STOLYPIN'S WOUNDS MAY NOT BE FATAL

RUSSIAN PREMIER IS SHOT BY WOULD-BE ASSASSIN—HAS CHANCE FOR RECOVERY.

SHOOTING WAS DRAMATIC

Shot at Theatre While Talking With Other Ministers—Emperor Witnessed Shots.

By Associated Press. St. Petersburg, Sept. 15.—Belief that Premier Stolypin who was shot by Lawyer Bogrof at the theater in Kiev last night will recover, is strengthened by telegram to his brother, Alexander, that his condition is satisfactory and the operation satisfactory.

Assassination attempted under most dramatic circumstances. At nine o'clock the theater curtain rose. During the second act there was an intermission and Stolypin was leaning with left arm on the orchestra fence and had turned his face to the right toward the center aisle, conversing with the minister of war and others. A young man in evening dress moved quietly down the center aisle and approached the row occupied by the ministers and appeared to accost Stolypin. A second later he whipped a revolver from his coat and emptied it seemingly point blank at Stolypin. A wild cry arose from the spectators and women fainted. The emperor sprang from his chair and after realizing the situation ordered the orchestra to play the National anthem.

This is not the first attempt made against the life of Premier Stolypin. When he was Governor of Saratov in 1905 three shots were fired at him, but without effect.

On August 25, 1906, a bomb was thrown while Stolypin, then Premier, was holding a public reception at his country house on Aptekarsky Island. The Premier was slightly wounded. Thirty-two people were killed and a still larger number wounded. Among the latter were the Premier's 15-year-old daughter and his 3-year-old son. At that time there was a reign of terror in many parts of Russia.

When Stolypin accepted the Premiership in July, 1906, he was perfectly conscious of his danger. He remarked at the time:

"I have no doubt that attempts will be made upon my life, but I hope that order will be restored and stability established in Russia before they are successful."

As Stolypin outlined the policy of the Government it was to be one of "stronghanded reform." He promptly issued circulars to the provincial authorities directing them to spare no efforts to prevent disturbances. As Minister of the Interior, prior to taking over the Premiership, he was recalled in the Duma, in making his first speech, with cries of "murderer" and "assassin," when he defended the alleged illegal acts of police officials and provincial Governors in the suppression of disorder.

"Stolypin's nettle" became the synonym for the hangman's noose throughout Russia. He quarreled frequently in his disputes with that body owing to the confidence which the Emperor reposed in him.

A SHAKE-UP IS INTIMATED

Others in Department of Agriculture May Feel Axe This Winter, Wilson Will Say.

By Associated Press. Beverly, Mass., Sept. 15.—The resignation of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the United States Bureau of Chemistry, will not be requested by President Taft, despite the recommendation of the personnel of the Board of the Department of Agriculture which Attorney General Wickham endorsed.

The President's opinion carried no word of criticism for Wiley, but many words of praise. From Taft's statement it appears likely there will be a serious shake-up in the Department this winter, though it is not believed the President will ask Secretary Wilson to resign.

PEPPERY RECEPTION FOR MIDNIGHT VISITOR

Awakened to Find Man Peering at Him Eugene Isley Fires Shot at Intruder.

Eugene Isley, son of J. M. Isley was awakened at the family residence, 1416 Twelfth street at about 12:30 o'clock this morning to find a man with a lighted match in his hand peering at him. When young Isley raised in bed the man threw away the match and started for the door. As he did so young Isley reached under the mattress for his revolver and fired, one shot as the man went through the door. Neighbors were aroused by the shot and Sheriff Randolph was summoned.

It was found that the shot had struck the door casing. The intruder ran across the yard toward the south. His tracks were found in the dust. The footprints are long and narrow and the shoe heels were turned over. The distance between the foot prints show that the man was getting away as fast as he could.

Drawers were found pulled out in several rooms of the Isley home, and two dollars was taken from young Isley's trousers.

DECLARES THE DIRECT TAX SYSTEM HAS OUTLIVED ITS USEFULNESS

Governor Noel of Mississippi Believes Inheritance Tax Should Supplant Direct Tax in Raising State Revenue

By Associated Press. Spring Lake, N. J., Sept. 15.—The direct tax system has outlived its usefulness for State needs and can be superseded or made nominal by the inheritance tax, aided by other sources of State revenue which can be fairly and equally collected, in the opinion of Governor Edmond F. Noel of Mississippi, who addressed the Governors' Conference here today. Governor Noel spoke to the text, "The Inheritance Tax and State Comity."

"Its incidental effect," said Governor Noel, referring to the inheritance tax, "through gradations according to kinship and progression as to amounts inevitably tends to regulate wealth by furnishing motives for distribution in sums that escape all or serious taxation, and by discouraging wills to strangers or to collateral kindred. If such taxation be made so enormous as to approximate confiscation it would defeat its own purpose because those at whom it would directly aim, by charge of residence and skillful and secret methods of evasion could and would altogether escape its burdens."

Governor Noel's address was devoted chiefly to an outline of conditions in various states. He said in part:

"Our state legislatures determine who can make wills; how they shall be made; what property may be, or may not be, so disposed of; and who shall or who shall not be beneficiaries. Along with this authority over property and persons, within its borders, goes the unquestionable right of the states to collect inheritance taxes on all transfers of property, incident to death. Acquisition of property by will or inheritance, under our government, is neither a natural nor a constitutional right, but is a privilege, created and controlled by law.

"All property, or interests in property, transferred by death, or in contemplation of death, is subject to taxation. If tangible property, then in the state where situated; and if intangible property, such as money on hand or deposit, notes, stock or bonds, in the state containing the domicile of the decedent, or in which such property may have been technically located, for instance, as to corporate securities, stock and bonds, the state granting the charter, and in which record transfers are to be made.

"The tax laws of different states, both as to classes of property and of beneficiaries taxed, are widely variant, resulting in occasional hardships through double taxation. All beneficiaries are taxed in 22 states and only those that are collateral in 16 states.

"Among the states, as to charges and exemptions, there are wide divergencies. Thirteen states, Delaware, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas, Vermont and Virginia exempt wholly, lineal beneficiaries. In some of the other states these exemption applies solely to husband and wife. In the states that tax lineals their tax, both minimum and maximum, is generally much less than that imposed on collateral beneficiaries; for instance, in Wyoming the lineal tax in excess of exemption, is 2 per cent and the collateral 5 per cent. In those states having taxation, grades as to the degree of kinship and progressive as to amounts, since the proportion prevails. In California, which has the highest, both methods considered, the maximum charges against lineals range from 1 per cent to 5 per cent, and collaterals, from 5 to 25 per cent.

"The maximum in a few other states is as high as 5 per cent for lineal and 15 per cent for collateral beneficiaries, only Kansas has both. A few states have fixed charges, as to collateral beneficiaries. Utah and Minnesota have the same exemption, $10,000 and the same charges to both classes of beneficiaries, that of Utah being 5 per cent, fixed, and Minnesota progressing from 1 1/2 per cent to 5 per cent. The usual progressive charge is from 1 per cent to 3 per cent for lineal, with scarcely four agreeing on collateral beneficiaries. With varying minimums, six of the latter, collateral, have a maximum of 15 per cent, two 12 per cent and three 10 per cent; the largest minimum being 7 1/2 per cent, in North Carolina.

"The states and their subdivisions are hard pressed for available sources of revenue, prevalent methods of inheritance taxation being selected as a God-send. This burden begins as the living expenses of the deceased owner ends, and usually not directly upon the estate, but upon certain beneficiaries, who, considering the exemptions, are making but a reasonable contribution to government for access of unearned wealth.

"The tax is simply easily understood and computed, difficult to evade, collected with small outlay and supervision. According to circumstances, division of proceeds can be made between state and county treasurers. The state government, which have direct protection to the decedent and his property, during the period of its acquisition, is the ideal beneficiary of the tax on its transfer. Ad valorem taxation, as a source of state revenue, through its temptations to local officials to escape part or all of the state burden, under presentments, is becoming largely imperative.

"The inheritance tax, susceptible of no such fraudulent abuse, constitutes a much-needed supplement; and, if aided by some other sources of state revenue which can be fairly and equally collected, the direct tax system, which for State needs has outlived its usefulness, can be superseded or made nominal.

"Neither the Federal provisions of interstate commerce, due process of law, other part of the constitution prevents double taxation, and resulting hardships, from conflicting state inheritance laws. Double taxation is inherent unjust, when constitutional. While such injustice is not always preventable, its character and immorality remain unchanged.

"Comparatively few states continue to subject to taxation property primarily chargeable with the burdens of another state government. New York has just abandoned this evil practice by enacting a just and wise inheritance tax law, its rates, however, being unadapted to some states of greatly less wealth; and she leads the way to an enlightened system of inheritance taxation, with full guarantee against wrong to citizens of other states. Its system closely follows the model tax law submitted to and approved by the International Tax Conference; and, in principle, though not in details as to rates and exemption, matters to be adjusted to local conditions, is worthy of universal approval and adoption."

MORRIS IN FINE FETTLE FOR FIGHT

Oklahoma White Hope Faces Fight "Sure Enough" Contest of His Career Tonight.

Special to the Times. New York, Sept. 15.—In the pink of physical condition and equipped with a heavy fist, Carl Morris is ready for his last fight with Flynn at Madison Square Garden. The bout will be ten rounds with five-ounce gloves. Charlie White will referee, but no decision will be rendered. Morris will weigh about 230 pounds and Flynn about 180.

The prospects of a good battle, with one of the contestants a man who, by some, is considered suitable timber from which to work an antagonist worthy to meet Jack Johnson, has created great interest in the bout, and a bumper crowd of fight lovers from all over the country, especially from Oklahoma is expected.

Morris has come out with a clean record far above the ordinary fighter—seven fights and seven knockouts, and all of them inside of six rounds. In Flynn he will meet no unworthy foe for the fireman has knocked into an unconsciousness several good men, notable among them AJ Kaufman. He is a rushing, punishing fighter of the Tom Sharkey type.

Morris, with his 6 let 4 inches, will tower above Flynn; and he also will have the advantage of youth, reach and weight. The fighters of both men say they are in fine fettle and prepared to go the ten rounds at a fast pace.

The following table shows the measurements of the fighters:

Morris. Measurements. Flynn. Years 24. Age. Years 23. 6 ft. 4 inches. Height. 5 ft. 11 inches. Pounds 230. Weight. Pounds 180. Inches 42 Chest (normal). Inches 40. Inches 42 Chest (expanded). Wholesale Outbreak of Infection in Vicinity of Holy See Is Half Expected.

The mayor of a small village on Lake Bracciano, seventeen miles from Rome, last night telephoned the health officer here to send doctors immediately to examine a woman suspected of having cholera. The doctors found the woman dead and diagnosed the case as cholera.

They discovered that her contaminated clothing had been thrown into a stream nearby, a tributary to the Tiber river that supplies the Vatican with water for kitchen use. All the district around the Vatican is supplied with the same water for industrial purposes.

A hasty message was sent to Rome and workmen were dispatched to break the water pipes, which they succeeded in doing before daybreak.

PRESIDENT TAFT OFF FOR THE WEST

FROM TOMORROW UNTIL NOVEMBER 1, PRESIDENT WILL BE ON THE MOVE.

A RECORD BREAKING TOUR

Will Travel 13,000 Miles, Visit 24 States and Deliver 200 Speeches.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 15.—President Taft bade adieu to his summer home this morning and, accompanied by his secretary and assistants, departed in an automobile for Boston, where he makes his start tonight for his record-breaking speaking tour of the Middle and far Western States. Prior to leaving his home he spent more than an hour looking over and dictating replies to some of the many messages of congratulation that poured in upon him on his fifty-fourth birthday anniversary.

From tomorrow morning until the morning of November 1, when his private train rolls into the station at Washington, the President will be constantly on the move, making speeches, attending receptions and dinners, reviewing parades, and traveling.

The trip will occupy forty-six days, during which time the President will visit twenty-four States and travel approximately 13,000 miles. He is scheduled to deliver nearly 200 speeches, in addition to innumerable impromptu addresses.

The first speech of the trip is to be made tomorrow morning at Syracuse. There the President will deliver an address to the farmers and others assembled at the New York State Fair. Leaving Syracuse he will go to Erie and from that point he will head straight for Michigan, where he will spend four days. From Michigan he will go to Illinois and Missouri. After leaving Missouri the States through which he will pass, in about the order of his crossing them, are Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Nevada, California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indiana and Maryland.

Some of the larger cities and towns where he will stop, after visiting Syracuse and Erie, are Detroit, Bay City, Grand Rapids, Peoria, St. Louis, Kansas City, Hutchinson, Waterloo, Topeka, Des Moines, Ottumwa, Omaha, Lincoln, Hastings, Cheyenne, Laramie, Salt Lake City, Pocatello

Boise, Walla Walla, Lewiston, Spokane, Tacoma, Bellingham, Everett, Seattle, Tacoma, Centralia, Portland, Sacramento, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Butte, Billings, Livingston, Sheridan, Deadwood, Lead, Rapid City, Pierre, Aberdeen, Mankato, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha, Chicago and Pittsburg.

The itinerary, it is to be noted, covers the most of the States which may be regarded as debatable ground in the coming presidential contest, and the most attention will be paid to the sections where the support of the La Follette-Bourne organization is supposed to be strongest. In his speeches the President will discuss five principal subjects—tariff, reciprocity, currency, the peace treaties, and conservation.

WHY NOT RAISE MORE AND BETTER CROPS?

Most people know or at least should know, that it would be better for us farmers and for many others, if we could raise more and better field crops on less land, we would then not need to cultivate so many acres, and still raise the same amount we do at present.

It would eliminate much of the drudgery of farm life. I have been farming and observing things closely seven years in Illinois, six in Arkansas, and three here in Wichita county, and I find that by trying to cultivate too many acres one usually gets in a hurry and does some the slipshod way, in order to get crops planted at the right time.

The result is almost always an imperfectly prepared seedbed. Years ago I used to sneer at theorists who laid great stress on the preparation of the soil, but since then I have learned better by experience. It takes several years of observation and experimenting to learn this. An imperfectly prepared seedbed in most instances does not permit the plants to make the proper growth. No plant can force its roots through a solid brick at it can through mellow earth, and no seed can germinate in a pile of dry clods. It is a great drawback which positively hinders the plants in making the necessary growth of foliage upon which they must make their fruitage. I have seen hundreds of acres cultivated in such a poor way that it did not make enough to pay for the seed and labor.

The blame was usually laid on the season, and I have seen some acres cultivated by the same man, but the work was done well. In such a way that the plants had a fair chance to make. The result was almost double that which was not thoroughly done.

To farm too many acres is like gambling in a sense worse, there is the hard work wasted, and the time spent it worth much.

It would be better to convert some of the land we try to cultivate into pasturage, and raise more stock instead.

Raising live stock is even more profitable on high priced land than a great many men can understand or figure out correctly.

The cattle men of the west are going out of business at an alarming rate. Their pasture lands are being cut up and settled by farmers, who make it a business to cultivate "all they can handle," which in most instances is too much. They usually get over a large acreage, but it is usually cultivated in such a poor way that it does not give the crops a fair chance to make well. That's all there is to it. And another thing: most farmers in the west, sow their grain crops too thick, and for that reason when a dry spell comes the crops suffer sooner, or cannot stand out freely. Many times I have seen our neighbors sowing a bushel and a half and two bushels of fanned wheat per acre, while father and I usually sowed from three pecks to one bushel, the result was we raised more and better wheat than they did. This is a fact. I can prove it. It is an injury to almost any crop, especially on poor soil, and in case of a dry season.

Of course lots of farmers do not know poor land when they see it, which is a queer thing indeed.

Last summer a farmer in this county dared to express in one of the Wichita county papers that all of this land here was rich and did not need any manure or no other kinds of improvements, and I have heard a great many others say comparatively the same thing. It is claimed that only more moisture is only necessary. This is true enough, in case of a quick decision, or of shallow knowledge. But in deeper thinking, in scientific farming or in facing actual conditions, we cannot use this "if" and "wish" work in no country.

Not that I wish to impair the fame of this country, or because I may be discouraged with it. I like it. I have great confidence in it. In fact I see great possibilities here. But I know of hundreds of acres here, that are very poor, weakened by the continual cropping of corn, and cotton, and grain.

This also is a fact. I can show any one a great deal of poor soil without going not farther than a mile from where I live, and the state chemist can tell you how poor it really is. In case of dry weather crops on poor land

News From the Oil Fields

In The Big Pasture.

A new gusher was brought in on the Stringer farm, near Electra, Texas, Tuesday evening at six o'clock. A party of prospective Frederick investors went to Electra Tuesday morning and viewed the new well Wednesday morning. They saw the oil spurting and bubbling out from under the cap, giving them visions of wealth.
Several wells have been brought in near Electra during the past week, and the field is said to be extending and growing at a wonderful rate.

Eight men were in the party from Frederick, including J. D. Schneek, C.
I. Keul, E. L. Crooks, I. J. Holloman, Z. T. Cox, J. T. Duncan, William Ray and J. W. Morris. They have in mind the purchase of a tract of 50 acres, right in the oil belt, and probably will form a company for that purpose.

Paul Trees, of Tulsa, and M. L.
Clovie, of Blacksville, West Virginia, who had been here for the past few weeks, securing oil leases and making preparations to participate in the development of the oil and gas resources of Tillman county, departed yesterday morning. Mr. Trees said that he expected to begin development work in this county within a short time after completing preliminary arrangements. He has a lot of leases along Red River, near Grand field.

Interest in the local oil situation grows greater as news continues to come of big strikes at Electra. The farmers and others interested in the Davidson neighborhood recently held a meeting and decided to combine their interests in an effort to interest producers who will do immediate prospecting. Their efforts are expected to bear fruit at an early date.
The taking of oil leases continues over the county, and many are being filed almost daily. Oil men from tried fields continue to come to Frederick and other towns in the county, and it is confidently believed that before long the prospecting will take some more tangible form than the mere taking of leases—Frederick Leader.

Raising Money to Sink Well Near Vernon.

To aid the Board of Trade in getting a deep well drilled at some available place within a radius of six miles of Vernon a bonus is being raised, which is to be offered to some reliable oil concern for drilling a well 2,000 feet deep unless oil or gas is found in paying quantities at a less depth.

The committee has been diligently working on the bonus for several days and yesterday afternoon reported to a special meeting of the Board of Trade that $2,805 had been secured.
The work is being continued today in an effort to raise $3,000 the committee having gone to the country to try to interest some farmers in the movement.

Following is the subscription list
and the agreement:

We, the undersigned, hereby agree to pay amount opposite our names as a bonus for the purpose of assisting the Board of Trade in getting a deep well drilled at some point, where leases can be secured, within a radius of not to exceed six miles from Vernon.

Said bonus is hereby subscribed and paid under the following conditions, viz:

—Bonus to be raised shall be not less than $2500.00 nor more than $3000.00.

—The Board of Trade has appointed a committee of three who shall hold said bonus, as well as leases secured, in trust and upon their making contract with some practical, reliable oil man, subject to ratification of Directors of Board of Trade, they will assign leases secured and obligate themselves to pay over said bonus when said well is drilled to depth of 2,000 feet or in case oil or gas is found in paying quantities at less depth.

Unless said well is commenced within sixty days from Sept. 18, 1911, said bonus will be returned to each subscriber by above committee.—Vernon Record.

Miss Nell Stoppard the popular correspondent for the Oil and Gas Journal, left last night for Independence, where she will visit for several days. Miss Stoppard expects to leave for Denver on the 17th, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Argue, and has given quite a surprise to a few of her intimate friends, by announcing her marriage to Mr. H. E. Harrison of Denver, on September 20th.
The wedding will take place in Den-

Wichita Falls, Texas, Sept. 15th, 1911.

President Taft seems to have adopted Mr. Bryan's method of campaigning, as the press dispatches have him booked for 200 speeches to be delivered in twenty-four states between this September 15th and November 1st. This is nearly four a day, and if he carries the schedule out, will have the record for speech-making.

The six men placed in nomination for road commissioners at the mass meeting last night are well qualified to fill the positions. Only three are to be elected, however, which is the unpleasant feature of the matter, necessitating the scratching of three names. The positions are such that will require much of their time and the compensation, $3 per day, is very small. Therefore, the three who are chosen will be unlucky, but all are patriotic, broad-gauged fellows, and will take no offense at their defeat.

Supposing that all prospective senatorial candidates should retire except Clarence Ousley and Cone Johnson? That is the kind of race Texas Democrats would like to see pulled off. There can be no doubt of the ability of either to fill the coveted honor with dignity. Neither is there doubt that Mr. Ousley would receive the support of Senator Bailey in such a fully during the past few years, and if, during that time, it has departed from the record we failed to note it. Our Nocona contemporary should quote the offending paragraph, so that its readers may share with it the satisfaction of passing judgment. Unless it does, unbiased readers will give its Dallas namesake the benefit of the doubt, knowing that the Nocona News is an ardent worshipper of political idols.—Bowie Cross Timbers.

Doubtless all this refers to the stand the Dallas News has taken on the Bailey matter. That paper has, at times, been rather severe on the Senator, but it must be remembered that the provocation was great. Senator Bailey has never failed to lambast the News. The News, however, seems willing to make peace, and as an evidence of this, on learning that it was Senator Bailey's intention to settle at Port Worth and engage in the practice of law, the News very promptly and in a business-like way solicited his patronage by gently reminding the Senator that "the News is the best advertising medium in Texas." That shows the News is willing to do what is right, and it may be that if he will place with them his professional card the News will "let up" on him, for awhile. These newspaper fellows, you know, are easily bought up. Senator Bailey himself is authority for the statement that Senator Chilton purchased more than a hundred of them outright; the writer one among the hundreds for one dollar a piece, or the price of a year's subscription to their respective papers, and from the amount of work these "bought-up-one-dollar-a-piece" editors have been doing for the last ten years, even Senator Bailey himself cannot deny but that they have earned the money.

A Texas legislator was recently held up and robbed. Perhaps it was an Illinois man trying to get even for being held up and robbed by the legislators at home.—Birmingham News.

Remored that Colonel Bryan is handing out lemons from that famous lemon farm of his in Texas.—Atlanta Constitution.

contest, and to that extent, at least, he would have a great advantage. Johnson, however, is the equal if not the superior of any other man in Texas in debate. He proved this in his contest with Senator Bailey as a candidate for delegate-at-large to the National Convention. It is true, Senator Bailey declined to meet him in debate, giving as a reason that, to do so, would lower his dignity, but there are those who believe that Senator Bailey could have given a better reason for not accepting Mr. Johnson's frequent challenges to meet him in joint debate. At any rate, Mr. Ousley could not give the same reason for not meeting Johnson, and if the two are allowed to make the race for United States senator, the campaign will be an interesting affair from start to finish.

The Dallas News is a great newspaper, mark the term, newspaper, but its editorial columns are about the limit of endurance sometimes. It could no more do justice, editorially, to one whom it had marked for slaughter than it could print a cold blooded misstatement of facts in its news columns. The Dal-Gal is a queer combination. Nocona News.

The Timbers does not intend to offer any defense for the Dallas News. It is simply able to take care of all comers. But we would like to know in what particular editorial or editorials the News has misstated facts. We have read its editorial page very care-

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County, Texas, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon A. C. McClure by making publication of this citation once in each of four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to be and appear in the next regular term of the Justice Court of Precinct No. 1, Wichita County, Texas, to be held at the court house in Wichita Falls, Texas, on the 26th day of September, the same being the last Monday in said month, then and there to answer to the complaint of J. R. Chandler, filed in said court on the 1st day of Sept. 1911, the number on said docket being No. 100, being against A. C. McClure and Walter H. Ellis; the nature of plaintiff's demand being a suit upon a promissory note and for the conversion of mortgage property: Said promissory note was originally for the sum of $200.00 dated Nov. 18th, 1910, due 18th days after date hereof, interest at the rate of 10% per annum, and providing for an additional 10% for attorneys fees if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. Said note is credited as follows: June 25th, 1911, $50.00; August 21st, 1911, $20.00, leaving a balance due on said note of principal, interest and attorneys fees of $114.84 for which he sues. That to secure the payment of said note the defendant A. C. McClure executed his chattel mortgage upon the following described stock: One gray mare mule; one bay mare mule; one black horse mule; one dun horse, and two blue mare mules, five years old. Plaintiff alleges that defendant Walter Ellis has converted the two blue mare mules to his own use and benefit and deprived plaintiff of his said security upon same, that he has at the time said Ellis converted the same a good subsisting and valid mortgage upon the records upon said blue mules.

Herein fail not to have before said court on the said first day of the next term thereof this writ with copies hereof thereon showing how you have executed the same. Given under my hand at office this 1st day of Sept. 1911. W. E. BROTHERS, Justice of the Peace, Precinct No. 1, Wichita County, Texas. 95-101-07-13

LA FOLLETTE CIRCULAR ON "CAN TAFT WIN?"

Campaign Literature Shows Hopelessness of Republican's Cause Next Year.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 15.—The character of campaign literature that the La Follette bureau is sending out makes sweet music to the ears of Democrats. This literature shows the utter hopelessness of the Republican cause in the next National election. It goes to such lengths as to make it impossible for the La Follette following to support Mr. Taft for the Presidency should he be nominated. The La Follette headquarters in a large office building here present a scene of great activity. Modill McCormick of Chicago was in charge today and a force of clerks was busy sending out a circular entitled "Can Taft Win?"

The circular contains that the President could not be nominated to recover the Eastern States which he lost year and that he can not hold the Western progressive States which remained Republican last year.

The progressive Republicans in private conversation always assume that this defeat staves President Taft in the face provided that Democrats nominate a progressive. The La Follette circular proceeds to make it plain that President Taft could not win for the following reasons:

"In 1910," says the circular, "the Democrats carried twenty-seven States of which twenty-four now have Democratic Governors, while twenty-two States now have a majority of Democrats in Congress. But it must be noted that although the stand-patters lost some eighty seats in Congress in the landslide the progressives doubled their representation in the lower house. Nothing presents the situation so clearly as a table showing in detail the situation developed by the last election with the electoral votes based on the new apportionment:

Table with 2 columns: State and Dem. Rep. votes. Includes Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Arkansas.

Table with 2 columns: State and number of votes. Includes Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

"To secure his election President Taft must recover not less than sixty-three electoral votes from States carried by the Democrats in 1910, without losing any votes in the progressive States, which then stayed in the Republican column. Can he do it? Can he get back his native State of Ohio? Can he develop any strength in the States on the Atlantic Coast, which left him last year, without making corresponding losses in the West?"

"Not counting his own State, there are only five States, all on the Atlantic seaboard, where he can expect to make any considerable recovery. Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey and New York. But there are nine States in the Middle West and far West where the revolt against the Payne-Aldrich tariff, the Wickersham railroad policy, Ballingerism and Lorimerism menace the success of any standard candidate for any office. These States are Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, and Wisconsin.

"New the number of electoral votes in the two groups is nearly equal, and it is to the Western group that the President is turning his energies.

"For six weeks he will lay aside his Executive duties, to invite the West to repudiate the course of its progressive representatives in Congress. The last year was followed by increased progressive strength in Congress and the State capitals. Is it likely that the voters have so changed that the result this time can be other than it was before?"

All suffered considerably and for a time some of those affected appeared to be in a dangerous condition. All showed improvement yesterday morning. Mr. Beard was able to be down town.

Trans-Atlantic Cable Business

Traffic Chart of Western Union, Anglo-American and Direct U. S. Cable Business, Showing Capacity of the Cables and the Proportion Now Utilized.

Proposed Modification of Existing Arrangements

A provisional modification of an arrangement which has existed for many years has been reached between the Western Union Telegraph Company, The Anglo-American Cable Company and the Direct U. S. Cable Company, under which the cable systems of these companies now worked exclusively in business connection with each other, but operated and maintained separately, will be operated in direct physical connection with each other and with the Western Union land system.

Two objects are to be attained by this arrangement:

First, more efficient and economical operation.

Second, the introduction of new forms of service to the advantage of the public.

The Trans-Atlantic Cable Situation and Competition

The Trans-Atlantic cable situation is as follows:

The Mackay group of seven cables, including the German cables, owned by or worked in physical connection with the telegraph lines of that company form one system.

The French cables comprise an independent system, using both the Western Union and the Mackay land lines for their United States connection.

Neither the Western Union nor any one of the companies of the Western Union group has, independently of the others, facilities enough to handle the business which at times any one company might be called upon to take care of, because of some particular rush of business, or because of some cable interruption. Nor could any one company furnish all the direct circuits necessary for efficient service, although the combined facilities of these companies are ample if they could be used supplementary to each other and interchangeably.

In competition with these is the Western Union group of cables, eight in all, owned by three separate companies, two of which are British companies owning five of the eight cables.

As it is, each company operates its own cables through separate and distinct offices and under separate and distinct management. All interchange of business is by actual transfer of the business from one company to the other, with the consequent delay and interruption of a service in which seconds are valuable.

Two only of the British owned cables terminate in the United States and all of them are entirely dependent on the Western Union for their connection with any telegraph system, or for their reaching any center of business, and are now worked exclusively, so far as business is concerned, with the Western Union.

As it is, each company operates its own cables through separate and distinct offices and under separate and distinct management. All interchange of business is by actual transfer of the business from one company to the other, with the consequent delay and interruption of a service in which seconds are valuable.

Efficiency Increased, Waste Prevented

The proposed arrangement between the Western Union, the Anglo-American and the Direct U. S. companies will bring the eight cables of the three companies under one operating control. The consequent increase in effectiveness and economy will place the Western Union in a position to offer certain advantages in cable service not now enjoyed by the public.

So soon as the proposed arrangement goes into effect, the Western Union purposes, with the consent of the British Post Office Department, to introduce at least two new features or services in addition to the proposed rate—the

The other way open to enable the Western Union to make such improvements and introduce such new services as it proposes to do, would be to buy new cables. This would seem to be the height of folly. Duplication of the existing trans-Atlantic cable facilities at a cost of many millions, when there are more than ample facilities for all business, would put an unnecessary financial burden upon an already fully burdened business and would probably postpone the reduction of rates or introduction of new services.

There is no cable monopoly possible. The three systems—the Western Union, the French and the Mackay—will continue to exist.

Limited Business Hours and Idle Facilities

As at present carried on, the trans-Atlantic cable business is practically all flash service, i. e. instantaneous. Owing to the difference in time, there are only a few business hours of the day common to both sides and during these hours at least 75% of the cable business is done. This is demonstrated by the accompanying chart.

In the interests of international business nothing should be done to interfere in any way with the so-called flash or instantaneous service, and the lines should be kept clear to accommodate such messages during the few business hours common to both countries; but to continue to confine the cables to this class of service, as at present, will utilize only about 25% of the existing capacity of millions of property and places on that limited service all the capital, maintenance and operating charges.

The limited time and the character of the business, if best results are to be obtained, demand direct cable circuits between principal centers of the two sides of the Atlantic, as well as special circuits devoted to special business.

Efficient Service Requires Sufficient Facilities

To meet these requirements it is essential not only that there be at all times sufficient cable facilities, under one control, but that they should be operated interchangeably with each other and in close physical connection with land lines as one system. Ample spare facilities are necessary to provide against the very frequent cable interruptions.

Neither the Western Union nor any one of the companies of the Western Union group has, independently of the others, facilities enough to handle the business which at times any one company might be called upon to take care of, because of some particular rush of business, or because of some cable interruption. Nor could any one company furnish all the direct circuits necessary for efficient service, although the combined facilities of these companies are ample if they could be used supplementary to each other and interchangeably.

like garden peas. They also make good hay.

Because it draws nitrogen from the air, it is a cheap source of this expensive fertilizer. If plowed under when about half the seed are ripe they will grow next winter thus reseeded the land. This makes it a still more inexpensive source of nitrogen. If grown a few years on the same land, and always plowed under in the spring, it will change the texture of the soil, converting it into a veritable garden bed, which holds moisture well similar to a sponge.

Because of its growing here like the native grass it is a most valuable legume, since one need not buy the expensive seed. It will draw more nitrogen from the air than from the soil. For pasturage it is also excellent. In more humid sections than this I have seen it grow four to six feet long, spreading a dense carpet of foliage all over the ground which sometimes is difficult to plow under.

But it pays, it does great good. It will do it here also. This country is its natural home. It is a great drought resister, the fern like leaves narrow and long afford plenty of air space in between and among the foliage.

But remember vegetable matter can only then do its most good, after it has had time to become well decomposed and mixed with the soil. And there must be a great quantity of it, a small amount at a time becomes used up by weeds and crops, and is therefore little noticed. But just add plenty of it on a piece of land for an experiment give it a fair trial, you will then find that my statements are absolute facts. I plowed under about six acres of vetch this spring in May, some of which grew on last year's cot on land, and a part of the land was plowed last fall for turnips in September.

It begins to grow on the turnip patch in December. I was surprised when I saw it. I began to inquire if some one had sown vetch there at some time previous. But I soon found that it grew here in many places. The plant will resist a drought better on early fall plowed land than it will on corn or cotton fields. But it will do well on land that was not plowed, if it gets a good start, wherever it does not grow in this country. I believe it is because it has not been seeded there, and has not had a fair chance to do so. I have known this legume seven years, but have never known it to become a nuisance, wherever it grew. I mean bothersome in raising other crops on the same land. I feel that I have a plausible reason to believe that there are great possibilities in the cultivation of the different kinds of vetches here. There are several varieties that grow here, all seem to do well.

If men will only take up this work, study and experiment, they will find a positive find that vetch here is a sure and profitable crop, that will revolutionize farming in this country. It will make the farms more fertile, in fact the whole country more prosperous. Because it has two very important qualities, first as a soil improver, and second by a moisture conserver. The possibilities therefore are great.

Most of our soils need it, and most of our farmers need to know it. The grim crust that forms after a rain and chokes and squeezes our crops almost to death when small can be prevented. Vegetable mould will change the texture of our crust forming soils. If we help it do so.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Fifteen years is the average life of a railroad crossing.

A German engineer has invented an electrically operated apparatus by which he claims to measure time to the tenth millionth part of a second, and which he is trying to induce the railroads to use.

A coin-in-the-slot machine invented by an ingenious Englishman enables a person riding on a railroad train to learn at what speed he is traveling. Prominent Americans traveling in England, notably among them Jacob H. Schiff and James R. Keene, are reported as saying that the English railroads do not receive adequate wages. In some instances men with families are expected to live on seventeen shillings to one pound a week.

Statistics show that tourists travel is increasing approximately 10 per cent to western centers. On this basis it is estimated that in five years, at the end of which time the transcontinental tunnel to James Peak will be available, 700,000 people will be traveling in that direction.

$752,000,000 PAID OUT IN DIVIDENDS

Stockholders Receive Checks for Last Disbursement From Standard Oil Company.

New York, Sept. 15.—Stockholders of the Standard Oil Company today received checks representing the last dividends that will be disbursed by the great corporation. Under the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States ordering the dissolution of the company the old organization must be broken up before the end of the year. Consequently the final dividend for the year will not be paid by the old company. In the dissolution of the parent concern the stockholders are to receive stock in the subsidiary companies equivalent to their holdings in the old corporation. It is not considered likely that the stockholders will suffer any loss of income with the change in organization.

Since the organization of the Standard Oil Company in 1882 down to the final dividend paid today the stockholders have received dividends amounting to the enormous sum of $752,000,000. For the past eight years the company has paid to the holders of its $100,000,000 of stock an average of $40,000,000 per annum. In 1900 and 1901 it paid $48,000,000, and in the year following $45,000,000. The dividends, however, were much less than the total earnings. The original value of the property has been increased greatly by the reinvestment of a large share of the earnings for the extension of its business and the acquisition of securities.

Although the Standard Oil Company never issued an annual report, or made other returns regarding its business further than publication of its dividend, investors never lacked confidence in its ability to pay dividends, and the high rate maintained made the company's stock sell at from four to six times its par value. The highest price ever reached was in 1901, when it was paying 48 per cent per annum. The stock then sold up to $84 a share.

Quannah Wants Deep Well.
The Tribune-Chief is informed that our citizens may look for a proposition to be made to them this coming week.

It will emanate from J. S. Green of Goodlett, and his old partner, who have drilled numerous wells in Ohio, California and other states. These two gentlemen offer to go down two thousand feet for $10,000 and five hundred feet more if necessary, at the same rate. Mr. Green and his partner to furnish the casing, etc., and give bond to insure the faithful performance of their contract, demanding only fifty per cent of the contract price, as the work progresses.

This offer we believe, is hard to beat. At least it is no higher than the prices we have heard quoted at Electra, where they have the machinery to do the drilling upon the ground. —Quannah Tribune-Chief.

All the eastern carriers, including both the all-rail and lake-and-rail lines have decided to appeal to the interstate commerce commission in the matter of the proposed reduction in rail-and-lake lines of the lake-and-rail rate on flour from Minneapolis to New York. It is contended that in the light of a decision made in what is known as the Jensen case some time ago, the commission as a matter of consistency, can hardly afford to allow the Hill lines to carry out their plans, because it would disturb the entire rate structure covering grain and flour.

To resuscitate persons who have nearly drowned a European doctor has invented a simple machine, to which the arms and body are fastened and manipulated to produce artificial respiration.

Notes from Labor World

Tampa, Fla., has 10,000 cigarmakers.

Nearly 60 per cent of the steel trust employes are foreign born, and nearly two-thirds of these are of Slavic race.

Since 1878 the Cigarmakers' International Union has paid out in sick, death, strike and out-of-work benefits more than $7,000,000.

The French minister of labor and social thrift has instituted a permanent committee for studying the indications of approaching industrial unemployment.

The United Association of Plumbers, by an agreement, entered into without friction, has established the eight-hour day at Springfield, O. This makes nine crafts in the city now enjoying the shorter workday.

Activity in trade union movements all over Germany, in nearly all cases the men are winning, and a steady tion of hours and in the increase of wages is practically certain.

In Los Angeles, Cal., the Garment Workers' Union has more than doubled its membership within the last year and practically every union garment worker is employed, so great is the demand for the garment workers' labor.

During the last ten years nearly ten thousand cracker bakers have been eliminated from the trade union movement through the tactics of the cracker trust, which is said to be financed by the same men interested in the steel trust.

An agreement has been concluded by the theatre managers and the Theatrical Stage Employer's Union of Toronto, Ont., as a result of which the members of the union will receive a uniform average increase in wages, amounting to 25 per cent.

The workmen's compensation laws of California and Wisconsin went into effect on September 1. They make the employers liable for any injury sustained by an employe in the performance of his duty, abolish the contributory negligence and fellow servant defenses in actions for damages brought by injured employes and provide for a system of compulsory industrial insurance. In Wisconsin nearly one hundred industrial concerns have already signified their acceptance of the law.

R. C. Cato and G. H. Benton, employees of the Northwestern railway shops are both in the Miller Hospital as the result of an affray in which they engaged this morning. One of them has seven or eight knife wounds in his chest. While the other seems to have been jabbed in the arm and chest with a screw driver or other dull instrument. Complaint was filed against both men by the county attorney charging them with an affray.
