When Does a Hill Become Mountain

By United Press
AUSTIN.—Curious geology students at the University of Texas wanted to know when a mountain ceases to be a hill, or in other words, when does a hill become a mountain.

It all depends, quoth A. H. Dean, professor of geology, to his class, a mountain one place might be called a hill in another, depending on the comparative height to the surrounding terrain.

"For instance," Professor Dean continued, "the Black Hills of the Dakotas are 6,000 feet high while Mount Bonnell, west of Austin, is only a few hundred feet high. The Black Hills would be mountains in Texas."

"A mole hill would look like a mountain to people around Houston."

Roosevelt to Discontinue Farm Board

By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 27.—President Roosevelt today issued an executive order which effectively abolishes the federal farm board and sets up in its place a farm credit administration in which will be centered all of the government's agricultural credit agencies.

Immediate saving of $2,000,000 and establishment of a sound and permanent system of co-operative agricultural credit are contemplated by the order.

It was Mr. Roosevelt's first move under the economy act, which he signed March 20, after its swift passage through congress.

The order abolishes sections of the federal farm board with regard to further stabilization operations.

The president's sweeping reorganization of government credit units will go into effect within 61 days unless congress blocks it within that period.

Bleacher Seats Added to Ranger Wrestling Arena

Bleacher seats were being added to the Ranger Elks arena today in order to accommodate the crowds that have been attending the weekly wrestling matches.

One tier of 140 seats, which will reach from the floor to the ceiling, and from which one can get a good view of the ring, were completed today in time to be ready for the matches tonight.

Another section of seats has been secured and these will be added to the present seating arrangement as soon as the workmen can get them erected, it was stated today.

Funeral Held For Eastland Girl

The funeral services for the little 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fitzner, Rosalie, the youngest of five daughters, was held in the Eastland Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the presence of friends who crowded the church.

Services were conducted by Rev. O. B. Darby, and opened with the singing of "Jesus Loves Me," "The Rangers" and "Jesus is Calling," by the junior high school choir of 20 girls, who were directed by Mrs. F. O. Hunter. The affecting tribute was paid little Rosalie, whose oldest sister, Karlene Fitzner, is a member of this club.

The white casket was almost hidden under the wealth of beautiful floral offerings. A most touching sermon was delivered by Rev. Darby, who stressed the statement that the parents in novice felt anyone was to blame for the accident that robbed their child of life.

Funeral services were under the direction of the little girl, Sid Pitzer, and Stephen Pitzer, and family friends, N. K. Pratlley and S. J. Arther.

The services were concluded at the Eastland cemetery, in the presence of an immense cortege.

Galley High Man At Ranger Shoot

Lee Galley was high point man in the 200-yard large bore practice shoot at the Ranger American Legion Rifle club Sunday afternoon with a score of 48 out of a possible 50. Reynolds, Roach and Randall of Thurber were in a three-way tie for second place, with Moore, Tucker, Spencer and Skinner in a four-way tie for third place.

The individual scores of the matches follow:

By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 27.—Groups of oil men from all parts of the nation today informally approved a limit of 2,000,000 daily for the country's oil output.

The oil men were summoned here to work out a program for balancing oil production with market demand.

BOSTON.—To pay a $310 bill, the Weeks Printing company, of Halifax, N. S., shipped about 260 S. pennies, weighing about 260 pounds, in a stout wooden crate to Jacob Bloom & Co., of Boston.

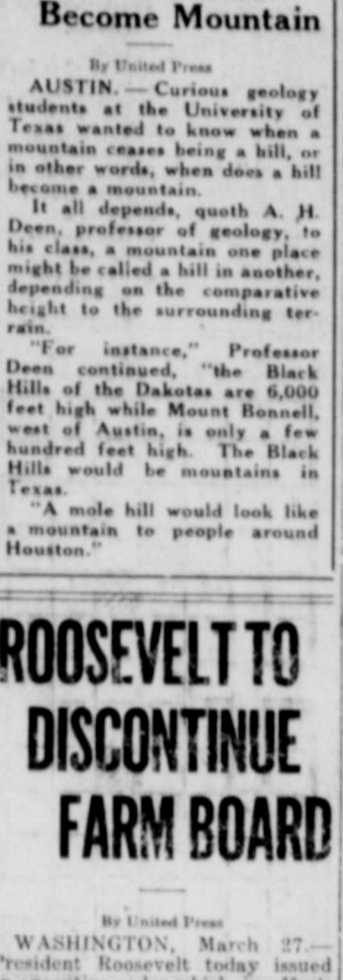

With the Canadian dollar valued around 83 cents, the firm saved a substantial sum by using American pennies.

"Scottsboro Negroes" In New Trial For Life

Eastland Revival Draws Largest Crowd Sunday

The Eastland Baptist church seated an audience of 650 people Sunday night the largest gathering in the series of revival sermons being delivered by Rev. William H. Joyner of San Antonio, a noted revivalist.

Inspirational congregational singing was followed by a duet, "He Will Never Let Me Fall," by Mrs. O. B. Darby and A. M. Hearn, preceding the sermon, "Holding The Devil's Coat," based on text of last nine verses of 7th chapter of Acts.

A striking picture was drawn by the revivalist of the first Christian martyr, Stephen, and of Saul of Tarsus, holding the coats of those who stoned the young martyr.

The speaker said, the name of a good view of the ring, were completed today in time to be ready for the matches tonight.

Another section of seats has been secured and these will be added to the present seating arrangement as soon as the workmen can get them erected, it was stated today.

Air Disaster Is Probed By Authorities

By United Press
OAKLAND, Calif., March 27.—An air disaster in which 13 persons were fatally burned in the splintered wreckage of houses and planes reached the concluding stages of an investigation today.

Department of commerce officials completed a confidential report on the crash Saturday night of an air liner which, before burying its blazing nose in a nearby orchard, drove through two houses, leveling them to the ground.

Twelve victims, including a mother and her four children, were burned beyond recognition. The thirteenth victim died last night.

Pilot N. B. Evans was attempting to land in a blinding rain. He and his two passengers were killed. The other victims were in the two houses. Investigating authorities indicated the pilot would be exonerated of blame.

Students Boarded For $2

By United Press
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa.—Room and board for "from $2 to $25 per week" were the rates quoted for college students before the Civil war, according to a 1859 issue of the "Student's Journal," Westminster college publication.

A copy of the paper recently was sent to the college by Dr. Herbert M. Moore, president of Lake Forest college, Illinois.

Ranger Firemen Answer Two Calls

The Ranger fire department answered one call Sunday night about 9 o'clock and another Monday about 1:30, neither of which fires proving costly.

Sunday night the home of Charles Hummel in Cooper addition, caught fire, but the blaze was put out before more than a few dollars in damage resulted.

The call Monday was to the old Phillips drug store location, where fire was discovered in the ruins of the building. No damage was reported from this small blaze.

Winners Named In Jig Saw Contest

Out of more than a score of entries in the Ranger Times Arcadia theatre jig-saw puzzle contest, the judges selected the following names as the winners of the 10 free tickets to see "Pick Up" at the Arcadia Monday and Tuesday:

Mrs. W. H. Clarke, 507 Elm street
Margaret McKeehan, 425 Alice street
Mrs. Earl Payne, Box 471
Doris Shelton, Route 3, Ranger
Minnie May Notgrass, Ranger.

One contestant failed to put any name on his entry and though it was considered by the judges it was impossible to give it one of the winning places. Several others probably would have been given more consideration and might have won had not pieces of the puzzle been missing, probably because the paste did not stick.

The response to the contest was most gratifying to both the theatre and newspaper and it is regretted that all could not win.

Art Critics Ban Governor's Portrait

By United Press
BOSTON.—It is a tradition that a Massachusetts governor, upon leaving office, has his portrait hung in the State House.

There is no portrait of the last governor, Frank G. Allen. When it was painted, artist critics condemned it as undignified. The subject had posed standing, with one hand in his pocket!

Now, Louis J. Johansen has done a portrait of former Governor Allen, in which the subject is seen sitting at a desk, with both hands visible. This is expected to meet approval and find a place on State House walls.

Ranger Singers Meet on Sunday

The Ranger Singers association met at the First Baptist church of Ranger on the regular monthly meeting Sunday afternoon with a good crowd present.

These singing meetings are held once each month at one of the Ranger churches and have become quite an event each month with those who like group singing.

The next meeting will be held the last Sunday in April at some church to be announced later.

Fee System Payments Are Cut in Senate

By United Press
AUSTIN, March 27.—The Texas Senate today began drawing tight the state purse strings on the payment of fees to county and state law officers.

Eight bills are designed to blot out "graft" and reduce excessive fees. The measures were prepared by a legislative committee which spent two years studying the fee system.

The Senate pushed through the first two of these bills to final passage without a negative vote.

The first measure provides for payment of fees on criminal cases other than murder only on the final disposition of the case. Under the present system payment is made on indictment.

The second measure is aimed at keeping officers from "padding" mileage reports.

Oil Shut Down May Be Enforced Next Thursday

By United Press
DALLAS, March 27.—Majority rule of the state railroad commission may result in the 10,000 wells of the East Texas oil field running without restrictions for two hours Thursday and thereafter being shut down indefinitely.

Commissioner E. O. Thompson and C. V. Terrell were agreed to this policy.

They outvoted Chairman Lon Smith, who, Saturday, revoked an order of the commission which was to go into effect Monday. Thursday's orders are similar to the original free flow and shut down order. Thompson and Terrell were in Washington today to attend a conference of leaders of the oil industry.

Nineteen Bills Are Signed in First Half of Session

By United Press
AUSTIN.—Nineteen general bills were passed and signed by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson in the first half of the session of the 43rd legislature. General bills are those of statewide effect.

Since then the most important general bill passed and signed has been the bill setting up machinery for State Comptroller George Sheppard to catch gasoline tax-dodgers.

Many other bills designated as "general" have also passed but they apply only to particular sections of the state.

Final enactment of this small number with the session more than half gone is no indication there will not be many acts by the end of the session. Only those for which there has been a pressing demand have been rushed through. Most will go through in the closing month.

Former Representative Worth Ray of Dallas, who has issued his first volume of "Advance Session Laws," expects to put out five or possibly six volumes, based on past experience, during the closing days of a session.

His titling of bills already enacted gives a cross section of what will be done so far. The titles are:

Abolishing 114th district court (created during Berger oil rush); split payment of school taxes; funds for county highway indebtedness; farm statistics law repealed; orders for special elections; absentee voting; extending payment of auto fees; reducing pay for attorneys; bank moratorium; foreclosure moratorium (four weeks); relating to bonds for county deposits; safe keeping of state securities; receiverships for corporations; appropriation for Smith-Union county special courts; regulating highway traffic; repealing auto headlight law; defining attempt to commit arson; abolishing fixed salaries of state officials; new grand jury law; escape of condemned prisoners.

French Army to Defeat the Stork

By United Press
PARIS.—On the eve of the four year anniversary which French army leaders have anticipated with apprehension, the general staff has devised a plan whereby the army will not be weakened when the classes of 1935, 1936, 1937, and 1938 are called to the colors.

Those are the groups of youths who were born during the four years of the war. In those years, with half the adult male population in the trenches, the French birth-rate dropped one-third.

These conscripts are incorporated into the army in two groups, half on April 1 and half on Oct. 1, at the rate of 230,000 each year. To keep the army to that conscript strength, the general staff has devised a schedule of drafting which will advance the date of incorporating recruits.

If there are not enough recruits of 21 years, the army will draw on prospective conscripts of 20 years, 11 months, and so on down a scale of months. It is expected that it will not be necessary to take recruits of less than 20 before the four year anniversary and the army returns to its normal routine with the class of 1939.

Leaves Geneva

As the Geneva disarmament conference refused to adjourn and proceeded to discussion of the British arms plan, Hugh Gibson, American delegate and U. S. Ambassador to Belgium, announced he was leaving for Brussels and London. Gibson is shown above in a new photo from Geneva. Simultaneously, Norman H. Davis, head of the American delegation to the conference, sailed from New York for London.

House Splits Over Utility Commission

By United Press
AUSTIN, March 27.—The House of the Texas legislature split today over considering the creation of a state utility commission.

A vote to postpone such a measure lost by a vote of 66 to 67.

Additional importance is attached to the measure by the fact that advocates of a new oil and gas commission have prepared an amendment that will put utility, oil and gas regulation all under control of the proposed new body.

Consideration of the measure may yet be blocked. Representative J. L. Goodman announced he will ask a reconsideration of the vote to delay the utility bill this afternoon.

Beer, scheduled for a public hearing before a house committee tonight, had two substitute bills on members' desks today. One bill amends the Dean act to declare that beer and wine containing not more than 3.2 per cent alcohol are exempted from the Dean act provisions. The other bill licenses and taxes manufacture and sale of such beverages.

"Forgotten Man" Found At Austin

By United Press
AUSTIN.—The "forgotten man" of the Roosevelt administration is in Austin. Meet J. F. Holloway, principal Roosevelt-for-president man in Texas passed on the way to the pie counter by the boys who jumped on the Roosevelt bandwagon.

While some of those who were "gathering for Garner" and "trailing with Traylor" a few months ago are now getting the puma, Holloway has received fine personal letters from Jim Farley thanking him.

Holloway was for Roosevelt when a Roosevelt man was almost a curiosity in Texas. During the long session of the last legislature, two years ago, he kept talking to the legislators about Roosevelt. Eventually he had a majority of their names on post cards endorsing the New Yorker.

"He was still boosting for Roosevelt when they Traylor boom got under way in Texas, he didn't waver when the Garner boom was started. He was still and steadily for Roosevelt."

"I guess old Jim Holloway will get a fat job now," declared the capitol habitues when Mr. Roosevelt was elected.

"Ought to be postmaster here or internal revenue collector or something like that."

But when the postmaster was announced, the name wasn't Holloway. He wasn't appointed collector either. He hasn't been appointed anything yet.

Kill Man and Attack Woman Late at Night

By United Press
HOUSTON, MARCH 27.—Two negro terrorists, one of whom assaulted a white woman after killing her escort, were hunted today by scores of heavily armed officers, aided by blood hounds.

William W. Porch, Jr., 24, was shot to death when he asked the negroes to show mercy to Miss Adele Torian, 24.

The woman was dragged off into a nearby wood, assaulted, kicked and left bound and blindfolded across porch's body.

By noon, less than 12 hours after the crime, six suspects were in jail. None was arrested in the immediate vicinity of the crime, but were arrested in scattered negro sections of the city.

Porch and Miss Torian were sitting in a parked automobile on a suburban road near midnight when the negroes appeared suddenly at either side of the car.

Porch's plea for mercy for his companion was answered by a pistol shot which ranged close to his heart. The negro who fired the shot seized Miss Torian and dragged her into the woods.

His companion followed, dragging Porch.

The assault occurred in the woods after the negro carressed Miss Torian and ignored her pleas for mercy and her offer of money if they would permit her to take Porch to a hospital.

The negroes disappeared after kicking Miss Torian and throwing her across Porch's body.

Slipping off her bonds she attempted to start Porch's automobile, but the negroes had cut the ignition wires.

She made her way to the home of John Anderson, blind man, living nearby, who telephoned police.

Ranger Country Club Presented A Golf Trophy

The Ranger Country club was presented with a large silver punch bowl and ladle Sunday afternoon by Walter Clark, secretary of the Oil Belt Golf association as the award for the club winning the association championship in golf last year. The bowl was presented at the country club.

A. Neill, president of the club, announced today that it would be placed on display in the window of the Paramount pharmacy, where it can be seen by everyone.

The Ranger Country club is going into the 1933 season with a determination to win the championship trophy another year, in order that the silver goblets that go with the set can be secured.

No Pay Cuts Now Prove a Flareback

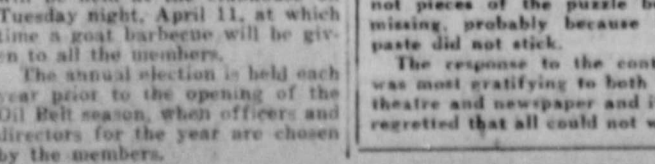

By United Press
AUSTIN.—Members of the state legislature were warned when they set their own pay at $10 a day for the session, that failure to take a cut for themselves would fly back and hit them when they proposed cuts for other state employees.

The flareback came when the house took up its departmental appropriation bill. An effort was being made to reduce the pay set for stenographers. High prices in Austin were pleaded against proposed reductions.

"Didn't we refuse to reduce our own pay because of the prices in Austin?" asked Representative R. M. Wagstaff, Abilene.

"Yes," shouted many members.

CATTLE RAISERS MAKE THEIR DEMANDS

Texas cattle raisers are ever in evidence. They are interested in pending legislation. Indeed, they have been interested in pending legislation more than 60 years. Resolutions adopted by the Fort Worth convention before adjournment included endorsement of a sales tax proposal on condition the ad valorem levy is abolished.

Col. Dayton Moses was retained as association attorney and Ted Moses as assistant secretary. Colonel Moses has been the legal adviser as well as chief legal ramrod for the Texas cattle raisers for, lo, these many years.

COMMISSIONER SHAW AND AUTO LOAN CONCERNS

State Banking Commissioner James Shaw has interpreted the provisions of his moratorium declared March 13 on all financial institutions except banks. His proclamation it is said was in no wise intended to cover automobile finance companies.

Many moratorium proposals are destroyers of credit. In the long run those who are responsible will make this discovery when they come out of their trance.

ARKANSAS LAWMAKERS FOR REPEAL ELECTION

Arkansas is the home of Majority Leader Joseph Taylor Robinson and Senior Senator Hattie W. Caraway. Well, the Arkansas legislature has adjourned. Before adjournment it gave approval of a bill providing a state-wide referendum July 18 and a state convention Aug. 1 on prohibition repeal.

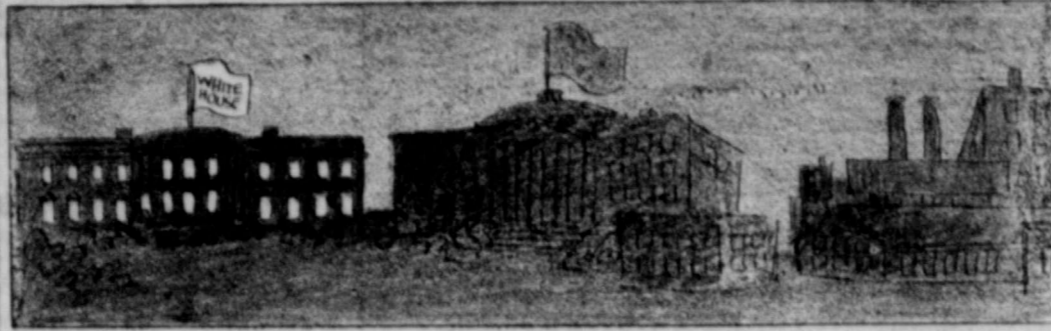

Arkansas is not a backward state. Arkansas lawmakers are doing their level best to pull their commonwealth out of the ditch and to give the people full voice in the disposal of many of the problems which are uppermost.

We are living in an era of fast road traffic and all indications point to the fact that it will become faster as road surfaces are improved. Therefore it behooves all traffic, wheeled or pedestrian, to acquire a highly developed sense of regard, not only for their own safety but for the safety of others.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

Nearly always when an accident involving a pedestrian and a motorist occurs, it is the motorist who is deemed to be at fault. The tendency to put the blame on the motorist is perhaps natural. It belongs to the period when the motor car was regarded as a weapon, and only time will eradicate it.

Tulsa Baseball Fans Awaiting Season Opening

By United Press
By GEORGE GOODALE,
Tulsa, Okla.—Tulsa baseball fans, eagerly awaiting their initial season of Texas league baseball, are wondering what kind of a team President Manager Art Griggs will assemble.

Two star pitchers, three regular infielders and a star outfielder comprise the "red ink" column insofar as loss of last year's team is concerned.

For the utility role, Tony Malinovsky, who held down the job last year, is still with the club. He may fill the shortstop berth if his hitting improves.

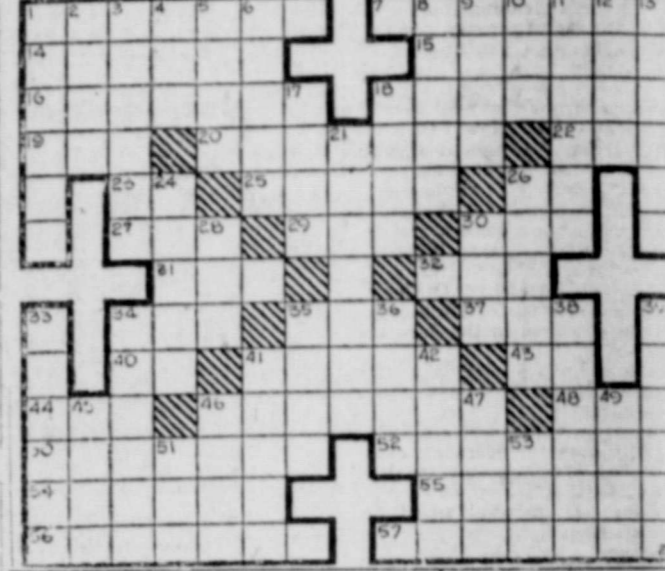

Andy Bednar, who won 25 games while losing only four last season, was late signing a contract. He is a righthander. Bill Posedel and Jim Rivin, both righthanders and among the pitching mainstays of last season, have returned as has Marty Lang, lefthand star.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Palm were Dallas visitors Saturday attending the meeting of high school principals.

HERE--- AND THERE

By ELLIE H. JACKSON

Alex Clarke, Jr., an interesting lad of 15 years, high school sophomore, and Eagle Scout, when 13 years old; fond of aviation, field sports, and a crack radio expert, is startling in his grasp of the mysteries of wireless telegraphy, and precocious in the work far beyond his years.

Young Alex takes after his father, Alex Clarke, Sr., city commissioner of Eastland, and who in his leisure hours, has for some years, worked with radio problems and perhaps through his interest awakened the boy's ambition in this line of science and certainly through his association with his son, aroused the lad's eagerness to excel.

When young Alex was 14 he was a great chum of an older lad, Ward Mullings, 18, who was even then a wizard in radio work. This companionship urged Alex, Jr., on and he is now one of the examples of father and son, who work together in mutual interest and study.

But Alex went on his own knowing path gleaming more and more about radio, through scientific brochures that explained the problems and work.

He finally took a temporary examination through a mail correspondence with a New Orleans radio custom house, about a year ago, and passed at the same time he was granted his application, made to headquarters at Washington, D. C., of the Federal Radio Commission for a license to operate a station, which he installed at the family residence, Oaklawn and Valley streets, Hillcrest, in a large room, housed in the yard of his home.

At first, he began with very low power, in February, 1932, but was operating on short wave bands, 7,000 kilocycles, talking with other amateur operators over the United States, having trouble at first as he was slow and inexperienced. Through talking to local stations he got the hang of the work, and in March, 1932, had the thrill of his life in establishing long distance communication and carrying on a lengthy conversation with New York City.

Immediately after this the power of his operating station was increased through the use of transmitting tubes; his first experiment with receiving type tubes, was not satisfactory. The change brought increase in output, and easier communication at greater distances.

He talked in the last of 1932 to Cuba, Panama, Mexico, Panama Canal Zone and Australia.

Then he began handling radiograms for friends, in free sending of distress and death messages.

In June, 1932, he established communication at sea, near the Canal Zone and later communicated with three stations in Asia, several in New Zealand and Australia, the Philippines and the Hawaiian Islands, and others in South America.

In October, 1932, communication with Spain and Portugal was established. On Nov. 1, the lad joined the army amateur radio service, which is under control of the United States War department, and in September preceding he was appointed net control station, which means that he controlled activities of ten counties of Texas in army amateur radio work.

Recently he has been actively engaged in building new transmitters and receivers to secure increased efficiency.

Alex is preparing to go on an amateur telephone work, and will take an operators examination for radio telephone license, for which he is now qualified.

He passed his first class amateur radio operator license in Dublin, on Feb. 23, 1933, which privileges him to operate any amateur radio station in the United States.

The lad is very ingenious in assembling parts of old radios for his station equipment, expending little cash in the work, but getting fine results, and in this has been greatly assisted by his father, Alex, Sr., a trained scientist.

His plans are to eventually enter the electrical engineering or aeronautical engineering field as his future vocation.

Just now, a new transmitter is being traded for, that will go up to 250 watts output, and this will enable him to establish reliable communication in practically any part of the world.

Not every message is delivered promptly he stated, as stations sometimes fail to relay messages to their destination. He is ready and willing to send messages for any one as a courtesy to any place in the world where there is a radio station.

He acknowledged that his favorite studies in high school were mathematics and science, and that he was "beginning to like English."

He is an interesting chap, 5 feet 9 inches tall with dark curly hair, and keen gray eyes. He said he would be glad to help anybody in cases of distress, who wished to radio messages.

W. C. MARLOW, City Clerk.

One I Love

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

When JANET HILL learns ROLF CARLILE has been breaking engagements with her to meet BETTY KENDALL, a society girl, she tells him their marriage is off. Janet is 22, pretty and secretary to BRUCE HAMILTON, advertising manager of Every Home Magazine.

She still loves Rolf and cannot forget him. JEFFREY GRANT, young engineer who lives at the same rooming house as Janet, appears one night in time to save her from a holiday man. Janet becomes interested in the SILVANI family, almost destitute. Jeff helps provide food and clothing for them and later they had a job for PAT SILVANI, the father.

Jeff and Janet become close friends. He asks her to help him select a gift for a girl and they buy a purse. Later Janet sees in newspaper headlines that Rolf has eloped with Betty Kendall. She tells Jeff about her broken engagement and says she will never care for anyone else. Jeff gives her the purse, which he had bought for Janet, and she is carrying it when she meets ROLF.

Rolf Hamilton leaves the magazine and because of retrenchment, there is no job for Janet. However, Hamilton tells her his sister, MISS CURTIS, needs a social secretary and Janet secures the job.

She finds her new work pleasant and rather interesting. Then one day she learns Miss Curtis is Betty Kendall's mother. Janet tells Jeff about her broken engagement and says she will never care for anyone else. Jeff gives her the purse, which he had bought for Janet, and she is carrying it when she meets ROLF.

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVIII

JEFF was explaining, "Miss Calahan works in our office, too."

Janet said, "I see," and then when there was a pause added something about the weather being so pleasant.

"It's a swell day all right," Dolores Calahan put in. "Gee, I hate to think of spending all the rest of the afternoon in that stuffy office! It's a swell day but we don't get to enjoy it. Just this little, tiny lunch hour—"

"Oh, if you're going to lunch I mustn't keep you!" Janet said quickly.

Jeff said, "Why—yes, it's our lunch hour. Why don't you come along, Janet? We'd be awfully glad to have you."

"Thanks, but I couldn't. I've some errands to do and then I'm to meet Mrs. Curtis. She told Miss Calahan it was also to have met her, said good-by to Jeff and hurried away."

Jeff and Dolores walked in silence for several moments. Presently the girl asked, "Is Miss Hill a friend of yours?"

"Why, yes," Jeff answered. "She used to live at the same place where I live."

Dolores said "Oh!" and her bright red lips set themselves in a firm line. Jeff didn't notice this. In another moment they had reached the store where photographic supplies were sold.

An obliging clerk showed them that Mrs. Curtis had a camera which was compact and yet large enough. He pointed out that it was simple to operate and, for the price, a good value.

Dolores said that she would take it. "Mr. Grant," she said as the clerk moved away to wrap the package, "Do you suppose maybe you could come out to my house some time and tell Johnny all those things about how the camera works? I'll try to but I don't know if I can remember everything Johnny's awfully smart and I'm sure he'll catch on right away—"

JEFF smiled. "There'll be a book of instructions with the camera," he said. "They always send them he admitted, the girl for whom the selection of a gift was so important!

Janet assured herself that it was not jealousy she felt. Of course it was nothing like that. She wouldn't for the world have him think that she cared or was even interested.

And so the evening was somewhat of a failure. Mrs. Silvani and the two children were well and happy and delighted to see their guests. Jeff and Janet stayed for three-quarters of an hour while Rosie talked about the squirrel she had seen in the park and Tommy showed Jeff the new puzzle he was working on. Mrs. Silvani had been sewing and she sat by the lamp, making buttonholes while she talked. It was a pleasant enough visit but after Janet and Jeff had said good-by and gone back to the car the coolness they had felt before persisted.

IN a few more nights the moon would be a complete golden sphere. It shone down brightly and a warm breeze was blowing. There was time enough for a drive through one of the parks or out on the hill road. Jeff looked at Janet and then his face set determinedly.

All right, if she didn't want to talk to him she didn't have to. Maybe it was because she was living out on the west side now, but she rode around in a limousine and knew a lot of rich people that she had become so changed. This was a new idea and because of it Jeff drove with his eyes straight ahead on the road. When Janet spoke he answered with monosyllables and when the roadster drew up before the brick house he said good-night and drove away quickly.

Yes, in spite of the bright moonlight and in spite of the warm breeze it was an evening that, on the whole, was a failure.

The sky was clouded over next morning and then for three successive days it rained. The first day Mrs. Curtis was caught in a shower and came home to sneeze and complain of a head cold. A little later she developed a fever and Janet telephoned for Doctor Roberts.

The doctor ordered his patient to bed, said her ailment was grippe and that she must take the best of care of herself. There was a great deal of gripe around, he said, and some of it was serious. Doctor Roberts wrote out a prescription to be delivered later, told Mrs. Curtis to be careful of her diet and drink a great deal of fruit juice. He promised to look in next day and then departed.

So to Janet's duties as secretary were added those of nurse. The shades in the big front bedroom were lowered. Janet sat near the bed and saw that Mrs. Curtis had her medicine at the right time. She brought hot pads and removed them and rearranged pillows to make them more comfortable.

It was on the second day of this regime that the maid, arriving with Mrs. Curtis' luncheon tray, handed Janet several letters.

"The postman just came," Lucy explained.

Janet glanced at the letters. Two of them were bills and another was on club stationery. The fourth was undoubtedly personal and she handed it to Mrs. Curtis.

The woman looked at the envelope, recognized the handwriting and exclaimed with a little cry of pleasure, "Oh, it's from Betty! Read it to me, will you, Miss Hill!"

Rough Wrestling On Ranger Elks' Card for Tonight

With two main events and one special event of wrestling on the Ranger Elks club card tonight fans will see three matches that might be termed "naturals."

On the top main spot "Tiger Billy" McEun, popular roughster, will tangle with "Wild Bill" Carter, Waxahachie terror. McEun, known for his speed, science, and skill, and last but not least, his extremely mean tactics in the ring makes his first appearance here in several weeks. Carter, who has cut his niche in the wrestling world at many arenas will furnish McEun with all the roughing he may want as rough stuff is Carter's style and particular delight.

In the other main event plenty of action and speed will be seen with "Ug" Moore, Denton footballer, and "Chick" Evans, Canadian bone twister. "Ug" has made a wonderful showing in the last three weeks as a grappler and is well liked by the fans for his clean conduct when on the mat. Wrestlers as caput as "Ug" are not always as sportsmanlike in the way they treat their opponents. "Chick" Evans has only been in this state a short time as he came here from Canada, where he served with the Royal Northwest Mounted police. During the World War Evans was the youngest flier in the Canadian Royal Flying Corps. After Evans entered the service of the north-west mounted he became interested in wrestling and so far he has been successful in "getting his man."

The special event will pit Johnny McCain of Tulsa, Okla. against Bert Edwards of Kansas City, a member of the Edwards clan. These boys weigh 154 pounds and 155 pounds, respectively, and at this weight it should be a very fast match.

CANADIAN MONEY AT PAR

By United Press

ALGONAC, Mich.—Algonac accepts Canadian money at par. Trade with the Indians of Walpole Island is the reason. Walpole Island is about equidistant from the American and Canadian shores, and the Indians there receive an allotment of money from the Canadian government. However merchants prevent outsiders from taking advantage of the system by circulating Canadian currency only among the natives of the town.

Civic League Announces Prizes For Gardens
Eastland's vacant lot gardening is succeeding splendidly under the sponsorship of the Civic League of Eastland, which has 40 garden lots under cultivation, by parties, who have the yield in return for their care.

This project not only offers a practical return in many ways, to the cultivator, but gives its return to the Civic League in the improvement in the city's appearance and cleanliness the garden has effected. In order to keep the interest sustained in the gardening and also a means toward helping to beautify the city, the Civic League through the garden chairman, Mrs. W. P. Leslie, offers a reward of $5 for the best garden, $2.50 for the second best, and $1.00 for the third best.

The time limit is not given but is presumably at the end of the garden season.
