WORLD FLIERS CRASH NEAR BORISLOV

GRIPINGS

Notice Swimmers
This column has been selected from a column to get up a swimming team to represent Ranger in contests to be held at Lake Tomorrow (Saturday) after as an entertainment feature of the Lone Star Gas picnic.

I don't get up the swimming team. Sam will do that for me. He's got a few Ha. Hunters, already owned me and they won't even go to the dance. That makes up to me to get up a swimming team if possible.

So if you can swim a hundred yards or so, even if you can't swim very good, please get in touch with me and I'll tell you how to do it. They didn't say anything about prizes, nor transportation, nor food, but they did say I could have free use of the swimming pool all day and you didn't get charged no entrance fee.

Don't know of any good swimmers left in Ranger. When Giff and Aubrey Jameson and Fry and that gang was here really had some swimmers. But they all went into the hands of the Mello-Glenns and the moths have as thin lines, and our swimming suits I don't know of anybody left here who could swim across the Willows longer. No mouth water wings.

As I haven't seen Wade Swift since he went to the Stamford rodeo, that suits planned to bring home some of those prizes, but since he hasn't put on any display anywhere, I guess didn't bring them with him.

Faircloth told me this morning that Wade missed his steer at the rodeo. I hardly believe that, since Wade has the reputation of being a roper and a rider the kind of which never came out of his county before.

Flyers, Lost 36 Days, Rescued

Famished and half-dead by 36 days of wandering in the Australian bush country, two German aviators, Captain Hans Bertram, above, and his mechanic, Adolf Klausmann, below, were found by natives on Cape Bernice after they had been given up for lost. They had been missing since May 17 when their seaplane was forced down between Kupang Island and Darwin as they were returning from Australia to Java.

OFFICERS OF LEGION POST ARE ELECTED

The Dulin-Daniel Post No. 70 of the American Legion, Eastland, held an enthusiastic meeting with election of officers, every man of whom is an aviator for the continued success of the post, and its vigorous life.

Earl Francis was elected post commander. George Belcher was elected vice post commander. E. L. Harris, vice post commander. E. H. Jones, adjutant. D. D. Parker, finance officer. W. H. McDonald, service officer. H. G. Owen, liaison officer.

George Belcher was elected delegate to the state convention, to be held at Corpus Christi, August 1-2.

An important move was made in the decision to secure a home for the Legion. With this end in view, Earl Francis was chosen as chairman of a committee of his own selection.

The American Legion has had an able post commander in A. E. Herring, who has succeeded in keeping the interest alive in these depressing times.

The next meeting of the Legion will be announced later.

Eastland Golfers To Play Cisco

The Eastland Golf and Country club members will play Cisco on Sunday at 1:15 p. m. in a regular Oil Belt association contest, at Cisco.

All members who intend going are requested to notify Fred W. Blatt, as Cisco has advised that they are arranging to care for 20 to 25 players.

The match should be a good one and every golfer who can should make an effort to be present.

Cisco has won three, lost three and tied one, while Eastland has won two, lost five, and tied one.

The games for the balance of the association are scheduled as follows:

Ranger at Mineral Wells; Thurber at Phil-Pe-Co; and Breckenridge at Jackabore.

Taxpayers To Hold Meet At Gorman

The Eastland County Taxpayers association, which was established in Gorman early in the year, will hold the next meeting in Gorman on Saturday, July 9, according to a vote taken at the last meeting, held in Ranger on Saturday, June 25.

All taxpayers in the county are invited to be present at the meeting to be held in Gorman.

GERMAN WAR DEBT AGREED UPON TODAY

LONDON, July 8.—The allied powers, victors in the World war, asked Germany to pay $65,000,000,000 for the cost of the Titanic struggle.

Germany agreed today to pay $643,140,000, or 1 cent on the dollar of the fantastic sum originally asked.

Thus died at Lausanne today the expectation engendered in the post-war hysteria of a golden German goose that would discharge golden eggs for three score years and 10 as a machine gun fires bullets.

The war really ended at Lausanne today. It ended when Edouard Herriot, premier of France, emerged beaming from the conference and shouted:

"It's done. It's done. It's done."

Ranger Retail Merchants Elect Officers for Year

At a meeting of the members of the Ranger Retail Merchants association, held in the office of the secretary Thursday, new officers and directors were elected for the coming year.

C. B. Pruet was elected as president of the association, with A. J. Radloff elected as vice president; Edwin George, Jr., treasurer, and Mrs. Alice D. True as secretary.

Directors elected for the coming year are C. W. Blacklock, D. Joseph, Felton Brasher and H. G. Adams. The old directors of the association are Clyde Davis, Morris Leveille, H. L. Killingsworth and Tom Carpenter.

Cotton Acreage Shows Decline

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Cotton acreage in cultivation July 1 was 37,290,000 acres or 90.5 per cent of the 41,389,000 in cultivation on July 1, 1931, the department of agriculture estimated today.

This year's estimate places the acreage 9.5 per cent under that of July 1, 1931, and 9.1 per cent under that of 1930. It is 23.5 per cent below the record acreage of 48,730,000 acres planted in 1926 and is lower than the planted acreage of any year since 1922.

Following is the Texas cotton acreage estimator: On July 1, 1932, 14,192,000 acres; July 1, 1931, 15,759,000 acres. Per cent of 1931, 90.

Mrs. Edna Bryant Is Buried Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Edna Bryant, 62, who died at her home on Eastland Hill Thursday, will be conducted from the family home this afternoon at 4 o'clock with Rev. K. C. Edmonds officiating.

Mrs. Bryant was born in Blunt county, Alabama on July 23, 1869 and had been a resident of Ranger for a number of years. She is survived by her husband, George T. Bryant, of Ranger and a number of relatives in that part of the county.

Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery immediately following the funeral services at the home.

She is survived by five daughters, Mrs. E. K. Miller of Haskell; Mrs. J. T. Vickers of El Paso; Mrs. John McKinley of Tyler; and Mrs. Fred Williams, all of whom were with her at her death.

Mishandling Is Blamed for Wreck

CHORBOURG, France, July 8.—Two French admirals said today the sinking of the new submarine Promethee yesterday with a loss of 63 lives was due to mishandling of the controls by members of the crew who were not thoroughly acquainted with the ship.

Woman Suicides By Drinking Acid

YORKTOWN, Texas, July 8.—Mrs. Henry Hohn, 50, drank two cups of carbolic acid through a straw today, collapsed as she told her husband about it and died an hour later.

Hohn could assign no reason for his wife's suicide.

She left two notes, one giving directions for her funeral and the other to her husband.

Ohio Invokes Whipping Post

The first whipping post Ohio has seen in 50 years was invoked at Millersburg, O., for the punishment of two men who admitted stealing a refrigerator. Administering the 20 strokes as directed by the sentence of Common Pleas Judge Robert B. Putnam, Sheriff John Stevens is seen, above, lashing William Wynn, 48, one of the prisoners. Wynn's brother, Jesse, 51, received like punishment a few moments later. When the sheriff's buggy whip broke, a blacksnake whip was pressed into service. The men made no outcry and neither was marked. They chose the whipping rather than accept a 20-day sentence at hard labor on bread and water after they had served 28 days in jail awaiting arraignment.

Route of Ranger Junior College Good Will Tour Logged By Committee

The route committee of the Ranger Junior College good will tour, to be staged on Tuesday, July 19, checked over the proposed route of the trip Thursday and made a tentative outline of the course and time to be followed.

H. S. Von Roeder, chairman of the committee, accompanied by E. L. Fontaine and G. A. Murphy, marshal of the trip, made the trip, checking the time required to make each lap of the scheduled tour.

According to a report made today the trippers will leave Ranger at 7:30 Tuesday morning, arriving at Thurber at 8 o'clock, where they will remain for 20 minutes. Clint Kimbro of Thurber will welcome the visitors to the city.

From Thurber the trippers will go to Mingo, arriving at 8:30 and remaining until 8:45. While in Mingo a welcome will be extended by M. A. Edwards.

Gorden will be reached at 8:55, according to plans, and the motorcade will remain in this town until 9:10, being addressed, while there, by J. A. Stewart.

The motorcade will stop at Strawn at 9:25, where it will remain until 9:45. While in Strawn an address will be made by O. M. Hurst of that city.

From Strawn the good will tour will proceed to Wink City, where a stop of 10 minutes will be made from 10:10 to 10:20. W. L. Lorenz of Wink City will give an address of welcome when the trippers reach that point.

Caddo, the next stop on the tour, will be reached at 10:40 and a stop until 11:10 will be made. While in Caddo W. E. Melton will address the gathering.

Breckenridge will be the lunch stop during the trip and will be reached at 11:35. While in Breckenridge a program will be put on during the noon hour while the members of the motorcade and the people of Breckenridge take part in the luncheon. No definite arrangements have been made as to where the meeting will be held, but John Z. Martin, secretary of the Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce is to take charge of details there and will have everything in readiness. It is possible that the Breckenridge Rotary club will meet with the members of the good will tour, as Tuesday is a day for the regular Rotary meeting.

From Breckenridge the members of the tour will go to Eastland, arriving in the county seat at 2:15 in the afternoon. County Judge Clyde L. Garrett has arranged to make a short address of welcome at Eastland when the trippers arrive there for a 30-minute stop.

Carbon, the next stop after Eastland, will be reached at 2 o'clock and a stop of 15 minutes will be made. W. A. Tate of Carbon will make an address of welcome at that point.

At 3:30 the motorcade will arrive at Gorman, where Dr. George Blackwell will address the gathering during the 15-minute stop.

From Gorman the trip will extend to Desdemona, where from

ACCIDENT MAY PROVE FATAL TO COL. BALL

HOUSTON, July 8.—Colonel Thomas H. Ball, 76, political leader and former congressman, was near death from injuries suffered last night when he was struck by a truck at a street intersection where he was purchasing a newspaper.

The driver involved, J. I. Slesom, 43, was charged with failing to stop and render aid.

Physicians said Ball, due to his advanced age, had little chance of recovery. He suffered a fractured skull, a broken right leg, fractured left leg and arm, a cut over the left eye and possible internal injuries.

Colonel Ball, during his long political career, has been one of prohibition's staunchest advocates in Texas. He had been a congressman and a candidate for governor, mayor of Huntsville and a delegate to every state and national convention since 1886, with three exceptions.

He is known as "the father of Port Houston" because of his work in congress on behalf of the ship channel here.

Big Crowd Hears Thomas L. Blanton Speak at Ranger

Thomas L. Blanton, congressman from the 17th congressional district, and a candidate for reelection, spoke in Ranger Friday night to a large crowd of voters from this section of the county.

Rep. Blanton scored Joe Jones, criminal district attorney of Eastland county, opponent of Blanton as the most expensive district attorney in Texas. He pointed out the court records which show, he said, that Jones had cost the taxpayers of Eastland county more money than any other criminal district attorney in the 17th congressional district.

He answered many of the charges made by his opponent, including the charge that he had his daughter, Anne Blanton, on the payroll at Washington on a salary of $5,000 a year.

The largest crowd to hear a political speaker this year was present last night to hear Blanton.

Funeral Is Held For Mrs. Eula Pool

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon at 3:30 for Mrs. Eula Mae Pool, 46, who died at the West Texas Clinic and Hospital Thursday morning.

Services were to be conducted by Rev. D. W. Nichol, pastor of the Church of Christ, assisted by Rev. H. B. Johnson, pastor of the First Christian Church.

The deceased is survived by her husband, three children, two brothers, four sisters and her mother.

Ranger Golfers To Play Mineral Wells

Members of the Ranger Country Club will journey to Mineral Wells Sunday, where they will play a scheduled match of the Oil Belt Golf association.

From 20 to 30 players are expected to make the trip and to take part in the matches, which will be played as part of the season's schedule.

Ranger Masons To Hold Stated Meet

There will be a convocation of the Ranger Chapter No. 394, R. A. M. of Ranger, held tonight at the Ranger Masonic Temple, 40 announcement by A. W. Hubbard, secretary, states.

All members of the council and chapter are urged to be present at the stated meeting.

Doyle Lanier Loses Finger In Grinder

Doyle Lanier, employe of the Tullis grocery, Ranger, lost a middle finger from his right hand Thursday afternoon when he got the finger caught in a sausage grinder at the store.

Doyle Lanier is a brother of O. G. Lanier, registrar of the Ranger high school and Ranger Junior College.

Beauty in the Bag!

Here's an undercover method of beating the beach cops' ban on changing from street attire to swim suits right at the water's edge. It's a bag made of heavy canvas with a draw string at both ends and pockets inside to hold the changed bathing suit or clothing. To prove its practicability, pretty Miss Alice Dool is seen making a quick change on a busy street near Los Angeles.

NEW JAPANESE AMBASSADOR TO U. S. EXPECTED

TOKIO.—The Japanese ambassador in Washington, K. Debuchi, probably will be succeeded by a new envoy before the end of this year, the United Press is informed at the foreign office.

Ambassador Debuchi expects to return to Japan on leave this fall, it was said, and probably will not return to his post. Reports that he might receive the portfolio of foreign affairs in a new cabinet, however, were considered unlikely.

It is no secret here that a considerable section of Japanese opinion is not entirely satisfied with Debuchi's handling of Japanese-American relations, feeling the ambassador was too conciliatory during the Sino-Japanese crisis and that he should be criticized for his inability to prevent the developments in American policy indicated in the communications of Secretary of State Stimson with regard to the Sino-Japanese conflict.

A government official said the Washington post tentatively gives the ambassador to the United States as not sufficient now that the value of the yen in relation to the American dollar has declined by about one-third. Nagai has been mentioned, also for the ambassadorship in London, where he would succeed Tsunoda Matsudaira.

K. C. Edmonds To Preach In Ranger

Announcement was made today that Rev. K. C. Edmonds of Ranger would fill the pulpit of the Central Baptist church of Ranger at both the morning and evening services on Sunday, July 10.

The First Methodist church of Oiden is having a revival and the Baptist church of that town will give the ambassador to the United States as not sufficient now that the value of the yen in relation to the American dollar has declined by about one-third. Nagai has been mentioned, also for the ambassadorship in London, where he would succeed Tsunoda Matsudaira.

Boy Is Bitten By a Rattlesnake

Bill Braton, Jr., 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Braton was bitten by a rattlesnake Thursday afternoon at a ranch at Wiles, where he was with his father.

The bite was cut open and a tourniquet placed above the wound and the boy was brought to the City-County hospital in Ranger, where he was given snake bite serum. He was reported to be seriously ill but is expected to recover.

NEITHER HURT AS PLANE IS DEMOLISHED

Take Train To Moscow To Start Journey Back Home.

By EUGENE LYONS, United Press Staff Correspondent.
MOSCOW, July 8.—The attempt of James Mattern and Bennett Griffin to beat the round-world flight record of Post and Gatty ended at dawn Thursday in a rainstorm, when the fliers crashed in a forced landing near Borislov.

No word of the fliers had reached the outside world for 37 hours since they left Berlin Wednesday night.

The fliers had completed half the third lap of their schedule—the projected non-stop flight of 1,000 miles from Berlin to Moscow—when their control jammed soon after they crossed the Russian frontier.

They were forced to come down in soviet territory near the Polish frontier. The machine was wrecked. The men received only bruises.

Mattern and Griffin received treatment for their bruises and proceeded to Minsk from where they expected to start for Moscow by train tonight.

All hope had been abandoned here that the men would reach Moscow when they were almost 30 hours overdue. A careful check by soviet officials to the east and by air line officials between Moscow and Berlin brought no news of them.

The fliers were 10 hours and 43 minutes ahead of the Post-Gatty time when they left Berlin at 9 p. m. (3 p. m. E. S. T.) Wednesday. Leaving New York at 4:01 a. m. E. S. T., July 5, they had flown to Berlin in 16 hours and 36 minutes, after overshooting their mark to the north and finally finding the airport through heavy rain and fog.

Mattern and Griffin had made the fastest Atlantic crossing. They were direct on their course to Berlin. They reached Tempelhof air-drome in the German capital at 11:42 a. m. July 6, completing the first non-stop flight from North America to Berlin, and making their total flying time from New York 31 hours and 21 minutes.

They left Tempelhof at 3 a. m. E. S. T., July 6.

The fliers were uninjured from that hour until early the next morning, when Lithuanian aeronautical observation posts sighted the plane speeding east. Then the fliers vanished until they were found with their plane wrecked near Borislov.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 8.

Mrs. Bennett Griffin, who has refused to worry while the world was wondering what had happened to her husband and Jimmy Mattern, received the news of their being forced down with little excitement.

"Really I didn't have any fear at all after they had crossed the Atlantic," she told the United Press.

"I am surprised they were forced down," she said. "I thought they were on their way."

FORT WORTH, July 8.

Word that the round-the-world fliers had been forced down in Russia today brought remorse and happiness to the wife and mother of James J. Mattern.

"There isn't much to say," Mrs. Mattern, the aviator's wife, said. "We are tickled to death they were not badly injured, but it is too bad they were forced down after such a good start."

Times Covers All Trade Territory By Special Truck

Thousands of readers of the Times, who live over the entire trade territory of the city of Ranger, will be reading their copies of the Times today at approximately the same time the city subscribers are reading the same news and the same advertisements here in Ranger.

This is made possible by a little extra service. The Times offers each Friday when it sends a special truck loaded with copies of the Times, through the territory, delivering the paper to the readers of their homes, just as though they lived in Ranger.

Mingo, Breckenridge, Grantham, and other communities in this territory are covered throughly by the Times, making it the best local advertising medium for the Ranger merchants to use.

HERE--- AND THERE

By ELVIE H. JACKSON

Associations form intangible, yet very active forces, in the shaping and molding of peoples lives and actions. Sentiment, the cousin to association is the factor that has developed writers, thinkers, historians, novelists, musicians, and you we might even say, politicians.

Long years of residence in a house bring memories that wind shadowy fingers about the very roots of one's existence.

The open door, swinging into a vacant, echoing room seems to be filled with eager passing friends, coming in with their greetings, and vanishing into space with a cherry au revoir.

The windows, silently say, yes, we have kept guard over you. The light from your neighbors' windows has shed its friendly greeting through us, and you have known they are near, and they are guarding you.

Through long hours of frequent lonely nights, their generous message has filtered across the space, and reached you with their unspoken and kindly suggestion.

The silent wide verandas echo with the tread of passing feet, and even the walls from their vacant spaces, seem to whisper, we miss the pretty pictures; the rooms seem cold and bare.

What was it that prompted Foster in his outpouring of homely, tender southern songs? "Sentiment"—Who is there that does not answer to the familiar prompting of his "Home Sweet Home." And who is there who does not tingle when the gallant "Star Spangled Banner" vibrates through the air?

Key was not a fighting militant, but the words and music of this undying patriotic hymn, came on the wings of sentiment, as he languished in his prison cell.

Sentiment molds the nation. Mothers teach the little child at her knee the daily prayer and this sentiment binds the child through years of growing manhood and womanhood, to loyalty, to the family altar, and to respect for the teachings of the word of God, first whispered to them by young and tender lips, in days ago.

Sentiment, bids the journey to the hillside grave; prompts the war mother to seek the voiceless realm that covers the mortal remains of that boy, who fought for his country, and who is forgotten by others.

Sentiment is the leavening power in life, and is to facts of existence the element that in foods, is the yeast used to cause the rising above the flattening of ingredients.

Without sentiment, the human race would be devoid of a divine principle, and sink to the level of the carrot, and the swine.

World Hitch-Hiker Quits His Home

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Eugene Whitman, world-and-travel-weary after 11 years, has come home to shake the dust of many countries from his shoes and settle down.

The depression and its effect on the precarious business hitch-hiking was a big factor in his decision.

Eleven years ago, when 17, Whitman left here, hitch-hiked to New York city and caught a boat. He has been to practically every part of South America, has visited Japan and China—China interested him most because he found it strangest of all the countries; Hawaii, the Philippines and Australia are familiar to him.

He has worked at all sorts of odd jobs, painted signs, sold neckties and in Hollywood, just before hitch-hiking back here had breakfast, he says, with Will Rogers.

British Planes Carry Chickens

LONDON.—Now that the general human public has grown accustomed to travel by air, the aristocrats of the animal kingdom are taking it up.

Thousands of one-day-old pedigreed chicks, hatched in London, now are having their first square meal in Moscow, transported by fast plane to grow upon Russian poultry farms.

Imperial Airways, which has a special department devoted to this branch of the air service, discloses that its planes also transport hatching eggs, racing pigeons, pedigreed dogs and cats, lions, tigers, bears, monkeys, zoo specimens of all kinds, in fact, snakes, tropical fish in tanks, and even live alligators.

born chicks are said to reach cow alive and well. The journey takes 28 hours. Hatching eggs are sent parts of the Continent (with per cent fertility upon arrival) and a number of consignments have recently been forwarded Kenya and Tanganyika, in Africa.

Three Pretty Girls Go Places and Do Things

Three girls, it seems, are going places, meeting people and doing things these days. Smiling Miss Carolyn Cummings, at the left, carried a bottle of orange juice 5000 miles from her home in Santa Paula, Calif., around through the Panama Canal to Kearney, N. J., to christen the new liner Santa Paula. Here she is again from her 10,000-mile trip. Second in line is Miss Elizabeth Glass, stepping from the liner which brought her back to Los Angeles from exciting experiences in Guatemala, where she accompanied her mother, Mrs. Bertha Walker Glass, the noted artist, on a "sketching expedition" in the Mayan jungles. At the right is Miss Marjorie King of Hollywood and Broadway, pictured on her arrival in San Francisco to complete the purchase of an exotic little island near Taniti from Zane Grey, its owner. There she will establish a queenhood all her own.

Book Describes Famous Marshal

By United Press. TOPEKA, Kan.—James Butler (Wild Bill) Hickok, the famous plainsman, will ride again, taming the "wild west" town of Abilene, Kansas. It will be through the medium of literature, in a new volume swelling the list of romantic treatises of this picturesque figure. The life and adventures of Wild Bill will be published in October. The book is entitled "Wild Bill and His Era." It was written by the late William Elsey Connelley, for many years secretary of the Kansas State Historical society, and for two decades a close student of Hickok and the period he represented. Connelley spent many years gathering data for what was to be his masterpiece. He wrote about 100 volumes of history, most of which dealt with Kansas and his native state, Kentucky. Wild Bill, deputy sheriff at Hays City and marshal most famed for taming Abilene, was one of the early day heroes who stimulated Connelley into writing volume after volume of Kansas history.

Harding's Tomb Draws Tourists

MARION, O.—Although dedicated more than a year ago, the Harding memorial tomb still ranks as one of the country's chief centers of interest according to Hoke Donithen, executive secretary of the memorial association. Approximately 25,000 persons visit the tomb every month Donithen said. Bodies of President and Mrs. Harding were placed in the tomb Dec. 27, 1927, and the shrine was dedicated in June, 1931. An Ohio lawyer has found that there is no law forbidding birds to sing early in the morning. How did the lawmakers overlook that one?

GENERAL DAWES ON HIS BANKING JOB

Gen. Charles Gates Dawes resumed chairmanship of the $28,000,000 Central Republic Bank and Trust company in the city of Chicago and in a single day saw its stock plunge from the $47 bid and $49 asked of the day previous to $1 bid and $4 asked. Then it was that General Dawes had an inning. He announced that his bank was in an "impregnable cash position" through recent loans; that it was not going to be merged with the $75,000,000 Bank and Trust company; that the loans negotiated are for current requirements and to pay depositors and not for the purpose of liquidation.

It is understood in Chicago banking circles the Central Republic asked and obtained the co-operation of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, New York correspondent banks, and four Chicago banks.

Even the big bankers of America have their own worries. Melvin W. Traylor had his other day. He is the president of two banks—a $35,000,000 bank and a $10,000,000 bank. Scandal mongers, mischief makers regardless of consequences, started a campaign of whispering against his banks. Traylor is a financial gamecock. He faced the issue. He spiked the rumors. He did not employ the language of diplomacy. He drew his remarks from the vocabulary of "a fighting man in the streets." Well, the trouble makers were squelched and 24 hours later the Illinois delegation declared that the votes of the delegates would be cast on the first ballot for this former Texan who is president of two big banks and knows how to run them. A malicious liar has a bark as venomous as the teeth of a mad dog.

Fliers Overdue At Moscow

They hoped to be back in a week, did James J. Mattern and Bennett Griffin, when these pictures were taken of them at the start of their projected record-breaking, globe-circling flight. Above you see their sharp-nosed, red-white-and-blue monoplane, "Century of Progress," as it rose from Floyd Bennett field, New York, at the take-off. Below, Mattern (left) and Griffin—both former army pilots—are shown in the cockpits of their plane just before they hopped for Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, on the first leg of their air voyage.

MORE LAND ACQUIRED

ALBANY, N. Y.—More land has been acquired for reforestation purposes so far this year than all of last year, the conservation department announced today. A total of 50,252.03 acres has been placed under contract. Such purchases were authorized through a constitutional amendment approved by the voters last year.

TWO EXTRA GUM-DIPPED CORD PLYS UNDER THE TREAD

This is a patented construction, and the two extra Gum-Dipped cord plies are so placed that you get 50% stronger bond between tread and cord body, and tests show 20% greater protection against punctures and blowouts. It sets a new standard for tire performance on high speed cars.

"Oh, Professor" Is Presented by Elks

"Oh, Professor," a comedy drama, sponsored by the Ranger Elks club, was presented at the Ranger high school Thursday night before a small but enthusiastic audience.

The second performance of the play will be presented tonight, at which time a much larger crowd is expected to be in attendance. The entire cast of the play was selected from among the most talented players of the town.

If King Prajadhikop just has to go, we certainly hope he will eventually be replaced by a fellow named Jones or Johnson.

THE CABLE HAD PIERCED THE WHALE'S MOUTH AND WAS THOROUGHLY LOOPED AROUND ITS BODY.

The OSAGE ORANGE TREE IS STRICTLY AN AMERICAN, WITH ITS CENTER OF DISTRIBUTION NEAR THE OZARK MOUNTAINS, YET ITS NEAREST RELATIVE IS THE BREADFRUIT TREE OF THE SOUTH SEAS.

THE AGE OF A PROBOSCIS MONKEY CAN BE TOLD BY THE LENGTH OF ITS NOSE! THE OLDER THE MONKEY, THE LONGER THE NOSE.

THE WHALE pulled up by Captain E. Cartter's cable repair ship was 60 feet long, and had been dead three days when found. Just how it managed to hook itself onto the broken cable is a mystery, but it had done a perfect job of tying itself up.

PROBOSCIS MONKEYS are natives of Borneo, and have one of the most grotesque faces in primatehood.

United Store Manager's Sale Is New Departure

Mr. R. L. McCleskey, familiarly known as Roy, local manager of the United Dry Goods store, announces a radical new departure represented by the store's first annual Store Manager's sale. Instead of fixed prices on merchandise local managers of the United institution have been given the concession of affixing the price that will sell merchandise, regardless of worth or present selling prices.

Replicas of a Western Union message received by Mr. McCleskey from Haymon Krupp, president of the United Dry Goods stores, have been distributed by Western Union messenger to citizens of Ranger telling of the new idea behind this sale. The local manager states that this new idea ushers in a new thought in store management permitting more latitude in the presentation of merchandise and prices.

When asked as to the purpose of the sale, Mr. McCleskey stated that the Annual Store Manager's sale proposed to present the market's newest offerings in style right merchandise, as well as offering an unusual opportunity to buy reasonable and staple merchandise at the greatest savings of the summer months.

Blanton until several years after he went to Congress. When Blanton spoke in Post City in 1916, Giles Cook entertained him, and was with him constantly, and knows he did not ask Jones to make speeches.

Blanton doesn't get "smart-alecks" to speak for him, says Fred Cook. He says one of his other clerks, Miss Ruby Saylor, eighteen hundred annually, with which she helps to support her widowed mother and two sisters in Abilene.

Blanton had no direct say in the matter, and he uses his daughter's check each month in paying his three employees none of whom are related to him.

Blanton's daughter reported his speech at Roscoe. Mrs. Bowen of Sweetwater did this without Blanton knowing it. (1) In identifying his own Uncle in Nashville, Jones says he picked a Negro woman.

Jones charged that "Blanton is a real-estate broker and he is collecting money from taxpayers to pay for the maintenance of his family."

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

CHERRY DIXON, pretty 19-year-old daughter of wealthy parents, fails to love with DAN PHILLIPS, newspaper reporter, the girl who has her father's approval and her own. She is engaged to Leap Year, who has a hot bath first and put on something warm. Otherwise you'll have pneumonia. Dixie reached for her coat and hat. "I'll be right back," she promised. Almost at the door she stopped. "But I forgot—Dan will be coming—"

CHERRY looked at the kitten. She said, "I'm glad you stopped in tonight, Dixie. Pinky's been the only company I've had all day. It's lonesome here when it's so dark and gloomy outside." "How's Dan's play coming?" the other girl asked. "It's been finished and now they're writing the second act over again. It seems to take an awfully long time to write a play. I had no idea it was so much work."

CHERRY stood looking out at the wet street. The rain had begun early in the morning, a steady down-pour that threatened to continue throughout the night. It had rained every day of the week so far. October apparently was trying to masquerade as April but the wind was colder and the days were growing shorter. Now at 5:30 dusk was gathering and in half an hour the street would be in darkness. "Pinky!" the girl scolded. "I told you to leave those spools alone! Aren't you ashamed?"

Dixie struggled with the clumsy galoshes. "Might as well have left these at home," she grumbled. "Holes in both heels. Oh—what a day this has been! What a day!" Cherry took the wet raincoat and spread it over a chair. Raindrops trickled in a little stream from Dixie's hat. The brown hair that had been waved so prettily the week before was indeed a sorry sight. Dixie caught a glimpse of herself in the mirror and squealed in dismay. "What'll I do?" she exclaimed. "I look like a Hottentot!" "Better get into dry clothes!"

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of The Congregationalist. The life of Moses would form interesting material for a discussion of the relative effects of environment and heredity upon character and career. Here we have a man coming to years of responsible choice with two dominant and more or less conflicting influences that have been upon him since babyhood. We may be sure that his mother, who by subterfuge had become his nurse, instilled in him in some way the spirit and teachings of his race, though, of course, she was under the strict necessity of concealing her relationship to him. On the other hand the interest of Pharaoh's daughter, and the environment and teaching that she provided for the child, must have been a very powerful factor, so powerful that it would have swept away anyone but a strong character in whom had been instilled high teachings and loyalty to his own.

dark pages of history. For the man who reads history with regard for its spiritual highlights, the notion that every man seeks his own interest, that every man has his price, and that the prevailing motive in human conduct is selfish is disproved. Material advantage suggested to Moses that he should hold with the government and scorn his people. The denial was a shade too vehement, and Dixie's smile a trifle forced but Cherry did not seem to notice this. She looked across at the other girl. Cherry's face had suddenly become serious. "If anybody would dare to say things like that I hope you'll tell them it's not true," she said earnestly. "Dan wouldn't—he couldn't do anything except play fair. He knows I understand about Miss Vail. Dan admires her because of her ability and of course he's grateful for all the help she's given him."

seemed about to speak but then her eyes lowered. "Didn't you see him there?" Cherry asked. "Why—oh, yes, he was there when I left." There was another pause and Dixie broke it to say, "Umm! These muffins are marvelous. If I could bake muffins like this one I'd be the proudest person in the world!" "You can have the recipe," Cherry told her. "They're awfully simple to stir up."

At the other side of the room Pinky the kitten, was playing with a rubber ball. He gave the ball a smart slap and it went rolling across the floor. Pinky flew after it. "He's having dinner down town tonight," Cherry told her. "Slip into a bathrobe, Dixie, and come down and eat with me. Everything's ready and I was dreading the meal alone." "Give me 10 minutes and I'll be here with bells on!"

IT was a little more than that before Dixie returned. She pushed the door open, raised her tip-tilting nose and sniffed appreciatively. "Food!" Dixie announced. "And such food!" The table had been drawn out and places laid for two. The odors of baked pork chops, fresh vegetables and muffins mingled appetizingly. Cherry was pouring water into amber tumblers. "Everything's ready," she announced. "And does it look good! Cherry, you're a genius, that's what you are. I've never heard of anyone who could learn to cook the way you have in such a short time. Here I've been struggling with a frying pan for years—and what does it get me?"

Dixie wore a green and white striped bathrobe that apparently had shrunk. She wore floppy blue satin mules on her feet and black lace hose. Her bobbed hair, partly dry now, looked more than ever like the exaggerated curl of a Fiji Island princess. Cherry glanced at her and laughed. "You did wreck that permanent!" she said. "I'm no professional hairdresser, but I can promise a little improvement!" "It cost $7.50," Dixie announced dolefully. "And I thought it was good to make me look like Joan Crawford. Well—there's no use crying over a rolling stone—or whatever it is they say. Looking at those pork chops makes me feel a lot better even if my beauty is ruined."

They were sitting at the table now and Cherry served the plates. Dixie broke open a steaming muffin and the golden butter melted as it touched the bread. "Dan Phillips is missing an elegant dinner if anyone should ask me," Dixie said. "By the way, what's Dan doing? Working on that play of his?" Cherry shook her head. "No, Dan's at the office. He said he had a lot of extra work and wanted to stay until it was finished." "At the office?" The other girl looked up. For an instant she

"Of course, lamb! I know that's all there is to it. Nobody's been talking about your Dan and I was a dumbbell to suggest it. Matter of fact, I only meant Dan's exceptional because he is so level-headed. There now — is everything right?"

Cherry brought the dessert and poured the coffee. Afterward she washed and wiped the dishes together and put the room to rights. Then Dixie sat before the mirror while Cherry dampened the frizzled, unruly hair and combed it painstakingly into neat waves. It was almost an hour's work but when it was finished Dixie was enthusiastic. "It looks better than when they set it at the shop!" she insisted. "Honestly, I don't know how I can thank you—"

"There's nothing to thank me for," Cherry told her. "I didn't have anything else to do and it's been fun." A little later Dixie departed. In her own apartment she hung away the raincoat that was dry now and tucked the galoshes out of sight. Dixie stood before the mirror for a moment inspecting her carefully washed locks. She was thinking of the girl down stairs. "There's no use to tell her," Dixie informed the image in the looking glass. "It's better for her not to know but just the same it's a dirty shame! I'd like to tell Dan Phillips what I think of him!"

It was evident from the black looks directed at the girl in the mirror that these remarks would not be complimentary. With a sigh Dixie turned away to pick up the mystery story she had begun the night before. The way in which the good-looking amateur detective tracked down the perpetrator of the series of horrifying crimes was fascinating reading. Dixie did not put the book down until she had finished the last chapter. The hands of the tiny ivory alarm clock on the bedside table pointed to 20 minutes after 12. Dixie tossed the book aside then and switched out the rosette-shaded light. At the same time in the second floor apartment Dan Phillips yawned and discarded his vest. "Say, Cherry," he asked, "what's become of that yarn I wrote about the taxicab driver? The one I called 'Night Life'? Remember? I'd like to take it around for Brends to have a look at."

Cherry's back was toward him. She did not turn as she answered. "Say, Cherry," he asked, "what's become of that yarn I wrote about the taxicab driver? The one I called 'Night Life'? Remember? To Demonstrate Pressure Cooking At Ward's Store

A demonstration of particular interest to housewives will be held all next week at the Montgomery Ward store in Ranger.

They will learn how, with modern pressure steam cooking, a whole meal can be thoroughly and tastily cooked in 10 minutes' actual cooking time, against the usual methods taking several hours.

No woman wants to stay in the kitchen longer than necessary, no matter how interested she may be in the food being prepared. Every woman should be as efficient in her household jobs as she expects her husband to be in his line of endeavor; therefore, to cook scientifically she accomplishes three things: she saves a vast amount of time; she cooks the food better; and she eliminates constant personal watching, stirring, scraping or turning, such as the ordinary cooking requires in attention.

Pressure cooking cooks food in its own juices and retains the precious body-building vitamins and mineral salts that usually escape in ordinary cooking. Steam pressure cooking is recommended by health authorities, dieticians and home economic experts everywhere.

The fact that the Windsor pressure cooker, being featured in this demonstration at Ward's has been tested and approved by the Good Housekeeping Institute is a few commendations that speaks for itself. Pressure cookers are also endorsed by the department of agriculture and are the only safe way of canning non-acid fruits and vegetables. They are approved by the National Canners' Laboratories, Home Canners' association and home makers. Housewives and students in cooking school classes are particularly invited to see the demonstration of cooking complete meals in 10 minutes and to taste the improved flavor of food when perfectly cooked with all the precious juices, vitamins and mineral salts retained.

Grip With Teeth Saves Rider On a Circular Swing

CLEARFIELD, Pa.—The spectacle of a young woman, suspended only by her teeth, is familiar to circus fans and theatergoers. A carnival crowd here witnessed a similar performance—from real life.

Miss Elzear Fulton, student in Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa., saved herself from a serious fall from an aerial swing by seizing the improved strap with her teeth after the strap used to hold riders in the seats. She dangled at the end of the chains, revolving at an angle of 45 degrees, until the swing was stopped. She was uninjured.

OUT OUR WAY

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

PREPARE one of the best desserts to serve with a vegetable dinner is a custard of some sort. The chief ingredients of every custard are eggs and milk, two excellent sources of protein. So when this factor has been lacking in the main part of the meal, the dessert may well supply it.

While the fundamentals of nearly all custards are the same, they may be varied in their seasonings and may be served in a variety of ways. Fresh fruit may be sliced and used as a border or it may be crushed and used as a sauce.

A perfect custard is not difficult to make and is sure to be liked by every member of the family. Children who do not like to drink milk can be given it in this form. However, be sure that the custard is not over-cooked and "weepy," for this will make it unattractive and may cause it to be refused.

The number of eggs used in proportion to the amount of milk determines the consistency of the custard. The eggs act as a thickening agent for the milk. Less than one egg to one cup of milk will not thicken the milk enough to make a firm baked custard. Individual custards do very well with this proportion, but large puddings that are to be unmolded will need more eggs. Soft custards, commonly called "boiled" and actually steamed, are made with one egg to one cup of milk. Large puddings should have at least six eggs to four cups of milk.

Don't Use Too Much Sugar

The amount of sugar used in custards is quite important, too. Too much sugar will liquify and settle to the bottom of the cup or baking dish.

Always bake a custard in a large pan of hot water and never let the "water boil." The custard is really "oven poached" rather than baked. A slow oven, or one which registers 350 degrees F., should be used.

Another precaution to keep in mind is that of scalding the milk before combining it with the other ingredients. This insures a smooth texture and also aids in preventing curdling.

The following rule is for a custard baked in one large mold.

Baked Custard

Six eggs, 3 cups milk, 2-3 cup granulated sugar, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS.—There is a sterling quality to fashions just as there is to silver, and the styles that lack it are the ones which are doomed to die soon after their creation.

Anything that is too spectacular, too conspicuous, that knocks you down with its oddness—is not a quality fashion much less a sterling quality one. It is the styles that are so simple in their smartness that even a careful study of them leaves you still wondering just what it is about them that makes them so different—chic. Here's the secret: Feel the material and see how it almost melts into the hand with its sheerness, yet sensation of durability, be it silk, satin, calico or even what some might call a rag of wool. Next, note the line. It is so natural you almost fail to see it at first. Fullness is always where fulness belongs, and flat, sleek surfaces are in their proper places provided by Nature. "Practical" used to be a word that had nothing in common to the last degree is more than not to be a very common fashion indeed.
