SEEK JURORS FOR McNAMARA CASE

SEVENTY-SEVEN MEN OF FIRST VENIRE EXCUSOR FOR VARIOUS REASONS.

TRIAL BEGINS TOMORROW

Secret Explosive Experiment Station Conducted Near Los Angeles to Show Dynamite Action.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 10.—The trial of the McNamara brothers, both of whom are under indictment for murder in connection with the explosion which wrecked the Los Angeles Times, October 1, 1910, was virtually begun here before Superior Judge Bordwell, although perhaps no one would expect District Attorney John W. Weeks to know whether John J. or James B. McNamara will sit in the prisoner's chair when the case formally is called tomorrow morning at ten o'clock. Indications pointed to James B. McNamara as the first man to be tried.

Of the 125 men named in the first venire 122 responded to a call for preliminary examination and at the close of court Judge Bordwell had wooded out this number to forty-five, who were instructed to return tomorrow. Counsel for both sides agreed that this short cut saved days of anxious work. One of the three men who failed to respond is dead and two are out of the country.

A number of venturers pleaded deafness when people "speak low" and several said their wives had been nervous ever since subpenas had been received.

W. M. White, a man of advanced years, said he was subject to nervous headache unless he went to bed at 9 o'clock. S. W. Upton said he was building two schoolhouses and had to finish them. Both were excused, as were all others who were able to show that their business would suffer if they became jurors in a trial of long duration.

Attorneys Clarence Darrow and Le Comp Davis for the defense watched the process.

Whichever man goes on trial tomorrow, the defense, it was said last night, will be the same—that the Times building was destroyed by gas and fire and not by dynamite and fire.

Out beyond the hills north of town there has been conducted a secret explosive experiment station, where repeated discharges of gas and dynamite have plowed up the earth that any difference in the action of the explosives might be shown.

Besides the results of these experiments spectators at the trial will see a toy business block complete to the most minute detail set on a table before the jury. The structure is a model of the Los Angeles Times building, with one side cut away to show printing presses, linotypes desks and all the machinery of a great newspaper office. By this model the defense hopes to demonstrate the effects of the explosion in accordance with its theory.

There was not a session of court today because of a statewide election.

EXPECT NEW FACTS IN LORIMER INQUIRY

By Associated Press. Chicago, Oct. 10.—New evidence is expected at the first session of the re-opening of the United States Senate investigation of the Lorimer case here today. Chairman Dillingham of the committee announced that all the testimony bearing in any way on the controversy would be admitted regardless of technicalities.

To the Taxpayers of Precinct One: Shall we authorize $150,000.00 road bonds to be issued, and $100,000.00 of them sold and the money used on the roads of this Precinct, or not, is a question we must decide next Friday.

ITALY LANDS MANY TROOPS IN TRIPOLI

STILL LARGER EXPEDITION NOW AT SEA CONTAINS 60 TRANSPORTS AND IS GUARDED.

REPRISAL BY THE TURKS

Turkish Cabinet Orders Seizure of Italian Steamers and Closing of Italian Establishments.

By Associated Press. Rome, Oct. 10.—The first Italian expedition for Tripoli landed at Tobruk, Tripoli today. It consisted of infantry, artillery and engineers. The landing place is six hundred miles east of the city of Tripoli. Still larger Italian expedition is still at sea enclosed by a guardian fleet of warships a mile wide and five miles long. It is known that sixty transports are in the fleet now carrying the troops. The outside protecting line of warships is a flotilla of smaller and faster craft.

Turks Begin Reprisal

Constantinople, Oct. 10.—The Turkish cabinet today decided to close all Italian industrial, financial and scholastic establishments and to seize Italian steamers.

Italy Willing to Pay Indemnity. Berlin, Oct. 10.—It was learned here that Italy is probably willing to pay Turkey twelve million dollars indemnity for the loss of Tripoli.

YOUNG OIL MAN DIES FROM TYPHOID

F. O. Birmingham Son of T. F. Birmingham Victim of Fever—Body Shipped to Wiley.

After a short illness with typhoid fever, Mr. F. O. Birmingham, of Electra, died in this city yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock at a local sanitarium. The deceased was a young man only twenty years of age, and was well liked by all who knew him. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Birmingham, of Houston, Texas, and at the time when taken ill he was working after the interests of the 99 Pumping Company in Electra, of which company his father is president and general manager. Young Birmingham was taken sick several weeks ago while performing his duties in Electra, and thereupon immediately came to this city where he entered a local sanitarium for treatment. He steadily grew worse, and yesterday morning it was known that no hopes were entertained for his recovery. The body of Birmingham was prepared for burial by E. G. Hill and was shipped this afternoon for Wiley, Texas, the former home of the family.

Five Governors Endorse Conference. Austin, Texas, Oct. 10.—Five governors of Southern States to date have endorsed the meeting called by Governor Colquitt of Texas.

Circus Day in Wichita Falls—Funny Things You See

"Circus day! Hully gee, kids, wuzn't that purrade just great. For the love of Mike, did yuh see them little elephants. What, miss the big show. Well, main performance, twit—count 'em—twit! Saa?"

Did you listen to any of the kids talking on the streets this morning. If you did, you heard something like this, surely, for today is circus day. Bright and early in the morning the Sells-Floto people with their big circus, came to town. They had all the same wonderful paraphernalia and pomp and circumstance, and it was the same identical day which looms over the horizon once a year as regularly as Christmas or April Fool's Day or the opening of school. But from the wonderful state of excitement on the part of the kids and from the poorly concealed expressions of pleasure and enjoyment on the part of the grown-ups, you never would have guessed that Wichita Falls had ever seen a circus before.

The parade, all told, was a most creditable one, being complete in every department. It was made up of a clean-cut looking lot of people, both men and women, the horses and other animals made a very fine appearance and the trappings on every side showed little of the wear and tear usually so much in evidence in a march of this character.

Foremost in the march came Rhoda Royal, equestrian director of the organization, and a man long famed throughout the circus world. After him came a bevy of fair riders, all gayly caparisoned, and bowing and smiling as if they were really doing something that made them happy. Instead of going through an ordeal which must necessarily be very wearisome to them because of its daily happening.

Next came band wagon No. 1, and from then on, bands real and "foney," were scattered along the line with agreeably frequency. Their arrival music kept the progress of the turnout marked with bursts of brassy melody so inseparable from one's ideas of circus day, and there wasn't a quiet moment during the entire time that the pageant was passing.

Nellie Carroll, astride Omar Khayyam, the handsomest horse in the world, attracted her full quota of attention from the thousands, as did also the fair companions who attended her, gayly mounted and brilliantly fitted out.

There were camels and clowns that humped themselves; and all kinds of animals, dozens of cages of them, gathered from all over the world.

The parade was a mile long, and there was no undue straining out, either.

There was, in fact, everything usually seen in a circus parade, and many things that were not.

As for the performance in the big Sells-Floto tents, it is simply impossible to attempt to describe one-tenth of the big features, any one of which would have proved an enormous attraction by itself. Indeed, it is hard to imagine how a performance could be pulled off with so little delay and in such an orderly manner with neither a discordant note at any time, anything in the semblance of an accident, or without an instant of delay.

From the minute the first act is staged until the close of the performance one's only regret is that mere human beings were only gifted with one pair of eyes and ears instead of ten of each.

A splendid turn was provided by Mile. Zora and her twin baby elephants. These performed all kinds of stunts, and displayed an intelligence that came mighty near being human.

Omar, the equine aviator, gives another extraordinary performance, where a horse is lifted by means of a balloon to the dome of the big tent and descends in the midst of a shower of fireworks, displaying neither fear nor anything else that might indicate nervousness.

TEXAS CO. WILL BUILD PIPE Line From Electra to Dallas

Mr. Dowling said that the location of the pumping stations were details that were relative unimportant and would be announced later.

Asked as to whether a pipe line would be built to Petrolia he said the production there hardly justified such a step at this time.

Now that the Texas Company has announced its plans it is believed the Magnolia Petroleum Company which has expended many thousands of dollars in the erection of tanks and pipe lines connecting the wells will make an important announcement.

HOME CONFERENCE WILL JOIN FOREIGN

UNION OF TWO MISSIONARY ORGANIZATIONS OF NORTH TEXAS, M. E. CONFERENCE VOTED.

PROF. CARRE'S ADDRESS

Woman's Place in the World's Work His Theme—Conference Closes Tomorrow.

The North Texas Woman's Home Mission Conference Monday afternoon unanimously voted in favor of union with the Foreign Mission Conference, and the meeting now in session here will be the last held by the Home Mission Conference, as a separate organization. It will meet next year at Greenville with the Foreign Mission Conference.

At yesterday's session the executive committee was authorized to meet with a similar committee from the Foreign Mission Conference and complete the details for the union. The committee will meet in May.

Mrs. I. S. Barton, president of the Foreign Mission Society addressed the conference yesterday upon the subject of union, and following her address the vote was taken.

One of the most interesting meetings of the conference was the anniversary meeting Monday night.

A message was read at this meeting from Mrs. Viola Hunt, "mother of the conference," who attended the first meeting twenty-five years ago and was the first officer of the conference and its chief leader during the first six years of its existence.

A message was also read from Mrs. R. W. Thompson, former president of the conference.

Mrs. Smith, president of the conference, sketched the history of the organization. She said it first met with the annual conference and transacted its entire business in a single afternoon.

At a meeting in Sherman it was resolved to build a mission home in Dallas and when there was $1700 on hand with an expenditure of $5,000 planned. However, the bills were met every week, the banks sometimes advancing the money. This property is now worth $25,000. City mission work was started in 1902. There are now two settlements and five deaconesses and city missionaries employed.

The society has just completed a dormitory at Denton valued at $50,000. The Virginia K. Johnson home at Dallas has been completed at a cost of $75,000. The membership in the conference is now over 4,000 with 185 auxiliaries.

One of the most entertaining features of the program was the reading of Van Dye's "The Lost World," by Miss Drago, a deaconess from Dallas, which was delivered with dramatic and telling effect.

Monday afternoon Prof. Carre addressed the delegates and the Women's Place in the World's Work of "Today." He said that woman had been the creator of the peaceful arts, the maker of language, the founder of society and the patron of religion. Man had been the defender and inventor of the destructive arts. When warfare ceased as an occupation, man turned his attention to peaceful pursuits and industry went forward by leaps and bounds.

This left woman without an occupation except domestic work. He declared it a crime against nature not to utilize the powers of woman and advised that she find her true task in the education of the race; first in the home, then in the church, and the school and then the State.

He said that women were intimately connected with problems of state. James Adams said that the argument that woman should stay at home is an argument for a place in public life.

The problems in the home are the problems of state, for example the prices of food and clothing, the liquor problem, pure food and so on.

One of the entertaining features of the conference was the presentation of an old fashioned missionary society, which was followed by a representation of a modern up to date society.

In the old fashioned society the members were late in arriving, some offering one excuse and others another; officers failed to have reports; and members abruptly left the meeting to go to a reception.

The model society was a reproduction of a meeting in one of the Dallas churches where all the members were in attendance, the officers had written reports and everything moved along with promptness.

Frost in Scary County. Snyder, Texas, Oct. 10.—A light frost was reported last night at several points in Scary county. County Judge Smith continued all business in his court to the January term on account of the farmers being busy harvesting.

WOMEN CAMPAIGNERS ORDERED ARRESTED

By Associated Press. Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 10.—Suffragettes became so militant in their electioneering today in the constitutional amendments elections that several squads of patrolmen were sent out to arrest them.

TEXAS CO. WILL BUILD PIPE Line From Electra to Dallas

Mr. Dowling said that the location of the pumping stations were details that were relative unimportant and would be announced later.

Asked as to whether a pipe line would be built to Petrolia he said the production there hardly justified such a step at this time.

GASTON WILL APPEAL CONTEMPT SENTENCE

H. W. Gaston, editor of the Wichita Daily News, who was adjudged guilty of contempt by Judge Blanton in the district court at Abilene yesterday, and sentenced to thirty minutes in jail, is back in Wichita Falls, having sued a writ of habeas corpus which will be heard in the court of criminal appeals at an early date.

His bond was placed at $300 and was signed by N. Henderson of this city and Henry Sayles, Sr. of Abilene.

No New Developments. Houston, Texas, Oct. 10.—The only development here today in the Hariman line strike was the company's announcement that half a dozen former employees had applied for work as new men and that sixty-five additional strikebreakers had gone to work.

McNAMARAS' TRIAL WILL COST MILLION

NO CASE SINCE TRIAL OF ALLEGED ASSASSINS OF GOV. STEUBENBERG HAS ATTRACTED SO MUCH INTEREST.

OVER 700 WITNESSES

Defense Will Assert Times Building Explosion Caused By Gas.—Will Attempt to Prove Alibi.

FACTS CONCERNING LOS ANGELES TRIAL.
The Defendants—John J. and James B. McNamara, members of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.
The Charge—Complicity in the alleged dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, Oct. 1, 1910, resulting in the death of twenty-one men.
Chief Counsel for Prosecution—District Attorney John D. Fredericks.
Number of Witnesses to Testify—Seven hundred.
Estimated Cost of the Trial—$1,000,000.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 10.—Not since the trial of the officials of the western Federation of Miners for the alleged assassination of ex-Governor Steunenberg of Idaho, has a trial in this country excited the intense interest in labor circles and among the public generally as is manifested in the alleged complicity in the dynamiting outrage that resulted in the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building and the death of twenty-one men working there, on October 1, 1910. The long and bitter fight waged by the Times against the labor unions and their methods, the confession of Orrie E. McManigal alleging that an organized band of labor leaders made a business destroying the lives and property of these antagonistic to the labor unions, and the active and generous support given by the American Federation of Labor and other labor organizations in aid of the accused men, have fed the popular imagination and led the public to believe that the trial will result in startling disclosures.

The specific charge upon which the trial will proceed is covered by indictment number 6,946, relating to the death of J. Wesley Reeves, an employe of the Times at the time the building was destroyed. The eighteen other indictments will be set over pending the trial for the alleged murder of Reeves, who was private secretary to the general manager of the Times.

The lines of battle planned by C. J. Darrow, chief counsel of the defense, and District Attorney John D. Fredericks, who will conduct the prosecution already have been pretty clearly revealed. The prosecution will first seek to establish that the Times building was destroyed by an explosion of dynamite. Then will come the testimony of relatives to establish the number of victims, corroborating evidence and the confession of McManigal. This will be followed by the identification of witnesses who will swear that they knew J. B. McNamara as J. B. Bryce in Los Angeles, and in San Francisco during September and October of last year an endeavor will be made to trace the accused almost to the Times building, where the explosion occurred. The case against J. J. McNamara will be centered upon correspondence furnished by McManigal, and books found at McNamara's office and the clocks and wire found in Indianapolis. In this matter Detective William J. Burns will be called as a witness.

The defense will attack the allegation that the building was destroyed by dynamite, will assert that the explosion was caused by gas and will call experts. In attacking the McManigal confession the defense will call witnesses to establish an alibi for the McNamara brothers. In every instance where the McNamaras are identified by McManigal at a certain time and place the defense is expected to call witnesses to show that the men were in other localities. Experts on handwriting will be called to prove that letters alleged by McManigal to have been written by J. J. McNamara were not written by him, but were written by some person who attempted to simulate the writing of the author.

Unless all signs go astray the trial will occupy many weeks. The defense alone will subpoena 350 witnesses. These will come from all parts of the United States, about 154 of them from San Francisco and vicinity. District Attorney Fredericks estimates that the prosecution will summon a similar number, bringing the total up to 700. The cost of service on these witnesses and the expense of bringing them to Los Angeles, probably will make the trial the most expensive that the country has ever known. Mr. Darrow estimates the probable expense of the defense at $400,000, while it is believed it will cost the prosecution not less than $500,000.

Proof of final payment of capital stock was filed by the Southwestern Land Corporation of San Antonio at Austin last week, which showed that $500,000 above the original capital had been paid in.

Best for Biscuits
A prominent teacher in one of the Domestic Science schools in Mississippi writes that she is using Cottolene with excellent results. She says:
"For biscuits Cottolene is all that could be desired. The biscuits are light and flaky, with more of that agreeable odor often found in foods shortened with lard. Cottolene is also an excellent medium for frying croquettes and doughnuts. It gives them a clean, crisp, brown crust."
Other noted experts, such as Mrs. Rorer and Marion Harland, have given similar testimony to the merits of Cottolene. It not only gives better results than lard but is much more wholesome and economical as well.

HAGENBECK-WALLACE CIRCUS TOMORROW

The great Hagenbeck-Wallace circus is here tomorrow.
Circuses are such old institutions that one would think that managers could never get anything new for their programs in these late days. That this is not true, is due to the fact that the managers spend about half of their time thinking out new acts or novel elements for old ones.
This is the most important function of the circus business, and success is proportionate to fertility of imagination. If the manager cannot think out new plans he must give place to some one who can, for the public is not so lured year after year into the arena where the same trick elephants do the same tricks; where the riders wear the same costumes of the year before; and the acrobats do not jump any higher than they did during the previous season.

So it happened that this year is to have some new things in the circus line.
The greatest feature is the wonderful trained wild animal act given in the steel arena. All kinds of wild animals are assembled in one large age and made to perform most astounding feats. This is the only show traveling having this wild animal feature.

The words "Human Birds of Passage," would not mean anything to the average man until he saw them on the billboards two weeks before the circus was due, and even then he could have to think hard before grasping their significance. The human birds of whom the managers speak so affectionately, are the most expert representatives of those aerial outlaws who learn to forget that there is such a thing as distance or dizziness when they find a perch in a trapeze forty feet above terra firma. This variety of genus avis has heretofore generally flown in pairs but now wrinkles with the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows is to have a flight of eight of them at a time and it is asserted by the circus press agent that never before in the history of circuses has a flock ever equalled the flying Nelsons gathered together to slight the public.

Numerous acrobatic performances are announced, but particular attention is called to the great Tasmanian street six in number. They accomplish most marvelous gymnastic stunts. The Troupe Nevairo of wire walkers perform feats on a slender cable stretched thirty feet in the air, that the ordinary performer would find difficult in performing on the ground. These are but a few of the many features announced in preliminary proclamations. There will be all of the regulation acts that a big circus should have and many performances that no other circuses have ever will ever present.

The big free street parade that takes place at ten o'clock in the morning is bigger and more attractive than ever. There is combined in two richest and most stupendous wild beast, acrobatic and allegorical parades on earth. The most varied, impressive and fascinating spectacular demonstration ever attempted. There will be a band concert an hour before each performance, which is free. The performances start at two and eight o'clock, and owing to the latest invention in waterproofing, in case of rain the patrons are protected and the performances given in their entirety.

This is My 54th Birthday.

Arthur G. Slocum
Arthur G. Slocum, president of Kalamazoo College and well known educational circles throughout the country, was born in Steuben, N. Y., October 19, 1847. In 1876 he became superintendent of the public schools of Corning, N. Y. He remained there until 1892, when he was elected to his present position at the head of Kalamazoo College.

The Underwriters' Meet in Chicago, Chicago, Oct. 10.—Several hundred members of the National Association of Life Underwriters, representing every section of the country were in attendance when the annual convention of the organization was opened at the Hotel La Salle today. The mayor of Chicago, Carter Harrison, Harry A. Wheeler, the president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, and Jules Girardin, president of the Chicago Association, were the principal speakers of the opening session. The convention will last three days and many questions of importance bearing upon the life insurance business will be thoroughly discussed by prominent insurance men.

A charter has been secured by the Texas Land and Lumber Company of Houston with a capital stock of $210,000. P. B. Thornton is president, J. J. Hines, vice president, and E. P. Gaines is secretary.

McGraw's Sarcasm Will Be Part of the Giants' Offense

You can talk about your Mathews, Marquards, Meyers, Merkle and all the other stars in that Giant outfit, or probably better, all the other members of that Giant outfit—but when all has been recorded, standing head and shoulders over everybody and everything is the figure of John J. McGraw, arch enemy of umpires and staunch defender of ball players.

A man who is regarded as one of the wisest club owners in the big league said a day or so ago:

"On paper the Athletics are far the superior of the Giants. Still, the Athletics will go against the wisest manager in the game."

McGraw will win the championship of the National League with a team of mediocre players. He has two good pitchers, a fine first sacker and a catcher who is above the average. Outside of that there is not much to the Giants.

Even with Marquard and Mathews and Merkle, the Giants would not be higher than the second division without McGraw; if it had not been for McGraw, Merkle would not be a star today, and if McGraw had not kept Marquard and defended him against the criticisms of everybody having knowledge of National League matters, Marquard would probably not have had a better record this year than in 1910.

Fight, fight and more fight is the motto of McGraw. He has fought against all conceivable odds and he is fighting all the time. He has created a team of fighting men over aggressive—a team built to play either way through.

When the Giants and Athletics meet McGraw will be after Mack's men. There will be "bullying" galore. The Athletics will have to take more gaff than they have ever been asked to take. Baker and Thomas will be the subjects of most of the ribbing, and most of it will come from McGraw.

Although Muggsy says he will lay no plans for the battle until the series actually begins, McGraw has fully made up his mind what he intends to do.

McGraw has a tongue sharpened for the purpose. In any sort of argument McGraw can sting more sarcasm in one minute than the runner-up in that department of the game can get through in five.

News From the Oil Fields

Petrolia Lease Suit.

Benson Landrum has filed suit in the district court against Jas. A. Harrison et al for $5,000, and the cancellation of a certain oil lease. Mr. Landrum gave the defendant a lease on a portion of the south side of his farm several years ago and he alleges they have failed to live up to their contract in developing the land.

This tract of land includes the property where the deep well will probably be drilled if the court's decision is favorable for Mr. Landrum as we are informed that Mr. England, the promoter of the deep well is negotiating with Mr. Landrum to exchange the 20 acres purchased by him several weeks ago for a smaller block in this tract which will throw him more in the center of the gas district.—Petrolia Round-Up.

machinery in the next few days.

One of the best wells that has ever been drilled in the field was brought in by this company about twelve months ago on what is known as the Dunn lease and it continues to make about 250 barrels per day. A second well was drilled by them on the same lease some months later which did not prove to be so good but we are informed that this well is still being pumped.

Considerable leasing has been done in this section in the last month and it is thought that there will be something doing in a very short time.

Several rigs are going down this week after the shallow oil which is located in the first strata—at a depth of about 375 or 400 feet, some of which has already been brought in and is reported to be making as high as 20 barrels of oil per day.

Lacy and Brown begin work on a seven hundred foot hole this week which is located in the old field.

Work on the Ninety-nine Pumping company's well west of town is progressing nicely and is being watched with much interest.—Petrolia Round-Up.

OLD FASHIONED BUCKLES IN STYLE

We might call this an aristocratic fashion period. So many things that the aristocracy fancied are being worn this season. For instance the old colonial buckles that bedecked the slippers of our great grandfathers of the revolution are being introduced as the leading ornament for the evening slippers.

Martha Washington wore these buckles on special occasions at the White House. Marie Antoinette had buckles that were worth up in the thousands. These were worn both on the slippers and the gown.

These buckles are being shown in the most fascinating shapes, some are oval, more are square or diamond shaped. The cheaper ones are cut of steel but the far more lovelier are of the rhinestone buckles or those of the colored French, stones to match the dress. With a pale blue frock the turquoise buckles, the coral with the pink, and pale emerald with the green slippers.

The chased gold buckles from a half an inch to one inch wide bands are popular on white satin slippers though scarcely as brilliant as the rhinestone.

These slipper adornments make equally acceptable gifts for girls to give to one another. If you don't care to buy the more expensive buckles why not make some of the pretty roses.

The newest ones are the chiffon with two tiny roses in the center.

The monograms are being engraved on the gold buckles. These are especially pretty with the yellow slippers.

If you care to have the diamond buckles be sure to have them set very deep as the cloth might pull them out of the setting.

Never before was such attractive finery worn, both on the gown and slippers. The Parisians are using little odd buckles for the tail oled suits with the buttons.

Lucky is the girl whose grandfather left her this heirloom.

Noted Yeggmen on Trial.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 10.—Jacob and Joseph Goldberg, alleged to be leaders of one of the boldest and cleverest bands of yeggmen that ever operated in America, were placed on trial here today for the robbery of a jewelry store early in 1910. After the robbery the Goldbergs and a third member of the band were arrested in New York with a quantity of the stolen jewelry. It is said, in their possession. Before the extradition proceedings were concluded the three men were released on bail and promptly fled to Europe. Inspectors of the Massachusetts police trailed the trio over Europe and finally located two of the men in prison in Austria and the third serving a term in Russia. At an expense of thousands of dollars the inspectors waited on the other side until the men were released and then returned with them to Boston. One of the goldbergs is alleged to be the inventor of the famous "can opener" an excellent little clever device by means of which the band was able to pry open the backs of the strongest safes with little difficulty.

Anniversary of Cuban Revolution.

Havana, Oct. 10.—The forty-third anniversary of the beginning of the great struggle for Cuba's independence, which lasted from 1868 to 1898 was generally observed throughout the republic as a holiday today. The patriotic exercises were mostly confined to larger cities, where the day was observed by the closing of all public offices and the profuse display of the national flag.

price. A bunch of cotton gamblers have forced the price down, and it begins to look now as if they were going to be in a position to force the price still lower until the great bulk of it is out of the growers hands.

Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin spent $1,000,000 in securing his position. That looks like a big lot of money, but Stephenson has plenty of it left, and doubtless will lose nothing at the end. The salary of a U. S. senator is a very small affair compared with the many advantages such an office offers for the making of fortunes by merely giving his vote and support to certain kind of legislation.

The newspapers of the State do not charge for announcing candidates for the senatorship. Therefore, this is a fine opportunity for seekers of notoriety to get in the limelight. A candidate for senator attracts almost as much attention as the fellows who give recommendations along with their photos for Peru, or who have been relieved of a tapeworm.

"I just came to bring the chill—Now don't try to put that one over on us. You came for just the same reason that we did, and the same reason that the children did—to see the circus. And you saw it, and drank red lemonade and fed peanuts to the elephant and laughed at the clown's jokes, and had a good time generally, and so did we, and we're glad of it. And we're glad another one's coming tomorrow, and we're going to see that too. Haven't we stood in front of the bill boards for the past two weeks, and drank into our very souls the wonders that we were going to see when the great circus came to town? And don't think for a minute that we even intended to miss any old circus that ever came to town—not as long as we've got that old boy feeling in our heart, and we always hope to have it.

So far only one of the five senatorial candidates have come out in favor of a senatorial primary to be held prior to the regular primary, so that the race could be narrowed to two candidates to be voted for in the regular primary. In that way the nominee would be the choice of the majority of Democrats. Col. Tom Ball proposed that which is further evidence that this is a true blue Democrat and does not want office on honors unless they are bestowed on him by a majority of his party. Unless the others agree to that plan it is hardly likely that any one of the five candidates will receive anything like a majority vote. For proposing such a plan, which is just as fair as anything of a political nature that can be, Col. Ball, already and always a popular man, has made himself more so. The next senator from Texas should by all means be given his nomination by a majority of the Democrats of Texas, and not by a minority.

HOW THEY TELL IT.

It is said that Senator Culberson was once asked if some sheep in a neighboring field were white. His reply was that they looked white on his side.

But Morris Sheppard would give a different reply. He would say: "On yonder hillside those beautiful sheep are gamboling. How lovely is yonder picture of those ewes and lambs. How tenderly the mother sheep watches over her offspring. What a sweet scene of parental devotion. My brother, there is a beautiful lesson in that flock of sheep. What matters it if they are not white on the farther side. They're white on both sides and their whiteness adds beauty to the picture I have explained to you. If they are black on the other side my friend, the scene would be just as beautiful if the sheep were turned around."—Dallas Times Herald.

Had this same story been propounded to Tom Ball, he would smile. Then he would give a fresh sheaf of natural language again. "Come Johnson, this is the same question would have replied: "Why yes, my son; those sheep are as white as the driven snow; may our lives ever be as spotless as the fleece that covers the gentle animals browsing on yonder hill. But they may turn black tomorrow.

Senator Bailey would have said: "Yes sir; they ARE white. A lot of numskulls who ought to be in the asylum for the insane are going over the country saying the sheep are not white. They ought to be bored for the simples."

Jacob Wolters would have said: "You bet they are white. Any galoot that don't like what I say about it can see me any old time in the Driskill Hotel."

General Lightfoot would have answered about like this: "There is evidently a whitish tendency. However, we should always be sure of our grounds before we speak. I will examine the sheep microscopically tomorrow and submit a written opinion as to their color."—Honey Grove Signal.

Who Will Wear the Toga?
Judging from the popular approval Congressman Shepard is receiving in all parts of the State, he is going to give Colonel Ball the run of his life and then some. The Texarkana man is sure in the public swim and the water is fine.—Gainesville Register.

Judge L. C. Alexander of Waco, has announced as a candidate for the United States senate. The judge is anti-Wilson and anti-several other things and people. Inasmuch as newspapers do not charge for announcing senators, most anyone may jump into the race. It is cheap enough.—Temple Telegram.

ENLARGING THE MEANING OF A COLLEGE DIPLOMA.

One of the many charges brought against a college diploma is that it doesn't help its possessor to get a job in the busy rushing world, but rather hinders him by causing his ability to do practical things to be regarded with suspicion.

This is by no means entirely true, but there is enough of substance in the charge to cause it to survive persistently. Undoubtedly in the past the possession of a diploma has too frequently meant familiarity with the facts of bygone times of the present day, knowledge of theories, but inability to put them to practical use.

There are evidences a plenty, however, that all this is to be changed, and the following news dispatch constitutes such an indication: "To obtain a degree from Princeton university hereafter, undergraduates must be able to swim at least 220 yards and pass a physical examination. Dr. Joseph P. Raycroft, as head of the department of hygiene and physical instruction, has begun to put these physical requirements into effect by fattening the freshmen into the new system. He notified them that a specified amount of exercise would be required of them before they could be graduated."

The simple ability to swim constitutes a pleasure and a safeguard throughout life, and yet how low a percentage even of college men possess it!

It has been one of the defects of college athletics in the past that a few members of the big teams and their supporters absorb all the athletic interest, the rest of the college being reduced to idle, even if enthusiastic spectators. The average student was not sufficiently impressed with what to him individually is a tremendously important thing—namely, that a certain amount of regular physical exercise to be taken by him and not by somebody else while he looks on, is necessary to his health and his business success.

Along with a number of other things this, too is being included in the full or meaning of a college diploma.—Atlanta Georgian.

MONEY FOR CROP-MOVING.

Saturday Evening Post.

This is the poorest season to borrow money because the price is highest. A tabular statement of the average rate of prime commercial loans at New York for each week in the year over a period of thirteen years shows that the average rate in the latter part of September and the latter part of October is the highest, being more than 10 per cent in February, May, or June. The New York interest rate in this respect is a fair index to that for the country at large. As bank loans in the United States amount to some fifteen billion dollars, the higher rate on autumn loans represents a considerable tax.

The reason for the higher autumn rate is, of course, that money is then required to move the crops. The eastern banks, in September and October, ship out nearly two and a half times as much currency as they receive. Chicago and St. Louis also are then shipping currency into the country at a break rate. Reserves fall; interest rates advance.

The money, having moved the crops, speedily comes back, however. In January and February the eastern banks receive nearly two and a half times as much currency as they ship. Reserves rise; interest rates fall.

From time to time other causes conspire with this seasonal dislocation to produce an acutely distressing situation, as happened in October, 1907. There is no sound reason for shunting a considerable part of the country's ready cash back and forth between the reserve centers and the harvest fields, while there are a number of sound reasons against it.

Will congress, by any lucky chance, have a little spare time this winter for the consideration of banking and currency?

The Houston Adcraft club, tired of two plausible propositions for "advertising Houston" the other day and every man who has studied advertising on its merits will applaud the correctness of the club's decision and the backbone of the club in standing to it. One gentleman laid before the club a proposition to publish 20,000 pamphlets advertising Houston which were to be distributed, he claimed, at certain land shows in the North and East. Another gentleman promoter had a proposition to publish 100,000 copies of a carnival program. Both wanted the endorse-ment of the Adcraft club, for in Houston, as in other Texas cities, the advertisers refer doubtful or questionable "schemes" to the club and without the club's official endorsement there is "little doing" in the way of advertising patronage. Business men everywhere meet daily with propositions made up to look like advertising. Countless thousands of copies are to be distributed, according to the claims of the promoter, the circulation is to be just where the advertiser wants it circulated, as soon as he ascertains where that is. The men back at many of these schemes are most plausible and especially in the smaller towns, where there is no ad club to protect the merchants from such impositions, there are rich "pickings" for the man foisting a scheme upon a suffering public. Where plans, bills, falls, not infrequently, in the case of local organizations, does threatened boycott come in, and often times the merchant surrenders his good coin for something that is valueless rather than anger the local promoters of a scheme utterly worthless from an advertising standpoint. The schemes used are multifarious. A traveling promoter—that's an "awful" polite term—comes in, goes to a printing office for prices on a time-gard business directory, church directory, directory of city or county officers, or the like; makes a dummy—and then proceeds to "horse-cog" the unsuspecting or unsophisticated, promising to print so many thousand, usually he gets out from a dozen up to

A very few hundred—just enough to show the advertiser his card, collect his money, and then, off seeking new worlds to conquer. There are men who think they have spent hundreds of dollars for advertising that never really spends a cent for real advertising—they patronized the directory man, the program man, the Motter man and other such plausibilities. "Oh, Advertising, how many hundreds of dollars have been wasted in thy name!"—Depton Record and Chronicle.

DEAN JERNIGAN SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES

Dean Jernigan, the 18 year old boy who was so seriously injured last Sunday afternoon by the accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of a companion that it was found necessary to amputate his right leg, died this morning (about 4:30 a. m.) as the result of tetanus, or lockjaw. Jernigan last night seemed in a most cheerful frame of mind considering his condition, and he laughed and talked on various topics. However, about 11:30 o'clock lockjaw set in and before morning, the boy was dead.
Jernigan was a former student of the Wichita Falls high school, and was well liked by his many friends in this city both on account of his cheerful disposition and his consideration for others. At the time of his death he was employed by the Wichita Mill & Elevator Company, for whom he only started to work last Thursday. His father is also an employee of the Mill & Elevator Company.
The body of Jernigan was prepared for burial by the Hill Undertaking Co., and the funeral will be held sometime tomorrow afternoon from the parlors of that company.

GILMAN RETURNS TO GEM THEATRE

Mr. H. C. Gilman and bride came in this noon from Kentucky, and are meeting Mr. Gilman's friends and receiving congratulations at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Trich.
Beginning tonight, Mr. Gilman will be heard again in illustrated songs at the Gem theatre, and no doubt a large number of friends will be out to hear him. Mr. Gilman returns to Wichita Falls after an absence of three months, spent in his old home in Kentucky, and brings with him a bride who will be as cordially welcomed, as will the popular singer himself. He will be on the program of the Gem every day hereafter.
Mr. Gilman, who has been singing during Mr. Gilman's absence, will also remain at the Gem and will play the accompaniment.

FARMERS SUPPLY CO. ENLARGES BUSINESS

The Farmers Supply Co. will take over the business of the Panhandle Implement Co. next week. The deal for the transfer was made some time ago, to be consummated about Oct. 15th. With the acquisition of the new line the Farmers Supply Co. come into possession of an old established and well organized trade that is in line to meet the demands of its business.
Mr. Lee Jackson, who has been manager of the Panhandle Implement Co., will leave about the 25th for McKinney, where he will become manager of the Collins County Implement Co., a branch of the Parlin & Orendorff Co. of Dallas.
The removal of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson from Wichita Falls will be one feature of the arrangement that will be deeply regretted. Mr. Jackson has been a resident of the city for six years and has been identified with all of the progressive movements inaugurated for the city's welfare. He is just the live, go-ahead sort of a business man that any city needs, and the kind that Wichita Falls hates to lose.
Hereafter the Farmers Supply Co., which is an adjunct of the Farmers Union, will be in a position to supply its members and customers with everything in the grocery and provision line, and will also carry a complete stock of buggies, wagons and farm implements.

NUBIAN GIANT MEETS BROTHER HERE

Thomas Brockman, the Nubian giant in the side show of the Sells-Floto circus today met Gene Brockman of this city, who is Tom's brother, whom he last saw 25 years ago.
Thomas was born near Gainesville, Texas, and grew to be 8 feet tall—just all around that all he has to do is to sit around and let people look up at him and every Saturday draw $50 for his hard work.
Gene left home in Gainesville some 25 years ago and lost all tract of his brother until today when he happened to be looking at the long line of banners in front of the circus tents and saw the name Brockman on one of them. He paid his dime and went immediately over to see the Nubian giant. The two Brockmans met and it required only a few minutes for the two to recall enough of their childhood for Tom to say "Well, if it isn't little brother Gene."
The latter expressed regret that the Lord didn't make him tall, too, so that he could draw $50 a week "doing nothing" instead of wrestling with the big bales of cotton on the compress platform.

At a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning the proposal for a joint meeting of the business men and the members of the Farmers' Union for the purpose of discussing plans to enable the farmers to hold their cotton until better prices prevail was given unanimous endorsement.

SCHOOL DISTRICT VALUES $6,443,070

The assessed valuation of the Wichita Falls independent school district totals $6,443,070 and the tax levy of 50 cents on the hundred dollars valuation will yield $32,215.35.
The district includes the city of Wichita Falls and the so-called shoe-string district.
In former years there has been some confusion on the part of those living outside the city in the school district as to where they should pay their school tax. This is payable at the office of City Tax Collector Harry Robertson in the city hall and is entirely separate from the State and county taxes paid at the court house.

PROPERTY LOSS ESTIMATED $5,000,000

Denver, Colo., Oct. 10.—The property losses are estimated today in the floods in Northern New Mexico and Colorado at five million. It is rumored there has been heavy loss of life, but the verified death list so far is very small. It is reported that twenty Indians were drowned at the ship wreck agency of Navajos. The entire hamlet of Harboles has been destroyed. Some towns are out of railroad service for at least two months by the floods and aid time stage service will be established to such places.

CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help, Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S. Kendrick, in a letter from this place, "and at times, I could not bear to stand on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer.

"I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. The said medicines would do me no good, and I thought I would have to die.

"At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now, I am well, and can do my own work. I don't feel any pains.

"Cardui worked like a charm."

There must be merit in this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—Cardui—for it has been in successful use for more than 60 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and disease.

Please try it, for your troubles.

RESOLUTIONS FROM ARCHER COUNTY FARMERS UNION

Whereas, there is a very deplorable condition existing today in the cotton market which has no reason to exist, since it is due to manipulations of a comparatively small body of men, who have circulated fictitious estimates of the cotton crop, and who make this over-estimate the basis for this regrettably low market by simply plugging so low a price as they feel safe to offer, and yet get the cotton for the simple reason that the farmers are not realizing the dual position they occupy, viz: That of producer and merchant, but the latter capacity we have poorly filled because we have allowed our customers to dictate the price instead of we as sellers demanding a price that would include the expense of production and a fair profit; in short, we have allowed outsiders to run the most vital part of our business.

Therefore to eradicate this distressing state of things, be it

Resolved, by the County Farmers Union in convention assembled at Archer City that the members be urgently requested to market their cotton as slowly as possible and when they are in a position to do so up to place any cotton in the market at the minimum price reached before January, 1912. Further be it

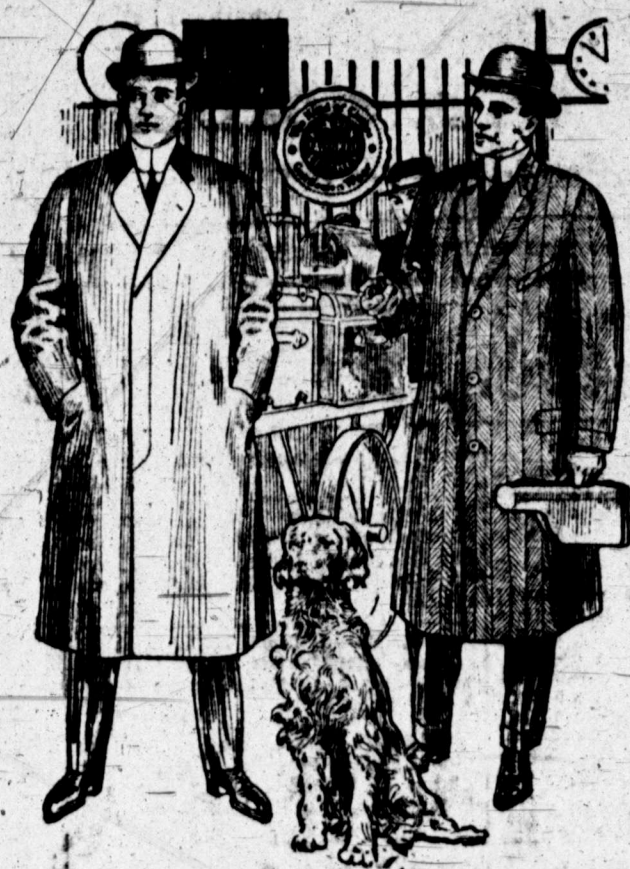

Resolved, that the members use their influence to get their non-union farmer neighbors to assist us in our effort to increase the price of cotton by feeding the market slowly proportion to the rate of consumption which must tend to produce a desire to buy cotton on the part of manufacturers instead of over eagerness on the part of the farmer to sell cotton at most any price that might be offered by shrewd buyers, again be it

Resolved, that all business men who are in any way interested in the farmers welfare, are also solicited to render assistance to our cause which unambiguously is also their cause, for the reason that any measure or action that will enhance the welfare of agriculture must contribute to the income of business men sooner or later and again be it

Resolved, that these resolutions be given to the various newspapers for publication.

Your committee,
T. H. TAYLOR,
W. R. PACE,
HENRY COBB,
J. L. S. GANT, President,
W. R. GROUND, Sec. Treas.

Resolved that Archer County Union No. 1 in session at Archer City October 5th, 1911, ask the co-operation of all Union Farmers also the Association Convention in enabling us in getting a law placed on the statute books that will enable each county to receive her pro-rate of school tax in proportion to the amount of school tax paid by each county.

KATY'S PROSPECTS GOOD AS SHOWN BY REPORT

Annual Statement Shows Healthy Increase in Business—Officials Optimistic.

The annual report of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad, covering operations for the fiscal year ended June 30, was issued yesterday from the general offices. The report, signed jointly by Chairman Edw. Hawley and President A. A. Allen who take a cheerful view of the general situation, saying: "There is a date a favorable prospect for increased earnings during the coming season. While the oats, corn and wheat crops are short, indications point to a large production of cotton. There is no feeling of alarm in business circles along the lines, and there is every reason to believe that the steady and healthy development of the territory served will continue during the coming year. Including the Texas Central, the freight earnings of the system were $18,184,663.74, an increase of $1,091,096.52, or 6.33 per cent. Tons of revenue freight carried increased 678,566 tons, or 9.06 per cent. The average rate per ton-mile was 1.11 cents, as against 1.05 cents last year. Freight and mixed train mileage decreased 364,566 miles, or 4.86 per cent. Revenue tons per train mile were 225, having increased 8.79 tons or 4.07 per cent. Revenue tons per loaded car mile were 13.99, as against 14.03 the previous year. The average haul per ton on revenue freight was 196.68 miles, a decrease of 19.98 miles or 9.22 per cent.

"Earnings from passenger traffic were $8,923,359.32, an increase of $1,241,514.40, or 16.16 per cent. Total passenger train revenue, including mail and express, increased $1,418,590.95, or 15.65 per cent. Revenue from passengers constituted 30.70 per cent of the total operating revenue of the system. This ratio of passenger earnings to total earnings is high and while the increase is due in some part to the development of territory it results principally from the popularity which the lines have gained with the traveling public through safe efficient and adequate service. The total number of passengers carried was 6,044,154, an increase of 463,584 or 8.31 per cent. The average haul per passenger was 64.70 miles. The average rate received per passenger per mile was 2.28 cents, as against 2.13 cents in the preceding year.

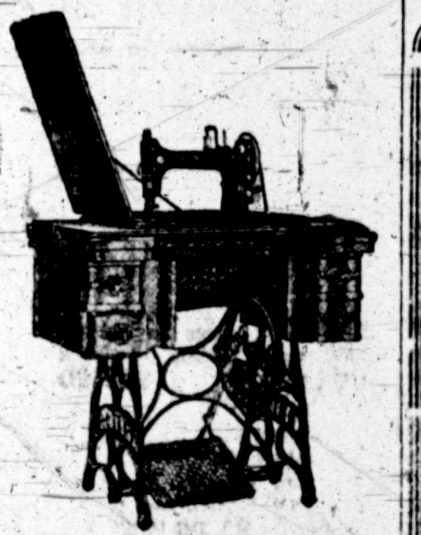

"Operating expenses (including the Texas Central) were $20,606,515.65, an increase of $1,420,466.56, or 7.40 per cent. The ratio of expenses to earnings was 70.90 per cent, as against 72.24 per cent the previous year. The best thought of the management is constantly upon the question of reducing operating costs without impairment of the property and service. The problem is not easy of solution, but it is expected that a gradual improvement will be brought about.

"On the whole the company's affairs progressed materially during the past fiscal year. Gross and net earnings increased in the face of many disadvantages; mileage increased 9.22 per cent by extensions into proven territory; the physical condition of the property was greatly improved by proper maintenance and by additions and betterments more numerous and substantial than in any previous year; no new legislation of a nature specially harmful to railroads was enacted by any of the states through which the system extends, though all of their legislatures were in session; the Interstate Commerce Commission affirmed the increased freight rates of the Southwestern lines, while denying increases in some sections of the country and making reductions in others."

The executive committee is composed of James Campbell, Edw. Hawley, Frank Trumbull, Frank A. Zanderlip, James N. Wallace, Hans Winterfeldt and B. F. Younkum.

The right of way terminals, permanent surveys and estimates of the cost of construction, together with subscription of $350,000 has been secured for building a railroad from Smithville to Deepwater at Aransas port.

Modern Methods OF IRONING LINEN

By constant experimenting the Manufacturers of Laundry Machinery have invented and perfected machinery for the ironing of Linen, whereby the life of linen is prolonged.

This method is known as the American Pressing System, now being used by all the largest and best Laundries throughout this country.

The manner of operation is simply to place the material being ironed on a padded board, which moves beneath a highly polished chest HEATED BY STEAM, and held there by pressure until it is thoroughly ironed, thus preventing the FRICTION WEAR that is produced when using the rotary type machines, that were designed more than twenty years ago, besides there is no possible danger of SCORCHING OR BURNING THE LINEN.

The bosom of the shirt is placed upon the padded surface in the same manner that it is placed on the body of the wearer, thus giving the shape and effect, with no chance of producing the "bulger" bosom.

This Pressing system is used for the ironing of Shirts, Neck Bands, Cuffs and Vests, as well as Ladies' Shirt Waists.

At a great expense we have installed a set of these machines and invite the citizens of this city to see the same in operation.

Whence Come Members of New York Giants Team? Something of McGraw's Men

New York, Oct. 10.—Whence hail the New York National baseball team—the men who are expected by the local enthusiasts to drive the world's championship pennant hard and fast to the flag pole at the Polo grounds.

They were born in nine states and come of many nationalities, the average age of players is a trifle over twenty-five years and their average term of service in New York uniforms run a few months over four years. One looks in vain among the galaxy of stars for a native of New York City. Only two were born within the boundaries of the empire state.

Four of the other eight states have contributed two of their best baseball heroes to make a New York pennant winning team—Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio and California. The remaining four find their birth places in Maryland, Wisconsin, Indiana and the District of Columbia.

Christy Mathewson, one of the McGraw star twirlers—the greatest of all many say—is the veteran of the team, with ten years service to his credit. He overtops the second man, Ames, by two years, while Wilse and Devlin tie for third honors with seven years each. Myers, the big Indian catcher and heavy hitter, and Murray, have been only two years in continuous service with the team. Herzog rejoined the team this year, but McGraw bought him back in 1908 and exchanged him two years ago for Becker, of the Boston team. Fletcher has been two and a half years with the team, while Josh Devore smallest and fastest player in the big league, joined the pennant winners last year. The two years previous he spent with Utica and Newark.

Larry Doyle, captain of the team is twenty-four years of age. He was born in Caveville, Ill., and has been four years with the New Yorkers. Fletcher is twenty-five years old, was born in Collinsville, Ill., Herzog, is twenty-four is a native of Baltimore, Warren, Pa., contributed Ames. He is twenty-seven years old. Wilse is from Hamilton, New York. He is twenty-eight. Merkle was born twenty-three years ago in Watertown, Wis. Devore, youngest of the team, was born in Murray County, O., less than twenty-three years ago. Crandall, twenty-three years old is a native of Wadina, Ind. Devlin, who with Mathewson, claims seniority of age, is thirty-one, and was born in Washington, D. C. Marquard first saw the light in Cleveland, Ohio. He is twenty-three. Myers whose father is a full-blooded Indian, was born twenty-eight years ago in Riverside, Cal. "Matty" was born in Factoryville, Pa. Snodgrass is a native son of California, his birthplace being Ventura, and his age twenty-three. Four of the players participated in the series of 1905, when the team last won the world's championship. They are Mathewson, Ames, Devlin and Wilse. Mathewson is the only man of the team who was there when John McGraw took over the reins of management.

Meeting of Rail Commissioners Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—So many important topics are slated for discussion at the twenty-third annual meeting of the National Association of Railway Commissioners which began here today, that the sessions will continue five days instead of three as heretofore. The convention is composed of the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the railway commissioners of the various States. The president is R. Hudson Barr, of Florida.

The present meeting promises to be of much importance, especially in view of the great question of whether the States have the power to regulate intrastate rates raised by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The commissioners also will discuss railway capitalization, car service, demurrage, telephone and telegraph rates, express service and express rates, and shippers' claims on common carriers.

VOTE AGAINST WOMEN

EARLY AND INCOMPLETE RETURNS FROM FORTY-FOUR PRECINCTS OF THE STATE.

REFERENDUM AND RECALL

Count So Far Shows Large Sentiment for Such and Would Apply to Judiciary.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 11.—California rejected by a decisive vote yesterday the Constitutional amendment conferring upon women the right to vote. If the returns received up to 10 o'clock last night from forty-four State precincts are taken as an indication of what the final totals will show.

The initiative, referendum and recall amendments, the latter applying to the judiciary, and nineteen others regarded as of lesser importance were adopted. Twenty-three were submitted by the last Legislature, body controlled by the progressive in the Republican party, who has overthrown the machine.

There was little open opposition to any of the amendments with the exception of one granting suffrage to women. The women of the State divided on the question and campaigned for the amendment.

RAILROAD CASES RE-ASSIGNED JAN. 8. By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—The United States Supreme Court re-assigned all state railroad cases involving the conflict between the State and Interstate rates for a hearing as one case on January 8.

Good Roads. Here is what we are all panting for, not to enable some selfish William to burn a bunch of gasoline, that he bought on credit in a smoke wagon that has a mortgage on the hook. No, my friend, not that; we want to fix it so a span of frisky mules can haul into the speed limit with a load of wheat or a tub of farm sausage or a gang of frisky size Shanghai's without giving the mules apoplexy. If the farmers of Wichita county could get to town with a load of real food occasionally they would soon have a glad wad of the long green and we could dispense with the eggs that are not dated and cut out the butter that was intended for the army during our late unpleasantness with Spain. WASTED MONEY

FOR POOR DRUGS

What a lot of money is added to the profits of unscrupulous druggists who substitute for an ingredient called for in a physician's prescription, or who substitute a cheaper article—just as good—when you call for some standard preparation. Some people seem to care so little about it that it isn't any wonder the practice is so common. If honest goods, courteous treatment and prompt service means anything to you and you are not already our customer, give us a trial, put us to the test, and see how well we practice what we preach.

NORTHWESTERN HANDLES CIRCUS IN GOOD SHAPE

The Sells-Floto circus came in this morning on schedule time, arriving about 8 o'clock over the Northwestern from Altus. By 7 o'clock the stuff was all unloaded and taken to the show grounds on the east side of the Denver tracks. The cars were then shunted down to the Northwestern yards out of the way, and the unloading tracks near the depot were left ready for the regular business. Managers of the circus say the big job of hauling and unloading the show was handled better and quicker by the Northwestern men than by any other crews during the season. The show will go out over the same road tonight, going to Frederick and thence to Lawton, where it shows tomorrow.
