ARE TO PROSECUTE FAKE PHYSICIANS

NORTHWEST TEXAS ASSOCIATION
RETAINS ATTORNEY TO TAKE HOLD OF CASE.

INTEND TO PUSH MATTER

Today's Session Given Largely to the Reading of Papers on Technical Subjects.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Following their attack on the alleged "fakers" who are practicing in this city, the Northwest Texas Medical Association today decided to actively prosecute the party in question and to that end they have retained Judge Wilkinson to take charge of the case and a fund of one hundred dollars was quickly raised to defray the necessary expenses.

The sessions of the association this morning and this afternoon were devoted largely to the reading of technical papers, upon subjects of interest to the profession. Each paper was followed by a ten minute discussion of its features. Officers will be elected this afternoon at the completion of the program and the convention will probably come to an end today. Fort Worth will probably be selected as the next meeting place.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the association and several guests were taken out to Lake Wichita on the street cars and then given a very enjoyable motor boat ride on the lake. This was followed by a supper in the pavilion and this in turn was followed by toasts. Dr. Turner of Dallas officiated as toastmaster and the responses were both witty and inspiring. Among those who spoke were Dr. Bacon Saunders of Fort Worth, Dr. Jackson of Fort Worth, Mayor T. B. Noble, Dr. Wade Walker and others.

RAIN DOES MUCH GOOD; ALL NORTHWEST TEXAS BENEFITED LAST NIGHT

From Thursday's Daily.

A heavy rain from Texline to Childress, lighter rains from Childress to Bowie, and heavy showers from Bowie southward, fell last night and Northwest Texas is decidedly wet today. Locally, slightly over an inch of rain fell, beginning about 5:30 yesterday afternoon and continued intermittently until about midnight, or later. Some hail accompanied the showers, but in such small quantities as to do little damage.

NASHVILLE IS EXCITED OVER COOPER'S PARDON; GOVERNOR WON'T TALK

By Associated Press.

Nashville, Tenn., April 14.—Nashville has quieted down today after yesterday's excitement attending the Supreme Court's action and the Governor's subsequent pardon in the case of Col. Duncan B. Cooper, who was sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary for the murder of Senator Carmack, but the case continues to be sole topic of conversation, and at no time has there been any indication of disorder. Both principals have thus far failed to make any public statement. Governor Patterson made no comment on his action, and denied himself to interviewers. The case of Robin Cooper, who is at liberty on a twenty-five thousand dollar bond, will be taken up at the May term of court according to an announcement by Attorney General McCann.

By Associated Press.

Nashville, Tenn., April 14.—The Supreme Court this afternoon reduced the bond of Robin Cooper, whose sentence for twenty years for complicity in the murder of Carmack, was reversed yesterday from twenty-five to ten thousand dollars.

BANK AT HARROLD ROBBED OF $2500

Are Believed to Have Fled Into Oklahoma—Two Men Seen Running From Scene.

YEGGMEN MAKE ESCAPE

WAS ENTERED AT TWO O'CLOCK THIS MORNING AND SAFE BLOWN OPEN.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The building of the Harrold Bank and Mercantile Company at Harrold, Texas, just across the Wilbarger county line was entered at 2 o'clock this morning, the safe blown open and twenty-five hundred dollars in currency and silver taken. The robbery is believed to have been perpetrated by two men. No arrest have been made up to this writing. Nitroglycerine was used to blow open the safe, which was cricked in a very workmanlike manner. The noise of the explosion awoke a number of citizens who investigated the trouble, in time to see two men mount horses near the bank and ride rapidly away in the direction of Electric. It was impossible at that time to pursue them with any success.

The bank was badly wrecked by the explosion and the wooden building which it occupies also suffered. The robbers secured a total of about twenty-five hundred dollars, of which amount six hundred was in currency and nine hundred in silver, mostly quarters and half dollars. The two men who are believed to be guilty of the crime have been in Harrold for several days and have been seen around that community. They did not seem to have any work on hand, but their presence excited no suspicion until after the robbery.

On Friday night of last week the postoffice safe at Jolly, Clay county was blown open and a small amount of money secured and the Harrold robbery is believed to have been pulled off by the same men. When they left Harrold they were riding to the eastward, but it is believed that they turned from this course and went into Oklahoma.

Lee Massey was president and A. L. Winfrey cashier of the Harrold Bank & Mercantile Co., which was a branch of the Herring bank at Vernon. The institution was insured against such losses and the Insuring company is sending a Pinkerton man there from Oklahoma City to investigate the robbery. The Wilbarger county officers have been notified and are at work on the case. The local police have also been notified and are on the outlook for anyone answering the description of the supposed robbers. The postoffice inspectors' department and the Bankers Association will both assist in running down the men and no pains will be spared by those organizations to land them behind the bars.

REARGUMENT OF STANDARD CASE.

Washington, D. C., April 11.—The Standard Oil and Tobacco cases were today reargued for argument by the supreme court.

The reargument of these cases comes as the direct result of the death of Justice Brewer. How the court stood on these cases is still unknown, but it is believed it was evenly divided and was loath to give the country a decision not supported by a majority of the full court, which would be five members.

New York, April 11.—The order of the supreme court for a reargument of the Standard Oil and Tobacco cases was greeted on the stock exchange with an upturn of prices. Union Pacific rose five and quarter points, and Southern Pacific and steel were active on advancing figures.

TRADE TERRITORY TO BE ENLARGED

PLANS FOR TRADES DAY HERE NEXT MONTH ARE WELL UNDER WAY.

REFUND RAILROAD FARE

Special Inducements Will Be Offered to All Who Come to This City to Buy.

From Thursday's Daily.

The trade territory of Wichita Falls, already as large in area as that of any city of this size in Texas, is to be considerably extended, if the plans of the Retail Merchants Association can be put into operation. The "Trades Day" which is to be held next month will be one feature looking to this end. The committee having this affair in charge reports that it is meeting with a great deal of encouragement and that there is every reason to believe that success will attend its efforts.

As an additional inducement to those who come here from other points to make their purchases, it has been decided to refund the railroad fare of all who buy as much as fifty dollars worth of goods while in the city on Trades Day. This applies to all who come from a distance of not greater than fifty miles. Prizes will be offered to the largest family, the family coming the longest distance, the fattest man, the thinnest man and to the others who usually receive prizes on such occasions. Prizes are also to be offered for various kinds of farm products and also for products of the kitchen and the needle.

In general, it is planned to extend the trade territory of Wichita Falls through the counties of Wichita, Wilbarger, Baylor, Archer, Young, and Clay, in Texas, and through a considerable part of Southwestern Oklahoma. The occasion will be advertised in the papers in this territory and no pains will be spared to make Wichita Falls the trade center of a larger territory.

COOPER PARDONED.

Nashville, Tenn., April 13.—(Bulletin)—Governor Patterson this afternoon pardoned Duncan B. Cooper, whose sentence of twenty years in the penitentiary for the murder of Senator Carmack was confirmed today by the state supreme court. Although it was believed by many that the chief executive would take this action, the pardon, coming so soon after the action of the court, created a sensation.

Nashville, Tenn., April 13.—The supreme court today affirmed the verdict in the case of the state against Col. Cooper and his son, Robin, as to Colonel Cooper and reversed as to Robin Cooper. They were convicted of the murder of Senator Carmack and sentenced to twenty-five years in the penitentiary.

The case was upon twenty-two assignments of errors and the record was one of the most voluminous ever passed upon by the court. Justice Shields and Neil affirmed the decision of the lower court as to both. Chief Justice Beard and Justice Bell reversed as to both. Justice McAllister affirmed as to Col. Cooper and dissented as to Robin. The opinion of the majority was read by Shields and included seventy-six pages of type written matter.

Today's decision means that Col. Cooper is free unless he is pardoned by Governor Patterson. The case of Robin was remanded to the lower court and now stands in a position similar to that before it was given the second trial.

TAFT SATISFIED.

Congressional Investigation of Sugar Trust Is Obstructed.

Washington, April 13.—A conference at the White House late today developed to the evident satisfaction of President Taft that efficiently rapid headway is being made with the prosecutions against the so-called sugar trust for customs frauds and that there is little likelihood of a congressional investigation at this time.

It is presumed at any rate, that the administration influence will be used against an inquiry and without the consent of the president there is practically no way in which congress can get the information which is being used by the department of justice in present and future announced prosecutions.

Representative Hill of Connecticut, Henry L. Stimson, in charge of the sugar prosecutions in New York; Collector Loeb of New York, Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, Assistant Secretary Curtis and Attorney General Wickersham attended the conference.

A maddened crowd of nearly two thousand people took the body of O'Neill, who was expiring, from the officers, carried to a telephone pole and strung it up. DANCING, CARD PLAYING AND SIMILAR DEVICES SCORED FROM PULPIT

From Wednesday's Daily. The services at the tabernacle last night were preceded by a song service and several old-time tunes, such as "Old-Time Religion," and "There is a Fountain Filled With Blood," were sung by the choir, joined in very heartily by the large congregation, and after a solo by Mr. Hiett, Evangelist Finney announced his text from Matthew, 25th chapter and 29th verse, adding that he was going to preach upon the subject of hell, and he stuck closely to his subject from the beginning to the end, condemning sin of every nature, in both high and low places, "card players," "forty-twoties" and "Sunday baseballites" coming in for a few extra raps. The evangelist is a very forceful speaker, and what he says is said in such a manner as to carry conviction with it.

On the subject of dancing, which he condemned severely, he said the dance was born in hell, and the time had arrived when the pulpit and the press should cease to keep silence.

The man who attends Sunday baseball was placed in the class with the fellow who sells whiskey through his back door on Sunday.

While there were many in the large audience, who, from appearance, were both delighted and pleased with the sharp raps Evangelist Finney dealt to popular vices, there were but few who were immune from the broadsides fired, and while there might have been some who escaped the full force, it is doubtful if any who were there and heard the sermon could truthfully say that a few of the scattering shots did not find lodgment on them.

At the conclusion of the very able discourse, another very touching solo was rendered by Mr. Hiett, and several accepted the invitation extended by the evangelist to quit their sinful ways and live better lives.

While there were a few vacant seats in the rear of the tabernacle, but the crowd was larger than on the previous night, and considering that there were other attractions in the city, there was abundance of evidence that interest in the meantime is rapidly on the increase.

Another service was held this morning at 10 o'clock and this afternoon at 3 o'clock. "Cottage prayer meetings" were conducted in many different parts of the city.

Evangelist Finney will preach again tonight at 8 o'clock and at the conclusion of the sermon a prayer meeting will be held at the tabernacle.

It has been found that nitrogen, when applied to cotton early and in moderate quantities, hastens maturity. Applied late or in large quantities it prolongs growth of the plants and may prove a disadvantage in weevil regions.

The authorities at Henrietta were at once notified when the robbery was discovered this morning and Sheriff George went to work without delay. He is in the city this afternoon in an endeavor to locate the perpetrators of the robbery. The private papers were the property of David Rogers, formerly storekeeper and postmaster at Jolly and were of considerable value to him.

The robbers overlooked the greater part of the money in the safe, leaving it behind. They apparently worked hurriedly. Dynamite was used to open the safe, but if any of the citizens heard the noise of the explosion they attributed to something else. The Wichita county officers have been notified of the occurrence and are assisting in every way possible.

This is the first bank robbery in this section in some time, although a Denton county bank suffered in this manner several weeks ago. From the manner in which the Jolly work was done, it is believed that the crime was perpetrated by experienced yeggmen.

From Wednesday's Daily. The services at the tabernacle last night were preceded by a song service and several old-time tunes, such as "Old-Time Religion," and "There is a Fountain Filled With Blood," were sung by the choir, joined in very heartily by the large congregation, and after a solo by Mr. Hiett, Evangelist Finney announced his text from Matthew, 25th chapter and 29th verse, adding that he was going to preach upon the subject of hell, and he stuck closely to his subject from the beginning to the end, condemning sin of every nature, in both high and low places, "card players," "forty-twoties" and "Sunday baseballites" coming in for a few extra raps. The evangelist is a very forceful speaker, and what he says is said in such a manner as to carry conviction with it.

On the subject of dancing, which he condemned severely, he said the dance was born in hell, and the time had arrived when the pulpit and the press should cease to keep silence.

The man who attends Sunday baseball was placed in the class with the fellow who sells whiskey through his back door on Sunday.

While there were many in the large audience, who, from appearance, were both delighted and pleased with the sharp raps Evangelist Finney dealt to popular vices, there were but few who were immune from the broadsides fired, and while there might have been some who escaped the full force, it is doubtful if any who were there and heard the sermon could truthfully say that a few of the scattering shots did not find lodgment on them.

At the conclusion of the very able discourse, another very touching solo was rendered by Mr. Hiett, and several accepted the invitation extended by the evangelist to quit their sinful ways and live better lives.

While there were a few vacant seats in the rear of the tabernacle, but the crowd was larger than on the previous night, and considering that there were other attractions in the city, there was abundance of evidence that interest in the meantime is rapidly on the increase.

Another service was held this morning at 10 o'clock and this afternoon at 3 o'clock. "Cottage prayer meetings" were conducted in many different parts of the city.

Evangelist Finney will preach again tonight at 8 o'clock and at the conclusion of the sermon a prayer meeting will be held at the tabernacle.

It has been found that nitrogen, when applied to cotton early and in moderate quantities, hastens maturity. Applied late or in large quantities it prolongs growth of the plants and may prove a disadvantage in weevil regions.

Hudspeth Coming to Texas. Los Angeles, Cal., April 9.—A. D. Hudspeth of Bowie, Texas, charged with swindling W. L. Moody & Co. out of $20,000 in a cotton deal, together with his alleged partner, Gaston Alexandre, left here last night for Bowie in custody of W. G. Bralley, Sheriff of Montague County, Texas. Hudspeth says he doesn't fear the outcome of the trial and will be acquitted.

Experiments by practical farmers as well as experiment stations of the south, have clearly demonstrated the value of acid phosphate on most of our soils in hastening early maturity of cotton.

AS TO THE FREE PASS LAW.

Hereford, Tex., April 7th, 1910.
Editor Wichita Daily Times,
Wichita Falls, Texas.

Dear Sir:—My attention has been called to an editorial in the Daily Times of March 26th, attacking my position on the anti-pass law. I can not claim the honor of a personal acquaintance with the editor, but from my knowledge of editors in general, I feel sure that you will accord me the privilege of answering your criticisms and give my answer the same publicity through the columns of your paper as was given your editorial.

You stated that I was ignorant as to the anti-pass law, but you did not state as to what part of it I was ignorant. That statement immediately preceded the following sentence: "The Times has no knowledge whatever that any newspaper man in the state of Texas ever carried a free railroad pass, even before the anti-free pass law was enacted, and none of the editors are now contending that the law be amended so as to give them this privilege, provided the railroads are willing to grant it." My dear Mr. Editor, I must certainly now charge you with ignorance. How long have you been in the newspaper business? I charge it to be a fact, well known, that prior to the enactment of the anti-pass law that at all important conventions, meetings, etc., you would find editors there as thick as fiddlers, and got there on passes over routes, a portion of which were frequently over lines of road which had never advertised in the particular papers belonging to the man who carried that pass. Frequently such passes were given to the editor and his better-half for interstate trips, summer outings, etc. But, Mr. Editor, if you didn't know of the other boys riding on free passes over lines that they never did any advertising for before the anti-pass law became effective, then they kept you hoodwinked; you didn't get all that was coming to you.

By reading all of your article one will see that you approve of my position on the anti-pass law. Here is what you say: "As for the Times, it wants no amendment made to the anti-free pass law. It is satisfied to pay its car fare just like other people, and if every body is required by the law to pay their transportation, it will not be a great while until the railroads will voluntarily reduce the cost of transportation, and, in the event they will not do this of their own voluntary act, then the people of the state will be perfectly justified in appealing to the railroad commission for a reduction in transportation rates."

But was it not because of your enthusiasm for another candidate that you attacked my position; that other candidate's platform being as follows: "Five different subjects might be named as being among the things which shall receive my cordial and undivided support. These are—first and foremost, the return of the press of Texas the right to contract that is vouchsafed to them by both state and federal constitutions?" Now what does this mean except that in case this candidate is elected to the senate that his FIRST AND FOREMOST and his best efforts will be to amend the anti-pass law so that the newspaper men may "contract" with the railroads to carry a small ad, and a free pass at the same time? Won't his amendment necessarily let in all others to again "contract" for free passes? Now, be fair, and you newspaper men charge for your space and pay for your tickets as the others of us. Let the anti-pass law stand as it is, and, according to your statement in your editorial, we will soon be buying tickets at less than 3 cents per mile. Your statement is sound and is good, and in line with my platform. We—you and me, Mr. Editor, are right. Let the doctrine of "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none" stand.

Yours respectfully,
JNO P. SLATON.

In answer to Mr. Slaton's question, the Times editor will say that he is about 43 years of age, and has never followed any calling other than that of newspaper work, and during all of his life has never yet ridden on what Mr. Slaton would term "A newspaper free pass." He has, on perhaps as many as a half dozen occasions, had the privilege of riding on a "free pass," but this courtesy was not due to the fact that he was engaged in the newspaper business. All the transportation he ever received from any railroad was paid for.

The Times, however, does not wish Mr. Slaton, or others to believe that it is taking sides in the senatorial contest in this, the 29th district. All the interest it has in the contest is to do what little it can in seeing that the man who succeeds Mr. Veale will be one who will not put in circulation statements that cannot be substantiated by the facts.

The Times will again say that, so far as it is personally concerned, it desires no change made in the anti-pass law. It was enacted to spite the newspapers who made a fight on members of the legislature who rode to and from Austin on free passes and then put in their claims to the state for mileage. If it is any satisfaction to that kind of law-makers to deny the right of contract between newspapers and railroads, by all means, let the law stand as it is now, rather than take the chances of changing it.

FAIR TO CORPORATIONS.

The following sensible reference to corporations is from the Texas Farm and Ranch:

Those who would harry corporations and drive them out of business, do themselves and the country injury. Corporations are necessary to the conduct of business in this century and are not more than limited partnerships. A policy of liberality for those who prefer to co-operate in business will be better. The most that should be asked is that business shall be done in fair and just ways, and this should be demanded of individuals, firms and corporations alike. We should not permit a corporation, the creature of the law, to become greater than the law, and in the same way we must hold individuals and partnerships to observance of law.

Every corporation which is inclined to deal fairly with the public is entitled to a square deal from the public.

While we are inclined to boost only our own city and county, we can't help but admire the public spirit and civic pride of the citizens of our sister city, Wichita Falls, Texas. Tuesday was "clean-up day" there, and all business houses closed and the citizens, white and colored, turned out and cleaned all the streets and alleys of waste and rubbish. The Chamber of Commerce aided by the ladies, served free dinner to the workers, who wore white badges with the words: "Volunteer, Clean-up Day."—Devol (Okla.) Dispatch.

President Taft has reconsidered and will make a speech in Indiana. With Senator Beveridge fighting the administration on the tariff question and the republican state convention endorsing the senator, it would seem that Indiana is in a bad fix from the stand point of friends of the administration.

The Dallas News observes that Taft may think he is having a hard time, but if the statistics were available it would probably be developed that he doesn't have as many troubles in a month as Governor Haskell of Oklahoma, gets into before breakfast. Come to think of it, Governor Haskell has had a fairly good share of trouble. It seems that there are men in office in that state who object to being dictated to entirely by the governor. Some of them take the unique position that they are responsible to the people rather than to the governor. Gov. Haskell is a pretty good-sized man, in some respects but he is somewhat inclined to be the whole works, to which there appears some objection.

The Gainesville Register is very much exercised for fear that a lot of people are going to get left out of the Colquitt band wagon. We have never yet heard of a politician's band wagon which was not built for the express purpose of taking care of everybody who wants to get into it, any old time, anywhere.

The more one reads up on the gubernatorial situation the more that person is forced to conclude that the anti-statewider who fails to cast his vote for Colquitt and the statewider who fails to stay with Johnson are simply throwing their votes away. The race is between those two from present indications, and this view of the situation is gaining in strength as the campaign progresses. Both Poindexter and Davidson have lost ground for the past two or three weeks, and if either one of them expect to be in the running they will have to do something or say something bearing on their candidacy which they have not done or said. As for the fifth candidate, Mr. Cunyus, or whatever-might-be-his-name, little is said, and his vote, if he runs through, will in all probability be found in the "scattering" column. Statewide prohibition is the paramount issue, and from the way things are now shaping themselves, the two candidates whose views on this question are the easiest understood will get the main body of the vote to be polled at the July primaries.

The Times, in reply to some unjust censure which it has come in for during the past few days, because it refused to accept for publication an article which might "be" under the law, construed as libelous in character, believes that it can better afford to stand for this censure rather than involve itself in a nasty suit. Again the Times is not going to permit itself to be used as a medium through which to pull chestnuts from the fire that may not be quite ripe for the pulling. It often sees things going on which look suspicious and which it would like to denounce through its columns as pure "fakes," "frauds," or "gum games," but under the libel law of Texas, reputable newspapers will not indulge in such pastime, unless it knows beyond any question of doubt that what it prints and puts into circulation are facts. With all due respect to its learned critics, it pegs to say that while it may have "cold feet," it also believes it has a cool head.

It is announced that Sterling P. Strong, former superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, will go on the stump in advocacy of the nomination of Cone Johnson for governor. Mr. Strong says: "It is the plan of the league to ask the legislature to pass a law giving us statewide prohibition. This can be done by a majority of the members. Three of the candidates for governor say they would veto such a law, if elected. These are Colquitt, Davidson and Poindexter. Johnson says he would approve such a law and see that it is enforced in every part of the state. For this reason I am supporting Cone Johnson for governor. I expect to be active in his behalf and hope every prohibitionist in Texas who cares more for our cause than individuals will help to elect Johnson."

The Dallas News is not supporting any one of the five candidates for governor, probably for the reason, in the first place that, in the opinion of the News, not one of them measures up to the gubernatorial size, and secondly, because it does not want to be charged with the defeat of any one of them by giving him its support. The News, according to some who envy its prosperity and the able manner in which it is conducted, has never supported any candidate for governor who won out. If it continues to pursue its course it has so far in the present campaign, its envious rivals in the newspaper field will not be able to make that charge any longer.

Representative Sheppard of Texas recently appeared before the subcommittee on judiciary and made an argument in favor of his bill to "put the Deity in the Constitution." He contends that the Constitution of the United States is the only important American State document that does not mention the Deity. His bill ought to be passed.

Candidate Poindexter has challenged the other candidates to a joint canvass of the state. Mr. Cunyus has done the same thing; if the other candidates are opposed to a joint canvass, what's the matter with these two getting up one of their own? That might induce the others to join.

The Austin Statesman calls attention to the fact that while Texas cannot boast that both her United States senators were born on her soil, she can take consolation in the fact that neither Aldrich nor Cannon is a native of the state.

An expert has figured out that a woman "may" dress on $275 a year. Who ever heard of a woman asking "permission" to live on that amount or any other?

And Speaker Cannon dares the insurgents to vote with the democrats to unseat him. Whatever else may be said of the speaker, he is a game old fighter.

The Times is pleased to note that Texas is not attempting to rival Mississippi and Pennsylvania in graft revelations.

GROUND HOG FALSE PROPHECY

Prof. Willis Moore Says He Did Not Make Good This Year.

Washington—Prof. Willis L. Moore, chief of the Weather Bureau, has a grouse on the groundhog.

"You never pick up a paper," said Prof. Moore, "that you don't see harsh criticisms of the weather bureau. If we miss the time of the coming of rain by half an hour, we are declared grossly incompetent. People make speeches and say the weather bureau is spending too much money. Then somebody writes a long magazine article about us. They say we never have been right for two days on a stretch."

"If I did not see a kick on the weather bureau in the paper every morning and afternoon or find half a dozen complaining letters on my desk every day I would feel lonesome and neglected. But while the abuse is going around why not be impartial with it?"

"What about the great weather prophet, the groundhog?"

"He is the greatest four-flusher that ever looked at a cloud and pretended to tell what was in it."

"What did he do this year? Did he make good? Not a bit of it. He was as far off as we were about the probable weather conditions."

"He crawled out of his hole on February 2, saw his shadow, got his picture in every paper in the country and then beat it back to his cavernous lair, leaving behind the idea that the remainder of February and all of March would be marked by bad weather."

"Was it a reliable forecast? I should say not. We have had the mildest and most beautiful March in years. Yet the groundhog gets off without a single roast. And next year people will be just as eager to believe in his judgment."

"That is rank favoritism."

WANTS CHANGE OF VENUE.

Earl Mabry Case is Brought Up in Fort Worth Court.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 9.—District Judge Simmons, before whom Frank McCut was tried three times for the murder of Earl Mabry in Dallas, today refused the motion of McCut's attorneys to reinstate the case in his court. McCut has been indicted on the same charge in Dallas, but the defense prefers to try the case outside of that county. McCut's counsel will appeal to the court of criminal appeals in an effort to reinstate the case in Judge Simmons' court.

CHECK WAS PROTESTED.

Reformer Bilbo of Mississippi Could Not Pay Debts.

Jackson, Miss., April 9.—It was after 11 o'clock today when the senate resumed taking testimony in the bribery case. B. C. Bowen, a lawyer of Gulfport, told of a client of his putting a claim in Bilbo's hand. Bowen said Bilbo collected eighty dollars and charged one hundred dollars for it. The client turned the case over to Bowen and Bilbo sent a check for twenty-nine dollars to Bowen, but the check was protested and has not been paid.

GENTLE ART OF MAKING UP.

Modish Parisienne Colors Lips and Lobes of Ears.

If the veil goes—except for automobile wear—what will take the place of it? If the "bald face" is to shine forth, then Parisiennes must take a different way of putting powder on the skin. It has not been modish for years to apply coloring except to the lips, yet the latter is most vulgarly done. It appears difficult to invent a wax the color of the human lips. Pencils are of vermilion or an intense red.

French women smear their mouths with these preparations, seemingly without thinking of the effect. As a matter of course, a half blind man could detect the fraud at a glance, and yet we see instances of it continually. It is a common thing after taking tea at any of the resorts, to see a woman take out her baton des levres and anoint her face before the others. And it is such a common sight that no one comments. French women often put pink on the lobes of the ears, their idea being that a waxen ear, no matter how pretty in shape, looks dead and ghastly.

Yet, with all the secrets of the French art of making up, they do not appear to stop and think of a practical mode to anoint are face powder. The woman who knows, no matter of what nationality, has found that powder, to have a softening effect, must be applied lightly to the skin after the face has been smeared with cold cream. A puff must be called into service for this, and a light rice powder employed. After applying one should search the features in a glass placed where the strongest light in the room falls upon it.

When you put on over a cream the powder in a measure does not touch the skin, and the pores are nourished by the small amount of pure grease a good cream is supposed to contain. Brunettes are advised to use a powder that has a faint rose tint through it, and blondes to employ white powder. However, there is no strong and fast rule, for I believe that any skin—except the decidedly florid—would be improved by a thin application of pink. White powder always gives a faded, ghastly veil to the features and makes them look unnatural. —New York Evening Sun.

The Money Craze.

By Winifred Black.

A man pretended to be crazy the other day out in Missouri, and they sent him to the insane asylum.

When he arrived there one of the doctors recognized him as the man who had pretended to be crazy once before so as to be locked up in an asylum in Illinois. The man confessed.

"No," he said, "I am not crazy, but board is so high now I thought this was a good way of getting a good living cheap."

Not crazy! Why, he was crazier than any poor maniac in any asylum in the world.

Crazy about money—for it seems he had money. So crazy that he would rather live in the horrors of an insane asylum than spend his money for a quiet life somewhere else. He isn't the only person that's crazy about money.

I know a woman who will get without food so long that she gets a terrible headache—just to save money.

She has money. Not plenty of it, but enough to buy food and shelter and clothes for three women let alone one. But she feels poorer than any beggar in the streets, so her money doesn't do her a particle of good.

"Money," cried a man I knew the other day, "I never was so poor in my life as I have been since I've had a thousand dollars in the bank. I have to calculate and add and subtract every time I want to buy a friend a bunch of violets. I can't ask a woman to dinner without getting off in a corner somewhere and counting up to see if I have money enough to pay the bills and have some left for my weekly deposit."

"I wish somebody would come and borrow the measly thousand and get rid of it for me, and then I could spend my money as it comes in and feel rich again."

I was out with a rich woman the other day and it began to rain. An I called a taxi to get home. The rich woman was so busy scheming how to get out of paying her share of the tax bill that she couldn't speak a word all the way home.

And now every time she sees me she feels mean. And she looks it. I wonder if it's worth while to care so much about money as all that.

Crazy! Why, half the people in the world are crazy about money! But nobody locks them up in the asylums.

REMAIN SEPARATE.

Louisiana Land Offices Have Accredited Legal Requirements.

Washington, April 13.—The land offices of Louisiana will not be consolidated at this time. The question of amalgamating the offices at New Orleans and Natchitoches has been under consideration for some time by the interior department and it has been decided to make no change in their boundaries.

The law provides that when a land office contains less than 100,000 acres of public lands within its jurisdiction it shall be consolidated with another district. As it was found that each district contains more than the lawful requirement, no action will be taken by the department.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

Highwaymen Try to Rob Traction Office at Tulsa.

Tulsa, Okla., April 14.—A desperate attempt by two highwaymen to rob the office of the Tulsa Street Railway Company early this morning was frustrated by the hostler. Twenty-five shots were exchanged and one man was wounded. The authorities are working on a clue.

AS TO THE FREE PASS LAW.

Hereford, Tex., April 7th, 1910. Editor Wichita Daily Times, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Dear Sir:—My attention has been called to an editorial in the Daily Times of March 26th, attacking my position on the anti-pass law. I can not claim the honor of a personal acquaintance with the editor, but from my knowledge of editors in general, I feel sure that you will accord me the privilege of answering your criticisms and give my answer the same publicity through the columns of your paper as was given your editorial.

You stated that I was ignorant as to the anti-pass law, but you did not state as to what part of it I was ignorant. That statement immediately preceded the following sentence: "The Times has no knowledge whatever that any newspaper man in the state of Texas ever carried a free railroad pass, even before the anti-free pass law was enacted, and none of the editors are now contending that the law be amended so as to give them this privilege, provided the railroads are willing to grant it." My dear Mr. Editor, I must certainly now charge you with ignorance. How long have you been in the newspaper business? I charge it to be a fact, well known, that prior to the enactment of the anti-pass law that at all important conventions, meetings, etc., you would find editors there as thick as hammers, and got there on passes over routes, a portion of which were frequently over lines of road which had never advertised in the particular papers belonging to the man who carried that pass.

Frequently such passes were given to the editor and his better-half for interstate trips, summer outings, etc. Tut, tut, Mr. Editor, if you didn't know of the other boys riding on free passes over lines that they never did any advertising for before the anti-pass law become effective, then they kept you hoodwinked; you didn't get all that was coming to you.

By reading all of your article one will see that you approve of my position on the anti-pass law. Here is what you say: "As for the Times, it wants no amendment made to the anti-free pass law. It is satisfied to pay its car fare just like other people, and if every body is required by the law to pay their transportation, it will not be a great while until the railroads will voluntarily reduce the cost of transportation, and, in the event they will not do this of their own voluntary act, then the people of the state will be perfectly justified in appealing to the railroad commission for a reduction in transportation rates."

But was it not because of your enthusiasm for another candidate that you attacked my position; that other candidate's platform being as follows: "Five different subjects might be named as being among the things which shall receive my cordial and undivided support. These are—first and foremost, the return of the press of Texas the right to contract that is vouchsafed to them by both state and federal constitutions?" Now what does this mean except that in case this candidate is elected to the senate that his FIRST AND FOREMOST and his best efforts will be to amend the anti-pass law so that the newspaper men may "contract" with the railroads to carry a small ad, and a free pass at the same time? Won't his amendment necessarily let in all others to again "contract" for free passes? Now, be fair, and you newspaper men charge for your space and pay for your tickets as the others of us. Let the anti-pass law stand as it is, and according to your statement in your editorial, we will soon be buying tickets at less than 3 cents per mile. Your statement is sound and is good and in line with my platform. We—you and me, Mr. Editor, are right. Let the doctrine of "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none" stand.

Yours respectfully, JNO P. SLATON. In answer to Mr. Slaton's question the Times editor will say that he is about 43 years of age, and has never followed any calling other than that of newspaper work, and during all his life has never yet ridden on what Mr. Slaton would term "A newspaper free pass." He has, on perhaps many as a half-dozen occasions, had the privilege of riding on a "free pass" but this courtesy was not due to the fact that he was engaged in the newspaper business. All the transportation he ever received from an railroad was paid for.

The Times, however, does not wish Mr. Slaton, or others to believe that it is taking sides in the senatorial contest in this, the 29th district. All the interest it has in the contest is to what little it can in seeing that the man who succeeds Mr. Veale will be one who will not put in circulation statements that cannot be substantiated by the facts.

The Times will again say that, far as it is personally concerned, desires no change made in the anti-pass law. It was enacted to spite newspapers who made a fight on members of the legislature who rode and from Austin on free passes, then put in their claims to the state for mileage. If it is any satisfaction to that kind of law-makers to deny the right of contract between newspaper and railroads, by all means, let the law stand as it is now; rather than take the chances of changing it.

FAIR TO CORPORATIONS.

The following sensible reference corporations is from the Texas Fair and Ranch:

Those who would harry corporations and drive them out of business do themselves and the country injury. Corporations are necessary to the conduct of business in this century and are not more than limited partnerships. A policy of liberality for those who prefer to co-operate in business will be better. The most that should be asked is that business shall be done in fair and just ways, and it should be demanded of individual firms and corporations alike, that they should not permit a corporation, a creature of the law, to become greater than the law, and in the same way must hold individuals and partnerships to observance of law.

Every corporation which is inclined to deal fairly with the public is entitled to a square deal from the public.

While we are inclined to boost on our own city and county, we can't help but admire the public spirit and civic pride of the citizens of our sister city Wichita Falls, Texas. Tuesday was "clean-up day" there and all business houses closed and the citizens, white and colored, turned out and cleaned all the streets and alleys of waste and rubbish. The Chamber of Commerce, aided by the ladies, served free dinners to the workers, who wore white badges with the words: "Volunteer, Clean-up Day."—Devot (Okla.) Dispatch.

President Taft has reconsidered and will make a speech in Indiana. With Senator Beveridge fighting the administration on the tariff question and the republican state convention endorsing the senator, it would seem that Indiana is in a bad fix from the stand point of friends of the administration.

The Dallas News observes that they may think he is having a hard time, but if the statistics were available it would probably be developed that he doesn't have as many troubles in a month as Governor Haskell. Oklahoma gets into before breakfast. Come to think of it, Governor Haskell has had a fairly good share of trouble. It seems that there are in office in that state who object being dictated to entirely by the error. Some of them take the unpardonable position that they are responsible to the people rather than to the governor. Gov. Haskell is a pretty good fellow, in some respects but he is so what inclined to be the whole world to which there appears some objection.

The Gainesville Register is very much exercised for fear that a lot of people are going to get left out of the Colquitt band wagon. We have never yet heard of a politician's band wagon which was not built for express purpose of taking care of anybody who wants to get into it, old time, anywhere.

PLANS FOR SHOPS ARE MADE PUBLIC

IMPROVEMENTS BY NORTHWESTERN ARE TO BE VERY EXTENSIVE THIS YEAR.

MODERN REPAIR SYSTEM

Round House, Coal Chute, Coach Shed, Shop Buildings and Storehouse To Be Built.

The details of the plans for the shops, round-house, coal chute and other improvements to be made by the Wichita Falls Route during this year have been announced by the officials of that road. They represent a total expenditure of one hundred thousand dollars.

The improvements are to be constructed on the north side of the river, to the right of the present Northwestern tracks, as one crosses the river and will cover about thirty acres of ground. Summarized, the improvements include:

- Ten-stall round house, with turntable. Shop building, 100 by 200 feet. Storehouse and office building, with platform, 42 by 365 feet. Twelve-pocket coal chute. Coach shed, 40 by 230 feet. Transfer table, 70 by 215 feet. Twelve miles of tracks, sidings and spurs.

The plans for these improvements are nearing completion and work will be started at the earliest possible date. The round house will be large enough to accommodate the road's motive power and will be equipped with a 10 by 12 turn table. The shop machinery will occupy a one-story building of the dimensions above stated. The machinery has already been ordered. The storehouse will be a two-story building, 26 by 50, the upper story being used for offices.

The entire arrangement is such that all work can be handled with dispatch and there will not be a more modern system of shops in the southwest, not excepting those of the big lines. There will be about twelve miles of track through and around the shops.

The magnitude of this undertaking and the completeness of the arrangement will not be fully realized by Wichitans until the improvements are finished.

Pugilistic Encounter.

Jackson, Miss., April 11.—A fight occurred in the house here today between Representative Burkett, once a candidate for vice president on the populist ticket, but now a democrat, and Director of Archives and History Rowland. The latter after pummeling Burkett, was hit on the head with a cane by Burkett and rendered unconscious.

The row is supposed to have started over the bribery investigation. Rowland is not believed to be seriously injured.

The bribery investigation was resumed in the senate shortly after 11 o'clock this morning.

Former Sheriff and Tax Collector Scott of Poplarville, testified that Bilbo asked him to change the records in his office, so that it would be shown that he was delinquent and thus make him ineligible for the senate. Scott told him that even if he were so disposed, the chancellor's office would show the delinquency. Scott said that then the chancellor's office record was destroyed. Scott considered Bilbo's reputation for business transactions "shady."

STUDENTS ON STRIKE.

Tulsa High School Boys Wanted to Celebrate New Arrival.

Tulsa, April 11.—Three hundred students of the high school here went on strike today because the superintendent refused to permit them to enjoy a holiday in honor of the arrival of a new baby at the home of the principal, Katz, Sunday. The students marched to the superintendent's home and when denied a holiday, paraded the streets shouting for the new infant. Every student bought a baby rattle.

IN STRIKE CONFERENCE.

Walkout May End As Result of Today's Meeting.

Kansas City, April 11.—Representatives of the coal miners and mine owners of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas met the joint conference here today in an effort to settle the strike of thirty-five thousand miners which began April 1st. The men went out because the operators refused to grant an increase in wages.

Trash Fire Is Fatal.

Marble Falls, Tex., April 9.—Mrs. Mollie Moore, residing fifteen miles north of here, was burned to death today when her dress caught fire from burning trash in her yard. She was a wealthy land owner and of a prominent family.

A DEAD STOMACH.

Of What Use is it?

Thousands? Yes, hundreds of thousands of people throughout America are taking the slow-death treatment daily. They are murdering their own stomach, the best friend they have, and in their sublime ignorance they think they are putting aside the law of nature.

This is no sensational statement; it is a startling fact, the truth of which any honorable physician will not deny. These thousands of people are swallowing daily huge quantities of pepsin and other strong digesters, made especially to digest the food of the stomach without any aid at all from the digestive membrane of the stomach.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets relieve distressed stomachs in five minutes; they do more. Taken regularly for a few weeks they build up the run-down stomach and make it strong enough to digest its own food. Then indigestion, belching, sour stomach and headache will go.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold by druggists every where and by Weeks Drug Company, who guarantee them. 50 cents a box.

Prominent Mississippian Arrested. Jackson, April 9.—Warrants were issued from the Sheriff's office today for the arrest of "Private" John Allen, of Tupelo, Representative Doherty, of Tunica county; Senator Engle of Natchez; Hon. Samuel Hamm, of Clarksdale, and Hon. T. G. James of Sharkey, the two last named being prominent delta planters, on the charge of poker playing. Four other well known citizens, two of whom are serving in the legislature, were indicted on the same charge but their names were not revealed. Several of the parties made confessions to the grand jury, John Allen leading the way.

The penalty as prescribed by the Mississippi code of eighteen eighty for playing poker is a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, and in the event of non-payment the judge can impose imprisonment for not more than twenty days.

Natchez, Miss., April 9.—Senator Engle who was indicted at Jackson today for poker playing says he is not liable to prosecution or indictment and that the district attorney and grand jury at Jackson are aware of this. Engle says the indictment was caused by partisan politics.

A Very Sad Case.

Mrs. Sallie Sullens, a widow, died last Saturday night at 10 o'clock at her home, 1011 Indiana avenue, aged about forty years, and was buried yesterday afternoon at Riverside Cemetery. Rev. H. A. Able preaching the funeral service at the grave. Pneumonia was the cause of her death, and she leaves surviving her two small boys, the oldest about 14 and the younger one 9 years of age. They have no relatives who care enough for them to give them a home, and the family were in destitute circumstances at the time of the mother's death. Mrs. Sullens, since her residence in this city, has kept a few boarders, and by this means has supported herself and two children, but was not able to save anything.

Here is a case for those charitably inclined to show their kindness by assisting in every way possible to find good homes for these two orphan children.

FIRE IN DUBUQUE HOTEL.

Several Are Killed Today in Early Morning Panic.

Dubuque, Iowa, April 11.—Fire broke out in the Julian hotel early today where two hundred guests were asleep in the wild panic which followed, Sam Levy of Chicago, was fatally hurt by jumping from a third story window and Charles Evans of Philadelphia, suffered internal injuries. Firemen rescued the other guests. The interior was ruined with a loss of fifty thousand.

DEFIES THE INSURGENTS.

Cannon Dares Them To Depose Him From Office.

Washington, April 11.—Speaker Cannon today again defied the insurgents to depose him from the speakership, declaring in a speech that "unless the republicans who do not approve of the personality of their speaker have the courage to join a solid minority, I will remain speaker until March 4th, next."

MET IN FOREST.

Pinchot and Roosevelt Hold Conference in Italy.

Porto Maurizio, Italy, April 11.—Roosevelt's widely heralded meeting with Gifford Pinchot, the deposed chief forester of the United States Department of Agriculture occurred here today. The interview proper took place later in the seclusion of a forest north of town.

THE CLARK'S JEWEL GAS STOVES

Here we show a picture of our genuine Clark Jewel Natural Gas Stove. Now, look at it closely, and you will admit it is pretty. Well, the stove itself is nicer than this picture.

The body is made of stamped steel, well proportioned and neatly trimmed. That's what makes it nicer than any cast iron gas stove. Steel don't break, cast iron does, steel heats quickly, cast iron heats slow. Then what argument can be offered against the Clark Jewel. It's the best for no other reason than we sell it; we have been in the business long enough to know.

WEEKS-AVIS.

Well Known Young People United in Marriage Today.

From Thursday's Daily. W. Frederick Weeks and Miss Katie Lou Avis were united in marriage today at the First Presbyterian Church, at 1 o'clock, in the presence of a large number of friends.

The church was simply decorated for the occasion, there being an array of palms at the altar, with a few white flowers in evidence. Just before the arrival of the wedding party, Mrs. Wade Walker sang Bartley's tender love song in a manner that lent a sweet impressiveness to the occasion.

The bride was attired in a traveling suit of gray, with hat to match and was attended by Miss Cleo Allison as maid of honor and Misses Lena Matlock and Lillian Avis, who were in white. The groom was attended by his brother, Harry Weeks, as best man, and Messrs. F. Piner Avis and William Francis. Rev. J. L. McKee pronounced the words of the beautiful ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Weeks left over the Denver this afternoon for San Antonio on their wedding tour. They will return next Monday.

The groom is a young attorney and business man of this city and he enjoys the friendship and esteem of a large circle. He is a graduate of the University of Texas and of Yale University. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Avis. She was reared in this city, which numbers among its daughters none more fair or lovable. The heartiest and most sincere good wishes of their many friends accompany Mr. and Mrs. Weeks in their new estate.

RAID WHITE SLAVERS.

Brooklyn Police Begin Energetic Campaign.

New York, April 14.—With the arraignment of six men in the Brooklyn police court yesterday and the announcement that warrants are out for twenty others, the Brooklyn police declare there is in progress one of the biggest raids ever made in New York on dealers in white slaves. Eight girls were in court to testify against the prisoners. One of the girls was only 9 years of age, the oldest being only 15. They all told the same story, that they had been lured to a moving picture show, where sandy and other cheap presents were given them and then they were taken to some house maintained as a resort of activities of the band of slavers.

Burning gas caused a fire alarm to be turned in this morning for the Vreeland building, at 8th and Indiana. The fire was between the first and second floors and was extinguished with some difficulty by the use of the chemical tank. The fire started in the store of H. D. Kirsch, ladies' outfitter and milliner, and was caused by workmen in taking out the gas lighting fixtures and substituting for them electric light fixtures, and who had failed to cut off the gas at the meter before starting the work. By some means unexplainable, the escaping gas from one of the pipes was ignited. Some damage by smoke and water was sustained to the stock of goods which was fully covered by insurance.

FARM AND STOCK NOTES.

From the Farm and Ranch. Broom corn and sorghum should not be planted close together if planted so they mature pollen at the same time. They are closely related botanically and mix.

Although sorghum makes heavy draughts upon the plant food of the soil, it is a splendid forage plant and the syrup deserves more consideration on our tables.

Plans should be made to turn the oat stubble as soon as the crop is harvested and plant the land in summer cover crop. Cowpeas are very valuable for this purpose.

Did you plant a seed plant from which to select your seed corn next year? If you did not, do it now. It is better to risk late planting than to neglect this important matter.

Louisiana sugar cane thrives in most sections of the humid and semi-humid regions of the southwest, and should command more attention. For home use cane syrup is not to be compared with sorghum. Try it this year.

Do not neglect to keep accurate farm accounts. Look to the future and correct the mistakes of the past. Without a record of the seasons and the cost of this year's crops, you cannot improve your management next year.

Cowpeas should not be planted until the soil becomes warm and the weather is favorable for rapid growth. They require a warm soil and are retarded by cool nights and damp, disagreeable days. You will not gain by planting cowpeas early.

Cow beans stand earlier planting than cowpeas, and for this reason they should be more extensively planted in the southwest. They may be planted from April 1 to May 15, while it is seldom advisable to plant cowpeas in the altitude of North Texas until May 15.

Practical feeders, as well as several experiment stations, have shown that rice hulls must be fed with great caution. In large quantities it has been found that they are injurious to animals. Hulls contain silica, are sharp and hard to digest and often irritate the mucous membrane and intestines of animals. It is very doubtful whether or not it is ever advisable to feed rice hulls. They can be used to advantage as mulch for orchards and the ashes make good fertilizer.

Early cultivation of corn will greatly accelerate growth. By stirring the soil early air and sunlight enter, warm the soil, start the action of soil bacteria in making plant food available and thereby hasten the development and maturity of the plants. Weeds are very easily destroyed when the soil is cultivated as they germinate, or soon after. Much moisture will also be saved if a mulch is made early.
