Three wheeler wreck harms girl

A 14-year-old Amarillo girl remained in serious condition at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo Wednesday morning from injuries she received when the three wheeler she was driving collided with a pickup truck 2 miles south of Nazareth Tuesday morning.

Krista Ehly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Ehly of Amarillo was taken to Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt and was later transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital where she was treated for multiple broken bones and injuries.

According to DPS Trooper Nick

Hand, Ehly was operating the three wheeler in front of her grandparents' home, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Huseman of Nazareth.

While attempting to maneuver the three wheeler from the driveway of her grandparents' home onto a county dirt road, Ehly lost control of the vehicle and swerved into the path of an oncoming pickup driven by Gerald Birkenfeld of Nazareth.

The pickup was traveling west on the county road when the accident occurred.

County to help buy drug testing system

Castro County commissioners voted to join with Hale and Swisher counties in the purchase of an Emit st portable drug detection system to be used in all three counties.

Jean Stems proposed the system purchase citing that it would save the probation department considerable time and expense. At present, in order to conduct a drug test on a probationer, they must be taken to Central Plains Hospital in Plainview, and each test costs $65.

With this portable testing system, Stems said tests could be performed at the probation offices at a cost of $18.63 per test. The tests they will be running will detect alcohol, cocaine, amphetamines, opiates and cannabinoid (marijuana). A test strictly to detect marijuana would cost only $4.03 per test.

The Probation Department plans to charge a minimum fee of $10 to each probationer they run the full test on. This fee will help defray the cost of supplies for the system.

The total cost of the detection system is $4,880. Castro County will pay $780.80 of that amount representing 16% of the total. Swisher County will pay 19% of the cost and Hale County will pay 65% of the cost.

Stems said the new system would enable her to do an aver-

Harvest Days plans are made

The Harvest Days celebration is just around the corner and it's time to put the final plans on activities, says Chamber of Commerce Manager Delores Heller.

Several local organizations are sponsoring food and game booths, but there is still room for more, according to Heller. Organizations should check with the Chamber office before planning a booth to avoid duplication.

Harvest Days will be Aug. 28 - 30 this year and will include a Quilt Show and competition, rodeo, health fair and many other new activities in addition to the Follies, County Fair, and parade.

There will be a balloon lift off Monday, Aug. 17. Balloons will be let go from different locations around the county, and each balloon will have an attached tag which will be redeemable for a prize at the fair and for a chance at a gift certificate.

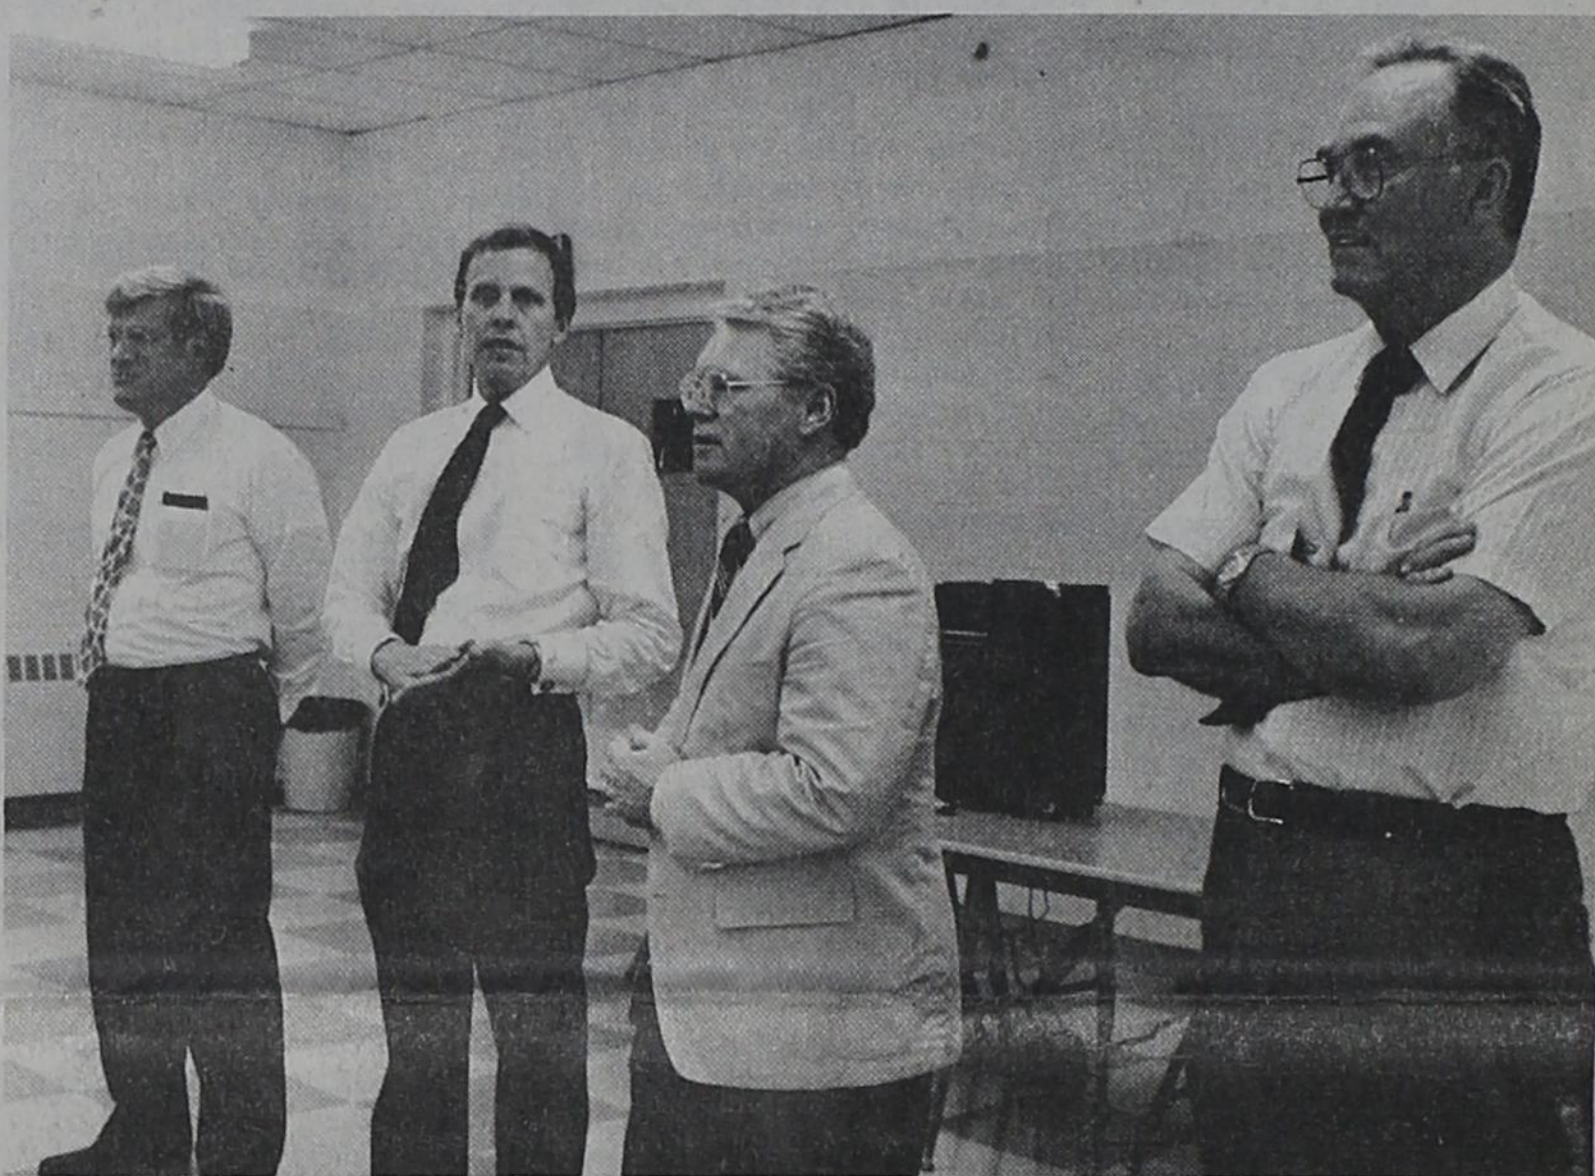

Fair item registration will take place Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 19 and 20, and the Fair exhibits and arts and crafts booths will open that Friday.

There will be a football scrimmage Friday evening, and a rodeo and dance that night.

There will be a three-wheeler rodeo Saturday morning. The parade, with the theme "Together We Can", will be Saturday morning also, and the Old Settlers Reunion will be at noon that same day. There will also be several games and competitions for adults and children on Saturday afternoon, and a barbecue and dance that night. There will also be a Square and Round Dance that night.

There will be a performance of the Follies Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

For more information about Harvest Days activities, contact Delores Heller at the Chamber of Commerce office, 647-2524.

Boulter and specialists speak on supercollider

U.S. Rep. Beau Boulter said the Panhandle was making progress in the site selection process for the $4.4 billion superconducting supercollider in a town meeting held in Happy last Friday night.

"I guess the biggest hurdle to getting the SSC was leaped over when Amarillo and the Panhandle made it on the list of two to be proposed to the Department of Energy," Boulter told the crowd of about 200.

The other Texas location being proposed is a site in Ellis County outside of Dallas. The Panhandle site and the Ellis County site were the two chosen last May to represent Texas in competition with at least 41 other states.

Boulter said the two things which had made it possible for the Texas Panhandle to progress this far in the race for the SSC were the areas people who had vision and were willing to sacrifice and the God given natural resources of the region.

The battle for this site is shifting to Washington now, according to Boulter. The application will be submitted to the DOE by no later than Sept. 2. The deadline had been Aug. 3, but the DOE has extended it by 30 days. Boulter said he wished the date hadn't been changed, but he didn't feel the delay would be a setback for the Panhandle at all.

"I think the biggest obstacle now is whether we're going to have the superconducting supercollider anywhere in this country," Boulter said, "because it is an expensive process costing anywhere from 4.5 to 6 billion dollars." He added that the competition for federal dollars for scientific projects is very still.

Boulter and members of the Amarillo superconducting supercollider group detailed the steps ahead in the site selection process and answered questions about the effects the SSC would have if it were located in the Panhandle.

Larry Milner, president of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, told those present that the SSC could mean to the area. He said if the site near Happy, about 30 miles south of Amarillo, is chosen, the high-energy atom smasher would net an estimated 10,500 construction jobs, 3,000 long-term scientific jobs and $270 million annual operating budget linked with the SSC project.

Milner said all 174 property owners whose land would be involved in the project have signed an agreement that says they are interested in working with them on this program.

At present, the size of the proposed SSC ring will be 53 miles, according to Milner. However, if a different type of magnets are used, the size could go to 100 miles which would be to our advantage, Milner added.

"We're one of the few sites in the United States that could handle the entire 100 miles," he said.

Jack Jones, a consulting engineer on the Panhandle project, said the land involved would not be lost to production. He said that, in all probability, the land not needed for buildings would be leased to the original landowner or anyone else who wants to lease the property.

Jones also said water is available for the supercollider from the Santa Rosa and Ogalala Aquifers, as well as, treated water from the cities of Canyon and Hereford. It is estimated that the supercollider will use 2200 gallons of water per minute, but Jones did not feel the water use would be a problem.

The life of the supercollider project after construction will be 25 years and what will happen to the site after that time has not been decided. The Soviet Union is currently constructing a supercollider ring at a location 80 miles south of Moscow.

Specialists at the meeting said the benefits of technology gained from the SSC are not fully known, but the possibilities are endless.

Motherhood: Job Description. Motherhood is knowing everything! Face it - a Mother has to know everything from what flavor Kool-aid is in the refrigerator to what shelf the Q-tips are on. This is because, from the moment the family unit is established, nobody can find anything for themselves. They can't find the basketball, the hair brush, the T. V. Guide, the pajamas, or any pair of shoes except their moon boots. That is, of course, unless it's snowing, and then they can't find their moon boots either.

Mom has to know the name of everybody else's Mommy on the block, her in-laws birthdays, and more phone numbers than Ma Bell. This is because men and children, as you know, live in mortal terror of looking something up in the phone book.

And, tied right in there with knowing all this stuff, Mom has to be a first rate detective in case a rare instance arises when she doesn't know the exact location of an item like the T. V. remote control or the mate of any pair of socks she's ever washed.

I have a girlfriend who believes the reason men can think about current events, politics and such is because their minds are so uncluttered by the things we have to stuff our heads with like, where's the butter, or the diaper bag, or his blue necktie. Men open the refrigerator and what do they say? "Honey, where's the butter?" No wonder our heads are so jam-packed with knowledge.

Motherhood is also being everywhere! There's school play rehearsal, stock show, piano lessons, the pediatrician's office, the grocery store, the T. V. repair shop, the cleaners, the bank, and the PTA. And if someone asks your child what his mother does he'll say, "Oh, she stays home."

Motherhood is fixing anything! You have to be able to do the basics like change lightbulbs, unclog drains, and dig wooden spoons out of the bottom of the dishwasher, but those are only minor tasks. You also have to repeatedly stitch the arms back on a $3.95 rag doll named Lisa while the $60 Baby Talk that "Santa" left sits on the closet shelf untouched. Or, you have to glue 3000 tiny plastic pieces back together so that they look like the original toy tractor that was left just behind the rear tire of your Suburban.

And, what's even more difficult, you have to mend the broken hearts and shattered feelings that go along with the broken dolls and shattered tractors.

Motherhood is the toughest, most exhausting, most frustrating, most thankless job in the world. (Did I mention labor pains?!) Motherhood can make your body sag and your spirits drag. The hours are grueling, and the pay is almost non-existent. Who on earth would want this job?

I do, for one. Because, even though sometimes it stinks, the fringe benefits are immeasurable. The real pay comes in hugs, kisses, occasional compliments, and lots of love.

Vaden and Alene Kirby and Troy and Billie Kirby returned Friday night from a fun trip and Kirby family reunion in Lake Tahoe, Nev.

Vaden and Alene, Joy and Johnny Byers of Eules and Murl Carrell of Houston left Dimmitt in the motor home Saturday, July 11, and toured New Mexico, Arizona and Nevada. They arrived at Lake Tahoe on July 15. They were met by Hulan and Helen Kirby and Clifford and Becky Kirby. They had a condo rented for a week for the entire family. Troy and Billie, Jess and Twila Parker of Olton and Lavern Simmons flew to San Francisco, Calif., July 17 and were met at the airport by Kim and Jo Marie Parker who had brought them a car to drive on to Lake Tahoe. Olan and Louise Kirby arrived there July 18 from Kerrville. There were many things to do and it was a beautiful place to visit. The family enjoyed the week together and also enjoyed visiting with two of Clifford's daughters and their husbands from California. They also visited with Hulan's daughter, Darlene and family of San Jose, California. Kim and Jo Marie Parker of Oakland, Calif., also visited with them. Olan's two daughters, Jan and Debbie and their families, came from San Jose with their mother Clea Kirby.

July 23, everyone departed for home. The only one of the children not present for the reunion was Ana Maxwell, who with her husband, was working in Pennsylvania. The families meet every two years and plan ahead for a nice vacation together. In 1989, they plan to meet in Estes Park, Colo.

Dan and Oma Dee Heard and LaNita Dixon of Elida, N.M. recently attended funeral services at the Southside Baptist Church in Olney for their cousin's wife, Mrs. Dale Heard. While there, they also visited their Uncle Clint and Mary Heard. Clint has been very ill and is confined to a wheelchair now.

They also visited aunts and uncles on their mothers side of the family.

On Friday, Oma Dee Heard went to Amarillo and visited with Joyce Autry from Rocky Ford, Colo., Floyce George and other members of Irene Carpenter's family who were here for Irene's heart surgery. Billie Kirby, Ysleta Ball, Darlene Dowell and Oma Dee Heard went to Acuff and served lunch for the family of Eula Mae Hughes, mother of Bobbie Baldrige. Services were at Resthaven in Lubbock. Several Dimmitt residents attended. Lori Potts, bride-elect of Kevin Cleveland, was honored Saturday with a luncheon hosted by Lisa Nelson and Stephanie Ryan. After lunch, Lori opened gifts of lingerie from her friends attending.

Derek Ryan of Zweibrucen, Germany, nephew of Robert and J'Lynn Ryan has been visiting relatives in the US for the past few weeks. Upon his arrival, he spent a week with his grandmother Ryan in Howley. He then rode the bus to Lubbock where he met J'Lynn and Robert. After a few days in Dimmitt, he helped Robert celebrate his 50th birthday and then went to Albuquerque, N.M. to visit another aunt and uncle. Last weekend, while Robin and Cindy Ryan were here visiting from Fort Worth, the three families met for a picnic at Fort Sumner Lake and Derek came back to Dimmitt. He will return to Howley for another short visit, and then will travel to Robin and Cindy's where they will show him the fun things to do in Fort Worth before he returns to Germany on next Thursday.

The first annual Castro County Quilt Show and Competition will be held Aug. 21 and 22 at the Castro County Museum.

Mrs. Gary Hardee is chairman of the event and Helen Richardson is co-chairman. Entry forms must be received by Tuesday, Aug. 18. Anyone may enter and entry forms may be picked up at the Museum, the Extension office, Senior Citizens Center or at 100 SW Seventh.

Quilts may be entered in one of three divisions, with several categories of entry in Division I. A Best of Show and People's Choice award will be given and quilts entered in the competition may be sold if the owner desires.

More information on the quilt show appears in an article in this week's News.

A surprise birthday party for Joe Newman of Denton was held in the home of his daughter, Cheryl Glidewell Saturday. Cheryl and her family, Bill, Lori and Amy with Newman's son, Terry, hosted the occasion. Hamburgers and all the trimmings were served as well as a dinosaur birthday cake with the inscription, "First the Dinosaur, Then the Wheel, Then Papa Joe."

About 30 relatives came in for the celebration including Don and Colleen Newman of New Canless, Md., Max and Loyce Newman from Levelland, Max and Karen Newman and children of Plainview, Jo Ann Newman of Denton, Connie Spickelmier and Katie, Lanie Spong, all of Sacramento, Calif., Jonnathon and Mark Gogh, Tommy and Merle Sherrill, Susie, Sandra and children, all of Dalhart.

Oleda Schumacher was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club that met at the Senior Citizens Center for lunch and a day of bridge. Loranel Hamilton won high score and Helen Braafladt won second high. Others playing were Faun Welker, Louise Mears, Susie Reeves, Jo Gregory, Era Hecker-son, Ferne Dickey, Cleo Forson, Elizabeth Huckabay, and Neva Hickey.

George and Irene Blanton spent several days in East Texas at Kossa visiting with George's sister and family. On Sunday George's brother and wife of Plainview went down and several of their nieces and nephews of Dallas came over for a family get-together. They all enjoyed being together.

Irene said they picked wild grapes to make jelly. She said there were grapes everywhere on the fences and in the trees along the highways.

Lanelle Stevenson and family of Denton are visiting a few days with their parents, George and Irene Blanton.

Several teenagers attended Youth Came '87, at Plains Baptist Assembly last week. Those attending were Amy Glidewell, Debbie Tilley, Kristi Wright, Christi Gwyn, Alice Young, Amy Littlefield, Wytette Maynard, Craig and Coby Heller, Stacy Waggoner, John Webb, Jerry and Andy Earley, Rev. Ken Cole, Richard Young, Colletta Young and Al Webb.

On Sunday, most of those attending gave their testimonies and sang songs they learned at camp.

Out of town visitors at the museum last week were Rachal and Jake Seale of Lindale, who were visiting their grandparents, J.O. and Mattie Seale; Bob and Genevieve Estes from Hugo, Okla., house guests of Helen Richardson; Glenn Exter of Olton; Buddy and Jerri Byrnes of Clovis, N.M. who donated some items from Mrs. O.K. Howe's home; the Johnson Sisters; Imogene McKinney of Bridge City; Laquita Thacker of Lawton, Okla.; and Beverly Russell of Lubbock.

Ruth Coleman was hostess to the Friday Bridge Club that met at the Senior Citizens Center for lunch and bridge. Retta Cluck won high score and Dorothy Elder won second high. Others playing were Beral Hance, Betty Renfro of Amarillo, Cleo Forson, Neva Hickey and Cletha George.

Ruth Coleman had an extended visit with her sister in Denton. She went to Hillsboro to visit the only living sister of the late Mr. Coleman. There she visited the sister-in-law's family on a ranch where they had built a new home. Then they traveled on to Fort Worth where she visited another of her sisters. She reported having a good time.

In honor of Janet Hand's birthday, she and Nick traveled to Las Vegas, Nev. to see Ziegfried the magician. Janet watched carefully from the front row seat and could not catch the way Ziegfried disposed of elephants and exchanged a tiger for a pig. She says he is as great as the 1,100 guests thought he would be. The Hand family had also traveled to Duncanville to visit Nick's sister and family and took the children to Six Flags and Wet and Wild in Arlington. Mrs. Hand, Nick's mother, returned to Dimmitt with them to care for the children during the Las Vegas trip.

Ronda Burns, Dimmitt's tennis coach, joined her parents from Seminole for a trip to Florida, Virginia and Alabama.

The Gary Lankford family and the Don Moore family have been to the lake and the Ray Bradley family will be going to the lake.

Dutch LaRue, formerly of Dimmitt, now of Amarillo, stopped in Dimmitt on Wednesday to bring several dollars worth of material to the Senior Citizens center for their projects. He says Dena is feeling well after a bout with a brief illness and that they have joined the Trinity Methodist Church, a very friendly one.

Bill and Deanne Clark will visit Greg and Toni Clark at Ponder. Greg is to ride in horse races Sunday in Weatherford and then the Clarks will go to Dallas for a Producers Exchange annual meeting.

There was a dinner party celebration held in honor of Katy Burkett's 80th birthday Wednesday at K-Bob's. Her sons hosted the party and there was a long guest list including the Jim Cleavingers, the Merritts, Courtenay Armstrong, Jimmy and Nancy Ross, Bettye Huckabay, three sons (2 from Arizona and 1 from California) and the Vernon O'Kellys. She was presented a beautiful rocking chair.

Students attend Convention

Two Dimmitt High School students and their advisor recently got the chance to visit with their elected representatives about the importance of vocational education. Toni Gabel, Jennifer Hanners, and Joanne Snider attended the National Future Homemakers Leadership Conference in Washington, D. C. last week.

While in Washington, they visited with aides in the offices of Phil Gramm and Lloyd Bentsen, and spoke personally with Larry Combest, expressing to each the need for funding of vocational education programs.

Jennifer Hanners, FHA regional vice-president, was one of 16 voting delegates from Texas. The Texas delegation of 183 people sponsored a Blue Bell ice cream party for all the legislators and their aides. They met and visited with a number of other Texas congressmen there.

Toni Gabel, FHA state vice-president, served as a hostess at the legislative training session and an usher at the third general session. She also served as a greeter at the ice cream party, welcoming the congresspersons and giving out name tags.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinson are home in Lubbock following May wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Brad Vinson are home in Lubbock after exchanging wedding vows May 23 at the Cooper United Methodist Church in Woodrow.

The bride is the former Darla Kay Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Butler of Friona, formerly of Dimmitt. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Vinson of Woodrow.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Landrum Medlock, pastor, and Jo Carr of Levelland.

A brass arched candelabra entwined with red flowers and greenery highlighted with red bows decorated the altar. Brass flower stands holding ivy completed the setting. The pews were marked with red and white flowers complimented with red bows and baby's breath.

Music was provided by Mary Helen Jones of Woodrow, organist; and pianist Yvette Knight of Anton, cousin of the bride.

LaTronda Maines and Shawn Sarnly, friends of the couple, sang "Up Where We Belong." Maines sang "The Wedding Prayer" as the bride and groom lit the unity candle.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a formal-length gown of hand-pearled and sequined slipper white satin. The bodice featured a wedding band neckline trimmed with Venice lace and pearls and a sheer yoke. Romantic ballroom sleeves poufed at her shoulders and tapered to points over her wrists. The full skirt fell from a fitted waistline and featured insets of Schiffler lace. The hemline of the flounced skirt was edged in lace and flowed into a cathedral length train.

She wore a French alencon brimmed hat trimmed with pearls and crystals. A fingertip length veil of bridal illusion fell from the back of the hat and completed the bridal look.

Her bridal bouquet was created from white gardenias and roses with white rose buds, baby's breath and red and white lace ribbons accenting the arrangement.

She wore pennies in her shoes minted in the years of the couple's births.

For something old, she carried a white handkerchief in her bouquet that belonged to her paternal grandmother. Something new was her wedding gown. She borrowed her maternal grandmother's wedding band and wore a white garter with a blue bow and lace.

Maid of honor was Rene Lincoln of Friona. Michelle Marek of Pep, cousin of the bride; and Janice Payne and Kim Leal both of Lubbock and Jo Osborn of Canyon, all friends of the bride, served as bridesmaids.

Bridal attendants were outfitted in identical tea-length dresses of red moire taffeta designed with a cut-out back with criss-cross straps and puffed sleeves. The gathered skirts fell from a dropped waistline. They wore heart-shaped necklaces, gifts from the bride.

Each attendant carried a bouquet of long-stemmed red roses accented with baby's breath and red and white lace ribbons.

Jay Angerer of College Station, friend of the groom, was best man. Alan Eaker of O'Donnell, Jimmy Cobb of Arlington, Bruce Robinett of Lubbock and Todd Kitten of San Antonio, friends of the groom, were groomsmen.

J. Michael Vinson of Lubbock, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer.

Alan Vinson of Lubbock, brother of the groom, lit candles.

Ushers were Gary Butler of Decatur, Ill., brother of the bride, Mike Vinson, Kelly Vinson, Kyle Vinson and Alan Vinson, all brothers of the groom of Lubbock.

Shawn Butler of Friona, niece of the bride, passed out bird seed bags.

Guests were registered by Shannon Grissom of Farwell, a friend of the bride.

A reception honoring the couple followed the wedding in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The bride's table was covered with a white cloth and white lace overlay.

The bride's bouquet and throw-away bouquet decorated the table which also featured chocolate pieces and silver and crystal serving pieces.

The eight-tiered wedding cake was set on a lighted chandelier cake stand. Red and white flowers decorated the bottom of the stand. The cake was decorated with red and white roses and white piping. It was topped with a Precious Moments bride and groom figurine.

The groom's table was covered with a white lace cloth and held a silver coffee service and crystal appointments along with the traditional German chocolate cake. The cake was decorated with chocolate roses and nuts. A blue and white miniature semi-truck with cans tied to the back of it was placed beside the groom's cake. The groom's name was imprinted on the side of the truck.

Punch was served by Lou Ann Kelly of Idalou, friend of the bride. Libby Kitten of San Antonio, friend of the bride, served cake.

Stacy and Shara Fredenburg of Woodrow, friends of the couple, presided over the groom's table.

The couple enjoyed a wedding trip to San Antonio, Austin and New Braunfels. The bride chose a blue denim skirt and pink sweater for her traveling attire. She wore a white rose corsage with red and white ribbon.

The bride is a 1984 graduate of Friona High School. She attended Texas Tech University and South Plains College. She is employed by Pioneer Nissan-Lincoln-Mercury in Lubbock.

The groom is a 1982 graduate of Lubbock Cooper High School and is a 1984 graduate of South Plains College. He is employed by Fleming Food in Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Schilling of Dimmitt. The groom is the son of Mrs. Beverly Macfarlane of Enid, Okla. and the late James Penquite.

The gown featured a Queen's Court cathedral train designed with chantilly lace skirts and ruffles cascading down the center and satin bow streamers.

Lloyd Blanton was rushed to Plains Memorial Hospital Thursday afternoon, but efforts to save his life failed. His heart finally gave up after a long series of heart attacks and other heart problems. He lived for about an hour and was still in emergency when he passed away. Terry and C. K. (Cheryl) Blanton and Rafel had gone back to Norman Lake, Ariz., last Sunday after spending some time with them. They got back Friday. Tyson, Tracy and Tony Cowley came in Friday, and their mother, Linda Hoover of Fort Worth, got in Friday night. Randal and Janie Blanton, Chris, Mary, and Kurt, of Farwell, have been coming over to help Ronnie and Leona. Linda brought Tamera's children, Marcie and Megan, also.

The funeral services for Lloyd were held Saturday afternoon in the Earth Church of Christ, and those attending from the community included Rev. Bentley Gwyn, Hershel Wilson, Billie and Emma Jean King, Nelda Curtis, Eulless Waggoner, Ray Joe Riley, Eddie and Sherry Haydon, Francis and Mary King of Amarillo, and Johnnie B. and Shorty Lilley.

Bruce and Phyllis Bridges, Erin, Robin, and Jonathan attended the funeral service of Bruce's great uncle, "Bud" Jones, in the First Baptist Church in Earth last Sunday afternoon. He was the uncle of Evelyn Bridges.

Jimmy Cluck was dismissed from High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo and is doing well.

Larry Odom of San Angelo, brother of Sharon Cox and son-in-law of Leslie Loudder, was dismissed from the V. A. Hospital in Dallas Tuesday after undergoing an angiogram to determine a heart problem that has caused him to be in and out of the Veteran's Hospital in Big Spring several times. He has a faulty valve, but it can be corrected with medicine.

L. B. Bowden dialyzed in Amarillo High Plains Dialysis Center

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. He will go back Tuesday.

Toots Holbrooks had a dizzy spell Sunday morning while cooking breakfast and fell before she could get to a chair. She didn't black out or hurt herself, though. Nancy Jurado is staying with the Holbrooks.

Nora Loudder has been doing a little bit better this week, and the family is not staying with her as much. Alton and Betty Loudder spent the day Friday in Littlefield with Lowell and Genevieve Westmoreland instead of their usual Saturday visit so they could stay with Nora Loudder while Teeny took L. B. to Amarillo.

Ezell and Verba Sadler, Randy Powell, Embree Roy and Willie Mae Sadler, and Larry and Sharon Sadler, Laura and Matt attended the Sadler reunion over the week-end at Hubbard Creek Lake near Breckenridge. Larry and His family, David and Gay Sadler, Melody and Karla, and James and Patricia Powell and family will spend the week, or as much of it as they can for their vacation, and will attend the Henslee reunion there next weekend. Laura and Matt went to the McWilliams reunion last week.

Winston and Judy Waggoner, Holly and Molligay returned home last Sunday night from a weeks vacation and business trip to Louisiana and Mississippi. They especially enjoyed the Civil War history at Vicksburg, Miss., the plantation homes and New Orleans, La.

Kristi Curtis was one of the four who attended the FHA/HERO Leadership Workshop held at Texas Tech University the first week in July.

Jessica Wilson was one of the entries in the Cowgirl contest in Earth last Tuesday in connection with the Earth Junior Rodeo.

Kathy Gwyn prepared the chicken supper for last Wednesday night's fellowship and intercessory prayer meeting. Willie Mae Sadler and Lillian Carson prepared red beans, corn bread, ham, and potato salad this Wednesday night.

Emma Jean King and Kaye King of Earth and other members of the Eastern Star of Dimmitt went to see TEXAS Friday night in Palo Duro Canyon and had a banquet in Canyon Saturday night. Emma Jean came with Francis and Mary King to Mr. Blanton's funeral Saturday afternoon but went back with them for the banquet.

Mrs. E. C. Hudson in her column "From the Scrapbook" in the Earth Weekly News this week talked about the old Mulberry tree on Running Water Draw on US 385 and her words have sparked a new desire in some of us to try to keep it alive. She called it a beacon for as many years as she could remember. A resting place for weary travelers who looked forward to a cool resting place on the draw. It is true that there are more dead branches than live ones now. The tree is a well remembered landmark for the older generation. I am afraid it is only a nuisance to some today. When the bridge was widened and the last road work done, the tree was scheduled to be destroyed, but a petition from many residents in the community, and the suggestion of the Castro County Historical Commission of placing an Official Texas Historical Marker at its base saved most of the tree. But it was damaged some with the construction, pruning, and the excess amount of dirt that had to be built up around it. The main thing is that it isn't getting enough water. Maybe someone will come up with a good idea. The tree was planted in 1907 or 1908 by Benjamin Barretson. It may well be the oldest living tree in Castro County, but we have no way of knowing unless someone tells us of an older one they know of.

R. V. and Bess Bills visited Ruth Spencer in Lubbock Monday. She was planning to leave for a vacation in Colorado with one of her sons and his family.

Rev. Bentley and Kathy Gwyn brought the special music for the Sunday morning church services.

Area support group to sponsor test

The Panhandle AIDS Support Organization, in conjunction with the Bi-County Dept. of Health, will provide anonymous testing for the Human Immunodeficiency Virus Aug. 4.

The test will be given at no cost to those persons who wish to know whether they have been exposed to the virus. They will be given pre-test counseling by volunteers, have their blood drawn by an RN/phlebotomist, and within two weeks receive the results of their test and be given post-test counseling if they wish it, whether they are HIV positive or HIV negative.

Those interested in receiving the test should call (806) 372-4557, leave a name (fictitious or real) and a phone number. Callers will be contacted by return phone and given the place and time where they may be tested. The tests will be given each month at a different location, but that phone number will always have the correct information for anyone who wishes to be tested.

The testing location is given out in this manner to insure confidentiality.

Social Security in Castro County

By TERRY J. CLEMENTS

Occasionally people ask if it's possible for a person to get Social Security while in jail. The situation usually arises when the worker has been charged with a felony and Social Security retirement or disability payments are the family's primary income.

In general, the Social Security law prohibits the payment of benefits to people imprisoned for the conviction of a felony. These include childhood disability beneficiaries as well as people receiving other types of benefits under the Social Security retirement, disability, or survivors insurance programs.

The only exception to the prohibition against the payment of benefits to prisoners is if the person is entitled to benefits on the basis of a disability and is actively engaged in a vocational rehabilitation program approved by a court of law. The program must be expected to result in the person's being able to do substantial gainful work within a reasonable time after release.

A crime is considered a felony if it is defined as such under applicable State law. In legal jurisdictions which do not use the term felony, a crime shall be considered a felony if the sentence exceeds a year.

The present prohibition is a result of legislation enacted in 1980 and 1983. Before 1980, Social Security benefits were paid to people imprisoned for a felony on the basis that the benefits were an earned right that could not be taken away under existing law.

Conservation tillage increasing in Texas

Conservation tillage is gaining gradual acceptance by Texas farmers, with about 14 percent of the state's cultivated land now under this practice, according to Dr. Billy Harris.

Harris, a soils specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said the trend toward conservation tillage in Texas "is up."

There are approximately 30 million acres under cultivation in Texas this year and about 86 percent of that is under conventional tillage methods, he noted.

In 1974, only a little over a million acres were farmed with the conservation tillage, but that amount has risen to four million acres, Harris said.

Conservation tillage has great potential for areas in Texas with wind and water erosion problems, he pointed out.

Researchers and farmers have been experimenting with the practice and found that it does work well in grain sorghum, corn, cotton, soybeans and even peanuts. Some vegetable production in the state's Rio Grande Valley region is under conservation tillage, Harris said.

There are, however, some drawbacks to the practice, he said.

Specialized planting equipment is required and some crops don't grow well under this practice, since timing is important.

Weed control is another problem that researchers are having to tackle, Harris said. Weeds can multiply easily in some fields under conservation tillage and herbicide effectiveness varies with the region of the state and weather conditions, he said.

Attitudes toward this fairly new practice also will have to change before it finds acceptance, Harris added. Landowners may not want to see their leased land under conservation tillage and bankers are cautious about a practice they feel is not "proven."

Additionally, it is "almost a religion" with farmers to have rows clean and free of stubble in fields, he noted.

In last week's edition of the News in the story about a drowning woman rescued by three young men, some errors were reported, according to Dimmitt City Pool Lifeguard Paul Dannevik.

Dannevik said that the woman, Lucy Casares, was not at the bottom of the pool, but was floating face down on the top of the water. He reported that Jeffrey Hutson helped him lift the woman to the side of the pool.

"She was breathing, but I could hear a water bubble in her lungs and I pumped her chest," Dannevik said. He reported that Scott Killough and Maria Lopez helped hold the victim down, with Lopez helping to keep her calm, since she seemed to be in a state of shock.

Dannevik said he performed the Heimlich maneuver on her, and Paula Sanchez called the ambulance.

Dimmitt Mayor Wayne Collins said, "I certainly think that all who were involved will be included in the commendation ceremony at the Monday meeting of the Board of Aldermen."

The News regrets any errors.

Take time now for fall home sale

If you're planning to sell your own home during peak home sales times this fall, now is the time to start getting it in good condition. Your investment in repair and small improvements now, could pay off later in profit.

"Selling your home involves a lot of marketing strategies, just like selling any other product," says Dr. Susan Quiring, a housing specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. "The more appealing you make your home appear, the better impression it will have on prospective buyers."

"First impressions are important," the specialist says. "People may decide not to buy your house before they even look inside if the outside isn't attractive. Concentrate on improving the front of your house by mowing and trimming the grass, trimming trees and shrubbery, planting flowers, and repainting if necessary to make your house look more inviting."

"Inside the house, try to make it look clean, and uncluttered. You may want to put away some knick-knacks and small appliances to emphasize counter space. Clean and organize closets and cupboards to make the most of your storage areas. Polish the furniture and the woodwork, wash the windows, and maybe invest in a new shower curtain if it's needed."

"It's important to make any necessary repairs and complete those unfinished remodeling jobs before showing your house. Prospective buyers may lose confidence in you and your home if they encounter any strange noises such as leaky faucets or whining toilets," says Quiring.

The specialist maintains that adequate lighting will make rooms seem more spacious, and neutral colored walls and carpeting will match most furnishings. This may make it easier for a potential buyer to visualize the house as their own home.

Quiring adds, "Big investments in home improvement aren't necessary before trying to sell your house. A gallon of paint and some cleaning bring back better returns."

Remember that good marketing sells," she says, "but be honest and don't try to hide any problems or defects. Presenting your home in the best way possible will help it sell itself."

Examine self for cancer

Prolonged overexposure to the sun's rays may lead to skin cancer, and like all other cancers it's important to detect it early. This can be done with a simple self examination.

"Self-examination for skin cancer is painless, cheap, and gets less time consuming the more often it is done," Dr. Mary Ann Heussner, a health education specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service says. "It's an easy way to catch the disease in its early stages, when it is easier to cure."

According to the American Cancer Society, over 400,000 cases of skin cancer are reported each year. An estimated 7,400 of these cases prove to be fatal. They also reported a 3.4 percent increase per year in the incidence of melanoma, which is the most serious of the skin cancers.

"There are a few different warning signs to look for," the specialist says. "Look for changes in the size or color of moles, and the appearance of any new skin growths or patches of dark pigmentation."

Down on the FARM

WATCH UP FOR POWER LINES

Power lines can be dangerous.

Touching irrigation pipe to a power line can divert the electricity through the pipe . . . and to anyone in contact with it. In this part of the country, this is the leading cause of farm injuries and deaths in electricity-related accidents. Any equipment of unusual height represents a potential danger. Lift arms on field equipment, combine auger spouts and even radio antennas can cause serious injury or death if they, and you, make contact with a power line. Keep an eye up for power lines. Watch up, for safety's sake.
