BEAN AND MARKOWITZ SUBMIT PROPOSITION TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Offer to Sell 399 Acres of Land and Gas Pipe Line From Petrolia Here for $150,000—Directors Endorse Plan for Launching of Industrial Corporation—Factory Addition and Cheap Gas are the Objects

There was presented to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning a proposition the nature of which provides that a stock company will take over the holdings of Messrs. Bean and Markowitz to the amount of 179 acres at Petrolia and 220 acres across the river from this city for the purpose of promoting an industrial plan similar to that suggested and outlined to the directors some time ago by Secretary Day, but upon which no action was taken, further than referring the matter to a committee.

The proposition as outlined by Mr. Bean on behalf of himself and Mr. Markowitz, in substance provides that in consideration of the sum of $150,000 they will deed to the stock company when organized 179 acres of land in the Petrolia field, also 220 acres of land across the river from this city; that they will further furnish on the Petrolia property two good producing gas wells and will provide a four-inch pipe line from the wells to the 220 acre tract near the city. They further agree that in connection with the organization of the proposed company that they will take stock therein to the amount of $25,000.

The plan as explained by these gentlemen is for the purpose of providing free factory sites and 2 cent gas as an inducement to manufacturing enterprises to locate in this city. The proposition recited in this connection is that 70 acres of the 220 across the river could be set apart for free factory sites; that the remaining 150 acres could be divided into 600 lots and sold at $200 each, thereby netting the stockholders a total return of $120,000 and leaving the seventy acres of free sites, together with the supply of gas and the pipe line in return for the $25,000 additional investment.

FUNK POINTS OUT THREE DETECTIVES

ANOTHER DRAMATIC EPISODE AT THE LORIMER HEARING TODAY

DETECTIVES SUMMONED

Funk Told Committee That He Had Been Shadowed Since He Testified at Springfield.

Special to The Times. Washington, D. C., June 27.—A sensation was sprung at the Lorimer inquiry this morning when Clarence S. Funk of the International Harvester Company declared that three detectives who have been following him since he testified at Springfield, Ill. were then in the room. Summons were immediately issued for the detectives as witnesses.

Funk called attention to detectives at the opening of today's hearing. No time was fixed for testimony of the detectives. The cross examination of Funk about the alleged request of Edward Hines for $10,000 contributed to the Lorimer election fund then proceeded.

Yesterday Funk made the disclosure concerning the detectives. "Have you ever been followed?" Senator Kenyon asked.

"I have been followed frequently at nights and in the day since I testified at Springfield," was the reply.

"By whom?" Kenyon asked.

"By detectives," said Funk.

"Is that true since you came to Washington?"

"It is. There are four of them," the witness continued, "one of them followed me here today. They have watched me at my home and at my office all the time since I was at Springfield."

"Do you know who is the employer of the detective who followed you here today?" asked Chairman Dillingham.

"He has told me who his employer is, and it is not Senator Lorimer," the witness said, as he looked at Edward

CLINT BROWNING ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

DEFENDANT TAKES STAND AND TELLS STORY OF KILLING OF BROTHER-IN-LAW LEE HOSCH.

A SELF DEFENSE THEORY

Of the Defense—Hosch Believed There Was Plot to Kill Him, Witness Testifies.

Clint Browning in his own defense related the story of the killing of his brother-in-law, Lee Hosch in the district court this morning.

On direct examination he first testified as to Hosch's reputation saying that he had a reputation of being a violent man who usually carried deadly weapons.

He said on the morning of the homicide he was awakened by an oath from Hosch directed at his sister, Hosch's wife. "I'm going to settle with Clint and we be unto the settlement on his part," were the words which Hosch addressed his wife Browning testified.

The witness told the jury he hastened to put on his clothing. In the meantime Hosch came into his room and took a seat between his Brownings' bed and the door. "We've got to have a settlement today Clint, and we be unto the settlement on your part," Browning testified the man he killed repeated at the same time handing an open knife in his hand.

With one shoe still untied the witness said he moved to a stand where a pistol was kept. Hosch in the meantime coming toward him with the open knife under a stove pipe, Browning told the jury when Hosch reached him he fired one of the shots striking his own hand which he said he threw up to ward off a knife thrust which he believed Hosch was about to plunge into his body.

Browning said that when Hosch came into his room he was gritting his teeth. He said that he tried to pacify Hosch telling him that he had always treated him as a brother; that he wanted to leave on Christmas and that when he went he wanted to know that Hosch was a better man than he had been.

In Browning's cross examination Attorney Foster introduced a chart of the room and asked Browning to explain the location of bullets. With a copy of Browning's statement given before the grand jury, the state attorney began a rigid cross examination of the defendant.

Attorney Bullington who is conducting the defense asked that the jury be sent out and then objected to the use of the statement.

The contention of the defense that the grand jury statement could not be used in an attack on the defendant's testimony was upheld by Judge Dickson.

Proceeding Browning, Mrs. Fleming was placed on the witness stand. She testified concerning acts of violence by the deceased and to his attempt to borrow a shot gun and a pistol from her husband a few days before his death.

She testified that Hosch said he wanted the weapons only five minutes.

Money For The Ball Team

The matter of the maintenance of the Texas-Oklahoma Baseball League was a subject for consideration at the meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning and following several subscriptions to a fund for the support of the team a committee was appointed to solicit further contributions with a view to maintaining the organization.

The matter was presented by J. B. Marlow, who called attention to the fact that the league was threatening to disband for the lack of support and in this connection he urged the importance of maintaining the team both for the amusement afforded and for the valuable advertising it gives the city. Those present were unanimous in their opinion that the team at this place should be maintained and expressed a willingness to aid in its support, not that the parties in charge of the management were unable to do so, but because the cost incurred was too great a loss as a result of the poor patronage of the game.

Several of the directors, including J. B. Marlow, Wiley Blair, N. Henderson, M. J. Gardner, W. J. Moore, and C. W. Bean volunteered to subscribe $10 per month to assist in defraying the expense of the team for the remainder of the season, and J. B. Marlow, Eugene Leopold and Sam Scalleng were appointed a committee to circulate a list for further contributions to this cause.

$5,000 FOR FIRST OIL OR GAS WELL NEAR CITY

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce have offered a bonus of $5,000 for the first oil or gas well brought in within six miles of the city, or one-half of that amount if the well should be over six miles but within a radius of ten miles.

After the offer had been decided upon the matter of raising the bonus was mentioned, when Frank Kell, for himself and J. A. Kemp, stated that they would give one-third of the amount, and with this the following subscriptions were volunteered before the meeting was adjourned.

MAIL CLERK FINDS RATTLE SNAKE IN A MAIL POUCH

Special to The Times. Fort Worth, Texas, June 27.—Following his recent order advising all employees of the railway mail service for the Eleventh division to steer clear of any activity on either side of the pending prohibition campaign in Texas, S. M. Gaines, superintendent for this division, will probably issue instructions advising the postmasters in the snake-infested districts of West Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, to be careful not to let snakes creep into the mail pouches in their possession.

Such an order becomes necessary because of the fact that the life of R. M. Messner, a clerk in the Fort Worth and El Paso railway postoffice was endangered Saturday when he found a live rattle snake in a pouch of mail received from the postoffice at Pyle, a small station in West Texas.

It had been supposed that the amount of money involved was comparatively small.

Geological Survey of This County May be Made

The matter of a geological survey for Wichita county was given an impetus at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning in connection with the consideration of a communication from Dr. Wm. B. Phillips of the state bureau of geology. Dr. Phillips in writing regarding the matter suggested that work should be done in conjunction with Clay county as a matter of economy and in this connection estimated that to make the survey of the two counties would involve an expense of $3,000. Of this he stated that only $800 would be available from the state on account of an insufficient appropriation, and that it would be necessary for each of the two counties to raise $1,100 in order to carry on the work as contemplated.

After some discussion of the matter a motion prevailed that the part thereof relating to mercantile risks be referred to the Retail Merchants Association and it was so ordered. Some discussion was had regarding the rates on dwellings and this matter was referred to a committee composed of C. W. Bean, C. W. Snider and J. L. Jackson. The discussion of this question brought out the opinion from some of the directors that possibly new rates on dwellings was equitable as the former rates were generally conceded, by those familiar with insurance matters, to be too low to permit

RAINOLETTE TO END

ALL THE DROUGHTS

At Least That is The Hope Which is Held Out By Its Inventor At San Antonio.

San Antonio, Texas, June 27.—J. M. Matthews of this city declares he has solved the problem of artificial rain-making and has invented a machine for the purpose which he calls the "Rainolette." Matthews has worked upon the artificially for thirty-five years and is quite sure he has the matter in hand now and can precipitate a shower with his machine at any place desired.

Several years ago Matthews built one of his machines in a crude way in this city and while he did not bring on a deluge or cause perceptible rise in the water level, he was eminently satisfied with the results. The machine built intended to drive an air current upward with a velocity of 1,150 miles per hour.

By this process the lower or warmer strata of the atmosphere were mixed in such a manner as to bring about condensation, the moisture of the warm air being condensed by the cold upper strata. Mr. Matthews is confident that by the operation of his machine he built a rain cloud which was seen by a number of people and in the recent circular published giving details of this experiment, he gives the names of a number of people in this city who say that rain fell in their vicinity while he was making his experiment. The failure to produce a real shower, however, Matthews attributes to the lack of power generation in the boiler which was furnishing steam to operate the "rainolette." He is enthusiastic in the matter and declares he is operating along acknowledged scientific lines and that he can succeed in producing the conditions artificially which is always present when rain is precipitated in the natural way. He has been a close student of the government's latest report on the subject of artificial rain.

While it is known that this artificial rain is superior to the natural rain, Matthews maintains that the rain conditions was brought about along the same lines which he is operating but from a different angle, namely, forcing bombs high in the air started an upward current of the atmosphere, the warmer or lower strata rising toward the higher to take the place of the dense or colder strata.

The moisture of the lower strata when brought in contact with the higher or colder strata, at once cause their clouds were formed. Instead of bringing about a like condition by the explosion of bombs, Matthews starts the currents from the earth and forces it up so rapidly through a high stack that the condensation takes place and rain clouds form. He maintains that with proper power he can produce a rain in any locality with his machine in ten or twenty hours at a trifling expense for fuel and operations. Just now Mr. Matthews is giving his attention to perfecting another machine and unlike many men who have originated something new, is not attempting to sell stock or organize a big company with flattering promises of a stream of golden returns. He has caveats filed for his invention, covering every detail and when he has succeeded declares he will be producing copious showers he will take out world-wide patents.

HOW TO RAISE

CHILD PRODIGES

Prof. Sidis Says That Home is Dominated By Many Commercial Ideas.

Boston, Mass., June 27.—How to raise a race of child prodigies ready for college at eleven is explained by Prof. Boris Sidis, of Harvard College in an essay he has just written. Prof. Sidis' son, now 13 has just completed his second year at Harvard.

As long as the home is dominated by commercial ideas, the school will turn out mediocre tradesmen," says Prof. Sidis. "What wonder that the children of ten and eleven can hardly read and write, are little brutes and waste away their precious life on the close, dusty, overheated rooms of the early grades of some elementary school."

There is a period in the child's life between the ages of five and ten when he is very inquisitive. Everything should be open to the child's searching interest. The spirit of inquiry, the genius of man, is more sacred than any abstract belief, dogma or creed. Appeal to you, fathers and mothers, and to you, liberal minded readers, asking you to turn your attention to the education of your children, to the training of the young generations of future citizens. I do not appeal to our official educators, to the clerks of our teaching shops, for they are beyond all hope.

The present school system squanders the resources of the country and wastes the energies and the lives of the children. The school system should be abolished and with it should go the present psychological educator, the school master and the schoolmarm. Being in a barbaric state we are afraid of thought. We are under the erroneous belief that thinking and study cause nervousness and mental disorders. We do not take care to develop a love of knowledge in our children's early life for fear of brain injury and then when it is too late to acquire the interest we force them to study and we cram them and feed and stuff them like geese. What you often get is fatty degeneration of the mental liver.

London, June 27.—Elaborate preparations have been made for the banquet to be given at the Savoy Hotel tomorrow night in honor of John Hase Hammond, the special ambassador from the United States to the coronation. The affair will be given under the auspices of the Pilgrims.

IN MEMORY OF #### CANADIAN HEROINE

Queenston, Ont., June 27.—Upon the historic sod of Queenston Heights, overlooking the Niagara River, where General Sir Isaac Brock drove back the American invaders a hundred years ago, there is to be unveiled next week a handsome monument erected by the Dominion Government in honor of Laura Secord, one of the most conspicuous heroines of Canadian history. The unveiling is to be made the occasion for interesting ceremonies which will include address by Sir George Ross, J. W. Lanmuir, chairman of the Niagara Falls Park Commission, and others.

Laura Ingersoll Secord, in commemoration of whose deed of devotion and daring the monument has been erected, lived with her husband near Niagara-on-the-Lake, the ancient capital of Upper Canada. In the War of 1812 her husband took up arms to protect his home and country. Wounded in battle, he was taken to his home to be nursed by his devoted wife.

One day two American officers called at the Secord home and demanded food. While serving them, Mrs. Secord caught a few words of their conversation, which satisfied her that the Americans contemplated a surprise attack to the British army which was stationed in the vicinity of Beaver Dams.

Under cover of darkness the woman started on a perilous trip to warn the British, making the long journey through dense woods beset with wild animals, Indians and guerilla bands. She had to travel 22 miles and one of her dangers was in getting through the American lines. She was stopped several times by American soldiers but she told them she was looking for a lost cow and they permitted her to pass.

She succeeded in reaching Captain Fitzgibbons, one of the British commanders, and conveyed to him the important information. Being thus warned of the proposed attack the British army was prepared and consequently was enabled to win the important victory of Beaver Dams, July 24, 1813.

The monument to be unveiled next Thursday is in the form of a granite pillar, about 12 feet high, and is located close by the memorial to Sir Isaac Brock. On one side of the monument is inscribed a bronze medal of Laura Secord, with inscription, and on the opposite side appears a record of the death of her husband. Above the medallion is carried the following inscription:

"This monument has been erected by the Government of Canada to Laura Ingersoll Secord, who saved her husband's life in the battle on these heights, October 13, 1813, and who risked her own life in conveying to Captain Fitzgibbons the information by which he won the victory of Beaver Dams, July 24, 1813."

AN EARLY SURVEY OF STATE HIGHWAY

ROAD FROM RED RIVER TO GULF BEGINNING TO TAKE TANGIBLE FORM.

SOME FACTS AND FIGURES

Increased Land Values Included the Net Profit First Year is Over 400 Million Dollars.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 27.—The road grader in Texas is fast becoming the leading implement in our development and is taking its position with the plow and the hammer in building our civilization. We are leading all States in the Union in road building and the movement now launched for constructing a public highway from the Red River to the Gulf surpasses any road construction project now on the Continent. The long-talked-of Texas Central Railroad to Harpne and then branches to Deulson and Gainesville, double tracking the black land belt. The total mileage of the trunk lines approximate, 630 miles and the lateral lines which will be required to complete the comprehensive system contemplated will add many times more miles to the roadway and will pierce the heart of the agricultural region of the State.

The Commercial Secretaries' Association has made a tentative examination of the route by correspondence and a map showing a proposed route. Beginning at Galveston the line approximately follows the Houston and Texas Central Railroad to Harpne and then branches to Deulson and Gainesville, double tracking the black land belt. The total mileage of the trunk lines approximate, 630 miles and the lateral lines which will be required to complete the comprehensive system contemplated will add many times more miles to the roadway and will pierce the heart of the agricultural region of the State.

This roadway system when completed will serve 50,000,000 acres of the most fertile land in the United States. The farming section served by this highway system markets annually 3,500,000 tons of produce which must be hauled an average distance of five miles to the markets and the average cost of hauling at present is 43 cents per ton mile and when this highway is improved to the New Jersey standard the cost will be reduced to 7 cents per ton mile, making an annual saving of $7,000,000 to the farmers along the route.

The total net profit to the farmer along this route which he will receive the first year the road system is built will approximate as follows:
Marketing ..... $ 7,000,000
Increase in land value ..... 400,000,000
Value of time saved ..... 7,290,000
Total ..... $414,290,000

This is the biggest development project ever undertaken in the annals of Texas progress, and when completed will add immensely to the wealth, convenience and comfort of 200,000 farmers, and will directly benefit 2,500,000 people. The movement even in its embryo stage suggests the importance of adequate support of a State Public Highway Department in order that the road building may be intelligently promoted throughout the entire State.

Weak, Cold Spells.

Wilmington, N. C.—Mrs. Cora L. Ritter, of this place, says: "I used to have headaches, and blind dizzy spells, and weak cold spells went all over me. I had different doctors, but they were unable to tell me what was wrong, so I began to take Cardui. I am now all right, in good health, and better than I have been for 10 years. Cardui is a remedy for women, which has been helping sick women for nearly a lifetime. You can absolutely rely upon it. Other people have done the testing, and you should profit by the experience. Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not you? Begin taking Cardui today."

BISHOP RESTRAINS PROHIBITION TALK

Dalhart Priest Restrained From Talking Prostrum at Amarillo, Texas
Amarillo, Texas, June 27.—Little short of a generation was created in the prohibition ranks Saturday night when it became known that the Rev. Father Patrick J. Murphy had again been restrained by order of the Rt. Rev. Lynch, Bishop-elect of the diocese of Dallas of the Roman Catholic church, from mounting the rostrum in this city in support of the statewide prohibition campaign.

The meeting had been widely advertised and an immense crowd gathered when the new was sent out that Father Murphy had been ordered by telegraph not to leave his own parish at Dalhart.

The priest stated Friday and perhaps as late as Saturday forenoon that he would occupy the stand Saturday night in Amarillo and the disappointment is great.

Robach's Mineral Water is highly recommended by physicians and patrons who have tested its merits, for indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, kidney and bladder trouble. This water stimulates the secretions of the stomach, increases digestion and causes more complete absorption of the food, and prevents the action of germs that cause typhoid and other infectious diseases. This water can be purchased at the well or delivered in jugs or cases. This well is located one mile south

COBB IS AFTER DUFFY'S RECORD

T. Raymond Cobb this season is out after a record that may stand side by side with the pyramids. The record in question is none other than the highest batting average ever compiled in big league warfare since Anson started the natives in 1879 by batting .407 for the year.

These are the .400 hitters of the game to date in 100 or more games:
Duffy, Boston, 1894—18 games; average .438.
Keeler, Baltimore, 1897—128 games; average .438.
Burkett, Cleveland, 1896—112 games; average .423.
Lajoie, Cleveland, 1901—131 games; average .422.
Anson, Chicago, 1887—121 games; average .421.
Burkett, Cleveland, 1896—133 games; average .408.
Duffy, of Boston, now head of the White Sox, holds the record today, with .428.

These are the figures that Cobb must beat to get there, and the hope—if there is any such animal—shows that he has his chance to land. For example, the records of the past three years show that Cobb has hit each season above .400 after June 1.

This season, for the first time in his career, he turned June about the .400 mark, and has now pounded his massive average above .450. July August and September have always been his heaviest batting months, and if history repeats in this part of it he is liable to run up a set of figures never to be equaled by this or the succeeding generation of those whose Uncle Sam has just completed an inspection of his Texas factories and he finds the factory dollar a busy dollar. Every dollar invested in manufacturing produced forty-three cents in value added to the raw material. Out of every dollar produced by the factory labor received fifty-one cents.

At the present rate of development the Electra and Petrolia oil fields will soon be producing a sufficient quantity of oil to warrant the establishing of an oil refinery. Wichita Falls should keep an eye on this, and when the time arrives (if it is not already here) offer sufficient inducements to the controlling companies to establish the refinery here.

Texas has more than twice as many mules as any other state in the Union. The Census Reports of the Federal Department of Agriculture on January 1, 1910, reports 702,900 head of mules and the last estimate of value per head made by the Department places the average value at $108, making a total of all mules of all ages at approximately $75,000,000, which is an increase of a quarter of a million mules in number and $45,000,000 in value, including both increase in value per head and increase in number during the past decade.

There is a speed limit governing or regulating the driving of automobiles in Wichita Falls, but from complaints filed at the Times office with requests to roast the owners and drivers of machines together with city officials for the non-enforcement of the law, the Times is of the opinion that someone has been made to "step lively" to avoid being run down. The Times, however, does not know of any violations of the speed limit of itself, but will take pleasure in publishing the complaints from those who have that knowledge, provided they are willing that their names can be used. The Times is also of the opinion that the city officials will investigate every complaint made, and if the guilt of the parties can be established the usual fine will be assessed.

If there ever was a time for the people of Wichita Falls and Wichita county to come together and act on the matter of issuing bonds for the construction of good roads, that time is here now. As much as the Times dislikes to make the statement, it is a fact nevertheless that, owing to the drought-no crops of any consequence have been made, and the outlook for a cotton crop is not the least bit flat-fering. If the proper effort is made, a county good roads law, (such a law as now enjoyed by precinct No. 1 in Lamar county) can be obtained for precinct No. 1 in Wichita county within the special session of the legislature convenes in July. It is estimated by those who have investigated the matter, that property values in precinct No. 1 will justify the voting of at least $150,000 good roads bonds, bearing 5 per cent interest, payable in forty years, and that a special road tax of not to exceed 15c on the $100 valuation will be ample to take care of the interest and principal of the bonds. If this is done the expenditure of the money realized from the sale of these bonds will furnish employment to citizens of Wichita county who will either have to find employment for themselves and teams or leave the county. The building of these roads will enhance property values also, and therefore those who pay the tax have nothing to lose, but all to gain. In the opinion of the Times, our commissioners court should cooperate with the people in this matter. Without the cooperation of the county judge and county commissioners practically nothing can be done.

LA FOLLETTE'S PROPHECY.

The first time La Follette made a speech in the Senate—and he did it when he hadn't been Senator much more than twenty minutes—they walked out on him, just as they had done in the case of Beveridge. The gallery remained, just as it had done before. When he found himself deserted by practically the entire Senate membership, La Follette briefly interrupted his speech to observe:

I cannot be inattentive to the fact that Senators absent themselves during my remarks. I want to say that though my observations may have no interest to the Senate, they have a very keen interest to the country. And I take the liberty to observe that seats which are now temporarily vacated will later be vacated permanently.

Prophecy is rather a dangerous business unless you are a good guesser; but La Follette was as reckless in indulging prophecy as he was in courting defeat. Of the men who were Senators, and who walked out of the chamber that day, the following have since been defeated and retired:

Ankeny of Washington, Foraker of Ohio, Fulton of Oregon, Hansborough of North Dakota, Hemenway of Indiana, Hopkins of Illinois, Kittredge of North Dakota, Long of Kansas, McCree of Kentucky, Platt of New York, Teller of Colorado, Whyte of Maryland, Aldrich of Rhode Island, Bulkeley of Connecticut, Burkett of Nebraska, Burrows of Michigan, Carter of Montana, Dewey of New York, Dick of Ohio, Flint of California, Frazier of Tennessee, Hale of Maine, Keas of New Jersey, Piles of Washington, Scott of West Virginia, Tallaferra of Florida, Warner of Missouri, Spooner of Wisconsin, Alger of Michigan, Alee of Delaware, Berry of Arkansas, Blackburn of Kentucky, Clark of Montana, Dryden of New Jer-

—Thirty-five—count 'em—thirty-five, and almost to a man they were retired because they didn't understand what La Follette was talking about, didn't understand what the country was thinking about, didn't understand, or were unwilling to do, what the country demanded and expected of them. It is not necessary to introduce testimony on this point. Everybody who has maintained the most casual touch with politics during the last five years is familiar with the uprising of progressive opinion that drove these men out of their Senatorial seats.—Judson C. Welliver, in Munsey's Magazine.

EXTORTIONATE EXURES RATES.

The investigation of the express business in the United States, for which the Burleson resolution provides, ought to eventuate in material benefits to the people of the country. It is almost strange, when we come to think of it, that the shippers have endured the exorbitant exactions of these companies for so many years with no determined effort to secure relief. And just how far the productive industries have been hampered, obstructed and robbed will never be known until the probe is inserted deep enough to ascertain the inner workings of the system that has Farmers in all the heavily producing sections have had painful experience with the express companies. Many times and oft they have shipped their produce only to see all the proceeds go into the coffers of the companies. True, their despoliation may not have been altogether attributable to the express rates. Crafty brokers and cold storage combinations, working with the express companies, have frequently divided the spoil, but in any event the express rates have always been unreasonably high.

It is Mr. Burleson's theory that the railroads themselves might be compelled to perform this service without the intermediation of the express company, and perform it efficiently and at low rates. Others believe the surest plan for relief lies in the proposed parcels post, while others hold to the view that the government, acting through the interstate commerce commission and the States through their railroad and transportation commissions, might prescribe reasonable express rates.

The lack of light on the subject makes it difficult to discuss any corrective measure intelligently. Hence the importance of the investigation proposed by the Burleson resolution. The proper course is to ascertain exactly the situation in respect of the capitalization of the companies, the ownership of the stock, the amount paid for the same, the cost of service, the amount of earnings and dividends and the part the railroad companies themselves play in controlling and operating the service.

We know already that the service as compared with the service of other countries, is extortionate, that it adds to the cost of living in an unwarrantable degree, that at the present rates the public can not enjoy the benefits of rapid transportation of freight to the extent that business demands and that somebody is getting entirely too much of the people's money for the character of service given.

It is a question that congress ought not to deal with haltingly. The matter ought to be taken up and investigated with a view to giving the public better service and cheaper service. When the facts shall have been ascertained, then whatever remedies appear to be necessary ought to be promptly devised and put into operation. On the surface, there is much to commend the Burleson view that the railroads themselves might perform the express service directly without the intermediation of the express corporations. That would be better, we believe, than annexing the service to the postal service which a Maryland congressman advocates.

In any event, the public is entitled to quick relief from the unreasonable exactions of the express companies, and congress ought to find this relief without unnecessary delay. In the meantime, the State of Texas might, to take a hand, to see what can be done to better conditions of the express service in Texas.—Houston Post.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

The Minnesota Progressive League has formally launched a movement to nominate Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin for President.

United States Senator Brown of Nebraska has accepted an invitation to make a number of speeches in Pennsylvania this summer for the Republican Progressive League.

Speaker Champ Clark has been engaged to deliver the Fourth of July oration at the Chautauqua assembly in Webster City, Iowa.

William Richardson, who represents the Eighth Alabama district in Congress was once condemned to death as a spy in the Confederate service.

Of the three men prominently mentioned for the Democratic presidential nomination, Judson Harmon is 65 years old, Champ Clark 61 and Woodrow Wilson 55.

It is said that prominent Democratic leaders of Cincinnati and Cleveland will join in a movement to displace Harvey C. Garber as the Democratic national committeeman for Ohio.

Representative William A. Jones of the First Virginia district, who desires to succeed Senator Martin, is the oldest Democratic member of the House in point of service.

ARMORE, 8, BONHAM 4.

NEW LINE-UP PROBABLE IN TEXAS-OKLA. LEAGUE

Durant, Ardmore, Denison, Hugo, Bonham and Paris Are Named As Likely Members of Organization.

It now begins to look as though the Texas-Oklahoma league will have to disband or reorganize with a list of towns more nearly together in order to economize in transportation charges. As it is the patronage does not justify the expense incurred in the long jumps and the towns will not patronize a long series of games as a means of reducing the traveling expenses. The trouble is not with the Wichita Falls team, which has plenty of backing and the management of which would continue during the season notwithstanding the loss incurred, but the other teams of the league have filed a protest and among other things demand that the Altus franchise be transferred to some point nearer the other towns. In this connection a meeting has been called to convene in Galveston on Saturday at which time some disposition will be made of the matter.

As the matter now stands indications point to the transferring of the Altus franchise to Hugo, Okla., and it may become necessary to transfer the Wichita Falls team to some other point, possibly Denison and the placing of the Cleburne franchise at Paris or some point accessible to the places mentioned. This would place Durant, Ardmore, Denison, Hugo, Bonham and Paris in the organization instead of the towns now included. This seems to be the solution of the matter that would be the most acceptable to the teams other than Wichita Falls, and some plan along this line may possibly be agreed upon rather than permit the organization to disband.

In this connection it is noted that a movement has been on foot in North Texas for several days to organize a league, in which it is understood that Bonham is interested, as well as Paris and it may be that the Galveston meeting may result in some agreement being reached to include these towns in the present league as indicated above.

If The Times is reliably informed, the management of the local team is now and will continue to act in good faith in maintaining a team at Wichita Falls, notwithstanding the poor patronage, and will finish out the season unless there is a defection from other sources in the organization. The dissatisfaction seems to be on the part of Bonham, Ardmore and Durant on account of the jump to Altus and if the league should disband the action will be chargeable to other management than at Wichita Falls.
