THOMPSON IS AGAIN NEARING CHAIR

Hoover Promises Building Program By Fall

ABOUT THIS AND THAT.....

Today we received a letter stating that 33 per cent of the men read the editorials in medium-sized daily newspapers, according to a survey of reader-interest, results of which have just been announced.

The survey was made for the State Press Association by Kenneth J. Fryxell of Iowa university.

Comic strips alone were found to have a wider appeal to readers than editorials. Only 3 per cent of women and 19 per cent of men readers are interested in news.

These figures are interesting to us because we have often wondered what per cent of readers are interested in the editorials and what per cent read the sports. The survey shows that 99 per cent of the readers are interested in nothing but sports and the wedding of the bride and groom. Saturday morning is the best time to read anything but the news, which makes it sound like a waste of time.

We would like to know the number of people who read columns of the kind, if any, but the letter did not have anything to say about it.

The force of this paper took a bit of interest in an Englewood newspaper that came to this city a few days ago. They were interested in seeing if the British writers, editors and advertisers would do things the same way we do. The answer was, "yes and no, mostly no."

The featured story of the edition was a run on page 6 with the headline "The force of this paper took a bit of interest in an Englewood newspaper that came to this city a few days ago. They were interested in seeing if the British writers, editors and advertisers would do things the same way we do. The answer was, 'yes and no, mostly no.'"

The business section of the paper was a run on page 6 with the headline "The force of this paper took a bit of interest in an Englewood newspaper that came to this city a few days ago. They were interested in seeing if the British writers, editors and advertisers would do things the same way we do. The answer was, 'yes and no, mostly no.'"

Follows News of Husband's Flight

While her husband winged his way over the world's aerial highway, Mrs. Hugh Herndon, Jr., closely followed the progress of the projected round-the-globe flight on which Herndon is co-pilot. She is seen here at the telephone in her home at Lauderdale, N. Y., as she received news that Herndon and his companion flyer, Clyde Pangborn, had successfully reached Herlin.

THREE HUNDRED MILLION WILL BE SPENT IN U. S.

Report Shows Over Half A Million Have Been Given Jobs.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—President Hoover announced today that $300,000,000 of building construction would be underway by fall to counteract unemployment and with this statement issued a labor department report showing that the balance for 30 years and 9 months from April 1 to July 31.

Secretary of Labor Duak reported to Mr. Hoover that the United States employment service had found jobs for 281,769 persons during those months. The balance of employment was provided through affiliated cooperative employment offices.

Mr. Hoover's reports on progress of the public building program was in the form of a treasury department statement. It was based on progress from May 15 to July 15.

Just Another Dry Affair

It was just another dry affair, but Lieutenant Colonel Amos W. Woodcock, left, federal prohibition administrator, took time out from his military duties at Camp Ritchie, Cascade, Md., to confer with his secretary, Walton H. Grant, who drove up from Washington with papers of the liquor law enforcement bureau. Colonel Woodcock went to camp with the First Infantry, Maryland National Guard.

17 NEGROES ON OUTING DROWNED

GEORGETOWN, S. C., Aug. 4.—Waters of the Sanford river near here were dragged today for the bodies of 17 negroes and two white men drowned when a truck on which they were riding crashed through an open drawbridge two miles south of Georgetown.

Several truckloads of negro school children had gone from Andrews to Riverside park, near Charleston, for a day's outing.

On returning toward Andrews last night the truck driven by W. L. Newton and his son, bearing 18 negroes, approached the drawbridge over the river, which was opened to permit passing of a boat.

For some unexplained reason—alleged to be faulty brakes—the truck failed to stop, crashing through the protective chains and plunging the entire human load into the river, sinking out of sight.

Only one of the passengers escaped death.

Ranger Bank to Sell Stamps for Cigaret Packages

Word was received in Ranger today that cigarette tax stamps, which must be placed on all cigarette packages sold in the State of Texas after Aug. 22, would be sold temporarily by the Commercial State Bank of Ranger.

In time a permanent station at which the stamps may be secured will be provided and the location will be announced by the treasury department. Until such time as the distribution center can be established the stamps are to be sold through banks, the stamps for this section being handled by the Commercial State Bank.

High School Girl Slays Attacker

Josephine Baragona, above, 17-year-old New Orleans high school girl, shot and killed a 20-year-old negro employed by a relative when he attempted to attack her. She fired at such close range that her assailant's clothing ignited.

EXECUTION IS SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

Governor's 90-Day Reprieve of May 8 is Almost At End.

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 4.—Unless Gov. Ross Sterling intervenes, Clyde Thompson, 29, of Eastland, will be executed in the electric chair at the state penitentiary shortly after midnight Friday.

Thompson was convicted and given the death penalty in the double slaying of Lucian and Leon Shook, brothers, while on a hunting trip in September, 1928.

Thompson has been in the state penitentiary for some time awaiting execution or executive clemency. His execution was first scheduled for May 8, but Governor Sterling granted a 90-day reprieve in order that he might study the outcome of the Thomas Davis case, companion case to the Clyde Thompson case.

Davis was convicted and given a 10-year sentence at Albany a few weeks ago. It is not known as yet whether there will be any bearing on the governor's action in the Thompson case. Davis was first given a death sentence, but it was reversed by the court of criminal appeals.

Clyde Thompson is alleged to have confessed to the slaying of Lucian and Leon Shook "to see them kick." It is also stated in the confession alleged to have been signed by Davis that Thompson boasted that by the time he was 21 years old he would have 21 notches on his gun.

MURRAY TO SHUT DOWN OIL WELLS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 4.—Gov. W. H. Murray reiterated today that his proposed order closing the Oklahoma oil field, "even if it takes every trooper in the state" would be issued soon.

"I'm not bluffing," the governor declared today.

"If you boys will quit being so nervous and lay some good bets you can make some money. The order will come soon."

Meanwhile reports from Tulsa indicated several major crude oil purchasers would ignore the order when and if it is issued. It was reported these companies were ready to contest the shutdown order affecting 3,106 wells producing a major portion of Oklahoma's half million barrel a day yield through every legal recourse.

Eastland Grants Gas Franchise To J. W. Moore

The Eastland city commission at its regular meeting Monday afternoon granted a gas franchise to J. W. Moore of Lubbock. The franchise is for 30 years and provides for a 50-cent rate per 1,000 cubic feet for domestic uses, $1.25 minimum rate and a $3 tapping charge.

The franchise under which the Community Natural Gas company, which is now serving the city, is operating provides for a 75-cent rate per 1,000 cubic feet, with a 10 per cent discount for cash; a $1 minimum charge and $2.50 tapping charge. Both franchises call for a $1 service charge for connecting meters.

A provision in Moore's contract is that before he puts up a $25,000 bond guaranteeing the fulfillment of his agreement the city of Eastland must secure the signature of 85 per cent of the gas users in an agreement to take gas from him.

The commission voted to increase the minimum water rate from 6,000 to 8,000 gallons for the month of August.

BRECKENRIDGE ROAD IS BEING WORKED OVER

The Breckenridge road from the top of Eastland Hill to the junction of the Eastland-Breckenridge road is now being repaired by order of the commissioners court. New shoulders are being thrown up along the road to prevent wear on the pavement. William B. Moore, chairman of the commission, is in charge of the work.

This action was taken by the commissioners at the instigation of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce. The policemen were dragged out and beaten into unconsciousness.

Other squads arriving later drove back the rioters with gunfire and found the two officers on the pavement. Patrolman John McFadden's head had been pounded against the concrete until his skull was fractured.

The three men killed were all negroes and members of the mob. One was shot down as he stood over an unconscious policeman with a gun, ready to shoot.

TROOPS READY TO HELP QUELL CHICAGO RIOTS

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—The entire national guard force of the state of Illinois, massed at Camp Grant for summer training, was held in readiness today for action while hundreds of police patrolled a riotous section of Chicago where three men were killed and four wounded in a communist uprising that developed because a tenant was evicted from her home.

A request that the already mobilized troops, numbering several thousand, be prepared to advance into the city on short notice was received last night from Mayor Anton J. Cermak, who was at Mackinac.

The rioting started late yesterday when two municipal bullfights and two policemen accompanied M. J. Kullimer, a state agent, and South Michigan avenue and moved into the street the household effects of a 72-year-old woman.

While the eviction was in progress, several thousand unemployed communist sympathizers were being organized for a parade in a park not far away. When word reached them of the eviction the rioting started.

One squad car, which arrived early, contained two white policemen. It was surrounded by the mob and the car was overturned and beaten into unconsciousness.

Other squads arriving later drove back the rioters with gunfire and found the two officers on the pavement. Patrolman John McFadden's head had been pounded against the concrete until his skull was fractured.

The three men killed were all negroes and members of the mob. One was shot down as he stood over an unconscious policeman with a gun, ready to shoot.

Uniform Motor Laws Are Sought

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—A campaign for full reciprocity among all the states in the matter of automobile licenses has been begun by the American Motorists' Association.

The preliminary survey shows that only 16 states now grant full reciprocity, while 23 states have reciprocal agreements in regard to licensing of automobiles.

"Despite the fact that there has been a uniformity of opinion in state legislatures and state highway motor vehicle commissions," says J. B. Weeks, president of the Motorists' Association, "there are still 25 states which have not adopted full reciprocal licenses."

In the general summary made by the association it was found that Mississippi and Texas permit foreign motorists only 25 days of operation, while two more states, Georgia and Tennessee, give the visiting driver 30 days without the necessity of securing a new license.

Arkansas, Indiana, Nebraska and Oklahoma have 60 day limitations and the other 13 states which set a 90-day limit on car owners from other states. In addition to these Arizona has a four-month law and six months is allowed in Illinois, Iowa, New Mexico and Virginia.

The remaining states and the District of Columbia all have reciprocal agreements.

LINDBERGHS TO LEAVE BAKER LAKE

EDMONTON, Alberta, Aug. 4.—The Canadian government radio station at Fort Norman, reported today that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh had planned to hop off from Baker Lake for Hunter Bay at 11 a. m., CST.

Static prevented radio messages from getting through to Edmonton from Baker Lake, the Edmonton station reported.

The Lindberghs landed at Baker Lake at 4 p. m., CST, yesterday, having made a flight from Churchill.

A severe electrical storm which swept around the Arctic circle cut the Lindberghs from the rest of the world yesterday as they journey on their 377-mile flight to Baker Lake, a backwoods settlement, where a rousing frontier welcome was given them.

Street Car Is Bombed in Strike At Havana Today

HAVANA, Aug. 4.—A bomb was thrown into a street car shortly before noon today by participants in the one-day general strike. The motorman was injured and windows shattered. There were no passengers in the car. The incident was the first disorder of the strike. Police were dissolving groups as they formed.

The strike was called in sympathy with striking street car workers. At least 150,000 workers in Havana were affected.

Practically every industry in the country was affected. No newspapers were published. Stores, business houses and factories were closed to all business suspended.

Police and troops stood by prepared to handle disorders. Unions promised co-operation keeping the strike orderly.

Guest Tickets to Ranger Show

The Ranger Times has guest tickets for Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Davis to see Joe E. Brown in "Broad Minded" now playing at the Columbia Theatre, or any other show.

Allred To Probe Utilities Prices Over the State

AUSTIN, Aug. 4.—Attorney General James V. Allred announced today that he was determined to obtain a general scaling down of utility charges in Texas through court action if necessary and to prosecute anti-trust violations by utilities.

Add Ancient Saddle to Relic Exhibit

KENEDY, Texas.—Col. George W. Saunders, veteran of many a trip "up the trail," has added a venerable saddle to the collection of southwestern relics housed in his home at Galind.

The saddle was acquired from Robert A. Boyce of Kennedy, who used it on four trips up the trail in the 70's and 80's and has been using it since.

While in Kennedy Col. Saunders viewed the museum collection of Eugene Echols Sr., which includes John Wesley Hardin's pistol, one of the guns used in the execution of Black Diamond, the killer of the city on the coming county fair, made a report for his committee, which is composed of Lewis, Mouser and Clark.

Robbins and Jones Prepare To Return To Ft. Worth Soon

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 4.—Reg Robbins and Harold Jones, who twice failed to make a sea-to-sea refueling flight from Seattle to Tokyo because of bad weather—rain and fog—engulfed their yellow and white monoplane "Fort Worth," were refueling here today preparatory to their start for Fort Worth.

The fliers spent several hours yesterday when the Fort Worth refueling plane piloted by Nick Greener and Jim Matters, which became separated from the "Fort Worth" in a dense fog as the two planes were en route to Unalakleet, Alaska, was reported missing.

Lillard Field is Being Improved

The football grounds and stadium of the Lillard field are being improved. Bermuda grass has been sowed, the fence repaired and general work done toward the beautifying of the grounds.

Ranger's first game of the season will be played on Sept. 25, when the Amarillo Golden Saddlers, coached by Blair Sherry, comes to Ranger to play the Bulldogs, coached by Eker Curtis, who is now attending the coaches' training school being conducted at Texas Tech, Lubbock.

There isn't a stadium in the Oil Belt which holds more attention and stands more in the limelight than Lillard field during the football season. Much interest is being manifested toward the improvements.

Professors Perfect A Piano Camera

IOWA CITY, Ia.—After several years of painstaking research, Joseph H. Tiffin, of the University of Iowa department of speech, and Dean Carl E. Seashore, head of the psychology department, has perfected a piano camera.

Every touch of a musician's efforts is recorded by the camera, including a record of the duration, time of intervals and time of reading, and a relative measure of the intensity of each note struck during the playing of a selection.

Financial Crisis Feared in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4.—A financial crisis was imminent today, it was feared, as a result of the "temporary closing" of two large banks in the capital.

The failure of the Credito Espanol de Mexico, a Spanish bank, yesterday, was followed by the closing of the National Bank of Mexico. The directors declared the latter was closing temporarily to preserve order in a crowd of depositors seeking to withdraw their money.

Heavy withdrawals from other banks were reported.

Experts Battle Old Mine Fires

ASHLAND, Pa.—Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company engineers report that efforts to extinguish two old mine fires are meeting success.

The fires are burning at the Bear Valley mine, near Shamokin, and the Potts colliery, near here.

In each case dams were constructed around the fire area, permitted to fill with water, and then opened to send the flood of water into the burning section.

The Bear Valley fire has been burning 40 years and offered the greatest problem to the engineers. They built 14 dams, hundreds of feet below the surface, to reach the fire, raging in the deepest part of the mine. The fire is now under control for the first time, they reported.

At Potts a different situation confronted them. The fire was centered at the top of the veins, near the top of a mountain. Two dams were constructed close to the surface and thousands of gallons of water turned into flames.

After 33 Years

EVILVILLE, Pa.—A man who has been missing for 33 years, started in here for that amount—what was that he wanted to do in San Angelo and Brownwood.

Aged Man and Dog Given Home at Lake

LACONIT, N. H.—Chuck Winn, 84, and his dog are now living happily together in a cottage near Lake Winnquam after narrowly missing a break in their long companionship.

When the city ordered Chuck sent to the poor farm he refused to go because it would mean separation from his dog. So townsmen donated materials and labor and the cottage was built at the lake as a permanent home for the elderly man and his pet.

ASPHALT TO BE MINED

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—Extensive development of rock asphalt deposits near Santa Rosa, N. M., will be started soon, A. H. Hebestreit, president of the New Mexico Construction company, has announced. The asphalt deposits are owned by the estate of the late A. A. Jones, U. S. senator from New Mexico.

REPORTERS TEST SPEED

FORT WORTH.—Shorthand reporters of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico convene here Aug. 13, 14 and 15 for an annual meeting of the Southwest Shorthand Reporters' association. Speed contests have been planned and the standardization of transcripts will be discussed.

DOBIE TELLS IT STRAIGHT TO THE LAWMAKERS.

J. Frank Dobie is not only an interesting but a very unique character. He knows his Texas and its history under all its flags. He lived the ranch life and he has ridden as a rider of the range. His Coronado's Children placed him among the top-notchers in that special field of Spanish-American literature with its Anglo Saxon and Anglo Celtic fringe.

Col. Charles Goodnight was known for years as "the first gentleman of the Panhandle." He was one of the early pioneers of the Panhandle. Mrs. Goodnight easily won recognition as the "first lady of the Panhandle." They were a remarkable couple. They loved nature and the great outdoors.
In the long ago the Goodnights preserved the buffalo from extinction. Now the Goodnights sleep at peace with the world under the turf of the land they loved so well.

Frank Dobie is a historian of the Southwest. He would do something to preserve the traditions of the Southwest.
He would not permit the last herd of buffalo to be slaughtered as countless millions of the bison family were slaughtered for their hides in the long ago on the plains of Texas. Dobie appeared before the Texas lawmaking body the other day.
He had a message and he did not shoot over the lawmaking heads. These are excerpts:

"It would be about as much sport hunting those buffalo on the Goodnight ranch near Amarillo as it would be to hunt milk cows in a corral." And what he said was the God's truth. He urged that the herd should be preserved by the State. He urged the state to collect a herd of Longhorn steers and preserve them since the history of the famous steer was so deeply rooted in the traditions of the empire commonwealth.

In conclusion he said, "Texas takes more pride in and talks more about its history than any other state and does less to preserve it." Frank Dobie is a native son. It is permissible for a native son to tell the truth without the people taking offense. He told it. In conclusion the scholar and historian and former range rider recommended that the state provide a museum to preserve relics of the days when Texas was traversed by cattle trails and Judge Roy Bean was "the law West of the Pecos."

And why not? Long ago the man with the plow and the hoe pushed the cowmen on toward the setting sun. Now the former ranges where the grass was free is given over to stock farms, to cotton patches, to vast wheat ranches, and to petroleum wells, and gas spouters. The Pandanie and the plains that Col. Charles Goodnight knew has been effaced.
Why should its traditions be relegated to the invisible land of the wild horse, the wild deer, the wild buffalo, the wild antelope, the wild turkey, the wild Indian that covered the plains of Texas when its earliest and best known empire builder was given the glorious title "The first gentleman of the Panhandle?"

FARM BOARD WHEAT FOR THE POOR.

Washington lets it be known that the federal farm board has received suggestions from many sources that the 200,000,000 bushels of wheat be turned over to private agencies for distribution to the poor and the needy. Why appeal to the farm board? The government owns the wheat. Congress created the farm board and the five hundred million dollar revolving fund. Only congressional action would enable the wheat to be used for relief purposes. If the proposal is a fair one, why not turn the farm board cotton over to the relief fund? This cotton is government property. It was paid for by the American people just as the 200,000,000 bushels of grain were paid for by the taxpayers of the nation.
It will be for congress to say the last word.

BRITISH STATESMEN AND HIGH TARIFF WALL.

High tariff walls will lead to universal bankruptcy and the resources of all nations should be used in the interest of international stability, is the viewpoint of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain. MacDonald was in Berlin. Secretary Stimson was in Berlin. MacDonald says that one of the prime functions of the statesmen who have been negotiating in recent weeks to alleviate Germany's economic distress is to restore the proper psychological foundation upon which confidence in the country may be built.
A reminder that the new German Acceptance and Guarantee bank with a capital of $50,000,000 was founded to facilitate a return to normal financial conditions in Germany has entered its official existence. Restoration of economic stability calls for the restoration of textile activities and as a buyer of American cotton Germany has ever been in evidence since the close of the Great War. Southerners grow cotton. They have a heavy supply on hand. They are willing to part with it for cash or excellent credit.

The Secret Call
Now At Arcadia
For Two Days

"The Secret Call," a new and absorbing Paramount drama featuring Richard Arlen and Peggy Shannon, is now at the Arcadia theatre, Ranger, for two days.
Based on the William de Mille stage success, "The Woman," this Paramount photoplay emerges as an exciting, well told entertainment with a fascinating background of political intrigue that lends color and dramatic significance to a charming and believable love story.
The director, Stuart Walker, has effectively exposed the "inside" workings of political machines with compelling clarity that gives added momentum to the development of the picture's plot.

In "The Secret Call," Peggy
Shannon plays the role of Wanda Kelly, daughter of a respected politician. When her father is framed by the boss of the city, Jim Blake, and eventually commits suicide because of the shame and humiliation he is innocently forced to suffer, Wanda swears vengeance on Blake and his political ring. This situation also forces her to break off her engagement to Tom Blake, young son of the man who crushed her father.

The manner in which Wanda sets out to avenge a wrong even at the cost of her own love and happiness, and the unusual information she luckily obtains, enabling her to expose the unscrupulous tactics of Jim Blake and his gang, make for first rate drama that's at once convincing and exciting.
Few pictures of the past months have so ably capitalized on so timely a subject without allowing its story to fall into the class of propaganda. So if you're interested in a full-dimension, well rounded story that has something to say and says it with pointed and straightforward directness, then "The Secret Call" is a picture to be put on your list.

Jeweler Works at Trade From Bed

By United Press.

EL PASO.—R. E. Lee has recovered so from his illness that he is able to serve in regular fashion the customers he gained in the jewelry business that he conducted for a number of years from his bed.

Ten years ago he came to El Paso on a stretcher, a victim of tuberculosis. Now he is able to work from 10 to 12 hours a day.

While taking the rest cure in 1926, Lee began his jewelry business from his bed.

At first he repaired watches a few minutes a day in a small tray which fitted over his chest as he laid in bed. As his strength increased, he worked longer at his trade and watched his business grow.

Heart of Liane

By MABEL McELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY Liane Barrett, 18 and beautiful, tries in vain to forget Van Robard, wealthy polo player, when his engagement is announced to Muriel Ladd, popular debutante.

At Arcadia, Ranger

Richard Arden, Peggy Shannon in the Paramount Picture "The Secret Call"

He started back as if struck. "Don't call me that." Her look both surprised and hurt. "I won't, if you'd rather not."

She had never seen him in this mood before, but when they stopped for tea she won him out of it. The day was perfect, not too hot, not too windy.

They were served little cakes flavoured with cinnamon. A great white cat ambled into the patio and they poured some cream in a saucer for it.

"Let's drive back to New York," Clive cried. "Chap's been waiting to sell me a car but I'd stalled him off."

Liane was appalled at this idea. "But you've three at home!"

"What difference does that make?"

She laughed. "I forgot. I can't get used to all this."

It was settled then. It could be more fun than going back by train. They had been away four weeks. It seemed longer. Liane was anxious to see her mother again.

Day by day as they traveled the weather grew colder. The southern interlude had been pleasant but Liane knew she was returning to a more critical world.

Some of this dread she imparted to Clive. He laughed at her fears. "We'll get a decorator if you like to do the apartment."

But she demurred. "I think I'd like to try my hand at it if you'll help me."

He was delighted. "Don't let Mother steer you too much. She'll have you all decked out in Victorian what-nots. She loves 'em."

Liane said, "It isn't that I mind choosing the things for our place. It's meeting people. Taking my place as a hostess."

"Don't worry. You're wonderful. They'll never know if you have a touch of stagefright."

He thought to himself that she was more composed than many a girl of his own world. He said so and she was pleased.

"Of course," she leaned over, impulsively squeezed his free hand.

The color flooded his face, darkened it under the sunburn.

"Don't do that unless you really mean it," he said.

She withdrew hastily. "I'm sorry. She lit her lip to keep back the tears. She had forgotten. It wasn't fair of him to say that."

That night they reached Washington just after nightfall. Liane was enchanted with the city. From the hill above, it looked like a dusting of stars on black velvet.

Travel-stained and weary, they drew up at a hotel of national fame. Clive's casual inquiry at the desk aroused a bored clerk.

"Mr. Cleophaugh? Certainly. We received your wire."

It was thus everywhere they went. Mentals springing to attention. Liane was amused and excited by it usually. But tonight she was too tired. Her head ached. Without stopping to remove her little broken hat she slipped down upon the bed, her fur coat dropping from her shoulders.

"Worn out?" She raised a wan face to Clive's.

He was content. "My fault. I shouldn't have tried to break the record." He rang for service. A boy came. "Sorry, sir. We're short-handed. All the maids have gone.

Clive shut the door on the voluble boy and his ice water. "I'll put you to bed myself," he told Liane.

She tried to spring up, appalled. "You're ill. Don't be a little fool."

At the words she fell back. Tenderly he took the fur coat from her, lifted her hat. He unstrapped her bag, took from it the fragile, scented night things.

"Lie still, silly." His tone was stern. Liane might have been a recalcitrant child. She was faint with fatigue. Every bone in her body ached. She struggled to rise.

"Really, you needn't bother. I can manage perfectly well myself."

Her head throbbed painfully. There were dark circles beneath her eyes. Clive said, "Don't be a goose. Lie down."

He was unlacing her little brown shoes now. Drowsily she felt herself lifted, felt the softness of her silk gown around her. Dimly she realized he was holding a glass of water to her lips.

"Here, take this." He gave her an asperin tablet.

She took it meekly. She slept. Sitting in the big chair, he kept watch over her for an hour. When he was at last satisfied she was quiet he dragged himself dog tired, to his own room. But curiously enough he did not sleep. He sat, smoking, brooding, deep into the night. Once he struck the palm of his big hand angrily against the armchair. His look was that of a man with a problem which has no solution.

Miss Rosalie Jameson Marries
New York Newspaper Man.
Miss Rosalie Jameson daughter of D. L. Jameson of this city, re- membered as one of Ranger's most prominent society girls of a few seasons past, was married in New York city this morning to Bill Shea, young newspaper man.

The lovely ring ceremony was solemnized in the home of Mrs. Bremer in New York, a close friend of Miss Jameson since her arrival in New York state in 1923. The bride and Mrs. Bremer have enjoyed three tours of Europe to- gether.

Mrs. Shea has held the position as English teacher in Textile High school since living in New York. Immediately following the ceremony the bride and groom left for a honeymoon trip to Whitefield, N. H., where they will be guests on the Chaste farm. Any friends of the former Miss Jameson may extend good wishes by addressing mail to Chaste Farm, Whitefield, N. H.

Wedding Held Saturday Morning in Lubbock
Miss Elizabeth Rodgers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Rodgers, 2109 Seventeenth street, Lubbock, became the bride of Charles Fagg of Eastland, at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the First Presby- terian church, Lubbock, with Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the church, reading the ceremony.

The bride, who entered with her father, was attended by her sister, Mrs. C. A. Tubbs, and her small niece, Betty Loya Tubbs, was the flower girl. Her brother, Robert Rodgers Jr., attended the groom, as best man.

Mrs. Fagg's wedding gown was of flesh organdy and lace. With it she wore a picture hat of braid and organdy and lace mitts. Her bouquet was of pink opelia roses. Mrs. Tubbs was gowned in orchid organdy with a picture hat to match and her bouquet was of pink rosebuds. Her little daughter's dress was of rose organdy.

Preceding the entrance of the wedding party, Miss Loya Tubbs sang, "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied at the piano by Miss Lola Bowden of Brownwood, who played the wed- ding procession and recessional and "Love Dream" as the cere- mony was read.

Miss Tubbs and Miss Bowden were dressed in blue organdies. Flowers used at the altar were in colors worn by the wedding party—pink, blue and orchid and palms were used to create a heavier background.

Ushers were C. A. Tubbs and Fenner Tubbs.
Mr. and Mrs. Fagg were mem- bers of the 1929 graduating class of Texas Technological college at Lubbock. Since finishing, Mr. Fagg has been with the Texas Electric Service plant here. Mrs. Fagg has been teaching in the Breckenridge schools since she graduated.

Following the ceremony the couple left for Colorado and will be at home in Eastland after Aug. 15.

Church of Christ Bible Class Met Monday Afternoon
The Church of Christ Woman's Bible class met Monday afternoon at the church for the regular week- ly meeting. The lesson was taught by Mrs. L. Herring. The opening song, "The Old Ragged Cross" was led by Mrs. P. H. Davis. Prayer, Mrs. C. F. Fehl.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Dan Childress. Those present were Mmes. R. L. Rowe, John Fehl, L. Herring, P.

H. Davis, Guy Sherrill, H. E. Everett, Claud Crossley, C. F. Fehl, D. Pickett, I. L. Hanna, D. L. Childress, W. A. Teasorth, Bud Coplen, Thompson and E. R. O'Rourke.

Camp Meeting Gaining In Attendance
The program for Wednesday at the Texas State Camp meeting which is being held on the campus of Warner Memorial university, is as follows:

6:00 a. m.—Morning worship, I. F. Parker, leader.
8:30 a. m.—Ministers meeting, Dr. G. W. Shearer, speaker.
9:30 a. m.—Sunday Schools and Religious Education, Mrs. E. O. Bailey, leader. Theme, "Essentials to Good Sunday School Work."

10:30 a. m.—General service, Mrs. M. E. Rone and Miss Ella H. Robo.
11:00 a. m.—Children's hour, Mildred McDowell, leader.

1:00 p. m.—Ministers meeting, round table discussion, "Methods in Church Finance."
2:30 p. m.—General service, John W. Dodd, "Cooperation in Church Work."

6:30 p. m.—Gorman young peo- ple, special program.
8:00 p. m.—Open air service, Earl L. Martin, Anderson, In- diana, speaker.

The service Tuesday were all well attended and were all thor- oughly enjoyed. Special singing has been a feature at every ser- vice. At the 7:45 service, Rev. Dodd, pastor of the church at Cisco brought a splendid message to a large and interested audience. Every one is welcome at these ser- vices. The camp meeting extends a special invitation to the citizens of Eastland to attend.

Martha Stewart and Belle Bennett Circles Met Monday.
The Belle Bennett and Martha Stewart circles of the Methodist Woman's Missionary society met Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the church for a business and literary session. "He Is Able to Deliver Thee" was sung as an opening song. Mrs. Taylor, program leader for the afternoon, brought a message from the Gos- pel of John, on the theme of "Com- raderhip With the Divine." She told of how naturally Jesus sought the companionship of his Father, and how the same opportunities are open to us today. Several prayers of consecration were of- fered. "In the Garden" was sung softly, as the devotional period came to a close.

The discussion topic for the after- noon was "New Emphasis in Home Missions." The results of the Washington Congress on Home Missions were told by Mrs. W. B. Collier. Co-operation between the churches in their common tasks and problems was the keynote.

Mrs. Jole told of the progress of home missions in this modern world. Changing conditions of the modern world were discussed by Mrs. Mitchell. Close contact of people about the world, through newspapers, movies, radio, automo- biles, and airplanes, makes new problems for social workers.

A resume of the findings of the Home Missions Congress recently held in New York was given by Mrs. T. M. Collier. The Divine, "Work, For the Night Is Com- ing" was sung. The president, Mrs. Ed F. Wilman, took charge of the meeting and presided over the business session. Minutes were read and approved, and reports made. Plans were made for in- creasing the finances, and the Belle Bennett circle assumed the responsibility of the project.

A prayer by Mrs. T. J. Haley closed the meeting. Mrs. Ed Wilman, T. J. Haley, W. B. Collier, Joe Stephen, T. L. Fagg, Ed Gra- ham, T. M. Collier, Jube, Mitchell, Kinard, W. F. Davenport, Dike, McGlanery, F. M. Kenny, A. F. Taylor, M. H. Kelly, Frank Jones, Castleberry, Stubblefield and Wayne Jones.

Mrs. Owen Hostess To Missionary Society.
The Woman's Missionary society of the First Christian church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Grady Owen, Hillcrest ave- nue. Mrs. M. C. Franklin was the program leader for the afternoon. After the business session re- freshments were served to Mmes. T. A. Bandy, J. T. Calton, Gene Day, Fred Davenport, Henry Fer- rell, J. R. Gilbreath, H. B. Meek, W. Z. Outward, Will Wood, N. L. Smitham, C. A. Peterson, M. C. Franklin, T. L. Cooper, Miss Sallie Day, and one visitor, Mrs. T. L. Cooper Sr.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. N. L. Smitham Monday afternoon, Sept. 7.

Annual Style Show Has Arabian Theatre
By United Press.
DALLAS.—An Arabian theme will be carried throughout the next Southwestern Style show to be staged at Fair Park auditorium here Aug. 4, 11 and 18, according to Oscar Blatt, its producer.

One of the largest stage sets ever erected at Fair park has been built. The back drop depicts the minarets of Bagdad, while the forward sets represent an Arabian palace.

Oriental music will be played by the orchestra. The musicians will be dressed in Bedouin costumes of white with white turbans and red trimmings. Pages who draw the front curtains will be dressed as Arabian slave girls.

The style show will be divided into four sections, representing sports wear, made-in-Dallas cloth- ing, pajamas and undergarments, and dinner dresses and evening wear.

"TOASTING" expels SHEEP-DIP BASE naturally (Black, biting, harsh irritant chemicals) present in every tobacco leaf

"They're out—so they can't be in!"

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making solution for fruits, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

The finest tobacco quality plus throat protection.
