Empty Stock Yards in Farm Strike Zone

Empty stock pens at Omaha, Neb., packing center of the zone affected by the farmers' strike, are shown above. Farmers picketing roads leading into Omaha have forced cattle and hog shippers not in sympathy with the strike to use railroads to get their animals to market. The Live Stock Exchange building, center of the industry in Omaha, is shown in the foreground.

James Hawn, 60, above, of Woodbine, Iowa, is the new leader of the farmers' strike in the vicinity of Council Bluffs, Iowa. When officers warned him that he could be held responsible for the actions of the men he leads, Hawn said he was willing to go to jail for five years or more if that would aid the striking farmers.

ROOSEVELT SPEAKS ON WET PLANKS

SEAGIRT, N. J., Aug. 27.—Franklin D. Roosevelt drove his campaign into the wet east today with a vigorous appeal for "wise temporary and state's rights" attacking, at the same time, the prohibition policies of the Republican party and its candidate for president and vice president.

He called the Republican prohibition policies "shifty and timid" as contrasted to the prohibition policies of the Democratic party and candidate, which he called "plain, clear and honest."

He continued his direct attack on the leaders of President Hoover by contrasting the "statesmanship" and "foresight" of Woodrow Wilson, former governor of New Jersey, with what he terms the "hindrance" of "our present president."

The New York governor declared that President Hoover, in his acceptance speech, deliberately attempted to misrepresent the prohibition policies of the Democratic party, as failing to protect "dry states."

Finally Roosevelt laughed at the President and his running mate, Vice President Curtis, whose belief on the prohibition question indicated, he said, that the Republican party was attempting to ride into office with one foot on a wet horse and one foot on a dry horse, as he said the party tried to win New York State in 1930.

The answer of the voters to that "circus stunt," he said, would be the same.

"Once upon a time an orator who was describing the scenery of his state remarked that in the north it was 'mountainous' and that in the south it was 'moisterious.'"

Senator Waterman Dies Saturday

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Sen. Charles W. Waterman, republican, Colorado, died early today in his hotel apartment here after a long illness.

The 60-year-old former Denver railroad attorney died at 1:45 a. m. His wife, Anna R. Waterman was at his bedside.

Waterman's death removed the majority of one of the republicans had in the senate during the last session. At present the division is: republicans, 47; democrats, 47; farm-labor, 1.

Waterman was elected to the senate in November, 1926 for a term of six years. He was chairman of the enrolled bills committee and a member of the important naval affairs committee.

The senator was born at Waitsfield, Vermont, in November, 1861. He was graduated from the University of Vermont and secured an L. B. degree at the University of Michigan in 1889. He moved to Denver, Colo., in 1900, where he entered a law firm.

PROGRESS IS SEEN IN PAST THIRTY DAYS

AUSTIN.—Further progress has been made during the past month toward establishing a sound basis for business recovery, it was stated by economists of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. The bond pool formed in June by leading industrialists and financiers gives increasing evidence of having been well timed, and indications are that the Commodities Finance Corporation recently announced for financing the purchase of commodities by industry, will be equally fortunate in the important element of timeliness.

"In neither case, apparently," the report continued, "was an artificial elevation of the price level the primary motive for organizing the pool; but rather the impelling force in both cases seems to have been the conviction that prices of prime securities and of basic commodities were abnormally low, that they were due to rise and that large profits could be obtained through accumulation at this time. The fact that the federal farm board and similar governmental agencies in other countries have invariably failed in attempts to raise the price level of basic commodities, except possibly temporarily, makes it appear all the more unlikely that a group of astute industrial leaders and financiers would attempt artificial price raising. The conclusion to be drawn is that our industrial and financial leaders are not likely to attempt that which has failed in other countries. The apathy and pessimism of the public toward the fundamental improvements which were noted last month have since undergone radical transformation and during the early part of August optimism reigned supreme. More recently speculation in the stock market and some of the positions were nearing the 10-cent level. Improvement in the textile industry, together with weevil devastation provided the stimulus for the rise.

Wheat also scored wide gains, aiding other grains. Wool tops jumped more than 200 points. Silver metal was in demand at higher prices. Long strings of utility shares featured the tape throughout the two hours of trading.

THOMAS B. LOVE IN THE PICTURE

Thomas B. Love is ever in the picture. He is cordially hated for his political flip flops by a vast army of regular democrats. He has lost and lost again as a national Napoleon of politics. He ran for governor two years ago and fell away under the 100,000 vote getting mark. Well, like him or dislike him, he has one of the keenest minds on the Texas stage of political action. He is one of the best informed men as to state affairs. He has had 30 years of experience as an office holder and 40 years experience as a student of economics. He is the best informed man in Texas, speaking of the political crowd, on the banking and insurance laws of the state and the way they have been handled in recent years. Over the radio he gave to the people an exhaustive review of the laws and their history and the men who have functioned as bank commissioners. He swept aside all the falsehoods concerning the management of these important departments of government let loose since the beginning of this campaign. Marshalling facts and figures as well as the records of the departments, he tore to tatters the silly yet vicious falsehoods which have been spread from every stump in Texas.

Yes, like him or dislike him; damn him or praise him, when he speaks concerning insurance and banking in Texas he speaks with the voice of a master who knows his subject and tells it regardless to men of all colors and creeds and conditions and political affiliation.

He has made many blunders of a political nature. Had he remained a regular, had he bowed to the wisdom of his party in state and nation, he would have achieved the ambition of his career—the highest office in the gift of the people of Texas.

JOHN BULL AND HIS CHILDREN

John Bull and his children, meaning the British Isles and the far-flung dominions of the empire, have cemented a tariff agreement which should interest all the people of the United States. American wheat will be barred from the lands of John Bull and his children. Frozen meat will be barred. In fact all staples for export which are produced in the United States and enter into competition with the staples of the far-flung dominions will be barred. In other words a cooperative tariff wall, visible or invisible will cover the British world and is expected to appeal to the pockets of more than a fourth of the population of the globe.

Brother Jonathan built a tariff wall around the American world—meaning the United States. Now Brother Bull is going to build his wall around the British world, covering all the dominions of all the colonies and all the conquered land.

A reminder that in the state of Utah the republicans have nominated for a fifth or sixth term Senator Reed Smoot, an apostle of the Mormon church and chief builder of the American wall. Very foxy are the Utah republicans. By resolution they declared that prohibition was a non-partisan issue to be governed by the conscience of each individual leader or member in the campaigns to come. In other words, the collapsible conscience goes under the skies of Utah and each individual republican may follow the bent of his own mind.

MAYOR CERMAK PREDICTS BEER FOR THE CHICAGO FAIR

Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago went aboard for health reasons. He will return in September. Chicago will astonish all the nations with an international fair in 1933. Mayor Cermak is a naturalized citizen. He was born under the skies of the dead House of Hapsburg.

He visited Poland. He was made much of by the newspaper tribe at Warsaw. He granted an interview. He expressed the opinion that American prohibition would not last and the hope that visitors to the World's fair in Chicago in 1933 would be able to enjoy beer. Well, if the visitors to the Chicago fair next year enjoy beer, it will be of the needle brand turned out by the home brewers of illicit stuff. Wisest of the repeal leaders do not hope for a change earlier than 1936 or 1937 and the practical politicians among them say that in the last analysis the change will come when a majority of the house of representatives will refuse to vote appropriations for the support of those who are known as enforcement officers of prohibition. Then the 18th amendment will be paralyzed as the 14th and 15th amendment were paralyzed.

NORMAN THOMAS SEES HELL IN THE DISTANCE

Norman Thomas of New York is the Socialist nominee for President. His latest is that Wall Street has bought and paid for the democratic as well as it has the republican party. This former minister of the gospel who deserted the pulpit for politics is very pessimistic. This is his latest: "The world is bound for hell or somewhere worse unless socialist principles can be put to work. The only way out is socialism—an international socialism—cooperative federated commonwealth of the world." For thousands of years the prophets of disaster were in evidence. They were ever predicting that the world was going to hell, "or somewhere worse," unless their pet theories were crystallized into laws for the people. It is the same old song of all the ages. And hell is just as far away as ever. Norman Thomas should have stuck to his last—the spiritual side of things. Has he lost all hope in the hereafter as well as hope for the world and its people unless his pet remedies should prevail for the economic salvation of all concerned?

ANOTHER SHIRT ORGANIZATION IN AMERICA

Now veterans of the World war have launched another organization known as the "Khaki Shirts of America." Its leaders have urged the establishment of state camps for homeless and unemployed. They did the urging in a letter sent to the governors of the 48 states. Mussolini has the Black Shirts. Hitler has the Brown Shirts. There is an organization in the Irish Free State partial to the Green Shirts. All this should make business food for the shirt manufacturers.

We know a far better way to have a path beaten to your door than to invent a new mouse-trap. Just have your name included on three or four lists of "sustaining" members of worthy charities.

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

A letter from Prexy Anderson, in which he gives the low down on the high ups on the Abilene Eagle squad, reads, in part as follows:

Dear Bill:
 Will you kindly peep through the knot holes at the Bulldogs' and Mavericks' stadiums, learn who their letter men and best new prospects are, and find out the schedules of both teams? I would like to have them as soon as you can collect them.

In exchange I offer you the lowdown on the Eagles. They get the first warning next Monday afternoon. Until school opens two weeks later, the squad will be limited to 30 or 40. The number will be doubled after that until they begin to drop off.

There are six 1321 regulars coming back, but as it stacks up now the team does not have any ends, a fullback, and there is just one tackle. The veterans are Stanley Smith, center; Glynn Wyatt, quarterback; Pete Barber, tackle; Lennon Blackmon, half; and Veryl Hughes and Pug Cox, guards. Bud Dryden, another of the letter men, was in an automobile accident in July, and is still in bed. He is a game kid and has hopes of getting out by October, but the chances are he won't. Blackmon hurt his back in the same accident, and may be affected.

Frank Cogdell and J. W. (Mighty) Pool, backs, are the only outstanding prospects I have to tell you about right now. Mayhew expects Cogdell to be a whiz if the rest of the team is anywhere near up to standard.

The schedule follows:
 Sept. 30—Sweetwater at Abilene.
 Oct. 8—San Angelo at Abilene.
 Oct. 13—Abilene at Lubbock.
 Oct. 22—Abilene at Ranger.
 Oct. 28—Abilene at Brownwood.
 Nov. 11—Breckenridge at Abilene.
 Nov. 19—Eastland at Abilene.
 Nov. 26—Abilene at Wichita Falls.

Best Regards,
 PREXY ANDERSON.

Bowlers from Breckenridge will again invade Ranger Monday night in an attempt to take another match. So far Ranger has won but one match, while the Breckenridge bowlers have taken three, if our memory serves us right.

Word has also come from Breck that the ladies up that way are bowling enthusiasts and will issue a challenge to any team of ladies Ranger might get up. As far as we know, ladies have been doing very little, if any, bowling here, so a little time might be needed for practice.

And, in the meantime, we have heard nothing else from that challenge Jake Sandefer of Breckenridge was threatening to hurl into the midst of the Ranger Lions club. The Dynamo City Lions are said to have a good bowling team while the Ranger Lions have no team at all, which should make it safe enough for the ladies and the Lions to issue challenges.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 NIA Service Writer
 WASHINGTON — Hoover is a doctor of medicine and a doctor of politics.

Roosevelt is in the positions of a couple of medicine men, striving for the patronage of a wealthy patient and seeking to convince him that the patient can't get well under the other medicine man's ministrations.

They have to play both ends against the middle in their rival sales talk, however, because the tribe is bitterly split up over the relative merits of such remedies as mental healing, intravenous injections, goose grease surgery and alcohol.

One day Medicine Man Hoover, as in his acceptance speech, boasts of the hundred and more magic remedies which he has taken from his kit and applied to the patient, admits that the patient has had a tough siege from which only medical skill is pulling him through and predicts a healthy, glorious future for the fellow if only there is no change in the medicine.

He implies that Medicine Man Roosevelt is a mere inexperienced quack whose tubes and bottles are filled with slow poison.

Recalls Former Healthy State
 Next day Roosevelt points to the patient, howls in dismay at his condition, reviews the pains that he has suffered, recalls how healthy he used to be, before he hired Hoover to keep him well and asks how anyone can still have faith in a healer who lets a subject get into such gosh-awful shape.

If, he says, the patient has seemed slightly more cheerful and frisky of late, it's only because he heard good old Doc Roosevelt was coming to take care of him. That picture closely reflects the fundamental aspects of this campaign. Either you put your trust in Doc Hoover, endorsing his methods, or you want to "change doctors."

Most American families, with a valued and beloved member laid low, have faced such a decision at one time or another, usually in fear and doubt. After three years of taking Hoover prescriptions, they now ponder the waters of the good-looking young doctor from Albany, And, as is always the case among people who are looking for cures, many of them determined to resort to the orthodox healing cults led by Norman Thomas and William Foster

THE Hunger and Cold Angle
 Hoover's acceptance speech is just what medicine men all time. Hardly any of the cures have had a chance to be vet, although they are all aimed to save the patient from the sing lower. But there are claims of achievement which will be tested vigorously by Doc Roosevelt's partisans, such as the "serfion." "We have provided medicines and assurances that they will be none to suffer from hunger and cold."

There is considerable complaint also that Roosevelt is too vague as to just what medicine man he is to feed the patient on. He is hired. But on one point there is no doubt: Doc Roosevelt would let the poor fellow try to build up on light wines and beer just as soon as possible and follow up again as soon as possible, with few snorts of harsh liquor.

There are many teetotalers in the patient's family who are horrified at the thought, but Doc Roosevelt addresses himself to the others.

"D. T.'s" Threat
 DOC HOOPER, meanwhile, wants to retain the support of the teetotalers who do believe in the therapeutic value of alcohol and those others who think that's just what the patient needs. So he explains that there are some things the matter with the sufferer caused by taking hard liquor ration away from him and other things the matter with him which would be seriously aggravated if the rations were suddenly resumed.

So he advises thought and consultation on this moot point, and a few prayers, too. He admits that the patient is getting more and more liquor sneaked in to the bedside despite his own efforts to stop it, but declares that if Doc Roosevelt is allowed to prosper, the patient will be having the T's along with his other manifold miseries.

"The complexity of the world economic situation which now confronts us is summarized briefly in a statement in the report of the gold delegation of the League of Nations, as follows: "We hold the fall in the general level of prices has been the fundamental cause of the present depression and that that fall was the result of the obligation to pay reparations and war debts combined with the unwillingness of the receiving countries to accept payment of goods and services, so the payment had to be made in gold."

The report stated that normal international gold distribution caused the maldistribution of the monetary gold supply of the world and that this situation will have to be corrected before normal conditions can be restored. One of the national economic problems of the fore face congress when it meets in December."

County Meets

By ROY BEDICHEK,
Chief Interscholastic League Bureau

Editor's Note: The following article is one of a series written by Mr. Bedichek on various aspects of the Interscholastic League work in Texas.

September is a significant month in American life for in this month, generally throughout the entire nation, "school begins." These magic words mobilize the boys and girls in a scale and with a thoroughness unparalleled in the recorded history of past centuries and unknown in any other country of the world today. The American free school is at once the inspiration and the despair of aspiring democrats throughout the world. It is the one distinctively American institution; it is the greatest step as yet made towards the great ideal of "equal opportunities for all and special privileges for none."

Associated in Texas with the work of the public schools, organized by them and largely conducted by public school teachers and officials is the University Interscholastic League. Its organization for the current school year also begins in September. In counties where county teachers institutes are held before the classroom work of the schools begins, we usually find a period devoted to the organization of the county league. For many years the constitution and rules of this organization has contained the following paragraph:

"First of all, aim to secure a good live county organization . . . As the membership of the league increases, emphasis should be placed on the county executive committee, since it is here that the nucleus as a whole receive the most benefits from the league activities."

The county organization is formed on a thoroughly democratic basis. The county executive committee, each member of which has specific duties assigned in connection with the different contests and features of the county meet) is elected by popular vote of the teachers assembled. There is one ex-officio officer in the person of the county superintendent of schools who looks after the interests of the rural schools in the meet.

A report of the election of officers in each county is sent to the state office of the league for filing in order that each officer may be placed on the mailing list of the state organization and receive bulletins and announcements which are frequently issued in the interests of the county organizations. Last year there were 230 of these county organizations formed which means that practically every county which contains any schools formed a county league organization.

All of the contests which are thus provided for are directly connected with the work of the schools and so planned that the schools may prepare for them and use them as a stimulus to better endeavor on the part of the pupils without encroaching on any measurable extent upon school time and unduly burdening any teacher with the work of preparation. We say "the schools may prepare for them" etc. with a mental reservation. This is not saying that "all schools do prepare for them . . . without encroaching on any measurable extent," etc. Some schools delay entry until the last minute and then are inclined to proceed by a process of cramming to make the preparation for the oncoming meet. This is a mistake. Again, the school authorities sometimes place upon one teacher an undue load of the preparation work, making it truly a burden, instead of distributing the load so that it may be carried easily. However, we believe that these are the exceptions. As a general rule the league work fits into the routine of the school and re-enforces rather than hinders the regular activities.

The program of the county meet is meant to be broad enough to include the activities and enlist the interest of practically every pupil likes speech-making and desires to learn how to address public gatherings, there is a wide variety of contests in this field which he may enter. If he has a gift for spelling, a contest is provided in which he can show his proficiency and develop this ability. There are contests in music and art for the artistically inclined, a contest for the "wizard with figures," and so on.

On the athletic side, there are games to suit every type. There are group games and individual contests. There are games for girls and games for boys, all organized so as to bring up genuine competition, that is, "competition with a kick in it" for every school. Of course, it is necessary in order to secure effective competition to make many different divisions and classifications, both of schools and of the pupils themselves, but that is too technical a matter to be discussed herein.

Beginning, then, in September, with the early county institutes, the season is formed, all pointing towards the great day of the county meet which occurs in March, usually on Saturdays in order to economize school time. Each school sends its best in the respective events to the county meet, and there under the supervision of the county committee and the individual members thereof, the county championships are determined. It is a great day for the schools and for the school children. It is an "exhibition" day in which the interest and attention of the whole community is centered upon the general welfare of the younger generation and upon their accomplishments.

Where Bullets Halted March of Striking Illinois Miners

Illinois police are shown here looking over automobiles abandoned by striking miners when they were fired on by Franklin county officers near Duquoin, where, according to officers, they were trying to close miners new operating. Several miners were hit by buckshot, and dozens of others suffered minor injuries, inflicted by deputies. The strikers claim they were "lured" to the scene of the battle by deputies and fired upon without warning. Many abandoned their cars and ran when the clash came.

Wichita Falls Golf Tourney To End Season

Special Correspondent.
WICHITA FALLS.—Texas competitive golfing season comes to a close with the staging of the fifth annual Wichita Falls Golf and Country Club invitation tournament Sept. 2, 3, 4, 5, when more than 100 of the leading shot-makers of Northwest Texas gather here for their last fling of the long summer campaign.

Inaugurated five years ago, the Wichita Falls invitation has steadily grown to a place of importance on the state's golfing calendar, and this year's event, coming at the very end of the season and conflicting with no other tournament of consequence, is likely to be the largest and most successful of the five.

Visiting golfers are assured of at least two matches, besides the qualifying round in this tournament, as it has been patterned to appeal to the average player as well as those who are capable of giving Old Man Par a run for his money. Flights of 32 players each will be formed to care for every player who enters, regardless of number, and every entry will play in at least two matches, even if defeated in the first round, as all flights include consolation for the losers. A handsome collection of silverware and trophies will be distributed among the winners and runner-up in all flights.

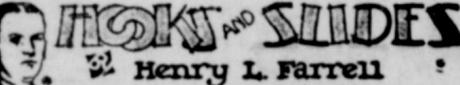

The tournament gets under way on Friday, Sept. 2, with an 18-hole qualifying round. However, the course will be thrown open for practice several days prior to the start and visiting players are invited to take advantage of the practice opportunities. Two rounds are to be played both on Saturday and Sunday, bringing the tourney to the championship final of 36 holes on Labor Day, Sept. 5. The chief entertainment feature will be a stag dinner and smoker following qualifying play Friday.

Winners of the first four tournaments, all of whom are expected to be in the thick of this year's competition, are Ed Stewart, Fort Worth, 1928; Gus Moreland, Dallas, 1929; Morris Norton, Wichita Falls, 1930; and James, Phillips, Ranger, 1931.

Keeping It Short

THE fact that Rogers Hornsby was cast loose by the Cubs was a great break for several major league managers. The magnates promptly signed them to long-term contracts to still any talk that Hornsby would be the next boss.

Brooklyn? Well—
THE old baseball grapevine carries the word that the Brooklyn ball club is about to become its natural self again and drop back to spot just out of the first division. In other words, Brooklyn has been playing over its head, they would have you know.

From Uncle Wilbert
FROM Dover Hall, Ga., comes a courier bearing from Wilbert Robinson this important message: "I would like the fans of Brooklyn to know that I am pulling for Carey and sincerely wish him success. Max and I always understood each other (and, reading between the lines, that implies it was just too bad the front office and the writer couldn't get along). I always thought he would make a good manager. That was my idea when I had him as coach. I expected him to succeed me one day and if I had my way he would not have been released as a Brooklyn coach."

Another Williams
THIS Tony Freitas of the A's continually kept reminding us of somebody we hadn't seen on a ball field for many years. Now and then, in the press box, the question was asked: "Who does this Freitas remind you of?"

Finally Jimmy Essinger, veteran Philly scribe, gave the correct answer. "He's another Letty Williams." Not only is Tony Tony like Letty in style, but in stature. And Tony needn't feel flattered by that likeness, either.

IMPORTANT
When you ask for a product by name, as a result of advertising, do not accept a substitute—substitutes are offered not as a service to you, but for other reasons.

TOMORROW

and its new ways

What discoveries are around the corner—what things, undreamed of today, will be commonplaces tomorrow? The past has seen products once rare and unknown become widespread and familiar. The future will see the process repeated.

Advertising is the driving force which brings about these changes in your life. For when a new product is developed, its distribution is limited until the advertiser tells you about it. When the product is known, you and all your neighbors form a great potential market, permitting quantity production. Economics in manufacture result—and the article comes within the reach of everybody. It has happened before—and it will happen again in the same way.

Read the advertisements! They are of vital importance to you. Your homes and habits are changed by advertised goods. What things novel, interesting, modern—will be offered next? You will find new horizons in the advertising pages of this newspaper.

HERE AND THERE

By ELVIE B. JACKSON

Looking of the content of the newspaper, the reader is struck by the cartoons and strips, and for no other reason...

That, one wonders, are fur coats, and why apply them to a man's clothes, and of course one looks to find out just what the story and the advertisement are in the handy daily...

When we were youngsters we used a little hand-printing and sold the double leaflet paper to neighbor children...

Advertising is as old as the hills. Before the printed page was invented, advertising was achieved by a public crier, walked through the ancient streets, and cried the wares of the wares.

Advertising writing nowadays is as carefully as public relations, and international relations. Schools have been in advertising for the student in journalism, and the art of advertising has become a genuine science.

Lyric Offers

Second Summer Bargain Show

The second summer gain show which is now playing at the Lyric theatre, presents a diversified program of excellent screen entertainment. According to Manager Burche of the Lyric it will receive a greater reception from local theatre goers than was accorded the first one.

Like its predecessor, it will be presented at regular prices and composed of five special units of screen entertainment that have been chosen for their variety of subject and amusement value. The first unit is Paramount's uproarously funny comedy drama, "Madame Racketeer," which features a cast that includes Alison Skipworth, a new star who indicates that Marie Dressler had better look to her laurels, and George Raft, the most talked of man on the screen.

Sports lovers will find unit No. 2 especially to their liking as it presents Grantland Rice, noted sports writer in his latest Sports Eye View, "Building Winners." Included in the list of celebrities whom he introduces to you are Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, baseball luminaries and Bobby Dodd, youthful coach of Georgia Tech's Golden Tornado.

The third unit is Betty Boop that famous little cartoon miss in her latest musical offering, "Stopping the Show." Betty unquestionably will meet with the approval of local movie patrons as her popularity is growing by leaps and bounds.

Beauty and sentiment are most attractively presented by the fourth unit which is Fitzpatrick's Travel Talk, "Home Sweet Home." The noted traveler takes you for a visit to homes of every nation and clime.

This second summer bargain show is rounded out admirably by unit No. 5, the world famous and highly popular Paramount Sound News. It brings you in this program some timely views of recent happenings from the four "corners" of the globe.

for LOVE or MONEY

H.W. CORLEY

WASN'T Missie putting up the money for everything? "Oh course it's a boat," Ma answered sprightly. "And a fine boat, too. A fine little boat. What did you expect, a floating night club?"

"Something this side of the Nina or the Pina," Lottie remarked. "Well, we're just a pair of vagabond travelers. What do we care?" Following their guides, loaded with baggage, the girls made their way to the lower deck of the boat.

"Mr. Ashton said this was the better deck. The natives swarm these boats at every port and as this deck it is impossible for them to look in at our port holes," Mona explained. "We have the stateroom reserved for the government official at St. Thomas. It must be all right."

Stateroom A was the best the boat afforded. It was not large, but could be called small. Two iron beds were "rooted to the floor," as Ma put it. A dresser was likewise attached. There were two comfortable rattan armchairs, and a long mirror. Windows looked out on a tiny deck which the steward assured them was their own.

Across a sweep of lower deck filled with winches, coils of rope and open hatches Mona could see the second cabin. It looked something like a miniature Flatiron building shoved into the stern. "Glory be, all Harlem is aboard!" was Ma's ejaculation. It almost seemed so. The second-class cabin and decks were filled to overflowing.

DO NOT TREAT YOURSELF WITH "HEARSAY" Neighbors and friends are priceless possessions, and should be so regarded—but when it comes to treating yourself in case of illness, the advice of a neighbor or friend is not the safest plan. They mean well, of course, and simple little ailments and accidents about the house can often be treated casually with home remedies from the medicine chest. Better to be Safe Than Sorry. However, when there is anything the matter with you, to experiment with yourself or treat your case with "hearsay," may be very expensive and dangerous. There are many underlying causes for outward symptoms, discernible only to a Physician, after careful examination and analysis. Disease detected and treated in its first stages is so much easier to cure, and is less expensive to you physically and financially. Don't experiment on yourself! THE DOCTOR SPENT YEARS TO LEARN HOW. Misses Rueser and Kribbs Return From Visit to Monterey

Misses Agnes Rueser and Bernadine Kribbs have returned home from their vacation trip spent at Monterey. Miss Rueser was winner in the Times Monterey contest and succeeded in winning over the other contestants through the assistance of Miss Bernadine Kribbs.

In discussing their visit to Monterey they expressed themselves as being more than delighted with the magic city, and its wonderful surroundings. Their visit was made more pleasant through the courtesies shown them by the various business people of Monterey.

Especially did they enjoy the gardens, parks and much talked about Horseshoe Falls, one of the outstanding attractions of Monterey.

The night clubs and the fascinating manner in which they are conducted was also of interest to the young ladies.

One feature of the visit impressed them as being quite a surprise when they found the movie houses practice the habit of intermission and one can buy candy, pop-corn and other confections, similar to carnival fashion. The once popular theme song, "It Happened in Monterey" could be appreciated by the girls as being well composed and just so.

You can't get away from the fact that A SIX IS MORE ECONOMICAL

Thousands of tests have proved... engineers have established... owner experience has confirmed THIS FACT: For lowest, all-round motoring costs: SIX CYLINDERS. No more—No less!

With more, you sacrifice the economy for which Chevrolet is so famous. With less, you sacrifice the kind of maintenance cost that Chevrolet gives you—the lowest available in today's low-price market!

SAVE WITH SIX CYLINDERS

Why not strike a happy balance between "too many" and "too few"? Do as the majority of low-priced car buyers have done ever since January, 1931: SAVE—with SIX CYLINDERS. The Chevrolet six-cylinder engine gives you wonderful mileage on gasoline—and oil! Because its smoothness is built-in—the body, chassis and engine are spared the repair costs that result from constant, inherent vibration!

STILL GOOD AFTER 15,000 MILES

And the Chevrolet Six stays young—10,000, 15,000, 20,000 miles and more—carries on—smoothly, dependably, economically.

Moreover it has every modern feature you're entitled to: Free Wheeling, car is up-to-date without it. A genuine Syncro-Mesh as originated General Motors. And big, luxurious Fisher bodies. And four parallel mounted springs.

Remember that you can switch to 1932 Chevrolet for very little more. In fact, you'll probably find it economical to buy a new Chevrolet rather than to worry along with the old car.
