HENRIETTA DEFEATS WICHITA FALLS TEAM

The Wichita Falls High School football team yesterday afternoon suffered defeat at the hands of the Henrietta team on the game which was played at that place.

The High School boys fought hard and at the end of the first half, the score stood nothing to nothing. In the second half, the lack of training of the Wichita team began to tell, and Henrietta crossed their goal line twice, failing to kick goal both times.

The features of the game were the brilliant playing of Dorsey and Huff for Wichita Falls and Cook and Weaver for Henrietta.

New York Giants of National League Take First Game of Series—2 to 1

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 14.—The Giants, pennant winners of the National League defeated Philadelphia, the American League Club, by a score of 2 to 1, in an evenly contested game at the Polo grounds today. About 40,000 people saw the opening contest of the world's series, which was a pitching duel between Christy Mathewson and the Indian Chief Bender.

The Athletics scored their only run on a hit by Baker, a sacrifice hit and a base on balls and a sharp single by Davis. A base on balls for Snodgrass, followed by an infield out and an error by Collins sent the first Giant run across the plate in the fourth inning. The second run came in the seventh inning when Devore drove Myers home with a double. The Giants played almost errorless ball.

Many Bought Phoney Tickets. By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 14.—Cool and slightly cloudy weather was the prospect for today's world's series game. The temperature threatened to be a little cool for baseball.

It was estimated by the base ball management that forty thousand spectators were gathered at today's game. Scores appeared at the grounds with counterfeit tickets they had purchased from speculators. They were turned away by the police.

The Giants were favorites in the betting at six to five. Several hundred stood in line all night to gain general admission. The National base ball commission, the postal authorities and even the State Legislature may investigate the New York management concerning the sale of tickets.

MUCH INTEREST IN RELIGIOUS MOVEMENT

The meeting of the Men and Religion Forward Movement at the First Baptist church last night was fairly well attended, and an interesting series of talks were given by Messrs. Bryant and Jensen of Fort Worth, who have taken a leading part in creating interest in this movement throughout North Texas.

These gentlemen emphasized the value of Bible study to the business man of today, and also pointed out the essential features in boys work, social work, evangelism, and mission work. Their remarks were given careful attention by the present and it is planned to organize a similar movement in this city in the near future.

Some of the greatest men in America are becoming enthusiastic to the spell of this movement, and its future was regarded with a great deal of optimism by all who heard the talks last night. One of the ninety cities in which special work will be done before the end of the year is Fort Worth at which place a convention will be held beginning November 13th and lasting until the 20th. Much good as regards the forwarding of the cause in the state of Texas is expected to result from this convention and several who were present last night expressed themselves as intending to be present at the convention.

On the whole the speeches of Messrs. Bryant and Jensen were not only given careful attention by all present but were also the means of creating much interest in the Men and Religion Forward Movement in this city. It is to be hoped that the men of this city will again be able to enjoy the presence of these gentlemen here in the near future.

HUNDRED CHILDREN IN SALVATION ARMY PICNIC

With one hundred as happy little folks as ever started on a day's outing, Adjutant Johnson of the Salvation Army led a picnic party out to Lake Wichita early this morning where the day will be spent enjoying the attractions of this resort.

A special car was chartered for the trip and this was loaded so full with cheerful children that another car was called into service. In big baskets, boxes, hampers and all sorts of bundles and packages were piled high and all the other good things that go to make up a picnic dinner. Yes, and great big freezers of ice cream went out on the car, too.

All the attractions at the lake will be free to the little folks and a very happy day is anticipated. Today, however, the picnic was gotten up by the Salvation Army especially to give an outing to the children who might otherwise not have been able to go. The people of the town contributed toward the expenses of the picnic and everyone who contributed would have felt amply repaid if he could have seen the carload of joyous youngsters.

ASSOCIATE JUSTICE HARLAN IS DEAD

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—(Bulletin)—Associate Justice John M. Harlan of the United States Supreme Court died at his home here at 8:15 o'clock this morning of acute bronchitis. He was aged seventy-six.

Justice Harlan had been ill since last Monday, when he contracted a severe cold. The following day he did not occupy his seat on the bench. Chief Justice White then announced that Justice Harlan was ill, but as it was known that a cold had caused his indisposition, no alarm was felt. During that day, however, Justice Harlan had become more seriously affected and Wednesday bronchitis developed. Friday high fever came on which continued high until midnight when it abated somewhat and some hope was entertained for the aged jurist's recovery. This morning he grew rapidly worse and death ensued shortly after 8 o'clock.

Justice Harlan's great ambition was to serve until next June, when he would have exceeded in length of service of any man who ever sat on the United States Supreme bench. As it was his service was longer than any one except Justice Marshall and Justice Field. Justice Harlan's opinions were more in harmony with the so-called radical (Continued on Page Eight)

NO JURORS WERE SELECTED TODAY

SESSION OF McNAMARA TRIAL DEVOTED TO ARGUMENTS OVER ELIGIBILITY OF TALESMEN.

TO GIVE DECISION MONDAY

Witnesses Will Not Be Brought to Los Angeles Until They Are Needed.

By Associated Press. Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 14.—There can be no selection of the first juror in the McNamara case before Monday at the earliest. The third day of actual work in the trial today was scheduled to be consumed entirely in arguments over the vital issue of whether a statement by prospective jurors that they had formed opinions from what they had heard about the dynamiting case should bar them. This contest centered about Venimere Z. T. Nelson, the defense contending his opinions were so strong as to disqualify him and the prosecution claiming he could lay aside these opinions in face of the evidence.

Judge Bordwell's decisions is to be given Monday. It is expected to settle one of the most important features of the trial.

Although Judge Bordwell is not required to explain the decision he will make Monday, it is expected he will set forth at length the limitations of the counsel in the future in interrogating talesmen. The range which the attorneys may traverse in questioning the talesmen on the labor union question is also expected to be settled by Judge Bordwell's ruling. He announced today he intended to study carefully the transcript of Nelson's testimony.

Few people were in the court room today. The attendance, in fact, has been scanty since the outset. It is not expected the crowds will gather until the interesting portions of the testimony starts Monday. Today, however, James B. and John J. McNamara have prepared for a long siege. James B. is looked upon with envy by his older brother because of having his trial first. John J., who has practically no chance to get out of his cell for an outdoor airing said today: "Orin McManis is out auto riding in fact, joy riding nearly every day, why is that? He's supposed to be going to confess what he knows to the district attorney, and I understand they take him around through the parks and the boulevards."

The twelve talesmen who are under examination are getting a good taste of confinement. Today, however, they went to breakfast in a nightseeing automobile, the only available conveyance in which they could be kept together as required. Extensive preparations are under way to bring several hundred witnesses to Los Angeles. Some who lived at Los Angeles at the time of the explosion have scattered to various parts of the country. Many are to come from Indiana to testify to the character of the McNamaras. "We are not going to call witnesses for some time," said Attorney Darrow of the defense today, "It costs a lot of money to get them here and we are going to try to get a manliness we are sure of the time we will need him."

RAILROAD DOES BIG BUSINESS AT ELECTRA

Does Electra need a new depot? At present the depot facilities are very bad. One small waiting room, one small freight warehouse, one small office and one small box car constitute the room in which seven men must do about $5,000.00 business each month. Besides, the small waiting room contains a news stand and laundry office. A census shows the freight business during September to be $81,157.90 and the ticket business to be $3,000.00, total $84,157.90. The biggest business for one day was, in $10,150.05; on Oct. $2,841.15, total $13,991.20. The total number of cars unloaded on the siding here during the month was about 200.

OKLAHOMA CITY BANKER FOUND GUILTY

By Associated Press. Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 14.—Abner Davis, former president of the Night and Day Bank, today was found guilty of falsifying the records of the bank, by the district court jury. It is charged that Davis made records to show $40,000 of the bank's funds on deposit in St. Louis and Kansas City banks.

Dry Farming Congress

Colorado Springs, Colo., Oct. 14.—Headquarters were opened today for the sixth International Dry Farming Congress, which will meet here Monday and continue in session five days. The officials in charge expect a record-breaking attendance of agricultural experts from all sections of the United States and Canada. The agricultural schools and experiment stations will be especially well represented at the gathering this year. Dr. J. H. Worst, president of the North Dakota Agricultural College, will preside over the sessions.

BANKER J. R. WALSH PAROLED TODAY

AGED PRISONER WHO HAD GIVEN UP HOPE OVERWHELMED BY GOOD NEWS.

WILL RETURN TO CHICAGO Had Served One Year, Eight Months and Twenty-Six Days of Five Year Term.

By Associated Press. Leavenworth, Kan., Oct. 14.—John R. Walsh, the Chicago banker, was paroled from the Federal penitentiary today. The order from Washington paroling Walsh, the banker and railway president, was received here this morning. The prisoner at once prepared to depart for his home. Up to the time of his parole Walsh had served one year, eight months and twenty-six days of his five year sentence. When told of his release the aged prisoner plainly showed his pleasure. His son is expected from Chicago during the day and a start for home will probably be made late this evening.

The last obstacle to the parole of Walsh was removed in August, when the United States district attorney at Chicago requested that the remaining indictments against the aged banker be quashed. When the parole failed to arrive by yesterday Walsh had practically given up hope. For a moment this morning's good news seemed to overwhelm him. On December 16, 1905 the Chicago National Bank of which Walsh was president was closed. On January 18, 1907, he was indicted on 182 counts, charging mis-conduct in managing the finances of the bank. It was charged that about two million dollars was fraudulently transferred by Walsh from the Chicago National Bank to co-officers of his institutions.

BAPTISTS PREPARE FOR BIG REVIVAL

The committees in charge of the revival meeting to be conducted by Evangelist M. F. Ham are working well and arrangements are being perfected.

The large tent has been erected and further arrangements are being made corner of Tenth and Scott avenue. A large platform will be constructed to accommodate the singers. Those who have practiced the songs the past week have been specially pleased with the new song book to be used during the revival.

Word comes from Evangelist Ham that the Lord is greatly blessing the meeting in Greenwood, Miss. On account of the strike, their tent was delayed for that meeting. Bro. Ham says he may have to continue there two days longer than he had expected. Full announcement will be made in regard to the first service at the tent. Those who will help in the singing are urged to be at the First Baptist Church, Monday night at 7:30. Let every Christian pray for a great revival.

EVANGELIST, M. F. HAM.

THE TWO BALL TEAMS WHICH ARE BATTLING FOR WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

The Rival Leaders and Their Men—What They Have Done Individually and as Teams—A Comparison of Records

New York, October 14.—The world's championship baseball series beginning today marks the climax of interest in the great American game of baseball. The championship contest comes every year, but is ever new in the intense excitement over the crucial series. Last year Philadelphia and Chicago were the centers of this championship, the Philadelphia Athletics of the American League winning the coveted title.

With the world's pennant still flying over their magnificent baseball home at Shibe Park at Philadelphia, and with another American League flag, freshly won, Connie Mack and his Philadelphiaans now meet John J. McGraw and his Giants of the National League. It is the second time that these two generals have clashed over the same great issue. In the war of 1905 the two teams met at New York, and there they brought to New York a world's pennant.

Seasoned by six years more experience in the generalship of their formidable baseball forces, these two national leaders now meet again for the championship struggle. Two more different types than McGraw and Mack cannot be picked in the baseball world. The contest between the two chiefs may be summed up briefly as follows:

MACK

Aged forty-nine.
Born in England.
Tall and lanky.
Calm and deliberate.
Great from the bench.
Plans battle before game.
Never dons a uniform.
Known as a tactician.

MCGRAW

Aged thirty-eight.
Born in New York State.
Short and chubby.
Quick and impulsive.
Great on coaching lines.
Resorts to quick judgment.
Always in ball togs.
Distinctly a strategist.

And so on, with finer distinctions the divergence might be traced and when the problem was finally worked out it would be found that about the only point of intersection in their methods is success.

Cornelius McMillen, so named at birth, but rechristened by the fans as "Connie Mack," has been called the "wizard of baseball" because of his skill in developing seemingly inferior talent into the superior player. Since he organized the Philadelphia club eleven years ago he has turned out four champion teams in the American League and has led his men close to the front ranks in the league every season but one. His career has been perhaps the most successful of any of the so-called bench managers. Sitting back away from the dust of battle, the cool and crafty chief with pencil and score book in hand plots out the progress of the engagement and only occasionally amends the orders he gave his men before he sent them into the field.

McGraw, known to fandom as the Napoleon leader of the "Giants," has won three league pennants for New York and one world series. Since 1903 his team has never finished below third place in the National League. As a big league player he was a famous product of the old Baltimore Orioles of the National League. When the club broke up after the season of 1902 he came to the metropolis as manager of the Giants. He is, an always has been, a typical player and leader of the old fighting school whose slogan is "Work in and win."

Whether McGraw can bring his men back to the world-beating class or must let the Mackmen possess the big flag for a second successive season, depends in some part upon some of the veterans who won for him the war of 1905.

By the rules governing the world series each of the leaders is allowed to enlist 21 men eligible as participants in the struggle. The choice this year has fallen to the following men:

NEW YORK PHILADELPHIA
A. Mack, p. Baker, 3b.
Brecher, utility. Barry, ss.
Crandall, 2b. Bender, p.
Joyce, 2b. Collins, 2b.
Devore, if. Coombs, p.

versity and his first professional berth was on the Canton nine of the New England League. Twice the big fellow has pitched no-hit games. In 1908 he was credited with 27 of the "Giants" victories. He won more than two-thirds of the games he pitched this year. It is 31 years old.

Notwithstanding the confidence still placed in him it is likely that he will have less of a chance to figure as a hero in the present series as his big left-handed pitching mate, "Rube" Marquard, and Matty's junior by 8 years, has won championship distinction. The young "southpaw," whose services cost McGraw $11,000, proved a good investment for it is mainly due to his phenomenal pitching that the "Giants" are in a position to face the "Athletics" for the title. He has won 24 and lost 6 games this season.

Marquard's first professional play was with the Waterloo team of the Iowa State League. Later he was with the Canton Club of the Central League and was drafted by the Detroit, who turned him over to Indianapolis. He proved the sensation of the American Association and it took the big prize named to bring him to New York in 1908. While he possessed all kinds of speed and a varied assortment of curves he was almost a complete failure in his first seasons, but McGraw stuck to him and has been well rewarded. Leon Ames, who has been on the "Giants" pitching staff ever since he jumped the New York State League, in 1904, and George R. Wiltsie, another former State leaguer, are the most likely candidates for relief work in the box. Otis Crandall is the fifth member of the staff.

There are six of Connie Mack's men who were with him when he fought in vain for the 1905 flag. They are Bender, Plank, Lory, Hartse, Murphy and Harry Davis. Head and shoulders above the rest stands "Chief" Bender, the sensation of the Philadelphia club, who was sent to the Carlisle school for his education and promptly vinced his fondness for the great white man's game. After leaving college he joined the Harrisburg, Pa., team, and in 1905 was brought into the big league by Connie Mack. He became one of a famous quintet of writers which brought Philadelphia into its second league championship in 1905. In the world series he was the pitching hero of the only game which the "Athletics" took from the "Giants" that year. On the other hand, to him is charged the only defeat suffered by the "Athletics" in the series with Chicago last year, though this came after he had allowed but one hit for eight innings.

With the Indian in the box, is, as was the case last year, Jack Coombs the real hero of the last series. Coombs known as Mack's "man of iron," won three straight games in the 1910 series, a feat which the Giant Mathewson equaled in 1905.

Coombs is 27 years old. He played at Colby College in a minor and graduated at once into big league company with the Athletics in 1906. He is exactly the same height as his pitching mate, "Chief" Bender, 6 feet 1 inch. He is a holder of records one of them being the famous 21-inning victory over Boston in 1907. During the 1911 season he went 35 innings at 0-3 stretch without letting an opposing club score on him.

Bender and Coombs will be called upon it is believed to do most of the pitching in the series at hand but as the "Giants" are said to be weaker before left-handers it is possible that the "south paws" Plank and Krause will be given a chance to distinguish themselves. Plank was one of a trio of twirlers who won for Philadelphia his first taste of league championship in Mack's second year. Veteran (though he is, at the age of 36, he is still able to do effective work.

A cold figure, the records of the pitchers selected for the present series is as follows:

The back-stopping for Philadelphia will be same as last year. Ira Thomas who took the measure of the famous John Kling of Chicago, in last year's series, will be first choice behind the bat, and Lapp, who caught one game last year, will be a close second. Lapp is young, and this season's play has improved him.

"Big Chief" Meyers, Wilson and Hartley will catch for the Giants. It is needless to give the biographical sketches of all the newer stars of the forthcoming series. Experts agree that in no wise can the outcome of the series or of a single game be expected to rest with a single player unless it be the pitcher.

Team for team the opponents are as evenly matched as any two that ever fought for the world's title. Experts agree as to this, and recalling their mistaken judgment in picking the Chicago Cubs as a favorite last year, they are prone to play safe and declare the outcome of the present series to be a matter of "delightfully doubtful uncertainty."

In the betting, odds have been given both ways. Local experts look back to the wonderful exploits of the Giants through the closing stages of the season fight and pin their faith to McGraw's "rush them off their feet" slogan and the pitching of "Rube" and "Matty," supported by the all round excellence of the team.

Philadelphia supporters take account of the fact that their favorites are already 30th champions and have lost the title by trouncing the Chicago National League Club, which gave New York a close race for this year's league title. They believe that General Mack has plotted out a winning campaign, and that his men with an average of 370 at the bat and with what they consider the finest infield in either league, will take world honors as handily as they captured the league pennant this year.

In battling the "Giants" lead the National League at 271, conceding 23 runs to the Athletics who lost the season league with 291. In extra base hitting the margin of difference is smaller, but still slightly in favor of the Athletics. In the base running department the experts give advantage to McGraw's men, six of whom are leaders in feet-footness among the National League runners. Altogether the men have stolen 346 bases this season as compared with 228 to the credit of the Athletics.

So go comparisons, which made from any angle, see-saw from the "Giants" to the "Athletics" and back again, leaving both forces evenly balanced. If the weight of any one player can tie the scale it will be, experts agree, one of the pitching stars. In at least one respect the series will mark a record in baseball history, for it is estimated that more than twice as many enthusiasts will seek admission to the Polo Grounds daily than can be accommodated, and the accommodation will be greater than ever before provided in a baseball park in this country.

John T. Bush, owner of the New York club, has replaced the old wooden amphitheatre at the Polo Grounds which burned early this season with a mammoth steel and concrete structure, which, when wholly finished, is expected to be the best of the several magnificent baseball parks in the country, and by the extension of outfield bleachers he has provided room, it is estimated, for nearly 60,000 spectators today.

The number is nearly a third greater than ever witnessed at a ball game. Attendance records at the world's series and receipts for the past six years compare as follows:

Year	Receipts	Per Game
1905	$35,426.81	18.34
1906	106,550.00	16.64
1907	161,727.00	15.61
1908	94,975.50	12.44
1909	188,292.50	22.06
1910	172,980.00	21.84

Benjamin F. Shibe, owner of the Philadelphia club, is also preparing to handle a record crowd when the playing of the big games alternates to his new park bearing the family name. The proximity of the two rival cities is expected to cause a daily flock of enthusiasts from one city to the other and by far overtax the capacity of either park.

Mrs. Frisberg, although 78 years of age, is still full of life and good cheer. She met each guest as they arrived with a hearty welcome. She always looks forward to these yearly reunions with pleasure and enters into the spirit of them with the heart of a girl.

"The Third Degree."

The stories extant of how many of our millionaires of today were "grab staked" and when fortune came a divi-vision was made with those who furnished the sinews; finds a parallel in the case of Charles Klein, the playwright whose plays, The Lion and the Mouse, The Music Master, The Gambblers, A Mile a Minute, Maggie Pepper, By Proxy, A Paltry Million, The Hon. John Grayson, Dr. Balgraf, The Cipher Code, The Auctioneer, Daughters of Men, The Step-Sister, The Charlatan, El Captain, A Royal Robe, Mr. Pickwick, Red Feather and The Third Degree have made him the richest playwright in the world.

It has not been so many years ago that existence with Mr. Klein was literally a hand to mouth affair. He wanted to write plays, and Charles Dickson, the comedian, suggested to his own brother, a tailor named Boblin, that he stake Klein; that he give him something like ten or fifteen dollars a week just enough for himself and his family to live on, and take half of Klein's prospective profits from what plays he might write.

This agreement was lived up to religiously by both Klein and Boblin. The budding playwright drew on the tailor from time to time for expenses, and the tailor kept an eye open for the possible success of his investment. In time the Klein plays began to be accepted, and before the five years, the term of the contract expired, David Warfield was playing Charles Klein's "The Auctioneer," and the royalties fairly poured in. Altogether Boblin drew for his share of the contract a sum approaching $50,000. Had the contract continued to the present day, Boblin would have at least $50,000 more out of the Third Degree and as much from The Lion and the Mouse.

Newburg, Ala.—"For more than a year," writes Myrtle Cothrum, of this place, "I suffered with terrible pains in my back and head. I had a sallow complexion, and my face was covered with pimples. Our family doctor only gave me temporary relief.

A friend of mine advised me to try Cardul, so I began taking it, at once, and with the best results, for I was cured after taking two bottles. My mother and my aunt have also used Cardul and were greatly benefited.

I shall always praise Cardul to sick and suffering women."

Cardul is a purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, tonic remedy for women, and will benefit young and old.

Its ingredients are mild herbs, having a gentle, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution. Cardul has helped a million women back to health and strength.

Have you tried it? If not, please do. It may be just what you need. N. B.—Write for Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn. See Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

Wichita Falls, Texas, October 14, 1911.

THIS DATE IN HISTORY.

- October 14.
- 1644—William Penn, the colonizer of Pennsylvania, born. Died July 30, 1718.
- 1781—Sir Edward Hawke, the British admiral who frustrated the attempt of the French to invade England, died. Born in 1715.
- 1806—Napoleon defeated the Prussians at Jena and advanced on Berlin.
- 1817—John Philopot Curran, famous Irish orator, died. Born in 1750.
- 1827—Sir William Vernon Harcourt, English statesman, born. Died Oct. 1, 1904.
- 1910—Legislature of Colorado enacted a direct primary law.

By a very narrow majority the proposition to vote $150,000 worth of bonds with which to construct good roads in precinct No. 1 Wichita county, won in yesterday's election, but had the proposition carried with a bond issue of only about $100,000, it is more than likely the opposition would have been little if any. Many of those who voted against the proposition did so because they reasoned that building good roads in Wichita county was yet in the experimental stage, and that $100,000 would be sufficient for the first trial, and if it proved successful it would be an easy matter for the taxpayers to call another election and vote additional bonds. Even many of those who supported the proposition did so with the understanding that the recommendation, made by the Chamber of Commerce that only $100,000 of the $150,000 bond issue should be sold at this time, and it is more than likely that the commissioners elected, Messrs. O'Reilly, Anderson and Jackson, will accept and will act upon, the recommendation of the Chamber of Commerce. The county judge and regular county commissioners of precinct No. 1, who, with the three commissioners elected in yesterday's election will also probably be in favor of offering for sale only $100,000.

900 worth of the bonds. It was a mistake in the first place, to ask the people to vote for so large an amount, but it is not necessary that the entire amount should be issued just at this time.

The Times has been offered by the Western Newspaper Union in plate form, gratis for nothing, the opening speech and platform of the Honorable Jake Wolters, candidate for senator. Those of our readers who would like to read that speech in the Times will please let us know by dropping a card, and if the number is sufficient the generous proposition made by the Dallas pot-metal house will be accepted.

Friday, the 13th, wasn't so bad in Precinct No. 1 yesterday.

The great Dallas Fair opened today, and it is a bigger and better show than ever before.

Yesterday was Friday, and it was also the 13th, but it was a lucky day for Wichita Falls just the same.

Miss Plummer Won Prize.
The song contest at the Lamar Aldome last night was a decided success. Miss Plummer being the winner of the first prize, which consisted of a handsome nine-piece pearl-handled manicure set. Miss Plummer sang the old familiar song entitled "Down By the Old Mill Stream," one of the kind that carries an air we all like to hear. This song was written by Tell Taylor, one of our favorite composers.

The second prize was awarded to Miss Wanda Overlander. It was a very fine hand-mirror. Miss Overlander sang "You Are the Ideal of My Dreams," composed by Hubert in gram. The young lady sang the song in a very creditable and pleasing manner.

All the young ladies are to be complimented on the way they sang their songs. The fact being shown by the applause each and every one received from the audience. The managers are well pleased with the contest and expect to give amateur performances each week. Those desiring to enter will leave their names at the box office.

The Burbanks will give an entire change in act tonight. They will present a playlet entitled "The Messenger Boy and the Maid." New pictures will be shown.

Perhaps Harry Davis will not manage the Cleveland team after all. Stovall has certainly made good since he took charge of the Blues.

Boston fans figure that "Buck" O'Brien, of the Red Sox, and Piteher Donnelly, of the Rustlers, will put the Hub on the baseball map next season.

APHIA JAMES IN JUDY O'HARA

Romantic Four Act Comedy at the Wichita Monday Night—A Show of Merit.

Aphia James (Mrs. Louis James) and her company will be presented by S. T. King at the Wichita Theatre Monday night, October 16th, and includes James Young, Andrew Robson and Melbourne MacDowell. It is a romantic comedy in four acts entitled "Judy O'Hara" by Frances Hodgson Burnett in collaboration with Frederick Arthur Stansley.

Mrs. Burnett has followed in the path recently blazed by her "The Dawn of Tomorrow" and although the subject has been handled differently, the object in view in each case is similar. "A healthy mind, begets a healthy body"—a community of healthy minds would beget a healthy state of society. Regeneration of mankind by a course of sunshine treatment is not an impossibility, according to the authors. It is a comfortable creed to hold: the trouble with it is that the people as a whole will not practice what the dramatist preaches.

The role of "Judy" (Miss James) is said to be a substantially human one. It is a well known fact that during the reign of Queen Ann of England, there were individuals who managed in some way to keep themselves free from intrigue and strife. In Judy's case, it is firstly her inherent optimism and secondly, her faith in certain texts taught her by her family counselor Father Meath, that place her above the ordinary individual. Judy radiates wholesome thought. She effects changes in the dispositions of her associates, she would change her country from a miserable to a delectable state. She is not sentimental—only human.

The people selected to support Miss James are said to have been supplied with parts exactly suited to their individual temperaments and stage methods, and as they are all of much prominence, they are expected to score heavily in this new vehicle. Mr. King has given careful attention to details in the matter of costumes, scenic and electrical equipment and other essentials, in order to make this play the success of the waning dramatic season.

A MESSAGE FROM THE FARMERS UNION

Before concluding its regular quarterly session this afternoon the Wichita County Farmers Union issued the following address to its members.

To the Farmers Union of Wichita County:

We, your committee appointed to formulate an address to the membership of the Farmers' Union and other who are interested in the general prosperity of our country in general and to membership in particular, beg leave to submit the following, to-wit:

We congratulate the Farmers' Union on the splendid success that has been achieved by our organization in bringing about a more harmonious feeling among all classes of people. This has been accomplished after long, continuous and persistent effort along conservative lines and amidst much opposition by opposing elements who misunderstood the motives which have prompted our action.

The public at large have begun to realize that upon the prosperity of the agricultural class depends the welfare of the entire country, and seem to be willing to partially co-operate with us in a combined effort to bring a more prosperous condition to our country.

We greatly appreciate the effort being made by others to aid us in bringing about a better feeling and more prosperous condition to our country, and we earnestly invite co-operation along all legitimate lines to the accomplishment of our end.

We realize that the work we have just begun is only in its incipency and needs our further combined and continual effort for the consummation of our ultimate end.

Heretofore we have not succeeded in procuring sufficient financial aid to enable us to keep our products off an over burdened market; and through the untiring and proper efforts of the men whom we have placed at the head of our organization, we are now enabled to control the greater part of a crop with a reasonable certainty that we shall be able to control the marketing of our products in the future.

Brothers: you have no just cause for discouragement, it seems that brighter days and more prosperous times are before us. And all that shall be necessary is to act intelligently and with honesty toward all men which alone will merit and win success.

E. L. GEBHART,

All Giant Hopes on Matty.

By A. Yager of the Brooklyn Eagle:
Although my sympathies are with the Giants, it is my opinion that the Athletics will repeat their victory of last year over the Cubs. It will be a great battle, but the Mackens should get the verdict in the end. They have a greater baseball machine and know well how to use it. Having worked against Matty once before, they should know better now how to meet his wonderful pitching. And if they down Matty, it looks to me as if the whole Giant fabric will be torn to shreds.

The play "The Third Degree" at the Wichita Theatre this evening is one of the most soul-stirring and interesting dramatic productions of the present day. It is a story that deals with human life and love, and the picture of the young wife's devotion to the husband who has been charged with, and through the application of the police third degree, has confessed to murder is one of the most beautiful illustrations of wife-life ever worked into a play.

The action of the drama is in the hands of a most capable company and the scenery and settings are in accord with the play and the actors. At the matinee this afternoon a fair number were present, and accorded spontaneous applause at every act.

FOOD GUARDS WATCH FOR GREEN ORANGES

Crusade to Prevent Sale of Unripe Fruit is Given Impetus by Texas Authorities.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 14.—Texas health and pure food authorities have been enlisted in the campaign to prevent the introduction of unripe oranges into Texas.

Dr. J. S. Abbott, food and drug commissioner of Texas, has offered his aid in detecting traffic of this nature which is prohibited by state and federal statutes.

Dr. Abbott was inspired to action by the following message of warning from the Florida Citrus Exchange:

"Notwithstanding over two years of strenuous efforts for the prevention of shipments of green oranges, which efforts have included the securing of the passage of special Florida laws forbidding it many short-sighted, unscrupulous shippers are arranging to soon flood the country with poison green oranges, masquerading as food, to Florida's shame.

"We want your assistance in an annihilating this infamous traffic in the health and lives of children and in Florida. Can we secure your cooperation by your warning all health officers in cities of your state to maintain vigilant, rigid inspection with the seizure, condemnation and destruction of all sour, unripe Florida oranges arriving in the next thirty days, contrary to the pure food laws? As a premium to faithfulness, we will pay a reward of $100 to the inspector discovering the first car to be destroyed in your state for such violation of the pure food law. Please wire us an answer.

"FLORIDA CITRUS EXCHANGE."

Commissioner Abbott sent the following answer:

"Will seized the first carload of green oranges found offered for sale in Texas. You can rely upon our hearty co-operation.

J. S. ABBOTT."

The federal authorities are also engaged in a crusade to prevent the shipment of unripe oranges from Florida.

The plan to ship unripe fruit is due to the demand owing to a shortage of citrus fruits. The unripe fruit is shipped under the guise of the ripened article. The deception is made possible by the "sweating process," which turns the color of the fruit from green to yellow, but does not ripen it, in any essential degree.

News From the Oil Fields

Commenting upon the Reporter's statements to the effect that it is neither feasible nor practicable to make pipe line companies common carriers, and that the independent refiners are not concerning themselves about the question because they know this to be true, the esteemed Okmulgee Democrat says:

There is no use meeting with more than denial, and the Reporter makes an assertion that should be denied anyway. It is denied here wholly.

Our reply is simply this that we have the weight of the argument in accumulated facts.

First: Others than refiners, in fact not all men at all, are back of the movement to make pipe lines common carriers.

Second: Four many years attempts have been made to constitute pipe lines common carriers, but no feasible way has ever been devised.

Third: Every time a refiner or marketer constructs a pipe line he at once finds it would be impossible to operate his own business and perform the functions of a common carrier.

Fourth: Every theory of law and practice of right and justice in all the annals of civilized government has recognized the inalienable right of self-preservation. This right permits a man to shoot down the burglar at night; it permits every man the right to conduct his business at a profit; it recognizes that if a man invests his money in a great enterprise he does it first and solely as a business proposition primarily for his own benefit.

Therefore, if you make a pipe line a common carrier you nullify the basic principles of law and justice.

On this statement and the further fact that twenty-six out of twenty-seven Mid-continent refiners were not enough concerned to attend the hearing, we rest our claim that the Reporter did not make assertion without facts and proof.—Independence (Kan.) Reporter.

"STEPHENSON COULD HAVE SPENT $220,000"

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 14.—Argument as to whether the largeness of a candidate's expenditures for nomination to Congress was to be taken as a presumption that the money was used wrongfully occupied a great portion of the Senatorial investigation of United States Senator Stephenson's election yesterday.

After it had been testified by witnesses that instead of $107,793, Senator Stephenson might have expended $220,000 for nomination at the primaries in 1908 and after it was figured out on a basis given that all the four Republican candidates might have expended an aggregate of $309,000 Charles E. Littlefield, counsel for Senator Stephenson, raised the question whether the amount was to be considered evidence of guilt on the part of the Senator, who is charged with bribery.

"Congress may say a Senatorial candidate's expenses shall not exceed $10,000, but there is no logic in the world which will show that just because he spent more than $10,000 the money was used corruptly," said Mr. Littlefield.

Senator Heyburn announced the committee would inquire into the acts of the expenditures regardless of what they aggregated.

Senator Sutherland said he thought the amount spent by Senator Stephenson warranted an inquiry along the line that it was unreasonably large. "The fact that the Senator spent that great amount of money was probably due to the condition in Wisconsin, resulting from the primaries," said Senator Sutherland. "To favor millionaires seems to be one of the objects of the primary system."

Mr. Littlefield then asked D. E. Riordan whether Senator Stephenson was justified in spending $107,793.

"He could have spent $200,000 to advantage," said Riordan.

"On this basis," remarked Senator Sutherland, "the four Republican candidates for the nomination could have spent $309,000."

George Gordon, a United States Attorney for the Western Wisconsin district, previously had testified that $100 for each of the 2,200 precincts of the State would have been a fair expenditure for organizing the Stephenson forces.

Members of the two committees of the Wisconsin Legislature which investigated Senator Stephenson's election have been called to appear before the present committee.

One of the legislative committees exonerated the Senator while the other, composed of members of the Senate, sustained the charges that the campaign had been conducted corruptly.

1600 feet. The sand did not yield oil in paying quantities and drilling was continued. While the depth of the sand was a disappointment, the fact that it exists at that depth indicates a regular formation gives ground for the belief that the formation is much the same as in the pool at Electra and that the field is extensive.

RADFORD SPEAKS AT MASS MEETING

At the mass meeting called this afternoon at the court house for the purpose of discussing the selling price of cotton about seventy-five farmers and a few business men were in attendance.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Tom Taylor, who introduced Mr. Peter Radford, state president of the Farmers' Union—a man better versed in the question to be discussed than any other in the state.

Mr. Radford in opening his address, stated that he was not going to lay the blame for the low price of cotton on any banker or the merchant, nor the farmer or any set of men other than the farmers of the cotton, and the reason for this was because the farmer who raised the cotton absolutely failed to set the selling price, and allowed it to be fixed by a crowd of gamblers in New York and London, and by the spinners of the world who were the logical buyers of the cotton, and who should be made to buy it at a price fixed by the producer.

The speaker stated that he had thoroughly investigated the system of financing the cotton crop, and was of the opinion that it was not the fault of the banker nor the merchant, nor the cotton buyers that the staple was in such a deplorable condition, but that it was entirely through the organized effort of the cotton gamblers and their method of foreign exchange in handicapping the crop. He also said that the bankers and merchants were unable to change the method, and the only recourse was in the Farmers' Union, which alone was able to help the farmer to hold his crop until it could be marketed in accordance with the demands of the consumers, and that at a price that would pay the farmer a fair remuneration for his labor.

Mr. Radford is a very able speaker, who has given the subject under this discussion a great deal of study, and his words carried conviction to all his hearers.

Connie Mack Says:

"Barring accident, we will go into the World's Series in better condition than we have been at any time in recent years. Bender is rounding into his best form, while Melrose's arm is healing rapidly and he will positively play in the series.

"I am not making any predictions nor claims, but if the Giants beat us they will know they have been in some ball game. There is no way to underestimate our team. It has shown that it is a winner, and it will go into this series with every confidence.

"Much has been said about the base running proclivities of the Giants, and I want you to know that this is their strong suit, but they will not be running wild on us. Our catchers' records show that base running against us is not easy. There is but one player in this league who runs bases against us, and that is Cobb. But I don't recall that Melrose has any Cobbs any more (that has any one else. So far as pulling off inside baseball, I will take my chances. You do not see anything new on the ball field in these days. All teams play about the same kind of ball when you come down to it.

or progressive elements than any of his associates, a notable instance of which was his dissent from the recent Standard Oil decision in which he attacked the "reasonable restraint" construction of the Sherman anti-trust act.

He was born in Boyle County, Ky., July 1, 1827. He graduated from the Transylvania University in 1852. He was a colonel of a Kentucky regiment in the Civil War. From 1862-67 he was attorney general in Kentucky and became an associate justice of the Supreme Court, Nov. 29, 1877.

Word has been received from J. S. Hollert, whose little son was recently bitten by a dog supposed to be mad and who immediately left for Austin with the boy and the head of the dog. THE RED ROSE CO. HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Special Train of Five Cars Required to Bring Big Musical Comedy Company Here.

A special train of five cars will be required to carry the Red Rose Company from Dallas to Wichita Falls for its appearance here next Friday night. The cast includes seventy people and the scenery will be the most elaborate ever brought to Wichita Falls.

The production is under the personal direction of John C. Fisher, the noted producer of "Florodora," "The Silver Slipper," "The Medal and the Maid," and many other of the biggest musical successes, which is in itself a guarantee sufficient that "The Red Rose" will be an entertainment of the highest class. Furthermore, Mr. Fisher claims more for this production than for any of his former productions.

"The Red Rose" is unquestionably the greatest musical success in the past three seasons and bids fair to equal the wonderful record made by "Florodora." The New York company is now playing to capacity business at the Globe Theatre and arrangements have been made to keep it there for another year. This organization is by but is an exact duplicate of the New York production. The same number of people, same number of loads of scenery and the costumes made from the same material. Moreover, many members of the present New York company have been transferred to this company, making the cast fully as strong as the one now playing the Globe Theatre.
