Said She Wouldn't Have Believed It

A week or so ago a woman stepped into the store and asked me if I really believed that Campbell's Baked Beans were as good and as cheap as home baked beans. She said, "My family likes baked beans and wants them frequently. I bake them myself but it takes lots of time and once in a while I get weary of it. If I thought my family and I would like Campbell's Beans as well as my own I would be delighted for it would save lots of time."
I told her that a great many of my customers had had the same doubts but after one trial of Campbell's, had never baked beans again at home.
"Well," says she, "I'll try one can and see how they go."
Just the other day she ordered a dozen cans and said she wouldn't have believed that canned baked beans could be so good.
If you don't know Campbell's Baked Bean quality you ought to. Try them this week.
Single 2-lb. cans 15c; 1 dozen cans $1.65; or small cans 10c; 1 dozen cans $1.10.

NEW LORD MAYOR FOR LONDON TOWN

Through Operation of Seniority System Sir Thomas Boor Crosby Becomes London's Executive.
London, Sept. 29.—Having been an alderman for thirteen years and filled the office of sheriff for one term Sir Thomas Boor Crosby, wealthy merchant and financier, today went through the solemn farce of being elected Lord Mayor of the city of London. He will be formally installed in office on November 3, when the time honored pageant known as the "Lord Mayor's Show" will take place.
Unlike all other great municipalities, London's Lord Mayor is not chosen by the people, though there was a time—some 200 or more years ago—when they really were elected by the citizens. But the aldermen who are elected for life, decided that a position so exalted as that of Lord Mayor should not be thrown open to outsiders and made dependent on popular favor. So they fixed things up so that every alderman, if he lives long enough, is assured of becoming Lord Mayor when his turn comes. When Sir Thomas Vesey Strong was elected last year, Sir Thomas Crosby was "next" and now it is his turn to take the civic chair.
The system pleases the aldermen and does not make much difference to anybody else. The office of Lord Mayor has long since been short of its once great powers and has become a mere figurehead, billed though it is invested with more pretentious dignity than any other post in England. No more violent contrast is to be found the world over than that existing between the various duties of the Lord Mayor theoretically. At least, the King of Great Britain and Ireland and Emperor of India cannot enter the city of London without his consent. But he spends a considerable part of each day dispensing justice upon the inebriates and other petty offenders who have broken the peace of the square mile of territory over which he rules. In addition to his duties as a magistrate he is required to attend probably five hundred public and semi-public dinners, balls, receptions and meetings of various kinds during the year he spends in the high office. For these duties he receives a salary to that of the President of the United States and twice as much as that of the Prime Minister of Great Britain.
Perhaps it is as well that the Lord Mayor nowadays does not possess the supreme power of some of his early predecessors. The Mayor who had fealty to Henry III, for instance, and the temerity to add, "My Lord so long as you unto us will be a good lord and king, we will be faithful and luteous unto you." Then there was the Norman Mayor who, being interrupted by a member of the mob when reading what would now correspond to the riot act, merely ordered the offender to be taken into a neighboring street to be beheaded and went on reading.

FALL FASHIONS.....

Fashions change as regularly as the Seasons. With the advent of Autumn you find yourself looking wistfully at the new fashions and styles in suits and overcoats now being displayed. Some men who have always worn "ready-mades" long to have their next suits or overcoats "tailor-made," but hesitate because of a fancied idea that the cost is greater. Not so.

ONLY STRIKE BREAKERS ON DUTY IN KATY SHOPS

General Manager Bethard Asserts That Places of Striking Men Gradually Being Filled.

(Denison Herald) With the exception of the strike breakers employed by the Katy there are no men working in the local Katy car shops. This morning about 25 imported men were herded by a force of deputies to the car shops where they were divided into gangs and placed to work repairing cars. The men appear to have little experience in repairing cars, but they are on duty, and with the help of the foreman in charge are working.

The men will be carried from and to the shops and the old Union Station by a switch engine and car. They stop work at 11:30 and return at 1 o'clock.

In the neighborhood of forty strike breakers arrived in the city yesterday afternoon on Katy Flyer No. 1 from St. Louis and were immediately taken to their quarters in the old depot Hotel Building. Some of the men have been shipped out to several different points on the system to do car inspecting and repair work.

Scott & Jennings Furniture Company have hauled their furniture away from the depot that had been rented for the non-union employees. Fifty cots were received yesterday afternoon from Dallas and placed in the rooms for the men to sleep on. It is said that other furniture will be secured for the men.

A. D. Bethard, general manager of the Katy in Texas, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon in his private car No. 36 from Dallas. When seen this morning and asked about the strike situation Mr. Bethard said: "We are gradually filling the striking men's places and will soon have their places filled."

It is said that the company will hire all carmen that may apply, and if a sufficient number can be secured the shops will be reopened with them all over the system.

On the other hand it is said, there are no idle carmen anywhere, and the men now out have no fear of their places being successfully filled by strikebreakers.

Strikebreakers are being used to inspect both passenger and freight trains and quite a force is being used at Ray Yards, inspecting and coupling air hose.

THE NATIONAL SHOW.

National rivalry is keen in the claim for the origin of certain classes of entertainment. Every civilized country has its national holiday—America has more, for here we have a national entertainment—the circus. Webster says a circus is an enclosed place for games or feats of horsemanship. This definition may have served for the circus of the last generation, but for the circus of the present day a much more comprehensive and broader description is necessary; and for this reason. The circus has not fallen behind the procession in the onward march of progress, and the former definition is about as applicable now as would be the definition of a stage coach in the description of a steam locomotive. The circus of the twentieth century must be positively the best entertainment that money can command. It must be an entertainment so diversified that it can be enjoyed by all—the man, the woman and the child. It must contain a vein of humor to make you laugh; a vein of excitement to cause the blood to flow a little faster; a sensation of danger to thrill the system, and above all, it must be interesting from start to finish. In a word, it must be a clean, wholesome show, that compels the attention and admiration and at the same time excites the emotion of every individual spectator. What, then, should be said of a circus that is all this and still combines a world-famed trained animal show, a European novelty exhibition and Oriental expositional features such as the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows possess, which exhibits in Wichita Falls, October 11th.

There remains but one title, "A moving city of enchantment," to describe and define these great shows, which are so multi-featured that there must be some one thing to please the most exacting or cynical, and many features and exhibits that are bound to be generally pleasing and satisfying. As a free prelude to these marvelous gigantic shows which exemplify the colossal genius of American financial and executive ability in itinerant amusement enterprise, a crowning glory of pageantry splendor will be seen in the mile-long gala and pompous procession of the parade on the morning of the glad, some holiday approaching.

PRELIMINARY HEARING FOR PARKS' SLAYER

Frederick, Okla., Sept. 29.—The preliminary hearing of Tom Lee Jackson and Henry Weaver, Marshal of Tipton, Okla., charged with the killing of W. S. Parks, was heard today before Judge Trammel in this city. After hearing most of the testimony Jackson was released, as the evidence showed that he was merely a bystander and took no part in the fight.

The trial grew out of a shooting affair which took place last Thursday at Tipton. The evidence showed that Parks and Weaver had some trouble in the morning, and that Parks went home and returned in the evening with his sons, with the avowed purpose of having trouble. They were intoxicated and when they saw Weaver he shooting commenced. The Marshal, (Weaver) was shot through the arm by either Parks or his sons. In the fight Parks was killed.

The hearing adjourned until Saturday, when it is confidently expected that Weaver will be released.

Notes from Labor World

There are fifteen trade unions in China.
Linotype operators in Tokio, Japan, earn only 45 cents a day.
The average rate of wages throughout the Chinese Empire is probably 18 cents a day. In Japan it is probably not more, and in India much less.
Eighty-five per cent of the deaths in the membership of the International Metal Polishers', Buffers', Platers, and Brass and Silver Workers' Union are chargeable to tuberculosis.
The San Francisco Labor Council will assist the Cascade County Trades and Labor Assembly of Montana in development of the industry and the large importation of unskilled mine labor into the State.

The Associated Iron Molders of Scotland have increased their membership to eight thousand and report an arrangement whereby piece workers secured an increase of 2 1/2 per cent in piece wages, and an increase of 25 cents weekly for all workers drawing less than $9.00 per week.
The padrone system, against which the United States Immigration authorities and various philanthropic and reform bodies have contended for many years, prevails among the Greek boot-blacks of Detroit, according to the findings of a young Greek investigator employed by the State labor commissioner.
Tenant farmers in the State of Texas, who according to statistics, till about 80 per cent of the soil, have caught the organizing spirit of the times and have begun the formation of a renters' union which will hold a State convention at Waco, Texas, next month. All land renters and farm laborers are invited to join.

The eight-hour law for women passed by the recent session of the Washington legislature, was declared unconstitutional the other day by Superior Judge John F. Main, at Seattle. Physicians testified that it was not injurious for women to work nine or ten hours a day, but the court upheld the constitutionality of the law.
The organization of the Brotherhood of Timber Workers in Western Louisiana and Eastern Texas, to remedy evils which have grown up in that work, mainly the company store and the check system of payment, has been met by the Southern Sawmill Operators' Association by shutting down twenty-four of the largest plants and discharge of all men and the statement that other mills will be closed as fast as organizers get busy with the men. The men claim that the system employed by the mill owners is reducing them to a condition of peonage, and that now is as good a time as any to bring about a change of conditions.

For fighting a kitchen fire at a desired time an Indiana man has patented a device in which an alarm clock is used to ignite a bunch of matches placed in the proper position.
Blanche Bates will continue this season in Avery Haywood's farcical comedy, "Nobody's Widow."

SEEING A JOKE.

It Depends on the Brand of Humor to Which One is Accustomed.
Foreigners, as a rule, do not understand our wit and humor. Sir Alfred Harmsworth once remarked to me, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, that American humor was coarse and sometimes brutal. Mark Twain and Finley Peter Dunne are the only American humorists who are accepted by Englishmen. On the other hand, we do not appreciate the humor of Punch, the Englishman's delight.
I have seen an Englishman laugh heartily over a joke in Punch that I couldn't see any point to until it was explained to me, and no doubt that gentleman considered me as dense as we consider them when we tell them a funny story and get a sort of pained look, rather mystifying to be sure, instead of the laugh which was expected.
It is the local application of the joke that counts the world over. The funniest thing I ever saw was the charge a yearling Hereford bull made at a barbed wire fence in the Texas Panhandle. He struck the fence full tilt, and the rebound caused him to turn a complete back somersault. He landed on his hoofs all right, and there he stood all straddled out with a look of astonishment on his face that was almost human. It was so ludicrous that I lay down in the mesquite grass and rolled over in spasms of mirth. Then he began to hawl like a whipped child, turned tail and ran as from a banisher.
I was at dinner in a Bradford club and told about it, expecting to get a laugh, but all I got was this from Hon. Smith Feather, mayor of that Yorkshire city:
"By Jove, I didn't know those wire fences were so strong. It's a jolly good thing the poor brute wasn't injured."

WATERPOUTS.

Old Time Mariners Fought Them With Noise and Cannon.
In the waterspout the medieval mariner saw a malevolent living monster—a sea dragon. There were various means of combating them. Once all sailors carried black handled knives, which the monster was believed to hold in special abhorrence.
When a spout made its appearance these knives were produced and pointed in its direction, waved in the air so as to make the sign of the cross or, according to the recommendation of certain contemporary authorities, driven several times into the side of the ship. Certain passages from the gospel of St. John were recited as charms against waterspouts.
A loud noise of any kind was also believed to be efficacious against them—shouts, the clash of swords, the beating of drums and gongs, etc. The custom of firing cannon against waterspouts, says the Scientific American, dates back at least as far as the sixteenth century. The original idea appears to have been to frighten them away by the noise of the report, but in the later times it was believed that the watery column could be cut in twain by the cannon ball and the spout thus dissipated. It would be interesting to know whether the cannonading of waterspouts is still sometimes practiced. It was certainly common much less than a century ago. It is hardly necessary to say that it is entirely futile.

The Sawbee.

Englishmen are familiar with the name "sawbee," applied to the Scotch halfpenny, but to few does it bring the association of a baby queen and a loyal people. It appears that the first attempt at the portraiture of the unfortunate Mary, queen of Scots, was made in her infancy, and her small face was engraved upon the Scotch halfpennies at the time of her coronation in 1543, when she was but nine months old. A number of these small coins are still preserved, and it will be easily understood how the name "sawbee," or baby, came to be given to the coin bearing the effigy of the baby. The halfpenny of Scotland is still commonly called the sawbee, although the baby face no longer appears on it.—Pearson's.

The Wise Bride.

"Yes, the girls gave the bride a commiseration shower."
"What in the world is that?"
"Why, they all told her how sorry they were she was going to marry such a man as the coming bridegroom."
"That must have hurt her feelings."
"No, it didn't. She knew there wasn't a girl there who wouldn't have given her eyes to get him!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Mixed Metaphors.

A well known bishop, speaking in the upper house of Canterbury convention on prayer book revision, rather startled some of his Episcopal brethren by declaring, according to the Church-Family Newspaper, "We are not writing on a clean slate; there is a good deal of grit under the door."

No Wonder.

"My husband has never spoken a cross word to me."
"You lucky woman! How long have you been married?"
"Nearly two weeks."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Gallantry.

She—It seems to me as though we had met somewhere before. He—Impossible, Franklin, since I should have fallen in love with you before!—Filegnede Blatter.

Do not accustom yourself to conduct or debt only an inconvenience. You will find it a calamity.—Johnson.
