"A GENTLEMAN OF THE OLD SOUTH"

John Sharp Williams passed out of the picture at his famous plantation home in old Mississippi. He was born in 1856. He was the last of the really great democrats of Mississippi. He was known as a scholar and a gentleman and the scion of a long line of Southern planters. He was educated in the historic universities of the ne wand the old world. He entered upon a political career in the closing days of reconstruction in the Old South. He was for many years a congressional representative; he was sent by his people from the house to the senate of the United States. He was one of the last of the "old school democrats of the Southland." He was not only a distinguished lawyer and planter, but he was one of the famous orators or debaters and scholars of the American congress.

He lived and died an undaunted champion of the federal constitution as it was drafted and adopted by the American Can fathers o rmakers of the republic. He retired from public Am P & L... life in 1923. He had been the close personal and political Am & F Pwr friend of Woodrow Wilson. As a statesman and thinker Am Smelt. life in 1923. He had been the close personal and political friend of Woodrow Wilson. As a statesman and thinker and senator he was an eloquent champion of the league of nations and fought for tis ratification. After a long and Auburn Auto brilliant career he declared that he would rather be a dog baying at the moon away down on the plantation than to Ra continue a member of the senate with the passing of the old Beth Steel and the coming of the new political social order and sys- Byers A tem and methods of government. He kept his word. He Canada Dry retired of his own volition. He spent the remainder of his Chrysler days away down on the plantatoin where an aristocratic Cons Oil grandmother had watched over him from early childhood | Contl Oil and then started him on his career as a scholar and orator Curtiss Wright and statesman of the ancient southern type before the Elec St Bat coming of the downfall of the planters' erpublic and the Foster extinction of chattel slavery under American skies.

A warrior bold who never turned his back on a foeman, avoided debate with a rival, or hedged on an issue Gen Mot of importance to the peopl, he was as gentle as a woman Gillette S R and one of the most generous of men. Joseph Weldon Bailey was not "The Last Democrat" to pass out of the picture. His friend and admirer of a lifetime, John Sharp Williams, was the last of the old type democratic leaders of the South to close his eyes in sleep in order that his enightly soul should take flight across the "Great Divide."

GREAT MEN AND THEIR POLITICAL MOVEMENTS

America has three distinguished as well as outstanding citizens who are men of many political moods. Senator Borah of Idaho has a clear alibi for his latest. Mrs. Borah has parrot fever. Latest advice from Idaho is that her recovery is due in the very near future. Alfred E. Smith has not made preparations or arrangements for a political speech in the near future. He does not know when he is p going to make a speech. He is the editor of The Outlook, Radio Away back in the dead years Henry Ward Beecher was R K O editor of The Outlook. Years after the passing of the famous pulpit orator and writer, Theodore Roosevelt was the editor of The Outlook. Again after a lapse of years the Happy Warrior became the editor of The Outlook. A very busy man is Alfred E. Smith. He is said to be one of the chief promoters of a huge project to dismantle the slums of the East Side and substitute for the unsightly tenements modern homes or apartments for the toilers, white collar men and others of his native city. Last but not least, Washington correspondents declared that President Hoover would journey to Des Moines not far from the town where he first saw the light for a heart to heart talk with the people of his native state.

A REMINDER FOR THE LADIES

A famous English scientists has reminded the feminine world that women have one less way of concealing their age. Eyebrows and eyelashes will give away the secret. Most women have one kind of eyebrows and most men another. About 70 per cent of the women have even eyebrows while among men about 71 per cent have the double type. Hence woman, not man, "was made to mourn." Isn't science great?

They are not present in Luckies ... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world-but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"-so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words-"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

The resounding victory scored by Max Schmeling over chubby Mickey Walker virtually assured a third meeting of Schmeling and the present champion, Jack Shar-

Of course it's possible that Sharkey and his chief handler, Johnny Buckley, will find a way to give Schmeling the good, old run-round, but it will be to their everlasting fistic disgrace of they

After all, there have been two unsatisfactory Sharkey-Schmeling fights. The first ended in a foul victory for Schmeling after having been nunched all over the ring until the low blow came.

Then, last June, almost exactly two years after the first fight, they met again. Schmeling, according to this writer and most all others, was badly jobbed when the decision was given to Sharkey. decision was given to Sharkey.

The writer knows that Max wants another opportunity and it's probable that the champion jit's probable that the champion will agree.

Sharkey, incidentally, believes that Schmeling has improved since they met in June.
"Schmeling is faster and he uses his left more effectively," Jack told the United Press during the Schmeling-Walker bout. "Besides, he has a nice right cross now."
The Walker-Schmeling fight was one of the thrillers of modern day boxing. The picture of a badly beaten Walker staying in there and trying, while a sportsmanlike and trying, while a sportsmanlike Schmeling tried to induce the ref eree to stop the fight, made one of the most stirring boxing sights

"Ten-dollar gold-piecesfor sale cheap

Not so long ago, an interesting experiment was made, to test the "sales-resistance" of the public. Several men paced the down-town streets of a large city, hawking their wares. And the wares, believes it or not, were tendollar gold-pieces . . . offered for sale at a dollar! No one bought; the price was reduced to fifty cents; finally to a quarter . . . still no sales!

Only after this experiment appeared as news in the papers did those who turned down the bargain gold become convinced of their mistake. They doubted the evidence of their own senses when they were offered something for nothing, but they BELIEVED in the opportunity they'd lost when the newspapers told them the story.

Daily, in the papers that you read, you are offered a parallel opportunity equally genuine, and sponsored by the people of proven responsibility. What! You've never seen it? Stop for a minute and think. This newspaper cost you a trifle which you gladly paid to learn what's happening in the world, to read about PEOPLE and EVENTS. But there's other news here of vital importance to you about THINGS and SERVICES. about automobiles, clothing, food, household wares, vacation tours about all those things which you pay money for, to live.

The advertisements! Your newspaper-pennies buy this news too. If you read the advertisements, let them show you how, where, what and when to buy, they will save you dollars . . . and put money in your pocket just as surely as if you purchased a bargain gold-piece!

IMPORTANT

When you ask for a product by name, as a result of advertising, do not accept a substitute—substitutes are offered not as a service to you, but for other reasons.
