The Wichita State Bank

Wichita Falls, Texas

This Bank and Your Business

There are many banks in the country larger than The Wichita State Bank. They may have more capital and perhaps do a greater volume of business. But for the smaller business man, farmer or manufacturer, had it occurred to you that the small bank is the best place for the beginner to go?

The big bank is often cold-blooded and independent. Your business in the big bank is but an incidental detail, and your interests are scarcely noticed.

The small bank, however, can give your business more time and attention, for it is interested in your business.

This bank while in comparison to some of the large banks, has ample means and facilities to properly care for your business. Its officers have time to consider your interest and welfare. Your business will be welcome and will receive their best attention.

LEWIS WRITES

OWN FAREWELL

UNIVERSITY CITY FOUNDER SAID "MY WORK IS DONE, LET ME GO IN PEACE."

TEXAS WOMEN AFFECTED

Hands of Women Says It is a Political Necessity.

Wichita Falls women who invested in some of the enterprises of E. C. Lewis, founder of University City will be interested in a statement by Lewis in the Woman's National Weekly, a newspaper published by the Woman's National League with Lewis as editor.

The statement made by Mr. Lewis is very lengthy. A part of it is as follows:

"As for me, my work is done; let me go in peace. Long and hard has been the way. It is wise that I should no longer be your president for I have gathered to myself all the bitter enmities, malice of the most powerful interests in the country, who fear this great new power of organized womanhood, for as a representative of those that prey on the people has said: 'No man can tell what a woman will do.'"

I am hated as few men have been so fortunate to be hated, but I know that throughout this vast organization are many thousands who have long fought shoulder to shoulder with me and upstanders. To these the motives alone count, and though my enemies tear me limb from limb, in the hearts of the 'old guard' the memory of the struggles, the bitterness and the long desperate night marches that made it possible, can not be wiped away by all the glories of victory or by the misrepresentation, abuse and vilification of my enemies. Again have our suits against the Rural New Yorker been postponed by the desperate gang who sought through that journal our wreck and silence. A grand jury has been called to bring indictments against me to head off the congressional investigation set to begin July 12. Years ago this same trick was played. Several indictments were secured against me, for a man is helpless and not even permitted to know the charges and evidence presented to a grand jury before the indictments are returned. He is assassinated by a 'Criminal.'"

Then the fact of these indictments was spread broadcast in the press of the nation by Goodwin and his gang of postal spies. Special pamphlets were printed as public expense vilifying me, giving long catalogues of my crimes, calling attention that I had been 'indicted as a criminal' and spread broadcast over the nation by hundreds of thousands of the postal office department. Then the postal congressional investigation about to have been ordered, by personally calling on members of congress and protesting that as I had 'been indicted' any action by congress would prejudice the postoffice department's case and I was a bad man anyway or I would not have been indicted. For nearly three years these indictments were kept hanging over me and then dismissed by the government, until they had served their purpose, the wrecking of my enterprises, my ruin and a nationwide prejudice and misinformation against me.

Predicts "Revolt of Digest." Again is this trick to be played. Congress is about to openly investigate all the past lawless destruction of our properties and bring to bay those who wrought their ruin. An election is but a year away. If the rottenness, malice, graft and lawless oppression that has characterized the acts of those in power in these things is exposed by this congressional investigation a revolt of disgust and indignation will sweep the country.

It has become a political necessity that I be indicted as a criminal and if possible be railroaded into the penitentiary.

The whole power of the government's machinery has been for months past exerted to that end. The suits for receivers and bankruptcy were instigated and secretly engineered by the postoffice department as a part of this plan.

MRS. NAPOLITANO'S CASE.

Commutation is Certain and Pardon Even is Possible.

Sault Ste Marie, Ont., July 10.—While Attorney McFadden, for Mrs. Angelina Napolitano, condemned to death for the murder of her husband, has received assurances that the woman's sentence will be commuted he stated this afternoon that it was probable that a pardon also would be secured in a short time.

While as yet no official action has been taken on the commutation of the woman's sentence the attorney had expected the government to take up the case within a few days. Thousands of petitions are arriving every day at the governor general's office at Ottawa from all parts of Canada and the United States. These have had a strong effect on the Canadian government officials. Mrs. Napolitano knows nothing as yet of the efforts of hundreds of thousands of people in her behalf and is daily preparing for the birth of her child, expected next week, and then the gallows.

Every day priests visit the little cell in the stone jail and spend an hour with the condemned woman. She is hearing up bravely under the ordeal and inquires every day concerning the health of her four children now at the children's aid home at the Zoo.

The home is in receipt of a letter today from a woman in Goshen, Ind., whose name is withheld, who states that if Mrs. Napolitano should have to pay the death penalty, she will provide a home for all the Napolitano children, including the baby expected to be born soon.

FUEL BRIQUETS

FROM LIGNITE

Tests Show That Briquets Can Be Produced Without the Use of a Binder.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., July 10.—The Bureau of Mines, through its experiments at the Pittsburgh testing station, believes that it has developed a fuel supply for the western part of the country that will be of immense value. It has succeeded in making briquets without the use of a binding material out of lignite from California, Montana and Texas. Its use has been greatly restricted because of its tendency to slack or turn to dust shortly after it is mined and brought to the surface. Because of the great amount of moisture it contained, between 30 and 40 per cent, the lignite has been difficult to burn under boilers or in stoves. There is said to be 150,000 square miles of territory underlain by lignite and millions of acres belong to the government.

The Bureau of Mines, sometime ago conducted a series of experiments at the pumping plant of the Reclamation Service, at Williston, North Dakota, and succeeded in developing a furnace that would burn the lignite satisfactorily. But this did not solve the problem of the transportation of the lignite. The bureau therefore sent to Germany, where the briquetting of lignite is much farther advanced, and obtained from the country a powerful briquetting machine. The experiments have gone far enough to indicate that lignite can be satisfactorily briquetted at a cost that makes the manufacture of briquets commercially possible.

The results of the experiments are contained in a bulletin "Briquetting Tests of Lignite," just issued by the Bureau of Mines. The author, C. L. Wright, says, "The results of the briquetting investigations conducted by the government are expected to prove of considerable value, not only to the government itself as the owner of extensive lignite deposits and the largest single purchaser of fuel, but also to the people in the regions where lignite is found. The problem of a fuel supply in those regions is of peculiar interest, for many of the lignite deposits are situated long distances from fields of high grade coal. The problem assumes still larger proportions when one realizes that the development of manufacturing industries in those regions depends upon the ability to obtain a cheap and satisfactory fuel."

Mr. Wright gives the approximate cost of briquets, loaded on cars, from a briquet plant located at the mines, as $2.51 in Texas; $3.53 in North Dakota; and in California as $5.24. This applies to briquetting run of mine lignite to improve its heat value and weather resisting properties, rather than to briquetting slack or waste coal. It is believed it will be possible to make briquets from the waste water coal, which will reduce the cost materially.

Copies of this bulletin No. 14 may be obtained by those interested by writing to the Director of the Bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C.

Charlie Yeary yesterday made an arrest on a charge of burglary the prisoner being charged with breaking into a tool house at the elevator across the river, from which a quantity of tools were taken. Entrance was effected by prying up a window in the building. The offender was apprehended as a result of his effort to dispose of some wrenches secured from the building. The prisoner was lodged in jail and the matter will be referred to the grand jury for investigation.

It has practically been decided by the prohibition and anti leaders to recommend to the county commissioners the appointment of the regular election officers for the statewide election on July 22. Several of these officers are disqualified under a recent ruling of the attorney general's department from the fact that they already hold public office. Others will be appointed in their places.

T. C. Thatcher, cashier of the First State Bank and Trust Co. has returned from a vacation in Colorado Springs. Mrs. Thatcher and children remained in Colorado Springs.

District court is still engaged in the trial of the case of Crawford vs. Huff which was begun last week. The time today has been consumed by the argument of attorneys and will likely be some time tomorrow before the case goes to the jury.

The commissioners' court met in regular session this afternoon, the time of the session being largely taken up in the consideration of the farm demonstration work an account of which appears elsewhere in this issue, and the discussion of the matter of good roads. Both propositions were deferred until an adjourned meeting to be held Friday, action on the road question being deferred to await the result of the mass meeting on Thursday, at which time it is expected that the court will be petitioned to order an election for the purpose of voting road bonds to the amount of $200,000.
