IRRIGATION WORK NOW COMPLETED

SYSTEM BETWEEN CITY AND LAKE SOON TO BE READY FOR TRUCK FARMS.

SUPPLIES 2000 ACRES

Water Was Turned into Larger Channels of System During This Week.

From Thursday's Daily. The irrigation between this city and Lake Wichita is practically completed and water has been turned into the larger ditches. It is probable that some of the land reached by the ditches will be planted in garden truck at once, though the general use of the irrigated section will not begin until next fall.

A total of about two thousand acres is placed under irrigation by means of this system and it is planned to divide this into five and ten-acre tracts, to be used for truck farms.

The main ditch of the new system is about one mile in length and is a gravity ditch, being ten feet higher than the ditch used by the water company. Three smaller ditches branch out from the main channel and these in turn subdivide into smaller ditches. A total of about twelve miles of ditches is included in the system.

The system is supplied from Lake Wichita, the main channel connecting with the lake at the point where the water company's ditch enters. The system was installed at a cost of about fifty thousand dollars.

PARKER ESTATE IS INVOLVED IN SUIT

FIRST WIFE OF WALTER PARKER FILES SUIT AGAINST IOWA PARK LADY.

ESTATE WORTH $250,000

First Wife Claims That She Was Never Legally Divorced From Her Husband.

From Thursday's Daily. An estate consisting mostly of lands in the western part of this county, valued at about a quarter of a million, is involved in a suit which comes up tomorrow in Judge Meek's federal court at Dallas. The suit is that of Mrs. Barbara Parker of California against Mrs. Mattie Parker and children of this county and it also involves the validity of the divorce granted the husband of the plaintiff thirty years ago.

The estate is that of Walter Parker, who died at Iowa Park over a year ago. He obtained a divorce from his first wife, the plaintiff in the suit in Missouri about thirty years ago, service being had upon her by publication. His first wife now claims to have known nothing of the divorce proceedings. In his will, Mr. Parker left the child of his first wife practically nothing.

The lands are valued in the plaintiff's petition at half a million dollars, but are hardly worth that much. The greater part of the estate is in Wichita and Willbarger counties, and some property in Palo Pinto county is also involved. The plaintiff's petition sets up that she was never legally divorced from Walter Park and that she was his lawful wife at the time of his death and therefore entitled to his property. The defendants in the suit now reside at Iowa Park.

IS HERE TO START NEW BRICK PLANT

O. A. KENTNER AND PARTY ARRIVE FROM SAPULPA TO LOOK LOCAL FIELD OVER.

MAY COMMENCE AT ONCE

Matter Hinges Upon Making of Cheaper Gas a Certainty—Outlook Good.

From Wednesday's Daily. O. A. Kentner of Sapulpa, who is contemplating the erection of a brick plant in this city, arrived here last night with a party of his associates, and it is believed that this visit is made with a view to taking definite steps looking to the construction of the plant. The proposition has, for some time, been held up pending the natural gas developments, Mr. Kentner preferring to wait until cheaper gas was assured. As yet, the well which is being sunk for cheaper gas has not come in, but there is little doubt that it will be.

Mr. Kentner spent this morning with several local parties on a trip about the city, visiting the plant of the Wichita Brick and Tile Company and other local industries. It is probable that he will meet the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon and make arrangements for beginning work at once. The Chamber of Commerce has agreed to donate a site for the plant, but beyond this donation will not be required to put up any bonus or stock subscriptions. Mr. Kentner has already constructed three brick plants which are now in operation. The newest one, at Sapulpa, Okla., was opened for operation only last week.

The Chamber of Commerce has until May 15 to close the proposition, but little difficulty is anticipated in carrying the matter beyond that time if the natural gas question is not settled at that date. In the opinion of the new gas company, there is very little, if any, doubt that this feature of the situation will be soon settled, and Mr. Kentner may be induced to proceed at once with the construction of his plant.

OUTLOOK FOR CORN CONSIDERED GOOD

COTTON ALSO BENEFITED

Outlook for Wheat and Oat Crops is Less Pleasing—More Rain is Promised.

From Thursday's Daily. Report received from over Wichita county today indicate that crop conditions are greatly improved as a result of the recent wet weather. The showers which have fallen have not been heavy enough to do a great deal of good, yet they are a decided relief from the hot sunshine which preceded them.

Corn prospects have been greatly improved as a result of the recent showers and the outlook is for an excellent crop of this grain. Cotton farmers consider that the rain was a very timely one for them and, while it is too early to say what that crop will do, the outlook is considered good.

Wheat and oats will not make as good crops as had been hoped. In some parts of the county they are being plowed up and cotton planted in their stead. Some farmers believe they will make as good as fifteen or twenty bushels to the acre, though in general, the outlook for the success of wheat is not considered good.

Showers continue to fall lightly and intermittently today and the sky has been overcast with clouds since Tuesday, giving promise of continued damp weather. Unsettled weather is the prediction by the weather bureau for tonight.

Young	4,810.92	11,486.34	18,252.00

In the Dallas News of April the 8th was printed the list of Texas counties showing the amount that each paid in State taxes and school taxes, and how much was apportioned back to each for school funds during 1909. This apportionment being based on the scholastic population of 1908. Above is copied the list so far as it relates to the counties in the 29th Senatorial District. As will be seen so far as the payment of State tax is concerned, Wichita county pays more than any other county, and pays more school tax than any other county except Clay.

Last year the amount paid back was greater in Clay, Jack, Wilbarger and Young than in Wichita, but as heretofore published in the Times the scholastic population of Wichita county is now greater than that of any other county excepting only Clay and Young.

As our readers may have forgotten what the Times then gave there is published below a comparison of the scholastic population of the 12 leading counties and districts for 1908 and 1909:

County	1908	1909
Childress	1975	2437
Clay	3808	4073
Baylor	1587	2140
Hale	1151	1659
Hall	1907	2199
Hardeman	2028	2419
Jack	3032	3147
Knox	2308	2410
Potter	1405	1628
Wichita	2588	3191
Wilbarger	2782	3007
Young	2704	3453

As will be seen Wichita county which stood 5th in scholastic population in 1908 is 3rd in 1909, having passed both Jack and Wilbarger. Of the 49 counties Wichita county, therefore, stands first in amount of State taxes paid, second in amount of school taxes paid, being surpassed only by Clay, and third in scholastic population, being ranked only by Clay and Young, both of which are much larger counties.

RAILROADS NEGLECT SOUTH.

Comparison is Made With Energy of Canada.

"In your many commendable efforts to wake the sleeping southern railroads," writes T. Alreed Peterson of Nashville, Tenn., "you fail to stress one important fact: The almost superhuman efforts of the people and railroads of Canada are fast populating the waste places of that country with thrifty American settlers. Every moment of sloth on part of the southern railroads is being capitalized at thousands of dollars by the never-sleeping Canadian boosters. Why not jog them a little along this line.

We had not specifically emphasized the point mentioned by Mr. Peterson, for the reason that we assumed the southern people understood, with out explanation, the forces behind the 75,000 annual hegrta to the Dominion of Canada. It cannot, however, be too persistently reiterated that, as our correspondent says, the railroads and people of Canada are both making "almost superhuman efforts" to build up their territories at the expense of Mexico. It is also true that southern states offer opportunities, both industrial and agricultural, as rich and endless and varied as those held out by the omnium.

In addition, the south offers a stable civilization, established industries, consanguinity of origin, as against the new government, shifting institutions and motley rascal mixtures of the Dominion. Upon every count in the indictment the supremacy of the south cannot be questioned.

Yet the southern railroads, whose interest would seem to lie in developing the south, let 75,000 dividend-makers annually cross the border into a strange country! Mr. Peterson employs a happy phrase when he says that "every moment of southern sloth is being capitalized at thousands of dollars by the never sleeping Canadian boosters."

The dense supineness of the southern railroads in aiding to develop Canada, and in just that degree working against the development of the southern states—the territory that creates their dividends.—Atlanta Constitution

NEW FACTORY HERE NOW A CERTAINTY

WILL FINISH FURNITURE AND MANUFACTURE MATTRESSES FROM LOCAL PRODUCTS.

$40,000 CAPITAL STOCK

Will Employ Forty Men and Have Substantial Amount of Weekly Payroll.

From Monday's Daily. Practically all of the stock in the furniture and mattress factory which is to be established here has been subscribed and little difficulty is anticipated in having the remainder taken up. M. H. Brin, who is promoting the new concern, will return here in July to make this city his residence and to actively take up his new work. He has contracts at present which will not terminate until July. It is probable that work will be put under way before he returns.

The new concern will really be three separate departments, including a retail furniture store, a furniture finishing and jobbing department and a mattress factory. The furniture-finishing department will import unfinished, "knocked-down" chairs and tables from factories in North Carolina, which will be set up, finished and varnished in the local plant. The mattress factory will make mattresses of cotton and excelsior. The former will be purchased and cleaned locally. Excelsior will also be manufactured locally, a special machine cutting out of cotton wood, which can also be obtained in this neighborhood.

The company will have a capital stock of forty thousand dollars and will employ about forty men, the payroll being from one to two thousand dollars per week. It will occupy a three-story building and is considered a valuable addition to Wichita Falls industries.

COLONIZATION SCHEME.

Germans Planning to Bring Many to This State. Houston, Texas, May 3.—Reports received today by the representative here of the Texas Commercial Secretaries Association indicate that a plan is under way in Germany through some well-to-do Germans of St. Louis, Chicago and New York for a great colonization scheme in Texas.

It seems that a prominent German, interested in an enormous early vegetable market gardening scheme, visited in company with Germans of several of our cities, the early vegetable and fruit sections of Florida, Louisiana, Texas, Mexico and Southern California, and as far as can be learned, the Texas coast country and Rio Grande districts were the most favorably thought of for early gardening of any visited, though nothing definite could be learned, the promoter having returned to Germany at once by way of Chicago and New York. As far as could be learned, no settlement was intended before this fall or winter.

Should such a colonization scheme be located here in Texas, there is little doubt of its success, as the Germans are generally very successful in market-gardening, and they certainly would have in Texas all the necessary and favorable conditions for winter vegetable and fruit growing, marketing and shipping. The big movement on here in Texas for macadam and modern road construction, also favorably impressed them.

TUBERCULOSIS CONGRESS.

Several Subjects Discussed at Today's Session. Washington, May 3.—The chief subjects discussed today at the session of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, now holding its annual convention here, were "Is tuberculosis caused by milk or meat or from bovine sources," and "What is the best employment for tuberculosis patients?"

Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire was a practicing physician before he went to Congress, and still takes a lively interest in everything pertaining to the medical profession.

John F. Hill the present chairman of the Republican National Committee, is mentioned as a probable candidate for the seat of Eugene Hale in the United States senate.

"I CAN STAND IT IF JOHNSON CAN"

JUDGE POINDEXTER THUS COMMENTS ON RANKIN'S BOOST OF TYLER MAN.

SPENDS NIGHT IN THE CITY

Left Over Valley this Afternoon for Extensive Tour of West Texas Towns.

From Tuesday's Daily. Judge William Poindexter of Cleburne, candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, spent last night and this morning in Wichita Falls as the guest of relatives, leaving over the Valley this afternoon for Seymour, where he is to speak tonight. While in the city, Judge Poindexter was the guest of relatives, Mrs. E. G. Beachman-Rowell and Mrs. M. Norville.

"I guess I can stand it if he can," was the only reply the candidate would vouchsafe to a question by a Times reporter regarding Dr. Rankin's recent endorsement of Cone Johnson. Further than this, Judge Poindexter would not talk about the matter and his air during its discussion was one of unconcern.

Judge Poindexter will speak at Seymour tonight and will go from there on an extensive tour of West Texas. His route will include Seymour, Haskell, Stamford, Aspermont, Spur, Hereford, Lubbock, Tulla, Canyon City and a number of others.

"I am coming to make a speech at Wichita Falls later in my campaign," said Judge Poindexter. "I don't know just yet when I will be here, but your city is not going to be overlooked. During his brief stay in this city, Judge Poindexter met a number of voters and a great many former Johnson county people who have moved to this section also called upon him. He expressed himself as being well pleased with the situation and said that he was gaining steadily.

HURRAH FOR HOT BREAD!

Editorial Writer is Elated With Expert's Decision.

Buried deep in the dusty ages of official reports are often bright gems of truth that wait in silent beauty the resurrecting hand of the patient investigator. For weeks there has reposed on the Journal's editorial table a brochure sent out by the Department of Agriculture bearing the somewhat unpromising title: "Bread and Breadmaking."

"Statements of a popular nature are frequently met with regarding the wholesomeness of hot bread. The fact that bread is hot has doubtless little to do with the matter. New bread, especially that from a large loaf, may be readily compressed into more or less solid masses, and it is possible that such bread would be much less finely masticated than crumbly, stale bread, and that, therefore, it might offer more resistance to the digestive juices of the stomach. However, when such hot bread as rolls, biscuits or other forms is eaten in which the crust is very large in proportion to the crumb, this objection has much less force. As far as is now known the changes ordinarily occurring in good bread as it ages do not affect its digestibility unless it becomes so dry as to be unappetizing."

"There we have it at last—the triumphant vindication of hot bread! free from sectional prejudice and un-fettered by partisan spirit, is the official and authoritative dictum that hot bread, radiating the rare and intoxicating aromas of all the Arabians, is measured and scientific formula, is nourishing and wholesome. We could have guessed that it would be the Department of Agriculture that would perform this last essential service in reuniting a republic once torn and rent asunder over the question of human slavery and hot bread! The final eraser has been run over the Mason and Dixon's line. Everywhere, save possibly along the stern and inhospitable shores of chill New England will there be rejoicing. The Adames, Ben Franklin, Otis Warren, Daniel Webster and Henry Cabot Lodge were men of cold bread and of smaller nature. But the warm and impulsive spirits of Washington, Jefferson,

Madison, Jackson, Calhoun, Clay, Marshall and Lee were nourished upon hot bread that steamed an invocation to the god of appetite. Hall to the ameliorating influence of Hon. James Wilson and the Government printing office. And to thee, too, sweet Helen Atwater, author of "Bread and Breadmaking," in farmer's bulletin 3891—Kansas City Journal.

Judge Gray 70 Years Old.
Wilmington, Del., May 3.—Judge George Gray, whose name was prominently mentioned in 1904 and again in 1908 in connection with the democratic nomination for the presidency, received congratulations today from friends and admirers throughout the country on the occasion of his seventh birthday. Judge Gray, who has been a life-long resident of Delaware, has had a most distinguished public career. In addition to serving fourteen years in the United States senate, he was a member of the Joint High Commission to settle the disputes between the United States and Canada, a member of the Peace Commission of 1898, and of the International Arbitration Commission to the Hague in 1900. He was also the head of President Roosevelt's coal strike commission, and since 1899 he has been a judge of the United States circuit court.

POINDEXTER MAKES TALK AT SEYMOUR

RECEPTION ON FIRST PART OF WEST TEXAS TRIP VERY ENTHUSIASTIC.

JUMPS ON ANTI LEAGUE

Characterizes Statutory Prohibition as Fallacious—Attacks Opponents.

Special to The Times.
Seymour, Texas, May 4.—The visit to this city, yesterday of Judge William Poindexter, candidate for Governor, was featured by a very hearty and enthusiastic reception of that gentleman. His ride from Wichita Falls here was more or less of an ovation all the way here, his friends crowding about his car at every station to greet him. At Archer City a number of citizens accompanied by the public school children, greeted him enthusiastically.

Upon arrival here he was greeted by about four hundred citizens, accompanied by the band, and he was kept busy shaking hands with the voters for some time. He spoke last evening at the opera house, which was filled to its capacity. Features of his address were his attack on statutory prohibition, which he characterized as fallacious, and his comment on the anti-saloon league. He declared that he would win without the support or endorsement of the latter body and summed matters up by saying:

"I was a prohibitionist long before the anti-saloon league existed and will continue to be one long after that organization ceases to exist."

He also paid his respects to Johnson and Colquitt, attacking several of their recent statements and he also paid attention to a number of pending questions. His address here was very well received. It was heard, not only by many Seymour people, but by visitors from Vera, Archer City, Dundee and other points.

Crosses Ocean for One-Day Visit.

London, May 3.—"Six Thousand Miles for a Glimpse of Broadway" would be an appropriate title for the piece in which Miss Pauline Chase, the popular English actress, made her debut today when she sailed for New York on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosser. Miss Chase will arrive in New York Thursday, staying a few hours for the purpose of attending the Actors Fund Fair, and sailing on the Mauretania the next morning on her return to England. The actress is taking along with her a number of photographs and autographs of leading English players and other celebrities, which she intends auctioning for the benefit of the fund.

Rear Admiral Adams Retires.

Washington, D. C., May 3.—By operation of law Rear Admiral James D. Adams, commandant of the naval station at Charleston, S. C., was placed on the retired list today. He is a native of New York, but was appointed to the navy from Mississippi in 1864. He has had over twenty-one years' service at sea and about the same amount of shore duty. He reached the grade of rear admiral in 1908, and has been stationed at Charleston since January, 1909. His retirement results in the promotion of Captain W. H. N. Sutherland to the grade of rear admiral.

BURIALS IN RUSSIA.

Cost Proportionate to Wealth and Influence of Family.

Russian burial customs and the charges which arise in connection with the disposition of the dead have been made the subject of a report by Consul General John H. Snodgrass of Moscow, who writes:

"The cost of funerals in this empire depends entirely upon the wealth and influence of the deceased. The rule holds good in any civilized land, but it is particularly pertinent to Russia, where the peasant is laid away for only $5 and, on the other hand, the citizen of wealth and high standing has thousands spent upon him in the way of special and lengthy services and for gorgeous trappings and dress parade. The average cost of a funeral is in the neighborhood of $100, but the following arrangements for $250 afford some idea of Russian methods of disposing of the dead:

"Coffin covered with glazed brocade or cashmere, pillow and lining of coffin in white satin; hearse to the home and church; lace lined cover for coffin, candlesticks and crape scarfs for the same; baldachin, brocade covered, white or gilt wood parts, drawn by six horses sparsened with black cloth; sixteen uniformed servants, six leading horses, three walking on each side of coffin, four carrying candlesticks; spreading branches of juniper trees from church to cemetery; cloth for carrying the coffin; choir of twenty-five when taking the body from the house to the church, during mass and burial service; choir of eight at the four masses for the dead; choir of ten accompanying the body to the cemetery; twelve two-horse carriages; funeral notice in two newspapers; four mounted policemen from the church to the cemetery; one metallic wreath; black cloth draperies in the church; filing of burial permit at the office of the cemetery.

"These items are all embraced in one bill rendered by the undertaker. Other expenses in connection with the burial place and its care include the cost of a grave or plot, charges for the use of the mortuary chapel and assembly halls, fees to gatekeepers, bellringers and gravediggers, and to other attendants for the care of grass and flowers. Lining a grave with masonry of one-half brick thickness costs $45 for a single grave, and $75.00 for a double grave. A cross of pine with the name in oil painted costs $2, and if the cross be half oak and half pine the charge is $5. No cost attaches to the privilege of placing a monument on the burial lot. The committee of the Cemetery of Foreign Confessions undertakes to keep a grave in order forever for $200.

"Burials are made three days after death, except in the case of infectious diseases, when prompt interment is required. From the house to the church the body is carried by four men, in open coffin, preceded by a person who carries the lid upon his head. Only in cases of infectious diseases is the casket closed in the house. Embalming is not much practiced in Russia, except by the wealthy, and the charges range from $50 up. There are no coroners in Russia. The burials are under the control of the churches and the police, and all cemeteries are owned by the church and the municipality. Cremation is contrary to law, but it has been suggested from official sources.

"In case of the death of a foreigner, a permit to transport the body to another country is obtained from the local authorities; similar permits must also be secured from the consuls representing the countries through which the body is carried.

"The chief medical officers at St. Petersburg has suggested to the government that (1) the minimum depth of a grave should be forty-two inches; (2) the distance between graves should be forty-two inches; (3) that a permit to bury within two days, or even less, should prevail if the body is examined by postmortem or is decomposed; (4) cremation should be permitted (a) if an adult has left a will to that effect, or if relatives so desire, there being no will, and witnesses can prove the deceased did not object; (b) if upon police and medical statements there is no doubt as to natural cause."—New York Tribune.

FAMOUS FISH EATERS.

The Love of Sea Food Was a Mania in the Time of Lucullus.

Many famous persons both in modern and ancient times have been known as devoted fish eaters. Gaius, queen of Syria, was so fond of fish that she ordered all caught within the limit of her kingdom to be brought to her in order that she might be continually supplied with the choicest quality. Philozenes of Cytheria, on learning from his physician that he must die of indigestion from having eaten excessively of a delicious fish, said, "Be it so, but before I go allow me to finish what remains."

Athens was a city of fish eaters, and its cooks were famous for their knowledge of cooking fish. The wise writers of the day spent much time in recording recipes for preserving fish in salt, oil or herbs. There was a law in the city that forbade a fishmonger to sit down until he had disposed of all his stock on the ground that a standing position made him more submissive and inclined to sell at a reasonable price.

The Romans inherited from the Greeks their love for fish. Rome's soldiers were fed on fish, her generals ate fish, her senators were epicures in fish, and her emperors recognized no dish more desirable than fish. Lucullus caused a canal to be cut through a mountain near Naples to bring up the sea and its fishes to the center of the gardens of his sumptuous villa. The love of fish in those days was a mania. The red mullet was prized beyond all food. A sauce called garum, made from the entrails and blood of mackerel and other fishes, brought high prices, and great prizes were offered the man who could make a similar sauce out of the liver of the red mullet.

In more modern times kings have been known for their liking of fish. In the reign of Edward II. in Eugland sturgeon could be served only on the king's table. In France fishmongers were licensed by the king. Louis XII. was so fond of fish he appointed six fishmongers to supply his table. Francis I. had twenty-two and Henry the Great twenty-four.

Under the reign of Louis XIV. fish eating became as popular as the French court as it had ever been in Rome. A story is told that when fish failed to arrive from the seacoast in time for a grand dinner being given by the Prince of Coude to the king the prince's chef, an illustrious purveyor of fish, was so chagrined he ran to his chamber, took his sword and pierced his heart.—Boston Globe.

Forgetful.

Absentminded Annette belongs to a club of young women in the west end of town. She went to a bridal shower given by the club and left her present at home.

"I'm so sorry that I forgot it," she said.

"Never mind," the other girls told her. "You can send it around later."

A few weeks later the club gave another bridal shower, and again Annette left her gift at home.

"Do you know what I've done?" she said when she discovered her mistake. "I've forgotten my present."

No one felt disposed to help her out. "But, then," she added, "didn't one of the girls forget her present last time, and didn't we say it would be all right if she sent it around later? I'm sure that happened to somebody."

Hampered by Conventionalities.

Washington was crossing the Delaware river at Trenton.

"Of course," he said, "I don't mind standing up in this boat and gazing sternly in the direction of the unsuspecting foe, since the artists insist on depicting me in this absurd attitude, but the blithering chumps ought to know better than to paint these blocks of floating ice projecting a foot above the water. Any man with an ounce of gumption knows that the ice in this river isn't eight feet thick."

Angered by these reflections, he fell upon the Hessians shortly afterward with extreme ferocity.—Chicago Tribune.

Easy.

"Sir Arthur Conan Doyle," said a writer, "sat at dinner on his last visit here beside a lady who asked leave to consult him about some thefts."

"My detective powers," he replied, "are at your service, madam."

"Well," said the lady, "frequent and mysterious thefts have been occurring at my house for a long time. This there disappeared last week a motor horn, a broom, a box of golf balls, a left riding boot, a dictionary and a half dozen tin pie plates."

"Aha," said the creator of "Sherlock Holmes," "the case, madam, is quite clear. You keep a goat."—Exchange.

Suffers For Her Belief.

"There are no martyrs these days." "Oh, I wouldn't say that."

"Do you think there are any people today who would suffer tortures for their beliefs?"

"My wife believes that an eighteen inch waist looks better than a twenty-two, and I think she suffers a lot of genuine torture because of that belief."—Houston Post.

Rhode Island's July 4.

Providence, R. I., May 4.—The anniversary of Rhode Island's declaration of independence, which the local historian claim antedated by two months the general Declaration of Independence of the thirteen colonies, was celebrated as an official holiday today throughout the state. Rhode Island claims the distinction of having been the first of the original thirteen colonies to renounce the sovereignty of Great Britain. According to the historical records it was on May 4, 1776, exactly two months before the Declaration of Independence was signed at Philadelphia, that the members of the general assembly of the colony of Rhode Island and the Providence Plantations took the first steps toward a stand against English rule in the shape of a formal renunciation of allegiance to the British Crown.

Two years ago the legislature declared for the observance of the anniversary as a public holiday throughout the state. Today's celebration consisted of patriotic exercises in the public schools and historical exercises in the hall of the old state house in this city, where the declaration of independence was signed 134 years ago by the statesmen of Rhode Island. In further observance of the anniversary a salute of thirteen guns was fired at noon in Providence, Newport, Bristol and other cities.

JOHNSON ON BAILEY.

In a speech delivered at McGregor recently, Cone Johnson, candidate for governor discussed his attitude toward Senator Bailey, and the attitude of the other candidates for governor, using the following language:

"I have no disposition to minimize my part of the Bailey fight," said Mr. Johnson in introducing that subject. "It stands for itself. I fought him honestly from the stump, and was ready to answer for all I said. I had the right to do that. I reserve to myself the inalienable right to take to task every public servant, high or low, from President to Constable, whose conduct doesn't measure up to the standard I think it ought to be, and I wouldn't give up that privilege to be Governor of Texas for life."

"I haven't asked a single friend of Senator Bailey's since the primary two years ago to apologize to me or to give me any explanation of his position, for every man who went into that primary was privileged to shape his course as he deemed wisest. As I have asked none of my friends who supported Senator Bailey to apologize to me, I think it is only right that they should not ask me to apologize for what I did, and they needn't ask me to, for I'm not 'gwine to do it." (Applause.)

"When I announced for Governor some people said that it was mighty close on the heels of the Joe Bailey fight of two years ago for Bailey's friends to take to me like ducks to water. But they forget the fact that every other candidate was also mixed up in that affair.

"Poindexter defended Bailey all over Texas and was considered by Bailey followers the most adroit defender of the Senator's conduct.

"Davidson dug up the snakes and brought on the fight, and the fact that he retired to his office and his cob pipe while the heat of battle raged ought not to give him any special advantage over one who assumed his share of the burden of the day.

"Colquitt has floundered around on both sides of the question and tried to curry favor at the last moment. So I decided that somebody who had been on one side of the question should be Governor, and I would run."

The Arkansas Gazette estimates the loss to crops in Arkansas from the recent cold weather in the neighborhood of one million dollars. Those fine strawberries for which Arkansas is famous were damaged considerably. The peach crop was also damaged.

The only thing Wichita Falls is behind on is some person to come forward and claim to have been up early enough to have stayed out late enough to see the comet.

"OTHER ATTRIBUTES."

Editor Review: My attention has been called to the following editorial in the Wichita Daily Times:

"James T. Denton's plan to take the headquarters of the Commercial Clubs Association away from Wichita Falls is a lovely one. The Times favors voting him a pewter medal for his ingenuity, resourcefulness and the other attributes that made him the greatest secretary Henrietta ever had."

This is characteristic of Wichita Falls and its newspaper exponents. They gloat over our misfortunes. Our adversity they roll as a sweet morsel under their tongues. I verily believe that if we should lose our colored population, or even our municipal debts, they would rejoice, exceedingly and smite their thighs in ecstasy. It is very surprising indeed, that they recognize any good coming out of Nazareth. "Ingenuity, resourcefulness and other attributes" are good Noah Webster words, but the last one is rather indefinite. The Times should have cut it up into specific chunks so we could digest and assimilate it more thoroughly. Some of the critical ones may take advantage of this general and comprehensive word "attributes" and say Jimmie had cheek and gall, money, brains, diplomacy, graft or a hundred other things that can be found in an able secretary. We should call upon that paper to thoroughly explain itself. If it means well for our wandering boy, he should be "taken in and done for" in the Golden Rule. If they are trying to drive him back to Henrietta we should get out an injunction, or have them arrested for cruelty to animals.

James T. is a Boomer,
An enterprise getter;
We love him still,
The stiller the better.
—Old Timer, in Henrietta Review.

Davidson said in a speech at Weatherford, "If you can't vote for me, then vote for Judge Poindexter or Colonel Johnson, but, for God's sake, don't vote for Colquitt!" which would indicate that General Davidson recognizes that Colquitt is in the lead so far. His Weatherford speech was a strong one, and, while he ridiculed both Johnson and Poindexter, he was unusually severe on Colquitt, referring to him as "Oscar Budweiser Colquitt" and charged that Colquitt was the only man who ever made the race for governor of Texas who failed to carry his own county, or even one county in the senatorial district which he at one time represented. All the candidates have made speeches at Weatherford but the press dispatches state that Davidson drew the largest crowd and there seemed to be more enthusiasm for him than for any one of his three leading opponents. This was probably due to the fact that Davidson defended the late Gov. Lanham against an attack made upon him years ago by Colquitt. Speaking of his address there, the Weatherford Herald says editorially: "That speech delivered by General Davidson in this city Monday afternoon was heard by hundreds of Parker county citizens from every section of the county, and there is no questioning the fact that the speaker made a most profound impression upon his hearers. There is lots of support in Parker county for Davidson."

After all, these commission forms of government are not such tame affairs. In the event the mayor, acting in an official capacity, tramps on the toes or offends any considerable number of his constituents, he is brought to time by the circulation of a petition asking him to resign his office, and as everyone will admit, it is much less difficult to secure signatures to a petition, (it matters little what its terms might be), than it is to get votes in the ballot box, the requisite number of signatures are soon obtained, and Mr. Mayor will have to step down and out, for the time being at least, and in order to vindicate his act, offer for re-election. That part of a commission form of government ought to furnish excitement in abundance, and from the experience of some cities which have adopted it, it begins to look as if a mayor's election can be pulled off every thirty days. Denton is now asking her mayor, elected April 6th, to resign before he had served a month, and Ardmore, Okla., has started a row of the same nature. It stands to reason that the mayors of both cities will stand for and be re-elected, but there is no limit to the number of times they will have to repeat performance before their term of office expires.

Commenting upon the speech of Senator Bailey in the senate recently, in which the senator took occasion to criticize the insurgents for their alleged unfaithfulness to the republican party, the Washington Times, the only newspaper in Washington to make editorial comment, said: "It was the sort of speech, coming from a high democratic source, as was deeply pleasing to the existing senate republican leadership. A fine democratic stump speech sentiment, eloquently expressed! No follower of the immortal Jefferson could have done better. But words are one thing and deeds are another."

The continued dry weather has no doubt done great injury to wheat and oat crops, but this calamity does not seem to have had much effect upon the activity of things generally in and around Wichita Falls, and the year 1910 will be a record breaker for the city in the way of building, increased population and securing of manufacturing enterprises. Wichita county farmers have long ago ceased to depend upon wheat and oats as their main crop, and since that time their farm lands have more than doubled in value. They have discovered that diversified farming is the best plan, and at this time when there are at least double the population in the country districts as compared to five or six years ago, the acreage to wheat and oat crop, are now plowing and it was then. Many farmers, who have already given up hope of the wheat and oat crop, are now plowing and preparing their fields for cotton and other crops which have ample time to be planted, cultivated and matured before frost falls. In this way, the dread of a small grain crop failure does not scare them half as bad as formerly, and in fact some farmers have ceased altogether planting wheat and oat crops, except just a few acres.

Dr. Rankin says Cone Johnson is the candidate for prohibition democrats to support in the race for governor, and that settles it, so far as Dr. Rankin is concerned; but does it make Cone Johnson any stronger?—San Antonio Express.

It certainly does—one vote, at least, and one vote is just as good as ten thousand, provided it is all that is necessary to elect. But Dr. Rankin is not such an unimportant man, even if he has halted and hesitated between Davidson, Poindexter and Johnson, and all the Times needs to convince it of this fact is a simple reference to the files of some very prominent and influential Texas papers during the progress of the Bailey-Johnson campaign for delegate-at-large to the National Democratic Convention. At times Dr. Rankin's influence was sought and the bouquets showered upon him for the stand he had taken in this political scrap were numerous. Compare them with the "lemons" these same people are handing out to him today.

Texas is the greatest state in the Union. There is no sort of doubt as to that statement, but occasionally some of our more enthusiastic boosters who go abroad make talks that are misunderstood. Everybody's Magazine, in printing a story under the caption or title of "The Land of the Lonesome Census," says:

At the International Sunday School convention at Louisville, in answer to the roll call of states the reports were verbally given by the various state chairmen. When the Lone Star state was called, a brawny specimen of Southern manhood stepped out into the aisle and with exceeding pride, said:

"We represent the great state of Texas. The first white woman born in Texas is still living—she now has a population of over three millions."

There was a pause of bewilderment for a moment and then a voice from the gallery rang out clear and distinct: "Send that woman out to Wyoming—we need her."

Edwin Waller, of Austin, candidate for State Comptroller, was in the city yesterday looking to his political interests. Mr. Waller has been a clerk in the Comptroller's department for the past nine years, and has five opponents, but refuses to divulge their names. He says there is only $2500 per year in the office, and if his opponents want to get acquainted with the public they will have to travel like himself and spend their good money for railroad fare, or do worse—walk or ride in the side-door sleepers. Mr. Waller is a pleasant gentleman and easy to get acquainted with, and his opponents, whoever they are had better get busy if they expect to be in the running.

Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas continues to smile while candidates announce for the place now held by him. The latest entry is Congressman Joe Robinson, ex-Congressman Brunidge being already an avowed candidate and the friends of Gov. Donaghey pushing him into the race. The opposition to Davis will have to center on one man to have a show to defeat him. He is a stem-winder in a campaign from away up the creek. The election will not be held until 1912.

A storm of protest is going up from every section of the south against a recent decision of the Louisiana supreme court, in which it is held that the legal term of "negro" means a full-blood, and that the law does not prohibit the intermarriage in that state of the whites and colored unless the latter are full blood. Most people have the idea that the law prohibits the marriage of the white race with any person of African descent.

A woman suffragist is credited with the statement that in a few years it will be regarded as much of a disgrace to be the father of ten or a dozen children as it is now to be a drunkard. This statement is no doubt made with the full knowledge that Theodore Roosevelt is not in the United States. But he is coming back.

Haley's Comet.

When the sky is clear, Haley's comet is plainly visible to the naked eye in the eastern sky just before daylight, or about one hour before sunrise. It is not near so bright as the morning star, though easily recognized, and is located just a little ways to the north of the morning star, the supposed tail appearing to be about eight or ten feet long. It is getting brighter all the time, due to its rapid approach to the earth. Next week it will be quite bright according to the schedule marked out for it by the astronomers, and will be well worth getting up early in the morning to see. A number of people of this city have already acquired the habit of rising early to make observations. For their benefit of all those who may want to keep track of the comet until it passes away, the following schedule is published:

- May 6—Comet appears at 2:37 a. m. 41,070,000 miles from the earth.
- May 7—Comet may be located in the constellation of Pegasus, 5 degrees from the star Gamma.
- May 8—Comet rises at 2:46 o'clock in the morning.
- May 9—Comet swings across the orbit of Venus. It is distant from the earth 33,410,000 miles.
- May 10—Comet rises at 2:32 a. m.
- May 12—Comet appears at 2:27 a. m.
- May 14—Comet rises at 2:40 a. m. It is beginning to swing away from the line of the earth's orbit.
- May 15—Comet rises at 3:49 a. m. Distance from the earth but 14,850,000 miles.
- May 16—Comet appears at 3:05 a. m. Distance from earth 12,950,000 miles.
- May 17—Comet appears at 3:22 a. m. Only 13,020,000 miles from earth.
- May 18—Nearest approach to the earth, being distant 12,090,000 miles. Comet passes across the face of the sun between 8:30 and 9 p. m., central time.
- May 19—Comet appears in the evening sky, each night rising higher in the west.
- May 20—Comet will be an enormous monster and will set at 8:11 p. m.
- May 23—Comet sets at 10:30 p. m.
- May 26—Comet crosses the path of the earth.
- May 30—Comet sets at 11:30 p. m. is growing fainter.
- June 5—Passes out of the range of the naked eye.

RELIEF FOR OLD HORSES.

Increasing Tendency to Make the Old Age Easier.

One of the apparent signs of the times is the growing disposition, manifested in many quarters and through many agencies, to remember the ancient proverb, that "a merciful man will be merciful to his beast."

In its efforts to bring about the humane disposal of old or worn-out horses, the Boston work horse parade association is meeting with encouraging success, and it believes that the conviction is rapidly spreading that disabled or superannuated horses, especially such as are owned by large concerns and city governments, ought not to be sold.

Many of the larger corporations never sell an old or worn-out horse; others see that they fall into good hands when they dispose of them, and still others graduate their horses to lighter work as equine old age comes on.

There is no old age pension scheme for horses in this country. In several European countries the problem is solved by eating the horse—a more compassionate method of treating him than keeping him at work until he drops in his tracks. "I that an cruel am yet merciful," said the Moor of Venice.—Boston Globe.

The Prohibitionist party has formed its first organization in Louisiana and will name candidates for Congress in all of the districts of the State this fall.

The Democratic State Executive committee of Mississippi meets this week to arrange for a special November primary to dispose of the much-discussed senatorial contest.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Wichita.

Tipps, et al, and placed in my hands for service; I, J. W. Walkup, as sheriff of Wichita County, Texas, did on the 5th day of May, 1910, levy on certain real estate situated in Wichita County, described as follows, to-wit:

W. Scott survey; thence north 1/2 degree west 1421 varas its northwest corner center of road; thence east with the north boundary line of said Scott survey 1480 varas to the place of beginning, and levied upon as the property of said J. E. Tipps. And on Tuesday, the 7th day of June, 1910, at the court house door of Wichita County, in the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, between the hours of ten a. m. and four p. m., I will sell said land at public vendue for cash to the highest bidder as the property of said J. E. Tipps, by virtue of said levy and order of sale.

And in compliance with law I give this notice by publication in the English language, once each week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale in the Wichita Weekly Times, a newspaper published in Wichita County. Witness my hand this the 5th day of May, 1910.

REGARDING CENSUS TAKING.

Supervisor Lindsay Requests All Who Have Not Been Counted to Send In Names.

Your city wants a complete census taken, so that you will make as good a showing as possible, and the United States Government wants to help you out in every way. Some persons are bound to be overlooked, no matter how well or how carefully our enumerators work their respective districts, owing to the fact that many people are out of town or make your city their place of residence while spending the major part of their time in other places. I respectfully request all persons who have been overlooked to send their names in to my office, and I will see that they are properly enumerated.

of the fine and ultra palatable in pickles is found in the Heinz Line. Heinz Pickles, whether in bulk or in bottles, are uniform in size and color an exactly right in flavor and quality. We call special attention to the bulk sweet mixed pickles. These are prepared from choice "Heinz-Grown" vegetables, preserved in a sweet, spicy liquor made of granulated sugar, old malt vinegar and pure spices. They are thoroughly sweet, but delightfully piquant—not insipid like ordinary sweet pickles.

It is safe to buy bulk pickles, if they are "HEINZ-MADE."

FADS AND FASHIONS

New York, April 30.—Notwithstanding many predictions to the contrary, blouses will be worn as usual during the coming summer. The plainness of the new blouses shown in the shops is particularly noticeable this year. A few tucks and a frill are the sole trimmings in many cases, or there is a simple banding of embroidery introduced down the front. But, materials, in the case of the best waists, the beautifully fine, some of these exquisitely fine blouses with daintily run pla tucks and a pleated frill along one side of the front are quite as attractive and in much better taste than the honeycombed lace and lawn models of a few seasons ago. A marquisse blouse for wear with tailored suits was made in this fashion, the material being fine French batiste. Half-inch tucks were run across the front from shoulder to bust, continuing all the way down the front as the center was reached. The blouse fastened toward the left, and the edge was finished with a shaped frill of the lawn some four inches wide at the top and tapering to a point at the bottom. Down the center front of the blouse went a row of fine Hamburg embroidery. The sleeves of this waist, in bishop style, were gathered into cuffs of tucking and the upper sleeve was made smaller by rows of tucks running from the top down to about the elbow.

Many colored effects are shown in the new summer shirt waists and some of them are very pretty. A white batiste waist, tucked across the front, has a pleated frill bordered with blue and white dotted lawn, and the dotted lawn also furnishes cuffs and collar. This blouse would be very dainty with a blue serge suit. A pink and white cotton voile in blouse in tiny stripes had a plain pink lawn frill set under the striped one of voile, and pipings of the plain pink were used on cuffs and collar. This model was also shown in green and white and was much admired.

Lingerie blouses, like the tailored styles, show more fineness of material and less elaboration of trimmings than formerly. Very dainty models of sheer batiste, tucked all the way across the front and back and with three-quarter sleeves finished with tucked cuffs may be purchased for very little and by adding a few yards of good lace may be transformed into handsome blouses that could not be purchased for twice the price.

Many women, undoubtedly, will be pleased to hear that Dutch necks are still in vogue and promise to remain thus during the hot summer season. Nothing so cool and comfortable for hot summer days was ever devised, and one pities the poor masculine folk who may not doff their horrible linen collars and go about with their throats bared to the cooling breezes. The woman who cannot stand the severe test of a round Dutch neck may have her high-boned stock if she will, or she may wear one of the coquettish little French frills which encircle the throat, lying flat like a collar and finished with a pert, becoming bow of dark velvet under the chin.

Women have not put aside black with the coming of spring days and springtime colorings and a surprising number of black street costumes are to be noted wherever fashionable folk congregate. Many of these costumes are in soft satiny black silk and chiffon, silk and etamine, silk and cashmere or serge, or all silk, and they usually take the form of trotting frock and coat, the coat being entirely of the silk, while the frock is largely of the other material trimmed with the silk. Often the frock skirt is of silk up to where it meets the coat.

Some exceedingly good looking tailored models are in black raw silk, which probably bears the name of some kind of pongee, and, oddly enough, several of the smartest models of this type seen recently have been trimmed in a black silk of high lustre or satin. One model from Francis which was particularly trim and knowing looking was of the black raw silk with pipings of black satin and had a curious Eton or bolero jacket arrangement with a collar of Japanese blue embroidery.

Less soutache embroidery is seen than last season, yet it appears effectively on many of the most successful models. Tavenier has a frock which has been copied frequently and with various modifications. In one version it is of white crepe, a simple bodice and skirt, the latter trimmed in a deep flounce of Valenciennes lace inset with Venetian motifs. This flounce is weighted down by a wide border of "antique" grained cotton which almost loses its identity by having its design outlined by fine white soutache. The soutache not only outlines the design, but is massed in scroll design here and there over the surface. Revers of the soutached cotton are on the bodice, which is largely of the lace, and bands of the trimming finish the short, wide peasant sleeves of crepe.

The pelerine of the period of 1890, but in modernized form, has arrived. Drecoll was one of the first Paris designers to show what a charming little thing an adaption of a scarf can be. Of supple cloth or silk, chiffon or net, the pelerine may be fashioned. It is best when made to match the gown. At any rate there is a wonderful possibility in the garment, for the changes are legion, the effect always charming. When viewed from the front the pelerine has the effect of a crossed fichu. This is quite attainable when the soft silk is used. The narrow ends encircle the waist and tie in a butterfly bow at the back. Or, if the material be perishable, the bow can be permanent and the fastening secured by a hook. At the back this little wrap is capelike, dropping in folds over the shoulders. The top edge is kept in shape by the narrow collar; the lower part is finished with a ruffle of the same material, or chiffon, that exactly matches the shade of the wrap, or by long silk fringe that is again invading fashion's realm.

The sailor dress and the middy blouse have reached a state of perfection, so far as pattern and workmanship go, that makes them more than ever desirable for little boys and girls, as well as for older girls, and even for their youthful mothers, who need the outing garment for camping or seashore wear. It is not now possible to escape the becoming fine in the middy garment, since they have been planned in many ways to suit various figures and faces. Collars are elongated as to the front, or they are short and broad in effect; they are even square. Some of them are of moderate size, while others extend down, covering the shoulders and nearly half of the back.

Men's National Missionary Congress. Chicago, May 3.—As a climax to the series of conferences of the Laymen's Missionary movement held during the past year throughout the United States and Canada there was opened in this city today a Men's National Missionary Congress, with an attendance of more than 5,000 delegates, who come from many parts of the continent and represent nearly all religious denominations. The sessions are being held in the Auditorium and will continue through the remainder of the week. Not only will the leading missionary speakers of North America be heard at the congress, but more important in many respects will be the adoption of a worthy national missionary policy which is expected to mark a new era in the history of Christianity.

The announcement of Governor Hadley of Missouri that he does not intend to enter the race for the Republican nomination for United States senator this fall has left the way clear for Walter S. Dieker, chairman of the Republican State Committee, to oppose Senator William Warner.

REGON COTTON COMPANY

BEING ORGANIZED HERE

WITH $10,000 CAPITAL

From Saturday's Daily. Plans are under way here for the organization of what is to be known as the "Wichita Regon Cotton Company" with ten thousand dollars capital stock. This company is being organized to regin cotton, and it operates principally by cleaning inferior cotton, using screenings, waste and other material that is usually thrown away. By means of specially constructed machinery it is possible to convert matter of this kind into comparatively good cotton and the business is usually attended by substantial profit.

At present there is only one other similar concern in the United States, it being located at Dallas. The local company will have ten thousand dollars capital and of this amount three thousand has already been subscribed. Little difficulty is anticipated in raising the remainder of the required amount. R. P. Webb and Son and Ed Orr are among those interested.

HOUSTON WOMEN ROBBED.

Thrown Down By Men and $175 Taken From Them.

Houston, April 30.—Two robbers attacked Mrs. Frank Gilman and her daughter, Mrs. C. R. Brown, at their home in Houston Heights late last night and made away with a bag containing $175 which Mrs. Gilman wore about her neck. She was seized while sitting on her front steps. The robbers spilled acid from a bottle on Mrs. Gilman and she is badly burned on the face. The robbers first threw the women down and removed their stockings in the search for money and then to find any slashed the elder woman's wrist with a knife, found the money and fled. The police have a slight clue they are working on. Mrs. Gilman's husband manages a skating rink and it is believed the burglars know his wife carried the receipts of the rink.

Congressman Coudrey of Missouri, has introduced 250 bills this session. One is to regulate the Washington clocks; another to prohibit the formation of a Washington trust, and a third to make it illegal for Washington women to stick long hat-pins in or through their hats.

STATEWIDERS LOSE IN ELECTION IN ALABAMA; TEN THOUSAND VOTES

Montgomery, Ala., May 3.—Returns today indicate that the majority of Oneal, local optionist, over Mallory, state-wide prohibitionist, may go as low as ten thousand, but every prospect indicates that Oneal is safely nominated. Bankhead, for the United States senate, has more votes than both combined.

Dowdell's lead for chief justice of the supreme court is strong. The count is coming in slowly.

Mallory's headquarters later calculated that Oneal, in fifty-three counties, is leading Mallory by only twelve hundred votes. This gives Oneal Montgomery county by one thousand, Mobile by three thousand and Jefferson by one thousand.

MACHINE PLUNGES INTO GRAVEL PIT

T. W. DULANEY SUSTAINS PROBABLY FATAL INJURIES IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

BOTH LEGS ARE BROKEN

Party Had Taken Wrong Road By Mistake On Return from Henrietta Trip.

From Tuesday's Daily.
As the result of an automobile accident late last night near Holliday Creek, T. W. Dulaney lies at the Miller Sanitarium with both legs broken and his chances for recovery are very slight. N. P. Blakemore is also at the Sanitarium with severe bruises. Spencer Talley and M. J. Moran were also in the accident, but escaped practically uninjured.

The party was returning from Henrietta in Mr. Moran's automobile and upon nearing Holliday Creek they turned off from the right road and through a mistake took one which led to the gravel pit in that neighborhood. The mistake was not discovered until the machine was almost upon the pit. Mr. Moran managed to bring it to a standstill on the very edge of the pit, but the side of the latter caved in, the machine falling about fifteen feet. Moran, Talley and Blakemore jumped to safety, but Dulaney fell with the machine, which overturned, the rear seat striking him just below the hips.

The injured man was brought to the Miller Sanitarium, where it was found that both of Dulaney's legs were broken above the knees. About a dozen small pieces of bone were removed from the fracture, in the hope of saving the limbs, but amputation will probably be necessary. Dr. W. A. Derringer of Fort Worth will arrive tonight to consult with the local physicians who are in charge of the case and it is thought that he will advise the double operation. It is believed that the chances for recovery are very slight, even with the amputation.

Mr. Dulaney formally resided at Burk Burnett, but recently moved to this city. He is about fifty years of age and has a family. Dr. R. L. Miller, Dr. Mike Walker and Dr. Smith are in charge of his case.

Mr. Blakemore has a badly wrenched back and hips and will probably be confined several days.

Spencer Talley, who was one of the party of four who occupied the machine, says the accident occurred at 9:45, and that the machine was going only at a very moderate rate of speed when it struck the gravel pit. He and Dulaney occupied the rear seat and Moran and Blakemore sat in front, the former operating the machine.

Just as the front wheels went over the embankment, he jumped from the machine, as did all the others, except Dulaney, and that all lit at the bottom of the pit by the side of the machine, which had reversed and struck bottom side up, with Dulaney under it. He and Moran escaped with only slight injuries, and were able to lift up the machine and pull Dulaney from under it. Seeing that he was seriously injured, Mr. Talley went to the residence of Mr. Caskey, only a short distance from the scene of the accident and phoned to the city for doctors and a wagon in which to carry Dulaney and Blakemore to the sanitarium. Dr. R. L. Miller and Mike Walker responded to the call and the two men who sustained the worst injuries were taken to the Miller sanitarium.

Mr. Moran, owner of the wrecked car, says the accident was unavoidable.

A GOOD WAY TO USE HYOMEL.

Besides breathing through the inhaler a few times a day, many catarrh sufferers write that the best inhaler Hyomel from a bowl of steaming water each night before retiring a great aid in curing stubborn cases.

Try it; it's very simple; gives quick relief and makes you breathe easier.

Fill a bowl half full of boiling water; pour into the water a half teaspoonful of Hyomel, cover head and bowl with a towel and breathe through nose and mouth the medicated antiseptic and healing vapor that arises.

This method relieves that stuffiness at once and makes your head feel clear.

You can get a bottle of Hyomel at druggists everywhere or at The Weeks Drug Co., for only 50 cents. Ask for extra bottle Hyomel inhaler.

But bear in mind if you want a Hyomel inhaler you must buy a complete outfit which only costs $1.00. But, as stated before, if you already own an inhaler a bottle of Hyomel costs but 50 cents.

Hyomel is guaranteed by druggists everywhere and by The Weeks Drug Co. to cure catarrh, sore throat, coughs, colds, nose fever, asthma and croup, or money back. Try it on that generous basis.

ble; that he was following the road which had been mostly traveled, and did not know of the gravel pit. The machine was reversed and all brakes applied, but the momentum carried it over the embankment. He thinks the machine was not running over four miles an hour when the accident took place. Was within six feet of the gravel pit before any one in the car saw it, and it was then too late to do anything but reverse the machine, and apply the brakes. Mr. Moran says he stayed with the machine until the jar threw him from it.

Several parties who have passed the gravel pit say it is a most dangerous place for people to travel, especially at night, and that it is a wonder that an accident of the nature of that which took place last night, and which will, in all probability cost one of the victims the loss of both limbs, and probably his life, has not occurred long before this.

At a late hour this afternoon but small hopes are entertained for Dulaney's recovery.

County Judge Yeager and Sheriff Walkup went out to the gravel pit this afternoon to see just how conditions were, and see if they cannot be remedied.

ACCIDENT TO AUTO RESULTS IN DEATH

From Thursday's Daily.
As a result of the horrible automobile accident which occurred at 9:45 on Monday night of this week, T. W. Dulaney died at Miller's Sanitarium at 10 o'clock this morning.

The funeral is announced to take place from the residence of Mrs. Seelinger, 1712 Ninth street, who is a sister of the deceased, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, conducted by Rev. R. E. Farley, pastor of the M. E. church.

At the conclusion of the funeral services at the residence, the Knights of Macabees, of which deceased was an honored member, will take charge of the remains and escort them to Riverside Cemetery where they will be laid to rest with all the honors to be conferred by that order to a deceased brother.

T. W. or Tom Delaney as he was more familiarly known to his friends has been a resident of Clay and Wichita counties for the past twenty-five years, residing a greater portion of that time on his farm six miles east of this city. Later he disposed of this farm and moved with his family to Burk Burnett, and had just disposed of his holding there and moved to this city to make his permanent home a few weeks before the accident occurred. At his death he was 46 years and 15 days of age, and leaves a wife and six children surviving him.

Shortly after the terrible accident occurred, the attending physicians who had examined the nature of his wounds, gave little or no hope for his recovery, and his death was momentarily expected. Both legs were horribly crushed above the knees, and even had he survived the shock, the amputation of both would have been necessary.

The accident which cost Mr. Dulaney his life and leaves a widow and six children, is the direct result of carelessness or thoughtlessness on the part of some one. The road over which the automobile passed was the one which, up to a short time ago, was regarded by the traveling public, as the regular road, and when a death-trap was dug into it and left exposed, some precaution should have been taken to warn the unsuspecting of the danger ahead. That this was not done is plainly the fault of some one. According to statements made by two of the occupants of the wrecked machine, it was going only at a very moderate rate when it pitched over into the gravel pit, and if this be correct, the same sort of an accident might occur again even though the machine is in the hands of the most careful driver.

COUNTY IS VISITED BY SHOWER TODAY

NEARLY HALF AN INCH OF RAIN THIS MORNING IS RECORDED LOCALLY.

OF BENEFIT TO CROPS

Country To South and West Also Visited Today By Heavy Precipitation.

From Tuesday's Daily.
Rain fell early this morning throughout the eastern part of Wichita county and over a section of country extending as far west as Spur and Snyder and as far south as Abilene, where it was almost a cloudburst.

Locally, from one-fourth to one-half an inch of rain fell. This rain will be very beneficial to some of the wheat in this county and will prove helpful to practically all crops.

A substantial rain fell at all points down the Wichita Falls and Southern, and all points on the Wichita Valley to the southward were visited. Bowie enjoyed a heavy shower, while Henrietta and other points to the southward on the Denver experienced lighter showers.

The weather was decidedly cool this morning, the thermometer registering forty-five degrees at 7 o'clock. The sky has been more or less cloudy ever since yesterday morning and every few hours it would give indication of an early rain, only to be practically cloudless again an hour later. Practically no rain fell to the northward, either on the Fort Worth and Denver or the Northwestern, but all points to the south and southeast were visited.

While up to this afternoon the rain had not been as heavy as would have been liked, it is believed that considerable benefit has been done to crops in this vicinity and the appearance of the sky indicates that still more rain may be hoped for.

HASKELL TRIAL NOW ON; CONTINUANCE MOTION PROBABLY OVERRULED

Tulsa, May 3.—Judge Marshall in the Federal Court today, trying Governor Haskell and five others charged with conspiracy against the government in the Muskogee town lot cases, declared "I will not hold up the trial of these cases on mere technical grounds." A motion to continue the cases is now being argued and it is believed the motion will be overruled. The government today replied to the defendants making a sweeping denial that they had no access to the records in Muskogee and Washington. A message received from Secretary of the Interior, Ballinger said that Haskell and co-defendants had been supplied with several hundred carbon copies of the records. A decision on the motion will be made this afternoon.
