PAPER ESPOUSES

TREVINIO'S CAUSE

EL CONSTITUCIONAL ISSUED AT EL PASO INAUGURATES CAMPAIGN

SAYS MADERO IS TRAITOR

Is Called False Prophet Who Harbors The Cancer of Treason

By Associated Press. San Antonio, June 30.—The candidacy of General Geronimo Trevino for the Presidency and Fernando Iglesias Calderon for the vice presidency was formally launched here today by the establishment of a paper called the El Constitucional, edited by Elara Arvalo. The paper purports to stand for law, the people and the country of Mexico, but no hint is given as to whether the Cientificos are back of it. The paper addresses a solemn call to all Mexicans to join the ranks of the enlightened grand constitutional party of Mexico—a party to unify and organize the same elements of the republic and a sound effective democracy which will give practical results and not Maderist promises. In a call headed "Arise Mexicans," Francisco I. Madero is treated to criticism. Under the heading "Down with the traitors," which reads as follows: "Don Francisco I. Madero, the false apostle of the people and his country harbors the cancer of treason and seeks to usurp the rights of the people and the country. Since the first Madero there has flowed in their veins the blood of a race of traitors." The El Constitucional calls attention to the fact that since Madero has secured the ascendancy Mexican securities have taken a decided drop on foreign curbs.

Victim of Highwaymen Goes Home in Barrel. Posses of citizens are searching the caves and mountains about Oxford, N. J., for outlaws who steal anything from a horse and wagon to the shoes on a man's feet.

William Almer was halted on the street by one crowd of three robbers, who drew pistols and marched him into a grove of trees. The bandits then forced him to strip off every stitch of clothing, even his shoes and socks. They made off with the clothing, leaving him naked in the woods, a victim of countless hordes of mock quites, until he found a barrel and went into town in it.

TEN KILLED IN

BUFFALO ACCIDENT

FOUR OTHERS SEVERELY INJURED IN COLLAPSE OF ROOF AT PUMPING STATION

SOME BURIED 50 FEET

It Will Be Hours Before Their Bodies Can Be Reached By Rescuers

By Associated Press. Buffalo, June 30.—Ten were crushed to death and four severely injured in the collapse of a roof and other portions of the Buffalo Water Works new pumping station at the foot of Porter avenue on the Lake front. The dead were buried beneath tons of steel, brick and mortar. Most of the injured were on the roof at work. This roof is three hundred feet long and one hundred feet wide and about two hundred feet in height. This roof suddenly fell in from a cause yet undetermined. The fire and police departments rushed to the scene removing the upper strata of debris from which the dead and injured were quickly recovered. It will be hours before those buried in the pump house can be reached. They were installing machinery in a pit fifty feet below the first floor.

THREE PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM JAIL

Three prisoners made their escape from the city hall jail last night and had not up to this afternoon been apprehended by the officers. They forced a means of exit by prizing the bars from one of the rear windows, letting themselves to the ground by the means of an improvised escape.

Those escaping were Bill Hutchins, arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of drunkenness, and Floyd Light and S. K. Harvey in jail as a result of riding on a Denver train for which they were fined on a plea of guilty. The two latter are said to have come to this city from Seymour and only three days remained to complete their sentence.

FORMAL TRANSFER TO TELEPHONE COMPANY

Conveyance of Lot 7, Block 174 at Corner of Ninth and Scott Filed Today.

It will be remembered that some weeks ago Mrs. N. C. McIntyre sold to C. A. Gates of the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company lot 7, block 174, located at the corner of Scott and Ninth, mention of which was made at the time and as a result of which there was considerable speculation as to whether or not the purchase was in the nature of an investment on the part of Mr. Gates, or was intended as a site for a building for the company. In this connection a deed transferring the property to the telephone company for a consideration of $9,000 was filed in the office of the county clerk today.

The more recent transfer would indicate that the company intends the improvements accredited to them on the occasion of the deal with Mrs. McIntyre, which it is understood contemplates a modern office and exchange building of two stories and basement. Nothing definite has been given out regarding the proposed improvement, or when it will be inaugurated, but it is thought that the erection of the building will be one of the improvements in the reasonably near future, as a part of the work of improving the system which has been in progress along different lines for the past several weeks.

HINES EXPECTS TO PROVE AN ALIBI

WILL INTRODUCE RECORDS TO SHOW THAT HE WAS NOT IN CHICAGO AT TIME NAMED BY FUNK.

AN EMPHATIC DENIAL

Made By Witness to Testimony of Funk Concerning Contribution to Lorimer Fund.

Special to The Times. Washington, D. C., June 30.—With his pockets bulging with records Edward Hines resumed the stand in the Lorimer hearing today. Hines counsel sought to show by these papers that Hines was not in Chicago last February about the time Clarence S. Funk of the International Harvester Company claims Hines called upon him to refresh Funk's memory in regard to the famous Union League conversation in which Funk testified that Hines asked him to contribute ten thousand dollars.

In his testimony yesterday Hines said that Funk was anxious at all times to make the acquaintance of Lorimer.

"I should be very glad to have you arrange to introduce me to Senator Lorimer," is what Hines declares Funk said to him when they met in the Union League Club. Containing Hines quoted Funk further as follows: "The Senator (referring to Lorimer) must have been put to great expense in being elected. He should not be allowed to stand that expense and I should be very glad to contribute to a fund to defray that expense."

"Did you then and there say to Funk 'Yes, it cost you $20,000 to put Lorimer over, and I have been trying to see you to get you to contribute; we have to collect the money quietly'?" asked Judge Hynes, counsel for Hines. He repeated in the question a part of Funk's testimony.

"No," replied Hines. "Did you suggest that he contribute $10,000?" "Absolutely no."

"You heard the testimony of Funk on this subject. Did any conversation take place between you and Funk ever that place?" "In no shape, form or manner."

"Did you participate in any way in the collection of money to reimburse anybody who had paid out money to elect Lorimer?" "No, sir."

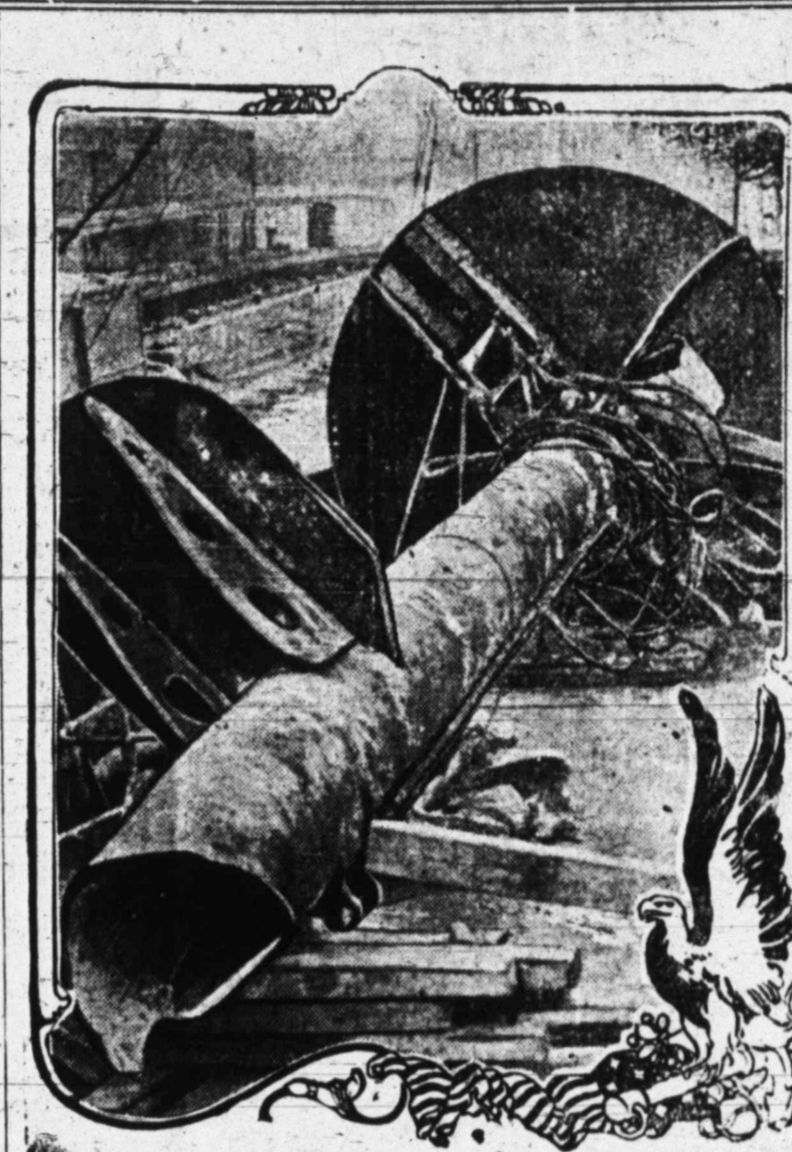

"What thought or impression came to your mind when Funk expressed pleasure at Mr. Lorimer's election?" Judge Hynes further asked.

"I thought he was trying to curry favor with the Senator."

"Why should he come to you to curry favor with Lorimer?" asked Senator Kenyon.

"I don't know, except that he might have thought I was close to the Senator," was the reply.

Hines said that he acquainted Senator Lorimer with the proposition advanced by Funk that he, Funk, be permitted to make a contribution Lorimer. Hines said, expressed surprise, because he had regarded Funk as his political enemy. In this talk with Lorimer, Hines said the Senator told him that he had been at no expense at Springfield.

The steel foremast of the old battleship Maine, being raised at Havana Harbor, which has been brought to New York, where it will be erected as a flagstaff at the headquarters of the Department of the East of the army on Governor's Island. The historic mainmast was carried on the Ward Line steamship Bayama and its size made it necessary for it to be placed uncovered on the foredeck of the vessel, where covered with rust, barnacles and other shell formations, showing the effects of its long sojourn at the bottom of the sea, it was an object of almost abnormal interest to the liner's passengers, who wanted to cut pieces from it as souvenirs. The mast is pitted and broken and twisted in places.

WICHITA FALLS WILL BE GIVEN GOOD SPACE

Secretary Day of the Chamber of Commerce today received a letter from S. N. Mayfield, secretary-manager of the Texas Cotton Palace at Waco in continuation of correspondence heretofore had, in which he offers to the local organization space in the Cotton Palace coliseum fronting 16 feet by 8 feet deep near the entrance to the building either on the east or the west side the space to be furnished free of charge as heretofore intimated in The Times. In addition to the offer thus made Mr. Mayfield further advises that premiums will be offered for the best exhibits as follows: $75 for the best exhibit, $50 for the second best and $25 for the third.

In connection with his communication Mr. Mayfield expressed a special interest in Wichita Falls, stating that he was disposed to call this city his home as a result of a residence of five years here. He expressed a desire that the county be represented at the Cotton Palace exhibition in November.

While no action has been taken by the Chamber of Commerce with reference to the matter it is possible that arrangements will be made in due time to take advantage of the offer made by the management of the exhibition.

Advertising Club Attracts Notice. That the Wichita Falls Advertising Club is attracting quite a little attention is evidenced by the number of communications received by Secretary Day from the different parts of the country, including the eastern cities. Among the letters received today was one from Printers' Ink at New York, one of the most noted publications in the country, in which the editor refers complimentary to the prominence attained by this city as a result of its association with this important fast growing organization and urges that any item of interest from Wichita Falls will be cheerfully published in connection with the policy of this journal in promoting such matters as are of interest along publicity lines.

Another communication of special interest and which demonstrates a lively interest in this city is that from the president of the Advertising League of the city of Dallas. This letter, among others received today, facilitated this city on the prominence it has attained in the world of publicity and volunteered the co-operation of the organization of that city at any time that they could be of service to Wichita Falls.

THOMPSON DISMISSED DEFENDANT REMANDED

Indictment Defective and Verdict Set Aside By Court on Robbery Charge. Because the indictment on which he was convicted was defective in that it failed to allege by proper averment that the money taken was the property of McNally the prosecuting witness or that any person deprived of its use was entitled to the same, Judge Dickson in the district court this morning dismissed the verdict against R. H. Thompson and he was remanded to await the action of the grand jury which reconvenes on July 10th.

The indictment was drawn by Judge P. A. Martin who was district attorney at the time the grand jury returned the indictment. No other criminal cases are set for trial this week and Judge Dickson returned to his home at Seymour this afternoon.

Monday another trial of York, the man charged with forgery and passing forged instrument ja set. An important witness for the state has been brought here and placed under bond for the trial.

CRAZED MOTHER'S HORRIBLE DEED

Cut Throats of Three Children and Then Hung Himself to An Old Windmill. By Associated Press. Plainville, Texas, June 30.—Mrs. McLarry, of Los Angeles, California, while visiting here yesterday cut the throat of her three children with glass, killing them, and then hanged herself.

Mrs. McLarry was a daughter of Mrs. R. M. Hamilton, with whom she was stopping. Crazy by the heat the mother sometime yesterday led her three tots, aged three months, three and five years respectively to a vacant house near her mother's home. This house is in a lonely neighborhood with rank weeds about it and a windmill at the rear. Taking the children one after another into separate upstairs chambers, the mother knifed them, throwing their bodies through windows into weeds, outside, which hid them. She then hanged herself to a cross piece of the windmill frame work. Searchers got all day yesterday afternoon did not find the bodies until night.

BLANK CARTRIDGE LOSING ITS DREAD

Coming Fourth of July to Be a Noiseless One—Many Lives Saved

(Journal of American Medical Association)

We have every reason to hope that the annual crop of tetanus cases will not be so large after the Fourth of July celebration as in previous years, for the "same Fourth" movement seems to show a healthy growth, and tetanus occurs only in those places that still tolerate an insane Fourth. In 1909 there were reported 1,225 blank-cartridge wounds with 150 cases of tetanus, while in 1910, largely as a result of improved control of celebration by municipalities, only 150 blank-cartridge wounds were inflicted—a mere trifle—causing but seventy-two cases of tetanus, of which taken place, we are still of the opinion that about sixty-seven were fatal. Even though this great improvement has the primitive custom of celebrating Independence day by explosives, is not worth the 131 lives and 2,792 injuries of greater or less severity which it cost last year. Enough others seem to be of the same opinion to assure a decreased expenditure of life, blood and cuticle for the 1911 celebration, but not enough to reduce this to zero.

It is still necessary to impress on practicing physicians the fact that, however, many accidents may occur, the loss of life from tetanus is almost entirely preventable. Sixty-seven deaths from tetanus last year means that at least sixty-seven lives might have been saved by prompt injection of antitoxin immediately after the wound was received. Undoubtedly in many cases this failure was caused by the neglect of the patient or his parents; but not a few failures, we regret to say, rest on the shoulders of the attending physician.

Surely after all the years in which the danger of tetanus from blank-cartridge wounds and the efficiency of tetanus antitoxin as a prophylactic have been heralded in the medical press, there is no reasonable excuse for such neglect. It should be remembered that the percentage of deaths from blank cartridge wounds in last year's celebration was greater than from bullet wounds, only 10.2 per cent of the latter—causing death, while 12.7 per cent of the blank cartridge wounds were fatal.

The experience of each year as to both Fourth of July injuries and ordinary traumas, strengthens the standing of tetanus antitoxin as a prophylactic agent, especially when given immediately after the wound is received. We would particularly emphasize, however, that antitoxin is not a substitute, but an accessory to thorough surgical cleansing and also that the most thorough surgical care without antitoxin is no proof against tetanus when blank cartridge wounds are under consideration. It must be realized that the cleansing of these wounds is a major operation, which can be performed only under complete anesthesia. The few recorded cases in which antitoxin has failed to prevent tetanus after suspicious injuries have usually occurred when a local infection has permitted the tetanus bacilli to live in the tissues until such time as the antitoxin has been eliminated or destroyed; hence in case in which suppuration takes place in the wound, repetition of the prophylactic injection should follow at intervals of from eight to twelve days until complete healing has taken place. Neither should antitoxin be omitted when patients are not seen until the wound is several days old but rather it should then be given in large doses, for although not certain to prevent tetanus when given this late, yet it tetanus does arise the prognosis is decidedly better if antitoxin has been used.

As to the curative treatment of tetanus there still falls to be a decided step in advance. The magnesum sulphate treatment contains an element of danger which should limit its use for the present to large clinics and hospitals, where all conditions can be controlled, and where expert consideration can be given to the procedure. Unhappy use of antitoxin is apparently advisable after symptoms of tetanus have manifested themselves, and a review of the world's literature on the use of antitoxin gives strong indication that the intraspinal route is the method of choice. Not only is it theoretically advisable on the ground that antibodies injected into the blood are not secreted into the cerebrospinal fluid in large amount, but also because the clinical reports show distinctly higher percentage of recoveries in cases in which the antitoxin has been given in this way.

KANSAS DEMOCRATS AND PROHIBITION LAW

Topeka, June 30.—Nine-tenths of the Democrats of Kansas favor the Prohibition Law in this state, and would vote for it if given an opportunity. Such is the result of a circular letter sent out about a week ago to Democratic county committeemen over the state, from which many answers have been received. The letter was sent out to ascertain the feeling of Kansas Democrats on the subject of re submission, and was mailed to county committeemen by P. H. Souther, treasurer of the Democratic state central committee.

NEXT FEW DAYS WILL DECIDE FATE OF TEXAS-OKLAHOMA LEAGUE

Recent developments, with reference to the baseball situation in the Texas-Oklahoma League, especially since there is a possibility of the organization disbanding, has aroused an interest among the enthusiastic fans such as has not heretofore existed in the history of the game in this city. As matters now stand the situation seems to be one of doubtful proportion and even those in closest touch with the management are at sea as to what will be the developments of the next few days. The fact is, Wichita Falls people take too much for granted and seem to have gone ahead on the theory that the local team was as staple as sugar and coffee and was going to make a record for itself and the city regardless of the income to the company that has been putting up the expense during the season so far advanced. In this respect our people have made a mistake. They might just as well expect the Chamber of Commerce to secure factories and other enterprises for the city when the membership refused to pay its dues as to expect a baseball team to prosper when there was not enough patronage to justify the expense.

Of course the present management could and possibly would continue the team regardless of the income, but it must be remembered that other teams expect to profit from the attendance at Wichita Falls as a result of their percentage, win or lose, this city having a reputation of supporting meritorious enterprises, and it cannot be expected but that other teams in the league will be encouraged when they come to this place with such a noted reputation and only find that the receipts at the games are so small that the management must "dig up" in order to meet the guarantee provided in the laws of the organization. The matter is a serious one, especially to those who appreciate the value of a good team to this city, and while the contention is made that a winning team is a big advertisement for the city it must be remembered that a failure to patronize the national sport is a reflection upon our people and will be a serious hindrance if at any time we should seek admission in the more important leagues, such as the Texas, as has been frequently mentioned in the past few months.

True, our people have not been satisfied with the conditions from time to time, but that is neither here nor there, as the proper course to pursue would have been to take up the matter of dissatisfaction with the management and see that a correction was made, which likely would have been done if the matter had been brought to their attention in the proper way.

indifferent in the matter by reason of the fact that Wichita Falls was so far ahead that the team seemed almost invincible, permit The Times to say that they are now in third place and indications are such that it will be a hard fight to win the second half of the series. Other teams have strengthened, while the Lads are not playing the same class of ball that characterized their early efforts and it promises to be a fight to a finish as to who finishes in the lead in the latter half. As matters now stand it seems that Cleburne has the call, occupying as it does the first place in the percentage column. For this reason the double-header at this place on Sunday with that team should by all means attract the largest crowd that has ever assembled at Lakeside Park which event prospects will be much more favorable for a continuation of the season. Otherwise indications are good for the league to "blow up" early next week, a result that would be deplorable by every citizen of the city.

Review at Buckingham Palace

London, June 30.—The picked troops who came here for the coronation from the Overseas Dominions and from India were reviewed by King George at Buckingham Palace this morning. The event concluded the long list of coronation ceremonies and festivities which have kept London astir since the beginning of June.

The scene on the terrace was a very brilliant one, the European military and levee dress being quite outstanding by the splendid apparel of the Indian princes. The great lawn below the terrace was a marvelous sight in red, yellow, green and blue. The Sikhs, Bengalese and other Indian contingents made a strong contrast to the khaki-clad troops from Canada, Australia and other parts of the empire.

At the word of command lances, rifles and carbines were grounded and the contingents one by one led past the royal canopy, saluting their Majesties and receiving medals commemorating the coronation.

It contained the information that B. B. Billard, mayor of Topeka, probably will be a re submission candidate for governor, and that George H. Hodges a strong Prohibitionist, also is expected to make the race for the Democratic nomination.

ed leave no doubt in the minds of the local committee where the Kansas Democrats stand upon the subject of re submission of the Prohibition Law, and may result in the withdrawal of Mayor Billard from the race, the majority favoring the law being so overwhelming.

LOCATION OF I. O. O. F. HOME MAY NOT BE MADE THIS YEAR

J. T. Young, who was appointed by the local lodge of Odd Fellows to take up the matter of locating the additional widows' and orphan's home at this place, has been in correspondence with the committee with reference to the matter and has been given the assurance that this city will have an opportunity to bid for the location and that the offer and the advantages will be carefully investigated when the matter is taken up. The committee, however, in a letter received by Mr. Young Thursday that they will not take up the matter for sometime on account of the droughty conditions existing in the state and that it was possible that the matter would be deferred altogether for this year. In this connection it may be stated that the matter is entirely in the hands of the sub-committee which is expected to secure the best offers proposed by such cities as desire the home, the idea being to locate it at the point offering the best inducements the surroundings considered.

Mr. Young, who is giving the matter every attention that the progress of the movement requires, is of the opinion that a selection will not be made for sometime, yet and he is very hopeful that Wichita Falls will be able to make a good showing when the time comes. Of course if the institution is secured for this city Mr. Young and the local lodge must have the hearty co-operation of the entire citizenship in the matter and this is to be expected in the usual "Wichita Way." The institution will be well worthy of a strong effort, as the home will be a credit to the city that is fortunate enough to secure it.

HORSES DISAPPEARING IN KANSAS WHEAT FIELDS

Binders and Headers Used in Reaping
Wheat and Oats Are Driven by Gasoline Motors.

Topeka, June 30.—Horseless harvests soon will become as common in the big wheat fields of Western and Central Kansas as the preparation of the ground for fall seeding of wheat in which big engines are used. Gasoline line engines for pulling "harvesting machines" came into use in Kansas for the first time this year. Wichita and Hutchinson men also have invented a machine that cuts and threshes the wheat at the same time. It is motor driven. This machine is just now being tested in various parts of the state.

Two or three types of motor driven harvesting machines are in use in Kansas this year. Some of the machines are headers and small motors drive the machinery, while horses pull the outfit. There is also a binder-made which is pulled by horses, but they have none of the work of cutting and binding the wheat, and oats. A small motor does all this work. The motor is set under the machine and is connected with the machinery by a set of pulleys that reduces the speed of the gasoline motors to that required by the binders.

D. F. Penner and Jacob Balzer owning big farms near Inman, have completed their harvest and not a horse was used in the field except to wagon. Huge gas motors pulled the harvesting machinery, and the same gas tractors will be used in running the big threshing machines, and later in pulling the plows and cultivators. Both Mr. Penner and Mr. Balzer came to America from Southern Russia. They were used to the primitive methods of harvesting wheat by hand with scythes. It is a far cry from the old reaping hook which they used in Southern Russia to the huge machines which they now use in gathering their crops.

HAS BEEN A PRIEST FOR FIFTY YEARS

Baltimore, Md., June 30.—Cardinal Gibbons today rounded out half a century as a priest of the Roman Catholic Church and a quarter century as a member of the Sacred College a combined distinction which no American ever before attained. It was on June 30, 1861, that the prelate was ordained to the priesthood, and it was on June 30, 1886, that he was invested with the princely insignia by the Pope.

The double jubilee was permitted to pass today without any special observance beyond the special masses celebrated throughout the diocese and the receipt by his Eminence of a large number of congratulatory letters and telegrams from friends and admirers throughout America. Added to the American greetings were felicitous messages from the Pope and from personal friends at the Vatican.

Cardinal Gibbons' jubilee was celebrated some weeks ago by a great non-sectarian gathering in this city which was attended by President Taft, ex-President Roosevelt, Chief Justice White and many other notables. About the middle of October when the season is more suitable than at present, the ecclesiastical celebration will take place. At that time it is expected that the most noted prelates of the church in America will assemble in Baltimore to do honor to the Cardinal.

Next month Cardinal Gibbons will be 77 years old. He enjoys good health, although he is somewhat feeble, and he continues to perform the active duties of his office.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY IN KENTUCKY TOMORROW

Louisville, Ky., June 30.—On the eve of the Kentucky Democratic primary at the end of one of the most interesting and bitterly fought campaigns the Blue Grass State has seen in some years, each of the factions and candidates expresses confidence and an unusually heavy vote is anticipated tomorrow.

Nominees for State officers from governor down are to be selected and a candidate endorsed for United States senator to succeed Senator Thomas H. Paynter, whose term will expire in March, 1913, and whose successor will be elected by the next legislature. Senator Paynter has withdrawn from the race leaving Congressman Ollie James the only aspirant.

Two aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination will fight it out in the primary. They are James B. McCreary, who formerly sat in the United States senate, and William Adams whose home is in Harrison county. Interesting contests are on for the nominations for lieutenant governor, auditor, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction and commissioner of agriculture, labor and statistics. Though the liquor question and various other State issues have been discussed the campaign as a whole has been conducted along personal lines and with rivalry of the several factions of the party playing the most conspicuous part in the fight.

This is My 56th Birthday.

Captain Caperton.
Captain William B. Caperton, U. S. N., who reached his present rank in 1908 in time to command one of the battleships in the famous around-the-world cruise of that year, was born in Tennessee, June 30, 1855. He graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1875 and his first sea duty was on the old Hartford, the flagship of Admiral Farragut during the civil war. His first command was that of the gunboat Marietta in the naval operations in Cuban waters during the war with Spain. Later he commanded the Prairie and the Denag. In the cruise of the American battleship fleet in 1908 Captain Caperton commanded the battleship Maine on the return voyage from Manila to Portsmouth, N. H. At present he is on duty in Washington as a member of the Naval Examining and Retiring Boards.

cheap gas will at least be sold in competition with the same class of products that are produced in other cities which use lignite, and other fuels more expensive than natural gas at prices now prevailing in Wichita Falls. If the manufacturer is to enjoy all the profits of cheap fuel, then he should not ask the public for assistance in securing it.

Wichita Falls has the advantage over many Texas cities in being provided with natural gas for manufacturing purposes. This enables the manufacturer to sell his product at as low a price as the product of manufacturers in other cities who are forced to use a coal, expensive fuel--such as lignite coal or oil, and when that is not the case there is every evidence that the manufacturer who is enjoying the use of the cheaper fuel is not treating the people of the town or city in which his plant is located right.

It will be remembered that some weeks ago The Times called attention to the fact that Secretary Day of the Chamber of Commerce had received an inquiry from a New York man asking for an analysis of the water at this place, the letter coming from the Farm & Ranch published at Dallas. Mr. Day very promptly gave the desired information and at the same time asked his correspondent as to the identity of the people who were interested in Wichita Falls to this extent. A reply was received today in which he was informed that the inquiry originated from the Pyle Pearl Line Co., of New York City, but his informant was not in a position to advise as to their object in seeking the information.

Mr. Day is unable to account for the inquiry but he will likely take up the matter with the New York firm in an effort to give them any further information that may be desired along legitimate lines and to interest them in Wichita Falls in any way that is calculated to be of benefit to the city.
