FIRE IN THE FORESTS.

The terrible and destructive fires in the forest areas of many states this year should have focused the public attention on the problem.

Thousands of acres of timber have been devastated—families have been left homeless—human and animal lives have been needlessly destroyed. In at least one state it was necessary to establish martial law in the endangered sections.

Much of the loss is laid to arson—certainly one of the most despicable of all crimes. This we must deal with as best we can through processes of law, and through stricter and more adequate legislation for punishing the offender. But that part of the loss which has resulted from carelessness can only be solved, for our future safety, by the individual. The worker in the woods—the vacationist—the maker of campfires—the smoker—each has been responsible, through indifference, carelessness, or ignorance, for millions of dollars in damage.

We hear much talk of forest conservation—yet the work of years may be ruined overnight by a single untended campfire, a dropped cigar butt. This year the forest fire problem has been especially serious, and it is to be earnestly hoped that out of the unnecessary destruction will come one gain—in a new sense of responsibility on the part of the public that will outlaw forest fires in the years to come.

ON TOP OF THE HEAP.

"It's an ill wind that blows no good"—is an old axiom, but apparently as true today as ever.

Whoever would have thought we should be rejoicing over any phase of this depression business? Yet, that is exactly what Dr. Harold J. Knapp, Health Commissioner of Cleveland, is doing; because he finds in that city considerable decline in disease with the general health of the people there greatly improved. His theory is that people eat less in times like these, that their diet contains fewer luxuries and that health is improved by plain food.

Carefully planned meals cost less money. The less one spends for food the more important milk becomes. Milk is all food, no waste. The least amounts of food which can be used with safety are—Every Meal: milk for the children, bread and butter for all; Every Day: cereal, potatoes, green or yellow vegetables, fruit, tomatoes or oranges for children; Two to Four Times a Week: Tomatoes for all, dried beans, peas or peanuts, eggs—especially for children—lean meat, fish, poultry, cheese. Amounts to suit the size of family.

Simple, plain foods these—but they offer protection and bring health at a cost in keeping with a decreased food allowance.

FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY LAW POPULAR.

North Carolina, following the lead of California and other states, has adopted a Financial Responsibility Law for motorists.

The law, of the familiar pattern, provides that a person failing to satisfy a judgment shall have his license suspended until he gives proof of financial responsibility, either through an insurance policy or a personal corporate surety bond.

This type of law is finding increasing support throughout the nation, and it is noteworthy that demand for unconditional compulsory automobile casualty insurance of the Massachusetts kind, is seldom heard. The experience of the Bay state, with its congested courts, rising accident record, faked claims and increased insurance rates has acted as a warning to other commonwealths.

One can find little fault with the Financial Responsibility Law. Its principal virtue is that it puts the responsibility and cost where it belongs—on those who cause accidents—and does not penalize the careful, responsible driver. The negligent motorist holds the financial sack, as he should.

In all probability it will not be long before an appreciable number of states have similar laws to the benefit of the public at large.

ENEMIES OF PROSPERITY.

There has never been a time when it was more important to keep governmental expense down to reasonable levels than now.

Businesses and individuals are striving to make both ends meet. Authorities, public and private, are working on plans to stimulate industrial activity and thus provide employment for those who are out of work. And rising taxes are one of the principle barriers in the way of success of such plans.

Extravagance and waste on the part of officials are enemies of prosperity and result from "government in business" in competition with its private citizens and taxpayers.

Ain't Nature Grand?

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of State Harry L. Stimson, who thinks secretaries should go abroad and handle their most important diplomacy personally instead of through ambassadors, is expected to do more negotiating on foreign soil than all his predecessors did over a period of about 130 years.

Stimson probably will head the American delegation to the Geneva disarmament conference in February. His experience at the London naval conference and the Paris moratorium conference, combined with his recent two-month trip during which he conferred with European statesmen about the forthcoming Geneva gathering, causes him to be regarded as the most effective among men who might be assigned to the job.

Appearance of an American secretary of state at three such momentous conferences will appear to be another hard blow at the rather shopworn theory of isolation in our international relations and definitely mark the beginning of a new system of diplomacy. Five other secretaries have visited foreign nations, but usually only to make a bow, sign a document or perform some gracious gesture. The new policy of personal contacts between world statesmen, which Stimson has adopted with the approval of President Hoover, is based on the same line of thought as led to the visit of Hoover to South America in 1923 as president-elect and Premier Ramsay MacDonald's visit to Washington in 1929.

STIMSON says a man in his position needs a personal, intimate knowledge of foreign ministers and premiers to aid him in dealing with them and that such knowledge can facilitate quick, intelligent decisions. Communications through ambassadors are usually quite formal and not as dependable, when it comes to interpretation or complete understanding, as informal exchanges between two principals. The Geneva naval conference of 1927 blew up for lack of adequate

New Evening Gowns Emphasizing Color

The new evening dresses are becoming. Becoming in a casual way, for, in spite of their requirements for a slender figure, they are easy to wear. This is because they are of soft-looking materials. Color also plays an important part in creating these easy-to-look-in dresses. In place of stressing one outstanding color fast, there are shades for every type and personality.

Mass Green Print.
One is of a print showing a cool mass green background with dashing black designs. As the material itself is so lovely, there was little need to emphasize the style followed. Instead, the designer worked the fabric. A princess line was followed with circular ruffles ornamenting the skirt, graduating out to join the short train. A flaring scarf gave a soft fluttering effect, harmonizing with the ruffles on the skirt.

The other evening gown was of soft black velvet, also showing a neutral styling, depending on the richness of the material for effect. With this gown Miss Hyams wore a short white velvet jacket, showing a corded edging and wide ermine elbow cuff.

utility and commercial egg purposes. A record of the pens will be kept for the duration of the show to determine the number of eggs produced. First prize will be $50.

The judges of the poultry and pigeon show will be either G. E. Ernst of Waverly, Ia., or E. C. Branch of Kansas City, Mo.

IOWA FARMERS AND TROOPS STAGE 'CATTLE WAR' NEAR HOOVER'S OLD HOME

Iowa national guardsmen are shown here as they fell into ranks on the platform of the railroad station at Tipton, Iowa, surrounded by farmers in rebellion against the state tuberculosis test law which they were called out to see enforced. The guardsmen were sent to Tipton, in the county where President Hoover was born, after 400 farmers with clubs, pitchforks and mud-balls had driven off 65 state officers and veterinarians who had tried to enforce the law to which the cattle raisers object.

RANGER LOSES GOOD GAME TO AMARILLO

Ranger lost one of those heart-breaking ball games to Amarillo Friday afternoon by a score of 12 to 9. Both Amarillo scores were made on touchdowns, the first by LaBarge in the first quarter and the second on a 70-yard run by Enochs in the last quarter. Main attempts at kicking goal failed. Ranger scored first when Cazell attempted a punt on the 25-yard line and Duvall broke through the line, blocked the punt, knocked it over the goal line and recovered it for a touchdown. King kicked for a field goal. The game ended with the ball in Ranger's possession within two yards of the goal line.

Ranger was outplayed in the first quarter of the game but from there on out they clearly outplayed the Sandies, getting within scoring distance three times. Landers, who went in at right end, missed a chance to score when he let Weaver's long pass drop when he had a clear field and no one between him and the goal.

The game ended with the ball in Ranger's possession within two yards of the goal line. In the first quarter Amarillo received and advanced the ball to almost mid-field where they kicked to Weaver who was downed on the eight-yard line. Stevens then punted to mid-field and the Sandies marched down to a touchdown, LaBarge doing much of the ball-carrying and taking it across for the score. Amarillo kicked off to Ranger and the ball was advanced to the Ranger 33-yard line when the quarter ended.

The game had more real thrills and more heartbreaks for both teams than any we have seen in a long time. Amarillo had about ceded the game and Coach Cherry was the picture of despair for a long time, but his spirits were revived when Enochs broke through for a 70-yard run for the final Sandie score.

Next week Central High of Fort Worth and then the first conference game of the season when the Eastland Mavericks come over to invade Lillard field. The Mavericks average only 157 pounds to the man, but they have a scrapping little team and some of the best backfield men in the game.

They usually have a few surprises to unfold for the fans and are always a threat in any game because of this element of surprise they are able to throw into the game. Last year when they played the strong Abilene Eagles off their feet at Abilene, only to have the game result in a tie due to a hard break in the last quarter, was a surprise to many, but not to those who have seen them in action. They may take any game in which they play and always have a punch left, even when they are behind.

DAUGHTER IS BORN
Mr. and Mrs. Orlene Cole announce the arrival of a daughter at the City-County hospital Friday, Sept. 25. Mother and baby are resting quite well.

FORT WORTH—El Paso airway being lighted.

Missed—by a Mile!

It was a mighty swing, but Joe Sekyra missed this shot at Tommy Loughran's whiskers so emphatically that he almost fell to the floor himself. This was a lucky break for Loughran, as Joe had him going just before this picture was made in the sixth round. Loughran got the decision, more on personality than on punches, most of the boxing writers agreed.

EASTLAND WINS FROM POLY BY 6 TO 0 SCORE

The Eastland Mavericks defeated the Polytechnic Parrots of Fort Worth at Mavericks Field Saturday afternoon by a score of 6 to 0. The lone score came in the last quarter when Estes Hurgamy, first Mavrick back, plunged over from the six-yard line in two successive bucks.

Eastland kicked off to the Parrots' 20-yard line and they returned 20 yards to the 40 yard line. On the second down Smith intercepted a Parrot pass. Eastland fumbled and Poly recovered on Eastland's 30 yard line. Neither side showed to advantage in the first quarter, which ended with the ball on the Eastland 30 yard line.

Hurgamy started the second quarter. Eastland punted and the Parrots failed to make a first down, the ball going to Eastland on their own 30 yard line. Line plunges gained about five yards and Mackall punted to the Parrots' five yard line. The parrots returned the kick and Hurgamy was downed in his tracks on the 50 yard line. Eastland made one first down and failed in an attempt to make a second and Polytechnic took the ball on their own 45 yard line. Eastland threw Polytechnic for a 15 yard loss and they kicked a Parrot pass. Eastland fumbled and Poly recovered on Eastland's 30 yard line. Neither side showed to advantage in the first quarter, which ended with the ball on the Eastland 30 yard line.

At the half Eastland kicked to the Poly 30 yard line and they returned 10 yards. Eastland threw Poly for a 13-yard loss. Poly kicked to Eastland's 44 yard line. After failing to make a first down Eastland kicked 40 yards to Poly's 12 yard line. Failing at first down Poly kicked to Eastland's 47 yard line where the ball was fumbled but recovered. The regular procedure was followed when Eastland failed to cover sufficient ground to make a first down and punted. Eastland returned the kick to Eastland's 49 yard line and another exchange of punts found the ball in Poly's possession on the 34 yard line. A pass was completed to the 41 yard line.

In the fourth quarter after another exchange of punts Eastland made a first down on the six yard line and Hurgamy plunged over on his second attempt. The game ended with the Mavericks and Parrots exchanging punts.

Eastland made eight first downs, Polytechnic seven. Eastland received two penalties of five yards each and Poly drew the same penalties. Eastland attempted three passes, two of which were incomplete and one intercepted. Polytechnic attempted 19 passes, 10 were completed for a total of 77 yards, five were incomplete and four intercepted.

Ghosts Haunted Burning House Firemen Declare

By United Press.
BEACON, N. Y.—Reports of an apparition in the 200-year-old Verplanck homestead while flames destroyed the structure the other day, still is being discussed here.

Three persons said that while gazing at the burning building they saw outlined in the ruins the figure of an old colonial gentleman, with high powdered wig, seated at a desk, writing. Nearby stood an old colonial dame, holding a candle.

Those who witnessed the purported scene are Duncan McLeod and two firemen. McLeod said he does not believe in ghosts, but he is positive he and the firemen saw the apparition.

The Verplanck homestead was the birthplace of the Order of the Cincinnati, headquarters of Baron Von Steuben, German hero of the Revolution. Baron Von Steuben's body now lies in a grave near Remsen, Oneida county.

Unofficial estimates place the total production of the 1931 wheat crop of the Texas Panhandle at 67 million bushels.

Aged Justice Will Quit Office Because Of 'Too Much Sorrow'

By United Press.
HOUSTON.—Because he is "tired of listening to other folks' troubles" J. M. Ray, 77, has decided not to run again after serving 42 years as a justice of the peace.

Holding inquests, and making night calls to view some dreadful find in a shallow grave, are gruesome work, Justice Ray said, but that is not why he is quitting.

"It's grief and distress, women folks deserted by their husbands, children without food or clothes—that's what I'm getting away from," he explained.

Woman Writes She Killed Two Men

By United Press.
SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 26.—A woman who signed her name Miss Abilene Kawalik, wrote police today and confessed killing two men in Houston. The letter was post-marked here.

The woman neglected to give names, dates or circumstances in her illiterate and hardly legible letter but said she wanted to tell the truth.

Police here said they want a woman by that name in connection with the killing of R. L. Urquhart, 33, July 4.

A headline says a man "fled from death in pajamas." You don't catch death wearing a nightshirt.

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

With BILL MAYES

The press box at the Ranger-Amarillo game Friday afternoon had the appearance of a state championship game. Among the representatives of the press were Jerry E. Main, sports editor of the Amarillo Globe-News, Boyce House of the Star-Telegram, Benjy Butler of the Globe News, Dunn of the Carbon Messenger, Garner of the Strawn Tribune—a telegraph operator giving a play-by-play report of the game by wire to Amarillo and besides they let us give up our knot-hole through which we usually peep to get the dope and let us sit in the press box.

More representatives of the press would have been present to give the game more publicity if someone hadn't fallen down on the job. No press passes were issued until a few minutes before the game and it looked as though some of the reporters were going to have to crash the gate or climb a fence.

Had passes been issued early in the week and mailed to the different papers a larger representation would have been on hand to tell the world of the struggle between the two teams.

Hrecknridge mailed out passes to the press two weeks ago to be sure that sports writers will be at their games, but the Ranger officials showed lack of forethought in failing to take proper care of the men who would have given the game more publicity. Several stayed away because they did not know how they were going to be able to get in the field—or the press box.

The opinion of the reporters, who are always good as second guessers, seemed to be that Ranger would have won the game had the game been played a little differently after the ball was carried within the five-yard line. After watching Townsend's effectiveness at plunging the line they thought he should have been given more chances to pick up the few needed yards that would have meant a touchdown and a win for Ranger, but the sports writers are sometimes wrong. They were also of the opinion that the game was good for both teams as they were evenly matched enough to show them their few faults and help them correct them. Central High next week will have to put up a better game than did Amarillo to win because of the added experience the Bulldogs gained.

Landers missed, by inches, his one big chance to shine as the hero of the game when he let Weaver's 45-yard toss slip through his hands in the last few minutes of play. He had an open field and no one who could have stopped him before he crossed the line for the leading score of the game. As Landers is one of the surest pass catchers on the Bulldog team, the fans got a big thrill because they saw a touchdown and a game right in the hands of the Bulldogs.

Duvall's blocking of the punt and recovery over the line for a score was one of the best pieces of defensive work seen in some time. He not only smothered the punt but he kept his feet and raced over the line in time to make the score. It is not often a guard has an opportunity to score the only touchdown made by his team. Segars almost duplicated the feat in the last few minutes of play when he blocked another kick and knocked it over the line. He was surrounded by Sandies, however, and could not get to his feet in

WOMEN WIN FROM STAMFORD

By United Press.
ENRIDGE, Sept. 26.—and outclassed, the Bulldogs lost to the go Buckaroos, 71-0. y. Stamford resorted to emptying five out of 15, 50 yards out a for a touchdown. Stamford end, received 50 yards and was forced into the third quarter. Breckenridge 21. The game was a 50-yard run for touchdown from kickoff in the first.

Four sold jail was torn, there's a novel deduction.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
BEN CHAPMAN could run pretty fast before he ever came to the Yankees. He has been taught a lot of the fine points of sprinting by Earl "Doc" Painter, Yankee trainer. Painter coached and captained Colorado College to a couple of track titles in the Rocky Mountain Conference in 1904-05-06. . . . Doc ran the 100 in 19.84 and could do 220 in 22.2. . . . Doc has taken special care of Ben's legs . . . and taught him little tricks of cutting the wind that made the Birmingham Bunny faster.

Quinn was with the Yankees in 1909, '10 and '11 and then drifted back to the minors. Eppa Rixey, whose big league career began in 1912, is still pitching.

New Face in Series
THE world series likely will see a new face at shortstop. If Joe Boley's legs continue to bother him, and Dib Williams doesn't go into a tailspin, Dib probably will be leaping around at short during one or two games of the series. But Boley probably will start. He knows his grounders.

THIS IS THE FIRST of a series of talks, that will appear in this newspaper throughout the year, on the Doctor—and what Medical Science is accomplishing toward the health of the individual and the community.

You know, of course, that for an M.D. to qualify as a practicing physician, it is necessary that many years be spent in study, preparation and practice. You are protected by the laws of your State, where the qualifications of your Doctor are concerned.

The average time consumed by a Doctor in study, preparation and unproductive practice is around twelve years. These unproductive years and the actual money spent totals from $15,000 to $35,000, depending on the individual, and sources of education.

[Next week we will tell you about college preparation required to become a Doctor]

Vegetables to Plant in the Fall

Two of the early spring vegetables can be conveniently planted in the fall. These are leaf lettuce and spinach, waiting until the last of the season when the ground can be worked and then covering the rows with a mulch until frost sets in.

Sow Leaf Lettuce as Late as Ground Can be Worked and Covered With a Mulch.

but there is no proof of this theory and the asparagus, given plenty of fertilizer and moisture, will be all that can be desired in quality. It likes well drained soil and, especially in sandy soil, provided that it is well fertilized.

The asparagus bed needs deep digging and all the fertilizer you can work into it, the more the better. Set the asparagus plants three feet apart each way. A row of them down a line fence is the most economical way of spacing an asparagus planting to serve as a hedge in the summer if you are cramped for room.

Dig a hole about a foot and a half deep. In the bottom of the hole raise a mound a foot high, on the top of which set the plant. The roots radiate like the spokes of a wheel. Spread them out and fill in the soil, firming it down. Mulch well the first year so that the plants will not be heated by thawing and freezing.

Do not cut the asparagus until the second year after planting. After that the bed will be in annual bearing.

An ancient practice consists of sowing the asparagus bed in spring. It does no harm and may keep down weeds but it does no substantial good. A dressing of manure or commercial fertilizer would be more beneficial. The salt idea apparently came from the fact that the asparagus in its native haunts was a salt marsh plant. There is a belief that salting improves the quality and makes the "grass" more tender.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

The harvest of the year brings a wealth of food offerings. Fruits, vegetables and meats are available in great abundance and variety.

The root vegetables are at their best now. Beets, carrots and turnips are tender and sweet when freshly gathered and vastly superior to those which have been stored and must be used during the winter months.

Until a "killing" frost comes, eggplant, cauliflower, sweet peppers, late spinach, tomatoes and lima beans are plentiful. Carrots, live and celery will be good before the first hard frosts, while cabbage needs a good nip of frost to improve its flavor.

The hard shelled, full-flavored squash comes into market to take its place in the main course of dinner. Squash pie, squash custard or squash pudding make delicious and nourishing desserts. Baked squash, squash and nut croquettes, squash souffle and cream of squash soup are appetizing ways of using it in the main course.

The late fruits, grapes, pears and peaches are still in the markets. Apples are abundant. Cider and nuts add variety to menus.

Grapes are always popular as a breakfast fruit and can be used for luncheon or dinner as the dessert. The juice can be used in sponges or gelatine desserts.

Vegetable cocktails are ideal for luncheon dinners. They whet the appetite without effecting the body temperature as a chilled fruit or hot soup first course tends to do. Crisp cauliflower cocktail, tomato juice cocktail, beet and cabbage and any number of celery combinations are particularly good.

Game is added to the list of poultry and meat. Oysters are plentiful among the sea-foods. The pork products which have been more or less taboo during the hot months provide a welcome change.

Use curly endive often as long as it's abundant. Raw or cooked, it's a wholesome green vegetable. Later in the winter lettuce will necessarily be our stand-by, but now curly endive can take its place.

October sounds the last call for most of the fresh vegetables in many localities, so use them generously and make the most of the season's bounty.

services. Note change of time in evening hour. There will be baptizing at the close of the service.

Mid-week prayer service, Wednesday night. The hour will be 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock.

Fall Opening Scores Big Success For Hassen Company.
At the brilliant opening of Hassen company, Friday evening, the fastidious and style-conscious modes dictated her own ideas to the stylists for fall and winter. One of the most lavish and complete showings ever to have been presented was viewed by a host of Ranger friends and out of town guests.

As the curtain lifted on the colorful and smart panorama of fall's splendor a collection of gorgeous creations was on display. Something of sophistication and charm gave grace to the fashions. A most appropriate setting added to the lovely background. Decorations for this affair were primarily of shades and color suggestive to the season. Fall leaves extending from graceful branches reflected colors of golden brown, orange, and sunset gold. Ferns, potted plants and stately gladioluses arranged in brightly hued vases helped greatly to impress the beauty of the occasion. During the hours of open house, music was furnished by Mrs. Vera Watt, Clayton Hunt, Rupert Murphy, William Edwards, with Miss Vera Hunt adding to the musical selections with a few well chosen popular songs.

Good punch was served with Misses Betty and Mary Edla Davenport presiding hostesses for Each guest, upon arriving, registered in the dainty bride's book and also gave a toast of recipe. Mrs. V. V. Cooper Jr. gave a very clever and appropriate reading, "Lull," after which "Fishing for Fortunes" was held. This feature created most interest during the period of entertainment.

Miss Olga Mitchell added charm to the occasion by playing on the violin "Love's Old Sweet Song." During the rendition of this sweet number the bride-elect was invited into the dining room where the dashing and dainty little Vera Vivian Cooper greeted her, gowned as an old-fashioned bride, and carrying a bouquet of sweetheart roses with the gown finished with all bridal accessories. This petite little miss was standing in the center of the dining table with the fullness of her bridal skirt keeping from view the array of exquisite gifts presented by the popular bride's friends.
