BONUS ARMY IS COMPLETELY ROUTED County Democratic Convention Holds Meeting

GRIPINGS By GUS This column is published as a daily feature and may not be construed as representing the editorial views of this paper.

When the Humble employees and the Cisco business men came through Saturday afternoon it looked as if there might have been 100 or more cars failed to understand the significance of the trip.

I suppose that maybe a good deal of the reason for the foundation for Cisco's getting their football team back into the league.

Only a month now until the high school football players will be getting out in the afternoon and brushing up on their kicking and passing.

Politics will still be good copy for another month. There's lots to be said and written between now and the 27th of August.

Spent a little time Saturday afternoon talking to Mr. Birdsong, the gentleman who has recently opened a bowling alley in Ranger.

Delegates were also elected to the district conventions. Resolution No. 1 endorsed the democratic nominees for president and vice president; No. 2 adopted asks for submission of liquor question to vote of people.

After considerable discussion over the endorsement of Mrs. Ferguson for governor the chair voted that the resolution was out of order. The resolutions adopted by the convention read as follows: We, your resolution committee, hereby submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the delegates to the state convention be and they are hereby instructed to vote and use their best efforts to secure the adoption of a resolution asking the legislature to submit to the voters of the state the question: Whether or not Section 20 of Article 16 of the constitution of the state of Texas shall be repealed.

Old Frame Store Building Burns In Eastland Sat. An old frame store building in Eastland was practically destroyed by fire Saturday morning.

DETROIT, Mich., July 30.—Henry Ford celebrated his 69th birthday today. No elaborate ceremonies were planned. An early riser, he took his customary two-mile walk, ate a light breakfast and then "circled around the shops," as he terms the massive Ford plant on the River Rouge marshes.

THE ABC OF THE HOME LOAN PLAN

How the Joneses Get the Money From F. R. C.

Here's the way the federal government's home loan plan will work in actual practice: Mr. and Mrs. Jones decide to build a home, or they need to refinance a mortgage on a home they built several years ago.

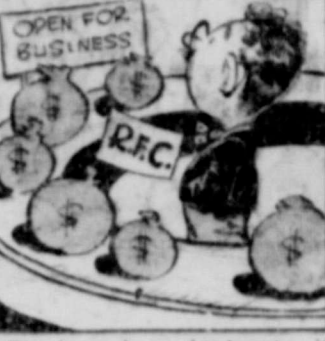

Mr. Jones goes to his local building and loan association or insurance company to get the money needed for the building of the home or the refinancing of the mortgage.

The building and loan official goes to the district home loan bank, of which he is a member and a stockholder, for 60 per cent of the total amount of the loan wanted by Mr. Jones.

In isolated cases, the home loan branch banks may make loans direct to home-owners who have been unable to get the money through a local building and loan or insurance firm.

Provision for this is still in vague and rather confusing terms and how it will work in actual practice remains to be seen.

Government officials expect that only a negligible portion of the loans will be handled direct.

The home loan bank gets its share of the $125,000,000 set aside for that purpose by the Reconstruction Finance corporation and from this fund makes a loan to Mr. Jones' building and loan association.

The R. F. C. gets its money from bond sales by the U. S. treasury, into which Mr. Jones pays his pro rata share of taxes. The home loan money, however, eventually is to be repaid by the home-owners, and, according to advocates of the plan, will not result in increased taxes.

BANDITS FAIL TO BREAK IN SANTO BANK

MINERAL WELLS, July 30.—Bandits who worked in vain last night with an acetylene torch to enter the vault of the First National Bank of Santo, left prepared for hot weather. They took an electric fan.

The robbery was discovered this morning by Cashier Claude Hatchett. The bandits had drilled a hole through the vault door, but failed to gain entry into the room.

STRAGGLERS PICKED UP BY CAPITAL COPS

Parks Cleared of All Who Tried to Sleep There Overnight

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The bonus army was routed today and federal troops were ordered withdrawn from the capital.

War department officials announced "normal conditions" had been restored in the capital. This ended the bonus war on the Washington front. It began at mid-day Thursday. It cost one life. Upwards of 60 were injured. It brought federal troops to the capital.

General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff of the army, ordered the troops back to their billets. Troops entered the city at 3 p. m. Thursday. They are leaving after 46 hours of intermittent, scattered excitement and disorder. The bonus army is moving north. It is occupying Johnstown, Pa.

The last of the stragglers were rounded up in a night police raid on parks where bonusers, vagrants and jobless, lay sleeping under the stars.

Inspector O. T. Davis, who rounded up 502 veterans and others during the night, said the drive would be continued until all parks and other public property had been cleared of loiterers.

Indians Avenge Murder of Their Trader-Friend

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—The name of Jimmy Hays—some say it was Jimmy Daugherty—trader and first white resident of the Pike's Peak region, is definitely linked with the early history of El Paso county.

Hays came to the new country back in the early '40s, or thereabouts. He established a camp site that is known today as Jimmy's Camp, where later a camp for the Indians was maintained. The youthful trader for the A-ster Fur company provided one of the most exciting stories of early Colorado history. Where his bones may be—the legend tells that Indians buried his body beneath his old cabin—is a matter of conjecture.

It is fairly certain that his camp was 11 miles east of Colorado Springs. There was a spring surrounded by cottonwoods.

Hays served as a trade medium for the Utes and Arapahoes of the region. The Indians brought their pelts to the cabin. Hays then made a trip into St. Louis, to the A-ster post, and disposed of the furs.

When he arrived at the camp site, Hays would build a huge fire on the mesa. It was the signal to the Indians that he had returned. They mounted their small ponies and cantered across the plains and hills to the cabin for their trinkets.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 30.—Almost 200 men, women and children, who accepted sandwiches left over from a University Club party, writhed in agony at their homes or in hospital wards today.

Stomach poison contained in stale meats was the cause of the sudden panic in Community Camp late last night and early today, doctors said. Community Camp is a center maintained for the use of the needy of the city.

Ranger Airport Praised By Army For Cooperation

The management of the Haugland airport of Ranger has rendered a distinct service to the United States army air corps, according to a letter to Harry Hamlin from Lt. Winfield S. Hamlin, adjutant of Brooks field, San Antonio.

On July 24 an army plane, piloted by Lt. Edward Darby, in taking off from the Ranger airport en route to Dallas, lost a wheel and part of the landing gear. After getting into the air, Lieutenant Darby decided to return to Brooks field, thinking the facilities there would permit him to land more safely than at any other field. He headed toward San Antonio and a wire was sent to Brooks field warning that Lieutenant Darby would attempt to land without landing gear.

A letter to Harry Hamlin from Lt. Winfield S. Hamlin said that a distinct service had been rendered by warning the officials of the field, particularly since it was a day of inactivity at the government landing field.

Preparations for Lieutenant Darby's landing was made in advance of his arrival and he landed his plane without mishap. As he was minus his landing gear he landed on his gas tank, sliding to a safe landing without any injury to himself. His propeller was broken, however.

Lieutenant Hamlin, in his letter, said that the foresight of the management of the Ranger airport was appreciated and that it was the kind of co-operation that should be received from all airports in the country. It aided materially in helping the officials of the government field to prevent a possible fatal accident.

Woman Awakened By Rattler Alarm

TULARE, Calif.—Mrs. J. L. Sweeney is an authority on rattle snakes. A gnat at a summer home near here, she was partly awakened during a nap by feeling something crawling over her legs. Thinking, drowsily, it was one of the harmless variety of lizards found around here, she shook it off. Then a whirring sound awakened her completely. It was a rattlesnake she had tossed to the floor.

JUDGE ISSUES AN ORDER ON TRUCKING LAW

AUSTIN, July 30.—Assistant attorney general Elbert Hooper today obtained a temporary order from Judge J. D. Moore of 98th district court here prohibiting attempts to keep the state from enforcing the 7,000 pound limit law on trucks on motor trucks. He named 250 defendants.

In his petition Hooper asserted the validity of the law has been finally declared by the United States Supreme Court. Efforts to enjoin its enforcement, he charged, are not in good faith for the purpose of testing the law, but for delaying and impeding its enforcement and to thwart the legislative policy declared by the law.

He is trying to save the needless expense of defending the law in every district court in Texas, Hooper said.

The injunction application was a cross-action in the injunction application that had been filed by L. L. Farmer company, incorporator of Breckenridge, and others against L. G. Phares, chief of the State Motor Police and others. Hooper joined, as defendants, the various intervenors in that suit.

The list of defendants alone requires nine typed pages of the usual size legal pleadings.

FORT WORTH, July 30.—The temporary order issued by Judge J. D. Moore of the 98th district court, prohibiting attempts to keep the state from enforcing the 7,000 pound limit law on trucks will not be effective outside that district, Sen. Frank Rawlings said here today.

"One district judge cannot join another district judge," Rawlings, legal representative for several trucking concerns seeking injunctions against the law, said.

Ranger Golfers to Play at Eastland

Ranger golfers will go to Eastland this afternoon to play off the match of May 1, when the two clubs played to a 10 to 1 tie.

From 20 to 25 members of the Ranger club are expected to make the trip to Eastland in an attempt to settle the ratings of the two clubs. Ranger is still near the top in the percentage column and the club from Eastland will enable them to retain their position.

The Eastland club, which lost on the Ranger course last Sunday, will try to make the count in matches even between the two clubs by turning the tables and defeating Ranger on Eastland's home course. Good matches are expected up and down the ladder.

BANK ROBBERS IN NORTH TEXAS

Bank robbery is getting to be more than a straddling industry under the skies of Texas. Two hijackers robbed the Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Ladonia of $5000 after one of them had covered citizens in the streets with volleys from a machine gun. In getting away with the $5000 they overlooked $30,000 cash in a vault of the bank. All these robberies, it is said, that have taken place in the Southwest are classified as Texas-Oklahoma border robberies and they are attributed to Pretty Boy Floyd known as the kingfish of Arkansas and Oklahoma desperadoes.

Gov. William H. Murray should call out his national guardsmen. He makes use of the soldiers of the state to keep the river bridges open and to force oil proration. Why not run down an then shoot into fragments these buccaniers of the Oklahoma mountains who have been terrorists on both sides of the border line in recent years? There are many citizens and newspaper writers in the Southwest who make sport of Chicago on account of so-called underworld terrorists and their achievements. Why not sweep the doorstep of the Southwestern country first, and then make real sport of terrorists in other sections of the republic? There are gas bomb terrorists in Texas. They have been very bold of late. Why not muzzle or throttle the tribe?

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

A press dispatch from Houston says the Oklahoma corporation commission and the Texas rail commission agreed on a method of evaluating the Oklahoma properties of the Lone Star Gas Company for the purpose of rate making.

As for the costs, the Oklahoma commission agreed to pay $5,000 and the Texas commission $3,000 of the amount necessary. Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson of Texas said in making the announcement at Houston, that the evaluation would be completed within 30 days, and that within an additional 10 days the Texas railroad commission would fix key rates for all the Texas cities served by the Lone Star company. This is hot summer dog day period. Winter is said to fall in the lap of summer. So that's that.

BOLL WEEVIL INVADERS 64 COUNTIES

Well, King Cotton has been given another blow below the belt. According to the Dallas News' weekly cotton crop survey, 64 counties in the main Texas cotton belt reported boll weevil more numerous than last July a year ago. There is a carryover estimated all the way from 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 bales. Over at Gadsden, Ala., there is a monument in the public square dedicated to King Weevil as the personage or instrumentality that removed the cotton curse from the Yellow Hammer state. Funds were contributed for the white slab by those who had been driven out of the cotton producing industry. First they cursed the weevil, then they recognized the good he had accomplished their pockets and then they reared the marble slab as a recognition of his virtues.

OLD SOL AS A HOT RIDER

Place it in the scrapbook of American households that Old Sol put the nation on the spot Tuesday, July 20. Up to that date the death list was above the 150 mark. Thousands were prostrated as smothering heat made most of the country gasp and the thermometer ranged around 100 from Nebraska to the Atlantic ocean and the southern Gulf of Mexico. Old Sol is an ugly devil when he gets mad or moody and issues orders to his firemen to let the world go round in a blaze of heat. What he did to the perspiring politicians and spellbinders and mud slingers of Texas would be news unfit to print.

Every day we hear over the radio some silver-tongued orator telling us in ringing tones about this and that method of saving our country. When he has exhausted all the words in his vocabulary to describe all the sins being committed by the opposition party against the country, he turns to his stock of fairy tales and skillfully using thick layers of blarney, exquisitely renders a picture of his side of the question. They make the mistake of not realizing that those who listen to these talks are human; they have ears and minds and they do not forget the near past and present.

A YEAR OF TUMBLING OF FEDERAL TAX RECEIPTS

This is a reminder that Washington reports a decrease of $870,499,711 in taxes collected by the government in the 1932 fiscal year ending June 30. There will be another new tax bill next year. It will be enacted by the congress. There are indications everywhere the country over that a general sales tax may be given a tryout. Well, a general sales tax would have its advantages. Like the dews of Heaven it would touch all alike. Those who buy largely would pay largely. Moreover, all men and women under the flag who are able to pay their small quota should be willing to pay.

KREUGER A COLOSSAL THIEF

Now it has transpired that Ivar Kreuger, Swedish Napoleon of finance, stole $50,000,000 in bonds of the International Match company while he was its president. When cornered by French capitalists Ivar shot himself to death. A looter of $50,000,000 from one company must be given a new niche in the temple of crooks. He was a Napoleon of his tribe all right. When the crisis in his career came he used his automatic and ended it all.

GERMANY READY FOR ANOTHER BOLT

Germany has threatened to bolt the world disarmament conference at Geneva. Germany lined up with Italy declaring the declaration to be adopted before adjournment as entirely unacceptable. German delegates demand Germany's right to a position of equality in armament among the other nations of the world. Well, why not? Why should the people of one nation be practically disarmed and the peoples of all other nations permitted to have the limit in the size of their armies and the bristling guns of their navies? Isn't the World war over?

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

By Rodney Dutcher, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—What politicians say before or at the nominating conventions just don't count.

What they say afterward you are expected to take seriously. It is very important for you to perceive this nice distinction because otherwise you might acquire the disrespectful idea that instead of being able to believe all the politicians some of the time and none of the politicians all of the time you really shouldn't believe any of the politicians any of the time.

There is excellent authority, both Republican and Democratic, for that double standard of political veracity.

Mr. Farley Explains

MR. JIM FARLEY, the large, amiable gent who got Governor Boss Hague at Chicago issued a blast which described Roosevelt as the "weakest man" declared that he would have "no chance of winning in November" insisted that he couldn't carry "a single state east of the Mississippi" He was one of those who refused to let the governor's nomination be made unanimous.

How Times Change!

BUT things are different now. Boss Hague accustomed to carrying the state only in off years now sees a good chance to carry it in a presidential year.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

THAT you should always read the ads before you buy. Business concerns who advertise give you quality, service and satisfaction.

You will find that persistent advertisers manifest a sincere desire to please you and to serve you intelligently. They always carry in stock reasonable merchandise that is endless in variety.

Advertised products have been proved the best. That is why you should demand them.

Business concerns who are not progressive enough to invite your business through the printed page are not entitled to it.

As a city booster you should buy from your progressive merchants. They have a reputation for fair dealing and honesty.

Real economy consists in buying where you get the best goods for your money. Read the ads!

THAT cities shape their future by what they do today. A city must advertise the same as any business. It must keep telling what it has and where it is.

A city must sell its opportunities and extend a welcoming hand to the world.

A city that gets the advertising grows.

A city that goes after home and outside business gets it. If they don't, some neighboring city will get the business they should get.

Cities that live on the fond memories of the past are dead ones.

Cities that live in the present and build for the future are live ones.

Everybody wants a live city to live in. No one wants a dead one to die in.

An ideal city is where no one knocks but opportunity.

SUMMER SHOWS GIVE VACATIONS TO BROADWAY

By JACK GAVER, United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 30.—The woods are full of them... meaning actors and theaters.

If you come to New York this summer and fail to find your favorite actor or actress around Broadway and the chances are you won't with only half a dozen legitimate attractions here, it's a good bet that you'll find him or her getting back to nature in some renovated barn, or small town hall along the eastern seaboard giving flesh and blood drama to the natives while benefitting personally by a version of the business holiday.

This summertime theater movement, by no means a new thing, has reached a new peak this year. Small towns and resorts in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Maine and several other states welcome the summer stock companies which are able to present the latest hits off Broadway, many times with casts containing several topnotch players.

Permanent Companies. In some cases the summer companies are permanent. In other instances guest stars are used in various plays, and the bill is changed at least every week and sometimes oftener. Most of the companies have high reputations and some of them have been established for several years. Not only do Broadway players appear in them, but some of the foremost directors and managers of the metropolis are interested actively.

How can these ventures pay? There are several points to the answer. The localities chosen are those which it is believed will give the most backing to summer stock. Most of them are resorts of amateur or professional standing. In some cases the stock company is backed by a subscription list, virtually assuring a financial success. Then, of course, those Broadway stars who appear in the summer theaters do not draw the large salaries to which they are accustomed... not by any matter of means.

Sort of Vacation

After all it is a sort of vacation for them. They get away from the hot city to surroundings where others have to pay to take vacations, and they are sure of eating, which is more than they can be sure of on Broadway these days.

The summer theater is beneficial to the theater as an institution. It presents an opportunity for young people who cannot get a chance on Broadway to learn the tricks of the trade, always with the possibility that some New York manager may see them and take an interest.

Depression Cut Down Mail Fraud

By United Press.

CLEVELAND, O.—It's the depression and not a wave of honesty that has reduced the number of mail frauds, according to Assistant District Attorney Charles L. Russo, in charge of mail frauds in the Cleveland district.

People don't succumb to the enticing offers of fraudulent business promoters these days like they did in the boom years, Russo said. They haven't the money with which to make a down payment.

The last case reported to the government here was that of a man who made $2,000 in two weeks before government authorities discovered that he was sending out dress goods and patterns to women who paid him a $2 deposit. The victims were told they could make children's dresses which the promoter would sell. He changed his address frequently, however, and they could not locate him after paying the deposit.

Another promoter, reported in recent months, sold small saws with which his clients could cut name plates from sheets of aluminum. He furnished the aluminum but the saws broke before a name plate could be cut out and the victims had to keep buying saws. The theory was that the name plates could be sold on the streets.

Oh, gee, I wonder where we are," said Duncy. "We have traveled far. Perhaps we're in a real strange land and in some body's house." "That sliding down the chimney was a very funny thing because we all got black. Let's look around. Be quiet as a mouse." Then Scouty said, "Well, as for me, I'm going to look until I see some water where we all can bathe. The soot gets in my eyes, I hope our clothes will wash all right. If not, we'll always look a sight. We get into the strangest places underneath the skies." THEY didn't wait so very long until a man, both fat and strong, walked up and said, "Hello, there." Then he broke into a smile. "Well, goodness, gracious, mercy me, you sure are blackened up," said he. "I'll turn the hose on you and you'll be cleaned up after while."

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By Sister Mary, NEA Service Writer

EGGS are so cheap this year that they make an excellent meat substitute for August meals. They may be prepared in an infinite variety of appetizing ways and are acceptable for any meal of the day. Eggs, Chilean style, are piquant and appetizing.

Eggs, Chilean Style. Two cups chopped fresh tomatoes, 1-2 cup grated cheese, 1-2 cup chopped dried beef, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 2 tablespoons shredded green pepper, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 tablespoon butter, 4 eggs, 4 squares hot buttered toast, fresh greens.

Press tomatoes through a coarse sieve to remove seeds. Add cheese, dried beef finely chopped, onion, pepper and paprika. Cook over a slow fire until cheese is melted. Add butter and eggs slightly beaten. Stir and cook until eggs are just set. Serve on toast and surround with watercress. The tang of the cream is perfect with the egg and cheese combination.

Masked Eggs. Hard cooked eggs are used in a cheese sauce in a rather unusual way in this recipe. Four hard-cooked eggs, 8 slices tomato, 8 small rounds of bread, 3 tablespoons butter, 1-2 tablespoons flour, 1-2 cups milk, 1-2 cup finely chopped cheese, 1-2 teaspoon salt, paprika, parsley. Slice bread and butter. Cut tomatoes in slices about one-half inch thick. Dip in butter and broil.

HERE-- AND THERE

By ELVIE H. JACKSON

If any one doubts as to whether or not the public library of Eastland is a much appreciated institution, and is truly essential as a civic asset of the city, all they need do is to step into the library on any one of the library days, Monday, Wednesday, Friday or Saturday, and watch the flow of men, women and children, in and out of the library doors, who come seeking books for light reading, for reference, for travel lore, or some deeper purpose.

The free reading month is over, and that this experiment was well worth while, has been proven in the enormously increased patronage the library received through this month of July, and the attendance of crowds of children, who enjoyed the library reading room, the magazines and books, and showed by their presence that if children are provided the proper means of entertainment, they will not be inclined to wander to unkempt places, or seek unbidden amusements.

Miss Cecelia Haas, public librarian, is delightfully pleased over the cooperation and help given her work during July, by the Camp Fire Girls, who have worked industriously to aid, during the unprecedented demand through July for books, and who have generously and freely assisted in straightening up the books, placing them on shelves, and helping in many ways during the month in charge of Joyce Johnson, who is in charge of the library.

Especially have they been helpful during this inventing and cataloging of the books, which is a marvelous little librarian herself, and of inestimable value in this special line of work.

Camp Fire Girls, who have aided both Miss Johnson and Miss Haas, were Kathleen Cottingham, Elizabeth Ann Harrell, and Carolyn Cox, who have been steadfast in their assistance, and who in turn have been helped by other members of the Camp Fire group.

In order to see how many books were called for under the free reading month, and see if the patronage of the library would be increased.

Of course the purpose was twofold, in that it would afford children who could not ordinarily avail themselves of library privileges, the opportunity to become acquainted with the library and its treasures; to form the reading habit; and to find a pleasant and profitable way to spend at least a portion of their school holidays.

The second purpose was to learn how many books could be issued in Eastland, on the free reading basis, and learn if library requirements could be met, in the exaction of a certain number of books per day, issued, before any library assistance or maintenance could possibly be secured from any library foundation, which requires proof, of a certain amount or demand from public for books, before any such aid will be extended.

Miss Haas stated that the former average of books drawn, was from forty to sixty books per library day, but that during the free reading month of July, from 150 to 160 books a day had been called for on each of the four library days a week.

This does not include those books read by twenty to twenty-five children in the reading room of library, on each day the library was opened.

There is an old adage that runs "The Proof of the Pudding Is in the Eating."
Eastland's library has shown conclusively, that given the necessary assistance, the library would be one of the largest civic institutions of this section of the State.

CITY BUDGET SHOWED DEFICIT

EASTLAND CHURCHES
ST. FRANCIS XAVIER CHURCH
July 31, 1932. Mass will be at 7 a. m., by Rev. P. Ruano. This is the Eleventh Sunday after Pentecost and the Gospel read is taken from St. Mark VII. 21-27. In this gospel we are told how Christ cured one who was deaf and dumb. This was probably done to show Christ's divinity and to prove that he was really the Son of God and had power to cure those also afflicted with deaf and dumb if they come to him with the proper disposition; namely a belief in him and a willingness to do what he tells them. Some of us expect to sit idly all our lives in a spiritual sense and then go to heaven when we die despite the fact that Christ said: "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me." We would like to follow Christ, but not to take up our crosses. We go to heaven by taking up the cross and following Christ; we go to hell by refusing to take the cross and following Christ. It is for ourselves to decide which place we really wish to go, and now is the time to make the decision.

Children's Popgun Ammunition Scarce

By United Press.
 SAVANNAH, Ga.—It's tough on Southeast Georgia youngsters but little can be done about it—the fact that there's no popgun ammunition about this year.
 The popgun is made of southern elderberry, with the pithy center pushed out. The ammunition is dried up chinaberries and of those there is a scarcity this summer.
 A warm winter, followed by a three-day spring freeze killed all the berries. Next to popgun shooting, marble shooting is favored by the kids.

leaving over the placid waters of Loch Lomond, in Scotland, Kaye Don was on his way to a world record when a high speed camera registered this scene. The British racer, at the wheel of Miss England III, averaged 119.81 miles an hour over the measured course, and in one direction traveled faster than two miles a minute. After breaking the previous record held by America's Gar Wood, Don shipped his boat to Detroit, where he will race in August.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

up and Coming Redskins

THE baseball season is more than half gone. The heat is terrible in Goose Creek, Tex. The corn crop in Iowa looks good. Ah, those Cleveland Indians aren't to be counted out of anybody's pennant calculations. Not just yet.
 "Sooner or later, somebody's is going to crack," is Manager Peck's sage observation. "I don't think it will be our club. We've had our bad streak. From now on we'll be pretty tough."
 The Indians won 14 of 17 games against eastern opposition on their last swing into the so-called strong half of the circuit. That's 824 ball. They won every series, four victories in Philadelphia, four in Washington, two in New York and four in Boston.

Porter at the Plate

"How come?" I asked Dick Porter. Mr. Porter, you know, is the twitchy one. He's a great favorite in Cleveland. Not because of his shimmy, exactly. In spite of it.
 "We just started to play ball," Dick answered.
 "Was it pitching?"
 "Our pitching was good," was his reply. "Nearly every one of the starting pitchers finished his game. We didn't need any relief pitchers."
 "The boys hit pretty well, didn't they?"
 "The whole team hit better than 300," said Porter. "Before we started east, our club average was only 280. Most of us picked up. Burnett, Cissell and Sewell, particularly. We added 19 points to our team average and jumped from third to first in the team standing. We're the best hitting club in the majors when the boys are on."
 And how about "offensive play," Mr. Porter?

Cissell and Burnett Star

"That improved, too," said Dick Cissell and Burnett around second base played great ball. You know for general all-around play, that pair rates as good as any second base combination in the league. They're working hard, and helping us a lot, too. Morgan also improved his play at first. Everybody on the club worked hard. We thought we saw a chance so we got busy."
 Individual averages clearly show that improvement. Late in June, Averill was hitting .335, Porter .321, Vosmik .310, Morgan .298, Burnett .284, Cissell .278, Kamm .269 and Sewell .268. Then they cut loose.
 At the conclusion of the eastern trip, the averages read: Averill .349, with eight new home runs; Burnett .323, Porter stayed at .321, but added several two-baggers to his league-leading total; Vosmik .314, Cissell .302, Morgan .306, and two valuable boppers; Sewell .277. Kamm remained at .268, but his timely hitting figured in nearly every victory.

Harder Won Four

THE pitching over the same period also looked up. Harder won four and Hudlin, Hildebrand and Russell bagged two. Ferrell won five and lost two. Brown won two and lost one. Only Sarge Connally failed to improve his record. The Sarge dropped two.
 All this resulted in a rapid climb from 5th place to second, within the space of 19 days. The A's later retrieved second place at the expense of the Tigers and Braves.
 As it stands now, the Indians alone are left to battle the eastern teams. Their western rivals failed them in recent weeks, losing 22 games and winning only seven—lost the Yanks and Athletics.

ROGERS CITY, Mich.—Two 12-year-old boys, Ralph Gapske and Gerald Smith, spotted a 27-inch rainbow trout in the Trout River, because they were without hook and line, they armed themselves with clubs and baited the fish into submission.

Breckenridge to Play In Ranger

Ranger's amateur baseball club has been reorganized and will play the Breckenridge Dynamos this afternoon at 3 o'clock, it was announced Saturday.
 Faircloth will do the pitching for the Ranger team, which is being called the All-Stars at present, and Watson will do the catching. Watson has been away from Ranger for some time, playing baseball around Kilgore, and on his return he took over the management of the club and promises to have a good nine on the diamond this afternoon.

The probable starting lineup for the All-Stars will be as follows: Pace, cf; McGee, ss; Whitefield, 1b; Watson, c; Weaver, 3b; Seymour, lf; Halcomb, 2b; Greer, rf, and Faircloth, p. Those who may see service during the game are P. Taylor, pitcher; Adams, third baseman, and Cook, catcher.
 The game will be played on the diamond on Caddo road.

Famous Raider Now Candidate

Alfred von Niezychowski, now an American citizen and resident of Detroit, has announced himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination as congressman from the first Michigan district. During the war Niezychowski, who is a former Polish count, served as a German naval lieutenant aboard the cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm, German raider that terrorized Allied shipping and sent 14 vessels to the bottom of the Atlantic. In 1915 both the ship and its crew were interned in America.

Breck Bowlers To Play Ranger Monday

A bowling team from Breckenridge is to visit Ranger Sunday night and play a team of Ranger bowlers at the Bowling palace on Main street.
 The Ranger team is headed by Chief of Police Ingram and is composed of the best material available in Ranger at this time.
 Breckenridge is said to have a strong team as they have been bowling in the Dynamo city some time and the sport has recently been revived in Ranger.

 Yet she represents only one-half of the buying population. Men—the other half—have similar needs, wants, desires, ambitions. Men, too, rely to a large extent upon advertising for information about new products, new styles, new economies, new opportunities to make their dollars go farther.
 That's where advertising stands today. In the minds of consumers it is a familiar and necessary source of information. Mr. and Mrs. Public today are thoughtful enough to realize that because advertising makes mass production possible, by creating a larger volume of sales, it results in lower prices and better quality.
 Business men seeking a fair share of "her" and "his" patronage, recognize the importance of carrying on an adequate advertising program. Business is built through sales. Sales are made, first of all, in the minds of buyers . . . and that is possible, on a large scale, only by means of modern advertising.

Joe Jones Thanks Voters of District for Support Given

The Citizens of the 17th Congressional District: Planning into the campaign for several months ago as a member to most of the people of the district, I have emerged with greater knowledge than ever of the wonderful resources of this district—the most varied in its natural endowments and potentials of any in the Union—and with a deeper pride in its splendid citizenship.

It was my ambition to be of service to our district, our State and Nation in the halls of Congress in this emergency confronting the American people. To that end, I carried into the cities and towns a message of greater economy in government, more safeguards about the life-savings of the public, work for the millions of unemployed, and more thought on the part of the government for the farmer, the rancher, and the worker.

Many thousands honored me with their votes and, on the face of the unofficial returns available at this time, approximately half the counties bestowed a majority upon me. However by a margin of about 2,000 votes out of nearly 50,000, the people have chosen my opponent.

To all, whether they voted for me or not, I express my appreciation. This campaign has been filled with rich memories that will be cherished as long as I live—the old friends who stood fast, the new friends who were so loyal and the friendship of the entire district which accorded me a courteous hearing and a cordial welcome.

I bear no ill will. No scars are left. Turning from the past to the future, I pledge my best efforts at all times in any way possible for the advancement of the interest of the people of this great section. With best wishes, I am sincerely yours, JOE JONES.

for LOVE or MONEY H.W. CORLEY

BEGIN HERE TODAY. Mona Moran, receptionist in a Wall Street law office, goes with her childhood sweetheart, Steve Saccarelli, to a popular supper resort, the Halcyon Club. Mona lives on Third Avenue, Club, sports her invaluable father, mother, little sister, Kitty, and need-to-well brother, Bud. Steve has been mysteriously absent from New York for three years. Now he appears, well dressed and prosperous. With no thought of impropriety, he has ordered a gown and wrap sent to Mona which, after much indecision, she decides to wear. At the office that day Mona has writing. Letters are disappointing sometimes. Steve—"Has he accomplished anything?" Mona asked drily. Barry drew a long breath. "I'll say he has!" The girl withdrew her steady gaze and let it travel across the room. The jazz band was playing noisily. No dreamy waltz now. Halcyon Club patrons preferred not to dream. The drummer, standing and wearing an odd little hat topped on one side of his head, was shouting the words of a song. "Tell me about you and Steve," Mona urged. "Steve?" Barry's tone was gentle and deliberate. Mona waited

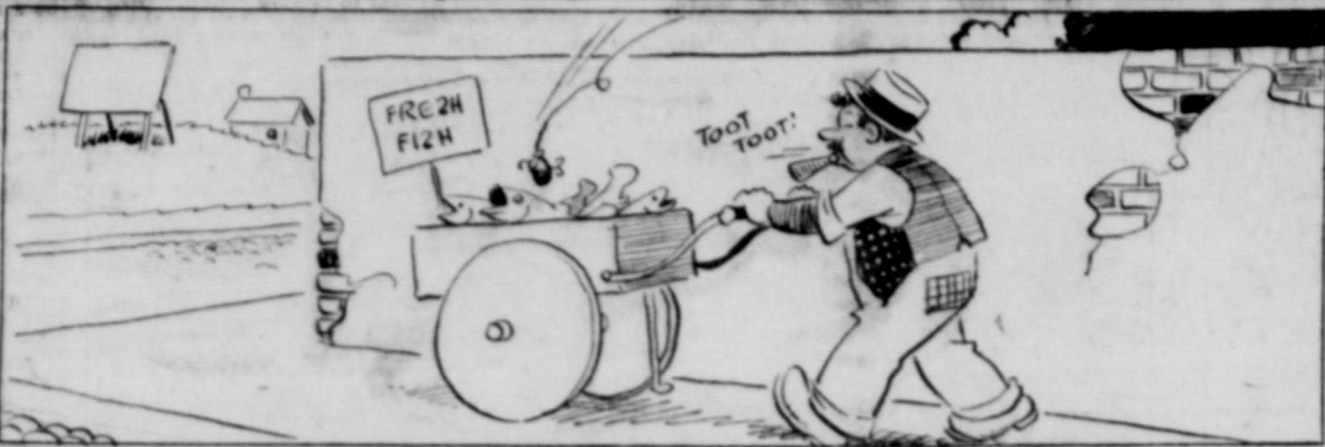

"Well," he said, grinning, "I knew I was going to win out, but I didn't expect it would be as soon as this!"

met Barry Townsend, rich and dine with him. Lottie Carr, a fashion model and friend of Mona's, dismisses her escort and joins Mona and Steve. Steve announces he is expecting his partner. Bud Moran comes to the Halcyon Club to see Buck Harkins, the proprietor, who has underwritten her account and is frightened, fearing Bud is associating with gangsters. She is still worrying about this when Steve's business partner arrive. He proves to be Barry Townsend. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER X. The floor rocked suddenly beneath Mona's feet. She became sharply conscious of her gown—not her gown but the one Steve had paid for. Women in Barry's world did not accept such gifts from men. Men in Barry's world did not offer them to women they respected. The orchestra was playing. The whirling, dancing throng floated past and for a moment Mona was terrified by the thought that she was going to faint. What would Barry think of her? She had declined an invitation to dine with him in a quiet, exclusive restaurant. Now he found her here in a night club, clothed as he must know she could not afford to be clothed. Wearing imported chiffon and ermine. She was here with Lottie, who was frankly noisy. And with Steve, once a taxi driver, the son of a Third Avenue roustabout, grandson of the coal and ice dealer! It was all very well for Steve and Barry to be on such good terms. Men could associate—in business—with anyone they chose. Doubtless Steve's ability had in some way made that association worth while. Mona thought again of her dress. She knew how men talked. "Great little girl—some looker, but poor. Have to dress her up if you want to step out with her." Mona could imagine the furtive wink accompanying such a conversation. Why had she come to this place without asking Steve first who was to be included in the party? Why had the fates sent Lottie—of all people—to this particular place on this particular night? Lottie was explaining to Barry that she and Steve were eager "to go places and do things." Steve nodded in agreement, with a certain cool politeness. As a matter of fact Steve was not particularly pleased over Lottie's intrusion but his glance, traveling from Mona to Barry and back again, did not reveal this. Steve's eyes seemed to say, "At last I've brought you two together!" He rose to move off in the dance with Lottie. Barry Townsend sank into the chair beside Mona. "Well," he said, grinning, "may I order for you? I knew I was going to win out but I didn't expect it would be as soon as this!" His look of approbation warmed Mona's chilling sense. "Why didn't you tell Steve we had met before?" she asked. Barry opened his eyes wide. "And let him down? Why, old Steve's been promising me this treat ever since I've known him!" "As long as that?" "And how?" "Steve must have talked about me a lot. He never wrote. Steve just—well, disappeared. Until this morning I hadn't seen or heard of him for three years." Barry's eyes were serious now. "She was pleased to send Steve of Steve in those brown eyes." "You mustn't blame old Steve for that," he said. "He wanted to accomplish something before he wrote you. Then he decided it would be better to come without

75% OF DOCTORS DIE FROM EXHAUSTION

Advertisement for a doctor's services. Text: 'Every Doctor goes through the experience of having friends and patients ask why he does not take his own medicine and protect his health. The average Doctor is a good example of what his patients shouldn't do, in the way of burning up energy faster than it can be replaced by nature. Directly, or indirectly, in the case of 75% of the Doctors who die each year, plain exhaustion is the cause. Depletion from over-work, worry and lack of rest induces heart trouble, kidney disorders, acute gastric conditions. The physical and mental demand on a Doctor with a busy practice, would appall the average business man. He simply would not be able to understand why the Doctor does not systematize his practice better and insure himself a more healthfully rounded out routine. Sickness and accident does not wait upon routine, therefore, a Doctor cannot always work on a pre-arranged schedule. However, the patient can often help, by being on time to appointments, telephoning only when necessary, calling at night only in cases of emergency—and co-operating with the Doctor's treatment. Usually when it is necessary for you to wait on a Doctor, someone has been late to an appointment, or some unexpected emergency has arisen. You Owe It To Your Family To Pay Your Doctor First. YOUR DOCTOR WANTS TO KEEP YOU WELL.'

Bridge Shower Names Bride-Elect as Honoree at Lovely Smith Home Friday Evening With summer quickly fading and a large number of romances having been drawn to a climax through many pretty services, still bride-elects hold full sway in the rosy hued spotlight of late summer's social calendar.

For this elaborate affair Mrs. J. C. Smith acted as hostess at her home, Pine street, Friday evening, with the hour filled to the brim in the form of a bridge shower in honor of Miss Polly Jones, secretary of West Texas Clinic and hospital, who will become the bride of Mr. Albert Kinchen, of Oklahoma City, on Saturday, August 6th, with the ring ceremony to be performed at Oklahoma City.

The beautiful large living room where five tables had been arranged for bridge, was exquisitely appointed in complete accessories carrying out to perfection the colors of yellow and green. A profusion of flowers were effectively used about the rooms lending their grace and colors to the setting, made more rich in color tone through the soft hints shed from dimly shaded lights.

High score favor went to Mrs. Bill Barnett, and low score to Miss Pauline Head. Cuts were made at each table and all favors presented were neatly encased in pale yellow and lined with green ribbon. The useful and lovely chosen gifts making a number of seven, were presented the honoree. All tokens for the affair and approaching event given Miss Jones, were opened by her from the prettily appointed library table and passed for the guests as well as herself to enjoy.

Miss Jones is truly one of Ranger's most highly admired and charming young ladies. There are a score of friends who will miss her from the group, but express most sincere good wishes. While residing here she has made her home with the Smiths, and shared her room in this hospitable home with a close friend, Miss Jewel Perry. As Miss Jones departs from Ranger Wednesday the date will mark a period of two years association with the West Texas Clinic.

Bringing to a close an evening which passed far too quickly but most pleasantly spent, the hostess served a course of iced watermelon. The list of guests numbered: Mrs. M. P. Kuykendall and daughter, Miss Alla Ray, Mrs. T. L. Lauderdale, Mrs. Bob Robinson, Miss Freda Nesbitt, Miss Jewell Perry, Mrs. Hortense Matthews, Mrs. D. H. Lovanport, Mrs. D. W. Nichol, Miss Maxine Henderson of Olden and house guest Miss Eva Baucum of Shreveport, La., Mrs. Saunders Gregg, Miss Kate Kramer, Mrs. Wade Swift, Mrs. Geo. Murphy, Mrs. Bill Barnett, Misses Pauline and Crystelle Head, Misses Mary Ellen and Helen Calloway of Thurber, Miss Charlotte Rathiff, and Mrs. J. B. Miles.

Lovely Garden Party Honors Mr. and Mrs. Chance and Daughter, Lewai One of the loveliest and most colorful evening functions of the week honored Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Chance and young daughter, Lewai, Thursday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Surbrook entertained with a delightful garden party at their home, Blundell street.

The entire garden of the attractive Surbrook home had been transformed into a scene of exotic beauty. The colors reflected from a mixture of flowers, shrubs and bouquets of blossoms, together with the clear fish pond, afforded a setting of strikingly artistic inclination arranged through the ability of the charming hostess.

The occasion marks the near departure of the Chances, who will

Curie Urging Women To Vote

PARIS.—The following letter addressed to the president of the French senate by Madame Marie-Sklodowska-Curie comes as a revelation to many of her friends who, because of her retiring nature and unobtrusive personality, never dreamed that she would ever take a definite stand either for or against the movement of votes for women:

"Monsieur le President of the Senate: I have been told, during the course of a discussion relative to the subject of votes for women, that my name had been mentioned as being one of those by whom this movement was not approved. Certainly, whoever made this statement was misinformed. I have, it is true, customarily absented myself from all public discussions of this nature, as well as from all others not of a strictly scientific nature. However, without going into the rights and technicalities of the law, in principle I believe it to be just and that it should be recognized.

"I shall be very pleased, Monsieur le President, if you will, therefore, inform the French senate of your receipt of this letter and convey to the members the sentiment it contains.

"Madame Curie." Always ready to stand by her opinions and to correct any false belief attributed to her, whether in the field of her scientific researches or her private life, Madame Curie is said to have given a decided impetus to the "Votes for Women" movement in France.

Inside Life Of Movie Colony Is Shown In Film

"Hollywood Speaks," hailed as a powerful dramatic story giving a close-up of the glamorous life of the movie colony, will be the next screen feature at the Columbia Theatre, today and Monday.

Genevieve Tobin, who scored such a hit in Maurice Chevalier's "One Hour With You," plays the leading role in this Columbia production which shows the rise of a young girl from obscurity to stardom. Pat O'Brien, the breezy young man who appeared to such good advantage in "The Front Page" and other films, has the role of the movie columnist who fights her battles. Lucien Prival, Ralf Harold, Rita La Roy, Leni Stengel and Anderson Lawlor comprise the rest of an excellent cast.

Of all the pictures dealing with Hollywood, this is said to be the first treating the subject in a realistic and dramatic manner.

"Ma" Rests Up for Second Race

Mrs. Miriam "Ma" Ferguson looks a little tired and pensive as she hears the news of her victory over Governor Ross Sterling in the Lone Star state's primary election, probably because she must make her campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination all over again. "Ma" beat the incumbent governor by some 75,000 votes, but lacked a majority and so much oppose him in a run-off election. The run-off winner is certain to be Texas' next governor because the state is predominantly Democratic.

PARIS STYLES

PARIS—Madame Lily Jungmann, a young and chic wearer of Worth models, was present at the fashionable Concours d'Elegance in the Bois a few days ago in a black and white costume called "Legendaire."

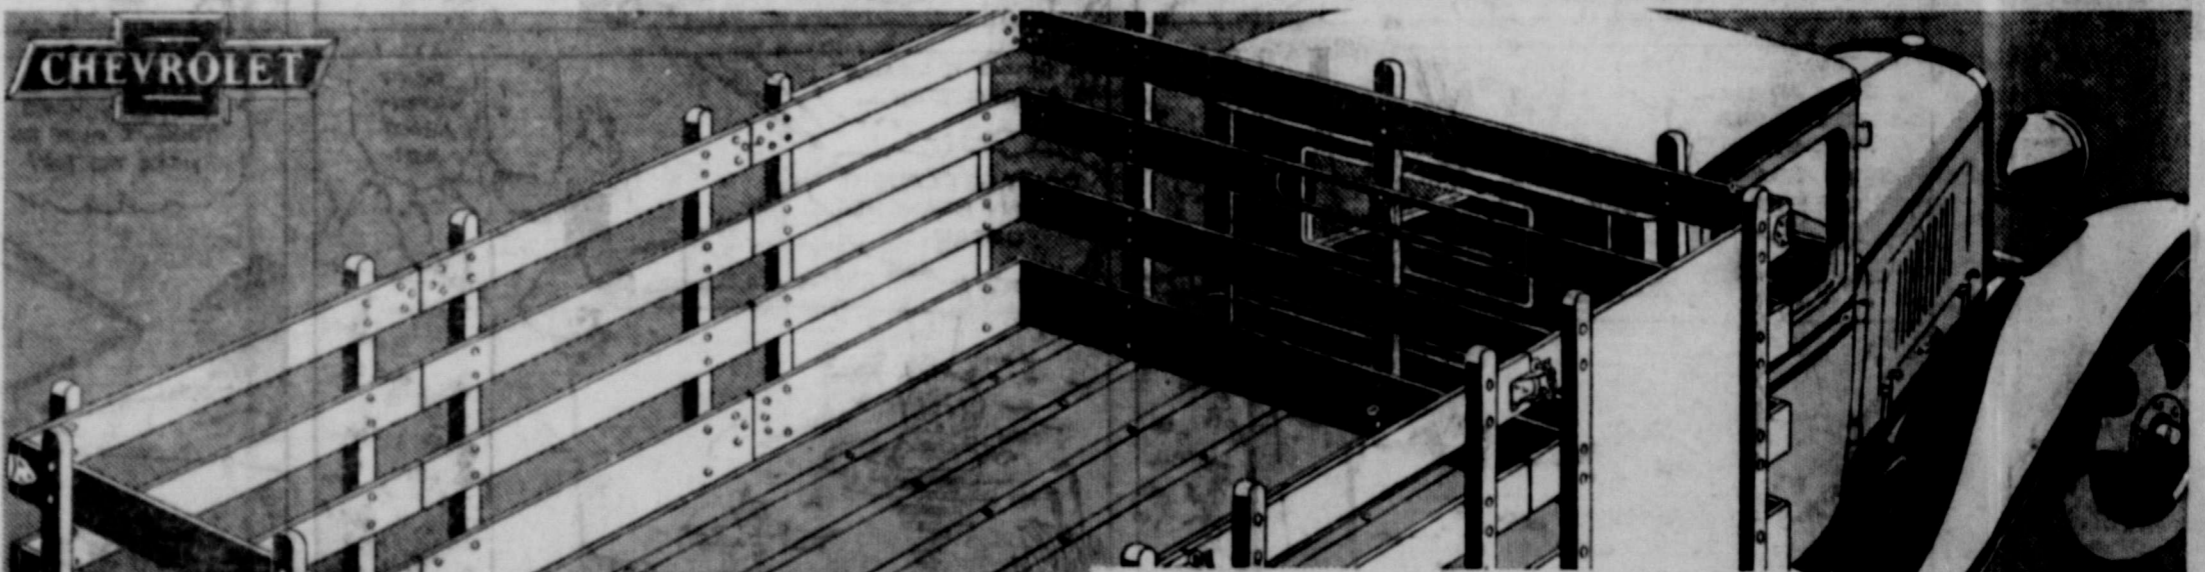

The upper part of this rather summery frock was made of "moderie anglaise" in white while the skirt and bolero were in black silk crepe. She drove a car painted black with chromium trimming. The Concours d'Elegance, you know, is one of the traditions of the Grande Semaine here and marked as a red letter day in society.

Miss Lucy Riehy, prominent in the younger elements of French society, wore a blue and white printed bolero ensemble trimmed with strips of plain dark blue, as were her shoes and purse. Miss Suzanne Bostard wore the Worth model called "Vogue"—a dark blue and white striped frock with red wool belt which has been such a success in the present collection from this Rue de la Pais house of haute couture.
