MEN HIGH UP IN FINANCIAL WORLD

ARE SAID TO BE NAMED IN INDICTMENTS READY FROM FEDERAL GRAND JURY.

A SENSATION IS PROMISED

Action Believed to Be Most Important Ever Undertaken in Trust Case

By Associated Press.
New York, June 29.—What promises to be the most sensational and far-reaching anti-trust action the federal government has ever undertaken will probably take definite form today in indictments from the grand jury which has been investigating certain officials of the United States Steel Corporation its subsidiaries and independent companies. Criminal indictments involving men high up in the financial world are said to be ready.

It is known that the findings of the grand jury promise to be a greater revelation than even any of the published rumors have indicated. The government's investigations are said to have reached a prominent law firm in this city which for years has been commonly identified with many so-called contracts and pooling agreements.

KING GEORGE TO ENTERTAIN CHILDREN

Their Majesties Will Give Party For 100,000 London School Children at the Crystal Palace

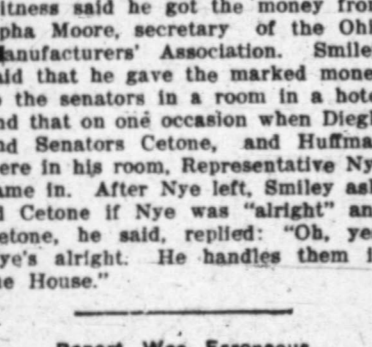

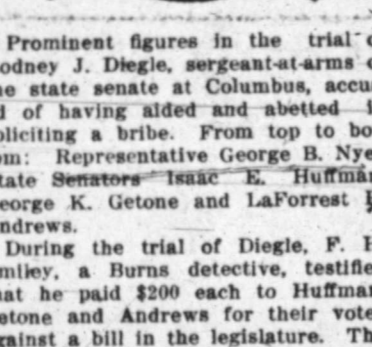

London, June 29.—Few of the coronation festivities will be more interesting than the King's party to 100,000 London school children at the Crystal Palace tomorrow. Their majesties have given their personal attention to the arrangements for the three gatherings, which promises to be the largest party of children ever assembled at one time and place. The cooperation of the various railway companies will enable the children to make the journey to the Crystal Palace from any part of London with no change of trains. The children will assemble at fifty-six different stations and altogether one hundred special trains, each carrying about one hundred thousand children, will be used. A representative of the London Education Authority and special nurse will travel with every train. The festival of Empire management will turn the Crystal Palace and the grounds over to the King's guests, and the general public will be excluded for the entire day. Refreshments will be provided free of charge to the children, and the teachers who accompany them, and all the attractions of the great exhibition will be open without cost. The King and the Queen are expected to attend the fête during the afternoon.

Law Would Hamper Police.

By Associated Press.
Chicago, June 29.—The Grady bill prohibiting the photographing and measuring of suspected criminals has been vetoed by Governor Dix on the ground that it would hamper the police in securing the most simple means of identification and add to the difficulties of securing evidence in criminal cases.

SOUTH CAROLINA MEN READY TO CLOSE COTTON MILL DEAL

That Wichita Falls has the opportunity to close a deal for the construction of the cotton mill proposed sometime ago by Mr. Carter, is assured in a recent letter received by Frank Kell, who as heretofore stated has been in correspondence with eastern parties with reference to the matter. The letter, referred to in a conversation with a Times reporter this morning, was received from the representative of the company and was written while at one of their mills in South Carolina, and contained the statement that as a result of the information furnished they were now ready to say that they were in a position to close a deal to carry out the plan along lines similar to that proposed by Mr. Carter and to guarantee the construction of a mill of that capacity at this place. The parties referred to are the same as those mentioned in previous articles in the Times with whom negotiations have been in progress for several weeks, and Mr. Kell is of the opinion that the deal can be made at any time that conditions will justify taking up the matter in person, and furthermore that the parties can be relied upon to carry out any contract entered upon.

Prominent figures in the trial of Rodney J. Diegle, sergeant-at-arms of the state senate at Columbus, accused of having aided and abetted in soliciting a bribe. From top to bottom: Representative George B. Nye; State Senators Isaac E. Huffman, George K. Gettone and LaForrest B. Andrews.

IS CHARGED WITH KILLING IN 1865

DANIEL BYERS MUST ANSWER FOR KILLING AT BONHAM 46 YEARS AGO.

Special to The Times.
London, June 29.—The last, but by no means the least interesting of the series of elaborate pageants in connection with the coronation, took place today and was witnessed by hundreds of thousands of spectators. This was the visit of the King and Queen to the city of London and their official reception by the Lord Mayor at the Guildhall, following the attendance of their Majesties on the special service of thanksgiving held at St. Paul's Cathedral.

A WAR TIME TRAGEDY

Man Arrested Yesterday a Highly Respected Citizen Whose Friends Will Stand By Him.

Greenville, Texas, June 29.—Daniel W. Byers, who was arrested last night and taken to Bonham to answer to a charge of killing Capt. Harris and his son there in 1865 is a highly respected farmer of this section having resided just north of here for three years. For many years previously he lived in South Texas. He is seventy-nine years old and his friends here are ready to furnish bail in any sum.

Bonham, Texas, June 29.—Judge W. A. Evans gives the following recollection of the killing for which Byers was arrested: "The killing occurred, I believe, in November or December, 1865, at the time General Harry E. McCulloch's headquarters were in Bonham. Dan Byers belonged to the Confederate army and I believe was a member of Col. Jim Bourland's command.

The two Harries, father and son were in Bonham. The son was in the government's employ, the father resided in town. They were originally from one of the northern states and were what we termed Union men that is, they were opposed to secession. Young Harris (Cap) had at one time gotten into some trouble, charged, I believe, with trying to desert and go into the federal army, and was arrested and court-martialed and through the influence of Col. Samuel A. Roberts and Gen. McCulloch was released and came back to Bonham and was employed in some of the departments here. The elder Harris had in consideration of his son's release, gone into the federal lines in Arkansas and had found out the secrets of the federal forces—that Gen. Banks was to come up through Louisiana; Gen. Steel, of the federal army was to come down through Arkansas; and meet General Banks at Shreveport; General Blount was to march down through the Indian Territory in North Texas.

Harris obtained this information and came back home. The federal forces of Gen. Steel were met by Gen. Maxey and others at Polson Springs, Ark., and prevented from connecting with Gen. Banks at Shreveport. A sufficient force also was sent to meet and keep Gen. Blount out of North Texas. Gen. Taylor met Gen. Banks at Mansfield and defeated him. This information prevented the concentration of the federal forces at Shreveport and their forward march and kept them in the south. The federal army, Texas from being over-run with the federal army.

But there was still some prejudice against the Harries on account of their sympathy for the North. The killing of the two men occurred on the north side of the square near where the store house now occupied by J. L. Ware and son and Mrs. Homer Thompson is situated.

TRAIN ROBBERS AFTER GOLD-CARRYING TRAIN

Made Mistake and Robbed Wrong Train and Got Little Booty.

By Associated Press.
Glendale, Oregon, June 29.—It was learned today that the robbers who last night looted passenger train No. 16 on the Southern Pacific were looking for another train, which was reported to be carrying $400,000 in gold dust from Seattle to San Francisco. They got the north instead of the southbound train which was the gold-carrier. Their mistake did not prevent a robbery, however. They dynamited the safe of the mail car, rifled the registered mail and it is reported secured cash intended for certain Southern Oregon post offices. The robbers boarded the train while it was taking water, crawling over the tender into the cab. There seems to have been only two of them. They ran the engine, mail and express cars some distance up the track from the train. The explosion in dynamiting the mail car safe warned the express messenger of the robbery and he made no response when demanded to open the door. His car was not robbed.

LAST PAGEANT OF CORONATION TODAY

King and Queen Given Official Reception By Lord Mayor of London

Special to The Times.
London, June 29.—The last, but by no means the least interesting of the series of elaborate pageants in connection with the coronation, took place today and was witnessed by hundreds of thousands of spectators. This was the visit of the King and Queen to the city of London and their official reception by the Lord Mayor at the Guildhall, following the attendance of their Majesties on the special service of thanksgiving held at St. Paul's Cathedral.

The visit to the city, which was intended the coronation of every British monarch of a custom that has attended the coronation of every British sovereign for ages, was accompanied by much picturesque and quaint ceremony. In duty bound, the royal procession halted at Temple Bar, which marks the city boundary, while the King awaited the necessary permission to enter the city. Awaiting his Majesty were the Lord Mayor and the aldermen, mounted on horses and garbed in the picturesque costumes of their respective offices also the aldermen and the common councilors of the city, who were in carriages.

On the arrival of their Majesties at Temple Bar the Lord Mayor, having dismounted, advanced to the King and presented to him the pearl sword given to the city by Queen Elizabeth. The King touched the sword and returned it, and, this being done, the Lord Mayor remounted his horse, and carrying the city sword of state, preceded the royal procession to the Guildhall, where formal greetings and congratulations were exchanged between the newly-crowned sovereigns and the official representatives of the city of London.

MINES TESTIFIES AT LORIMER HEARING

TELLS OF MESSAGE FROM ALDRICH AND PURPOSE URGING LORIMER TO BECOME CANDIDATE FOR SENATE.

THE SUPPORT OF TAFT

Witness Testifies Was Promised $100,000 Bids After Conference With Republican Senate Leaders.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., June 29.—Edward Hines, the millionaire lumberman of Chicago, took the witness stand today in the Lorimer investigation. He is expected to be the last important witness here as the committee adjourns today to meet in Chicago after July 4th. Hines told of his rise from an office boy at a salary of ten dollars per month. His wife who has been a constant attendant at the hearings listened to his testimony intently.

"Do you drink?" was suddenly asked of Hines.

"I have never smoked. I occasionally take a glass of beer and a glass of wine but I do not drink any strong liquors." Hines added that he drank wine at dinner on his physician's advice.

He said that as the owner of about thirty boats on the Great Lakes he was interested in the success of the project which Lorimer favored. He said he knew the International Harvester Company was opposed to the deepening of the Chicago River which was a part of the Lakes to the Gulf project.

Hines testified that Senator Penrose asked him if he knew anything about the senatorial situation in Illinois. Penrose feared no answer would be elected. Hines said also that Aldrich was very anxious to have a Republican senator from Illinois elected on account of tariff measures and asked Hines to impress that fact on Lorimer's mind. After talking with Aldrich he said he telephoned to Lorimer from Washington that the administration wanted Lorimer elected.

Hines said that Aldrich conferred with Taft and then said that they (Taft and Aldrich) wanted Hines to urge Lorimer to become a candidate.

"What can I do," Hines said he asked Aldrich.

"Go to the long distance telephone and communicate this to him at Springfield," the witness said Aldrich answered.

"Suppose they want it confirmed," Hines said he interposed.

"You are authorized," he testified Aldrich replied. "To say that the governor or anyone else who questions it may telegraph me or Senator Penrose or if necessary the President."

OWL ATTACKS FARMER

Latter May Die as Results of Injuries Received from Bird's Beak and Claws.

Washington, D. C., June 29.—Phillip Cruzan, a wealthy farmer, is at his home fifteen miles west of here with practically no hopes held out for his recovery as the result of his encounter with a monster hoot owl. Cruzan, while walking through his yard was struck in the face by the owl which apparently in its blind flight had unintentionally collided with the man. The bird, infuriated, fastened its talons in Cruzan's face and commenced a vicious attack. Again and again the heavy beak penetrated the man's eyes, and Cruzan's efforts to beat off the bird were in vain. Finally exhausted by loss of blood Cruzan fell unconscious and in this state he was found later by members of his family.

EVERY GREAT NATION WILL BE REPRESENTED AT AVIATION MEET

Event in Chicago From August 12 to 20 Will be the Greatest in a Year of Most Notable Progress

Chicago, Ill.—From August 12 to 20, Grant Park, Chicago, will be the scene in the history of aeronautics. The International Aviation Meet, which will be held at that time and place, will be the most stupendous event in this greatest year in aerial navigation.

Competing for the $80,000 prize, the largest ever offered for such a meet, will be world famed aviators that await the men who best navigate the air. It is the men who best navigate the ether and who demonstrate more successfully that man may travel thru the skies as well as on the earth and water.

Led by Harold F. McCormick, long an enthusiast on the subject of aviation, a number of public spirited and broad-minded citizens of Chicago have subscribed to a guaranty fund of $100,000 and preparations are already under way for the events which promise to startle the world notwithstanding the wonderful progress which has been made during the past year in the science of aeronautics.

During the recent visit to Chicago President Taft assured the management of his cordial sanction and approval and gave his personal sanction that the army the navy and signal corps of the United States will be represented at the meet and take actual part in the program. This in itself insures national interest and there is also to be considered the international interest, and the civic and commercial, scientific and educational phases, all of which are part and parcel of the meet and of prime importance.

Virtually every great nation in the world will be represented at the meet. Aside from the aviators themselves, the uniforms of Uncle Sam's high officers will mingle with those of soldiers and sailors of renown from other countries, all intent upon the maneuvers and upon learning more of the new science of nations.

As a civic affair the meet is of prime importance. Various organizations led by the Chicago Association of Commerce have signified their intent to co-operate to the fullest extent toward making the event the greatest in the world.

Not one cent of profit will accrue to the managers. It is established at the start that whatever may remain after paying the expenses of the meet will be devoted to the United Charities of Chicago, an institution which relieves distress in every nook and corner of the city and co-operates with every individual and denominational charity.

Throughout the neighboring country and states assurances have been received from cities and civic organizations that they will be represented at the meet and are in climbing for the middle West the honor of making the coming event an epoch in aeronautics.

Audacious is the term applied to the general plan adopted by the management of the meet. Scores of times crowds at aviation meets have waited for hours and finally turned away disappointed because the promised flights failed to materialize.

This cannot occur at the Chicago meet. In every contract signed in which has already been signed is expressly stipulated that the aviator appear and shall actually fly. Otherwise he will get no money.

All Countries Interested. Scarcely a country in the world has failed to rouse to enthusiasm over the question of aerial navigation. England, France, Germany, Spain, Peru, Switzerland, Italy, Russia, Japan, China, India have all furnished their quota of aviators while to our own United States belongs the undying honor of having furnished the first practical demonstration that man can navigate the air.

It is but proper that Uncle Sam therefore, should take the lead in extending and improving the scope of this new science. From one end of the country to the other men's minds are full of the subject while scarce a city of prominence in the land but has already taken it up and held aviation meets or is preparing to hold them.

Time was when Darius Green had the questionable honor of having the world laugh at him because he attempted to fly. He built himself a pair of wings, leaped out of a hay-mow landed with a thump and the world laughed.

Julius Verne wrote the story Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea, and the world read the book and then laughingly consigned Verne to the category of Baron Munchausen.

Many a hard headed citizen viewed Robert as a sort of a harmless maniac when he said he could propel a boat through the water by means of steam. Stevenson and his locomotive were a sort of a joke for many a day, and less than fifty years ago the Confederate sailors aboard the Merrimac laughed to scorn the Monitor.

Not until the wireless telegraph was the means of saving a whole shipload of people who otherwise would unquestionably have gone to Davy Jones' locker, did many believe in the commercial and really utilitarian possibilities of the air waves invented or rather discovered by Marconi.

Mad the Right Idea. But every one of these men of genius had the right idea, clear back to Darius Green, and within the last year his idea has been shown to possess some of the most wonderful possibilities of the lot.

To Chicago, the world famous metropolis of the Middle West, falls the honor of convening and holding the most wonderful exhibition of aerial aeronautical history will be made. Laying the Course. Stretching from Randolph to Twelfth streets, along the beautiful lake front for more than a mile, the course has been laid. Covering a space of 6,500,000 square feet of land, with the whole of Lake Michigan stretching beyond, the course is the most ideal ever planned. A monster stadium to accommodate 50,000 people, will be erected. Canvases of the stands will shelter the spectators from the afternoon sun. Railroads all over the country are already preparing schedules for special rates to Chicago.

Bonnievue, June 18th.
My Dear Maude:
I should be so glad if you can arrange to come down next Friday, the twenty-third, for the week-end. The Tom Castles are to be here, the brand new Merriweather bride and groom, and several other people you know. I am enclosing a time table. Of course the car will be at the station to meet you. Do come.
Devotedly,
ELINOR.

This is the brief but potent summons which plunges you immediately into a whirl of sartorial consideration and preparation. Just what to take in the way of clothes--that is the burning question--and also, are your wardrobe of a character that will fulfill the requirements of this smart country house visit? If you happen to be numbered among the favored few to whom a week-end invitation of this sort is an ordinary occurrence and press the electric button beside your lace-pillowed boudoir couch and glancing up, presently, with a finger marking the place in another of the morning's batch of letters, will instruct Celeste something as follows:
"On Friday we go to Bonnievue for the week-end. See that tickets and chairs on a late afternoon train are ready, make an appointment with my maid for Friday morning, and pack some motor things and those new frocks that came in from Marieanne yesterday and--let me see, the diamond dinner frock and that lace and gold dancing frock--and, of course the usual negligees and things."
Then you forget all about the matter until Celeste reminds you about it when she brings your coffee of chocolate Friday morning.

But if there is no Celeste, you will find time to refresh and shop--and must be done to get the wardrobe in shape for hobnobbing with a lot of smart alien costumes for two whole days and part of a third; if in addition to this, certain things tailor-made for the laundress and pressed for freshening and pressing, if one's hair must be shampooed, a manicure visited, and half a dozen other little things attended to in the brief five days preceding the visit, then indeed it is quite another matter.
Trunk or Suitcase: A very fashionable affair it will be well to take a small trunk; for a number of costumes may be needed and in the case of large country houses with rooms of servants and many equine pages, arrangements are always made for the conveying of baggage from and to the station, the maid, usually being driven up in a car or depot wagon that brings the trunks. If one feels sure, however, that a suitcase is all that will be expected of one--and that even a diminutive trunk would rather stagger one's hostess and hint at expectation of an insistence on a longer visit--then by all means put all you can into the suitcase, express it on ahead and carry smaller belongings in a traveling bag. A New York business woman who has many friends and is certain of numerous pleasant week-end invitations throughout the summer months, has bought for herself a very large and very heavy suitcase--"too heavy for me to think of carrying," she explains, "and so there is never any temptation to save fifty or sixty cents' expense. I send it on ahead, the day before, and when I arrive, cool and untaxed, with a smart traveling bag and parasol, my week-end wardrobe is awaiting me. It is well worth the trifling cost of expressage."

A Traveling Coat Over a Pretty Frock.
The same clever little woman, when she starts on a week-end visit, leaves her good looking tailored two-piece suit hanging on its rack in her closet in town and sets forth in a neat and inconspicuous "traveling frock" of dark-colored foulard, which is cool and light and appropriate for wear during her visit; while the tailored suit would not possibly fill any need but that of traveling.

In the country the smart little foulard frock will answer for country frock or driving wear, protected by long motor coat of pongee, linen or mohair; and this coat may be carried on the train and slipped on when necessary as a protection from dust or chill. Very smart motor coats of rainproofed mohair, of neutral gray or the fashionable khaki brown color, are to be had in raglan style. Navy blue serge traveling and motor coats with black satin trimmings and bright buttons, are also smart and practical belongings for the woman who makes little country visits without a large supply of baggage.

Out of town social life--in small communities and villa colonies, centers in the country club, and here the chief interest may be tennis, golf or squash tournaments, or it may be yacht racing and water sports. But in any case on the club take place any events at the club take place dainty costumes, charming hats, parasols and all the other accessories of a garden fete are in order; and the woman planning for a week-end visit at smart summer colony must be sure to have ready something smart and appropriate for country club or casino wear. On the opening day at the Seewanaka-Corinthian Club at Oyster Bay last month some of the most beautiful gowns of the season were worn, and perhaps the most beautiful was a deep cream batiste affair heavily embroidered in self color and trimmed with square motifs of dead white-Venise. Panels of the Venise and embroidered batiste in alternating squares, fell at back and front of the frock. The bodice was almost childishly simple and combined the deep cream fabric and the white lace in artistic fashion. The frock had a hem and girle of deep blue velvet and the hat was of deep blue straw with two plumes one dead white and the other a creamy tan color. Another woman on the same afternoon, wore a dainty French frock of white material, panels hanging over the skirt being faced with black satin and the little cap-bodice having deep revers and a sailor collar of black satin. The coat was quite short in front, but sloped down to a point at the back and in front, suggesting a vest, was a plastron of real Venise lace over cerise silk. The hat accompanying this fascinating frock was of white tagal with an underbrim facing of black satin. A huge bow of cerise velvet was poised across the crown and around the base of the crown was a wreath of white ostrich. In her hands the wearer carried a parasol of cerise silk inset with black chantilly motifs, and lined with white.

Contrasting Linings in Parasols.
The parasols that one sees at such afternoon affairs are studies in themselves. All the handsomest sorts now have linings of contrasting color! and, if there is no lining, there is an over-cover--as one might put it--of velvet ribbon lattice work through which peep lovely little silk roses and leaves.

A practical country club costume is illustrated, and this frock, being of fine white mohair, might be worn at the mountains or seashore on days when a diaphanous mull and lace affair is out of the question. The upper part of this white mohair costume suggests the new Ekou coat which is cropping up everywhere among smart togs. The little coat has a collar of bright green silk and pipings of this silk are set at the top of the cuffs. The parasol is green and white and the white straw hat is trimmed with black chantilly lace and green and white ostrich. The cord girle at the waist is black and reveals the vivid green of the silk trimmings. All waistlines are high this year and not to have a high waistline argues yourself unknown--at least unknowing, in regard to affairs of dress.

The Fascinating Spencer Coats of Silk.
Just now the fad in afternoon wraps is the abbreviated Spencer coat with or without--but perfectly with--a long tail that hangs to the knees at the back. The little Spencer has sloping shoulder lines, broad sleeves and a short waisted effect and it is more apt than not to be trimmed with a puffing or cording of the silk. If the frock is of white voile and lace--and these sweet little coats are almost invariably worn with very sheer lingerie frocks--the Spencer coat may be of old fashioned blue silk in the color of bachelor's buttons, or it may be of dove-gray silk or of a lovely shade of roses shade. With it is invariably worn a picture hat trimmed with roses or ostrich; or a quaint bonnet of lace and ribbon.

Lingerie frocks are a most important part of a week-end visit equipment, for unless the party is a very fashionable and formal affair, a pretty lingerie frock will answer for dinner and evening wear as well as for afternoon and Casino wear. But if the stay is to be made at a large country house, the wise woman provides a dinner-dance gown of something more substantial; in fabric than a mere "tub" gown of lingerie character.

Dancing Gowns With Trains.
Many of the costumes intended for dancing use have little trains, now and the train, of soft, silmy material is looped over the arm during the dance. The soft, silmy skirt is drawn up with it and oft-times a deal of silk stockings and dainty anklets is revealed, but the little slippers are so pretty and the silken hose with rich embroideries match them so charmingly that the clinging, upheld dancing gown is to be thanked and not rebuked. A lovely dinner-dance gown, built for country house visiting, is pictured today. This gown has the soft, silmy skirt of pale pink satin and over it a tunic of Val lace hemmed with pink satin. A shorter tunic of cream flit lace banded with Cluny forms the top of the gown and under the flit are black velvet ribbons, draped gracefully over the Val lace and pink satin. This touch of black velvet is characteristic of Paris frocks this season.

Auction in My Lady's Chamber.
Bridge is still fashionable but auction bridge is now the game elite and at some of the auction parties held in fashionable boudoirs at Sunday week-ends quite a bit of money changes hands. Boudoir bridge parties are held in the morning, and sometimes late at night when the mead are finishing the evening in the billiard room below stairs; and at these boudoir parties of course adorable negligees are the rule. A very lovely week-end negligee of embroidered cream net over lilac crepe de chine is pictured. Appliques of velvet pasties and pearl-embroidered form the yoke and oversleeves and a broad sash of lilac velvet is threaded through the net tunic. A rather elaborate "negligee" to be sure, but much more elaborate boudoir gowns than this are worn at fashionable week-end parties. A simpler negligee should of course be taken along; for gossip-fests in the wee, sma' hours are always held in the bedrooms, among the women guests, and breakfast is usually taken in one's room.

If one is very young--or wishes to be classed among the youthful, one appears before luncheon ready for tennis, bathing, or some other strenuous sport. Tennis and bathing costumes of up-to-date character are illustrated. The bathing dress shows the new "sucker-skirt" with the division hidden under panels at front and back when the wearer stands still. This pretty little suit is made of light blue satin with bands and sailor collar of black satin and a cap of blue and black printed silk. The tennis frock is charmingly pretty and practical besides. It is made of thin challis with coin spots in two shades of blue on a white ground; a quilling of ribbon in the lighter blue color trimming the bodice. The belt is of light blue straw has a gay band of Roman ribbon. The skirt is narrow in effect but deep panels at front and back give sufficient fullness for active exercise.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 29--The committee of the Texas General Passenger Agents' Association appointed at the last meeting to formulate plans for the carrying into effect the authority granted by an act of the last Legislature to provide for the exchange of advertising space in newspapers for transportation over the several lines of railway in the State will meet in Austin Friday for the purpose of taking up that work. The committee includes John E. Lehane of the Cotton Belt, Tom Anderson of the H. & T. C., and W. G. Crush of the M. K. & T.

crackers" that suggest a deafening explosion and there are various sizes of little "cracks" all the way down to the tiny fellows that come tied up in bunches--and each one is filled, instead of with powder, with chocolate or some other toothsome sweetie. There are murderous looking blunderbusses exactly like the old flint-lock musket which great-grandfather carried in the Revolution. There are noisy looking little cannons. There are drums. There are skyrockettes, and bombs and torpedoes. And not a quarter ounce of gunpowder, if you please, in the lot.

Some of the new patriotic favor notions are illustrated and most of these clever favors cost but a few cents each, making it really inexcusable for anybody to omit a suitable show of patriotism on the glorious day. The little flag clusters are for individual place decoration on the dinner table and one, two or as many flags as one chooses may be used at each place. The cone-shaped paper standard holding fifty or more of the tiny crepe paper flags when filled. In this photograph is shown also a dainty ice case in the form of a perfect little drum with drumsticks attached by means of red, white and blue ribbon. The top of the drum lifts off and inside one discovers the ice, tarts, or other dainty edibles.

Most interesting little souvenirs for a Fourth luncheon or dinner are the Colonial drummer boy and the quail cannon, both mounted on crepe paper boxes intended for candy or almonds. The drummer boy of course wears the Continental blue and buff and the toy cannon rests in a nest of blue and buff paper. Uncle Sam is a Fourth of July mascot that must not be forgotten. He is represented by a candy box by a bisque doll's head provided with a tall hat and cotton batting hair and whiskers the head being set in a tall paper collar. Tiny silk flags add an appropriate touch. The Liberty Bell with its appropriate date is intended for bonbons; but there are also much larger Liberty bells which may be filled with souvenirs and hung over the dining table. Thin tissue paper, pasted over the end of the bell holds in the small tissue wrapped souvenirs and one good whack with a cane breaks the paper and the little gifts come showering down before the guests.

A woman living in the suburbs is planning a Fourth of July bridge party which is sure to prove interesting and original as well as patriotic. This fortunate possessor of a large lawn is planning to have her six bridge tables set out under the trees and each guest having promised the loan of the family flag for the occasion, there will be a splendid decoration of red, white and blue floating and draped bunting. The tables will be covered with square of white blotting paper on which small flags are to be drawn with colored crayons, and the tally cards will be in the shape of shields tied with iridescent ribbons.

The prizes will be presented in boxes wrapped in silk flags and tied with red ribbon; and the refreshments will include ices in the form of Liberty bells and cannon and chicken salad served in boxes shaped like cocked hats.

Another hostess is planning for a Fourth of July cotillion and as this festivity will, of course, take place in the evening, the verandas and lawn are to be hung with Chinese lanterns and the flag decorations confined to the porch and parlors. Little red and white parasols are to be given away in one favor square, red, white and blue work basket in another, and for the men there will be paper cocked hats, sword scarf pins and the like. The band will play all the National airs for two-steps, and the popular favorites of the moment. The host and hostess will receive their guests garbed as the Father of his Country and sweet Martha Washington.

TILLMAN COUNTY WANTS HUNTER TOWNSHIP

Meeting at Frederick Decides Upon Definite Action to Receive Township.

(Frederick Leader)

After receiving the news of the Oklahoma supreme court Tuesday dissolving Swanson county, as told in Tuesday's Leader, a meeting was held in the court room to decide the best action in regard to the re-annexation of Hunter township into Tillman county. Judge S. H. Hodges was named as chairman.

A committee consisting of H. P. McGuire, J. M. Carr and T. E. Campbell was appointed to take the matter up with the governor and ascertain his views on the matter, acting in conjunction with ex-Mayor Zumwalt, who had already gone to Oklahoma City.

The position is that Hunter township voted two years ago to come in to Tillman county, and the county has never voted to receive it as a whole, so the consensus of opinion is that the governor should at once call this delayed election and allow Tillman county to vote on the proposition of voting on the matter.

A committee consisting of J. M. Carr, E. F. Zungat, T. E. Campbell, H. P. McGuire and C. S. Rosson was appointed to confer with the county commissioners regarding the bearing of the expenses necessary in any preliminary work toward taking the township into the county.

The following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, heretofore a proper petition was signed and presented to the excellency of the governor for and on said state of Oklahoma for and on behalf of the citizens of Hunter township in Kiowa county, and

"Whereas, the said governor by proclamation called an election in said territory, to vote upon the proposition of whether or not said territory should be detached from said Kiowa county and be annexed and become a part of said Tillman county; and

"Whereas, at said election more than the required number of votes were cast in favor of said proposition;

"Therefore be it resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that we petition his excellency the governor of said state of Oklahoma, and earnestly urge him to immediately publish his proclamation calling an election in the said county of Tillman to vote upon the proposition of whether or not said described territory shall be annexed, attached to and become a part of said county."

The meeting was adjourned to await news from Oklahoma City.

Snyder Wants In, Too.

If Tillman county annexes part of Kiowa county, Snyder wants to be included in the transfer. A leader representative, who was in Snyder Tuesday evening, found sentiment strongly in favor of annexation to Tillman county.

A meeting of a number of business men was held there Tuesday night which was attended by Sheriff Carter and the leader representative. The Snyder people at this meeting said they believed that if action of the supreme court in dissolving Swanson county felt that the only way for Snyder to get out of Kiowa county, and that is the desire of Snyder.

The Snyder citizens who discussed the matter are desirous of having a strip extending 12 miles north of the present Tillman county line, and running entirely across Kiowa county, become a part of Tillman. They have figured the matter out and say that this could be legally done, as it would still leave Kiowa county larger than Tillman county. This would run the north line about a mile north of Snyder, and would include all that part of the Oklahoma City and Quannah branch of the Frisco railroad which is in Kiowa county. This would add greatly to the assessed valuation of the county.

Friberg and Thornberry.

G. E. Friberg returned from Stamford the first of the week where he had been looking after interests.

Mrs. A. C. Friberg went to Wichita Falls last Thursday to spend a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Karrenbrock.

Mrs. J. D. Cooper and daughter Naomi were not so great victims of the hailstorm Saturday as was first reported. They are about their work. C. O. Quarntorn, Geo. Musgrove, E. E. Byman and N. B. Singletary were out in the storm and bear marks of the same.

The first sign of the hard times was shown by the offering last Sunday in the Friberg Sunday school of $145. This school has not fallen below the $2 mark for months before.

The recent hail storm did great damage to pastures. The hail cut the grass off and the heavy dash of rain washed it away. The condition is just reversed from what it was now, plenty of water but practically nothing to eat. The rainfall was varied but in the center of the course of the cloud 2 inches fell. Hundreds of chickens are reported killed in this vicinity.

The regular services will be held at the Methodist church at Thornberry next Sunday.

Harley Friberg's new home is rapidly nearing completion. It is enclosed and the roof is on.

Commissioner McCleskey of Iowa Park, drove over to Wm. Friberg's in his new auto Saturday afternoon returning the same evening with Mr. and Mrs. Harley Friberg, who spent Sunday with him. Mrs. Friberg is his daughter.

Miss Sibly Moore went to Wichita Falls Monday to spend a week with her sister, Mrs. James Sides.

GRAFTING NEWSPAPERS.

From Ft. Worth Record.

In these days of graft and easy money we hear a lot about the favorite stunts of the get-rich-quick gentry. We read day after day of their doings and wonder at their boldness and craftiness which enabled them to get away with it. We hear of this hoodler and that grafter and rejoice at the luck of chance which exposed him to the naked eye, and when he gets his just deserts we chortle and chuckle and lift a limping voice to cry out in paen of praise for the fine hand that brought the scamp to book.

The hot polio and the dear public, the preacher and the publican, the pharisee and the hay-seed, all join in the chorus when the grafter is exposed and the country saved.

But the biggest lot of graft in this country is read about every day and none out side of the newspaper shyns know it. Day after day the newspapers carry indisputable evidence of hold-ups that are the real and genuine thing and yet there is none to raise a hand or let out one little "nay" of protest. These hold-ups are not of the bloody and scintillating Dick Turpin kind. They are prosaic and without flourish. But they get there just the same. Nor would you guess for a month unless you happen to be in the hold-up or the held-up. For it is the newspapers that are held up. Every man, woman and child in the average community feels that it is their proud privilege, a right guaranteed them by a custom more binding than any written constitution or unwritten law, to work the newspapers to the last limit of endurance. They will put up any kind of a tale, employ any threat or tell any amazing yarn that occurs to them to graft space in a newspaper and count themselves smart when they succeed and howl with wrath from the house tops when they fall down. The fact that a newspaper has done an individual or a class a thousand favors does not save it when it is compelled to deny some outlandish and outrageous effort to hold it up beyond the limit of endurance. No one knows so well as the man who makes a newspaper that gratitude is a lively sense of favors to come. No man has survived six months in this game without finding this out to his sorrow. Nor is there any limit to the pristine and gorgeous gall of those who try day in and day out to work the papers and graft space which they should pay for. Nor is any class immune from the practice not one in a thousand cares two raps for the newspaper it tries to work. Not one in ten thousand stops to think that a newspaper is a rather expensive institution to operate and has to depend for revenue on the space it can sell for legitimate advertising.

A man who would resort to beg a dollar from a stranger in the street will march into a newspaper office and seek to get a dollars worth of advertising "free-gratia-and-for-nothing" and when he is politely told to chase himself down stairs and do business in a business way, he will fog himself up in a high dudgeon and howl about the indignity which has been offered him. Big people and little people, wise people and fools all try the game and the gall of one is only matched by the gall of the other. But when it comes to paying the bill for creating the newspaper they try so industriously to bunko they fade away like the gas meter when the bill is over due.

The street car company demands its fare before you ride, the gas man gets his money or the stove refuses to smoke-up, the electric light man must be paid or one may repent his folly in the dark, the butcher, the baker and the candle stick maker all tell you frankly that they are not in business for their health's sake, but for the newspaper to advise some innocently grafting citizen that it costs real money to produce a newspaper is to set that individual on the trail of a vindictive and revengeful nemesis who makes Rome howl!

Funny, isn't it, how many people think they own a newspaper simply because they borrow one from a neighbor now and then to find out what the world is doing.

Only one more day left for June brides.

Anybody can make a reputation now as a weather forecaster. There is not one chance in a dozen of missing it if he will simply content himself by predicting "fair weather."

Manufacturing enterprises located in Wichita Falls pay large dividends. In fact one concern boasts that it paid 30 per cent cash and 30 per cent stock dividend in one year, and that is going some. One cause for this is that natural gas is used as a fuel and while the present price is reasonable, there is a move on foot to get lower rates, in which event manufacturing enterprises may be expected to pay larger dividends.

On the question of prohibition long experience and reflection convince me that when thirty years ago I opposed prohibition in a speech in the Senate I did wrong. I deplore the error and if strength will last me I will correct the evil then done by an address to the people. The iron had not then entered into my soul, for the saloon has left me desolate in my old age. It is the king evil of the century and all our laws to regulate it have only been mockery, a delusion and a snare. Not one saloon could exist in Austin, where nearly a thousand young men with heads on their faces are in the University and are prohibited from drinking in a saloon if a vigilant detective force was at work—Judge A. W. Terrell.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE CLEBURNE SERIES

Much interest is being manifested in the double header ball game to be played at the Lakeside Park on Sunday afternoon with the Cleburne team and the indications are that the attendance will show a decided improvement if it does not compare favorably with that of any game during the season. Not only will the occasion attract by virtue of there being two games instead of one, but there are many who are anxious to see Cleburne and Wichita Falls again in a contest, especially since the former has taken the lead in the pennant race and relegated the Irish Lads to second place for the first time since the season opened Cleburne has only recently defeated Altus three straight games and indications are that the Johnson county capital is going to be a strong contender for the championship of the last half of the season in the event that the league organization is maintained.

There are other matters in connection with the contest with Cleburne that will render the series especially interesting, one of which is the fact that Gibson who played with the Irish Lads last year is now catching for the Cleburne team and having been a favorite here his many friends will be glad to have him on the local diamond again although with the opposing team. Another drawing card will be Hiett, the pitcher, who it will be remembered pitched one of the most remarkable games of the season on the last visit of the Cleburne team, securing fifteen strike-outs and holding the Lads down for thirteen innings.

These incidents are the occasion for and justify the unusual interest in the games of Sunday, the first of which is to be called at 2:30 p. m.

Miss Maude Scott from Louisiana who has been the guest of Mrs. H. H. Hines left this afternoon for Iowa Park at which place she will visit relatives.

Mrs. H. J. Summers and little child left today for an extended visit with relations and friends at Sarles, N. D. Mr. Summers accompanied them to Fort Worth.

THE ENGLISH SPARROW.

While the cry in the South and East seems to be "Swat the fly," Kansas is coming to the front with another, "Kill the sparrow." The English sparrow drives away our beautiful song birds and steals from the farmer his grain and fruit. He should be regarded as a pest and should be placed in the same category as flies and mosquitoes.

In many schools the children are taught that no opportunity to destroy sparrows together with their nests, eggs and young should be lost. Others oppose this because they have an idea that "to kill the least of God's creatures is murderous" or because they do not believe that children can discriminate between nests of sparrows and those of other birds, and if they should once begin to rob nests it would not stop with sparrows. But experience has shown that children can discriminate and that they can be taught early to love our song birds, and that love for them means hatred for that vermin pest, the English sparrow.

The extinction of the great auk the passing of the wild pigeon and the turkey is sad, but nothing to be compared with the wholesale reduction of our smaller birds, blue birds, swallows, warblers, etc., due to the invasion of this wretched foreigner. We are with the people of Kansas in their attempt to wage unceasing warfare against this feathered pest whose vulgar bithering and maudlin mirth is a blot on nature.—Bohann News.

BATTING RALLY IN SEVENTH CAME NEAR TYING THE SCORE

Durant, Okla., June 29.—In one of the most brilliant games of the season Durant yesterday defeated Wichita Falls 3 to 2. In the first innings only twenty-one of the visitors faced Corzene. The first of these got a base on balls and another a single, but both were speedily cut out, off by brilliant double plays. With two down in the first inning, three singles and a hit batter netted the Educators two runs. A batting rally with two down in the ninth, gave Wichita Falls one run and came near tying the score. The Educator's brilliant fielding was the feature of the game. Epling was injured while at bat in the fifth, adding another player to Durant's hospital list. Patterson of the disbanded Sapulpa team arrived yesterday to take the place of Shortstop Burge, who is injured, and Hornbuckle, late of Bonham, will arrive today to relieve Catcher Conner who is sick.

Altus outplayed Cleburne at every point and the fielding of Frierson was the feature of the game; being the most sensational ever seen here on the local diamond. He made three seemingly impossible catches and made a one-handed stop of a line drive to center and threw the batter out at first.

PRETTY HOT WEATHER TO TALK COFFEE!

Winter of course is the real coffee season, but at the same time its a fact that a cup of good coffee correctly made is a life saver these hot mornings when you can eat no breakfast—its food and drink in one—It produces contentment of mind, allays hunger, mental and bodily weariness, increases the capacity for work, makes man forget his troubles and anxieties, enabling those who use it judiciously to endure unusual fatigue and remain a long time without food or sleep, as well as to preserve their temper and cheerfulness. Now to make this kind of coffee you want the very best, well aged coffee—scientifically blended and FRESH ROASTED—That's where we come in. Tell us what you like in coffee and we will suit your taste
