CHEERING NEWS OF SOUTHERN BUILDING ACTIVITIES

Optimist who base the activities of the future on sound thinking and logical reasoning are reminded that climbing consistently since April, construction contracts in 16 Southern states reached $213,369,000 for the first seven months of 1932 with nearly $46,000,000 in new contracts added during July. This story of building activity was carried by the Manufacturers Record of Baltimore, perhaps the most ably edited American trade journal.

These are facts. They should be taken home by more than a million owners of motor vehicles who provide the funds for the construction and maintenance of highways and who are promised by Sterling and all who think as Sterling thinks of the assumption of a county road bond debt of $75,000,000 by these same gasoline users of the commonwealth.

WHY TEXAS TAXPAYERS SHOULD GET BUSY

Texas taxpayers should contrast the financial condition of the state highway department now and at the end of the Ferguson administration. They should draw their own conclusions as to whether there has been in recent years any misapplication of funds. On Jan. 13, 1927, near the end of the proxy government state appointed highway commission, the cash balance in the highway fund was $2,427.98. The earned and unpaid estimate due contractors on highway contracts amounted to nearly $900,000.

A surplus of over $5,000,000 which has been created by the economical operation of the present highway department will take care of the taxes required this year TO PAY THE INTEREST AND PROVIDE A SINKING FUND ON ALL COUNTY BOND ISSUES FOR MONEY SPENT ON STATE HIGHWAYS. Now why should Texas democrats be blinded by smoke screens, or led astray from honest and economical government by the preachment of a proxy candidate who hopes to be on the outside looking in. Are they willing to thrust aside the magnificent building record of five years and six months? Are they willing to ignore rock-bottom facts and gulp down the rankest and rottenest fiction ever distributed from the political stumps of Texas?

COX FINDS CONDITIONS ON UPGRADE

World economic affairs have definitely turned upwards. At least this is the belief of Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the bureau of business research at the University of Texas. He warned, however, that "too rapid recovery must not be expected." He based his opinion on three broad facts. First, prices of nearly all basic raw materials seem definitely to have passed bottom and in most instances they are strengthening in a very substantial way. Second, the European situation is pretty well clarified, which he says is stimulating international business, especially in raw materials. Third, recent legislation gives promise of definitely relieving the financial stringency by providing means for expanding credit.

His conclusion: "While the fundamental factors in the business situation in the United States, as well as in the world, are constructive, they do not justify belief in any immediate return to normal conditions. They do justify belief that we are in position to make progress in that direction." Dr. Cox has his economic hat on straight. His thinking apparatus moves conservatively and cautiously in line with the logic of all history and its fat years and its lean years. There has been a period of readjustment. There will be a slow period, speaking of the return of normal prosperity which will not be the wild nation-wide gambling prosperity on paper that the American people witnessed for years and years until the smashup came in 1929.

All the dead timber has been practically swept away. There are signs of the return of a sane prosperity, very convincing signs, but the warning of Dr. Cox is a warning that should be heeded by all concerned.

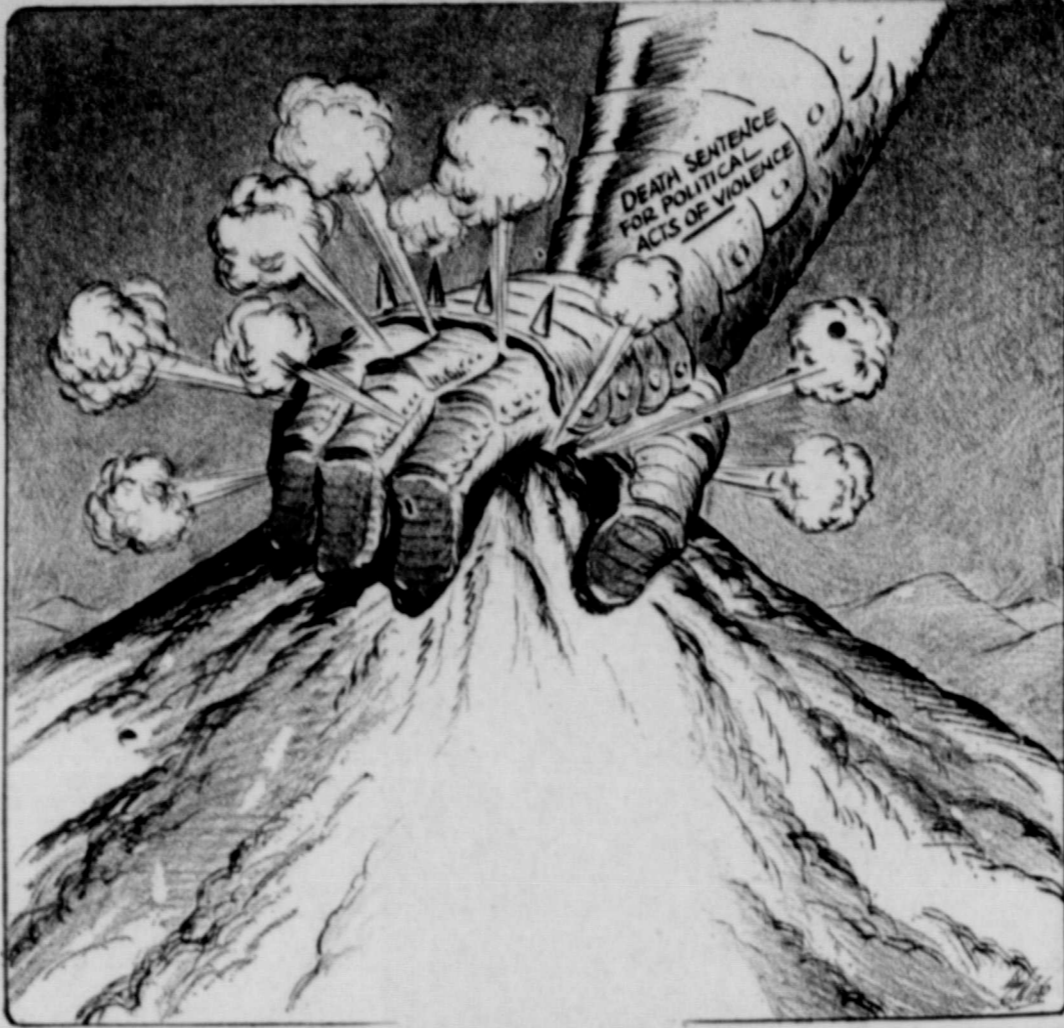

LISTEN TO THE TICKINGS OF THE TICKER

Just now millions of Americans are listening to the music made by the tickings of the ticker. Perhaps it will tell the story of the death of the lean year period and the coming of another era of sane and not crazy prosperity. There is hope in the hearts of the thinkers and the builders and all the men who make the world go round and round.

TEXTILE WORKERS RETURN TO THE JOBS

Six thousand textile and hosiery workers on strike in Tennessee, are returned to their jobs. An amicable wage settlement was effected between the mill owners and the idle workers. It was a strike without parallel in the history of the Old Volunteer state. It is a sign of the times that at least spells a return to not only human reason but the prosperity which affects the pocket.

Checked—But for How Long?

SOVIET AUTO PLANTS CAUSE HEADS WORRY

By EUGENE LYONS, United Press Staff Correspondent. MOSCOW. — Symptomatic of the difficulties which the soviet union is experiencing with its newly-built industries is the serious situation in the automotive manufacturing plants.

The automotive industry is one of the proudest phases of the whole five year plan. It has netted several of the plan's outstanding successes and most startling failures. Owing to lack of material or lack of effective leadership, the rhythm of output too often is broken.

Tractor production in June was seriously behind May. The Khar'kov tractor works, having attained a figure of 600 tractors a day, declined to 70. The Stalingrad tractor works, having reached 150 daily also began to decline. It became necessary, on June 15, to shut down the Stalingrad plant for two weeks to give it a new start.

The Molotov factory in Nizhni Novgorod for the manufacture of "Fords" has failed to obey orders from the center to get its belt moving. At best it puts out 30 cars a day and even those are usually shoddy mechanical parts.

Most disappointing of all perhaps was the falling off of production in the Stalin auto plant (former Amo) in Moscow. There production had dropped from 70 trucks a day to 35 or 40.

There is no question that the records again will be restored. But the interruption in the production flow naturally gives the soviet leaders plenty to worry over. Until they can regularize output they have no sense of surety and stability on their industrial front.

The automotive industry thus proves a striking example of the problems which face the soviet regime in its determination to "catch up with and outdistance" industry in the capitalist world.

Story Recalls Lost Battalion. ALLENDALE, Ill.—A recent United Press story from Varennes, France, stating that a searching party in the Argonne forest had uncovered the whole setting of one of the most dramatic incidents of the World War—the spot where the "Lost Battalion" was lost—brought memories of stirring war days back to a former soldier of Wabash county.

HERE--- AND THERE

By ELVIE R. JACKSON. The wonders of Texas have been exploited in pamphlet and travel form, for many years, but it remains for a first-hand story told by Eastland visitors to the gorgeous Carlsbad caverns, to get a real glimpse in an every day way of the marvels of this cave, famed all over the world.

In the story told by Mrs. F. O. Hunter, some inside notes were gleaned that one does not usually read in printed travel lore. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter returned to Eastland Tuesday night from a four-day motor trip, when they visited El Paso, Juarez, and the cavern, returning by way of Lubbock, in order to view the gorgeous scenery, the first time they had taken this trip.

The winding driveway through the mountains, and over the trail from Juarez to Carlsbad, was picture-perfect, and the passage through the gorge of the highest mountain in Texas.

The party went through the caverns on Monday with 599 others who came from 32 states, and 22 foreign countries.

The national government has taken over the care of the cave, which is now in charge of soldiers, under a commanding officer, and a celebration was held in honor of the national park system.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter were accompanied by Miss Frances Hunter, and Wendel their son.

The party started through the cave at 10:30 a. m., and emerged at 4:30 p. m.

"Wonder of the world," exclaimed Mrs. Hunter.

"We went down in the elevator, 730 feet deep, the elevator itself costing $100,000.

One of the party in the elevator trip we were on, was one of the heads of the national park system, and a celebration was held in honor of the national park system.

We saw the famous green stalagmite, a gorgeous, unspunkably beautiful formation, and that glittered like a load of diamonds. The age of this wonder is estimated to be six million years, the oldest in the world.

We were told by the commanding officer in charge of the caverns that there is a year's contract for work, which will employ several hundred men, in building about the cave with native stone, and making other improvements.

The grandeur of the cavern is so awful, that it is impossible for any one human to describe it.

One lady on the trip, who was 80 years of age, felt no discomfort or inconvenience as she went down in the elevator, and the careful guiding by the soldiers relieved all fear of accident, and the fine air, and coolness kept this aged woman from being tired.

If there is anyone in Texas, who has not seen the Carlsbad caverns, they should never leave the state until they do.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

FIVE MUSKRATS WERE TAKEN TO PRAGUE, BOHEMIA, IN 1905... AND THEIR OFFSPRING HAVE SPREAD INTO UPPER AND LOWER AUSTRIA, BAVARIA, AND GERMANY — AND NUMBER ABOUT 100 MILLION!

A GRAPE, WHEN PLACED IN A GLASS OF SODA WATER, SINKS TO THE BOTTOM. AIR BUBBLES SOON COLLECT ON IT AND BRING IT TO THE SURFACE AGAIN. WHEN A FEW OF THE BUBBLES BURST, THE GRAPE ONCE MORE SINKS. THE PROCESS WILL REPEAT ITSELF UNTIL THE SODA WATER IS "DEAD."

IT IS one of the curious things of nature that when an animal is introduced into a strange country, it generally does one of two things: flourishes beyond all expectations, or dies off in short order.

The muskrat, the house sparrow, the cabbage butterfly, and the clothes moth are examples of immigrants that have "made good" in lands far from their native habitat.

The muskrats are causing plenty of worry for the fish culturists of Central Europe by destroying the dams which form the fish ponds.

Gags May Win Theatre Tickets

Here's an easy way to see a talking picture, free. In fact you can see several pictures free.

Buster Keaton and Jimmy "Schonzie" Durante, who play at the Arcadia Theatre in Ranger on Sunday and Monday in their latest picture "Speak Easy," have run out of gags.

The Arcadia management has offered a prize of 10 theatre tickets to the person turning in the best gag that might be used in making a movie.

A second prize of seven tickets, and a third prize of five tickets, and a fourth prize of two will also be offered in the gag contest.

Just send your gags in to the Gag Editor of the Ranger Times, before Saturday night. Announcement of the winners will be made Sunday.

Union of Law Agencies Asked

LINCOLN, Neb.—The existence of "political patronage" has been made an issue in the general election in Nebraska this coming November.

Nebraska voters will vote on an initiative proposal of Attorney General C. A. Sorensen, which calls for consolidation of the state's law enforcement agencies under a commission composed of the governor, attorney general, state superintendent, state treasurer, auditor, land commissioner, and secretary of state.

The commission would direct officers in performance of duties now a part of the work of the state sheriff, fire marshal and highway patrol.

The state sheriff, fire marshal and highway patrol now are under the thumb of the governor.

Governor Charles W. Bryan has attacked the Sorensen proposal on the grounds that it will eliminate political patronage. Sorensen, who secured 56,000 signatures to his initiative petition in 10 days, claims that the elimination of political patronage in the state's law enforcement agencies is one of the merits of his proposal.

The cost of the plan would be limited to $75,000 from direct taxation. The state gasoline tax fund and other fees would be taxed for the cost of the system above $75,000.

STATE SHOWS POPULATION JUMP

HARRISBURG, Pa.—The mid-year population of Pennsylvania for 1932 was 9,831,396, an increase of 200,000 over the total recorded in the 1930 census, according to the state bureau of vital statistics.

Another thing the depression has changed: More passengers are killed now in freight than in passenger train wrecks.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE) THE Tinnites laughed aloud to see how cute a little monkey could be. The one that pulled the monkey in the car was jumping round. "Hey! Please go straight," scolded Duncy. "I do not want a thrilling ride. I will keep you here and there, 'till you get to the ground."

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Secretary. WASHINGTON—The reorganization of the $5,000,000 a year federal government proposed and debated for decades, has begun.

An immediate saving of about $65,000 a year achieved by the firing of 40 people is in prospect. That's about $13 out of every million the government spends.

The former soldier is Paul Holsten, a veteran of the "Lost Battalion." He was one of the 600 who, encircled by Germans and fighting against thirst and hunger, was lost for days in advance of the American line in the Argonne.

He is one of the 194 who came out of the advance position alive. The Varennes United Press story said that the searchers brushed away the leaves and cut away the young trees that choked the forest and found evidences of the great struggle.

When Holsten read the story, he expressed surprise that the scene of the battalion's activities had lain hidden and unknown for 14 years.

The F. R. C. having completed the absorption in Washington of 75 people at a total cost of $14,000 a year.

Now the absorption is achieved in the field setting the commission and the department and out there 25 more employees will be canned at a saving of $43,000—a grand total of 900.

Deduct that $900 added expense caused by the B. of S. I. S. merger and you get a saving of $68,000, which is most what it costs to employ minutes of the year to pay pensions of past wars and pensions for possible future wars.

We venture to suggest that some of the results will be startling, and if the employees would not try to get at somebody but see that no possible avenues of economy are overlooked, much good would result.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma. If the government were to send out a letter to all government employees inviting them to offer suggestions, retirement, it would, no doubt, create a new precedent.

If the employees were invited to criticize their superiors and their departments and make suggestions involving departmental workings with the assurance that it would be treated confidentially, many workable ideas would be presented.

Some of the letters penned under these conditions would, no doubt, make interesting reading and even people criticized might get some good out of them.

Desperate diseases demand desperate remedies, perhaps it would be well, for once at least, that subordinates should be afforded an opportunity to speak out out of fear of disciplinary action.

A lot of politicians temper their words to the spirit of their audience. They usually tell not what they think, but what they think their hearers think they ought to never meaning a word of it.

Deserted Men Throng Paris

PARIS.—The "Deserted Husband Season" is in full swing here as the footprints of the last remaining wives and children fade into the summer sunshine of the Riviera, or the shadows of the Swiss Alps for the vacation season. Husbands, brothers, sons and boy friends remain here to toil for the winter months to come when the children must be sent to school and home fires kept burning.

This is an annual phenomena beginning each year at the closing of the French and English schools. Along the Grand Boulevard every night may be seen groups of dejected and abandoned husbands munching silently and slipping resignedly from mugs of frothy beer, or long-stemmed glasses of other soothing beverages. Every week end the State Rail ways run a series of special trains which they have christened the "Husbands' Trains," in all directions that the spouseless gentlemen may more easily commute to their families at nearby seaside and mountain altitudes for over Sunday.

Olympic Women Blamed Climate

MARY ALICE PARENT Special Correspondent ANGELES, Calif.—Olympians from far-away climes blame the Indians, but the for the use of cosmetics. fail to see in the prevalence of reds, blues and blacks genuine complexion anything but the result of the war paint of the tropics. The climate here makes the cosmetics necessary. Heat and humidity take color from the skin and make the skin unattractive. People need rouge and cream here to make up for the dry and fine skin texture the moist weather furnishes in their countries.

is the opinion of Mrs. Wright Leslie, wife of the starter for the Olympics from New Zealand and one of Thelma Kench, New Zealand's only woman contestant. She has noticed the complete change in complexion of the foreign girls. Why do American girls use so much make-up if they don't need it to be beautiful, they demand? Leslie's explanation by one of her own number is the answer to their question. "I wouldn't be long before I'd be using powder myself if I were to be here any length of time," she said. "Thelma and I have made out all the time. To

STALE GAS IS FEEBLE—FRESH GAS PACKS POWER

WHAT? Such a thing as "stale" gasoline? Absolutely. Think about it a minute and you'll see why. Gasoline evaporates. The most volatile parts—important "easy starting" elements—slowly float off into thin air. A chemical change occurs, too. So that the longer gas is stored, the more important power elements it loses!—the feebler it gets. Another thing. When gas is stored too long, sticky compounds form. Those sticky compounds foul your motor—may clog valves and carbureter. And stale gas knocks more, too—particularly on hills. Those are the reasons why refiners have tried to stop the deterioration of gasoline. Those are the reasons why Gulf is pleased to announce a system that assures you of getting FRESH-MADE gasoline. Here's how... Gulf makes the best gasoline that can be produced—and takes out certain complex elements which have been found to cause rapid deterioration. Hence, Gulf gas stays FRESH longer.

And Gulf has geared up its distribution system to rush this FRESH-MADE gas to you like some perishable food! We have placed huge refineries in many sections of the country—so that every Gulf filling station is close to a source of FRESH gasoline. A huge fleet of trucks speeds FRESH gas to Gulf stations every day. Get 100 cents worth of power from your gasoline dollar. Get FRESH gasoline with FRESH, full power. Get Gulf. Use nothing else—and have a cleaner, quieter, faster motor.

QUEER LAW SAVES PAIR FROM DEATH

HATTIESBURG, Miss. — The thwarting of a double hanging here by an uncommon procedure, and in the face of persistent threats of lynching, is due to a resounding veto in Mississippi's legislature, when that body convened.

Two robber-killers, 18-year-old Paul Wexler, a Jewish youth, and Andrew Prince, Negro, were spirited from the county jail here before sunrise on May 29, and taken to the state capital at Jackson. They were to have been hanged at noon on that day, and a crowd had already begun to form outside the jail to be on hand. Feeling had been intense since the two men were placed on the gallows after the killing of J. L. Odum, a filling station attendant during a hold-up, and open threats were made, that unless the two robbers were executed they would be lynched.

The last-minute reprieve was obtained under an unusual Mississippi law, that permits a court of one district to interfere with a hanging set by a court in another district, even after the State Supreme Court has upheld the convictions, as was the case this time.

District Judge J. L. Williams, at Vicksburg, 100 miles from here, granted Wexler a writ of coram nobis, a few hours before the scheduled hanging. The writ provides an insanity hearing, and Judge Williams promptly advised Gov. Mike Connor to also grant a reprieve to Prince, that he might testify at Wexler's hearing. The governor granted it, although he had personally examined Wexler, pronounced him sane and refused to halt the execution.

The new sanity hearing was set for the November term of court. District Attorney Alexander Curtis, who prosecuted the two men, has declared he will seek a special term of court for an earlier hearing.

Citizens, irate at the delay, have announced they will demand the state legislature alter the state's legal code.

Discoverer of Babe Dridrickson Retires As Coach

By SIDNEY C. LEE, United Press Staff Correspondent.

DALLAS.—Col. M. J. McCombs who has coached amateur athletes for 28 years without pay is getting tired of his hobby.

The life insurance executive who fanned Miss Mildred (Babe) Dridrickson's spark of genius into a blaze that won her national and world-wide recognition, is not weary because of the lack of monetary reward, however. It's just that the edge has worn off. No longer does the thrill of victory justify the time and patience he has to expend.

McCombs handed in his resignation as head coach of the Golden Cyclones at the end of last year's basketball season, but upon his company's urging, he withdrew it, and undertook supervision of Miss Dridrickson's training for the national women's track and field championships at Chicago and the Olympics in California.

How well he did his job is attested by her record.

But whatever be his inclinations toward participation in athletics as a spectator only, the colonel will not quit. Already he is planning organization of his Golden Cyclones for the approaching basketball season, and they will contest once more under his direction for the national title.

Col. M. J. McCombs began tending for himself when 12 years of age. No an ever amounted to anything depending on his daddy for a living, McCombs' parent said. Since then he has served as a colonel of engineers in the World War and was a soldier of fortune in Mexico before going to business here.

McCombs attended Bryan high school of Dallas in 1906. From there he went to Texas A. & M., where he lettered in all varsity sports while doing everything from scrubbing floors to washing dishes and waiting tables to make his tuition. He organized the first Aggie baseball team over protests of professors who later protested through to organize a faculty nine and furnish the first game. The professors lost.

After graduation, McCombs participated at Missouri university. Then came the war, and he became a colonel, but was denied going overseas because of his ability as an instructor.

As a soldier of fortune, he wandered through Mexico, narrowly escaping a firing squad on several occasions. He once climbed through a porthole and hid until a ship's mooring was quelled.

McCombs says the greatest thrill he ever got came from his participation in athletics. His company hires only athletes, and he has fine material for his team.

"Now would be a good time to quit," he said. "I've coached the world's greatest woman athlete. My basketball team was a national champion.

"But I don't guess I'd be satisfied out of it. I'd get right back in, so why quit?"

IF YOU MISS SUN'S ECLIPSE AUG. 31, YOU MUST WAIT UNTIL 1963 TO SEE ANOTHER ONE!

How the eclipse of the sun on Aug. 31 will be caused by the moon's shadow is illustrated in the above diagram, which also shows the narrow belt of total eclipse that will begin in the Arctic ocean at sunrise, cross part of Canada and New England, and end in the Atlantic ocean at sunset. Areas outside the path of totality will see a partial eclipse, the sun being only partly obscured by the moon. The small chart at the left left shows the limits of the partial eclipse. The overlapping circles at the right show the extent to which the sun will be hidden by the moon over various cities.

Surplus Women Of Spain Offer Nation Puzzle

By WILLIAM H. LANDER, United Press Staff Correspondent.

MADRID.—Spain's surplus of women today constitutes the biggest question mark in envisaging the future political development of the Second Republic.

The numerical superiority of women renders the prospect of a government controlled by feminine votes a theoretical possibility. Absolute control is not a practical probability, but that the women's votes will be of profound importance is admitted on all sides.

Written in Constitution

Woman's suffrage was written into the constitution, in Article 36 which says that "the citizens, of both sexes, of 23 years of age or more, shall have the same electoral rights"—an article approved practically without a struggle.

Women in Spain, with notable exceptions, showed little interest in getting the vote. The provisional government of the Republic, when it called the general elections of June 28, 1931, did not decree woman's suffrage, but did make them eligible for membership in the Cortes Constituyentes. As a result, three women deputies were elected, namely, Victoria Kent, Clara Campoamor, and Margaret Nelken.

Census Statistics

Some of the statistics gathered by the census takers are indeed interesting. Here, for example, there are enrolled 278,822 women compared with 211,722 men—a difference of 67,100 votes in favor of the women. Another city, Oviedo, shows 294,351 women voters to 176,575 men. Salamanca province has 97,091 women voters and 90,148 men.

In the United States, electoral registration is voluntary, and hence the fact that one is registered means that he has at least the intention of voting on election day. In Spain, however, the electoral census is taken just as one takes a population census. Therefore, it is quite possible that many of the women voters will not go to the polls at the next general election.

Scientists Ready For Precious 100 Seconds

By NEA Service

A period of just 100 precious seconds—not to be repeated again for 31 years!

Observers in the United States and Canada should look carefully at the total eclipse of the sun on Wednesday, Aug. 31, for they will not see such an awe-inspiring spectacle again until July 20, 1963.

Still that's not as bad as it might be.

Up to just a couple of weeks ago, astronomers were saying that another total eclipse of the sun would not be visible in the United States and Canada until Oct. 12, 1997, which is 65 years hence.

Then they made a startling discovery. And that discovery makes an interesting story. It goes this way:

Back in 188, Dr. Theodore von Oppolzer, an Austrian astronomer, completed the monumental task of charting and mapping of 8090 eclipses of the sun from the year 1207 B. C. to 2162 A. D. He published his charts and maps in book form.

Von Oppolzer's book has been the bible of every astronomer dealing with eclipses. Of course his calculations were approximate, but considering the immense magnitude of his work they were remarkable.

His calculations put the next total eclipse visible in the above-mentioned area, in the year 1997. Until just recently, astronomers accepted that without question.

But a few weeks ago experts connected with the U. S. Nautical Almanac began a new check of Dr. von Oppolzer's calculations. To their surprise, these new calculations showed that there will be another total eclipse visible in the said area only 31 years hence.

The eclipse of July 20, 1963, astronomers say, will follow approximately the same path as this year's eclipse. It will sweep out of the northwest, cut across the south western edge of Hudson Bay pass over Maine and disappear in the Atlantic Ocean.

In 1945, 1954 and 1959 small eclipses will be visible in the United States, but there will be none of importance until 1963.

The 1932 eclipse will begin at sunrise on the Arctic Ocean. It will sweep northward to within a few hundred miles of the North Pole, then swing southeast across northern Canada, Hudson Bay, province of Quebec, enter the United States over northwestern Vermont, New Hampshire and southeastern Massachusetts. Then it will pass out over the Atlantic and end in mid-ocean at sunset.

The largest city in the path of totality—that narrow belt where the sky is completely blackened—is Montreal. Just outside the edge of the path is Boston, where the eclipse will be almost total; in New York, the sun will be 95 per cent

LAST MEMBER OF FAMED CHOIR

By United Press.

HOLYOKE, Mass.—Mrs. George Neuner Lavoie, who died here recently at 74, was the last surviving member of the Precious Blood church choir, which continued to sing when fire broke out in the church May 27, 1875, taking a toll of 75 lives. She probably would have perished along with other members of the choir, but for the efforts of her brother, Gustave, who risked his life to rescue her.

ECLIPSE TABLE FOR VARIOUS CITIES

City	Pct. of Totality	Time of Maximum
Portland, Me.	100	3:30 p. m.
Montreal	100	3:24 p. m.
New York	95	3:34 p. m.
Washington	89	3:35 p. m.
Cleveland	87	3:33 p. m.
Cincinnati	80	2:25 p. m.
Chicago	79	2:20 p. m.
St. Louis	71	2:25 p. m.
Kansas City	65	2:19 p. m.
New Orleans	59	2:43 p. m.
Denver	49	1:05 p. m.
Portland, Ore.	33	1:55 p. m.
S. Francisco	15	1:41 p. m.

observed. Other cities, depending on their location, will see varying degrees of obscuration of the sun.

The actual period of totality—meaning the moment when the sun is totally obscured at a given place—is just 100 seconds. Therefore, scientists must work fast.

But for nearly an hour before and an hour after the maximum of the eclipse is reached, there is a period resembling twilight. For example, at Portland, Me.—where the eclipse will be total—the eclipse will begin at 2:21 p. m., will reach its maximum at 3:30 p. m., and will end at 4:34 p. m.

As everybody knows, an eclipse of the sun is caused by the moon getting between the earth and the sun. The moon casts a great, cone-shaped shadow on the earth. At the point of this shadow the eclipse is total; outside that comparatively narrow track it is only partial.

As the moon moves in front of the sun, the disc of sun disappears from view. First the sun is only partly overlapped, then completely. Two or three minutes before the eclipse becomes total, the moon's shadow comes sweeping over the landscape from the west with great swiftness.

Suddenly the eclipse becomes total and the whole sky grows dark.

When the moon completely blots out the great orb, a rim of red fire appears around it. This is the upper atmosphere, or chromosphere, of the sun, ordinarily invisible because of the glare of light. Shooting out into space from the chromosphere are great tongues of crimson fire. Surrounding all this is a silvery halo, called the corona. The corona can be seen only during a total eclipse, and that is why astronomers work so feverishly to observe and photograph it while they can. During the past 50 years, they have had less than a total of 30 minutes in which to do this.

When the last trace of the sun has disappeared (in the belt of totality) and the moon's shadow has engulfed the spectator, the scene is awe-inspiring. Often the temperature drops, sometimes dew falls, strange breezes spring up, seemingly different from the breezes of normal day or night. Flowers close, birds go to rest, animals in the fields and woods seek refuge, cattle grow restless and dogs often set up howls.

The sky is only about half as bright as that of a full moon. Often the darkness is so intense that it is impossible to tell the time by a watch. Far off on the horizon an orange afterglow effect is seen; it is the weak sunlight shining on the world outside the path of totality.

Stars appear overhead, the eclipsing moon seems to hang in the heavens like a giant cannon ball, with apparently nothing to keep it from falling on the earth.

King's Messengers Are Disbanded

LONDON.—The king's messengers, the men who carried important dispatches to him daily, wherever he might be, have been disbanded.

The last three, who have been in the royal service have retired from the king's home service messengers. Their places will not be filled.

For scores of years whenever the sovereign has been out of London, the king's messengers have made special journeys to him every day, carrying important dispatches.

They carried the dispatches in the familiar black or red leather boxes, stamped with the royal arms, and were personally responsible for their safety.

All the dispatches are to be entrusted to the care of the court post office, which follows the king wherever he goes.

The king's foreign service messengers—the men who wear the little silver greyhound badges that enable them to travel with special facilities—are not affected by the change.

Bug In Nightie Blamed For Blow

MORRISON, Ill.—It was a bug that flew into his bedroom window that William H. Colville, of Fenton, was aiming at when he struck his wife in the mouth with his fist, he told Justice of the Peace P. L. Woodson, when arrested here recently.

Colville said the bug had taken refuge in his night clothing, and that he grabbed a flashlight and started searching for the pest. He told the justice he didn't remember seeing his wife during the struggle.

Mrs. Colville told the justice that she was awakened by noise in her husband's room and went to see what the trouble was. As she opened the door to his bedroom, she said, her husband struck her in the mouth.

As soon as she could regain her footing, Mrs. Colville said, she ran to the home of a neighbor.

Colville admitted he heard his wife screaming in their back yard, but made no investigation as to the cause of the outbreak.

He was fined $25 and costs.

Tented City Is Built For Jobless

By United Press.

DETROIT.—A city of tents has arisen in Clark Park here to shelter hundreds of welfare families evicted from their homes.

The welfare department, unable to pay rents, started the tent-city early this month, when evictions reached 150 families a day. Most of the tents, owned by vacationers, were loaned for the remainder of the summer.

Clark Park is located on the outskirts of the city, near one of the largest welfare kitchens. Families living there have but a few city blocks to walk to fall in line before the kitchen.

All of the evicted families appear happy in their new homes, despite their abject poverty. The fathers search for work during the day, while the mothers spend their waking hours making things comfortable about the tent homes.

Some of the tents provide shelter for as many as three families. Others are one-family tents.

With the cool days of Autumn approaching, the welfare department is worried. The tent colony is growing daily. Evictions continue to increase.

A LOAF of bread A JUG of wine

Old Omar had a great idea when he sang, "a loaf of bread, a jug of wine and thou, beside me, singing in the wilderness."

Of course, the jug of wine is "out." The price of bread is going up and we are coming out of the wilderness, but outside of that, Omar's picture is OK.

Dealers in wheat, flour and bread all agree that, despite favorable crop conditions in the wheat belt, the price of bread is going up.

BARON PLANS INSTITUTE FOR WORLD MIND

By United Press.

CHICAGO.—An international institute of art, science and education, in which the great minds of the world may exchange ideas for the benefit of mankind is being planned by Baron Karl Ferdinand Tinsley to Castle Schallaburg on the lake and his native Austria.

In the same suite in the Shore Drive hotel that housed Queen Marie of Romania, the baron has expanded his plans. For two weeks he has been the guest of society here, having been presented to President Hoover by the Austrian minister and feted at the capital.

A quiet, scholarly yet dapper appearing man, he is a disciple of the doctrine of informality which believes is the key to the success of the world's economic and political life.

He has donated his services to its 3,000 wooded acres, obtained the promise of the government of Austria to aid many outstanding European artists have given him their aid and he is now discussing his plans with college presidents in America.

If the baron accomplishes his purpose of "a permanent academy where new ideas are struck off by great minds in informal discussion for the development of culture, in the same manner as international politics are taken care of by the permanent institutions as the World Court at The Hague and the League of Nations at Geneva," there soon may be a ghost of ideas born before time and left to haunt the rooms of the castle.

"Huddle" Smash Football Drama, Attraction At Arcadia Theatre

Ramon Novarro attempts a radically different type of role in his new starring picture, "Huddle," which will be Thursday and Friday at the Arcadia Theatre, Ranger.

"Derby Day" Depicted
Many actual campus scenes at Yale University were used as an authentic background for the production which contains many of the old traditions of this famous institution. The celebrated Derby Day and various class activities are used as atmospheric details of the story.

The manner in which contacts and experiences help Tony to find himself form a gripping theme for the picture, which was adapted from Francis Wallace's story. The strong supporting cast includes such well-known players as Madge Evans, Una Merkel, Ralph Graves, John Arledge, Frank Albertson, Kane Richmond, Martha Sleeper, Henry Armetta, Ferick Buros, Lockcliff Fellows and Joe Sauer. Sam Wood directed.

State Nepotism Statute Does Not Prevent Members of Families From Holding Various Jobs

AUSTIN.—State Representative G. (Jack) Cox of Lamar county has decided people of Texas are not keenly interested in nepotism as practiced by state officials at Austin.

Cox made his campaign on employment of kinsmen by state officers and was defeated for reelection.

"Help me put this list of kind-folks off the state payroll and give some unemployed father or mother an opportunity to work," he asked in campaign literature to which he attached a list of alleged office-holding kind-folks.

In Texas, an anti-nepotism statute prevents officials hiring their own relatives within specified degrees of relationship. There is nothing to prevent the head of one department hiring a near relation of the head of another department and nothing to prevent that official from returning the favor by employing near-kin of the other official.

Cox says this has sown the state offices with interrelationships. His list, naming names, is only a partial one, he said. It was published at his request in the journal of the house of representatives during the last legislative session when he had a bill to prohibit numerous members of the same family being on the state payroll. Since then there have been a number of changes in personnel.

The list showed: In the adjutant general's department one employe with relative employed in the governor's office, the railroad commission and the department of agriculture. One with a father in the same office; one with a relative as state senate chamber custodian and one with a son employed in the U. S. geological survey operating in conjunction with the state board of water engineers.

The agricultural department list showed one man and wife employed in the department; sisters employed in the same department; one with a daughter and one with a sister in the highway department. Another agricultural department employe reported a relative, kinship unnamed, working in the controller's department.

The state industrial accident board houses four employes who reported relatives in other state departments; 19 in the health department have relatives in other departments, some more than one; the labor department reported one; the state library four; the state land office four; the state prison system six; the state railroad commission seven; the secretary of state's office two and the state treasury one.

From names attached it was apparent that Representative Cox's list was made up prior to the change of administration in a number of offices.

Cox's bill to scatter state employment was favorably reported by a house committee but later withdrawn. Opponents pointed out that at the schedule of salaries paid by the state, it is necessary for more than one member of a family to work. In numerous instances, too, part time employment is given younger members of a family, while they are attending the state university.

JAPANESE DIET TO CONVEENE

TOKIO.—The vernacular press understands that the third extraordinary session of the Imperial Japanese Diet, the "Teikoku Gikai," probably will be convened soon to consider legislation for farm relief and general improvement of the economic status of the middle and lower classes. Draft bills now are being prepared.

Wet Leader Is Devising Plan of Liquor Control

HOUSTON.—The Texas Federation of Anti-Prohibition Clubs, according to Chairman John Henry Kirby, is selecting a committee to devise a state liquor control plan which will "actually promote temperance."

In addition, the plan sought by the federation will "not only prevent the return of the old-time saloon, but will bring the liquor traffic of Texas out into the open, where it can be regulated, controlled, and taxed," Kirby said.

The committee will be composed of six or more members of the Texas legislature and 12 outstanding citizens including two women and two representatives of organized labor.

"It is hoped by this method to secure the services of an unbiased and patriotic committee which will evolve a model state liquor control plan to take the place of all present state prohibitory laws that have proved ineffective and unworkable," said Kirby.

Kirby hopes to announce the personnel of the committee within the next two weeks.

M'KINNEY.—$27,500 creamery announced for this city will include complete butter manufacturing unit and ice cream mix plant to provide local market for Collin county milk and cream.

The state industrial accident board houses four employes who reported relatives in other state departments; 19 in the health department have relatives in other departments, some more than one; the labor department reported one; the state library four; the state land office four; the state prison system six; the state railroad commission seven; the secretary of state's office two and the state treasury one.

PARIS STYLES

PARIS.—Dotted or plaid sarah is the stuff of which the smarter dresses are made, destined to show indifferently at the necks of Lyone's collarless coats.

Speaking of dots, red and blue dots on a white surface easily accosters and permits three, the red or the blue for more formal occasions and the all white for beach or typically resort places.

Very lacy work sandals continue to make hosiery an important item in the wardrobe, and for those who like a laugh now and then, stockings with holes never fail to produce one! Somehow, with the freedom of the toes, each enmeshed in its own private little silk pocket, the wearer begins to feel as though she should grasp a fountain pen, or at least a stick and try to write her name in the sand along the shore!

The other forms of hosiery needed for week days in town as well as Sundays in the country, are of varying degrees of open mesh lace, and in tones favoring the shadowy and darker effects.

Negro Baptists To Hold Convention

HOUSTON.—The annual convention of the National Baptist convention of the United States, one of the largest denominational gatherings of negroes in the country, will be held here Sept. 7-12. Delegates in excess of 5,000 usually attend the convention from every state in the union.

TURKEY MASCOT SAVES OWN NECK

That's what they all say—"Texaco Fire-Chief Gasoline lifts a car right out of its class". It puts flashing power, extra pep and dash into any engine.

Exceeds U. S. Government specifications for "emergency" fuel

A balanced dish

There's nothing like PEP Bran Flakes. With milk they're almost a perfect food. Rich in whole-wheat nourishment. Plus enough bran to be mildly laxative. And the famous flavor of PEP. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's PEP BRAN FLAKES

The new Texaco Fire-Chief Gasoline is the same type of motor fuel the Government uses for "ambulances, fire-engines and emergency vehicles."

It's anti-knock with an Octane Rating that is outstanding. It's alive with snap, dash—action!

Today try a tankful of this new Texaco Fire-Chief Gasoline. You, too, will say that Texaco Fire-Chief Gasoline certainly answers every "emergency" requirement.

Or, if you prefer a premium motor fuel, ask for the new Texaco-Ethyl, now more than ever the leading premium gasoline. For sale in all our 48 States.
