KEEPING THROUGH THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

We had so much trouble announcing the dates of the junior scholastic meet at Olden that we feel some hesitancy in announcing dates for the county meet and the district meet. However, we asked Coach Eckstein and very carefully copied on the details he gave us and we are they are right.

The story sent over from Olden our special correspondent, had dates of the junior meet right in setting the heading for the story a typographical error, or nothing, was made. A typographical error is an editor's favorite alibi as it sounds like the mistake had been made by the printer, even though it might be the mistake of the editor in the first place.

Anyway, the meet was to be held Saturday, March 18, and was the story that date was given in the head it had Friday, when we tried to correct it, other mistakes crept in, probably the date being a trusting soul, and Friday, March 18. There was such date this year.

Then someone left a note on our desk saying that it had been postponed until Friday and Saturday, March 24 and 25. We checked our dates on the calendar and that Saturday would be the day, and being a trusting soul, ran another correction.

Now we find that someone was wrong. We have our own idea to who it was but are afraid to make rash statements about it, we will take the blame, if any.

The county track meet, for class and B schools will be held on Friday and Saturday, March 24 and 25. And although we have steadfastly refused to predict the outcome of elections or other games and have never been in for forecasting earthquakes or weather conditions, we might go so far as to say that at a distance it looks like the election, high school is in a fair way of winning. They have a complete track team of fourth year athletes, if we remember right, so they should go places and do things at Olden next Saturday, when the finals are run off.

Then, on April 14 and 15, the district track meet will be held in Elgin. This meet includes schools on Eastland, Stephens, Erath, Palo Pinto, Hood and Somervell counties. Another prediction could be made with comparative safety connection with the district meet. If the wind isn't blowing most of the game about the size as it can drift in western Texas, then there will be at least one unusual feature of the district meet.

We remember very distinctly getting in a roadster and helping G. Lanier try to hold down a table at a cafe, while he wrote in a scores brought to him by the edges of the various events, while a wind whipped sand here and there over the grounds, filling our eyes, ears and mouth, not to mention our clothes, with sand. The track was in good condition, but the wind was so strong the runners, when they faced it, found the going pretty slow.

Last year one lone athlete from Mineral Wells, or thereabouts, came down to Ranger and took off with the honors, entering several events and winning first place all but one and taking second in the 100-yard dash.

He was a one-man track team, running up more scores than any complete team with the exception of the winner of the meet and coming close to taking the whole show by himself. We do not know whether he comes back this year or not, but if he does he will make a track team step to get more points than he does.

But before the district meet opens the American Legion Rifle Club of Ranger will officially open a rifle, shotgun and pistol ranges with a big shoot, which will be held April 2.

This will officially mark the opening of the shooting season in Ranger, and it is expected that the Ber-city matches, between Eastland and Ranger and Brokenridge, will be conducted monthly as they have been in the past.

The ranges have been put in good condition and practice shoots have been held, both on the open range and on the indoor range at South Austin street. A large crowd is expected from all over this section of the country.

Fritzi Scheff, Broke, Finds Friends Loyal

Returning broke and almost homeless to Broadway where she once was the toast of the town, Fritzi Scheff (above), Viennese prima donna, found that her New York friends hadn't forgotten her, earning she was threatened with the loss of her Connecticut cottage through mortgage foreclosure, they planned to offer her a loan. It was the "Kiss Me Again" aria from Victor Herbert's "Milk and Honey" that made Fritzi Scheff a household name a generation ago.

TIMES COOKING SCHOOL HAS A LARGE CROWD

A large crowd of interested women greeted Mrs. Martha McDonald as she made her lecture opening the Ranger Times Free Cooking School today. The school, a semi-annual affair of the Times, is held on the first floor of the Masonic temple, where a "Happy Kitchen" is arranged on a stage.

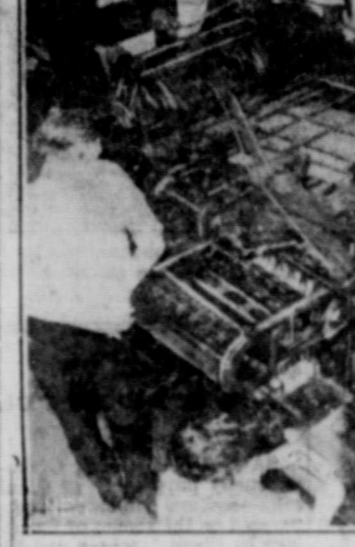

Besides the perfect as well as beautiful kitchen equipment, many interesting displays are arranged around the hall, consisting of groceries, shoes, washing machines, dishes, a radio, and other things interesting to women who wish to make their homes beautiful as well as useful.

Mrs. McDonald is a noted lecturer and food expert and brings new ideas and practical suggestions in her lectures. She has lived in Dallas for 25 years and this is her first trip to Ranger. She is well pleased with the town and people. She says her purpose during this series of lectures is to help the housewives make a practical and happy kitchen; happy because they are practical. She is also going to stress that the ladies go to the store and do their own marketing and getting acquainted with their groceryman.

Everybody in Ranger and surrounding communities are urged to attend and get these helpful lectures free of charge as a courtesy of the Ranger Times.

ROOSEVELT IS READY FOR HIS RELIEF WORK

WASHINGTON, March 21.—A "direct attack" on the unemployment problem was proposed by President Roosevelt in a special message to congress today.

Congressional machinery immediately went into speedy action on the president's proposals.

He estimated 250,000 men would be put to work by early summer if his program for reforestation and flood control is accepted.

Mr. Roosevelt proposed procedure along three lines.

- 1—Enrollment of workers for quick public employment.
- 2—Grants to states for relief work.
- 3—Creation of a broad, public works labor program.

The president asked further appropriations to the states for relief work, declaring the remainder of last year's appropriation would last only until May.

Establishment of a relief administration "whose duty it will be to scan requests for grants and to check the efficiency and wisdom of their use." Mr. Roosevelt would provide a "simple federal machinery" for relief administration.

Mr. Roosevelt said the type of work he proposed "is of definite practical value, not only through the prevention of great financial loss, but also as a means of creating future national wealth."

WILL PERMIT SALE IN WET STATES APRIL 6

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The beer, wine bill today was given final house approval legalizing the sale of 3.2 per cent brews by April 6.

The predominately wet chamber passed the modification measure to control congressional action on the long-fought battle of beer.

Three signatures are now needed to translate the bill into law. Speaker of the House Rainey and Vice President Garner must sign as a matter of formality. The measure will then be sent to the White House, probably tomorrow, where President Roosevelt will sign his name and the beer bill included in the statutes of the United States.

A federal tax of $5 per barrel would be levied together with a manufacturer's permit for each brewery. Estimates of increased revenue run from $125,000,000 in the first year of operation to $15,000,000.

In conjunction with the economy and reorganization program the administration hopes to use the beer taxes to balance the national budget.

Rev. W. H. Joyner Fills Pulpit At Eastland Revival

Rev. William H. Joyner arrived in Eastland from San Antonio yesterday in time for the night service of the Baptist revival, which opened in that church with Sunday morning sermon by Rev. G. H. Dabney.

The speaker addressed a packed house on the subject, "What Men Need Most," taken from First John, fifth verse, "This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." Supplemented by Hebrews 11:1, "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

The speaker declared the great need of the world today was faith, put into practice, and that we need the faith in ourselves, and here quoted a poem by Edgar Guest, relative to invincible faith.

He stated that all great things that had been accomplished, resulted from self-faith, that propelling faith that forces us to do things, and cited the illustrious Lindbergh. The second point made by Rev. Joyner, we need faith in others, especially at this time, and a glorious revival of faith and confidence in our fellowmen is needed. How many tragedies, how many suicides, in late months have been caused by loss of faith in others, declared the speaker.

Third, we need faith in God, he said, and that this is exactly the time to have that faith, the time when all our plans have failed. That we Christians need a conquering faith, and sinners need a saving faith, and that we must believe that God is with us.

The speaker emphasized, he didn't bring his revival in his vest pocket, but that God brought the revival as a result of prayer and work; that we needed more knowledge than theology.

Rev. Joyner is a forceful speaker with a resonant, kindly voice that carries conviction back of it. Congregational singing was led by A. M. Hearn, with Mrs. O. B. Dabney at piano.

Services will be conducted each morning at 10 o'clock, and each evening at 7:50, and will continue. The public is invited to attend.

No additional deaths were reported. The total stands now at seven.

Preliminaries in Debate Are Held At Eastland High

Eastland and Rising Star will finish the battle at Olden Friday night and the winner will represent the county at the district meet.

Sports Depression

THE effect of the depression on sports is not going to be as bad as expected. The success of the recent Hialeah race meeting during which the folks wagered more than $8,000,000 for such amusement as may be gained from trying to pick the winner of a scramble of horses may be a sign of the times.

Hockey is Away Up

THIS has been one of the best financial years in the history of hockey along the northern borders of the United States. In Detroit new records in attendance were written. Standing room was sold liberally in New York, Boston and other cities of the hockey major leagues.

Indoor Track Draws

NEW YORK'S indoor track shows did not suffer because of banking holidays. More than 12,000 people saw Cunningham defeat Venke in their duel for mile supremacy and saw Keith Brown, the young Yale pole vaulter, soar above the 14 unattainable feet of a few years ago.

Fighters Get It

THERE are not enough good fighters around to make it interesting, but when a good fight comes along it brings out the dusty greenbacks. The Field-Corbett welterweight championship battle at San Francisco which drew $50,000 goes to show that the fans will buy it when they think it's going to be the McCoy.

Nuisance May Be Source of Industry

By United Press
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — The aspen growth of the northwest, hitherto regarded as a nuisance by farmers, may become the source of a new industry and give Minnesota a new source of income.

Experiments conducted at the University of Minnesota under the auspices of Ralph E. Montona, associate professor of chemistry, show that a high grade of alpha cellulose can be made from the aspen. Alpha cellulose is used in the manufacture of cellophane and rayon fabric.

The research was conducted as part of the rehabilitation program instituted last summer by Lotus D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota.

THE KID By Laufer

A lot of people think Joe Cronin, new leader of the Washington Senators, and youngest senter in the big leagues, has a tough row to hoe in his first year as manager. But the fact is that Joe has probably the best all-round organization in the American League with which to make his debut.

Headed by Crowder and Wear-er, and with good support from Stewart, Russell, Whitehill and Thomas, Joe has one of the best pitching staffs in baseball. Mar-ush, Goslin, Myers and himself, with frequent punch from Bluege, Schulte, Kubel and Sewell, make the hitting all he could ask for.

Joe's big problem is to play his position at short and handle the team at the same time without allowing either activity to inter-ferere with the other. And then, too, he may have some trouble making some of the veterans' mind him.

What About Baseball?

ALARMED baseball magnates effected drastic economy in payrolls this year and cut ex-cesses wherever possible, expect- ing this to be a drab year. The effect of the depression on what used to be called the national pastime remains to be proved this year, however. Tight races in the major leagues, forecast by the wholesale shuffling of players, may bring the crowds back.

Factors in the game itself, rather than the economic slump, may be responsible for waning interest. More color and salesman-ship would help baseball just as they helped hockey and track during the winter.

Crisis Brought Out Old Coins

By United Press
KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The banking crisis caused a wholesale search in old trunks, bureau draw-ers and flower vases in quest of change.

It was the cause of Charles W. Porter rediscovering some ancient coins that had been in his family many years. One of the coins bore particular significance in connection with banking difficulties.

It was coined in 1883, when the United States was undergoing a money stringency. It is a Colum-bian half dollar coined as a souvenir of the World's Fair of 1893; it happens that the World's Fair of 1933 will be held this year in Chicago.

A more ancient coin Porter found was a half dollar issued in 1826. It is somewhat larger than the present half dollar. On one side is a likeness of the Goddess of Liberty, with 13 stars. On the other is the American eagle and the familiar "E Pluribus Unum."

France Has Third Place in Aviation

PARIS.—France occupies third place in the world's mercantile aviation, according to figures com- piled by the ministry of air.

Since organization of the first regular mail and passenger service in 1919, French civil aviation has grown steadily along two general lines: the network linking Paris with other European capitals and with colonial service.

France has the distinction of having a greater number of air-planes per inhabitant than any other nation, and although world-wide conditions have slowed down air traffic, both national and colonial work is in progress for further development of long distance airplines during 1933.

Two projects are being ad- vanced by aviation circles: perfec- tion of the trans-Atlantic line to South America and realization of the Paris-Madagascar route through Central Africa, with refueling sta- tions in the Sahara.

Notable progress has been made in the diminution of accidents. France now is perhaps the most air minded nation and the com- petition for pilots' licenses has the result that only acts of commercial aviation are entrusted with passen- gers' lives.

There were only four accidents on French lines in 1932. In these crashes nine persons, of which only two were passengers, were killed.

The number of passengers taken aloft during 1932 was 36,892. The weight of freight and mail carried was 11,621,295 kilograms and 172,966 kilograms, respectively.

Editor's Note: Herewith is the fifth of the series telling of Texas League baseball teams.

By United Press
BEAUMONT, Texas. — Tradition prescribes that the Beaumont Exporters be a new machine each year and that is being carried out to even greater extent this year.

Absent from the roll of players which carried the Exporters to the Texas League championship last year are such men as Hank Greenberg, Art Herring, Schoolboy Rowe, Izzie Goldstein, Pete Fox, Luke Hamlin, Buck Morrow and Frank Reiber.

Some of the players will be re- turned to the Exporters if they fail to make the grade with the Detroit Tigers, father of the Beaumont chain club. But with- standing this depletion of ranks Business Manager Bobby Stow looks to his Exporters to repeat this year last season's performance.

Stow's forecast came without consideration that some of the 1932 Exporters would be returned here. Neither, said he, does take into consideration the fact that the Tigers may ship other men here who are better than those not worn the Beaumont uniform.

Tradition of team changes is carried out this year in one more particular. Manager Del Baker of the 1932 Exporters has gone to the Tigers as team coach. Bob Coleman, veteran catcher, now with the Pittsburgh Pirates, is filling Baker's shoes. He here had previous experience in the Texas League. He had a three year ten- ure as manager of the San An- tonio Indians beginning in 1923.

The outfield of the Exporters lacks but one old face from last year's team. Pete Fox, champion league batter last year, is not on this year's club. Pound 'Em Paul Easterling again will be stationed in left field. Fred Tauby returns to fight against rookies and re- turns for veteran catcher now with the Beaumont Pirates, is fill- ing Baker's shoes. He here had previous experience in the Texas League. He had a three year ten- ure as manager of the San An- tonio Indians beginning in 1923.

Ray Fritz, a turn-around hitter who ended the season with Beaumont last year, is rated as the best candidate to fill Greenberg's place at first base. Two other tryouts are Ignatius Walters from the Moline and Decatur farms of the Tigers system, and Clarence Phil- lips.

A shift of Herman Clifton from short to second makes room for Lamar Newsome, utility man last year, in the infield. He will play short with Hal Patchett the best bet for third base. Patchett played with Moline last year, leading the Mississippi Valley league for stolen bases with 35 and was rated as the best infllder of the circuit.

Coleman is flush with infield material. The list includes Ben Catchings, Chester Morgan, Franklin Marshall and others from Moline and Decatur clubs.

Two regular catchers from 1932's team, Frank Reiber and John Pusek, leave a hole in Cole- man's infield hard to fill. He has several recruits on hand to select for the post.

The biggest hole in the Beaumont lineup now appears to be in the pitching staff. Four flingers of the championship crew have graduated—Herring, Rowe, Gold- stein and Hamlin. In their place are recruits from the lesser im- portant Tiger farms. Richard Schultz, a righthander who won 13 while losing 5 games last year, returns as does Southpaw Joe Sbil- liver who won 3 and lost four.

Of the Tiger's farm-crop here there is Joseph Hare who turned in 14 victories and 12 defeats last season, Harley Hagen, a right- hander with 10 winning games and seven losses and Elden Auker, whose 1932 record was six and six.

Many Poll Taxes Expected in 1934

AUSTIN, March 21.—The biggest poll tax-paying year in Texas history was assured by the legislature for next January. The Hughes bill to submit the ratification of the 18th amendment's repeal to a statewide referendum in 1934, agreed upon by both drys and wets, will cause it. Intense activity by both factions to line up the greatest possible vote will not wait for the election time, but will be brought forward to a time when the voters may qualify. Representative George Moffett, dry, predicted an increase of $500,000 in poll tax payments; Representative T. H. McGregor, "wet as the sea," predicted over $1,000,000 increase. Texas has close to 2,000,000 persons of voting age, qualified to vote. This year, not over about 650,000 are 700,000 unpaid poll taxes. The record year was about 900,000 poll taxes, plus 200,000 persons qualified by over and under exemptions to vote. Apparently the state in 1934 will cross the 1,000,000 mark of poll tax payments for the first time. West coast woman horsewhipped an editor for printing an article about her. We don't care a lick about the editor. What we want to know is, where in the world did she find a horsewhip?

Majority of Population Can Get Brew Thru State Action Already Taken; Government Fixes Tax Collection System

States shown in white on the above map are ready to receive legal beer as soon as Congress permits. Action by other states which will put them in this position is pending and may come at any time, notably in Ohio, Indiana, Wyoming and West Virginia. Varying programs of state modification are under way in many other states shown above in black.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON, March 20.—A large majority of American citizens will be eligible for the new 4 per cent beer right at the outset. That's what it is—4 per cent beer. It may be called 3.2 per cent in the legislation passed by Congress, which is true when the percentage is expressed in terms of weight. But it has always been the custom of beer drinkers themselves to calculate percentage by volume and so the consumer will think and drink in terms of 4 per cent beer. The limit of 3.2 per cent by weight, however, will be the standard under which the government will prosecute brewers or dealers who exceed it. The Volstead Act is still in effect for such violators and the provisions of the old Webb-Kenyon Act will be used against those who take the legal beer into states whose laws continue to prohibit it. Under the internal revenue laws, federal agents may still raid any brewery which attempts to evade the $5 a barrel tax and under the Volstead Act they may proceed against anyone who makes beer without a permit or in violation of a permit. Where? When? How? State legislators have acted so rapidly and are now so busy failing all over each other in the attempt to get set for the sale of beer that no exact list of states already so prepared is possible. But the most populous of them are either all ready or all ready except for beer regulation provisions. Among states which are certain or likely to be in legal shape to accept the 4 per cent beer on the first day are New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Missouri, California, Maryland, Wisconsin, Michigan, Louisiana, Montana, Nevada, Arizona, Colorado, North Dakota, Oregon, Washington, Wyoming and West Virginia. All but Ohio, West Virginia, Wyoming and Indiana already have done away with their state dry laws, while such action is expected in the others. Congress doesn't restrict. The inspector locks the top and unlocks the bottom of the tank when the beer is in and ready to be piped out, and he locks the bottom and unlocks the top when the tank is to be filled again. A Nickel a Glass The Food and Drug Act, with its provisions for labeling and against adulteration, will apply to beer as to other beverages and foods. It may be said on good authority that President Roosevelt expects a federal tax return of about $135,000,000 from the first year's sale of beer—a tidy little aid toward balancing the budget. Some of the beer will sell for a nickel a glass, according to the brewers, or at 10 cents a bottle. It all depends on the tax rates which states and municipalities impose on the beverage, and the volume of sale and federal revenue may also depend on that factor. The brewers claim to anticipate that in most states the tax will be low enough to permit the nickel glass. In this 4 per cent beer intoxicating? Apparently you must find that out for yourself. It has been legalized on the theory that it is nonintoxicating and bitterly protested by the die-hard drys on the ground that the drinking classes will be getting drunk on it. The administration theory is that the supreme court will keep hands off and that the beer act can't be declared unconstitutional. There doesn't seem to be any way anyone can take any criminal action against any brewer or vendor who operates under proper permits, since there is no longer any federal penalty for beer of less than 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight.

sale of the beer in such states, although the beer act forbids issuance of permits in states which want to remain bone dry. States are making their own regulations as to places and conditions of sale. Shipments Legalized The old Webb-Kenyon Act is declared still operative, and the prohibition agents of the Department of Justice will undertake to enforce it. This act, passed in 1913, prohibited any shipment of intoxicating liquor into any state in violation of that state's law. But the drastic "bone dry amendment" of 1917 which penalized any advertisement of or order for liquor in a dry state is ruled out. The Volstead Act will still apply to beer which isn't sealed and labeled according to regulations to be prescribed. The principle of national prohibition and the protection of bone dry states remains until repealed, although manufacture, sale and shipment of 4 per cent beer is now legalized. The maximum penalty for violations of permits under the beer act is six months' imprisonment and $1000 fine. The old tax laws remain in effect and the government will exert the strictest supervision over brewers to see that none evade the $5 a barrel tax. Three or four cross-checks, such as those on incoming grain and outgoing barrels, are to be used. Each barrel must wear its revenue stamp. Even the construction of breweries is regulated by the internal revenue laws. The tax on beer piped into bottles is computed through a meter. Federal inspectors are assigned to regular duty at the larger breweries, and the smaller establishments notify them whenever they are going to bottle, so that an inspector may be present. There are provisions for what are known as "government tanks." The inpector locks the top and unlocks the bottom of the tank when the beer is in and ready to be piped out, and he locks the bottom and unlocks the top when the tank is to be filled again. A Nickel a Glass The Food and Drug Act, with its provisions for labeling and against adulteration, will apply to beer as to other beverages and foods. Farms Offered to Homesteaders at A Cost of Only $10

M'CRORY, Ark.—You can start your own "back to the farm" movement with a cash outlay of $10. Hundreds of homesteaders—many of them formerly city folks—have obtained farms that they are homesteading and the cost of a one-room log cabin home comes as low as $1.50, while a palatial three-room log house costs $60. All the actual cash a homesteader needs when he comes to take over government land in Woodruff county is $10, but he must have a little money, of course, to buy groceries and seeds until he can grow his own. Farms up to 160 acres as the limit can be obtained from the government by living on them three years, or they can be bought outright for a dollar an acre. All former soldiers are given the land without donation fees. The cost of a cabin home varies. There is Troy Moore's one-room cabin built for $1.50 out of red and white logs and with mud daubed in the cracks. Or Mr. and Mrs. Jim Houk have a high class home costing them $60 and made out of split logs that fit so closely on the inside that a smooth wall is made. The Houk home has three rooms and a hall. Until recently, a homesteader was required to turn all money made back on his land, but a chemical company of Memphis needed large quantities of a special timber in this section for alcohol, charcoal and chemicals and obtained permission from the Arkansas state land department for homesteaders to sell them timber and use the money for clothing and food. Now as many as 100 cords a day are shipped and the lumbermen make on an average of $1.25 a day.

Needle Found in Body After 18 Years

GALESVILLE, Wis.—An infant surgeon's needle finally has been located after it wandered through Matt Derven's body 18 years. After an intestinal operation, Derven complained of ailments affecting various parts of his body. Physicians admitted they were unable to diagnose the disorder accurately. In 1929, Derven consulted an oculist concerning a mist which was forming over one of his eyes. Treatment proved ineffectual. Derven lost the sight of the eye. Later Derven began to suffer intermittent headaches. Three months ago, his headaches ceased. Troubled by an itching scalp, Derven discovered a small lump. The needle was found.

Refrigerator Prices Lowered for A Short Period

ROKIT, March 21. — Announcement of new low prices, effective for the next 40 days, is the possible effects of an upturn in commodity prices was made today by George E. Mason, chairman of the board of directors of Kelvinator Corporation.

Making this announcement, Mason pointed out that the prices for this limited time are the lowest in the history of this company's entire line of household electric refrigerators. The new line of refrigerators is being introduced at $97 installed, plus freight. Mason's opinion that before the end of the year the cost of materials will be climbing, he said, necessitates a price revision.

REGIN HERE TODAY

When JANET HILL learns that COLMAN has broken his engagement with her to marry BETTY KENDALL, a society girl, she tells him their marriage is off. Janet is 25, pretty and secretary to BRUCE HAMILTON, advertising manager of Every Home Magazine.

"She still loves him and, though she tries to forget him, succeeds only in being miserable and lonely. She meets JEFF CHAMBERS, young engineer who has moved to the rooming house where she lives.

Then one night Janet finds a little girl crying on the street. She learns the little girl is ROSIE SILVANI and that she has been trying to sell candy and lost her money. Janet takes her to her home. A holdup man grabs Janet's purse but Jeff comes and takes Janet and Rosie to the little girl's home. They find the family almost destitute, and then find food and clothing and later find a job for FAY SILVANI, the father. Janet and Jeff become close friends. He asks her to help him in his business. They buy a house. Later at lunch Janet sees in newspaper headlines that Rosie has died with Betty Kendall.

"She tells Jeff about her broken engagement with him and that she will never care for anyone else. Later he had bought for Janet a stenographer, DOLORES CALAHAN.

Janet goes on a picnic with Jeff and the other children. The next morning Hamilton, her employer, says, "Janet, I have news for you."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIII

MR. HAMILTON went on without waiting for a reply. He did not seem to notice that he had called Janet by her first name. "I'm leaving the magazine," he said. "It's all happened rather suddenly—"

"Why, Mr. Hamilton?"

The man smiled. "Surprise you? Well, it's still something of a surprise to me, too. I'm going with Colman's group. It's—well, frankly, quite a promotion. More money and I'll have a chance to try some things we couldn't do here. Chambers has been very decent about it—very considerate. I'm going to Philadelphia. Leaving in just a few days. There are some things I'll have to attend to first."

There was real regret in Janet's voice. She said, "Oh, but I'm sorry, Mr. Hamilton! I mean—of course it's fine for you but we'll miss you so. The office won't be the same without you!"

Hamilton's smile was almost boyish. "No? Well, that'll be a good thing. I guess I've been a pretty hard taskmaster. Cross and irritable—"

"You haven't at all! Why, you haven't at all!"

Hamilton nodded. "I have," he said, "—but I really didn't mean to be. You've spoiled me, Janet. Completely spoiled me. Night after night you've stayed here after your day's work was supposed to be through. You do more work than any secretary I've ever had and you know how to go ahead without asking questions. Maybe you didn't think I've noticed how much overtime you've been putting in the last few months but I have!"

"But I didn't mind," Janet assured him.

"I know you didn't. That's just the point! You've let me impose upon you. Never complained! If you'd only reminded me that you were supposed to stop at five o'clock I'd have let you go then."

JANET was embarrassed. She said, "But I don't see what the magazine will do without you, Mr. Hamilton! Who's going to do your work? Who'll take charge of the advertising department?"

Night after night you've stayed here after your day's work was supposed to be through. You do more work than any secretary I've ever had and you know how to go ahead without asking questions. Maybe you didn't think I've noticed how much overtime you've been putting in the last few months but I have!"

"But I didn't mind," Janet assured him.

"I know you didn't. That's just the point! You've let me impose upon you. Never complained! If you'd only reminded me that you were supposed to stop at five o'clock I'd have let you go then."

JANET was embarrassed. She said, "But I don't see what the magazine will do without you, Mr. Hamilton! Who's going to do your work? Who'll take charge of the advertising department?"

'Ug' Moore Takes Two Straight Over The Cherokee Kid

"Ug" Moore ran his string of wins up to three straight at Ranger last night at the Elks club arena. Moore took the first fall with his favorite hold, a rocking-chair split. The second fall came in short time when "Ug" put a flying jenny on "Cherokee Kid."

Sammy McLaren and Bill Angus had a very fast match that kept the crowd on its feet all the way through. McLaren took the match with a flying mare. Angus shows promise of developing into one of the best matmen to be seen in the Ranger ring.

Matchmaker Henry Wilson stopped the bout between Leon Pafford, Eastland strong boy, and Hans Slager of Germany. The bout was very slow. Bouts of this sort will be stopped in the Elk ring and called "no contest" if the boys can't get in there and wrestle, Wilson said. The club is going to give the public the best wrestling and any wrestler who steps in the ring will have to give all he has.

The six-round fight was very fast and an exceptionally good one. Cliff Wickham, Strawn, won a technical knockout over Jack Porter of Ranger.

The belt held by Bennie Bartay, junior middleweight champion of the world, was on display at the ring last night. Bartay will be here April 10 to defend his title.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer
WITHOUT doubt spinach deserves the good reputation it enjoys in spite of the fact that it's the butt of jokes in the funny papers. The large amount of iron and vitamins present in its leaves makes it one of the best bargains in foods that the homemaker can buy.

When you go to market and shop for spinach, look for plants with plenty of good dark green color. This vegetable is an edible foliage so the condition of the leaves is of prime importance. Medium-sized plants of good dark green color, leaves fresh and crisp, free from sand or dirt, are desirable and mean that the vegetable will tender and an attractive "vivid green" when cooked and dressed for the table.

Of course, spinach is prone to impurities even as all other life of the vegetable kingdom. The most common of these being weeds, plant insects, sandiness, yellow or wilted leaves and woodiness.

If the leaves are light colored and of a yellowish tinge and tightly curled, plant insects are usually present. If this condition prevails, that particular lot of spinach should not be purchased for it will have an unpleasant flavor when cooked. A few plants with a yellow leaf do not mean an inferior quality and of course the center of the plants often contains the tender, yellow, baby leaves which are delicate and desirable.

The washing of spinach is perfectly simple but of utmost importance. Always lift the leaves from one water bath to the other. In this way the hand which settles to the bottom of the pan is not disturbed and the leaves are that much cleaner after each washing. When the water is poured off the dirt is redistributed through the vegetable. It's a good plan to let spinach stand in cold salt water for at least an hour before cleaning and looking over for cooking. This freshens any wilted leaves and draws out insects which may be hidden in them.

Cut the leaves from the stems. The stems are hollow, are apt to contain sand and furnish little nourishment. They take longer to cook than the leaves and make it necessary to prolong the cooking period if they are not discarded.

After thoroughly washing spinach let it drain in a colander for a few minutes to remove excess water. Then cook it covered until steaming about five minutes. Remove cover and toss lightly with a fork. Cook uncovered, until tender and almost dry. Season with salt just before removing from the fire. Drain if necessary before adding additional seasoning and serving.

Monday's Menu
BREAKFAST: Halves of grapefruit, cereal, cream, bread, trumb pancakes, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Noodle soup, prune and cottage cheese salad, popovers with fresh maple syrup, milk tea.
DINNER: Salisbury steak, French fried onions, spinach with mushroom sauce, gincher ale salad, rice puddings, milk, coffee.

Immediately upon the heels of the most amazing international financial swindle in modern business history comes First National's dramatic picture, "The Match King," paralleling in screen drama the astonishing story one man's skillful manipulation of matches into a colossal bubble that broke only when general business depression revealed the crookedness of the financial machinations. Seldom has the screen offered a more dramatic subject than "The Match King," played by Warren William, and never has an actor had a "faller" part than the little role. Out of this real life world-catastrophe, Author Thorvaldson and Adapters Houston Branch and Sidney Sutherland have concocted an intensely dramatic screen play.

"The Match King" is the story of a man whose power and ambition raised him from a Chicago street-sweeper to a world financial power along a pyramid of credit, built on the ruins of other lives. It is the tale of a financial juggernaut which once started could not be stopped until it brought the financial world crashing down about its creator's ears. It is the story of a man who was as ruthless in love as in finance but who learned, to his sorrow that a reckoning was inevitable in either.

"The Match King" is perhaps the most important picture of the present season. The story of the rise and fall of Paul Kroll, the man who dealt in billions and whose word swayed national decisions, holds the fascination of being so near to the truth that it hurts.

"The Match King" opens Wednesday at the Lyric theatre in Eastland.

At close of evening the hostesses served a dainty refreshment of sandwiches with chicken salad filling, small cakes, mints, and fruit punch to Margaret Bell Wynn, Edith Wood, Maza Lee Parrack, Mrs. Murnly, and Gray, Annell Lobaugh, Edith Meek, Lila Ben Ferrell, Bernice Clark, Ruth Ella Meek, Tommie Joe Barnett, Rev. and Mrs. C. Mrs. George Robinson delightfully entertained in honor of the Colony girls playground ball team, who recently won county championship, playing 12 games during the season and losing two, at her Spring road home Saturday evening. The Robinson home was prettily and gaily bedecked in the Easter motif especially well carried out at the playing tables where "42" and other games filled the happy hour.

The chosen color note was also effectively featured in the refreshment course served to honor guests: Misses Frankie Thompson, Lorene Crabb, Oneta Bowen, Loretta Thompson, Ovada Anderson, Aline Lavin, Joyce Alderson, Dorothy Bowen, Mary Bell Anderson, Beattie Ashcraft, Melba Hawkins, Altha Mae Bearden, Doris Hooks, Gladys Crabb, Drurylla Perry, Edna Johnson, Dorothy Sexton, Pauline Bowen, and other guests, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Anderson, Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. A. PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS.—Lucien Lelong told us when he showed his 1933 collection that this was the most "revolutionary" period in all the history of fashion. "You can strike off the 'in' in revolutionary, and say that this also is the most 'evolutionary' period" in the history of the feminine mode.

Skirts have not been particularly lengthened—they have a play from three inches below the knee to an inch above the ankle for daytime, and always to the instep or floor at night. The waistline is wherever you want it. Lelong maintains that the period is the more revolutionary because it has no violent exterior manifestations. It is incipiently revolutionary—sort of slips up on you unawares in its radical movements so that you find you have subscribed to the new lines and colors, and combinations, without being flagrantly aware of your action.

First U. S. Bar Was Popular in Paris
PARIS.—The First American bar here was established in 1868, 65 years ago. It was called "Jack's," and the now famous saying, "Some say three fingers, some say two; I leave the choice to you," is said to have originated there by John Hay, secretary of state, friend of Abraham Lincoln and one-time secretary of the American legation here.

Napoleon III was busy with the affairs of France when the first American bar made its bow, and the inauguration, which gathered the elect of the British and American colonies.

"Jack's" did a thriving business until two years ago, when it passed. Its inspiration was the Exposition in 1867, when nearly 7,000,000 people gathered in the Champs de Mars to witness the great show. After the creation of Jack's, other drink emporiums were opened in rapid succession, among them being Crack and Walker's, near the Silver Grill; Fox and Critorian, and in 1890 came the old Chicago Bar.

The first American bar run by was located in the Rue d'Antin, a woman was called "Molly" and
