PRESIDENT TAFT CHICAGO'S GUEST

TAKES PART ON ST PATRICK'S DAY CELEBRATION IN THAT CITY TODAY.

IS ATTACKED BY WOMAN

Supposedly-insane Woman Makes Futile Attempt to Get to His Automobile.

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Mar. 17.—President Taft arrived in Chicago early today and became the guest of the Irish Fellowship Club. The city is fairly buried in green emblems and bunting and this is the biggest St. Patrick's day ever celebrated in this city.

The president was met at the station by a regiment of the National Guard of Illinois and a large reception committee and all immediately swung into the line of the St. Patrick's Day parade, which marched down Michigan Avenue to the downtown district and was escorted to the La Salle hotel.

This afternoon the president will deliver an address at the Auditorium, on conservation. Two receptions in the afternoon are planned to be followed by a banquet of the Irish Fellowship Club. He will leave for Rochester at 11 o'clock.

Soon after the president left the train the procession was halted for about five minutes owing to the attempts of a woman calling herself Jennie Mud, who was trying to get into the president's automobile. The woman, who struggled violently, was finally subdued and placed under arrest. No weapons were found on her, and the attack was thought to be the result of insanity.

From Thursday's Daily.
Farmers in the city today report that yesterday's rain was very beneficial to all crops. While the precipitation was not large, it soaked in thoroughly.

STRIKE SITUATION IS NOT CHANGED LOCALLY; FIREMEN AWAIT ORDERS

From Wednesday's Daily.
Extending from Childress, Texas, and Mangum, Oklahoma, on the Northwest, nearly to Fort Worth on the Southeast and reaching all points on the Valley and the Southern, a steady soaking rain has been falling today, beginning locally about 5 o'clock this morning. The local rainfall up to the noon hour was about half an inch, though at some points in this territory there was fully an inch of precipitation.

Reports received from Childress, Quanah, Vernon, Mangum and Frederick report good rainfall there. Mangum reports that the rain which began there at midnight last night, is now accompanied by colder weather. The value to crops in this section is immeasurable. The need of rain was just beginning to be felt on many points in Northwest Texas and both grain and cotton will be very materially benefitted and the coming of the rain has set the public mind much more at ease on the crop outlook.

Childress, Mar. 16.—A heavy rain which breaks a drought of a month has been falling over the lower Panhandle since 10 o'clock last night. The towns of Tell, Kirkland, Carey, Arlie, Garden Valley, and Riverside report over an inch. This is worth thousands of dollars to ranchmen and farmers.

VISITORS COME TO HEAR COL-QUITT'S ADDRESS AND TO MEET THE CANDIDATE.

ASSURANCE OF SUPPORT

He Receives Much Encouragement
From Friends Here—Holds Informal Reception.

Yesterday was Colquitt day in Wich- ita Falls. Some hundreds of the candi- date's friends from over North Tex- as, many of them from distant parts of the state were in the city to hear him deliver his opening address and cheer him on. The bad weather made the attendance probably much smaller than it otherwise would have been, but even in the face of this disagree- able feature, hundreds of the candi- date's friends were here.

The program for the morning has consisted only of an informal recep- tion at the Elks' Club Rooms, where the citizens took advantage of the op- portunity to meet him. It had been planned to take him for an automobile ride over the city, but on account of the weather, this was abandoned. A brass band dispensed music on the streets during the morning.

Mr. Colquitt was the guest of Wiley Blair at dinner yesterday the two being old friends. At 1 o'clock, he formally opened his campaign at the court house.

Throughout his visit in this city Mr. Colquitt has met hundreds of his friends and has received warm assur- ance of support in the campaign.

At the conclusion of his address yesterday, Mr. Colquitt was then taken out to Lake Wichita, with the other visitors, and given an oppor- tunity to see the attractions at that resort. At night he and the visiting newspaper men were guests at a box party at "The Third Degree," at the Wichita Theatre. This was followed by a reception at the Elks' Club, where matters of a social na- ture were enjoyed. This concluded the program for the day.

YOUNG MAN MEETS DEATH IN LAKE

JOSEPH RUSSELL IS DROWNED
WHEN FISHING SKIFF OVER-TURNS WITH HIM.

TRIED TO SWIM TO LAND

Rescuing Party in Boat Was Close at Hand When He Was Seized With Attack of Cramps.

From Wednesday's Daily.
The capsizing of a small boat near the western end of the lake late yester- day afternoon resulted in the death of Joe Russell, aged twenty-three. Rus- sell went down in about fifteen feet of water and life was extinct when his body was recovered at 7:30 last even- ing. The accident occurred shortly before 5 o'clock.

In company with his brother-in-law, Robert Reed, Russell was running a trot line and both men were standing in the boat, which became over-balan- ced in some manner, precipitating the two men into the water, which is about twenty-five feet deep at that point. The boat was swept beyond their reach by the waves and they were compelled to swim about fifty yards to where a small tree stood in the water. From this point they were able to haul Mrs. Russell, who was on the shore, and she realizing their peril, went for help.

The men found themselves getting thoroughly chilled from remaining in the water and determined not to wait until help came, but to swim for the shore. They had gone but a short way when Russell sank suddenly and never re-appeared. Reed was picked up a minute or two later by the res- cuing boat and an effort was made to find Russell's body. After a search of about two hours it was found. From the position of the limbs and the condi- tion of the body, it was evident that cramps had been the cause of his death.

A wife and child survive Russell, who had only come here recently from Montague County. He was employed on the irrigation ditch near the lake, being a farmer by profession. The remains were taken charge of by the North Texas Furniture and Coffin Co., and were shipped to Nocona, Montague County, this afternoon for burial.

The boat used by the two men, which was more than anything else responsible for Russell's death, was a flat-bottom skiff, not at all suited for use on the lake. The accident occur- red near the extreme west end of the lake, about five miles from the pavil- ion.

When H. Clay Pierce revisits Austin, he will hardly be able to resist smil- ing behind his hand when he passes the court house.

MONTHLY TRADES DAY TO BE HELD

LOCAL MERCHANTS TO HAVE A
SPECIAL DAY ON FIRST MON-DAY IN EACH MONTH.

FARES MAY BE REFUNDED

Plan of Other Texas Cities May Be Adopted Here—Joins State Retail Association.

From Thursday's Daily.
Plans for holdin a monthly Trades Day, offering special inducements to farmers and out-of-town customers, were formulated last night at a meet- ing of the Retail Merchants Associa- tion. James Breen of Austin, secreta- ry of the State Association, was pres- ent and at his suggestion it was decid- ed to apply for membership in the state organization. Mr. Breen address- ed the meeting and offered a number of suggestions.

It was suggested that the plan adopt- ed in many of the larger cities of the state, offering to refund railroad fare to out-of-town customers who made a certain amount of purchases here would work well here, but no final ac- tion was taken on this matter. An- other meeting will be held next Wednesday night to complete the plans for the monthly Trades Day.

This Trades Day will probably be held on the first Monday in each month, when special bargains will be offered and prizes will probably be put up for the best specimens of country produce brought in, the oc- casion being a miniature agricultural fair. This plan has worked very suc- cessfully in other places and it is be- lieved will work to advantage in Wich- ita Falls. If the railroad fare refund matter can also be provided for, the inducements will be still more mater- ial.

The State Retail Merchants Associa- tion, of which the local organization has become a member, is an affilia- tion of the various local associations and is a strong organization for com- mon protection.

BALLINGER TALKS ON CONSERVATION

ADDRESSES STATE CONVENTION AT ST. PAUL TODAY—DISCUSSES MATTERS FREELY.

TAKES DIG AT PINCHOT

Says Mineral Wealth of This Country is in No Danger of Being Exhausted.

St. Paul, Minn., March 16.—As ardent an advocate of wise conservation as the most radical, was the way in which Secretary Ballinger of the Interior Department, in a speech today before the State Conservation Convention, expressed his policy in regard to the public land question. "But," he added, "it must be wise conservation to appeal to me."

Secretary Ballinger declared himself out of sympathy with those radicals who fear that all natural resources are being used up without any consideration for future generations.

"Our country," he said "is the richest of all in natural resources. Its soils, its granite, its limestone, its water power and its climate possess immeasurable wealth, and, if properly utilized, contain sufficient resources to care for all probable increase in the population of our country in the years to come."

He said that while "the doctrinaires figure that the coal deposits of the United States and Alaska will be exhausted in a period of about one hundred years, the fact is that, according to the production of coal in the United States at the close of 1908, only 0.4 of 1 per cent of the original supply of coal had been exhausted, leaving as the apparent supply still available 99.6 per cent of the original supply of coal; enough to last, as some claim, for a period of 7,000 years."

"After long indifference on the part of the people as to the public domain," he declared, "a deep concern has suddenly arisen respecting the remnant of the national estate, with a wholly exaggerated notion of what should be done with it by the government. There is much talk about the conservation of our natural resources, and nabalous theories that sound good to the ear, but are impossible of practical application to existing conditions, are advanced. Between the hysteria that exists on the one side and the tendency to despoil the public domain on the other, we will, it is hoped, be able to find the true policy of the government."

He expressed the opinion that "a greater obligation rests upon the states than upon the general government to inaugurate laws to prevent waste in the utilization of national resources." There has been a greatly exaggerated notion among some people, he declared, as to what the general government can do in conserving the natural resources that lie in the deposits of minerals, and are contained in the soils and the streams. For the most part, he pointed out, they have passed into private ownership and are under the municipal ownership of the states.

"It seems to me," he continued, "that we should not try to impose the whole burden of conservation on the general government, but leave it to the states and to the municipalities to work out, except insofar as national interference is necessary to protect national interests; and I want to be understood as opposed to the theory that, because the state has no exercised to the full its powers in the matter of reforms, its fact the national government must exercise them."

"The national government," he said, "cannot enter the state and dictate the means or methods of the development of its streams and rivers, except insofar as their navigation is concerned." Wise conservation in his opinion, implied "as full and free development of our natural resources as is consistent with our civilization and needs."

"But we must not forget," he asserted, "that we are not through with the policy of development, of building up new communities and settlements, even in far off Alaska. We have not reached that period where we can say the remainder of our public lands shall be auctioned off to the highest bidder to increase the revenues of the national treasury. They must still be used as inducements to increase thrifty settlements and provide new homes to landless settlers and to promote commerce and industrial pursuits in the most remote regions of the west."

"What the public domain needs today is a speedy survey of all available areas for settlement; an adequate and scientific classification of the remainder of the public lands, and such legislation as will enable a determination of all private entries and rights in the interest of the bona fide claimant without unreasonable delay, and, above all, protection against the monopolization or waste of our natural resources."

Mr. Ballinger declared that the present laws and methods of disposal of deposits of coal, phosphates, oil and natural gas are utterly impractical, either from the standpoint of the locator or that of the government, "and no adequate method exists," he added, "for controlling or supervising hydro-electric power produced from power plants installed on government water power sites. No man or set of men can comply with the present law and finance a coal mine on the public domain on 640 acres of land except under extremely favorable conditions. The absurdity of the law in itself invited fraud and indirect methods of evading its provisions. It is hoped congress will furnish the interior department with the necessary machinery to guard safely and properly the public interests in their ultimate disposition."

Bronchial Tubes All Stopped Up

"While a resident of Washington, D. C., I suffered continually and intensely with a bronchial trouble that was simply terrible to endure. I would have spells that I could hardly breathe and I would choke up, fill up in my throat and bronchial tubes, and the doctoring that I did and the remedies used were of no benefit to me whatever. I heard about Booth's Hyomel being so beneficial in catarrhal and bronchial affections, and procured an outfit. I received relief from the first by its use. I continued with it and received a cure. It is about two years since I have suffered at all from my former trouble."—Mrs. R. L. Pannell, 404 N. Augusta street, Staunton, Va., March 26, 1909.

Hyomel is guaranteed by The Week's Drug Co., to cure catarrh, croup, bronchitis, coughs, colds and sore throat or money back.

A complete Hyomel (pronounced High-o-me) outfit costs $1.00 at drug stores everywhere. This includes a hard rubber pocket inhaler and bottle of Hyomel; extra bottle Hyomel cost 50c.

Wichita Has It.

Any community with an abundant water supply is well equipped for assimilating the pay roll a mile long if proper publicity is given the fact, and the investment dollar is met half way in the spirit of friendliness and co-operation. For this reason The Star-Telegram has been urging cities and towns, desirous to expand in markets and industry, to look to their water supply. This from the Wall Street Journal is first-class evidence of the soundness of the Star-Telegram's contention: "Construction of a 10,000,000-gallon water storage reservoir at Youngstown Ohio, is expected to result in an immediate expenditure of $20,000,000 for mills. Water attracts the capitalist—when it is in the right place." Solve your water problem if it peels the hide off and over-drafts the municipal treasury. Let us grow.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Cheese vs. Pork

Most of us can't even look at pork now—$11.00 for his majesty, King Pork! Whew! Well, what of that? Cheese hasn't gone up and when you figure it out, a pound of cheese is worth just about four times as much as a pound of pork, in any form, and costs only a few pennies more per pound than even the cheaper cuts of pork.

Our Burnham Cream Cheese is rich, mild and ripe; very appetizing, very wholesome and very satisfying. No waste; you eat it all; requires no cooking (unless you wish to combine with it something else) and contains more condensed goodness per pound than any other meat substitute known.

Eat more cheese at 25c per pound—that's the best solution to the high meat problem.

KILLED HIS FATHER.

To Try Youth for Patricide in South Carolina.

Laurens, S. C., Mar. 14.—John Irby Fuller, an 18-year-old youth who last November shot and killed his father, Jesse V. Fuller, a prominent farmer, will be tried for murder at the spring term of the general sessions court for Laurens county, which convened today with Judge Charles G. Dantzler of Orangeburg presiding.

The shooting of Fuller by his son was the result, it is alleged, of frequent family quarrels, culminating on the morning of November 27, in what is said to have been a brutal attack upon Mrs. Fuller by her husband. The young man is said to have fired upon his father warning the latter not to strike his mother again.

Show Opens at Fort Worth.

Fort Worth, Mar. 14.—Mayor W. D. Davis, in making his opening address at the convention of the Texas Cattle Raisers Association today warmly criticized Governor Campbell for failure to attend the convention, as he agreed and said the killing of a Mexican by an American at Fairfurlias was a flimsy excuse. Governor Haskell of Oklahoma at the last moment also advised he was unable to attend, although Governor Shallenberger of Nebraska was on the platform and made the first formal speech. He was loudly cheered. Cone Johnson and William Poindexter are here with a large following. The Poindexter Club with 600 delegates came up from Cleburne. R. V. Davidson has not arrived so far.

BILL WAS SIDETRACKED.

Burleson's Oleo Bill Shelved by the Dairy Interests. Washington, D. C., Mar. 14.—Representative Burleson today confirmed the reported effort to sidetrack his oleo margarine bill by the house agricultural committee. Burleson lays the blame upon the dairy interests and declares he will continue trying to get action on the measure.

CASE STILL ON TRIAL.

Mabray Trial Continues Along Same Lines. Council Bluffs, Mar. 15.—The Government continued its case against Mabray and his associates in the United States District Court today. The testimony was similar to that already produced.

INTERNATIONAL DISPUTE.

Amicable Adjustment of El Paso Matter is Probable.

El Paso, Tex., March 15.—Should the state department turn over 'Chamizal zone' to Mexico as a result of the boundary dispute between the two countries, Mexico will receive only a small portion of El Paso. The Chamizal strip is four blocks wide, parallels the river and is occupied mostly by dobe Mexican shacks. The Island of San Elizario, which the state department may trade to Mexico if the latter abandons its Chamizal claims, is not under dispute. The island is on the Mexican side of the river, thirty miles below El Paso, but the boundary is marked by monuments erected by the International Commission, showing it is Texas' property. Three hundred farmers live on the island.

TEXAS FREIGHT CASES.

Arguments Made Today Before Interstate Commission. Washington, Mar. 12.—Concluding arguments are being made before the Interstate Commerce Commission today in which Texas is trying to obtain lower freight rates from the Railroad companies. S. H. Cowan of Fort Worth and chairman Mayfield of the Texas Railroad Commission have furnished addresses. Judge Terry of Galveston is closing for the Railroads. No decision will be announced for two weeks.

END NOT IN SIGHT.

No Change Noted in the Strike Situation Today. Philadelphia, Pa., March 12.—With the federal government interested, the National Civic Federation appealed to for assistance, and nearly every local trade and other organizations aroused to action, all Philadelphia hopes to see the general movement started yesterday to end the big conflict, bring about the desired end. The strike leaders look for no break, and believe the sympathizing strikers will stand firm.

CORPORATION TAX CASE.

Government Submits Defense of Measure's Constitutionality. Washington Mar. 15.—The Government's defense of the constitutionality of the corporation tax provisions of the new tariff law was submitted today in printed form to the Supreme Court of the United States. Upon it the Government will shape its oral defense of the law when corporation tax cases comes up for argument, probably on Thursday.

NO MORE FIVE-CENT ICE.

New York Must Buy Dime's Worth or None.

Calvin Tompkins, commissioner of docks and ferries, yesterday held a hearing in regard to the congestion on the river front and listened to representatives of the ice companies. While opinions were widely divergent between the men who represented the independent companies and the representatives of the American Ice Company, there was unanimity as regards the probable price to be paid for ice by the consumer this coming summer. All agreed that for the present, at any rate, the high-water mark had been reached, and that during the warm months to come ice would be cheaper than for some years.

'Do you think that the five-cent piece of ice will return this year?' Mr. Oler, president of the American Ice Company, was asked by a World reporter, after the hearing.

'No,' Mr. Oler replied, 'I do not believe that there will be anything cheaper than the ten-cent piece of ice. That will not be because ice will not be low in price, but because the cost of handling it will preclude the possibility of selling a piece of ice for that sum.'

The hearing revealed that the artificial ice companies had so increased their output as to seriously threaten the supremacy of the natural ice companies. Mr. Oler said that there would probably be manufactured 8000 tons of ice daily this summer.

Mr. Oler said that the American Ice Company had increased its holdings in artificial ice plants and had reduced its output of natural ice.

Probably another hearing will be held next Thursday.—The New York World.

MR COLQUITT'S SPEECH.

From Thursday's Daily.
No matter to what degree we may differ with Candidate Colquitt in his attitude on the leading questions of the day, and no matter how his opinions may cross ours in the treatment of these same questions, it cannot be denied that his speech delivered in Wichita Falls today places him fairly and squarely on record on every issue. Without equivocation and without dodging, he constructs his platform and stands on it firmly with both feet.
The picture that he paints in his closing remarks is a pretty one and portrays conditions as the vast majority of us would like to see them. In general, the whole tenor of Mr. Colquitt's remarks is pleasing and cannot fail to meet with favor. The speech shows careful thought and in it are reflected the many and varied experiences of a long and useful public service.

As has been said, the Times is not supporting Mr. Colquitt. But it is fair to say that if this candidate lives up to the platform outlined in Wichita Falls today, the failure of the people of Texas to elect him to the governor's chair would be not from any failure to recognize and appreciate his statesmanship, but because of the opinions he holds on some certain issues. That Mr. Colquitt is an able and clever man is brought most surely home to us by hearing his speech today, and there are in his makeup many of those elements that constitute good gubernatorial timber.

The Times feels that Wichita Falls has been honored in having Mr. Colquitt make his campaign opening here, and the many nice things he had to say about Wichita Falls were appreciated. And if the people of Texas, in their wisdom, do not feel that he is the proper man for the governor's chair, we extend him an invitation now to come to Wichita Falls and share that prosperity he attributes to us.

SPLENDID CHARITY.

John D. Rockefeller, the millionaire oil king, proposes to distribute his immense wealth to his liking. To do this he will ask Congress to grant a charter for a corporation having for its object the present and future distribution of his wealth. One-third of his fortune is to go to charity, one-third to promote education and the other third to his family. It is claimed the charity is to be used to meet all needs of mankind due to fire, flood, pestilence and earthquake.—Bowie Cross Timbers.

Mr. Rockefeller is a great man. Only such a one would give his fortune away wholesale. Of course, a third of his wealth is more than his family needs or can really use, but that isn't the point. It is all his; he acquired it by methods which many consider reprehensible, but which are not a whit worse than those whereby thousands of smaller fortunes have been made. Conscience does not appear to be pricking him. He does not regard his money as tainted, and his giving it to good uses is a resplendent testimonial to the generosity of his heart.—Dallas News.

The Lancaster Herald wonders why there are not more cooking clubs organized by the women in the towns and cities of the land. In these days of dealing with the "hired girl" proposition, cooking clubs would go a long long way toward relieving the situation.

The prohibitionists in Arkansas two years ago split on whether they would ask the legislature for statutory prohibition or submission of the question to the people. They got neither, and now they are wondering why they did not get together.

The question of which of the gubernatorial candidates is the handsomest has arisen, and is making trouble. The extensive deforested area on the dome of Polindexter disqualifies him at the start, but the other three have good looks to spare.

We are sorry for Mr. Colquitt's sake that we have not the regular Wichita Falls brand of weather for him, but we dare say he will agree with us that a rain ought not to hold even for a gubernatorial candidate.

PEARY WON'T PRODUCE THE PROOFS.

Peary's refusal to submit his proofs to congress or to scientific bodies other than the National Geographic Society ought to dispose of the bill to retire him with increased rank and pay. The excuse of contracts with publishers is not sufficient. Peary might submit his proofs without their being used to detriment to himself or publishers and he might fortify his position by submitting them to the University of Copenhagen and geographical societies of Europe. But he evidently doesn't choose to do so and he is giving rise to doubts of the success of his expedition.

Peary entirely overlooks his obligations to the United States government. He has devoted the best of thirteen years to polar expeditions and all the while he has been drawing a salary as commander in the naval service. In other words, he has been given almost continuous leave of absence for thirteen years for prosecuting his personal plans and has drawn pay from the United States for so doing. Though far from the retiring age, he wants to retire with the rank of rear admiral of the first-class and draw still higher pay for life, so that he may proceed to cash in at high rates the results of his work on Uncle Sam's time.

Captain Hobson made an ineffectual attempt to retire for cause when he wished to go into politics and congress turned him down. Then Hobson resigned. That course is still open to Peary and nobody would care a continental if he should resign.

The naval committee of the house of representatives may rest assured that 90 per cent of the people of the United States are opposed to Peary's being granted any recognition whatever until the proof of his having reached the pole has been submitted to competent authorities and settled beyond the shadow of a doubt. The verdict of the National Geographic Society, of which Peary is a member, is not satisfactory. The whole world demands the confirmatory judgment of recognized scientific bodies throughout the world and Peary ought to furnish it or efface himself as a north pole discoverer. But whether he efface himself or not, congress should not misrepresent the people of the United States by according him honors, emoluments and a pension until he does some across with satisfactory proof.

There is no rush about the matter, except to fatten Peary's bank account. Congress can wait until in the progress of events—the execution of the contract with publishers—the proofs are finally made public. Peary will live in the meantime and reap from his books, articles and lectures, and then when his proofs are in possession of the world and the verdict is made up it will be time enough to accord him high honors for his alleged achievements.

From the way Peary and his partisans are attempting to rush through the bill in his behalf, the country is quite justified in suspecting that something is wrong. Cook fooled and swindled the country and there is no reason to believe that others are too good to do so, especially a man who has exhibited Peary's traits of character.—Houston Post.

A monkey which recently died in Dallas was valued at fifty thousand dollars. If education can do that much for a monkey, what could it do for a man?

While the president is calling for so many resignations, he might request that chauffeur of his for one.

G. J. Gibbs, secretary of the Texas Grain Dealers Association, is authority for the statement that the state of Texas has now nearly five million people and consumes annually about 25,000,000 bushels of wheat, 250,000,000 bushels of corn and 30,000,000 bushels of oats.

The Wichita Falls Times predicts that Dallas will always be the largest city and commercial center of Texas, but that Wichita Falls is destined to be the metropolis of the universe. When a prophet is half right, he is entitled to honor in his own country.—Dallas News.

The first hogs that ever brought above the ten-cent mark in the southwest were from Wichita County. We won't insult the intelligence of our readers by pointing out the moral of this.

Disregarding the many requests for it to name the next governor of Texas, the Waco Times-Herald, with customary incoercibility, picks Teddy for the next president.

Now, that Roosevelt is out of Africa, we rise to inquire where the daily joke writers are going to get material for their gag column.

It seems that Prophet Patten finds that he can get all the honor that is coming to him in his own country.

Just to give an idea of how much profit the insurance companies are realizing from their business in Wichita Falls, the books of one of the local agencies show that during the past four years he has collected and forwarded to the insurance companies in premiums the neat little sum of $25,000, and during the same period the same companies who took these premiums have paid out in losses in the city the measly sum of $4,000. The Times has not been furnished with the figures from the other agencies, but understands that all of them, with possibly two exceptions, show that they have collected about $5 premium money for every $1 lost the companies sustained. As a whole, the premiums paid for fire insurance during the past four years will show fully $4 for every $1 that has been paid out for losses. With such a showing as this, there is no justice whatever in more than doubling the fire insurance rates for Wichita Falls.

Those thirty-four girls in a Missouri college who pushed the piano against the door of the gymnasium and spent the day dancing are now paying the penalty by having to commit to memory the constitution of the United States. They will no doubt read with peculiar interest the provision forbidding cruel punishment.

The United States can well afford to turn over one whole day out of each year to the Irish, for if there hadn't ever been any Irish, these United States would have been much worse off.

A man who shows such rare discernment and such splendid judgment in the selection of a place to open his campaign as Mr. Colquitt did, cannot make such a very bad governor.

Those Manchester cotton men have the laugh on Speculator Patten at present. The laugh will be on the other fellow when he gets to pulling his strings next summer and fall.

When the list of "good things" for Wichita Falls during March is recorded, the rain that is falling today will not be put at the bottom of the column.

Congressman Macon of Arkansas has suspended criticism of Peary long enough to return to his district and appeal to the people for another term.

Even the report of the Mabray million dollar faking schemes does not take the belt away from Dr. Cook.

Mr. Patten of Chicago, the gentleman who successfully cornered the grain market when stocks were low, and who subsequently took a flyer in the cotton market with a resultant big advance in the quotations of the staple is now credited with contemplation of a big deal in May cotton. The deal may prove profitable to Mr. Patten and correspondingly unprofitable to some others, but only those who put their hands in the fire will get their fingers burned.—San Antonio Express.

Mr. Patten is one in possibly ten thousand who have won at the game. The other 9999 whose money has found its way into Patten's pockets have probably learned by this time that it is no use to get into a game that one doesn't know how to play. They probably thought they knew, but are doubtless convinced by this time that they are only a school of "suckers," and if there were fewer suckers, there would be fewer fellows like Patten. This business of raising wheat in Chicago and cotton in New Orleans has about played out in Texas.

The Times is pleased to make the announcement that on and after April 1st, Mr. Geo. Trevathan, late of Batesville, Ark., will be connected in an active way with the Times. Mr. Trevathan, besides being a thorough newspaper man, is a high-toned gentleman, with whom it is a pleasure to meet and become acquainted. He is now making his arrangements to establish his home in this city, and when that is done he will take up his work with the Times.

The Chamber of Commerce has set march 29th as "Clean-up Day" for Wichita Falls, and the proper managers and committees have been named to carry out the work on about the same plan as was the case last year, when over 500 men and teams turned out and gave the city such a thorough cleaning as it had never before had.

The son of Secretary of State Knox is to receive a monthly allowance of one hundred dollars. With that and about twenty-five dollars more, he and his bride could rent a nice little cottage in Wichita Falls.

Dispatches from Philadelphia state that the public is still hopeful. Being hopeful is one prerogative that nobody can ever take away from us common people.

The saying that nothing is too good for the Irish is attended by the fact that such large numbers of them have come to make their homes in Wichita Falls.

CONSERVATIONISTS MEET.

Ballinger and Pinchot to Speak at St. Paul Today.
St. Paul, Minn., March 18.—The Auditorium was the scene today of the assemblage of many distinguished figures in the political, industrial and educational life of the nation. It was perhaps the most notable gathering that has ever met in the northwest to consider questions of great public importance. The occasion was the opening of the first Minnesota Conservation and Agricultural Development Congress, which convened in response to a proclamation issued some time ago by Governor Eberhart.
Promptly at 10 o'clock this morning the congress was called to order by Governor Eberhart and was opened with an address by Archbishop Ireland. The opening addresses, appointment of the necessary committees and other incidental business occupied the remainder of the forenoon.
At 2 o'clock this afternoon the delegates re-assembled to discuss the subject of "State Conservation and Development." The program of the session provided for addresses as follows:

"Practical Conservation and Agricultural Development in Minnesota," Governor Adolph O. Eberhart; "National Conservation and the Obligation and Opportunities of the States," Richard A. Ballinger, Secretary of the Interior; "Minnesota—A State on the Eve of a Wonderful Future," Professor Albert Woods, dean of the Minnesota State Agricultural College.
The congress will continue in session throughout the remainder of the week. The prominent speakers to be heard include Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester of the United States; James J. Hill, of the Great Northern Railway; Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the Department of Agriculture; Dr. Charles R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin; Dr. John F. Fulton, president of the Associated Charities of New York City, and C. J. Blanchard of the United States reclamation service.

Much interest centers in the addresses of Secretary Ballinger and Gifford Pinchot, not only because of the high stations the federal government has given them, but also because of the decided differences as to policy which has brought them into sharp conflict with each other.

WOMAN STARTS NEW CRUSADE.

Heien L. Evans Wants Corporal Punishment for Children Abolished.
Mrs. Heien Lowman Evans, a former teacher in the Cleveland kindergartens, is to start a crusade to abolish corporal punishment of children by parents. She is the first person in the world to undertake such an achievement.

"During my experience in the schools, I realized the need of a great reform in the home discipline of children," said Mrs. Evans.

"Corporal punishment is a resource of the educated as well as the ignorant of rich and poor alike.

"Wherever there is anger and lack of self-control on the part of the parent the child pays the penalty, often to relieve the feelings of the offended parent.

"Corporal punishment is futile. It does not cure. It has to be repeated. And it has nothing whatever to do with making a child good.

"It isn't the temporary physical pain which is the worst feature, though that is debasing, both to parent and child.

"It is the moral and mental harm which is insidious and lasting. Repeated whippings inevitably cause deceit. The frank child learns to tell falsehoods in self-defense. He grows sly and secretive. He becomes cringing and cowardly.

"And these moral conditions hamper the development of the child's mind. Every observant teacher recognizes the child that is stupid because it is afraid, the child that can neither originate nor imitate because it is over-punished at home. This crushing out of ideals is fatal to success when the boy enters the business world.

"Of course, discipline of some kind is necessary. It should commence in the cradle. The child should never be allowed to learn what it means to disobey and the obedience will be immediate and implicit. It must be founded on research and trust. These are the very things which corporal punishment kills."—Milwaukee Journal.

AWARDS CONTRACT FOR MACHINERY

NORTHWESTERN PLACES ORDER FOR EQUIPMENT FOR NEW REPAIR SHOPS.

SPEND FIFTY THOUSAND

Equipment Will Include Modern Shop Machinery For Use by the Northwestern.

From Monday's Daily.

The Wichita Falls and Northwestern awarded the contract Saturday for the machinery for the shops it is to construct in this city, to Maxwell, Manning & Moore of St. Louis. The machinery equipment includes turntables, lathes, foundry furnishings and the other things that go to make up a well equipped railroad machine shop. The contract was eagerly sought by the representatives of a large number of concerns.

The total cost of the machinery ordered will be in the neighborhood of fifty thousand dollars, while the cost of the buildings themselves will be as much more, making a total expenditure for the shops of fully one hundred thousand dollars. The contract for the buildings is to be awarded before the end of the month and the work will be under way as soon as possible.

The shops will employ about twenty-five men at first, and this force will be increased as the needs of the company demand. So far in its history the Northwestern has been without shop facilities and practically all of its repair work has been done in the shops of other railroads. It has been planned, ever since the road was first built, to build shops here and the officers of the road put this plan into execution as soon as it was feasible.

STATISTICS OF THE BIG CITIES.

Cost of Street Lighting and Cleaning in the Year 1907.

Washington, Mar. 14.—Many interesting comparisons appear in the United States Census Bureau's special annual report on the statistics of the 158 cities having a population of over 30,000 each for 1907.

The section devoted to the subject of street lighting includes payments for expenses of street lighting per acre of land and per capita, lights classified by kind, number, candle power, price per light per year, number of hours lighted per year, and average number of each kind of lights to each 100 miles of streets.

The cities with the highest per capita payments for lights were Yonkers, New York ($159), and Los Angeles ($137); and those with the largest payments per acre of land area were Hoboken ($35.03) and Boston ($32.00). Owing to the great length of their unimproved streets, the average number of lights to 100 miles of streets is very small in some cities. Of the cities using Welshbach lights, largely in the residence districts, Boston leads in the number used in proportion to street mileage, followed by Washington, St. Louis, Cleveland, New York, and Baltimore.

In comparison with similar statistics for 1905 it is interesting to note that the flat flame gas lamp is fast disappearing from use, the per cent of decrease in number reported amounting to 43.7. This decrease has been offset by a large increase in the number of Welshbach, incandescent, and arc lights.

Street cleaning cost New York city in 1907, $6,941,912, though a portion of the cost of refuse disposal is included in this amount. The city next in rank was Philadelphia, which paid less than a million dollars for maintaining its street cleaning department.

Cities of over 300,000 population with a small expense for street cleaning were Milwaukee ($129,230), New Orleans ($128,990), and Buffalo ($189,883). The cities with the largest areas cleaned at least once a week were New York, 25,312,729 square yards, Philadelphia, 17,279,034 square yards and Buffalo, 12,796,158 square yards. New Orleans had the smallest such area for cities of over 300,000 population, or less than one million square yards.

Nearly all of the area in New York, Chicago, and San Francisco subject to regular cleaning was swept by hand while most of that in Pittsburg, Detroit, Boston and large areas in Philadelphia, Buffalo and Washington were swept by machine.

In Buffalo, St. Louis, Cincinnati, and Detroit large areas were cleaned by flushing, though this method in Buffalo was only an experiment and was continued for only two weeks. In comparison with similar figures for 1905, the area regularly cleaned by flushing shows a large increase.

Of those 158 cities reported, 117 owned water supply systems whose estimated value at the close of 1907 was $647,334,495. The revenue receipts from the public amounted to $52,831,096 and the actual expenses of operation to $21,231,273. The excess of receipts over operating expenses was, therefore, $31,599,823, nearly two-fifths of which was consumed in payment of interest on the outstanding debt. The remaining three-fifths was apparently net profit, but it is impossible to argue from this result that municipally owned water supply systems are exceedingly profitable. Cities owning their water works do not receive taxes results indicate, when these factors are a sufficient amount for depreciation.

The report states that the financial results indicate, when these factors are taken into consideration, that few systems are operated at great profit while some are conducted at an actual loss. Some cities, however, aim to furnish water to their citizens at cost, and it is possible that in such cities water rates are lower than they would be if the water system was owned by private parties.

Many New Witnesses. Council Bluffs, Ia., March 14.—A new array of witnesses presented themselves to testify today at the beginning of the second week of the trial of Jno. Mabray and his associates, charged with fraudulent use of the mails.

Among the list the handwriting experts, some new, alleged victims and some defendants who turned government witnesses.

The government still has seventy-five witnesses to examine. The number to be questioned by the defense is indefinite.

Fred Mull and James Morrison, of Superior, Wis., two defendants, were dismissed, at the direction of the court the jury returning a verdict of not guilty. The witnesses against them are in Canada and will not come voluntarily, and the government has no means of compelling them.

CAMPBELL SUPPORT GOES TO DAVIDSON

SAID GOVERNOR WILL HELP ATTORNEY GENERAL IN THE COMING CAMPAIGN.

A Carnegie library may be in store for Wichita Falls and if an effort now being made is successful, this city will have an institution of this kind before many months. Prof. O. C. Payne, president of the boys' school, has this important matter in charge and it is stated that the outlook is excellent for securing the library. As planned, the institution will cost twenty thousand dollars which would be sufficient to erect a handsome building.

If Prof. Payne is successful in this effort, the building will be erected probably at some point near the boys' school. The site will be donated.

It has long been felt that in being without a public library of any kind, this city is behind others of her class and this chance to secure such an institution will in all likelihood be made the most of. Prof. Payne believes that he will be successful and will spare no efforts to secure the donation.

Present Administration's Work Will Be Defended if Governor Takes Stump.

Austin, Tex., March 12.—When Governor Campbell takes the stump in the gubernatorial campaign, it is expected he will not only attack O. B. Colquitt, but will urge the election of R. V. Davidson, the rival candidate.

The governor was asked directly today whether he would talk in favor of Davidson, but he would only say that he would defend the administration and its policies, which is taken to mean that he will aid Davidson indirectly, anyway.

Campbell says he has received a large number of invitations from over the state to speak on state issues. If Governor Campbell engages in the campaign actively, he will make a noted departure from his previous policy of taking little or no sides in factional fights.

It is reported that Campbell is anxious for Davidson's election so as to win his support in case he (Campbell) should try for the senatorship.

BOND ELECTION IS CALLED BY BOARD

WILL BE HELD ON APRIL FIFTH AND PROVIDES FOR TWO NEW BUILDINGS.

IS FOR FORTY THOUSAND

Four Thousand Dollars of the Outstanding Securities Are to Be Retired.

From Saturday's Daily. At its meeting yesterday afternoon the school board ordered an election to determine the issuance of additional school bonds aggregating forty thousand dollars. This election will be held on April 5th, the same date as the regular city elections. The school board also passed an order retiring four thousand dollars of the out-standing bonds.

It was decided to levy a tax of eight cents on the $100 valuation for the interest and sinking fund on the new bonds. The new bonds will be forty-year fives, with ten year option.

They will be used in the construction of at least two new buildings, also for the purchase of equipment for the new high school now nearing completion. The new buildings will be erected on sites to be determined later and one of them will probably be put up in the western part of the city. The 10th street school building is to be moved and converted into a negro school.

If these bonds carry, the schools will open next fall with a total of three new buildings, which will relieve the present overcrowded conditions. At present, a number of the pupils attend only half a day and the arrangement is very unsatisfactory.

STRIKE SITUATION IS GETTING WORSE

BANKS MAY BE DRAWN INTO THE FRAY—PLAN TO STOP SUPPLY OF NECESSITIES.

OTHER LABOR TROUBLES

Railroad Situation in the East is Strained and General Walkout is Possible.

Chicago, Mar. 14.—The probabilities of a great railroad strike were decreed today by a prominent railroad official, who in speaking for forty seven railroads involved in the fireman's wage controversy declared there is absolutely no chance of a walk out. President Carter of the Brotherhood of Fireman and Enginemen would not say that he would order the men to strike in an unfavorable reply to his last letter should be received. He said he would leave that to the committee.

Philadelphia, Mar. 14.—The action by the Central Union in calling out union men employed in supplying the necessities of life had no serious effect on the general strike situation here today. The strikers declare the mandate was not generally known until late today, and that the unionists engaged in such work will eventually obey the strike order. The strike declared against the banks in which a request was made for the withdrawal of all funds of workmen and women is a new move in labor warfare, and is being watched with interest. The Transit Company has almost the regular number of cars in operation today.

Strike Outlook is Better.

Chicago, Ill., March 15.—The date and hour for calling the strike of the firemen of the western railroads was decided on by the union officials' committee today and the committee adjourned until this afternoon without announcing when the strike will be called. President Carter of the Union Pacific expressed the opinion that the committee will order the strike, regardless of the mediation proposal.

Chicago, Ill., March 15.—President Carter of the Brotherhood of Firemen, last night announced that the strike order had been decided upon by himself and forty-three members of the committee, because the railroad managers refused to submit all questions in dispute to arbitration under the Erdman act.

It is said that the committee will today probably decide upon the hour at which the men should go out and all local organizations of the Brotherhood will be informed by telegraph.

While deprecating the strike order and maintaining that the trouble might still be averted, the railroads have asserted that they are determined not to agree to submit to anything except the wage dispute to arbitration. They declared that the strike would temporarily tie up every freight and passenger train on forty-seven railroads and probably throw out of employment one hundred and fifty thousand men.

An appeal to the authorities at Washington to prevent the trouble will be made as necessary, according to the statement of Chairman Nixon of the general managers' committee.

President Carter said the hour at which to strike will be definitely made known to the men by telegraph, so that all may go out simultaneously.

Fort Worth, Tex., March 15.—Neither the members of the Firemen's Union nor railroad officials here have been notified that a strike has been declared so far, although the firemen expect to receive orders to walk out at any hour, in accordance with President Clark's announcement yesterday that a strike would be ordered within twenty-four hours. All lines entering here will be involved.

Washington, D. C., March 15.—Mediation under the Erdman act in the controversy between railway lines operating westward out of Chicago and the firemen and enginemen has been requested. The application was made by the railroads and the request will be granted.

Chairman Knapp of the Interstate Commerce Commission, informed the railroad men that he and Dr. Neill would take up the matter immediately and, if necessary, go to Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., March 15.—News from Washington that the firemen strike controversy would be submitted to mediation under the Erdman act, came as a surprise to the officials of the union, while they were in session to decide the hour when the strike may be called. President Carter of the union, refused to discuss the question until officially notified. The railroad officials declare that arbitration will stop, for the present, the proposed walkout.

Houston, Tex., March 15.—Vice-President Thornwell Fay of the Harriman lines in Texas, announced here today that at eleven o'clock no intimation had been received by the officials of the Southern Pacific and allied lines that the firemen and enginemen would strike. Fay insisted that the outlook for peace is bright. It is reported here that in case the firemen strike the enginemen will man the engines.
