PEEPING THROUGH THE KNOTHOLE
with BILL MAYES

If we can ever get thawed out enough to make our fingers work properly and our brain, if any, functioning as well as usual, if we will get his column finished sometime before the press starts to work on it. Just between us, we are in no great hurry about finishing it, because as soon as we have to go out in this weather and try to find out what, if anything, has happened overnight, the customers might be injured.

Which reminds us that our experience with cold weather has not been very extensive, 17 degrees below zero being the coldest we have seen, or felt, and it did not seem as cold, as we remember it, as the weather this morning. When the city hall thermometer registered 12 degrees above, and 9 o'clock had dropped to 9 degrees. The weather should be fine for the gas company, the garages and plumbers.

Quoting further the views of the Mississippi sales tax, as expressed by officials of the Vicksburg Chamber of Commerce, made after a tax has been in vogue a little over six months, and the "staggering movement of consumers, small property owners and payers of Texas" we find this statement, which we reproduce about comment, endorsement or commendation:

"Remember the consumer is the one that lays the golden egg. It is him and his family that are being stripped, and the sources of revenue entirely destroyed. A tax of any kind, no matter how small, will hit the common people hardest. The farmer, those who work for wages, and those who work for salaries, by far the majority of the population, are at least of all able to pay any other taxes, and they are already the heaviest tax payers we have."

Retrenchment in governmental appropriations, with a determination that the state shall live within available income, regardless of the number of families, businesses, and all industry has to do, will solve the problem of balancing the budget, and help people to get on their feet, and return to their normal content and buying power."

Wednesday, Feb. 8, if we are not mistaken, is the beginning of Boy Scout Week in America and could be celebrated fittingly in Ranger, because more has been accomplished in scouting this year than ever before.

In celebrating its twenty-third anniversary the Boy Scouts of America again properly draws attention to the fact that its program is designed to supplement and supplement the home, the church and the school. Scouting takes the leisure time of boys and outdoor games and activities of rural and practical values. Primary and secondary education is designed to supplement and supplement the home, the church and the school. Scouting takes the leisure time of boys and outdoor games and activities of rural and practical values. Primary and secondary education is designed to supplement and supplement the home, the church and the school.

Scouting is the beginning of the Scout movement in America and it is the one organization which all, regardless of racial or religious differences may join upon the same platform. Because of its common aims and because scouting has been described as the most practical way for the peace of the world. The common aim of purposes of this great movement will be emphasized when the Scouts of America celebrate their twenty-third anniversary of establishment of scouting in America during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 8-14, 1933.

Committee Urges Relieving Barry

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The House Judiciary committee today recommended that Sergeant-at-Law David S. Barry be removed from office for writing in former Senator Alfred E. Smith's "New Nation" magazine, that some "new" soldiers should be taken from the committee action was unanimous. The senate has agreed to vote on the dismissal action today.

BLIZZARD IS EXPECTED TO BE PROLONGED

DALLAS, Feb. 7.—A blizzard shrieked across Texas today with a shower of snow and hail to send temperatures down like a plummet. Air and land traffic was delayed.

The average temperature drop for the state was 39 degrees in six hours. No immediate relief was seen today by weather men. In East Texas temperatures were to range from 6 degrees in the north to 28 in the south. In West Texas 10 to 24 degree temperatures were to prevail.

Temperatures today averaged around 15 degrees below freezing. Amarillo had a low of 9 degrees below at 7. m. Sleet was general in the mountains of West Texas. Snow fell at Amarillo and in scattered sections of north and central Texas as far south as Waco.

Vegetable School Held In Ranger High School Today

Because of the extreme cold weather, which prevented many from being present, the Eastland county fruit and vegetable school was moved from the American Legion hall this morning to the Ranger high school building, where the talks were presented before the vocational agricultural classes and a few visitors.

The school was originally scheduled to be held in the Legion hall and it was expected that a large number would be present to hear the talks on raising fruits and vegetables, preparing the products for marketing, insect control and the other problems of the truck and fruit growers.

Several visitors were present in addition to the vocational agricultural classes, though a large number were prevented from being present on account of the sudden cold snap which came up early Tuesday morning.

C. M. Evans, agricultural agent of the Texas & Pacific Railway, said in his talk to the future farmers that 27 per cent of the agricultural income of the United States is due to progress in raising fruits and vegetables and that one-fourteenth of the income of Texas was derived from commercial vegetables.

He talked of sweet potato growing, which he said was the crop that was ideal for this section and that it was due to progress in a number of ways. Increasing consumption, he said, depended on improving the quality, which could be done by getting better seed.

He urged curing of sweet potatoes, because it made them keep better and also improved the flavor. He urged the use of one ounce of corrosive sublimate to eight gallons of water in which the potatoes are immersed for a period of 15 minutes and then put in the beds to sprout. This cuts down the period of 15 minutes, and then put in the beds to sprout. This cuts down the period of 15 minutes, and then put in the beds to sprout.

C. R. Reppert, entomologist of the extension service of A. & M. college talked on insect control, and that it was due to progress in a number of ways. Increasing consumption, he said, depended on improving the quality, which could be done by getting better seed.

He gave as examples of the two classes, the grasshopper and the turnip looper. To combat the chewing insect he recommended using a stomach poison, such as lead arsenic, while for sucking insects.

Mortgage Laws to Have Preference

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A decision to scrap all permanent farm relief bills in favor of a temporary program to ease the farm mortgage situation was reached today by a senate committee. "If we could get a few taxes paid off and get rid of the harvest of foreclosure, it would be the best we could do at this session," members declared.

Farmer-Veteran Backed For Nobel Peace Prize

By NEA Service
GONZALES, Calif.—The world may yet be relieved from the scourge of war not by bearded and ribboned diplomats, but by a big blond California grain farmer who saw war's horrors with his own eyes.

Henry C. Korntved was the first from this little town to enlist when the call to war came in 1917. He was the oldest of 12 children born to Danish immigrants on a farm-attended grammar school, played trumpet in the school band, composed music, led a dance orchestra. Then he went to France.

"My main service was ambulance driving and duty in a large general hospital," he tells. "To this came the maimed wreckage of war, the armless, the legless, the blind, the wounded that way. And the world is no safer, though there were thousands of new millionaires. The futility of it all was burned into me."

So when Korntved came back from France, he returned to his grain farm in a canyon near here, and rode the range again. And he thought, rainy days, diminished crops, the struggle for existence for himself, his wife and four children, could not drive war from his mind. He bought magazines, books. His wife made notes of the ideas of international figures. A plan evolved in Korntved's mind.

Now that plan has been submitted as a possible qualification for the Nobel peace award. No less authority than Dr. George P. Adams, professor of philosophy at the University of California, and Representative Arthur M. Free, have submitted the plan to Nobel award authorities.

Korntved's plan is that of a World Court with teeth. He stops chopping wood in his farmyard long enough to raise a submersible and blue eyes, and tell how his plan would act in the present Asiatic troubles.

"The World Court—with one member nation—to bring peace by blockade.

"Should both nations' electors reject the court decision, each would submit the question of war to a referendum of its able-bodied men of military age. Each man voting affirmatively would automatically enlist for service."

Korntved would have the World Court work for a universal language and international commerce laws as a means of ending international disputes. It would have power to try and sentence propagandists who lead peoples to war.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Police today sought four men and a woman as the abductors of Mrs. Mary B. Skeele, who was safe at home today.

Lured into an automobile by a fake accident call and held under threat of death for $10,000 ransom, the wife of Dr. Walter Skeele, dean of music at the University of Southern California, was set free without explanation, near her home last night.

No ransom was paid, Dr. Skeele said, and detectives were at a loss to understand the sudden decision of the kidnapers to release their victim.

The slight, gray haired 60-year-old woman was able to give only a sketchy description of the gang which abducted her.

She was blindfolded, she said, and held prisoner in a costly furnished apartment. When the decision to release her was reached, she said, the leader of the gang told her:

"I have a mother, too."

Rotary Club of Eastland Hears Economy Talk

The Eastland Rotary club heard an interesting talk on economy in government at their noon luncheon Monday, by J. W. Cockrell, editor of the Gorman Progress.

The speaker's summary showed the enormous superfluity of government officials, the need for the abolition of these offices, and saving of government funds.

W. P. Palm reported Rotarians actively practicing for the coming volleyball contest, date announced later.

Earl Bender and Dr. W. E. Chaney, program chairman for the day, reported the club had reelected Dr. J. H. Caton at this meeting.

President James Horton announced W. P. Palm and Carl Angstadt, as chairmen for next Monday's luncheon.

Another guest was Judge Lindsay Hawkins of Breckenridge, Rotarian.

The meeting closed with Rotarian songs led by Julius R. Krause, with Clara June Kimble at piano, and with all Rotarians save two in attendance.

RANGER PLANS EXTENSION OF TRADE AREAS

A group of more than 50 merchants of Ranger met in the office of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce Monday night and discussed plans for a trade extension program for the city.

John Hansen, chairman of the committee to work out details, presided at the meeting and made a short talk on the advantages of such a program and the need for such a movement at this time, fully outlining the things done on similar projects in the past.

The skeleton outline of a program was presented by P. D. Hicks, a member of the committee, after which Chairman Hansen called on each person present for his views on the plan or suggestions as to how it could be changed to advantage.

Each member present expressed himself as being heartily in favor of a program of the kind and several mentioned deviations from the original plans, some of which met with the approval of the body.

It was also suggested that an entertainment program be worked out and this program be presented at the school near Ranger, at which time the school might put on a pie supper or some similar feature to add to the celebration.

Although no action was taken on the entertainment feature, several expressed themselves as being in favor of this plan.

On a motion by W. N. McDonald and seconded by Walter Harwell, the body voted unanimously in favor of retaining the original committee and empowering them to go ahead with plans and to report back at a similar meeting just of a program of the kind and several mentioned deviations from the original plans, some of which met with the approval of the body.

It was estimated that between one-quarter and one-third of the gross sales of any merchant participating in the plan the committee works out would be sufficient to take care of all the expenses of the plan, including publicity and the expense of other details.

State Taxpayers To Meet In Austin On February 10

DALLAS.—The all state-wide meeting of the State Taxpayers Association of Texas will hold a two day meeting in Austin, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 10 and 11, with headquarters at the Stephen F. Austin hotel, regular sessions in ball room of the hotel.

Ex-Governor James E. Ferguson will make the principal address Friday night dealing with matters of state government and taxation.

The call to "march on to Austin" is to all taxpayers of the state, stated George B. Latham, secretary, at association headquarters in Dallas, and the program of two days will be devoted to the reasonable demands now for tax reduction to give relief which is justly due the taxpayers of Texas.

The following is a part of the announcement and call for the state-wide taxpayers meeting:

"Taxpayers, if your house was on fire today, would you call the fire department or ask assistance of anyone to put it out and say, 'My house is on fire, but don't come here until tomorrow'? That is unreasonable, there would be no house left tomorrow—but it is no more unreasonable than delay on legislation with the state legislature in session with the power to act in their hands to give relief to a tax-burdened people, with thousands of homes in the city and country being foreclosed and titles passed to the state daily, or passed to mortgage holders because the home or land owners are unable to pay the taxes and mortgage loans and interest."

"This call is to you as a taxpayer, to march on to Austin and be present Friday and Saturday, Feb. 10 and 11, at the meeting to demand immediate action for tax reduction, according to the pledges made by a majority of the members of this legislative body, who were elected to office on the platform pledging themselves to quick action for strict economy and tax reduction as outlined in their campaign when they asked you and me to vote for them. They told us how they would accomplish it by reducing the expense in the county and state offices, eliminating and combining departments, bureaus and commissions, reducing salaries, the readjustment of taxation on real estate so it will not carry 80 to 90 per cent of the burden as it does now; the taking of intangible and invisible properties so that they will share their due part of the burden of the government."

Reveals Strange Kidnap Story

Kidnaped from home in Hamburg, brought to New York and abandoned, found by a stranger who took care of her and finally turned her over to authorities in Los Angeles. That is the strange story told here by the pretty six-year-old German girl shown above, who remembers only the name "Hedwig." She was turned over to authorities by a man who said he found her in a New York railroad station.

The program committee for the Ranger Retail Merchants association-Chamber of Commerce banquet, has announced that a good short program has been worked out for the annual get-together meeting to be held in the Elks clubrooms on the night of Thursday, Feb. 9.

Acceptance of invitations have been received from John Z. Martin, secretary, and Paul F. Williams, president of the Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce; J. E. Spencer, secretary, and R. L. Poe, president, of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, and J. C. Rhodes, president of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce. Dr. H. B. Tanner, secretary of the Eastland chamber, will not be able to be present, as he is to spend 10 days at Marlin, recuperating.

The program, as worked out by H. C. "Andy" Anderson and C. B. Pruet is as follows:

Toastmaster, Hall Walker. Song, "America," led by Bill McDonald; Miss Marguerite Adamson, pianist.

Invocation, Rev. H. R. Johnson, Diner. Retail Merchants, C. B. Pruet, president.

Chamber of Commerce, Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, president. Entertainment in Song, R. E. "Shep" Sheppard, Wichita Falls' most outstanding citizen for the year 1931.

Address, Walter D. Cline, Wichita Falls' most outstanding citizen for 1932.

Music during the dinner furnished by Ranger's Little Symphony orchestra, R. L. Maddox, conductor.

Weslaco Farmers Organize Against Low Farm Prices

WESLACO, Feb. 7.—Farmers in this section of Texas today enrolled in an association pledged not to sell farm products until higher prices are offered.

More than 300 men organized as the farm bureau federation and declared an "active war" for increased prices.

The announced plans to begin "picketing all market roads" within a few days, probably Saturday, and pledged themselves not to harvest crops until these prices were posted.

Cabbage, $6 a ton beets, turnips and carrots, 20 cents a crate.

Graham Man Is Silent on Charge of Embezzlement

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 7.—H. W. Tidwell, cashier of the Graham, Texas, National bank, refused to comment today on his arrest on a federal indictment alleging he embezzled $68,000 of the bank's funds. He said publicly might endanger the bank's depositors.

Tidwell's bond was fixed at $10,000. Federal officers today explained that Tidwell and his relatives had made good the shortage.

ARE CHARGED IN KIDNAPING OF A FARMER

Men Reported To Have Been In Penitentiary On A Previous Occasion.

HILLSBORO, Feb. 7.—Two men with prison records and three young women were held in jail here today, charged with robbery of the Covington State Bank.

A Dallas laundry mark, found on clothing left in the automobile abandoned by the bank bandits after they had fled with approximately $4,000 last January 26, led to their capture in Dallas last night.

The men were identified as J. B. Stephens, 26, and David L. Cates, 25. The women gave their names as Maggie Cates, Mrs. B. T. Dukes and Nettie Fudge and each was charged with being an accessory to the holdup.

Stephens, two sentenced from Dallas county to the state prison, and Cates, are charged with robbery of the bank.

Officers said the men were charged with robbery with firearms in Johnson county courts for forcing a farmer to aid them in their flight.

Coldest Weather In Three Years Visits County

A sudden cold snap swept down upon Eastland county early Tuesday morning, sending the mercury down as low as 4 degrees above zero at several of the outlying oil camps. The thermometer in the city hall registered 9 degrees above zero at 9 o'clock and was gradually rising later in the day.

Automobiles were frozen in practically every locality in the county, reports indicated, and garages in Eastland and Ranger were kept busy this morning towing in machines disabled by the cold.

Water pipes were reported frozen over both towns, with many families without city water service.

The coldest weather since January, 1930, was reported over the county.

Ranger Man Displays Home Grown Lettuce

T. S. Fountain, who lives at 813 South Rusk street, Ranger, brought in a number of heads of lettuce and some petunia plants to the Times office Monday afternoon which he raised in his garden at his home.

Mr. Fountain said that he had let the lettuce grow voluntarily, and that he had plenty to eat each day. The petunias were unusually well developed for this time of year, being as large as plants usually are much later in the spring.

He said that he ate lettuce from his volunteer crop every day this winter and still had hundred of small plants that would develop later in the year.

REAL PEACE: Wisdom's ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace.—Proverbs 4: 17.

ANOTHER NEW YORK BANK REVIEW OF CONDITIONS

There is something happening every day in the American world. Now the powerful National City Bank of New York in its monthly economic review declares the only effective route to prosperity lies in "an adjustment of the international government debts to assure that the foreign exchanges may be free as long as necessary from the pressure of these great one-way payments;" reduction of government expenditure and taxation; balancing of the budget of the federal and local governments; and the adjustment of wages and prices in places "where an adequate adjustment has been heretofore hampered or blocked." Indeed, the review carries the broad statement that there is no practical way of reviving the exchange of goods and services which constitute business "except by restoring terms upon which they will exchange by removing the obstacles to their exchange."

It appears a longer road to Tipperary.

SENATOR LEWIS SPEAKS HIS MIND

Sen. J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois is a democrat. Senator Lewis never wears a party muzzie. His latest is a criticism of the president-elect. He opened the war debt debate with a speech in which he warned the American people against possibility of a concerted drive from abroad for a new moratorium and called for reassertion of the opposition of congress to any new moratorium or any reduction in the debts.

James Hamilton Lewis was a United States Senator from Illinois in World War days. He was very close to Woodrow Wilson. He advised Wilson not to go to Paris out to "let his ambassadors do the negotiating for peace." Woodrow Wilson ignored the advice. He made the trip himself. He returned to Washington and found the senate hostile to his program. Now the Illinois senator is opposed to the president-elect's plan for a lone hand dealing with Great Britain on revision of war debts.

Well, when the republicans step out and the democrats walk in, will the dog wag the tail or the tail wag the dog?

FARM MORTGAGES AND INSURANCE COMPANIES

This appears to be a campaign of education. Farm mortgages held by 52 insurance companies at the end of 1932 have been estimated at approximately $1,660,000,000, according to a New York financial bulletin. These 52 companies represent 916 per cent of all life insurance companies in the United States. Indeed, the estimate was published by the Association of Life Insurance Presidents at their annual meeting. Furthermore, farm mortgages held by life insurance companies totaled $1,081,274,000 in the seven west and north central states: Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Kansas.

Now it is announced from Washington that democrats in congress are aligned behind a movement for action at the present session on emergency legislation to meet the farm mortgage problem. It is a problem—a very knotty one at that.

Business must think in the days of today and not in the days of yesterday.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

H. CLARIDGE, advertising manager of the Salada Tea company, Inc., says:

"Back in 1892 when Salada Tea was introduced into this continent, our big problem was the same as that confronting every introducer of a new product—how to create consumer interest. We decided to try newspaper advertising, and secured such satisfactory results that, as the business progressed and new territory was developed, newspapers became an essential part of our sales program."

"Our newspaper advertising has carried on without a break over a period of forty-one years, and today we are advertising several times a week in about 600 newspapers in almost as many cities."

"We find newspapers especially adapted for our sales work because they seem to give the type of coverage needed in the sale of a food product such as ours with the most flexibility and the least waste. This year the major part of our appropriation will again go to newspaper advertising, the medium which has contributed in no small measure to making Salada Tea the largest selling tea in North America."

"Consistent advertising is always necessary, but becomes vital in times of depression, and we have increased our advertising budget by about 22 per cent since 1929."

"This is not an extravagance, but the finest insurance we could possibly buy for the protection of our business."

Leaves Second Wife and Daughter To Return Home After A Memory Lapse of 22 Years

Back to his home, wife and two sons after 22 years of blindness—during which time he married, became a father and prospered—came Edgar G. Allen. He left his Ridgewood, N. J., home 22 years ago, a victim of amnesia, and settled in Knoxville, Tenn., as Ted Morris. He married and had a daughter, Dolores, now 13 years old. His memory suddenly returned and he is now back in Ridgewood with Mrs. Allen and his two sons. Above, left, is the Allen home at Ridgewood; at right, Allen; and, below, Dolores Morris and Mrs. "Ted Morris."

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—The United States is now consuming more sauerkraut than Germany itself, but that doesn't mean that all is rosy in the kraut industry. There's a real kraut crisis which corresponds to crises in various other industries. Very soon there must be a lot less kraut or there will be a few less kraut packers.

The National Canners Association reveals this unfortunate situation in releasing certain well-chosen words of Mr. E. E. Babcock, an important New York pickle man, at its national convention in Chicago. Mr. Babcock was for years president of the National Kraut Packers Association and his words carry great weight among kraut magnates.

"I told a man sometime ago that I thought the kraut packers were the biggest set of fools in the country," said Mr. Babcock. "They will 5M their tanks with kraut in the fall with no surety whatever that they can sell it at even cost."

"It looks to me as if fully 50 per cent of the packers, not only kraut canners but all canners, will either be compelled to go out of business this year or cut their output tremendously. Too much kraut was produced last fall—an increase of 29 per cent over 1931, as nearly as we can find."

A while ago, said Mr. Babcock, he looked up the ratings of some of his chief competitors who were amazing him with their low kraut prices. He found that one had quick assets of $240,000, current liabilities of $332,000, and a net loss for the year of $125,000. If you want a business man to throw you out of his office these days, Mr. Babcock said, just quote him a price on your commodity that would yield a fair profit.

THE can and the wrapper on kraut, he revealed, now cost more than 50 per cent of the price obtained for the article. The price of cans must come down or kraut packers will have to put their kraut in something else.

Furthermore the laboring man, who buys most of the kraut, is going to be spending a billion dollars a year for beer and you can't get away from that fact, according to Mr. Babcock.

The bright spots, he added, were the fact that business men are becoming more businesslike and that low prices are putting out of business "men who never should have gone into the canning business, who had not brains enough to pack kraut or anything else."

BIGGEST PEANUT CROP EXPECTED
 VALDOSTA, Ga.—South Georgia is expected to have the biggest peanut crop in history this year—not because of increased human demand for peanuts, but because the farmers in the area have a large carry-over of the crop because of prevailing low market prices, and peanuts are the cheapest and best food for hogs.

ATTORNEY CELEBRATED HIS BIRTHDAY
 BOSTON.—Former Attorney General Herbert Parker celebrated his 50th anniversary as a member of the Massachusetts bar by appearing in federal court as associate counsel with his son, Assistant U. S. Attorney Haven Parker. It was the first time the Parkers had been associated in the trial of a case.

Ladies' Night Is Feature of Ranger Athletic Show

The Ranger Elks club wrestling show tonight will have all ladies that attend the show as their guests. Benny Wilson, local promoter of the Elks matches, says that "if your husband is not the type to slip off and go to the matches, you can accept this free ducat offer and bring him to the show this evening."

Last week Wilson arranged a main event between Eddie O'Shea of New York and Sammy McLarren of Philadelphia. O'Shea, at that time was the junior middle-weight champion and was carried here for a title match tonight. The match will be held tonight but alas it will not be a title fracas, as Eddie lost his belt in Fort Worth the latter part of last week to Benny Hartay, under the Fort Worth Athletic association roof while the fans rocked the house and hung to the rafters. The association had to close their box office five minutes before the first preliminary started.

The other main event tonight brings back the local favorite, "Tiger Billy" McEon, and "Wild Bill" Edwards. The "Tiger," as you know, is a very rough and ready young man and in addition is a very clever one.

"Tiger Billy" will, no doubt, attempt to settle his differences with Edwards quickly, as it may be necessary for Billy to leave Ranger hurriedly if this champion of peace focuses his optics on the "Tiger."

The preliminaries for the card have not been completely arranged and will be announced at the ringside by our friend, Chief Murphy. After the Chief's explanation of one of the wrestling rules, last week the crowd present was convinced that Graham McNamee will do well to brush up a bit or the Chief will be resting on his pinnacle.

As an example he said that if two boys went into the soda fountain and one ordered a sandwich and the other a soda, which he sucked through a straw, they would be good examples of how the insects ate.

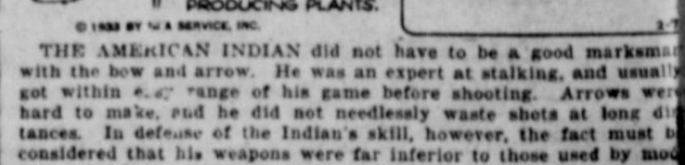

J. C. Patterson, county agent and Miss Ruth Ramey, demonstration agent, were present at the school. From Ranger they went to Eastland for the weekly meeting of the Lions club, after which they went to Rising Star for another school.

A New Way to Economy For Users Of Antiseptic

New Vicks Antiseptic Does Everything a Quality Mouthwash and Gargle Can and Should Do—At Less Than Half the Usual Cost.

Special Trial Size At Local Druggists — a 25c Value for Only 10c—While the Limited Supply Lasts.

To the millions who use a mouthwash or gargle for halitosis (bad breath), oral hygiene, and other antiseptic uses—here is news, indeed, of unusual savings. The makers of Vicks VapoRub have produced a quality oral antiseptic—Vicks Coratone Antiseptic—at actually less than half prevailing prices! The regular size, large 10-ounce bottle—a usual 75c value—is only 35c.

This answer to the public's problem of antiseptic costs is made possible by the record low prices of raw materials, combined with Vicks facilities for mass production. Born in a depression year and priced accordingly, Vicks VapoRub Antiseptic brings a new revelation of economy in a article widely accepted as a modern household necessity.

Vicks Quality, Of Course Quality in keeping with Vicks name and reputation is the course, maintained in this product. It is the best oral antiseptic Vicks Chemists could produce—and they were aided by their research by the chemists, bacteriologists, and pharmacologists of their 15 allied organizations both here and abroad.

Vicks Voroatone is a balanced antiseptic. Mild enough for use without risk to delicate membranes. Strong enough to do everything an oral antiseptic can should do. It is designed for usual uses—in the customary way.

Unusual Trial Offer Of course, the only real proof of its quality—and its economy in actual use. To furnish proof, the makers have supplied druggists with five million bottles of a special trial size at less cost of manufacture. Each contains 2 1/2 ounces—a 25c value—while the supply is only 10c.

HERE--- AND THERE

By Elvie H. Jackson

Are you eating too fast? There are some people who bolt their breakfast as though it were a painful operation, as though it had to be disposed of as rapidly as possible.

A beautiful dinner may be set before such a person that has taken two or three hours in the preparation and serving, and it is disposed of in five or ten minutes.

This habit of rapid eating belongs almost exclusively to the Americans and is undoubtedly a reflex of the condition of nerves of the present day American man.

High strung, usually worried, always thinking hard and fast, and absolutely abhorring the time spent in simple home matters, even in eating.

In the ancient days of the Greeks, the leisurely fashion of lounging on couches, and partaking of rich foods and wines served from tables or trays placed in front of them, is a fashion the modern day could never copy.

Beneath the sunny skies of Greece in the early days of Christ the habits of the race, were in keeping with their surroundings, and conditions of nature.

As the dusk fell, flaring torches would light the scene, where dancing girls played to the tinkling of fountains and entertained whilst the men and women too, partook leisurely of their luxurious food as they lay on their soft couches.

It's a far cry from that day to the present day dining room, the polished table top, the Madeira only, and the hurried head of the house, who sits on a hard bottomed chair, swallows without tasting, plants a moist kiss on mother's brow, grabs the newspaper and runs for his car or office.

But we are told that this habit will be the undermining of the average American.

The stomach has no teeth, and the mouth was furnished with teeth for the purpose of dividing the food.

If chunks of food reach the stomach, then time of the emptying of that organ is greatly lengthened. The first digestive fluid is saliva and must be well mixed with the food. You can't wait for your stomach to do the grinding, that you have refused to do before it reached your tummy.

It all goes to show that good manners, as a rule, are good guides to health and happiness.

It's had manners to gobble and gulp. The best advice to the busy man and woman, lies in that which nature has given.

Nature is slow in developing her foods, and when they reach their perfection, they have done so by gradual stages.

The happy, healthy contented American family, is that which brings pleasant discussions to the table, good news, and friendly gossip. This all aids in the process of slow eating, and a good digestion.

Texas Charters Show Increases During January

AUSTIN.—New charters granted in Texas by the secretary of state during the month of January totaled 146, an increase of 18 per cent over the number for December, which was 119, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Total authorized capital stock, however, was only $2,829,000 during January as compared with $3,411,000 for the month of December, and $2,834,000 in January a year ago.

The number of corporations with authorized capital stock of $100,000 or more decreased from 11 in December to nine in January. In January last year, only one of four companies with authorized capital stock of $100,000 or more were incorporated.

Of the total number of new incorporations, 42 were in the merchandising group; this total was twice as large as that for December and compared with 53 for January a year ago. Oil companies accounted for 28 new charters, manufacturers for 16, and real estate and building firms for 11, for the month of January.

Twenty-three out-of-state corporations received permits to operate in Texas, with only one exception the largest number for any one month since last June.

'Round and 'Round
The athletes who gain a livelihood by riding bicycles, off and on for six days and six nights, now find that they have to go to work.

With the admission prices cut to accommodate the needs who sit through these grinds, awake and asleep, hour after hour, it has become necessary to enlarge the circuit. The idea is more races for cheaper admissions equal the sum of fewer races for higher ticket prices. It's a simple idea and works out very well indeed for all concerned, even the pedalers themselves. Think of the expense!

Cities such as Cleveland, which the six-day people stayed away from in other years, are entertaining the bikers this year. The addition of Cleveland to the wheel, with a grind that begins Jan. 29, implies that Promoter Tommy McIntyre, who has combined his activities to fights and horse races for the most part, feels the urge to branch out. Mister McIntyre and the American Legion have cooked up the first six-day races ever held in Ohio.

Iron Men
They call Reggie McNamara, the ancient Australian, the iron man of a sport that calls for iron men and no others need apply. These bikers started work last August in Vancouver. Then, in succession, they appeared in Montreal, Toronto, Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Louis, New York and Philadelphia.

Of course not all of the riders appeared at all the events. McNamara, who is beginning to feel the wear of his 48 years and 58 races, has cut down on his program. But only so far back as speaking: why, Jerry loved her! He had told her so. He had practically asked her to marry him. He hadn't actually said those words, Sheila admitted to herself, but she had been sure that he meant them.

change. Neither could she reproach him Sheila sat there looking foolishly into the telephone transmitter. There was nothing more to be said, apparently. What should she do? She was completely miserable. She had given Jerry an opportunity to ask to call and he chose to ignore it. There was nothing now to be said.

And yet Sheila heard her own voice. "Jerry," she was saying, "we are leaving at midnight tonight. I'd like to see you before I go."

A long pause, throbbing. Then the reply came. "Oh, I see! The words would be nice." The words were coolly courteous. "Where are you dining?"

Sheila told him in a voice that shook in spite of herself. Was Jerry going to invite her to dinner? The show closed at a quarter of 11 and the train left at midnight. There would scarcely be time for her to see him. They could have only a few hastily exchanged words at the stage door.

Usually Sheila dined in her hotel room but tonight she would change her plans. She said, "Here at the Grandmore. In the grill."

There was another pause and then Jerry said, "I'll see if I can't drop around."

"Can you call me later at the hotel?" she asked. All pride had fled. Sheila was a woman in love, pleading.

"I'll try to."

She hung up the receiver with conflicting emotions. Jerry had not been cordial. Nevertheless she realized that he might not have been alone. Perhaps he had used that cool tone and manner because he knew someone was listening.

At any rate she was to see him again. She was to see Jerry with his tall, straight body, his laughing eyes, his crisp hair, and where it touched his skin, his flashing smile. She would see him and bask in the sunshine of his admiration. She was lovelier to look at than she had been a year ago. Her salary was better and her clothes were more expensive, more becoming. Jerry would certainly find her more attractive.

All afternoon her heart sang gaily. She longed for Jappy when she sat in her dressing room at the theater, creaming her face with swift, practiced hands. She longed for someone to whom she might confide her heart, someone who would understand.

A chorus man, strolling by her door, circulated the report that Miss Shayne's voice was improving. He had heard her sing a love song, "as if she meant it, by Jove!" The matinee went well though to Sheila it seemed interminable. Eagerly she scanned the audience. The usual school girl crowd was on hand. They always came on Saturdays. Sheila liked to dance for such audiences. Wishfully she envied those girls their homes, their security, their friends and their parties. She knew that they envied her too and smiled a little bitterly. Well, life was like that.

After the finale she remained in her dressing room, almost afraid to leave. She was certain that Jerry would be there at the stage door waiting, yet could not face the dis-appointment if he should not be.

She took a long time dressing, lingering over each simple act so that she was among the last to leave the theater. If Jerry was there he would wait for her. If he was not there, what was the use of knowing it sooner than necessary?

She hoped so terribly that he would be!

Photographs Get Busy In Austin As Session Opens

AUSTIN.—Photographers experience a boom whenever the state legislature meets.

There are official pictures of both house and senate members to be taken. The lawmakers do not spend public funds for the pictures which are hung in the capitol. Local photographers furnish the official pictures and frame them in separate senate and house groups for display.

The photographers are not benefactors—except to themselves. The theory is when the legislator comes to the studio to have his picture made, free for the official group, he can be talked into buying some for himself.

MISTER PEDEN is a great biker to any team. There is hardly an ounce of extra fat on the man's 218-pound frame. His 14 built like a cable. It is a little hard to imagine a 218-pound man whizzing along on a slender 100-lb. bike at the rate of around 20 miles an hour, but this lad is the one who can do it.

A couple of years ago a dispute, prompted by pitiless publicity, raged up and down the land, concerning the speed these cyclists can make. A test was arranged. Peden being paid for a mile by an automobile.

One of the most amazing miles in history was the result. Peden whipped along over the mile in 44.5 seconds. Nearly half a minute faster than a race horse! While that speed means a rate of 74 miles an hour, the machine pacing Peden was doing 81 when it roared across the finish tape, and Peden was breezing right along with it.

The Working Man

PEDEN established the remarkable record last year of winning five of these six-day races in nine weeks. When the managers and publicity puffery scooped down on Cleveland to smoke up the show, Peden was riding secretly in Germany.

In order to fulfill his contract and reach Cleveland in time for the races, Peden had to arrange for an airplane to meet the Bremen 500 miles out of port. That would drop him in Cleveland an hour before the show started. Which is figuring the clock pretty close.

Church Society Day Has Unusual Good Attendance

Monday, church society day, showed an unusually good attendance at all organization meetings, in spite of the cold blustery weather.

The Women's Missionary society of the Christian church met at the home of Mrs. E. R. Johnson Monday afternoon, when the hostess was assisted by co-hostesses, Mrs. Fred Maxey, in the hospitality extended.

Flowering plants adorned the rooms. The afternoon was delightfully spent, opening with the formal session presided over by the president, Mrs. C. A. Peterson.

Hymn, "Jesus Calls Us," prefaced the roll call response, mission items concerning China.

A brief business period was given to partial planning for the observance of the national day of prayer, on March 1, with the Eastland program to be sponsored by the Women's Missionary society of the Christian church.

The hostess for the meeting on the first Monday in March was announced as Mrs. George Utz and Mrs. Eugene Day will be lesson leader.

The program for the day opened with Mrs. J. H. Caton, director, presenting the theme of devotion, "He Will Teach Us His Way," based on the fourth chapter of Micah.

Hymn, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and prayer, Mrs. C. A.

Mr. Durigan Finds Relief in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here is his enthusiastic letter:
"Am 70 years of age, and for 46 of these years there never was a week but what I had to take a pill or some kind of cathartic."

"I took everything, but gained only temporary relief. Until my last spring my daughter, who is a nurse in a hospital, brought me some Kellogg's ALL-BRAN."

"At the end of the week, I knew I had something that it was, and I kept on taking it. I haven't taken a cathartic since. I can eat meat any time, as often as I like, or any other kind of food, and no constipation." Mr. L. M. Durigan, 6811 Buffalo Ave., Jacksonville, Florida.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help muscle tone. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much safer than patent medicines. Two tablespoonsful daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Football Games On School Days Are Under Fire

AUSTIN.—Banning of high school football games on school days and limiting of basketball to Friday and Saturday nights were proposed in a report of the state board of education to the governor.

Governor's Office Styles Are Simple

AUSTIN.—James E. Ferguson hangs his hat over the main stem of a hat rack in the corner of the governor's office, rather than on one of the pegs issuing from the side. His overcoat, draped on an ordinary coat-hanger, usually is suspended from a side-arm.

Welfare Agencies Skip Needy Aged

HARTFORD, Conn.—While there are numerous agencies working for the welfare of babies and children, who need aid from the state, there are but few that interest themselves in the welfare of needy aged, although there are more elderly people in the state than there are children, according to William W. T. Squire, of the state department of public welfare.

ORDER STREET LIGHTS SHUT OFF

SULLIVAN, Ind.—With municipal funds tied up in a default bank and the budget pretty small, the city council has ordered all but eight lights in scattered sections of the business district here extinguished.

WHITWATER, Wis.—Never before in local history was there a record of a motorist killing a fox until Howard Tubbs recently bagged two within one month.

An animal which hesitated in the glare of his automobile spotlight was identified as a fox by Tubbs because of its bushy tail. A quick twist of the steering wheel, and he took the trophy. The second was killed in similar fashion.
