THE WEATHER.
West Texas—Generally fair tonight and Friday. Somewhat warmer north portion tonight and in West portion Friday.

Wouldn't it be refreshing to read something that the old theatrical tradition had been broken by some touching incident and that "the show did NOT go on"?

Pretty Boy Floyd Is Being Sought In Texas

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE with BILL MAYES

In the past we have boosted payment of school taxes in Ranger from time to time and have worked with the school tax committee of 1931-1932 and have written many articles about the same subject this year, which is claimed to have obtained some results. Now comes the Eastland school tax collector with the request that we write something for the Eastland readers on the same subject, so if the Ranger readers, if any, will bear with us as we have the Eastland readers, also if any, in the past we will write accordingly in our column today.

A statement issued by the tax collectors, concerning the payment of Eastland school taxes, says: "With less than half a month before school taxes become delinquent we have collected but 27 per cent of the taxes. Of the amount collected—68.5 per cent have been paid by people living out of the city and but 31.5 per cent have been paid by the people who live in the city of Eastland and who are sending their children to school.

"Of the 31.5 per cent there are a great many who have no children in schools, so it resolves down to less than 25 per cent of the patrons of the school have paid their taxes.

"It seems eminently unfair to the schools for the people who are directly receiving the benefit of the schools not to have the support necessary to keep them open.

"Salaries have been cut in half and less than half of this has been paid.

"Those who live in Eastland and have children in the schools ought to make a sacrifice to pay their taxes in order to keep the children in school for the full term."

The same situation prevails in practically every school, but that makes the situation none the less in either Ranger or Eastland, where much the same conditions have arisen. Those who have children in school and who owe school taxes should, by all means, be the first to pay, though there is just as much an obligation on the part of those who have already paid taxes in other schools, because the schools were maintained for them and others helped to pay the expenses and now is the time for them to return the good deed by continuing to pay school taxes.

Likewise, those who have children who are not yet of school age should be vitally interested, because if the high standard now set by the schools is not maintained, through the payment of school taxes, their children will not be able to obtain the same benefits of education that older children have enjoyed.

Those with no children, either of school age or of non-school age, have just as much interest in the schools, or should have because without education no town could get far. A future generation of uneducated minds would leave any town in a most deplorable state and the wellbeing of the town, the protection of property on which school taxes are paid and the continuation of the town, all depend on the education of the children.

We were asked to "pour it on" on this subject and we have done our best. We are always glad to accommodate in any way possible, regardless of the location of the movement, provided it is worthy, and we sincerely hope that all the school tax situations may be worked out for the benefit of all. Maintaining the schools in Eastland is almost as vital to Ranger as maintaining the Ranger schools and maintaining the Ranger schools is also of vital importance in Eastland. The progress of one community is directly reflected by the neighboring communities and a situation that is adequately handled in one town should profit both.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

RIGHTEOUSNESS BRINGS PEACE: The work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance for ever. And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places.—Isaiah 32: 17, 18.

NEW YORK LAWMAKERS DECLARE FOR "AMERICA FIRST"

"Buy American" is a slogan that appears to be marching around the American world. William Randolph Hearst is its foremost champion. George Horace Lorimer of the Saturday Evening Post is pushing the cause along. There are thousands of advocates of the plan. Of course, the plan is "buy American goods in preference to all others." The argument is that the European nations have banded against American products of ranch and farm and mill and mine. Texas is the Empire state of the West—the American world for that matter; New York is the Empire state of the East. New York is the home state of Alfred E. Smith, President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, and of their successor in the office of governor, Herbert H. Lehmann. Well, the New York legislature is grinding. Democrats control the senate by two votes. Republicans control the house by two votes. Senator William T. Bryne, democrat, introduced a resolution endorsing the buy American plan. With a roar of applause the resolution was adopted. Then it was sent to the house. Without a dissenting vote the assembly adopted the Byrne bill and now the plan is on the way across the continent from the Canadian border to Mexico. This is a new era. There is a new civilization. Those who are moving with the procession of the live people now on earth are going to make history. Those who refuse to move with the procession are going to the graveyard.

BANKER MITCHELL AND THE AMERICAN DOLLAR

Stabilization of the American dollar in terms of foreign currencies is the recommendation passed out by a noted New York banker as a means of easing price pressure. Charles E. Mitchell is chairman of the National City bank of New York. He is said to have sounded "a moderately hopeful note at the annual meeting of the stockholders." He expressed his belief that the economic structure of the United States is essentially sound and that the integrity of the standard of values should be maintained. He advocated the re-establishment of a stable relationship between the dollar and foreign currencies, "thus relieving our price structure from the most destructive of all kinds of competition, namely, that of depreciating currencies of competing nations." He would not adopt either the course of attempting to withdraw behind Chinese tariff walls or that of entering into a competition in currency depreciation "of which the end is zero for all." Banker Mitchell has begun to realize that for the first time in American history the growers of things between the Allegheny mountains and the Pacific ocean on the West and from the Canadian border on the North to the Mexican border on the South voted a second declaration of independence Nov. 9. All these American producers of farm wealth ask is justice and a fair share in the division of profits. In other words, to be placed on a parity with the maker of things. They were angry in November. They are ugly in January. They cannot be bluffed or cajoled.

AN OIL MAGNATE A BOOSTER FOR ADVERTISING

Advertising makes trade, and legitimate publicity spreads the news around the world. In California the head of the Associated Oil companies has made an announcement that he will spend $750,000 in advertising during 1933. He attributed much of the company's sales gain in 1932 to newspaper advertising. He declared sales showed an increase of about 10 per cent. His company has budgeted about $6,000,000 for additions and improvements for the new year. A splendid method for increasing sales is to go after the business. Printers' ink is the loudest taker in the world.

One Good Match in the Box

DERRICK SHADOWS

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

It looks like a great day for bootleggers and liquor rings. Which is just another proof that listening in doesn't always work, and wire-tapping it useless. . . .

Right now in the middle of financial worries when everyone is looking around for a laugh, the authors and picture producers and directors have taken entertainment in their own hands and are giving us hours and pages of futility. And if, in a weak moment, they present a bit of humor it is the sordid, ironical wit we get everyday. Why all the sudden frankness about the mistakes and tragedies of life? Of course it's great and we, as a nation, are old enough to know . . .

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

Not long ago I visited two cities some two thousand miles away from my home town. These cities are close together geographically, but worlds apart in every other respect.

The first city was a big city in the making some few years ago, but something had stopped its growth. It was laid out on a magnificent scale with regular tree lined streets, broad avenues; it boasted of parks, of splendid schools and churches. Everyone I met told me with a long face what a wonderful place it was in which to live, but nothing was said about it being a good place in which to work, invest, or make a living. Its newspaper had very little local advertising, which fact would show outsiders that its business section was dead, unprogressive and ready for the graveyard.

At night the streets were poorly lighted. The show windows were mostly dark. I asked a policeman why they did not turn on the lights and he replied that the city council was economizing. Now I would like to say that a poorly lighted city is about the dearest place in the world. It's the last economy to be made by any city. It's an invitation to the hijacker and the burglar to get busy and for the visitor to stay away. As I left the city I reflected, "This city instead of being a god place to live in is a good place to die in."

The second city I visited was different in every way. It had narrow, winding streets; its streets and store windows were well lighted at night. In many sections the homes were close together. The houses were attractive, the residential and business streets quaintly beautiful. The streets and hotel lobbies were full of people and about everybody I met was smiling and seemed contented. Its newspaper was full of local advertising, which is a sure sign that the local merchants are sold on their city, their merchandise, and tell the world about it with the result that the city is forging ahead in every way. I reflected then, "This city is no place to die in! it's the kind of city in which to live!"

Magician To Be At Ranger High School Jan. 24-25

The magic rabbit is getting ready to make his unexpected appearance at the odd mystery program to be given by Mel-Roy, the magician, at the Ranger High school auditorium on Tuesday and Wednesday nights at a matinee to be given Wednesday afternoon. The Tuesday night performance will be given at 7:30 and the Wednesday performance at 8:15. The matinee performance will be presented at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon. The show will be under the auspices of the Ranger Junior College freshman class.

It has always been a mystery how a rabbit could appear and disappear in so many places. He is likely to tumble out of any one hat and just as likely to vanish in some one's whiskers. Mel-Roy's is like that. His antics will give you many minutes of fun and thrills. Some of the Oriental mysteries on Mel-Roy's program are particularly interesting. He presents the bewildering and seemingly impossible mystery of shooting a steel arrow through an assistant's body, among many other effects to number to mention. Mel-Roy has been interested in the mysteries of the Orient for some time, and he gets as much delight in performing them as his audience does in seeing them. Special effects have been arranged by Mel-Roy for this occasion that have never before been seen in this country. The entertainment is for the whole family. For everybody—both young and old—Tuesday night will be the most enjoyable evening spent by you in a long time if you see this performance. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the freshman class of the Ranger Junior college.

Hundreds Visit Penney Store To See Metamorphosis

Several hundred Ranger men and women passed through the J. C. Penney company store today to view the bodiless woman known as "Cedora." Many exclamations of surprise were heard and some figured the trick was accomplished by the use of electricity. However it may be accomplished it is worth the time of all to view the DISBANDED AFTER 38 YEARS.

Why we say— Keep going with PEP! THE Kellogg Company of Battle Creek has always considered wheat and bran among nature's greatest foods. Kellogg's PEP Bran Flakes — made of toasted wheat—have essential elements which build energy and strength. Eaten with milk or cream they provide easy-to-digest nourishment. There is enough bran in PEP to be mildly laxative. For years, active, energetic people have shown a preference for PEP. It is the flavor of these better bran flakes that has made them the favorite. "Keep going with PEP" is a reminder to people of all ages who enjoy the feeling of fitness. Here are nourishing wheat and healthful bran in a delicious form. Try PEP on this personal guarantee: "Buy a package from your grocer. If you are not satisfied and delighted — return the empty package and we will gladly refund your money."

ARMED FORCES OF FRANCE BEST EQUIPPED IN WORLD

Editor's Note: This is the first of five articles by Richard McMillan discussing why Europe doesn't disarm. By RICHARD D. McMILLAN, United Press Staff Correspondent. PARIS.—France is the most militarily-minded nation in the world today, yet at the present time she has the best-equipped army in Europe and the most formidable chain of fortresses—bristling with gun and bayonet—in European history. She has just placed on order to build the last word in aerial death-dealing weapons, the 300-ton pocket-battleship Dunkerque.

WASHINGTON.—The new Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission, which took office some two months ago, has limited advertising to 5 per cent of program time, and as an initial step in its reorganizing of the entire system is insisting that programs shall be of a high educational and musical character.

Existing Canadian broadcasting licenses do not expire until March 31, after which time the commission will have the power to appropriate or close privately controlled stations. It will then be free to formulate a more equitable policy in effecting the change.

Private broadcasting concerns meeting qualifications under the new act will in all probability be permitted to continue under operating agreements, to carry out the commission's program, and these stations will be rigidly supervised.

Barrymore Superb In Feature At Arcadia Today

Tender, sincere, honest, gripping; these are some of the words that rise to this reviewer's mind after having seen Radio Pictures' "A Bill of Divorcement," which opened at the Arcadia theatre yesterday.

Never before to our knowledge has Hollywood so masterfully exploited the sacrifice theme into sound, adult entertainment. Marvellous work by a marvelous cast, a deftly-constructed, well-balanced vehicle, and expert direction combine to make this one of the season's outstanding attractions that cannot be dismissed lightly by any critic or any audience.

Katherine Hepburn's first important screen role will establish her in the forefront of cinema favorites overnight. Lucky indeed is the role she has been given to play with such a superb vehicle as this.

HERE... AND THERE

By ELVIE H. JACKSON

It must be strange for a woman to look about at the glowing expanses of cultivated spring fields...

In the recent honoring of Mrs. Susan Steele of Eastland, one was inevitably reminded of the swift changes and experiences through which this mentally poised and physically able woman has lived...

Offering she has seen as do all humans at some time; grief she has experienced, as do nearly all; financial loss she has experienced in a sense.

Children have formed new ties, and moved away, and grand sons and great grandsons, show her time is speeding and her days have been long.

Yet, Mrs. Steele has kept a young and vigorous outlook on all changes that have come about in this shifting life, we call this world, without loss of her fundamental good sense of adjustment, good breeding and christian tolerance.

In the days of Mrs. Steele's youth a young girl who would take a drink publicly with a man, was considered, well, not just exactly like the rest of us.

Today, she reads and hears about the open saloons and the young girls and men who frequent these gay places, and who have no ulterior thought in so doing; and she

BEGIN HERE TODAY SHEILA SHAYNE, 18, whose parents were well known vaudeville entertainers, is a dancer. After weeks out of a job she is hired to substitute for DAISY STANLEY, another dancer, who has sprained her ankle.

While she and Dick at the far end of the room were hunting through sheets of music for the songs they wanted Trevor talked to Mandrake. Sheila was never to learn just what was said in that conversation but next morning she was again in rehearsal. The part was in the road show company of a Broadway hit.

"I know you have, honey. But somehow I didn't know how much you mean to me until now." They had driven far up the drive and were nearing Inspiration Point. It was barely 6:30.

Sheila watched the chorus stepping through its routine. Then the ensemble fell back against the wings and she flattered into the open space. "That's right!" the dance director nodded, seating himself but not raising his eyes from Sheila's feet.

UNTIL 7 Dick and Sheila drove. She had a new job. He had been hard at work on his play and only the night before had reached the turning point when every part of his drama seemed to dovetail.

"We're going to have a lot of fun this year together," he said. The road company! Why, that means traveling! "Of course it does," Sheila put in. "And I love it."

Swiftly the car skimmed down the drive, crossed into the park at 110th street and picked up the winding road through the trees. They reached 45th street at 7 o'clock promptly.

THE girls attained respectful attention. Black curls bent to blond fringes and nodded approval. All eyes were on Sheila's flying feet.

Eastland County Welfare Board.
The Eastland County Welfare board will hold a called meeting in the county commissioners courtroom, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. All board members are requested to attend. Matters of importance to be considered.

Talahi Group
Interesting Session.
The Talahi group of Camp Fire Girls held a tree council fire discussion at their recent meeting and planned for the details and ceremony which will be held at 6 p. m. at residence of their guardian, Mrs. Tom Harrell, on Friday.

The session was presided over by Kathleen Cottingham, president, who appointed the committee to secure a locust tree to plant on the high school grounds, to replace a tree planted by them last year which died.

Other plans were made for the work. Those present, Elizabeth Ann Harrell, Helen Butler, Lurline Brawner, Kathleen Cottingham, Catherine Uita, Margaret Frye, and Mrs. Harrell.

Book Club
Interesting Study.
The Eastland Book club enjoyed a very interesting study of Antoine De Saint Exupery's book "Night Flight," scanned by Mrs. J. M. Armstrong, and discussed as the club study at their session Wednesday afternoon, held at the home of Mrs. Clitis A. Hertig.

A round-table on points of the book, formed the program. The next Book club meeting will be held Feb. 1, at the home of Mrs. H. S. Howard on South Seaman street.

Those present, Meses Oscar Hudson, P. G. Russell, Neal Day, John W. Turner, Milburn McCarty, James A. Jarboe, H. S. Howard, E. E. Freyschlag, J. M. Armstrong, W. E. Chaney, Theodore Ferguson, and Curtis A. Hertig.

Little Card Club
The Cisco member of the Little Card club of Eastland, Mrs. J. H. McCurry, was hostess to the club at her residence Tuesday afternoon, with all members present, for the two tables of contract.

A delightful tea was served at 5 o'clock. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Bryan Brelsford.

Wednesday Contract
Bridge Club
Most interesting lectures to the contract devotees are given by Mrs. James H. Cheatham Sr., preceding each Monday night and Wednesday afternoon, supervised club play.

The subject for the lecture Wednesday, play of the adversary after the declarers bid, brought a discussion and explanation of the new ruling for 1933 in contract.

Substitutes for club members present Wednesday were Meses A. H. Rhodes, A. H. Johnson, M. C. Hayes, Joe C. Stephen, and Mrs. Boswell.

Family Honors.
Mrs. Susan Steele
By their deeds ye shall know them. This one, be truthfully said of Mrs. Susan Steele, whose 92nd birthday and life deeds were honored by her family of sons, daughters, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, in a family dinner party, held at Mrs. Steele's home, 6:30 p. m., Wednesday evening, Jan. 18, 1933.

Several small tables were arranged, each centered with flowers, and seating the family groups. Those present were Mrs. Susan Steele and her youngest son, Dave Steele; daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. M. Westbrook and granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Birmingham; grandson and wife and great-grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Jones, and Jerry Bob Jones; daughter, Mrs. Mart Hill and son, Steele Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Hill, grandson and great-grandson, James Hill; grandson, Roscoe Hill and Mrs. Hill. Other grandsons, Russell Hill and Bedford Jones. Daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Jones, and an absent grandson, Robert Steele Jones.

Mrs. Susan Steele's son, Jim Steele, passed away recently. Mr. Steele was assisted by her housekeeper, Mrs. Connelly.

Church of Nazarene
Ladies Met Monday.
The Women's Missionary society of the Nazarene church met Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the church. The meeting opened with the song, "What a Friend." Mrs. Scott led prayer. Mrs. Scott also read the missionary lesson from the book "Glimpses Aboard." Mrs. Jones read for the Scripture lesson the sixth chapter of Ephesians.

The president suggested meeting in the homes of the members. The meeting was very good and profitable. It will be announced at both services next Sunday where the society will meet. Mrs. Stiffel dismissed the meeting with prayer.

Parent-Teacher Association
Eastland High School.
The modern appearance of the Eastland high school grounds, the roadways leading to the campus, and the touches of improvement on the building itself, done through the reconstruction finance fund avenue at the request of the High School P. T. A., through the initiative of their president, Mrs. J. M. Perkins, excited the utmost expression of admiration as members gathered Wednesday afternoon for their monthly P. T. A. session, conducted by their president Mrs. Perkins.

Following the minutes of the recent banquet and other meeting by secretary, Mrs. J. Leroy Arnold, approved, the program was entered into and Miss Lillian Thompson, with Mrs. Stewart as accompanist was presented by program chairman, Mrs. W. P. Palm, in an A and B, voice solo.

The harmonic band of 30 or more children, in attractive uniforms, played "America," all standing. Followed with Lullaby, and other numbers, directed by Miss Lavelle Hendrick, with Mrs. Herring, West ward principal, at the piano.

Piano solo, by Mary Frances Hunter and Cecil Seale, closed the program presenting Superintendent P. R. Bittle in a terse talk on the conditions in the school of Eastland; who begged that the 1932 taxes be paid by Feb. 1, and who stated that up to the present of the 13 weeks of schooling, that the teachers had received only six and one-half weeks' pay.

During business session the chair announced the annual election of officers at next meeting, the third Wednesday in February.

Nominating committee was appointed, Mrs. J. Leroy Arnold, Mrs. L. J. Lambert, and Principal W. P. Palm of the Eastland high school.

The association passed a rising vote of thanks to president, Mrs. Perkins, for her initiative and work in personally helping to save the trees on the campus, during recent grading of grounds, and her oversight of premises.

Mr. Palm thanked the P. T. A. on behalf of the faculty for the handsome Christmas banquet tendered by them.

Committee appointed to secure covers for the 14 typewriters brought Meses Arnold, A. J. Campbell, H. R. Meek, and D. L. Childress.

The meeting in February will be novel, as the P. T. A. is asked to lunch in the school cafeteria at noon with the students, in a pay-as-you wish plan, and then visit the several classes and gymnasium prior to calling of formal session.

Splendid Compliment
For Three Fine Women
On the occasion of the 92nd birthday of Mrs. Susan Steele of Eastland, the Methodist church Bible class named in her honor, entertained with a beautifully directed luncheon, when everyone attending was in a way a hostess honoring Mrs. Steele, Mrs. Mary Hughes and Mrs. Elizabeth Pettit, at the noon hour Wednesday, Jan. 18, in the classrooms of the church.

Two long white covered tables and with smaller table connecting the "U" which seated the honor guests, brought all friends attending in intimate association for this delightful compliment to three wonderful women.

Bright blooming plans in frilly covers centered the tables, and a big white iced birthday cake, encircled with roses, and iced in pink, had the place of honor, at the small birthday table.

The program of toasts opened with invocation by the pastor of the church, Rev. Sam G. Thompson. Mrs. May Harrison, president of the Susan Steele Bible class, presented Mrs. C. C. Robey, in a brilliant retrospect as witnessed by Mrs. Steele, during the years, and experienced by Meses Mary Hughes and Elizabeth Pettit, which showed the progress of time.

A fine tribute was also paid by Judge J. E. Hickman to the life and Christian character of these splendid women.

T. M. Johnson, J. A. Beard, Mrs. T. M. Johnson, expressed in glowing terms their appreciation of the benefits Eastland had received through contact with these fine examples in womanhood, and Mrs. Ernest E. Wood, responded with something of the civic and church work these women had accomplished.

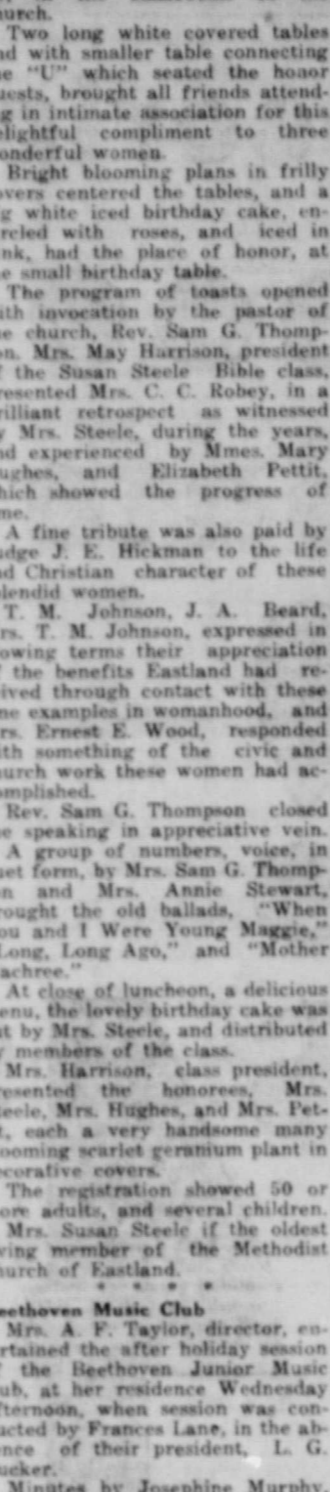

Rev. Sam G. Thompson closed the speaking in appreciative vein. A group of numbers, voice, in duet form, by Mrs. Sam G. Thompson and Mrs. Annie Stewart, brought the old ballads, "When You and I Were Young Maggie," "Long, Long Ago," and "Mother Macdree."

At close of luncheon, a delicious menu, the lovely birthday cake was cut by Mrs. Steele, and distributed by members of the class.

Mrs. Harrison, class president, presented the honorarium, Mrs. Steele, Mrs. Hughes, and Mrs. Pettit, each a very handsome many blooming scarlet geranium plant in decorative covers.

The registration showed 50 or more adults, and several children. Mrs. Susan Steele if the oldest living member of the Methodist church of Eastland.

TODAY the makers of Vicks Vapo-Rub present a new antiseptic... Vicks' Voratore Antiseptic. No extravagant claims are made for it. It is simply the best oral antiseptic Vicks Chemists could produce. And they were aided by the scientific experts of our 16 allied organizations... in America, in England, and in Germany.

They examined the whole field of oral antiseptics. Some they found were too weak... a few were far too strong for regular use in the mouth... most were very good... but all were much too expensive... especially for 1933.

Effective... and Safe
So they produced a balanced antiseptic... mild enough to be used daily without risk to delicate membranes

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT, United Press Staff Correspondent.
PARIS—Prince Charles d'Arenberg, Count Jacques de la Beraudiere, Count de Saint-Genys and a dozen or so of the smart young bachelors who always are to be seen at the best parties, the newest night clubs, and who last summer organized a memorable party of their own, the famous White Ball, received a very unusual Christmas present from Madame Schiaparelli. She sent each one of them a tie made of one of her own smart materials. Now the gentlemen all are terribly excited and interested in finding the young women about town who own the blouse or frock made of the same material to match their ties.

Mme. Schiaparelli may have started more than she realized at the time, for it's like finding the right foot for the Cinderella per—or the other half of a valentine!

Things Look Different in GOLD BLACK TYPE

"I HEAR," said the friend, "that you have just made $50,000 in the insurance business."
"Right—except for one or two slight particulars. It was real estate—not insurance. It was $75,000, not $50,000. And I didn't make it—I lost it!"

Has it ever happened to you that something you've told an acquaintance comes back, after many days, so distorted that you hardly recognize it? The spoken word so changes and colors much that we say, that by the time it passes many lips only the skeleton of truth remains.

But how different it is with the printed word! That is why you can trust the advertisements. Had you thought of it that way? Because the manufacturer and merchant are compelled to be accurate in type, you know that the quality of soap, ginger ale, clothing, butter or furniture you buy is as standardized as the calendar. It's all the manufacturer and retailer claim for it. It has to be!

Read the advertisements. Read them carefully, critically. Read them for profit! Read them knowing that the truth pays... you and the advertiser!
