PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE with BILL MAYES

This morning we take up the task of writing this column with a light heart, because we have several subjects—sales tax, cotton production and good old democratic jobs. We take them in any order, not in the order of their importance.

Last Monday night at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce John Hassen mentioned cotton production in the county, which brought up some discussion as to the largest crop produced in the county. We quote the following figures for the many who seemed interested. The largest crop produced in the county was in 1905, according to government records, when 50,611 bales were produced. The largest crop in recent years was in 1925 when 22,462 bales were produced and the lowest was 1921 with 1,837.

The entire record from 1908 to date is as follows: 1908, 50,611; 1909, 29,411; 1910, 26,397; 1911, 25,981; 1912, 26,656; 1913, 27,531; 1914, 24,065; 1915, 6,926; 1916, 6,275; 1917, 6,642; 1918, 4,541; 1919, 15,299; 1920, 7,688; 1921, 1,837; 1922, 1,921; 1923, 12,554; 1924, 14,088; 1925, 22,462; 1926, 7,195; 1927, 3,749; 1928, 6,733; 1929, 4,756; 1930, 4,244; 1931, 7,141, and 1932, 4,671.

These figures were furnished by the Dublin Hidesity Compress & Warehouse company, which is the nearest compress to Eastland county and one of the few compresses in this section of the county.

Dr. H. B. Tanner, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, a good republican, writes as follows about the 156,000 good jobs that will be opened up for democrats.

"I sent 40 cents to the government printing office at Washington for a copy of document No. 153, which is a list of the 156,000 good offices in the federal government open for democrats after March 4.

"These are not under the civil service rules. This book is in our (the Eastland) Chamber of Commerce office for the use of any good democrat who wants to look it over and pick out a good job.

"Texas never did have her proportion of federal jobs and now is the time for all good democrats to rally around the flag and get on the band wagon.

"It may look kind of funny for a good republican to be trying to get democrats a federal job, but we are out to help any of our citizens and this is just another incident of the daily routine of chamber of commerce work.

"I suggest you send for a copy and take your pick.

"Which we may do. Incidentally Dr. Tanner has taken to spelling 'republican' with a small 'r', while he wrote 'democrat' with a capital 'D', which may mean that he is seeing the light of reason, at least. Anyway, all good democrats should take advantage of this republic from the heart as he spent 40 cents of republican money for the opportunity to aid democracy.

"There has been much talk of the sales tax, as proposed in the Texas legislature and advocated by Mr. Jimmie H. Yickburg, Miss. Chamber of Commerce makes the following statement, after six months of sales tax in Mississippi:

"This tax is levied in addition to all other forms of taxes heretofore adopted by the state legislature, a majority of which other forms have been increased and none of which have been eliminated or reduced.

"The tax is levied against the gross proceeds of all sales or income: upon the necessities of life the same as upon luxuries.

"The tax is being passed to the consumer either in a known manner or through an increase in the price of merchandise or services.

"The property owners' tax burden has been increased the same as non-property owners, and the consuming public are not failing to express dissatisfaction.

"There is a noticeable increase in out-of-state buying, also in purchases made through mail order houses or from 'agents.'

"There is, especially in the border cities, a noticeable decrease in the volume of business formerly done with consumers living in border cities of adjoining states.

"As a state measure it is proving to be detrimental to business in general.

"Contrary to promises made, it is now known to be just another means of increasing revenue, in order that expenditures may be continued.

"The tax is providing a revenue in excess of that which the proponents of the tax claimed, and in excess of the amount needed to balance the budget.

"A few citizens whose past expenditures have resulted in it being impossible to meet obligations and (Continued on page 2)

Uncle Sam Gives Him Permission to Fly 'Round Globe

And who wouldn't smile, the way Jimmy Mattern is smiling here? For he has just been granted permission to make an around the world flight—the first such permit under the new Department of Commerce regulations on hazardous flights. Mattern, it will be recalled, tried to fly around the world last summer with Bennet Griffin but crashed in Russia.

AGED WOMAN IS KIDNAPED FOR RANSOM

By United Press.
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6.—The kidnapers of Mrs. Mary Skeele warned the police today that $10,000 ransom must be paid by 5:30 p. m. to insure her return.

By United Press.
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6.—Kidnaped by a hold gang which drove an automobile to her home and forced her into the machine, Mrs. Mary Skeele, 65, wife of the dean of music at the University of Southern California, today was held for $10,000 ransom.

While her husband, Dr. Walter Skeele played the organ at a church service last night, Mrs. Skeele received a telephone call advising her that he had been injured in an automobile accident.

The kidnapers arrived at the home, presumably to take her to the hospital. When Skeele returned to his home he found a two-page ransom note pinned to the screen door.

It demanded $10,000 ransom "immediately." The note threatened to "do away with Mrs. Skeele at once" if police were summoned.

Police said they were convinced Mrs. Skeele was a victim of an organized gang of kidnapers who had studied movements of the family very carefully.

This theory was strengthened by the fact that the typewritten note interspersed with printed words apparently clipped from newspapers and magazines.

Billiard Star Shot By Husband

In serious condition in a New York hospital is Jean Gay, expert, nationally prominent billiard player, who was shot three times by her estranged husband, Rush McDonald, as she lunched at a crowded tea room. He claims he was momentarily insane.

RANGER TO BE SCENE FRUIT, TRUCK SCHOOL

A half-day fruit and vegetable school will be held in the American Legion hall in Ranger, beginning at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and continuing until noon. The school will be under the direction of J. C. Patterson, Eastland county agent; Miss Ruth Ramey, Eastland county home demonstration agent, agricultural official of the Texas Pacific railway and the Texas A. & M. college. Another similar school will be held in Rising Star beginning at 2:30 in the afternoon.

There will be special talks on grading fruits and vegetables, but best cold frames, insect control and other subjects that will be of interest to the fruit and vegetable growers in this section of the country. The school is for men, women and children who wish to grow fruit and vegetable crops for the first time or who wish to improve their methods by learning standard practices.

These two schools should prove of much interest to the residents of the rural sections of the county because where certain fruits and vegetables crops are already established it is thought that increased production will mean bringing in of competitive buyers. Where sufficient acreage of a given crop is produced railroad agents will assist in getting packing sheds established and in bringing buyers for standard packs at market price.

According to C. M. Evans, agricultural agent of the Texas & Pacific railway, more than one-fourth of the income from American agriculture last year was from truck crops. This income was about equal to that from both cotton and grain crops. Truck crop value in Texas last year increased about three and one-half million dollars over that of 1931. Texas produced one-eleventh of the truck crop values of the nation last year. In Texas though we had only one acre of every 240 acres of cultivated land in commercial truck crops last year they accounted for over 300 per cent gross income.

Our crops are seasonal and for that reason the demand and market for our surplus is at distant points. For instance a large part of our green wrapped tomatoes go to the northern and western markets and many of them to points in Canada. The railroads have provided thousands of specially constructed, ventilated, refrigerated cars to deliver these crops to their destination in good condition. It provided they are of a good grade and standard pack when loaded. This brings new money into the state from distant points and is a source of considerable revenue to the railroads as they are the only transport organization that can furnish this service.

County Agent Patterson regrets that it is not possible to hold one of the schools in every section of the county but with only one day's time for this group allotted to the county the schools have been scheduled at opposite corners of the county so as to give an opportunity of attending one to the most people.

Forecloser Is Found Slain

Luther D. Marr, above, retired Kansas City, Mo., banker and real estate man, is believed to be the first murder victim in the mid-west's war on foreclosures. Marr was found in a highway ditch near Fort Scott, Kan. A few hours earlier he had visited a Kansas farm to foreclose a mortgage.

TWO OTHERS MAY DIE OF THEIR WOUNDS

Blast Occurs In a Tunnel 50 Feet Under Business Section Street.

DALLAS, Feb. 6.—A dynamite blast in a storm sewer tunnel trapped a gang of workmen today, killing one and injuring four. William Hughes, 30, workman, died at a hospital where he and the other injured men were taken.

The injured were J. O. Mizell, 32, fractured skull and the most seriously injured; Albert Gordon, M. B. Stone and C. Driggers, all laborers.

Driggers, a driller, was struck by flying rocks, one of which was embedded in his skull. Physicians said he could not recover. A rock the size of a man's fist killed Hughes.

Several other members of the crew of 12 escaped with shock, cuts and bruises. Only eight men were in the 15-foot square tunnel when the blast came.

The explosion occurred about 50 feet underground, directly beneath a street. The crew had been drilling holes in solid rock sides of the tunnel and electrically firing charges.

After the first round of blasting the drillers noticed ions charged had failed to explode. The set to work drilling around it, intending to remove it for inspection.

A drill evidently slipped, puncturing the dynamite cap. There was a dull, throbbing explosion and the ground shook for several blocks. The tunnel filled with smoke, dust and flying rock. Cries of the injured echoed through the cavern.

One by one the workers were loaded on small tram cars and were hoisted to the street.

TEACHERS OF SIX COUNTIES HOLD MEETING

Special Correspondent.
BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Feb. 6.—R. N. Sandlin, high school supervisor, from the state department of education, conducted a conference in Breckenridge Saturday at the senior high school on physical training and health education.

There were 41 school people from Taylor, Shackelford, Eastland, Stephens, Young and Throckmorton counties including teachers, principals and independent and county school superintendents.

Those assisting Mr. Sandlin on the program were Miss Maxine Clayton and P. E. Shotwell, of the department of physical training and health education of the local high schools.

The physical education law, passed in 1931, has not been administered wholly to the satisfaction of those engaged in public school work. It is just as much a law that this subject be taught as it is that the English language, the Constitution of the United States and other subjects be taught. To date concrete materials as in arithmetic, history and other subjects have not been made available to the schools throughout the state.

Mr. Smith stated that it should not be long until the law should be working much better and until courses of study would be available that teachers and schools could use. Given a little more time this subject, he predicted, would be thoroughly understood and made to fill a real need in the schools. The impression is rather general that unless a school has a special teacher the subject cannot be taught, but the aim is to get out materials of such nature that they will fit into any school, regardless of size or location, or equipment.

"It is the whole child," he said, "that comes to school, and it is of this person that the school must think in setting up a program."

A resolution was adopted asking the state department of education to get out bulletins often and in greater numbers. Heretofore the reason that bulletins have not been put out owing to the limited appropriations of the state department of education. In this resolution it was stated that a charge should be made covering the cost of bulletins, such as directories and courses of study. Bulletins are issued so seldom and in such limited quantities that materials are old and then insufficient. It is not free and seldom bulletins, but bulletins that cost a nominal sum each and more of them that the group voted for Saturday.

Those from Eastland county who attended the meeting were W. P. Peden, principal of the Eastland high school; Henry Collins, superintendent of the Olden Schools; Thompson Pickens, principal of the Olden high school; R. F. Holloway, superintendent of Ranger schools; Mary Jane Dreinhof, Ranger; Deanna Shirley, Ranger; E. C. Cooksey, Colony; Bert McGlavery, county superintendent; Marjorie Buchanan, Ranger; P. H. Bittle, superintendent, Eastland schools; Joe A. Gibson, Eastland; J. O. Brothers, Eastland; and O. G. Lanier, Ranger.

TRADE MEETING OF RANGER TO BE TONIGHT

A large number of merchants of Ranger is expected to be present at the trade extension meeting, called for 7:30 tonight in the office of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, when plans for a program of weekly or semi-monthly trade days will be discussed and action taken as to what method of improving the trade of the Ranger merchants can be promoted.

A committee has been appointed composed of John Hassen, Floyd Killingsworth, A. J. Radcliff, R. V. Galloway and F. D. Hicks. They have held one meeting for the purpose of discussing the means of promoting more trade and inducing more people to do their shopping in Ranger.

One merchant of Ranger, in writing of the plans to his home office, received a reply stating that the company was thoroughly convinced that now was the time for the merchants of Ranger to get together and go out for some of the business that has been going to other towns and which should, logically, come to Ranger.

Plans to carry out this idea are expected to be discussed at the meeting tonight and some concerted action taken to see that this trade is diverted into local channels.

All the merchants of Ranger have been invited to be present at the meeting tonight in order that they might have a voice in the plans that might be made. It is expected to carry out any plans at a minimum of expense to those participating, especially if all the merchants of the city co-operate in making the meeting a success and in putting on any program or series of trade expansion programs that might be recommended at the meeting tonight or by the committee appointed to work out the details.

Funeral Will Be Held Today For William Beall Smith

FORT WORTH, Feb. 6.—William Beall Smith, 52, formerly of Eastland, was to be buried here today. He was found shot to death at his home here, a gun lay nearby.

He was the son of the late John Peter Smith, pioneer capitalist and once mayor of Fort Worth. The son had engaged in banking, oil and insurance business during his long residence in Texas.

Eastland friends of the William Beall Smith family were shocked when the above news of his death was read Sunday morning.

Mr. Smith was a frequent visitor in Eastland and had hosts of friends in the city. Upon his last trip to Eastland a short time ago he seemed despondent and worried about his business affairs.

Mr. Smith came to Eastland in January, 1919 as assistant cashier to Mr. Cheatham, cashier of the First State Bank and afterwards known as Texas State Bank. In 1926 Mr. Smith assisted in organizing the Exchange National Bank of Eastland and was cashier and vice president.

E. A. Ringold, Ranger independent school district tax collector, announced today that in addition to the current taxes collected, $3,100 in delinquent taxes had been taken in the past few weeks.

There are still a large number of Ranger taxpayers who are delinquent on their tax payments and also on current taxes, it was pointed out, and an effort is being made to get as many of these to pay up as possible.

There is still outstanding $8,000 in school warrants, much of which is in the hands of those who owe taxes, it was pointed out today by the tax collector, and this scrip should be used in paying up taxes by those holding it.

Some of the scrip has been passed on to people who do not owe taxes and some has found its way out of town, where it is held by individuals and banks, it was estimated, but as much as possible should be turned in.

There was a total of $12,000 in scrip outstanding, about one-third of which has found its way back into the office of the collector, where it was received on taxes. The remaining $8,000 is still outstanding, though, and it is urged by the tax collector that it be turned in on school taxes.

YOUTH IS CHARGED IN ROBBERY AND SHOOTING CASE

FORT WORTH, Feb. 6.—Willard Duesee, 23, who was found cowering behind a chimney flue in the attic of a house, today was charged with the shooting and robbery of O. H. (Boot) Simpson here last January 28.

Duesee had vowed never to return to police headquarters alive but he surrendered peacefully. A trap door in a linen closet revealed his hiding place.

Simpson, shot in the mouth in the holdup, is recovering. He was robbed of $125.

W.C.T.U. Executives To Meet In Austin

AUSTIN, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Claude DeVan W. Tate, state president of the Women's Christian Temperance union, has called a meeting of the state executive committee of the organization to be held here next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The meeting is for a general discussion of plans to combat any repeal or relaxation in anti-liquor legislation. The session at this time, Mrs. Tate said, will also enable the members to contact their representatives and to attend the public hearings on the bills before the legislature proposing liquor law changes.

She said she anticipated attendance of the entire 52 members of the committee, including state officers, district representatives, branch secretaries and directors of departmental work.

Funeral Will Be Held Today For William Beall Smith

FORT WORTH, Feb. 6.—William Beall Smith, 52, formerly of Eastland, was to be buried here today. He was found shot to death at his home here, a gun lay nearby.

He was the son of the late John Peter Smith, pioneer capitalist and once mayor of Fort Worth. The son had engaged in banking, oil and insurance business during his long residence in Texas.

Eastland friends of the William Beall Smith family were shocked when the above news of his death was read Sunday morning.

Mr. Smith was a frequent visitor in Eastland and had hosts of friends in the city. Upon his last trip to Eastland a short time ago he seemed despondent and worried about his business affairs.

Mr. Smith came to Eastland in January, 1919 as assistant cashier to Mr. Cheatham, cashier of the First State Bank and afterwards known as Texas State Bank. In 1926 Mr. Smith assisted in organizing the Exchange National Bank of Eastland and was cashier and vice president.

He was married in 1918 to Miss Lucy Stephens of Fort Worth, daughter of Judge Stephens of that city.

Ranger Rifle Club To Hold Meeting At Legion Hall

Jim Ingram, who was re-elected president of the American Legion Rifle Club of Ranger at a meeting last Thursday night, has announced that the meeting of officers, range captains and members, scheduled for tonight, would be held in the American Legion hall. The meeting was moved from the offices of the Chamber of Commerce to the new location because of the trade expansion meeting that was previously scheduled for the Chamber of Commerce offices.

At the meeting tonight, to which all the members of the club are invited, plans for the opening shoot of the season and the activities for the remainder of the year will be formulated.

All members have been urged to be present, if possible, in order that a good representation of the club might be present.

More Taxpayers of Ranger Paying Delinquent Taxes

E. A. Ringold, Ranger independent school district tax collector, announced today that in addition to the current taxes collected, $3,100 in delinquent taxes had been taken in the past few weeks.

There are still a large number of Ranger taxpayers who are delinquent on their tax payments and also on current taxes, it was pointed out, and an effort is being made to get as many of these to pay up as possible.

There is still outstanding $8,000 in school warrants, much of which is in the hands of those who owe taxes, it was pointed out today by the tax collector, and this scrip should be used in paying up taxes by those holding it.

Some of the scrip has been passed on to people who do not owe taxes and some has found its way out of town, where it is held by individuals and banks, it was estimated, but as much as possible should be turned in.

There was a total of $12,000 in scrip outstanding, about one-third of which has found its way back into the office of the collector, where it was received on taxes. The remaining $8,000 is still outstanding, though, and it is urged by the tax collector that it be turned in on school taxes.

Farmers and stock raisers numbering several hundred met in Dallas the first week of January and adopted many important resolutions. This was the tenth which received the unanimous approval of the gathering.

MILLERS AND PACKERS FIGHT THE ALLOTMENT PLAN

Farmers are interested in the allotment measure which is pending in congress. It appears to have aroused very aggressive opposition. According to Washington correspondents, "from the ranks of the packers of meat and the millers of flour a storm of opposition to the domestic allotment farm relief plan is ready to break."

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—If Prof. Rexford G. Tugwell's proposed federal program for economic recovery is substantially that which may be expected from President-elect Roosevelt, there can be no doubt that the next administration will attempt to proceed along the broad progressive lines which characterized the first administration of Woodrow Wilson.

Appalling as Tugwell's proposals may be to conservatives, there is little doubt that Roosevelt would be able to get most of them enacted. It would be the first time anyone in power had launched an actual attempt to combat the depression and beat it back. Past governments policy has been designed to bolster up certain key sections of the financial structure while coasting along on the theory that even depressions must come to an end.

Speculation has been rather furious as to the extent to which Tugwell's ideas may be those of Roosevelt. The professor is one of the closest and most trusted advisers of the president-elect and is one member of the Roosevelt "brain trust" whose reputation has not been at all debased. He says, of course, that he is speaking for himself. But there is a tendency to believe that, in large part, he and Roosevelt see eye to eye.

A MODERATE redistribution of wealth and a smart restoration of purchasing power are perhaps the real keystones of the Tugwell plan. Heavier taxes on wealth, a $1,000,000,000 program of public works and the domestic allotment farm bill all invade these objectives.

A scientist says we could live indefinitely, like that 21-year-old chicken heart if it weren't for our heads. Had as they are, who'd want to be without 'em.

How The Farm Allotment Plan Works

Chairman of Congress' Committee On Agriculture Explains the New Democratic Proposal.

BY REP. MARVIN JONES

Chairman, Committee on Agriculture, U. S. House of Representatives
Written Especially for NEA Service

I believe that every thinking man will agree that there can be no business recovery in this country until recovery starts with the purchasing power of the farmer.

As a rule, I have been opposed to relief bills; in fact, I have voted against a number of such measures. But we are now confronted with a major emergency that demands immediate action. The price of what the farmer sells is far below pre-war levels, the price of what he must buy is still above pre-war levels. We must restore to the farmer his former parity of purchasing power before we can expect an upturn in business and the re-employment of the idle millions in our cities.

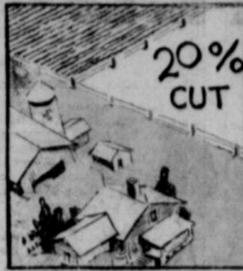

In explaining the "National Emergency Act" or "farm allotment plan" in the course of a speech in Congress, I used the analogy of a blood transfusion. I shall use the same analogy here.

"A Blood Transfusion"
This bill is an effort to administer a blood transfusion into the almost lifeless body of American agriculture. Agriculture must live if the nation is to live. The farmer must carry on if industry is to survive.

After a great deal of consideration the House committee on agriculture has worked out what is commonly known as the allotment plan. It is intended solely as a temporary emergency measure until such time as a permanent program can be worked out to include a readjustment of trade barriers, the making of our unit of money a true measure of values, the refinancing of farm mortgages, a shifting of taxes that have borne too heavily on the farm and ranch, and a very real reduction of expenses in government—national, state and local.

Aims of Bill
The aim of this emergency bill is to establish a minimum farm price for the commodities named,

ROOSEVELT'S "NEW DEAL" FOR FARMERS AT A GLANCE

20% CUT
First—Farmer must cut his acreage 20 per cent to qualify for bounties on crops covered in plan.
Secretary of agriculture fixes "fair parity price" and also portion of U. S. crop representing domestic needs to which "parity price" applies.

How paid?
Farmer sells crop and gets government certificate for the difference between market price and "parity price" on portion of his crop representing domestic needs. Certificate is redeemable in cash by government.

MARKET PRICE + BOUNTY = PARITY PRICE

Who pays it?
Government raises money for payment of farmers' certificates by collecting fees from flour millers, packers, cotton goods manufacturers and other processes on basis of amount of products they use.

How much increase?
The bill fixes a temporary "parity price" to apply on crops now held by producers. Later, the secretary of agriculture would fix the "parity price" on the new harvest.
Here are approximate figures:
Wheat—Farmer gets now about 35 cents a bushel; would get immediately, 75 cents; would get on new crop, 93 cents.
Cotton—Farmer gets now about five cents a pound; would get immediately, nine cents; would get on new crop, 12 cents.

Retail prices—
Increases in prices to consumers would be small, says Rep. Jones. He estimates wheat bounty would mean less than one cent additional on a loaf of bread, and cotton bounty only two cents on a $1 shirt.

ditional sum representing the difference between the market price and the parity price.
But the period between now and harvest would be designated as "the initial period" and the ratio of fair exchange value would be placed at 75 cents per bushel for wheat and nine cents per pound for cotton. These prices would apply only to those commodities now held by the producer himself.
Must Cut Production
The farmer would be paid with an "allotment certificate," the difference between the normal market price and the "fair exchange price." To qualify for this he would have to show proof of a reduction in his acreage—or production—of the given commodity by 20 per cent. Such a provision would help eliminate the huge surpluses that are depressing farm prices. The farmers' certificate allowances would cover only that part of the production going into domestic consumption, such amounts to be fixed by the department of agriculture.

Here is a simple example of how the farm allotment plan would work during the initial period, assuming that the domestic consumption of wheat is fixed at 70 per cent of the total crop:
A farmer hauls 1000 bushels of wheat to market. The prevailing market price is 35 cents a bushel. He is given a government certificate for the difference between that and 75 cents (or 40 cents a bushel) on 700 bushels, which amounts to $280. Thus, he would receive $280 in addition to the price paid by the buyer for his 1000 bushels. This certificate would be redeemed by the government for cash, half in 30 days and half in six months.
The plan would work similarly as to cotton and other commodities stated in the bill.
After the initial period—when the new harvest season starts—the full ratio prices would apply. These ratios would be calculated by the secretary of agriculture, on 1909-14 farm commodity prices correlated with industrial prices over the same period to arrive at a parity of buying power.

Consumer Pays Little More
Where would the money come from?
A processing fee would be levied by the government on the manufacturer of these farm commodities and this fee would be equal to the difference between the prevailing farm price and the pre-war ratio price. The fee would be paid by millers, meat packers, manufacturers of cotton goods, etc. As soon as the pre-war price levels

ILLUSION.
One of Napoleon's soldiers rose to fame on the "Burning Oven" trick. A roaring fire was built in an oven... the temperature rose to 600° F. Into the oven walked the "fire king," M. Chabert, carrying several raw steaks. A few minutes later the doors were flung wide and out he stepped... safe and sound... with the steaks thoroughly cooked.

EXPLANATION:
Heat rises. When Chabert entered the oven he hung the steaks above the fire, in the center of the oven, then dropped to the floor at the side, covering his head with a hood made from his shirt. He breathed through small air holes in the floor. When the steaks were cooked he threw back the hood, grabbed the steaks, and stepped out in triumph.

It's fun to be fooled... it's more fun to KNOW

"The Burning Oven" is an old illusion which has played a leading rôle in cigarette advertising. Its modern name is "Heat Treatment."
EXPLANATION: All cigarette manufacturers use the heat-treating process. Cheap, harsh, raw tobaccos require intensive processing under high temperatures. The more expensive tobaccos, which are naturally mild, call for only a moderate application of heat.
The first Camel cigarette was manufactured under the heat-treating process. Every one of the billions of Camels produced since has received the necessary heat treatment. But remember that heat treatment never makes cheap, inferior tobacco good. It is not in heat treatments, but in more costly tobacco and fine blending, that Camels find their appealing mildness and flavor.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

You sense this quality in the mildness... the distinctive flavor... of Camels. More costly tobaccos and a matchless blend tell the story of Camel leadership in public confidence.

Try Camels. Judge them critically. Compare them with others for mildness, for throat-ease, for good taste. Key your taste to quality! Camels come to you fresh and cool... in the air-tight, welded Humidor Pack that keeps dryness outside and freshness inside.

KIRSCHOGRAMS

THERE are three words in the English language that have a world of meaning... MODERATION... THOROUGHNESS... TOLERANCE.

For right living... MODERATION
For right working... THOROUGHNESS
For right thinking... TOLERANCE

IT is always possible to evolve a plan whereby everybody wins and no one loses... profit to all, and loss to none.

ALL things being equal, unjust laws make more law breakers and law abiding citizens than just laws make law abiding citizens out of law breakers.

KIRSCHOGRAMS

IT should be the constant endeavor of every man to so live that the world will be a little better for his having lived in it.

NEARLY every statement is subject to more than one interpretation. It is always good practice where there is nothing more than our feelings involved in any statement, and we are not sure of the intent of the statement, to give the person making it the benefit of the doubt.

WHEN you are down you are very apt to be kicked for falling, but when you are in the spot-light you are showered with rose buds and for-get-me-nots.

ONE of the biggest problems in our lives is to learn who our true friends are. The number of our friends seems to increase as our need for their friendship grows less.

HERE--- AND THERE

By ELVIE H. JACKSON

In these days of economies and major situations facing the average housewife, it is difficult at times to provide an appetizing variety at low cost for the family meals, and which must meet with individual needs, if there are more than two to plan for.

It is a relief to know that from all hygienic standpoints, that fruit, a cereal, with toast, coffee or milk, forms as nutritious a breakfast as is necessary.

The luncheon may be a simple affair, and figure poached eggs on toast, which takes the place of meat, and a simple sweet of some sort, either bread and jelly sandwiches, or a baked apple.

The evening dinner may have as the main resistance, a flanked steak, two vegetables which are now very cheap, and an appetizing dessert that need not necessarily be expensive.

The flanked steak is suggested as it is the much cheaper meat and may be made most edible. Pound the meat thoroughly, wipe with melted butter, season with salt and pepper, and fry quickly in a very hot griddle, barely covered with bacon grease. Turn the steak frequently while cooking, and do not have over fire too long.

A cheap and delicious dessert, brown Betty pudding, is made of two layers of bread crumbs, with an inner layer of finely chopped apple, with bits of butter, and enough sugar, sprinkled over each layer as the pudding is made. To a medium sized pan of this dessert add a half glass of water, one teaspoonful of vanilla, and pour over top of pudding just before placing in the stove. A hot sauce to eat with this dessert is much cheaper than a hard sauce. For this hot sauce, use a cup and a half of water, sweeten to taste, add a few grains of nutmeg and cinnamon, a lump of butter, half hen's egg size. As the liquid comes to a boil, stir in slowly two heaping teaspoons of cornstarch that has been dissolved in cold water, just enough to do the trick. Stir constantly and let the sauce boil one and one-half minutes or until of the consistency and thickness desired. This pudding and sauce may be made in the early morning hours, and reheated for the evening meal.

Yes, there are many ways which the housewife can ferret out by which she may have a table that is attractive, nourishing, and inexpensive.

Many successful housekeepers are now using a linen runner through the dining table center in lieu of a table spread or cloth.

This saves laundry bills and home washing, and yet makes an attractive, up-to-date setting for the table, which is found much easier to wipe off after Johnnie has spilt his milk and crumbs, and Dad had spattered with meat when carving, than to have to remove the cloth and scrub out resultant stains.

Place a bowl of nuts or fruit, if you have it, in the table runner center or an attractive bit of green may be provided for the clear crystal vase, in branches, beginning to bud, and clipped from the hedge or other bush growth about the premises. The brown stems and tender green foliage forms an attractive picture.

Yes, it's all in the way of looking at things whether one can make their surroundings desirable and pleasing, or leave neglected and uncomfortable.

The simple table was well told when Christ supped with Martha and Mary and partook of their frugal meal.

The tale is again told when Christ plucked the corn from the field for his hungry disciples, and yet again when the multitude was fed by Him, with the loaves and fishes.

Surely if he had the power to provide this food, he had the same power to have provided the banquet of rich dishes, and strange wines.

That greatest supper the world has ever known, was eaten from a bare board, and brought wine and bread.

If women will keep their heads up during this depression, and say inwardly, "I will do my best to keep conditions normal," then this painful battle between present conditions and existent needs will be satisfactorily accomplished, given the faith in prayer that is necessary to us all.

SPOTLIGHT

Sheila Shayne, dancer, is discharged from a new play because... Later that night she was able to convince herself it was chance and not deliberate neglect that kept Jerry from telephoning or coming to see her. She decided Saturday morning, therefore, to take affairs into her own hands. She arose at 11 and dressed carefully. Then she left her room, took the elevator to the street floor and, for once, entered the dining room for breakfast. It was almost deserted. The head waiter, recognizing her, rushed forward. "A nice seat near the window?" he urged. The window was well above the street and Sheila nodded. She sat down, accepted the morning newspaper with a smile of thanks and gave her order. It was a pleasant dining room. A pretty girl wearing a white cap and ruffled apron brought the coffee. Then a waiter served the breakfast. Under pretense of assuring himself that everything was satisfactory the head waiter returned. "Is everything as you wish?" he asked. "I hope, Miss Shayne, you won't mind my saying to give them some advice? You are equisite." "Thank you." He talked on eagerly then. He had three daughters, he said, all with stage aspirations. Would Miss Shayne be kind enough to give them some advice? "Tell them," she said, "to stay off the stage."

By Cowen

Perhaps he would telephone. That was more likely. She remained in her room, having lunch there, and hoping for a call but it did not come. The "Fine Feathers" engagement in Spencer was for three nights. All that first day Sheila toyed with the idea of telephoning Jerry. At last she took up the directory. There was no Wyman listed except a bicycle shop on a side street. Certainly she could not reach Jerry there. Well, if she could not find the correct number she could not call him. That settled that! "After the way I treated him last summer of course he won't call me," she told herself. "He'll think that if I want to see him I'll send some word."

A Thousand Yous

WHEN you pick up your newspaper and glance over the advertisements you quite unconsciously multiply yourself a thousand times.

In half or three-quarters of an hour you can, figuratively speaking, visit every progressive store in town. You virtually poke your head into every department of every department store. You run into the florist's, the confectioner's, the oculist's, the leading groceries, theaters, all the various places that supply the things that make this the twentieth century and life worth the living. Here is a greater choice in clothing, food, furniture, books, pictures, musical instruments, travel, entertainment, opportunities for investment, the service of public utility corporations than any monarch of old could command.

It would easily take a thousand yous, traveling hard all days, to find out for yourself what the advertisements tell you in a few minutes morning or evening.

Advertisements deserve your attention. They deserve your confidence. Without advertising, the prices you would have to pay for many of the necessities you now buy for small change would make a dollar look like a snowball on the kitchen range.

 The Booster Bible class of the Methodist Church, held a splendid class meeting Sunday morning, presided by their president, Mrs. W. W. Kelly with Mrs. Ed Willman at the piano for the song service, led with hymn, "More About Jesus." Prayer by Ed Willman prefaced a wonderful lesson by the class teacher, Judge W. P. Leslie, "Choosing of Christ's Disciples," in which the speaker suggested the qualifications and calling, talents and abilities, that formed the choice by Christ.
 There was an unusually large attendance, personnel including Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Willman, Mr. and

Mrs. J. W. Hassell, Mr. and Mrs. June Hargis, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Price, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Crossley; Mmes. Neil Moore, J. Kramer, Milton Lawrence, Roy Birmingham, J. G. Patterson, Frank Hightower, Claud Bowles, Galand Poe; Misses Aline Walker, Jessie Lee Ligon, Opal Morris, Sibyl Truly, Lillian Thompson, and J. Missionary Will Returns
 Miss Viola Humphries, a missionary in the Baptist field, and stationed in China the past 11 years, is returning to this country on sick leave and will be in Eastland soon with her sister, Mrs. J. P. Truly.

Interesting News of Former Eastland Woman
 Local friends have received interesting news from Mrs. T. J. Pitts, now of Longview and until within recent months, a several resident of this city, when she was prominently connected with Baptist church work as president of the Women's Missionary society, and as pianist for Baptist church services, as well as prominent member of the Music club of which she has been a successful president.

Mrs. Pitts has just recently been elected president of the Women's Missionary society of the largest Baptist church in Longview.
 When here she assisted in organizing the junior missionary auxiliary of the Baptist church, and for years was director of the Sunbeam band.

Charming Party For Younger Set
 Mrs. James Horton entertained a group of the younger young set most charmingly at the handsome Horton home Friday night, with games cards and dancing, honoring the young son of the house, Horace Horton.

St. Valentine was in evidence in the delightful appointments in the large living and dining rooms, in the myriad of cupid and hearts, that fluttered from strands from the ceiling, swung from the lustres, and were wreathed in festoons against the pale green, ivory and gold walls.
 Radio and phonograph music provided an undertone to the merriment. A contest in words from letters in "Valentine" was awarded Carolyn Cox, presented a big lace-edged valentine as favor.

In groups of four each separate conferences were held, in which famous loving scenes from history were decided upon, and presented as charades. This brought clever acting of Romeo and Juliet; Adam and Eve; John Alden and Priscilla, and episodes in the life of Nathan Hale, that were very cleverly done.
 Rugs were rolled back and the spacious, polished floors were a tempting invitation to dancing feet, bridge being provided for those not dancing.

Delicious refreshments of fruit punch and chocolate cake, with whipped cream and nut filling, red candies, and red hot hearts were served the intimate little group. Misses Betty Perkins, Eleanor Ruth Ferguson, Betty Stire, Joan Johnson, Carolyn Cox, Kathleen Cottingham, Helen Butler, Faynette Campbell, Jeanne Johnson, Mary Frances Stires, Horace Horton, Raymond Pipkin, Clyde Chaney, Roger Arnold, Parker Brown, Bobby Dwyer, Samuel Butler, Boyd Tanner, Jim Connelley, and Wesley Lane.

The evening was a most delightful one. The girls, coming buds of social life, were in pretty evening frocks.

Charlene Harrison Returns
 Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison spent Sunday in Fort Worth with relatives and upon their return home last evening, were accompanied by their daughter, Miss Charlene who has been visiting relatives there.

Mrs. Drago Returns
 Fred L. Drago returned home Sunday night from a several months visit in West Virginia, where she was called by the ill health of her mother. Friends are welcoming Mrs. Drago, who has been greatly missed.

High School P-T-A Financial Committee Plans
 Mrs. Glen S. Stire, chairman of the finance committee of the high school Parent-Teacher association, called a meeting of committee members, Mrs. E. E. Johnson, Lane W. C. Marlow, I. J. Lambert, Mrs. W. K. Jackson, appointing publicity chairman (A) committee, and the president of the association, Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, this week-end afternoon for consultation, in planning a big community night celebration on the campus and in high school building, to take place within a short time.

The conference was held at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Stire, when ways and means for financing projects for benefit of school were planned.
 The entire community will be asked to take part in a celebration in appreciation of the reconstruction work done on the high school grounds. A brilliant program will be held at dusk, with concert by Prof. Campbell's band, and continuous performance of vaudeville acts on stage of auditorium to be presented by each class of the high school.
 The gymnasium will be transformed into a midway pleasure, and plans are now on foot, for booths on the campus, to be filled with gay balloons, candy and bright trifles.
 People are requested to come in their cars, if they like, and park and enjoy the concert even if they don't care to roam over the grounds, or go inside the building, or attend other attractions.

 It has been planned for sometime by the finance committee to put through an organized program for amusement and entertainment of the public and community and one that all will participate in, and have an opportunity to visit amid pleasant surroundings.
 The date is considered for early part of March. It is hoped that no county entertainment will take place at that time, as invitations will be extended to all adjacent towns to be present.

The brilliant floodlight now in operation on the high school building will make the scene as bright as day.

Methodist Church Choir Concert
 The Methodist Church was filled with an appreciative audience Sunday night, for the very wonderful monthly church choir concert, directed by Wilda Drago.

The program was given as published in Sunday Eastland Telegram, with the added attraction of a violin solo by John Allen Mouser, "The Fourth Concert" from Feitz, second movement, magnificently played, Jane Ferguson, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Ferguson, showed wonderful technique in her piano solo, and the voice solo by Lillian Thompson, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwelling-places," was smoothly and beautifully interpreted.
 The three anthems given by the choir, were well balanced and with fine shading, Dvorak's "Goin' Home" proved an exquisite treat, sung by Mrs. J. B. Leonard, Mrs. Grady Pipkin and Miss Wilda Drago.

These concerts are proving more and more popular with the public, which look forward with each presentation to the one to come.

 The Civic League of Eastland will present a novel and attractive Better Homes program on Wednesday afternoon in community clubhouse with a delightful tea hosted by Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, Eastland county chairman of Better Homes and Mrs. W. E. Stalter, sixth district chairman of American Homes of Texas Federation of Women's clubs.

Every woman attending is requested to bring her sewing basket as needlework and handcraft will be the order of entertainment.
 Many rug patterns will be displayed and these are sent by Miss Ramey who received them from the state American Home headquarters.

A talk on the making of rugs and the plans for the rug contests of the district in April, will be given by Mrs. Stalter and the informal program concluded in a short talk with chalk diagrams, "How To Give a Report," presented by Mrs. W. K. Jackson, divisional Better Homes chairman, and chairman for Eastland.
 Every woman interested is invited to this meeting by the hostesses and Mrs. J. C. Patterson, president of the league.

Stephens, and Mrs. Garner Kinard, long members and honored by the Booster class with a pretty gift shower reception amid charming surroundings of flowers and ferns, with the color note of pink and blue carried out in the bowls of violets and bouquets of pink geraniums.

Guests were received by the president of the class, Mrs. W. W. Kelly, and Mmes. J. C. Patterson, W. W. Phillips, Neil Moore; Miss Lillian Thompson, and Mrs. Ed Willman, general chairman for the entertainment, assisted by Mmes. Milton Lawrence and P. L. Crossley.
 Gifts of the entering guests were received by Miss Jessie Lee Ligon and registration presided over by Mrs. Willman.
 The diversions brought an identification contest in baby pictures of those attending, the favor for having discovered the presence of photos being awarded Mrs. Nicholson, who received in two novel pins.

A snappy cartoon drawing, made by Mrs. Virgil T. Seaberry in charcoal, demanded a title, these being submitted by those in the group. A pretty program brought a voice solo, "Mighty Lak A Rose," Miss Lillian Thompson and reading by Miss Kathleen Cottingham.

ham, in Edgar Guest's poem, "Home."
 Mrs. Arthur Vaughn charmed her audience in tender violin solos.
