PUBLIC CONFIDENCE AND LORIMER CASE

LA FOLLETTE AND BORAH ASK SENATE TO HELP RESTORE GOOD WILL OF PEOPLE.

BAILEY EXPRESSES VIEW

Believes Senate Should Sit as Judges and Favors New Investigation Because of New Evidence.

Washington, May 27.—The Lorimer debate in the Senate yesterday afternoon got down to fundamentals; namely, public confidence in representative government, and around this point the debate gravitated during the closing hours of the session in their brilliant contributions by Senators La Follette, Bailey and Borah.

The discussion took this turn when Senator La Follette, near the conclusion of his long analysis of the Lorimer case and his proposed method of dealing with that case, appealed to the Senate to start off the investigation with the confidence of the people in its sincerity. He also contended that the decision of the Senate at its last session was neither conclusive nor accepted by the public.

Senator Bailey replied to this speech and paid special attention to the question of public sentiment in relation to the Lorimer case. He went on record as being in favor now of a most drastic investigation, but he wanted it understood that he favored a reopening of the case because of the production of new testimony and not because public sentiment is opposed to the last verdict of the Senate on Lorimer. He said he would no more grant a rehearing of the Lorimer case in answer to the public clamorings in the papers than he would, as a judge, grant a rehearing in answer to the demands of the spectators in the court room.

Senator Borah took occasion to offer a few observations diametrically opposed to Senator Bailey's position. He said it is the Senate's duty to preserve representative government by retaining the confidence of the people, and that the Senate ought to begin by cutting loose from precedents and courtesies and reaching down in earnest after the graft in the Lorimer case by appointing a committee in a way that would inspire public confidence right at the beginning.

The debate brought the Senate to a conclusive action, but on motion Senator La Follette the body adjourned until Monday, when it is expected that the vote on the resolution will carry. This resolution authorizes a Committee on Privileges and Elections to make the investigation. It is understood that Chairman Dillingham will name a subcommittee to make the investigation and ask the Senate to clothe that subcommittee with all the powers of a special committee. It is understood also that prospects are Dillingham or Johnson of Alabama on the investigating committee, and it is does there is a chance that a long and bitter fight will be waged against the personnel of the committee.

Senator La Follette announced that he intends to change his resolution so as to have the Senate select the investigation committee from the new members of the Senate. When this amended resolution comes up Senator Martin will offer his resolution as a substitute for the La Follette resolution, and Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska will endeavor to have the Martin resolution amended so as to provide for the ratification by the Senate of any subcommittee on Lorimer that the amendment is expected to receive the support of some half dozen Democrats, and all signs point to the adoption of the Martin resolution next Monday unopposed.

Red Lopez Court Martialized. By Associated Press. Agula Prieta, May 27.—A court martial this morning sentenced Red Lopez, the insurrecto leader, to eight years imprisonment for deserting in face of the enemy at the recent battle here.

QUANAH, CHILDRESS AND OTHER POINTS RECEIVED LIBERAL PRECIPITATION.

ALSO NORTH OF ALTUS

Weather Bureau Forecasts Rain in Northwest Texas Tonight—Light Hail Last Night.

Messages received here at 3 o'clock this afternoon report a light sprinkle at Electra. At that hour a good rain was falling between Childress and Chillicothe.

Scattering hail stones at Lake Wichita were all that Wichita county got out of a rain that was of generous proportions at Quanah, Childress, and other points north on the Fort Worth & Denver.

A half inch rain fell at Quanah last night and for an hour and a half there was a steady downpour at Childress, the precipitation putting three feet of water into the Fort Worth & Denver tank.

Good rains are also reported between Childress and Amarillo.

The Wichita Falls & Northwestern reports a heavy rain from Altus to Hammon.

The United States Weather Bureau forecasts rain in Northwest Texas tonight.

AFTER BOOKMAKERS EVEN IN INDIA

Betting Has Become Prevalent Among Natives and Races May Be Prohibited.

By Associated Press. Bombay, May 27.—Betting is so prevalent among the natives and the consequent evils are so widespread that the governor of Bombay today notified the Turf Club that no horse race will be allowed here or at Poona, unless the bets are limited to ten guineas and no bookmaking is allowed.

Tea Tumblers

Save Them

A pitcher, a young man from Ennis, who has a powerful physique, an abundance of steam and all that any pitcher could be expected to have who has had no more experience than this man. The name of the young man has not been given out, but it is known that he is from Ennis, and that he has had a most successful career since going on the diamond. He did not return with the Lads from Bonham on account of the illness of the mother on account of which he was called home, but will join the team later and just as soon as she is able for him to leave.

Six Months' Residence Clause Applies.

By Associated Press. Austin, May 27.—It was discovered today that the 90 days acts of the Legislature became effective June 10th instead of 11th as has been heretofore supposed. The attorney general's department advises that the Terrell election-law six-months' residence clause applies to the statewide election in July. Many Texas cities are affected by the ruling of the special counsel to the attorney general that persons cannot hold simultaneously positions both of city and county health officer.

Lamar Street Airdome Will Open Next Monday Night

Lamar Airdome, Wichita's new outdoor theatre, will hold its inaugural Monday night, opening with a program of unusual merit for this class of amusement places, and one that should merit the approbation of every one in the city.

The program at the Lamar will be distinctively of motion picture nature, with a vocalist for the evening, in which Miss Fisher, who is being recommended as one of the best in Chicago.

The leading picture for Monday night is the "Roland Grenadier," a story of the battle of Moscow, in which fifteen hundred characters are brought into the picture in one time.

This picture is said by all film makers to be the greatest motion photography yet produced, and really marks an epoch in the work of the moving picture maker.

Besides this wonderful picture there are two other reels of good films. Miss Fisher, who is to be the vocalist comes from Chicago recommended as one of the sweetest ball singers in the profession. Messrs. Wren and Berry, the proprietors of the new play house, will endeavor to give only the very best talent that can be obtained, and in offering the program Monday night they feel sure that all who attend will be well pleased.

The Lamar has been a long time in the building, but in that time every thing has been completed to make the house delightfully pretty and comfortable for the patrons. The stage is built in the corner, so that every seat occupant can get a good view of it, and the place is well lighted.

Along the walk from the street flowers have been set out to add to the attractiveness of the surroundings.

Betting Favors Wolgast. San Francisco, May 27.—Ad Wolgast, the light weight champion, will be a heavy favorite this afternoon when he defends the title against Frankie Burns of Lakeland. The odds are 10 to 4 favoring Wolgast, but Burns appears confident. The fight begins at three o'clock, coast time.

World famous auto drivers who will participate in the biggest race of the year, the International Sweepstakes, of 500 miles, Tuesday (Decoration Day, May 30) and view of the great Indianapolis Motor Speedway, where it is held. Above, on the left, is Bobby Burman, who, by the most daring driving, has won the title of the world's speed king, and Harry Grant, twice winner of the Vanderbilt Cup. Below is David Bruce-Brown, winner of the Grand Prize race at Savannah, Georgia. Burman, as usual, will pilot a Benz, as also will Bruce-Brown. Grant will again drive an A. K. C. The view of the Speedway shows the start of a scratch race; the judges' stand on the right. The great speed that has been developed on this speedway is due mainly to the fact that there is slight chance of a accident, owing to the brick track, and the drivers can cut the corners on high speed.

Gates Before Committee.

By Associated Press. Washington, May 27.—John W. Gates appearing today before the House Steel trust investigating committee testifies that the acquisition by the Trust Company of the American New York in 1907 of a great block of collateral of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company made possible the acquisition of that company by the United States Steel Corporation. Gates said he regarded the transaction as a forced sale.

MECHANICANS SLEEP BESIDE THEIR CARS

By Associated Press. Indianapolis, May 27.—Preparations are rushing for the great auto races here May 30. Some of the mechanics are sleeping beside their cars so jealously are they guarded. The prospects are that thirty-four cars will be in the five hundred mile race. The race is looked on as one of the greatest ever attempted anywhere in the world.

San Antonio, May 27.—Mrs. Francisco Madero, Sr., mother of the revolutionary leader, has arranged for a Te Deum mass to be chanted in the San Fernando Cathedral here Monday morning, and also for Thanksgiving services for establishing of peace in Mexico.

SPECIAL SERVICE TO PRAY FOR RAIN

WILL BE HELD AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH AT 4:00 O'CLOCK TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

THE PUBLIC IS INVITED

Service Will Be Directed By Rev. H. M. Burroughs and Rev. Shelby King.

A special service for prayer for rain will be held at the First Baptist Church at four o'clock Sunday afternoon. The service will be directed by Rev. H. M. Burroughs and Rev. Shelby King.

The service will be opened with a short address by Rev. H. M. Burroughs on "The Laws of Nature and Grace as they run on parallel lines. Every one who desires to be in the service is cordially invited to attend. The Christian people of the different churches are especially invited.

The drought will also furnish the theme for the service at the First Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning. Rev. J. L. McKee has announced as the subject for his sermon, "Breaking the Three Years Drouth." While the drought here has not been of that duration, Dr. McKee expects to make an interesting application of his text.

SUPPOSED POISON ONLY CASTOR OIL

Ely Paso, May 27.—Putting her woman's intuition for the moment above the skill of her own lawyers, Mrs. Agnes Orr, charged with the murder of her baby daughter, this morning addressed the jury in her own behalf. She replied to the testimony yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Evans who said that the child when dying said: "If mama hadn't given me this stuff in coffee I would be all right." Mrs. Orr this morning told the jury that Mrs. Evans' statement was true and that the only reason she herself had not told it was that her attorney had advised against it because while incident was innocent it looked bad for the mother. "I gave the child some castor oil in coffee," said she this morning.

SUPERINTENDENT HARRIS COMPELLED TO RESIGN

By Associated Press. Dallas, May 27.—From 4:30 to 8:15 this morning Dallas had street car strike and thousands walked to work. The men went out because Superintendent Harris refused to resign. They were angry at him for his fight with a motorman several days ago which resulted in a police court fine for the motorman and the release of Harris. Harris resigned and the strike ended.

DALLAS RECALL UPHELD BY CIVIL APPEALS COURT

Special to The Times. Dallas, May 27.—The Court of Civil Appeals here today upheld the recall provision in the Dallas city charter. The test followed the recall of School Superintendent Arthur Lefevre. The case will go to the Supreme Court.

The Wichita Falls and Southern have their old, original engine, "No. 1" back on the road. This was the first of one of ten first engines used on this road and notwithstanding its hoodoo number it has never had an accident. It has been in the shops for some time and has been thoroughly rebuilt.—Olney Enterprise.

DEVELOPMENTS IN ELECTRA FIELD

DRILLING STARTED IN NEW HOLE AND TWO NEW RIGS GOING UP.

Gusher Has Increased Rather Than Diminished Its Flow.

Electra News.

A rig was started this week on the southeastern corner of the Cross tract by the Clayco Oil Co. This well is located about 80 rods further north than any drilled or being drilled heretofore.

Mr. Cross leased to the Clayco people about two months ago, receiving $80 per acre for the mineral right alone and in his contract was embodied a clause whereby a well was to be completed within 12 months or the mineral right reverts back to him.

Wednesday the Electra Oil and Gas Company began drilling their well on the H. S. Allen farm north of town. The drilling will be done with a cable rig and completion will be pushed as fast as possible.

The new well is farther east than any in the field and will prove up practically new territory. It is also the only well being drilled by other than one of the big companies and is therefore watched by everyone interested in the field.

Messrs. Overmann & Neff are hauling lumber out to the Bates farm near Sunshine this week and will erect a derrick and begin to drill as early as possible.

This well is strictly a wild cat well and will prove up entirely new territory.

The capacity of the big gusher, Clayco No. 1 increases steadily.

No definite information as to the output at the present time could be ascertained.

FILMS FAIL TO ARRIVE WILL BE SHOWN MONDAY

"Trovatore is One of the Wonders of Motion Photography." Owing to the non-arrival of the films, the Gem Theatre is unable to show the Pathe masterpiece, "Il Trovatore" until Monday, at which time it will be given in its entirety.

"Il Trovatore" is one of the wonders of motion photography, and Mr. Triche has gone to considerable expense to secure it for his patrons. He is only sorry not to be able to give it today as advertised, but this is no fault of his, and he promises it sure for both matinee and night on Monday.

"THE NUTTY FAMILY" AT THE TENT THEATRE

A large and appreciative audience witnessed "Camille" at the tent theatre last night, and the presentation was most credible to the members of the Ewing company. As "Camille" Miss Ewing portrayed the part superbly, giving it the true artistic ring and being in fully equal to the gayeties and deep emotions that are required ending all with a most impressive death scene as "the wages of sin."

The vaudeville introduced by the McNuttas, Billy Farrell, Miss Commons and Mr. Clark was an additional enjoyable feature.

Tonight they present the farce comedy, "The Nutty Family," which is all fun. Owing to opposition during the week, Miss Ewing announces that she will remain over for one more week with new plays and vaudeville. Monday night she will open her second week's engagement with a comedy drama, "That Girl Betsy."

Disastrous Fire Wipes Out One-Third of Coney Island

By Associated Press. New York, May 27.—Coney Island suffered the worst fire in its history today. Dreamland, the largest of its amusement parks, was completely wiped out, also four adjoining blocks. The loss is between two and three million dollars. Two thousand concessionaries are homeless. No lives were lost though at first it was reported that six Dreamland incubator babies had been killed.

The burned area represents nearly one-third of the entire amusement city. The fire started at 2 o'clock this morning in an attraction called "Hell Gate." Twenty minutes later Dreamland's ten acres of gaudy buildings was one big blaze. The most dangerous task was the removing of the animals from Dreamland. Several man eaters were taken out. One man killing lion escaped. The crowd fled wildly while the mounted police shot him time and again. When dead, the crowd tore him to pieces for souvenirs. The man eating lion's name was Black Prince. One mounted policeman at first attempted to shoot him unaided. The first two shots missed. While the lion was held at bay by the glare of the lights and blaze of pistol, Black Prince retreated dripping blood when a squad of blue coated horsemen charged him. He sprang to shelter in the dark wooden tunnels of the "Rock Road to Dublin," and in a dark corner beneath painted scenery of equatorial Africa he made his last stand finally expiring after being riddled almost like a sieve. The police then chopped open his skull with an ax to make sure he was dead. The first souvenir hunter on the scene took the tattered tail the necker of divided his long mane and fully fifty men fought for the lion's teeth. Sixty of the 105 animals perished in flames.

"See America First"—While there's any of it left to see. Fire losses in the United States in recent years have exceeded $200,000,000.

Dinner at The Westland.
The ladies accompanying delegates to the Merchants' Convention gave inspiration for a number of small courtesies, which were graciously extended by Misses Dolis White, Lena Mallock, Teresa Lee, Evelyn Coffield, Hazel Gaston, Orretta Wyatt, Bonnie Skinner, Icie White and Mrs. Kiebra White and Mrs. McNeil. The first, a late dinner at the Westland was possibly the most conspicuous attention. Cape Jasmine afforded floral decoration and the attractive menu left nothing to be desired. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Terrell of Dallas, Mesdames Monning and Kerr of Fort Worth, Misses Bauer of Big Springs and Morgan of Hubbard City. The Colonial also came in for its share of attention the same evening. Wednesday evening the party enjoyed an automobile trip around the lake and such other pleasures as this resort affords its visitors, and we are sure that in the hands of these capable entertainers it was a time long to be remembered.

42nd Party.
One of the happiest gatherings of the week occurred at the home of Mrs. Eugene Sherrid Friday afternoon when she and Miss Lucille Sherrod were joint hostesses to a "42" party. Six tables of players were Mesdames T. B. Noble, Lansford Patterson, Robertson, Coraline, Snider, Guest, Carrigan, Felder, Harrington, Freer, Murcheson, H. C. Young, Strange, Foster, Howard, R. E. Huff, Scoville, T. W. Roberts, Campbell, T. B. Smith, and Misses Chamberlain, Orth and Young. The souvenir---a water color---went to Miss Orth. In the late afternoon when the lively interest in the game began to flag, delicious refreshments were served, consisting of pressed chicken, pimento sandwiches, olives and sherbert, and the thorough enjoyment manifest, attested the capability of these gracious hostesses.

A Delightful Surprise.
Wednesday after business hours the employees of the City National Bank were surprised in a very complimentary way by Mrs. C. W. Snider, who invited them into the directors' room and displayed a most tempting spread, of which they were cordially requested to partake. Ice cream and cake with the most delicious strawberries imaginable were graciously dispensed by Mrs. Snider, aided and abetted by Miss Fowler. When the guests had sufficiently recovered from the surprise, which this innovation had caused, they were able to join in several with Miss Bonnie Skinner, hostess, at the home of Mrs. Lansford Wallace, 814 Eleventh street.

Lutheran Picnic.
This congregation spent a very delightful day Thursday in true picnic style on Holiday Creek. They met at the church and were conveyed in huggies to the grounds where the arrangements had been previously carried out. Tables for tables, and seats, and an abundance of water and ice. The choir furnished live music at intervals during the day, and the dinner was composed of all the good things that are usually found at a picnic. Later the several ice cream freezers were rifled of their contents and more made to supply the demand. Baseball and various games furnished amusement for the younger set, and as the sun began to wane all turned their steps toward home, satisfied with a well spent day.

Girls' Embroidery Club.
For good and sufficient reasons the Girls' Club did not meet the past week, but will gather their usual cotive for a concert at the home of Miss Vivian Mathis Tuesday, May 30th.

Tuesday Bridge Club.
Mrs. Sheppard was hostess in regular order this week; but owing to the serious accident to Dr. Burnsidge, uncle of the hostess, the meeting was deferred until the following week.

Class Contest.
A good natured rivalry has been in progress between the Philathes class, Rev. J. P. Boone, teacher, and the Baraca class, Mr. W. L. Robertson, teacher, in the First Baptist Sunday School, in which each class was contesting for the largest per cent in attendance for a given time. The penalty was that the loser should entertain the winner. The Baracas, though fewer in numbers, were the successful contestants, and include the following named: Mesdames Smoot, Cravy, Stinson, Nicholson, Smoot, Cravy, Arthur Huff, Sawyer, Bohanan and brother, Roberts and Dr. Putman. The Philathes class is Misses Stratton, Stallings, Lawler, Brooks, Randall, Young, Bole, Hall, Hengel, Brown, Carrie, Emma, Simmons, Frewathan, Nellie Trevathan and Mrs. Craig. The entertainment took place last Friday night at the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Robertson on Tenth street, and included both classes and their teachers. An interesting spelling game was the feature of the evening, although music and other games added their share of pleasure. The end came as it always must, and after the hostess served an ice course of sherbert, cake and punch, goodbyes were said mingled with grateful acknowledgements of a most successful evening.

Reception.
Taking its place among the conspicuous events of the week, was the reception given Thursday afternoon by Mr. J. P. Boone, 1008 Tenth street.

The day was propitious and of the number invited guests quite a number responded. Each arrival was greeted in the reception hall by Mesdames Smyre, Huff and Freer. Mrs. Boone and sisters, the Misses Handall, stood in the parlor, and were further assisted in dispensing hospitality by informal groups, including Mesdames Joseph, McKee, Bishop, J. L. Jackson, Blount, Brooks, Hall, Phillips, Smith, Rairtree, Lawler, Bennett, Cook, Mytinger, Farris and Robertson. In the library were growing palms and ferns, while garden roses added beauty and brightness to the parlor. Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Foster showed the guests to the dining room, where ice cream and cake were served by Misses Young, Brooks, Orth and Gibson. The table was laid in clay and centered with bowls of sweet peas and ferns. Mints in cut glass receptacles favored the color scheme of pink and white, and furnished a fitting farewell to a sweet refreshment course. Miss Lucille Brooks gave freely of her musical talent for the pleasure of the guests and the hours from 3 to 6 o'clock were filled with the hum of happy voices.

Musicians' Club.
A called meeting of the Musicians' Club was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Barron, corner of Tenth and Bluff streets, Thursday afternoon. Business relating to the study course and year books was disposed of and a committee composed of Mesdames Patterson, McKee and Darnell appointed to arrange for next year's open meeting. It is particularly desired that all members meet with Mrs. Barron next Thursday for chorus practice and special business. Matters of pleasure as well as profit will come up and it is desired to voice the sentiment of the entire membership.

New Pastor.
Word from Dr. Summerville has been received to the effect that the new pastor of the First M. E. Church, will fill his pulpit here June 4. Rev. Henry J. Wharton comes highly recommended and was a college friend of Dr. Summerville at the Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois.

Aid Society.
The Ladies Aid Society of the First Methodist Episcopal Church will hold its regular monthly social Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. L. Bond, 602 Scott avenue.

Wedding Bells.
Somewhat of a surprise comes to many of her friends with the announcement that Mrs. M. S. Skinner was married Friday night to Mr. R. P. Webb of this city. The ceremony was celebrated in Fort Worth at the home of Mrs. Scarborough sister of the bride. After a brief honeymoon trip to Corpus Christi and kindred points, the happy pair will return to make Wichita Falls their home. A host of friends extends congratulations with wishes that Mr. and Mrs. Webb may have a prosperous journey through a long and useful life.

CHURCH SOCIETIES.

Rev. Arthur Burroughs former pastor of the First Baptist Church spending some weeks with his sister, Mrs. R. E. Huff of Brook street.

Captain Will A. Miller and wife of Amarillo have been guests for some time in the home of our son, Dr. R. L. Miller of this city. They are returning from a trip to Little Rock and Captain Miller has been quite indisposed but was able to leave Thursday for home, accompanied by his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Erwin left Friday for a two week's visit in East Texas.

Mrs. Taylor, mother of Miss Bertha Taylor, returned Wednesday to her home in Holiday.

Miss Frances Allen returned Thursday from Stephenville with graduation honors. She is also highly accomplished in music.

Mrs. M. M. Murray who has been visiting in Palestine, is expected home tomorrow.

Everett Stonecipher went to White-wright last week returning a few days later accompanied by his wife who has been visiting home folks for three weeks.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Thornburn are soon to transfer their residence to Altus, he having accepted a manager's position with the Blair-Hughes Company at that place. Mr. Thornburn has been a long-time employee of the American Tobacco Company and no doubt they will regret to lose so valuable a man.

Mr. Hugh Taylor of Oklahoma City, the guest of Mr. H. B. Patterson for a few days, left for home Friday.

Mrs. M. M. Walker entertained a number of friends informally Friday night at her residence, 1308 Broadway street.

Mrs. W. E. Kaufman of Abilene, the guest of Mrs. O. T. Bacon, returned home last night.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bishop were the dinner guests of Mrs. A. E. Bullock Tuesday.

Mrs. R. W. Cook is visiting a sister in Memphis.

Mrs. A. C. Bennett of Burnett street and little son went to Bowie and Fort Worth this week for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Wade Walker and mother, Mrs. Roward, arrived home last night from Little Rock and Hot Springs, Ark.

Mrs. F. M. English, sister of Ernest Chaplain, arrived from Lawton today for a visit of some length with Mrs. R. E. Huff of Brook street.

Bradley of Fort Worth together with Messrs Penick and Witherapoon enjoyed a delicious 6 o'clock dinner at the Westland Hotel Friday. These informal dinner parties have become a popular form of entertainment and our hostesses are proving themselves quite to the manner born.

Miss Ruth Ingram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ingram, has just returned home from Carmen, Ok., where she has been attending school and the Music Academy. She won the gold medal at a contest in Cherokee, Ok., and another at the Northwestern Normal School at Alva. Miss Ruth will enter the State University at Austin, Tex., next year, where her brother, Charles, is affiliated.

Rear Admiral Albert C. Dillingham, U. S. N., retired, was born May 27, 1848, and before entering the navy he served in the army during the Civil War, in the Seventh Pennsylvania Regiment of Volunteers. He graduated from the Naval Academy in 1869. As a lieutenant he served on board the Nashville during the Spanish-American war. While he was in temporary command of the Nashville, May 11, 1898, that vessel was in the engagement at Cienfuegos, Cuba. The Nashville ran aground in shore, and under a heavy fire from the infantry covered retreating cable-cutting boats. For that service Admiral Dillingham was promoted two numbers on the navy list. He reached the grade of captain in 1906 and that of rear admiral in 1909. He retired for age a year ago and has since made his home in Wisconsin.

FEED YOU MONEY.

Feed Your Brain, and it Will Feed You Money and Fame.

"Ever since boyhood I have been especially fond of meats, and I am convinced I ate too rapidly, and failed to masticate my food properly.

"The result was that I found myself, a few years ago, afflicted with ailments of the stomach, and kidneys, which interfered seriously with my business.

"At last I took the advice of friends and began to eat Grape-Nuts instead of the heavy meats, etc., that had constituted my former diet.

"I found that I was at once benefited by the change, that I was soon relieved from the heartburn and indigestion that used to follow my meals, that the pains in my back from my kidney affection had ceased.

"My nerves, which used to be unsteady, and my brain which was slow and lethargic from a heavy diet of meats and greasy foods, had, not in a moment but gradually, and none the less surely, been restored to normal efficiency.

"Now every nerve is steady, and my brain and thinking faculties are quicker and more acute than for years past.

"After my old style breakfasts I used to suffer during the forenoon from a feeling of weakness which hindered me seriously in my work, but since I began to use Grape-Nuts food I can work till dinner time with all ease and comfort." Name given by Postum Co., Ba the Creek, Mich.

The Texas Hog

The dinner bell of the nation rings out the praises of the Texas hog and he is diligently sought after by the consumers of both continents.

No domestic animal has ever made such sacrifices to meet the demands of progress as the hog. He has given half of his life and fifty-six pounds of flesh to meet the market demand for young stock. Certainly the human race has made no such sacrifice for success as this dumb brute. According to the census reports of the Federal department of agriculture the average weight of the hog has decreased from 275 pounds to 219 pounds during the past thirty years and he is now going to the market one year earlier than formerly.

1910 VALUE PER HEAD $7.70.

As a revenue producer he undoubtedly exceeds any other animal on the globe and enjoys the distinction of being the only animal that can swell a bank account by emptying a swill barrel. The hog is the most prolific of all domestic animals. As a rule the hog is not troubled with competitors, although King Cotton has made an effort to imitate his by-products by putting on the market a compound substitute for lard, but wherever the fat of the hog can supply the market his counterfeit quickly disappears.

The hog has thickly populated the rural districts of Texas and his rapid approach has so alarmed city councils that numerous ordinances have been passed prohibiting him from entering the city limits, but when properly dressed and cooked he quickly wins the favor of both aldermen and citizens.

The Texas swine is the most prosperous of all hogs in the United States. According to the census reports of the Federal department of agriculture on Jan. 1, 1911, the average value of hogs of all ages in Texas was $7.70, which is an increase of 273 per cent since 1870. No state in the Union can compare with us in increase in value per head of hogs. The total value of all hogs of all ages at the present time is approximately $25,000,000. We have shown an increase of $19,000 in number and $17,000,000 in value during the past decade.

MAKING READY for SUMMER MOTORING

The Shelland Wool Garments Ideal on Clear Days

A Charming Bonnet for About-Town Riding

Practical Costume for the Woman who Drives Her Own Car

Touring Bonnet with Talc Window

Though the motor coat may be bought with a view to economy at the end of the season, and made to do for a season or two afterward, the motor bonnet is quite a different matter. Style in motor hats is as volatile as in Easter hats and the woman who clings to a season-before-last bonnet looks woefully passé. This year's bonnets are dreams of becomingness and prettiness, and unlike the coats they may often be built very successfully at home.

Several charming bonnet styles are illustrated and also the newest thought in touring hoods. Awful affairs have been most of these touring headcoverings in the past, though these hoods are really very necessary affairs on long tours, especially abroad. One hood is of light rubberized silk and the talc window is big enough to make the window look like a human being—and a pretty one—and not a fearsome mystery.

One of the bonnets illustrated is a straw affair with a crown of cream lace over green silk. The green chiffon cloth will be sewed to this crown and a shirring at the bottom holds it beneath the chin. Another bonnet is designed for country wear about town. This delightful bonnet is made of buff crepe, the brim being lined with dark rose colored silk. The photograph shows how the square points of the crown button over the veil and hold it securely to the brim. The shirred chiffon hood is intended for evening use when one motors to a dinner or dance. The pink chiffon is shirred over cable cord and there is a loose hood-shaped lining of silk.

The illustrations show some of the smart and convenient belongings ready for the motorists this summer. Everything likely to be needed on an extended trip is included and these belongings are packed away into the very least amount of space possible.

A complete sewing kit will appeal to both men and women, for few men there are nowadays who are not able, if occasion arises to turn their hands to sewing on a button or catching together a rent in a glove. In the sewing kit, which is a long strip of leather with various silk lined pockets, are thread, needles, scissors and buttons, with gloves, mending silk, hooks and eyes and other necessities for a hasty tailoring en route.

The little writing pad is also a particularly convenient notion. The stationery is of the sort which folds up to form practical envelopes and in the leather case are postage stamps, ink and pen. The small table may be whisked out in a minute and rested on one's lap or the edge of the car and a note of telegram dashed off.

The flat leather case for veils, gloves and handkerchiefs may be carried conveniently in the tonneau and fresh wearables will be always at hand when after a long, dusty run one wishes to make one's self spick and span before entering a town by arriving at a friend's house. In this picture is shown also a useful leather case holding four well stoppered screw-top bottles in which may be carried cologne, water, medicine or stimulants.

The dressing bags are particularly smart and convenient. The large bag for man's use is equipped with all the necessary brushes, manicure and other implements, and under a flap is space for shirts and collars. The woman's dressing bag is daintily fitted with gold stoppered bottles and jars and ivory backed brushes and in the center there is a space for folded nightdress and slippers.

Pongee Coats the Standby for Summer Motoring—Knitted Coats and Caps Still the Fad for Country Motoring—Gay Little Linen Motor Coats in Dainty Color Combinations.

Every type of dress has its distinctive character, and unless it meets the requirements of this character, it is neither correct nor attractive. The wedding gown must have staidness and dignity; the dancing frock charm and gaiety; the carriage and reception costume elegance; the morning gown simplicity, and so on. Sturdiness and a suggestion of sportiness characterizes motor garb—or should characterize it; and if it possesses the sturdiness without the bit of sportiness, it is apt to be dreary and uninteresting.

Home-made motor raiment is beyond the ability of the home dressmaker. Even the progressive pattern suppliers by whose aid almost everything may be fashioned by laying perforations on a lengthwise fold and making notches, that seem to correspond, do not give a great deal of encouragement to the woman who believes she can make anything on her own sewing machine. Clever cut and faultless tailoring must distinguish the motor coat or it is a miserable failure and very good looking coats, luckily, are to be obtained ready-made at moderate prices—garments far more smart and "knowing" looking than anybody could turn out at home, no matter how handsome the material used or how religiously the lengthwise folds, perforations and notches were followed.

Styles Change Little in Motor Coats. The woman who is canny does not rush out to buy her motor apparel at the beginning of a season. She keeps her eyes open, reads shop advertisements and waits. A good-looking coat purchased late in the season at a much reduced price is sure to be in perfectly good style at the beginning of the next season, for the lines and general appearance of such coats vary little, though, of course, little trimming details are always being changed. Wonderful bargains are offered when a season's well advanced and lovely pongee coats may be picked up for a song in August and September, while smart models in tweed and hopsua are offered at ridiculous prices in December and January.

A Warm Motor Coat Essential Even in Summertime. Only an amateur in motoring will provide a summer motor wardrobe of pongee, satin and linen coats only.

One may start out on a sultry morning when it seems impossible that anything heavier than the thinnest linen duster could ever be tolerated over a muslin frock. The wind changes around to the east, and in an hour penetrates to the marrow of one's bones as the car drives against it. French women who drive out to the races in cobweb lingerie frocks protected by thin silk motor coats always carry in the tonneau big, warm coats of tweed or ratine, which are donned after sunset for the homeward ride.

White blanket coats are very fashionable this year and these coats are made in mannish fashion, like a man's overcoat, or they may be built in the comfortable "polo" style, with straight lines belted in under a very wide belt of the material. A warm yellow-brown shade, between mustard and khaki, is also immensely chic. A coat in this shade, built of soft French ratine, is pictured. It will be noted that the lines of this coat are very straight and give a slender effect to the figure, though the coat is big, roomy and warm. The enormous patch pockets and white pearl buttons give that touch of sportiness which makes the motor garment smart.

Most of the new motor coats have collars and revers which may be turned back, as shown in the model pictured, or buttoned snugly up around neck and chest when desired. Coats made of double-faced material—and many of these are shown—have the reverse of the material on collar and revers facings, the plaided stuff showing also in pocket flaps and other details. Do not make the mistake, when buying a motor coat, of selecting a utility coat, and deep shawl collar of its graceful cut and deep shawl collar with the opening low at the side. Such a coat may be charming for summer traveling wear but it will not be satisfactory for motoring, when comfort and protection from the wind are the chief considerations. The deep front opening and shawl revers will not sufficiently protect the chest and throat from keen breezes and the graceful lines will not prove as comfortable as a loose, roomy model in which one can nestle about in the leather upholstered tonneau.

Never make the mistake of buying a smooth surfaced material for automobile wear for the constant rubbing against the leather seat and back will soon produce a glossy shine. Many motor car hostesses keep light mohair or silk coats which the guest may slip over a utility coat or two-piece suit built of one of these smooth surfaced serges or cloths, to prevent the garment's being ruined during the trip by rubbing.

Smart Coats of Lightweight Material. Well cut, smartly tailored coats of mohair are favored by many women who could well afford handsomer materials, for summer motor wear. The mohair is cool and light in weight, sheds the dust readily and does not show traces of soil. These mohair coats are being turned out in very smart style this season, with loose raglan shoulders and huge patch pockets buttoned with bone buttons. Gun metal gray and light khaki tan are the shades liked best for mohair coats. Women who are looking forward to motoring in England this year are providing rainproof coats, for the climate in the north of England and among the Scottish hills is fickle and smart showers pelt down, seemingly out of a clear sky, so sudden are the weather changes.

For a trip of this kind the steamer coat will answer, for cool days, a rubbered mohair coat being provided for general wear and an attractive pongee coat being ready for certain occasions.

Knitted Garments Worn in the Country Only. There is an informality about the knitted motor coat, no matter what its cost that makes it undesirable for town use; but these garments are ideal for country motoring, and in the mountains there are many days even in midsummer when even a knitted hood is comfortable. There is nothing clumsy about the new knitted coats. They are beautifully shaped to give graceful lines without clinging too closely to the figure curves and the colors are detectable. A cool bottle green and a warm wood brown are the favorite shades. Knitted-red worsted motor garments are not seen and even blues are not favored; but as has been said the greens and browns are charming. An illustration shows the latest idea in a knitted motor coat, designed for country wear or for general wear under a thin pongee or mohair motor coat.

This knitted coat is in a wood brown color and buttons snugly up around the throat, though the collar may be thrown back when desired. With the coat goes a wood brown knitted cap and one of the delightful white shawl wool veils which are sheer and thin, yet agreeably warm when the wind is chilly. Linen Coats in Attractive New Designs. In contrast to the cozy knitted wool motor garments are the cool, summery coats of colored linen which are particularly pretty and appropriate for summer morning wear about town or on short trips in the country. One should, however, never venture far from home in a linen coat, and these coats should never be bought for touring wear; for brief is the attractiveness of linen unless it has the constant attendance of a laundress or at least frequent pressing with a hot iron. Natural linen coats this year have smart garnishings of colored linen and the motor bonnet matches the colored trimming. An attractive model, noted the other morning, was of very heavy natural colored linen and the deep sailor collar, extending in deep shawl revers to the waist line, had a three-inch hem of brown linen. Across the back was a short belt with rounded ends and this belt was piped all around with the brown linen. The buttons were of brown shell and pocket and belt were buttoned to the coat. Another pretty linen model was of mechanical perfection is combined with the utmost of luxury in the up-to-date motor car, whether it be a practical touring car with an open tonneau an elegant limousine for town use during the social season, or one of the dainty coupes or broughams which one drives from the inside, and which are ideal for women's use. One of the most unique contrivances in the line of motoring conveniences is the limousine wandy stand, intended for use on long drives when one desires to freshen up a bit, far from an old inn. This handy contrivance folds up against the dashboard of the car and no one would suspect that it was a wash stand until the small table top is let down and the legs unfolded. Then one sees a perfect little dressing table with a wash basin, two stoppered bottles filled with water soap, towels, hand brush and file, hair brushes and other toilet articles. Limousines for town use are most luxuriously furnished with all sorts of small toilet needs. Powder, rouge, lip sticks, eyebrow pencils, cut glass extract, bottles, atomizers, curling stoves and manicure implements are fitted into little receptacles provided for them. There are also memorandum pads, card cases, theatre ticket holders, parasol and fan racks—even cigarette lighters and ash trays in mildred's limousines.

Most of the closed cars have also little cut glass flower-holders which are each morning filled with violets, carnations, gardenias or some other favorite flower, the color of the flower usually corresponding with the upholstery and the color scheme is carried out even in the door handles and small trim of the interior of the car. A new addition to motor car equipment is the aviation mirror which is so placed that occupants of the car may look down into the mirror to watch soaring aeroplanes instead of craning their necks to peer aloft. Luncheon baskets are an appreciated feature of motor car equipment and every well equipped touring car has its luncheon hamper of wicker, built in a shape that fits compactly into some special space, and provided with plates, cups, table silver, napkins, covered flasks for liquids and air-tight boxes for salads and sandwiches. Some of these baskets provide for six or eight persons, though two and four persons only are provided for in the average hamper. Bottles for keeping hot liquids or ice cold liquids at their original temperature are a great comfort on long, cross-country trips and these bottles are now being manufactured to sell at much less than the prices originally

An Eight Room Gabled Roof House

The size of this "eight-room, gabled roof" house is 29 feet in width over the den projection and 37 feet in depth exclusive of piazza and rear porch. This house is well suited to a professional man desiring a separate office room in his house. The entrance through the vestibule is central, with the den or office on the right and a large living room on the left, with a wide fireplace on the right hand side; across the rear end of room is a built-in book case; the dining room and kitchen are conveniently arranged; at the rear is a large store room, place for refrigerator and stairs to second story. There is a full basement under the whole house, with rooms for laundry, heater, fuel, etc. The cost of this house is $4,500. There are four large chambers in second-story provided with ample closets, bath room, linen closet, etc. The finish of the first story is oak in the three principal rooms and oak floors; the finish of kitchen, pantry, etc., is of Southern yellow pine. The second story is in pine and painted and the floors of birch. The attic is large and ample, with space that can be finished in rooms if desired. A good pine floor in attic. The exterior of house is well finished with handsome cornices, gables, etc., a wide piazza across and around the right hand corner, with plain columns and Ionic capitals, railings, etc. The outside of frame, sheathed, papered and sided with narrow siding fitted on all outer angles and all roofs shingled and stained red, the walls painted a warm drab and all trimmings with the sash white.

The Largest Stone Bridge

The largest stone bridge in the world is located at Looching, China. Chinese engineers had sole control of its construction. It crosses an arm of the China Sea, is nearly six miles in length, is composed entirely of stone, and has three hundred arches, each seventy feet high. It is the most colossal structure ever reared by man, and yet fun is often pointed at the Chinese for their building methods. The largest truss bridge in the world crosses the Pirth of Tay, Scotland. It is 18,517 feet in length and is composed of eighty-five spans. The largest wooden bridge in the world is that crossing Lake Ponchartraine, near New Orleans. It is a trestle work twenty-one miles in length, built of cypress piles which have been saturated with creosote oil to preserve them. The highest bridge in the United States is over Kinzina Creek, near Bradford, Pa. It was built in 1852, has a total span of 2,051 feet and is three hundred and one feet above the bed of the creek.

Just Half in Bed.

Clyde, Ky.—Mrs. I. A. Decker, writes from Clyde: "I recommend Cardui, the woman's tonic, to any woman in need of a remedy. For five years, I was unable to do my own work. Half my time was spent in bed. At last I tried Cardui. Now I am well and happy, and can do my own work. Don't suffer pain, headache, backache, and other womanly miseries, when your own druggist has on his shelf a remedy for such troubles—Cardui. Get a bottle for your shelf. As a general tonic, for weak women, nothing has been found for 50 years that would take its place. Try it. It will help you."

Largest Producing Farm.

The largest producing farm in the world lies in the southwest corner of Louisiana, owned by a Northern syndicate. It runs one hundred miles north and south. The immense tract is divided into convenient pastures, with stations every six miles. The fencing alone spent in the neighborhood of fifty thousand dollars. During the past few years all the stations of the farm have been connected by a telephone service, and the orders for the whole farm are issued each morning from the central office.

CHILDREN'S HAIR.

Keep It Free From Dandruff And It Will Grow Lovely. Being the best hair dressing for men and women, Parisian Sage is also best for children. Try it once and see how clean and healthy it keeps the scalp. "My daughter used Parisian Sage on her children's hair, and it is as good as you recommend it to be."—Hannah Anderson, 1021 Divine St., Columbia, S. C.

Here is what a North Dakota woman says: "Parisian Sage certainly has done my hair a lot of good, and will highly recommend it as a very good tonic for the hair. Have used various kinds of tonics and have found Parisian Sage the best. I have my head free from dandruff now, and it has a healthy luster, and has an even color. It used to be streaky. Many of my friends are using it and they speak highly of it."—Mrs. Anna Rooney, 101 Second St., N. Fargo, N. D.

Always bear in mind that there is nothing for the hair that can compare with Parisian Sage. There are many imitations but none of them are guaranteed to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back. A large bottle costs 50 cents at O. P. Marchman's and druggists everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every bottle.

A Few Helpful Moments With the "Get There" Club

This is the season of the year, Horace, when the chap at the desk next to yours and the one beyond him are no longer eager to drop in for a little game of Kelly pool or a whirl or two with the ivories with you after office hours. Not even the bowling alley can entice them. Uh—ah—there's nothing doing! They're other and vastly more enticing things to attend to.

They're going to take part in the great out-of-doors that the spring has opened up to them! All indoor sports are relegated to the discard. The z-z-zing! of the tennis racket on ball is in the air. The splash of the canoe paddle—as it propels its light craft beneath overhanging rocks and through limpid pools is inviting participation. The high-dive into the river at the city's bathing beach and—mark you, Horace—the great national game are calling their devotees to come out and join in.

Spring is in the air, the sap is in the trees and the red blood in the veins of man is stirring and pulsating after its long winter of comparative inertia. And if you don't fit in some place in this great scheme of enjoying the out-of-doors, you are making a mistake—a serious mistake, Horace.

Somehow, the average young chap of today does everything by extremes. He's a hard worker, for instance, who plugs away all the time at his task with never a thought of recreation or athletics. Or he's eternally on pleasure bent, fooling and frittering his time away, with the earning of his daily bread an unpleasant necessity and the care of his body a matter of no import at all. Or still again, he may be so bound up in the different athletic teams he belongs to that he amounts to nothing as a man making his way in the world and finds no pleasure in anything else but exercise. All three are wrong. All are making of themselves one-sided men. Each is right along one line and seriously in error along the other two.

In general, however, the tendency is to ignore care of the physical body these days. Business and pleasure both come in for their due share of attention from the average chap, but he considers exercise a luxury for which he has no time. Work in a gymnasium, at best, seems stuffy and monotonous. And he has long since forgotten how to skate on ice. Bowling may interest him, for it possesses elements of competition peculiarly attractive. But at that, in general, his efforts to take care of his body and build it up into a healthy one cease.

Now, however, the whole out-of-doors is open and calling to him—and to you, Horace. Get up and go out! Throw off your winter sluggishness. Give your muscles a chance to exercise and your lungs an opportunity to breathe in pure air and clean sunshine. You owe it to yourself. It is as much an obligation of yours as is morality, clean living or business success.

You may not know which end of a tennis racket is the handle; you may feel that the minute you step in a canoe you are signing your own death warrant; you may have a positive aversion to all water deeper than that in your bath-tub, and you may consider baseball, either as participant or spectator, an absolute bore. All right—pass them up, all of them!

But you have got your legs left, haven't you? And you can walk, can't you? Well, then get out and walk! Not in the city streets, but out in the suburbs—and beyond. Get out where there's a little, at least, of the forest primeval left, where the air smells of the woods and wild flowers, where the earth is fresh and warm and the breeze laden with the fragrance of Nature awakening from its winter hibernation.

It will wake you up, too, this simple little walk in the out-of-doors. It will clear your mind of office worries. It will put new life into you and prolong your life. It will cheer your spirits if they are drooping and fit in harmoniously with them if they are buoyant. More than that, it's a good, sound business investment that will yield interest that no one can take from you. Get busy there, Horace, get out of doors!
