Circles Capital Dome. Austin, Texas, Oct. 21.—Aviator Cal Rogers successfully negotiated the distance between Waco and Austin.

Rogers made a perfect landing in Austin and apparently got away in fine form.

When he ascended again he made straight for the capital and alighted around the dome three times.

Thousands of people congregated in the capital grounds and on the streets and were highly enthused as the daring aviator sailed around the capital.

Rogers arrived here at 1:53, left the ground at 3:29 and circled the capital up to 3:25.

The interest has increased each night in the preliminary services at the tent.

Rev. Ham and wife will arrive tonight from Greenwood, Miss.

On account of the rain and disagreeable weather the services will be held at the First Baptist Church tomorrow.

The Christians of the entire community are cordially invited to take a part in his campaign for soul winning and righteousness.

Pekin, Oct. 21.—There is no doubt but that more serious news than the defeat of the Government troops at Hankow Wednesday has been received here.

The result of Wednesday's fighting has caused general feeling at the foreign legations that the situation is now critical.

Acting on the report of Marshal Brewster that such action was unnecessary, Judge Burns has decided not to order special deputies on duty in the yards and shops for the present.

IMPORTANT RULING IN A SALOON CASE

By Associated Press. Beaumont, Texas, Oct. 21.—Of vital importance to the liquor interest was the action of Judge Pope who this morning granted a writ of certiorari in the case of the State ex-rel Bel Silver vs. H. W. Wilson, county judge.

The jurist who rendered the decision that had heretofore been accepted is now dead and his opinion contained a clause to the effect that a remedy might be found in the district court in the county in which the action was instituted.

The effect of the writ is to take entire record of the case before Judge Wilson to the district court where it will be tried over on the record.

REJECTED VENIEMEN GIVEN THEIR LIBERTY

Los Angeles, Oct. 21.—Some thirty veniemen who have been rejected today are at liberty and out of doors in the city.

When faced by William Hahn, the Newton druggist who declared that Richeson had purchased cyanide of potassium from him a week ago, the minister apparently was unperturbed.

When Richeson turned to go, Hahn says, the clergyman reminded him of his coming wedding to Miss Edmonds and said: "Don't forget to come," adding: "It must seem mysterious to you about my buying this, but you can keep a secret."

This story, brought to Chief Inspector Dugan of the Boston police by Hahn's attorney, led to Richeson's arrest.

Under other circumstances Miss Linnel's death might have been dismissed as a suicide.

When asked to confirm or deny the report published in today's Dallas News to the effect that the Katy had purchased the Northwestern, Frank Kell, vice president and general manager of that road replied emphatically: "There's nothing in it."

Baptist Preacher Charged with Murder Will Issue Statement to Parishioners.

ARE GATHERING EVIDENCE

Richeson in Jail Is Cool and Reticent. He Awoke this Morning Somewhat Refreshed.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 21.—Clarence V. T. Richeson, the pastor accused of murder, awoke this morning somewhat refreshed to begin his first full day in the county jail.

Today the police continued the work of gathering evidence. The actual delivery of the poison to Miss Linnel and the identity of the person with whom she dined Saturday evening are matters being inquired into.

The police are working on a statement by Joe F. Bankin of Cambridge to the effect that his wife heard Richeson phone Miss Linnel to meet him Saturday.

A member of the Baptist Church of which Richeson was a pastor, says that at the services of that church Sunday the pastor, who will take Richeson's place, will read a statement from him.

Miss Linnel, who was 21 years old and a student at the Conservatory of Music, was found dead in the bathroom of the young woman's Christian Association home here.

For several days the police inquiry made little progress, but information received early today that Mr. Richeson had purchased cyanide of potassium at a drug store in Newton led the officials to decide upon his arrest.

When faced by William Hahn, the Newton druggist who declared that Richeson had purchased cyanide of potassium from him a week ago, the minister apparently was unperturbed.

When Richeson turned to go, Hahn says, the clergyman reminded him of his coming wedding to Miss Edmonds and said: "Don't forget to come," adding: "It must seem mysterious to you about my buying this, but you can keep a secret."

EXPERTS DID THE JOB

Electra, Texas, Oct. 21.—The safe in G. C. Woodruff's clothing store here was blown with nitro glycerine at an early hour this morning and $100 taken.

It is believed that the safe was blown at about 1:15 o'clock this morning as several persons who, however, did not suspect that a safe was being cracked heard a loud report about that hour.

The robbers entered the store by forcing a rear window and piled bundles of overalls, suits and other garments high around the safe to muffle the explosion.

Among the checks taken was one in favor of George Williams for $25, and one in favor of George Woodruff for $17.50.

Wichita Falls officers have been notified of the robbery and have joined in the search for clues.

GRANDPA MAER IS THE PROUDEST MAN IN TOWN

Grandpa has supplanted the title of "Superintendent" when applied to Grandpa O. E. Maer, division superintendent for the Fort Worth & Denver with headquarters at Childress.

When a fine baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Maer last Thursday, Paper Maer telephoned the news of the arrival of his son to the Fort Worth & Denver dispatcher's office where a message was once dispatched to "Grandpa" Maer aboard a passenger train between Childress and Wichita Falls.

The message was delivered to Mr. Maer at the first station reached by the train and the superintendent lost no time in getting to Wichita Falls, and neither he nor Grandpa Maer have since gotten far away from the Kemp home on Indiana avenue, where the young grandson holds his court.

Mr. T. T. Reed and a party of friends left Friday for a hunting trip through Archer county.

wants to look youngish, it's wonderful what effect the correct angle to a lapel, the right curve to a sleeve, and the right flap to a pocket have in giving a suit snap and dash. Our Mother Brand New York made clothes have all the snap and dash that young blood wants, because they are designed to produce just the proper effect that brings to the wearer the realizing sense of being dressed in the latest fashion.

TRY MY PRESERVES

If You Don't Like Them I'll Refund Your Money

I'm so sure of the quality of Bismarck combination preserves that I'm perfectly willing you should try a jar at my risk. These are new goods put up from this year's fruits. I have peach, blackberry and strawberry. They all have an apple filler and those who have tried this combination preserve like it better than the straight fruit.

40c Per Full Quart Jar

is my price and I'm certain you can't do better yourself. In other words I think you would find on an accurate test that your own preserves cost you more. Come to the store Friday or Saturday and try a sample of the Peach and Apple preserve.

It's worth anyone's while to see the galaxy of quality and style and merit that we have to show you. And especially is it worth the while of anyone who is desirous of getting his full money's worth in the goods he buys and thus reducing the cost of living to the minimum.

We make no boast of eliminating all profit on what we sell you, but we do claim, and back up that claim by a welcome of comparison, that we give the best of quality and style and durability at a reasonable price; goods that live in memory long after the price is forgotten.

We make it a point to suit the individual taste of the customer and establish a bond of friendship with each of our patrons that means more than a mere matter of temporary profit.

We want you to come into our store, even if you only come to look, and assure you our clerks will do their part in making your visit of interest.

News From the Oil Fields

The Republic Iron and Supply Co. is this week building a large warehouse here and as soon as it is completed will open a branch house. The location is on the railroad right of way just west of the Atlas Supply Company, and is one of the largest yet located here.—Electra News.

A. H. Woodruff, H. E. Kidder and C. M. Putnam arrived from New York the first of the week and will remain in the city for several days. Messrs. Woodruff and Putnam are the owners of the famous Woodruff and Putnam tract in the Electra oil field and are down to look over their interests. All of the gentlemen are more or less interested in the oil production.—Electra News.

Flattering Prospects at Byers.
The prospects for extensive drilling for oil in this immediate vicinity are at this time indeed flattering. The well east of town, that is being drilled by the Edmond Oil Company, is down something like fifteen hundred feet. Now four and a half inch casing has been ordered and will probably be here by the time this article goes to press. The hole will be drilled to at least two thousand feet deep. Oil was found at a depth of somewhere near one thousand and now promises to be a good one—and those who have reason to believe that prospects are good for a big well, if not a gusher.

The well that is to be drilled north west of town is now a certainty and active drilling will begin in a very short time, and it is expected that work will begin in about thirty or forty days. This well will be put down in a new territory, yet oil experts say this field will prove to be as good as any in this section of the state. This well will be drilled on the Chorn land about four miles northwest of this place.—Byers Herald.

Optimism at Bellevue.
Now is the time for our people to boost the Bellevue country by getting right in behind the oil proposition, say a good word, taking stock leasing your land and in many other ways. It is a home company born right out the hearts of our loyal citizenship for the home benefit of our people and for our country's boost. It has been thought for years that abundance of oil lay hidden in Bellevue's bosom and now is certainly the opportune time to delve, right down after it. When the first derrick goes up, property will advance and new lifeblood will rush through every commercial vein, when oil is struck the price of all property will soar beyond mental vision. So push it along. Come to the Bellevue country today and get on the ground floor.

A new oil pipe line is to be built from Electra to Dallas by the Texas Company. It will come by Bellevue and get here in time to go right to carrying our oil to the markets.
There will be no oil stock sold only to ones leasing land until they get all they want, perhaps in proportion to land leased. A number of new oil-want stock and John S. Nichols will register all such stock and will be issued if there remain a surplus. The capital stock has already reached about $15,000.
It is encouraging indeed to see our people so enthusiastic on the oil proposition. There are millions in it if found in paying quantities. Of course the land must be leased before a wheel can begin to turn. It costs nothing to lease your land but it may mean a cold million into your purse.—Bellevue News.

The Red River Company have completed their No. 2 well to the 1010 feet in the field. It is reported that the well is producing better than 1000 barrels daily.

Local oil men who returned last night from a trip to Suggen, Okla., discredit the reports of an oil strike there. These men say they visited the well and could find no traces of oil about the hole. The drillers were tinkering with the casing.

Meeting of National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues

San Antonio, Oct. 21.—The people of San Antonio, acting through committees appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, are preparing to entertain in a splendid manner delegates and visitors to the Tenth Annual Convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which will be held here November 15 to 18 inclusive. To arrange a suitable entertainment for a convention like this is no easy matter, for the simpler forms of entertainment that would suffice for an ordinary convention would be inadequate. Those who will attend are, for the most part, accustomed to having many of the good things of life, and something unique as well as enjoyable must be on the program to attract more than passing notice from them.
Certainly they will be shown the "sights" in San Antonio, for the Alamo City has a distinctiveness and charm all her own and no visitor would be willing to leave here without seeing the Missions, Fort Sam Houston, the second largest army post in the country, the magnificent parks and other places of interest. These will be visited in automobiles and if Dame Nature is kind, as nearly always in San Antonio, the trip will be very enjoyable. A little railroad jaunt will be taken to Landa's Park, New Braunfels, where the guests will be shown one of the greatest natural beauty spots of the world, the head waters of the Comal River, a stream only four miles in length, but very mighty. Col. Harry Landa, sometimes known as the "king of New Braunfels," will assist in entertaining them. A Mexican dinner, a novelty to visitors in San Antonio, will be served on the roof garden of the St. Anthony hotel, the top of the town, and several of the local organizations have planned "special stunts" for the edification of the guests.
Delegates and visitors are promised three days without a dull moment during their stay in San Antonio and those that come prepared to stay after the fishing in Southwest Texas and along the Gulf coast, perhaps the finest field for these sports to be found in this country.

Catarrah Germs Must Be Conquered or Health Will Be Destroyed.
If you have catarrah you must vanquish an army of persistent, destructive microbes before you can get rid of it.
You might as well choose your weapon of catarrah germs right now. Stomach dosing won't kill them; neither will sprays or douches.
HYOMEI, a pleasant, antiseptic germ destroying air breathed over the entire membrane will put catarrah germs out of business in short order.
HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) is guaranteed by O. F. Marchman to end catarrah, asthma, bronchitis, coughs, colds and croup, or money back. If you own a little HYOMEI hard rubber pocket inhaler you can get a separate bottle of HYOMEI for only 50 cents. If you haven't an inhaler buy a complete outfit that only costs $1.00.

St. Louis labor leaders are endeavoring to land the headquarters of the International Association of Machinists, which are to be moved from Washington, D. C. NOVEMBER ELECTIONS

There will be elections in eight States and in a number of the leading cities two weeks from next Tuesday. In Massachusetts, Kentucky, Maryland, Rhode Island, Mississippi and New Mexico a governor and other State officers are to be chosen; in New Jersey and Virginia, a legislature only; in New York, several members of the State judiciary, and in Nebraska a supreme judge, regent of the State university and railroad commissioner. In Pennsylvania, Ohio, Utah and California, municipal officers are to be selected, while in New York county a number of judges and a sheriff are to be voted for. Practically all of the contests, State and municipal, are on local issues, with no national questions involved. According to an exception to the rule, however, will be the special elections in several congressional districts where vacancies exist by reason of the death of the incumbent since the last election. Included among the districts where elections will be held are the Fourteenth Pennsylvania, the Seventh Kansas, the Third Nebraska, the First New Jersey, and the Tenth Tennessee. The chief interest of national politicians in the State elections is directed toward Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Both are industrial States and are directly concerned in the tariff, which has been brought forward as a prominent issue in the campaign. Governor Foss is a candidate for re-election as governor of Massachusetts on the Democratic ticket. J. Louis A. Frothingham, at present lieutenant governor, is the Republican choice for governor. While Republican leaders appear confident they will carry the State this year, many observers feel more than doubtful about the prospect, and would not be at all surprised at the re-election of Governor Foss. For the first time since the Republicans began their long lease of power in the Bay State, now more than fifty years ago, their control of the legislature is seriously challenged this year. A condition of uncertainty about the result in Rhode Island is also reported in view of the fact that last year Governor Poitner, Republican, had but a small margin of victory over Lewis A. Waterman, the Democratic candidate for governor. This year the same candidates head the tickets, and under the circumstances the Democrats naturally have hopes that they will be victorious. In Kentucky, while the Republicans are putting up a rather stiff fight, the Democracy is generally expected to win. The latter has an able and well known candidate for governor in the person of James B. McCreary, former governor and United States senator. The Republican ticket is headed by Judge Edward C. O'Rear. The legislature is to be elected in Kentucky will soon choose a United States senator to succeed Thomas H. Paynter. The election of Congressman Ollie

THIS DATE IN HISTORY.

J. James to the senatorship is a foregone conclusion.

In Maryland there is a straight contest between the Democrats and Republicans, with the last named enjoying a slight advantage in the race by reason of the dissension in the Democratic ranks. The Democratic candidate for governor is Arthur P. Gorman, son of the late United States senator. Opposing him on the Republican ticket is Philip Lee Goldsborough, a well known citizen of Baltimore.

There is only one ticket—the Democratic—in Mississippi, and the result of course, is not doubtful. The next governor of that Commonwealth will be Earl M. Brewer, a prominent lawyer of Clarksville.

In Nebraska, though the officers to be chosen are of relatively small importance, a spirited campaign has been carried on with an eye to future results. The legislature to be chosen in Virginia will be the election of two United States senators, but the choice of these has already been determined in the primary. New Mexico will hold her first State election for congressmen, governor and other State officers, judiciary and legislative and county officers. National politicians are interested in the result because it will increase the numerical strength of one or other of the two parties in congress. The sister State of Arizona has decided to defer the holding of her first election until December.

In New York county the Republicans have fused with the Independent League, the Citizens' Union and other so-called independent organizations on the county ticket, which is made up of a number of court justices and a sheriff. The contest for members of the general assembly also is receiving much attention because the Republicans are sparing no effort to win back this branch of the State legislature, which last year went Democratic for the first time in many years.

In point of interest several of the municipal campaigns far exceed that of the State contests. Pittsburg and Philadelphia, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Toledo, Salt Lake City and San Francisco—all are the scenes of hard fights for control of the municipal offices. In practically all of these municipal contests the reform question is a dominant issue.

To the country as a whole these elections, both State and municipal will be of interest chiefly as they will serve to indicate the drift of popular opinion concerning the parties. Perhaps they will leave the outlook no clearer than it is at present, but if for any reason one party should show decided gains in the voting, the fact will be classified as an indicator of what may happen next year.

In a well written article on skulls issued by the Hygiene Exposition at Dresden, a warning to parents, teachers and guardians is given that should be considered very seriously, and that is: "Don't box a naughty child's ears; don't allow any provocation to tempt you to strike a child on the head." Corporal punishment of any kind is wrong, contends the writer, but where the head is the point of contact between the angry parent and the child, the former may easily become a murderer. To substantiate his theory, photographs of a large collection of skulls are shown, and among them are those of many children as well as adults, showing thin skulls, which are not unusual to be found, even in otherwise normal human beings. These facts are set out on placards attached to the skulls showing the cause of death and which are intended to serve as a warning to those who, through anger or ignorance punish children by striking them on their heads. This is rather a dry subject upon which to write, but it is one which every right thinking parent, guardian or teacher should give some thought.

Wall Street in Texas.

(San Antonio Light)

"It costs Texas farmers 43 cents a mile to get their products to the railroads. And yet they neglect road-making to dispute the fraction of a cent charged by the railroads."

We confess that a few months ago when B. F. Yoakum was down here in Texas preaching the cost of getting farmers' produce to the rail markets we fell in with his arguments for good roads, regardless of the exact number of cents which the bad roads might be costing the farmer. But it is quite another matter when the official and always stand-pat apologist for Wall Street—the Wall Street Journal—comes out with the paragraphic utterance quoted above.

Speaking from knowledge of the editorial policy of the Wall Street Journal, we are prepared at all times personally to challenge any editorial utterance of which it may be guilty. And most of its editorial utterances are guilty utterances, in the sense that they are written in apology for Wall Street. Sometimes we have been forced to amusement in considering just how much sickening soft-soaping and the quasi-criminal operator in Wall Street has accepted from the street's official Journal. We have felt that in the Journal's slobbering fawnings upon the street's evildoers the most which has been accomplished has been draw wider attentions to evils which the Journal's attitude has failed to cover up. It has been giving that wider publicity which inadequate apology for evil always brings out in stronger relief.

It is when the Wall Street "Apologist" takes up the subject of Texas' poor roads as it does here, that we protest. In the first place the figures in comparison are ineffably silly. "Forty-three cents a mile to get their products to the railroads"—what does this mean? All a farmer's products—a ton of products—a wagon load—how much? But whatever the quantity, who is the expert in wagon road transportation who figures this cost? We have the sworn testimony of the biggest railroad operators of the country to the effect that it is impossible to figure the exact cost of highly organized rail transportation over a big system. Can they, then, make logical declaration of the cost of wagon transportation?

Again, why shouldn't the Texas farmer take notice of the "fraction of a cent" rail mileage. In the shipment of his products? He is 2,000 miles from some of his markets. This fraction of a cent a mile, figured on 2,000 miles may run into money in huge sums for the Texas farmer in general. The truth is—a something which the Wall Street Journal either does not see or will not consider—is that for so many years past the Texas farmer has had to fight against the rail discriminations that he has, had no time to give in thought to country road building. In the last few years, as he is finding his rail discriminations less burdensome, he can find the time to consider the wagon road that leads him to the freight depot where once he had been robbed. He may not be in a position to meet at the sum it is costing him to get his products to the railroad, but certainly at better and more equitable rail rates are assured him, he is going to do something for himself. He is doing it now. He is going to do more of it in the future, just in the proportion that the "all the traffic will bear" principles of the railroads may leave him time to consider the good roads movement. There have been no changes of heart in the managements of the great railroads of the whole country. Change has come in the law and in the enforcement of the law—fought at every step by the railroads and by this ally of theirs in Wall Street.

Will the Wall Street Journal kindly accept our compliments, with the observation appended that when we have need of learning that which is best for the people of Texas and of Southwest Texas especially, we have other and better sources of information and deduction?

Mr. Puffberger, an expert of the Southern Oil Co. of California was with us this week looking over the Andrews neighborhood, which some time ago was leased to this company for oil development. Mr. Puffberger speaks in glowing terms of the prospects and says that there is every surface indication of the largest oil field ever found, as he discovers the car marks of oil over a territory extending from the northfork of Little Wichita river to a point in the edge of Young county. The company expects in a very short while to ship in the rigs and commence work on their lease.—Archer County News.

Merre, S. D., Oct. 21.—A committee headed by Governor Vessey, Congressman Burke and Mayor Stephens has everything in readiness for the reception and entertainment of President Taft, who is to spend Sunday in this city. The President will be entertained at the home of Congressman Burke. He will attend the Methodist Episcopal church in the morning and afterward take luncheon with Governor Vessey at the St. Charles hotel. He will dress in the Auditorium on the subject of world peace.

BEAVER WANTS RAILROAD.
Citizens Make Effort to Have Wichita Falls Line Extension Built Into That Town.
Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 21.—After waiting a quarter of a century for a railroad progressive citizens of Beaver, Beaver County are endeavoring to interest the Wichita Falls and Northwestern, now being built toward Liberal, Kansas, to shift the route from the north to the south side of Beaver River and touch the ancient capital of Cimarron Territory. Beaver first got on the map in 1866, when No Man's Land was an integral part of this hemisphere, though not a part of the United States judicially. Nobody took particular notice of Beaver except those who lived at the settlement, until one day a gentleman walked in upon Congress at Washington and to the inquiry, "Who are you?" answered "I am the Delegate from the Territory of Cimarron." History records that, although the only recognition the aforesaid Delegate received was an expense allowance for the trip, it is also history that the impromptu movement inaugurated at Beaver was in a measure responsible for the opening of Oklahoma Territory.

"For twenty-five years we have scanned the horizon for the image of a surveying corps," said Brad, former member of the Oklahoma constitutional convention who was here today with William Quinn, head of the Beaver Telephone Company, "and just for that length of time we have been freighting ourselves and our merchandise from Southern Kansas towns. It is forty miles from Beaver to Liberal, Kansas, the nearest point. We understand the Wichita road is coming out our way, and we don't want to be missed."
Messrs. Tracy and Quinn have been to Wichita Falls conferring with the officials of the road. The road is due to have trains into Leedy, Dewey county today. The survey northward touches Trail, crosses the Canadian east of Paul, goes through Castano, Bloodfield and Vici and in a direct line to Woodward. Thence it veers to the westward to Fort Supply, near the mouth of Wolf Creek, which empties into the Beaver, and north again through Mayes and Lavern. From here the survey is contemplated due north over the Beaver River to the settlement of Wolf, on the east line of Beaver county; thence west

Electra Oil Land for Sale!
To a quick purchaser I can offer 160 acres of fine level land in the heart of the new Electra oil district for the very low price of $50.00 per acre.
This land lies about midway between the big producing wells of Electra and the well where oil was first discovered in North Texas, and in the direct line of the trend of oil bearing sand.
It is said that within six months the road will be in operation as far as Fort Supply.
The Red Rose.
The John C. Fisher offering of the Red Rose at the Wichita Theatre, last night proved all that was anticipated of it, and every one of the big audience was thoroughly well pleased with the production.
The Red Rose gets its name from a picture painted in the opening scene, which is an art studio in Paris. It very clever actors and singers, and gets its merit from a number of much of its fame from the costumes and the scenic artists. The scenery is magnificent and the costumes are so beautiful as to excite the envy and admiration of every woman who sees them.
Of the performers, Miss Zoe Har- vest has the leading role, as Lola, an artist's model, and the subject of the title piece. She is a brilliant comedienne, opera actress, with a splendid voice, and a most engaging stage presence; a delightful dancer, with a form and figure that shows off the beautiful features of the part of the "Red Rose" advantage. Devoiding the honors with her is Miss Grace Ellsworth as Miss Jovant, who is a clever comedienne and a splendid singer.
The best male singing part is by Menotte Frascona, who has a beautiful high color of tremendous power.
Joseph W. Standish and Sidney de Gray were in the leading comedy roles, the former as Raphael Blygess, a picture dealer, and the latter as Alonzo Tomner, an American millionaire. They were both splendid in comedy, and Standish is also good in song parts, but de Gray ought to leave out the music.
A number of the musical numbers are destined to become the popular songs of the season. Miss Harfett's song with male chorus, "Men, Men, Men," "The Queen of Vanity Fair," and "Come Along MaCherie," are especially pretty and tuneful.
S. Walkup, constable at Electra, who yesterday came down to this city on business, returned home this afternoon.

THE BLACK VELVET GOWN

Handsome Models of This Material Will Be Noticeable Feature of Winter Season. New York, Oct. 21.—The fashion of the present day are extremely gorgeous and extravagant as to materials and trimming, and in many cases the effects are bizarre and sensational; but it cannot be denied that generally speaking, the models evolved by the great designers in Paris are decidedly original and of great artistic beauty.

Only a skillful artist can handle trapezy successfully and many of the evening models that have a simple line owe their cachet to unerring certainty in the management of drapery. One tunic is perhaps superimposed upon another and another upon that, and the lines and tones are blended into a harmonious whole, with no effect of patchwork. The disastrous results of an attempt at such effect by a bungling hand may be seen wherever cheap, pretentious models are gathered together, but the great French masters are revelling in an opportunity of handling such wonderful fabrics as this generation has never known.

The black velvet evening gown will be a noticeable feature of the winter season, and some of the handsomest models in this material have their relief only in the flesh pink tulle or chiffon referred to and in embroidery of brilliant. Worth loves this scheme and has turned out some exceedingly beautiful models of this type. The velvets, both plain and brocaded when used in evening models are considered chiefly in the skirt section of the model, rising on the bodice to a high waist line or in bib fashion, while the draped bodice is of tulle or lace or chiffon. In this way one avoids any cumbersome effect and yet secures the superb effect of the velvet.

SAID SHE WOULD FAINT Mrs. Della Long Unable to Stand On Her Feet More Than a Few Minutes at a Time.

Pendergram, Ga.—Mrs. Della Long, of this place, in a recent letter, says: "For five or six years, I suffered agonies with womanly troubles. Often, I couldn't sit up more than a few minutes at a time, and if I stood on my feet long I would faint. I took Cardui, and it helped me immediately. Now, I can do my work all the time, and don't suffer like I did." "Take Cardui when you feel ill in any way—weak, tired, miserable, or under the weather. Cardui is a strength-building tonic medicine for women. It has been found to relieve pain and distress caused by womanly troubles, and is an excellent medicine to have on hand at all times. Cardui acts on the womanly constitution, building up womanly strength, toning up the nerves, and regulating the womanly organs. Its half century of success is due to merit. It has done good to thousands. Will you try it? It may be just what you need. Ask your druggist about Cardui. He will recommend it." N. B.—Write for Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chamber Medical Co., 250 West 17th St., Chicago, Ill. Send 10-cent stamp for "How to Use Cardui," and 64-page book, "Home Treatment of Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21.—Returning from the West, President Taft will cross South Dakota, Minnesota, and Wisconsin, closing the week in Chicago where he will arrive Saturday or a stay of three days. The important points at which he will stop during the week will include Aberdeen, Hankato, Minneapolis, and St. Paul, Green Bay, Appleton, Oshkosh, and du Lac, Milwaukee and Racine. A primary election is to be held in Arizona Tuesday to nominate candidates for governor and other state officials, congressmen, judges and county officers to be voted for in the first State election next December.

The Memorial Church of the Advocate, in Philadelphia, will be the site of a notable dual ceremony on Saturday, when the Rev. Dr. Philip F. Rhinelandt will be consecrated as bishop coadjutor, and the Rev. Thomas J. Garland, as suffragan bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Pennsylvania. Notable gatherings of the week will include the annual convention of the National W. C. T. U., at Milwaukee; the Upper Mississippi River Improvement Association, at Alton, Ill.; the Catholic Young Men's National Union, at Washington, D. C.; the International American Parity Congress, in Columbus, O.; and the first national conference on civil and social development, at Madison, Wis.

and water shades—are also used to some extent, but blue and black are decidedly the smartest colors. For evening the range of colors is wider. A great deal of all white is used, and also white with silver, with teal and with jet. Very fine white satin embroidery, Roman cut work and white lace are used over black, black net, chiffon, marquisette and lace are used over white, or with a tulle blue—a dark blue being too ombre for evening use. The evening color is a bright berry red, or as harsh as cerise nor as purple as the beauty red of last year. Purple itself is a good evening color with white, and it is also used with gold and copration red for evening wraps. The pale shades of coral and blue are lovely with steel silver and crystal. Dull transparent reds are used over gray, and yellow and canary color are embroidered in black or coral and used over gray or black. Natlier blue is used as a trimming with very pale pink and coral; flamingo and cerise are used over white. The metallic effects are rarely seen now in materials, but they are very popular in trimmings, especially in fringes and bead embroideries. Young girls white, pale pink, blue and yellow are more suitable than older, odder colors.

Franz Listz's Centenary Kept. Vienna, Oct. 21.—Beginning today and continuing through the coming week the entire musical world will be paying tribute to the memory of the composer, on the occasion of the centennial anniversary of his birth. Special observances will be held in Hungary, the land of his birth; in Vienna, where he made his first professional appearance; in Weimar, where he was the director of the Court Theatre; in Paris, where he achieved some of his greatest triumphs, and at Bayreuth, where his death occurred in 1826. Probably the most notable of all the observances, however, will be that at Heidelberg, where a four days' centennial festival was begun today with Saint-Saens, Richard Strauss, Busoni, Ludwig Hess and other famous musicians taking part.

Good, Well Aged Coffees

Are hard to buy. The market has been swept clean of fancy marks of coffees. Sixty days ago our buyers spent eleven days on the New York Coffee Market, selecting coffees of approved cup quality and purchased over 30,000 pounds of the pick of the market all well aged and the finest cupping quality. This is without doubt the finest lot of coffees that have reached the state this season and it would be impossible to match them at the present time. Since that time we have had the largest advances on the coffee market since the Civil War. On account of our fortunate purchase, we have not had to advance the retail price of coffee, nor have we lowered the quality. Our roasting plant is up to the last minute and we roast fresh daily. It's all in your favor to buy your coffees of us.
