THE ELECTION FORECAST CANNOT BE FORECASTED

IN CLOSING HOURS OF GREAT STATEWIDE FIGHT BOTH SIDES ARE CLAIMING A VICTORY.

MANY COUNTIES ARE CLOSE

Big Majorities For Antis Conceded in San Antonio and Houston—Pros Do Not Concede Fort Worth and Dallas.

By Associated Press. Dallas, July 21.—It is North Texas against South Texas in tomorrow's statewide election according to dispatches received today from Associated Press correspondents on the closing of the campaign in cities, towns, and the more important county seats throughout the entire state.

It is noticeable, however, that the greater number of these claims or conceded majorities on either side are by a small margin. "Overwhelming majority" is almost an unheard of expression.

The campaign appears to have been the warmest in the populous sections of North and East Texas.

As indicated by today's claims throughout these sections it may be said that out of about fifty towns, the number where the pros claim a distinct majority and where the antis claims make an even break are about equal.

Today's summary of the campaign is notable for the absence of mention of more than sporadic charges of corruption on either side. These reports at least would indicate a clean fought campaign throughout the state.

With speaking making the mainstay for vote getting and comparatively few parades of women and children. At a few points tomorrow the women will serve refreshments to prohibition supporters. Jake Wolters today reiterates his claim for the state for the antis by seventy-five thousand.

Antis Will Carry El Paso. El Paso, July 21.—Indications are for the antis to win El Paso city and county tomorrow by about two to one and the heaviest vote in El Paso's history.

A Wide Discrepancy. Fort Worth, July 21.—Pros claim Tarrant county by 100 and the antis by 5000.

Bexar Conceded to Antis By 5000. San Antonio, July 21.—Pros concede an anti victory in Bexar county by 5000 while the antis claim 12,000 majority.

Both Claim Travis County. Austin, July 21.—Both sides claim Travis county by less than a thousand votes.

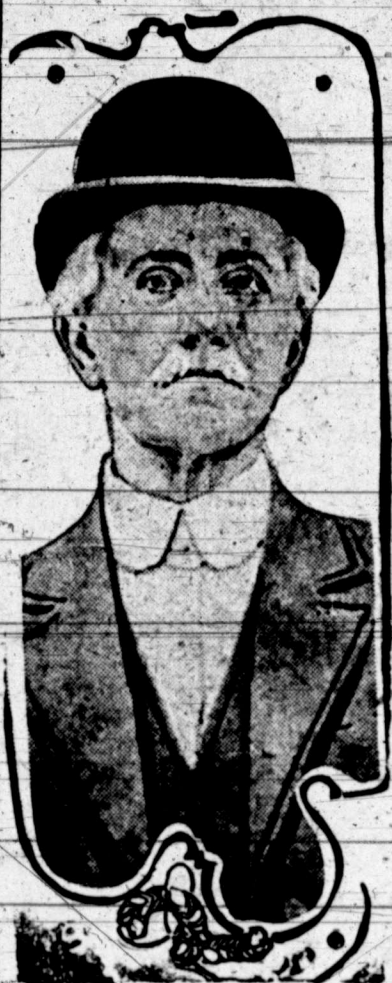

Jake Wolters Statement. Dallas, Texas, July 21.—J. F. Wolters, chairman of the anti-statewide organization of Texas, last night gave out the following statement:

In undertaking to forecast the result of the election on the pending amendment it would be useless to base it upon any other preceding election, for the reason that there will be probably from 150,000 to 200,000 votes cast by citizens who have not participated in Democratic primary elections.

The mere statement that in the Democratic primary election approximately 100,000 voters failed to vote upon the question of submission, and that submission carried only by an approximate 26,000 majority, sufficiently demonstrates that even among the Democratic voters the vote upon the submission question was not a test as to their views on statewide prohibition.

In addition to that it is known to all men familiar with conditions that probably 15 or 20 per cent of those who voted for submission in the Democratic primary are opposed to the adoption of the amendment itself, but merely voted for submission in order to end the agitation. These reports were received from 3,376 precinct chairmen and 254 county chairmen, showing an aggregate estimated vote to be polled of 457,647; out of which a majority against the amendment is shown to be 74,937.

Hugh Sweeney, eighty-three-year-old veteran of the Civil War, who was detained as an alien by the immigration authorities at New York when he arrived from a European trip aboard the Caledonian. The old soldier felt hurt by the action of the government of officials. He had in his pocket a receipt for pension money from the government, which he showed, but they declared that didn't prove he was a citizen of the United States, even if he had fought in the war. He had voted forty-eight times and told the immigration inspectors so, but they were adamant. "It was the first time my word was ever doubted," said the old warrior.

BIRDMEN WILL ARRIVE HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY

"The grounds at Lake Wichita are ideal" remarked Doc Harris, manager of the Pan-American Aero Company this morning after a trip to the lake, "and with good weather conditions the aviators should make record flights here. J. J. Pontius known as the 'Flying Dutchman' is one of the most dare-devil fool flyers in the aviation game today and has had many narrow escapes from the grim reaper. Before taking up aviation about a year and a half ago, Mr. Pontius was well known as an automobile racing driver and spoken of as the 'Crazy Dutch Pontius' for his frantic bursts of speed and long chances and to say the least, aviation has not settled him down any."

The machines will arrive here Wednesday, going directly to the lake where they will be assembled in the Hangar. The first flights will start Friday, July 28th at 4 p. m. the gates will be open, however, at 2:30 p. m. when all may have an opportunity to visit the Hangar and view the machines at close range.

Arrangements have been made by the Chamber of Commerce with the Traction Company whereby coupon tickets will be on sale down town on the days of the flights at 70 cents including transportation to and from the lake, also admission to the grounds.

Comiskey Buys Tex Jones.

Chicago, Ill., July 22.—President Comiskey of the Chicago Americans yesterday purchased "Tex" Jones from the St. Joseph Western League Club, to which he was sold by the Chicago team early in the season, after playing twenty games in uniform. President Taylor of the Boston Americans recently offered $5,000 for "Tex" but this bid is thought to have made Comiskey reconsider his early move in disposing of Jones.

A FALSE STATEMENT CORRECTED

Wichita Falls, Texas, July 21, 1911. Wichita Daily Times.

Gentlemen: I was reported in this morning's Daily News as having said in my speech last night the following: "Saloon men were murderers and all other kinds of criminals and that a man who supported them and voted for anti-prohibition are equally guilty."

I made no such statement; on the contrary, I said that I had nothing against the men engaged in the whiskey traffic, that the people had given them license to engage in that business and I had no words of condemnation to offer against the saloon men, but that I was bitterly opposed to the whiskey traffic. I did not make any statement which could be tortured into the above quotation.

Respectfully, A. H. CARRIGAN.

We heard Judge Carrigan's speech last night, and we unhesitatingly say that he did not make the statement above quoted, and which was copied from the Wichita Daily News of this date, and that he was misquoted by said paper.

NO PASSENGERS INJURED IN WRECK AT TRINIDAD

Mrs. R. E. Huff of this City Was On Train Which Went Into the Ditch.

Dr. G. B. Norris of Celeste, Texas, who is here today with his family on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Barnard, was on the Denver train No. 2, due here at 1:45 yesterday afternoon, and which was wrecked and delayed for more than eight hours.

The wreck of No. 2 occurred thirteen miles south of Trinidad, Colo., and was caused by a washout of a culvert. The engine was derailed in the creek and the engineer and a tramp who was stealing a ride were killed, and the fireman and two tramps were seriously injured. None of the passengers were injured, though most of them were considerably shaken up, and some were bruised.

The engine was in charge of Joseph Kirschraber of Trinidad. For five hours after the wreck his body could not be located, but was supposed to be under the engine. The tramp who was killed is supposed to be Louis Stevens of Waurika, Okla. In his clothing was found a teachers' certificate with that name, and it is thought he had gone west seeking a position, and failing to find it, was on his way home.

Mrs. R. E. Huff of this city, was a passenger on this train but was not injured.

United States Senator Jacob H. Gallinger, who has declared he may never return to Washington again.

Concord, N. H.—United States Senator Jacob A. Gallinger may never return to Washington again. It is understood he will not participate in the deliberations of the present Congress.

The reason given is that the deaths in his family have made him undecided as to the future. One after another his wife and three of their four children have died. He is in his seventy-fifth year and is practically alone, his surviving daughter living at Brookline, Mass. The funeral of Senator Gallinger's second son, Dr. Ralph E. Gallinger, who was killed in an automobile accident, took place at Concord.

UNEMPLOYED TO MEET AT CAPITOL

J. EADS HOW, MILLIONAIRE HOBO MEETING WITH HIS NATIONAL COMMITTEE IN NEW YORK.

USE OF SENATE CAMBER

Will Be Asked From President Taft. Will Demand Immediate Labor Legislation.

By Associated Press. New York, July 22.—There is to be a National convention of the unemployed in Washington in September. J. Eads Howe, the "Millionaire Hobo" and his National committee of the unemployed are in session here this week, laying plans for the big fall meeting. Among other things the committee has decided to make an appeal to President Taft for the use of the Senate Chamber for the sessions of the convention.

The main business of the convention will be to "formulate demands to be made on congress for immediate labor legislation."

Among these demands are the shortening of the work day, a minimum wage scale, the establishment of National Employment Bureaus and free transportation for the workers. According to a circular, these demands are made "in order that the lives of millions of unemployed may be sustained until the establishment of the industrial republic."

Claims Widely at Variance.

By Associated Press. Houston, Texas, July 21.—Chairman Geo. H. Breakey for the pros says his forces do not expect to carry Harris county, but that something like an even break would not be surprising. Chairman John C. Pena for the antis claims the county by five to one.

JUDGE CARRIGAN AND JUDGE MARTIN SPEAK

Judge P. A. Martin, who spoke on the court house lawn Thursday evening.

President De La Barra of Mexico, whose impeachment is demanded by Jose Maria Gamboa, former secretary to the Committee on Foreign Relations, because of his alleged culpable neglect of conditions at Puebla and Covadonga, which resulted in disorders entailing the deaths of scores of persons. The President, according to his censor, enjoyed wine and safety during the time he should have been taking official action. Gamboa took the matter before the Standing Committee of Congress of Mexico.

ARREST HORSE THIEF AT IOWA PARK

Constable Corbett of Iowa Park last night arrested a man at that place wanted on a charge of horse stealing, at Graham. When arrested the man was hitching the stolen horse, and went to the livery barn at Iowa Park for rest. The horse and saddle were the property of F. M. Bushing of Graham. The man was brought to Wichita Falls and retained in the county jail here over night and this morning Sheriff Brown of Young county and Mr. Bushing came up and identified the horse and took the young man back with them.

TO REOPEN DIVORCE DECREE AFTER 40 YEARS

New York, July 22.—The re-opening of a divorce decree granted forty years ago by the New Jersey Court of Chancery to the late James Givernaud of Los Angeles, of an estate valued at $500,000.

Mrs. Josephine Givernaud, of Lyons, France, who brings the suit, alleges that she wedded Louis Givernaud in 1860, and had two children, now in middle aged, by him. Givernaud, she alleges, deserted her in 1866, taking their joint savings of 44,000 francs to America, where she lost sight of him. The divorce which she seeks to upset was procured by Givernaud in 1871, five years later, upon the grounds of desertion.

Givernaud afterwards married, prospered as a silk manufacturer and dying in 1908 left his entire estate in trust for his son. Mrs. Givernaud claims it should revert to her and her children.

Interrogatories were prepared today to be sent to the U. S. Consul at Lyons, France, to be put to Mrs. Givernaud.

LATTER PAYS HIGH COMPLIMENT TO THE BUSINESS ABILITIES SALOON MEN.

Speeches Free From Abuse—Striking Figures Shown and Argument is Earnest.

In striking contrast to the attack upon the saloon men of Texas, made on the previous night by Hon. A. M. Kennedy, of Waco, an anti speaker, speaking under the auspices of the Wichita county anti prohibition committee, was the characterizations of the saloon men by Hon. A. H. Carrigan and Judge P. A. Martin, who spoke on the court house lawn Thursday evening. Kennedy was unsparring in his attack not only upon the saloons, but the saloon men as well. While on the other hand Judge Carrigan and Judge Martin, while not mincing words in describing the evils of the saloon, spoke in terms of the highest respect for the saloon men. "Many of the saloon men are my personal friends," said Judge Carrigan. "I hold them in the highest respect. I have every bit as much respect for the saloon men as I do the citizens who are in partnership with him."

Judge Martin paid high tribute to the business ability of the saloon men of Wichita Falls and declared that if their energies and abilities were directed in other business it would be a great thing for the commercial life of the city.

"The man who can do a successful saloon business is not an ordinary man. He is not an ordinary man who can withstand the temptations of that business. He must be above the average in self-control. I say these very men in the saloon business in this town have the qualities that would make them successful business men in other lines," said Judge Martin.

Judge Martin continuing his discussion of the saloon men said that the charge sometimes made by the anti that the saloon men would turn boot-leggers if prohibition is enacted was false. He said that the saloon men were not different from others. He then cited the cases of several men who were in the saloon business at Graham when whiskey was voted out there. Two of them entered other business and have prospered. One is now a steward in the Methodist Church and the other is a leader in the Baptist Church. Two other men who were in the saloon business at Graham became sheriffs of Young county. One succeeding the other, holding in all seven terms. The work of these men, he said, had driven every boot-legger from the county.

Neither speaker said one single word reflecting upon the character or reputation of any saloon man and their addresses were entirely free from personalities that could offend in the least.

Their addresses were heard by a crowd estimated from 1000 to 1200 persons and the speakers were frequently interrupted by earnest and enthusiastic cheers. Preceding the meeting a chorus of about fifty children carrying American flags were driven on floats through the business section of the city singing prohibition songs, arriving at the court house yard where the speaking was held the children mounted the band stand where they sang several songs.

The speakers were introduced by Chairman Bell.

Judge Carrigan said that whiskey had hurt his own family. He said that his father had been a follower of the doctrine of personal liberty. He had three boys who each fell victims of the liquor habit. "They have reformed now. It took local option to do it. I know it," said Judge Carrigan. "If you're going to vote for the saloons don't let your boys know it," he urged. "They say prohibition can't be enforced in Kansas, in Tennessee, in Georgia. We point to 168 dry counties in Texas. What's the matter with Texas? Isn't it an insult to Texas to say you can't enforce

WHO TELLS THE TRUTH?

"Prohibition is a failure wherever it has been tried."—Liquor papers and speakers.
The most reputable citizens living in 165 dry counties of Texas, say that prohibition is a marvelous success. Who tells the truth? These people living under prohibition, or liquor papers and politicians?
Chief Justice speaks:
"The closing of the saloons and joints has had an excellent effect upon the moral and material interests of the state. Among the consequences of prohibition are better homes, happier families, higher standards of intelligence and education, and of course a great reduction in crime. No statement or proof is needed to support the claim that these follow the enforcement of the prohibitory law. They are the natural and inevitable results and these have been realized in Kansas."—W. A. Johnson, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Kansas.
Who is telling the truth about prohibition in Kansas, Chief Justice Johnson or Texas liquor papers and politicians? There is a lie out somewhere. Who hatched it and how much did he get for hatching it?
Every man knowing that the prohibition law has been nullified by public officials ought to recognize the fact that it would be a serious blunder, subversive of good government, to repeal the statute at the lawless dictation of a few men. It is before us now does not so much involve the wisdom of the law as it does the advisability of permitting a community to decide what laws it will obey and what ignore and nullify. The doctrine of state nullification was summarily crushed by Andrew Jackson many years ago, and this modern doctrine of city nullification deserves no better fate. From inaugural Address of Governor Hooper, of Tennessee.

Letter to B. S. King.
Dear Sir: Messrs. Leachman & Edlin, Grafton, W. Va., had been selling a paint, which they thought well of; and this had occurred.
They had sold a customer 18 gallons of it to paint his house. A few years later, they sold the same man Devco lead-and-zinc the same number of gallons to paint the same house. He had 7 gallons left.
The point of the tale is: 11 gallons Devco paint an 18-gallon house.
Of course, that isn't all.
Why does 11 gallons Devco go as far as 18 gallons of other paint? Because it is all paint, all true, no sham, and full measure.
But that isn't all. Devco lasts longer. No, no; you haven't got to wait ten years to find that out. Ten thousand people know it. We've got their names. Our agents know them; they think a heap of Devco. There's no difficulty in showing your townspeople what to expect of Devco. $10 will paint a 15 house; and the paint'll last twice as long.
Yours truly,

BLUE AND GRAY MEET AT BULL RUN

STAR SPANGLED BANNER ENTWINED WITH CONFEDERATE BATTLE FLAGS DRAPE SPEAKERS STAND.

PRESIDENT TAFT SPEAKS

Deafening Cheers Greeted Names of Johnson, McDowell, Beauregard, Jackson, Lee and Pope.

Manassas, Va., July 21—An army of peace took possession of Manassas today. Thousands of men wearing the Blue and the Gray filled the old town. On the battlefield of Bull Run, near by was to be seen the canopy of war, but the implements of destruction and death were not there for the purpose that took them there fifty years ago. Nevertheless, they were reminders of those bitter days when thousands of the youths of the north and the south gave up their lives in the first great battle of the Civil War.

Manassas was beautifully and profusely decorated in honor of the veterans and of President Taft and other notables who came to take part in the semi-centennial celebration. Many of the visitors reached town yesterday, while the morning trains from Washington, Richmond and the West added thousands to the invading host.

There was no regular program mapped out for the morning exercises. It was "go as you please" with the visitors, and they took in the sights with a vigor that was remarkable, considering the age of the veterans and that some had come from a great distance.

At day break almost the crowd began to move toward the historic battlefield. Motor cars and other varieties of vehicles were pressed into service. The battle memorials were inspected and every bit of the rising ground was climbed to get a clear view of the field where the sons of the nation's best men went out for their country's best cause, and where the Confederate troops fought valiantly for what they thought right. The greater majority of the veterans had not visited the field since they fought in it.

It was remarkable how long and well the soldiers remembered the spot, every move, every order, every incident of the great conflict. They gathered in groups and pointed out to the wives, daughters and sons who accompanied the place where this or that commander held back the enemy so long. They talked of reserve corps and attacks on their right; of cavalry charges and defense by the left. As they wandered around they would see a monument or a marker on which the inscription would particularly attract their attention. They would figure out among themselves, throwing statistics to the winds, how many men were left of each brigade, regiment or company when the battle was over.

This afternoon the veterans and their friends returned to town for the formal exercises of the day. The exercises were of a simple but very impressive character. The speakers stand was located at the junction of Lee Avenue and Grant Avenue. Here President Taft, Governor Mann of Virginia, Congressman Carlson and other speakers of the day addressed the large and attentive audience. The speaker's stand was decorated with the red and white and blue of the star-spangled banner, entwined with the Confederate battle flags, showing the peace and harmony existing between the two. Assembled about the stand were hundreds of men wearing blue coats and brass buttons who had fought for the Union; there were other hundreds in gray suits and gray cap who had fought for the Confederacy.

President Taft and the other speakers were received with enthusiastic applause. The applause reached its height when various well known leaders of the Blue and Gray were recognized in the assemblage and given seats of honor on the platform. In voices tremulous with emotions natural to the occasion the several speakers delivered orations that were listened to throughout with deepest attention. Veterans of the Blue and Gray vied with each other in paying tributes to the other side. Deafening cheers greeted the names of Johnson, McDowell, Beauregard, Jackson, Lee, Pope and other commanders whose names will ever be associated with Manassas and Bull Run.
The addresses were followed with a pretty spectacle, emblematic of the reunited nation. It consisted of forty-eight maidens, each representing a state in the order in which they were admitted to the Union, each clad in red white and blue, and bearing the name of the state across her breast. As the maidens sang the national air there were few in the vast assemblage whose eyes did not fill with tears. As one old soldier remarked as he clasped

KEEPING TAB ON THE MINORS

The present is the tenth season in the Three-I League for Manager Dick Smith of the Decatur team.

Old "Pop" Hogriever now playing with the Appleton, Wis., team is leading the Wisconsin-Illinois League in batting.

The Lawrence team has been coming strong of late, and putting up a great fight for the New England League pennant.

Tom Griveau, star shortstop of the Hamilton, Ont., team in the Canadian League, has been sold to the Philadelphia Nationals.

When the Western Association went to the bottom Manager Art Riggs moved his entire team from Ft. Smith, Ark., to Huntsville, Ala., and entered the Southeastern League.

Manager Charlie Carr of the Utica New York State League team, has purchased Pitcher Oberlin from Wilkes-Barre. Oberlin formerly worked for Carr in Indianapolis.

Pitcher Swindell, of the Winston-Salem Carolina Association team, fanned fourteen men in a game against Anderson recently. The Carolina star goes to Cleveland next season.

The Texas League is showing about the hottest pennant struggle in the country. With fifty points or under separating the first seven teams is sure some struggling.

Lady Decies (Vivien Gould) in Her Coronation Robe

It will be noticed that Lady Decies is holding her coronet in her hand and is wearing a diamond tiara in her hair.
London.—It is possible that the mourning of Lady Decies will be shortened owing to her duties in connection with her social position.
Lady Decies has won much sympathy from the Queen owing to her story of her first season in London. The New York bride sandwiched an appendicitis operation between her presentation at court and the coronation. When physically fit, Mrs. Kingdon, her grandmother, died in Paris.
A royal command to Lady Decies would terminate her mourning officially, and it is probable that before Autumn she will have taken her place among the liveliest young hostesses.

Grogan Receives Letter From Wilson.

State of New Jersey, Executive Department, July 9, 1911. My Dear Mr. Grogan: You mistook me if you thought that I was treating your first letter as a communication of a politician, or if you supposed that I was trying in any way to avoid the important question you put to me: The reply I made was made in all sincerity. I believe that for some States state-wide prohibition is possible and desirable, because of their relative homogeneity, while for others I think that statewide prohibition is not practicable. I have no reason to doubt from what I know of the circumstances that statewide prohibition is both practicable and desirable in Texas. In my reply to you I was only trying to state what I think must always be kept in mind—the wide divergence of conditions which make it impossible to reply to any single question like those of prohibition in terms which would fit the whole country.
With much respect, cordially and sincerely yours,
WOODROW WILSON.

After a few hours with his mother here and tomorrow will be taken to New York a prisoner.

LOCAL MEN INTERESTED IN NATIONAL BANK AT QUANAH

(Quanah Tribune-Chief). On Monday S. P. Britt, A. J. Finner and W. C. Edrington, principal owners of the Citizens National Bank of Quanah sold their stock to W. C. Beasley, Frederick Okla., J. A. Kemp, P. P. Langford and C. W. Snider of the City National Bank of Wichita Falls, and the new owners have taken charge. This is a good change for the bank and the city both, for Mr. Britt, who held the chief interest among the old stockholders, had to be away most of his time since the death of his brother-in-law, R. H. Norris, and could not give the bank but little of his time and the Messrs. Beasley, the new owners, will move their families here to give the bank their undivided attention. Still, while we welcome the new men, who are splendid citizens, and successful bankers, in our midst, we should not forget that we owe the outgoing officers a debt of gratitude for coming to the rescue of the old Quanah National last December and putting it on a most substantial basis. They have the hearty good will and well wishes of the better element in our community.

ELECTION FORECAST CANNOT BE FORECASTED

This estimate as thus reported by the precinct chairmen, gives the prohibitionists the benefit of all doubtful voters, namely, the silent vote, both in the dry, partially wet and wholly wet territory. It is, of course, not to be assumed upon any reasonable hypothesis that all of the silent vote will be cast for the amendment, but, on the contrary, it is more reasonable to expect that the silent vote in the dry territory will be cast against the amendment, and the same may be reasonably expected of the silent vote in the partially wet and wet territory, for the reason that the advocates of the amendment have conducted a campaign of pro- scription and boycott.

FORMER DALLAS CATCHER HURT

Catcher Gibson Seriously Injured at Cleburne, Being Struck in Neck by Tipped Ball. Cleburne, Texas, July 22.—Catcher Gibson of the Cleburne team was seriously injured while catching against Durant in the eighth inning of yesterday's game, when a tipped ball struck him in the neck, just beneath the chin. He fell to the ground unconscious and was not revived for several hours. It was thought at first that his neck was broken, but physicians believe otherwise. He is reported considerably improved today and it is now believed that he will recover. Gibson came to Cleburne from the Chicago Giants several months ago. He is considered one of the best catchers in the South west. The accident was followed by the calling of the game.

Ty Cobb Modest

By Associated Press. Cleveland, Ohio, July 21.—Ty Cobb yesterday bought a $200 box for the Joss family benefit game at League Park on Monday and asked that his name be withheld from publication. E. S. Barnard, chairman of the Joss committee got Cobb on the long distance telephone and had to coax him to allow his name to be used. "Please don't use my name in the papers," said Cobb in a letter in which he enclosed a check. "I want to do all I can for Addie's family, but I don't want to attract any notoriety." Charles McComiskey, the Chicago American owner, bought a box for $500 and numbers of others in the baseball world swelled the total to the $2,000 mark.

Though he must now face court martial, Fralick declares that the three hours with his mother was worth it.

"It was the first time that I was ever away from home," he told the police here. "An attack of homesickness overcame me and I deserted while the ship was on the Pacific coast. Penniless, I started from San Diego for Buffalo, riding freight trains and walking some times a hundred miles without food. I nearly died of starvation in the Death Valley and again in the Utah Desert. They kept me for three days in a hospital at Grand Junction, Colo."

Fifteen representative farmers of the county, including Mr. J. W. Campbell, agricultural demonstrator for the U. S. Government, will attend the Farmers' Congress at College Station next week, leaving here Monday noon. Others who are interested in the work are invited to join the party, and all who go are assured of an interesting and valuable session of the congress.

An examination will be held at the Wichita Falls post office on August 19, for the position of clerk carrier. Applicants must have reached their eighteenth year, but not their fifth birthday on the date of examination.

No Tainted Money for Uncle Sam--Has His Own Laundry

Washington, July 19.—Your Uncle Samuel is one of the most versatile individuals in all the world. Everyone who ever rustled for one of his choice bits of the long green knows Uncle Sam manufactures the stuff, but now he has established a nice little laundry in the basement of the treasury building and there washes the much sought after currency when it is returned to him by the banks after it has become so soiled that an immaculate paying-teller will no longer use it in his telling business.

In the basement of the state, war and navy building, in point of size one of the really mammoth structures of the world, the government operates an ice factory and up at the agricultural department the chemistry sharp are doing all sorts of stunts. In the way of producing fresh creations as well as analyzing food products. Adjoining this is the little brick building where fish are turned out by the millions, and so it goes throughout the long list of undertakings which have been turned over to that genius known as Uncle Sam and to his everlasting credit be it said that he has never failed to make good, whether as laundress, ice man, or hatcher of fishes.

This thing of washing dirty paper money is a new departure for this government, the huge machine to perform this task having just been constructed at the bureau of printing and engraving under the personal supervision of Director Ralph, who has become known as the official laundryman of the administration. His laundry "bills" promise to be the only real popular ones in the country.

Secretary MacVeagh more than a year ago conceived the idea that paper money could be washed and the government saved much in the matter of reissue. Under the existing system old and dirty paper money is returned to the treasury department where it is cut in two and the pieces sent to widely separated rooms in the great buildings to be counted and checked and then it is macerated and new money issued in its place.

Much money is actually worn out from constant tumbling, but a large percentage of it is merely dirty with the fiber still good. Secretary MacVeagh believed that if the dirty currency could be washed there would be a great saving to the government. He requested Director Ralph to begin experiments, and the result was the building of the machine which was placed in operation a few days ago and pronounced a marvel in its way. The machine will turn out 100 clean notes each minute and approximately 6000 an hour. From the time the note is fed into the machine until it comes out looking brand new two and a half minutes elapse.

In his first experiments Mr. Ralph did not find much trouble in washing the currency, but the difficulty was in drying and stiffening the bills. After they were passed through the washing process they were run through a stixus machine and then assitated three distinct processes and three separate machines. As this was rather expensive, Director Ralph continued to exercise his inventive genius, and the result was the present device wherein the washing, drying and starching goes on almost simultaneously. Representatives of the dry machine trust have pronounced it perfect.

Secretary MacVeagh proposes to establish one of these machines in each of the sub-treasuries, which will insure clean money in all sections of the country.

His Own Ice Man. Washington ice dealers got in bad with the government when they produced their scale of prices a few summers ago, and the result was the securing of an appropriation for the purpose of installing an ice plant to supply the great government department buildings and working in a little economy and at the same time humbling the trust in the congealed H. O.

With facilities for turning out five tons of crystal ice per day, the new plant which has been placed in operation in the basement of the state, war and navy building, is now supplying ice for the department in that building, the White House, the treasury and many government bureaus close by.

The government expects this ice plant to pay for itself in less than three years, for it has been paying $5 a ton for ice under contract, but is now making it for $2, and when the machine is in perfect working order will make it for about $1.50 a ton. Thus, illustrating Uncle Sam's capabilities as a business man in another line than his famous "dollar diplomacy."

Is a Great Farmer. Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture is making quite a loud acclaim over the accomplishments of his branch of the government. He is pointing with pride, and seems to be justified in doing so. Among his accomplishments and those who work under him in adding to the fame of Uncle Sam as a farmer, he cites the eradication of cattle ticks from a vast expanse of southern and western territory; the discovery of hog cholera vaccine; the war on the boll weevil; hunting down the moths and pests that infest the orchard; wolf analysis; destruction of predatory animals; the improvement of methods for securing and promulgating crop statistics; forestry development; dry farming and all the hundred and one activities of agricultural bureau.

Through the agency of experiment and demonstration farms, this government has repeatedly demonstrated its right to claim that it is the real thing in the agricultural line.

No More Training Ships. There is no disposition on the part of the naval authorities to avail themselves of the advantages provided by the law enacted on March 4 to promote nautical education. The navy department has placed itself in communication with the governors of the various states in accordance with the terms of the legislation, and has advised them that it is impossible to furnish the vessels or provide the officers contemplated by the act.

The law authorizes the assignment of a suitable vessel of the navy to be used for the benefit of any nautical school or college having a nautical branch established at Corpus Christi, Texas; oston, Philadelphia, New York, Seattle, San Francisco, Baltimore, Detroit, Saginaw or Norfolk. It is pointed out that there are now no naval vessels available for this duty. Moreover, it is considered that the training ships which are now in the service, with headquarters, respectively at Boston, New York and Philadelphia, answer the purpose fully.

Rohatch's Mineral Water. Is highly recommended by physicians and patrons who have tested its merits, for indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, kidney and bladder troubles. This water stimulates the secretions of the stomach, increases digestion and favors a more complete absorption of the food, and prevents the action of germs that cause typhoid and other infectious diseases.

This water can be purchased at the wells or delivered in jugs or cases. This well is located one mile south of Alamo school building in Floral Heights, two deliveries daily morning and afternoon. G. J. Rohatch, Owner. Phone 1601-1 long-4 shorts.

Jack Johnson and petty officer Curran of the English army will clash in a 20-round bout in Dublin, Ireland, Aug. 8. Putting the champion against a clumsy novice like Curran looks to be the worst piece of stunt ever staged.

First Motor Boat to Attempt to Cross the Atlantic Ocean

The little motor yacht Romanla, as she was starting on her trip across the Atlantic, and the Commodore of the Jamaica Yacht Club of Brooklyn, N. Y., bidding Captain Weller a successful voyage. The Romanla is the first motor boat to attempt to cross the Atlantic, and motorboat enthusiasts regard the event as epoch making. Captain John Weller built the boat himself at Carlstadt, N. J., and he is staking his life and the lives of the five men of his crew on the stanchness of his craft. After touching at St. John, New Foundland, the Romanla will point her nose for Queenstown, and expects to arrive there in due season. The Romanla is a yacht in miniature. She is of the raised deck cruiser type, 50 feet over all, 12 feet beam and 3 feet draft. She is equipped with a 37 1/2 horsepower three cylinder automatic engine.

GENERATOR INSTALLED.

Katy Preparing for Train Dispatching By Telephone.

A five horsepower generator has been installed in the basement of the new Union Station to charge the storage batteries which will be used for the new telephone-telegraph lines that they will be connected with the telegraph is connected with a 500 volt direct motor. There are now 200 storage batteries in the basement which will be connected with the telegraph lines as soon as they are fully charged and when the telephone lines are strung they will be connected with the telephone lines.

The majority of the bluestone batteries which are now being used will probably be discontinued. The storage batteries will need but very little attention and will give far more satisfaction than the old style batteries. A switchboard has also been installed in the basement which, besides having the switches for the batteries and wires, has a volt and ampere meter. Other improvements are contemplated which will add to the already efficient handling of this department.—Denton Herald.
