ACTION PROMISED ON PROFIT REPEAL

Prohibition has befooled all other paramount issues in Texas for years and years. Now quick action has been promised by the state affairs committee of the house of representatives on a bill to provide for speed action in Texas "for repeal of the 18th amendment."

There were no dissenting votes on the motion to report the bill favorably. It would require the governor to call a special election in 90 days on submission of a federal constitution question to select delegates to a state convention to pass on the proposal. Moreover, the bill reported favorably to the house would apply to all amendments to the federal constitution proposed in the future "but was introduced by those seeking exhilarated action on the prohibition repeal."

Yes, those who are opposed to speedy determination indicated they were offering a substitute on the floor of the house that would delay state action until the general election of 1934. Regardless of the date set for the election quick action should be taken by the senate and the house for the very substantial reason that there are bread and meat bills of vital importance pending as well as measures which will insure a 25 per cent reduction in the cost of state government. Taxpayers are demanding action on these life giving as well as life saving proposals which are pending in the halls of legislation.

FEDERAL JUDGE ON RACK

Federal Judge Harold Louderback of California has been impeached by the federal house of representatives for "misdemeanors in office" on which he must stand trial by the senate. Five articles of impeachment founded on the jurist's handling of receivership cases were adopted by a 182 to 143 vote. It requires two-thirds senate majority to convict. All this happened after house judiciary committee voted, 10 to 5, against impeachment.

Incidentally the committee majority had gone so far as to censure Judge Louderback for "conduct prejudicial to the dignity of the judiciary in appointing incompetent receivers and for a high degree of indifference to the interest of litigants in receiverships." A Texan, Hatton W. Summers of the Dallas district, is chairman of the judiciary committee. There is a reform bankruptcy measure pending. Will it be throttled by lame duck lawmakers? If so, why?

POTATO GROWERS AND THEIR LOSSES

Now the federal department of agriculture has estimated that 1,600,000 bushels of potatoes were left in the field to rot, mostly in Minnesota and North Dakota and to a lesser extent in Western states. According to the department bulletin, 260,600,000 bushels were harvested, of which about one-half had been sold Jan. 1. Think of 1,600,000 bushels of food rotting in the ground and millions of Americans, idle Americans, furnished relief by federal and state governments and the community chests of the cities and towns the nation over. Yes, "there is something wrong somewhere."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

The road is long and rough to the establishment of stability in exchange values to measuring currencies in terms of commodities.

Unless the countries of the world can trade freely with one another and the surplus of one can be used through the channels of trade and investment to increase the productivity of others, each country will have to remain more dependent on itself and the state of the world will become as unfortunate as the condition of a community where individuals cannot trade with one another or lend or borrow between themselves.

A stable level of exchange provides the most healthy condition for production and trade and the employment for capital. Large changes in the exchange value of currency are an evil to be avoided so far as possible, but if a large change has to take place, it may be preferable to establish stability at the new level if this course will shorten the present period of uncertainty.

A huge volume of debt, both public and private, has been contracted since the World war at a time of inflated prices and when the principal and interest have to be paid at a time when commodity prices stand at a level, which is but a fraction of their former value, then the charge becomes a multiplied charge on the productive capacity of the debtors concerned and the burden so created is heavier than the debtor can pay. WHAT CAN BE DONE—WHO KNOWS

The hand-to-mouth method of buying by the manufacturer, retailer and consumer in vogue at the present time is, in a way, greatly due to the unknown fear put into the hearts of everyone by the word, "Economy"—a word that covers so well the sins of omission and commission in this land of ours by a lot of our citizens.

The Problem of Squaring the Circle

HERE--- AND THERE

By ELVIE E. JACKSON

Though the day of the sun dial when the heavens registered the time through the shadow cast in the daylight, by the position of the sun and which was thrown on the dial some time dial, marked with its numbers indicating the 12 passing hours, has to a certain extent become obsolete, its usefulness and reliability is still unquestioned. Today, the sun dial is popular chiefly through its ornamental qualities and quaint suggestiveness of a past era, an atmosphere belonging to the sun dial period. Many historic gardens, and many a beautiful landscape setting has had its story told by the sun dial.

Telling time has had its established custom in different ways for different peoples, and has not always depended upon the modern clock system for its message.

Indians judge the time of day by the shadow cast by the tree bole, and rarely miss the setting of the hour or minute in their scanning of the heavens, behind their cupped hand.

Time, that most priceless of all things but that most invisible, marches steadily on, and it is a solemn thought, when one realizes that with each tiny tick of the clock we are that much nearer the end of the journey.

Standard time as we know it today was established and came into existence on March 13, 1884.

Standard time is the system of time reckoning which is chiefly for convenience of the railroads of the country. The United States, beginning at the extreme east limit and extending to the Pacific coast, is invisibly divided into four time sections—eastern, central, mountain and Pacific.

The eastern is situated between the Atlantic ocean, and an irregular demarcation from Detroit, Mich., passing through Buffalo, N. Y., Pittsburgh, Pa., to Charleston, S. C., and the time of which is that of the 75th meridian.

The time of the 90th meridian, the central, includes all between this demarcation and an irregular line, from Bismarck, N. D., to the mouth of the Rio Grande.

The mountain time, that of the 105th meridian, includes from here to the western boundary of Montana, Idaho, Utah and Arizona.

The difference in the time between adjoining sections is rudely adjusted by arbitrarily changing the clock or watch time to gain or lose one hour.

Everyone remembers the point between the eastern and western station, at which one hour is lost or gained and the watch is re-set for 60 minutes.

Time is a man-made solution for reckoning of the passing hours of the day and night. It seems strange that this invisible factor on which depends the safety of millions of people in trains, ships and airship service, should have been established on that day supposed to be the unluckiest of the year, the 13th of the month. Time flies, truly indeed time does fly, even for the child. In these days of congested activities, there are not enough hours for the average man and woman of active habit in which to perform or discharge their obligations and duties. With us time is reckoned as 24 hours to a day. With our Heavenly Father time is non-existent, and a million, trillion years is as one second in our earthly existence. "Now the day is over, night is drawing nigh Shadows of the evening steal across the sky. Now the darkness gathers, stars begin to peep Birds and beasts and flowers, soon will be asleep. Through the long night watches may thine angel's spread Their white wings above me, watching round by bed."

SAWING A WOMAN IN HALF

ILLUSION: A large packing case is exhibited on a raised platform. A young woman climbs into the box. Head, hands and feet protrude, and are held by spectators while the magician takes a crosscut saw and, with the help of an assistant, saws through the center of the box and apparently through the woman.

EXPLANATION: There are many explanations for this illusion. One method of performing this illusion requires the presence of two girls in the box. One girl curls up in the left half of the box with her head and hands protruding, giving the effect you see illustrated above. The other girl is doubled up in the right half of the box, with only her feet showing. Nobody is sawed in half.

It's fun to be fooled ... it's more fun to KNOW

Cigarette advertising, too, has its tricks. Consider the illusion that "Flavor" can be achieved by some kind of magical hocus-pocus in manufacturing. EXPLANATION: Just three factors control the flavor of a cigarette. The addition of artificial flavoring. The blending of various tobaccos. And the quality of the tobaccos themselves. Quality is by far the most important. Domestic cigarette tobaccos vary in price from 5¢ a pound up to 40¢ a pound. Imported tobaccos vary from 50¢ a pound to $1.15. No wonder, then, that cigarettes differ in taste—since distinctive, pleasing flavor depends so largely upon the blending of the costlier tobaccos.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Try Camels. Give your taste a chance to sense the subtle difference that lies in costlier tobaccos... a difference that means all the world in smoking pleasure... in pure, unalloyed satisfaction.

Hull is a man long in public life—a judge, a congressman for 25 years and recently a senator. He is serious-minded. He rarely smiles and then not much, though he has great kindness and charm. He is tall, spare and aquiline—his piercing eyes lighted pleasantly beneath his brows for the correspondents as he spoke in his rich, rather different southern accent and told them that he hadn't any news about the State Department because he had been so busy with domestic problems. So he could only say a few things by way of greeting. But the freedom with which he answered questions appeared to mean that he would speak honestly in the future.

His mental power was invaluable while great fiscal and economic measures were being framed during the World War. No more studious man ever held public office. From domestic problems this man—until recently an obscure figure in the average American mind—will turn to tackle the vital issues of the war debts and the world economic conference, worrying about Far Eastern war clouds the while.

DEAR MOTHER O' MINE

I have just sent you by mail a package of Crazy Water Crystals. A friend of mine told me these wonderful natural mineral water crystals had brought great comfort to his own sweet mother by helping her to rid her system of toxic and uric poisons which were causing her torturing rheumatic pains. If Crazy Water Crystals will help you, they will be worth their weight in gold to us—to you, in comfort and to me in satisfaction that I found them for you. My friend tells me that people everywhere are drinking Crazy Mineral Water, which you can prepare easily at home from Crazy Water Crystals. It seems to relieve them of such troubles as rheumatism, arthritis, neuritis, stomach disorders, constipation, etc. Hope it does as much for you as it did for Joe's mother. Your loving son, JACK.

Crazy Water Crystals is not a drug or patent medicine. It is a natural mineral water—nothing added. It will produce thorough elimination without the slightest irritation. It is not habit forming. Let us tell you about this wonderful natural product today.

How the Vaculator Operates

Measured water in the bottom, pulverized coffee in the top, one heaping teaspoonful of coffee in one cup of water.

Heat generates pressure that causes water to flow upward. The use of hot water hastens this preliminary action.

Coffee is brewed in upper glass where correct temperature is controlled. When upward flow of water stops, current should be turned off.

Removing from heat creates a vacuum in lower glass which "pulls" down brewed coffee in a jiffy.

Remove upper glass and serve. The coffee will stay hot upwards of thirty minutes in the de-canter.

It's New! It Brews Better Coffee!!

VACULATOR

Coffee Brewer

What an innovation! What a difference in the quality and taste of your favorite brand of coffee! This gadget really has IT—it has everything it takes to give you the kind of coffee you've always wanted.

And what is more, the heating element makes a marvelous little table stove after your coffee is ready. Egg and bacon frying and toast making is a cinch. Merely remove the Vaculator and you can use the hot plate any way you wish.
