WOULD READ PROHIBS OUT OF THE PARTY

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR DAVIDSON HAS ISSUED AN AUTHORIZED STATEMENT TO THAT EFFECT.

QUESTION IS SETTLED

In the Party and Says Prohibitionists Should Organize Party of Their Own.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, July 28.—Lieutenant Governor Davidson who arrived today for the special session of the legislature authorized the statement that he believes the Texas Democratic party should expel the prohibitionists and leave them to organize a party of their own if they will not cease their agitation. He says the prohibition question has been settled twice by the Democratic party which has gone against statewide restrictions.

AGENTS KEPT BUSY SCOUTING FOR PENNIES

Agent Briggs, at the Union Depot and Assistant N. M. Clifford are kept busy scouting these days for pennies in order to comply with the recent ruling of the interstate commerce commission, which says that a railroad can not raise a fare in order to make it end on a 0 or a 5. Some of the railroads have asked permission to violate that clause of the law, through which a railroad can not regulate commerce so as to charge more for a through haul than for the aggregate of the intermediate fares. The commission refused the request.

Some of the roads claim that there are no many passenger hauls on their lines in which the fares end in a 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8, or 9. They also claim there is a big shortage of pennies and ticket agents could not very well keep supplied with change. On this ground the roads held that this clause would have to be violated so that the fares could be raised to the nearest multiple of five.

It has been suggested that probably the commission would have granted the request had the roads asked permission to lower the fares to the nearest multiple of five instead of to raise it.

Total Abstainers to Meet. Scranton, Pa., July 28.—Preparations are about completed for the entertainment of the thousands of delegates and visitors who are to come to Scranton at the end of next week to attend the annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America. Nearly all parts of the United States and Canada will be represented at the gathering.

Federal Government Cotton Reports. The Federal Agricultural Department announces that during the season 1911-12, as heretofore, semi-monthly reports of cotton ginned, will be issued, and there will be four reports on the stocks and consumption of cotton.

Every farmer in Texas should have copies of these reports as the information will be valuable to the farmer in marketing his crops and can be secured free on application to the Bureau of Census, Washington, D. C.

New Gusher at Electra Is Producing 2500 Barrels Daily

J. G. Howell, who drilled in Woodruff-Putnam well No. 3 at Electra several days ago was in the city today to see Postius fly.

Mr. Howell says that the well is now producing better than 2,500 barrels every twenty-four hours and is one of the best in the whole country today.

HUSBAND'S BODY HUNG ON THE SAME BEDPOST AS WIFE'S

By Associated Press. Hackensack, N. J., July 28.—Hanging from the bed post where his wife had ended her life three months ago, the body of Gustave Ising was found last night by an undertaker to whom Ising had written, "Come up to the house and get me—I am dead."

ANTI NOISE ORDINANCE CAUSES A STRIKE

By Associated Press. Chicago, Ill., July 28.—Peddlers striking to have the anti noise ordinance repealed, caused thousands of dollars worth of damage yesterday by raiding grocery stores and vegetable wagons and squirting kerosene oil up on the fruits and vegetables. Rioting continued throughout the day. Scores of peddlers, who refused to join the strikers, were beaten, their wagons overturned and their wares destroyed. Prices in the produce market have been hit hard because of the strike. Apples which brought from $2 to $4 a barrel last week, were offered for $1 and $1.50 during the day with few buyers.

THREE GOOD PICTURES AT THE GEM TONIGHT

The Still Alarm a picture of the original theatre production of the same name is the feature film at the Gem today, with "Rival Brothers Patriotism," a war story and "Opportunity and the Man," as excellent additions. Miss Baker will also sing a new song entitled "Oglala," which has created a sensation wherever it has been heard.

GOOD CLEAN HUMOR AT THE COLONIAL

Summers and Summers made a delightful hit at the Colonial last night. Their act is brim full of good, clean humor, and their singing and dancing is clever indeed. They are on the bill for the balance of the week, and with three new pictures and a new illustrated song make up a most excellent program.

21 ROOMS RESERVED FOR ADMIRAL TOGO

New York, July 28.—A suite of 21 rooms in a Broadway hotel is being prepared today for the accommodation of Admiral Togo and his staff, who will arrive here next week to be the guests of the nation. The rooms which they will occupy are on three floors and include private dining rooms and a private elevator. The entire suite will be decorated after the Japanese fashion, while the parlors will bloom with Japanese flowers and dwarf trees.

Admiral Togo will reach New York on August 3 and will go on to Washington the next day, returning to this city a week later.

SON CORROBORATES THE CONFESSION

BANKER HOLTSLOW TELLS HOW FATHER ACCEPTED $2,500 LORIMER BRIBE.

TESTIMONY IS PATHETIC

Discussion of Last of Original Deposit Slip Causes Near-Sensation at Hearing.

Washington, D. C., July 28.—Herschell D. Holtslaw, a son of State Senator D. W. Holtslaw, who confessed to receiving a bribe of $2,500 to vote for Lorimer, was forced to tell of his father's action from the witness stand in the Lorimer hearing late yesterday.

The young man was cashier of the elder Holtslaw's bank at Juka, Ill. By the books of the bank and by deposit slips and other bank statements and by relating conversations with his father the witness corroborated the story which Senator Holtslaw, now sick at his home and unable to obey a subpoena, has already told and which caused a big sensation throughout Illinois.

Mercilessly, almost savagely, did Judge Haney, chief of Lorimer's counsel, ply the witness with questions in an effort to produce the flaw in his testimony. Holtslaw at times fought back and then at some severe thrust he would almost cry with anger. Once when Haney asked him if "any other charges" had been made against his father, he appealed to the committee to protect him against such tactics. Chairman Dillingham told him he must answer.

Notwithstanding the ordeal to which he was subjected Holtslaw left the stand with his testimony completely unshaken. There appeared no doubt he was telling the truth. His corroborative statements are looked upon as a damaging nail in the political coffin of Senator Lorimer.

Senator Holtslaw in his confession declared that he had deposited the $2,500 he received in the State Bank of Chicago June 6, 1909. This was exactly twelve days after the adjournment of the Illinois Legislature which elected Lorimer.

The son yesterday described the transactions which occurred in the course of the transfer of the money from the Chicago institution to the Holtslaw bank at Juka. The cash book of the latter institution was placed in evidence to show the money was received June 18.

A near sensation occurred in the afternoon when Judge Haney arose and declared with some heat that the deposit slips had been "juggled here." Attorneys Marble and Healy for the committee were up in an instant demanding an explanation. Senator Kern also was quick to announce that if any juggling were going on the committee should be apprised of it.

Judge Haney then related the circumstances of the loss of the original deposit slip, which was produced in the Senate by Senator Bailey when he made his speech defending Lorimer. The slip, Haney said, was handed to Senator Stone, and then to Senator Overman, and then to Senator Money. It never was returned to Senator Bailey, Haney continued, and where it went or who has it now is a mystery.

The lawyer explained further that by the term "juggling" he did not mean that juggling was being committed in the committee room, as the other side seemed to infer, but that juggling had been done in connection with the deposit slip. The matter was allowed to drop with this explanation.

Dramatic situations were numerous during the day.

Answering an assertion by Judge Haney that he knew State Senator Broderick had been acquitted, of the charge of bribing Senator Holtslaw, the witness said:

"I'll swear I believe him (his father) and I'll swear that the money was paid him by John Broderick."
Young Holtslaw told about going to Springfield in May, 1910, when the newspapers had begun to print stories about the situation at the Illinois Capitol.

The Lounger 14 is as steady a craft as could be wanted according to its owner, and he is going to give it a test of every sea that exists.

120 TONS OF BROOM STRAW IS BURNED

Warehouse Burned Last Night—Loss Exceeded $5,000—Insurance $5,000.

Shortly before 12 o'clock last night fire destroyed the warehouse on the railroad below the flour mill owned by J. A. Kemp and occupied by the Wichita Falls Broom Factory as a warehouse. The loss was total and included in addition to the building, 120 tons of broom corn valued at $8,500. Six cars of the broom corn had only been placed therein during the present month and included shipments purchased by the factory from different points in this section of the state. The fire department responded promptly but was unable to check the flames or even lay a line of hose on account of the distance to the nearest fire plug being fully fifteen hundred feet away and to reach the fire it would have been necessary to cross a number of railway tracks. The loss on the building is estimated at $500 on which there was no insurance. The loss to the broom factory as indicated above was $8,500 with a total insurance of $5,000.

No one has been able to furnish definite information as to the origin of the fire, the general opinion being that it was caused from the careless use of a match, a cigar or cigarette on the part of some tramp, or perhaps by boys who were depredateing on the premises.

TWO GOOD FEATURES AT LAMAR AIRDOME

Patrons of Lamar Airdome will enjoy two great features of the program tonight, the Angel City Trio, a vaudeville number made up of classical singings, concert whistling and clever humor. The other brilliant feature is the motion picture of the coronation ceremonies of King George of England. This pageant which was the wonder and admiration of the entire world only a few weeks ago, is shown in its entirety in the picture, and one is able to see more of the ceremony than if they were really in old London town on the day when King George and Queen Elizabeth were crowned.

TWO MEN ARRESTED ON SERIOUS CHARGE

BURGLARY AND THEFT CHARGED IN INDICTMENTS AGAINST KID HUMPHRIES AND DEL ANDREWS.

WARRANTS SERVED TODAY

Wills State Bank Was Robbed of $4000 On Night of Jan. 1.—Robbers Escaped With $4000.

Kid Humphries and Del Andrews were arrested this afternoon about 1 o'clock on warrants from Montgomery county charging burglary and theft in connection with the robbery of the Wills State Bank on January 2 this year. The arrest was made by Police-men Harry Allen and W. A. Boyd, special officer for the Texas Bankers' Association, who has been here for several days in connection with the case.

The Wills State Bank, which is located at Wills in Montgomery county, was entered on the night of January 1 and robbed of about $4,000 in entrance to the safe being affected by the use of nitro-glycerine. Immediately after committing the deed the robbers made their escape on horseback, eluding the officers at the time.

On July 19th the grand jury of Montgomery county returned two indictments each against Humphries and Andrews, one charging burglary and the other theft of over $2,000 and it was upon these indictments that warrants were issued. Humphries and Andrews were at once lodged in the city jail, later securing attorneys who at once filed an application for habeas corpus before Judge Martin in the district court. Humphries is represented by Attorney Jno. S. Kay, while Andrews has for his attorney Hon. C. C. Huff.

Officer Boyd declined to discuss the facts connected with the robbery explaining that it would not be appropriate pending a trial of the case, and the development of the evidence as presented to the grand jury in connection with the finding of the indictments.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA AT ISSUE OVER SEIZURE

Washington, July 28.—The issue between Japan and Russia over the seizure of a Japanese fishing and sealing vessel by the Russian authorities on the coast of Siberia, may, it is feared, end any consummation of the recently negotiated seal treaty. The Japanese assertion is that the vessel was seized far beyond the marine league distance from the Russian shore line which marks territorial jurisdiction. It is understood here that the Russian government some months ago sought to extend its territorial rights to a distance of thirty miles from the shore line. The Japanese government refused to recognize this extension.

DEMOCRATS CONFER ON WOOL BILL

Washington, D. C., July 28.—Democratic House leaders conferred informally today over the Senate wool bill, passed yesterday. The general opinion is that there would be a compromise between the two chambers at about 30 per cent duty. Bailey and Randall of Texas, will probably be on the respective conference wool committees.

Several standpaters today urged President Taft to veto any wool revision bill.

Wichita County Will Raise More Cotton Than Last Year

Most encouraging reports are coming in concerning the outlook for a good cotton crop in this section and the prediction is confidently made that Wichita county will raise more cotton this year than last.

Cotton is especially promising in the sandy lands and the river bottoms where the farmers are now expecting a half bale to the acre and better. On the high lands and light soils the

PREPARATIONS CONTINUE

French Forts On German Frontier Heavily Provisioned—All Regiments Mustered to Full Strength.

By Associated Press. Paris, July 28.—Great optimism is prevailing here today though it was admitted that negotiations with Germany regarding the Moroccan affair remained difficult. The Asquith statement yesterday relieved the tension at a moment when relief was most needed and the discreet military preparations of the French government were giving rise to apprehension of war. The cavalry had been ordered to be ready at the first signal, and the forts on the eastern frontier had been heavily provisioned by special trains run out of Paris at night and all regiments had been mustered to their full quota.

OTHER GLASS PLANTS WOULD LOCATE HERE

Secretary Day of the Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a very encouraging communication from a company in the east, the business of which is the manufacture of glass containing a proposition for the removal of their plant to this city. They have been attracted to this city as a result of the advertising that has been done in eastern papers and have written for more detailed information with reference to conditions obtaining here. The letter explains that the plant is a $100,000 institution employing three hundred people and having a weekly pay roll of $3000.

Mr. Day has taken the matter up with them by correspondence and will endeavor to have their man visit this city and investigate the advantages offered for such an enterprise with a view to entering into further negotiations with the Chamber of Commerce. A letter has also been received from a stove manufacturing and foundry plant making inquiry as to the advantages afforded for such an enterprise to whom detailed information has been forwarded including a quantity of printed literature. In addition to these a large pottery plant is proposed for Wichita Falls, the company having written with reference to the removal of their business to this place. These communications will be presented at the next meeting of the directors and in the meantime the propositions will be encouraged as much as possible by Secretary Day in the hope of interesting them sufficiently to justify a visit on their part to Wichita Falls.

French Expert to Speak.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 28.—Dr. Charles Parnard of Paris, director of the Bureau of Assurance and Social Providence of the French Government, heads the list of speakers at the nineteenth annual meeting to be held here next week by the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations. Others who will address the convention are F. N. Penniston of Hancock, Mich., Arthur H. Murdock of Omaha, Clay Holmes of Elmira, Charles Vernon of Chicago, and R. L. Proffit of Monroe, La.

Oddities in a Day's News

Out of Work and Hungry Offers Self as Slave.
Frederick Daley, an educated man of Norfolk, Va., giving up hope of finding work, has advertised at Cincinnati to sell himself into slavery for his keep.

"I have got to eat," he said. "I'm tired of looking into other men's faces and asking for work. It's got on my nerves."

Lives of Family Are Saved by a Burglar.
A burglar saved the lives of several persons at Springfield, Mass., after he had broken in to steal.

Somebody had left the gas on. When the burglar struck a match there was an explosion and fire. Firemen put out the blaze and revived the partly asphyxiated tenants. The burglar escaped.

Body Found in Barn is Mummy 3000 Years Old.
Haymakers found a supposed corpse in an old barn in Tyringham, Mass., and called the sheriff, chief of police and many doctors.

It was then learned that the corpse had been deceased 3000 years. It was a mummy belonging to Robt De Pityus, the Egyptologist, owner of the barn.

DR. ALEXANDER TELLS STORY OF KILLING

...toward each other. Haskell Russell was one of them. "There is the doctor," he exclaimed, and dashed by me. The other man, Robert L. O'Neil, glared at me, leaned forward as if to spring and threw his hand toward his pocket. I shot him then. I had never seen him before and after he fell I feared I had killed the wrong man. It all happened with the rapidity of lightning. I thought I had been trapped and fired to save my life. I think the first shot struck in the head. His right side was turned to me.

Smokes First Cigarette.
"I went to the hotel clerk and said, 'Lay this over in the drawer and give me a cigarette.' It was the first I had smoked in five years. I asked for the highest officer in the city and later surrendered to Sheriff McClure. I said to the clerk: 'Go and see if the man I killed was R. L. O'Neil.' He said: 'The man registered as R. L. O'Neil.' I said to Sheriff McClure, who asked me what the trouble was: 'He wrecked my home and tried to kill me.' I had told my father that I hoped the man would shoot me through the heart and end it all. The pistol I used belongs to my brother Mack. I was brought to Anson for examining trial. My wife since then has not been in Abilene. She has been at Manitou, Colo., San Antonio and Anson."

Here J. F. Cunningham asked the defendant this question: "Did you love your wife?" "I did," was his reply. "Do you love her yet?" "I do—very much."

The state began its rebuttal of evidence this morning and it is probable the case will go to the jury tomorrow afternoon.

KERWIN LANDS CONTRACT AT ALTUS

Altus, Okla., July 28.—The contract for sinking the deep well near the power plant, was let Thursday noon to the Kerwin Drilling Company, of Petrolia, Texas, and as soon as the necessary bond of $5,000 is made by the company and other preliminary matters attended to, work on the well will begin. It is highly probable that a meeting of the stockholders of the Altus Water Company will be called to discuss the contract and other matters before any further action is taken.

The members of the water commission believe they have drawn up a contract which will amply protect the city and water company from any danger of loss, as the driller is compelled to dig the whole distance of 2,500 feet. If the commission says so, without receiving one cent of remuneration. The terms will be fully explained at the meeting of stockholders.

Letter to Marlow & Stone.

Dear Sirs: The Trustees of Fair Ground, Cobleskill, N. Y., were glad to pay 15 cents a gallon more for Devos' and no wonder. Two other paint agents said it would take 150 gallons of their paint to cover the Buildings. Our agent put it at 125 or less. It took 115.

We saved them 35 gallons of paint, and painting (worth $4 to $5 a gallon, as the painting costs two or three times as much as the paint) less 15 cents a gallon on 115 gallons. Say $140.

That's how to count the cost of paint. The cost of putting it on is $2 or $4 a gallon. You see what that means. Go by Devos.

Yours truly,

FIFTEEN MAKES OF CRANKLESS CARS

The labor of cranking a motor car is to be eliminated by a large number of motor car makers for the coming season of 1917. An automatic starting device, which has been in use on a few cars this year, has been adopted by nearly fifteen manufacturers for their new models.

While several types of self starting apparatus are being experimented with the pneumatic type is the most popular. One or two cylinders are tapped by a small pipe leading to a storage tank, where the compression from those cylinders is held. The loss in power because of this waste of compression is negligible. From the tank to the various cylinders of the motor are laid distributing tubes. When it is desired to start the engine a button on the dash is pushed, a small valve opens, the air flows through the distributing ducts and forces the piston in one of the cylinders down. Failure of this device to work is only caused by the motor being on "dead center," in which case, if the engine be turned over an inch or two, the air will perform its duty.

Airbrakes in Favor Again.

The air which is stored in the tank attains a pressure of two hundred pounds and has been known actually to run a motor car by its force with the gears meshed in second speed. Tires are inflated from the pressure tank, and air brakes, which were tried with little success on the Northern two years ago, again are being experimented with.

Foredoors, while having their advantages in keeping out dust and wind, possess the undesirable attribute of being uncomfortably warm. The manufacturers are busy now finding suitable ventilators. The general tendency is toward a hidden ventilator in the dash, while others favor the floor ventilator.

Four Speed Still Popular.

Semi and three-quarter elliptical will be the more common type of spring employed this fall, although the platform spring still has its quota of adherents. Shock absorbers will be more in use than ever. One of the new features will be in the frames, where pressed steel will replace the drop-forged material to a large extent.

The employment of four speeds on motor cars has long been a debatable question. Most of the designers have come to the conclusion, however, that four speeds save the strain on the motor when it is being "worked up" from low to high, because there is no necessity for racing the engine in order to overcome inertia.

The poppet valve motor has a strong rival in the "Silent" Knight sliding sleeve motor. An effort is being made to place other rotary valve motors of the 2-cycle type, however, on the market. Although rotary valve motors are greeted with favor in commercial circles, it is hardly probable that any except the Knight motor will be used on pleasure vehicles.

To Thwart the Car Borrower.

Since the rapid development of a motor driven dynamo, electric lighting has become general in gasoline cars. Several companies have announced that the new lighting system shall be a part of their regulation equipment for 1917. No more will the blithesome "joy rider" have the opportunity to "borrow" a waiting motor car. A new locking device which will effectually bar any attempt to steal a machine, has been placed on the market. It is a contrivance which locks the transmission lever at neutral. It resembles a sliding wedge, which fits over the gear shift and fall down between the guide slots. When in that position it can be locked to the lever, and the motorist then can watch the ball game or the opera without the lurking fear that at the same time some one is out-taking a quiet (?) little spin in his machine. Another effective locking device consists of a padlock with a long arm that locks over the brake ratchet and prevents the brake from being released.

MILLER'S DRUG STORE

Welcome to Queen Wilhelmina.

Brussels, July 28.—The arrival of Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands accompanied by Prince Henry and the infant Princess Juliana, at the Belgian capital today, for which arrangements had been made in advance, was the occasion for an immense and cordial demonstration of good will toward the neighbor state. From the time the Royal visitors crossed the border, huge crowds welcomed them at every station and arriving here, they were met by King Albert and practically the whole of the political body. Several days will be given over to the entertainment of the visitors. In political circles the visit of the Dutch queen and her consort is regarded as of little significance, especially at the present time, when unusual efforts are being put forth to bring about a good understanding between Belgium and the Netherlands. The accession of Germany to the League of Nations, however, will be a factor in the countries to establish a defensive alliance for their own safety.

Wichita Falls, Texas, July 28th, 1911

Things are looking so much better now in the way of crops than was the case a month ago, that there is talk of holding the Tri-County Fair.

The city of Altus has contracted with the Kansas Bitulithic Company for paving twenty blocks at that place for $102,344.30. This includes gutters and curb.

Archer county people at a recent mass meeting held at Archer City, have determined to have no election to vote $100,000 of road improvement bonds.

The special session of the legislature convenes next Monday, and it promises to be a very warm number from start to finish.

There is ample room in Texas for more railroad building. There are forty-seven counties in this state without railroad facilities, and 40,000,000 acres of land located a distance of ten miles and over from any railroad.

The State Fair is to be held in Dallas October 14-29, and the catalog being sent out shows a program that will prove interesting from the first to the last day. There is nothing that has done more to advertise Dallas and all Texas than this State Fair.

The Electra-oil field promises to develop into the greatest oil field either in Texas, Oklahoma or Louisiana. The last well brought in in the Electra field is now flowing over 100 barrels of oil per hour, or 2500 per day, and some trouble is now being experienced in getting tanks to store it. The proven oil territory so far developed extends over a territory two miles square, and the owners of lands adjoining are demanding and receiving $100 per acre bonus, in addition to one-eighth of the oil, and are rather choice about who they grant leases to, requiring the lessee to begin operations at once. The town is crowded with prospectors, and reports from there indicate that within the next thirty or sixty days there will be more than a half hundred oil well drilling outfits in the Electra field, and that every acre of land for five or six miles square will be leased. All this looks good for Wichita county, and will help to make up for the damage the drought has done to crops.

BACHELOR OF ATHLETICS.

"B. A." is hereafter to signify "bachelor of athletics," just as in many cases it has meant heretofore. The University of Wisconsin has decided to allow credits toward a degree for "proficiency in athletics." One-third of the credits needed for the bachelor's degree may be taken in athletics as a "major study," and Hoolligan, the brawny fullback, who has before this stood at the foot of the class, will now rise to the top, a B. A. maxima cum laude. A three-bagger in a championship baseball game will count for more than a medal for excellence in Greek, and the test tube will be as dishonorable emblem by the side of the vaulting pole.

It will be only logical to have professors of athletics, instructors in lacrosse, professors of baseball, and football, adjunct professors of track athletics, and tutors in rowing. We shall look into the catalogue of the University of Wisconsin and see a long roll of famous athletics on the faculty. There we shall look upon "Tyrus Cobb, L. H. D. (doctor of long hits), Detroit, president and professor of baseball ethics," and "Cyrus Young, LL. D. (doctor of long liners), professor-emeritus of spherology," and "Edward H. Coy, Litt. D. (doctor of letters), Yale, adjunct professor of modern football," and so on through the list. We shall read that the "University of Newberry today conferred the degree of doctor of football jurisprudence, causa honoris, on Theodore Roosevelt," and that "Vassar college will at its coming commencement confer the degree of doctor of basketball" on Miss Blank.

"Bachelor of athletics! Ah, the highest hope, the rosiest dream, the noblest ideal of the college boy is realized at last, and the rush for degrees will be unspeakably mad and furious.

With a single exception every one of our Panhandle exchanges refused to accept anti advertising matter. For this the people of this country should feel proud and stick all the closer to their local papers. Even our friend Jerry Dalton of the Estelline News, though well known to be a life-long anti, refused all the anti dope, believing he had not the moral right to give circulation to the misleading stuff they sent out and well knowing it would prove offensive to most of his readers. One anti called and stopped the Post from going into his home, assigning as his reason that we would not publish anti stuff, even for pay. This misguided old fellow had been on our list a long time and naturally we should have preferred that he remain, as he always paid his subscription, but since he could not stand to let us run our business, we shall have to struggle along without his support. When the Post gets ready to run filacious anti argument, for love or pay, it will be open to saloon ads and will accept them. We think one is just about on a par with the other when it comes to its effect on the morals of a community.—Children's Post.

No intelligent publisher can well afford to allow the use of the columns of his publication for the purpose of perpetuating a fraud or lending dignity to falsehood and misrepresentation, whether the matter is paid for or not. There were many papers, both anti and pro, who accepted the "dope" described by the Post. But that is their business. So let it pass at that.

ANTIS SEEK TO EVADE STATEMENT

Jonathan Lane at Austin to Find Loophole to Avoid Expense Report.

Special to the Times.
Austin, Texas, July 28.—Jonathan Lane, representing the Anti Statewide Prohibition organization is here today conferring with Attorney General Lightfoot relative to the ruling of the attorney general's department that the pros and antis must file sworn statements of their expenses in the recent campaign. It is known that the antis are opposed to giving such statements.

In his opinion yesterday Mr. Lightfoot said:
"Webster's Dictionary defines a party to be a part or portion of a great number of persons or people of a larger community, or the like, united by some tie, as distinguished from or opposed to the rest. The Century Dictionary describes a party as a company, or number of persons arranged on one side, or united in opinion or design or position to others in community. Burk says that a party is a body of men united for promoting by their joint endeavors the National interest upon some particular principle on which they are all agreed.

"A party must have distinctive aims and purposes and be united in opposition to others in the community within which it exists (See McKinley Citizens' party, 4 Pac. District R., 109; also Davis vs. Hambrick, 58 S. W. Rep. 773.)
"It must be borne in mind that this election was for the purpose of determining whether the organic law of this State, the Constitution itself, should be changed in a material matter. According to the definition of all respectable authorities, any movement which seeks a change in the organic or statutory law of a country is necessarily political in its nature. It is a question of public policy and, therefore, must in that sense be political.

Is Within Meaning of Act.
"From this we reach a conclusion that within the meaning of this law the attempted change in the Constitution raises a political question within the meaning of this statute.

"We are not discussing the ethical question or moral features, for it is well known that a question can be, and often is, both a political and moral question.

"The next question is whether or not the organizations in this state supporting and opposing this amendment are 'parties' within the meaning of this law. It is well known that the state was divided into opposing sides, that each side in mass meeting selected state chairmen, established headquarters and appointed county and precinct chairmen and managers throughout the state of Texas.

"Probably no organizations were better organized and a campaign more systematically waged in the history of the state than the one referred to.

"Under the definitions of a 'party' and a 'party organization' as above quoted, we fall to see in what particular the organizations in this instance do not come fairly in the letter and spirit of a political party. If there is any element lacking it is in the fact that these organizations were formed and the contending parties arrayed not for an indefinite period, but for the definite and sole purpose of one election on the constitutional question after which the organization will cease to exist.

Nominations Not Necessary.
"However, we do not feel that the rule is definitely settled that a party organization must be organized for an indefinite period in order that it be within the meaning of a political party and we are not warranted in assuming that these contending forces will disorganize and not continue in existence after the date of the election.

"We do not understand that the nomination of officers is a necessary element to constitute a political party. The Supreme Court of this State in the case of Owens, 63 Texas, 261, holds it is clearly a political question as to whether or not the proper State authorities shall create an office or shall provide to have one filled, etc. You therefore see that candidates are not a necessary element. Our view is that political parties are primarily organized for the purpose of promulgating and putting into effect principles and policies of government and that the election of men to office by the adherents of such a party is merely an incident to its main purpose and a means of securing the results desired.

"The fact is that all political parties in the past which gained any prominence were brought into existence on account of some great political principle and not for the purpose of promoting the personal interests of any person or set of men, so we conclude that it was not necessary for these organizations to nominate candidates for offices not bringing within the meaning of 'political parties' as that name is used in that statute.

Liberal Construction Needed.
"The language of the statute should be liberally construed. Our own courts have so held. In the case of Whately vs. Thomasson, 41 Civ. App. 405, the court said: 'This law, being designed to purify the ballot, should be liberally construed and rigidly enforced to that end.'

"The language of this statute is broad enough to fairly include the kind of organizations and parties which existed in the late campaign. If we look to the purposes of this law which is to protect the purity and integrity of the ballot, we fail to see why the legislature should have intended that it should apply to the election of officers and to the various well known political parties of this State and Nation, and at the same time deny the benefit of such a law to an election involving the same right of franchise, calling for the same purity and integrity of the ballot and which involved a question fraught with unusual interest to the people of Texas.

The purpose of these reforms is well known and it would be useless for us to discuss them. When we turn to the statutes of this State under consideration, we find that our legislature has considered it necessary for the public welfare that reports should be made under oath of all moneys collected and expended in behalf of a political party and of all candidates. The regulations have been enacted to safeguard the purity of the ballot and to bring about honest elections.

Publicity Considered Necessary.
"Two acts of the legislature of 1907 prohibit corporations from contributing campaign funds to such elections as the one just held and it is entirely reasonable to presume that the legislature intended that publicity of all contributions should be made as one of the means of enforcing these laws.

"You are therefore advised that it is the opinion of this department that the parties in charge of the State headquarters and the various county chairmen of those in favor of and those opposing the amendment should make the report of all collections and disbursements as called for in Sec. 89 of said law.

Mr. S. E. Skidmore, who resides on route 1, four miles southwest of town, lost ten fine turkeys Monday morning. A coyote wolf got into the ranch and snapped the heads off six of the old and four of the young birds before it was frightened away.—Burkbuckett Star.

Taylor Sold to Detroit.
By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, July 28.—The management of the Austin team of the Texas League announces that Wiley Taylor, the star pitcher, has been sold to the Detroit Americans. It is reported the purchase price was $3,000. Taylor will report to Detroit at the end of the Texas League season.

TO SOLVE MYSTERY OF SHRUNKEN HEADS

Either There is Race of Lilliputians or a Wonderful Embalming Secret in South America.

Kansas City, July 28.—The mystery of the shrunken head—it's not the title of a book by Rider Haggard, but one of the unexplored wonders of the world. And it may make the next adventure of Walter Cash, rough rider, explorer, and probably the wealthiest man in the world with a home of any desire and intention to get one.—At the Hotel Baltimore he registered from New York but his only justification is a hotel room in that city where he and Mrs. Cash keep the trunks—they are not using.

Mr. Cash recently returned from Peru and Central America.

"Going to settle down now," he was asked after a string of yarns about those countries and Europe and Australia and Africa and a bit of history from the days he served under Col. Roosevelt in Cuba. And, by the way, a correction—he was not the first man of the rough-riders to be wounded, as reported by Richard Harding Davis. He saw several of his comrades dead on the field some days before a Spanish bullet touched him.

"No, I never think of settling down," he said. "I come of a line of naval ancestors and the wanderlust is in my blood."

"Then you are planning new adventures?"
"Yes, but the field is getting limited. Take Africa for instance. It's a spider web of trails, but not South America. There's still room to explore there. Thousands of miles of unknown country. Some day, perhaps, I'll take a look over the headwaters of the Amazon and try to get at the bottom of the mystery of the shrunken head."

"The shrunken head?"
"Yes, it's a mystery how it's done but it seems there's a tribe far up the stream near the headwaters of the Amazon river of whom nothing is known except their strange treatment of their enemies' hands. A friend of mine went up to explore their country with eighteen men and one of his men came home. They had not been able to penetrate far into the unknown land. But they brought back one mysterious object.

a human head, perfect in every detail, the hair on the scalp and eyebrows and even in the nostrils, the lips and cheeks with the contours of the living—a perfect human head but smaller than your

"A baby's head?"

"No. There were the marks of age on it and the hair was long. It was the head of a full grown person shrunken to the size of a baseball. I have seen others too. There's one in has shown only that the shrunken head is a perfect human object minus the bones and internal organs. The rest is mystery. Presumably the savages have discovered some chemical process of shrinking the skin, removing the bones and preserving its form in every detail. The only alternative is the existence of a race of pygmies smaller than anything considered possible anywhere except in Gulliver's Travels."

MAY REVIVE OLD "HOPPER" LAW

Strong Measures Are Needed to Check Insect Advance in Kansas.

Topeka, Kansas, July 27.—The old "Warning Out" Law, passed by the Kansas Legislature of 1877, may be invoked to destroy the grasshoppers in some Western Kansas counties. Several letters asking if the old law still is in effect have been received by state officials and it may be brought into play to exterminate the pests which have come into the state from Colorado. The law still is in force, and can be invoked at any time.

The law provides that when any township trustee or the county commissioners of any county believe that insects are destructive in their districts they may "warn out" all the residents of the township or county to meet on a certain day to fight the pests. The township trustees or the county commissioners are to select the day and the place of meeting and the weapons to be used in the fight and every person from 12 to 60 years of age must appear and take part in the campaign under a penalty of a fine.

The number of bushels of wheat received at the Farmers' elevator in this town, up to Tuesday noon reached a little over 16,000 bushels, and Manager Ferguson says without doubt that at the close of the hauling season 50,000 bushels will be delivered to this elevator.—Iowa Park Herald.

You will enjoy the Angel City Trio at Lamar Airplane tonight. They are the best we have had.

Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, Jr., who arranged the most exclusively fashionable tennis tournament ever held. The matches are now being played at Newport, R. I., and the contestants are the fair sex members of the elite social colony. The entries include Miss Anna Sands, Miss Elizabeth Sands, Miss Beryl Sands, Mrs. Roberta Willard, Mrs. Newton Adams, Mrs. E. S. Reynolds, Mrs. Gordon Douglas, Mrs. William F. Delano, Miss Gwendolyn Burdell and Mrs. Rompkins. The "galleries" at the matches are representative of the social strength of the nation.

GREAT PROFIT IN FIG GROWING
San Antonio, Texas, July 28.—The fig crop of Southwest Texas has been so profitable this year that much interest is being taken in the cultivation of that most delicious fruit. It appears that every fig tree in Southwest Texas has been loaded this year and the fruit is of the very best quality. In a number of instances farmers report as high as $15 a tree in fruit gathered. When it is known that about 500 trees will grow on an acre, some notion of the profit from growing this fruit may be obtained. Near this city one firm is preparing to plant more than 400 acres of figs and already has several thousand trees out. That which is true here in the matter of renewed interest in fig culture is present in many localities. For a time, farmers and fruit growers gave but little direct attention to the cultivation of figs, planting the trees in most instances, along irrigation ditches and leaving them to flourish as best they could. The product from these trees has been such a source of profit that there is a general awakening all over the southwest section of the state and in a number of places plans are formulated for the establishment of preserving plants. That the Texas fig has made good has been demonstrated beyond a quibble.

WOMEN SEVERELY STUNG BY BEES
Went to Aid of Blind Horse that Was Entangled in Wire and Which Upped Hive.
By Associated Press.
Louisville, July 28.—When Mrs. K. August, wife of the postmaster of South Park, Ky., and her daughter yesterday went to the aid of a blind horse tangled in a net of wires in their yard, they met a swarm of enraged bees, issuing from a hive the horse had turned over in its struggle. The two women were stung almost to death before the men of the family attracted by their cries, went to the rescue. The men scaped bees by the handful out of the women's hair. Both were stung scores of times on the scalp, faces and arms and while they were improved last night, blood poisoning is feared.

Madero Move Cattle From Mexico.
San Antonio, Texas, July 28.—Regarded as significant is the activity of the Maderos in moving their cattle out of Mexico. Thirty carloads were started yesterday. Railroad men report that other cattle barons of Mexico are also unusually active in sending their cattle to the United States. The desire seems to be to clean up before the September election in Mexico. In the late revolution cattle were the main-stay of the Insurrectos as food. Many a Diaz sympathizer contributed unwillingly to their larder.

SOCIALISTS TO MEET AT DUKE IN AUGUST
Duke, Okla., July 28.—Arrangements are being made by citizens of Duke to entertain a large number of Socialists in this town during the Southwest Oklahoma Encampment to be held here August 8, 9, 10 and 11. The people are doing everything in their power to make the occasion a success, and a good program has been arranged for the four days.
Ameringer & Mauer's picnic crew and band has been engaged for the 10th and 11th. H. H. Stallard, Socialist of Snyder, and W. R. Denton, Democrat, of Hollis, will debate on the 8th, and 9th. P. S. Nagle of Kingfisher, Okla., a prominent speaker, will be present on all of the four days, as will also J. T. Cumble, socialist candidate for governor in the last election.
Many other prominent men are expected to be present for addresses. Good shade and other conveniences are being prepared, dinner will be served and in fact nothing will be left undone by the people of Duke to make the affair an unqualified success.

GREAT REVIVAL IS PREDICTED IN TEXAS
San Antonio, Texas, July 28.—It is predicted by those in touch with moral conditions over the state that Texas is on the verge of the greatest religious revival in the history of the state. Deep interest has been shown on the various denominational meetings and in every instance the prediction has been made that Texas will be revived apace during the coming winter. In line with these predictions, revival meetings have begun in many parts of this state already and are attracting much interest.

It impossible to score. Hiett, for Cleburne, pitched a good game, fanning seven men, but the support behind him was poor.

Durant Team Resting.
Durant, Okla., July 28.—On account of the failure of the managers of the five clubs of the Texas-Oklahoma League to agree yesterday upon which of the five clubs should be dropped, Durant will have no games until Monday, games with the disbanded Altus team being scheduled for these dates. The Durant management was anxious that one team be dropped, but now announce that they will make no further effort, and instead will insist that the season be played out with five clubs. Games with semi-professional teams will probably be played Friday and Saturday.
For World's Sculling Title.
Sydney, N. S. W., July 28.—The sculling match for the championship of the world between Richard Armat of New Zealand and Harry Pearce of Australia will be rowed tomorrow on the Parramatta River. The contest will take place over a course of three and a half miles. The stakes are $2,500 a side. Armat is a favorite in the betting.
Armat, the present holder of the title, is generally regarded as the greatest oarsman the world has ever produced. He is twenty-eight years old and a native of New Zealand. As a cyclist he is known as one of the best road racers, while he has been equally successful on that line was in the Sydney "thousand," the most valuable race in the world.
In 1906 he decided to take up sculling, and on Jan. 24, 1907, competed in the all-comers' Best and Best boat handicap. That event was won by S. Pearce, with twenty-five seconds' start, Armat being second. The following month Armat competed in the Rush handicap, and received thirty-one seconds' start. He had in the meantime

His success caused him to be brought back to the scratch mark in the subsequent handicaps, but such form did he show, that both at the Ulmarra regatta, on Nov. 11, 1907, and Coraki regatta, nine days later, he won. At about this time he defeated Charles Towns, who subsequently was beaten by Webb for the world's championship, on Aug. 1, 1908, he scullied Harry Pearce of the Parramatta and won easily, and then on Dec. 19, 1908, defeated William Webb on the Waganni for the world's title.

Earl of Crawford.
The Earl of Crawford, the premier Earl of Scotland, and one of the most interesting of the British Peerage, was born at St. Germain-en-Laye, France, July 28, 1847, and succeeded to the title upon the death of his father in 1880. He is a keen scientist and bibliophile, an experienced traveler, and an enthusiastic yachtsman, and he is the possessor of one of the finest stamp collections in the world. He is also a great authority on astronomy. He was once an active president of the Royal Astronomical society, and also founded and equipped the Dunsch Observatory, which he afterwards presented to the British nation. Some years ago he made a yachting cruise to South Africa and the islands of the Mozambique Channel, where he secured a large collection of rare birds which he presented to the British Museum. The Earl is extremely rich, but owes his wealth to minerals at Lancashire rather than to his large estates in Scotland.

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST SAN ANTONIO WOMAN
By Associated Press.
San Antonio, July 28.—Mrs. George S. Moore was arrested last night charged with pandering following the finding of a fourteen-year-old girl, Frankie Ware, hidden in a trunk in the Moore home. The San Antonio Humane Society is behind the prosecution.
At the Moore home, 1245 Kentucky avenue, Deputy Sheriff's Galbreath and Flores found a young girl, for whom Agent McCauley of the Humane Society said he had been looking during the past week, at the request of her parents, who reported she had disappeared from her home. When the officers went to the Moore residence the girl hid in a trunk, pulling down the top after she had entered. Deputies Galbreath and Flores were on the point of giving up the search when their attention was attracted to the trunk by a noise. Raising the lid Galbreath found the girl, thinly clad and barefooted. She was taken by the officers to the Sheriff's office, where she was placed in the custody of Agent McCauley, who holds a commission from the city, who took her to Dr. Frank Paschal to have some broken bones in her foot set, and she was then taken to the Physicians and Surgeon's Hospital.

Picture Story of Murder as Henry Clay Beattie Tells it

Beulah Binford, the girl loved, it is said, by Henry Clay Beattie (whose picture appears below), and for love of whom he is said to have murdered his wife, sketches illustrating the story of the murder as he tells it. Several days before the tragedy, there was born to Miss Binford a child, whose birth she registered with the Richmond, Va., authorities as "Henry Clay Beattie, Jr." Beattie in jail, persists in his version that, during the fatal automobile ride, a man stepped out into the road and fired a shotgun, killing his wife; he grappled, eventually wrestling the weapon from the man and returning with his wife's body in the auto; throwing away the shotgun during the ride. Beattie's second cousin, Paul Beattie, has testified that three days before the tragedy he bought his relative a shotgun. The case is the most sensational in the history of the staid old Southern city.

Notes from Labor World

The Industrial Workers of the World will demand a universal eight-hour day May 1, 1912. India has a new factory law which limits adults work to twelve hours per day and children to six hours a day. The 1912 convention of the International Longshoremen's union will be held in Port Huron, Mich. Industrial accidents, occurring to 173 individual work people in Canada during May were reported. Of these 52 were fatal. The National Union of Teachers of England and Wales has a membership of 69,000 and it is believed to be the most powerful organization of teachers in the world. A long contest has been waged in Holyoke, Mass., to better the condition of the men employed in the paper mills and to obtain the eight-hour day. Up to this time it has not been successful. The Sheet Metal Workers' union and the Hod Carriers Union of Indianapolis, Ind., both of which withdrew from the Central Labor Union about two years ago, will again affiliate with the central body. The Illinois Supreme Court has sustained the validity of Section 18 of the mining act, requiring examiners to note unsafe and dangerous conditions by placing conspicuous markers warning of danger. The New York Commission, in its recent report of unemployment, gives data from the trade unions, showing that organized workers lost on an average of 20 per cent of their possible income through lack of employment. An amicable adjustment of wages in the lasting departments throughout southeastern Massachusetts by the boot and shoe workers' union, involving 2,600 employees, aggregates an increase in wages approximating $300,000 a year.

Higher wages were paid to American farm laborers during 1910 than at any time during the last forty-five years, according to the latest government statistics, which gives $27.50 as the average monthly wage for farm laborers. The Women Garment Workers' union of San Francisco has flourished and prospered until it now has a membership of 500, and has obtained the eight-hour working day and excellent working conditions for its members, without restoring to a strike. On the ground that the fire and police departments are supported by the taxpayers of Kansas City, the organized tailors of the town have asked that the policemen and firemen be required to buy their uniforms in Kansas City, made by Kansas City workmen. The next annual convention of the International association of Master House Painters and Decorators of the United States and Canada will be held in Rochester, New York in February 1912. The executive board of the organization is already making preparations. The co-operative working persons of England now number 2,777,513 and have assets aggregating $294,877,113, an increase of more than $10,000,000 over the figures of the previous year. The business of the co-operatives during 1910 amounted in the aggregate to $547,064,229. The merchants has elaborate show windows, and a decorated store in order to bring trade to that store. On the same principle, good streets, permanent sidewalks, attractive yards, both front and back, draw people to a city or town. In addition to the business features, there is of course a satisfying civic pride when these things are attained.

CARE OF THE BABIES

There are few subjects upon which the State Health Officer is questioned more frequently than the care of infants. It is evident that the public believes itself peculiarly unqualified to deal with the ailments characteristic of early infancy. It is equally apparent, from the monthly reports of the State Registrar of Vital Statistics that death stalks openly among those of tender years. The death rate of the very young is always exceedingly high, but in the hot weather their peril is greatly increased. To lessen this death rate, a persistent campaign of education must be waged. In response to a widespread demand, the City Board of Health, of Nashville, Tenn., has prepared and distributed a helpful little booklet on the subject of the care of infants during the most trying period of the year. Because the instructions given are so simple and so manifestly sane, the Bulletin herewith reproduces the advice given on this exceedingly important problem.

Clothing.
In the hot weather a thin gauze shirt, a thin muslin slip, and a diaper. On the hottest days, the slip and diaper are enough.
Keep the baby as cool and comfortable as possible.
As soon as the diaper is soiled it should be removed. Place it in a pail with a cover to keep the odors in and the flies out. Cover it with water and wash as soon as possible in hot water to which a little soda has been added. The diaper should be well rinsed and thoroughly dried before being worn again.
At least once a week all diapers should be thoroughly boiled.
After every movement the parts soiled should be carefully cleansed at once. Babies often get sick from being left in soiled diapers. Never think of putting on any kind of baby powder until the skin is clean and fairly dry.
If the skin becomes chafed in any of the cracks or sprinkles apply a little zinc oxide ointment.

Bathing.
The best time for the bath is just before a feeding—if possible at the same time each day.
The baby should be bathed every day in a tub.
The water should be slightly warmer than its own body.
Use soap that will not irritate its skin.
Do not bathe within an hour after eating.
In very hot weather finish the bath with a little cooler water, and give three or four general spongings during the day with cool water containing a little salt.
If the child suffers from "prickly heat," bathe the affected skin with vinegar and water. But remember that a roughened or inflamed skin may be the sign of an infectious disease and needs the care of a physician.

Sleep.
After the bath let the baby sleep for two hours.
Such a mid-day nap should be insisted on until the child is a year old, and is advisable until the age of four.
Cover the child only with a light sheet when it is hot.
Fresh Air.
Fresh air is very necessary.
Leave the windows wide open.
Never put a child to sleep in a closet.
Keep it out of doors as much as possible.
Avoid the sun on hot days. Keep on the shady side of a street, or in shady spots in the park, or in any shady spots where the air is fresh.

Bed.
A baby's bed should be flat, firm, clean and dry.
Feather pillows are bad things for babies to lie on, especially in the summer.

Feeding.
Every mother should nurse her baby if she can possibly do so.
No other food is so good for a baby as mother's milk.
Of the babies that die before they get to be a year old, nine out of every ten are bottle-fed.
Wash the nipple with cold water before and after each nursing.
The mother should eat plain, well-cooked food and should see to it that her bowels move at least once each day. Constipation in the mother is bad for both mother and child.
She should be careful as to diet and habits of life. Beer and tea are harmful in large quantities (two pints or more daily) may be very injurious.

Regular Feeding.
Regularity in feeding is one of the most important things in the care of a baby. Irregularity in feeding leads to over-feeding in most cases and often causes sickness, diarrhoea, and death.
Feed the child at regular intervals. Do not nurse it every time it cries.

A child is not always hungry when it cries, but it will eat at almost any time that food is offered. If it eats before its stomach is ready for a fresh supply of food, it may become sick. The baby's stomach should be given on a certain length of time to digest the food that is put into it. It should then have a little rest before it is called on to digest more food. If it is not allowed to rest, but kept at work constantly it will become exhausted and that means that the baby will be sick.
If a baby cries between feedings, give it a drink of water that has been boiled and then cooled, with nothing in it.
Even very young nursing babies should have water in the weather between feedings. This can be given out of a spoon or a perfectly clean nursing bottle.

Breast Feeding.
From the third day to the sixth week.—The baby should be nursed every two hours during the day: 6, 8, 10, 12, 2, 4, 6, 8, and should be nursed only twice between 10 p. m. and 6 a. m., not more than ten feedings during the 24 hours. The baby should not be allowed to nurse more than twenty minutes at a time. Nursing longer than this may give the stomach more than it can properly digest before time for the next nursing.
From sixth week to third month.—During the day, 6 nursings 2 1/2 hours apart, at 6, 8:30, 11, 1:30, 4 and 6:30. From that time on until morning only two nursings should be allowed.
From the third to the sixth month.—The nursing should be three hours apart during the day, at 5, 9, 12, 3, 6, 10, with one only between that hour and 6 o'clock the next morning.
From the sixth to ninth month.—The times of feeding remain the same but the night feeding should be discontinued. The child may wake up in the night, but should be given a drink of cooled, boiled water. After a short time, if it is well it will sleep through the night.
From ninth to twelfth month.—Nursing three and one-half hours apart. Five in number. None at night.

Bottle Feeding.
If it is absolutely impossible for a mother to nurse her baby, it may be possible to find a wet nurse. If this can not be done, it will be necessary to put the baby on the milk of some animal.
Cow's milk should not be given to young babies much under a year old unless it is diluted with certain amounts of clean water or barley water. (To make barley water.)—Have one pint of boiling water in a double boiler. Add a pinch of salt. Take one even tablespoonful of barley flour and add a few drops of cold water at a time, stirring until a smooth, thin paste is formed. At this to the boiling water and stir well. Cook for twenty minutes in the double boiler and strain. Robinson's patent barley or the prepared barley of the Health Food Company are standard preparations of barley flour and can be obtained at almost any drug store.
The best milk you can get is not too good for the baby.
If you can not afford to drink good milk yourself, you may be able to get along without it, but the baby needs milk and the cleanest milk that can be obtained. Cheap milk is not clean. It is usually keeping milk from getting dirty that makes it expensive.
All babies should have milk that is clean enough to be certified.
All other milk should be heated to boiling as soon as it is purchased.
To keep milk sweet, get it from the milkmaid whose wagons, cans, and horses look clean. If you know where he keeps his cows, go and see if he keeps them clean.
Buy bottled milk only. Milk in cans exposed to flies and dust is unfit for babies.
Always keep the milk covered. Always keep it cold.
If you can not get ice, keep in cold running water, or if this is not possible, wrap a damp cloth about the bottle and set it in a draft of air.
Feeding After One Year of Age.
Children should be weaned when twelve months old unless the weather is very hot or a physician orders otherwise.
Wean gradually. At first substitute one bottle for one nursing. After a few days give two bottles a day and so on.
Bottle-fed children at this age will require more than milk, although this should still form the chief part of their food.
During the second year most children are badly fed.
Four meals a day should be given, selected from the following:
Soft boiled eggs; strained broths of beef, mutton and chicken, containing small pieces of stale or toasted bread; stale bread or toast with milk; hominy (cooked six hours) with milk;

In order that our employes may attend the Aviation Meeting our store will be closed at 2:00 p. m. Friday.

IF CHOLERA SHOULD INVADE THE CITIES

New York and Boston Tenement Districts Would Be Source of Peril.

Washington, July 27.—Although officials of the marine hospital service insist that cholera will not become epidemic in this country, they admit that in dealing with the disease they are confronted with a serious problem. Six deaths in New York and one in Boston give warning that the United States is menaced by a plague. The federal health officials say that one grave danger is in the possibility of

CHILDRESS TO HAVE OPERA HOUSE AT LAST

Finally it has been determined that Childress is to get a really fine opera house and that without delay. A stock company has been organized consisting of Ed Hartzell, Mart Casan, Ernest Butcher, O. D. Anding and W. C. Berger. These gentlemen are now determining that the house shall be built in time to look shows for the fall season. Plans have been adopted and bids are now being called for. Seventy-five per cent of the capital stock has been paid in and the institution is now a certainty.

The building is to be erected on the corner of Avenue B and 3rd street, N. W., just back of the Childress Grocery Co. The building is to be 60x75 feet with west and north frontage. It will be finished off in nice pressed brick and will have a height of 36 feet, while the flies will be 40 feet high. The plans contemplate a total seating capacity of 750, the parquet containing 538 seats and balcony will be in the balcony. The stage is to be 48 feet in length with a proscenium arch 24 feet high, while the line of sight is to be 18 feet. The building is to be heated by a hot air system, located in a small basement, and ample ventilation has been provided by a huge drive fan under the stage and two suction fans in the top of the front. Besides this, the building will have open air exposures all around 15 feet being reserved on the south side so no other building can ever shut out the light and air. For the safety of the people three exits will be provided on either side. These, with the doors in the ends, should make danger from fire practically nothing. It is the hope of the company to break dirt, August the 1st, and if so, they expect to have the building completed by September 20th or October 1st, in good time for the opening of the fall season.

Vienna Entertains Americans.
Vienna, July 28.—The delegation of the Boston Chamber of Commerce engaged in a tour of Europe has reached Vienna and met with a hearty reception. The municipal government of Vienna has joined with the commercial organizations of the city in arranging for the entertainment of the visitors. The program covers four days and provides for the inspection of the leading commercial and manufacturing establishments of the city together with dinners, theatre parties and automobile rides to the nearby mountain resorts.

Mississippi's Lively Campaign.
Meridian, Miss., July 27.—Mississippi's strenuous and picturesque electoral campaign, which will culminate in the State primary next Tuesday, was further enlivened here today by a monster barbecue at which many head of oxen were roasted and eaten. The affair was arranged by the opposition to ex-Governor Vardaman, who is one of the leading senatorial candidates and was intended to offset the big demonstration of July 4, when eighty head of oxen, drawing a wagon in which was seated ex-Governor Vardaman, was a feature.

Dr. A. H. Doty, whose administration as health officer of the Port of New York is being investigated at the order of Governor Dix because of the cholera scare in the metropolis, and (below) the quarantined home of night watchman Patrick Cushing, who died as the result of Asiatic cholera contracted during his work at the Swinburne Island Quarantine Station.

The cholera specter in New York has become genuine and drastic measures are being taken to prevent a general epidemic of the dread disease.

Cholera breaking out in the congested tenement districts of New York and other large cities. To date all the cases discovered have been among immigrants detained in quarantine. All such cases can be handled without danger of further spreading of the disease, but one case in a New York tenement that was not discovered promptly might develop serious consequences. Fortunately the federal health officials have been preparing for this emergency for more than a year. Cholera is a world-disease and moves in cycles. For eight years the present epidemic has been spreading over Asia and Europe and it was expected to reach United States this year. A year ago the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service issued a bulletin, "Cholera: Its Nature, Detection and Prevention," which gave warning of the coming of the plague and told state and municipal health authorities how to deal with it when it reached them.

Cholera is an absolutely preventable disease and, theoretically, a case of cholera should not result in further spread of the infection. The great danger lies in healthy persons who carry the cholera bacillus in their systems, but show no signs of the disease themselves. Quarantine regulations are of little avail in cases like that, for it has been demonstrated that individuals of this kind may carry the bacillus for a period of sixty-nine days, and in that period one such person might spread the disease over a wide territory.

The infection of cholera is not airborne. It spreads through personal contact and infected food and water. Flies are cholera carriers and are an

To Wed on Pikes Peak.
Colorado Springs, Colo., July 27.—Miss Nona Sloan of Los Angeles and Mr. Myer Lewis of Omaha have completed arrangements for their wedding ceremony, which will be performed at the top of Pikes Peak at sunrise tomorrow morning. The couple will spend their honeymoon in Colorado Springs, after which they will return to Omaha to live.

Has Lots of Cabbage.
J. F. Wade, who has a truck garden down on Seymour creek, has been selling his cabbage at a great rate. He says he will have about 5000 heads that will weigh 1 1/2 to 5 pounds. The largest one he has found weighed 11 pounds. This is not such a bad country for gardens, especially if you have a little water.—Seymour Binner.

PRECIOUS CABINET
WOODS WILL BE USED FOR RAILROAD TIES

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., July 28.—The Panama Railway will lay its tracks over the rarest and most valuable cabinet woods. The road is now being relocated incidental to the construction of the canal over part of the old line and it has become necessary to replace the old soft wood. Eight thousand hardwood ties have just been received at Colon from Columbia. Most of these ties are hewn from guayacum or lignum vitae but there are also many of piovillo, corteza and balsamo. These hardwoods last indefinitely, even in the tropical climate of the Isthmus, but they can be laid and nailed only by the use of special machinery, which bore sholes for the screw bolts and chisels out faces to form the rail seats.
