeavor. Excellent refreshments were served to this appreciative assembly and all felt encouraged to redouble their diligence for the good of the cause. The meeting Monday will be with Mrs. O. F. Martin, 510 Eighth street. Come with your sewing paraphernalia.

Complimentary "500"

A large number of ladies filled the rooms of Miss Chamberlain's home on Bluff street, where she and Miss Orth were joint hostesses Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Ogaston of Springfield, Missouri, and Miss Randall, sister of Mrs. J. P. Boone. Twelve tables of devotees to this delightful pastime played nine games, the honor's prize being a cut glass vase to Miss Randall and fancy changing dish apron to Mrs. Ogaston. The guest of honor was awarded Mrs. Marchman in a cut. Roses were used in decoration and brick cream and cake were served on the card tables to Messdames Du Val, Roberts, Orlopp, Marcus, B. Smith, McGregor, Clark, Sherrod, Huff, Burnside, Ferguson, Blair, Sherman, Toney, Smith, Sheppard, Little, Jones, Randall, Ogaston, Woods, Thorburn, Marchman, Coates, Maer, Mytiner, Myles, Miller, M. Walker, Scruggs, Allen, Gates, Greenwood, Bacon, Duke, May, Watson, Noble, Reece, Joseph, Misses Marcus, Sherrod, Dora and Cora Coons and Cobb.

Egyptian Lecture

Mrs. J. C. Berney will deliver an illustrated lecture at once of the local theatres Wednesday afternoon for the benefit of the Civic League. Her subject "Modern Egypt or Up the Nile," bristles with valuable points, and accompanied by illustrations from colored slides which she has specially ordered from New York, will be doubly interesting. Egyptian cotton, irrigation, commercial interests, health resorts and various problems will come in for their share of notice; and as Mrs. Berney is really authority on these things and incomparable in her way, it will be something too good to miss. Come one! Come all! Admission, adults 25 cents; children 10 cents.

A Few Friends

A few guests were charmingly entertained Friday evening, Mrs. E. L. Smith, corner of Ninth and Burnett, being hostess. The three tables of "500" players included Misses Skinner and her guest, Miss Scarborough, Mr. and Mrs. F.H.H. Mr. and Mrs. Harry May, Mr. and Mrs. Binford, and Mr. Fred Gaston and White, who later partook of toothsome refreshments consisting of sandwiches, strawberries and whipped cream.

Informal Reception. In farewell compliment to Mrs. N. R. Heath, the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will entertain informally at the home of Mrs. Ed Orr, 1609 Tenth street, Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. It will be a slight testimonial of the esteem in which Mrs. Heath is held both by the Aid Society of which she was long secretary and of the choir in which she was ever a willing worker and for something of the faithful organist. It is with sincere regret that we sever our connection and can only bid her godspeed and hope that her lines may fall in pleasant places.

Thursday Sewing Club

Mrs. Murphy of Tenth street was the genial hostess to this thrifty club this week and while its members are wholly unpretentious they keep "the noiseless tenor of their way," and enjoy their informal gatherings to the utmost. Needlework with reminiscence talk furnishes an afternoon of pleasure that is at once restful and satisfying, and simple refreshments are served at intervals. Those enjoying Thursday's session were Misses Lena and Rhea Gardner, Beryl Murphy, Mesdames Montgomery, Gardner, McDowell, Jones and the hostess.

Fish Fry

A jolly crowd on pleasure bent boarded the street cars Friday evening and enjoyed an al fresco luncheon at Lake Wichita. This included a fish fry which added to the contents of well-filled baskets furnished a repast fit for kings. The personnel of the party was Mr. and Mrs. Cobb, Dr. and Mrs. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Orlopp, Mr. and Mrs. Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Howard, Mrs. Wilson, Misses Ethel Cobb, Matlock, Coffield, Nolen, Gibson and Judge Scurry, Messrs. Coffey, Perkins, Harry Jones and Leslie Howard. Gay baggage with laughter and song filled in a delightful social evening.

Informal Tea

Miss Ada Pierce of Vernon, guest in the home of Dr. Bell gave inspiration for a tea-pouring last Saturday afternoon. Ferns with pink and white roses formed a dainty color scheme and those invited by Miss Lois Bell to meet her friend were Misses Sadie and Marie Kalk, Kemp, White, Thompson, Smith, Orr, Barry, Taylor, Ward, Skinner, Avis, Bachman, Reid, Randall, Lannie Randall, Bishop, Denny, Wyatt, Brooks, O'Neal and Mesdames E. E. Jones, Mear, Henry, Little, Sheppard, Wyatt, Mark Walker, and Miss Walker. Tea with sandwiches and Marguerites were served. Miss Pierce the honoree, returned home Sunday.

Friday Bridge Club

Sherman made high score and delicious ice cream and cake were served to the following guests: Mesdames Blair, McGregor, Sherman, E. L. Smith, Binford, Ogaston, Hampton, M. W. Walsh, Miller, Maer, Misses Chamberlain, Orth, and Marcus; also to the members Mesdames Bruce Smith, W. H. Walker, Reece, Bacon, Marcus, Sheppard, Marchman and Miss Sherrod.

Informal Gathering

On Tuesday evening Section C of the Ladies Aid Society of the First Presbyterian Church entertained the members and congregation at the delightful home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kell. This particular section has for its aim and laudable ambition the building of a new house of worship; and this representative assemblage was convened in a social way to consider the feasibility of such an undertaking. Much informal discussion and some serious planning resulted in a rising vote which gave an overwhelming majority in favor of the new structure. Music on the Victrola, a solo by Miss Bell, and readings by Mrs. Dutton were followed with palatable refreshments and so concluded a very interesting evening.

Slumber Party

Miss Ida Mowse of 1190 Dexter street, entertained some of her fellow teachers Friday in a delightful, though wholly informal way. After the manner of pioneer days Miss Kate Haynes, Sneary, Brown and Smith, went home with her to stay all night. The good supper, the freedom from responsibility which a teacher enjoys on Friday nights, the pleasant talk and laughter with congenial surroundings would inspire if not voice the sentiment. "Backward, turn backward, oh Time in thy flight Make me a child again just for tonight."

B. Y. P. U.

Quite a number of the B. Y. P. U. members and invited guests spent an enjoyable evening at the generous home of Mrs. R. H. Joyce Friday. So all games and music prevailed, Misses M. Young and Lucille Brooks giving freely of their talent which was received with expressions of delight by all music-lovers.

WE HAVE FIXED IT FOR YOU

Realizing that many young people in this city really desire to advance their ability to deal with the business world, during the summer months that are sometimes spent in idle vacation; we have arranged an innovation in our teaching hours: Beginning next Monday, May 15th, the first day session will begin at 7:30 in the morning, lasting until 10 o'clock; the second day session will begin at 10:30 o'clock, lasting until 12:30.

The quarters which we occupy in the New Friberg Building, on Ohio Street, gives us one of the best arranged work shops for a business school to be found anywhere in the state, and you will find the building to be as cool as a summer resort in the mountains, during the hours of the schedule we have announced.

For the summer school we will continue to conduct our regular course of instruction in Bookkeeping, Penmanship, Business Arithmetic, Rapid Calculation, Commercial Law, Shorthand, Typewriting and Banking, and their natural branches. For those whom are attending the public schools, we have arranged a special course in the bookkeeping and shorthand departments, whereby they can take up and complete a course of instruction, by using a few hours in the cool part of each morning, by the time school will open in September. You can well afford to discuss this matter with us in behalf of your boy or girl, as it offers you a chance to see your boy or girl for the issues of the advanced commercial or business life, while they are under the instruction of the school. The expense will be so nominal.

NIGHT CLASS—Our Custom has always been to close our night class from May 15th to September 1st. Many young people whom are now taking advantage of this opportunity to better equip themselves, we have decided to continue this class during the summer. This class will be in session on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evening of each week from the hour of 7:30 to 10:00. This is a field of opportunity to the young whom is employed during the day; others have accepted it and have greatly improved themselves.

Our best reference is with those of our finished pupils who are successfully filling positions in business and elsewhere. We invite your consideration and investigation.

Weighing Social.

Mrs. R. L. Joyce of Tenth street threw open her beautiful home Thursday afternoon for a unique function under the auspices of the Woman's Alliance division five of the Baptist church. Mrs. J. H. Parke manipulated the scales upon which the weight of each guest was registered when she entered the hall and a fee of ten cents for the first one hundred pounds and one cent for each additional pound was cheerfully deposited in a convenient receptacle. Some impromptu merriment occasioned by overweight in a few instances which was soon discovered and amicably adjusted. The parlor and library were rose-trimmed, while the dining room exhaled odors of Edenhurst carnations and sweet peas. Here ice cream and macaroons were graciously dispensed by Marian Crabtree, Estelle Grey and Marnie Avis. Mrs. Runtree the division leader furnished music for the afternoon and Mesdames Waggoner and Duncan assisted in looking after the pleasure of all present. A neat sum, a little less than twenty dollars was realized.

Medical Association.

The State Medical Association convened in Amarillo May 8th to 12th inclusive. The first afternoon about forty automobiles carried the visiting ladies to Palo Pinto Canon where a barbecue feast was enjoyed. The natural amphitheatron on cave accommodated about two hundred people. Another enjoyable feature was a trolley ride over the city, taking in the park and other places of interest, with an informal reception at St. Anthony's hospital where the Amarillo ladies as hostesses, served high tea. On the evening of the tenth, the Elks opened their spacious home and gave a reception, musical and dance. About 500 guests were present. The crowning feature was a reception given at the magnificent home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugenia to the visiting doctors and their wives. Amarillo surely did herself proud and proved herself a most charming hostess as all the favored guests will bear witness.

Waco will be the next meeting place.

The Berea Bible Study Class held an unusually interesting meeting Monday afternoon. Mrs. McKee ably directed the lesson on Prayer, then Mrs. Dutton, with her usual ability, explained Gen. I. On Monday, the eighteenth at four o'clock the lesson will be Gen. II. Mrs. Dutton is a capable leader and all the ladies of the city should take advantage of this golden opportunity to study the Bible.

Presbyterian Aid Society.

A goodly number of aid society members met at the Presbyterian church Monday to engage in Bible study under the leadership of Mrs. Dutton. Those who have attended are loud in their praises of the work which is both interesting and profitable.

The Presbyterians (Southern) will have Sunday School at 10 a. m. and C. E. Society at 7 p. m. There will be no preaching, as Rev. E. S. Lowrance is at Iowa Park.

State Convention.

The State Missionary Convention of the Christian church, which began Monday in Fort Worth was well represented by the members of our local church. Among those in attendance were Mesdames George Moore, McGlasson, C. C. Huff, Gray, Reid, Reece, Darden, Kilander, and Fletcher all of whom are loud in praise of Fort Worth hospitality, making the conference not only a success but a pleasure.

Baptist Woman's Alliance.

Division No. 2 of which Mrs. R. W. Cook is leader, will give an ice cream social on the court house lawn next Thursday evening to which all are most cordially invited.

At the home of Mrs. Fred Barron.

Tenth street, division six of the Woman's Alliance will serve ice cream on the lawn next Tuesday evening in a social way.

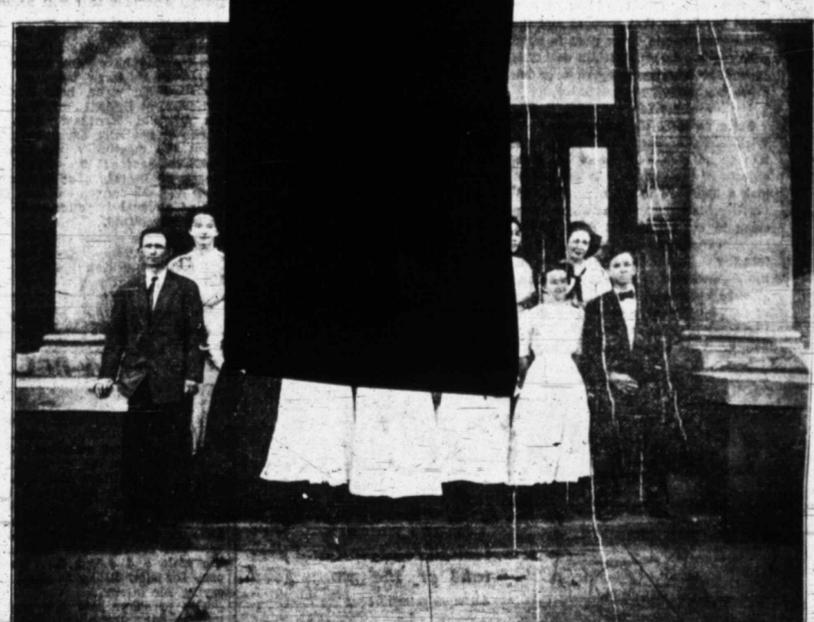

The Womans Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, South, will meet Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the church.

For an equal expenditure whether it be $20,000 or $100,000 Wichita Falls could not spend the money to better advantage than to secure the new State home which the Odd Fellows of Texas are preparing to build.

With three important border towns in their possession, it would seem that the Medero insurgents are now entitled to recognition by the United States and other nations.

Nearly all counties in the state are agitating the question of good roads in fact many counties have already voted bonds for that purpose and the money realized is being used to build good roads. As yet, Wichita county is dependent largely on convicts to improve her roads.

Quite recently the business men of Wichita Falls organized themselves into an ad club, and one of the main objects of the club was to cut out or give a black-eye to the many fake advertising schemes with which they come in contact almost daily, but it appears that since the club was organized the character of advertising which the club wanted to suppress, has been given a considerable boost, and more of that kind of advertising is now being done in Wichita Falls than ever before. This may be only a happy

You and your friends are invited to attend and partake of the many good things prepared in the

"CALORIC" Fireless Cookstove

YOU will be amazed at the seemingly impossible things it does. It bakes and roasts food in its raw state without first partially cooking it on an ordinary stove or re-heating it before serving, as well as steam, stews and boils.

The "CALORIC" saves fully seventy-five per cent in fuel alone and nearly all the time, and work, and all the bother. It requires no attention after the food is placed into it, there is no danger of burning or of food being overdone. The "Caloric" will pay for itself many times over. After using it you would not part with it for many times its cost.

TWO BOYS DROWNED IN WICHITA RIVER

grabbing a limb as they fell to the river. It seems that the boys were chasing a rabbit and ran over a high, steep bluff before they noticed their danger, the two elder boys landing in about ten feet of water, while the younger one swung onto a nearby limb. The little fellow soon climbed back to the bank and ran home, some distance away and told the parents. They were soon on the scene, but could not recover the bodies and it became necessary to notify some men who were plowing in a field about a mile away. These men, who were H. J. Goehring, W. M. Feahler and Frank Krajae, an uncle of the children, rushed to the river and brought the bodies out, finding them in a close embrace as stated above.

The bodies were taken to the family home where the parents were almost prostrate with grief on account of the sad accident. Jesse Dolman of the Freear-Brin Furniture Company went out last night and prepared the bodies for burial, duplicate caskets being used, and this afternoon at 5 o'clock the remains were laid to rest in the same grave in the Catholic cemetery near his city.

be with red and white, the national colors of the organization, in order that the city might express in this manner our appreciation of the coming into our midst of so large a body of young people from over the entire state. The convention rates have been granted by all the railroads in the state, and special delegations are arranging to attend from Sherman, Gainesville, Dallas, Fort Worth, and many smaller delegations from other sections of the state, together with the large host of special delegates that will be sent by the individual societies in the smaller places.

The local committee in charge of this meeting have sent special representatives to large meetings of the Christian Endeavor held during the last year, at Dallas, Fort Worth, Denton, Beville, Weatherford and other places to specially advertise and talk about the meeting to be held here, and have sent out over five thousand pieces of literature advertising the town and the convention, and a meeting of unusual importance is expected to be realized.

Sin Killer Griffin Meeting Will Close Tomorrow Night

Both whites and negroes were converted at the Griffin meeting last night. One young white man who was under conviction ran up the aisle and got on the platform and shouted: "I know I am truly converted; I've got the love of Jesus in my heart."

This caused a great excitement and forty or fifty negroes came for prayer. The second white man came up the aisle and asked Rev. Griffin to pray for him, falling at the altar and crying for mercy.

The preacher said last night that Saul was the first king that Israel had after they left Egypt. Then David was made king. Solomon was twenty years old when he was made king. Hiram sent ambassadors to congratulate him on his peace and prosperity. He took an opportunity in sending a letter back by the ambassadors. There were fifty thousand people that ate at the palace of the Israelite king. Solomon had forty thousand stalls of horses for his chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen. Besides these, he had swift comedaries that might go post for him, and he spoke three thousand proverbs; and his songs were a thousand million. Solomon gave Hiram twelve thousand pounds of wheat, and twenty-one thousand six hundred pounds of oil. He employed thirty thousand Israelites. Solomon had three score and ten, that is, seventy thousand men that bore burdens and carried stones from the mountain out of which they dug; and eighty thousand hews in the mountain that dug the stone out of the quarries and made them in a proper shape; and he employed three thousand and three hundred officers. The stones that the builders rejected became the head or corner stones. The stones were made ready on the marble yard and they fit in their places.

Concerning Solomon's temple to present conditions the speaker said: "This world is the work shop where we are made fit for God's kingdom. We have our trials here. Death breaks the family circle here. Death has been preaching 6000 years. He is not much liked by the people, but he makes the world hear him when he speaks. He brings congressmen down and he makes statesmen tremble. He visits the President of the United States. There is a vacant chair in your houses—the chair that some loved one used to sit in. Every thirty years fourteen million graves are dug. We all are judgment travelers. Where will you spend eternity?"

The preacher said a large number of God's people were poor in this world but rich in the world to come; a house not built with hands but eternal in the heaven, whose builder and maker is God. It has thirteen foundations; its walls are Jasper. The streets are paved with gold, the gates are pearls. Here is the tree of life and the leaves of the tree are good for the healing of the nation. There is no sickness, sorrow, pain or death there.

The preacher told a story about a little boy at his mother's grave. His father died with the yellow fever. The little boy was the only mourner in the funeral procession. The little boy came back home crying. He said "My father is dead, there is the chair he used to sit in." His mother answered and said, "Don't you cry, darling, come here and kiss me good-bye." The little fellow cried, "Mamma, are you going to leave me?" "Yes, she answered, death is on me now." "Well, who will care for me when you are gone?" asked the boy. "The Savior, darling. I have no one in this wide world left but you in the care of, but the Savior," this mother answered. "Ladle that night the old lady died—God will provide. At this point, there were a thousand men, and women crying, shouting and praising God in the highest.

Griffin will preach tonight on "The Prodigal Girl." Tomorrow he will hold three services. After Sunday school he will dispense lemonade and cake to all the children who attend. Preaching will follow at 11:00 a. m. At 2 p. m. there will be a pentecostal service and in the evening the closing service will be held.

Effect of One Bottle: Crandall, Tex.—"After my last spell of sickness," writes Mrs. Belle Teal, of this city, "I remained very ill, and stayed in bed for eight weeks. I couldn't get up, all this time, and though my doctor came to see me every day, he didn't do me any good. I had taken but one bottle of Cardui, when I was up, going everywhere, and soon I was doing all my housework." Cardui helps when other medicines have failed, because it contains ingredients not found in any other medicine. Pure, safe, reliable, gentle-acting—Cardui is the ideal medicinal tonic for weak, sick women. Try it.

DURANT DRUBBED TUNE OF 14 TO 4

LADS AGAIN DO HANDY WORK WITH THE STICK AND RAP OUT A VICTORY.

DURANT'S ERRORS COSTLY
 Visitors Slab Man Worked Hard But Luck Broke Badly For Him.
 Wichita Falls yesterday afternoon administered a severe drubbing to the Durant team and when the smoke of battle had cleared away the score board registered 14 to 4 in favor of the local team. The result was largely due to the effective stick work of the Lads, more so than to the poor work of the visitors, who started off well, but were unable to stop the hitting stride of the local sluggers. Every man on the Wichita Falls team secured a hit with the exception of Beatty, the pitcher, while Clark, Brown, Witherspoon and Morris registered up two each, one of Clark's being a home run. McKee, who pitched for the visitors, worked hard, but he seemed to be in hard luck and suffered the ill effects of four errors, one of which, and a very costly one, he made himself. Beatty, the new pitcher for Wichita Falls had better succeed, and while he was tending up for his green hits, they were scattered and with almost perfect fielding were ineffective in producing runs. Beatty also registered an error in the second, which was of a costly nature, and netted the visitors one of their runs.
 The game would not begin to compare with that of the day before in point of interest, and it was nothing like the exhibit of the national game. However, Durant has a good team, and with Grady in the box may make it interesting for us today.
The Score by Innings.
 Berge, the first man up for the visitors, went out on a fly to first, while Bouldin was retired on a line drive in second that was played to first. Connor secured a hit, as did also Henson, but Holdstron knocked the ball to first base and the teams exchanged positions. The Lads went out in one, two, three order, Clark retiring from third to first, Taylor on a fly to second, and Witherspoon on a fly to right field.
 In the second Bryant knocked a high foul that fell in the catcher's mitt and Brooks secured a hit. Epling, the next man up, was hit by the pitcher, taking first and advancing Brooks to second, while McKee tapped one to the pitcher, who made a wild throw, letting Brooks and Epling in and permitting McKee to take second. Burge next struck out, but Bouldin knocked a home run and added two more to the score, while Connor went out on a fly to short, and a change was due. It was here that the prospects looked gloomy for the home team, but it was not for long so to remain. Guthrie, first up, secured a hit and Dick Naylor went to first on an error of short Brown. Followed with a hit and the bases were full. Morris then hit the pill and brought in two scores, while Cooper got first on a tap to the pitcher which was fielded home in an effort to beat a score, and two more runs were added. Beatty tapped the ball out to short, who fielded it home without effect and the fifth run was added. Beatty then tried to make second, but was caught by the catcher's throw to that base, registering the first out after five runs had been made. Clark and Taylor then went out in rapid succession, the former from second to first, while the latter was thrown out from short to first.
 Henson began the third inning for the visitors with a hit, but was put out at second on a bun hit by Holdstron, the latter securing first. Bryant followed with a hit, but Brooks struck out and Epling retired the side on a high foul to first. For Wichita Falls Witherspoon annexed a hit, but was thrown out from pitcher to second on a nice double, of which Guthrie was also a victim after attempting a sacrifice bunt. Dick Naylor went out second to batter, and the inning was over.
 For Durant McKee secured a hit in the fourth, but went out at second on a nice double, which also retired Burge who had knocked the ball to short. Bouldin followed with a hit, but Connor struck out and retired the side. For the Lads Brown was out short to first, but Morris landed for a two base hit, which, however, was of no avail, as Cooper struck out and Beatty was caught second to first.
 Henson, the first up in the fifth, lammed out a two-bagger, but Holdstron was out second to first. Bryant was caught on a pop-up foul to the catcher, while Brooks was retired by a long run and sensational catch by Witherspoon. For the Lads Clark gained first on an error of the baseman and Beatty followed, Witherspoon followed with a hit and in the melee that followed Clark and Taylor scored. Guthrie was out on a fly to right field, while Dick Naylor secured first when the ball he hit was fielded from short to catcher, retiring Witherspoon. Brown struck out and a change was made.
 In the sixth a high fly to left field proved the undoing of Epling's batting effort, while McKee went out via the third to first runner. Burge annexed a two base hit, but Bouldin's fly to right sent the visitors to the field. In this inning the Durant bunch made short work of the Irish Lads. Morris struck out; Cooper was cut on a high foul to first, and Beatty was retired by the pitcher, who fielded the ball to first.
 The seventh inning started off with Connor in possession of the stick, but without success, as he made a mistake in knocking a high foul in reach of the opposing catcher. Henson followed

GAINESVILLE 6, ARDMORE 4

Rich's Home Run in Sixth Brings in Two Men—Dupree Pitches Very Effective Game.

Gainesville, Texas, May 13.—Rich's home run in the fourth, which brought in two men, followed by a bone-head play by Ardmore, won the second game for the Blue Ribbons here yesterday. Dupree was very effective, and was supported by good fielding. The score:
 Gainesville . . . 0 0 3 3 0 0 0 0—4
 Ardmore . . . 0 1 8 0 0 0 0 0—4
 Two-base hits—Weissinger, Nicholson, Rich, Stillman, Dupree. Three-base hits—Stribble. Home runs—Porter, Rich. Struck out—By Dupree 5, by Trammel 4. Bases on balls—Dupree 2, Trammel 2. Hit by pitcher—Trammel 1. Wild pitch—Dupree. Sacrifice hits—Smith. Stolen bases—White, Rich 2. Time of game—1 hour and 40 minutes. Umpire—Coursen.
DIAMOND DUST.
 Pitchers Moore, Beebe and Howan are all shooting 'em over for the Quakers in classy fashion.
 They call "Ping" Bodie of the White Sox a fence buster, and he looks all of that, sure enough.
 Jim McGuire, former manager of the Cleveland team, is back on his old job of scouting for the Naps.
 The Rochester team, champions of the Eastern League, are right out in front and hustling for another pennant.
 Gregg, Graney and Griggs of the Cleveland Naps. Makes you think of a turn in some vaudeville show.
 Captain Charley McLaughlin of the Harvard team is a clever ball player. He can play any position on the nine, even to pitching.
 John Covaleski, a brother of the famous "Giant Killer," has signed with the San Antonio Texas League team. He is an outfielder.
 Dodo Criss of the Browns is a better hitter than he is a pitcher. He has worked in the box two games this season and lost both of them.
 Despite a wet, cold spring and a cut in the salary limit, the Virginia League teams are moving right along, and doing business at the same old stand.
 It looks as if the teams in the second division of the National League have little or no chance to break through and enjoy the company of the elite in the first division.
 George Mullin of the Tigers, says he will have an operation performed on his nose after he has lost a game. George doesn't fancy the surgery stuff, hence his winning right along.
 "Bugs" Raymond is "pitching" good ball for the Giants. If the erratic Arthur sticks to the soda fountain there is nothing to it but his name in the baseball hall of fame.
 Manager Harry Wolerston of the Oakland Pacific Coast League team has signed Outfielder Zacher, last season of the New York Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals.
 The attendance is increasing as a result of the improvement in the character of games being played and it is expected that there will be a record breaking crowd at the lake tomorrow to witness the opening game with Bonham.
 Cap Morris has added materially to his batting average during the present series, having connected with four hits in the past two games.
 Henson for the visitors carried off the batting honors yesterday, securing four hits in four times up. He is one of the best hitters in the league and is batting but little below the 500 mark.
 Manager Monroe, of the Altus team has retired from active service and is playing the bench and coaching, and Hornuckle is attending with Wolfe as catcher.
 Witherspoon pulled off the sensational fielding stunt of the day in his long and successful run for a high foul.

YOU CAN GET MEATS THAT WILL PLEASE YOU HERE

There are very few people outside of meat experts who can tell a good piece of meat from a poor piece—tender, piece from a tough piece.
 Every meat dealer is expected to know and probably does know—we do any way—exactly what all the qualities of his meats are.
 And just because you may not know by the look of meat what it is quality we won't take advantage of you.
 If you ask for a tender, boiling piece in beef you will get it. If you want a tender, juicy steak or a few short ribs you will not be disappointed in the quality when you get them home.
 What will you have in meats this week?
 Let us serve you this week and we are sure you will come again.

Good Errors Predominate, but Bad Errors Deract from Contest—Large Crowd Sees Game.

Cleburne, Texas, May 13.—Notwithstanding the fact that Cleburne has been steadily losing for a week or more, a fair crowd turned out yesterday afternoon to see the team field another game to Lawton, the score being 5 to 1 in favor of the visitors. A number of good plays were made on either side, but bad buggies were made which detracted somewhat from the good features. The visitors outplayed the locals in the fourth and fifth innings. A "home" was scored by Ellison on what was thought to be a foul ball. The local management has received a basketful of letters from ball players, but as few of them have been seen at work, it is felt that it would be rather risky to try experiments at this stage of the contest. The fans are not satisfied and are anxious to get a few star players who can work off the present hoodoo.

 Ten Inning Contest Is Ended by Dark-ness—Long Drawn-Out Game, with Much Wrangling.
 Bonham, Texas, May 13.—Bonham and Altus played ten innings yesterday afternoon, when the game was called on account of darkness with the score tied 7 to 7. It was a long-drawn-out affair and full of wrangling. Altus was at bat in the first half of the eleventh inning with two out and the game was called. The score:
 Altus . . . 5 0 0 0 2 0 0 0—7 9 4
 Bonham . . . 0 0 3 1 0 0 0 2 0—7 9 4

On account of the uneven distribution of rainfall and frequent long dry spells during growing periods, corn cannot be considered as a "king of crops" in the Texas Panhandle. For certain sections it can be successfully grown and will always be an important crop, but cannot be too generally depended upon.

When we consider that Kaffir corn and milo maize are practically sure crops, and are almost equal to corn as substitutes in feeding value, it is not necessary or important that corn be made a leading crop. It is sure enough, however, that an occasional good farmer can well afford to plant at least a small acreage. Our most successful stockmen and farmers are not making it a leading crop, but are rather depending upon Kaffir and milo maize, which are naturally better drought resistant crops and almost sure of maturing.

To be sure, corn does not always make a good seed crop, but on account of its usual high price in the Panhandle, the farmer cannot always afford to be entirely without it. If after planting a small acreage of corn the season turns out unfavorable, or a very poor stand is secured that is not promising, Kaffir or milo can still be planted and make a good crop. Even if corn does not mature any seed the folder makes excellent feed, especially if cut green and made into ensilage. Corn ensilage can hardly be excelled as a dairy feed.

There is no question but that Kaffir and milo are the best corn substitutes that can be grown in the Texas Panhandle. Both are especially valuable for growing on new land. Kaffir requires a longer season, warmer weather and lower altitude than milo and as a general rule is not quite as well adapted to this section. Milo is practically sure of making a seed crop every year. In fact, Kaffir hardly ever fails, if properly handled. There is very little difference, if any, in the feeding values of the two seed crops. Kaffir fodder is superior to the milo. These two crops will fill the same place in dry land farming that corn does in the corn belt.

On account of the large root system and the numerous small roots, Kaffir and milo have the power to take up a greater percentage of the soil moisture than most other plants, especially corn. They can also make better use of this moisture than most other cultivated crops. They also resist injury from hot dry winds and if favorable conditions follow a period of drought they begin growth at once.

When a drought comes, these plants may stand still for weeks and as soon as the drought is broken they start at once and mature seeds. Corn, on the other hand, is not able to stop growing and hold its own for long periods of drought and if rain does not come within a reasonable time it dies and is not able to start again, no matter how much moisture follows.

It is possible to raise good Kaffir and milo with as small an annual rainfall as 10 inches or even slightly less, if the soil has been thoroughly prepared and the crop given the right kind of cultivation. This point in favor of these crops has been thoroughly demonstrated this past season.

While Kaffir and milo will often produce exceptionally good crops with little or no care, yet there is no other crop that respond quicker to proper conditions and right handling. There is no question but that they are the best "enland" or "sod" crops we have. With an average season, they will make good seed crops or first year breaking without any cultivation. On the "hard" or "right" lands the seed should be well turned over. Usually a good heavy roller will wash the sod down and greatly improve it for any crop to follow.

Old ground should be prepared the same as for corn, plow as much of it deep in the fall or as long before planting time as possible, and give it plenty of time to settle. A corrugated roller or perhaps better, a subsoil face packer, run over this deep plowed land immediately after plowing will compact the soil and help very much to put it in the proper condition. Medium deep early spring plowing is advisable if packed, and especially when fall plowing could be done.

If spring plowing cannot be done early, the Kaffir and milo ground should be double diced early at least, in order to put it in condition to catch and hold any spring moisture that may come before planting time.

Plant seed that has been developed under similar conditions. Without question the Black Hulled White, or that sometimes called Black Capped White Kaffir is best for this section. The Red Kaffir will yield practically as good, but is not as good a feed. Yellow milo is practically the only milo grown in this section. We have the so-called Standard, Dwarf and Extra Dwarf milo. There is very little difference between the Standard and the Dwarf. The growth of either is influenced to a wonderful extent by the climatic and local conditions, as well as the methods of cultivation.

When planted in high and dry climates, the growth becomes dwarf, but the same seed planted under more favorable conditions of moisture and climate, makes a much larger growth and is recognized as standard milo. For ordinary seasons the Standard or Dwarf is best, but for very late planting the Extra Dwarf will make a crop when it is too late for either of the other varieties. This past season, Mr. Vaughn in the vicinity of Tulsa, planted Extra Dwarf milo on July 23rd and secured a yield of 15 bushels per acre, with less than 2-1/2 inches of rainfall on it between the time it was planted and finally matured.

Kaffir and milo are very closely related and therefore cross breed or hybridize if grown close together. Seed should be saved from fields, widely separated. In fact, separate seed plots should be planted of each, especially for seed. One of the greatest troubles with our farmers is their carelessness in this matter of seed selection. They should plant the separate plots with seed from the very best heads of the previous season's crop. Then as the crop matures before the bloom appears, "fall ports," "mongrels" or inferior plants, should be pulled out and let only the choice plants remain. From the heads produced on the choice plants make a selection of the very best. Store these in thin layers or hang them in a dry place out of the reach of mice. This seed should be kept in the head until just before planting time. Threshed seed that has been stored in quantity in bins or sacks, even when kept dry for months, is likely in a few damp days to become sufficiently heated to badly injure its germinating power.

Manner of Planting.

From five to seven pounds of Kaffir or milo seed of high germinating power is enough per acre, especially when the crop is grown for the seed. Drill the seed from five to eight inches apart in the row. Some of the seeds may fall in clumps, but the plants may not mature, even when the stand will be plenty good enough if the stalks develop 10 to 12 inches apart.

Sod Kaffir or milo must necessarily be drilled on the surface with the ordinary two-row corn planter, using the Kaffir drill plates. It should be planted deep enough to get the roots under the sod. It is desirable to list in the crop on fall plowed or early spring plowed land. For land not plowed or for that double diced in the spring, listed crops, will nearly always prove best.

The same general methods of cultivation must necessarily be followed with Kaffir and milo as for corn growing. In the first place, it is very important that the weeds do not get in while the plants are small. This is too often the case, on account of the Kaffir and milo plants being very small and hard to handle when they first start. The weeder and harrow can perform an important part of the first cultivation. The later cultivation must be shallow and the cultivated surface should be kept as level as possible. Two and three inches deep should be considered as shallow cultivating.

Next to the important subject of selecting seeds properly comes that of testing seeds for vitality. No thoroughly up-to-date farmer will plant seeds that have not been tested for germination qualities. Our climate is favorable to the keeping of good seeds, but does not always let them mature properly. The appearance of a seed, no matter how good it looks, does not always insure it to germinate. Kaffir or milo may have become heated during the storage season. The seed corn may have a weak germ on account of not maturing properly and may hardly be worth planting. In any and all cases seed testing will pay many fold.

Worth Weight in Gold.

Abingdon, Va.—Mrs. Jennie McCall of this place, says, "I had been troubled with female complaints, for over ten years. I could not walk or stand on my feet, and had been at most confined to the house, for a long time. I began to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and now I can walk anywhere I want to go. Cardui is worth its weight in gold." This is a high estimate on a plain, herb medicine, yet there are thousands of women who would gladly pay this price for a remedy to relieve their suffering. Cardui has helped others. Why not you? Try it. Your druggist sells it, in $1 bottles.

Hints for Simple Hhousekeeping

To live a broader and freer life than the housekeeper of fifty years ago is one of the aims of the present-day housekeeper. She must have a comfortable home, and it must be cheerful for her family—a home that is a real home. This modern complex life of ours, with its various duties and interests outside the home, will not fit into the grooves of the old-time housekeeper, and to satisfy the demands now made upon us by the outside world we must be willing to adapt ourselves to the changed conditions.

Many women know if the days were twice as long as they now are, and that if they worked during this entire time, there would be something undone at the end of the day. But when they stop to consider how many unnecessary tasks they perform, how much time they expend in doing things that add almost nothing to the real comfort of the house, they will realize that they might omit some of their self-imposed duties and leave more time for other and more vital interests.

To simplify housekeeping a woman must begin with the house. And she must consider the labor that is expended in merely keeping clean the walls, floors and woodwork. Linoleum looks well, even to the dining room, for it comes in pretty hardwood patterns and can scarcely be distinguished from it. With a rug under the table that can be frequently taken out and shaken the floor will make a far better appearance than when covered with tacked-down carpets or matting which collects quantities of dust.

Bare or linoleum-covered floors are easily cleaned, and if they are swept with a hair broom every day, then wiped with a soft cloth or bag-covered broom, they will seldom need more thorough treatment. This broom-bag is most certainly the invention of some thrifty housewife. One width of colored outing flannel 17 inches wide makes the bag proper.

This is sewed up like a pillow case and lined with heavy muslin to within eight inches of the top. The bottom is finished with a very full ruffle, five inches wide. The ruffle is made of flannel doubled, and it is stitched in with the bottom seam of the bag. The side seam is left open as far down as the lining, and in the top hem is run a piece of tape, by which the bag may be drawn together and tied to the broom. The ruffle is the finishing touch that makes the bag so very useful, for it whisks into corners and crevices that the broom cannot reach.

off with a soft cloth dipped in clear, warm water, but there need be no hard weekly scrubbing and sweeping of heavy carpets. White woodwork, while adding to the quaintness of a house, also adds to the care of the housekeeper. Ever-finger mark smudges it. People will not use only the knob in opening and closing the doors, consequently a white door soon bears the imprint of many hands and must be constantly washed. It is the same with window sills and window frames. Unpainted, varnished woodwork does not absorb dust or dirt, and the natural grain of the wood brought out by the varnish is sometimes very beautiful.

Sneary Sells St. Elmo Hotel. N. Sneary, owner of the St. Elmo Hotel, has closed a deal by which he exchanges the hotel building, its furnishings and fixtures to a gentleman named Mitchell for 550 acres of land in Gonzales county. While deeds to the properties have not passed, Mr. Sneary stated to the independent that the only possible block to the trade going through is some defect in the title to the land, and he does not anticipate anything of this sort. Attorneys are now engaged in making an examination of the abstract of title.

Mr. Sneary stated that the land was put in at $68,000, which is $123.51 an acre. There are 400 acres in cultivation, with residence and other improvements. It is bottom land and he thinks it is of unusually fine quality. One particularly fine feature is an orchard of 15 acres of paper shell pecan trees. The land is in the big belt and is demonstrated to produce as fine figs as grow anywhere—Henrietta Independent.

sat by the bed side of a youth upon whose manly brow the glassy stare of death seemed slowly but surely settling. Friends of childhood days and gathered around his couch and the great pain convulsed his powerful athletic was near and wept bitterly for one so young and strong yet beyond the reach of human aid.

He gazed with unseeing eyes around the room and tried to speak but the pallid lips refused to move, with powerful surges he seemed to try to release himself from the clutches of some cruel unseen force that held him in its grip. Finally with an almost superhuman effort he raised his mangled right hand and beckoned the physician who quickly bent over him and listened intently to the words he tried to speak and in a hoarse whisper breaking the death like stillness of the room he asked if the Giants won out yesterday and if Stopper Witherspoon has still tearing down the park fences, the doctor patiently nodded his head and the young man raised himself on his elbow and said: "Doc can't you patch me up so I can go to the game tomorrow?"

Messrs. Before leaving these gentlemen expressed themselves as very much pleased with conditions at this place as well as gratified at the securities held by them on improvements located in this section. They are representatives of the bond departments of some of the leading banks of the country and expect to make other and more extensive investments within the near future.

A dispatch from Oklahoma City contains the information that John E. McAlester formerly of Paris and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Georgia Keaton, were united in marriage in that city. Commenting on the somewhat extraordinary match, the Honey Grove Signal says: "This is rather a new and novel plan for bringing mother-in-law and son-in-law together, but let us hope that it will prove a successful one. At least one feature that frequently gives trouble in second marriages has been eliminated in this union; when the husband brags on his first wife's cooking, wife No. 2 will not take a spell of the pouts, but will calmly say, 'yes daughter was a fine cook; I taught her all she knew.'"

EXPECT TO SUPPLY GAS IN 30 DAYS

Wichita Oil and Gas Company Has Almost Completed Pipe Line to City.

The Wichita Oil & Gas Company is making splendid progress on the pipe line, from the Petrolia field, where their well is located, to this city, and expect to have it completed next week. A large force of men are at work laying the main and but a comparatively short distance remains to be completed when they will transfer the scene of activity to this city.

In discussing the progress of the work this morning Mr. Gibson stated that they were very much encouraged over the manner in which the line had been constructed and announced as indicated above the expected completion of this feature of the improvement next.

Asked when the company expected to begin serving the city with gas, Mr. Gibson stated that they would be ready to supply a large number of customers within the next thirty days and as fast as the men could put in the local lines. Considerable pipe has already been laid-in the business part of the city, where the service will begin as soon as the main shall have been completed and the connection installed.

Carroll L. Smith and L. L. Taylor have purchased the grocery store at the corner of Barwise and Mississippi, which location was occupied by Glass & Sons before the fire which destroyed the building and stock. Both young men are well known in the city and have many friends who wish for them much success in their new business venture. Mr. Smith has been a resident of the city for eleven years, a greater part of which time he has been connected with the grocery business being recently in the employ of Collier & Bond. Mr. Taylor has also had considerable experience in the business, having formerly been in the employ of Tregathan & Bend.

The new firm expects to carry a complete and up-to-date stock and will use best efforts to please those who may favor them with business in the grocery line.

ALTUS WILL SINK DEEP WATER WELL

COUNCIL THERE PETITIONED TO CALL ELECTION TO VOTE BONDS.

PRIVATE SUBSCRIPTIONS

Will Complete Fund of Ten or Fifteen Thousand Dollars Necessary for Project.

Special to the Times. Altus, Okla., May 13.—An enthusiastic meeting of probably a hundred citizens was held in the rest room at the court house last night for the purpose of discussing the water situation in Altus.

During the discussion it developed that Altus has sufficient water for present needs, but on account of the conditions of about a mile of the main pipe from the wells north of town, it is impossible to get the water into the city. Superintendent Hughes stated that the people would never have known but what we had a supply of a million gallons a day if the pipes had been laid so that they would convey the water to the stand pipes.

It was decided that this condition be remedied as soon as possible. The present supply, however, is not sufficient to meet the growing demand and something must be done immediately. There seems to be but one way open to the city at the present time. There is a special law allowing the city to vote a maximum of $50,000 bonds for the purpose of sinking a deep well. It was the sense of the mass meeting to have the council call an election at the earliest possible date for the purpose of voting the bonds.

The meeting was composed of representative citizens and a rising vote was taken on the bond proposition, which resulted in its unanimous adoption.

The discussions brought out the opinion that it would probably be necessary to go as deep as 4,000 feet, in which event it would require from ten to fifteen thousand dollars to complete the work. It was then proposed to form a stock company for the purpose of co-operating with the city, the stock company to take up and continue the sinking of the well when the city's $50,000 was exhausted. In case no water is found and some form of mineral should be discovered in paying quantities, the stock company and the city will own the property each as its interests may appear. In case, however water is found in sufficient quantities to supply the city, the stock company will then reimburse the stock company and all others who may furnish financial aid in the enterprise and become sole owners of the property.

A committee, consisting of the following persons, was appointed for the purpose of soliciting subscriptions to the capital stock of the company, or receiving donations outright: H. J. Hooker, A. S. J. Shaw, C. G. Spear, J. D. Adkins, C. R. Donart, J. L. Hughes, J. O. Reynolds, J. Ben Russell, C. C. Hightower.

Now let every citizen of Altus be up and doing, realizing that in unity alone is there strength, and the purpose will be accomplished.

ALTUS OIL COMPANY ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Company is Negotiating With Driller With View to Sinking Well.

Altus, Okla., May 13.—The Navajo Gas and Oil Company at a recent meeting elected officers and directors for the ensuing year and discussed many questions relative to the sinking of a well in this vicinity. The company is now negotiating for the services of a competent man who will lose a deal with parties with the proper machinery to dig the well. There is enough money in the treasury to go nearly a 1,000 feet.

The new officers are: E. B. Jeffrey, president; Grant Corbin, vice president; J. Ed Van Matre, secretary; treasurer; officer are ex-officio directors. Other directors are: J. W. Agnew, D. J. Kirby, J. Q. Wington, W. F. McConnell, T. J. Thrush and A. T. E. Hall.

TOLBERT PROGRESSES

Commercial Club is Organized at Prosperous Little Town to West of Vernon.

Tolbert, Texas, May 13.—In response to a call for the citizens of Tolbert and community to meet for the purpose of organizing a Commercial Club, quite a number assembled, organization effected and the following officers elected:

L. K. McDonald, chairman; W. B. Williams, assistant chairman; Dr. R. E. L. Roschelle, secretary; and J. W. Hardin, assistant secretary.

The Commercial Club believes that the things needed most in another gin and a bank. W. A. Vaughn, the present ginman, states that he was unable to gin more than half of the cotton that came here last season. We believe that with another gin that more than five thousand bales can be ginned and marketed. We are sure that with the splendid farming country surrounding us, that in twelve or eight months, we will have grown a town of five or six hundred people. The land all around us is selling for $30 to $75 per acre, and we have two prospective oil wells just north of us. In all probability that in a very short time we will be burning natural gas.

TILLMAN COUNTY HOGS BEST IN TEXAS MARKET

Fort Worth, Tex., May 5.—Tillman County, Oklahoma, made a good showing in the hog division today, sending eight loads to the Fort Worth market. The best lot of hogs here today were sent in by E. G. Whitley of that county and they were almost fancy compared with the general run. On a very late sale they brought $6.25, which is a premium over the regular market. This lot of hogs were run on alfalfa and finished on corn for the market. Mr. Whitley is a strong believer in alfalfa for hogs and predicts there will be a large increase in alfalfa acreage by the next year, fully double the number of acres now in that forage plant.

Another Oklahoma hog man also made a good sale. A load of hogs from Grady County, were sold by Roy Hunt at $6.15. They had the run of an alfalfa field and were finished on green oats.

G. A. Stinson of Tillman County, sold a load of hogs at a fair price. He said in talking of hog feeding for the market, that the best lot of hogs he ever raised were fed on corn soaked in water and mixed with cotton seed meal and finished on alfalfa. That kind of feeding brought top prices, he says.

SAND CLAY ROADS FOR WESTERN OKLA.

Government Expert Believes That Such Construction is Practicable.

Considerable agitation is now being advanced in the press relative to good roads in Oklahoma. The state geological survey has been for some time past working on this problem. Last year, through the efforts of the survey officials, the services of James H. Voshell, of the government office of public roads, were secured in making a brief investigation of the highways and road materials in the state. L. C. Snider, assistant director of the Oklahoma geological survey, accompanied Mr. Voshell in this work. Since that time the former has made a more detailed study along such lines of every part of the state. The result of this research, Bulletin No. 8, is now prepared for the press and will be ready for the public in a few months. This report deals extensively with the formation and maintenance of different kinds of roadbeds. In addition it discusses the best materials for the construction of highways in various localities. One chapter of the book will be devoted to a review of the counties of Oklahoma in respect to their thoroughness, their present condition and future possibilities. Rock samples suitable for macadam have been collected and tested from various ledges of stone throughout the state and the result of these tests will appear in the report.

For the western half of Oklahoma Mr. Snider advances the idea of sand clay roads, that is, a mixture of both sand and clay in such proportions that an ordinary sand bed will remain moist in dry weather or the original clay bottom will stay passively dry in wet weather. This idea has been tried in some of the southern states and is found extremely practicable, both in cheapness and durability. It has also been tried with success in this state.

Another suggestion is brought forth in the report in respect to the highways of eastern and southern Oklahoma. Where the natural earth bed is not satisfactory for travel and asphalt might be heated, spread over the surface and worked in. It is thought that such a roadbed would answer for all kinds of traffic in both wet and dry climates and at the same time be dust proof. As yet, however, no regular experiments have been carried out along this line.

Other phases of roads and road making are discussed at length by Mr. Snider in the bulletin, copies of which when published will be sent to any one upon receipt of the mailing cost. The survey authorities will correspond with those who wish immediate information along such lines.

WAGGONER NO. 8 TO COME IN SOON

THE DRILL HAS BEEN RUNNING FOR ABOUT FOUR WEEKS NOW.

MACHINE SHOPS STARTED

Wichita Falls People Are Putting Up Well Equipped Plant in Oil Field.

Special to the Times. Electra, Tex., May 13.—Everyone has his eye on Waggoner No. 8 and a great deal depends on whether or not it comes in a good well. The drill has been running about four weeks and no serious mishaps have been encountered. Although the exact depth has not been brought out, it is probable it will be brought in in a few days.

The drill was started in the Clayco No. 2 the latter part of last week and in No. 3 the first of this week. It isn't expected that as much time will be required to finish these wells as it did No. 1, as the drillers are thoroughly familiar with all the formations.

Some two weeks ago there was a string of tools lost in Waggoner No. 7, and after several days fishing in which everything but a thirteen inch bit was recovered, hope of getting the bit was abandoned and the casing was set and drilling resumed without the bit.

Work on Bywaters No. 2, which is expected to be one of the best wells in the Texas field, is going on without a hitch and may be brought in at any time. The News was unable to secure a statement as to the depth attained.

Lots in Woodruff Heights have had a remarkable sale in the past week. Upward of thirty lots were sold in one day. At the present time this is the most valuable residence property in the city, as it adjoins the oil field on the south and there was no mineral right reserved.

The building was started Wednesday for the Electra Machine and Supply Company which will be in operation within fifteen days. The building will be 30x80 and will be constructed of corrugated iron. The location will be two blocks east of the Myers stable and on Front Street and Cleveland Avenue.

Mr. V. C. T. Christensen, president of the company, was up from Wichita Falls Tuesday and stated that he would immediately leave for St. Louis where he would purchase all of the necessary stock of goods and appliances necessary and as fast as they arrived they would be installed. He does not think it will require more than fifteen days to begin operation.

QUANAH AUTO DAY WAS BIG SUCCESS

Nine Machines Participated in the Slow Race on the High Gear.

Special to the Times. Quanah, Tex., May 13.—Auto day on last Saturday was a great day in Quanah. Hundreds of people had been attracted by the promised display of autos—something of a novelty yet in this country—and the stores did a rushing business all day. The weather in the forenoon was all that could be desired; in the afternoon the wind came up as the ground was still damp, but little dust to mar the pleasure of autoists and on-lookers.

It was two o'clock when the parade came down Mercer street, and turning at the corner of Second entered Main street. The sidewalks were crowded with sightseers, and the slight wobble of the wheels going miles to see. The autos were handsomely decorated with bunting, natural and artificial flowers; some of them appeared to be nothing but a moving mass of flowers. And then those pretty women and girl occupants, dressed to match their surroundings!

It was one of the most beautiful and striking pageants ever seen in this country.

NEW WATER SYSTEM IS IN OPERATION

LARGE GRAVITY PRESSURE MAY BORE FOR OIL NEAR QUANAH

Natural Fall From the Well to the City is Said to Be About Sixty Feet.

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE QUANAH ROUTE

Road is Opening Up a Fertile Country to Settlement and Production.

Special to the Times. Wellington, Tex., May 13.—Wellington is rejoicing over the inauguration of service by its new water company. The mains have been completed from the "big well" into the city and have been protected around the public square. Four fire hydrants have been installed which gives the city the appearance of a town supplied with water.

This company deserves success, for they have labored faithfully since the organization until this good time, asking no bonus, asking no future contracts from the city, nor the private citizens of the town, working right along with "merging" firms in the proposition, believing that the good people of Wellington would respond liberally when shown that a water system here was not only probable but possible. The managers of the company say that they have plenty of good soft water now to supply the town from the reservoir they sunk; that when necessary demands they can dig any number of large wells and connect them, thereby getting an unlimited quantity. They have a fall from the well to town of fifty or sixty feet which gives pressure enough through gravity to place in any residence in town and would not need a standpipe for this purpose, but realizing the present needs of the city they have installed six fire mains around the square and placed fire hydrants at each corner of the square, looking to the erecting of a stand pipe right away. But it is now up to the city fathers to say whether the town shall be protected with a pressure of one hundred pounds to the square inch.

The roster of the company's officials is as follows: Sam Lazarus, president; Chas. H. Sommers, vice president; (both of St. Louis); Chas. Espingler, vice president, and general manager; Davis E. Decker, general attorney; C. B. Dorchester, treasurer; Sherman T. K. Hawkins, auditor, secretary and local treasurer; Robert Gray, general freight and passenger agent. (All of Quanah.)

The above officials, with the exception of Capt. Espingler, are native Texans and have gained their railroad experience with trunk lines within the state. This line handles a heavy tonnage of plaster products originating at Acme, where are situated two of the largest cement plaster manufacturing plants in the United States. It also touches exceedingly fertile and productive farming districts around—Lezard, Swearingen and Paducah in Cottle county, as well as a large area in Motley, Floyd, Dickens, King and Crosby counties, from which it handles principally cotton and cattle shipments. For the season of 1911 the line handled 5,500 bales of cotton against 4,500 for the season of 1910, which goes to show the growth of the agricultural interests since the advancement of the new line.

Large tracks of range country have been opened up for settlement and it is only a question of a short time before it will be closely settled, and large crops of cotton, grain, etc., will be shipped from this territory.

Arrangements have been perfected for the extension of this road westward to Roswell, New Mexico. Surveying parties are now in the field locating a route.

MANY HOGS SHIPPED FROM DEVOL, OKLA.

Special to the Times. Devol, Okla., May 13.—Still the hog nose thieves are in one week in one bad thing and shows the greatness of the Devol country.

Zack Taylor loaded out a car of beauties Monday night and Chesher & Glidwell and C. G. Hooper each shipped a car of the fat rosters Tuesday night. All three cars went to Fort Worth to market.

State Entomologist Gives Recipe for Mixture.

College Station, Tex., May 13.—That household pest which is such an annoyance in the home, the stable, and which is here, there and everywhere, can be gotten rid of, and Wilmon Newell, State Entomologist of Texas, at the Agricultural College of Texas, tells how.

The Wichita Falls train brought the Wichita Falls band, which added greatly to the interest of the occasion. During the past week several persons from a distance have been in Hammon with a view of investing in real estate, or engaging in some line of business. Each and every one were highly pleased and most of them invested in some manner. To one not familiar with the numerous unequalled surroundings of this city anything seen in print would seem like an exaggeration. Far from it, the half has never yet been told. In fact, our vocabulary is not large enough to express them as they really are. It is a well known fact however, that further prospects for Hammon and the surrounding country are greater than the greatest. As a business center Hammon has no equal in any town four times its size. Prove this to yourself by looking at an Oklahoma map you will find that it positively has the largest trade territory of any town in the state and if you will pay us a visit you will agree with us when we say that our merchants are the most liberally patronized of any in the state.

This is ordinarily the dull season of the year in most places. But if it is the dull season here, the busy one will be unparalleled in the American history.

The cotton acreage in the country tributary to this point will be the largest ever planted. With a good price already assured, from the fact that the cotton from last season's crop and the surplus will be exhausted long before the next crop is ready for the market. This coupled with flattering prospects for a bumper crop makes the people of "The Little City" feel at ease. Even at that our farmers do not depend solely upon cotton and corn for a livelihood.

GOOD ROADS WORK IN COOKE COUNTY

Twenty-Two Enterprising Farmers Organize Good Roads Club—The Work They Are Doing.

Special to the Times. Gainesville, Tex., May 13.—A meeting of the good roads club, which has recently been organized at Whaley Chapel, was held at the school house last night and was well attended and developed a great deal of enthusiasm.

This club consists of 22 enterprising farmers of that community, with Commissioner John W. Thurman as president and Mr. Austin as secretary. Each member pays in dues of 25 cents a month and after every rain James Allen drags the fifteen miles of public roads in the precinct and this club has a contract with Mr. Allen to keep up the work regularly.

Mr. Allen reported last night that he had dragged the fifteen miles twice since the club was organized, and though the dryness of the ground would not permit of the desired effect, the result had been very satisfactory to all concerned. He declared that it took him half a day to dry the roads one time.

Many others made short but enthusiastic talks and a great deal of enthusiasm has been worked up over the proposition. Commissioner Thurman declared that he hoped to see the movement spread to every precinct in the county, and the commissioners' court would supply the split-log drags to every community which would use them in this way.

Sheer White Cotton Voile the Favorite Fabric—Dutch Neck Preferred to High Collars—Sweet and Twenty Doubly Sweet in a Sash—Gloves Not Essential With Commencement Dress

One of the women's magazines last month published an admirable article on how to contrive a graduating frock at a dollar price; but one's heart aches sympathetically for the brave little girl graduate who must march in on commencement day in her dollar frock, and a bevy of her-mates attired like the lilies of the field. Commencement is a great occasion, an important milestone in the young girl's career and the very prettiest frock that she can command is none too pretty to do honor to this auspicious event.

The graduating dress, even though it steps beyond the dollar price, need not be expensive. Silks and satins and costly laces are out of place on the young girl who—no matter how admirable her intellectual achievements nor how brilliant her scholastic address—is really not yet even a debutante in the social field. There are hosts of lovely, suitable materials, and as the graduating exercises usually come in June these materials include many low-priced cotton fabrics. Embroidered mulls, sheer batistes and lawns fringed with lace and fine embroidery, and pin dotted waxes (which is back in favor this season) are all attractive tub materials which may be used for the commencement-day frock.

Cotton Voile First Favorite This Year. Five graduating dresses out of every six this season—at the colleges and larger preparatory schools at least—will be of sheer, beautiful white cotton voile, which has taken the fashionable world by storm. These frocks are not as practical as those of bonnet tub materials, for though the cotton voile is supposed to be washable, it has a way of shrinking with each successive tubbing that is discouraging.

For the girl graduate the voile dress is not loaded with expensive details of V-neck lace, like the model which her older sister or her mamma will wear to garden fetes and country club gatherings later in the summer. But it has the same lovely clinging lines and may be beautified with any amount of hand embroidery and a little exquisite fine ruy or Irish lace set in to give emphasis to the embroidered pattern. These frocks are made with a shawl collar with a retainer short-waisted bodice and seamless sleeves coming to the elbow, and a straight, narrow tunic skirt; the bodice and skirt being joined under a broad soft girde or sash, or perhaps a simple cord girde with knotted, tassled ends.

Necks in Dutch or V Style, But Never Decollete. A low-necked graduating gown would be in the worst of bad taste, and few mothers would be guilty of such a breach of custom and propriety as to allow the young daughter, more than the most modest V, or a shallow Dutch opening at the top of her commencement gown. When these gowns are of very sheer material they are worn over silk or lawn slips and the slip is cut out at the top only a little below the neck of the gown. The sleeves may be in any desired length, but the prettiest style seems to be a close-fitting sleeve falling just to the elbow. In young girlhood the elbows are usually pretty rounded and dimpled, and the forearm has not the heaviness that comes in later years, so the short little sleeves are a particularly attractive part of the graduating frock.

Dainty Dresses of Sheer Muslin and Swiss. June graduating frocks of the "tub" order are always dainty and appropriate and many mothers this season prefer such frocks to more ambitious models of voile for even the thin, washable silk which is sometimes used for this purpose. Several charming "tub" dresses for commencement time are illustrated.

The class day frock of sheer white embroidery flouncing is a particularly dainty model and has the short-waisted bodice confined under a soft sash that is an especially girlish, graceful style. The picture shows how cleverly the deep flouncing was used in this little frock, a band of heavy chiny lace bisecting the embroidery on the skirt, and the deep flounce being attached to a fitted yoke of chiny and embroidery under another strip of the wide insertion. The sash is of pale pink stiff ribbon, with a butterfly bow and short ends at the back, and the big pink Milan hat is trimmed with pink ribbon and masses of tiny pink rose buds.

Still simpler is a graduating frock of soft white mull which owes its prettiness to the groups of fine tucking and bands of putting quite much as to the little yoke and sleeve caps of exquisitely fine swiss embroidery. The puffing is a new notion this season and is an especially effective trimming for sheer, simple little white frocks of this character. The manner in which the skirt is pleated at the top and attached to the gathered bebe bodice under a cording is interesting. The knotted white cords and tassels on the sleeves are also a new note.

Sashes Will Play an Important Part on graduation day shows one of the new, fashionable sashes with ends falling almost to the skirt hem. In this case one should say "end" and not "ends," for this sash has only one end or panel, as it is called—and within the loop at the bottom of the ribbon are small weights which keep the panel in place and prevent its fluttering about. This sash is made of white ribbon, flowered in pale blue, and the buttons which fasten the smart little straps at the waistline and end of the panel are covered with pink satin. Blue and pink are an extravagant fashionable combination now for young girls' wear.

The "set" way in which the bow of this sash is arranged is very smart. All sash bows are made and fastened in this manner, and sometimes in a kind of a bow, there is a round cushion with a covered satin button set in a pleating of ribbon. Sometimes, also, cushions of this sort are placed on the ends of the long sash, or the two ends fast, one over the other, and are caught together near the bottom with a cachuchon of a cluster of tiny rosebuds. One sees, too, a loop of ribbon falling to the knees or below in a kind of a covered satin button set in a pleating of ribbon.

The elaborate lingerie frock with which the sash, above described, is pictured is made of embroidered mull. Finances joined with val lace, the bodice being a most intricate combination of lace and embroidery, which speaks the Paris origin of this rather expensive graduating frock.

When the Graduating Frock is to Act as a Dancing Frock. Usually about commencement time there is a class dance and the young graduate may have to wear the same costume on both occasions. In this case the graduating dress may be of lace or of thin silk, if desired, but it should be in white for its commencement day appearance, though a colored slip may give it a gay touch for the class dance. The girlish frock of white India silk, pictured today, is an ideal "first party" frock for a young girl. Over the tucked silk skirt is looped a tunic of white chiffon and this is held down under long white ribbons which cross at the waistline under a graceful square bodice of Val and Irish lace. There is a Dutch

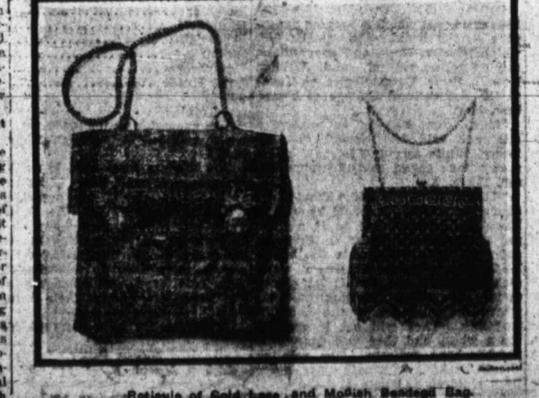

A Pretty Lingerie Frock for Class Day

Another dainty class day frock or graduating frock for a little high school girl is the model of Quaker lace which shows a simple pattern embroidered on net. As pictured, this lace dress is mounted over rose pink silk and has a pink hat and parasol to match, but a white silk slip and white sash ribbon would be equally pretty and would be more suitable for graduation wear.

Young girls of this tender age are quite as lovely in simple and inexpensive costumes of tucked lawn, but often the graduating dress has to serve as a party dress for the ensuing season, or even as a bridesmaid dress—as was the case with the lace model shown in the photograph. The distinction of the graduating costume depends not entirely on the frock itself, but on all the little belongings which go to make up a perfect toilette.

The Little Belongings That Count. The girl graduate should wear white slippers and stockings by all means, and, if possible, the slippers should be of satin or of kid and the stockings of silks for this is a very great event and should be suitably honored. Silk stockings cost so little nowadays that a few pennies more than the price of a fine lisle hose will pay for a sheer pair of thread silk. Of course, the inexpensive white silk stockings will not last as long as the sturdier lisle thread, but after all, what of it—a graduating day is worth a little extravagance.

This year there are fascinating white satin pumps which are built with light wadded soles so that they may be worn and, if possible, the slippers should be generally all summer with high-latest Manhattan notion in reticules, was not so far out of the way. The smart reticules, however, are no bags gathered along one end. They are beautifully shaped affairs and their most fashionable feature is their flatness. However large the reticule is, it must not bulge in telltale evidence of belongings crammed inside. As a matter of fact, the space inside most of these bags is limited to a small pocket at the top which will hold one's handkerchief, a little coin purse, a flat cardcase and perhaps a vanity box. Below the pocket the sides of the bag are fastened together and a handsome tringe or other trimming weights the edge.

The reticule or cordellere, as it is sometimes called, may be square, oblong or perfectly round in shape. Some of these bags are square at the top and taper to a point at the bottom; and there are irregular shapes like the stunning cordellere carried in the picture. What ever the cordellere may be made of, in order to possess true elegance, it must have a touch of gold—and the more gold the handsomer and more costly the bag. The cordellere pictured is made of dark blue satin elaborately trimmed with gold lace and having a cord and tassel to match the gold lace and also the gold braid which outlines the lace and finishes the edge of the bag. The opening is under the flap of gold lace at the top, this flap closing by means of a gold cord and button. The lining of this bag—which might easily be copied by any clever woman at home—is of pale coral colored silk, the pocket section extending only half way down the inside of the cordellere. These handsome reticules are carried with even simple tailored street frocks. They are not slippers with regulation slipper soles, toes and French heels, but real pumps, with Cuban heels and smart pump bows across the instep. They are just the thing for the girl graduate. Gloves are not an essential with the commencement day costume. There is more and more a tendency among fashionable women to dispense with gloves on all indoor occasions, and at many of this winter's receptions the hostess appeared with short sleeves and bare arms. Even brides have taken a notion of late to dispense with gloves, wearing long sleeves which cover the wrist.

It goes without the saying that the young girl graduate should wear no jewels. Even the cherished watch which has been received as a graduation present from father or mother will look much better at home in the case of commencement day than as an ornament worn with the white frock. The girl's own rings, a dainty brooch amid the laces of her bodice, or perhaps a single string of pearls should be all the jewelry allowed. A small fan attached to a fine chain or to a long white ribbon will prove a grateful addition to the costume of the graduating exercises in June.

costumes and often the cordellere is designed especially to match the costume. The bag just described—of blue satin and gold—was built to match the costume with which it is carried, a charming little summer suit of blue and white-checked mohair, with a hem of dark blue satin and a short coat of the satin trimmed with large cuffs and collars of the mohair. The rich cordellere lends a touch of elegance to this simple costume.

A perfectly round cordellere suggesting an army cap in shape, is of green satin with a rising sun pattern in the center, the sun rays worked with gold thread, extending out to the edge of the circle all around. This bag is lined with white satin. An oblong cordellere opens in envelope style and is made of ecru linen, a three-inch border of white seersucker going all around the oblong and also following the edge of the envelope flap. This smart bag for use with summer costumes closes with a white cord and button, and has a long white cord handle.

A fashionable shop last week showed a window full of new cordellere bags, and each bag was accompanied by a parasol matching it precisely. One imagines that many will have her hands full, quite literally, when she tries to manage both cordellere and long-handled parasol this summer. The prettiest bags in the window were of chiffon-velvet toile du joi, the rich colors of the latter fabric showing through the black chiffon in subdued, blurred effect. The parasols were of the toile du joi over, which chiffon was shirred thickly, a deep hem of dark velvet bordering the parasol. All these parasols had the new crook handles in shepherd's style. Tapestry bags are a novelty—and some of them are very attractive—when the colors are not too bright. The tapestries are intended to imitate the marvelous Gobelin tapestries of old-time days and the frames are usually of rose gold or etched with silver with the inevitable long cord handle. Pretty cordellere bags are made of bright colored silk veiled with mesh lace, the mesh having a bold, octagonal pattern. Dull gold braid follows the edge of the lace and the fastening of the back and the flap of dull gold cord, with tassels to give the grace which is an important part of these swinging reticules. Velvet cordelleres have been very fashionable all winter, but somehow velvet loses its strong appeal when summer wears arrive and the brocade, tapestry and chiffon or lace veiled bags will probably prove more popular as the season advances.

For the Woman Who Motors. When long trips are taken during spring weather care should be taken in case cold weather should strike the party. Hot water bottles come in handy in this case. When there is a brisk spring breeze the face should be gently massaged before setting out on the journey. A good cream can be used, which should be wiped off with a very soft towel. On arriving at one's destination on no account should the face be washed; but the powder should be rubbed off, the face again lightly massaged with an emollient which is wiped off as before.

Some hours later the face may be washed in warm water, to which a little of the cologne has been added. If the eyes ache crash towels should be wrung out of hot water and applied to them about six times in succession. Gradually the heat should be lessened until a cold bandage can be placed on the eyes for a few minutes without causing a shiver. It is sometimes found that although motoring is usually a splendid cure of insomnia, with some people it has the opposite effect. They lie awake seeing roads at night, the whole panorama of the country unrolling itself before them as during the day. If such a thing happens, a glass of hot milk should be sipped at bedtime and the feet should be placed in hot mustard water. This treatment will generally induce sleep.

To Clean Sponges. Put into a basin of warm water a small piece of washing soda. Lay the sponge into this and soak for an hour or more; then squeeze through the water several times. Rinse well in clear, cold water and hang in the sun to dry.

A New Dressing Bag as Flat as a Sandwich. You may go out of town overnight now carrying with you all the necessities for a complete toilet. Get seen to have under your arm masterly smart-looking leather mangle fold. These new dressing "bags" are not bags at all, but big oblongs of leather, lined with moire silk in some attractive color and through stitched straps of the moire are thrust combs, brushes and flasks, all as flat as your hand. The flasks contain very little liquid of course, but quite a sufficient supply of toilet water, or other preparation for an overnight requirement, and the brushes have only a row of two of bristles mounted in a flat back. A nightgown—one of the very soft, sheer minkook nighties that you could pull through a bracelet—may be folded flat and carried also in this clever dressing bag that masquerades as a music roll.

Stray Topics From Little Old New York

New York, May 13.—There is a powerful element of pathos, almost of tragedy in the life history of Miss Jane Perkins Williams, who was sent to the Long Island State Hospital for the insane the other day, after the Supreme Court had been asked to appoint a committee to look after the estate of the woman, which is estimated to be worth considerably more than $1,000,000. Miss Williams is now seventy-five years old, feeble and apparently of unsound mind. Forty or fifty years ago, however, when she was a young woman, she was a well known figure on Wall Street and brokers, bankers and other financiers knew her well and admired her keen shrewdness in stock speculations.

Her father had been a Wall Street man and she inherited the taste for stock speculations from him. With the modest fortune he left her at his death, she began to speculate, first cautiously and in a small way, but gradually branching out and becoming bolder. At the time of the panic in the early seventies she inherited in stocks and bonds which had reached bottom prices and all through the years of financial recuperation she held on to her securities, selling them only when they had reached their top values. Of course, she had some losses, but in her largest transactions she was immensely successful. She accumulated a large fortune and, besides holding large blocks of dividend-bearing securities she bought valuable real estate in New York, Brooklyn and in other cities in this state and in New Jersey. A few years ago her health began to break down and she withdrew from Wall Street. It was not long before she was forgotten. She retired to a small, dilapidated and poorly-furnished house in Brooklyn, where she lived the life of a recluse and miser ever since. Among the rags, bundles of old newspapers and other trash which nearly filled every room of the house, were found hidden stocks and bonds, mortgages and other valuable securities, representing a large fortune. Evidence was also found that she had stowed away in safety deposit vaults in Brooklyn, New York and Albany at least half a million more of valuable property. For many years Miss Williams had never deposited or cashed the dividend checks sent to her and large stacks of them were found in her hovel.

One fater the other the old landmarks of the heart of New York City disappear from the surface, to be replaced by structures devoted to commercial uses. The present generation has not much respect or reverence for historical associations when it comes to gaining profit by destroying such landmarks. Within the week two such historical landmarks were sacrificed to commercialism—the old De Peyster house, erected by Col. Abraham De Peyster of revolutionary fame, about 135 years ago, and the fine old Schermerhorn mansion, which, about fifty years ago, was built upon the Schermerhorn homestead, to replace its more primitive original home of the noted Schermerhorn family. Both buildings will be replaced by high lofty buildings.

Thanks to the determined efforts of Collector Loeb and his carefully watched officials the smuggling of jewelry and other dutiable valuables into this port has been greatly reduced, if not entirely suppressed. Now, however, are confronted with the problem, how to put a stop to the smuggling of undesirable aliens, a traffic which has assumed astonishing proportions recently. The task of the immigration officials is perhaps even more difficult than that of the revenue inspectors. The smuggling in of gems is usually done by returning tourists individually, without the knowledge and complicity of the officers of the ship. The smuggling in of undesirable aliens, however, is in most cases done with the knowledge and complicity of the ship's officers. Of course, the persons smuggled in are always undesirable aliens; were they not, it surely would not be necessary to smuggle them through. The methods employed show considerable ingenuity.

It has been ascertained that the English Prison Aid Society has for a long time been in the habit of sending English convicts to America. The society succeeded in smuggling the men into this country by a clever arrangement with the officers of English steamers. The convicts were entered upon the papers as officers of the ship and received nominal pay with the understanding that they were to desert upon the arrival of the ship in port. Hundreds of the most dangerous criminals are said to have been smuggled into New York in this fashion.

Another clever scheme employed the other day to smuggle two men into the country, who would probably have had great difficulty in passing the scrutiny of the immigration officials. When the Hamburg-American liner President Lincoln arrived in Hoboken the other day, a man who showed a shield and pretended to be a police officer, went on board and demanded that the two men be brought out as they were wanted by the authorities. The two men were brought on board and the alleged policeman arrested them and took them away. Of course, it was soon found out that the whole performance was merely a clever scheme to smuggle the two passengers into the country.

The Spring Street Presbyterian Church in this city celebrated its centennial last week. It was on May 5, 1811 that the first service was held in the original structure occupying the same site as the present edifice which was erected in 1836. At the celebration a number of old members were present, among them a woman who had been baptized in that church sixty-four years ago.

Job Brown Tillou, the oldest resident of South Orange, N. J., died the other day at the age of 96 years. It must be a shock to some theorists and diet cranks to learn that Mr. Tillou had been a habitual tobacco chewer since his eleventh year and had been in the habit of eating pie twice daily for the last eighty-five years of his life. He was never troubled with dyspepsia and until two years ago, when his wife died had retained his strength and faculties to a remarkable degree.

is to be unveiled Tuesday with elaborate ceremonies accompanied by a great military pageant. The event will be attended by the German Emperor and Empress.

Accident prevention and industrial relief, banking and currency, immigration, industrial education and numerous other live questions of the day are slated for discussion at the annual meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers, which will convene in New York Monday for a three days session.

The two great assemblies of the Presbyterian Church will be held during the week, the northern Presbyterians meeting at Atlantic City and the southern Presbyterians at Louisville. Another large religious gathering of the week will be the Southern Baptist Convention at Jacksonville, Fla.

Other large gatherings of the calendar of the week are the National Conference on City Planning, which is to meet in Philadelphia; the Northwestern Mining Congress, in Portland, Ore.; the annual convention of the American Library Association, in Pasadena; the national meeting of the Royal Arcanum, in Minneapolis; the annual meeting of the American Society of Tropical Medicine, in New Orleans, and the annual conference of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, in London, Ont.

To Banquet Woodrow Wilson. San Francisco, Cal., May 13.—The Yale, Harvard and Princeton clubs of San Francisco have joined in making suitable arrangements for the entertainment of Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, who is to pay his first visit to this city Monday. The coming of the New Jersey governor has aroused considerable interest in view of his reported candidacy for the democratic presidential nomination. At the Fairmont hotel Monday night he will be the guest of honor at a banquet for which 2,000 invitations have been issued.

Butte Labor Unions to Protest. Butte, Mont., May 13.—The union labor people of Butte and vicinity have completed arrangements for a mass meeting tomorrow to protest against the arrest of Ortle McManigal and the McNamara brothers, the labor leaders who are being held in Los Angeles on charges growing out of the destruction of the Times building in that city.

Roman Catholic Pilgrimage. Carey, O., May 13.—The annual Roman Catholic pilgrimage to the shrine of our Lady of Consolation Church here began today. The shrine is one of the most famous in the country. Hundreds of pilgrims are expected during the ensuing year from Cleveland, Toledo, Columbus and other cities and towns throughout Ohio.

CORONATION GUESTS

FLOCK TO LONDON

TUESDAY WILL WITNESS UNVEILING OF THE VICTORIA MEMORIAL.

ONE MILLION VISITORS

Are Expected in London By That Time. The German Emperor to be a Guest.

London, May 13.—The stage has been set and everything put in readiness for the curtain to rise on the first of the magnificent spectacles that are to make the coming summer the most memorable in the modern history of London. Tuesday next will witness the unveiling of the Victoria Memorial, the imposing exercises form monies of the coronation to follow a few weeks later.

The arrangements for the unveiling of the memorial have been completed under the general supervision of Colonel Sir Frederick Ponsonby, the King's Equerry. The War Office is in charge of the arrangements for the great military parade that will be a leading feature of the programme and the Archbishop of Canterbury has prepared the religious service.

In anticipation of the ceremony London is already becoming filled with visitors from abroad and from the country. The metropolis, in fact, is already receiving warning of what the crowds may be expected to be at the coronation next month. Piccadilly, Pall Mall, Charing Cross, Whitehall, the Strand, the City, and the neighborhood of Westminster Abbey are now thronged from early morning until midnight. Visits to the Carlton, the Cecil, the Savoy, and other leading hotels today showed the same conditions everywhere—practically all accommodations engaged and the dining rooms and restaurants filled to overflowing. Visiting Americans were largely in evidence.

The unveiling of the Queen Victoria Memorial will naturally serve to materially increase the number of early arrivals for the coronation. It is estimated that probably 1,000,000 visitors will be in London by Tuesday. Londoners expect to make a great deal of money out of these visitors and the hundreds of thousands of others who will be here during the summer. The Americans are especially expected to furnish wealth for the Londoners, for while the bulk of the visitors will be from the English provinces, by far the greatest number of foreigners will be from the United States. Canadians also will be much in evidence.

The Home Office is preparing to take every precaution for the protection and safety of the visitors. In the congested districts of the metropolis the force of police will be practically doubled until after the coronation festivities have ended. Detachments from many of the continental countries have been borrowed for the season to look after the undesirable element that is already surging into the city from abroad. Scotland Yard will have its hands full looking after the safety of the many royal visitors. During the month of June crown princes and princesses, grand dukes and even kings and queens will be almost as thick as bees in London. A number of the most distinguished representatives of the royalty of Europe will also be here to add their tribute to the memory of Victoria the Good at the unveiling of the monument in the Mall on Tuesday.

The most notable of the visitors next week will be the Emperor William and the German Empress. Their Imperial Highnesses, accompanied by Princess Victoria Louise, will arrive at Port Victoria on board the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern early Monday morning and will reach Victoria Station by royal train at midday. They will be the private guests of King George and Queen Mary at Buckingham Palace, and as the visit is purely a family one the Emperor will not be accompanied by any ministers of state.

In addition to the opening of the Queen Victoria Memorial on Tuesday and the special performance of "Money" at Drury Lane on the following day, the Emperor and Empress will attend a court ball on next Friday night. They will leave England in the Hohenzollern on their return journey Saturday.

Big Auction Sale of Gotham Realty. New York, May 13.—New York real estate speculators are on edge in anticipation of the sale at auction next Monday of the entire holdings of the famous Pinkney estate, which consists of a number of whole city blocks, about 100 corners, many block fronts, and some choice improved properties. It is doubtful if there will ever be another estate of its size broken up in New York City. The properties to be offered comprise a total of about 950 city lots, and represent only a part of the original estate acquired in the early part of the eighteenth century. Miss Mary G. Pinkney, the owner of the estate, maintained it personally up to the time of her death three years ago, when she died at the ripe old age of 98. At the time of her death she was reputed to be America's wealthiest spinster.
