UNITED PRESS SERVICE BRINGS LATE NEWS OF THE WORLD TO TIMES READERS
RANGER, TEXAS, FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 2, 1932

A girl with a good disposition makes the best wife, according to an adviser to the lovers. We had to read that twice to make sure that she didn't say a good position.

THE WEATHER
WEST TEXAS—Partly cloudy. Warmer in Panhandle tonight. Saturday generally fair. Warmer in north and east portions.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS TOWNS INUNDATE

GRIPINGS

By GUS
This column really needed some thought given to its contents today, because I had a weighty matter to take up with my customers. However, I am sure you'll excuse me for grammatical errors and misspelled words while I am writing under pressure.

The pressing matter I want to take up has to do with Bill Mayes. In his column yesterday he was somewhat pessimistic over the prospects of his being able to get four-bit haircut this week, knowing that Bill really needs a haircut I am hereby and herewith asking my customers to assist me in providing the four-bits.

You may hand your contribution to Fire Chief Murphy at the fire station in Eastland just and it to Lee Reid and tell them it is for the Gripping Gus Emergency Fund to buy Bill Mayes a haircut.

You won't need to fear hurting Bill's feelings a bit because he and I have an agreement that if we get the haircut enough to buy one haircut, I get the surplus to apply on the cost of having my own gray locks sheared.

Officers were quite busy last night. They had a young riot over Oden. Rumor has it that an officer had his gun wrested from him in the melee. Loss Woods and Steele Hill answered the call but all was peace and quiet when they arrived. Charges were filed against four of the participants.

Then someone broke in the depot at Eastland.

On top of that there was an auto collision in Eastland right square dab in front of the courthouse. The less said about that, the better, however.

Well, it's too late now to tell the rest of the story and anyway I just put this little piece in today's paper so you know I'm not puny nor indisposed nor sick.

Hoover Smiles, Sees Jobs

It was a broad smile that President Hoover wore when he stepped out of his new six-point program for combating the depression by providing more jobs and more credit, and this picture shows it. The photo was taken at Washington when the president spoke before the nation's industrial and political leaders.

HOUSE AND SENATE TAKE LITTLE ACTION

AUSTIN, Sept. 2.—Disappointed crowds thronged from Senate to House galleries today in expectation of new election action in the State legislature.

The crowd waited in the Senate until that body had refused to suspend its rules and take up the election investigation and then thronged to the House, where a similar resolution for a House investigation had been sent up.

Its presentation in the House was cut off by expiration of the time allowed for resolutions. The House refused to vote to extend the time.

The House resolution now cannot come up until Monday, as the House recessed until Saturday morning and no new resolution period will occur until after an adjournment, as distinguished from a recess. The Senate resolution may be taken up tomorrow morning, that body having adjourned today.

The House resolution differs from the Senate resolution in being directed particularly at election practices and activities of state departments in the recent election rather than the investigation of illegal voting.

A resolution in the House calling on Texas members of Congress to support payment of the soldier bonus was passed after an unsuccessful attempt had been made to tack on to it an amendment endorsing a beer tax to meet the bonus demands. Another resolution was passed asking the federal farm board to hold its cotton.

Failure of the House and Senate to agree on their own pay for the session prevented proposed adjournment of the House until Monday.

Beauty Envoy From Philadelphia

Hello! Lovely day, isn't it? Read any good books lately? ... Oh, excuse us! We forgot to introduce Miss Rosalyn Schultz of Philadelphia. No, she's not going back. She's going to Wildwood, N. J., where there's to be a national beauty pageant. ... Bye, bye! Drop us a post-card, Rosalyn.

State Can Be Broke and Yet Have Millions of Dollars in the Treasury

AUSTIN—How the state can be broke and yet have money is explained in a recent ruling of Assistant Attorney General R. W. Yarbrough for State Auditor Moore Lynn.

There are 53 separate state funds. Some have millions on the right side of the ledger. Others are in the red.

An individual, short on one pocket, might dip his hand into another pocket that was full. The state cannot do so, except to a limited extent. How far funds may be switched about, to meet difficulties arising from the subject of a 31-page typewritten ruling.

Some of the funds can be diverted by the legislature. Some are fixed by the constitution and must stay as they are until the people vote for a change. Those constitutionally fixed funds are:

The Confederate pension fund, the permanent orphan asylum fund, the available school fund, the state free text-book fund, the permanent lunatic asylum fund, the permanent blind asylum fund, the permanent deaf and dumb asylum fund, the permanent orphan asylum fund, the permanent university building fund, the available funds for the blind, deaf and dumb, lunatic and orphan asylums, respectively. These available funds are not transferable into any one of the part that is derived as income from their permanent funds. Supplemental available funds are transferable.

The opinion groups next statutory funds, which can be transferred to other purposes only by new act of the legislature. These include the general revenue fund, the state highway fund, the highway gasoline tax fund (under the constitution a fourth of this must go to schools); the highway trust fund, which is a special fund received from sale of sand, gravel and shell in state waters and cottonseed inspection fund.

Numerous interesting state funds are disclosed by the attorney general's investigation.

There is a special livestock sanitary fund with a balance of $44,721 which has remained unchanged for 10 years. There are special tax funds for Bailey, Crane, Upton, Cochran, Winkler and Loving counties, created when the counties are unorganized. Loving county is the only one of these holding a balance of $18. Final settlement with all of the counties is suggested by the attorney general. Loving county was not organized until 1931.

At one time the state operated a state railroad. There is outstanding a large trade territory this railroad operation and no money with which it can be paid without a legislative appropriation.

One fund originated during the Civil war. It is a special loan tax fund. A book balance of $79,409 has been carried on the records of the comptroller since the biennial report of 1867-68, for this fund.

The auditor's investigation resulted in report that instead of being a balance to the state treasury, the amount is really a statement of certificates of indebtedness issued in aid of the Confederacy which were destroyed. There is no likelihood any valid claim ever will be filed for them but the comptroller has no authority to drop them from the books.

Another old fund is the Agricultural & Mechanical college fund of $209,000. It arose from the sale of 180,000 acres of land donated to the state by the United States. It is a permanent fund for the college.

'UNIT' FORMED FOR FERGUSON BY HER AIDES

HOUSTON, Sept. 2.—In order that Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson may not be deprived of the democratic gubernatorial nomination, a "Ferguson unit" of delegates will go to the state convention at Lubbock Sept. 12 in fight for her rights.

James E. Ferguson, the candidate's husband and advisor, telephoned Harris county aides last night and said a plan was afoot to certify Governor R. S. Sterling as the nominee instead of Mrs. Ferguson, to whom incomplete returns gave the victory.

Escort Shares in M'Cormick Will

Bequeathed five-twelfths of the estate of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, Edward D. Krenn of Chicago, above, has chosen to take a life income of $2000 a month instead. Krenn, young Swiss architect, had been Mrs. McCormick's social escort and business associate for 11 years. The remainder of the estate—once estimated at $40,000,000, but now believed to be worth about $6,000,000—was will be to Mrs. McCormick's three children.

President Harper appointed Ernest H. Jones and J. O. Earnest as entertainment committee for the luncheon next week.

There were 28 members and five guests present.

DAMAGE IS ESTIMATED AT TWO MILLION

Several Persons Reported Missing in Record High Water.

Torrential rains in Southwest Texas today sent the Nueces, Devils' and Rio Grande rivers to the highest marks in history at many points.

Damage was estimated at $2,000,000 in the vicinity of Del Rio, with the new $1,500,000 Central power and light steam plant on Devils' River almost destroyed by a 20-foot wall of water.

Water blocked highways and railroad tracks between Del Rio and El Paso, causing San Antonio-El Paso traffic to be routed by Fort Worth.

Inhabitants of Piedras Negras, opposite Eagle Pass, evacuated homes as a 40-foot rise sent the Rio Grande to the highest point in history there.

Seven men, trapped in the Central Power and Light plant were rescued. A small boat was used as a ferry after stretching a cable from the plant to the bank. The men had spent the night on the roof of the plant.

Half a dozen Devils' River homes, including two owned by Claude Hudspeth, former congressman, were washed away by the swirling waters.

Sam Taylor, an invalid, his wife and two children, were rescued from their homes at the juncture of the Chiegas and the Rio Grande.

The water washed out 1,200 feet of the approach to the Villa Acuna-Del Rio international bridge and carried away the government flood gauge.

Heavy damage was reported in Villa Acuna, flooded during the night but Del Rio, two miles from the Rio Grande, was in no danger.

Additional flood waters pouring in the Rio Grande from the Rio River and other streams caused ranchers and dairymen to abandon homes and drive their cattle to higher ground.

At Abilene an additional 1.08 inches of rain fell in the last 24 hours, making a total of 6.34 inches there in four days.

At Sweetwater the rainfall in the past four days was more than 12 inches, with rain still falling.

Floodwaters washed out the steel railroad bridge of the Southern Pacific over David's River.

A Missouri Pacific bridge over the Nueces, near Uvalde, was washed out. Uvalde-San Antonio train service was suspended.

A dozen persons were reported missing near Eagle Pass and Piedras Negras, border towns built on the banks of the Rio Grande.

Tri-State Fair At Amarillo To Open On September 19

AMARILLO, Texas.—Railroad fares to Amarillo will be the lowest in the Panhandle's history during the Tri-State fair, Sept. 19-24, inclusive.

Not only fair officials, but the railroads anticipate record crowds. For the first two days of the fair round-trip tickets will be sold for 60 per cent of the one-way charge. Excursion rates will be in effect during the remaining four days.

In anticipation of the record crowds Tri-State fair officials have agreed no expense in securing the best of varied attractions ranging from a world championship with $5,500 in prizes and night auto races to the usual carnival feature.

The Tri-State fair rodeo this year will be in the same class with the Cheyenne round-up and Calgary," said J. A. Rush, secretary, who declared entries already are pouring in from all sections of the country.

Leonard Stroud will direct the rodeo.

Tom Holden of Denver, who has contracted to stage the auto races during four nights of the fair, has guaranteed to enter not less than 100 first class racing cars. "Mr. Holden staged the races here July 1 and they were highly successful," Rush said.

The Wortham shows, with 350 people, have been secured for the carnival attraction.

Another night feature will be the Black Mask players, who will offer the best of their repertoire.

On the last day the fair association will sponsor one of the first football games of the season, Texas Tech vs. Texas A. & M.

Wichita Falls To Have Big Jubilee

WICHITA FALLS.—A colorful panorama of Wichita Falls during the years preceding and immediately following arrival of the first train and first town lot sale on Sept. 27, 1882, will be presented in a historical pageant at the city's golden jubilee celebration planned for Sept. 26-28. Twenty-one stages of "Wichita Falls" pageant will be represented in the pageant.

Miss Juanita Kinsey, who wrote the pageant's continuity, will direct its presentation. Distribution of committee work has been made with each unit responsible for a particular episode.

The 21 episodes have been named as follows: The rule of the Comanche Indians; coming of the pioneers; the first white family; the "bedroom school"; cowboys in the range; wagon and carriage parade; automobile parade; dance of the drought and virtues; signing of petition for incorporation; coming of the first train; anniversary ball; Indian celebration; bank robbery; scene from "The Bohemian Girls"; Wichita Falls in Spanish-American and World wars; the oil boom; a junior college graduation class; assembly of pioneers; and George Washington and a living flag.

Tentative arrangements call for the presentation of a Hollywood motion picture star, but no definite announcement has yet been made.

Retired Dallas Business Man Dies At Chicago

DALLAS, Sept. 2.—Harry M. Rubel, 68, retired Dallas business man who was Texas manager for Sears Roebuck company from 1914 to 1925, died today in Chicago it was learned by friends here.

Rubel, although still maintaining a home here, lived part of each year in Chicago since his retirement.

His widow, one son, J. R. Rubel of Chicago, one daughter, Mrs. C. H. Caton of Kansas City and a brother, T. H. Rubel of Mineral Wells, survive him. Funeral plans had not been completed.

He was widely known here and was a member of the Dallas Country Club, City Club and active in the Dallas Chamber of Commerce activities.

Army Pilots Leap As Plane Burns

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 2.—First Lieut. Joseph H. Hicks and Edwin Rawlings of Brooks Field, today leaped safely in parachutes from their burning plane at Fort Ringgold on the Mexican border military authorities here were informed.

Rawlings who is from Minneapolis is a graduate of Hamline University and holder of the distinguished flying cross.

Will Speak At Courthouse

Good Government Party candidate for Governor of Texas in the General election in November, who will speak at the courthouse on Labor Day.

Candidate For Governor To Speak At Courthouse

Judge George W. Armstrong of Fort Worth, independent candidate for governor, will speak on the courthouse square, Eastland, at 3 p. m., Monday, Sept. 5.

Judge Armstrong is a logical and forceful speaker. He has written several books upon the operations of the federal reserve system and the money question.

He was invited to Washington to make an argument as a monetary expert in support of the Palmer bill. He will point out a way by which the state can establish its own currency and credit system, and thereby restore values and prosperity.

Plan New Rules For Auto Races At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Increased interest in the annual 500-mile Memorial Day race at the Indianapolis motor speedway would be afforded by a group of new regulations suggested by automotive engineers and racing devotees.

Outstanding among the proposed new rules, which now are being investigated for feasibility, are those providing that at least three stops be made for fuel during the 500 miles; that a car travel 23 miles at 100 miles an hour to qualify and that 42 race creations be permitted to start the event.

Gas Halts

Suggesting that only 15 gallons of gas be permitted in each machine, greater thrills and more interest in the annual 500-mile Memorial Day race at the Indianapolis motor speedway would be afforded by a group of new regulations suggested by automotive engineers and racing devotees.

Cave Skeleton May Solve Old Texas Mystery

ODESSA, Texas.—A human skeleton found in a cave near here may be the solution to a murder mystery which for 25 years has baffled police.

In the spring of 1907, Charles Lentzel, wealthy ranch owner and native of Germany, disappeared. When last seen he was riding toward Odessa with two men. With twenty cows, Texas rangers and county officers began the search.

Finally they discovered the two men who had ridden with Lentzel. These two reported Lentzel had boarded a train at Odessa and had sold his ranch to them. They showed deeds to the property.

The search continued. Lentzel could not be traced. Suspicion turned toward the two companions whose names now are forgotten by the oldest inhabitants. Officers reported they found some of Lentzel's clothing and his watch in their possession. Sufficient evidence never could be established to charge them with murder.

Divided opinion, one side believing Lentzel had disappeared of his own accord, the other saying he had been murdered, finally dwindled into only a faint recollection of the mystery.

Then J. S. Dickens, employee of a ranch near here, made his startling discovery while wandering through the cave. Inside the cave he found a skeleton, covered with rocks. Dickens started inquiries.

Texas rangers identified marks on the skull, a wisp of brown hair and three gold teeth lodged in the upper jaw, as closely fitting the description of the wealthy rancher. The skeleton has been sent to the State university at Austin, to see if it is possible to determine the nationality of the person.

On this occasion, if possible, may largely depend the final decision as to the unsolved disappearance of Lentzel.

Bodies of Cannibals Found of Gulf Coast

AUSTIN.—Skeletons of 44 cannibals who once roamed the Texas gulf coast will rest peacefully in Waggoner hall at the University of Texas here.

They have been added to the university collection as a result of excavations by an anthropology expedition near Capien, in the Beaumont territory.

The bodies, many of them in upright position, were found in three pits. Generally the bodies were placed with the feet of one opposite the head of another. Eighteen pits were found with the bodies.

It is presumed they were used in making beads. Inside one small skeleton, was probably an early baby's rattle. It was made of tortoise shell.

Mayor Thurman Is Slightly Better

Reports from the West Texas Clinic and Hospital this afternoon said that Mayor John Thurman's condition was showing some improvement, though he was still in a serious condition.

Mr. Thurman rested rather well Thursday night and today. Dr. Kuykendall said that his condition, though still serious, seemed more hopeful than it had Thursday.

Readers Will Get Times In Time To List Their Needs

Monday being a holiday for all stores in Ranger, large crowds of shoppers are expected to visit the city Saturday to buy supplies needed over the long week-end.

The Times, reaching readers over a large trade territory this afternoon in time for planning of week-end purchases, makes the paper an ideal place for a merchant to place his advertising.

Each Friday this added service is rendered to the merchants of the city in order that they may get the most for their advertising dollar. This service, in addition to many other features that make the Times the leading paper of the county, make it the best advertising medium to be found by the merchants.

Tackle and Guard Positions Worry A. & M.'s Coaches

COLLEGE STATION, Texas.—How to fill the important guard and tackle positions will be the big question mark staring Coach Madison Bell in the face when he begins shaping his Texas A. & M. college football team for its 1932 efforts.

Four guards and three tackles are listed among the 1931 lettermen not returning, indicating the forward wall must be bolstered if the Aggies are to be reckoned with as contenders for the Southwest conference championship.

One of the season's bright spots, Bell believes, will be the presence of Charlie Malone, Dallas, the Aggies' prospect for all-American honors at end this year. Ray Murray, Mercedes, is another 1931 letterman available for wing duty this year.

Of the 45 candidates invited out for fall practice beginning Sept. 10, Bell expects to have 12 of the 23 lettermen of 1931 around whom to mold his team. Seven of these are backs. A promising crop of sophomore candidates also will be on hand.

The backfield lettermen returning are: Capt. Jimmy Aston, Farnesville; Clifford (Frenchy) Domingue and Rue Barfield, Port Arthur; W. B. (Dub) Williams, Greenville; Ted Spencer, Gilmer; Henry Graves, Corsicana, and W. W. (Pete) Hewitt, Groesbeck.

Besides Malone and Murray, lettermen of the line expected to return include Charlie Cummings, Bryan, tackle; George Lord, Jourdan, guard, and Willis Nolan, Santa Rosa, center.

Last year's guards not returning will be Jack Christian, Abilene; Oliver Guseman, Houston; A. A. (Bud) Moore, Itasca, and R. H. Hornsby, Austin. Tackles who will be unavailable are Carl Moulden, Cisco, 1931 captain; Byron Magrill, Marshall, and Oran Dawson, Crockett.

Other 1931 lettermen whose presence Bell will miss are Luther Bell, Hereford, end; Earl Rudder, Eden, center; J. E. Robertson, Austin, center; Walter Davis, Fort Worth, halfback; Paul McFadden, Cleburne, halfback, and Nona Rees, Dallas, halfback.

The Aggie 1932 schedule: Sept. 24—Texas Tech at Amarillo.

Oct. 1—Tulane university at New Orleans.
Oct. 8—Texas College of Arts and Industries at College Station.
Oct. 15—Texas Christian university at College Station.
Oct. 22—Baylor university at Waco.
Oct. 29—Centenary college at Shreveport.
Nov. 5—S. M. U. at Dallas.
Nov. 12—Rice Institute at College Station.
Nov. 24—University of Texas at Austin.

Czechs Missed Effects of Slump

WASHINGTON.—Social legislation and close ties with the land saved Czechoslovakia from suffering the most acute effects of the economic depression such as were experienced in some other countries, according to Ferdinand Veverka, Czechoslovak minister in Washington.

Returning here after a six weeks visit home, Minister Veverka said there was a great deal of hardship and privation being suffered throughout the nation, just as there is in almost every country. He said it was without doubt the most difficult period for thousands of his countrymen since they achieved their new independence.

Nevertheless, he did not believe his country had descended to the depths of starvation and social disorder which prevails in some other parts of the world.

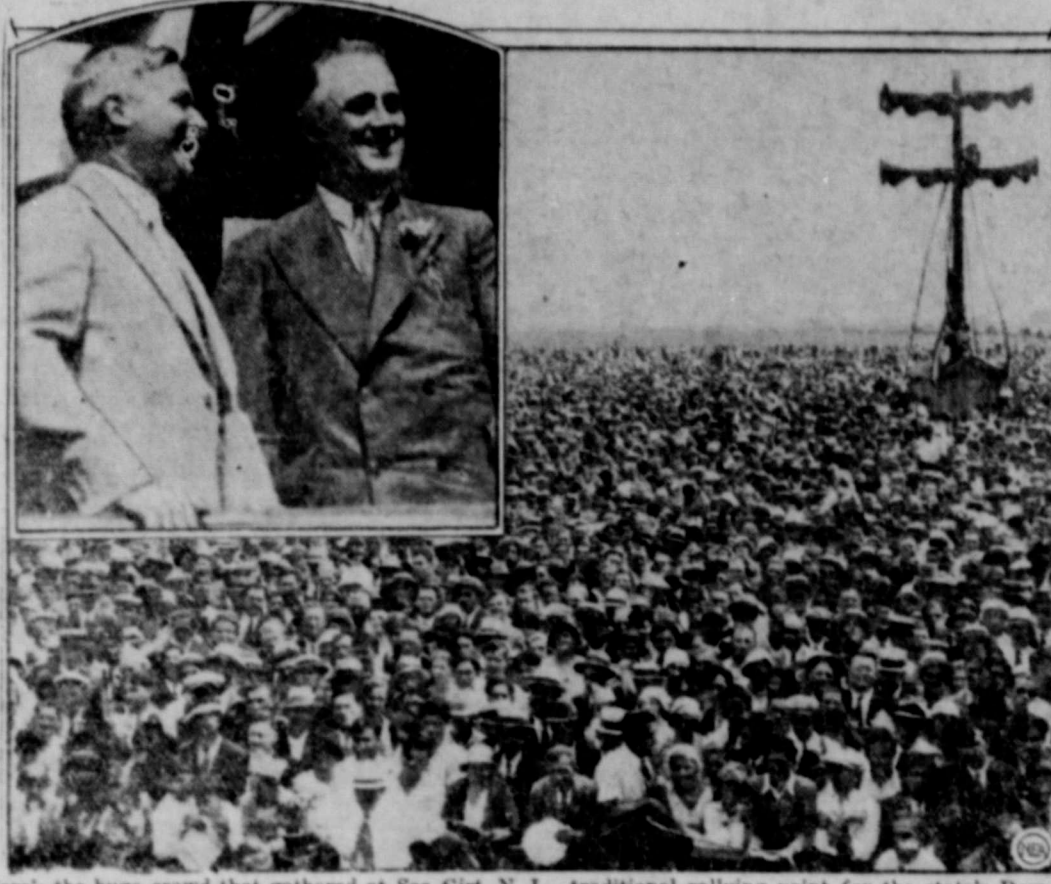

"There have been two factors which saved us from the most acute phases of the depression," he told the United Press.

"The first of these was a well constructed government system of social legislation. This provided small steady income which helped many persons, even in a small way, through the period of stress and served as a shock absorber for social repercussions.

"The second factor was the close connection which a large part of the people have with the land. This relationship is different from that of persons in the United States. While it is true that there is a large industrial and a large rural population in both Czechoslovakia and the United States, our people are closer to the land than Americans.

"Many of the workers in the city have parents, or uncles or cousins who still live on the farm.

Roosevelt Hailed by New Jersey Throngs

Here's the huge crowd that gathered at Sea Girt, N. J.—traditional rallying point for the state's Democracy—to hear Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt demand outright prohibition repeal and attack Republican campaign tactics. And in the inset above, you see the Democratic presidential nominee himself (at right) with Governor A. Harry Moore of New Jersey as they turned smiling faces upon the cheering throng. Note the battery of amplifiers which carried the speakers' voices to the 100,000 listeners.

Many still own small tracts of land themselves. In such cases they have resource to some food and shelter in time of need. While there is not much to divide, it is possible to save the family from starvation.

Minister Veverka reported great grief and disappointment at the death of the leading Czechoslovak manufacturer, Thomas Bata, but he said plans are progressing for the directors to continue the organization along the same lines which Bata established.

They're still arguing about whether John Hanson or George Washington was the first president of the United States. If they keep that up much longer, the only solution will be for the supreme court to hold the Declaration of Independence unconstitutional.

The real trouble with government seems to be that we have too few ideals and too many deals.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia.—Percival is a pet snail belonging to W. C. Lang. Just big enough to cover a quarter, he plays policeman in the Lang lily pool and when an 18-inch garter snake sought to play with the goldfish, he promptly set upon the disturber. Lang found the belligerent snail fixed tightly to the head of the snake and—the snake was dead.

Here is George W. (Molly) Malone of Nevada, who is a candidate for national commander of the American Legion. Malone is Nevada's state engineer, member of its public service commission, its Colorado river commission and is active in national Legion affairs. The election will be held at the Legion's national convention in Portland, Ore., Sept. 12-15.

School Children to Have Theatre Party

All school children under years of age may receive a ticket to the Arcadia theatre Saturday to see the picture, "Ma Me A Star," by calling at United Dry Goods Store in Ranger and asking for a ticket. Roy McCloskey, manager of Ranger store, has made arrangements with the Arcadia theatre whereby he will be host to all school children under 12 years of age.

Prize Pilots of Air Derby

Officers Are Elected At Legion Auxiliary

The election of new officers was the high point of interest at the meeting of the American Legion auxiliary Thursday evening, when a large attendance of members met at the hall for one of the most outstanding sessions of the season, with the hour presided over by the president, Mrs. Al Tunc.
The officers who will serve throughout the ensuing term, are as follows: President, Mrs. Tunc; vice president, Mrs. Carrie Brady; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. D. W. Johnson; sergeant at arms, Mrs. S. L. Golden; chaplain, Mrs. Bethel; historian, Mrs. J. B. Heister; and reporter, Mrs. D. W. Johnson.

Ruth Class Luncheon Wednesday with Mrs. Martin

The Ruth Sunday school class of the Central Baptist Church will be served with a joint luncheon at the home of Mrs. Bonds Martin, Elm street, Wednesday instead of Tuesday.
The 1 o'clock luncheon will be followed with a business session arranged to be called at 2:30.
Those unable to attend the luncheon are invited to be present for the general discussion of fall plans during the business period of the afternoon.

Rabbit Breeders Secure Awards for County Exhibits

The Rabbit Breeders association held an enthusiastic meeting Thursday night, when committee reports were submitted in connection with the awards to be given in various classification of rabbits.

Rhem Aids Phils

One man doesn't make a pitching staff, but three or four like Phil Rhem, above, would just about put the Phillies into the National League championship. Since he was traded by the St. Louis Cardinals to the Phils, Rhem seems to have taken an interest in his mound work. His pitching this season has been one of the league's high spots.

Eastland Committee, C. C. Harris and J. A. Ross, reported they had met with splendid success in canvassing the local merchants for special awards.

Secretary Ross stated there will be 75 or 80 special prizes for the distribution in the various departments.
President Owen reported that the plan previously considered of having rabbit meat sandwiches served in a booth adjoining the rabbit show during the fair, had met with a favorable answer from the committees in charge of the fair.

The Rabbit Breeders association will have a committee of their members in charge of this booth.
The purpose of the distribution of these sandwiches is to demonstrate the delicacy and desirability of using rabbit meat for sandwich filling.
Those present were C. C. Harris, H. J. Johnson, J. A. Garrett, C. C. Harris, and J. M. Keston, B. F. W. E. Staller, I. V. Simmonds, U. M. Harris, H. L. Bouchillon, K. M. Herron, George Carrack, Eugene Whit, T. M. Johnson, J. A. Ross, and H. L. Owen of Eastland.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

THERE is no doubt but that potatoes 365 days in the year become monotonous and a change is heartily welcomed. This is a good time to use potato substitutes for they combine admirably with the late fall vegetables and contribute pleasing variety to vegetable menus. However, when we plan to substitute rice or one of the paste-foods, certain fundamental differences should be kept in mind.

Properly cooked potatoes furnish minerals which are lacking in the cereal foods, but at this season of the year when vegetables are so abundant, this deficiency can be taken care of easily and cheaply.

Then the tendency to serve macaroni or noodles in a rich sauce leads to the addition of many calories to the dish that simply cooked and served potatoes would not provide.

When the meat course is light a scallion dish of macaroni, spaghetti rice or noodles does much to ek out the dinner. The noodle ring with its eggs and milk, adds many protein calories to the menu. Macaroni in a tomato and cheese sauce does its share toward increasing the calories.

Plain boiled rice is suitable to serve with a heartier meat course. Unless rice is cooked in milk or richly dressed with butter, three-fourths cup is required to make one hundred calories.

Noodle ring is sure to please when filled with any creamed fish.

meat or tall flavored vegetable, it is excellent for an early autumn luncheon.

Noodle Ring
Two cups noodles, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1-2 cup grated cheese, 2 eggs, 1-2 teaspoon Worcestershire.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Apricots, cereal cooked with raisins, cream, crisp bacon, toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Baked macaroni and onions, tomato and celery salad, Boston brown bread, berries with sugar and cream, grape juice.
DINNER: Rolled and stuffed mutton shoulder, rice croquettes with currant jelly, Kentucky wonder beans, Boston head lettuce and cucumber salad, one-crust apple pie, milk, coffee.
Ire sauce, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-3 teaspoon pepper.
Cook noodles in boiling salted water for ten minutes. Drain. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Add cheese; cook until melted. Remove from fire and add noodles and well beaten yolks of eggs. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Turn into a well buttered mold and bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven. Untold and serve with any preferred creamed mixture.

Picture Title Has Real Meaning to a Trio of Film Stars

"Love Me Tonight" That's a plea that has almost entirely a romantic connotation. As the title of Maurice Chevalier's latest picture, at the Arcadia theatre Sunday and Monday. But there was a time in the life of the star, and of Jeanette MacDonald and Charlie Ruggles, who head the cast supporting him, that it meant something entirely different—something like: "Please, please—like me, applaud me, give me a break!"

Chavalier addressed it to an audience in a Paris music hall, Miss MacDonald to a theatrical producer, and Ruggles to the audience at a performance of a San Francisco stock company. Chavalier's plea, "Love Me Tonight!" was made a little over 10 years ago. The French actor was a "comique" at a Paris music hall, and had a large following. But he was not the tuxedoed, straw-hatted figure that movie audiences now know. He appeared on the stage in what corresponds to the makeup used by American burlesque-show comedians—a huge red putty nose, a battered hat, and baggy, checkered trousers.

Some More Gossip THAT well-known little bird that goes bustle about carrying tidbits of gossip from town to town was chirping noisily in our neighborhood the other day. "Where have you been all summer?" said the little fellow "that you haven't printed the big news about the trades Mr. Connie Mack is going to make. Your ignorance is alarming."

May! What's This? "TRADED" replied your correspondent, "to whom and for what?" "Traded to the White Sox," replied talkative birdie. "Well, not so much traded as sold. Mr. Mack hasn't been making money this year the way the Slayers over at Philadelphia are accustomed to see him make it. The club is in the red, and is losing caste. Would you believe it when I tell you that a large part of the A's following in Philly has swung over to the Phils?"

HOOK AND SLIDES Henry L. Farrell

much do you think they would be worth to a team like the White Sox? "About half a million dollars." "You don't mean that, of course. But they are worth $250,000 and there isn't a doubt in the world about it." "Say, bird—what is Mr. Mack going to do for a baseball team next year without those three people?" "Mr. Mack is going to build up to take their places. He figures the team needs new blood. Simmons has slumped and needs a change. Big George is too familiar with the place, and instead of pitching, just blows around. And Cochran isn't satisfied. Mickey feels that a change would do him good.

Comiskey All Set "HAVE the White Sox engaged money to buy these three players?" "Well, Louis Comiskey says he isn't going to stop until he has the White Sox up there fighting for a pennant and Louie has a pretty important bankroll to work with." "Doesn't that mean more loan years ahead for the A's?" "Not especially. Mack figures that he might as well have a fifth place club as one that runs second, so far as patronage at the ball park is concerned. And just look at the cut he will be making in the payroll. That's something to be considered, too, isn't it?" "Well, yes, perhaps it is."

One's-A-Meal Is Getting Popular The One's-A-Meal hamburger stand in Ranger is featuring its famous One's-A-Meal hamburgers, which contains about as much as any one person can eat at one time. Coney Islands are also being added to the list of sandwiches being sold at this popular sandwich shop. Cold drinks, pies, and coffee are also served. The stand is growing increasingly popular, both with Ranger folks and with those from Eastland, Cleese and other towns in this section.

Another Game Is Matched for Ranger Another game has been added to the Ranger high school football schedule for the 1932 season, Coach Ed Curtis has announced. On Friday, Oct. 14, just a week before the Abilene-Ranger game at Ranger, the Weatherford high school team will play the Bulldogs on the local gridiron. This will give the Bulldogs another game prior to the opening of the conference season.

AUTOS DEVELOP HORSEPOWER By United Press. RALEM, Ore.—The mightiest horsepower developed in this country is not by horses, or huge electric plants, but by automobiles, according to a survey made by the Oregon Motor association. It indicated that 85 per cent of the nation's horsepower is developed by the more than 27,000,000 automobiles that run along highways.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

EVILS OF INTEMPERANCE

Text: Isaiah 5:11-16, 22, 23. The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Sept. 4. By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist. It becomes increasingly apparent that the fight to hold all that has been gained in the warfare upon strong drink in recent years must go beyond the realm of legal and political warfare to the evil of drink and intemperance itself. The primary evil of drink is intemperance. If nobody drank to excess, there would have been no such problem as has called forth the drastic action of this and other nations. But one can hardly get away from the fact that drink is an evil in itself because in its very nature it tempts to excess, and it makes constantly possible, if not inevitable the deepest menace to individual and social life. It must be obvious, also, that temperance and intemperance are relative terms. There are men for whom a little liquor is dangerous and destructive, such as would hardly affect other men who even in deep drinking reserve a certain control and competency. The efficiency of the drinking man, however, is frequently only apparent. Various books on the dangerous calling of the aviator during the

Money Reform Plans Flooding German Reich

By United Press.
BERLIN, Aug.—As money becomes more scarce, money reform plans become more numerous. A well-known financial expert, Prof. Palyi, complained in a recent article that 20,000 German money reform plans have been proposed since 1929.

plans," Professor Palyi explained, "we find sculptors, musicians, physicians, engineers, lawyers, who would certainly bar amateurs from their respective fields of study. Practical business men also often claim the right to be heard on theoretical matters."

T. C. U. Will Bid for Title In Southwestern

By United Press.
FORT WORTH.—A team of football veterans will carry Texas Christian University's bid for the 1932 championship onto Southwestern Conference gridirons this fall.

Coach Francis A. Schmidt has ordered his squad of about 40 men to report for training Sept. 10. The team wheels into the season's schedule seven days later against Denton State Teachers college here.

A weighty wall of bone and muscle will comprise T. C. U.'s forward line, expected to average over 190 pounds per man. Veteran linemen include Captain Johnny Vaught, six-foot all-conference guard of Roswell, N. M., and Jack Graves, Beaumont end, a good interference man who broke up many plays in last year's game with Rice Institute.

Pioneers Had Stern Justice

By United Press.
MACON, Mo., Sept. 2.—From a worn old volume, "Digest of the Laws of Missouri Territory," Waldo Edwards, a citizen here interested in history, has revealed the stern justice meted out to criminals in pioneer Missouri.

Whipping posts, the pillory and hanging "without benefit of clergy" played their part in the criminal code of the early settlers. The volume was published in 1848 by Henry S. Geyer of St. Louis. For murder the penalty was death and there was a clause which said "the benefit of clergy shall not be used or allowed upon conviction of any crime which by statute of the territory shall be declared to be death."

not more than 30 lashes and not less than 25. The penalty for perjury was an hour on the pillory, a maximum fine of $800 and the loss of a number of free citizens' privileges. MADRID.—The minister of justice, Don Alvaro Albornoz, has issued a circular to all courts in Spain, advising them that divorce petitions must be handled as "urgent" matter. In this way, the initiation of divorce proceedings can be had without any waste of time. Few golfers ever land in asylums, according to a health writer. True enough. That's why the golf courses are so crowded.

Among the guards, Bud Taylor, Austin, Lee Bassinger, Fort Worth, and Lynn Brown, San Antonio, are due to see frequent service. J. W. Townsend, Lufkin, a steady performer, and Jack Armes are scheduled for the center post.

Coach Schmidt's football "X" or unknown is the backfield. Although he has a group of good, fast veterans, none of them is superb at passing. Buster Brannon, basketball star from Athens, may solve the problem if he can learn to look one way and shoot the ball to its target in another direction. He has spent part of this summer passing footballs at moving targets. Brannon has a slight advantage in being left-handed. Joe Coleman, Waco, short, small but fast and a good passer, is a good early season prospect for a quarterback berth. Other good candidates are Otho Tiner, Waco, and Elbert Walker, Ralls.

Coach Schmidt will rely on a good field of half-backs for headwork and football cunning. Among them are Richard (Red) Oliver, Fort Worth; B. W. Spearman, Jerma; Hubert Dennis, Memphis; Charles Casper, a left-handed passer from San Antonio; Lucy Phelps, Abilene; and Wendell (Doc) Sumner, who has about recovered from a grafting operation on his hand.

Jewell Wallace, Texarkana, a real "jewel" to T. C. U. athletics, and John Kitchin, Okmulgee, Okla., are fullback aspirants, and Coach Schmidt may make one of Hubert Dennis.

"There are only seven tough spots on T. C. U.'s schedule," Coach Schmidt observed, "six conference games and the game with Louisiana."

The University's complete schedule follows:

- Sept. 17—Denton Teachers college, Fort Worth.
- Sept. 25—Louisiana State, Baton Rouge, (night game).
- Oct. 1—Daniel Baker college, Fort Worth.
- Oct. 8—Arkansas University, Fort Worth.
- Oct. 15—Texas A. & M. college, College Station.
- Oct. 22—Austin college, Fort Worth.
- Oct. 29—Baylor University, Fort Worth.
- Nov. 4—Simmons University, Abilene.
- Nov. 11—Texas University, Fort Worth.
- Nov. 19—Rice Institute, Houston.
- Nov. 26—Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT, United Press Staff Correspondent.
PARIS.—Sweaters that consist of only of fronts are among the novelties of the hour here. They slip on over the head by means of a loop, like a necklace, and either tie on around the waist or fasten on at the sides with buttons or clips to the belt of the dress over which they are worn.

Thus the frock of some very simple design is completely changed with the addition of the half-sweater. Perhaps, with this as an inspiration, Schiaparelli conceived the idea of adding a little front skirt to such a sweater (only making it a half blouse of fabric instead of wool), and the apron transformation evolved. Anyway, be that as it may, the apron dress is progressing with due popularity and two or three silk aprons may now be designed to disguise the same frock.

their elbow or wrist length), are "Hug", bell-shaped sleeves (now made to fold up around the arm exactly like an umbrella. A little detachable band buttons or snaps on at the outer side of the wide sleeve, runs around the arm or the wrist and gathers up all the fullness of the sleeve, brings it close to the hand and snaps it down securely. The band is therefore a cuff, and on a second's notice, all the fullness may be released.

SKINNED BEFORE CANNING.
By United Press.
KETCHIKAN, Alaska.—Now even the salmon are getting skinned! An invention by W. F. Schiothan and his brother James, skins salmon preparatory to canning them. Little information on the machine has been given out by the brothers pending patents. Some 20,000 cans of salmon have been canned so far this season with the new machine, and the inventive brothers see great things in their brainchild.

Baseball attendance has dropped to the point where, in many cases, the office boy is about the only one present at many of his grandmothers' funerals.

OHIO REPUBLICAN LEADERS FACING INDICTMENT

Ohio republican leaders are in the toils. Maurice Maschke of Cleveland was the republican national committeeman for many years. He was the boss of his party. He was the boss of Cleveland. He named all the officers, or rather, he filled all the offices. Last year the democrats threw his gang out. They captured all the offices. Now the erstwhile big boss and five of his lieutenants have been reindicted on charges of embezzling funds from the county treasury. They are accused of the embezzlement of a total of $177,000 and grand larceny of the same amount.

Tammany has its grafters. Chicago had a bunch of republican grafters that ruled for 12 years. They had a republican governor, who had been state treasurer for eight years. After he had been elected governor it was discovered by the investigation of a grand jury that this governor and one time state treasurer had placed millions in his pet banks, harvested the banks' interest on the same and pocketed the velvet. Well, he had a sorry time of it after a decision of a supreme court of Illinois returned judgment against him for the full amount. He remained out of office for four years. Now he is the republican standard-bearer for governor for another four years.

Yes, Tammany has its grafters. They have grafters in Texas. They are democrats. It is queer that many politicians the country over are forever pointing the finger of scorn and derision at Tammany. Wouldn't it be wise for them to sweep off their own political doorsteps before they point out the grafts elsewhere.

EIGHT FARM LOAN BRANCHES PLANNED

Now the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, created by the American congress, has announced the establishment of eight regional agricultural credit corporations. As for Texas, it is given a district with headquarters at Fort Worth and branch offices at Houston and San Angelo. San Angelo is in the heart of the great sheep and goat district of Texas. It is a fast growing city in a rich and productive territory. There are thousands of livestock producers in that section of Texas. As for Fort Worth, it is the center of the huge packing industry of the Southwest. Houston, when Woodrow Wilson was in power, was given the Federal Reserve Bank. Now it is said the home loan committee of five will establish a district with Arkansas as the center and Little Rock as the headquarters of the bank.

Senator Joseph Taylor Robinson appears to have the ear of Harvey Couch and others prominent in the industrial circles of the upper country as well as the lower country. There are hundreds of insurance companies in the Southwest under the skies of Texas. There are hundreds of banking concerns. There are thousands of loan and building associations. In his protest, Senator Connally covered the ground. Texas should have been made a district and a Texas city should have had the central headquarters. Well, why growl or why mourn?

PASSING OF THOMAS HENRY FRANKLIN

Thomas Henry Franklin is dead. He was a native Texan. He was 78. He had been a lawyer of high standing and statewide reputation for more than 50 years. He had been a civic worker and a state builder from early manhood. He was ever an aggressive foe of the vices of gambling and drinking.

He was courageous when it required courage in the early days of Texas history. In youthful manhood he held many offices of trust. He was a close friend and advisor of the late George W. Brackenridge. He was a writer of distinguished ability and ever an independent with republican leanings in politics. One by one the old guard of Texans are passing out of the picture. They made history while they lived. They faced the issues while they lived. They faced the issues while they lived. It must be said of and for them they were courageous and they were brassy and their slogan was—regardless of conditions or depressions or sacrifices to be made—CARRY ON.

METHODIST BOARD VOICES 'BITTER DISAPPOINTMENT'

Now the Methodist board of temperance and prohibition and public morals has issued a proclamation which described President Hoover's proposal for a change in the dry laws as "bitterly disappointing." At the same time the board praised Charles Curtis for the dry declaration in his acceptance speech and said the Kansan was the only candidate to whom it could give its commendation. A queer ticket to say the least. Hoover is for the wet side and state control; Curtis is for the dry side and no change in the 18th amendment or Volstead act. Hoover is facing the Atlantic ocean while his running mate is on the way to the Sahara desert where the camel is the beast of burden.

BABSON SAYS BUSINESS IS ON THE UPGRADE

Roger W. Babson of Boston, noted statistician, has let it be known that American business is climbing out of the valley of depression and should be back to normal by 1934. His theory is that more goods are being hauled or transported now than are being produced and more are being consumed than are being produced, while during the boom period we had just the opposite condition, that of more being produced than was being consumed. Watch the tickers of the ticker. Read the daily newspapers for the carrels of noting improved conditions. Diggers always dig their way out. Planners make the programs and the diggers do the digging and the combination constitutes the wealth makers of the world.

FARM LEADER PREDICTS ROOSEVELT ELECTION

John A. Simpson is the president of the National Farmers Union. He held a conference with Governor Roosevelt of the city of Columbus, O. He is swinging around in the Middle West and addressing the farmers' unions of the various commonwealths. He predicted that Roosevelt and Chamberlain will be elected in November and that their election will result in a new deal in government for the people. He said the American people need the deal in the nation that the widely known farm leader is predicting; all the people need it, and lastly, the world needs it.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—This is a big year for "family stuff" in politics. There is enough material for a new party which might be called the "Next of Kin" party. Plenty of leaders are available and the rank and file could consist of sons, daughters, brothers, sisters and mothers of other people.

Everybody's relative is either getting nominated to something or being taken up to the platform and shown off in order to help out somebody's campaign. The "T. R." Parade. The Republicans are parading the surviving members of the famous Teddy Roosevelt family to convince voters that Franklin D. Roosevelt is neither the son of T. R. or T. R. himself.

They doubtless will succeed, but it reminds me of my fond hopes last spring that the G. O. P. would nominate Calvin Coolidge and young Theodore Roosevelt and the Democrats Franklin D. Roosevelt and Senator Marcus Coolidge of Massachusetts. Let's all plug for those tickets in 1936 and then dare the politicians to keep us from getting all mixed up!

The Teddy Roosevelt relatives in this campaign seem to be better known—Alice, young Ted and Mrs. T. R.—but judging from the pictures in the paper, there are more active members of Franklin's tribe—including the misanthropic and a grandchild. The Democrats would seem to have a fair chance of out-Roosevelting the Republicans in the long run.

Hoover "Shock Troops". The Hoover children and grand-children are being held in reserve and are expected to be used as shock troops at critical moments during the shooting. Photographers are saving extra plates for them.

Meanwhile, whether hard times is a factor or not, there is an obviously increased desire in many quarters to keep political honors in the family. Statesmen have sons and sons seem to be going to for statesmanship. The Senate is a popular objective of the next of kin.

Bennett Champs Clark, son of the late Speaker Champ Clark, has been nominated for the Senate by the Democrats of Missouri. Nobody gave it to him, either. He had to lick the powerful Pendegast machine of Kansas City. Clark turns out to be a wet and a progressive.

"Son" Charlie Crisp. CONGRESSMAN Charles R. Crisp of Georgia, son of another famous speaker, is also out for the Senate. Crisp has been in the House for many years and it had been his lifelong ambition to be speaker, as was his father. But he gave up that ambition when he decided to seek the senatorial nomination.

The first woman ever elected to the Senate for a full term undoubtedly will be the widow of the late Senator E. H. Caraway of Arkansas. When he died the Arkansas Democrats gave her the job for the rest of his unexpired term, but she dismared them when she displayed the 1932 "family spirit" by running for the nomination against six male candidates—and won.

Joe Weldon Bailey of Texas, son of old Senator Joe Weldon Bailey of Texas, is running for the House. The LaFollette Boys. THE LaFollette boys of Wisconsin—Bob and Phil, son of "Old Bob"—grow in stature each year. Bob doesn't come up for re-election to the Senate this year, but is out helping Phil, who has a hot fight on for re-election as governor of that state.

Senator John H. Bankhead of Alabama is a son of the late Senator Bankhead, and so is Congressman William Bankhead, who has been here about 15 years. Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas was first in the House, where he succeeded his father. Other congressmen whose ancestors preceded them in the House include Kvale of Minnesota, Dies, Kieberg and Linnigh of Texas. Congressman Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, was licked for re-nomination. Ex-Governor Bilbo of Mississippi and his wife have both declared for Congress and a grand son of the late Senator Henry Clay hot Lodge seeks a seat in the Massachusetts legislature.

All students have been urged to be present and the public and patrons have been cordially invited to be present. The registration of high school students will begin immediately after the formal opening program, at which time announcements will be made concerning particulars of registration. Junior college registration will begin at 9 a. m., Saturday, Sept. 3, and will continue through Monday, Sept. 5. It is preferred by the faculty that all students of the college report to room 12 at the high school and college building at 9 o'clock Monday morning for the purpose of straightening out any possible conflicts in the schedules of the college students.

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE with BILL MAYES

Out at Lillard field yesterday afternoon about 25 members of the 1932 squad reported for practice and were given a light workout by Eck Curtis. Four who are expected to be regulars were not on hand, Curtis reported after the practice was over, but some of them are expected to be on hand within the next day or so.

Henry Standard, who is expected to fill one of the tackle berths and who has been working during the summer somewhere out in Arizona, did not report and no word had been received as to when he would be back home. However, just before the practice started Coach Curtis was told that Standard's suitcase had come in that afternoon, so it was supposed that Henry would be following it within a short time. He may be home in time to work out today.

Hill and Love are two others who have not reported as yet. Both are expected to show up sometime in the next few days and begin the annual grind to get in condition and both will be quite an asset to the team.

Udell Duvall, guard on last year's Bulldogs, did not report because he is laid up with a hole in his side through which his appendix was removed. Dr. Logsdon said, however, that Duvall would take care of himself, work out in the right way and not overdo his training at the start, he would probably be ready by Oct. 22, the day the Abilene Elephants swoop down on Lillard field.

Duvall is more than anxious to get to play this year and he has been listening attentively to all the doctor has to say and declares that he is going to do just as ordered. Or at least that is the report Eck Curtis gave us yesterday as we were riding back from the ball yard.

The workout yesterday, after we arrived on the scene, consisted of passing and receiving passes and working on the perfection of one play. No doubt there was more done than that, but we were late arriving.

When the workout was finished a 100-yard dash was staged, in which the entire squad took part. J. L. Jones was winner with Cleo Gray coming in a close second. Or maybe Gray won with Jones a close second. We couldn't tell exactly from where we sat.

No time was taken on the race, but a calendar was not needed to time any of the men. They all looked pretty fast. And Gray and Jones, being as fleet-footed as they are, assisted by Gloyd Lyons and Aaron Anderson, neither of whom is so slow, should make up one of the fastest backfields in the district.

The usual quota of grandstand quarterbacks was on hand to talk over the prospects, if any, of the team. They seemed to agree that the squad looked pretty good for the first day. Most of them looked to be in pretty good condition—meaning the players on the field, not the quarterbacks in the stands—and the cool afternoon was ideal for a first workout.

Among those seen on the sidelines who, no doubt, were wishing they were suited out and taking a more active part in the proceedings were Roy Weaver and Don and Flahie.

The grass on the gridiron could stand a little mowing, but it may have its advantages. Falling should be much easier. But then it is not long enough to allow an end to hide out on a pass.

One workman was busy getting part of the gridiron grass cut while the squad was working out on the other end of the field, so it may be in better shape before long.

We noticed that the press box, such as it is, is in pretty bad shape. All the tables have been knocked over except two and they look as if they wouldn't stand up under the kind of pressure we put on a pencil when one of the home boys makes a gain.

Fire Chief G. A. Murphy was threatening to take some lumber up there and build a press box worth while, but his enthusiasm may have died down some in the past few months. Maybe as the

Mr. Holloway also announced that the Tiffin school would be discontinued this year and that a new school bus has been purchased to transport the pupils from Tiffin to the Hodges Oak Park school, where they will be enrolled. Waiting stations for the Tiffin pupils will be erected in order that they will not have to wait in the rain and facilities are to be provided to afford the children every comfort possible.

A faculty meeting of all teachers is to be held on Monday afternoon, Sept. 5, at 2 o'clock, at which all teachers are expected to be present. The meeting is to be held in the high school building.

The hander wasn't hard to run. In fact the Tines thought it fun. Said Duncy. "We are going fast. We'd best slow up a bit. "If we all work too hard, you see, we'll get as tired as tired can be. Right now this is a dandy ride. There's no sense spoiling it. "Aw, you're just lazy." Scouty cried. "You're that way, lad, whenever we ride. Keep pumping now and do your share. We'll all rest after while."

And then he added, "Wish I knew just where this funny track leads to. I get more curious as we move on, mile after mile."

JUST then they reached a little turn and Cappy cried. "Why don't you learn to keep your balance, Duncy? Why, you nearly took a splo!" "Hang to the bar and hang on tight. Then everything will be all right. If anybody tumbles off, we all will have to stop."

It wasn't very long until the ride had lost some of its thrill. Wee (The Tines get out of the in the next story.)

HERE--AND THERE
By ELVIE H. JACKSON

The world is full of losers, some successful, and many that may be said to be so because they are most unfortunate that cannot realize that when a decision is up for final decision, be it for opposing elements, competitors or persons, that but one only can win eventually. It is just that which is the game, and that is just why the game politics is a sorry one, the ultimate decision is always hard and the politician either wins or loses.

People have a right to vote as they please.

History gives us through the ages notable examples of fine and these men and women have accepted defeat gracefully who have relinquished their position for the moment without losing friendship, or antagonizing business interests, and during the routine of their country's affairs, have met with the appropriate recognition they deserve and have been heard and acted when they again appear.

I thought I would get a hard-accept defeat gracefully is as hard as any thing to do as to grow old gracefully.

There are many in their advanced years who though still with a heart of youth and fire, and thrilled with so many things of great interest, are forced to give up the dreams of youth, as they but one ultimatum in life: to be brave. At that age, or defeat in all that we get has things that make up a vigorous and active existence. The only thing we should be cast for is a good old age of humanity would be cast for a good old age of humanity would be cast for a good old age of humanity.

OUT OUR WAY

UPHOLDING THE DIGNITY OF OFFICE

for LOVE or MONEY by H.W. CORLEY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MONA TOWNSEND, beautiful young widow, inherited her husband's millions with the provision that she must not re-marry. Her marriage, arranged by her husband's lawyer, who was Mona's employer, was a strange affair, waiting her free at the end of a year to become her husband's wife or actually to secure a divorce.

Mona, in love with Townsend's nephew, HARRY TOWNSEND, agreed to the marriage when she thought Harry was lost to her.

She employs LOTTIE CARR, a fashion model, as her secretary-companion and they set out for South America, where Harry and STEVE SACCHARINI are partners in a diamond mine. Mona's brother, BUD, works at the mine. Mona hopes for a reconciliation with Harry. She also feels Harry is entitled to a share of his uncle's fortune and wants to find a way to arrange this legally.

Learning that Harry and Steve are on vacation at Holiday Island the girls leave their boat at Port of Spain. There, quite by accident, they meet Bud. He agrees to take them to Holiday Island next day. Mona, alone, drives to San Fernando. She sees Bud there in conference with a stranger.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIX

BUD faced Mona in amazement. It was clear his surprise held dismay as well.

Instantly Mona was alert. Was Bud selling those diamonds? Was the man whose quick movement had concealed the gems at her entrance buying them? Had Bud the right to sell them, and if so, why was the transaction in this out-of-the-way spot?

"Mona, I didn't dream you'd come here!"

The girl laughed uneasily. "Oh, I was just seeing the sights." She waved her hand toward the tables. "My chauffeur brought me here for tea. It's delightful, isn't it?"

"I'll order for you." Bud summoned the maitre d'hotel, who took the order and swiftly bowed himself away.

Mona sat in a large rattan chair lounge at the railing of the open room overlooking a broad expanse of green and riotous color. Her eyes, skirting the road, discovered no other conveyance except her own. How had Bud come?

"Don't let me interrupt your business," she urged.

Bud laughed and instantly the girl knew that her first conclusion had been erroneous. There was no guilt on Bud's face, only a look of amusement.

"Well," he said, "you've certainly caught me!" He took up the white cloth and the gems glittered. "You see," Bud explained, "I sold these for the firm to Mr. Horton here. Mr. Horton, my sister, Mrs. Townsend."

The stranger bowed. "And now the young man is buying the finest of them back again," he said. "He tells me he's buying it for his mother but I am wondering! Young men don't usually buy diamonds for their mothers."

"I thought she'd like a diamond I'd had something to do with," Bud told Mona, with a half-ashamed smile. "She's never had a diamond, has she?"

He was so obviously concerned at this oversight on the part of Ma's affectionate children that Mona smiled.

"I guess," Bud went on, "you've given her everything else, though."

Mona shook her head. "I completely forgot diamonds."

"THEY all laughed. Then it's settled," Bud said comfortably as they sat drinking their tea. His purchase was tied in his handkerchief and stuffed into his wallet. "I'll have it set at Port of Spain." "You'll drive back with me, Bud?" Mona asked.

"I was thinking of the train but that will be great."

They took leave of Mr. Horton and presently were speeding toward Port of Spain. "I'd like to do something for you too, Mona," Bud said gruffly. "You put up with a lot from me!"

She squeezed his hand affectionately. "Just take me to Holiday," she said. "That's all I want."

They set out the next morning for the island.

"One hour!" Lottie cried happily. "Oh, what a difference just one hour can make!"

"Yeah," grinned Bud, helping her into the cockpit. "Want a helmet?" "Got one?"

"Sure." He swung two into the air and the girls adjusted them and looked behind. "All set!" "Aye, aye, sir."

"Here we go!"

The plane lifted and shot into the air. It spiraled upward. Port of Spain fell away from them into the azure waters. The plane headed north and presently they passed Trinidad. Other islands lay ahead, curving like a graceful garland of green leaves on the water. The Caribbean shimmered in the sun. They raced onward into the blue bowl of the sky.

"THIRTY minutes. Forty minutes. Fifty. Fifty-five. Bud turned to shout over his shoulder. "There's Holiday!"

The girls peered ahead. A tiny green speck was growing larger. It raced up to meet them, spreading on the sea like a green carpet. Could Bud possibly maneuver the plane to such a landing spot? It seemed like diving from a high pole into a tub of water.

Holiday wavered and then approached, displaying a large white house, a group of huts, long stretches of beach silvered by the sun and fringed by palm trees. There was a turquoise bay held in the cup of green hills. A yacht shimmered and bobbed in the sunlight.

The plane crossed the harbor, dipped close to the trees and went steadily on toward a broad expanse of green.

"A golf course!" cried Lottie. "Yes, a golf course. These fellows believe in having all the comforts of home."

There was a drop, a soft bump and the plane taxied, slowing until it came to a full stop. Bud climbed out, assisting the girls to their feet.

"Not bad!" he grinned. "There's the old silver," indicating a car beneath the trees. "We'll drive to the house. It's not far but we can't land on the doorstep so they leave the bus here for me."

They piled baggage into the rear seat. Lottie held Mona on her lap and Bud started the motor. The car moved slowly down the grassy road, around a curve and through a grove of palm trees. Then the road swerved and brought up suddenly almost directly behind the house. Still there was no one in sight.

"Nearly breakfast time," Bud mused.

"Breakfast!" exclaimed Lottie. "Lunch to you! The first meal of the day here is coffee served on a tray at your bedside at eight o'clock sharp. 'Coffee' means coffee, fruit and toast. Breakfast is served at about 11:30. It's too hot after that to do anything except rest. We have tea at 3:15 and dinner at 7:30. Yes, I guess the lads are probably at breakfast."

He brought the car to a halt and leaped out. The girls followed.

"THEY mounted the steps leading to the veranda. It was a wide, cool veranda with a fine view of the sea across stretches of green and silver. Inside were huge rooms, high ceilings and bare of floor. There was a piano with a Spanish shawl tossed across it. There were easy chairs, lamps, tables glistening from recent polishing.

A high door led into the hallway from which a broad, uncarpeted stairway rose. The house was huge, yet hospitable.

"Hey, fellows!" Bud called.

"Hey!" Two voices came in unison.

"They're in the breakfast room," Bud whispered. "Don't say anything. We'll surprise 'em!"

"Are you hungry?" Barry shouted. "Come on in! How is everything?"

Tiptoeing the girls followed Bud around the curve of the veranda. There a table was spread in the recess sheltered by cooling vines. Barry and Steve, in spottish white, lounged in easy chairs. Pink melons were set before them. A tiny maid glided around the table, pouring coffee. Another appeared in the doorway with a tray of meats, fish, vegetables and salad.

"Barry! All the comforts of Broadway!" cried Lottie. Mona stood still, quite still.

"I've brought you something pretty," announced Bud gaily. Then muttering something about "washing up" he turned and fled.

"Why, Lottie—Mona—!" Steve rose, grinning, his brown hands held wide.

"Mona!"

The two little maids scurried kitchenward. They had never been more amazed in their brief lives. For "the master" had just taken the strange, beautiful lady into his arms and both of them were sobbing.

DO YOU TAKE THE CAP WHEN YOU GO SHOPPING?

UM-HUM, AND I HAD THE MOST THRILLING TIME!

WHEN I CAME OUT FROM SHOPPING, THE NICEST POLICEMAN WAS WAITING BY THE CAP AND HE SAID I HAD PARKED IN AN ALLEY.

WHY, THAT'S AGAINST THE LAW!

THE GIRL LAUGHED UNEASILY. "Oh, I was just seeing the sights." She waved her hand toward the tables.

"My chauffeur brought me here for tea. It's delightful, isn't it?"

"I'll order for you." Bud summoned the maitre d'hotel, who took the order and swiftly bowed himself away.

Mona sat in a large rattan chair lounge at the railing of the open room overlooking a broad expanse of green and riotous color. Her eyes, skirting the road, discovered no other conveyance except her own. How had Bud come?

"Don't let me interrupt your business," she urged.

Bud laughed and instantly the girl knew that her first conclusion had been erroneous. There was no guilt on Bud's face, only a look of amusement.

He's Michigan's "Alfalfa Bill"

Oklahoma has her "Alfalfa Bill" Murray who hitch-hiked his way into the governor's chair and Michigan has her Orin A. Bailey, farmer residing near Owosso, who is trying to duplicate Murray's feat. Bailey (shown here as he thumbs an auto and also in a closeup) says he expects to be nominated in the Republican primary on Sept. 12, in which he opposes five candidates, including Governor Wilbur M. Brucker. Bailey owns 200 acres of land and has a good car, but, he explains, he prefers to hitch-hike his way over the state because hitch-hiking brings him in closer touch with the people. He is running on a platform of tax reduction, soldiers' bonus payment and re-submission of the 18th amendment.

Cook-McCanlies Wedding
United Popular Young People.
The Baptist church of Eastland was softly lighted and beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns, massed about the altar and chancel rail, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, for the wedding of Joe Thomas Cook and Dorothy Katharine McCanlies, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McCanlies, and a popular member of Eastland's society and musical set.

Preceding the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. O. B. Darby sang very beautifully, "I Love You Truly," with Mrs. T. J. Pitts, as accompanist.

To the strains of the bridal chorus, from Lohengrin (Wagner), the little flower girls, Norma Jean McCanli and Emma Lee Hart, in fluffy pink crepe frocks, and carrying bouquets of pink roses, entered preceding the bride, who was gown in plain white satin, floor length, cut princess, and with a wide picturesque white satin collar.

With this was worn white satin shoes, and gloves. She carried a lovely shower bouquet of white asters and maiden hair fern. The bride was accompanied by her maid of honor, Miss Mildred Yeager of Putnam, Texas, gowned in an artistic confection of pink flat crepe, with the rose tint carried out in her bouquet of rosebuds.

As the bridal party progressed down the aisle, the groom, attired in navy blue morning suit, accompanied by his best man, Allen D. Dabney Jr., came down the opposite aisle, and met the bride and her attendant at the altar.

The beautiful ring ceremony was used by the pastor, O. B. Darby, who performed the impressive marriage service to the soft undertone of music, McDowell's "To a Wild Rose."

The recessional, Mendelssohn's wedding march, was played as the bridal party left the church for the home of the bride's parents, where an informal reception for close friends and relatives was held.

Guests were received at the floor of the home by the bride's mother, Mrs. McCanlies, who wore a sports frock in russety crepe; the bride's brother, and father, Mr. McCanlies, and the bride and groom, who extended an informal greeting.

Mrs. J. R. Burnett of Cisco, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. James Graham, presided over the bride's book register.

A handsome three-tiered white leed wedding cake, the artistic work of Mrs. C. C. Robey, with miniature bride and groom centering the top layer, was placed on a cut glass pedestal on a mirror reflector centering the lace covered dining table.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook left at 10:30 a. m., on train for a brief wedding trip, with stops in Dallas, Galveston, and Houston, where friends will be visited.

The bride's going-away gown was of navy blue, a smart coat suit of flat crepe, worn with a navy blue and white polka dot blouse, and a navy felt hat with short veil.

The groom wore a handsome gray suit for traveling. Upon the return of Mr. and Mrs. Cook, they will be at home to friends at the Court apartments on Plummer street.

Mrs. Cook has, with her parents made her home in Eastland the past 11 years.

Joe Thomas Cook, a graduate of Eastland high school, finished at the University of Texas this spring with high honors, and received his degree in journalism. He was editor of The Daily Texan, university college paper, during this last, his senior year.

Members of the families of the bride and groom attending the wedding and reception, were Mrs. Mattie Cook of Weatherford, mother of the groom, and guest of Mrs. McCanlies; the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McCanlies, and son, H. A. Jr., Mrs. J. R. Burnett of Cisco; Mildred Yeager, and Bary Yeager, cousins, of Putnam, and Mrs. Pippin of Cisco.

The groom's relatives attending in addition to his mother, were Miss Frances Glazner and Ernest Glazner Jr., of Ranger.

Close friends present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Robey, Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Williams, Mrs. Burette W. Patterson, Mrs. J. P. Little, Mrs. James Graham, Mrs. T. J. Pitts, Mrs. Carl Springer, Mrs. F. L. Minner, Mrs. Allen D. Dabney, Mrs. J. B. Overton, Miss Virginia Nell Little, Miss Nell Canton, Allen Dabney Jr., the best man, and Rev. and Mrs. O. B. Darby.

Congratulations of friends are extended the happy couple.

Rebekah Lodge Informal Session.
Several officers of the Rebekah lodge held an informal discussion of the affairs of the lodge, Thursday night, led by Mrs. Blanche Nicols, vice noble grand. As Miss Dorothy Watson, the noble grand, is still out of the city on her vacation, no formal procedure was in order.

The lodge will resume drill practice in the near future, the work of which was interrupted on account of the absence of the officers and other members who have been away on their vacations.

Informal Club Meeting.
Mrs. J. J. Coffman was hostess to the Clover Leaf club, at her home Thursday afternoon.

Two tables prettily appointed were arranged for bridge, and club members attending were Misses R. L. Perkins, Carl Garner, M. C. Hayes, Carl Johnson, V. A. Thomas, W. J. Peters, and W. E. Brasher.

At close of a delightful afternoon, high score game favor, an imported novelty box, was awarded Mrs. Peters.

The rooms were prettily adorned with bouquets of roses. Dainty refreshments of fruit salad, with chicken salad sandwiches, pickles, and iced tea, had second course of lemon chiffon pie.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Carl Garner.

Talahi Group.
Camp Fire Girls.

Although the greater number of the Camp Fire Girls of the Talahi group are in camp at Cisco, the little handful left enjoyed their regular meeting Thursday afternoon, at the home of their guardian, Mrs. W. P. Palm.

This informal opportunity was taken to make a thorough study and reading of their constitution.

Plans were also made for a year book, which will be typed for them by Miss Joyce Johnson, and will be a hand-made volume, the work of the year book committee, Carolyn Cox, Eleanor Ruth Ferguson, and Joan Johnson, who were those, in addition to Elva Lee Jones, that held this little group meeting.

Announcement is made that the Talahi group will hold their usual session next Thursday afternoon.

EASTLAND PERSONALS

Miss Lawrence of Holdenville, Okla., who has been the popular guest for several days of Mrs. P. G. Russell, returned home Thursday.

Mrs. W. C. Marlow, who left last Wednesday for Denton to visit her sister, Mrs. W. P. Cunningham, will return Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Crawford and daughter, Mary Josephine, of Granbury, and Doris Zweifel of Fort Worth, are spending the week-end with Dr. and Mrs. E. Roy Townsend.

Miss Jean Robason of Fort Worth arrived Wednesday to visit the balance of the week, Miss Gwendolyn Jones.

Everyone is talking up the Thurber golf tournament, which opens tomorrow, Saturday, for a three days play, and closes with a ball at the Thurber clubhouse Monday night.

Several of the boys have been over to Thurber, familiarizing themselves with the course. Miss Hazel Tilley, of Tyler, who has been visiting Miss Gwendolyn Jones, left Thursday evening for Breckenridge, to remain until Sunday, when she will return to Eastland, and resume her visit with Miss Jones.

Mrs. Bert McGlamery, Dorothy and Robert, were Gorman visitors from Wednesday to today.

Mrs. Morgan Myers returned Thursday morning from San Angelo, where she visited the past week, guest of her mother, Mrs. Massey, who accompanied her home. Mrs. Massey and Mrs. Myers leave today for the week-end in Dallas.

New Fall Styles At Hassen's

With September comes Fall styles. This year they are more important than usual because the month came in with cool weather to make the Fall garments more desirable. We're ready!

Fall Dresses
Every new material... every new color... every new style. The stylists this year devised an entirely new way to use the diagonal weave and several entirely new color shades and combinations.

We are showing several of these newer models in the very reasonable price range of $2.95 TO $9.85

Fall Hats
They're entirely different from the turbans of last season! Some have brims—some are like little pancakes that tilt far forward over the right eye—all have bows, often in bright color contrast. They're in velvets or felts—and you'll HAVE to have one!

98c $1.95 $2.95 $3.95
The New Shoes
As usual, you'll find the newer styles and leathers among our vast showing of Shoes. We invite you to come in and see them.

A New Children's Boot
It is riding boot style and comes in white and in brown. A mighty sporty little number and selling at only $3.85
