HAM MAY STAY ANOTHER MONTH

EVANGELIST BEING IMPORTUNED TO CANCEL ANOTHER ENGAGEMENT AN CONTINUE MEETING.

WHOLE NIGHT IN PRAYER

People Are Becoming Fired With Zeal for Evangelization of Whole City.

God's people are down in the valley of humiliation, but fired with zeal and a fixed determination to triumph in the present campaign at any cost to themselves, a permanent tabernacle for the use of all denominations is to be erected at a cost of about $3000, the greater part of which is already in hand and it seems very likely that Evangelist Ham will cancel his next engagement and press the present revival campaign for several days to come or until a great victory has been won over sin and unrighteousness and God's name has been glorified in the salvation of hundreds of people.

At the service last night the evangelist read, as he put it, more scriptural than lots of folks ever heard, all tending to show that God punished with destruction impudent and hopeless nations, cities and people in older times and leading to the influence that He would and was very apt to do the same thing today.

This morning the keynote of his message was the need of the Holy Spirit in convicting power and the certainty of the success of God's work when that power became manifest.

Will Pray All Night. A lady rose in the morning service and, after relating how she had seen little rest for two days and nights, announced her intention to spend a whole night in prayer, asking that others join her in such an undertaking. The evangelist announced that a request would be made at the night service for those who had the welfare of the lost at heart to tarry in prayer throughout the night.

Service will continue twice each day at the First Baptist Church until the new tabernacle can be completed.

KNIGHT TEMPLARS HOLD BANQUET

At a meeting of the Wichita Falls Knight Templars held last night, beginning at eight o'clock in the Masonic hall over the First National Bank, two new candidates were initiated into the organization, after which a banquet was held and business transacted. The candidates admitted to membership in the local chapter last night were Vic Stampfl, of this city, and Irving Corlett, of Henrietta, both of whom are now members of the Wichita Falls Commandery.

The meeting last night was well attended, a majority of the members being present, and the banquet, especially, was enjoyed by all. At the next meeting to be held sometime in the near future, several candidates will be initiated, and eight of the new members will be admitted, after which a general good time will be had.

The meeting last night lasted from eight until twelve, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Those who live in the Northeastern part of town, and who drive to the business portion of the city every morning, are finding that the construction of the 4th street viaduct is a great convenience, and that the material used in the paving of this road is giving even better satisfaction than is the paving used on the downtown city streets.

Will Attempt to Secure Reduction of Fire Insurance Rates

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning discussed the matter of obtaining reductions in the insurance key rate and a special committee was appointed to confer with Mayor Noble and the city council to see what steps were possible. C. W. Bean, G. D. Anderson and R. M. Moore were named as members of this committee. Mr. Anderson pointed out that a reduction of five cents on the hundred dollars could be secured by the adoption of the building code prescribed by the state laws.

FIVE TO TWELVE MILLION DAMAGE

New Orleans, Nov. 14.—The loss caused by the recent cold weather to the Louisiana cane crop is estimated at from $5,000,000 to $12,000,000.

United Benevolent Association. Denison, Texas, Nov. 14.—The supreme lodge of the United Benevolent Association, a fraternal organization with a considerable membership in Texas and the Southwest, began its annual convention here today with many delegates in attendance. E. S. Royal of Fort Worth, the supreme president, is presiding over the sessions, which will continue over tomorrow.

HARVESTER TRUST OUSTED FROM MO.

ALL COMPANIES CONNECTED WITH COMBINE WILL BE KEPT OUT OF STATE.

OUSTER WRIT IS ISSUED

Supreme Court Issued Order Today and Assessed Fine of $50,000.

By Associated Press. Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 14.—The supreme court today issued a writ of ouster against the International Harvester Company, and assessed a fine of $50,000 for violation of the anti-trust law.

The International Harvester Company in September 1910, was convicted of a violation of the Missouri anti-trust law. The case was submitted to the supreme court for affirmation last April. The effect of the decision is to prevent all companies which make up the International Harvester Company from conducting further business in the State. The ouster suit against the company was brought under the common law and the Missouri anti-trust law which are broader than the Sherman anti-trust law.

National Commission Meets. Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 14.—Major league baseball owners and patrons will be particularly interested in the meeting of the National Commission which began here today and will probably continue over until Thursday or Friday. The most important matter to come before the baseball supreme court, consisting of President Herrmann of the Cincinnati club and Presidents Johnson and Lynch of the American and National leagues respectively, is the recent ticket scandal in connection with the world's series games. That the Brush-Johnson controversy over the ticket sale will be brought up for discussion is regarded as certain, but persons well informed as to the situation are inclined to believe that the matter will be disposed of without entering into a formal investigation of the charges of collusion between the New York club and the scalpers. At the same time it is thought likely that the National Commission will take steps to bring about a radical change in the present system of determining the world's baseball championship so as to obviate any future repetition of the scandal that followed the series this year.

The rule of closing the doors of the Y. M. C. A. building at eight o'clock every night in the week except Saturday, has been in force for over a week now, and will be continued so long as the Ham revival lasts. The object of closing the doors at this hour is that every member of the association may be given a chance to attend church. However, on Saturday nights the doors will remain open and the members will have the freedom of the building as usual.

Another five cents could be secured by the installation of a fire alarm system, and a further reduction of five cents could be obtained if all the water mains were increased in size to eight inches in diameter.

Objection to the building code was raised in that it prescribed that no buildings could be erected with sloping roofs. A fire alarm system would cost at least five thousand dollars, Mayor Noble said, and the cost of maintenance would be something.

BIG AUDITORIUM WILL BE BUILT

MONEY BEING SUBSCRIBED FOR THAT PURPOSE TODAY AND WORK WILL START IMMEDIATELY.

CENTER FOR MORAL FORCES

Structure Will Be Erected Either at Corner of Eighth and Scott Ave. Or Tenth and Scott.

A large auditorium centrally located, probably at the corner of Scott avenue and Eighth street or Scott avenue and Tenth street, as a center for the moral and religious forces of the community, and as headquarters for the Y. M. C. A., the United Charities and organizations of a similar character was made not only possible, but a practical certainty by the action of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning in endorsing the plan of the Pastors Association for such an institution and subscribing then and there within less than ten minutes nearly $1,000 toward the three thousand dollars estimated necessary for the undertaking. At the revival service meeting at the Baptist Church this morning more than three hundred dollars more was subscribed for the same purpose and the joint committee from the Pastors Association and the Chamber of Commerce expects to raise the remainder of the amount today so that work can start on the structure at once.

Dr. J. L. McKee, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church outlined to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, the tentative plans of the Pastors Association for the proposed tabernacle. He said that the need for a general auditorium for lectures, public meetings and entertainments had long been felt. He said that the Pastors Association had taken the matter up and had secured estimates on the cost of a temporary structure, the estimates ranging from $2500 to $3000. Negotiations with the owner of the lot at the corner of Scott avenue and Eighth street were in progress with the promise that the lot could be secured for a period of three years, if the association would bind itself to pay the taxes on the lot for that period. If this lot could not be secured, he said, it was probable that the lot at the corner of Tenth street and Scott avenue could be secured on advantageous terms.

Upon a motion of Mr. Kemp it was declared the sense of the Chamber of Commerce that the project was worthy of support. Upon another motion J. B. Marlow and John Young were appointed a committee to act with a similar committee from the Pastors Association to solicit subscriptions. Declaring that the meeting was a good place to start the subscriptions, J. B. Marlow canvassed those present and raised $950 within a few minutes.

The auditorium as planned will be of frame construction with dimensions 86 by 140 feet and will seat approximately 2,000 persons. The walls will be ten feet high and the windows will be fitted with drop covers.

The rear half of the auditorium will be floored as will be used as quarters for the Y. M. C. A. It is believed that at the end of three years the auditorium will have proved its usefulness and a permanent structure will then be built.

BACKBONE OF NEW YORK STRIKE BROKEN

New York, Nov. 14.—Some headway was made today against the strike of the street cleaning men have been accumulating at the rate of ten thousand loads each day. By night it is promised collections will be going on as usual. More men are at work today than before the strike. They are coming from other cities. The department says the strike is broken.

Equal Mining Rights. Berlin, Nov. 14.—The first tangible result of the Franco-German agreement appeared today when a contract was signed by which the French and German mining syndicates in Morocco were refused, on the basis of equality. The mining rights have been the chief cause of the friction.

AMOY NOW IN HANDS OF THE REVOLUTIONISTS

The radical element has gained the ascendancy here and Taotai Chang was compelled to flee to Hong Kong during the night. The city is in great confusion and there was a feeling of panic among the populace today over the report that the Manchus had poisoned the water supply. The report, however, appears to be without foundation.

The American warships Saratoga, Monterey and Quieros arrived this morning. The republican tri-color wave over the city today. There is no disorder and a general feeling of relief.

The excitement that accompanied the change of governments was quickly allayed. Fear of excesses had kept the populace in a nervous state for several days. There has been no local government and the maintenance of public order devolved upon volunteer guards recruited from the best families. Last night it was plain the radicals were in control. As the day progressed the republican leaders showed they had their followers well in hand and uneasiness gave way to a sense of security. The arrival of the American cruiser Monitor and a gunboat and a British torpedo boat destroyer, this morning helped to restore confidence.

Many Rare Volumes at Auction. London, Nov. 14.—Representatives of book collections and dealers in many parts of the world gathered at Sotheby's today for the opening of the dispersal sale of the famous Nuth Library. The sale is regarded as the most important of its kind that has taken place in London in years. Striking evidence of the size and importance of the collection is to be found in the decision of those in charge to sell only a portion of the library this year. Their decision is based on the belief that to dispose of the entire collection in one season would completely demoralize the market. Of the collection of 14,000 volumes only 1300 are to be offered at the present sale. This number, however, includes the first folio Shakespeare works and a number of other rare and valuable books much sought by collectors.

BAILEY MAY PRESENT FIGURES ON VOTING

DECLARED TO HAVE PREPARED TABLE SHOWING HOW HE STOOD ON QUESTIONS.

"TO GO OUT FIGHTING"

Fun Due to Begin With Drop of Gavel on First Monday in December.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 13.—The Record-Herald will publish tomorrow the following dispatch from Sumner Curtis, its Washington correspondent: "In considering the persons and affairs likely to add to the gayety of Nations during the coming season do not overlook Senator Bailey of Texas. Senator Bailey has announced his intention of retiring at the end of his present term. Some say that the reason is that the cards are stacked against him down in Texas, but his privately declared reason is that the present dominance of Populistic notions on the Democratic side makes the senate no longer congenial to one of his old-fashioned party faith. However, Bailey is going to stick to the end of the term for which he was elected, if some unforeseen crisis is not precipitated, and while he stays he plans to make entertainment for those who look on from the outside and trouble for those on the inside who have held him up to scorn.

Bailey and Republicans. "The fun is due to begin with the drop of the gavel on the first Monday in December. One of the prime charges in the war on Bailey and so-called Baileyism is that he has been an aid to the Republican leaders of the A. I. R. school and that he has voted more frequently than he has voted with his own party. The Texas Senator now is having data prepared, the purpose of which is to show that he has voted with the Republicans fewer times than any other member of the Democratic side. It is his intention to present the tabulation in full detail and preferably with some personal remarks as well as Congress reconvenes, or very soon thereafter.

"This plan of Senator Bailey to go out fighting presages a further reaction in the Democratic rank calculated to bring cheer to those Republicans who have thought they were likely to monopolize disturbances of a factional character pending the next Presidential election.

"The serious question at issue, as it is to be precipitated by Senator Bailey, is, 'Who are called Democrats and what is real Democracy?'"

"The country can not fail to view the contest with tremendous interest. Obviously the gauntlet thrown down by the Texan quickly will be picked up by champions of rival schools of Democratic thought, and for a time at least a diversion will be afforded from the war which the insurgent Republicans are making on the regular Republicans.

"It generally is understood at the present time that Senator Bailey has assumed leadership in the fight to elevate party leadership next year either Gov. Harmon of Ohio or some man of the Harmon type. He will have all the 'progressive' Democrats on his neck, figuratively speaking, from the moment he opens his campaign in defense of his own attitude throughout his Senate course."

CONGRESSMAN STEPHENS ON INDIAN AFFAIRS

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 14.—If the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians will agree on a bill looking to the termination of their tribal affairs, it would be passed by Congress, according to Congressman John H. Stephens of Texas, chairman of the House Committee on Indian Affairs, here yesterday. Mr. Stephens modified his statement to the extent that he would never favor a bill seeking to sell all the property together.

"I think Congress would favor selling the surface, the matured timber and unallotted lands," he said, "but reserve the coal and mine it under lease. Should that go on the market it would ultimately fall into the hands of monopoly, at least as far as the people were concerned, and practically all of the Southwest would be victimized. Again, the sale of the coal would be contrary to the Government's policy of conservation."

The Texas Congressman came out strong for Champ Clark for President, although, he said, Texas was developing some strong Wilson sentiment.

"I am for Clark, nevertheless," he said. "Clark's position is known on every public question, and he is decidedly the strongest man we could nominate. No one has ever questioned his ability, integrity or honesty. Wilson and Harmon represent extremes, while Clark occupies middle ground. Therefore I look for him to be a very formidable candidate."

Mr. Stephens left last night for Kansas City, to attend the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, and will endeavor to secure endorsement of his bill proposing to buy the Palo Duro Canyon in Western Texas for a National Park, including about 100,000 acres. The bill has been endorsed by the Red River Improvement Association at three meetings.

Gov. John Brown of the Seminole Nation, who was here today, does not believe immediate action will be taken by Congress looking to the termination of Indian tribal affairs. "You can never tell what Congress will do," said the Governor. "It is like figuring on the weather, the cotton crop or a game of euchre."

J. A. Fisher, a prominent merchant from Electra, was here today on business.

ALLEGED LYNCHER FOUND "NOT GUILTY"

Cameron, Texas, Nov. 14.—"Not guilty" was the verdict of the jury in the case of Z. T. Gore, tried on a charge of murder as the result of the lynching of Fernando Gomez, the Mexican boy. There are three other defendants yet to be tried. Gore's trial lasted seven days. He testified that he was at the house where the Mexican boy was detained but went only through curiosity. He said he didn't join in the rush on the Mexican but started home, returning after the boy was lynched.

PRESIDENT TAFT HEARS ADVISORS

MAY HEED ADVICE OF COUNSELLORS FOR AMENDMENT OF THE SHERMAN ANTI TRUST LAW.

Washington, Nov. 14.—President Taft met with his cabinet today, the first time in three months. Secretary Stimson was the only member absent. He is in Kansas City where he makes an address today before the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress.

The President's recommendations to congress for supplementary anti-trust legislation will probably be along the lines of a federal incorporation act and will be formed after a thorough conference with Attorney General Wickersham.

It is understood today that the President's advisers pointed out that the work of the coming congress would center on two main issues, the tariff and trusts. With the Democratic leaders declaring for an adjustment of the Sherman law and the Republican insurgents declaring for some affirmative legislation to point out paths for the legal conduct of the big business, the President's closest counsellors seem to favor legislation which will permit business to go ahead and know where it stands. President Taft in a recent speech declared himself opposed to any amendment of the Sherman act.

Both played for the stomach of the fifth and clinched frequently. Morris used his superior weight and, the round ended with hard infighting. In the sixth, seventh and eighth, Geyer fought more or less at random, being unable to see out of one eye, and was always weak at the belt. Another round of Morris' forcing convinced the referee it was time to stop. The general verdict was that Geyer was not outgamed but was wholly outclassed.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 14.—From coast to coast baseball clubs were represented in San Antonio today when the National Association of Baseball Leagues, composed of minor clubs, assembled for its annual convention. The meeting will last through the rest of the week. The National Board will give its decisions in several hundred cases of baseball litigation. At the same time managers will discuss matters of policy and line up their forces for the coming year. The business men of San Antonio have subscribed a $5000 fund for the entertainment of the visiting magnates. Baseball games will be pulled off daily, in addition to several banquets. Special features will include a bull fight in Mexico and a chicken barbecue at Corpus Christi. One of the cases that will be decided by the commission will be the championship of the Texas-Oklahoma League, there being a dispute between Cleburne and Wichita Falls.

W. I. Singleton, a real estate man from Archer City, was here today on business.

BASEBALL MEN AT SAN ANTONIO

W. B. Graham, of Oklahoma City, is here today conferring with the members of the manufacturing committee of the Chamber of Commerce relative to the establishment of a cast iron sewer pipe and stove foundry. Mr. Graham who has been connected with successful establishments of this kind at other places and owns the patterns and machinery for a plant to manufacture these products. In order to secure this enterprise, it will be necessary for fifteen thousand dollars in stock to be subscribed in Wichita Falls.

The proposition was laid before the directors at their meeting this morning and was referred to the manufacturing committee. "It is probable definite action will be postponed until after something is done with the industrial site proposition."

Orr Betney returned this afternoon from a trip to San Antonio, and other points, where he has been for the last few days attending the San Antonio fair, and touring South Texas.

MOPRIS COMES BACK OUTPOINTS J. GEYER

ERSTWHILE WHITE HOPE NO GAMER, HOWEVER THAN HIS LIGHTER ANTAGONIST.

REFEREE STOPS THE FIGHT

Denver Man's Left Eye Was Closed and He Was Wobly on His Feet When Bout Ends.

New York, Nov. 13.—The bout between Carl Morris, the Oklahoma heavyweight, and Jack Geyer of Denver was stopped by Referee White in the ninth round tonight. Morris easily outpointed the Denver heavyweight throughout.

The Ponderous Oklahoman took the scales at 235 with Geyer 30 pounds lighter. The bout was a hard, fast battle. Although Morris outpointed his man in every round, except possibly the first, Geyer showed wonderful pluck and was continually boring in, his most effective blow being a short left uppercut.

There was not a knockdown in the nine rounds, but frequently Morris hit his man on the ropes in the rushes—for the ring was but seventeen feet square—but the Denver man showed his gameness by fighting hard after his left eye had been closed. The referee stopped the bout in the ninth to save him from further beating.

Geyer opened the fight with a rush, sending a left and right to the head and then, in a clinch, landed a right uppercut, but got a hard one in the stomach in return. The Denver man tried another right, but got one himself on the jaw. Morris then jabbed twice. At long range fighting Geyer might be said to have had the better of this round, but in the second Morris kept working a short right uppercut. In the third round the uppercutting had puffed Geyer's left eye and in the fourth Morris continually got to this bad eye. Geyer hit low, but Referee White declared the blow accidental.

Both played for the stomach of the fifth and clinched frequently. Morris used his superior weight and, the round ended with hard infighting. In the sixth, seventh and eighth, Geyer fought more or less at random, being unable to see out of one eye, and was always weak at the belt. Another round of Morris' forcing convinced the referee it was time to stop. The general verdict was that Geyer was not outgamed but was wholly outclassed.

DESIGNED BY SPERO, MICHAEL & SON NEW YORK

THE TEXAS COMPANY GRANTED FRANCHISE

Oil Company Given Permission to Use Streets for Pipe Line.

A special session of the city council was held at 8 p. m. last evening, to consider for a pipe line of the Texas Company for a pipe line right-of-way along certain streets of the city for the transportation of oil from Electric loading racks on the M. & T. and F. W. & D. C. railway tracks in Wichita Falls.

Judge Robt. A. Johns, of Houston, J. C. Calligan of Dallas, and L. H. Mathis of this city represented the Texas Company before the council.

The application came up in the shape of a draft of an ordinance as follows:

An ordinance granting the Texas Company a right-of-way to construct, maintain and operate a pipe line or lines on and under certain streets in Wichita Falls, Texas, and to erect along said lines telegraph and telephone poles and wires and to maintain and operate the same, and to indemnify the said city against damages and the purposes.

This line enters the city on Webster street in North Wichita Falls, at a point where the corporate limits intersect on the northwest line at Madison street; thence southeasterly along the center of Webster street across the Big Wichita River; thence continuing along the northeast line of the corporate limits and along what is known as Lake street, and leaving the city limits at or near the intersection of Lake and Sixth streets; together with right-of-way for laying lateral lines on and under all streets running at right angles and parallel with said Webster and Lake streets; and intersecting the same, but not further than the line of the right-of-way of the Fort Worth & Denver City Railway.

The remainder of the ordinance contains the usual clauses of details of excavation, protecting the city from damages and other legal forms. Judge Johns explained that the necessity for immediate action by the council was due to the urgency of the company to begin operations. The ordinance was passed.

SCHOOLS MUST TEACH INDUSTRY

William Allen White, in the Craftsman Magazine.

Education must prepare for the life that is to be lived. It must be in a sense vocational. It must not teach, even by implication, the "degradation of hard work." Yet by example as well as by precept the youth is taught that the gentleman in the idler schools must teach industry. But to each man to work, the rewards of work must be sure. The snap course makes drones. And the snap course is the bane of the elective system; and today the elective systems begins in the grades. A snap course is a man teacher who because he is either lazy or vain gives good grades. The child who sees he can get good grades for easy work will have a low opinion of human justice, no matter how it is preached to him. Grades must be uniform. The law of averages catches us that the few who are absolutely perfect and the few who absolutely fail, form the same small per cent; that those who do excellently and those who do poorly form another per cent, a little larger than the perfect ones and the failures, and that those who do fairly well and fairly ill form the great bulk of humanity. Why should not this fact be brought into the class room; and every teacher be allowed a certain per cent of perfect marks in a hundred to correspond with the absolute failures; a somewhat larger per cent for those who are excellent and those who fail but do, and a much larger per cent for the tolerably good and the tolerably bad. Would not this end snap courses? Would it not in some measure stop favoritism? Would it not implant a belief in justice in the minds of youth that this country needs in its progress?

Another thing: in school boys and girls should be taught by every mechanism of the system that good work pays better than poor work.

As it stands it takes the tolerably good student and the excellent student the same number of years to go through the grades in high school and through college into life. Aside from the injustice of this plan, consider how it propagates laziness by awarding it. Does not the system of outting equally for promotion every grade except absolute failure, instill in youth the belief that life is a lottery? Suppose that the student who does excellent work—in every branch might be graduated from the grades into the high school and from the high school into the college and from the college into life two or three years ahead of his easy going fellows—all accomplished from a system of grades based, not upon the temperament of teachers of snap or hard courses, but upon the law of human verities; would there not be an immense gain in the moral sense of that youth?

All about him he would see industry rewarded. He would see justice prevail and he would see that sincerity counts. What an important lesson! For sincerity is one of the few things that does count for all the late happiness in life. It may be demonstrated that it makes little difference in a youth's education what studies he selects; he may choose a classical course, a business course, a philosophical course—or what not, and succeed or fail, according to the sincerity he puts in and the character he makes out of the work. For it is not that, but how well, not the facts he acquires but the habits he forms which make the character that marks off his career. And if the education systems from the grades through college tempt him to snap courses, a shoddy work, to believe in the value of indolence, of trickery, of shams—what kind of a citizen is he going to make in a crisis that demands fundamental faith in the triumph of industry through justice and sincerity?

The problems affecting this democratic movement will not be solved by the young men coming from schools imbued with the damnable doctrine "what's the use?" Cynicism is an intellectual sloth. It is a moral atrocity, that expressed in public opinion becomes a social leprosy. Is not our educational systems based upon the shams that manual work is degrading? Is it not erected upon a plan that permits favoritism and offers no reward to sincere effort to achieve? Will it not pour into the democracy millions whose pessimistic only may poison the wells on the way to progress?

But after we have established something like justice in the school system, it will be necessary to teach youth more practical things than are now generally taught. Having implanted in the boy or girl the conviction of righteousness, of industry, justice and sincerity, it is necessary to make youth effective.

Consider at least what education should not be in a democracy, and determine some of the ideals of democracy to be fostered by education. For education—whatever it is—must be the most potent weapon in the hands of the prophets and dreamers who are striving in a sad world to realize the day of the Psalmist when "the needy shall not be forgotten," and "the expectation of the poor shall not perish."

STRIKE BREAKERS TRAIN MAY COME HERE

Denison, Texas, Nov. 14.—A special outfit train consisting of six cars fitted up for boarding, lodging and food, left Denison this morning for Whitesboro. The train carried a number of strikebreakers from the local Katy car shops and will work the side tracks between Denison and Whitesboro, chaining up the cars that have drawheads gone, also doing any light repair work that they are capable of doing. The train will also cover the G. H. & W. division from Whitesboro to Wichita Falls and an attempt will be made to repair the bad order cars enough to get them over the road or fix them so they can get to a terminal point to transfer to the loads. It is said that after the Wichita Falls division is cleaned up the train will be moved to other points over the south end. The train is known as the "floating special."

He Was a Good Sprinter.

A sero-comic incident happened on Indiana avenue about 6 p. m. last evening. It seems that one George Johnson had been making a rough house and uttering serious threats at the home of his former wife, who some one notified the police department. Policeman Sam Walker responded and arrested Johnson in the act of brandishing a knife and threatening to do his wife serious bodily harm. On the way to the city lockup between the First National Bank and Hardy's store, Johnson made his getaway, and the officer started in pursuit, but was soon outdistanced. In attempting to frighten Johnson and cause him to surrender, Walker fired his gun twice in the air. This only added speed to Johnson's legs, and he sprinted down the avenue like an express train, ten minutes behind time. Walker was compelled to watch Johnson disappear in the distance and arrived at the city hall chagrined and out of breath.

HARD FOUGHT GAME EXPECTED SATURDAY

Denton Team Fighting for Northwest Texas Championship Will Find V. M. C. A. Worthy Opponents.

The Denton football team, which will play the Y. M. C. A. here next Saturday afternoon at the city baseball park, is one of the strongest high school teams in this part of the State, and the members of the team are looking forward to winning the championship of Northwest Texas this fall. They have been defeated only once this season, and have played a number of games with strong teams. Their only defeat was administered by the Sherman team, and in a game played last Saturday afternoon, the Denton team avenged this defeat, and won back their chance at the Northwest Texas championship.

Sunday's Dallas News had the following to say about this game:

Denton high retrieved its only defeat of the season and put itself in line for the North Texas championship here this afternoon by defeating Sherman high, 5 to 0. The game was stopped in the last quarter with a couple of minutes to play and Denton having the ball on the visitor's thirty yard line, by a dust storm out of the northwest which made it impossible to see the players a few feet apart.

The features of the game were the fierce tackling of Denton's ends and center, McMath, and the offensive and defensive work of Rector, who made Denton's only touchdown by a brilliant thirty yard run. Both teams were forced to kick on almost every third down, and Tuck outpunted Collins, who was handicapped by the stiff breeze which blew down the field.

Denton kicked thirteen times to Sherman's twelve, and made the first down five times to Sherman's four. The locals were outweighted about twelve pounds to the man.

This game was played Saturday afternoon at Denton, on Denton's home grounds.

In anticipation of the game to be played with the team, the members of the Y. M. C. A. team are practicing every moment possible, and Manager Huff says that, although the Y. boys may not be able to defeat the husky Denton lads, the visitors will know that they have been in a football game before the whistle is blown in the last quarter, as every member of the Y team is determined to play to the utmost, in order that the long line of Y victories may not be broken by even one defeat. In fact, the Y. M. C. A. team is also looking into the future and is going to try for the Northwest Texas championship themselves.

The crowd will be roped off from the gridiron in next Saturday's game and an admission price of fifty cents will be charged in order to help defray the expense of bringing the Denton team to this city. The money needed in this connection will total almost $125.00, all of which must be raised by charging admission, and by popular subscription. A committee is now busy taking subscriptions, and it is hoped to have raised the full amount needed before the beginning of next Saturday's game, and all who desire to make a contribution towards defraying the expense of bringing the Denton team here, are requested to hand the amount which they are willing to contribute to some member of the Y team.

COMPRESSING MORE COTTON THAN EXPECTED

Although the season is not yet finished, the receipts up to date at the cotton compresses are far better than was expected by those best informed before the season began. A little better than half of the cotton handled up to this time last year has been taken care of by the local companies, and before the end of the present season the showing made may prove to be even better, as many of the farmers are holding their cotton until the highest market prices prevail, or they are forced to sell by necessity. Owing to this fact, a rush of business may be expected to be simultaneous with a rise in the cotton market, and such a state of affairs is even anticipated by the management of the two compresses here.

The receipts at the Wichita Falls Compress Company, from the beginning of the season until six o'clock yesterday afternoon, show a total of over eight thousand bales handled, 890 of which may be classed as city cotton, or cotton which was hauled to the compress from points adjacent to, or in the near vicinity of Wichita Falls. The amount of the cotton handled at this compress is a little more than half of the amount handled at the same time last year. The exact figures at the Northwestern Compress Company could not be learned yesterday, but it is thought that their figures up to date, will compare about the same as do those of the other compress with what was handled at this time last year.

The showing already made in the amount of cotton handled by the two Compresses is a great deal better than even the most optimistic had a right to expect before the beginning of the season, because of the drought and hot weather which prevailed here during cotton planting time, and also during the time of its growth. On account of this drought, which was one of the worst this country has ever experienced, hardly any crop at all was expected to be raised and the showing already made is a source of great satisfaction to both the local cotton men, and the farmers of this section of the country, and this showing may be even better as compared with last year before the end of the season, or as soon as the farmers turn loose the cotton which many of them are holding for better prices.

Prof. Dycht has made the discovery that crows are edible, but qualifies his finding by stating that the crow must be young. The professor, evidently, is no Democrat, else he would not have been so long in making his discovery.

Probably Mr. Morgan's idea of a government is the kind that will send for him when it wants to know anything about finance or industry and will accept his advice without question on such matters and not accordingly. This probably accounts why Mr. Morgan threw a few fits when he learned the government had actually screwed its nose up sufficiently to bring suit against the United States Steel Corporation for violation of the anti-trust law.

J. Ogden has given to the Armour Packing Company one million dollars with which to establish a pension fund for its aged employees who have reached that stage in life where they can no longer perform manual labor. This is certainly commendable and goes much further towards actual good than the $25,000,000 given by Carnegie the other day for the establishing of public libraries.

Unless the governor of Virginia interposes Henry Clay Beattie, convicted of murdering his young wife will be electrocuted on November 24th, the supreme court having on yesterday failed to grant him a new trial. The evidence against him was strong, though circumstantial, and in the opinion of the jury it was sufficient to convict and the public generally is of the same opinion.

THE INCREASING SOCIALIST VOTE

Atlanta Georgian. The fact that the Socialist vote in the United States is increasing makes itself manifest at every election of general importance. And so we find this vote of the noteworthy features of Tuesday's balloting.

In Schenectady, N. Y., the Socialists elected a mayor and all but one city officer, together with a majority of the county board of supervisors.

In Columbus, Ohio, the Socialist candidate for mayor practically tied the Republican candidate for second place, the Democrat being the winner. A number of Socialist members of council were elected in Columbus, Dayton and other large cities, while Socialist mayors were returned in eight of the smaller cities.

Besides the victory in Schenectady, the Socialists developed remarkable strength throughout New York state, and made a surprising showing in Mississippi.

Unquestionably the aggregate Socialist vote has scored another tremendous advance.

Socialism first appeared in national politics in 1892—the time of Cleveland's second election—behind represented by the Socialist-Labor party, and polling 21,164 votes. At the next election it received 36,274 votes. In 1906 there were two Socialist parties in the field—the Socialist Democrats, who received 87,814 votes, and the Labor Socialists, who got 39,439.

In 1904 the present Socialist party polled 402,283 votes, which it increased in 1908 to 420,798.

The great trouble about Socialism is that it is the embodiment of a grievance, but it is not yet certain in its own mind how that grievance should be remedied. In the meantime it is gathering followers who vote their protest against existing conditions, if nothing else.

Socialism is certainly a force to be dealt with in our political life. We recommend the fact of its growing strength to the consideration of thoughtful citizens everywhere.

THE WORLD NEEDS 15,000,000 BALES.

Atlanta Constitution.

With the publication of government estimates to the effect that world demand for cotton the approaching season will approximate 15,000,000 bales, the bottom should drop from the bear market. In another column, The Constitution publishes the Associated Press dispatch carrying the compilation under a Washington date line.

According to this government report worldwide in its sources and official if cotton is worth a cent to civilization, it is worth not less than 15 cents.

Consuls from around the globe tell Washington that world consumption, ending next September, will be in excess of 15,000,000 bales. This estimate exceeds Italy and England. The former country will take in the neighborhood of half a million bales of American cotton, the latter, nearly three million.

Consolidating these statistics and making due and conservative discount it appears that world demand for the year will be in the neighborhood of 15,000,000 bales.

In face of these seeming reliable facts, the attempt of market thimble-ringers to take advantage of the fears of the cotton producer because the crop is large is hardly short of criminal.

Hold your cotton. The bankers of the South, the merchants of the South, Southern business men generally are equally interested in seeing that the section is not actually tricked out of millions of dollars.

It should be a simple business transaction for all factors to co-operate in financing "distress" cotton, in advancing money needed to hold cotton until the world learns that the South will not be neglected of a just return for the most important staple in civilization.

Read the government statistics; analyze them. Then hold your cotton. Incidentally, why could not the government have compiled these estimates before three or four million bales went on the market at unjust prices? Why should it be literally coerced into aiding the producer when it has, heretofore, appeared so eager to save the hide of the wretched bear gambler?

but until his seed had been blotted from the earth, and the bones of him had bleached and rotted in the sun. Tnathema maranatha—that was the lost word.

He wrapped his tunic about his head and fled, affrighted, but they followed him. His terror grew with their rage. Once he stumbled on the step and nearly fell, but he was up again and on. He felt something in his head swelling and it was hard to breathe, and yet there was something—that God of Justice of his, perhaps—a gesture as if for mercy. It might have been, but one cannot tell for he had reached the foot of the steps when he turned and looked back. Then he wrapped his tunic about his head again and sighed, and sank slowly, very slowly, to the stones of the sidewalk.

They wept upon him, and furiously they tore away the old garment that covered his face.

For a moment they gazed at him. Then, one by one, they turned and went back to their own dead.

There was no further need for vengeance.

MYSTERIOUS VENGEANCE ON CRUEL LANDLORD

A Widow's Eyes Turned Upon the Man Who Caused Her Husband's Death—Terror Seized David Laskowitz and He Suffered.

New York, Nov. 14.—Of course, the law is the law, whether it be that of the Talmud framed by the fathers so many ages gone or the kind that come from Albany; whether it be the ordinance of Moses brought down from Sinai, or what his honor will try to make you hear as the elevated train clatters by the night coach—it is all the law just the same and it must be abided by, as no one would have told you quicker than old David Laskowitz.

He knew, none better, for he has been reared in orthodox fashion since the time he was old enough to say his tephillum and to adorn his young shoulders with a talith. And there was no compromise in the law that has been taught him with rods and ferules; the law of justice, the law of retribution, the law of an eye-for-an-eye and a tooth for a tooth. For you see, they know but one testament in the synagogues of the "hill" sections of Newark, and that is where old David lived. Talk to them there of turning the other cheek and they will look at you strangely and tar their brows and shake their heads.

So it was that when Samuel Wagner, who was only 27 years old—youth enough almost to be old David's grandson—died the other day and there were those who blamed David for his death, the aged son of Abraham plucked at his beard and shrugged. Maybe he had been responsible and maybe not, but it was the law. Young Samuel had owed him money for rent and David had put him and his wife and babies in the street because they could not pay. True, it was only one of the squalid tenements in Prince street, but even they bring money, and was not that money right fully due to David?

He was sorry, but life was not big to give or to take away. He laughed when he remembered they said he was worth $75,000 or $80,000—so many thousands he never would have missed. Samuels few pennies, but it was his money, was it not? Had he not worked and toiled and saved for it? But there was no mirth in his laugh. He was sorry Samuel had died just then. He resolved to go over to Prince street to see what he could do. He lost no time in going and he had no trouble in finding what had been the home of young Wagner. He started in, and then he remembered, and retracing his steps, he went to a neighbor's house where the body lay and the young widow and the babies cried over it. He learned that David had died of heart disease they said the very night he and his family had been put into the streets, but that was all he learned.

David was sorry he had gone, for there were many women there. They sat around on small stools or on the floor and rocked themselves or wailed and moaned. He had been to shivas before, but none like this. Never had there been such sorrow outside the door he knew better than any other in the world. And they glared at him with their fierce black eyes, as if he had done it. Truly, he was sorry he had come.

At last quietly, stealthily, he arose. He had kept near the door and there was a good chance to get out quietly. But he reckoned wrongly. They were watching him, all of them, watching him like the keen-eyed, sharp-clawed bird of the wilderness. Hardly had he gained his feet before the outbreak came.

It was like a sandstorm in the desert. He was blinded and he was deafened. He saw shapes come toward him like harpies. He heard words in the old Chaldean he had not heard since when he was a boy and his father had striven to teach him, with many a heavy blow.

What the words were he did not know. They were curses—of that much he was sure; anathema maranatha on him and his, on all that was and all that should be his. Might the souls of his children's children be blighted! Might pestilence and penny be the portion of him and his for all time! Might his sins descend—not to the third or the fourth generation—

ALL SORTS.

The Winter of our discontent Rolls onward to its gloomy goal; And all we did not spend for ice, We now must spend for coal.

The trouble with the valdicatorian was that he had started orations on three different subjects and abandoned two, after committing them to memory.

This may account for the fact that the trouble ensued early in the engagement.

The youth make a good getaway and was covering the ground steadily when he suddenly switched.

"Beyond the Alps lies Italy," he cried as he took careful aim with his index finger at the gallery. "Such were the inspired words of Patrick Henry as he faced the astonished gathering and pointed to the throbbing lid of the steaming kettle. If he had turned aside at that crucial moment, if Hannibal had not braved the minions of the English King, the power and helpfulness of harnessed steam might have been left for the discoverers of a future age. But such is the inexorable decree of fate. Hannibal swept down upon the plains of sunny Italy, the seeds of American independence were deeply rooted, and the steam engine was given to an amazed world; if James Hannibal—"

I should say Patrick Wat—I mean Albert Henry—had hesitated—or looked back—the course of empire would have remained unchecked and history would have been rewritten."

Then he sat down amid tremendous applause.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Mike and Pat by trade were hard working brickmasons, but good attendants at church. The clergyman's Sunday sermon topic at which both attended happened to be temperance.

The next day while out visiting other members of his parish, the clergyman spied Mike coming out of a saloon with a pall of beer. The clergyman in surprise asked him if he had forgotten his Sunday sermon appeal on temperance. Mike said he remembered, but it was customary to get a pall of beer at lunch time. The clergyman talked to him awhile, and soon had the best of his good nature. He then said:

"Mike, if you are a man, you will empty the contents of that pall in the gutter."

He was just about ready to comply with the good man's wishes when it struck him that half of the beer belonged to Pat. Turning to the minister, he said:

"Pat is waiting for me, and paid for half of this beer, and my half is at the bottom."—National Monthly.

"Every married editor in Kansas feels like complimenting Mrs. Tom Thompson of the Howard Courant for this sentiment: 'I do not, after having carved several turkeys in the kitchen, where there is plenty of room, and from which place one can exercise her prerogative of authority and banish every living soul—can tuck up her sleeves and use both hands and a couple of towels; I say, after recalling this experience, I do not blame any man for not wishing to attempt such a feat at a time when the eyes of the assembled company are glued to the performance and nothing short of fire or panic could induce them to look at anything else. A beautifully brown roast turkey is a pleasing sight; but carving as an accomplishment is a game that is hardly worth the candle. It is unjust and unreasonable to expect a man who at best only makes the attempt a few times a year to perform gracefully a feat which would be none too pleasant with daily practice. I have long predicted that the day will come when this work will be relegated to the pantry or kitchen, where it belongs. It is a survival of ancient times when heaves, sheep and hogs were roasted whole. Except for the size, the carving fowls would long ago have gone the way of the others.'—Kansas City Star."

The American Lumber Company of Houston, has purchased property aggregating $7,100,000 and will begin operation at Orange in the near future.

Politics and Politicians

Milwaukee probably will be applicant for the prohibition national convention.

Democrats of Alabama are to give a great banquet in Birmingham on Nov. 23 in honor of Congressman Underwood, the Democratic leader in the lower house.

A special election will be held in the seventh congressional district of Kansas on January 9 to choose a successor to the late Representative E. H. Madison.

No one woman resident in the East will be able to vote for President next year, though 1,000,000 women in the Western States will enjoy that privilege.

The opinion is gaining ground among the politicians that the Republican national committee, when it meets in Washington next month, will choose Chicago as the place for holding the presidential convention.

Governor Simeon E. Baldwin, whom the Democrats of Connecticut are discussing for the presidential nomination, is one of America's foremost legal authorities. He was one of the first presidents of the American Bar Association and for many years was professor of constitutional law at Yale University.

Students of the University of Minnesota have organized a La Follette club to aid the Wisconsin senator's candidacy for the presidential nomination. To show that it was possessed of the true progressive spirit the club incorporated in its constitution the recall and its own officers.

At the luncheon given to Mr. Taft by the Bar Association a schedule was outlined to be followed strictly so that the President would not be late in leaving for the naval training station. The presiding officer whispered to Mr. Taft that the speaking would have to be cut in on the eating.

A fine, fat flet had just been placed before the principal guest and he looked at it longingly.

"I hope the speaking won't interfere with this," he sighed.—Chicago Evening Post.

Contract for the building of a residential hall at the Rice Institute, Houston, has been let. The hall will cost $202,000.

Fort Worth capitalists have organized an oil company with a capital stock of $250,000.

News From the Oil Fields

"Scout" contributes the following concerning the Electra oil field to the Independence, Kansas Reporter:

The Pierce-Fordyce Oil Company has purchased ground for a tank farm and loading rack facilities about one mile east of and along the Denver railroad, and already has men at work to put it in readiness to handle oil. This company will enter the field as an active competitor in the purchase of crude oil. It is understood that the Pierce-Fordyce Company has purchased a tract of land just north of Fort Worth and will at once begin the erection of a refinery at a cost of about $1,000,000. The Magnolia Petroleum Company and the Texas Company are actively engaged in preparations to lay pipe lines, the former to Corsicana and the latter to Dallas, where they each have refineries. In the meantime the production of the field which amounts to about 12,000 barrels a day is being taken care of by the Magnolia Petroleum Company by tank cars and also 35,000 barrel steel storage tanks. This company has four completed on its tank farm at Electra, and eleven more on the way. The Texas Company has two up. The Red River Oil Company will complete a 35,000 barrel tank by the first of next week and will follow this with another of the same capacity on its 80-acre lease. At present the storage tanks and pipe line facilities are taking good care of the field, however, some pretty tight places for handling the production have been passed, though it is now thought the pipe line and purchasing companies will be in shape to take good care of the field as they are making a special effort to do so.

As developments now stand, the field is about two and one-half miles northeast and southwest while the recent wells of the Red River Oil Co., No. 1 on the Allen, a mile to the northwest and the Benson Little No. 1 on the Douglas, the same distance to the southeast of the field, makes it fully three miles northwest to southeast. These wells add new interest to the field as they are both in the 950 foot sand, and show a considerable extent of this strata.

In the pioneer field, this sand is underlain by the 1,010 sand which is the most productive sand yet found in the field. The formation in the Benson Little well was regular to its present depth. This together with the failure of wells in the north and west has led the producers to hope out that the trend is southeast, and already Flannigan & Russell have a rig building on the J. A. Fisher, one and one-half miles to the southeast, and will have steam up within ten days. Other locations will follow to the east and south where some of the strong Oklahoma and Eastern companies are interested with good acreage.

The Benson Little well is being tested on pump at about ten feet in. It is showing for two to three thousand barrels. The gas has been giving trouble with the valve, but this is thought to have been overcome. A sand was encountered in this well at 300 feet that would make probably ten barrels natural. This well is being offset by the Corsicana Petroleum Company No. 1 Brewer.

Sands are found in the field as follows: 300, 640, 770, 840, 950, 1,010, 1,250, 1,400, 1,600, and 1,910 feet, possibly more will prove paying sands. This is the attractive feature of the Electra field, and one that will lead to extensive drilling and development work which is something new for the northern and eastern operators, and which in a way, will probably work to the advantage of the field in that it will have a tendency to hold down operations when the markets might be brought to a lower point in territory as easy to develop as Oklahoma or Kansas.

So much acreage is under lease in the east part of Wichita county, held by strong concerns that considerable wild-cattling may be anticipated in the near future. In fact a rig is now building on the Lovell land, a mile southeast of Bacon, sitting on the Northwestern railroad and about six miles from Wichita Falls. This project is being headed by the Culberson Oil Company of Wichita Falls.

Rumor has it that a well will soon be started at Dean, on the Valley railroad, five miles southwest of Peoria. A block of leases in this vicinity is held by Jack Kelly, of Nogales, Arizona. Jack Kelly is well known in mining, etc., in the Southwest and Old Mexico, and usually comes through with what he undertakes.

The picket line in leasing has been extended south to Coleman county by the companies coming in late whose lease men have taken up large acreage in the counties at this point and Electra and Trickman, Coleman county, at which place a pretty good gas well has been struck by a local company.

The Devonian Oil Company is drilling a well near Fulda, Baylor county on a part of the Webb ranch.

The Producers Company has two gas wells at Moran and another well drilling.

Leasing has been and is still quite active in these counties.

MILK DON'T'S FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Dr. Kirk, a bacteriological expert from Harvard University recently delivered an address at Dallas on the care of milk in which he gave the following don't's for the housewife:

- Don't buy milk unless you are sure it is clean.
- Don't expose milk, or its container, to the sun for an indefinite time.
- Don't put milk in a vessel that has not been previously scalded.
- Don't cook milk in vessels that are used for other purposes.

OIL LOTS FOR SALE

ELEGRA OIL FIELD

$10.00 EACH

The Powell Oil and Development Company owns in Block 211 211 acres of land situated about three miles south of degrees west from the Electric Hill Field. This acreage is being offered for sale on the market for the purpose of developing buildings.

The land is a part of the U. S. N. R. E. Survey of land located in Wichita County, Texas. Survey No. 24, Abstract No. 112.

Oil tests of excellent quality, including a test in the heart of the field, have been made for the purpose of determining the geological character of the oil-bearing strata. The oil strata runs north and south from the town of Electric.

The first shallow oil encountered is about three and a half miles southeast from our buildings. The 27 acres of land is laid out in 100-acre tracts and is also a 100-acre tract of the Powell Oil Company for lease purposes.

OUR PLAN.

There are 211 lots to be shown by 127 1/2 sq. miles with the county of Wichita County. Each lot contains one eighth acre. The purchaser of each lot is entitled to one share of capital stock of the company, when same is fully organized. When one half of the lot is sold we will put some large electric lights on a deep well to be put down to a depth of 2000 feet unless oil or gas is found in paying quantities in a less depth, and when same is completed it will be turned over to the stockholders to be controlled by a Board of Directors, who are in the center of the field will be reserved for the deep well. The price of these lots is $10 each in hand.

THE TIMES EMBROIDERY PATTERNS

BY SARAH HALE HUNTER

MOTIF FOR GOWNS OR FANCY WORK.

This dainty motif makes a charming decoration for gowns or fancy articles. It is done entirely in the outline stitch in either white or colors. Use mercerized cotton No. 18 for the work.

BUTTERFLY BOW

A little butterfly bow makes a pretty Christmas remembrance. This should be worked on handkerchief linen. The border is padded and then closely buttonholed. The dots are worked solid and the lines in the outline stitch. When the embroidery is finished the smaller bow is placed over the larger one and they are drawn together tightly in the middle and finished with a little fold of linen. Mercerized cotton No. 18 in colors or white is suitable for this pattern.

BASKET MOTIF IN CROSS STITCH FOR TOWELS.

This little cross stitch basket makes a pretty finish to the small guest towels used so much at present. It is worked in colored mercerized cotton. The basket in yellow or brown, the roses in pink, and the leaves in green. The work is most easy to do and the only thing to be remembered is that all the stitches which slant in one direction should be worked first and then crossed by those that slant in the opposite direction, and that all the stitches should run from right to left. The initials may be added under the basket. Mercerized cotton No. 12 should be used.

DIRECTIONS FOR TRANSFERRING.

In taking off these patterns, lay a piece of impression paper upon the material, place the newspaper pattern over this, and with a hard, sharp pencil draw firmly over each line. If the material is sheer it may be laid over the pattern and drawn off with a pencil, as the design will show through.

Joseph M. Weber's merry musical importation, "Alma, Where Do You Live?" is scheduled to appear at the Wichita Theatre soon. The piece is said to be one of the most exquisite musical farces that ever was brought to this country, and its melodies are of the humming and whistling kind.
The book is by Paul Herve, the music is by Jean Briquet, and the English translation was made by George V.
Hobart. A most alluring waft runs through the entire play. Nanette Black will be seen in the title role and Charles Murray, the well known comedian plays the principal comedy role.

The Common Law.

The "Common Law" which comes to the Wichita Theatre tonight is by far the best play written in recent years. Unlike many of the parlor plays, which are so common, and filled with so many inconsistent things the "Common Law" deals with a subject, which in all probability is the most widely discussed subject of the Universe today.

The play is full of heart interest and shows how great is the love of a woman for her kith and kin, and those near and dear to her. Many a woman has sold her honor and virtue to shield some one she loved. Such is the story of Jane Adams, the poor sculptress in the Common Law, who, when she finds her brother has robbed his employer, would willingly sell her virtue, for immunity from prison walls, for her brother.

Miss Irene Daniels, who plays the part of Jane Adams, in the Common Law, is one of the youngest leading women on the stage. The part of Jane Adams as portrayed by her, is with as much feeling, as one would have, were their brother in the same predicament.

There have been scores of plays on timely topics, many have had force as a theme, more of them have had love as a theme, but in the production of the Common Law it is, the first time this theme, which is the greatest crisis now facing humanity, has been used.

Every man and woman, whether single, married or divorced, or contemplating either, should see the "Common Law" for in it there is a lesson to be learned, which will never be forgotten.

Advance seat sale at Marchman's
Drug Store.

Madame Sherry.
Not very much of the story of Madame Sherry is revealed in the advance announcements. Mainly the thread of musical and other incidents of this big musical success concern a young New York unmarried man-about-town, sowing his wild oats on money sent him by an uncle who believes his nephew married and the father of two children. The uncle unexpectedly pays a visit to the studio of the nephew who, to support his story of domesticity, is forced to gather unto himself a family. He presses his very unpartisan housekeeper into service to pass as his wife, and gets his own sweetheart to pass as one of his children and an adult guest in his home to answer as his son.

It is from the comic embarrassments growing out of this first situation that the fun of the piece begins.
Of course attendant misadventures consequent upon the first deception follow one another throughout the play. The main love interest is introduced at the very outset with the arrival of the uncle, who brings a relative with him in the person of Yvonne Sherry, a young maid just out of a convent.

It develops that the sweetheart of the young man-about-town turns tickle and falls in love with the guest passing as her brother, a plight that opens the way for the mischievously shaming nephew and the visitant convent girl to become sweethearts which they do in what is declared to be one of the oddest ways in the world.

Incidentally it is the love of the convent girl and the nephew that introduced into the play as a love theme the air of the production "Every Body Has a Secret" which is now fast becoming a popular number all over the world.

Total Output of Gems.

It may perhaps be surprising to many people to learn that the United States produces almost every variety of precious stones—from diamonds down. The precious stones produced in this country last year had a value of $295,797, against $344,380 in 1909, according to an advance chapter from Mineral Resources of the United States on the production of gems and precious stones in 1910, by Douglas I. Sterrett, just published by the United States Geological Survey. The large decrease in the output of a few of the more important gem minerals—tourmaline, turquoise, chrysoberyl, etc.—says Mr. Sterrett, readily accounted for the fall in the value of production. As an instance of this decrease in production, about 8 1/2 tons of rough turquoise were produced in 1910, as compared with more than 17 tons in 1909.

All the diamonds produced in this country in 1910 came from Arkansas and California, the output of Arkansas amounting to about 200 stones. Several diamonds were found in California last year, one of which weighs about half a carat, and another between 1 3/4 and 2 carats. The latter is a brilliant, clear, flawless stone, with a tinge of yellow.

Colorado yields some very pretty garnets and some are being successfully handled in the tourist trade, but number of these stones sold each year at the summer resorts of the state are imported from Germany, where they have been polished. Orbitals are native stones polished abroad although some are polished in the United States.

In Montana a sapphire weighing over 4 1/2 carats has been found.
This stone when discovered had very hazy hue, the shape of a rough diamond crystal, on account of which it had very great refractive power.

In addition to discussing deposits of precious stones in the United States, Mr. Sterrett also describes foreign mines and their output. An account is given of the rediscovery of certain lost emerald mines in Columbia. When the Spanish took possession of that country in the Sixteenth Century the emerald mines of the Indians were seized by them.

Excessive cruelties were practiced by the Spanish mine workers on the Indians employed in the mines. In the war of independence of 1816 the country was so desolated that the mines of Coscoque and Somonoco were entirely lost. A Columbian named Francisco Restrepo, guided by a few hints given in ancient Spanish parchment maps, and with little or no knowledge of geology or emeralds, undertook the search for the lost emerald mines. In 1836 he found traces of ancient workings and later the large workings of the lost mines.
These mines are situated on a ridge of the great eastern range of the Andes, at an elevation of about 9,000 feet above sea level. The great open cuts and tunnels were scattered over an area six miles long and three miles wide.

Tonight's Attraction. "The Common Law," Lem B. Parker's play will be presented at the Wichita Theatre tonight by Montgomery E. Brewster's splendid company.

In speaking of the attraction the Daily Oklahoman has this to say: "The theme, as the name implies, is the common law marriage, and the author has treated the problem with a strong argument on both sides. Presented by characters sincere and convincing in their views, it met last night with the success it deserves. A strong, appealing love story is the basis of the argument, and, aided by the alternation of the plot, development of the story is given an intensely compelling interest. There is a comedy vein running through the four acts to supply a foil for the serious parts. The characters are all strongly and consistently drawn. Jane Adams, a sculptress, the woman involved in the common law problem, is in the capable hands of Miss Irene Daniel, who endows the character with the sturdy principles and self reliance so necessary to the part, and deserves great credit for her natural rendition of a most difficult part. Mr. Brewster himself, was seen as Leonard Miller, the big-hearted patron of the race track and the friend and lover of Jane Adams. His rendition of the part is splendid. Roger de Coverly as Cyril

Blake, the New York diamond merchant and advocate of the "common law marriage," realizes the requirements of a most exacting role and gives an idea of quiet power that is most convincing of the complex character role he assumes. William Rath as Benjamin Adams, the weak, spoiled utterly selfish son of a dotting and equally weak mother, is startlingly realistic in his portrayal of that character. Miss Bernice Atwood is a vivacious, pretty young woman, who leaves nothing to be desired in her part as Lotta Adams, Ben's shallow, frivolous, commonplace wife, while

Miss Lella Meredith as Ben and Jane Adams' mother, also is good. The balance of the excellently balanced cast is capable.

At the Gem. The patrons of the picture show want comedy and that is just what we have today. A vitagraph with two subjects on one reel and the best they have ever put out.

Don't miss it. Same will be run today and tomorrow. The Wrong Patient and Queer Folk is the title of the comedy and Mr. Bunny, the fat man is the patient.

We want every family in Wichita Falls to test our fresh roasted coffee, and see the difference between it and goods roasted out of town. We know that one pound means repeat orders, and are willing to pay something for that first order. Have hit upon the following plan—Commencing Wednesday, November 15th until December 1st we will take orders for a special blend at 35c per pound. This coffee to be roasted by us and delivered the same day it is roasted. Each pound purchased entitles the purchaser to submit a name for this particular blend and we will pay the party who submits the most appropriate name (which we will adopt for this blend) the sum of Ten Dollars. We are to be the sole judge, but the Ten Dollars will be paid to someone who submits a name for the coffee. The coffee will be delivered and award made as soon as possible after December 1st.—which will be within the first five days of the month. Our solicitors will make a canvas of the city but that no one may miss the opportunity we will accept telephone and mail orders and orders may be left at the store. Now we promise you will get more than full value for your 35c and in addition you get a chance at the $10.00. If the coffee don't make good we are the loser as we are staking our reputation as roasters on this deal. All coffee sold by us under the name adopted will be exactly like the first pound. As these orders will be small will expect to collect on delivery.
