NARROW ESCAPES IN FORT WORTH FIRE

Fort Worth, Oct. 26.—Emory Seets of Burleson is probably fatally injured as the result of jumping from the third floor of Draughton's Practical Business college, Sixth and Main streets, to the pavement in the rear alley in a fire that partially gutted the second and third floors of the building at 2:15 o'clock Thursday morning.

Four professors of the college had a narrow escape from death from suffocation as they stood in their night clothes in a window on the third floor, and the dense smoke belched out over them as they waited for the firemen to cut the live wires and get a ladder within their reach. G. C. Beavers of Lillian, who was spending the night with Seets, jumped from the third floor to the top of the awning without injury. He was with Seets when the fire broke out, but Seets turned back to rescue his trunk, and was so enveloped in the flames that he had to leap to the hard pavement in an effort to save himself from the fire.

CLEW TO MURDER MYSTERY DISCOVERED

MAN WITH HANDKERCHIEF TO FACE SEEN TO LEAVE DR. KNABE'S APARTMENTS ON NIGHT OF MURDER.

FAINT SCREAMS HEARD

Bartender On His Way Home Meets Man Who Probably Was Murderer of Woman Physician.

By Associated Press. Indianapolis, Oct. 26.—The police have discovered that a man holding a handkerchief to his face was seen to emerge from the alley in the rear of Dr. Helen Knabe's apartment house about 2:00 a. m. on the night of her murder. The man was about forty years of age and was well dressed.

The man was seen by J. C. Carr, a bartender, who said he was going home and turned into a street at the side of Dr. Knabe's house when he heard the faint screams and as he approached the alley at the rear of the building the man with a handkerchief partly concealing his face came out and passed him hurriedly and disappeared around the street corner. This man, Carr said, was about forty as near as he could judge, well dressed. The detectives have pointed out that if he was the murderer of Dr. Knabe he must have made his exit from her flat by his only door into the front corridor of the building, run into the passageway at its side and then through the alley in the rear. Investigation showed them that no one had crawled out of the window.

PRESIDENT'S PARTY IS NOT LUCKY IN LAND LOTTERY

By Associated Press. Green Bay, Wis., Oct. 26.—There was many disappointed would-be farmers aboard the Taft special train when it passed here today. They included about every one of the presidential party except Taft. Many of them had never been in the west before this trip. "What they had beheld from the car windows and the wonderful tales of property poured into their ears by boosters of the great western country all the way to California and back again had impressed every one of the party with the fact that a ranch somewhere between the Mississippi River and the Pacific Coast would be just about ideal. Secretary Hilles had prepared to leave the political life forever and settle down to the "care of free life of the alfalfa fields." Major Archibald Butt of the presidential party was surprised to learn that he could become a millionaire and quit living on army rations in a little or no time. Taft helped matters along by some of his speeches, preaching the doctrine of scientific agriculture. This was the state of mind of the presidential entourage when they pulled into Rapid City, South Dakota and learned that they could register their names for 25 cents each there and become entitled to a drawing for one hundred and sixty acres each on the Rosebud and Pine Ridge reservations in South Dakota. Everybody on the presidential train registered except Taft, who was being entrained at dinner and could not slip away long enough to inscribe his name. The lottery began at Gregory, South Dakota, Tuesday, and up to now not one member of the presidential party has been among the lucky number. The sad blow arrived today with information that only the first two hundred and fifty drawings had any real value and that nine hundred and fifty had already been made.

NEW DECALOGUE FOR FATHERS ONLY

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 26.—Ten commandments, modernizing for special use of fathers and husbands, were announced in a sermon by the Rev. William B. Millard at the Morgan Park Congregational church. The minister saw a moral peril in the ten cent cigar in the business diplomat, and in the father who abandons the religious teaching of his children to any other person, clergyman or layman.

- The commandments are:
1. Thou shalt have no woman except thy wife.
  2. Thou shalt not neglect thy home for lodge, or club, or fraternity, or saloon, or any male meeting place of any kind whatsoever.
  3. Thou shalt not be a gallant in society, a diplomat in business, and an autocrat at home.
  4. Thou shalt not compel thy wife to ask for every needed penny; neither shalt thou dole out the same like sour faced charity.
  5. Thou shalt not allow thy wife to become a household drudge, enslaved by cook stove, broom and babies.
  6. Thou shalt not smoke ten cent cigars and wear silk socks while thy wife wears last year's hat and thy sons wear hand-me-down pants.
  7. Thou shalt not quit the flow ing bowl, sit in at poker, or play the races, on pain of thy son's damnation.
  8. Thou shalt not neglect need ful discipline, lest thy sons and thy daughters stray into crooked paths neither shalt thou be a harsh and hard handed tyrant, lest thy children despise thee and thy teachings.
  9. Thou shalt not neglect the education of thy children in order that they, with immature strength and unprepared minds, may help thee bear the burden of support.
  10. Thou shalt not farm out the religious training of thy children to any minister, Sunday school teacher, religious zealot of any kind, or even to their mother. Thou thyself shalt instruct them in righteousness and shalt lead them in the path which growth brighter and brighter unto the perfect day.

In his sermon the minister explained why he chose each of the commandments.

ELECTRA WILL USE VERNON WATER

City Engineer A. J. Robinson informs us that the city of Vernon has made a six months contract to furnish the people at Electra with drink ing water from their wells in south Vernon. The city will receive $5 cent per 1,000 gallons and it is expected that Electra will use about 400,000 gallons monthly. Pipes representing a supply house at Electra have laid a 2-inch pipe from the city mains to the Farmers' Union gin to the Deane's tracks where water tanks will be set and shipped to Electra and the water sold to the residents of Electra for drinking purposes. The first car was shipped from Vernon to Electra last Monday.—Vernon, Cal.

Falls Hair Saves Girl. Higginsville, Mo., Oct. 26.—Falls hair saved the life of Miss Flori Brand, of this town when a Missouri Pacific engine struck the motor car in which she was riding. Her 7-year old sister, Augusta Brand, of Green field, Mo., was probably fatally injured.

The Brand sisters were riding in the rear seat of a car belonging to their uncle, E. C. Brand. Brand did not see the engine, which was running twenty-five miles an hour, until it was so near that he was unable to stop his car before it reached the track. It came to a full stop on the track and was struck. Miss Flori Brand's false hair became entangled in the engine's driver and was pulled from her head.

"If the driver had caught my own hair I know my head would have been pulled under the wheels," she said. Mr. and Mrs. Brand, who were in the front seat, and their little daughter, who was with her cousins in the rear seat, escaped injury.

WOMAN WHO WON LAND PRIZE IS SUPPORT OF SICK HUSBAND

Rapid City, S. D., Oct. 26.—Mrs. Mary J. Kendall of Rapid City, winner yesterday of No. 1 in the Rosebud land drawing, has a husband who is a paralytic, and for six years she has worked hard to support him and her self.

When the news came that she had drawn No. 1, Mrs. Kendall rushed to her husband with the telegram in her hand and falling on her knees beside the cripple in his invalid chair, cheered for joy. Her husband with tears streaming down his face, stretched out his hands and placing them on his wife's head, said:

"There, Mary, I told you God would remember us some time, and He has." They sat in silence while friends crowded around to offer congratulations.

Six years ago Kendall, fatigued with long watching over his dying daughter went to the hills for a breath of fresh air and fell from a precipice and was seriously injured. A blizzard was raging and Kendall lay twenty-three hours covered with snow before rescued. Since then he has been unable to work.

HARD'S APPEAL HAS BEEN DISMISSED

In the court of criminal appeals a judge yesterday the appeal of A. Hard, convicted for the killing of Deputy Sheriff Staley, was dismissed without a hearing and if caught Harney serve the sentence of five year imposed for his crime by a jury in Wilbarger county.

Hard escaped from jail several months ago, but no trace of him has been found. A few weeks ago, it has been learned, a crew took Sheriff Keys to the Wichita Mountains in Oklahoma, but no trace of Hard was found there.

It is believed by the officers here that Hard made his way to Mexico or some South or Central American state where he is possibly again working as a railroad engineer.

To Name New Bishops.

New York, Oct. 26.—The number of Episcopal bishops is likely to be materially increased as the result of action to be taken by the House of Episcopal Church Bishops, which met for a special session in this city to lay with Bishop Tuttle of Missouri, residing. The new bishops probably will be five or six in number. Several will be named to fill vacancies in existing missionary districts and he others will become the heads of missionary districts yet to be created. Vacancies in Japan and China are to be filled and bishops chosen for the new missionary district to embrace the Panama Canal zone and for a new missionary district in South Dakota, which it is proposed to create for the benefit of the Indians in that section.

HE SAYS KIMMEL IS "TURKEY" WHITE

Niles, Mich., Oct. 26.—The man who has posed as George A. Kimmel was declared today by two men who worked with him for years to be A. H. White, alias "Turkey" White.

Brude L. Cosner of Enid, Okla., a conductor on the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, and John W. Burt, an engineer on the same road, are the men who declare he is not Kimmel.

Cosner knew White ten years. He and White were conductors on the same road and were intimately acquainted. Burt knew White more than two years. He was engineer on the train of which White was conductor. Burt and Cosner declare there can be no mistake in their identification.

White saw Cosner and Burt, but declined to talk to them. He would not say that he knew the men nor that they knew him. Neither would he make any admissions. He became angry and sullen and cried out that it was a conspiracy to entrap him in making admissions.

Harry L. Fox, who has been the staunch adherent of the claimant had said since he arrived in Niles, told Cosner and Burt he would talk the matter over with "George," and that he would make a statement in the afternoon. The fact that Fox wants to make a public statement is taken by many to mean that he is at last convinced that White, or Kimmel, is an impostor.

The identification made by Cosner is particularly striking. Conductor Cosner ran out of Arkansas City, Kan., in 1891 and 1897, and knew George A. Kimmel well. He also knew White well, and says there is absolutely no similarity in their appearance.

The identification made by Cosner and Burt will have an important bearing on the $20,000 suit pending for the life insurance on Kimmel.

Cosner saw the pictures of White and Kimmel in a newspaper and having known both men recognized the deception instantly.

Fur on the edge of hats, coats, traws, and gowns will again be worn. Talless ermine holds first place for trimming on muffs, scarfs, and wraps.

IDENTITY OF MAN STRUCK IS LEARNED

It is learned today that the man who was run over by an automobile at the crossing of Eighth street and Scott avenue, was George Malone, a railroad man, who lives at 512 Travis street.

According to a friend of Malone the latter was watching the machine and stepped to one side to avoid being struck and as he did so the automobile also swerved and struck him.

Malone was run over and was carried to his home to which he is still confined. The number on the automobile was "80."

Ate Poisoned Cake in Court.

A well known Kansas City man tells this story:

Fifteen years ago Judge McSweeney was a famous criminal lawyer of the State of Michigan. He was called upon to defend a young woman from the charge of having poisoned her old husband. It was a question of whether or not she had placed poison in a cake of which the old man had eaten. A portion of the cake had been analyzed by a chemist and found to contain a great deal of deadly poison. The chemist testified to this court. Other witnesses succeeded in making a chain of damning evidence against the pretty young widow.

The time came for the summing up speeches of the attorneys. The prosecuting began and finished and all looked hopeless for the prisoner at the bar. Judge McSweeney the only speaker for the defense, arose amid breathless silence. The room was crowded and all were listening. One could almost hear the quiet, it was so intense. He began in a slow tone to sum the evidence in the defense of the prisoner. He had been allowed an hour in which to plead his side of the case. He dealt with everything but the cake. It rested up on a table just at his right, where it had stood during all the weary trial. Thirty minutes passed and the people were still motionless, charmed by the sweet eloquence of the great old lawyer. Three quarters of an hour passed by then another ten minutes. When the clock over the big desk told him there were but five minutes left, he reached his hand out to the cake, half of which stood upon the table, and broke off a ragged chunk. He held this in his hand and between sentences took great mouthfuls of it. During those five minutes he calmly argued the case and ate cake. He demolished more than half of it.

The chemist had declared that there was enough poison in it to kill fifty men. The good people looked at him in amazement and the jurors turned to each other and whispered. McSweeney wound up his speech, took another chunk of cake and walked quietly from the court room eating it. He closed the door behind him, ran into a small room close by and locked the door. Two physicians stood ready with a stomach pump, and in ten minutes the cake was all in the slop jar. The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" without leaving the court room.

W. C. T. U. at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 26.—Hundreds of women wearing white ribbon emblems of the cause they advocate poured into Milwaukee today for the annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union which opens here tomorrow. One of the largest gatherings at any national convention in years is expected to be on hand when the opening prayer is spoken tomorrow evening. The official board and various committees met today, disposing of some anti-convention business and completing the final details of the program. Many of the most prominent temperance workers in the country will address the convention during its five days' session.

CUTTING STEPS INTO HIGH SIDEWALKS

No longer will the feminine population of Wichita Falls be compelled to take exercise such as would qualify them for the chorus of a musical comedy.

Steps are being cut into the high sidewalk at the southwest corner of Ohio avenue and Eighth street and at other crossings where the sidewalk is too high above the street grade.

This news will be welcomed not only by the good women of Wichita Falls but all others as well.

Ingersoll's Poem of Life.

Born of love and hope, of ecstasy and hope, of agony and fear, of tears and joy—endowed with the wealth of un united hearts—held in happy arms, with lips upon life drifted about, blue-veined and fair, where perfect peace finds perfect form—locked by willing feet and woe to hazy shores of sleep by siren mother's singing, soft and low—looking with wonder's wide and startled eyes at common things of life and day—taught by want and wish and contact with the things that touch the dimpled flesh of babies—Jured by light and flame and charm—by colors wondrous robes, learning the use of hands and feet, and by the love of mimicry beguiled to utter speech—releasing prisoned thoughts from crabbid and curious jaws on soiled and tattered leaves—puzzling the brain with crooked numbers and their changing tangled orth—and so through years of alternating day and night, until the active grows more familiar with the chains of walls of limitations of life.

And time runs on in sun and shade, until the one of all the world is wood and won, and the lore of love is taught and learned again. Again a home is built, with the fair chamber wherein faint dreams, like cool and hazy vales divided the billowed ours of love. Again the miracle of birth—the pain and joy, the kiss of welcome and the cradle-song, drowsy the drowsy prattle of a babe.

And then the sense of obligation and of wrong—pity for those who toil and weep, tears for the imprisoned and despised—and love for the generous dead, and in the heart the rapure of a high resolve.

And then ambition with its lust of self and place of power longing to cut upon its breast distinction's worthless badge. The keener thoughts of men and eyes that see behind the milling mask of craft—fattered no longer by the obsequious cringe of rain and greed—knowing the usefulness of hoarded gold and honor sought from those who charge the suary of self respect—of power that only bends a coward's knees and forces from the lies of praise. Knowing at last the unstudied gesture of steem, the reverent eyes made rich with honest thoughts, and holding high above all other things—high as hope's great throbbing star above the darkness of the dead the love of life and child and friend.

Then locks of gray and growing oves of other days and half remembered things—then holding withered hands of those who first held his, while over dim and loving eyes death otly presses down the lids of rest.

Wichita Falls, Texas, October 26, 1911.

Cook county farm products took first prize at the Dallas Fair this year. This ought to be of some consolation to us up here. Wichita, in the early days of Texas, used to be a part of Cooke county.

Gov. Colquitt, in a speech at the Dallas fair today advocated putting State convicts in citizens clothes and without being checked or under guard, on county roads to do road building. The plan it seems to pick out a bunch of men serving out sentences, and parole them, with the understanding they are to perform county road work wherever they may be needed, and in the event they perform the work well and in a satisfactory manner, it will have considerable weight with the pardoning board in obtaining a full pardon. Should any one of the convicts released on his own honor to do road work run off or escape, the State will make every effort to re-capture and place him back in the penitentiary to serve out his full term. The idea is a good one, and the chances are that nine out of every ten convicts let out on such a parole and with such an understanding would make no attempt to escape, and would perform better work than if shackled and under guard. The great objection to convict labor is that the men have to wear the regulation prison stripes, and on this account, free labor objects to mingling and working with them. With all in citizens clothes, and each man free to go where he pleased after performing his duties, this objection to convict labor would, to a very great extent, be removed, and under the workings of this proposed new system it would make it possible for the building of good roads at a much less cost than now. If the governor's suggestions along that line are put into practice, Texas will be the first State to adopt such a plan. It is well worth trying, and if it don't work, it will be easy enough to put a stop to it.

Editor and Senator Johnson is preaching some peculiar doctrine of late. His latest is that the members of the legislature are not bound to vote for the candidate who receives the largest vote in the primaries for United States senator, and that the members of the legislature will oppose Hon. Jake Wolters although he should receive the largest vote of the candidates. This is a peculiar talk for a man who has accepted honors from the democratic party, especially when all the candidates for the office sought submit their names to the people to vote upon. The legislator who would violate the will of the people as expressed in the vote in the primary, unless some serious charge should be brought against the leading candidate between the primary and the meeting of the legislature, is not fit to represent the people. In other words he thinks he is above the instructions of the people and is not amenable to them. If all the candidates come before the people in a primary called by the state committee the man receiving the most votes should receive the election at the hands of the legislature.—Childress Index.

What does Senator Johnson have to say in reply to this? There are now four or five candidates in the race for the senatorship, all are Democrats, and there is small hopes that either can hope to get a majority of the votes. The Times is perfectly willing to admit that Jake Wolters is going to be a pretty tolerably bitter pill for a pro Democrat to swallow, but perhaps he is no more objectionable to a pro Democrat than Morris Sheppard will be to an anti Democrat, and if Jake has enough votes to get the nomination even by a plurality, it will be the duty of every Democratic representative elected and serving in the legislature to vote for him. On the other hand, should Morris Sheppard be the nominee by a plurality vote, this fact will not excuse any anti senator or representative from voting for him.

UMPIRE SAYS DOYLE DIDN'T TOUCH PLATE

Would Have Called Runner Out if Philadelphia Had Appealed.

New York, Oct. 26.—The run credited to Capt. Larry Doyle in the tenth inning of yesterday's game which gave the New York Giants their second victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in the world's series, was not legally scored, according to a statement made after the game by Umpire William J. Klem of the National League, who was officiating behind the plate as the umpire in chief.

Doyle did not touch the plate, according to Klem, and if the Athletic Club had made an appeal the umpire said he would have declared Doyle out and the inning would have ended in a tie. As it was growing dark the game could not have gone much further.

Klem's decision was corroborated by Francis E. Richter of Philadelphia and J. G. Taylor Spink of St. Louis, the official scorers appointed by the National Baseball Commission. Submitted after the game, according to Umpire McGraw of the New Yorkers admitted that Doyle missed the plate.

Despite the fact that the umpire in chief and the official scorers say Doyle did not touch the plate to make the run legal, no protests can be lodged with the commission as to the result, it is said, because the Philadelphia team made no protest.

Umpire Klem's statement was made to the Associated Press just after the game ended. There was a question raised in the scorer's box whether the ball caught by Right Fielder Murphy off Merkle's bat in the tenth was caught on fair or foul ground. Klem said the ball was caught by Murphy in fair territory, that he made his decision that way and was corroborated by Umpire Brennan.

"Doyle never touched the plate," Klem then volunteered, "but as the Athletic players made no appeal, the game goes as a victory for New York."

In telling the Associated Press of the incident Klem said:

"When Murphy caught the ball in right field I set myself to see the plate on Murphy's throw. Doyle came in like a streak and made a long wide slide into the plate. He went across with one leg back of the plate and the other over it about eight inches or a foot. He never got any nearer than that. I saw it plainly and waited. Usually I run to the dressing room when a game is over, but this time I stood at the plate for several seconds waiting to see if the Athletics would appeal. Lapp evidently did not see that Doyle missed the plate, as he was busy taking Murphy's throw and probably took it for granted that Doyle had really touched the plate. None of the Athletics made the appeal, and as I was about to move away, McGraw in passing from the third base line to the players' bench said to me:

"Did you see it, Bill?"

"I certainly did."

"What would you have done about it if they had appealed?" McGraw asked, and I replied that if the claim had been made that Doyle did not touch the plate I would have given my decision as I saw it, but you see what a mess I would have gotten myself into.

"Well, I would have protected you," McGraw replied as he walked away.

"I would have declared Doyle out if the appeal had been made, but none was made."

In his reference to a "mess" Klem meant that if he had entertained the appeal the New York players and their partisans would have made a

INTOXICATED MAN DROVE OFF HORSE

Rig Owned By Veterinarian Gorsline Supposed to Have Been Stolen Found After Seven Hour Search.

After a seven hour search a horse and buggy belonging to E. B. Gorsline which was driven away from its hitching place in front of the old city hall building, was finally located at 11 o'clock in an uptown alley where it had been driven and used by an intoxicated man. The man believed to have been the one who drove off with the rig was arrested.

Upon it being discovered that the horse and buggy were missing, the officers were immediately notified, and a search began. A description of the drunken man was furnished to the officers by J. W. Stone, with whom the man held a short conversation before driving off the horse in which he stated that Mr. Gorsline and he were old friends, and had known each other since childhood, and that Mr. Gorsline has given him permission to drive about the city streets for a few minutes. For this reason, Mr. Stone offered no opposition to the man's driving off, and was able to furnish a good description of him to the officers, who continued the search until late at night, finally locating the man wanted. He admitted his guilt without hesitation, and promised to lead them to the horse, but after failing to keep his word several times, he was placed in the county jail and the search continued for the horse and buggy.

The animal was finally located in an uptown alley way, through which the officers had passed several times while prosecuting the search. It is therefore thought by them that the man had a confederate, who becoming scared, decided to place the horse and vehicle in a place where they would be found, and so selected that spot.

The contents of the buggy, which consisted of several medicine cases intact, and neither the horse or buggy and other utensils, were found to be injured in any way. The man who was captured last night is still confined in the county jail, but it is thought that he will be released upon the payment of a fine and the case prosecuted no further.

He is said to be a prominent official of another county, who come over to Wichita Falls to get on a spree.

FIGHT IN CHURCH.

Members of Denver Congregation Participate in Melee, Pastor Being Thrown Through Window.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 26.—Rev. W. S. Rudolph is nursing cuts and bruises and a number of other members of the Union Presbyterian Church are using soothing lotions today, because of ten minutes' lively fistfights over church affairs. During the melee the pastor was thrown through a window, Dr. Rudolph, with a number of his friends, was sitting in the rear of the church, while trustees and others severely arraigned the pastor for attempting to retain possession of the church after he had resigned from the board of governors.

Then a motion was carried to go into executive sessions in a room adjoining the church. Dr. Rudolph led his cohorts to a back door and entered the room. A fight at once became general. Women in hysterics bolted into the open, while a dozen or more men punched at each other

A MARY J. HOLMES

DRAMA COMING

The appearance of Mary J. Holmes' delightful novel, "Tempest and Sunshine" dramatization by Lem B. Parker, is an event that should be looked forward to with interest by our theatre goers. The scenery is beautiful everything used in the representation being carried by the company. The costumes are quaint and pretty the gowns being of airy summer stuffs, made in the period of 1850, which is the time of the play. "Tempest and Sunshine" is one of the big successes of recent years and no one who enjoys a first class play presented in a first class manner should fail to see "Tempest and Sunshine" to be seen at the Wichita Theatre on November 2nd.

COST OF LIVING

NOT HIGH THERE

E. B. Carver, Live Stock Agent for the Wichita Falls Route, returned last night from Leedy, Okla., on the new extension of the Northwestern, where he went to superintend the loading of ten carloads of unusually large hogs. In discussing these hogs Mr. Carver stated that they averaged over two hundred and thirty-eight pounds each, and were only a sample of the richness of the country traversed by the new extension.

In this section of Oklahoma, at the present time, so abundant are the products, that butter retails for 20 cents per pound, and eggs sell for three cents per dozen. However, the arrival of a railroad to this country is fast changing this state of affairs, and it will be only a short time now until the higher prices will prevail.

MONDAY SERVICE FOR BUSINESS MEN

Effort Being Made in Ham Meetings to Present Opportunity to Attend to All.

Seems funny, does it, that a man who came to Wichita Falls with the avowed intention of saving the lost should devote so much time to the back-slidden Christians. Evangelist Ham insists that God is ready and anxious to send a great revival to this city and that all he is waiting on is for his professed followers to get out of the way and give him a chance to reach the lost or rather get in God's way in order that he might be able to use them.

A larger crowd heard Evangelist Ham last night than at any previous service. He took his text on "Lot" and preached to those who are back-sliders and realize it. As is characteristic of all his sermons, he said a lot of things that seemed hard, but all along through the discourse there was interwoven the word of God and Gospel truth in such a way as to give the whole a tone of simple sincerity that is pleasing and leads one to believe that the evangelist is talking plainly to each individual as if there were no other persons in the tent.

As yet there have been no propositions of any kind made and the people have been urged to accept and act upon the truths proclaimed at the meetings in a public manner, but they have been left to think over the matters in the homes and as they go about their work and there are abundant evidences that much effectual work has already been done in the way of improved conditions in the homes and lives of the professed Christians of the city.

A number have of their own volition and without invitation come to Evangelist Ham and confessed their crooked lives and made a vow to change their lives for the better. Arrangements have been made to hold a special men's prayer service during the noon hour, beginning at the Colonial Theatre every day promptly at 12:30 and closing at exactly ten minutes to one o'clock. This arrangement is made to suit the convenience of the business and working men who have a few spare moments during the noon hour and who by 12:30 have had their lunch and can attend these meetings, leaving always in time to get to their work or place of business by one o'clock. Today the evangelist said that he wanted an opportunity to meet the business men of the city and just have a little heart-to-heart talk with them, and hence this special service for this short length of time and at just this hour of the day.

Gathered Gems.
Among other things Evangelist Ham has had the following to say: "God sometimes has to knock us down in prosperity to make us think of Him. "Whenever a Christian goes to where God hasn't called him he is sure to get into trouble. "Proud heads are usually empty ones. "You are boasting of how much you own. Brothers, you don't own a thing. It belongs to God's people. His word says, "The righteous shall inherit the earth," and their dead to this

Probably a Lot of Your Troubles Wouldn't Trouble a Want Advertiser at All!

Want advertisers and answerers of want advertisements ACCOMPLISH THINGS that other people simply "worry about," and hope that they "will work out somehow, sometime."

With want advertising, the property owner finds either buyers or tenants, while the non-advertiser WAILS for someone to "come along" and search for him and for his property.

With want advertising, the worker finds work—the employers finds workers—and the machinery of daily life does not slip a cog.

With want advertising, the used articles are sold to advantage—the business plan finds a "backer"—the buyer and seller discovers each other without any "blind searches," and people come to manage their affairs with the smallest possible amount of vexation, worry or delays.

There's not much nourishment for the "trouble-germ" in any of your affairs if you utilize want advertising to the fullest possible extent.

world will stand when years has vanished.

"Some of you are living in Wichita Falls like a louse lives on a man's head. You are getting all you can out of it and putting nothing at all into it. You are a parasite on the community.

"Some folks take more pains to get grace in their heels than they do to get grace in their hearts. I am expecting the next few generations to develop girls with number seven feet and number four heads.

"There's not a rotten institution in your city than its ball rooms. What the saloon is to you, boy the ball room is to your girl.

"The man who isn't what he professes hasn't the respect of anybody.

"God is using you as a Christian for everything that He can. If you are not doing anything, you are not fit to use.

"We have said too much about getting ready to die and not enough about getting ready to live. Men need a present Savior, a Christ, to live by and with every day of their lives."

The city has been divided into districts and a committee appointed in each district by the various pastors and composed of one person from each of the churches, and each of these committees will have the entire management of the prayer services in their hands, and will be expected to arrange at each meeting for a place to hold the one following day, and have someone ready to report the meeting promptly at the night service at the tent.

The districts and committees are as follows:
District number 1 includes all of the city east of the Denver railroad and north of Tenth street. Mrs. J. F. Elliott, chairman; Mrs. Stephens, Mrs. T. M. Derreck.
District number 2 includes all east of Scott and south of Tenth street. Mrs. W. J. Nolan, chairman; Mrs. J. L. Mears, Mrs. Will Bachman,

A. Severa Cattle. To The Times:

A great many people went last night to hear and see Nat Goodwin in "The Captain." The price to hear him was modest, but only those easily pleased received their money's worth. The first act was dull, the second stale, and there were three of them. The scintillations of wit were such as school boys quit laughing at 20 years ago.

The play had no bigness of sketch, no real vitality, was altogether the rankest, ham-fisted that ever barn-stormed a would-be aesthetic audience.

The gallery gods, those sterner of all critics as Nat Goodwin himself will tell you, only through courtesy to a once brilliant mind, refrained from "cat-calling."

Only once did the gallery lose its courtesy. Goodwin attempted a fine piece of sentiment and when the aesthetic balcony ceased hand-clapping, he thought he had gotten away with it, until in the silence that followed, a boy's voice piped loud and shrill, "Raw work."

In his soul Goodwin winced at this gallery criticism. The balcony was shamed from a reputation. They applauded to be considered aesthetic, but this gallery god cried out his real sentiments, unconcerned as to a past reputation.

Once Nat Goodwin filled the dramatic and divorce court world with his fame, but the years have flown and old age is pressing around him. There are lines in his brow which are calamities. Life begins to close upon him like a prison, and from whence is he to draw the consolations of old age.

And now when first rate actors are yet filling their hundred nights in New York he is forced to barn-storm one night at a time in Texas.

Once Sir Henry Irving said of him that he was the most splendid actor ever born of woman, but that was long ago. Sir Henry is dead now, and Nat Goodwin is getting old.

To have once been among the highest, and to fall degree at a time to the barely commonplace, is to have drunk from every cup on Fortune's revolving wheel.

To such changes in human destiny no words are adequate, silence alone is adequate.

What a tragedy is old age.

JOHN ROBERTSON.

Is Better Than Ever.

Charles Klein's greatest work, "The Lion and the Mouse" is scheduled for a welcome visit to the Wichita Theatre, Saturday night, and it is but fair to the intelligence of the local theatre-going public to predict that it will be seen by as many who have never witnessed this great play of financial conditions as those who have, so thoroughly enjoyed it in the past. It has been a long time, in fact out of the memory of many, since a play has been produced that has won the universal praise shown this drama and the fact that it is based on existing conditions in the lives of some of our money kings of today makes it stronger in commanding the attention of those in all walks of life. The United Play Company has done much, too, in holding "The Lion and the Mouse" at the high plane established at the very outset.

"THIS IS MY 53rd BIRTHDAY."

Arthur L. Sifton.

Arthur L. Sifton, who became premier of Alberta a year ago, was born near London, Ontario, October 26, 1858. In 1876 he went west with his family, but the following year returned to Ontario to finish his collegiate education. After graduating from Victoria University in 1880 he returned to Winnipeg to complete his law course. After several years spent in the practice of law in Brandon Mr. Sifton moved to Prince Albert, and in 1889 to Calgary. In 1888 he was elected a member of the Northwest Council, and in 1891 selected as a Commissioner of Public Works. Two years later he was created Chief Justice of the Northwest Territories, and in 1907 Chief Justice of Alberta. A few years later saw Mr. Sifton the leader of the Liberal party in the new Province and in 1910 he became Premier.

Buy's Own Ticket to Prison.

Without a guard and on a ticket he paid for himself, John Caldwell, sentenced to from two to fourteen years at Hammond, Ind., for conspiring to pad pay-rolls, cut to Jeffersonville to begin his sentence.

He comes of a good family and asked not to be humiliated by being handcuffed. The prosecution was willing to trust him to make the trip to prison alone and the court permitted it.

Texas Productions.

The Federal Agricultural Department gives us a complete estimate on most items of farm production except live stock. While our live stock is valued at $378,763,400, production per annum is not of record and the live stock figures shown in the following table may, therefore, be considered only a rough estimate.

The table follows:

Cotton	$219,656,000
Corn	114,206,000
Wheat	18,404,000
Oats	11,433,000
Hay	8,532,000
Dairy Products	23,500,000
Fruit and Vegetable	24,000,000
Poultry and Eggs	25,500,000
Miscellaneous	10,000,000
Live Stock	100,000,000
Timber	6,000,000

Total $561,331,000

Timber is added to the list in order to complete surface production.

This stupendous total on its face points to a magnificent prosperity, but deducting consumption from production, we find the bulk of our money quickly melting away and when we build our homes and churches and school houses we have little left to invest in large industrial enterprises.

A Billion Dollars for Factories.

Texas needs a billion dollars for factories. The amount seems large but it would require an immediate investment of that amount to manufacture the raw material now being shipped out of the state and we have only one-fifth of our land under cultivation and our minerals are practically untouched.

A good way to encourage factory investments in Texas is to patronize home industries. Home patronage would result in flooding our present plants with orders and would require additional factories to take care of the business.

Texas is today the most inviting field on the globe for capital and when our opportunities are understood and our citizenship ready to welcome factory investments by patronizing the products, we will experience no difficulty in securing factories.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

William J. Kelly has been engaged to play his old role of Masania in "Ben Hur." Geraldine Bonner's play, "Bob's Sister," had a production in New Haven recently and scored well. E. H. Sothorn and Julia Marlow have received a tempting offer to make a tour of the far East in classic drama. Walker Whiteside has begun rehearsals of the play "The Magic Melody," with which he will shortly begin an extensive tour. Richard Harding Davis has written a one-act play called "Blackmail," which is to have an early production in New York. Maclyn Arbuckle, who is now appearing in "The Welcher," is writing a political comedy in collaboration with Holman F. Day, the humorist. Charles W. Terris is to appear in his own work, "The Procher and the Man," during this season under the management of J. Paige Smith. Grace Emmons, who plays Olga in "The Balkan Princess," is a Boston girl who has just completed a three-year course in Dresden. After the long run of "Green Stockings" has been brought to a conclusion, Margaret Anglin will appear in Israel Zangwill's "The New Religion." The new musical comedy recently produced in New York by Glen MacDonough, Baldwin Sloane and Ray Goetz has woman's suffrage for its theme. The drama by Edward Childs Carpenter, in which Guy Bates Post is to star this season, has had its title changed from "The Great Desire" to "The Challenge." John Prescott, stage manager for Robert Edeson's production of "The Cave Man," is a son of E. B. Prescott, one of the territorial governors of Arizona. Francis Wilson has a new play, written by himself which he will produce during the holidays. He is in the third season of his successful play, "A Bachelor's Baby." Augustus Thomas may be the director of the New Theatre, New York. But he will accept it only on his own terms of hands off on the part of the founders and their friends. "The Poor Rich" is the title of a new play which Paul Wiltach has written for Tim Murphy, who will use it on his Southern tour until Thanksgiving after which time he will give his entire attention to it. Mrs. Forbes Robertson Hale, niece of the famous actor, has quitted the stage for a year and a half to devote herself to suffrage work. She will take her infant child along to prove that babies do not necessarily conflict with ballots. The cast of Victor Herbert's new comic opera, "The Enchantress," in which Kitty Gordon is to have the leading part, and which will open in New York tomorrow evening, includes Nellie McCoy, Hattie Arnold, Ada and Yenita Fitz Hugh, Louise Bliss, Harold Ford, Ralph Riggs, Gilbert Clayton Harrison Brockbank, George Cunningham and Bertram Fox.

The Calls One Must Make.

In a practical talk of every-day etiquette in the November Woman's Home Companion the author records the calls that one must positively make. "Certain stated calls must be made. The call at least once a year upon those on your calling list; the call after having been entertained at dinner, or luncheon, or at an evening entertainment; the call of congratulation after a marriage, or a birth; the call of condolence upon those in sorrow; the call of inquiry at the house of illness; the call upon the newcomer into your neighborhood, or upon a stranger who has been introduced to you by a friend; the return call, when a first call has been made upon you—none of these can be evaded. A first call should be returned within a week, or at longest a fortnight; a dinner call, or, in fact, any others of those named, should be paid promptly. "If two women call together, it is the order of the two who makes the signal for departure by rising or giving a significant glance to her companion. "There is no need for great formality of conduct in calling. The well-bred woman who is at ease in her own house need have no fear of appearing awkward in the house of another. To come in quietly after leaving her card at the door; to speak first of all, to her hostess, then to recognize the other persons present; to chat with those nearest the seat she has taken, avoiding topics which might lead to argument or discussion; to take her cup of tea and bit of cake or sandwich, to leave at the end of twenty minutes, or half an hour after shaking hands with her hostess, and bowing farewell to the others present—here is all that constitutes a call. A little familiarity robs calling of any terrors it may possess for the bashful or for those unaccustomed to society; and one learns it is just the old-time afternoon visit with a new name."

THREE SEEK TO SUCCEED HOKE SMITH

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 26.—What promises to be one of the hottest fights for the governorship that Georgia has seen in years was formally launched here today when the State Democratic executive committee met to fix the date and make other arrangements for the State primaries to choose the successor of Governor Hoke Smith, who resigns next month to assume his duties as United States senator. It is generally expected that the committee will select the second week of December as the time for holding the primaries. There are three leading candidates in the race for the governorship. They are former Governor Joseph M. Brown, former State Treasurer J. Pipe Brinn and Richard B. Russell, judge of the court of appeals. This is Joseph M. Brown's third race for governor. He defeated Hoke Smith for a second term in 1908, and in 1910 was defeated for a second term by Smith. His entry into the present contest has aroused the fighting blood of the Smith adherents who look on his candidacy as part of a plan of former Governor Terrell and the old machine to gain control of the Georgia Democracy and defeat Smith when he goes before the people for re-election as United States senator. The prohibition issue is expected to figure prominently in the campaign. Judge Russell is to make the race on a local option platform, while J. Pipe Brinn is a supporter of the present State-wide prohibition law. Former Governor Brown straddles the prohibition question.

Don't Coddle the Baby.

New York, Oct. 26.—"American babies are being loved to death. They are kissed and hugged and dandled until they die. It doesn't make a baby happy to coddle him. It makes him miserable. If mothers would consider that a baby has rights the same as a grown person, there would be fewer sick babies and much of this harmful affection would be abandoned." Mrs. Mary Hines, matron of the Sunday Day Nursery in Boston, makes this statement and Dr. Walter Hensel, superintendent of the department of child hygiene for the board of health, declares it is true. "Unquestionably it would be better for a baby never to kiss it, or even to handle it except when necessary," Doctor Hensel said. "But every normal mother is going to have some pleasure with her child and nobody would think of denying her. "If a baby is properly taken care of in other ways, a moderate amount of caressing does no special harm. But children can certainly be loved to death if by love is meant continual handling and dandling. Their whole nervous system is disorganized."

Cupid in Cold Storage.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 26.—Because the love letter he wrote on an egg ten years ago wasn't delivered until a few days ago, John Zenor of Bowling Green is wondering over the ways of fate. The egg message invited the receiver to write him with matrimony as the pleasant subject. Less than a year after it was written Zenor married. Today he received a letter from a girl in Brooklyn saying she had received the egg and that she wanted to start the with-Cupid-in-cold-storage correspondence. The love letter had been lying in cold storage ten years, Zenor decides.

Care of the Eyes.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch) If a woman has the slightest difficulty with her sight she should lose no time in consulting an oculist. Nothing will bring undesirable crows' feet more quickly than straining the eyes and local treatment to prevent the lines will be ineffective if the seat of the trouble is not attended to. It is far better to wear glasses when sewing and writing than to let the whole face have a drawn and aged look.

Of course, massaging about the corners of the eyes will make a tremendous improvement in a woman's appearance, but the work will be without results unless she does it regularly every night. Also, if she is trying to smooth away crows' feet she must remember that stroking is not to be done so severely as to loosen the skin, which would cause bagginess, but merely that friction is to stimulate circulation, nourishing the skin tissues.

Ermine, seal muskrat, balm marten, blue fox, skunk, black lynx, and white lynx, Australian opossum, and yellow fox are all exploited in the new styles, pajamas and muffs. Some of the long stoles are particularly graceful, being fashioned on the Schu-Peterine effect.

NAT GOODWIN PLEASSED WICHITANS LAST NIGHT

Nat Goodwin, the eminent actor, the comedian with a national reputation as an actor and an habitue of the divorce courts, held the boards at the Wichita Theatre last night.

Notwithstanding the advance in the price of seats, a good house greeted him. The majority of the audience being women, evidently intent on seeing what manner of man could fascinate so many footlight stars. Actors like other folks, grow old, and time and matrimony have both left their marks on Nat Goodwin.

"The Captain" is a swashbuckler story, the role of the warm-hearted friend, who takes the place of Capt. Hastings in order that the real Captain might escape murderous Chinese henchmen. Posing as a military hero, suits Nat Goodwin splendidly. The comical situations and witty lines provided much amusement.

The leading lady, Miss Margaret Moreland is a pretty blonde with very golden hair and deep blue eyes. She was good and measured up well with the other erstwhile leading ladies who have figured in Mr. Goodwin's career. As to who was Nat Goodwin's last wife or present wife, we confess we do not know. When the census man hit him and asked him if married, single, or divorced he said to have answered yes.

Sidney Bracey as DeClaremtn and later as the Captain Chinese Boy, caused many laughs and Geo. Osborne as the "Cam Drop King" was fine.

The play was good, about the best.

HEALTH HINTS

Did you ever stop to think how economical and how much better in every way it would be for you to keep healthy all the time. Your health or sickness is largely a matter of care or neglect, and by taking proper care of yourself, you will rarely know what sickness is.

A little quinine or some of our cough medicines taken at the proper time may save you a disagreeable cold or even a serious illness of pneumonia.

Once you get the health habit, you will wonder at what a simple matter it is to keep well all the time. A stitch in time saves nine.

Good, Well Aged Coffees

Are hard to buy. The market has been swept clean of fancy marks of coffees. Sixty days ago our buyers spent eleven days on the New York Coffee Market, selecting coffees of approved cup quality and purchased over 30,000 pounds of the pick of the market all well aged and the finest cupping quality. This is without doubt the finest lot of coffees that have reached the state this season and it would be impossible to match them at the present time. Since that time we have had the largest advances on the coffee market since the Civil war. On account of our fortunate purchase, we have not had to advance the retail price of coffee, nor have we lowered the quality. Our roasting plant is up to the last minute and we roast fresh daily. It's all in your favor to buy your coffees of us.
