MANY OF WOUNDED MAY BECOME INSANE

FEARFULNESS OF LIBERTE EXPLOSION DETHRONES REASON OF SURVIVORS.

DEAD FROM 350 TO 400

Throughout the Night Launches Went to and Fro Carrying the Dead.

By Associated Press. Toulon, France, Sept. 26.—Only a ship's crew was drawn up on the deck of the battleship, sufficient to man the Liberte.

This morning's official estimate places the dead and missing or wounded between 350 and 400.

The search of the wreckage continued all night, launches carrying loads of the dead or wounded ashore.

Eight wounded were also taken from the portion of the wreck above the water. Some of the wounded will probably become insane.

One of the survivors, a warrant officer, who came out of the hurricane of fire with only a slight cut on the forehead, telling of the disaster, said:

"The fire broke out in the general store, among cans of oil, turpentine, paint and other inflammables. In spite of every effort, the flames reached the coal bunkers and, after that, it was difficult to prevent them from gaining the powder magazines. It was about 5:30 o'clock and dawn was breaking before the danger seemed to be realized. Assistance was then being sent to us from the port and three other warships lying in the harbor.

"Just when the whole ship's crew seemed to have reached the boats in safety there was a terrific explosion. The Liberte was hurled over on her side and the forepart, where the full force of the explosion was felt, lurched forward heavily with an appalling crash. Cries resounded on all sides. The greater part of the ship's boats with the rescuers and the men from the Liberte instantly sank.

"How I escaped from this frightful calamity I do not know. From that moment, all I was conscious of was being carried aboard the Republic, where I was taken care of. When I had somewhat recovered my senses, they told me what had happened.

"After the explosion enormous fragments detached from the boats of the Liberte and other pieces of iron fell on the Republic, smashing the bridge and plunging between the decks.

Commander De Kerandren of the Republic said that when the explosion occurred his vessel was shaken from stern to stern.

At The Lamar Airdome.

One of the best pleased audiences of the season witnessed the opening performance of Smith and Adams at the Lamar Airdome last night. Every one saw what we are all looking for—something different; something out of the general run of vaudeville acts. This team is decidedly one of the cleverest that has ever played on a local stage and should no doubt will draw a large crowd tonight.

Mr. Smith's eccentric dance and Miss Adams' execution of the song "The Convict" and "The Bird," along with the scenic effects which were made especially for this sketch was the hit of the season. They will give an entire change tonight.

New pictures will be shown. The feature film "When the North and South Met" will be shown. This is one of those old-time Southern pictures we all like.

J. J. Taylor and family from Petrolia were among the local visitors in the city today.

KELL WILL ATTEND OMAHA MEETING

Frank Kell, of the Wichita Mill & Elevator Company, Wichita Falls, is to be one of the 1,000 or more delegates who will attend the Fifteenth Annual Convention of the Grain Dealers National Association at Omaha, Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

Mr. Kell has signified his intention of going to the convention which is to be one of the most important held in the country this year.

The people of Omaha have made elaborate arrangements for the entertainment of the visiting grain dealers. There is to be a big theatre party on the night of Oct. 9, when the grain men and their wives will have a theatre all to themselves, the entire house having been bought out for that evening. Tuesday night, Oct. 10, a great banquet is to be given by the Omaha Grain Exchange in honor of the visitors.

Special arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the visiting ladies. There will be a number of receptions given in their honor and they will be taken in automobiles over the city, the ride to include the forty miles of boulevards which are the pride of the Nebraska metropolis.

The membership of the Grain Dealers National Association is made up of all the prominent grain brokers, commission men and elevator owners in the country. It is one of the strongest trade organizations in the United States.

Losses at Opening Later Wiped Out

Stock Exchange Opens on a Decline But Market Later Recovered Losses.

New York, Sept. 26.—Another outburst of selling on the stock exchange at the opening today carried prices down swiftly. The first steel transaction was twelve thousand shares at 55 5/8 and 54 5/8 an extreme loss of 1 1/4. Union Pacific declined 2 3/8. Copper stocks also became weak, and American cotton oil declined 3/8. Later these losses were largely wiped out.

PRaises THE TEXAS SYSTEM OF RATES

IOWA EDITOR POINTS TO RAILROAD RATE SYSTEM OF TEXAS AS AN EXAMPLE.

RAILROADS AND FARMERS

Speaker Says Future Agricultural Development Depends On Closer Relation of Two.

By Associated Press. Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 26.—That the future of the United States as an agricultural country depends upon a closer relation between the farmer and the railroads was the gist of an address before the National Conservation Congress here today by Herbert Quick, of Madison, Iowa, editor of a farm journal. Mr. Quick said, while the relations between the farmers and the railroads are not always amicable it was the farmers who really built the railroads and were then "neatly beaten out of their interests."

Mr. Quick placed emphasis upon freight rates as an index not only to the farmer's profit but to the general cost of living. He charged that railroads in fixing rates often contrived with great population centers to the detriment of smaller cities and the country in general.

"Mr. Quick enumerated several instances of co-operation between farmer and railway, of the introduction of improved breeds of live stock along the lines of his system by President Hill of the Great Northern, of the maintaining of demonstration farms on Long Island by the Pennsylvania, and of the running of educational trains for the purpose of bringing agricultural science into touch with the farmers. Railway aid to agriculture, he said, has grown to be a fashion.

"But all these fine things," he continued, "have been done and are still being done with an eye single to tonnage. We may trust the enlightened selfishness of good business to push this sort of activity to the limit of its profit. But in the great task of conservation do the railroads owe any duty to the farms beyond what they are now performing? This phase has yet to be worked out.

"The greatest transportation fact faced by the American people is the problem of developing remote parts of the country. If the building of a national system of waterways be reported to the aid of the railroads must still be demanded if success is to be obtained.

"The railroads of the United States have enormously retarded agricultural developments and added to the expense of living, but permitting the judgement in our transportation system of that industrial parasite, the express company. The express companies perform practically no functions which do not belong to the railroads. Every dollar of the huge profits which the express companies make is a burden upon industry, unnecessary and unjust.

"The farmer must be placed in such condition that he can work up trade in the city and ship in small packages to the consumer at just rates."

Mr. Quick then took up the matter of rate making in the interests of national development. As regards national questions, he said, the railroads must be enlisted in such policies as may be dictated by patriotism.

"The whole structure of rates, as they now exist is devised to favor the long haul and to favor market, and make up with reference to the demand of certain trade centers, and certain powerful financial interests some of which are closely allied to ownership of the railway." He referred to the history of rates on the border line between the Gulf Trade Basin and the territory of the railroads running to Chicago and the Atlantic ports. The farmers of Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and much other territory, he said, are entitled to the near outlet by way of the Gulf. The battle, he declared, was fought out not along the lines best for the nation, but with

LIGHTFOOT PREPARES FOR MANDAMUS

Refusal of Secretary of State to Furnish Certified Copies Will not be Served, He Declares.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 26.—Attorney General Lightfoot believes he has found a new way out of the difficulty into which a refusal of Secretary of State McDonald to furnish certified copies of the appropriation bill before the governor vetoed portions of it and after the governor vetoed portions of it, might lead him. He will resort to the legislative journals to complete his records for the mandamus suit against the secretary of state. If the secretary of state refuses all the certified copies desired, he says the journals show everything that is necessary, that the official and that the courts have in some instances even refused to go behind the journals.

The stenographers from the attorney general's department today set to work in the secretary of state's office to prepare copies of the appropriation bill, which the secretary of state will be asked to certify. The secretary of state, it seems, is willing to certify to the bill exactly as vetoed but is not willing to certify to the whole bill below sections of it were cut out by the governor's blue pencil, believing that he has no authority to certify to a document other than identically that which was placed in his hands.

When the work of copying the bill is completed the secretary of state will be asked to certify to anything except the bill as bisected, and in that event the legislative records will be returned to the secretary of the senate may be asked to certify to a portion of the appropriation bill as printed in the journal, or mandamus proceedings may be instituted against the secretary of state to compel him to certify to the documents exactly as the attorney general desires them, on the ground that any citizen can demand certified copies from the secretary of state.

Action is to be instituted by the attorney general to compel the secretary of state to print the bill exactly as passed and before the blue pencil was used, on the ground that no appropriation for the attorney general's department was vetoed. Comptroller Lane says all of it was vetoed and the secretary of state takes the same position as the governor—that half the appropriation is available under the veto.

Mr. Lightfoot will deny that the vetoed portion of the bill should be omitted, but will insist that it is a part of the general laws of the state, and further, that no part of the appropriation bill, which has been vetoed may be omitted, but that all of it must be printed, the veto message to show the items eliminated.

Mandamus proceedings are expected next week in the supreme court when that court convenes. It is understood H. M. Garwood, of Houston may be retained to defend the governor's veto.

EIGHT DEPOSITORS IN POSTAL BANK

The people of Wichita Falls evidently place full confidence in the stability of their own State and National banks, for during the twenty-two days the Postal Savings Bank has been in operation here there have been only eight depositors. The deposits so far have amounted to a little more than $200.

DEAUPRE JURY FINALLY DISCHARGED

Special to the Times. Dallas, Texas, Sept. 26.—The jury in the trial of O. F. Beaupre, charged with the murder of his wife, was finally discharged today being unable to agree after being out eighty-five hours. Each vote is reported to have stood 9 to 4 for acquittal.

WILL NOT DELAY MEXICAN ELECTION

BOTH HOUSES OF CONGRESS REJECT PETITIONS PLEADING FOR POSTPONEMENT.

CIVIL WAR WAS FEARED

Believed Postponement Would Have Plunged Country into Deploable State.

City of Mexico, Sept. 26.—Mexico's Presidential election will be held on October 1, the date fixed by official decree. Petitions for postponement were rejected last night, both by the Senate and by the Chamber of Deputies. In both houses the majority against delaying the election was large that in the Chamber being 146.

The petition rejected by the Senate was that presented by the Reyistas, whose chief claim was that the condition of the country was too near that of anarchy to warrant the holding of an election.

By its action upon the Reyista petition the Senate has given an indirect answer as to what it will do with the resolution of the lower house.

Little time was used by the Senators in discussing the petition presented to them; but ten deputies spoke for and against the measure presented to them, under suspension of the rules. It was the second reading.

Anticipation of action yesterday, demands for seat tickets were made early and every seat in the galleries, with the exception of those reserved for the diplomatic corps, was occupied. But once was the threat to clear the galleries made, but the authorities of the chamber were unable to repress all bursts of applause or booms and hisses that arose from time to time during the long debate. Between Maderistas and anti-Maderistas the audience appeared about evenly divided.

Outside a big crowd gathered soon after the chamber convened at 4 o'clock, and, despite a downpour of rain, remained until its adjournment. As the Deputies filed out of the building the crowd greeted them with cries of "Viva Madero," and other phrases meant to be complimentary.

In no way does the action taken by either the Chamber or the House indicate that the Congressmen are acting in favor of Francisco I. Madero in both houses, and especially in the Chamber, they made it clear that they were voting against the postponement merely because they feared adverse action would plunge their country into a state far more deplorable.

It was when Jose Onstello, a young member of the Chamber, was speaking in favor of postponement that the crowds in the galleries brought upon themselves the threat of eviction. Jeers, hisses and shouts of disapproval interrupted the speaker, who in desperation tried to out yell the audience above. Inability to proceed resulted in discussion on the floor on the rights of the audience, but temporary order was secured by the threat of the speaker.

Castellot and the other four Deputies who advocated postponement advanced arguments, including specific cases of where peace does not prevail in Mexico, notably Chihuahua, Campeche and Sinaloa. Attention was called to the insurrection of the Indians in Campeche and Zapata and his rebellious exploits were thoroughly discussed.

Those speaking against the petition argued that the state of affairs was not so bad as what might follow an alteration in the electoral plans, openly expressing their belief that civil war might be expected as a result.

Francisco Baines, a brilliant and witty speaker, who attained great notoriety a few years ago by writing "The True Juarez," a book in which he belittled the work of the reformer, was the last to argue in favor of holding the elections on the day fixed. He is one of the most pronounced of the anti-Maderista group, but declared that in his opinion the Chamber had no right to change the election date; that the majority should always rule and that it was very evident that the majority wanted to name Ma-

AGAINST LAW TO SELL WILD DUCKS

Sheriff Issues Warning That Persons Violating This Law Will Be Arrested.

Sheriff Randolph has received reports that boys and men are offering for sale wild ducks killed at Lake Wichita and on ponds and tanks near Wichita Falls. This is in plain violation of the game laws and Mr. Randolph wishes to warn all persons that anyone caught offering for sale wild ducks will be arrested and complaints filed against them.

It is also a violation of the law to shoot ducks from a sink box. It is said that large numbers of ducks were sold here last fall by persons who made the shooting of these fowl a business for profit.

dero President and as soon as possible. In a manner witty and sarcastic he justified his classification as a scientific by attacking both Madero and Gen. Bernardo Reyes.

Madero will arrive here tomorrow from Puebla, but will leave almost immediately for Guadalajara to finish his speaking tour. His speeches are now made not in his own behalf—since Gen. Reyes has retired from the race—but to strengthen the candidacy of his running mate, Jose Pino Suarez, whose risk of defeat either by Dr. Francisco Gomez or Francisco L. de la Barra grows more apparent to those at the Maderistas headquarters each day.

It was stated that the Katy would try to replace the striking carmen there with the strikebreakers and the sheriff of Grayson county had been asked to help if trouble arose.

FOREIGNERS FLEE FROM TRIPOLI

DANGER OF WAR BETWEEN ITALY AND TURKEY CAUSES THEM TO LEAVE HURRIEDLY.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

Italian Warships Reported to Be Sailing for Tripoli to Bombard That Port.

By Associated Press. Tripoli, Tripoli, Sept. 26.—Foreigners alarmed at the impending war between Italy and Turkey are leaving this place as rapidly as they can get away. Among the foreign population the belief is certain that there will be war and they are fleeing from the country while they can do so in safety. It is feared the lives of Christians in Mohammedan countries will not be safe if war arises.

Situation As Viewed From London.

London, Sept. 26.—Europe had just settled down to what it was hoped would be a season of peace of the settlement of the Moroccan question, when news came of a threatened war between Italy and Turkey. Nobody here believes that Turkey will give up Tripoli for economic reasons or would without instructing the Tripolitan authorities to offer resistance to the Italian advance.

On the other hand, friends of Italy do not believe she proposes to take Tripoli with force before she first attempted to settle the differences through diplomatic channels, although it is admitted Italy has serious grievances, including the boycott of Italian goods in Asia and Tripoli; danger to Italian subjects in Tripoli through the return to the country of the anti-Italian agitator, and in the matter of concessions in Tripoli granted to non-Italian firms.

However, from all sources comes the information that Italy is preparing to force a compliance with her demands by mobilization of her army and navy and the movement of ships toward Tripoli.

The Turkish force at Tripoli is variously estimated at from 20,000 to 30,000 men, described as badly equipped and unable to offer serious opposition to Italian landing parties.

France, it is expected, will not interfere in any way with Italy, while Great Britain would be an interested spectator.

Germany would be the most seriously affected as she would be in the position of having to choose between two irreconcilable friends and which will neutralize entirely the naval advantage which she expected to secure from a careful nursing of Turkey's reconciliation between the Turks and Austrians and the encouragement of Turkish and Austrian naval ambition.

Germany, therefore, is likely to attempt a settlement. It is improbable, however, that the Turks could be held back. For them to back down would bring about further international troubles, while for them to go to war would mean an opportunity for which the Bikan States have long been waiting.

Taft to Lay Corner Stone.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 26.—Topeka will be President Taft's first stop after he leaves Hutchinson tomorrow morning. His visit here will be in connection with the big celebration now on the semi-centennial of Kansas as a State. While here he will lay the corner stone of the State Soldier's Memorial Hall, which the State of Kansas is to erect at a cost of $350,000 in memory of the Kansas soldiers who fought for the Union.

Taft at Hutchinson.

Hutchinson, Kansas, Sept. 26.—President Taft was the central figure here today in the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the admission of Kansas as a State.

The spindles in the United States at the end of August numbered 28,371,945.

She WANTED Something Specially Good for Unexpected Company

Mrs. Blank stepped into our meat department one day last week in evident excitement and said: "I've been interested in your meat talks during the past week and if you have been telling straight facts then you ought to be able to help me out nicely right now."
"Some unexpected guests have come and I've got to get an unusually good dinner in a hurry. I think they are partial to veal and if you can give me some extra fancy veal cutlets I'll not forget you."—She was a stranger to us.
She got 8 cutlets at a cost of 75¢ and went out saying we would hear from her again and we did. Next day she phoned us that those cutlets were the best she ever had and that her guests whose opinion she valued highly had complimented her dinner and especially the cutlets.
We have other veal cutlets just as good, 17 1/2¢ per lb., about 2 to a pound.
Don't you want some?

Woodrow Wilson Club Organized in Wichita Falls

Enthusiastic pledges for support to Woodrow Wilson for the Democratic nomination for the presidency were tendered by representative citizens at the meeting at the City Hall Monday night when a Woodrow Wilson club was organized. The attendance was larger even than had been expected and the speeches were enthusiastic and earnest.

Hon. A. H. Britain was elected president of the club and W. J. Bullock, secretary. Vice presidents will be named later in each precinct. In the county and it is planned to make the club a vital political force in the county. A canvass for membership is to be started at once and W. J. Bullock, Fred W. Householder and J. M. Blankenship have been named as a committee to solicit memberships.

Speeches were made by J. T. Montgomery, R. E. Huff, A. H. Britain, Rev. Lowrance, W. J. Bullock and others. All declared their belief that the people are turning toward the Democratic party in the coming campaign and that Woodrow Wilson was the man to lead the Democratic hosts to victory.

Rev. Lowrance expressed the hope that the largest Woodrow Wilson club in the United States would be organized here in proportion to the population of Wichita Falls. "I believe Woodrow Wilson is one of the brainiest men in the country," declared Rev. Lowrance. "He is a Southerner and was made president of a great university because of his pre-eminent ability. No man can be suggested whose mental and moral characteristics are more striking. He is a brainy as well as a clean and honest man."
W. J. Bullock said that he believed that Woodrow Wilson would attract support from the progressive Republicans of the country. He said that Taft undoubtedly would be the candidate for the Republicans, but that he was opposed by thousands of the progressive members of his own party and that he had already found it necessary to defend his policies and administration. "If the Democrats will nominate a man of broad gauge ideas," said the speaker, "and a man who is close to the people Mr. Taft will be defeated. I believe that Woodrow Wilson is the man and I will do all I can to advance his interests and I think Texas should and will send a solid delegation to the national convention, pledged to vote for Woodrow Wilson for president of the United States."

The following is the pledge signed and those who were in attendance and compose the charter membership:

We, the undersigned resident voters of Wichita County, Texas, hereby subscribe our names as members of the Woodrow Wilson Democratic Club of Wichita County, Texas, and pledge ourselves to the support of Governor Woodrow Wilson for the nomination by the Democratic party of the nation for the Presidency.

TAFT OPPOSITION APPEARS IN TEXAS

Republican Factor Would Prevent Re-nomination of President Movement Said to Be Gaining.

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 26.—It is reported sagacious men, acting as "smelters" for that faction of the Republican party opposed to the re-nomination of President Taft, are in Texas and other Southern States at this time for the purpose of learning who would be the result of an organized effort to prevent the delegations to the hopelessly anti-Republican States will send to the National convention next year from voting for President Taft to succeed himself. It is asserted these men, presumably acting on the initiative of Senators LaFollette, Cummins, Bristow and other insurgents are not accompanied by brass bands whatever they learn are to be put in the "sealed book," so far as the public is concerned.

"I may be giving the thing away," said R. L. Dickens of Milwaukee, active Republican of Wisconsin, "but I happen to know there are some movements going on over the political map now that ought to be at least interesting to the Taft lieutenants. I am not going to call names, but I have run into three of the most zealous LaFollette men in all Wisconsin at work in Southern States during the past few days. I am personally acquainted with all of them and am not indulging in fancy when I say I as good as know what they are up to, despite the fact they tried to deny what I told them I suspected."

"At Nashville I came across a personal friend, a strong LaFollette man. He seemed chagrined at seeing me, but finally told me he was there on personal business. At Atlanta a week later I was surprised to run into another LaFollette booster, a Madison man. It was he who first aroused my curiosity. I know him well and didn't believe he had any ordinary business in Georgia. He told me a funny story about his presence there, but I took the trouble to discover the whole yarn was a myth—born of politics."

"As I arrived in San Antonio Saturday night I almost jostled another friend, another Wisconsin politician. We had fifteen minutes in which to talk before his train got away, and he made some interesting admissions."

"I asked him where he had been stopping. He said he had been at the home of a personal friend. I told him about the two other statements from our State I had run across. He smiled and said he had heard from them. He added with a giggle that Wisconsin was not the only State pretty well represented in the South now. I asked him how hard they were after Taft.

"We are going to get him," he answered. He denied having seen or talked with a single Republican office holder in the South, and I am inclined to believe this is true. In fact, I don't think the mission of these men has been unfolded to anybody at any great length."

"It has been reported up North that there was considerable likelihood of the Republican machine in Texas being pitted against the President. I have heard recently, however, that Cecil A. Lyon and his pets have made up with the Administration and that arising accidents, they will be found at the next convention hurling for the big one with as much zeal as they used to yell for Theodore. It is evident, however, some certain big guns of the Republican party have the idea the South is not exactly wedded to the President, even for his party's nomination."

"I am fond of President Taft personally, but it is only candid to say his nomination for a second term depends absolutely on the votes from States that are certain to cast their electoral votes for whomsoever the Democrats nominate. But for the Southern delegates there would be no chance for Taft to win a second nomination. If he insurgents can break into the South they will have the President going. I imagine there is a chance for a beautiful fight over the delegation from Texas, no matter which side of the line the machine follows."

Several San Antonio Republicans asked whether they had heard of the insurgent "smelling committee," said they had not even had an inkling of such a procedure. Most of them believed President Taft cannot be beaten out of the Texas delegation. Another said: "Don't use my name, but if you predict there is going to be a lively row for the delegates from this state and that Mr. Taft's hasn't cornered them yet, you will be eternally near the truth."

It is generally known among Republicans of Texas, State Chairman Cecil A. Lyon long entertained some "soreness" toward President Taft. The appointment of Congressman Gordon Russell as United States District Judge and other acts of the executive, to say nothing of Canadian reciprocity, etc., fretted the Sherman man, and he didn't care who knew he didn't feel at home in the White House like he did when T. R. was there. It is said by Republicans here, however, a truce was reached between the President and Chairman Lyon and that the Texas end of the "regulars" from mail carriers to State chairman will host the Taft banner high at Fashions change as regularly as the Seasons. With the advent of Autumn you find yourself looking wistfully at the new fashions and styles in suits and overcoats now being displayed. Some men who have always worn "ready-mades" long to have their next suits or overcoats "tailor-made," but hesitate because of a fancied idea that the cost is greater. Not so.

TESTING AN OCTOPUS.

The Power of This Repulsive Creature Much Questioned.

There have been made abroad experiments with an octopus, in a specially devised tank of sea water, in order to test the truth of the many stories told of monster cephalopods dragging human victims to the sea bottom, says Harper's Weekly.

In the tank with the octopus there was placed a "dummy" of the same specific gravity as a man, and this was baited with a crab. Attracted by this tempting morsel, the octopus made for the figure, seized it in its powerful arms and tried to drag it under water without success. It then urged its body toward the edge of the tank, and holding the glass with some of its arms, it dragged its prey beneath the surface and crushed the crab shell with its powerful jaws.

It is believed that these experiments afford proof that the octopus can only drag its victims far below the water near rocks to which it can attach its suckers. There is one spot in the bay of Naples where these creatures attain a large size, and now and then a fisherman is reported missing. It is thought that such disappearances are due to the unfortunate man being caught by the leg by a concealed octopus and dragged under water. In the case of such a repulsive and powerful creature as the octopus it is difficult to separate fact from fiction.

A VACATION IN BED.

Twenty-four Hours' Sleep Versus a Week's Holiday.

If you want to obtain complete rest and recuperation equal to a week's vacation in minimum time sleep the clock around twice is the advice of a physician who holds a high place in medical circles in England.

"To spend twenty-four hours in bed," he said to a friend, "instead of rushing away for a few hours' change of scene when you are run down physically and mentally, is worth a week's holiday. The night before, having gone to a theater to take the mind off worries and having supped wisely and well, instructions should be given that the morning calling shall be omitted.

"Then sleep. On waking turn over and sleep again. On waking again ring for some hot milk. Drink it and sleep again and keep on sleeping. Have nothing in the intervals more substantial than soup. Do not read. Keep the eyes shut constantly. Have a warm bath in the evening and sleep again.

"When you are tired of sleeping sleep again for the night. Nothing calms the nerves more than resting the eyes."—New York Herald.

Remember the Baker.

At the court of assizes in Venice when sentence of death is about to be passed a man clothed in a long black robe enters the court and, advancing to the bench, bows profoundly to the judges, saying, "Remember the baker!" Then he bows again and retires. Here is the explanation of the custom: Three centuries ago a baker was executed at Venice for a crime of which he was not guilty. When his innocence was fully proved the judge who condemned him invested a sum of money, the interest on which served to keep a lamp perpetually lighted in the palace of the doges, this being called the "lamp of expiation." In addition, their fatal mistake has for 300 years been held up as a warning to their successors on the bench when they are about to inflict the extreme penalty of the law.

The Box Tortoise.

Though the tortoise is slow of foot, it is quick to make the best of all its available modes of defense. The box tortoise possesses a singular defensive apparatus. The plastron or shell covering the under part of the body is so formed that its front segment can be drawn upward to protect the animal's head, the head meanwhile being drawn back under the carapace or shell on the back of the tortoise. The upper and under shells then meet in front, forming a kind of box in which the creature is unassailable. When the danger is passed the reptile relaxes a muscle and the raised part of the plastron falls, allowing the head and fore feet to come forth. This movable plate is fastened to the plastron by a strong hinge of elastic ligament.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

When Israel Zangwill was an obscure youth teaching in a Jewish school in London he sent a short poem to a leading American monthly. It came back by an early post. He kept it, and after he had achieved fame as a writer he sent the same poem to the same magazine. This time he received a cable from the editor offering to buy the "world rights" for a large sum. The poem was the same, word for word.

Different.

"Why, a year ago you told me this place was easily worth $15,000. Now you estimate its value at less than $10,000."

"You must remember that I was trying to sell it to you then. Now you want me to sell it for you."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Gov. Wilson's Tariff Views.

In an interesting article on Woodrow Wilson, in Munsey's for October, Isaac F. Marcousson credits the Governor with the following view-point on the tariff situation:

"I believe in a tariff for revenue only, but I recognize the fact that our existing economic system has been built on the opposite theory. Any change in our scale of duties ought to be brought about by prudent and well considered steps, and with state-manlike regard for every legitimate interest involved. We ought not to impair our industries or imperil the employment of our working people.

"Everybody will agree that if our tariff policy is indeed to be protective and to seek the objects which it has always pretended to seek, it is perfectly legitimate that it should pay a very careful regard to the business interests of the country taken as a whole. But that is a very different matter from paying regard to the individual interests of particular undertakings and of particular groups of men. The long and short of the whole experience, as we now see it, is that our whole tariff-legislation has degenerated from a policy of protection into a policy of patronage."

Blue and Gray Reunion.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 26.—A great national reunion of civil war survivors is to be held in this city tomorrow in connection with the annual fall festival. It is to be a reunion of the blue and the gray and from as far south as Texas and as far north as the New England States the old warriors have journeyed to Memphis to mingle together in peace and extend fraternal greetings to each other, looking back at the past with reverence and resolving to leave a heritage of a united country. The city presents a breezy, gay appearance. On all of the principal streets masses of bright-colored bunting and great clusters of waving United States and Confederate flags can be seen. By agreement of the local members of the Confederate Veterans and the Grand Army the Stars and Stripes and the Stars and Bars are everywhere entwined and equal prominence given September 26.

- 1777—The British troops under Lord Howe entered Philadelphia.

- 1904—Earl Grey was appointed Governor General of Canada.
- 1910—Serious riots in Berlin between strikers and the police.

Morris Sheppard has finally decided to make the race for the Senate, and this means that nearly every county in the Texarkana congressional district will put out from one to three candidates for Congress to succeed Mr. Sheppard. Two of the most prominent, it is said, will be Horace Vaughan of Texarkana and Attorney General Jewell P. Lightfoot.

So far but little opposition has developed to the proposition to vote $150,000 road improvement bonds for commissioner's precinct No. 1, the election for which purpose is set for October 12th. Many, however, are of the opinion that $150,000 is excessive, and would rather support a proposition that would call for only about half that amount. It is hardly probable that all of the $150,000 will be needed, and in the event this is found to be the case, only such part of the issue will be offered for sale as will be needed, the remainder need never be issued. The men who are to be elected to fill the offices of commissioners will be the judge as to how much of the bond issue will be necessary.

Tomorrow, September 27th, is the 29th anniversary of Wichita Falls. The Civic League will celebrate this event by giving a most charming musical entertainment tomorrow night at the Wichita Theatre, and as the pro-

The work of printing a newspaper every day is a task and it is almost impossible to prevent the making of errors. Frequently the linotype operator strikes the wrong key and brings out the wrong letter, and it is then up to the proof reader to catch and mark it. When he fails to do this, there is an error—sometimes in the spelling of a person's name. This occurs frequently in The Times, and it only calls attention to the fact that newspapers who make it a business to copy from it may be on their guard and not make the same errors, thereby throwing a double responsibility upon The Times. This in all kindness.

TEST FOR INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM

Constitutionality of Such State Law May Be Decided By Supreme Court.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26.—The initiative and referendum probably will be the subject of a decision with far-reaching consequences by the Supreme Court of the United States, during the approaching term. The question of the constitutionality of the expedients of government forms the basis of a suit between the State of Oregon, where they are in use, and the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company. As the case is near the head of the docket, it will be reached in time to insure a decision before the end of the term. The case originated in the company's challenge of a law enacted by the Oregon Legislature under the initiative plan, by which a tax of 2 per cent was placed upon the gross earnings of telegraph and telephone companies. Taking the position that the initiative and referendum, which are not pertinent to the Republican form of government guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States, the company refused four years to pay the assessments. The State thereupon brought suit. There was a fight to a finish in the trial court, but the decision was favorable to the law. A like conclusion was reached by the Supreme Court of the State and the company, still unsatisfied, carried the case to the highest tribunal on a writ of error.

Much attention is already being given to the case because of its great importance. As the constitutionality of the law is squarely presented, it will be incumbent upon the court to deal primarily with the fundamental principles involved in a system which is coming into vogue in many States. It is estimated that 8,000,000 or 9,000,000 people will be affected by the result.

In addition to Oregon, the States of Colorado, Montana, South Dakota, Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Maine and the prospective State of Arizona, now possessing constitutional provisions for the initiative and referendum, while the States of California, Washington, Nebraska and Wyoming are preparing to vote on acts authorizing such features, Nevada has the initiative and referendum soon to adopt the referendum.

If not too long delayed, the court's decision will meet a demand of Congress where the question, involved will receive much attention during the coming session.

sole reference to the interests of railroads.

"The building of the Gulf Line was robbed of its benefits to the farmer. Rates were so adjusted, and still are, as to make the Gulf lines as bad for the farmer as the Atlantic lines, instead of making the old lines as good as the new should be. The present railway situation is full of such anomalies."

Quick said, "of such complete development in Iowa, Nebraska, the Dakotas or Oklahoma, as has been attained in some European countries, and yet it is merely a question of transportation. If it cannot be accomplished by land carriage, he declared, the nation will have to have recourse to waterways. The desired end, he said, might be attained through the use of tapering rates—that is, by rates which increase not with the distance, but of some basis which gives the remote points a less tariff than the nearby points. As an instance of the benefit of tapering rates he referred to the rates on citrus fruits from Pacific coast points east. The rate on oranges and lemons is the same on all points of the coast.

MISS PALMER, appearing in this week with the vaudeville duo, Story and Walker at Colonial in a musical comedy act.

Politics and Politicians.

It is claimed by the Woodrow Wilson supporters in Texas that the decision of United States Senator J. W. Bailey to withdraw from public life at the end of his present term means a hard blow to the Harmon presidential boom, which they declare has depended largely upon the influence of Senator Bailey.

The leadership of the two United States senators from Pennsylvania are deeply involved in the primaries to be held in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh at the end of this month. Senator Penrose is battling to hold Philadelphia against the present city administration while, in Pittsburgh, Senator Oliver is striving to wrest the leadership from Mayor McGee.

Arthur P. Gorman, who has been nominated by the Democrats for governor of Maryland, has been an active participant in the public and political life of the State for eight years, during which time he has been a member of the State senate. His career has attracted attention, not alone because he is the son of his father, who so long was one of the national leaders of the Democratic party, but on account of his own strong personality.

The chief interest of the national politicians in the State elections of this fall is directed toward Massachusetts and Rhode Island, as it is predicted the country will hear much about national issues and the presidential election of 1912. Both States are interested principally in manufacturing and are directly concerned in the tariff, which comes forward as a prominent issue.

Probably a Lot of Your Troubles Wouldn't Trouble a Want Advertiser at All!

Want advertisers and answers of want advertisements ACCOMPLISH THINGS that other people simply "worry about," and hope that they "will work out somehow, sometime." With want advertising, the property owner finds either buyers or tenants, while the non-advertiser WAITS for someone to "come along" and search for him and for his property. With want advertising, the worker finds work—the employers finds workers—and the machinery of daily life does not slip a cog. With want advertising, the used articles are sold to advantage—the business plan finds a "backer"—the buyer and seller discovers each other without any "blind searches," and people come to manage their affairs with the smallest possible amount of vexation, worry or delays. There's not much nourishment for the "trouble-germ" in any of your affairs if you utilize want advertising to the fullest possible extent.

Escaped the Bullets. Dr. James Crank, who was Washington's family physician, was with the Father of His Country in the expedition against the French and Indians in 1754, and the next year he attended General Braddock in his fatal campaign. Fifteen years later, while exploring wild lands in the western districts of Virginia, Dr. Crank encountered a band of Indians led by an aged chief, who instructed the physician through an interpreter that he had made a long journey to see Colonel Washington, at which time the latter of Washington had fled his rifle fifteen times and ordered all his young men to do the same. In fact, Washington had two horses killed under him that day, and his coat was pierced with four bullets, yet he left the battle field unharmed.

A Chemical Experiment. When the general Hopper, Isaac T. Hopper, met a boy with a dirty face or hands he would stop him and inquire if he ever studied chemistry. The boy, with a smug and staid countenance, would answer: "No."

"Well, then, I will teach thee how to perform a curious chemical experiment," said Hopper. Hopper took a piece of soap, the boy, who had a dirty face, took a piece of soap, and Hopper said: "That is a beautiful trick it will make, and how much whiter the soap will be. That is a chemical experiment. I will let thee to try it."—Life of Isaac T. Hopper.

A WOMAN OF THE HOUR WILL OPEN SEASON HERE

"A Woman of the Hour" will be the opening play at the Wichita Theatre October 6. An advance notice of the play says: Its song numbers are bright and possessed of graceful melody. The story taken from Mary Jane Holmes' latest novel is intensely interesting from dramatic standpoint has no superior and few equals. Mr. Martin's writings need no comment and the management has spared no expense to stage the bill as few bills are staged. The best talent obtainable from the metropolitan cast has been secured and the little mother captivates each and every one of the audience from start with her grace and personal magnetism. "A Woman of the Hour" has proven itself to be one of the best drawing cards of the season—read the book—see the play. ### Oddities in a Day's News

Twins Win Prize by Living Three Months.
James and Edmond, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Love, of Marblehead, Mass., Tuesday qualified for the James H. Gregory twin fund by passing their three months birthday. James H. Gregory, who died two years ago, left $1000, the income to be paid for life to the mother of the first twins born in the town, provided the twins lived three months. The Love twins are the second set born since the request, but the first to live the three months period.

Well of Brine Kills Fine Trout and Trees.
Hundreds of trout in Onondaga creek, perhaps the finest trout stream in New York state, are being killed by a brine well that has broken through the earth at Carters, New York. The well, which is about fifty feet in diameter, is within fifty feet of the bank of the creek and is overflowing into the stream, according to reports received by the state conservation commission. The well has undermined the land and has killed all the trees in the vicinity.

Coney Island Uses 1440 Tons of Confetti in Week.
Approximately 1440 tons of confetti were swept up and removed from the streets of Coney Island during the week's celebration of this year's Mardi Gras, according to a report by the street cleaning department of New York. The total is some 400 tons larger than that of last year. Sixty men and a large number of carts were employed in the work each morning, the cost to the city being about $2000. The confetti was carted to the Coney Island dump and burned.

Asks Policeman's Help And is Arrested For It.
Something new in police duty was discovered when George Hendricks, ordered Patrol Sergeant Martin Mulvihill of Chicago 50 cents to break up an engagement for him.

"I'd do it myself, sergeant," said Hendricks, "but I simply haven't got the heart. Her name is Mrs. Nellie Pearson. You don't have to tell her right out, if you don't want to."
"Not much, said the sergeant. "I'll just send you in on general principles. You are not the kind of a man Chicago wants to roam at large."

Puget Sound Pack of Salmon Breaks Record.
The pack of pink salmon on Puget Sound this season now is expected to total 900,000 cases, or more than double the pack of the largest previous season, 1909, when the sound pack was 448,739 cases. Almost the entire catch has been sold. Packers declare this is unprecedented.

FREE PAPER FAILURE.

(Editor and Publisher)
A dispatch from Oklahoma City, Okla., announces that the Pointer, a free newspaper issued by Tucker Bros. of that city, has suspended publication. The paper was started three or four years ago under most favorable circumstances. The Tucker brothers were practical printers and newspaper men, who believed that a paper which should be distributed free of charge to the citizens of Oklahoma City would make a great hit and would soon become a most valuable advertising medium.

The Pointer at first consisted of but four pages. Nearly all of the work in getting it up was done by the Tucker brothers themselves, and a sister acted as bookkeeper. As the newspaper was full of local news, written in a bright and intelligent manner, it soon became popular with advertisers. So great was the demand for space that its size was increased from four to eight pages and finally to sixteen. The circulation which was only a few thousand at the start, soon ran up to 10,000, then to 15,000 and recently to 20,000.

While the circulation remained at 10,000 the Tucker brothers made money out of the enterprise, but when it began to approach the 20,000 mark the cost of white paper became so heavy that in a very short time all of the surplus earnings were wiped out and they faced a deficit. Shortly before this point was reached a new press had been ordered to take care of the fast growing circulation. Unfortunately, when the payments became due they found themselves unable to meet them, and finally they were obliged to cease the publication of the paper.

A few months ago the owners of the Oklahoma, the leading newspaper of the city, established the Free Press, a free afternoon journal, for the purpose, it is said, of putting the Pointer out of business. The fight between the two papers soon became very acute. Instead of having one free paper to read, the people now had two, and public attention was divided. The advertising rates of the new paper were lower than those of the older publication and this had its effect in reducing the revenues of the Pointer and in bringing about the end.

The results of the free newspaper war in Oklahoma have been awaited with considerable interest by newspaper publishers throughout the country. If the experiments tried in that city had proved successful, undoubtedly many other free newspapers would have been started in other parts of the country.

The most notable failure in the field previous to the Pointer and the Free Press, which also suspended, was Detroit Today, an enterprise in which James Swanson sunk a fortune a few years ago.

If the new Levy election is adjudged constitutional the voters of New York State will have two ballots to vote in the presidential year of 1912. Upon one of these official ballots will be the names of candidates for presidential electors only, while the other will bear the names of candidates for State officers.

WHAT SAVED HER LIFE

Mrs. Martin Tells About a Painful Experience that Might Have Ended Seriously.

Rivesville, W. Va.—Mrs. Dora Martin, in a letter from Rivesville, writes: "For three years, I suffered with womanly troubles, and had pains in my back and side. I was nervous and could not sleep at night.

The doctor could not help me. He said I would have to be operated on before I could get better. I thought I would try using Cardul.

Now, I am entirely well. I am sure Cardul saved my life. I will never be without Cardul in my home. I recommend it to my friends."

For fifty years, Cardul has been relieving pain and distress caused by womanly trouble. It will surely help you. It goes to the spot—relieves the trouble—relieves the symptoms, and drives away the cause.

If you suffer from any symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardul. Your druggist sells and recommends it. Get a bottle from him today.

An Immense Flower.

The largest of all the flowers of the world is said to be the rafflesia, a native of Sumatra, so called after Sir Stamford Raffles. This immense flower is composed of five round petals of a brickish color, each measuring a foot across. These are covered with numerous irregular yellowish white swellings. The petals surround a cup nearly a foot wide, the margin of which bears the stamens. The cup of the rafflesia is filled with a fleshy disk, the upper surface of which is covered with projections like miniature cows' horns. The cup when full from its contents will hold about twelve pints. The flower weighs about fifteen pounds and is very thick, the petals being three-quarters of an inch.—Scientific American.

Rhinoceros Horns.

The horns of the African rhinoceros sometimes grow to the length of four feet. In older times rhinoceros horns were employed for drinking cups by royal personages, the notion being that poison put into them would show itself by bubbling. There may have been some truth in the idea, inasmuch as many of the ancient poisons were acids, and these acids would decompose the horny material very quickly.—London Telegraph.

Adaptability.

Client—Before we decide on the house my husband asked me to inquire if the district is at all unhealthy.
House Agent—Er—what is your husband's profession, madam?
Client—He is a physician. House Agent—Hm—er—well, I'm afraid truth compels me to admit that the district is not too healthy.—London Opinion.

An Endurance Test.

"Here is an account of a remarkable endurance test."
"Umph! Some couple been married for fifty years?"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Eugene S. Ives of Tucson has made formal announcement of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States senator from the new State of Arizona.

POWER OF AN AUDIENCE.

Influence It Exerts Over an Actor or a Speaker.

No orator living was ever great enough to give out the same power and force and magnetism to an empty hall, to empty seats, that he could give to an audience capable of being fired by his theme.

In the presence of the audience lies a fascination, an indefinable magnetism, that stimulates all the mental faculties and acts as a tonic and vitalizer. An orator can say before an audience what he could not possibly have said previously going on the platform. Just as we can often say to a friend in animated conversation things which we could not possibly say when alone. As when two chemicals are united a new substance is formed from the combination which did not exist in either alone, the speaker feels surging through his brain the combined force of his audience, which he calls inspiration, a mighty power which did not exist in his own personality before he rose to his feet. No public speaker ever forgets that first, surprising feeling of confidence.

Actors tell us that there is an indescribable inspiration which comes from the footlights, the audience, the music, which it is impossible to feel at a cold mechanical rehearsal. There is something in a great sea of expectant faces which awakens the ambition and arouses the reserve of power which a never felt except before an audience. The power was there just the same before, but it was not aroused.—Success Magazine.

A SOLEMN MOMENT.

When the Great Mail Steamer Was Stopped in Mid-ocean.

The great steamship wavered; the screw revolved more slowly and gradually ceased to turn. There is something uncannily disquieting about an unmoving ship in the middle of the ocean, and for a few moments there were fearful rumors among the second and third cabin passengers. The steward, being nearer to the heart of things, understood what was going on. The deck stewards went about explaining, and as they explained the passengers moved to points of vantage. Then all was very quiet—quiet even for the sea.

A man whom the first cabin passengers knew to be a famous bishop stepped down from among them. A heavy, clumsy, grewsome bundle was brought up. Over it the bishop, with bared and reverent head, intoned the service for those who are buried at sea. As the bishop spoke the words of committal, "We therefore commit his body to the deep, to be turned into corruption, looking for the resurrection of the body, when the sea shall give up its dead," a door in the bulwarks was lifted for the bundle and let down again, the ship began to move, sluggishly at first, then smoothly as was its wont, and the passengers went back to their games, their books and their lovelaking.

The greatest event in the dead stoker's career was over. He had stopped his majesty's wall.—Exchange.

The Eskimos and the Bible.

Frank Cross, a missionary among the Eskimos, has found considerable difficulty in using the illustration of the Bible in arctic regions. He gives two amusing anecdotes to bear out his statements. First, how his Eskimo interpreter translated a well known text into the following: "Every log that bringeth not up good apple is cut up and used for firewood." "Apple" being the Eskimo for dried apples and the greatest thing to fruit that they know. Again, of law, justice and government they have not the remotest notion. Mr. Cross' nearest neighbor had hundreds of dollars worth of furs deposited in a cache. Wishing to prevent "theft," the Eskimo broke through and stole; the interpreter gave up his attempt at translation, for he said such a thing was impossible among them.—T. P.'s London Weekly.

Disqualified.

One west side woman who thought herself an eminent suffragist was surprised to learn that other members of the sisterhood did not share her opinion.

"Why do you doubt my devotion to the cause?" she asked. "What have I done to make you think me less earnest than the rest of you women?"

The answer was a letter which she had written to headquarters the day before.

"You wrote on your husband's stationery," they said. "No suffragist who is worth her salt will write a personal letter under her husband's letterhead."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Catastrophe.

"Did you hear about the catastrophe down at the Brown's last night?"
"No. What happened?"
"Why, Mrs. Brown gave the baby a bottle to play with, and while she was in the kitchen it fell out of the crib and broke its neck."
"What the baby?"
"No; the bottle."

Not Just What She Meant.

A little community of colored people had raised the money to build a new church, and the dedication was to take place the next day. "Where are you going tomorrow?" the school teacher asked one young girl. Smiling radiantly, she answered, "I'm going to the degradation of our church!"

Mamma's Joke.

"Oh, mamma, the hen is sitting on the vacuum cleaner!"
"Perhaps she's only trying to lay the dust down."—VonKluge's Realism.

For the first time in the history of the United States its coal mines yielded more than half a billion tons of

Better Times After a change in Food

Lack of energy is usually the outward sign of faulty nutrition. Folks who don't feel "spry" because of lack of the right kind of nourishment.

"Pick Up"

On Grape-Nuts FOOD

Thousands who know the personal value of clear-thinking and vigorous action, make Grape-Nuts a part of their regular diet.

"There's a Reason"

FELL RIGHT. When You Feed Right.
You know one always feels "very fit" when the head and nerves swing along peacefully and with that certain sense of power that is unmistakable.

But when overwork or anxiety breaks down the soft gray matter in the brain and nerve cells (anxiety will do it quicker than overwork) faster than the food you have been using replaces it, then to save yourself from that horror of darkness, nervous prostration, you must change food and take on some sure rebuilders.

That's the mission of Grape-Nuts, made of the selected parts of wheat and barley containing the natural Phosphate of Potash which combines with Albumen in the human body and makes the soft gray filling of the brain and nerve centers.

Another thing to be considered is that Grape-Nuts is "pre-cooked" in making and the starchy parts converted into a form of sugar, exactly as the process of digestion in the body. So Grape-Nuts has really passed the first act of digestion and therefore the food is quickly assimilated in the most perfect manner by babe or athlete.

ANIMALS EXCHANGE LEGS.

Dr. Alexis Carrel of Rockefeller Institute Also Transplants Kidneys and Other Organs.

"Among the most spectacular achievements of the Rockefeller Institute are those of Dr. Alexis Carrel in surgery," writes Walter Pritchard Eaton in Munsey's Magazine for October. "He grafts the leg of one animal upon the thigh of another; he transplants kidneys, spleens, and other organs; he resets arteries, veins, and nerves, grafting in sections from another animal, sometimes preserved in cold storage; he operates on the thoracic cavity, thanks to a new method of insulation and anesthesia discovered at the institute; and he actually operates on the heart itself."

"Cruelty! Horror! Bestial! cry the antiscienceists. What earthly good can come of it?"

"This is what good can come of it. Three years ago the infant child of a New York doctor was rapidly dying of a hemorrhage of the new-born which kills one child in every thousand. The father woke Dr. Carrel in the dead of night. Carrel hastened to the house. The father lay down beside his dying child. Dr. Carrel joined the artery of the father's arm pulse to a vein in the child's leg, and allowed his blood to flow into the baby.

"The hemorrhage stopped instantly and never returned. The child began to feed. His recovery from certain death was complete and rapid."

Dispense With Mourning.

"A Southern physician of recognized skill and eminence urges that all outward symbols of mourning should be abandoned," says Munsey's Magazine editorially. "For many years he has expressed his views. He has won over a large number of people who see no reason why the heart should advertise its sorrow by the conspicuous insignia of gloom.

"There are, or have been, peoples wiser in their generation. The Romans of the days of the republic wore blue as a sign of mourning. It is the proper thing in Asia Minor now. The Turk mourns in violet, and the Peruvian in pale brown. Until a French queen set the present fashion in the latter half of the fifteenth century, white was the color of grief in Europe as it is now in China."
