BUCKNER ASKS 'WHO IS GOING TO PAY THE PIPER?'

Col. Murrell L. Buckner is chairman of the Dallas county democratic executive committee. He sent a letter to Attorney General James V. Allred asking for a ruling as to who was going to put up the money to pay for separate prohibition referendum ballots for July 23 primary.

The county committees have but one source of funds to pay for printing the primary ballot. That source is the candidates who are running in the primary, the necessary funds being raised by assessing those candidates.

Then Colonel Buckner passed down the line this bit of advice: "The ballot with the question of the prohibition referendum on it is such a ballot. If they want to hold a prohibition referendum they ought to do it at the November election when the state will have to stand the expense."

Chairman W. O. Huggins is an editor. He has a glorious opportunity to take the center of the stage and elect himself the angel of the hour. Colonel Buckner believes that those who dance should pay the piper.

'HE WAS WITH HOOVER IN FRANCE'

Captain James F. Lucy of Dallas "was with Hoover in France; he assisted in feeding the Belgian children." He is a Creager lieutenant. He is the Texas member of the committee to notify Herbert Clark Hoover of the honor bestowed upon the distinguished engineer by the national convention of the republican party.

Warren G. Harding and Calvin Coolidge and Andrew W. Mellon kept foreign crude on the free list. Herbert Hoover never gave the taxing proposal a bit of recognition but democratic senators made the proposal a rider to the billion dollar balance-the-budget revenue measure and the president bowed to the inevitable.

Great Britain, away back in the early '70's, forced the gold standard upon the world. After the world had been thoroughly deflated the financiers of Great Britain very successfully handled the MacDonald coalition government and forced the gold standard to slide into the depths of the depression sewer.

YES, 'THIS IS TEXAS'

Gov. Ross S. Sterling declared at a celebration in Wortham: "Texas has a highway system equal to any in the nation, the greatest crops in many years, and is in better shape financially than any other state."

STANDARD OIL POINTS THE WAY

Now following in the wake of several large corporations the Standard Oil company of New Jersey has announced the doctrine of a five-day week for all salaried employes and wage earners, and a general re-arrangement of working schedules to afford employment to the largest possible number.

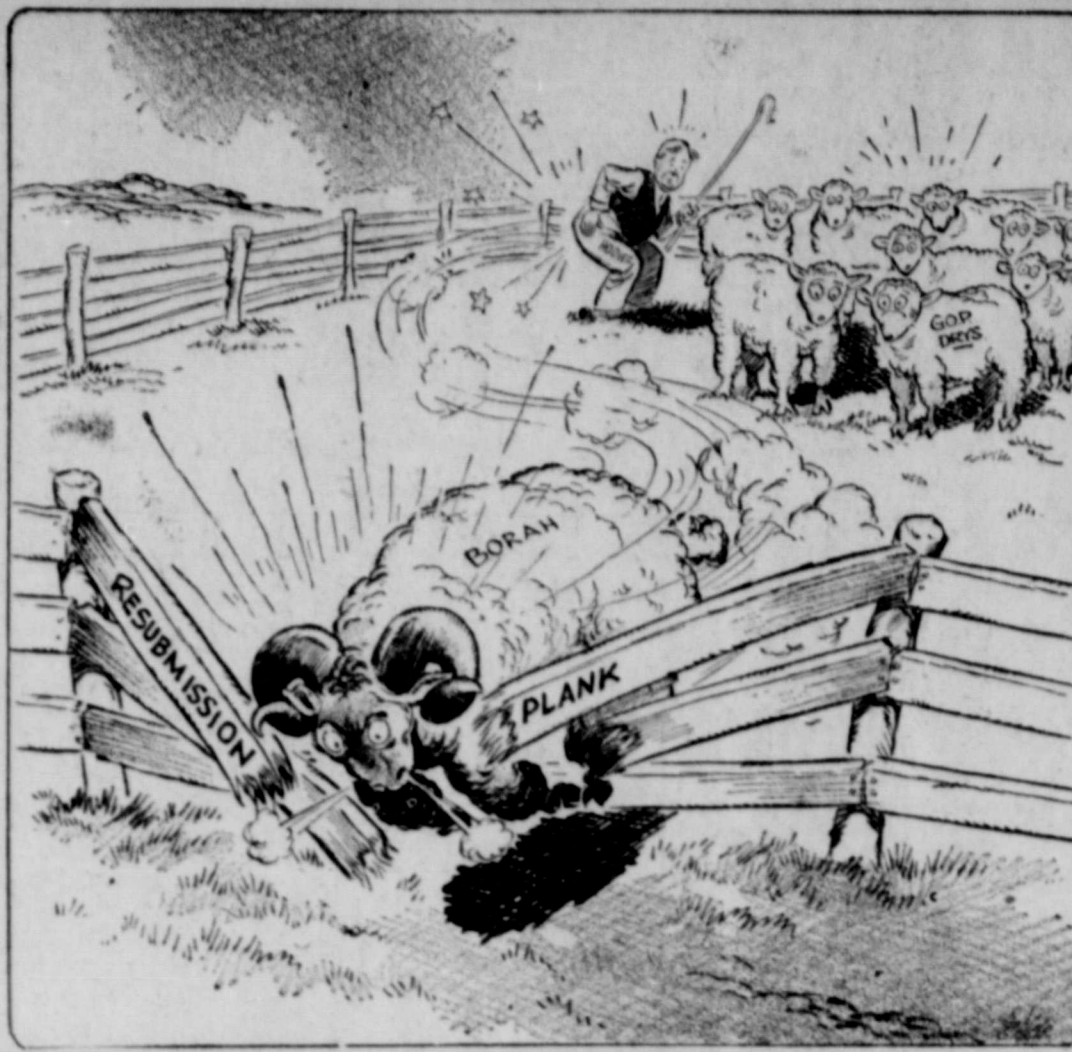

There are many signs in the industrial skies that the five-day week plan is on the way. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. threw a large sized dynamite bomb into the political waters of America when he shot his bolt demanding the repeal of the 18th amendment.

ANOTHER HEAVY TAX FOR GERMANS TO PAY

It has come to pass that the heaviest tax burden ever carried by the people of the German republic was imposed when President Von Hindenburg wrote his name at the bottom of a sweeping emergency decree submitted to him by his new chancellor—Franz von Papen.

Every German with a job is required to pay a tax on it under the new regulation. Every purchaser of salt will contribute his mite to the German government through a new levy. This tax on employed persons is graduated from 1 1/2 per cent up. And on the other side of the ledger the government dole to the unemployed and the war maimed was materially slashed.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

Baseball Races Jumble Early Betting Odds.

Three dollars bet across the boards on the Cincinnati Reds April 1 would have been one of the best gambles ever made in baseball as it turns out in June.

Lack of pitching strength may keep the Reds from winning the pennant, but their hitting power is certain to keep them in the running for second or third place all the way to the finish.

If the Reds should happen to win the flag, $1 bet on them to finish first, $1 to finish second and $1 to finish third would return the bettor $1,600.

The odds quoted against the Reds April 1 by Jack Doyle, Broadway betting commissioner, were 1000-1 to win the pennant, 400-1 to finish second, 200-1 to finish third.

It wasn't long after the major league races opened and the Reds, with the aid of Hafey, Herman, Lombardi and other new players, had demonstrated first division strength that the odds against them winning the pennant dropped all the way from 1000-1 to 20-1, the present price.

National League—Cards, even; Gians, 5-2; Cubs, 3-1; Brooklyn, 30-1; Pittsburgh, 50-1; Boston, 100-1; Philadelphia, 100-1; Cincinnati, 1000-1.

American League—Athletics, 6-5; Yankees, 9-5; Washington, 3-1; Cleveland, 12-1; Detroit, 30-1; Boston, 100-1; St. Louis, 500-1; White Sox, 1000-1.

Political Follies of 1932

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

MADISON, Wis.—The Stalwarts are marching once more to drive the progressive LaFollette from political power in Wisconsin.

It looks, according to political leaders on both sides like a knock-down-drag-out fight. Income taxes have been doubted in order to pay for Governor Philip F. LaFollette's $8,500,000 unemployment relief program and most people with big incomes are pretty sore.

The Stalwarts, as the conservative regular Republicans are called in this state, will have a large campaign chest.

Two Big Fights. THERE are two fights of national interest which will be concluded in the Wisconsin Republican primaries of next September.

Phil LaFollette, the idealistic but peppery and practical 35-year-old son of "Old Bob," will be opposed for renomination by former Governor Walter J. Kohler, the middle-aged millionaire manufacturer of bathroom fixtures.

John B. Chapple, the publisher from Ashland who apparently has the blessing of the Hoover administration, is going hammer and tongs after the seat of U. S. Senator John J. Blaine, a leader in the LaFollette group.

The results, especially in the governorship fight where the contest is thought likely to be closest, should provide a real test of the widespread theory that American voters are turning conservative rather than toward the left.

Amusement Providers

A "TAX REVOLT" of uncertain proportions, the attempts of the conservatives to demonstrate that the progressives are leading the state straight toward Communism and charges that the University of Wisconsin here is a "hotbed" of radicalism and atheism have provided most of the entertainment to date.

Blaine seems more likely to be renominated than young Phil, although many long range predictions incline to favor both LaFollette leaders say Phil's chief danger is that he is an "in" at a time when voters are all mixed up, are tending to leave overboard their present public officials and are more than ever likely to vote their emotions.

They say the use of money always creates an uncertain factor and the wealthy class, distinctly angry and frightened at what they consider

What the Struggle Means

THUS the struggle becomes somewhat suggestive of a struggle between rich and poor. LaFollette will have to depend on the low income and the no income groups to save him from defeat. His theory is that starvation must not be permitted and that the incomes of the wealthy and well-to-do offer the only place to get the money to prevent it.

He has even called off the county officials from sales of property for delinquent taxes. Wisconsin communities spent about $3,000,000 for relief in 1930 and about $8,000,000 in 1931, at the end of which year Phil LaFollette sent out a statewide questionnaire asking estimates of relief needs for 1932.

He deduced that the sum required would be about $12,000,000. He reasoned that the total of $23,000,000 should not be raised entirely from general property but could be more justly taken through income taxes, which towns and cities are not permitted to impose.

He proposed to raise $17,000,000 in that manner and, finally, after a hard fight got the legislature to pass a bill which voted $6,500,000 relief to be taken from income surtax.

An Anguished Howl. TAX notices were sent out about a month ago and an anguished howl went up from all parts of Wisconsin. Mass meetings were held and the LaFollette crowd was denounced more bitterly than ever and the Stalwarts girded themselves for a once-and-for-all purging of the state capital.

All through the state you hear manufacturers and other men of means cursing the LaFollette. The man who has been paying an income tax of $125 and now finds himself forced to pay $250, with much heavier federal taxes ahead, is in no pleasant frame of mind.

Charges by the Stalwarts of an " orgy of expense" at Madison and demands for abolition of "useless commissions and boards" fall on receptive ears.

But much of the roar has come from articulate more or less influential men who are congenitally anti-LaFollette, anyway, who prefer a "business man's administration" such as they had from Kohler.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

PER CAPITA DEBT OF AMERICAN CITIES. This should interest all city dwellers. The average American citizen of 319 leading American cities must eventually pay $115 to eliminate the debt of his local government.

This is $4.95 more than his obligation was in 1931 and $9.88 more than it was in 1930. His obligation increased 4.3 per cent this year over last year, and 8.7 per cent over 1930. For 33 large cities net bonded indebtedness jumped from $2,600,000,000 ten years ago to $4,633,000,000 this year or an increase of 77 per cent.

And yet there are men who say that the salaries of public servants should not be reduced, that appropriations from the Potomac river should not be reduced to the smallest local unit of county government, should not be decreased in order that property owners should be given a breathing spell.

Tom Cunningham Withdraws From Race For Judge

Tom J. Cunningham announced the withdrawal of his candidacy from the race for judge of the 91st district court late Friday.

In discussing his withdrawal with a representative of this paper, Cunningham said that he realized he would have been compelled to make a hard campaign with only one opponent and that since Allen Dabney had entered the race he felt that the result was too uncertain for him to go to the expense and take the time and effort necessary to make the campaign.

Cunningham expressed his appreciation for the friendly attitude many had taken to his first announcement of candidacy for the judgeship and that it was with considerable regret that he withdrew. However, in view of circumstances and after careful consideration he had decided to withdraw, he said.

Mr. Cunningham's announcement read:

Eastland, Tex., June 24, 1932. To the People of Eastland County: My Dear Friends:

I wish to thank the many friends who have been kind to me, who have assisted me in the past, and who have given courage since I announced two weeks ago. Permit me to assure you that such kindness shall always abide with me, and I trust that all may feel free to commend my services when such may be available.

Gratefully yours, TOM J. CUNNINGHAM.

"THE monkeys do their stunts with ease upon that wonderful trapeze," said Copy, "and I'll bet that I could do some good tricks, too."

"At least I'm going to try my luck. If I get tangled up and stuck, you Tinymites can help me. Wait, now, till the monkeys are through."

The biggest monkey of the bunch, all of a sudden, got a hunch that he could hang down by his tail and swing out through the air. He started squealing very loud. 'Twas to attract the Tiny crowd. It seemed that he was saying, "Watch! I'll give you all a scare."

THEN, with the trapeze swinging high, the monkey made everybody sigh by leaping "way out" in the air. Said Duncy, "He won't fall. Just watch him. He is safe and sound and will not topple to the ground. The act is really clever. He is hanging by his tail."

The next thing that the Tinies knew, the little monkey came flying through the air. He hit on Duncy's chest and knocked him to the ground. The monkey then squealed in keen delight. It was a rather funny sight. Poor Duncy jumped up, as the other Tinies gath'ered 'round.

"WELL, now's my chance to show some stunts," said Copy. "I will try it once." He climbed up on the trapeze and amused the Tinymites. All of a sudden Duncy cried, "Perhaps we'd better run and hide. Here comes a great big hippo. Gee! Of all the foolsights!"

"Oh, he's a tame one," Scout said. "Don't run! We'll ride on him, instead. When we're aboard I'll make him go by giving him a whack."

The funny hippopotamus stood still and didn't start a fuss when all the happy Tinies climbed upon his big, fat back.

Our Church Histories:
Church of Christ.
The Eastland Church of Christ, which was established about 25 years ago, has had a vigorous and useful life, that has been amply cared for in the handsome new edifice, built in 1929, and which owes its beauty and symmetry to a large extent, to the personal efforts of Allen D. Dabney.
In our history of the churches of Eastland, this one stands out in its unique method of providing music for the church services. No musical instruments are permitted in this church and the singing by a fine choir is led by Mr. H. E. Lawrence, without aid of musical instruments of any kind.
Rev. W. E. Moore, the pastor, is not a resident of Eastland, but comes each Sunday to conduct the services, morning and evening, and is present for the opening of the Sunday school, of which Dan Childress is superintendent.
Allen D. Dabney is teacher of the adult class. Ite Hanna taught the junior boys and girls, and the young people's class is taught by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Moore.
Mrs. L. Herring, who is teacher for the women's Bible class, which meets at the homes of its members on successive Monday afternoons, has also charge of the women's Sunday school class.
Mrs. B. E. Roberson is the teacher for the intermediate class, and Mrs. Ira Hanna has charge of the intermediate class of boys and girls.
Mrs. Dan Childress teaches the primary boys and girls and Mrs. J. R. Boggs teaches the beginners, and is sponsor for the cradle roll.
The board of elders includes Messrs. Dabney and Childress.
The board of deacons includes Messrs. James Graham, J. R. Boggs, C. F. Fehl, B. E. Roberson, E. H. Hurley, W. A. Teatsorth and Ira Hanna.
The Sunday school has an average attendance of 150 members, and there are about 150 on the church membership roll.
The Woman's Bible class has the talented and capable Mrs. Dan Childress as president. The Monday afternoon meetings of this class have a delightful social atmosphere.
A pleasant feature of the church life is the social outings of the senior classes, which frequently go roasts during the summer months, on hikes, have picnics, or weiner and informal parties in the homes of members in later season.
The church extends the most cordial welcome to strangers and visitors, and is most gracious in its reception of Eastland citizenship.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
SEA Service Writer

DURING vacation time, when children are at home all day, luncheon presents a new problem to many mothers. More freedom is permitted than during school days. The lunch hour is not rigid and bed-time varies. With food always available, the temptation to eat between meals is trying. These factors as well as the custom of serving the hearty meal at the end of the day all increase the problem.

Children must have a hearty noon meal. Hours of active play in the fresh air, exhaust energy and make nourishing food necessary. But, unless special meals are prepared for children, the noon meal is the light one and the evening meal is the hearty one eaten with the older members of the family.

There are certain rules which govern the choice of child's daily diet and some knowledge of these rules is essential. Every child should have in his diet every day one quart of milk. He should have three vegetables, one of which may be potatoes and one of the others raw or green. He should have two fruits, one preferably raw. He should have one serving of meat, fish or eggs. A whole grain cereal, three slices of bread or toast and four glasses of water complete the list of foods necessary to maintain a balanced diet and provide an adequate number of calories.

Vary Ways of Serving Milk
If a child does not want to drink his allotted quart of milk, it may be used over vegetables, in soups and in desserts.

All the foods are better served as simply as possible, but care must be taken to make children's food palatable and attractive.

An easy way to plan a child's luncheon menu is to include in it those foods that are not served at breakfast or dinner when the family are together. Then, if he is given his broiled chop or meat cake at noon, he may have the dining table provided for the rest of the family.

Very often the luncheon dessert can be counted as the "main dish" three days in Eastland, they left for Comanche to join Mrs. Cunningham, who is visiting her grandmother in that city.

Those attending the picnic and bridge were Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Brothers, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Pickett, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gerard, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Wynn, Miss Dorris Burns of Abilene, Miss Frances Cunningham, and Mrs. Halloran.

Home Makers Class Will Picnic Tuesday

The crowning feature of the supper was a wonderful cake, made and baked by Joyce Newman, a new member of the Camp Fire Girls.

A most delightful time was reported by Joyce Johnson, Lurine Brawner, Edith Meek, Fayelette Campbell, May Gates, Marjorie Sly, and guests of the camp, Gladys Gates, Joe Earl Utz, and Ellen Francis. Chaperones were Mrs. Gates, and guardian, Mrs. Palm.

A regular meeting of the Camp Fire Girls is announced for next Thursday at 4 p. m., place selected later.

HERE-- AND THERE

BY ELVIE H. JACKSON

Do you know something about the government employees in Eastland? We have a number who are employed either directly by the government, or are appointed by the state, and whose work of a peculiar and interesting nature.

There are few women employed in this state in the capacity of government weather observers, but that is the important office being filled by Mrs. W. E. Stalter, for the American Airways, Inc.

Some interesting changes have been effected lately, in the routine conduct of the Eastland reports. There has been increased from the former method of two reports per day. Four reports are now transmitted, concerning the weather conditions here.

Mrs. Stalter's time is subject to call at any moment. The company has put on a night flying trip from coast to coast, with two day planes and two night planes, that fly east and west each 24 hours.

Mrs. Stalter's reports are made at 4:15 a. m., 8 a. m., 6:35 p. m., and 8:30 p. m., to Ranger, to Postal Telegraph, and relayed by teletype to American Airways' observatory.

This information is then tele-typed all along the aviation routes. Then there is the weather reporter, J. A. Beard, who consults the barometer in his residence, and registers the barometric pressure, or direction of winds, whether weather is cloudy or clear, the temperature, whether hot or cold, whether days are cloudy, the rain fall, and crop conditions. These observations are wired to Houston each morning, to the observation bureau, which compiles a monthly report.

In addition to this these reports are wired by the bureau at 8 a. m., daily.

Now comes Mrs. John Mathews, who has been registrar of births and deaths for Eastland county the past three years.

Her office is an appointive one by the state, but is supported by the county out of the general fund.

Mrs. Mathews is indefatigable in her work, and is still turning up births all through the county, that should have been registered before she assumed her duties.

Here comes J. R. Gilbreath, government employee, who is busy day and night superintending the care and operation of the government airport beacon lights, and who is required to make his daily reports to the government office.

And last, but far from least in importance, is our Eastland post office, which employs five clerks, two city carriers, two rural carriers, one substitute clerk, and one substitute carrier, and Postmaster A. H. Johnson.

Chicago Political Conventions Inspire These "Dishes of the Hour"

"Now is the time for all good cooks to come to the aid of their party!" No matter whether your political party displays the emblem of elephant or donkey, your social kind of party will be amusing if you observe the conventions—meaning, by conventions, not traditions, but the kind they are holding in Chicago during June!

Inner committees of clubs and organizations in search of novel ideas will find they win popularity votes when they serve menus so timely and new, and present "stump speeches" and straw ballots for entertainment.

Private hostesses are sure of gaiety when they have "conventional" parties. And, even though your interest in things political is only lukewarm, you will still find each of these dishes-of-the-hour satisfactory for its own good sake.

Recent June Bride Is Honored At Pretty Afternoon Shower

A pastel color note was reflected through yellow toned daisies interspersed with other summer blossoms nestled in the depths of lacy runners of greenery. The motif was further emphasized through the girls increased in colors blending from fleecy white to plate orchid and green, finished with boxes of blending ribbons.

The honoree responded most graciously expressing her sincere appreciation for the surprise and delightful compliment.

The luncheon hostess assisted by Mrs. Leola Martin and Mrs. W. S. Murray, served a refreshing plate of fancy shaped sandwiches, olives, potato flakes, lemonade and cakes cut in squares and topped with pink and white icing to the honor guest and a large number of friends.

"SIX CYLINDERS no more-no less" says America

Look at what happened when America began lifting hoods and counting cylinders: Overwhelming preference for "SIX CYLINDERS. No more—No less." A sweeping endorsement of the soundness and correctness of the Chevrolet six-cylinder engine!

America knows its motor cars. And America knows you can't get around these facts about cylinders in a low-priced car: That six is the largest number you can have and still get unexcelled economy! That six is the fewest you can have and still get built-in smoothness! And who wants to sacrifice either of these great factors of motoring satisfaction?

America prefers the Chevrolet Six—because it strikes a happy medium between two extremes. It gives economy—the lowest operating and upkeep cost of any American car, as proved by the experience of tens of thousands of owners! It gives smoothness—the built-in smoothness that makes driving really comfortable, effortless, enjoyable! And it gives many other advantages just as essential and important as six cylinders. Advantages that no other low-priced car can match.

Fisher bodies—big, spacious, luxurious Fisher bodies—styled in the latest custom mode, built solidly and ruggedly to give long service!

That matchless combination—Free Wheeling and Syncro-Mesh—for quick, quiet, effortless shifting and positive car control.

A dependable chassis, whose basic design has been proved in the hands of millions of satisfied owners.

Such features of riding-comfort as four parallel-mounted springs, four hydraulic shock absorbers, adequate weight and correct balance!

And new reduced prices—as much as $50 and $55 lower than they were before!

Chevrolet is able to give this value, because Chevrolet is the world's largest producer of motor cars. Largest for three out of the past five years! Largest for the first six months of 1932! First in value—First in sales!

War Feud Ends In Fatal Stabbing

By United Press.
 ROCHESTER, N. Y.—A feud that started seven years ago during an argument over who won World War, was ended here recently when one man was stabbed fatally and the other arrested and charged with first degree murder.

The slain man was Caesar Stracomore, 40, Vittorio Russitti was charged with his murder, both served in the World War, Stracomore with the Italian Legion and Russitti with the American.

The feud, police said, started in 25 when the two men engaged in a heated argument as to whether Italy or America had done more to win the war. Russitti was stabbed but not fatally injured in the fight which followed the argument.

The seven year feud was ended, however, when Stracomore was shot fatally while playing ball in a street here. Russitti vanished, he was arrested when he reappeared on a Rochester street.

Police said Russitti had gone into hiding, but became curious as to how badly Stracomore had been injured, and appeared in public again, only to be arrested.

RUSSIA BUILDS NEW RAILROADS FOR PROTECTION

By EUGENE LYONS
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 MOSCOW.—The discipline and efficiency of the Soviet transportation system must be improved quickly as a measure of national defense, the young Commissar of Railroads, Andrej Andreyev, told a mass meeting of transport workers at Sverdlovsk recently.

"The question of defense," he said, "can not be separated from our practical work for a moment. Transport is one of the most serious factors in the defense of the Soviet Union. The danger of a war attack on the Soviets has not diminished but has grown. Our great economic and political growth, the ever greater successes of socialist construction, on the one hand, and, on the other, the expansion of the capitalist crisis sharpen the contradictions between the Soviet Union and the capitalist world."

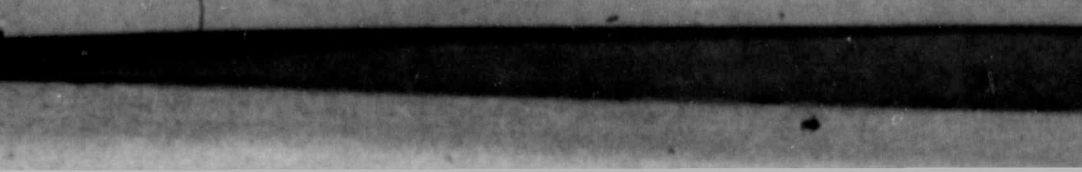

Guard Against Attack
 After alluding to alleged anti-Soviet provocations in many countries, Commissar Andreyev added:

"There can be no question of weakening attention to questions of defense. We must be even more vigilant so that we may not be caught in a weak condition at a decisive moment. The hopeless situation in the present capitalist crisis may push separate capitalist groups to seek an exit from their position through an attack on us. That is why it behooves us, as transport workers, to increase our attention to matters of defense in our work."

New Equipment
 M. Andreyev gave a glowing picture of the new equipment which will be produced for the Soviet transportation system in the nearest years. A locomotive plant at Lugansk will be started this year with an eventual capacity of 1,000 engines a year; the construction of two others with a capacity of 500 each will be begun soon at Orsk and Kuznetk. Moreover, the output of the existing five locomotive plants will be enlarged.

In the desperate effort to enlarge railroad facilities, $1,500,000,000 is being invested this year in capital construction, almost twice as much as the year before. About 9,000 kilometers of new rail lines are being laid.

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

By United Press.
 ST. LOUIS.—Superstition may be just so much "baloney," but anyone would have a hard time trying to convince Pepper Martin, world series hero of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Last season Martin roomed with Allyn Stout, a relief pitcher, on road trips of the team. This year he was placed with Jimmy Collins, first baseman. Martin's batting average slumped to .167.

Martin went to Manager Gabby Street and asked to change back to Stout as a roommate. Street honored his request and Pepper went to Collins to explain why he had made the request.

"There's nothing wrong with you, Jimmy," Martin said. "I like you and you don't snore, but I don't want to take any chances on my luck. You know I roomed with Stout last season and everything was O. K. I'm going back to him, so I won't get jinxed."

The next day Martin snapped out of his batting slump with a double and a home run.

She knew very well what had caused that redness—the compound she had put into the scrubbing water. Cherry laughed unashamedly. "I'll have to get a lot of some sort, I guess."

"There's one on my dressing table," Mrs. Dixon instructed her. "Put some on right away. I've always been proud of your hands, Cherry. You mustn't let anything spoil them."

THREE days later Cherry noticed her mother again looking at her hands. "I must remember," the girl thought. "I'll have to get rubber gloves and wear them."

There was another incident that disturbed Cherry. It was the second week after she had returned to the apartment and housework. She arrived at her parents' home late in the afternoon. Mrs. Dixon was in the living room with two guests, Mrs. Alden and her daughter, Gretchen. Gretchen Alden, who was fair-haired and blue-eyed looked particularly attractive in a frock of blue organdie. Her leghorn hat had just enough of the Watteau shepherdess about it and just enough of the Parisian designer's touch to be both picturesque and chic.

Cherry was wearing a shantung sports dress. It was one from last summer and looked it but Cherry herself had not been conscious of this fact until she saw Gretchen. Mrs. Alden and her daughter excused themselves soon and Cherry saw them to the door.

When she returned Mrs. Dixon said, "Cherry, I want you to go to Madeline's tomorrow and pick out some new clothes. Charge them to my account. It will be all right—"

"Oh, but I couldn't do that! Dan would never stand for it."

"Then you'll have to manage without his knowing. I'm not going to have you practically in rags. You look a sight! Besides, you really need some dresses."

Cherry laughed. "I'm sure I don't know what for," she said. "We're not going anywhere. Dan's holding over his vacation until fall so we can save some money."

"But I want you to promise me you'll get those dresses!"

"Cherry couldn't very well refuse. There didn't seem to be any reason why she should. After all, why should Dan object if her mother wanted to buy her a few pretty dresses?"

"I'll see," she said. "That was so tomorrow but I'll see. That was a pretty thing Gretchen was wearing, wasn't it?"

It was two days later that Cherry's father stopped her as she was going through the hall.

"Come into the study a moment, will you?" he asked. "Your mother and I have a plan and I hope you'll agree with us."

 Golden Rule Bible class, taught by Mr. Holloway. This class has just closed a contest and the attendance has been very satisfactory. If you have not been in this class you would be very much delighted with its splendid fellowship. Mr. Holloway is, by nature, a teacher and he knows the Bible and can tell it in a way that makes it count. Let all the men be present this morning as there is another contest to start right away. This will be between the men and women.

July 1 is the Feast of the Precious Blood of Christ. This Sunday is the Sixth Sunday after Pentecost and the Gospel read is taken from St. Mark VIII, 1-9. In this gospel we are told that Christ had compassion on the hungry multitude and feed them. It might be well for those who have the means of employment and plenty money to read and study this gospel lest a persecuted people, now long out of work and without money, clothes or food, should take the government of this country into their own hands and cause no little trouble. Prevention is better than cure.

ENGLISH WALNUTS
 FIRST CAME TO AMERICA FROM PERSIA/ BUT THEY CAME THROUGH ENGLAND, SO LOCAL COLONISTS CALLED THEM "ENGLISH" WALNUTS.

EARLY WRITERS almost invariably described the giraffe as having forelegs of considerably greater length than the hind ones, and today it is no wonder that this impression is still quite common. The greater height of the animal's foreparts is due to the peculiar formation of the vertebrae, which causes a hump on the shoulders. Quawin, Arabic author of the 13th century, wrote, "As Allah knew that the giraffe would derive its sustenance from trees. He created its forelegs longer than its hind ones, to enable it to graze on them easily."

TOWN FOUND BLAMELESS.

Paris Sidewalks Are 150 Years Old
 By United Press.
 PARIS.—The sidewalks of Paris are celebrating their 150th birthday anniversary this month. In June, 1872, the first sidewalk in the City of Paris was laid down and called the Rue de Poisson. It was not long before it was decided that this peculiar idea of having sidewalks on both sides of the road improved the looks of the street, and others were added about the city. A few years later many European cities were copying the example set by the capital of France. In 1780, a law was passed by Louis XVI, prohibiting the throwing of dirty water out the windows into the streets, because passersby were constantly in danger of being soaked and soiled, and the streets were continually deep in mud. It was because of this fact, as well as the odors that permeated the sordid streets, that Louis XVI moved his residence to Versailles.

French Count Will Extend Title For a Liberal Sum
 By United Press.
 PARIS.—Investigation following a notice in a local paper to the effect that "Title of nobility is to be had under the most legitimate conditions. Write to—", disclosed that an aged and authentic count, residing in humble quarters on the Left Bank, was willing to adopt a son legally for a substantial sum of money, giving him the title of count. Why carry to the grave a title which will make someone happy? he asked. "It seems to me it would be a fair enough exchange for any gentleman really loving a title. I probably shall get live long anyway, and he need not be ashamed of me, for I am of noble parentage."

EXPERTS TILL GROUND TO GET THEIR LIVING

By United Press.
 CLEVELAND.—Technical experts and engineers, whose bon-time salaries ranging up to as high as $15,000 a year have been cut off by the depression, are laboring side by side in the fields of a cooperative market gardening venture today, seeking a living from the soil.

Approximately 35 of them, and more are expected to join the project, have turned their endeavors to farming now that there is no place for them in industry. The men are from 25 to 64 years of age and college men who have known success in past prosperous years when the world was willing to reward high technical skill.

Camps and Squads
 For weeks they have been plowing, discing and harrowing seven tracts of land and sowing and fertilizing fields. They have constructed their own "camp" living quarters and work under a rigid schedule each day, divided into squads under squad leaders.

A close knit organization has been effected to handle the project through the incorporation of a Technical Men's Relief Association, which took over the proposition from the 15 Cleveland chapters of national engineering and technical societies who are sponsoring the cooperative farm.

Ask Help of Employed
 The officers have sent out calls to more than 4000 employed technical men to advance money for produce to be delivered later in an effort to finance the project until market time. To date $2,000 has been received toward the $10,000 estimate as necessary for the relief program.

FRANCE PAYS FOR BOY'S LEG

'DIVISIONISTS' URGE SPLIT UP OF U. S. WEALTH

By United Press.
 NEW YORK.—Plans to divide up all the money and property in the United States, proposed by a new political sect who call themselves "Divisionists" are being examined by economists. The new scheme is characterized as a long step beyond anything hitherto suggested by Socialists or Communists. "It would lead promptly and inevitably to chaos and a lower standard of living for everybody," declares Dr. William Bacon Bailey, statistician of the American Magazine.

Each Share
 If all the money and property in the United States were split up equally, what would be the share of each person? The answer is as follows:
 Each person would have $39 in money, $1,400 worth of real estate, a $100 in an automobile, $160 worth of clothing and personal belongings, and $1,300 worth of machinery, railroad equipment, raw materials and other property which could not be physically divided without destroying its value.

The income of each American would be $500 a year, but this would be reduced to $380 by a tax bill of $119 a year.

10 Cent Increase
 Dr. Bailey shows that if all the Americans who have incomes of more than $10,000 a year were cut down to that figure the result would only increase the income of other Americans by 10 cents a day.

"Many people contend that the salaries paid to the executives of big corporations are too high," suggests Dr. Bailey. "As a matter of fact, the rewards paid for expert management are far smaller than most persons realize, and are insignificant in relation to the total income of the country." The United States Steel Corporation pays some very high salaries, he declares, but if the money paid in high salaries was distributed throughout the staff, the average would be increased only 5 cents a day.

DEVICE TO SAVE QUAIL.
 By United Press.
 HARRISBURG, Pa.—The state game commission advised Pennsylvania farmers to use a "flushing

RAIL TRANSPORTATION IS EFFICIENT AND ECONOMICAL

● THE RAILROAD is the most efficient and the most economical transportation agency the human mind has ever devised.

The ability of commercial trucks to operate with various charges for their services has been because they are not required to carry all kinds and classes of freight. The truck can choose its freight and is privileged to reject that which it cannot handle, either because it is not equipped for such heavy service or the rates are too low to be profitable. The railroad CANNOT DISCRIMINATE but must accept all freight offered it.

In 1930 the shippers of Texas paid the railroads $225,223,142 in freight charges. If the same volume and character of traffic had been carried by trucks it would have cost the shippers, according to the best available data on trucking costs, $900,000,000, or four times as much.

What will be the effect on the shippers of Texas if only the traffic which the trucks cannot handle is left to the railroads? If traffic paying the higher rate is taken from the railroads by the trucks, it will be necessary for the rail carriers to increase their rates on the low grade traffic or go out of business. The total transportation bill will be greatly increased.

The railroad rate structure is a composite designed for the purpose of enabling the free movement of ALL ARTICLES OF COMMERCE, making it possible to bring even the cheapest commodities into general use and distribution. Were it not for the low rates made available by the railroads on many low grade commodities and raw materials, their distribution and use would be impossible and all commerce and industry would be seriously affected.

● THE RAILROADS CANNOT SUBSIST ON LOW GRADE TRAFFIC ALONE.
